

LONG SESSION OF CONGRESS COMES TO AN END, AMID BITTER CLASHES POINTING TO SERIOUS RIFT IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS

General Rainfall Gives Assurance Of Bumper Crop

Moisture Heavy Over Most Of Howard County And Wide West Texas Area; 1.28 Inches Locally

Rain, falling when it would do the most good, brought assurance of bumper cotton and feed crops to Howard county and surrounding area Saturday.

Big Spring, with its 1.28 inches at the U.S. weather bureau at the airport and one inch at the U.S. Experiment Farm, appeared to be in the area of lightest rainfall, unless it was the Lomax territory in southwest Howard county.

Hard rains, reported as high as three inches, swelled draws around the county's northern boundary line of the county soaking rains were received.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

Sing a song of good cheer, the tanks are full of rain. And fields are wet, and ranges soaked. It looks like the biggest autumnal business since boom time '29. You can depend on crops to pour gold into commercial channels, despite faltering cotton prices, and other sources of income will continue their high level of support, and there's a new one in the offing, if Big Spring does its part. It is the West Texas hospital which will be located here should citizens sanction a $50,000 bond issue Thursday.

Those who keep their ears to the political ground forecast approval of the issue, for a site purchase, in positive terms. Undercurrent mumblings have ascribed opposition to a railroad block and to the north side. This talk, we think, is without foundation. There are no indications that either is seeking, cogently to block passage, for many of the railroad men have gone on record for the issue. With an enormous freight bill due the railroad from location here, railroads have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Likewise, north-siders have the probability of a large property value as an incentive in addition to generally better business opportunities.

One of our friends who reads something beside the front page, opens the paper to point to a story of three wheat fields well failures within this area in 10 days. Says he: "If people would consider these dry holes, they might realize that some day we will need a source of revenue that will be here long after the oil wells are pumped dry."

We have W. T. Strange, Jr., one of the architects on the hospital as authority for the statement that labor costs likely will run between 30 and 40 per cent. Take the middle figure and that means $286,000 to working men. Approximately 10 per cent will go to sand and gravel and other such basic materials available locally—another $80,000. Freight on 12,000 to 25,000 tons of materials and equipment will pour thousands upon thousands of dollars into railroad tills. And after it is up and in operation, an enormous quantity of eggs, butter, milk and other products will be purchased by the institution; and like in another city with a similar institution relatives of inmates will furnish money for dry goods and miscellaneous purchases in the amount of $1,000 monthly. Included also in the cycle of benefit are the service stations, hotels, tourist camps and restaurants.

The installment payment plan on delinquent taxes offered until Sept. 1 makes possible the clearing of back obligations for many a taxpayer. Impossibly large lump payments may now be broken into as Big Spring merchants are making preparations for an outstanding Fall merchandise event on the evening of Thursday, August 26, when a city-wide Fall Fashion Show and Treasure Hunt Parade will be staged. Feature will be a formal presentation of specially decorated windows.

Cooperating merchants will prepare special window displays for an extensive style panorama. The window "unveiling" will be at 6 p. m., with the style presentation scheduled from that hour until 10 o'clock.

Merchandise gifts will be made in connection with the Treasure Hunt Parade, details of which will be announced during the week. This

Over $686,000 Appropriated For Wichita Hospital Next Year

(Believing that citizens of Big Spring, in view of the selection of the local site for the new West Texas state hospital, will be interested in the position relative to the hospital, the Herald asked for such information at the source. In response to the request, Bill Donnell of the Wichita Times has prepared for The Herald the following article on the Wichita Falls state hospital.—Editor's Note.)

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 21.—Construction of a new state hospital, recently authorized by the state board of control, is expected to alleviate an overcrowded condition particularly apparent at the Wichita Falls state hospital for a number of years.

School Dist. Files Suits On Taxes

Court Action Inaugurated In Campaign To Clear Delinquencies

Big Spring independent school district Saturday made good its promise to institute court action against delinquent tax payers by filing six suits in the 70th district court against as many taxpayers.

Over $750 involved in the suits was $759.92, the largest single amount being $204.46.

Those named in the suits, said by School Manager Edmund Notestine to be the first of a series to be filed by the school district, were E. S. Anderson, D. B. Armistead, A. W. Avant, Jessie M. Bailey, P. H. Coburn, and L. E. Christian, said that he suits were filed as to alphabetical order and represented varied degrees of delinquency.

County Attorney Walton S. Morrison, who must act for the school board in the suits, said that others may be expected in a few days. He said that they were being lodged in an attempt to get them on the September term of the 70th court docket.

Brought in the suits were the city of Big Spring and Howard county, both at the petition of the school board. Thus city and county will file cases against all cited by the school board.

CATTLE PRICES DUE TO REMAIN STRONG

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Present high cattle prices will continue the remainder of 1937, the bureau of agricultural economics predicted today, because of good consumer demand for beef and smaller marketing supplies of grain and feed cattle.

The government experts said large grain crops this year following recent droughts may alter two seasonal trends this fall by reducing the usual increase in slaughter supplies and preventing the fall price decline.

WOMAN KILLED IN LEAP FROM CAR

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 21 (AP)—Miss Rose Marie Lohtholz, assistant registrar at Denton State Teachers college, was killed today when she jumped from an automobile which had hit a cow in the road.

Tom Moore Cox, also of Denton and other occupant of the vehicle, was released from a hospital after treatment for injuries. The tragedy occurred 17 miles north of Houston where Miss Lohtholz was to visit an aunt.

Body Found Is Not That Of Missing L. Island Woman

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 21 (AP)—Police Sgt. Dennis W. Cavanaugh announced tonight a body recovered from Long Island Sound was "definitely not" that of Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, missing Long Island heiress.

Cavanaugh said an examination of the teeth of the badly decomposed body established that it could not have been that of the socially prominent woman, who disappeared from her Stony Brook, L. I., home June 8.

Texans To The Charge Filed Polls Monday After Crash

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Texans will shower votes in ballot boxes Monday, saying in that manner whether they want to change again the structure of their 61-year-old constitution.

It was estimated approximately 900,000 persons, including those who had paid poll taxes and those exempt from such prerequisite, were eligible to vote, but this number was much smaller than that recorded in some years past and all signs indicated nothing like even that figure would participate in the election.

Absentee voting, one barometer usually indicative of the interest, was the lightest in years, some cities reporting it virtually negligible. In the capital, for example, about a score of such ballots had been received, compared with several hundred in the general election last year.

Search For Soviet Fliers Hampered By Bad Weather

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 21 (AP)—Dense clouds and rough landing conditions brought disaster today to one plane pressed into the search for the lost soviet transpolar airman, and kept other rescue planes aground.

Lincoln and his two companions Co-Pilot Frank Tomick and Photographer Charles A. Marshall, escaped uninjured. Joe Crosson, noted Fairbanks pilot, flew a pontoon-equipped plane to the scene and brought the trio to Fairbanks.

The refueling plane had left Barrow Landing, Y. T., this morning for Fairbanks. It had been counted on to ferry fuel from the city to Barrow for Mattern. One of the plane's three motors and the fuel tank were torn off in the crash.

FUND PROVIDED FOR TENANCY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Congress, in one of its last acts, voted $20,000,000 today to start an experimental attack, recommended by President Roosevelt, on the nation's tenancy problem.

The third deficiency appropriation bill, which the senate sent to the White House, carried two $10,000,000 items to be used for the following purposes:

1. Loans to selected tenants for the purchase on farms.

2. Government purchase of "unfit" farm land in the southwestern "dust bowl" for retirement from production. Those now living on such land are to be assisted in finding better farms.

Great City Is In Complete Disorder

Terrific Artillery Duel Resumed Along River Sector

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22 (Sunday) (AP)—Shanghai's battle ebbed and flowed today beneath the sullen smoke of miles of blackened ruins while high above the Yangtze toward Nanking a Chinese fleet of airplanes fought and won the biggest aerial battle of the tragic war.

Free Jail Inmates

So complete was disorganization of this great international community in the vortex of the undeclared Chinese-Japanese war, that its governing council decided it could no longer be responsible for its own Ward Road jail, the biggest in the world.

It prepared to turn the 7,000 inmates loose outside the boundaries of the international settlement. Murderers, and narcotics traffickers were included.

Japanese naval guns and Chinese batteries in Pootung early today resumed the terrific artillery duel across the Whangpoo river, Shanghai's outlet to the sea.

It was in such duelling that one American seaman was killed and 17 wounded aboard the American flagship Augusta Friday night.

Midland Gas Company Official Killed Near Lubbock

TAHOKA, Aug. 21 (AP)—A charge of negligent homicide was filed against E. C. Krizan, 41, tonight, growing out of the fatal injury of J. D. Webb, 44, West Texas Gas company official of Midland, in a traffic collision 12 miles north of here at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon.

Krizan, truck driver of Amarillo, was released on his own recognizance, said County Attorney Rolfe McCord, who prepared the complaint, to post bond of $1,000 set by County Judge P. W. Good.

Webb's light pickup coupe and Krizan's truck met with crushing impact and Webb, thrown from his car and under it, gassed only a few times before dying, witnesses said.

The two machines met head-on, said witnesses, and the car skidded more than 50 feet. Webb is survived by his widow and four children. Krizan, who was only slightly injured, is married and has two children.

To Check Site For Hospital

State Officials And Architects Will Be Here Monday

Technical staff of the board of control, headed by Dr. Charles W. Castner, medical director of state eleemosynary institutions, Hood Pitts, chief engineer, will arrive in Big Spring Tuesday to check on the site for the new West Texas hospital for the insane.

Joining in the survey will be Dr. George T. McMahan, who will be superintendent of the new institution, and Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth, and W. T. Strange, Jr., Big Spring, architects on the project.

According to a previous announcement from the board of control, tentative location for first buildings to be erected in the original $17,000 building program will be staked.

Last of the abstracts on tracts involved in the 575 acres offered by Big Spring as a site was dispatched to the attorney general's office Friday.

Absentee voting closed Saturday for the municipal $50,000 bond issue election called for the purpose of financing purchase of the site. The total of 48 votes was expected to reach 50 with receipt of ballots out in the mail. The election is set for August 23.

ADMINISTRATION IS GIVEN CHALLENGE BY OPPONENTS

Suggestion Of Activity Against Them In Next Elections Draws Fire From Foes Of Court Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Congress adjourned tonight, embroiled to the last in a spectacular warfare between fighting factions of the democratic party.

After eight months of furious wrangling, the wearied legislators turned homeward, wondering if the party's once solid majorities had been split beyond repair.

They wondered, too, whether they would be summoned back in special session this fall to deal with problems left unsettled, and, if so, pessimistically predicted that the intra-party row would go on then, from where it stopped today.

For it ended on a note of wrathful defiance. Four of the democrats who opposed the Roosevelt court bill arose, one after another, and challenged the administration to unseat them because of that opposition.

Upon Senator Guffey (D-Pa) who had suggested such a course, the four—Wheeler, Burke, O'Mahoney and Holt—poured vitas of contempt and denunciation, while he sat grimly looking straight before him and said nothing.

Already Had Resigned Campaign Post

Then, they circulated a petition among their democratic colleagues, asking that Guffey be ousted from his position as chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee. They said they had obtained from fifteen to twenty signatures.

However, the petition was withdrawn later when Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, disclosed that a week ago Guffey came to him with his resignation from the committee. Barkley said he was busy at the time and suggested that the resignation go over until after the session.

Aside from the heated conflict arising from the court battle, congress spent the day working swiftly and smoothly to adjournment, with little left to be done because most of the president's legislative program has been beaten, stilled in committee or postponed by a coalition of republicans and conservative democrats.

Shortly before the session ended formally at 7:22 p. m., eastern standard time, Mr. Roosevelt sent the senate a letter expressing his "regards and good wishes" and hoping the legislators would have a "pleasant, happy vacation."

Packed galleries during today's debates contrasted strangely with a sparse attendance on the part of legislators, except during the Guffey dispute. One roll call in the house showed 250 of the members not in attendance.

Housing, Deficiency Bills Completed

When the day began, congress had two tasks left to perform, approval by both houses of conference reports on the $338,000,000 low-cost housing bill and on the third deficiency bill. The housing conferees, who worked into last night, had their report ready when congress met.

Both chambers quickly approved it, after some minor sharpshooting on the measure's provisions regarding civil service requirements for employees of the new federal housing commission.

The senate had voted to put all such employees under the civil service, the house to put none of them in that status. The conferees recommended that civil service requirements be applied to all receiving salaries of less than $1,990.

While the report was before the house and senate, conferees on the deficiency bill, which carried last-minute appropriations, reported a partial agreement, and asked the house for fresh instructions on several points. These included $65,000,000 for cotton subsidies, $2,605,000 for enlarging Yosemite National Park in California and an authorization for a congressional delegation to attend an interparliamentary union conference in Europe next month.

Battle Royal Over Cotton Subsidies

The cotton provision developed a battle-royal which was not settled until Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn had intervened with pleas for approval of the item, which already had the senate's OK.

They were opposed by members from the corn and wheat sections, who charged the measure discriminated against their states. Senate approval had been obtained by a coalition of cotton and grain state senators, with the former promising inter assistance to the latter.

A division vote in the house showed 157 in favor of the cotton subsidies and 98 against. While members shouted objections to that time-consuming process, the opposition demanded a roll call vote.

Nothing Else Left To Do But Quit

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, then brought up several presidential nominations, among them that of T. A. M. Craven to the communications commission, an agency now the subject of much criticism.

Craven's fitness was questioned on the ground that he had been associated with several radio companies but the nomination was confirmed.

There was then nothing left to do, and at that point, Vice President Garner produced the president's letter.

A short speech by Barkley, thanking all and sundry for their assistance in the brief period that he has held the leadership, followed. Then he made the motion for which all had been waiting:

"Mr. President, I move that the senate do now adjourn, sine die."

There was a short cheer, and one unidentified senator shouted "no" before the vote was taken. The latter was but a forlornly and the senators crowded out of the chamber, a few minutes before seven.

The session was not officially ended, however, for the house was still meeting, passing minor bills of a non-controversial nature. At 7:23, the house, too, adjourned.

The intra-party troubles of the democrats, expressed in one of the sharpest series of speeches the senate has heard through a session of bitter fighting, kept jumpy nerves on edge into the final hours of the session.

Guffey last night delivered a radio speech in which he predicted that because of their opposition to the court bill, O'Mahoney and Burke would be defeated. He added that Wheeler would have "plenty" of explaining to do before 1940.

Wheeler, flushed and angry, lost no time in calling the speech to the attention of senators who knew what was coming and were in their seats awaiting it.

"I feel highly honored," he said, "that the senator from Pennsylvania has singled me out as one of three members of the senate for the purpose of broadcasting a speech which everyone knows he did not write and which everyone knows he would not have dared to deliver upon the floor of the senate because he would have been rebuffed."

Guffey, seated in the rear row of the senate sat, red of face, unsmiling, looking straight at the speaker.

"Great liberals, great progressives, great leaders of the movement of this country, friends of labor, if you please, and friends of the farm. When did you ever hear of a political boss being a friend of the workman in this country? x x x

"If you want to wash dirty linen, you may wash it, either upon this floor or upon the public platform, and I say to you: 'Lay on Mackinac' and damned be who first cries 'hold, enough!'"

Ace Film Entertainers Merge Talents In Musical Comedy Opening Today At Ritz

Alice Faye And Don Ameche Head List Of Players

Spotlighting a swiftly-paced parade of outstanding entertainment personalities, Twentieth Century-Fox offers another music and fun festival with its "You Can't Have Everything," booked at the Ritz for today and Monday.

Featuring Alice Faye, whose lit- ing is among the best of the type Hollywood has to offer; Don Ameche, the brash youngster who is carving a niche for himself in filmdom as he has done in radio; Charles Winninger, radio's "Cap'n Henry"; Louise Hovick, one-time queen of the strip-teasers who used the name of Gypsy Rose Lee and who is hailed as a new screen "personality"; Rubinfon and his vic- always; and the screwy Ritz Brothers, the new production ranks with those other musical comedy successes from the same company "Sing, Baby, Sing," "One In A Mil- lion," "On the Avenue," and "Wake Up And Live."

Song hits by the ace writing team of Mack Gordon and Harry Revel stud the story.

Comely Miss Faye appears as a singing playwright whose stark serious masterpiece is adapted by the Ritz Brothers into a howling farce. Because she thinks Don Ameche had a hand in this shame- ful work, Alice spurns his roman- tic interest, only to relent in sub- sequent scenes.

Liberal interspersed with a variety of entertainment, the story finally unites Alice and Don despite the attempts of Louise Hovick to get the young man for herself. Other entertainment experts include Arthur Treacher; Phyllis Brooks; Tip, Tap and Toe, a unique dance combination; Louis Prima and his band; and Tyler Brooke.

Kimball Piano Line Offered Here By Carnett Firm

Addition of the Kimball piano line has been announced by Carnett's Radio Sales, local radio and refrigeration merchandising firm.

W. D. Carnett, proprietor, said that a complete stock of Kimball pianos, product of one of the oldest and best known instrument houses, will be maintained at the store at 210 West Third street. Carnett has rearranged the floor layout of the salesroom to provide for piano dis- plays, and a number of the new instruments are on hand for demon- stration purposes.

H. F. Arnold, who has had several years' experience as a teacher and a salesman, will be in charge of the department.

Kimball pianos have been a lead- ing product on the market for 80 years, control of the manufacturing company always having remained in the Kimball family. The third generation is now in charge of production and sales.

WHO WANTS EVERYTHING?

Second Barn Dance Program To Be Offered Over KBST Wednesday; Ross Band Back On The Air

KBST's first Barn Dance presentation on Wednesday night of last week attracted a crowd of more than 200 at the Casino club, scene of the broadcast. Music for the affair, first of a series, was furnished by the Rhythm Twisters and the Drippers.

Wednesday night of this week will mark the second Barn Dance program, and plans are under way for many new features in addition to the dancing of the square, round and other old favorite forms of the dance. The Barn Dance program will be on the air Wednesday night from 9 to 11 o'clock.

Jimmie Ross and his orchestra are appearing in a special broadcast over KBST each Saturday evening at 8:30. This 30-minute feature will be of interest to those who heard the Ross programs over KBST in the past.

Herbert Finley is appearing in the 6:30 Sunday evening program in the absence of Ira M. Powell. Finley is a well known Big Spring vocalist and has been director of several KBST early morning de-tor at the Fourth Street Baptist church.

Since services at the First Pres- byterian church have been discon- tinued for the remainder of August, KBST is eliminating the 11-12 broadcast hour on Sundays, coming on the air at noon. Beginning the first Sunday in September, the Presbyterian church will resume broadcasting of the morning serv- ice.

Singin' Sam, featured on the program of "Refreshment Time" on station KBST daily, Mondays through Fridays, at 12:45 o'clock, will present the following numbers this week:

Monday—"Down Yonder," "When My Dream Boat Comes Home," "When My Sugar Walks Down the Street," and "I'm Falling in Love With Someone" from Victor Her- bert's operetta "Naughty Marietta."

Tuesday—"Because They All Love You," "Did Your Mother Come from Ireland," "My Sweetie Went Away," and "My Romance." Wednesday—"You Can Tell She Comes from Dixie," "Gone with the Wind," "Someone Else May Be There When I'm Gone," and "His Lullaby."

Thursday—"There's No Other Girl," "Heart and Soul," "Wabash Blues," and "In the Garden of Tomorrow."

Friday—"Sing an Old-Fashioned Song," "Sweet Dreams, Sweet- heart," "The Ghost of Deacon Brown," one of the numbers Bert Williams made famous, and "The Good Green Acres of Home."

Jean Harlow And Taylor Co-Starred

'Personal Property' Is Featured Attraction At The Lyric

Before her screen career ended in death, Jean Harlow was cast one time with the current reigning matinee idol, Robert Taylor. Their picture, "Personal Property" is given a return showing locally with presentations today and Monday at the Lyric.

Director of the film was W. S. Van Dyke, responsible for many Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer successes. Heading the supporting cast is Reginald Owen, one of Hollywood's most distinguished character play- ers who has the role of Taylor's older brother who, in the course of the story, becomes a rival for the affections of Miss Harlow. Others in support are Una O'Connor, Henrietta Crossman, E. E. Clive, Cora Witherspoon, Maria Shelton, Forrester Harvey, Lionel Braham, and Barnett Parker.

Miss Harlow is cast as a rich young American widow sojourning in England and who is harassed by debts. In an endeavor to keep up a front, she runs herself more deeply in debt, with the result her creditors take advantage of the English custom of assigning a sheriff's assistant to take up his post in her house and watch her personal property to see that nothing is sold.

Taylor, as a young ne'er-do-well, gets the job as sheriff's assistant. Beggared by the young widow not to give her away until she can make a match with a rich British- icer, the official agrees to serve as the widow's butler. It is his brother whom Miss Harlow is determined to marry, and the rival of the two brothers for the young woman's affections is brought to a climax when Taylor convinces his brother that the American woman is a de- signing creature with an eye only for money. Thereupon, he gets the girl for himself!

Chinese Water Buffalo From Cast Of 'The Good Earth' Will Be Shown In City Thursday Of This Week

HIL, THE WATER BUFFA- LO—He's a player in "The Good Earth."

Having sent Leo the lion; Tar- zana, the Johnny Weissmuller chimpanzee; Mary, the rhinoceros, and sundry other Hollywood pets on marathon personal appearance journeys around the country, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has now or- ganized the first cinematic water buffalo tour on record.

Hil, the Chinese buffalo belong- ing to Wang and his family in "The Good Earth," has been coaxed into following in the wake of his dis- tinguished four-footed predecessors. To avoid any possibility of disatis- faction, or a sit-down strike, en- route, his employers are giving him a specially designed air-conditioned traveling coach. He will also get a swimming tank in which he can take daily and—when in a frolic- some mood—nightly submersions.

A heating system for chilly weath- er is another luxury which is likely to make Hil's acquaintances back in frigid China envious, if they hear of the matter.

Hil is helping to promote the film version of the famed novel, "The Good Earth," which produc- tion, with Paul Muni and Louise Rainer starred, will come to the Ritz here soon.

Hil makes his own personal ap- pearance at the Ritz on Thursday of this week. A caravan of Chevrol- et trucks brings the animal into Big Spring Thursday at 3 p. m., and Hil will be on exhibit in front of the Ritz from 3 until 6:30.

The first part of Hil's tour has taken in eastern cities where "The Good Earth" is playing, or where it is scheduled to open soon. He was originally imported by the M-G-M studios from China when "The Good Earth" went into pro- duction. He was picked from a group photograph by Paul Muni and Louise Rainer, so the story goes, because he possessed the strongest yet kindest face.

TRENCH SILO WORK GAINING HEADWAY IN SCURRY CO.

SNYDER, Aug. 22—Scurry coun- ty's trench silo program is making encouraging headway, W. R. Luce, county agent, declared Saturday.

A series of three demonstrations on the building of trench silos has attracted wide interest, and several farmers have indicated that they will attempt to store their feed in the economical underground tun- nel this year.

Demonstrations were held at the Ben Brooks place in the Plainview community five miles east of Sny- der, one at the Cornelius Davis farm eight miles northeast of Sny- der, and a third demonstration Wednesday at the Harrison Dur- ham tract southwest of Dunn.

Luce said that there were 14 trench silos in use in Scurry coun- ty and that many more were being dug.

'Love Is News' On Program At Queen

Loretta Young And Tyrone Power In Major Roles

A threesome of attractive young folk add the spice of life and love to a merry bit of a story called "Love Is News," which highligh- the Queen theatre's program for Sunday and Monday. The three, in case you didn't see the picture in its original showing here, are Lo- retta Young, Tyrone Power and Don Ameche. They bring romance, humor and the ardor of youth to a gay story.

With Loretta in the role of a beautiful heiress heckled and pe- tered by sensation-seeking news- papers, the brisk pace is set when she vows vengeance against youn- g Power, ace newshawk who has just tricked her again into the head- lines.

To give the newsmen a dose of his own medicine, Loretta deter- mines to make him a public figure and does so by the simple proce- of announcing her engagement to him. She announces also that she has presented the reporter with a million dollars.

Engaged on every hand, Tyrone strives to expose the hoax, but his efforts serve only to increase his notoriety, as well as his unpopu- larity with a driving managing editor played very briskly indeed by Don Ameche.

On one wild chase into the coun- try both the newshawk and the girl are arrested for speeding and land in jail, an incident which brings one of the film's most hilarious se- quences.

Loretta's revenge finally runs its amusing and bewildering course during episodes in which the table- are turned; and sure enough, hei- resse and reporter finally realize they are "that way" about each other.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

STANTON, Aug. 21—Election of officers will feature the dinner meeting of the Stanton Service club, Tuesday evening, at the Methodist church.

Discussion of future projects and work of the club will be discussed. G. A. Bond, Martin county farm agent, is president of the club com- posed of business men and women of the town.

Australia Buys Swift Planes
CANBERRA (UP)—The Royal Australian Air Force has placed orders in England for a new type twin-engine high-speed cruising planes that will have a speed of 300 miles an hour, or 100 miles faster than any plane now in use here.

Jane Darwell, Wynne Sanders and Pauline Moore are among members of the supporting cast.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE OIL FIELD COMMUNITIES

Church services will be held both morning and evening at the Church of Christ Sunday with A. G. Hobbs, minister, speaking. Sunday evening the sermon subject will be "Why I Believe Jesus Is the Son of God." Services will start at 8:30. On Monday A. G. Hobbs will enter into a revival at the church here, services to be both morning and evening. Services will start at 10 o'clock in the mornings and 8:15 in the evening. The public is extended an invitation by the church to attend these services.

Mrs. Agnes Thurman and children spent several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Johnson.

They were en route to their new home in Seagraves.

M. T. Horton, overseer of the Lannie Glasscock Oil company, has been transferred by the company to Kilgore, where he and his family will make their future home. Rufus White has been appointed to the place left vacant by Horton's transfer.

Miss Helen McMann of Dallas is the guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Westbrook, in the Humble Pipe Line camp. Miss McMann will return to Dallas in time for the fall term at S.M.U. where she will graduate next spring.

Opening for the Forsan school has been set for September 6, it was announced here Friday by Supt. L. L. Martin. Two new faculty members will be added: Mrs. W. B. Dunn, who will teach the first grade, succeeding Miss Eloise Nelson; and Miss Jewell Davison of McCauley, sixth grade teacher and physical education teacher for girls. Mrs. Foy Johnson was former sixth grade teacher here, resigning her position at the close of the last term. Martin will begin his sixth year here as superintendent of the school which has grown from a faculty of seven to the present number of 15. The high school has increased from 10 affiliated units to 23 units. Three additional units will be offered the coming year: additional years work in home economics, industrial work for boys, and physical education. Majority of the teachers have been enrolled in classes during the summer. Superintendent and Mrs. Martin have attended summer classes at the University of Colorado, along with Mrs. W. B. Dunn. N. Malechek, principal of the high school, has studied several months in Austin at the university; Mrs. O. Pierce, home economics teacher, at C.I.A. in Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Brady Nix, at Texas Tech in Lubbock, and D. C. Rogers at A. and M.

Mrs. C. H. Tiptle left Friday morning for Meridian where she will visit with her father. She plans to return next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Westbrook were business visitors in San Angelo Friday.

Mrs. R. E. Minyard, Mr. J. E. Minyard and wife and Mrs. J. T. Terry of Pettis motored to Altus, Okla., last week. Mrs. N. J. Minyard, mother-in-law of Mrs. R. E. Minyard, and J. M. Holly of Altus returned here for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Minyard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Coulson and Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Watkins returned here Saturday from El Paso where they spent the week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Brown, Lalla and Marshall Eugene of McCamey have been guests in the home of their mother and sister, Mrs. L. Brown and Julia, stopping en route to East Texas for their summer vacation. Lalla remained here for a visit with her grandmother and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Brown and family were formerly residents of Forsan.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rust have as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Carnahan and children, Patricia, Virginia and Tommie, of Drumright, Okla. Mr. Carnahan is a brother of Mrs. Rust.

Dorothy Green of Long Beach, Calif., sister of Jeff Green, will arrive here this week to make her home with her brother and sister-in-law and will be enrolled in the Forsan high school. Dorothy attended school here in 1935-36.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson of the Amerada Oil company are vacationing in Canon City, Colo., where they are making fishing trips. They will return through Mexico for fishing.

Thomas Hildreth of the Continental Oil company has received a transfer by the company to Odessa, where they are making fishing trips. They will return through Mexico for fishing.

Mrs. W. E. Rucker was hostess to the Sew and Chat Sewing club on Thursday afternoon in her home in the Magnolia camp. This marked the second meeting of the club since the summer vacation. Those present were Mrs. John Kubecka, Mrs. H. A. Hobbs, Mrs. Carl Blackwelder, Mrs. I. O. Shaw, Mrs. R. A. Chambers, Mrs. E. T. Sewell, Mrs. Leon Barber, Mrs. O. H. Nichols, and Mrs. R. A. Chambers.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Leslie Roberts honored her husband on his birthday anniversary with a dinner party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Edwards. The table, centered with a bowl of flowers and green foliage, was set for 12 guests. A four-course dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Roberts, the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bradham, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards and son, Bonnell, Nona Lea Short, Huston Roberts and Wynona Edwards.

Buzz and Humm Sewing club members met for their social meeting with Mrs. Bob Qualls in the Cosden camp Thursday. The hostess served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Thomas Hildreth, Mrs. Leslie Roberts, Mrs. O. S. Butler, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mrs. C. L. Alston and Alda.

Mrs. J. B. Anderson was hostess to her sewing club, the Sew and So club, Friday afternoon with the following members present: Mrs. J. D. Phillips, Mrs. Jesse Overton, Mrs. T. C. Rankin, Mrs. Jewel White and Mrs. G. W. Overton.

VOTE TO PERMIT HELIUM SALES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (UP)—Congress sent to the White House today a bill to permit the sale of American helium abroad.

The senate concurred in house amendments to motion of Senator Thomas (D-Utah). Thomas said, however, he made the motion with great reluctance because of an amendment limiting sale of helium for lighter-than-air craft to ships floating to and from the United States.

He said this was "contrary to the spirit" of the bill which was designed to improve lighter-than-air development throughout the world.

The United States has a virtual monopoly of helium. Demands that it permit sales abroad arose after the hydrogen-filled dirigible Hindenburg burned at Lakehurst, N.J.

Cripple Devises Electric Gadgets To Do His Bidding In Each Move

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (UP)—Oscar Diesel, 42, refused to make his world a wheelchair. Crippled at 13, he vowed he would be "like other people." Today he is a skilled mechanic, accomplished musician, and possessor of a home-made college education.

Twenty-eight years ago, Diesel began to show symptoms of a strange bone disease. "When a doctor told me I would never walk again," he said, "I determined to make myself useful and self-supporting. It's been hard, but I'm still here."

As a school-boy, Diesel made the resolves that has ruled his life. Since then, he has added another, "I want to be constantly occupied," he said. "No man can be happy unless he forgets himself in his work."

Diesel likes to lose himself in the intricacies of mechanics and electricity.

Eager, untutored, looking much like a college student, Diesel pointed to a series of switches which puts his dictum into practice. One switch, throwing a bolt electromagnetically, locks and unlocks the door. Another sets a buzzer. Three-way devices control lights and phone signals in Diesel's study and apartment.

Diesel's study is on the ground floor, below the living quarters. A lift, designed by himself, raises him from the lower level to his chamber. Driven by electricity, the lift is equipped with a red signal which warns persons upstairs that a part of the bedroom floor is about to descend.

Diesel admitted that while doing the "planned reading" which forms his education, he showed preferences. "He favored field is psychology," he said. "I like to see what makes us act the way we do, and I'm especially interested in metaphysics and the supernatural. I guess I'm a bit queer that way."

Diesel is an authority on pastimes. He has tried, among other things, fine needle work, jewelry engraving, and dry-point work on copper plates. But lately he has turned to his earliest hobby—music. He has mastered, in turn, the piano, violin, and banjo.

Jazz does not come up to Diesel's taste. He prefers semi-classical music, and is especially partial to Victor Herbert melodies. He explains this in terms of his love for singing. Diesel sings a mellow martone.

To earn a living, Diesel turns his study into an office. A quick movement brings him to a suspended table and typewriting desk where he cuts mimeograph stencils and prepares documents. In addition, he is an insurance agent and licensed notary public.

Age Pension Reform Will Be Debated

Whole Subject Will Be Thrown Open As Financing Submitted

By RAYMOND BROOKS (Herald Austin Correspondent)

AUSTIN, Aug. 21—The fight for old-age pension reform will be opened wide to the September legislature when the subject of taxation for pension financing is submitted, according to Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene.

Rep. Bradbury, a sponsor of pension equalization, will tackle this as one of the two measures he expects to push in the fall session or session.

The other is regulation of the lobbyists.

Rep. Bradbury will offer a resolution to require lobbyists and all persons appearing before legislative committees to fill out a questionnaire, to register and record their retainers and compensation for legislative work.

He insisted that the question of raising money to pay old-age pensions includes also full control of the way the money is spent.

Rep. Bradbury said "a severe injustice is being caused" by the removal of many persons from the pension rolls because they have children who have been supporting them.

All persons on the eligible list should be allowed the same amount of pension, and no individual should be excluded because of having children who might support them, he believed.

The law does not specifically prevent pensions to persons who have children able to support them, and the pension division of the board of control has made no mandatory restriction of this kind. Yet, Rep. Bradbury insisted, in many cases old people are being dropped, after reinvestigation, because it is shown they have received support from children.

694 Placed In Jobs By U. S. Agency Here

NRS Office Has Busy Period In Filling Employment Needs

In one of its busiest months, the Big Spring office of the national re-employment service, located at 311 Scurry, placed 694 applicants in private employment.

Included in the number were office clerks, store clerks, maids, housekeepers, cooks, restaurant cooks, skilled and common laborer, and workers of many other occupations. Many cotton choppers and other agricultural workers were placed during the month.

Since Big Spring is one of the main sources from which labor is drawn in the area, 75 workers were placed on prevailing wage jobs, excluding agricultural workers, in other counties than Howard.

The employment office also placed 90 applicants on prevailing wage contract public works projects. July brought 415 applications to the NRS office, boosting the total on file at the office to 1,857, according to Charles F. Carroll, in charge of the office.

"The services of the local employment office are without charge to employers or workers," he said. "If you are seeking a work opportunity, you are invited to register with the local office. If you are an employer and have an unfilled opening, it is suggested that you call on the employment office as your time and money will be saved in filling your opening."

He pointed out that applicants are carefully interviewed by trained staff members and occupationally classified. They are referred to employers strictly on basis of their qualifications. The office does not enter into the wages to be paid or the number of hours to be worked.

Tentative plans are to make the Big Spring office a part of the Texas state controlled system of public employment offices which will be affiliated with the United States Employment service. Efforts are being made to complete those plans by Sept. 1. At the present time the local office is staffed by four trained employes and serves as an area office in the public employment service set up by Howard, Martin, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Garza Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties.

Dr. Henry Fisherman is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fisherman, here today. He is stationed at Andrews county where a cattle testing program is in progress.

Setting In Britain Wises
LONDON (UP)—Setting on race course totalisators in Great Britain increased by about $4,000,000 in 1936. Total turnover, says the annual report of the racecourse betting control board, was $36,823,000, an increase of 19.82 per cent over the previous year. Revenue for the year was $3,441,450.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

The game in Foran between the Continentals Oilers and the Cosdens will go on as per scheduled unless it rains heavily this morning. The Oiler diamond dries quickly and will permit play even though the country has been soaked.

Thanks to Ira Thurman, the identity of the Cincinnati second baseman in the 1919 world series has been learned. He was Morris Rath who worked between Daubert and Koph in that championship combination. Eddie Collins performed at the keystone for the White Sox.

The Steer coaches have a tackle reporting Monday who should weigh more than 185 pounds, another tipping in at 235 and two other line hopefuls matching up as much as 175 each.

One lad, who only this year advanced into high school, comes from Coahoma. He also plays in the front lines.

Co-Capt. Weldon Bigony should be in great shape for the fall season. He's been laboring out in the broiling sun with a pick and shovel and may have learned a thing or two in going down into the dirt. He's as hard as nails and shouldn't have much trouble getting reacquainted with the old pigskin.

Murphy is back in Abilene winding up his affairs and will return Monday morning to get things started here. He was leader in the Sportsman's club program which ran for 10 weeks this summer.

New equipment arrived for the gridders last week, including new helmets, shoes and pants. The colors will be the same as they were last year.

Cleaning the cuff: Avery Falkner, the big radio control board operator at KBST, used to caddy with Ben Hogan, the present professional hot-shot, in Fort Worth. The two went to school together.

Harris Gray, who received an invitation to participate in Jr. Davis Cup tryouts this year, is visiting here with his uncle, Dr. G. H. Wood. Harris lives in Greenville, S. C., but has been here all summer. Latest report has it that Woodrow Harris, big tackle of the 1936 edition of the Big Spring Steers, will attend Schriener Institute along with Steve Baker. Also that Bob Flowers is considering going to Las Cruces to enroll in New Mexico A. and M.

Abilene's softball attendance has dropped off 50 per cent of what it was last season. The game seems to be dying out all over the country. Not so with baseball. Attendance in four of the towns in

May Draw $350,000 Despite Long Odds

Briton Heavyweight Champ Rated Best Prospect In 20 Years, Fight Will Be Broadcast

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—It may be the heat wave. It may be the obvious absence of evidence or belief that British Tommy Farr can long remain upright under punishment administered by the chocolate champion, Joe Louis, or both.

At any rate, New York's fistic faithful is taking very much in stride the big town's first heavyweight title match in more than two years and the negro's first defense of the crown he knocked from the Irish thatch of James J. Braddock just two months ago in Chicago.

To borrow a phrase, all roads leading to the Yankee Stadium next Thursday evening may not be crowded but the fight doesn't figure to be a financial flop, by any means. There's been no talk of a million-dollar "gate" or any extravagant ballyhoo.

Promoter Mike Jacobs figures the bout will draw around $350,000 in gross receipts. Under the circumstances and in the absence of anything hotter to stimulate the cash customers than the weather, this is probably fair enough. It will mean a tidy profit for all concerned and mark another year, the third in a row, in which the fights featuring Joe Louis have grossed an aggregate of $1,000,000 or more.

Louis, of course, is the drawing card. The interest in the negro's fistic performances is such that his fights draw heavily from all parts of the country, regardless of the brand of opposition. The international feature of this occasion, while not as stimulating as the day of Jack Dempsey's rivalry with Georges Carpentier and Luis Firpo, nevertheless has drawn fight followers from many parts of the British empire.

Odds At 5 to 1 To all intents and purposes, this 15-round match between Farr and Louis is a one-sided affair. Louis is a 1 to 5 shot and probably a bargain at that price. There is only faint prospect of an upset, yet this chance cannot be overlooked.

Farr holds the British empire heavyweight crown. In spite of the Evangeline league in Louisiana has moved over the 100,000 mark for the season and New Iberia, which has been outdrawing most of the clubs in the Texas league, has been in last place all season.

The Chicago Cubs move out along the Atlantic seaboard soon with only a prayer. The close National loop race this season is typical of other years, whereas the American league hasn't been interesting since the late '20's.

Roundup Play At CC Today

Representatives Of Five Towns Meet Here

The annual roundup at the country club will begin at 1:30 p. m. today, Manager Shirley Robbins announced Saturday.

Teams from Stanton, Midland, Odessa and Lamesa are expected to be on hand for the matches and the barbecue which is scheduled to be served at 7:30 p. m. About 50 players in all are expected to take part in the yearly celebration.

Individual matches will be played by the ranking members of each club. All rounds will be played over the 18-hole route.

Most of the golfers who will be here will attempt to qualify for the Big Spring Invitational golf tournament during the week, August 29. The meeting, seventh in the history of the local club, will begin September 3 and end on Labor Day.

Only team members who played at any time during the Sandhill schedule are eligible to participate in today's roundup.

Mackay Out To Crown The King, Meets Tex Watkins At AC

Having come up with the second best prize in last week's feature when he jolted Shiek Mar-Allah, Cyclone Mackay retraces his steps in search of the blue ribbon Tuesday at the Big Spring Athletic club.

He will attempt to set the same pattern with Sailor Watkins, the seeded No. 1 musclehead of the local ring.

Watkins, rated "mosta of the besta" because he has yet to look up to anyone here, is the reigning champ and, until the Amarilloan happened along, it began to appear as if he had taken a permanent lease on the place.

Frustrated of a grand slam when Mervin Barackman and Tarzan Krause both were in there at the end of their respective bouts, Tex-as will go back to his specialty for the first time since he tied Shiek Mar-Allah into a knot a month ago. Watty figures he's best over the longer routes and he may be right.

The only fellow to beat him here in three years over the two-hour limit, three-fall matches was Gene La Belle and the Frog sidestepped other possibilities of a match with the tar.

Mackay made the grade last week in a classic. He stomped the Shiek gracefully, refreshing the memories of some of the pugs who had forgotten that his name was Cyclone.

Angelo Team Wins In Beaumont Tourney

BEAUMONT, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Mobilizers of Beaumont and San Angelo battled their way to the finals in the Texas Amateur Athletic federation state softball tournament here this afternoon.

The Mobilizers eliminated the American General Life Insurance team of Houston by the score of 6 to 1, while San Angelo gained a 2 to 1 victory over Nevelow Brothers of San Antonio. San Antonio and Houston will play tonight at 8 o'clock for third place in the tournament.

In the quarter-finals games played Saturday morning, San Antonio defeated Corpus Christi 9 to 8 in 11 innings. San Angelo defeated Menard 8 to 6 in 10 innings; the Mobilizers of Beaumont defeated the Sun Oilers of Dallas 11 to 1 and Houston defeated the Port Arthur Texaco 5 to 2.

Budge Drubs Bob Riggs

Later Teams With Gene Mako To Cop Doubles

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21 (AP)—Smashing out a four set victory over Bobby Riggs, ranked as the world's best tennis player, Budge Pate, lanky, red-haired Don Budge of California today won the 57th Casino singles title and served notice he was ready for national singles championship play.

Later Budge joined Gene Mako, his Los Angeles Davis cup partner and they stamped themselves as hot-shots for the successful defense of their national team titles at Longwood, next week by coming from behind against G. Patrick Hughes and Charles E. Hare, the slam-banging Britishers, for a 3-6 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2 triumph in the doubles finals.

In the singles, Budge all but brushed from the court a youngster who not only won the trophy here last year, but who has also dominated 10 of the 12 tournaments in which he has played this year, including the three previous eastern grass classics. The score was 6-4, 6-8, 6-1, 6-2.

Riggs has improved at least 100 per cent during the past year and Budge's present form is far below that he displayed during his brilliant European campaign.

Sens Leading, 5-1

BOSTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Rain saved the Red Sox from possible defeat again today when the second game of the series with Washington was called in the first half of the fourth inning with the Senators leading 5 to 1.

The teams will wind up in the series with a double header tomorrow.

Pat Stacey To Pitch For Cosdens

Locals Will Be Seeking To Blast Out Bill Brown

Attempting to sharpen their batting eyes after a three weeks' lay-off, the Cosden Oilers will take the field in their final game of the season today at 3:30 p. m. on the Foran diamond where they are scheduled to encounter the bombarding Continental Oilers.

The Cosdentens, trying desperately for that tenth victory of the semester, will be looking at the same pitcher who blanked them in the two teams' only other meeting. That master of the ravel ball is none other than Long Bill Brown, a lean right hander who has lost but two games this season.

Billy Boy brought his hoops along the last time he went out for the aggregation from the oil town and entertained Big Spring fandom by making the locals jump through it for nine innings. He gave up three hits, grudgingly, to the home forces and left them, when it was all over, without an inkling of what home plate looked like.

Popper Martin and his party didn't take to that at all. But Brown took his marbles and went home (with an 8-0 victory) and told the Cosdens to come see him some time.

The Oilers waited nearly a month before they went into a huddle and decided that the thing to do was to make up and call the whole thing off.

So they're taking the field again and they're hoping that Brown has forgotten what they look like.

He'll be throwing in to Earl Scott while Patrick Stacey, who will throw over the first ball for the Cosdens, will have Paul Underwood as a battery mate.

Probable lineups: Cosden—Underwood, c; Stacey, p; Hutto, 1b; Sherrod, 2b; Bostick, ss; Morgan, 3b; Martin, lf; West, m; Smith, rf.

Cosden—Scott, c; Brown, p; Gentry, 1b; Baker, 2b; Payne, ss; Loper, 3b; Cunningham, lf; Barnett, m; Anbury, rf.

Hillin Earns 25th Game

BEAUMONT, Aug. 21 (AP)—Although he pitched nine innings only two days ago, Ash Hillin rebounded the third inning here this afternoon, pitched seven innings more and won his 25th game of the year as Oklahoma City defeated the Beaumont Exporters, 4 to 3.

Hillin succeeded Ralph Buxton who had given up all the runs in the first two innings. He pitched two hit balls in the seven remaining stanzas and did not allow a run.

Manager Jim Keesey, with a home run and two singles in five attempts with the willow, paced the league leaders' attack.

HEAVY SQUAD TO MEET COACHES MURPHY, BRANDON MONDAY

7 Lettermen Scheduled To Report

Squad Of 25 Or 30 Due To Be Out For First Drill

An enthusiastic bunch of lettermen including seven transfers, several transfers and a host of recruits from Ben Daniel's Red Devil squad of 1936, are expected to greet Coach Pat Murphy and his assistant, Carmen Brandon, as the two answer the 1937 initial call for practice Monday afternoon.

The squad, numbering about 30, gather at the high school for issuance of light equipment and then go through their first drill of the year.

Toughest schedule in years is expected to present itself to Murphy and Brandon as the company has less than a month in which to ready itself for the first game against Wink but the gridgers are expected to be in shape.

Heavier Squad
The Longhorns are expected to be heavier than was the team last year. From end to end Murphy and Brandon are going to have more tonnage than in '36 and the secondary may come in at 10 pounds heavier.

Red Cunningham, ineligible last season, may join the squad weighing 200 pounds. The carrot topped Vickers High transfer is counted upon as the mainstay of the backfield.

Three lettermen will team with him behind the line. They are Co-Captain Weldon Bigony, Raymond Lee Williams and Charles Ray Settle. Bigony will come in at about 175 pounds, Williams at 155 and Settle at 165.

Almost 175 Pounds
Thus the average weight of the first string backfield should amount to almost 175 pounds.

Inexperience may handicap the Steer forward wall but Murphy will have plenty of weight with which to work.

Co-Captain Doug Rayburn will report at 150 pounds and both of the experienced wings have added weight.

A varsity guard of '36, Ross Culhan, will steady the line. The mentors will have to plug the wall at one of the guard posts and two tackle berths with first year men.

Following the Wink game on Sept. 17, the Steers will meet nine conference foes in succession, playing five games on the home field.

BUIVID TO PLAY WITH ALL-STARS

DALLAS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Addition of seven more gridgers to the roster of the college all-stars who will tangle with the professional Chicago Bears here September 6 was announced by Pan-American exposition officials today.

The seven were Ray (Buzz) Buivid, Marquette's All-American; Don Geyer, Northwestern University; Dick Bassi, Santa Clara; Max Steinkemper, Notre Dame; John Wistrak, University of Washington; George Bell, Purdue, and Charlie Galatka, Mississippi State Lineen.

IOOF GROUP WILL PLAN BANQUET

Plans for a banquet will be discussed at the meeting of the I.O.O.F. subordinate lodge Monday at 8 p. m. in the Odd Fellow hall, R. W. Randolph, noble grand, announced Saturday.

The affair, to be staged by the losing side in a contest, will be held August 30. As the former vice president of the losing division, Randolph will be in charge of the banquet arrangements. He urged all of his committeemen to attend the Monday meeting.

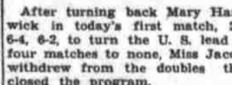

U. S. Cuppers Sweep Six Matches

Miss Dot Bundy In Admirable Show Despite Loss

By BILL BONI
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Completing the rout it started on the opening day, the United States Wightman Cup team today swept on to a 6-1 triumph over Great Britain's girl tennis players.

Helen Jacobs, competitor in the last 11 international engagements, clinched America's seventh straight victory and, also saved the British from a white-washing.

MISS DOROTHY BUNDY

After turning back Mary Hardwick in today's first match, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, to turn the U. S. lead to four matches to none, Miss Jacobs withdrew from the doubles that closed the program.

Thus a brand-new and unadjusted team of Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn and 21-year-old Dorothy May Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., took the court against England's No. 1 pair of Kay Stammers and Fred L. James.

The Americans lost to the 1936 Wimbledon champions, 6-3, 10-8, but not until the chunky Miss Bundy, playing in her first cup match, had made a showing that Mrs. Hazel Hochkiss Wightman, trophy donor, and American team captain, hailed as "the finest I've ever seen turned in by a player making her debut in these matches."

Hornbuckle Into NM Semifinals

ROSWELL, N. M., Aug. 21 (AP)—It's a long road that has no turning, and the corner came today for H. T. ("Shorty") Hornbuckle of Clovis to pop him into the semifinal round of the New Mexico state amateur golf championship.

Taking apart the Roswell course in his quarter-final match, Hornbuckle blasted out of the picture the highly favored Verne ("Spec") Stewart of Albuquerque, former southwestern champion and five times wearer of the state amateur crown.

In the other quarter final matches, Carl Jones of Roswell, the defending champion, continued his unruffled way by taking the measure of J. B. Morris of Carlsbad, 2 and 1; Skip Schreiber of Albuquerque took a 3-and-2 victory at the expense of Ed Amosett of Roswell, and Red Keohane of Roswell defeated Hugh Huff, Jr., of Roswell, 5 and 4.

The semi-final pairings pitted Hornbuckle against Schreiber, and Jones against Keohane.

The rivalry between Hornbuckle and Stewart has been one of the keenest golfing feuds in the state record books, for in winning the state crown five times Stewart has been forced to hurdle Hornbuckle three times in the final matches.

Today, however, the Clovis giant-killer was not to be stopped. Holding Stewart all even over the 18-hole round, he put on the pressure and sank his last putt for a one-up victory.

BROOKS CLOUT OUT 8-4 WIN

BROOKLYN, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Dodgers clubbed Lou Fette out in less than three innings today and breezed in with an 8 to 4 victory over the Boston Bees, to even the current series.

The Brooks after counting one run in the opening inning, came back in the third to tally four runs and ice the decision.

Johnny Cooney, centerfielder, led the twelve hit attack off Fette and his successors, Hutchinson, Weir and Reis, by clouting out three doubles and a triple in four trips to bat.

Gene Moore, Boston right gardener, collected a triple, double and a single in five attempts.

Teacher Pay In County $85-$105

Salary Schedule For Rural Aid Schools Is Announced

Minimum salaries of $85 a month and a maximum salary of $105 a month was announced Saturday by Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, for rural aid schools.

The base pay, $85 a month, may be increased at the rate of $2.50 a month for second and third year college work, a degree, and masters degree. Principals will receive the same base pay plus $5 monthly for each teacher, plus the additions due teachers for training and degree.

Maximum salary for principals will be $150 monthly.

In addition, there may be added to the salary of any teacher, principal or superintendent of such schools one dollar a month for each year's experience beginning with the second year. Last year the increase started with their third year. The increase shall not exceed $10 per month. Teachers in standardized schools may receive an additional $5 each month.

Classified and affiliated schools carry a base pay of $90 per month for teachers with the allowed increases bringing the total to $110 per month. Superintendents of such schools from eight to 11 teachers have a minimum salary of $140 per month and a maximum of $180 per month. Minimum for principals is $100 monthly and the maximum per month is $120. Above 12 teachers, superintendents may receive as high as $175 and principals $135.

Vocational home economics teachers may be paid on the basis of 10 months and vocational agriculture teachers on the basis of 12 months with travelling allowance not to exceed $600.

Schools of less than nine teachers can not have both superintendent and principal. Several equipment standards have been prescribed by the state board before schools can qualify for rural aid.

Two New Points

—now play a part in banking policy.

1. Public psychology has lost those elements of fear which produced such uncertainty during critical periods in recent years. Public confidence has returned, particularly in respect to the banks throughout the country. As a result bankers know that their deposits will be stable, subject only to the normal currents of inflow and outflow. These changed conditions have enabled banks to return to a broader loaning policy toward their customers.

2. This return to normal sound banking conditions has been fortified in several respects by provisions in newly enacted banking laws. Without going into the technicalities, we might say that they create facilities which give the banks more "elbow room" in respect to utilizing their resources in granting sound loans to their customers.

Hospital

hospital here to an average size in comparison with others in the state, and through further improvements which must be made to keep the institution advancing with methods of scientific treatment of mentally afflicted persons, construction workmen of the city have found many jobs.

Salaries $17,000 Monthly

Salaries alone will take a total of $307,318 for the ensuing year, averaging nearly $17,000 a month. Since employment terms of the institution's staff of 389 persons provide room, board and laundry in addition to cash salary, most of the big pay envelopes will go directly into the trade channels of the city. All of the employees are quartered on the hospital grounds.

The remainder of the year's appropriation, $325,000, provides for maintenance and miscellaneous items of the budget.

Practically all of the maintenance supplies, including food, are bought under competitive bids submitted to state officials at Austin and for local establishments to sell to the institution they must be low on their figures.

Business of Wichita Falls is directly benefited by the operation of the hospital in many other ways, however, according to information from the chamber of commerce.

Dosens of visitors having relatives in the institution are received daily and many are in the city, patronizing its hostesses, for extended periods. Retail merchants note sizeable sales to such visitors. These are in addition to benefits derived from the money necessary to maintain and expand the hospital.

ltered now than at the same time a year ago. Other motor vehicle registrations, records show are correspondingly higher. In addition to reflecting a measure of prosperity, it should raise some question as to how to steady the punch-drunk road and bridge fund of the county. With more revenues from every source, it is wobbling.

Back to the rain. We seldom have an opportunity to talk about moisture and range growing quantities. The spotted showers of the week plus the general downpour Saturday morning will clinch a bumper cotton and feed crop, both the largest in five years. Of course there will be the worm worry, but maybe it will keep the farmer's mind off the price. Worm worry won't drive him crazy.

Consideration is being given an industrial survey for Big Spring. At this time when the city's course is very much ahead, an authoritative study of existing industrial advantages, pointing toward possibilities, would be well received. There's nothing that backs up a talking point about a city like facts.

Burke took up the denunciation of Guffey with a statement that he had supported the need deal "until I came to see that sometimes a new deal may quickly become a rotten deal," and "I lost some of my enthusiasm for some of the things I had been supporting."

It would be easy, he said, to do no work, attend no committee meetings, read no bills, simply "call the White House or perhaps the postmaster general and find out how I am supposed to vote."

"I know of nothing," he said "that would make my almost unanimous election to the senate more certain than to have the junior senator from Pennsylvania come and tell the voters of Nebraska the kind of stuff he uttered over the radio last night."

While Guffey still sat, expressionless, Wheeler resumed with a denunciation of "so-called liberals and new dealers."

"On the one hand," he said, "some of these people denounce economic royalists, and on the other hand they go out and try to shake them down when they are coming down to testify before a committee, asking them for campaign contributions on the one hand and denouncing them upon the other."

Dawson Test Strikes Oil

Wilson-Scanlon Location Gets Showing At 4,835-50

Prospects for a second producer in Dawson county loomed bright Saturday with the encountering of oil in the E. L. Wilson No. 1 Scanlon, in the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33-M, EL&RE, three and one-half miles west of the discovery Ray Albright No. 1 Robinson well in the northwest part of the county.

Reports said that oil was struck at 4,835-50 midnight Friday. The show was logged 140 feet higher than in the discovery well. Drilling was going ahead at 4,875 feet Saturday night with indications good for a producer.

Another Dawson county wildcat of interest, the Albright No. 1 Dewey Hogg, in the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 17-34-4n, T&P, three miles northeast of Sparenberg, drilled to 3,150 feet in lims, shales and anhydrite Saturday evening.

Garlington Wheat Production Over 12,000 Bushels

J. S. Garlington, who with his son, Donald, is the largest small-grain producer in the county, said Saturday that total production of his holdings here this year amounted to 12,238 bushels.

Of the yield, 10,771 bushels was wheat. He reported what was believed to be the largest harvest on record in this county—30 bushels an acre off a 50-acre tract. This same wheat averaged 64 pounds to the bushel. He is saving this lot for seed.

His other small grain was barley, which he reported he believed that "this is a wheat country, and we will make another wheat crop here in 1938."

Way is Cleared for Bolstering Price of Cotton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Congress completed a momentous bargain with President Roosevelt today, pledging to make crop control its first order of business next session and clearing the way for the president in turn to bolster sagging cotton prices at once.

The promise to hasten crop control—which the chief executive has required as security for loans on this year's cotton—went to the White House when the senate completed congressional action on it.

Both houses quickly approved additional legislation enabling Mr. Roosevelt to carry out his end of the bargain, which senators said was to assure cotton growers a return of 12 cents a pound on their 1937 yield.

CROP ESTIMATES JUMPED AS COUNTY GETS GENERAL RAIN

Crop estimates went soaring here Saturday as general, soaking rains blanketed the county. Consensus of those in touch with the local crop situation was that Howard county would harvest the largest crop in its history.

Previous estimates of a 20,000 bale cotton crop jumped 5,000 bales in the light of almost all observers, and many were predicting a 30,000 bale crop.

The feed crop, virtually certain to be the biggest ever harvested in the county, was estimated conservatively at 125,000 tons.

In addition, late truck, some 2,000 acres in all, was due for a good yield.

Over and above these figures, farmers have already and were certain to reap tremendous benefits for around 17,000 acres planted to soil conserving and building crops, chief among them sudan grass.

90,000 Acres?

The most authoritative estimates placed the cotton acreage at 87,000 for Howard county, with the admitted possibility that it may run as high as 90,000 if there is much "kicking out of the federal farm program."

Of the some 57,000 acres set aside this year for general base crops, around 10,000 was planted to small grains which yield upwards to 80,000 bushels of wheat and 20,000 bushels of barley, rye and oats for an estimated $100,000.

"The rain came at a critical period for feed," commented County Agent O. P. Griffin Saturday afternoon. "Almost all the feed was already beginning or about to begin to head. Stuff which was wilted and burnt had started greening Saturday. Practically none of it was hurt so badly but what the rain will bring it out."

Third-Bale To Acre

Cotton farmers, cheered by the timely arrival of moisture, looked for yields ranging from little less than a bale to the acre to a quarter of a bale to the acre. In predicting a yield of 30,000 bales for the county, observers pointed out that cotton would have to average only slightly more than a third of a bale to the acre. With the best record output of 1932 and a summer drought, they agreed that the rain had come just at the right time to make best grass for the winter.

Crude Quotas Are Trimmed

Local Fields Share In General Decrease For The State

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—The railroad commission today set the allowable oil production on Sept. 1 at 1,441,734 barrels daily, a reduction of 110,000 barrels a day from the allowable of Aug. 18 but 28,134 more than the recommendation of the United States bureau of mines.

Contrary to expectations in some quarters the commission left unchanged the factor upon which is based the allowable for the vast East Texas field, 2.32 per cent of hourly potential.

ORANGE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Presence of an ambulance, coroner and a group of sightseers evidently taught a supposed corpse a lesson. The man, found lying on a sidewalk near a cemetery, suddenly aroused, took notice of his surroundings and wobbled away mumbling:

"Well, if this don't learn me a lesson I don't know what will."

School Budget Hearings Set

Schedule Announced For Last Four Days Of This Week

Budget hearings for 18 common school districts were announced Saturday by Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent.

Starting Wednesday, the hearings on the budgets with trustees will be concluded Saturday.

Miss Martin announced the following schedule: Wednesday—R-Bar at 9:30 a. m., Vincent at 10:30 a. m., Green Valley at 10:30 a. m., Hartwells at 1:30 p. m., Center Point at 2:30 p. m. and Gay Hill at 3:30 p. m.

Thursday—Midway at 9:30 a. m., Elbow at 10:30 a. m., Cauble at 1:30 p. m., Moore at 2:30 p. m., and Lomax at 3:30 p. m.

Friday—Fairview at 9:30 a. m., Richland at 10:30 a. m., Soash at 1 p. m. and Foran at 2 p. m.

Saturday—Morgan at 9:30 a. m., Vealmoor at 10:30 a. m., Morris at 1:30 p. m. and Chalk at 2:30 p. m.

She requested schools that have buses to have their routes ready for approval by Tuesday when the county board meets at 2 p. m. to approve the bus routes.

'Self-Control And Restraint' Urged Upon Legion Men

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Declaring that the last year had been a big one in the Texas American Legion and the convention to be held here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday would be a big one, Drury M. Phillips of Houstonville, state commander, tonight urged that self control and restraint be exercised by the veterans in their convention festivities.

"In times past our beloved legion has been severely criticized because at conventions we let our enthusiasm run away with our judgment—because in the pleasure of our reunion we became unduly vociferous," Commander Phillips said. "We owe it to ourselves and to the high ideals expressed in the preamble to our constitution so to conduct ourselves here and everywhere that we will prove to the world our unselfish devotion."

GUESTS EVACUATED AS HOTELS BURN

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 21 (AP)—Fire swept two boardwalk hotels tonight and forced evacuation of nearly 1,000 other guests in seven endangered hotels while tens of thousands of weekend guests watched.

The new Monmouth hotel, a five-story frame building, housing about 120 guests, and the Park Lane with about 100 guests, were rapidly consumed by flames that brought firemen from Asbury Park and several neighboring communities.

MAN IS CHARGED IN FATAL ALTERCATION

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 21 (AP)—A bloody moonlight battle after which Samuel W. Craigie, 60, New Orleans marine engineer, died, was followed today by a charge of murder against Chuck Burns, 29, former professional pugilist.

City Detective Fred P. Littlepage charged in the complaint that Burns slew Craigie "by striking him over the head with a blunt instrument."

Craigie's body, partly concealed by shrubbery, was found early today. He had been badly beaten. A nearby resident told police she had seen two men fighting in the moonlight some hours earlier.

Burns was being questioned by detectives late today.

FLYING SHEEP

MOSCOW, Aug. 21 (AP)—Ten thousand sheep will get a 300-mile airplane ride from Ashkhabad to the region of Tashuar, in Tadzhikistan because there is no railroad between the two points.

It was estimated transport planes will take nearly two months to fly all the sheep to the collective farms, the planes making the trip in about three hours.

SUSPECT HELD IN P. O. ROBBERIES

ABILENE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Postal Inspector P. M. Juvenal said today he was holding Henry Brown, alias Boone Brown, indicted for robbery of the Monahans, Texas, post office, in the Taylor county jail here.

Juvenal said Brown was suspected of robberies in Hobbs, N. M., Homarton, Texas, and other points. He said state authorities sought Brown as a suspect in robberies at Wichita Falls, Abilene, Haskell, Munday, Childress, Dundee, Graham and Archer City.

Brown was arrested by Juvenal and Highway Patrolman M. C. Myers last night at a tourist camp near San Angelo.

MEXICAN AVIATION STRIKE IS ENDED

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21 (AP)—Mexican Aviation company strikers, who have been out 34 days, reached an agreement with the management today to return to work immediately.

Black and red strike flags were taken down from the doors of uptown ticket and business offices, and hangars, shortly after 4 p. m., and the Pan-American subsidiary prepared to resume domestic flights.

A spokesman for the company said "an agreement with which we were very well pleased" was reached after a conference which lasted all last night. Strikers had been weakened by a three-day division of their ranks over the strike committee's handling of the affair.

The major concession to workers was an agreement to pay 80 per cent of their wages during the strike period, which began July 17.

LEARNS A LESSON

ORANGE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Presence of an ambulance, coroner and a group of sightseers evidently taught a supposed corpse a lesson. The man, found lying on a sidewalk near a cemetery, suddenly aroused, took notice of his surroundings and wobbled away mumbling:

"Well, if this don't learn me a lesson I don't know what will."

Travel Not Altered By Weather

Traveling Continues In Spite Of Rain This Weekend

Weather conditions this weekend failed to check the large number of travelers. Along with that group are many who are returning home from vacation trips, such as:

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks and children have returned from a vacation spent on the Concho river at Christoval and on the Llano and San Saba rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Dougherty, Miss Ina B. Dougherty of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Dougherty and daughter of Fort Worth and Joel Dougherty of San Angelo, are guests in the home of their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dougherty and family.

Mrs. O. M. Trolinger of Dallas is guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Jennings.

W. H. Homan is leaving this week for Marquard, Mo., where he will join his two brothers and a sister for a reunion at the home of another brother, H. E. Homan.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Coffee and son, Tom Coffee, Jr., are spending several days at Corpus Christi on a vacation trip. They are expected to return here the middle of this week.

Mrs. W. L. Tadlock and son, Teddy of Bonham, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Maupin. The two families have just returned from a trip to the Carlsbad Cavern.

Mrs. N. C. Bell and daughter, Miss Hazel Smith, left today for a two weeks trip to San Antonio, Galveston, Fort Worth and Dallas. Miss Hazel has been a student in T. C. U. this summer.

Mrs. A. C. Bass, who is confined to Dr. Norwood's hospital in Mineral Wells, is reported improving nicely.

Walter Moore left this weekend for Jacksonville, where he will be employed by a drug firm.

Johnnie Garrison is transacting business in Dallas this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. McKee of Paris are spending a few days in the home of Mrs. H. H. Smith, sister of Mr. McKee. The McKees were accompanied on a trip to the Carlsbad Cavern by Miss Gladys Smith. They are expected to return Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Prager and children, Joel and Emily, have returned home from a weeks' vacation in Ruidosa, N. M. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Prager, Mrs. Ben Zimmerman of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stephens and daughter, Bobbie, have returned to their home in Mount Vernon after visiting here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Springman.

J. J. Hair has returned to Anderson where he will remain until spring when he will come back to Big Spring to make his home permanently.

Mrs. E. D. Merrill is visiting a few days in El Paso.

Mrs. Roy Dotson and children of Herber, Calif., returned home Saturday morning after visiting here. They were accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Fontaine Hair, who will visit for a few weeks.

John Phillip and Robert Nell Miller returned from Corpus Christi Saturday morning, where they have been visiting their father, Chet Miller for the past two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, who have been guests of Mrs. Ed C. Howe in Glendale, Calif., have returned home.

Miss Lillian Nell left Saturday afternoon for San Angelo where she has accepted a position with Sears Roebuck & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nell, Jr., returned Saturday from Corpus Christi, where they spent their vacation.

Mrs. Glenn Holtzman of Hobbs, N. M., spent the weekend in Big Spring, with Mrs. Abe Bailey.

BIRTHDAY MONTH FOR THEM

Mrs. Harold Lytle and daughters, Shirley Yvonne and Beverly Elaine, of 602 Goliad. All three, have birthdays during the month of August. August 2, Shirley Yvonne was four years of age; August 4 Mrs. Lytle celebrated a birthday anniversary and August 24 Beverly Elaine will celebrate her very first anniversary.

The Modern Museum And Its Relation To The School

(Below is another of a series of articles on the work and aims of the West Texas Memorial Museum in Big Spring, prepared by Dr. Frank Boyle, vice-president of the Museum association.—Editor's Note.)

By FRANK BOYLE

Museums are defined as a collection of natural, scientific or works of art on display.

The modern museum is increasingly spending its energies in making its collections work. It is no longer considered as a storehouse of rare and costly objects, but as a social institution for the enjoyment and education of the public.

The museum can be used as an occasional laboratory for all schools and a frequent one for nearby schools. The latter may experiment and show the way. If the museum visits are to prove of permanent value to a majority of the children, its relation with the schools and the pleasure of the visit may be built into the child's thinking, related to his daily experience, not forgotten when the examinations are passed.

"Museums, art galleries and industries should be visited to enlarge the child's horizon if possible," says Thomas E. Finegan, former state commissioner of education, Harrisburg, Pa. "The time should come," he continues, "when every classroom in every school has a library of visual aids to use so as to enlarge the child's vision and clinch the point for the lesson."

There is no likelihood that interest on the part of students will wane so long as their subjects are made interesting. The great problem with many teachers is that of providing enough interesting material for instruction that will keep their students busy in a constructive way. A good museum will go a long distance in filling the child's Miller for the past two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, who have been guests of Mrs. Ed C. Howe in Glendale, Calif., have returned home.

Miss Lillian Nell left Saturday afternoon for San Angelo where she has accepted a position with Sears Roebuck & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nell, Jr., returned Saturday from Corpus Christi, where they spent their vacation.

Mrs. Glenn Holtzman of Hobbs, N. M., spent the weekend in Big Spring, with Mrs. Abe Bailey.

Mrs. Hair Is Party Hostess

Bridge Luncheon Is Given Friday By Mrs. J. J. Hair

Mrs. J. J. Hair, who has been spending the summer in Big Spring, entertained for a few of her friends Friday with a bridge-luncheon.

Summer blossoms in colorful hues made a lovely background for games played at three tables. Mrs. Anna Whitney received high score prize and Mrs. S. A. Hatchcock was awarded second high.

At 1 o'clock luncheon was served from a table spread with a lace cloth and centered by a bouquet of flowers in keeping with the other floral decorations.

Guests included Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. H. W. Leeper, Mrs. John Clarke, Mrs. Otto Peters, Mrs. Hatchcock, Mrs. W. E. Hornberger, Mrs. R. C. Strain, Mrs. V. N. Martin and the hostess.

Sara Maude Johnson Is Honored With Birthday Party

Mrs. J. H. Johnson entertained Friday with a party celebrating the thirteenth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Sara Maude.

Games of bingo were played with each guest winning a prize. A color theme of pink and green was used in accessories for games and predominated in a birthday cake which was served with punch as refreshments.

Guests present were Cola Minfee, Mae Belle Johnson, Winnie Ruth Rogers, Wynona Reeves, Virginia Douglas, Dorothy Jean Hiate, Evelyn Arnold, Jean Kuykendall, Mary Ann Dudley, June Johnson, Lorena Brooks, Eva Je-n Darby, Jim Black, Mr. and Mrs. R. It's A Cinch To Have Gardenias And Orchids On Your Budget In Mexico

MEXICO, D. F. (AP)—A nickel goes a long way in a Mexican market, as Mexico's many visitors from above the Rio Grande are discovering these days.

The tourist from the United States is passing up, more and more, the modernistic, Americanized stores catering to travel trade, and is buying his remembrances of Mexico from the original Mexican—the Indian.

So common are American tourists bargaining in the markets for pottery, Mexican shoes, sarapes, flowers, woven baskets, and novelties that the youngsters who hang around hoping to make 5 or 10 centavos carrying bundles are learning considerable English.

Indians Out Prices

Water jars and bean pots, painted in bright colors and glazed for cooking purposes, can be bought for as little as 15 and 20 cents American money. Baskets, designed in beautiful patterns, go for one peso, about 25 cents. Huarachas, the shoes of woven leather worn by the Indians and many Mexicans, are to be had for about half the price charged in the uptown business section.

Gardenias, up to 75 cents each in the United States, are sold for five centavos, or one and one-half cents. Orchids bring 25 to 30 centavos, less than 10 cents American money. In nearby Indian towns, such as Tepostitan and Xochimilco, even better bargains are offered the American traveler. Nine pesos are asked for large hand-woven sarapes, but, after a bit of bargaining, the price comes down to five or six pesos, about $1.50.

On Every Corner

CUT-RATE MARKET

With their low prices for cut flowers and hand-made textiles and baskets, Mexico's native Indians are taking tourist trade away from the Americanized shops.

Trade in one or two baskets. Some bring pottery and trinkets, others bring food, such as fruits and tortillas, for sale to both natives and tourists. These vendors, a common sight on almost every street corner, come for an all-day session. They cook their meals in small charcoal pots, retire under a canvas during the afternoon rain, and pack up at night for the return trip.

Decisions To Be Made Monday

Apparent public indifference toward Monday's vote on six state constitutional amendments makes it a difficult task to forecast the result on any or all of the proposals. None of the topics has generated any great popular appeal, either affirmatively or negatively. When the public doesn't get interested in such proposals in many cases the amendments are defeated.

We believe it should be the concern of the voters that most of the amendments—five of the six, to be specific—should be adopted.

One of the pending amendments which has been given little consideration is so clearly in the taxpayer's interest that he certainly should see that it is not defeated. It is amendment No. 4, permitting discounts on early payment of taxes: 3 per cent if paid by Nov. 1, 2 per cent if paid by Dec. 1, and 1 per cent if paid by Jan. 1. It also forbids the assessing of property for taxation at more than its fair market value. These provisions apply to all taxing agencies. The benefits they confer on the property owner are obvious. Heretofore the only incentive for early payment of taxes has been that of civic welfare; the amendment puts it on a more practical basis.

We believe four other amendments should be adopted. No. 1 would eliminate the double liability of stockholders in state banks. The state banking structure would be helped if this were adopted, since the double liability has been removed in the case of national banks. No. 2 would make Texas eligible for the benefits of the federal legislation affecting destitute children; No. 6 would allow for similar benefits affecting the destitute blind. These classes deserve our support, and that support can be provided with aid of social security funds. Texas should take advantage of the federal law in these humanitarian projects. Amendment No. 5 affects only Harris county and the rest of Texas should approve it, permitting that county to try the direct taxation system of financing its highway improvements.

Only No. 3, we believe, should be marked for defeat. It concerns the manner in which precinct and county officers shall be compensated, and a great deal of confusion exists over the matter. The voter is called upon to make a choice between continuing the present salary system with its admitted defects, and turning the whole question over to the legislature, which is responsible for most of those defects. Will that body legislate any more intelligently if the amendment were adopted? Why not defeat the amendment and let the legislators try their hand, again, at writing an effective statute based on the salary system?

+ Man About Manhattan +

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Idling through 14th street after dark, nose buried in the hits, runs, and errors column of an early street edition, I was weeping softly over the lachrymose details of another defeat for the N. Y. Giants, when a pink hand-bill was thrust rudely into my face.

"Read dis, pal..."
Well, you know how it is... When you're preoccupied you shake those things off without half noticing... I never even looked up until some antropeid-like figure planted himself squarely in front...

"So, yer sidin' wid de Japs!" he snarled.
He was a throw-back to the primordial days of knotted clubs and ape-like creatures squatting in front of caves...

"Well, y'are, ain'tcha?"
"What?" I ejaculated.
"Yer sidin' wid de Japs!"
"Who? Me? Goodness gracious, No!"
"Den read dis," he growled.

I took it quickly and thanked him for it and told him I was very anxious to read it.
"What does it say, friend?"
"It sez—it sez... well, yer better not side wid de Japs, dat's all!"

"I haven't the remotest idea of siding with the Japs," I told him.
But even then his features didn't relax... He sort of backed off to one side and I passed on, but I could feel his eyes following.

I opened the polemic... It was a coral-shaped hand-out, with a glowing oriental war-lord in front, armed to the teeth... Across the top, in bold, rugged type, ran the scare-head: HANDS OFF CHINA!

I read the treatise carefully, conscious all the while that our ape-like friend was still interested in my behavior. He held to the pace about 15 feet astern... I began to know a vague sense of panic... True, people were everywhere and there were probably cops within hailing distance... But sometimes in New York people get awfully mayhem-minded. I'm too young to figure in anything like that.
There was a Chinese restaurant just across from where I was passing.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

CHINA

Those who have believed that the neutrality act passed by the last congress would furnish us with a foolproof formula for meeting every eventually which might involve us abroad, have, patently, not been thinking of the Far East. Now that the most dangerous situation has arisen, short of a war in Europe between two or more great powers, the neutrality act is not being invoked. Secretary Hull's statement on the American attitude toward the THOMPSON Sino-Japanese conflict really establishes no policy at all. Our nationals are advised to leave China—and we send 1,200 additional marines to protect them, until they can be evacuated. We shall not, he says, maintain troops indefinitely in China—but indefinitely is a highly indefinite word. Although we had no difficulty in making up our minds that a state of war existed in Ethiopia and in Spain, we do not officially recognize that a state of war exists in China. Yet, this is undoubtedly a war to the average American in the street and to the invaded Chinese and actually three Americans have already been killed in it.

Those who are aware of the complexities in the Sino-Japanese situation—the complexities and the dangers—are inclined to sympathize with, rather than criticize the administration, which has only added one confounding factor: the neutrality act itself. The other complicated factors in the Pacific it inherited from previous administrations. These, taken together, neither harmonize nor make sense.

Although we—or, let us say, rather, the United States navy—consider ourselves a Pacific power, we have no policy in the Pacific. If our policy consists in the protection and extension of our Far Eastern trade, then our interests lie with Japan and not with China. In the past two years, for instance, we have sold China about $2,000,000 worth of goods and bought from her twice as much, and even these sales are smaller in reality because many of them were made to Japanese interests operating in China.

On the other hand, the United States is Japan's principal source of raw materials, and her principal market. Between 1932 and 1936 we sold her goods valued at $668,000,000, and bought from her goods to the value of $431,000,000. The Chinese market, so far as the United States is concerned, is largely a myth. What it might be in the future is a speculation. Our total investment in China is also negligible—around $100,000,000—and we annually spend millions to protect this investment and our small trade. In the past we have insisted on the Open Door in China, upon the presumption that some day the China market would be of immense value to us. But it has never materialized. And today we could carry our insistence into effect only at the point of the sword.

The surrender of the Philippines marks another zigzag in our Pacific policy. These islands, which lie on the farther side of Japan from us as any one can see if he looks at a globular map of the world, have been granted provisional independence—largely upon the insistence of sugar and vegetable oil interests in the United States. Nevertheless, General Douglas MacArthur, our former chief of staff, is in the Philippines training a large Philippine army which by United States statute will become part of our armed forces if we are involved in a war during the probationary period of 10 years. That means that on the one hand we retire from the islands, while, on the other, we militarize them for protection against an invader. It would be logical either to keep the islands or let them go. We do neither.

The commercial figures would apparently indicate that we have no reason for caring what happens to China, but this is not true. First of all, it is not in our interests, as a peace-loving nation, whose ultimate economic welfare depends upon the maintenance of peace, to accept with equanimity the appalling growth of military aggression all over the world, and the wholesale violation of treaties and disregard of international law. If there is to be no law left, as between nations, nothing is safe—neither commerce, nor investments, nor any territory, nor any peoples.

We are signatories—altogether with Japan—to a nine-power treaty guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China. The violation of that treaty in 1931, when Japan seized Manchukuo, was the preface to the violation of Ethiopia, of the Locarno treaty, and the wholesale foreign intervention in Spain. It is not logical to suppose that the new type of undeclared warfare can go on indefinitely without, at some point, in whatever form, involving nations and interests nearer home. Every successful step that Japan takes in China is an encouragement to other nations to pursue the same policies somewhere else. And if half the world is given over to the pursuit of such policies, it will be futile for us to go on pretending that any transaction can be carried out without at least the show of force.

Actually, the Sino-Japanese war shows up the glaring inconsistencies of our whole foreign policy. We are trying to be in the world, but not of it. We are a great power, but we desire neither to draw the consequences nor accept the responsibilities of our position. And neither do we wish to cease being a great power. Public opinion is isolationist—without being able really to see what isolation would mean for this country. Therefore we drift, and those who drift land offshore on rocks than on Elysian islands.

(Copyright, 1937, New York Tribune Inc.)

The Gorilla was gaining ground. I turned into the Chinese restaurant. As the waiter shuffled up I could see the ape-man standing at the door. He seemed to be listening.
"Velly fine American food this place," the Chinese gibbered. "Velly fine steak, fench-fly, a little lice on side!"
I took a deep breath.
In firm, clear tones I ordered a big bowl of chop suey!

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—The lass from the country had come to town, her first visit in six weeks, she said. As we walked along the boulevard, restaurant-bound for lunch, old friends greeted her with the surprised enthusiasm usually reserved for out-of-towners.

And that's what she is, this Ann Dvorak, an out-of-towner. So in Leslie Fenton, her husband, County-life-in-Hollywood, as they practice it, is really something.

They have been country-folk on their 65-acre ranch near Van Nuys for about four years now, and they don't miss Hollywood and they think they never will. They work here—but they live at home. Home is only half an hour or so from Vine and Hollywood boulevard, but they don't often make the trip.

She's Crazy About Flowers
Ann looks like a walking advertisement of the life. Smoothly tanned, healthy, bright-eyed. Haan't gone hayseed—I don't mean that. When she comes to town she dresses smartly, as a movie actress should. When she stays home, she wears slacks or shorts or overalls, and works.

The Fentons have a rambling Spanish-type farmhouse that has been growing almost constantly since they built it. They have a swimming pool, flowers, chickens, birds, even a wild rabbit. The "money crop" is walnuts. They cleared about $6,000 on these last year. Ann is more interested in the flowers. She works there even when there are no cameras around.

"They're fascinating," she says. "When you really love flowers and study them, working with them is something like—a like a religious rite."
They have a glass house and a lath house—and camellias, gardenias and other floral aristocrats are fairly commonplace. The Fenton pannies and cineraria took blue ribbons at the last flower show. Ann has a friend in Central America who sends her seeds of tropical plants. The fun, with these, is waiting to see what they'll be when they come up.

Like To Globe Trot
The nice thing about the Fentons' country-life-in-Hollywood is that they don't make it a burden and a duty. "We went," as Ann said, "through the cow period but it didn't work out. Sweetheart was too much trouble. Sweetheart wasn't happy with us. Hugh Herbert has her now, and I'm sure she's happy."
These Fentons, when they talk about a trip, don't mean a trip to town. Just now they're talking about Greece. As soon as both of them can get three months off from pictures, they're going. In a freighter, as usual. It's the only way to travel, both say. Not speedy, but they don't crave speed. The last time they went to Europe, Ann was running away from a contract. The Warners didn't like it. Ann lost out in court, but she has another contract, but she she thinks she'll get her vacation and not have to run away, this time.

Sound Comes Later
They still make quite a few silent pictures in Takelotona. Metro leading off with $0 a year... Talk and sound are added later to the Pete Smith, Robert Benchley, and Carey Wilson specialties, but on the set they don't bother with a that they don't make it a burden and a duty. "We went," as Ann said, "through the cow period but it didn't work out. Sweetheart was too much trouble. Sweetheart wasn't happy with us. Hugh Herbert has her now, and I'm sure she's happy."

Herbert Marshall and Glenda Farrell were doing a breakfast scene for "A Love Like That." Glenda had some startling news and Marshall was supposed to choke over his coffee. Director Al Santoli asked Marshall if he would sputter the coffee just a bit—if he didn't think it too undignified. "You know," said Marshall, "I've always wanted to do a scene like that and no director would ever allow it..."

Former Resident Gets Appointment
Russell C. Cook, brother of R. L. Cook of this city, and a former resident of Big Spring, but now of Ventura, Calif., recently has been appointed supervisor of the Ojai district by Governor Merriam, according to newspaper dispatches received here by R. L. Cook. It was the first time in 23 years a representative had been chosen to serve from this area. Russell Cook left Big Spring in 1918, later joining the army, and returning to Ventura, Calif., to make his home following the war.

FLAME TRAIL

By Marie De Neraud

Chapter 31 RESCUE IN SMOKE

"Smoke!" Marion groped her way to the door and caught sight of a open, a thick wave of blackness seemed to roll in on them.

Gasping, they both ran out into the clearing, but here it was even worse. Through the darkness they could see flashes of flame through the trees to the east, ominous crashes and cracklings filled the air as the heat was suffocating.

"Tricker!" Kay cried in an agonized tone. "I've got to get him!" She started to run toward the north end of the clearing, but Marion grabbed her arm.

"Don't be crazy! He'll have broken loose long ago! The west side is our only chance!"

She dropped Kay's arm, and made for the precipitous west slope, then drew back with a cry of terror as she caught sight of a tree that suddenly burst into flame like a gigantic torch. A second later, there was an answering cry from down the western slope.

"Ted!" Shrieking the name together, the two girls ran to the brink of the sharp precipice that fell away from a rocky ledge, and peered into the blackness.

"Ted's voice clearly now, and the note of bewilderment in it. 'Let yourself down over the edge! I'll catch you as you slide.'"

Marion pushed Kay forward. "You first!" she commanded.

In the weird light of the blazing tree, they could see Ted, 30 feet or more below, brace against the stump of a scrub spruce. Before Kay could protest, Marion had forced her to her knees, and shoved her over the edge.

Sliding with utter lack of control, Kay tried to break her descent by catching on to any protruding shrubs or rocks, and a second later, though it seemed an eternity, she felt Ted's hand grasp her arm.

For a perilous moment they both swayed, and it seemed inevitable that they would crash on down together, but Ted pulled Kay onto the tiny projecting ledge, where he had secured a precarious footing.

"Marion!" Kay gasped, pointing upward, and cutting short Ted's amazed exclamation as he discovered who she held by the arm.

Ted thrust Kay behind him, steadied himself and called, "Now, Marion! Quick!"

Kay clutched a projecting root with one hand and hung on to Ted with the other, while he breathlessly following in his exact footsteps. One last drop, and they had reached the timbered slope.

Ted grabbed one of their hands in each of his and raced down with them to the foot of the canyon. Without a word, he helped them across the narrow stream in its depths, and they pushed up the other side.

Not until they were well up on the other ridge did he pause. Then with a broken "Thank God!" he pulled Kay into his arms.

"Ted! Ted! Where is Dad?" Marion demanded imperiously, and Kay pulled away with a gasp, ashamed of the overmastering emotion that had made her forget everything but her own relief and happiness.

"Marion! Forgive me!" Ted swung around still keeping one hand on Kay as though fearful that she might vanish, but putting a steady touch on Marion's arm.

"Seeing Kay here put everything else out of my head! Your father, Marion—he paused helplessly searching for words to break the news.

"I knew it!" Marion gave a pitiful groan, and put her hand to her eyes. "You don't have to tell me—he's dead!"

In an instant, Kay's arms were around her, and she turned inquiringly to Ted. He nodded.

"Yes, Marion. Mercifully dead! That is the only way you can think of it."

In as few and as gentle words as possible, Ted told Marion of his finding of her father. Then, to give her time to get a grip on herself, after the first shock of sorrow, he went on to describe his meeting with Josh Hastings, and the subsequent events.

It was Kay's turn to shudder at the thought of the narrow escape Ted had had. But she did not waste any time on the past, as her mind flew to the immediate future.

"Where did you leave him?" she demanded. "We must get right back! He might die or escape or something!"

"He had a mean blow on the head, but I don't think he'll die," Ted answered. "And there's no chance of his escaping! He's well out of the fire line with this shift of wind, but I doubt if he knows it. By the time we get back, I reckon he'll be ready to tell anything he knows, rather than risk being left behind."

"Come!" Marion turned and led the way up the slope. Ted's father was the thing to think of now! Not my poor Dad. His troubles are better. Her voice broke with a sob, but she pushed bravely on with Ted and Kay on either side of her. "How did Josh Hastings ever happen to be there?" she asked finally, with a determined change of subject.

"Search me!" Ted began, but Kay interrupted.

"His must have been looking for Zake Farley and his posse," she explained. "Hobby" said he'd gone out to join them."

"I reckon Zake Farley's green up looking for me right now, and has joined the fire fighting gang," Ted observed. "Josh Hastings likely came to the same conclusion, and was on his way to find him."

He stopped as the slope became deeper, and saved his breath for the climb, leading the way as they fell into single file up the rocky ledge. The sky behind them was weirdly lighted with a lurid glare which permeated the darkness, spreading out in a pinkish glow over their heads.

"I Want The Truth!" After some desperately difficult scrambling, Ted paused to take his bearings.

"It must have been about here that I left that cayuse of mine. Wait a second." He left them, and reappeared a few minutes later, leading his horse. "Now you can have easier going."

Motioning the two girls to get on, he led the way south along the crest of the ridge. After a half hour or so, he stopped and gave a long "Whoop!"

"There was a faint answer in the distance.

"He's there all right," Ted declared with relief in spite of his former confident assertion that Josh Hastings couldn't escape them.

Another 10 minutes, and they came out on the ridge where Ted had left his would-be assasin. A string of oaths and imprecations greeted them as they picked their way through the underbrush, but Ted cut him peremptorily short.

"I've brought my witnesses," he announced curtly, and the next minute the yell came out on Josh Hastings, who peered up at the two girls with incredulous amazement.

"Where in hell—"

"Never mind that," Ted interrupted sharply. He pulled a notebook and pencil out of his pocket. "Now, then. Repeat what you said back there!"

Josh Hastings' mouth twisted. "I don't know what you mean."

"Oh, yes, you do!" Ted's eyes narrowed. "And unless you come across, I'll leave you here for the cremation you miss before."

From his place on the ground, bound hand and foot, Hastings struggled up to a sitting position. "So, you still want me to lie, to save your neck, and put my own in the noose!" he sneered, with one eye on Kay to measure the effect of his words. "I'd rather take a chance on the fire!"

"I don't want any lies," Ted countered. "I want the truth about how you killed Serp Johnson, and framed me for it. And I'm going to get it!" He made a move toward his gun.

Josh Hastings gave a harsh laugh. "Go ahead and get it, then! And I'll have witnesses to prove you got it by extortion!"

FIRST BALES GINNED IN MARTIN COUNTY

STANTON, Aug. 21—Ginning season was initiated here this week with the ginning of the first two bales of the 1937 crop.

Honors for production of the first bale went to Virgil Brothers for a 400-pound bale of Kaech cotton grown on his farm one mile southwest of Stanton. The bale was sold to A. W. Keisling for 11 cents.

A cash and merchandise premium of $58.45 was contributed by various business firms and individuals of the town. The bale was ginned by the Farmers' Cotton company.

The second bale for the county was ginned by the Co-Op Gin and weighed 450 pounds.

TEACHERS ELECTED

STANTON, Aug. 21—Election of two more teachers for the Stanton school system has been announced by school officials. George M. Lamb, graduate of Daniel Esker college, has been elected to the grade school position vacated by resignation of J. O. Vitz. He comes to Stanton from the Lakeview school at San Angelo where he served as coach and taught grade and high school work.

Miss Ila Bartlett was named as teacher in the Mexican ward school. Miss Bartlett holds a degree from Sul Ross college where she is now attending school.

Election of these two teachers completes the faculty for the present curriculum of the school but a handmaster is expected to be added to the staff for introduction of music work this winter.

Scouts' Water Meeting Is Cancelled

Taking No Chances On Paralysis Spread, Executive Says

Alfred J. Stiles, area scout executive, Saturday announced the cancellation of the annual Buffalo Trail water meet scheduled for Tuesday at Midland. The current infantile paralysis scare was assigned as the cause for passing the second largest council event on the scouting calendar, said Stiles: "The cancellation was not made because there is lots of infantile paralysis in our area. The cancellation was made because we want to keep our area free from this disease."

He added that the state board of health had notified the council that there had been only two widely separated reported cases in this area. However, numerous in-

YOAKUM COUNTY TEST MAKES OIL SHOWS

Fourth Producer In Wasson Pool Of Gaines County Is Largest Yet Drilled In That Sector

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 21—A showing of free oil in a southwestern Yoakum county wildcat, a record flow by a well in the North Cowden field in Ector county as the result of deepening and shooting and premises of the largest production yet obtained in the Wasson pool in northwestern Gaines county and from the Ordovician in the Sand Hills district in western Crane county were among principal West Texas developments this week. Fifty locations were listed in 11 counties, including five wildcats, two in Pecos and one each in Edwards, McCulloch and Sutton counties.

Bohago and Bond No. 1 J. L. West, in southwestern Yoakum, six miles southwest of Plains, recovered five barrels of free oil, a two-hour accumulation, after bailing dry at 5,285 feet. It logged bleeding cores from 5,183 to 5,235. Treatment of the Permian lime with 2,000 gallons of acid was planned. The test is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 606-D-John H. Gibson.

Increase After Deepening
Stanford No. 2-A Cowden, a producer since April, 1931, became the price well in the North Cowden field in Ector county, flowing 2,301 barrels of oil in 24 hours after deepening 18 feet to 4,319 and shooting with 490 quarts. Its initial yield from pay topped at 4,015 was 490 barrels daily, natural. The well is 600 feet out of the north-south corner of section 34-43-1n-T&P.

Some who examined cores from Loffland Bros. No. 3 Tubb, in western Crane county, showing oil from 5,523-91 feet, the total depth, predicted production equaling 11 not exceeding that of Gulf No. 5 Waddell, 1-2 miles to the northwest, which was 8,178.44 barrels daily. The test topped the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, at 5,802 feet, 2,302 feet below sea level, 148 feet higher than in Gulf No. 5 Waddell and 183 feet higher than in Gulf No. 4 Waddell, a quarter mile north of No. 4. It had only 12 feet of Simpson, middle Ordovician. The Loffland test is 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 9-B27-pal.

Drilling Near 6,000
Sinclair-Prairie and others No. 2 Tubb, a short distance east of Gulf's two Ordovician producers and 2,310 from the south, 330 feet from the west line of section 2-B27-pal, topped the Simpson at 5,842 feet, 2,250 feet below sea level, 80 and 25 feet lower than in Gulf Nos. 3 and 4, respectively, and had not

Harding Pool Defined By Failure

Moore-Cauble Strikes Sulphur Water; No. 1 Harding Testing

Failure of a second wildcat this week further defined the Harding pool, seven miles southwest of Big Spring.

Moore Bros. No. 1 I. B. Cauble section 31-43-1s, T&P, drilled into sulphur water at 3,309 feet after logging shows at 3,200 feet similar to those in Harding pool tests. Pipe was being pulled from the test Friday. It was located 330 feet out of the northeast corner of the section, and is two miles south of Harding production.

A week before the Moore Bros. No. 1 Mabel Quinn was abandoned in section 23-34-1s, T&P, to define the western edge of the pool. Attention has thus been focused upon the W. & E. Production company No. 1 Wilcox estate, section 20-33-1s, T&P, as a northeast possibility for the area. Friday it had drilled to 2,910 feet in lime with rotary and was preparing to change to cable tools Monday.

Test In Progress
With cleaning out virtually completed in the Moore Bros. No. 1 Harding, west outpost to the pool, a 24-hour test was in progress as the week ended. Estimating the production was difficult since there was no storage, but observers figured the run would amount to around 200 barrels for the day.

water, the remainder oil, bottomed at 5,020 feet, and was to plug back farther. Argo No. 1 Jones, 4-2 miles north by east of Continental No. 1 Jones, and in the northeast quarter of section 2-A7-pal, had drilled past 5,125 feet in lime with out oil shows.

Amon G. Carter reportedly paid $10,000 to John Lampkin and W. J. Donnelly of Big Spring and Russell C. Conkling and T. R. Parker of Midland for leases on between 9,000 and 10,000 acres in southeastern Gaines county and assumed their obligation to start a wildcat test by Sept. 15. The operators turning the block retained checkerboarded leases on 1,060 acres. It was reported, but unconfirmed, the test would be in the center of labor 1 league 296, Reagan county school land.

Denver Producers & Refiners
J. A. Whittemore, southwestern Yoakum county wildcat 6 1-2 miles northwest of the Wasson pool opener in Gaines county, prepared to swab at 5,015 feet through 2 1-2 inch tubing set at 4,979 feet. Samples had showed some porosity and saturation. The test is in the northwest corner of section 831-D-John H. Gibson.

In the TXL pool, where Howard county's other exploration is in progress, a third well in the area was nearing a test. Eastland Oil company No. 1 Snyder, 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 27-30-1s, T&P, was pumping at an estimated rate of 150 barrels a day with some cleaning out yet to be done. Iron Mountain No. 1 Clover (Snyder) 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 26-30-1s, T&P, was finishing cleaning following a shot three weeks ago.

Moving In Materials
Iron Mountain was moving in materials and erecting derrick for its No. 2 Snyder, 990 feet from the south and 2,310 feet from the east lines of section 28-30-1s, T&P. Showing of the test will determine if the company will proceed with extensive development of its 80-acre tract.

In Dawson county the Wilson No. 1 Scanlon, section 83-M-EL&RR, drilled to 4,840 feet in lime without shows. It is northwest of the Ray Abaugh No. 1, Robinson discovery and only well in northwest Dawson county.

Lippett and Letwin (formerly World Oil company) No. 5 McDowell, section 21-34-2s, T&P, Glascock county, was drilled; at 1,655 feet in anhydrite. The John I. Moore, No. 1 McDowell, section 30-33-2s, T&P, was shut down at 2,570 feet in lime, preparing for a shot Monday.

Other Tests
Continental No. 4-A Eason, section 7-32-2s, T&P, was waiting on cement to set at 2,386 feet in lime after cementing the 7-inch string at 2,385 feet. Likewise the Continental No. 16-A Settles, section 135-29, W&NW, was waiting on cement to set around the 7-inch string set at 2,150 feet. Bottom of the hole is at 2,184 feet.

Continental No. 10 Bell Overton, section 6-32-2s, T&P, was rigging powder at 2,575 feet in anhydrite. Continental No. 4-A Overton, section 8-32-2s, T&P, was at 2,040 feet in anhydrite, while the company's No. 51B Settles in section 130-29, W&NW, was at 983 feet in shale and shell.

Guitar Pool Adds 2 New Producers

Field Defined To The Southeast By Failure Of One Test

ABILENE, Aug. 21—Completion of two more large producers on the south side of the Guitar pool in Jones county and further limiting of the east edge featured the week's developments in that area.

Guitar trust estate No. 6 fee north offset to a recent pool extension drilled by Sherwood B. Owens, completed railroad commission gauge flowing 790 barrels in 14 hours after treatment with 3,050 gallons of acid in lime from 1,960 to 2,001 feet.

Guitar No. 7 fee was completed flowing 850 barrels in 16 hours after a 2,000-gallon treatment from 1,978 to 2,003 feet. Both are in the southwest quarter of section 44-15-T&P.

Hits Salt Water
Thomas D. Humphrey No. 4-A Guitar, 220 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 44-15-T&P, was abandoned after striking a hole full of salt water in deepening to a bottom of 2,015 feet. The well is two locations south of a large producer and defines the southeast edge of the pool.

To the southwest of production, the Raymond Allred et al. No. 1 H. C. Jackson, in section 45-15-T&P, was treated with 3,000 gallons of acid after heading over the mast in running two-inch tubing. It is between the Sherwood Owens extension well and the DeuPre No. 1 Jackson, which showed water on production.

Test Spudded
H. N. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls and Sam Hodges of Abilene spudded their No. 1 Gilbreth, 300 feet south of production, early in the week. A southwest edge test near Hawley Township, Murray No. 1 Jackson, was drilling at 1,605.

Between the city of Abilene and the Sayles field, the Charles J. Kleiner No. 1 Guitar trust estate was abandoned this week after striking another hole full of water in drilling to 2,261 feet. It is in the southeast corner of section 50-16-T&P survey.

Two western Callahan county wildcats increased interest east of here by showing as gasers. Both, however, were planning to drill ahead.

R. F. St. John No. 1 Hinshaw, about seven miles east of Abilene struck an estimated 3,000,000 feet daily in eight-inch hole from 1,721 to 1,730 feet and began lowering casing to resume drilling.

Other Activities
Hugh King, Jr., et al., No. 1 Leggett, south of Elm Dale, near the Taylor-Callahan county line, encountered a half million feet of gas and lost a baffle in the hole at 1,178 feet after lowering pipe for a shut-off.

Mesa Verde Oil company No. 2 Klepper, north of Clyde in northern Callahan, was completed pumping 37 barrels of oil and 52 of water from 1,645-55 feet.

In southwestern Callahan, the Jackson et al. No. 1 Thompson, two miles south of Eula, was underreaming six-inch casing with only about 100 feet above the expected pay zone. It was bottomed at 1,350 feet.

H. B. Herring No. 1 Loven, five miles north of Opila, was drilling past 2,100 feet after lowering eight-inch casing to that depth. Medice Manly and Brewer No. 1 Jordan, near Dudley, was waiting on eight-inch casing at 1,300 feet.

Special Permit Is Sought For Test In Rotan Area

ABILENE, Aug. 21—In the Rotan area, R. J. Reinks of Fort Worth has applied for a special permit to drill a test on the Radford Wholesale Grocery company tract, consisting of .04 acre, 1,350 feet north of the pool's second producer, Tide Water No. 1 Smith.

The test will be located 25 feet from the lines of the lot, in the southeast quarter of section 185-2-H&TC survey.

Four locations west of the Rotan townsite were made by J. W. Combes, William O. Glade and A. P. Kourt of Wichita Falls on a 17-acre strip owned by Hicks Thompson. The operators plan the tests 400 feet apart, the No. 1 Thompson to be 320 feet from the west and 213 feet from the north line of section 123, block 2, H&TC survey.

FORMER RESIDENTS OF FRANKLIN CO. TO GATHER HERE

Two weeks from today former residents of Franklin county will hold their third annual reunion in the Big Spring city park, Finley Moore, Seminole, secretary of the organization, reminded Saturday.

He estimated an attendance of around 600 for the affair which has grown steadily since its inception two years ago in Martin county. Two previous reunions were held at Three League in that county with around 300 attending.

People who once made their home in the East Texas county are expected here from an area bounded by Kermit and Sweetwater and Lubbock and San Angelo.

L. E. White, Stanton, will preside over the September 5 reunion as president. T. J. A. Robinson, Big Spring merchant, will play a prominent part in the affair.
