"Black Maria," right, with guard on rear, pulls into the archway of the Justice Department building in Washington, filled with eight Nazi saboteurs who were tried by a military commission. The armed military guard rides on the rear step of the "Black Maria" and a U. S. armored car follows closely to prevent any possibility of a "slip."

Scrap Rubber Drive Nets 125,938 Pounds

Parmer county's contribution to the nation-wide scrap rubber drive amounted to 125,938 pounds according to figures released here today through the County War Board, of which Olan Schlueter is chairman.

The drive came to an official close last Friday and local collectors express themselves as well pleased with the response. The scrap rubber will be shipped to concentration points, where it will in turn be forwarded to processing mills to go through a reclaiming process.

Friana took the lead in the number of pounds to be collected, with 49,700 pounds. Farwell came in for second place with a total of 40,099 pounds, while Bovina contributed 36,139 pounds to the grand total.

Roosevelt Summons Congressman Worley

Congressman Eugene Worley of Shamrock, has cabled friends he will return to Washington as soon as possible in compliance with a directive issued by President Roosevelt, calling all members of the House and Senate now on active war duty, back to Congress.

Worley's cablegram came from a far-away Australian port where he is aboard a U. S. Aircraft carrier. The identity of the port and the name of the ship cannot be disclosed for military reasons but it can be said the port is a key United Nations naval base and that the aircraft carrier is one the Japs have claimed to have sunk on four different occasions.

Draft Board Meets; Takes Up Categories

The Parmer County Selective Service Board was in session here Sunday afternoon, at which time Board members delved into the new regulations dealing with categories of men now classified in 3-A.

As a result of their deliberations, 36 registrants previously classified in 3-A were reconsidered and, in some instances, reclassified and placed in higher classification brackets.

Twenty-four registrants, some of whom had been previously placed in class 3-A, were tentatively put in 1-A and ordered up for their first physical examinations. Other classifications include the following: 1-A, 4; 2-A, 4; 3-A, 1; 3-B, 2.

The Local Board received its first call for 1-B men this week, to be filled on August 1st. E. T. Caldwell, Jr., of Bovina, has volunteered as one man to apply on this call. Others to be sent at that time had not been determined early this week.

Mrs. Anne Jersig, prominent Parmer county stock raiser, who is in Amarillo receiving treatment, was reported to be improved this week. She is under observation at the home of her daughter, and plans are to undergo surgery when her condition will permit.

Sale of War Bonds and Stamps in Parmer county was lagging far behind the desired pace early this week, according to a report issued by G. D. Anderson, chairman of the War Bond Committee in this county.

Anderson said that only $3,500 in bonds had been sold here this month. This amount, he explained, had been placed in Farwell alone and he had no report from the other committeemen of the county located at Friana and Bovina.

The county's quota for the month of July has been set as the highest figure ever assessed Parmer, with a request of $18,900 invested. He expressed his confidence in reaching this quota, but added that it would require considerable more interest than has been manifest thus far during the month.

Anderson added that the committee was making plans for a whirlwind campaign during the closing days of the month in an effort to reach the quota. All assessments up to now, he said, have been reached with little difficulty.

Rites For Former Texico Girl Held

Funeral services for Mrs. D. Bilibrey, nee Doris Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Blair, were held at the Methodist church here last Thursday afternoon. She was 30 years old.

Rev. Herschel Thurston, a former schoolmate of the deceased, came here from Spur to conduct the last rites. He was assisted by Rev. W. C. Wright, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. E. J. Sloan, of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Bilibrey died at a hospital in Hobbs, N. M., on the morning of July 8, following a brief illness.

She was born and grew to womanhood in this community, and was known as one of the community's most beloved young ladies. Three years ago she was married to Mr. Bilibrey, and had made her home at Tatum, N. M., since that time.

She is survived by her husband, of Tatum; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Blair; one brother, Joe; and a sister, Helen Katherine, all of Texico.

District Court Opens Session Here Monday

With District Judge James W. Witherspoon presiding, the July term of the Parmer county district court opened here Monday, the lightest docket in years facing the court.

Only civil non-jury matters occupy the attention of the court this week with jury cases being set for next week. County Clerk D. K. Roberts expressed the belief that a jury for the third week would be called to hear only one case.

The grand jury reconvened this (Wednesday) morning and court attaches expressed the belief that there was a possibility some indictments might be returned before adjournment is taken.

When News Is Scarce, Count On Derailment

When news reporters have difficulty in filling the news columns, they have learned to check with the Santa Fe officials for a train derailment—and of late they have not been disappointed.

For the third time in recent weeks, a freight train derailed in the local yards last Saturday morning, when three boxcars left the track. Some of the derailed cars swerved over into the main line track, blocking traffic for a few hours.

Railroad officials explained that a "brake rigging dropped down", causing the derailment.

PHARMACIST COMING

Claude Rose, manager and owner of the Fox Drug Store, announced this week that he had made arrangements with Dr. Ramsey of Clovis, a retired registered pharmacist, to do the prescription work at the store during his absence. Rose has volunteered for services in the officer's training branch of the Army and is scheduled to report at Lubbock on July 25.

Mrs. Rose will take over the management of the store during her husband's absence.

The final chapter of the 1942 wheat harvest throughout this area is being written this week, and by the conclusion of the week, barring unfavorable weather conditions, all harvesting is expected to be completed.

Many of the combines which have been in operation in this area during the past three weeks are being moved to Roy, N. M., to engage in the harvest there, where a good yield is reported.

With many thousands of bushels piled out in the open, farmers began to cast about this week in the hope of finding storage for their threshed grain. The Farwell Bonded Warehouse opened again the first of the week and began unloading wheat from large trucks that came from far and near with wheat.

Throughout Tuesday a long string of trucks, sometimes numbering as many as 50 at one time, stood in line and waited their turn at the dumping pit.

E. M. Deaton, manager of the warehouse, announced this week that additional storage had been made available by moving out several hundred bales of cotton and he would continue to take wheat as long as there was any room left in the huge storage shed, estimated to hold upwards of 400,000 bushels.

W. J. Matthews, Texico mayor, stated that storage for at least 10,000 bushels was available in a vacant city building in Texico.

Storage Bins Arrive

Farmers who have placed orders with the AAA for prefabricated grain storage bins are hereby advised that on July 14 five cars or 25 bins were delivered to Friana, one car of five bins delivered to Farwell, and two cars containing ten bins to Bovina, according to John Martin, administrative officer.

Martin urges that all farmers having in orders for such bins contact the AAA office immediately in order that such bins may be unloaded from the boxcars and demurrage charges avoided.

Further, Martin said, "In event you have ordered a bin and later made other arrangements for the storage of your wheat, please notify the office so that your order may be cancelled."

Four Selectees To Leave Here on 24th

Four selectees, including one volunteer, will leave here on the afternoon of July 24th for Lubbock, where they will report the following day for final examination and induction.

The four named to fill this call are Claude Howard Rose, a volunteer for officer's training; Roy Elton Hughes; Finley Jackson Hartfield and Leonard Arden Parsons.

Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, clerk of the Local Board, stated today that due to the late arrival of buses transporting the men it would be necessary to send them down the day before actual induction is scheduled.

She said that this arrangement likewise would apply to the selectees previously scheduled to leave here on the morning of the 17th of July. "The men must be at the examination station not later than 10 a. m.," she explained, and added, "which means that we must send them down the afternoon before."

Funeral Services For Hunter Held Friday

Funeral services for R. C. (Dick) Hunter were held at the Steed Memorial Chapel in Clovis last Friday afternoon, with Rev. C. A. Lorts, pastor of the First Christian Church of Clovis officiating. He was assisted by Rev. E. J. Sloan of this city, pastor of the Methodist church.

Deceased was given a Masonic burial in the Clovis cemetery, following the funeral rites.

Hunter, a young business man, agent for the Texas Co., and son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hunter, pioneer Texico residents, died of gunshot wounds, at his office late Tuesday afternoon of last week.

SIKES ON VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sikes of the Sikes Motor Company plan to leave here Monday for an extended vacation, during which time their place of business will be closed. They plan to return here on Oct. 19 to reopen their business. Frank Smith will be stationed as nightwatchman at the business during their absence.

Grasshoppers Raid Many County Fields

Reports reaching here this week are beginning to indicate the seriousness of the grasshopper situation over practically all of Parmer county.

Some farmers claim that they are literally eating up the young crops as multiplied millions of the pests invade fields of the county. Considerable poisoning has been going on during the past few weeks, with good results, but in most cases, farmers say, they have been too busy with wheat harvesting operations to give much time to the "hopper menace."

During the past ten days the distribution plant at Bovina, managed by G. W. Rochelle, has put out approximately 20,000 pounds per day, the agent states, and the majority of farmers report good kills, with many coming back for additional poison mash.

The apparent increase in the pests is probably due to two things, Harper points out. One, that the hoppers are now grown and are flying from place to place. Two, since wheat has been harvested the pests are moving out of those fields to land where crops are growing.

In several parts of the county, officials say, farmers have reported as high as a 75 to 90 percent kill. Some few report a poor kill, but these reports can usually be traced to the fact that only a small portion of the farm was baited and the grown hoppers flew in from other farms or other sections—making it appear that just as many remained as before the use of poison.

County Agent Garlon Harper has warned that a second crop of young hoppers may be expected to be hatted about the middle of August, and he expresses great fear for the young wheat crops that will be sowed in the fall unless the present crop of pests is killed out within the next few weeks.

Poisoning around the fence rows will not do the job now, the agent warned, since the hoppers are grown and scattered over the entire farm.

Harper reports that some farmers fear excessive cost will be necessitated in baiting the entire farm. This, he says, may be the case if poison is handsprayed, which means that often more than double the amount needed is used. However, by use of a mechanical spreader—and several farmers can have one made for joint use at a negligible cost—the mash may be distributed evenly and thinly and should not cost more than 3c per acre to bait the whole farm.

Some are planning on using the planting boxes on their tractors, he said, adding that "any method which will get the bait out at the right time will do the job. The only way to get complete control, however, is for every farmer to do his share in poisoning the hoppers. Parts of the Oklahoma Lane and Lariat communities are approaching the problem in the right manner. These farmers are going in together and poisoning at night on first one farm and then the other."

Poisoning activities have been intensified in many sections, particularly in the West Camp community, where good results are reported. But as one farmer pointed out, "What I do will accomplish very little unless every farmer does likewise."

Of Interest to Farmers

By John Martin, Administrator Parmer County AAA

The measuring of farms for general compliance in connection with the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program for Parmer county will, in all probability, begin during the week of July 20. Individual notices will be mailed to each producer in the county within the next few days advising them of the exact date compliance will begin. We are hoping for the usual cooperation that we have always enjoyed with the producers of this county.

Storage Bins Arrive

To date, twenty Commodity Credit Corporation grain storage bins have been delivered to producers of this county. We are in receipt of bill of lading for thirty-five bins to be delivered within the next few days. A total of approximately 140 bins has been ordered for Parmer county to be used in storing 1942 and 1941 loan wheat. Producers will be notified immediately upon arrival of these bins and we ask that they make every effort to unload the bins immediately in order to avoid demurrage charges.

On July 20 and 21 a school and examination will be given for the purpose of employing reporters to measure land in Parmer county in connection with the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program. We are faced with the possibility of a shortage of employees for this purpose, therefore in order that we might complete the measuring of land at an early date and be able to issue benefit payments to the producers within the near future we urge that each boy or man who is interested in doing work of this kind be present at the AAA office at 8:00 a. m. on the above dates. The regulations provide that each person employed in this capacity must first show by written examination that he is qualified to do this work. The rate of pay this year will be $5.00 for eight hours for performance operators and $3.00 for eight hours for chairmen. Employees of the association now have priority rating whereby they are eligible for re-tread tires when it is necessary in the execution of their duties.

H. G. WIENS, evangelist from Fort San, Texas, who will conduct a revival at the Texico-Farwell Baptist Church, beginning on August 9th and continuing through August 23rd.

LETTERS from Our Readers

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN OF TEXAS AND NEW MEXICO

A strike of 70 union plumbers at Kelly, Randolph and Duncan Fields near San Antonio, Texas, has paralyzed the entire U. S. Air defense program in Texas the past week and may continue. The barracks and classrooms are ready for occupancy except for completion of the plumbing.

My son is an Aviation Cadet at Kelly Field. He and hundreds of other boys are sleeping in tents which are ravaged with mosquitoes by day and chiggers by night. Being unable to have classes, they are digging cesspools, ditches and carrying rocks. They are told that they are Officer Material.

Strikes in the huge saw mills of Alamogordo, N. M., in June seriously handicapped and retarded building of the new Bomb Schools at Roswell and Alamogordo. A ceiling was placed on the price of lumber and saw mill owners could not advance wages without adding it to the price of lumber. Why did you not place a ceiling on Union scale wages at the same time?

The U. S. Department of Labor reports that the number of strikes has increased every month since Pearl Harbor, reaching a total of 310 in April. The greatest war since the world has ever known is going against us and we stand at the most perilous crisis in history. The next few short months will decide whether we are to be free men or slaves. Where are we, if Russia falls and then England is taken? Japan is on our doorstep, a few miles from our coast establishing bases on the Aleutian Islands.

Being on the Board of Directors for the Eastern N. M. Livestock Association, I was present early last spring when our Secretary wrote you our resolution, requesting that you do something to repeal the 40-Hour Week Law, Wagoner Labor Act, Anti-Strike Legislation, etc. I read your form letter in reply, "That you would give our letter due consideration, etc." But nothing was done. The strikes continued. The New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, with 1800 members who control 90% of all the cattle of this state, mailed you the same resolution, with the same results. Is it possible that there are yellow streaks in your backs? That you are selling American future and security for Union votes?

I am not against good Unions. The railroad boys never give trouble; but the racketeers and gangsters that have taken over some Unions for their own selfish gains must be dealt with. If Congress has authority to draft boys for the Army, it has the same authority to draft labor for defense plants. We should have a law that to strike is treason; or that any striker would be placed in the Army immediately at $50.00 per month instead of $50.00 per week, which many get on defense jobs.

These strikes damage our morale both at home and abroad. It affords solace and hope to both the Japs and Germans to see labor dominate us and win such great victories in higher wages, causing higher tax burdens on the people.

While our soldiers and sailors are being shot to pieces for lack of modern armament, our workmen walk out on strikes upon the slightest provocation. Recently in Detroit, thousands of men making arms for our boys threw down their tools and walked out because one workman or one union slapped the face of another workman belonging to another union. Why do we tolerate this foolishness? Those responsible should be thrown in jail. Congress must pass a law to prohibit strikes in war industries. If this is not done, there will be great doubt in the minds of many thinking people as to the ability of the present Administration to win the war. Such walk-outs are not permitted in Germany, Japan or England. They were permitted in France; and where is France today? Why do we always have "Too little, too late"?

In asking for your support for the office of Sheriff of Curry County, I want to say that I have been a resident of the county since 1907, I am qualified for the position and will appreciate your support. H. W. (POP) JENNINGS.

When one of our soldiers slaps the face of another soldier, they go behind their tent or dugout and slug it out until one has had enough. Then back to their job of fighting. They don't call out the whole army from the trenches and cease firing until one soldier is made to apologize to the other.

This labor situation is serious; an there is a complacency among administration and congressional labor circles that is beyond understanding of most citizens. The truth is that the Roosevelt administration is a labor administration. The liberal labor groups led by Roosevelt have taken over the Democratic party and it is now their party. All citizens of every race and creed and political affiliation can well insist in this time of National peril that labor meet this responsibility and accept the virtue of real sacrifice.

Our boys who risk their lives feebly over these strikes and after the war will have much to say. They will have chips on their shoulders that cannot help but create more national disunity in the reconstruction period. They say that a soldier, according to all just and decent laws, has as much right to strike as a worker who is making his armament.

We should have free private enterprise with reasonable umpiring on the part of the government to insure fair play. But when the government ceases to be an umpire and steps into the game itself with discriminating laws favoring Union men, many a player concludes that his chances to win are so greatly diminished that a seat on the sideline is preferable. So private initiative dries up and the spirit of progress disappears. There is now a great crusade to restore America to its own people and to subdue dominating, racketeering, ruthless labor unions.

Won't you please visualize the impending dangers — dangers far greater and more imminent than any invading army? Our trouble is within and as we arouse ourselves to meet

EUGENE WORLEY Goes Back to Congress

AT THE REQUEST OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Congressman Eugene Worley sent word last week from a far-away port in Australia that he would return to Washington in compliance with a directive issued by the President, calling all members of the House and Senate who are on war duty back to Congress.

It will require a few weeks for Gene to reach American shores but as soon as he does he will head straight for his district to talk over the war situation with you before resuming his duties in Washington.

Gene has been aboard a U. S. Aircraft Carrier at Pearl Harbor and off the Coast of Australia for the past six months. He volunteered his services to his country when he voted for war —just like he told you he would. He did what his predecessor, Marvin Jones, did in World War I, and what Senator Tom Connally did in 1917.

When he enlisted in the Navy in January, Gene said he would return to Congress when the President called him, and he is keeping that promise, too. He will return with a vast amount of first-hand knowledge of this war that will be helpful in shaping our future course.

Gene will not be back in time to ask you for your vote, but his friends ask you for him.

Lillian Aldridge is still embarrassed about a check deal which occurred recently when John Porter came to her lawyer husband, John Aldridge, with a "bad" check and asked Johnnie what he "figured on doing with that". Seems that Lillian was talking to John Porter while she made out a check and despite years of married life signed it "John Porter, by L. A."

One of the neighborhood young fry has a new story about losing his money. Cautious by his mother to put up his money, the young man asserted that he wouldn't lose the dime and continued to carry it around in his pocket. Next day he appeared admitting that he didn't go to Clovis with his dad, after securing permission, at which he was promptly accused of losing his money. "Oh, no," he insisted, "I didn't lose my dime. I just lost the hanky I had it tied in."

With Jimmie Overstreet it seems to be a case of "in and out" with the Army, but this time he thinks he'll stay for a spell. Last June Jimmie was drafted from his job in Baton Rouge, La., and had been in just a month when the 28-year-old discharge law was passed. After considerable unwinding of red tape, he became a civilian again in the fall and finally settled down to work in Lubbock just a few short weeks before war broke out. Since then, Jimmie has been waiting more or less unconcernedly for the Army to make up its mind where it wanted him and when, and last weekend he found out. He reported at Camp Wolters on Tuesday and from there will go to an officer's training school. Wife Natalie has broken up housekeeping and will return to Baton Rouge while Jimmie does another spell in mufti.

Due to the sugar shortage, pies will be eliminated from the fare at the forthcoming meeting, and arrangements have been made to serve baked beans and sandwiches.

MAFFETT VISITS HERE

Staff-Sergeant D. D. (Bud) Maffett is here for a visit with former neighbors, from his location at Will Rogers Field, Oklahoma City. "Bud" is connected with the Signal Corps, although friends insist he must be stationed in the kitchen, from the amount of pounds acquired since his induction.

JACK KESLER LANDS BACK IN STATES

Jack Kesler, seaman-second class, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kesler of Bovina, who joined the Navy the day following the Pearl Harbor bombing, is back in Savannah, Georgia. He writes his parents an interesting letter, part of which is given below:

"You don't know how happy I am to be where I can write again and let you know I am safe and well. I can imagine how happy you will feel. Sure would like to spend the 4th with you... I haven't been sick the entire time except a cold which lasted only a day or so.

"I can't write in words how thrilling the trip across was. When we left the States we didn't know where we were going until we reached New Zealand... stayed there half a day. Certainly is a beautiful place, from what I could see. Then we sailed the Tasman Sea to Australia for eight days in port. I can't tell you much of these places except the money, which is very hard to get used to. Am sending you a sample.

"They drive their cars on the wrong side of the street, also the language is somewhat hard to get used to. I didn't get many souvenirs... a few small things.

"Then we sailed up the coast about 500 miles for about four days. They have the largest zoo in the world, but as it was I didn't get to go. Sure wish you could see the flowers they have there. When we left there we headed for Chile and after 25 days at sea we landed. That is one place I don't want to go back to. You know, all the people are Spanish and I can't speak their language at all. Then we came up the canal, which is a place I have always wanted to see.

"Then we crossed our most dangerous part of our trip, the Caribbean Sea up to Key West, Fla. I didn't get ashore there... then landed here in Savannah... the land here is very swampy and hot (next to the Equator) and there are lots of Negroes.

"Oh, yes, one interesting thing in Chile was climbing the Andies—the highest mountain range in the world... I will be sending the souvenirs I have collected soon."

Sgt. Carthon Phillips has been seeing real service during the past weeks, according to a censored letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips of this city. Carthon writes that he lost his captain in an engagement in the last days of Java, adding tersely, "the only reason I escaped was that I changed planes at the last minute". It is assumed that the plane in which his captain was flying was shot down. Sgt. Phillips' letter comes from the down-under land of Australia.

Extra Sugar Makes Housewives Happy

Housewives of Parmer county rushed for discarded recipe books the past week when told that an extra two pounds of sugar per capita was available—leading to the conclusion that a cake having real sugar in it might not constitute treason.

According to Mark McGee, of the state office, Stamp No. 7 in the sugar ration books is good for two pounds of sugar during the period beginning on July 10th and ending August 22nd—and this allotment is in addition to the customary one-half pound per week for each individual.

The No. 5 stamp in the book, now in effect, will remain valid through July 25th, officials at the local ration office pointed out, while No. 6 may purchase sweetening on July 26th. No. 7 may be used at any time during the period specified.

Surveys reveal that the major of families—while noticing less sweets on the menu—are doing "fairly well" on their sugar allotment, with the worst pinch coming to smaller families, where in many cases only four pounds per month can be bought.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The Parmer County Commissioners Court was in session here Monday. The minutes reveal that only routine matters were attended during the session.

Crop Loans Available To Parmer Producers

Emergency Crop loans for the production of winter wheat and other small grains are now available to farmers in Parmer County, and applications for the loans are being received at the courthouse by Leo Forrest, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain a loan from any other source, including production credit associations, banks, or other private concerns or individuals.

As in former years, the money loaned will be limited to the applicant's necessary cash needs in preparing his land and seeding his 1942 grain crops.

Borrowers who obtain loans for the production of grain crops are required to give as security a first lien on the crop financed.

Water Extension Costs Soon To Be Liquidated

Officials of the Texico-Parwell Waterworks stated this week that it would be a matter of only a short time now until the water users of Texico would be relieved of the 25-cent per month charge appearing on their water bills, listed as "extension service charges".

Some few years ago the Waterworks company loaned the Town of Texico $1200.00 to pay for materials used in extending the mains, and this has been coming back to the Waterworks company at the rate of 25 cents per meter, each month, with the result that the entire debt has been practically liquidated.

Officials declined to state this week when the debt would be finally paid, pending final check-up with Town officials of Texico, but were frank to say that the debt was "practically wiped out".

On the basis of the number of meters in service in Texico, payments have been coming in at the rate of approximately $20.00 per month, it was said.

School Transfers Are Far Behind Schedule

County Judge Lee Thompson stated this week that applications for transfers from one school district to another were far behind the usual number for this time of year, and reminded patrons and students that transfers cannot be issued after July 31.

He said it was his personal knowledge that many students of the county planned to transfer to adjoining districts for the Fall term, and had failed to make application for such transfers up to this time. The principal reason for transfers, he said, is that high school accommodations are not available in the common schools of the county.

He warned that unless application for transfers are filed before July 31 "there is nothing that can be done about it".

Canning Sugar Varies With Family Needs

Canning sugar allowable under the present regulations varies in amount according to the actual canning done by a family unit, its present supply and its reasonable needs, not set at a fixed amount, John Armstrong, chairman of Parmer county war price and rationing board, explained today.

"There has been a lot of confusion among some householders on this point," Armstrong said, "because the boards in some counties have been more strict than others."

"The State OPA office recommended on June 16 that canning sugar be limited to 6 pounds per person yearly in urban or city areas, and to 9 pounds per person in rural areas, which is the national canning average."

"However," the chairman emphasized, "the State OPA office made it clear that this was not a hard and fast limit on the quantity of canning sugar allowable. It still is within the discretion of the local board to increase a canning sugar allowance up to one pound of sugar for each four quarts of finished fruit."

"All applications for the 6 to 9 pounds national average or less will be handled at the time the application is made. Applications in excess of this average will be referred to the Local Board to be considered at its next meeting."

"Of course," Armstrong said, "we have to consider each application on an individual basis, in the light of the number of quarts of fruit a family canned last year, how much it has on hand now, and the amount of fruit available to it this year which it expects to can. The size of the family is another factor."

"We realize that the canning sugar regulation imposes a great responsibility to administer it is flexible. We must administer the regulation in a manner that will conserve the available fruit supply and at the same time carry out the objectives of the sugar rationing program."

For this reason, he said, the local board will ask for a strict account of the sugar, and its misuse for preserving or for any other purpose besides canning constitutes a violation of federal rationing regulations.

Mr. Armstrong added that home canning contributes to the war effort, because it conserves fruit that otherwise might be wasted.

"It also supplements commercial supplies," he said, "and that cuts down the burden on commercial canning and transportation facilities which are already taxed beyond their capacity."

WHAT'S NEW IN VEGETABLE COOKERY

By Elsie Cunningham
Home Demo. Agent of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

Victory gardens are beginning to bear so we are turning our thoughts to getting the vegetables on the table. It's one thing to produce foods containing all the nutritive values our bodies require for good health and it's another thing to get them to the table containing all of the nutritive values nature puts in them.

Nutrition authorities today are recommending new ways of cooking vegetables—ways that are radically different from most of the methods that have been considered correct up until now.

Your job and mine is to see that Americans are well fed. Every man who dons a uniform is learning scads of new things in doing his part to win the war. Why should you and I be exempt from new things? It takes us working together to keep up with science.

You may have to "unlearn" many of the things you have learned heretofore but that's all right—Isn't it? Go right ahead and unlearn them. Do practice what the nutritionists preach today. Remember, the U. S. needs us strong!

Here are the approved new and healthful ways to prepare vegetables and fruits:

1. Cook with a minimum of water.
2. Cook as quickly as possible.
3. Cook whole and in the skins as often as possible.
4. Save the liquid the food was cooked in.

Not hard, is it? You don't have to have a lot of expensive cooking utensils in order to carry out these simple rules and you don't have to stand over a hot stove hours and hours preparing a meal. Whatever you do—don't overcook—if you want to get all of those vitamins nature put in food—don't leave vegetables to stand in water—don't use soda to preserve the color, it destroys the vitamins—don't prepare vegetables until time to serve or cook them. Do wash them as soon as you bring them in from the garden, put them in a covered pan and keep them in a cool place until ready to use them.

I seem to be using a lot of "don'ts"—please excuse, just one more.

Don't keep hot cooked vegetables standing a minute longer than necessary before serving them. Time their cooking so that they "come out even" with other foods for the meal. If for any reason they must be kept waiting for some time after cooking, set them to cool, then reheat them quickly just before serving. This is important!

The following instructions give you the general directions for cooking vegetables to save vitamins:

For Green Vegetables: as snap beans, peas, lima beans, etc. Cook uncovered in not too deep layer with just enough boiling water added to keep vegetables "boiling". Cook until vegetables are tender. Do not drain. Season with salt, pepper, and butter.

For Strong-Flavored Vegetables: as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and whole onions, cook uncovered, in not too deep layer, in just enough boiling water to nearly cover vegetables; cook just until barely tender and drain immediately. Discard cooking liquid for sake of palatability.

For Red Vegetables: as beets and red cabbage, cook uncovered, in a small amount of boiling water until just tender; drain immediately. If vegetables fade, add 1 to 2 tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar just before serving, to restore red color.

For White Vegetables: as parsnips and potatoes, cook, uncovered, in just enough boiling water to cover until they are tender but still hold their shape; drain immediately.

Spinach and other leafy vegetables: wash thoroughly in several waters, then lift leaves into large saucepan containing a small amount of boiling salted water. Cook rapidly, uncovered, until barely tender, 8 to 10 minutes. Drain and discard cooking liquid.

Panned Vegetables: Panning is a quick and easy, top-of-stove way to cook many vegetables. It is thrifty of food values too, for the vegetables are cooked and served in their own juices with just enough fat to season. This is how vegetables are panned—shred or cut vegetables in small pieces. In heavy saucepan heat to boiling ¼ to ½ cup water and a tablespoon or two of oil, butter, or other fat. Add vegetables at once; season with salt and pepper; cover tightly and cook about 10 minutes, or just until tender.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

By Garlon A. Harper
County Agent
A. & M. College Extension Service
Last week we talked about the job the farmers of Parmer County have in helping to win the war. This week let's think just a little about how we as Parmer County farmers can streamline our plans and operations to accomplish these objectives.

There are so many emergency jobs which come up which our farmers can help to work out, and then our farmers have so many emergency problems of their own in times like these, which need some outside help, that it may all become somewhat confusing to many of us. There is an organization which has been set up in the county (and over the entire nation) which can be of material help if it is used properly in helping to solve these problems. That organization is the Agricultural Victory Council. This organization can best be described as a "human chain" for handling emergency war information. It is so set up that each community of the county has a Victory Leader. Working under that community victory leader are several neighborhood victory leaders who have direct contact with ten to twenty farm families located immediately around the neighborhood leader. When any information needing immediate at-

Attention from farm families comes up the community victory leaders are notified. They in turn notify their neighborhood victory leaders, who are able to contact their assigned farm families immediately and efficiently.

It should be understood that this human chain of information works both ways. Not only will information come down to them from State and National headquarters but their problems may be sent up the chain to authorities who have the power to act on them. For example, the labor question during harvest time may become serious during the war. Farmers needing labor may notify their leaders, who will immediately send this information up the chain where it will reach those who may know of available labor which can be directed to where needed.

Cooperative action in times like these is essential. The proper use of this organization will go a long way in solving many of our problems, which have been brought on by the war and will help us in producing foods which are needed, as well as help us in doing our share of other jobs during the war. Every farm family should know who their leader is and contact him regularly. Those people who have been selected as leaders have expressed their willingness to serve and we are sure they will do a good job if they are given the cooperation of the people of the county. Let's use this organization to the fullest extent.
