

Political Races Begin; Few Jobs Contested

They're off!
The race for political favor in Parmer County is on, with none of the county-wide candidates drawing any opposition.

The final date for filing for county and precinct offices arrived last Thursday to see only one last-minute candidate emerge from the bushes to file with the County Democratic Committee.

T. E. Levy, incumbent, made known his aspirations to re-election as county commissioner of precinct 3 to be the only last-day office seeker.

With the field open to present office holders, so far as county-wide offices are concerned, present incumbents are free to breeze along in contentment without the necessity of a hard campaign.

Opposition in Precincts

But a different picture looms on the horizon in the precinct races, with opposition in three or the four races. Floyd Schlenker is the only county commissioner who will return to office sans opponent. Jim Miller and O. M. Jennings who for a time looked as though they would go in without a struggle, drew opponents in the last week for filing, with W. S. Menefee contesting the seat of Jennings and T. E. Levy casting his hat in the ring for re-nomination in opposition to Miller, who announced several weeks ago.

Up in precinct 1, Dudley Robards and Bill Flippin are entering what promises to be a warm campaign for the office of county commissioner to succeed Dave Moseley, who has declined to seek the nomination again this year.

One of the little known facts about the coming primary is that voters will have a choice between two candidates for Congress, with La Marr Bailey contesting the position of Congressman Eugene Worley.

Second Primary Undecided

Chairman G. D. Anderson of the Democratic Central Committee, stated today that when the committee held its meeting here last Friday the question of holding a second primary in Parmer County was not brought under discussion. Although Anderson declined to give his views, it is generally thought by outsiders that a second primary will not be held in the county since there is not a possibility of a run-off in the county and precinct races, with no more than two candidates for any one office.

At a meeting held Saturday, Clyde Perkins was named as committee man from Oklahoma Lane to succeed Jim Miller, who resigned to become a candidate. Howard Morris was chosen by the committeemen to succeed Ford Welch, deceased, of the Friona precinct.

The names of the candidates for state offices have not as yet been certified to the County Chairman here, but the following is a list of the district, county and precinct candidates who will appear on the ballot in the July 22 primary:

- For Congress 18th District: La Marr Bailey, Eugene Worley
 - For Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th Supreme Judicial District, unexpired term: Clayton Heare
 - For Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th Supreme Judicial District, full term: W. N. Stokes
 - For State Senator, 31st District: Grady Hazelwood
 - For Representative, 120th District: Joe W. Jennings, Tom W. Deen

Sufficient Gas Allowed To Combine Operators

Gasoline will be issued to custom combine operators to permit them to operate in normal manner as an aid in overcoming the shortage of machinery for harvesting this summer's grain crop, OPA has announced.

Applicants should file requests with the board serving the area where the equipment is normally kept. He should apply for the estimated amount to cover the entire harvest period, officials advise, as many operators often start in one section and move to various regions as the grain ripens, cutting crops for farmers along the way.

If an operator should run out of gasoline during the trip, he must request additional rations from the board where he filed his original application.

Second Parmer Dairy Show Set for August

The second annual Parmer County Dairy Show will be held in August, it was announced today, with the dates being set as August 24-25-26. Tentative arrangements are to hold the show in Bovina, as last year, County Agent Garlon A. Harper added.

Adding the "something new", Harper went on to say that a milk production contest would be conducted in connection with the show this year, with the animals entered in this division required to be at the show barn on the evening of August 23 for preliminary milking. Judging will be by weight and test of butterfat.

Another new angle was seen in the announcement that only registered dairy cattle, or those eligible for registration, would be allowed entry in the show. Last year, the first show included classes of grade stock but the show will definitely be restricted this year.

Tentative plans were also under way to hold a banquet for county breeders of registered stock, it was indicated. Classes for the exhibit, as well as the various prizes and other details concerning the show, will be announced later.

Back In States After Two Years Overseas

Staff Sergeant Carl Bullock, formerly of this city, is back in the United States after having served overseas for the past two years, it was learned the past weekend.

Sgt. Bullock wired his sister, Mrs. Monte Hamilton, that he would be home shortly to visit home folks.

He was with the first invasion troops in North Africa, progressing then to the Sicily campaign and finally on into Italy. The Tribune hopes to have more details concerning his service overseas for a future issue.

BOND PURCHASES LAGGING

Parmer County Wheat Harvest Begins

With the first load of 1944 Parmer County wheat arriving at Bovina on Monday of this week, harvesting operations over the county were expected to be on the upgrade for the next week, and the peak of the season expected to be reached by the middle of next week.

L. R. Talley of the Pleasant Hill community, just across the state line in New Mexico, was credited with bringing in the first load of the 1944 crop to Bovina. Talley

The first load of 1944 wheat to arrive in Farwell was delivered to the Henderson Grain & Seed Company on Tuesday afternoon Glenn Singleterry of the Pleasant Hill community.

The new grain tested 62 and was classed as No. 1 dry. Singleterry was awarded a $5.00 premium for his first load. It is understood that the Singleterry field gives promise of yielding 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

hauled in 10,600 pounds to the Maccon Elevator at Bovina and placed it on storage. The new grain is reported to have tested 59 pounds to the bushel and is said to have contained excessive moisture. Reports here said that Talley's yield was estimated at 20 bushels to the acre.

Combining is reported to have started in other fields in the Bovina and Oklahoma Lane sections the first of the week, but was discontinued when it was found that the fields were a trifle too green for satisfactory results.

Enter Some This Week

Many fields, reports indicate, will be entered the latter part of the current week with still more on the list for "invasion" the first of next week. The peak of the harvest season is expected to be reached around June 27th to 30th, which is some ten days to two weeks later than the usual top in this section.

Excessive rains during the month of May and early in June have been responsible for the delayed season. But while the rains have delayed the season, it is also agreed that the moisture will increase the yield by many thousands of bushels over the county. Predictions are being freely expressed that Parmer county may produce the biggest wheat crop this year since 1941. The opinion is also being made with reference to the 1944 crop over the entire state of Texas.

This prediction, it was noted, being offered in spite of the severe losses sustained two weeks ago by a devastating hail storm that claimed some of the best wheat fields in the county. Many are conservatively estimated to produce at least 30 bushels to the acre, with more optimistic estimates running as high as 40 bushels.

Rye, Barley Looks Good

Rye and barley, which have received only minor attention in Parmer county in past years, are expected to bring thousands of dollars to this county this year. While the acreage in these crops is limited, many fields of barley are being placed in the 40-bushel class.

Elevator men of the county have prepared for the rush of the harvest season as best they could. Bins have been cleaned and preparations made to handle every bushel possible, but even then, with transportation facilities being devoted to the war program, grain men foresee a bottleneck in moving the grain to terminals, and are advising producers to store their wheat on the farms where facilities are available for such storage.

The Santa Fe Railway is making every effort possible to meet the impending difficulty of moving the wheat, but officials are frank to admit that they expect difficulties should a grand rush be made on the railroads in a short period of time. "We feel confident we can keep the grain moved out fairly well if the harvest continues over a period of several weeks, but we cannot be expected to move all the wheat in a few days," W. W. Vinyard, local Santa Fe agent, has stated.

He, too, advised farmers to store their grain on the farms until the rush season has subsided.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenton Pool and sons spent the weekend with relatives in Portales.

Texico Bond Rally Scheduled Friday

With the Rotary Club of Clovis in charge of the program, the citizens of Texico will make their first decisive bid to raise their $25,000 quota of the Fifth War Bond at a rally to be staged at the Texico high school gymnasium on Friday night.

The Rotarians have arranged a program of musical numbers, a short movie and brief speeches by Clovis men. The ladies of the community are expected to bring pies and cakes to be auctioned off to the highest bond bidders.

Although the Texico quota is declared to be unusually high, W. J. Mathews, one of the bond committee members, has declared that a determined effort will be made to reach the goal. "This is no time to say 'we can't' when our boys are giving their lives on the battlefields," he said.

Mrs. Lucy Brown, Texico postmaster, today announced that War Bond sales has amounted to little more than $4,000, and she expressed the hope that Texico would meet its quota in full.

Levy Seeks Reelection County Commissioner

T. E. Levy, present incumbent, has authorized The Tribune to announce his candidacy for the office of county commissioner of precinct 3, Parmer county.

In making public his intentions to seek the nomination again at the will of the Democratic voters in the primary election on July 22, Levy issued the following statement:

To The Voters of Precinct No. 3:
I take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election for County Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, and I want to assure the voters that I heartily appreciate the wholehearted support and cooperation they have given me in the past two years, as we have all been operating under circumstances that prohibit our doing many of things we would like to do.

It is my intention to see all the voters personally insofar as possible, but due to the shortage of tires, gasoline, etc., it probably won't be possible for me to make as extensive a campaign as I would like to make. I would appreciate any effort in my behalf on the part of my friends.

T. E. LEVY.

ATTEND MEETING

Ellis M. Mills, local AAA supervisor, accompanied by Mrs. Leona Moss and Mrs. Evelyn Bradshaw of the office force, attended a meeting of AAA workers in Plainview on Tuesday.

Today's work that is put off till tomorrow is usually still left undone yesterday.

Twin Cities Without Juice Again Sunday

Texico-Farwell will have no electricity between the hours of 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Sunday, June 25, except for "an hour or hour and a half" around noon, Horace Taylor, head of Southwestern Public Service Co., at Muleshoe, announced today.

Taylor emphasized that he was not positive how long the current would be on around the noon hour, and advised local cooks having electric stoves to do their cooking the day before or plan to take a day out of the kitchen.

One other major caution was listed: There should be no irrigating done on Sunday—no matter how dry the lawn or how wilted the flowers—as the city supply is pumped by electricity and must not be brought down to a danger point in the tank.

Residents were further advised that no freezer lockers would be opened during the hours the juice is cut off locally.

"During the next two months," Taylor concluded, "we shall probably be forced to discontinue service of all electricity on three or four more Sundays, in order that new lines may be complete, and we ask the public to bear this necessary inconvenience in order that they may be assured of good service in the future." Definite dates when the power will be cut off will be issued in sufficient time for users to make necessary arrangements Taylor added.

By keeping both political parties, we can always tell how prosperous and how poor we are at the same time.

Trucks, Combines and Labor Shortages Face Wheat Harvest

With wheat fields ripening rapidly under the scorching sun of the past few days, harvest time is fast approaching for Parmer County, bringing with it three major headaches to producers—labor, combines and trucks.

Summed up in a nutshell, the combine situation appears to be pretty well in hand, with more than 80 of the machines available in this county for custom work, while Press Abbott is working as field man to coordinate the work and have the combines placed before harvest actually begins.

The truck situation is slightly improved over that of a week ago, in the opinion of County Agent Garlon A. Harper, who attended a meeting at Lubbock over the weekend and returned with the announcement that some trucks could be obtained from counties in that area for custom hauling.

Must Promise Jobs

Farmers must remember, though, Harper warned, that these trucks must be definitely assured of their work before they will make the trip to the county. "In other words," he put it bluntly, "there can be no 'I guess' or 'I suppose' about needing the trucks. We must have a hauling schedule lined out before they will consider the trip here." Farmers interested in putting in a request for such services, who have missed contacting Abbott, are asked to get in touch with either him or Harper.

The third fly in the ointment, as far as the smooth progress of harvest is concerned, will be the admitted scarcity of labor, if it becomes necessary to pile the wheat on the ground—and practically everyone concerned is of the opinion that elevators will be full and cars scarce for shipping the grain out of the county to terminal points.

In this connection, scoopers will be badly needed to handle the crop—and this is a definite snag. It was believed that prison labor could be obtained from the Hereford internment camp for those desiring it—but Harper reminded that this takes time, and added that those who believed they would need workers should make arrangements along this line immediately.

No Trucks For Sale

Several Parmer farmers and a local automobile dealer, who ranged far and wide over the area last week in an attempt to secure some of the Army trucks and pickups the Treasury Procurement office in Dallas advised were available, reported the search futile today, according to Ellis M. Mills, at the local AAA office, to whom the news of the trucks first came.

Disappointed in a jaunt to El Paso the first of last week, several of the men made another trip to Dallas to find out more about the offer, returning home with the report, "No

Parmer County had barely made a dent in its $265,000 quota of Fifth War Bond sales up to the first of the week, it was revealed here by Chairman G. D. Anderson of the County War Bond Committee.

Figures released by Anderson showed that to date Parmer County purchases had totaled only $42,662.37, which brought forth the comment from the County Chairman that "we've got a long way to go".

Except in the Oklahoma Lane community, no intensive campaign has been launched, Anderson admitted, and added that workers were being organized in other communities to make house-to-house solicitations.

The County Chairman was high in his praise for the showing already made in the Oklahoma Lane district. E. H. Young and A. B. Wilkinson, working as a team, turned in $4556.25 early this week.

Practically all sales made to date have been in E, F, and G series, with a large portion falling in the E series class. The county sales quota in E series has been set at $140,000, leaving a balance of $125,000 to be subscribed in other issues.

Chairman Anderson expressed confidence that sales of the F and G series would reach the quota with little difficulty, with Parmer County school funds in the amount of $50,000 expected to be put in this group—but he was not so certain about the sales of the E series, as approximately $100,000 yet remains to be sold.

No Rallies Planned

"We are not going to stage community rallies unless it is the last resort," Anderson said, pointing out that from now until wheat harvest is complete people will be too busy saving their crops to plan for and attend rallies. He did not discredit the value of community gatherings, recalling the sales made at such meetings in the Fourth War Loan drive.

PVT. BRAND'S INJURIES ONLY SLIGHT, HE WRITES

Pvt. Bill Brand, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Brand who was reported by the War Department to have sustained "minor injuries" in the Italian campaign on May 21, has written his parents that his injuries are not of a serious nature.

He revealed in the letter that he had been hospitalized for treatment and added that the injury sustained was in one of his knees. His undated message expressed the opinion that he would be permitted to leave the hospital in a short time.

His sister, Mrs. Max Huber, who lives here, today revealed that Pvt. Brand had been awarded the Purple Heart for "gallantry in action against the enemy".

Telephone Is Link In Vital Communications

It probably occurs to us very seldom that even in a small community such as Texico-Farwell, the telephone is doing a war job, but actually your telephone in your home is part of the great interconnecting network of communications that links together every city and hamlet in America.

The vast operation of supplying American armed forces overseas, as well as the needs of war workers and army camps, air fields and naval bases on the home front, requires an uninterrupted flow of goods from farm, factory, wells and mines the country over. Without the speedy communication provided by the telephone and telegraph systems of this country, swift movement of these supplies would be impossible.

Because of this important fact, the telephone user's part in telephone service becomes increasingly important as America's military offensive grows. Everybody can help preserve the efficiency of this vast communications system by considerate use of his own telephone.

In spite of the fact that more calls are being made every day than at any previous time in the history of the telephone company, the materials that normally would be available for expansion of telephone facilities are more urgently needed at the battlefield. The copper that would provide more telephone lines is going into planes, ships and tanks, which is as it should be.

Telephone equipment, by careful handling, must be made to last longer. Furthermore, with more people using telephones, there is a higher percentage of party-line neighbors.

The children of Texico-Farwell can help, too. They can avoid doing their school work by telephone with their friends—they can do more visiting in person instead of on the phone—and particularly it should be called to their attention that "telephone pranks" are a real hindrance to the successful prosecution of the war. Shooting at insulators, calling up people promiscuously and then hanging, and many other such actions are serious at any time, but during wartime might result in a situation, however small, that could be harmful to the war effort.

Telephone service has always been a partnership between the user and the telephone company—a partnership which today is teaming up for victory.

As the average man becomes thoroughly acquainted with himself he ceases to wonder why he has so few friends.

I'll predict no-miles-an-hour.

I'll hand it to folks. They've had the patriotism to hold down their speed. But imagine war restrictions ended. Man, you'll see old cars overdoing till they can't chug another mile. You'll see every repair shop crowded for months, but I'm figuring to duck that! Of course, I couldn't see everything coming when I originally had this engine OIL-PLATED. I'd simply overheard that any engine forms dangerous corrosive acids. It made sense to try protecting the engine by OIL-PLATING it with Conoco Nth motor oil. I switched to Nth. You can suit yourself about thinking it's the only oil or not, but first read the whole label. You'll see where Conoco Nth oil's special synthetic fastens OIL-PLATING to your engine's fine inside finish. Then OIL-PLATING is really sort of a special surface to block steady acid corrosion. When repairs might be just a promise, and you can only pray for a new car, you're way ahead with your engine safely OIL-PLATED by Conoco Nth.

He won't dodge this—

Don't you dodge this!

The kid'll be right there when his C. O. finally gives the signal... There'll be no time to think of better things to do with his life. THE KID'S IN IT FOR KEEPS—giving all he's got, now! We've got to do the same. This is the time for us to throw in everything we've got.

This is the time to dig out that extra hundred bucks and spend it for Invasion Bonds. Or make it $200. Or $1000. Or $1,000,000. There's no ceiling on this one! The 5th War Loan is the biggest, the most vitally important financial effort of this whole War!

FARWELL, TEXAS

Growing Forage For Livestock Important

COLLEGE STATION—To obtain good quality hay, rich in protein, mineral and vitamin A, most crops should be harvested about the bloom stage while they still are leafy and green.

It is not too late to plant forage crops for harvesting this year, says E. A. Miller, agronomist. Such crops would include grain sorghums and sweet sorghums for hay, silage and cured bundle-feed, or even a little for late grazing; and sudan grass, cowpeas and soybeans for hay and grazing. Grain sorghums also could be planted for grain where corn was omitted, or where corn crops were ruined by flood.

Since sudan seed is not plentiful this year, planting may be limited to not more than 10 pounds an acre in 3-foot rows. The plants will adjust themselves to available moisture and plant food by stooling. Good stands are often obtained with as little as 5 pounds of seed to the acre, especially if moisture conditions are favorable.

Some good varieties of cowpeas are Brabham, Iron, Whipoorwill, Chinese, Red, Blackeye, Groat and New Era. The Brabham and Iron are resistant to root knot caused by nematodes and 40 wilt, and are excellent on the sandy soils of east Texas. Brabham is well suited for grazing, but fields should be rotated in order to avoid grazing too closely and retard new growth. Harvesting may be started when first pods are beginning to mature.

Laredo, Olooman and Avoyelles are suitable varieties of soybeans for hay, especially Laredo, which produces a good quality of hay if cut before maturity. As hay, most of the feed value is in the leaves.

Miller recommends inoculating soybean seed with bacterial culture inasmuch as Texas soils contain few bacterial which produces nodules on the roots which utilize nitrogen from the air.

Tri-State Rodeo Will Be Presented in July

AMARILLO—Again this year rodeo fans of the Southwest will have five opportunities to see their favorite arena attraction here during the first four days of July.

The rodeo will be sponsored by The Tri-State Fair with Beutler Brothers as directors, but there will be more specialty acts than ever to provide a well-balanced two and a half hour program with calf roping, bull dogging, bronc riding and bull riding as the main events.

Cash prizes of more than $2,000 have been posted for the contestants. It is an open show with no one barred except those blacklisted by the Cowboys Turtle Association.

There will be night shows at 8 o'clock on Saturday, July 1; Monday, July 3 and Tuesday, July 4. There will be two matinees at 2 o'clock on Sunday, July 2, and on Tuesday. Admission including tax will be $1.20 for adults; 60c for children. Box seats will be 75c extra. Officials of the Tri-State Fair have announced enlisted men will be admitted for 60c each, including tax.

ENTERTAINMENT VARIES

AUSTIN—Soldiers like thought-provoking stimulation as well as gay entertainment, the University of Texas has found, and it is going to supply some of the former for wounded veterans at McCloskey Hospital.

During June, the University will send four lecturers on such subjects as the new Mexican volcano, Russia, air transportation, and the frontier and western civilization—to McCloskey.

A poll showed that nearly half of 110 veterans interviewed wanted to hear a series of lectures at the hospital.

Weather Reports For Farmers To Be Started

COLLEGE STATION—Texas farmers soon will have available complete daily reports on the weather as its affects agricultural operations in their immediate area. This service will be the outgrowth of a cooperative program between the Extension Service and the United States Weather Bureau, according to E. C. Martin, acting vice director and state agent.

The reports will cover the 21 areas of Texas served by sub-stations to the Weather Bureau. County agents in each area will furnish the representative of the Bureau a weekly report on the agricultural operations in progress, and in turn the Bureau will prepare a forecast of the weather for the succeeding 48 hours.

The Bureau is arranging with radio stations in the areas to broadcast the reports.

WOMEN ON RAILROADS

Approximately 300,000 rail transportation employees were reported as in the armed services at the end of April. Under current draft policies, the army and navy continue to draw heavily from railroad forces, although there is a current shortage of manpower on the railroads amounting to about 100,000. In this connection, it is interesting to note also that there are now upwards of 100,000 women working on the railroads, and that the number is increasing steadily.

Says he: "Looks good but suppose I had to cook a meal . . . how would I know what's in any of these beautiful jars?"

Says she: "The Gas Company has already solved that problem for us."

Yes, your Gas Company realizes there are all sorts of problems confronting homemakers these busy days, and sometimes apparently small things become more important than one might realize at the time.

For instance—maybe you've often thought about labeling your home-canned fruits and vegetables but it takes quite a while to dig through a dresser drawer . . . find some scraps of crumpled paper . . . cut out irregular-size strips . . . mix flour and water paste—all before you can record the contents of each jar.

Waiting for you at your Gas Company office is a supply of gummed canning labels, absolutely free. They are attractive, printed in blue and have a sufficient amount of space for typing, writing or printing the contents and the date. Recording the date is particularly important. Canned foods are likely to lose flavor and color when held over. So, when jars and cans are labeled and dated, it is easy enough to distinguish last season's supply for use now, making way for full-flavor fresh, bright 1944 fruits and vegetables. Too, if you can more than one lot in a day, add a lot number so jars of any lot in which spoilage occurs can be traced.

INSTRUCTIONS: Write contents and date on label. Moisten gummed side of label and stick on clean surface of jar or can.

Mineral Oil Destroys Vital Food Essentials

COLLEGE STATION—Increased war-time use of mineral oil in salad dressings, salted nuts, potato chips and doughnuts may have serious nutritional consequences.

This concern is expressed by Hapel Phipps of the Extension Service, who cites nutrition research at state experiment stations which have shown that mineral oil robs the body of at least two of the fat-soluble vitamins necessary to health and also of two important minerals, calcium and phosphorus.

The American Medical Association also has issued a recent warning against indiscriminate use of mineral oil, Miss Phipps says. The AMA statement says prolonged use of mineral oil can interfere seriously with the absorption of Vitamins A, D and K by the body.

Mineral oil has come into wider use in food preparation during the war because it has not been rationed along with other fats and oils and because it has been plentiful and relatively cheap. Nor does it become rancid. It has practically no taste, so it cannot be detected in salad dressings.

National Broadcasts Conclude June 19th

COLLEGE STATION—The National Farm and Home Hour, for more than 16 years a nation-wide broadcast carrying important agricultural information, is to be radically altered, according to information to Acting Director J. D. Prewitt of the Extension Service, from M. L. Wilson, national director of Extension work, Washington.

Effective June 19, the Department of Agriculture and the WFA were dropped except on Saturday. The Saturday program will be continued under the present name, and a five or six minute period will be available to the Department for farm news or speakers. A similar period will be available for homemaker information. One feature of the present program, the Friday Victory Garden broadcast, will continue through July 28 and then dropped.

The name of the program Monday through Friday has been changed to "The Homesteaders", to be conducted without the Department's participation by a master of ceremonies who gives about three minutes of news gathered by the network, along with items of special significance or importance furnished by the Department of Agriculture.

From the beginning of the program, Director Wilson said, the Extension Service found the Farm and Home Hour an invaluable aid in keeping farming people informed on agricultural measures and facts of vital general import. For 15 years, important phases of 4-H Club work as carried on by 10,000,000 past and present members, have been broadcast the first Saturday of each month. For several years a similar program was broadcast for and by rural women taking part in home demonstration work.

Health Notes

by Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—Fear of cancer cannot help its victim and unreasonable fear should be replaced by intelligent action concerning this disease, in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The doctor said in a statement this week that cancer can usually be cured in its earlier stages. This has been demonstrated by the fact that many persons have been treated successfully by surgery, radium, or X-ray and are living now, many years after a definite diagnosis of early cancer was made. Many people postpone diagnosis when they suspect cancer either because they dread to hear the truth or because they believe that cure is impossible.

"In the treatment of cancer, time is the most important factor," Dr. Cox said. "To produce satisfactory results, treatment must begin early in the course of the disease while the cancer is still confined to a small area. Persons suspecting cancer should consult their physicians as soon as they notice an unexplainable lump, unusual discharge, a persistent sore on any part of the body, or any change in the appearance of a mole or wart. It is often disastrous to wait for pain since this is a late symptom that usually doesn't occur until the malignant growth has made considerable advance."

The value of early diagnosis cannot be stressed too strongly according to Dr. Cox and that is one reason why regular periodic examinations are recommended particularly for those of middle or old age.

Heavy boulders in the bottom of river beds have been known to be raised to the surface and floated down streams by ice which was formed around them.

Missimo and Her Orphans

Madame Chiang Kai-shek gathered a group of orphaned Chinese girls around her when she visited the new Chinese war orphans' home, near Chungking, to attend opening ceremonies at the institution. The children, many of them too young to understand the reason for their suffering, are some of the millions who roamed over the country after the war had struck their towns.

Britton-Baldock Rites Performed June 5th

Miss Opal Baldock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baldock of Texico, was married to Sgt. John P. Britton on June 5th, at 9 o'clock in the evening, in the home of the groom's brother, Capt. and Mrs. W. K. Britton of Bossier City, La. Sgt. Britton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Britton of Earth, Texas.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Smith, of the First Baptist Church of Bossier City, before an altar decorated in white and flanked by tall white tapers that furnished light to the occasion. Carrying out a red and white color theme, bouquets of carnations were arranged about the room. Mrs. L. W. Clark of Fort Worth sang "I Love You Truly" before the vows were read.

The bride wore a beige suit with a single white orchid and a headband of small white flowers. Her accessories were black patent leather. Mrs. W. K. Britton, of Earth, acted as matron of honor. Her dress was of aqua and her flowers were soft purple orchids.

W. K. Britton, father of the groom, served as best man.

After the ceremony the three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut and served to the wedding party.

The couple is now at Biloxi Miss., where Sgt. Britton is stationed at Keissler Field. Mrs. Britton is a teacher in the Plainview senior high school.

Two local young people are officials of the sub-district, with Marilyn Claire Anderson as vice president and Joan Booth as secretary-treasurer.

Cemetery Donations May Be Left At Bank

Persons who have not been contacted by local workers are advised today that any donations to the Texico cemetery fund may be deposited by the contributor, to the account of the cemetery, at the Security State Bank in Farwell.

Due to shortages along the transportation line, the committee in charge of soliciting contributions, to install an irrigation system at the cemetery states that a complete canvass of the community cannot be conducted, and asks contributors to simply leave their money at the bank.

Those in charge of the work added today that a good sum of money for the work was already in hand.

Odd Lot Shoes Lifted From Rationing, July

An estimated seven million pairs of shoes will be made available to consumers ration-free under a provision releasing a limited quantity of "odd lot" shoes during the three-week period July 10 through July 29, OPA announces.

Included in the release are men's and women's shoes of all sizes, and youths' and boys' shoes of sizes 1 to 6. Since children's and misses' and little boy's shoes were temporarily ration free in May, they will not be affected by this action.

Dealers who sell shoes ration free under this measure are required to make specified price reductions.

Used Car Ceilings To Go Into Effect July 10

Regulations pertaining to the used car ceiling prices that go into effect July 10 will be discussed by officials of the price division of OPA in meetings to be held with dealers throughout the district. The meetings will be held prior to July 10 and will serve to give dealers thorough understanding.

Placing of ceilings on used cars will affect all sales of used cars by individuals or dealers. Prices are listed for 23 makes and about 6,000 models of passenger cars. A total of 42,000 dealers, whose names are carried on manufacturers' lists, have received a copy of the regulation and a sample copy of the certificate of transfer.

Because passenger cars are part of the national transportation system, especially in rural areas, this action was necessary, OPA says.

MOVE TO OREGON

Rev. M. R. Pike and family left here the latter part of last week for Oregon, where they intend to make their future home. They made the trip overland.

Rev. Pike has recently purchased a small irrigated truck farm, which he and his family will operate in that state. He formerly served as pastor of the Methodist churches at Bovina and Oklahoma Lane, and until recently maintained his home in Bovina. He moved to Farwell a few months ago and has been doing carpenter work here.

No Increase In Shoe Supply For Civilians

There is no indication that any increase in shoe supplies will be available for civilians during the remainder of the year, according to a joint statement from WPB and OPA.

Shoe rationing will continue in this country until there is a marked improvement in the supply situation officials have stated in response to reports that shoe rationing would be lifted September 1.

Officials said that inventories declined more than 53 million pairs in 193 and that a further decline up to 25 million pairs is expected this year.
