

German Sabotage Fails to Halt Allies

German troops destroyed a bridge near Caserta, Italy, to halt the advancing Allies. Their failure is illustrated by these British soldiers who run their jeep into the river and cross without the bridge. In an effort to protect their winter line, the Germans launched a series of furious counter attacks against most portions of the Allied Fifth army.

Meal and Cake Now On Ration Schedule

A telegram received by the local AAA office on Monday of this week practically sets up machinery for the rationing of protein feeds for cattle, which may see the straightening out of one of the most critical feed shortages cattlemen in this country have ever known.

The wire came from B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the AAA at College Station, and is quoted below:

"Effective immediately, no person in your (Farmer) county shall deliver cottonseed meal or cake to any other person except on certificate provided for in Food Production Order No. 9.

"Such certificate is to be approved by the county committee (Farmer county AAA committee), and the certificate is to indicate the quantity of cottonseed meal or cake to be delivered.

Necessary Amount Allowed

"Under the certificate, FPO-9 is attached to War Board memorandum No. 126 and the committee shall not certify quantities in excess of feeding needs for livestock on hand except as provided in FPO-9, which provides that the restrictions imposed by this order shall be effective without regard to the rights of creditors, existing contracts or payments made."

"Notice should be given to processors, handlers and feeders of the provisions of this wire immediately.

"The endorsement and specification of the amount of cottonseed meal or cake on the certificate does not constitute a commitment by the county committee that the meal or cake will be available. The responsibility of locating the meal or cake rests solely with the applicant. The provisions of this wire do not apply to peanut or soybean meal or cake.

"County committee may proceed with the issuance of certificates upon receipt of this wire. The certificate form from section G of FPO-9 should be mimeographed, providing spaces for signature of one member of the county committee and for the amount (meal or cake).

"Any violation should be reported to this office."

Explanation is Given

"Putting it bluntly," said Ellis M. Mills at the local AAA office, "this new order means that cotton producers will not be able to demand all meal produced from his seed. Rather, he will be compelled to share with counties where little or no cotton is produced and where none is milled—such as is the case in Farmer county and in a number of eastern New Mexico counties."

In Case Of Fire

Residents of Texico-Farwell are reminded to keep these telephone numbers in mind in case of a fire alarm. Dial 2341 or 3701 during the daytime, and call 3331 at night.

Asst. Chief Rodney Ford explains that no one is on duty at the fire station during the day, but most of the fireboys are employed at the Roberts Seed Co. and the Farmers Supply Co., and can be contacted by calling either of the first two numbers. The last number given is the fire station and all calls after 6 p. m. should be made to 3331.

Lt. Gober Reported Killed In Action

Another Farmer county lad has made the supreme sacrifice in the present war, according to a telegram received here last Friday by Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Gober, announcing that their son, Lt. Charles I. Gober, had been "killed in action" in the European theatre.

A telegram from the War Department on Friday, received by the parents, announced that Lt. Gober was "missing in action", only to be followed by a second message, announcing his death.

No details of his death were immediately made known by the War Department. It is known, however, that Lt. Gober was reported missing as of Nov. 13, but when and where he is supposed to have lost his life has not been revealed.

On Bremen Raid

Family members are of the opinion that their son, affectionately known as "Buzz", was on a bombing raid that hit the port of Bremen on the night of Nov. 13, in which 15 big bombers and nine fighters were reported to have been lost.

A letter received here by the family from Lt. Gober, which was written on Nov. 8, stated that due to illness on the part of some members of his crew, he had been on no bombing missions up to that time. He also indicated in the letter that his crew might make their first mission out over enemy territory at an early date. This led family members to believe that Lt. Gober might have been lost on his initial raid.

"Buzz" was a bombardier, and received his wings on April 22 of this year at Big Spring, Texas. He left for overseas duty on Sept. 26 and had been based in England since arriving there.

He was a graduate of the Oklahoma Lane high school and was enrolled at Texas Tech in Lubbock at the time of enlisting.

November Bond Sales Far Above Co. Quota

Final tabulations on the War Bond sales in Farmer county during the month of November will more than double the county's quota for that month, it was revealed here today by G. D. Anderson, chairman of the War Bond Committee.

Anderson said that already sales in the amount of $34,211.50 had been reported through his office, and gave it as his opinion that the $50,000 mark would likely be reached when all reports from the various agencies were in hand. The county quota for the month of November was only $20,700.

Meanwhile, Chairman Anderson warned people of this county to "get braced" for the Fourth War Loan drive that is scheduled to open on Jan. 18, 1944, and close on Feb. 1. The national figure has been set at 15 billion dollars, five and a half billion of which has been assigned to individual purchasers.

He said that as yet he has not been given the Farmer county quota for the Fourth campaign, but expressed the belief that it would be somewhat lower than the Third, which amounted to $316,000—and was oversubscribed.

Two Big Farm Sales Booked for Next Week

Two big farm sales—one on Dec. 6 and the other on Dec. 7—are announced, with general farm clean-up sales to be conducted by H. P. Bishop, and by Ray Hubbell and Scotty Barry.

Livestock and farming implements will be the featured offerings at both public sales, with a good list of household goods and miscellaneous items going in to round out an attractive offering of chattels.

The Bishop sale comes on Monday and will be held at his farm 4½ miles north and one east of Bovina. The Hubbell & Barry sale is booked for Tuesday, at the Hubbell farm 2 3-4 miles north and 3 miles east of the Oklahoma Lane school house.

Mr. Bishop is closing out his farming activities in order to enter the ministry, and the Hubbell farm has been rented for the coming year. Col. W. D. Wanzor of Muleshoe, will cry both sales and the clerk will be Pat R. Bobo, also of Muleshoe. A complete list of all the items to be offered will be found in this issue of The Tribune.

Voters Decide to Dissolve District

LOST IN ACTION is the report on Lt. Charles I. (Buzz) Gober, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Gober of the Oklahoma Lane community.

Lt. Caldwell Buried At Bovina Thursday

A throng of sorrowing friends and relatives assembled at the Bovina school auditorium last Thursday afternoon to pay its last respects to the memory of Lt. James R. (June) Caldwell.

The remains were interred in the Bovina cemetery following the services, which had originally scheduled at the Baptist church, but were changed to accommodate the crowd.

Lt. Caldwell's remains were brought here from Deming, N. M., in a sealed casket. His body, and that of his cousin, S-Sgt. Maxwell M. Caldwell, was found on the afternoon of Nov. 17 near the New Mexico-Arizona state line, where it had lain since the afternoon of Dec. 26, 1942, when the plane in which they were returning to their base at Williams Field, Ariz., crashed in a snow storm.

Lt. Caldwell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell, who live five miles south of Bovina. Sgt. Caldwell's home was in San Antonio, and his remains were sent to Dallas for burial.

NINE REGISTERED HERE

Nine new registrants—boys who have attained the age of 18—were reported here today during the month of November by Mrs. Bessie Lee Henneman, clerk of the local board, who added that this is the heaviest single month registration of the 18-year-old group since it became required by law. Those registering during the month are:

Former Farmer Woman Is Buried At Portales

Funeral services for Mrs. J. C. Ginnings, age 63, were conducted by Minister Grover C. Ross, assisted by Minister Ebb Randol, at the Church of Christ in Portales on Monday of this week. Burial took place in the Portales cemetery.

Mrs. Ginnings passed away at Portales on Sunday. The family formerly lived in the Oklahoma Lane community, moving to Roosevelt county, N. M., about four years ago. She is survived by her husband; two sons, Johnnie and Leonard of Farwell and three daughters, Vera, Irene and Juanita, of Portales. Other survivors include three sisters, who live in Oklahoma.

Tribune Job Printing Is Best

By a vote of almost a two-thirds majority, patrons on the Texas side of the Texas-New Mexico School District No. 1 decided in a special election, held last Saturday to dissolve the district.

Under the terms of the consolidation, voted a few years ago, what used to be known as the State Line school district in Texas was attached to the Pleasant Hill district in New Mexico, with the Texas pupils being transported to Pleasant Hill.

Dissatisfaction over that arrangement has been brewing the past two years or more, finally culminating in the vote to dissolve the consolidation by patrons on the Texas side of the line. The exact vote could not be obtained by a reporter who called at the office of County Judge Lee Thompson to find that he was out of the city.

Action Undecided

Just what action the people of the State Line district will finally adopt for schooling their children is as yet unknown. It appears probable that another special election will be called during the next few months to consolidate the district with either the Bovina or Farwell district. Or there is even a probability that the district will be split, with part of it becoming attached to Bovina and the other becoming part of the Farwell district.

Voters of the State Line district have expressed themselves in favor of settling the matter before another school term begins next year.

Snow Causes Train Derailment Friday

Seven cars were derailed and one overturned in the west end of the local railroad yards late last Friday afternoon from the effects of snow, it was announced by Santa Fe officials after an investigation.

The train crew on the long freight signaled the station operator to throw the electrically-controlled switch, which he did, but impacted snow in the switch kept it from moving, resulting in the wreck.

Two of the derailed cars were loaded with whiskey and the overturned car contained chemicals. No one was hurt. Traffic was maintained on the recently constructed track between here and Clovis without interruption.

Tribune Will Print Santa Claus Letters

Following our usual custom of the past 18 years, The Tribune will publish Santa Claus letters from the little folks of this community during the next three weeks.

Letters should be plainly written and brief and must be in this office not later than Tuesday noon for appearance the current week. Address all such letters to Santa Claus, State Line Tribune, Farwell, Texas.

Rain and snow over the past weekend brought the first general moisture to this section in many months, bringing relief to farmers and stockmen alike, who have fought the most serious drought this area has experienced in many years.

A light rain fell throughout most of Wednesday afternoon and continued through that night, to be followed throughout all day Thursday with rain. Snow flurries added to the moisture that night. The snow fell consistently through Friday until late in the afternoon.

Most estimates agree that at least three-quarters of an inch of moisture resulted from the precipitation, while the rain gauge in Farwell only registered .68 of an inch. Blowing snow did not pile up in the gauge and was not accurately recorded, it is believed.

Reports reaching here indicate that the moisture was heavier along the eastern side of the county, where most farmers agree that not less than a full inch was recorded. The moisture was especially good in the Lazbuddi section, reports say.

County roads running east-west were almost impassable during Saturday and Sunday, due to huge drifts of snow that had piled up and melted on the road beds.

Means More Wheat

Many farmers contacted this week have expressed their intentions to plant more wheat just as soon as barren fields dry up sufficiently. Some fields, planted early only to dry out will be reseeded, while thousands of acres that were never planted last fall due to dry weather will now be sown to wheat. All farmers agree that it is somewhat late for wheat plantings, but they argue that the plantings will be worth the investment as a means of retarding wind erosion, which is expected to reach a high peak on unprotected fields.

Barren wheat fields, where none of the fall sowings came up and those which were never planted, did not retain much of the snow of Friday, which drifted badly, but all fields soaked up the slowly falling rains. Stalk and stubble fields were especially benefitted by the moisture, which was retained where it fell. Grasslands also held the snow, which will prove beneficial to range conditions.

January Call Not Expected to be Heavy

The Farmer County draft board is not expecting a heavy call for the month of January, in the opinion of a local board member, who went on to explain that the local board has kept up with its calls during the past months.

"It is these boards who have fallen behind with their calls that are going to be hit for double quotas in January, in my opinion," a member of the local board stated here today.

Press dispatches claim that at least 300,000 men are to be inducted during January. On that basis it would appear that Farmer county will be required to furnish about 15 selectees, in the opinion of the board member. He added that it appeared likely that practically all of these would come from the pre-war father group.

vent insects from searching for food, there are several control measures recommended by the A. and M. College Extension Service. These include eliminating breeding places, poisoning, spraying, and trapping pests and preventing them from entering the house. It will also prove effective to keep food out of reach of insects.

The homemaker can improve considerably the insect situation in the kitchen by removing garbage after every meal and scrubbing her garbage pail frequently. The rural woman likely will use her garbage in a compost pile, which should be kept covered with dirt to eliminate breeding places, and the city woman should assure protection with a tight container for her garbage container.

One other important point, specialists say, is to allow no dirty dishes to accumulate in the kitchen. It is also a good idea to keep food tightly covered. When there is ripe fruit on hand, it should be eaten or preserved or stored in the ice box before it becomes a breeding place for gnats . . . or pomace flies, as entomologists call them.

Extension workers also recommend that the homemaker examine all shopping bags she brings home from the grocery store, for foods and containers may be harboring roaches. Further protection from cockroaches may be obtained from plugging cracks around baseboards with plumbing or plaster of paris.

A thin sprinkling of sodium fluoride will help combat roaches and ants, and pyrethrum powder or borax may be used the same way. Care should be taken however, for keeping poisons out of the reach of children.

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—According to a morbidity report just released by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, dysentery in the State of Texas shows a current incidence of 593 cases as compared with a seven-year median of 38. This places dysentery definitely in the epidemic stage and Dr. Cox urged all possible precautions to prevent the further spread of the disease since it is not only disabling but dangerous.

"Dysentery germs gain entrance to the body through the mouth in the same manner as food," Dr. Cox said. "There they find conditions favorable to their development and the resulting diarrhea pain in the abdomen, and toxemia combine to produce a serious illness in the victim."

Dysentery germs cause inflammation of the lining of the intestinal tract which produces severe pain throughout the abdomen. Toxemia results from dehydration and the absorption of the poisonous substances produced by the germs.

Dr. Cox pointed out that while dysentery is ordinarily much more prevalent among children than adults, at the present time the disease appears to be making its occurrence without respect to age groups. An unusual feature of the present epidemic is the fact that dysentery is usually regarded as a summer disease and it is seldom that it is wide-spread in the fall and winter months. This, no doubt, accounts for the fact that the present incidence is so far in excess of the seven-year median.

"The dysentery germ is always expelled with the excreta of the victims," Dr. Cox said. "It is therefore urgently necessary that the strictest sanitary measures be observed in the care of dysentery patients to prevent the further spread of this disease which is always disabling and often fatal."

COTTON SHOULD REMAIN MAJOR STATE INDUSTRY

AUSTIN—Despite the extraordinary changes wrought in Texas economy by the growth of war industry, cotton can and should remain a major factor in the state's agricultural and industrial expansion, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton expert, believes. Cotton is the most reliable crop of all those grown in Texas, Dr. Cox asserted, being naturally adapted to Texas climate and soil conditions and being suitable for machine cultivation.

"Cotton may well contribute to the welfare of the state in many ways other than as an export product," he explained.

The development of a large urban population—natural accompaniment of Texas' industrial expansion—is calling for large increases in the production of dairy products and meat animals, Dr. Cox pointed out. Such an expansion will necessitate an increase in the amount of high protein-content feeds.

"The seed from each bale and a half of cotton provides half the concentrates and a large per cent of the equivalent hay requirements for one dairy cow for a year," Dr. Cox declared. "On this basis alone, Texas needs to grow at least 2,000,000 bales of cotton to supply its present milk cow population."

In addition, such feed will also be needed to winter sheep, goats and range cattle as well as to maintain a livestock fattening program—bringing up the annual demand for cotton seed products to 3,500,000 bales of cotton.

Texas after the war will face serious problems of unemployment and reemployment, Dr. Cox noted. Cotton, as the biggest employer of labor in agriculture, is again ready to play a prominent part in postwar reconstruction.

"The rising tide of synthetic fibers indicates that it will be important for Texas to use the few years of postwar adjustment to put its cotton production on the soundest possible basis," Dr. Cox warned. "It can do this by permitting cotton production to gravitate to those areas and into those sized farm units where it can be produced most efficiently."

EMPLOYMENT FIGURES MOUNT

AUSTIN—Employment figures in Texas business and industry continued to mount during October, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported, with a year-to-year gain from last October of 21.4 per cent.

Employment also rose 2.9 per cent from September levels. Payrolls made marked gains, with the October total running 2.5 per cent above that of September and 35.7 per cent above October, 1942.

In manufacturing plants, employment was one per cent higher than in September and 4.1 per cent greater than during October of last year.

MEAT RESOURCES OF TEXAS WILDLIFE GIVEN

COLLEGE STATION — Every pound of game taken during the 1943 hunting season which is conserved and used will mean more meat for others, says R. E. Callender, game management specialist for A & M Extension Service. Emphasizing this he points out that the 30,000-odd deer killed during the 1942 season and which dressed out 60 pounds or more were equivalent to 1,800,000 pounds of meat.

Wildlife is one of Texas' most valuable renewable resources, Callender declares. Game animals and birds, waterfowl and fish are a ready source of tons of meat. For example 8,000 wild turkeys which dressed out at about 10 pounds each, were killed in Texas in 1942. And Texas' part of the wild ducks and geese killed yearly in the United States is about 3,550,000 pounds. This state has one of the largest concentrations of wintering waterfowl in North America, and the 1943 flight is indicated as likely to be the largest in several years.

There is a good demand for by-products of the hunt—skins, furs, fats and feathers. The United States government has called for deerskins for aviators' gloves and jackets. Feathers and down from ducks and geese are needed for sleeping bags. The harvest available from Texas hunters could be 125,000 pounds, or enough to make 25,000 sleeping bags. The raw fat recoverable from one opossum would produce enough glycerine to fire five anti-aircraft shells and that from one skunk would fire four anti-tank shells. A total of 393,146 opossum and 140,943 skunks were bagged in the 1941-42 hunting season.

Among other sources, Callender believes that if 25,000 additional families would raise 100 pounds of rabbit meat yearly about 2,500,000 pounds would be added to Texas food stocks. Domestic rabbit production rapidly is becoming a major activity in the Food for Freedom program. Two domestic rabbits do, can and will produce 60 to 75 pounds of dressed meat yearly for the home table in limited space in the backyard. The rapid growth of this enterprise in Texas, he adds, would indicate production of more than 1,000,000 pounds in 1944.

USE NEW TOPS CORRECTLY

COLLEGE STATION — A good many jars of home-canned food have been lost this year because homemakers misunderstood or failed to follow directions for use of war-time seals for glass jars. To prevent further loss of meat, fruits, or vegetables this fall and winter, Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, food preservation specialist for A & M Extension Service, urges home canners to look for directions which come with boxes of glass jars.

Most home canners are using a new glass top seal cap developed by the War Production Board to save metal. It consists of a metal screw band, a glass lid, and a vulcanized rubber ring. Here are rules to follow when using this type of a closure:

Leave a half-inch to 1 inch of empty "head" space at top of jar. Fit the rubber ring around the projection on the bottom side of the lid. Place lid so rubber lies between it and top edge of jar. Be sure that the metal screw is slightly loose while jars are in the pressure cooker or hot water bath. This is necessary to prevent breakage. As soon as jars are removed from the canner, turn the bands down tight, but not so tight as to crush or break rubber rings.

To test the seal when the jar is cool, remove metal band and pull gently on lid with finger tips. If lid is tight, the jar is sealed. The metal band may be left off. Filled jars should not be turned upside down. Like the Extension Service, manufacturers of glass jars are not recommending oven canning, Mrs. Leverenz says.

Homemakers who use glass tops with the spring wire fastening or two-piece metal caps with a "flowed on" ceiling compound should observe other directions which will be enclosed with boxes of jars they purchase. Or, this and other canning information may be obtained from home demonstration agents.

During the past year about 2,500,000 Bibles or portions have been distributed to U. S. armed forces.

Early in 1942 it was estimated that there were more than 21 million refrigerators in American homes.

Hot Game Forecast In Texico-Clovis Fray

One of the hottest games of the basketball season, equalled in rivalry by none other in the county for local fans and players, will be staged on the Texico court Friday night, when the Clovis and Texico teams fight it out.

Texico is admittedly a small community school, while Clovis, on the other hand, has a large enrollment and ordinarily a good backlog of reserve material—but the fact remains that the two teams play over their heads when they meet—and previous showings of either team may be upset in a single evening.

As to what Clovis has or doesn't have, Friday night will be the eye-opener, for this is the first county game for that squad. Last week the high school tangled with the Santa Fe shop quintet, to go down in defeat, but scouts from here report that the showing made by Clovis was not to be scoffed at by anyone. Team is Green

Coaches at Clovis indicate that the majority of their material is green—but they can send a team onto the floor which will average a good 6 feet. Texico's players are smaller, but have seen previous actions in seasons past.

If the locals can approach the speed demonstrated when they took the strong Grady team two weeks ago, they should have the edge over Clovis. On the other hand, the tall visitors may throw up a defense which will make the going exceedingly tough. Either way, coaches, players and fans are looking toward great excitement when the teams clash.

Slated to open the first-team game against Clovis are White and Johnson, forwards, Bowers, center, and Box and Drace, guards.

Second String to Play

Second string players from the two schools will play a preliminary game in the evening, with Francis and Roop, forwards, Paul, center, Freeman and Knox, guards, slated to make up the local aggregation.

The opening game will be called at 8 o'clock, Texas time. Admission, 15, 20 and 30 cents.

BURIED AT BOVINA

Mrs. Lola Dixon, for many years a resident of Parmer county, who had made her home at Slaton for the past few years, was brought here from Lubbock, where she died in a Lubbock hospital, and was buried in the Bovina cemetery Thursday afternoon. Services were conducted at the Baptist Church in that city.

Demonstration Planned Meal and Cake— On Grub Extermination

A simple demonstration showing how easily cattle grubs—which annually cost producers thousands of dollars in meat, milk and leather—can be exterminated from a herd is being planned by Agent Garlon A. Harper, with 4-H club boys to conduct the demonstration.

"At this particular time of year," Harper states, "the grubs begin boring holes through the hide on the backs of cattle they infest. If they are killed during the period between now and the last of February, the producer may feel reasonably sure that his cattle will not be infested again next fall, since the heel fly, which lays the grub eggs, does not travel more than a half-mile."

It is necessary, the agent went on, to treat the cattle three times to be positive of a complete kill, since some grubs come to the surface in December, others in January, and the last in February. Poison must be applied at the time the grubs make holes in the backs of the cattle preparatory to dropping to the ground.

Three methods are used in killing grubs—spraying, dusting and dipping. The 4-H clubbers, Wendol Christian and Billie Joe Foster, will demonstrate the dusting method, it being the easiest for a small herd. Agent Harper said that he planned to have the boys visit the various 4-H clubs of the county, the Men's Club in Texico-Farwell, and the Chamber of Commerce in Bovina. A schedule for demonstrations will be announced later.
