

PARMER FAR BEHIND IN WAR BOND SALES

High Tests and Good Yields Revealed in Early Wheat Reports

High tests and unexpected high yields are being reported over Parmer County as the wheat harvest really begins to get underway.

Practically all wheat that has been harvested up to the present time has been showing exceedingly high tests, the majority running from 60 to as high as 65 pounds to the bushel. During the latter part of last week, when scattering showers fell on some fields, the test dropped slightly below 60 pounds, due to moisture content.

A checkup at Bovina over the weekend revealed that practically all wheat was testing 63 pounds and up, with the moisture content running from 10 to 13 percent.

Real combining weather has prevailed over Parmer County since the first of this week and it is generally agreed that all fields will be ready for cutting before the close of the present week, with favorable weather conditions continuing.

Yield Good

While it was a little early to predict the average yield on crops being cut last weekend and the first of this week, it was generally estimated that most fields in the Bovina and Farwell territory would run from 15 to 25 bushels, with some fields being rated in the 30 to 35-bushel class. Few acres, however, were expected to run that high.

The eyes of all grain men in the county are centered on the J. F. Barnett field near Parmerton, which has been variously estimated to produce from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre, and has been declared as probably the best large field of wheat in the entire county. Barnett was expected to begin combining this week.

Much Being Sold

With the wheat harvest just getting underway, grain men at Bovina stated Friday that about half the wheat arriving there was being sold outright, and the other half being put in government loan. Much of the grain being delivered there it was revealed, had been previously contracted at a price considerably above the present market.

Ordinarily very little wheat is produced in the Lariat neighborhood, but the turnout this year promises to be better than usual in that section. Oswell (Buddie) Jones, brought in the first load to Lariat on Wednesday of last week, which tested 63½ with an estimated yield of 20 bushels to the acre.

Present indications are that Bovina will be the largest wheat shipping point of the county for the current season. Generally this honor goes to Friona, but it is known that

Bike Time For Twin Cities

It's bicycle time again—and if you value your life, your car or your property, we suggest that you keep a wary eye peeled for the pedalling travelers when out on the streets of the Twin Cities.

From the amateur blind-staggerer to the plutocrat that rides with his hands behind his head or his feet on the handlebars, the cyclists are out in force. Some of the more industrious ride during the heat of day, disregarding the advice in the song, "Only mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the mid-day sun", but the big influx comes in the cool of late afternoon, when the "office slaves" shed their dignity—and most of their clothes—to attempt to establish new records for staying on their bikes.

Little brothers are suddenly discovering that big Sis or Pop has taken over on their machines, while the ration office is besieged with applications for new bikes and stiff competition is in effect in the used bicycle market. From the fancy late pre-war models to the slightly weary ones that have already covered many a mile, practically every bike in town is now carrying capacity or more. Small girls wheel the baby in a securely attached basket, and deliver mail and groceries—but mostly it's just for fun and sport, with no excuses made.

Even the filling stations feel the increased business, with frequent requests for free air, or maybe some tire repair.

Despite bruised and battered legs and shin bones, blistered backs and faces and stiff and creaking joints, young and old insist that it's a great life... and invite the staid and still sound of limb to join in the fun.

ATTENDING CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Roberts are in Chicago this week attending the Republican National Convention. Mr. Roberts is a delegate from New Mexico and Mrs. Roberts is Republican State Chairwoman of New Mexico.

Previous to attending the Republican convention, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts attended the American Democratic convention in Chicago, where he was assigned a speaking place on the program along with former Senator Jim Reed of Missouri.

A checkup made here Tuesday afternoon revealed that the Texico precinct was well past the half way mark in her Fifth War Bond sales, and is possibly leading Curry County sales to date.

Mrs. Lucy Brown said that a total cash value of $14,881.75 had been subscribed through the Texico post-office and explained that all but $200 of this amount was for Series E bonds. She said she had no report from other sources, who might make bond sales to the credit of the Texico quota.

Better than eight thousand dollars worth of bond was sold at a bond rally held at the Texico school auditorium on Friday evening, with entertainers from the Clovis Air Base providing the program.

The Texico quota has been set at $25,000 and civic leaders in Texico expressed the belief today that the quota would be reached by the deadline date—July 8.

West Camp Tops Bond Quota By Neat $10,000

The West Camp community proceeded to go to town in a big way on Monday night, oversubscribing its war bond quota by some $10,000 in purchases.

Faced with a quota of $18,300 for the Fifth War Bond drive, the community turned in a total of $28,128 in sales at a rally held Monday at the school building. This will apply on the Bailey county quota, understood here to be set at $260,000.

Featuring entertainment by boys from the Clovis Army Air Base, including Cpl. Kelly Glazer, Cpl. Al Brewster, Cpl. Curly Cardinelli, Sgt. Bob Bertram and Chaplain Galley, the rally made up with zest and enthusiasm what it lacked in number, sponsors reported here on Tuesday morning.

Col. W. D. Wanzor and Cpl. Kelly acted as auctioneers at the event.

8 Found Acceptable For Service In Army

Out of a total of 14 men sent to Lubbock last week for pre-induction physical examinations, only eight were found acceptable for service in the armed forces, and two of those were assigned to limited military service.

Accepted were Wm. Taylor North, Jr., Robert Rundell, Rufus Eds Douglas, Vialo Weis, Frankie Joe Ditmore, Raymond Morris Robertson; Elim Joe Lindsey and Charles Edward Christian, both limited service.

THREE ARE INDUCTED

Two Parmer county selectees and one transfer were shipped out of Farwell last Sunday for Fort Sill, Okla., where they were inducted into the Army.

Those in the shipment were S. A. Barbee, Jr., Edwinston Clark and John Benn. Stockton a transfer here from Los Angeles.

Bass Price Elliot and John Robert Kimbrow were sent to Fort Sill in the same shipment, but were rejected for administrative reasons. Both boys returned to their homes in Bovina, Tuesday.

JOHN V. FARWELL DEAD

John V. Farwell, 85, pioneer Chicago merchant and civic leader, and the man for whom the town of Farwell was named, died at his family home at Lake Forrest, near Chicago, on June 17.

He was president of the John V. Farwell Company, wholesale dry goods firm which was founded in 1865 by his father, John V. Farwell, Sr.

For many years he was one of the principal stockholders in the Capitol Freehold Land Trust, a syndicate which owns many thousands of acres of land in Parmer, Deaf Smith, Dallam and Hartley counties.

Ham was personally commended recently by Brigadier General M. C. Woodbury, Commanding General of a Fighter Wing, somewhere in England.

The commendation was made at a formation of officers and enlisted personnel of the headquarters commemorating the first anniversary of the Wing's arrival in the European theater of operations.

Levy Back in States After Ten Months

Keith Levy, S2-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Levy of this city, has wired his parents from a west coast port that he is "back in the States" and expects to arrive home on leave within the next few days.

Levy has been at sea for the past ten months, during which time he is known to have seen service at New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, and other islands in the South Pacific.

Fourth of July Event Arranged For Clovis

For the first time in several years, Clovis is staging a Fourth of July celebration. An all-day program has been planned to be climaxed by a big display of fireworks at night.

A long list of events has been arranged for the youngsters, their part of the program to be carried out in the morning starting at 10 o'clock (Clovis time). These include, for the boys, foot races, 3-legged races, bicycle race, potato races, spoon and egg race. Entries will be accepted for each of these events from three age groups—3 to 10, 11 to 13, 14 to 15.

As a spectacular finish to this part of the program, there will be a pie-eating and a watermelon-eating contest.

Foot races, bike races, and a potato race have been planned for the girls in the same age groups. Cash prizes will be awarded in all events.

In the afternoon there will be a baseball game at Bell Park and plans are underway for an old fiddler's contest as a part of the street program.

At 8:30 in the evening, Mountain time, fireworks will be held in the City Park.

Everyone is invited to the big free Fourth of July entertainment for the entire family.

TO COLLEGE STATION

County Agent Garlon A. Harper is in College Station this week, attending the annual state meeting of Extension Service workers. Mrs. Boyd Votaw is in charge of the office during his absence. The agent is expected to be back on duty the first of next week.

"We're sunk if something isn't done right away!"

This was the emphatic prediction of Chairman G. D. Anderson of the War Bond Committee, made today after a revision of War Bond sales in the county, showing that the actual cash sales in E bonds to date had only reached the meagre total of $35,756.25, which is little more than 25% of the county quota in E bonds.

Chairman Anderson explained that in reporting sales of better than $42,000 last week, he later discovered this was an error, due to a misunderstanding in a telephone conversation.

While the sales of Series E is lagging woefully, the County Chairman felt optimistic about the other series, declaring, "We are certain to reach that quota" The county quota in all other series except E has been set at $125,000.00. To date $70,000.00 of that amount has been placed and Anderson felt certain the remainder would be attained with little difficulty.

The Commissioners Court, in session Monday, voted to invest $50,000 from the Permanent School Fund in series G bonds. Pledged subscriptions are expected to hike the total in excess of the quota.

Appeals to Workers

Chairman Anderson issued a special appeal to all workers of the county to "get busy", reminding them that the campaign closes on July 8. His urgent appeal was on the importance of the sale of E bonds.

Asked if in his opinion community rallies were going to have to be resorted to in order to raise the quota, he dismissed the subject with, "I hope not; they are such hard work and require so much driving. He still held to the belief that the people of Parmer county would respond to their patriotic duty and buy bonds without unnecessary outside pressure.

Money From Wheat

"I realize that most money to go into bonds at this time of the year is going to have to come from the present wheat crop and I am also aware that farmers are busy trying to save their crops, but we MUST raise this E bond quota somehow," Anderson emphasized.

Then, taking a more optimistic note, the County Chairman pointed out that at least two weeks remained on the campaign, and added that "two weeks of good harvesting weather could mean many thousands of dollars in bond purchases."

In conclusion, he urged everybody who can to buy E bonds now—today—not wait till the last day of the campaign.

Bond Sales Depend On Wheat Harvest

"We are faced with a situation that we can do little to remedy," stated a member of the War Finance Committee here today in referring to the lagging bond sales in Parmer County.

He then went on to predict that the county would oversubscribe its War Bond quota in the required time, "if we can get the wheat money into circulation during the next two weeks."

As an example of the bottleneck that is retarding the sales, he referred to a man of his acquaintance who proposes to buy at least $3000 in E bonds, but who at this particular time has less than $15 in actual cash to his credit in the bank.

"And that is the position many men of the county find themselves in today; they will have plenty of money as soon as their wheat can be converted into cash, but now they are in no position to buy," he observed.

Commenting along this line, E. M. Deaton offered the suggestion that wheat stored in bonded elevators and warehouses could be converted into cash immediately by taking storage receipts to the AAA office where a check can be issued for the value of the stored grain.

Wheat farmers, it is generally agreed, are not going to leave their fields and come to town to purchase bonds with a wheat crop at stake. And nobody can blame them.

Miss Graham Hard, War Food Administration assistant, will be in Parmer County all of next week July 3 through the 8th, it was announced today. Miss Hard maintains her office adjacent to that of the local county agent, in the courthouse.

Fighting Yank Takes Rest From Tank

Comfortably sprawled out in an upholstered chair and idly waving a fly-swatter, Staff Sergeant Carl Bullock is taking a rest after two years spent overseas with a Yank tank crew.

Going into service with the old New Mexico State Guard a little more than three years ago, Sergeant Bullock went through the entire African campaign against Rommel's desert fighters, put in a few days at Sicily, then followed the invaders into Italy, where his group was moving on up from the Anzio beach-head when he received orders for furlough.

Asked about the fighting in the two campaigns, he casually dismissed it as "active" on the part of the tank destroyer battalion he served with in battle, going on to say that the American tanks are far superior in fire power to that of the opposition.

"We have an especially fast gun now," he said, "although I can't tell you what it is. The old 75 which we used in Africa was slow—it looked as though anybody but a crippled man could overtake the shell before it goes to its destination." Sleep—What's That?

Concerning the sleeping and eating question when an active battle is progressing, Sgt. Bullock said, "You don't think much about sleeping when you get moving, don't have time. As for eats, we were issued special field rations in boxes sufficient to care for the crew (five in number) in each tank, for three meals."

Being with a tank crew, Bullock said that his group moved in support of the infantry—"we follow the assault waves to cover the infantry when enemy tanks begin their challenge to the men on foot". He went on to add that he considered the fighting thus far in Italy much rougher than it had been in Africa, "due mostly to the kind of terrain. The valleys are tiny—seldom more than a mile to a mile and a half wide—and run the wrong way with the coast so that we can't use them to our advantage," he pointed out.

"Prisoners? Yes, I've seen quite a few of them—mostly German, and a lot of them seem to be glad to get out of the fighting. They're bad when they have dug-in positions, but once they're on the run their defenses crumble pretty badly, from what I've seen," he went on. "One night as we were having chow a German came in with his hands up and asked for food, saying 'Those are starving me to death!'"

The submarine menace did not prove an actuality to Bullock, he said, "although we had a few alarms when we went from Ireland to Africa. Down around the Mediterranean it is pretty hot... but the trip over and back home was uneventful."

Serving practically side by side with Bullock have been two other local boys, Carl Jones and Pedro Cervantez, who before the war spent their time working in hardware stores and painting pictures.

"One time I saw a signal battalion signpost, and remembered that the number was that of the group to which Bud (Sgt. D. D.) Maffet belonged. We were on convoy at the time, and when I went back the next day to hunt Bud up, the bunch had moved. That was the nearest I ever came to finding him," Bullock recounted.

The majority of the group with which Bullock went overseas came home on a ship carrying prisoners of war last summer, but not knowing where the ship was headed, he declined to join the boys in an extra sea ride and thus missed out. After their furlough here, the other men returned to their original outfit, but Bullock said today that he had no idea whether he would be left in the States or sent back across.

He is to report at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, in about three weeks. Meanwhile he is taking it easy at the family home near Texico, where his sister, Mrs. Monte Hamilton, now resides.

Apparently the only thing wrong with the furlough is the fact that Bullock's outfit is probably now inside Rome. "I figured that was coming up pretty soon and sure hated to miss out—figured it would be the only time I'd ever get a chance to see Rome," he added ruefully.

VEHICLE APPLICATIONS ARE FILED IN LUBBOCK

Commercial motor vehicle operators who need to purchase new equipment after July 1 were advised today by the Office of Defense Transportation to file applications in this area through the office of Richard E. Wood, 613 Lubbock Nat. Bldg., Lubbock, district manager of the Highway Transport Dept., ODT.
All field work incidental to the rationing of new commercial vehicles will be handled in that way through transfer of this activity from the ICC which has handled the allocations for the past two years, it was explained.
Under the new setup the ODT's regional division will process the applications in the field in accordance with policies and procedures of the Allocation Section of the Highway Transport Department.
New commercial vehicles do not include integral motor buses, which are rationed under different procedure, the ODT said. The shifting of allocation operations from the ICC to the ODT is expected to affect administrative economies as well as expedite the processing of applications because of the greater number of field offices available to operators of commercial motor vehicles.

Guy A. Richardson, of Washington, assistant director of the ODT in charge of the Highway Transport Department, highly commended the ICC's handling of allocations in a letter to Commissioner John L. Rogers, who is in charge of the commission's Bureau of Motor Carriers.

DETAILS LISTED FOR SALE OF HOME-PROCESSED FOOD

COLLEGE STATION—OPA regulations regarding the sale of home processed foods on the ration list are similar to the 1943 provisions, but many Texas producers and consumers still are unacquainted with their responsibilities.

A home processor may sell home-canned foods, but he must observe some limitations, explains Myrtle Murray, home industries specialist for the A & M Extension Service. The processor must collect ration points in accordance with OPA's official table of values, except that the point value of home-processed foods never exceeds eight points per quart or four per pound.

Frozen foods in private or rented lockers are governed by the same regulations, Miss Murray says. She urges home processors to keep accurate records of dates and quantity ties sold. Points collected must be turned in to the local ration board by the tenth of each month.

It is permissible, OPA has ruled, for a consumer to buy fresh produce from a farm woman and then pay the producer by the day for canning the food.

Miss Murray adds that farm families can give away or sell fresh foods for canning, but there is a limitation of 50 quarts to the amount of home-processed foods which can be given to any person or group in any one year without the exchange of point coupons. The food that is given away, however, must come from the supply intended for the household.

Farmers ask for Goodyears because Goodyears keep

C-E-N-T-E-R tread pulls like everything through anything; cleans itself as the tire turns; does not get gummed-up or packed with mud. And those big, sharp, field fighting lugs are buttressed at the base to lessen chance of tearing; spaced evenly to roll with a smooth flow of power, no jerks, less jars.

Mrs. Aldridge Guest Speaker at Club

Reviewing the book, "Inside the FBI", by John Floreity, Mrs. Minnie O. Aldridge was guest speaker, Tuesday evening, when the Texico-Farwell Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. Earl Booth.

The book deals with the history of the FBI, and the requirements made of its employees. The review was exceptionally interesting.

The group is now making cookies once each month for the USO at Clovis, and it was voted to assist the Clovis Red Cross in war work, such as rolling bandages, etc. Mrs. D. K. Roberts gave a report on the plan being sponsored by the club to provide a concrete tennis court in Farwell, south of the watertower, for the use of the young people in town.

Cookies and pop were served to Mesdames J. T. Carter, W. B. LeVeque, Ellis M. Mills, Clyde Magness, W. H. Graham, D. K. Roberts, members; Mrs. Aldridge and Mrs. Lewis, guests, and the hostess.

The club will meet with Mrs. Roberts on July 25th.

Butadiene 3#

Styrene 1#

Mix well and process

THE MAJOR INGREDIENT, approximately 75 per cent, of synthetic rubber is Butadiene. The name sounds like medicine, and the product is truly a great healing compound for the rubber ailments on both the war and home fronts.

In the vast Plains Butadiene Plant, (owned by Defense Plant Corporation) designed and built by Phillips . . . utilizing Phillips own patented processes . . . Phillips is headed for an annual production of 90,000,000 pounds of Butadiene.

This is just another illustration of the growing importance of the chemical values now being extracted from petroleum raw materials. It highlights the fact that Phillips refineries producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants, today, pouring out weapons for victory; tomorrow, producing new and better things for you from petroleum and petroleum gases.

Nearer and nearer draws the day when synthetic tires will be generally available . . . when you can drive into any Phillips 66 Service Station and buy as many tires as you want. Yet the uncertainties of war make definite prediction impossible. That is why it is just as important as ever for you to coax every last bit of travel from your tires.

To help you do that, call on your Phillips 66 Service Man. His Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures at least once a week . . . inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises . . . examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary . . . and crisscrossing with the spare every 3,000 miles.

COWBOYS TO COMPETE FOR BIG CASH PURSES

Hard riding cowboys from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will compete with professionals for big cash purses in Amarillo during the first four days of July.

The Tri-State Rodeo in Amarillo will be an "open" show with no one barred except those on the blacklist of the Cowboys Turtle Association.

Under the direction of Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., the rodeo sponsored by The Tri-State Fair has become an annual attraction and each year draws larger crowds.

More feature attractions than ever will be on the five programs—three at night on July 1, 3, and 4, and two in the afternoon of July 2 and 4.

Admission to the grandstand will be $1.20 for adults; 60c for children and enlisted men. The prices include tax. Box seats will be 75c extra.

To those who know what it's all about, a rodeo is the greatest of all sports, said the late Will Rogers, beloved plainsman-philosopher.

So successful has been the Tri-State Rodeo in Amarillo the sponsors have decided to make it an annual feature during the first four days of each July.

This year several special attractions have been added to the program. Bill Beechler, newly-elected president of the Tri-State Fair, and Rex Baxter, manager of the association, which has cancelled exhibitions for the duration, say no expense has been spared to make the five shows measure up to the best rodeos anywhere.

ARMY PLAYERS PLAN FOR FALL GRIDIRON SEASON

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD—An ambitious football schedule which will give residents of the area a chance to see a lot of the grid sport this fall is now being worked out by officials here.

All games at Lubbock will be played at Texas Tech stadium and SPAAF is attempting to build up a representative home schedule.

The 'Winged Commando' footballers will renew three old rivalries this fall when they play Southwestern University (in Georgetown), Texas Tech and Lubbock AAF, both in Lubbock.

They will also carry on an ancient feud in these parts by playing a home-and-home series with Amarillo AAF. Tentative is a game with TCU in Fort Worth, and negotiations are under way for games with New Mexico University, Kirtland Field, North Texas Agricultural College and West Texas State.

SPAAF expects to have a much more potent squad this year than in '43, when outstanding Marion Rogers won national honors as a first-string guard on the AP All-American service team.

STAFF ASSIGNMENTS MADE

COLLEGE STATION—Appointment of one new member of the home demonstration staff of the A & M Extension Service and re-assignment of five others has been announced by J. D. Prewitt, acting director, and Maurine Hearn, vice director and state demonstration agent.

Miss Thelma Casey, for 12 years Travis County home demonstration agent, becomes district agent in 21 central west Texas counties known as Extension District 7.

The former food preparation specialist, Miss Hazel Phipps, becomes assistant state demonstration agent, and the following district assignments have been made: Miss Lida Cooper, district 4; Miss Bess Edwards, district 8; Miss Zetha D. McInnis, district 9; Miss Beulah Blackwell, district 5. All have been members of the demonstration staff for periods varying from 3 to 23 years.

Appointments became effective on June 16.

What news will Gen. Eisenhower get from us ?

You know now what we've heard from him.

We've heard that Eisenhower and his Americans have hurled themselves like a thunderbolt against the bristling defenses of Hitler's Wehrmacht!

We've heard that they are battering and smashing at our foe—sparing neither steel nor sweat nor blood in one final, furious assault that marks the supreme military effort of this War!

And what news do Eisenhower and his men expect from us ?

Men and women of America—what the Invasion is to our fighting men, the 5th War Loan is to us at home!

For us, as well as for them, this is the crisis—the time for tremendous, overwhelming effort! Make no mistake! The 5th War Loan is the biggest, most vitally important financial effort of this whole War!

If the 5th War Loan is to succeed, each one of us must do more than ever before—must buy double . . . yes, triple . . . the Bonds we bought last time.

Our men expect to hear that we are buying double—that we are matching their sacrifice as best we can—that the American nation, soldiers and civilians together, is making one gigantic effort to win this War!

That's the news our men expect to hear from us.

Will you personally see that they get it?

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

EQUIPMENT TO BE SHOWN AT STAMFORD REUNION

STAMFORD—A gigantic display of the modern equipment of a powerful nation at war will mingle with memories of early frontier days of the West in the huge War Bond Parade which will open Stamford's two-day Texas Cowboy Reunion celebration July 3 and 4.

Some 35 vehicles, including medium tanks, light tanks, armored cars, and many other vehicles of the 12th Armored Division, Camp Barkley, commanded by Major General Carlos Brewer, will highlight the parade Monday morning, July 3, at 11 o'clock. Thousands of Reunion visitors will be given an opportunity to see what their war bonds buy and to realize to some degree what the enemies of such Divisions as the 12th Armored will face in actual combat.

Leading the armored array will be the 12th's own 60-piece band, one of the best bands in the Army.

Five famous General Sherman tanks, the M-4 Mediums, weighing 33 tons each, mounted with 75 mm. guns, machine guns and anti-aircraft gun, will be part of the display. These tanks, which carry a crew of five, have earned the reputation on the battlefield of being the best tanks in the world.

Other equipment will include five M-5 light tanks, a track laying vehicle; five M-7 105 mm. self-propelled cannon; armored cars, an infantry platoon traveling on halitracks, a large surgical truck, two 2-ton wreckers, and a tank transport, one of the largest vehicles of an armored division.

The impressive display continues with a machine shop truck, fuel and lubrication truck, maintenance truck, three MP Jeeps, and a compression truck.

The usual Reunion features of the opening parade also will be of great interest. Cowgirl sponsors, ranch chuck wagons, and hundreds of mounted cowboys will take part in the big affair.

Cash prizes will be awarded within the following divisions: commercial entries, first prize $25, second, $15; juvenile entry $5; and individual entry, $10.

The most typical ranching entry will draw a $25 prize, and the best out-of-town entry also wins $25.

Entrants in prize winning divisions must file an entry blank before parade time. These blanks are available at the Stamford Chamber of Commerce office.

MOWING PASTURES

COLLEGE STATION—The profit from mowing pastures is readily demonstrable, says R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist for the A & M College Extension Service.

Production of pasture grasses generally can be increased 50 to 60 percent by mowing weeds because grass thereby is allowed more moisture, sunlight plant food and air, he asserts. Also, livestock grazing clean, open pasture can get about 80 per cent of the palatable forage instead of 50 percent where weeds are in the way.

Furthermore, animal products could be doubled by clearing and mowing several million acres of land along streams, on overflow crop land and other soil now overgrown with a variety of weeds and worthless shrubs. While the most extensive benefit from mowing is to speed up the transition from a weedy pasture to a good turf, mowing also improves and freshens even the most palatable pasture grasses.

At the Angleton sub-station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, experimental yields of mowed bermuda grass were double and total protein and phosphorus were four times greater than from unmowed grass.

Lancaster counsels that mowing to control weeds must start when the first of the worst begin to bloom, or soon enough to mow all before seed can firm. Bitterweed, a common pest in bermuda pasture, may retain enough vitality to mature seed from blooms on the mowed tops. Hence, this weed would require early and repeated mowing. Cut high enough on the first mowing so the sprouting stubble can be mowed often as it blooms repeatedly.

Reminding that some stockmen depend upon hay for pastures mowed during lush spring growth, the specialist says that the feed value of hay cut before maturity and baled or stacked, more than offsets the cost as compared with leaving an overgrowth on the pasture where its feed value is lost and its presence more injurious than beneficial. Dairy cows need forage to supplement permanent pastures almost the year round. Permanent pastures often are too succulent in the spring and too dry in summer and winter.

Reserves of hay or silage always are needed to adjust fluctuations in pastures.

GLIDER SCHOOL PLANS DISPLAY FOR JULY 4TH

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD—With gates thrown wide to the public of the South Plains area, this advanced glider school will display the same type of combat training, July 4, through which thousands of U. S. glider pilots passed before landing their big "whisper ships" behind enemy lines in France on D-Day.

Visitors on the Fourth will have the opportunity to see the everyday routine of training at SPAAF—landings and takeoffs seconds apart, "blitz" landings, obstacle landings, all the varied facets of "winged commando" training. In additions to the flights of huge gliders and towplanes, visitors will see complicated drills by squads of marching Wacs, a demonstration by ordnance personnel, mass calisthenics to music. There will also be other attractions.

SPAAF has had other successful open house days, but due to heightened interest in gliders because of the part the motorless craft played in the invasion, more people are expected to visit the field July the Fourth than ever before. The field is six miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway and is the only advanced glider school in the nation.

a large part of the best wheat in the county, that would have been shipped from Friona, was lost by hail during May and early in June. Some fields in that area that had been damaged by hail are being harvested, however, with yields as high as 12 bushels being reported.

Women and Boys Help

A Tribune reporter spent the past Friday afternoon at Bovina checking up on the wheat crop in general, and observed that at least half the truck drivers who were bringing the grain to the elevators were women, girls, and young boys. It is understood that they are also playing an important part in the harvesting operations in the field.

BOVINA LAD PASSES

Lyndon Verlin Rhodes, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. White of Bovina, died at the family home Thursday of last week and funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church, Bovina, Saturday afternoon. Burial took place in the Bovina cemetery with Steed Funeral Home in charge.

His passing followed a long illness.

He is survived by his parents and four brothers, Lee Elton and Irwin Lilvus Rhodes, who are in the Army, and Nolan Clyde and Lawrence Leroy Rhodes, who are in the Navy.

Mrs. Woodrow Lovelace, Miss Juanita Petty and Vernon Symcox were visitors with Miss Petty's parents, in Plainview, on Sunday.

'Safety First' During Rush of Harvest Time

Every year during the harvest season we have a number of accidents in connection with the operation of farm machinery. Few of these accidents prove fatal but many of them result in the loss of an arm, a hand or a foot. These accidents have come to be considered too much as a matter of course, as we do our automobile and truck accidents. Many are rated as unavoidable that really might have been avoided by practicing a few safety first rules in handling all machinery.

Some farm accidents are caused by mechanical failures, such as failure of brakes, etc. This year a large percentage of the farm machinery is being used beyond its usual life of usefulness and is therefore much more liable to cause accidents due to breakage or other mechanical failure.

Many accidents are caused by inexperienced operators, by small boys operating machinery before they are old enough or large enough to properly handle heavy machinery. Inexperienced operators often need considerable coaching to understand the safety rules and practices that are taken for granted by men who have operated farm machinery for many years. What is true of farm boys is also often true of women who are taking the place of some boy who has gone to war and are doing work to which they are not accustomed. Overwork has a tendency to increase accidents. We are inclined to be a bit less careful when we are tired. The wheat harvest this year is going to be heavy. Farmers are generally shorthanded. Women and girls, small boys and older men are operating machinery on farms where the regular force has gone to operate more deadly machinery for Uncle Sam.

There is every reason to expect more than the normal number of accidents this summer unless we all take time to be careful. Most every machinery owner knows the rules of safety that apply to his operation, but when he is overworked and shorthanded he too often takes chances. Some accidents result in property loss and the loss of valuable time, even though no life or limb is lost. There is generally more time than would have been required to prevent it. Let's all be careful, all the way, this harvest.

In the rush to save all the crop, which is badly needed for food, let's all do our best to prevent accidents and save our fingers and toes. We may need 'em. Let's be careful.—W. H. Upchurch, County Agent, Randall Co., The Canyon News.

Health Notes

by Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—In giving support to the celebration of June as Dairy Month, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today that in the midst of war food problems, including shortages of manpower, equipment and feed for some dairy herds, the State of Texas joins the nation in a special salute to the dairy industries for carrying on in the face of difficulty and actual hardships to produce one of our essential foods.

"Milk has been called the most nearly perfect food because it contains in easily digested form many elements required for body nourishment," Dr. Cox said. "The milk proteins promote body development and growth and generate energy. The minerals, especially calcium, assist in the growth and maintenance of bones and teeth. The vitamins, which are essential to growth and health, give protection against the attack of many infections."

The state health officer specifically warned that if milk is not clean

ARE YOUR POCKETS STRIPPED FOR ACTION?

This is it.

The zero hour all over the world. The big push we've waited for so long.

This is the time for belts to be worn tighter. For pockets to be scraped. For every last American to wring more dollars out of himself than he thought he could spare!

The U. S. Treasury needs $16,000,000,000 right now! $6,000,000,000 from individuals alone. That's more than $100 in cash from every wage-earning person in the country! We're going to have to double what we did last time!

Just to show you the seriousness of this drive, our Government says—it's probably the biggest effort we'll ever be called upon to make!

Don't fail the boys who've got the dirtiest, bloodiest fighting still ahead of 'em.
