

School Enrollment 823

Total enrollment for Texico and Farwell schools so far this year is approximately 823 after first week registration and officials at both schools expected it to increase somewhat in the next several weeks.

As of Tuesday of this week, Farwell had an estimated enrollment of 460 students, 143 in high school and 316 in grade school, according to Jack Williams, superintendent.

At Texico, high school enrollment was 93 and the grade school students numbered 270, for a total of 363. This figure is about the same as last year's, says Agrie Jones, superintendent, but he expected it to go over last year's total in the next several weeks.

Just how much the enrollment had increased at Farwell was not known but an example of the increase was shown in the first grade. Forty beginners enrolled last year while 51 are enrolled in that class this year.

In certain areas, both schools are overcrowded. At Farwell they are especially overcrowded in high school and in two grade school classes.

The new elementary building at Texico now houses only the first three grades. The fourth grade was in the building last year, but had to be moved back to the old building due to increased enrollment in the lower grades.

When the fourth grade moved back to the old building, it forced some of the high school classes into the basement, Jones says.

NUMBER 48

Can a man literally work himself to death?

Because we speak not as a physician, our opinion could not be one of authority, but to be perfectly frank, we doubt it. Of course, if a person is not physically fit, he could kill himself through abuse, but that's not what we are talking about.

We have in mind the average American working man (or woman) whose health is generally strong, and whose diet is sufficient.

Fifty years ago, it was not too unusual for the head of the household to slave away for from 12 to 15 hours a day—every day, and think nothing of it. And reports are that it killed very few of them.

Slightly more than one hundred years ago, the Negro slaves of the South worked from daylight until dark in the hot and dusty cotton fields, and often there was work to be done at the plantation when they trudged wearily in from the fields.

Yet, history tells us that these colored folks were happy people and although saddled with a heavy load of work, were for the most part, free from the cares of the world.

Through no fault of their own, nearly all were what we would today call "ignorant," lacking even an elementary education. They could neither read nor write, yet they sang, and they lived a happier life than you might suppose.

Today, by contrast, nearly all American boys and girls are given a free high school education in our public school system. And more and more are going on to college where they earn their bachelor's and master's degrees.

A master's degree today is about as commonplace as was a bachelor's degree just a decade or two ago. The level of formal education is rising fast in this modern country.

And it would be expected that as our level of intelligence rises, and we are better able to understand what life is all about, and to grasp economic problems, that our worries would be few indeed.

It is true that we have a great deal less to worry about than did our forefathers, but that seems to cause us to worry all the more. Our grandfathers worried about serious things. We worry about the trivial.

In spite of all our education, somehow we have not learned that it is necessary for a man to work in order to be happy. There is where all of our modern day work reformers are missing the boat.

A man must be active—a man must be doing something—a man must be creative—he must produce something, or else he will not be satisfied with life.

We are appalled at the attitude that organizers of the working men of this country have about work. If they had their way, a man's hours would be reduced to 10 or 15 a week.

In fact, they may be working toward a goal of fewer hours than that. It is hard to tell. They are using every opportunity to drive home in the worker's head that work is bad, and that he ought to get out of doing any more of it than he has to.

They dangle company profits in front of him and say, "Look at how much your boss is getting. You are entitled to a bigger cut." Consequently, wages rise and things like paid holidays, paid vacations, free hospitalization and insurance, and other "fringe benefits" come into vogue.

The idea is that the workingman is getting something for nothing, which is false.

And as wages rise, costs of production rise, and as costs of production rise, the cost of manufactured and processed goods is increased, and the workingman's money will buy him less and less.

It is an idiotic circle, that would provoke laughs if it weren't so serious. No one has been able to wreck our country from without, but we are doing it ourselves from within!

Americans do not have a natural aversion to work. This hate to work is being created artificially. The pioneers of this land wanted freedom, and they were willing to swap lots of sweat and tears for it.

Today, by contrast, we seem ready and eager to trade freedom for "security" in any of its elusive forms, and the idea appears to be that security is the nirvana where a man has a steady income but doesn't lift a hand to obtain it.

No, work will not kill a man. Quite the reverse, in fact. Work is like many other good things in life—if not taken to excess, it is a tonic. If a man gets eight hours of sleep each night, and follows a health diet, it is almost impossible for him to break his body earning a living.

There's one big "if" in this

Attendance Asked For Texico C of C Meeting Tonight

The Texico Chamber of Commerce will have its regular monthly meeting tonight at the City Hall, beginning at 8 p. m., announces Charlie Crume, president.

All members are asked to be present and the president also issued a plea for new members. The Chamber has been inactive for the past several months, and plans are to discuss several projects to begin work on, if there is an adequate turnout tonight.

Farwell PTA Meet Is Tuesday Night

First regular meeting of the Farwell Parent-Teacher Association will be held Tuesday night, September 11, at the school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Carl Davis, new president of the organization, urges all patrons of the school to attend this meeting to get acquainted with the new teachers at the school.

Jack Williams, school superintendent, will be speaker for the evening's program and members of the PTA executive committee will serve refreshments.

Everyone is urged to attend this meeting.

School Board to Meet Monday Night

The Farwell School Board is scheduled to meet at the schoolhouse Monday night, September 10, at 8 p. m. On the agenda will be the reading of the 1956-57 budget. This will be the last reading before approval, says Jack Williams, superintendent.

Business Light for Texico Commission

The Texico City Commission met in its regular session Tuesday night and from a business standpoint, things were quieter than usual.

One transaction which occurred was the approving of a $100 expenditure for transportation provided for the summer youth program. The $100 will come from the Texico recreation fund, derived from a state cigarette tax.

The summer youth program was sponsored by the local Lions Club, and when the program was completed the Lions found themselves with an outstanding transportation account, amounting to $150. Being unable to meet the total obligation, the issue was brought before the commission and it was voted by the city officials to pay off the debt.

The remainder of the recreation fund will be invested in First Federal Savings and Loan Association. The commissioners plan to let the fund increase until the figure is ample for a sizeable recreation project for Texico.

Another item of discussion at the meeting was a paving project for the city. More paving was planned for Texico this summer, but approval from the state for the state highway 108 loop has delayed the project. A portion of the proposed eight blocks of the loop has been approved, and the state will pay one-third of the cost for paving of the blocks approved.

Meanwhile, the commission is waiting for more word from the state on the remainder of the proposed eight blocks. Since it is so late in the season it is probable that no more paving will be done until next spring, according to Scotty Levins, mayor.

However, if complete details are worked out, construction of the

Lazbuddie FFA Has Five State Farmers

Five members of the Lazbuddie Future Farmers of America organization recently became Lone Star Farmers. Their degrees were conferred at the annual convention of the State FFA convention in July.

Receiving the honor were Glenn Watkins, Leland Ray Gustin, Johnny Gammon, Durwood Teague, and Jim Daniel. All five of the young farmers will be seniors at Lazbuddie School this year.

J. N. Black, Lazbuddie ag instructor, was well pleased with each of the boy's accomplishments. Only two schools in the entire state had more than five students receiving the degree and they had six, Black says. Plainview was one of the schools that had six.

Some of the requirements to be eligible for the Lone Star degree are that a student be active in an they take the field. Farwell's Steers, under the guidance of Russell Young and Shelby Jobs, open the 1956 football season Friday night as they take on the Melrose Buffaloes at Melrose. Game time will be at 8:30 (Texas time.)

The Steers go into the game with two weeks of practice under their belts and Young says the squad will be in fair condition. One handicap that the Steers will be playing under is that the Buffaloes will have had over three weeks practice when

Other than having considerable more practice than the Steers, Young did not know much about the Melrose aggregation, although he was looking for a tight game. Last year, the Steers took a 6-0 decision from the Buffaloes on the Farwell field.

The Steer lineup Friday night will be composed chiefly of 10 returning lettermen and six squadmen from the 1955 unit. Probable starters, their classifications and weights, are as follows:

Offensive—Glyn Hardage, junior, 141, and Derrell Garner, junior, 166, ends; Preston Cain, junior, 173, and Doug Hillock, senior, 163, tackles; Jerry Owens, senior, 175, and Roland Hillock, senior, 140, guards; and Larry Cooper, senior, 154, center.

Tommy Lovelace, junior, 175, quarterback; David Willard, senior, 150, and Jerry Henson, senior, 140, halfbacks; and Philip Berry, sophomore, 163, fullback.

Defensive—Leon Jamison, junior, 140; Mitchell Walls, junior, 145; Cain; Leo Lemon, sophomore, 180; Owens, and D. Hillock, line-men; Lovelace, R. Hillock, and Berry, linebackers; and Willard and Henson, halfbacks.

Several boys who have been showing up well in practice sessions and could see considerable action against the Buffaloes, according to Young, are Glyn McDorman, junior end, 136; Mike McManigal, sophomore tackle, 172; Johnny Lovelace, sophomore back, 186;

Leslie Dyer Receives First Degree Burns

Leslie Dyer, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dyer, Texico, received first degree burns about his face and right arm in an accident last Friday afternoon.

Leslie's condition was reported as good the middle of this week, but he was unable to attend school this week. His mother reports that she does not believe he will be scarred and that he will probably be able to return to school next Monday.

Paul Farm Auction Set for Monday

A general clean-up farm sale at the Jerry Paul place southwest of Texico has been set for Monday, September 10. The location is one mile west and 1/4 mile south of the Port of Entry.

To be included in the sale will be farm machinery and household furniture. A complete list of items is listed in an ad elsewhere in the paper. There will be free coffee and the Fairfield Ladies will serve lunch at noon.

Minnie Paul and Jerry Paul are the owners. Col. Dick Doshier will be the auctioneer and Orval Francis will be the clerk.

First Milo Arrives At Worley Grain

The first load of milo at Worley Grain in Farwell arrived Wednesday noon. Grown by Guy and Partin Austin, who farm 12 miles south of Farwell, the grain had a moisture content of 15 percent.

The load weighed 60 pounds to the bushel and made 2500 pounds to the acre, according to Herbert Potts, manager.

Visiting Sunday with Miss June Hensley was her brother, Marion, of Borger.

Property Owners May Pave First

The possibility that Farwell may soon underwrite another volunteer paving project appeared strong Tuesday evening, as 30 persons gathered at the city auditorium to talk over their ideas.

Four blocks of new paving and repair to two others appears to have a reasonably good chance of being included in the project, and all of this will come on First Street from the Security State Bank corner south to Avenue G.

That street has long been a worry to the community, especially during wet weather. Not until recent years, however, has it been "settled up" enough to make it appear that paving might be feasible.

One project investigated by the chamber was discussed at the meeting. It was an offer from Odell Poteet, who has done work in both Texico and Farwell previously. A total of $4.40 per frontage foot would be borne by property owners to have the paving, plus curb and gutter, installed.

The advantages of doing part of the work this fall but postponing "shooting" of asphalt until the warm months of next year were talked. It was felt that approaching severe weather might cause damage to the pavement if not given a chance to cure properly.

After the regular chamber meeting, First Street property owners got together and agreed to meet again Monday evening, at which time they hope to be able to talk with two contractors.

That meeting will also be in the city hall, and will start at 7 o'clock, with all interested persons invited.

The only other subject brought up at the meeting had to do with the old Farwell Cemetery, which has been under study by the chamber for several months.

The organization is exploring the possibility of backing a move to start a new cemetery adjacent the old one, and place the present graves under a perpetual care fund insofar as may prove practical.

George Patton of Portales, cemetery developer who has met with the chamber on various previous occasions, was present Tuesday night also, and reviewed the investigative work that had been done.

A committee including R. W. Anderson, John Aldridge, and Sam Aldridge was named to see if it will be possible for the present owners of the old cemetery to pass ownership and operation of the property to a non-profit developing organization which may be created to carry out the project.

Steers Open Against Melrose Friday

senior end, 145.

Several new boys who just reported for workouts Monday of this week are Arlin Smith, Larry Jesko, Wayne Jesko, David Bergren, and Bobby Curtis.

About 35 boys in all have reported for workouts thus far, which is some less than last year, when 45 boys were working out at one time. Nevertheless, Young thought the number was ample for fielding an A and B team.

"Probably 20 boys will make up the A squad and the B team will be composed of 15," Young says. The B team went to Hart last Saturday night for a scrimmage session with the Hart A team. The local squad scored twice and Hart pushed across one touchdown.

The B squad will possibly have a nine-game schedule. Two games are set with Friona and one game with Muleshoe. Two games each

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Support Lacking in Texico Chamber of Commerce

A few members of the Texico Chamber of Commerce are striving to get the organization back on an active basis. The group has been inactive for the past several months and the few interested parties are having a difficult time creating the spirit which existed at the time the Chamber was first organized.

Like many new organizations, The Texico Chamber of Commerce had exceptionally high participation when it first started several years ago. Membership flourished and projects were numerous. Since that time, however, interest in the organization has degraded, and in recent months, the group has been "dead".

A chamber of commerce can mean the difference between a dead town and a live one. No matter how large or small a city may be, a chamber contributes much to the general welfare of a community.

That has been shown by the Texico Chamber itself. Some of the major projects of the group in the past, have been starting the ball rolling on the paving project, installing street markers, own-obtaining revenue from the formerly privately owned waterworks system of Texico-Farwell, for the use of the city's lines.

There's no reason why similar work cannot be accomplished, and ones of even greater benefit, if only more interest is shown. A few civic-minded individuals are ready and willing to start to work, but a chamber of commerce cannot be run by just a few.

Lazbuddie Gridders Open Season Friday

The Lazbuddie Longhorns will be making the 11-man football debut Friday night when they take on the Friona B team on their home field, beginning at 8 p.m.

Coach George Washington's team will be operating from the T formation and six returning lettermen will be included in the lineup. Probably starters Friday night will be:

The Longhorns have been work-

Regular monthly meetings have again been set by the "few" and they are hopeful for better turnouts at future meetings. So, if more of the Texico business and professional men who have the "I don't care," or "what could I do to help," attitudes, would take an interest, the chamber of commerce would once again be working for the betterment of the town.

Lazbuddie will be in Class 3-B conference this year and Washington believes that it will be exceptionally strong. Teams in the conference are Happy, Kress, Bovina, Amherst, Hart, Whitharral, and Lazbuddie.

Washington said the team was looking pretty good in practice and the boys were whipping into shape pretty fast. However, there is a shortage of lettermen and some of the boys will be somewhat green, Washington says.

The squad has spirit and determination, according to the coach, and he says the blocking and tackling has been good.

Next game for Lazbuddie will be September 21 when the Longhorns play New Home at New Home. The next home game will be September 28 with Whitharral.

325 Register At Lazbuddie School

The first day of school for 1956-1957 was held in the Lazbuddie Public School System on Monday with a total of 325 students registering for classes. Mothers were present with their eager, frightened and sometimes very shy, first graders.

Second graders on up through high school seniors took things in the stride of "old hands." They helped the newcomers learn their way around, but even the "old-timers" had to learn some new things concerning the new lunch room equipment which was in use for the first time.

Football boys are continuing their workouts in order to be able to meet their first opponents, the Friona "B" team on this Friday night, September 7.

The pep squad girls are also preparing for their debut on the night of the first game. Cheerleaders for this year include Juanita Scott, Janice Oliver, Danny Rue Cargile, Jeanelle Floyd and Joy Smith. Pep squad officers are Juanita Scott, president; Duella Lawrence, vice-president; and Katherine Smith, secretary-treasurer.

The girls in the pep squad are backing the Longhorns, and hope that the people of the community will back them as they go into this year of eleven-man football. Let's put the "twelfth man-school spirit" on the field, too.

Various organizations of the school will soon be back in full swing. The FFA and FHA Chapters will announce their meetings at a later date. The PTA will once again have their meetings and back the school in its undertakings.

All in all it seems that for everyone concerned it will be a very profitable school year.

Social Events of Interest

Mrs. Vinyard Honors Former Music Pupils

Mrs. W. W. Vinyard was hostess to a lovely informal reception Sunday evening, to honor two young people who were former piano pupils of Mrs. Vinyard.

Miss Jean Rogers, who will teach music in Albuquerque Schools this year, was called away for activities at the school, and was unable to be home for the courtesy in her honor.

The other honor guest, Pete Booth, was here to attend the reception and to greet friends who attended the social. He is to teach music on the faculty of the University of Illinois, where he will also take advance courses in his field.

The receiving rooms for the social were decorated with fall bouquets from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Booth, grandparents of the guest of honor.

The lace covered serving table was centered with a bouquet of dark red dahlias, placed in a green bowl. To complete the decor, cherry punch was served from a green punch service. Party cookies completed the refreshments. Miss Iris Goldsmith presided at the serving table.

The honor guest is a graduate of Farwell High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Booth, of Clovis, who formerly resided here.

Miss Rogers is a graduate of Texico Schools and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rogers of Texico.

Rebecca Class has Business Meeting

Mrs. Bill Garrett, president of the Rebecca Sunday School class of First Baptist Church, Farwell, conducted a business session at the regular class social and business meeting held Monday night of this week at the home of Mrs. Johnie Williams.

During the business session the group voted to divide the present class into two classes. Mrs. Clyde Magness was elected teacher of one class and the other class will elect a teacher at a later date.

Each class will meet to decide on a class name and new class officers in the near future.

Mrs. E. J. Keith opened Monday night's meeting with a devotional, and during the social hour, members revealed Sunshine Friends.

Refreshments of pops, coffee and cookies were served by the hostess to Mesdames Clyde Magness, Bill Garrett, Sterlyn Billington, E. J. Keith, John Porter, Buck Bradshaw, Jack McManigal, W. M. Turner, Will Hardage, Walter Hardage and Clay Henson.

Hapkes Arrive Here Sunday for Visit

Radioman Second Class and Mrs. Frank Hapke, accompanied by his sister, Miss Naomi Hapke, arrived here Sunday morning from Long Beach, Calif., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Hapke in Texico.

Hapke has been stationed in Long Beach for the past several months, and his sister has been visiting during the summer with he and his wife.

Hapke will report to the USS Frontier to start a tour of overseas duty on September 17. His brother, Richard Hapke, plans to take him back to California this Saturday. Richard will also visit his sister and family, Radioman First Class and Mrs. Chuck Crosby and Joy in San Francisco while vacationing in California.

Mrs. Frank Hapke and Naomi plan to remain here until April while Hapke is serving overseas. At that time they will return to Long Beach to meet his ship.

Mrs. Hapke will also visit in Portales with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson, but she plans to make her home here during the winter.

Sunday dinner guests in the Alfred Hapke home besides the Frank Hapkes were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hapke and Carl of Clovis and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hapke of Lubbock.

Miss Bagley Wed To Billy Medley

Miss Carlsey Bagley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Bagley of Clinton, Okla., became the bride of Billy Medley, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Medley in an evening ceremony at the home of his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nutt, in Clovis on Friday, August 31.

Rev. Mitchell A. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clovis, performed the double ring ceremony. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Nutt.

Others attending the wedding were his parents, his sister, Miss Minnie Medley, and Johnny Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. Medley are making their home in Clovis where he is employed.

Mesdames Walter Verner, Irving Looney and Harold Carpenter represented the Oklahoma Lane W.M.U. at the District Nine W.M.U. Camp which convened at the Baptist Assembly Camp Grounds on August 23 and 24.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS
REV. V. E. WILLARD, PASTOR

A group of young people from the church went to Progress on Sunday, August 26, to attend the sub-district Shining Light MYF program. The group heard a talk by a missionary just home from work in India and afterwards enjoyed games and refreshments. Attending from the local church were Judy Roach, Judy Billingsley, Jeanette Lindop, Larry Cooper, Donnie Carpenter and David Willard. Accompanying the group as sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cooper and Rev. Willard.

Sunday School attendance on September 2 was 86 and 95 were present for the preaching hour.

Rev. Willard plans to leave Friday for Wellington where he will conduct a 10 day revival. J. T. Hammonds, layman from the Bovina Methodist Church, will be in charge of the program at 11 a.m. Sunday, September 9. Bedford Caldwell, also of the Bovina Methodist Church, will speak at the Sunday evening services.

Naomi and Ruth Circles of the W.S.C.S. met in a joint meeting at the church on Monday night, September 3.

Mrs. Claude Primrose led the group in prayer after the meeting was opened by the group singing "Footprints of Jesus."

Roll call was answered with members repeating their favorite Bible verses. Mrs. W. P. Shelley directed the program and gave the theme of the W.S.C.S. study which is "Spirit of Christ for all of Life."

Mrs. Shelley then gave the topic "Spiritual Life as an Individual" and Mrs. V. E. Willard discussed "Spiritual Life as a Society." "Spiritual Life as a Church" was the topic given by Mrs. Lee Jones.

During a business session a committee was selected to work out a Biblical quiz as a result of the previous study.

Mrs. C. C. Christian gave a report of her trip to the Navajo Indian mission field at Farmington, N. M.

The program was concluded with Mrs. Sam Billingsley giving the meditation "Rededication of Life for Service of the Lord."

Members of the Naomi Circle served cup cakes and pops to those present. Attending besides those mentioned above were Mesdames James Roach, Fred Bolton, Lawrence Cooper, Melborn Jones, R. E. Blankenship, Melvin Sudderth, and Rev. V. E. Willard.

COUNTY'S FIRST BALE—Beating last year's bale by six days, this cotton was ginned about noon Monday by Mills & Fleming at the Hub. It was bought by A. G. Earp, left, for 50 cents a pound. At right is the grower, J. O. Latham. Behind the bale is Jack Tomlin, ginner.

4-H Club Bake Sale Set This Saturday

Parmer County 4-H Club girls will have a chance to test their baking talents this Saturday when the annual County 4-H Club bake show will be held at the office of Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county home demonstration agent.

The bake show is open to all county 4-H Club members and each county planning to have an entrant in the district bake show must stage a county show. Because the county fair has been cancelled for 1956, Miss Wainscott says that she does not expect to have as many entries in the contest this year as last. The district contest is held annually in conjunction with the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo later in September.

Each entrant must submit 12 bread muffins and 12 cookies for judging. The cookies may be of the drop, roll or ice box variety. The contest will begin at 10 a. m.

Wooley Buys Interest In Hub Fertilizer

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of a one-third interest in Hub Fertilizer by Bill Wooley, formerly of Odessa. The plant is located north of Fleming & Son Gin south of Hub.

Wooley, who has had experience in the fertilizer business with State Chemical Company of Odessa, has moved to the Hub community with his wife and two children, Scotty, 5, and Mike, 7. "We intend to add two more units—one custom and one pull-type—to our fertilizer equipment," Wooley said this week. The firm, of which Wooley will be active manager, will specialize in anhydrous ammonia fertilizer.

The Northern Star was planted April 27 after a pre-irrigation, and was watered twice during the growing season.

A. G. Earp, cotton buyer at Fleming & Son, paid 50 cents per pound for the 435-pound bale. It was the third year in a row that gin has received the county's first cotton. This year's first bale beat last year's by six days, which was received on September 9.

Latham didn't know it at the time, but he was in a tight race with Curtis Murphee of Friona who ginned a bale at North Plains about an hour afterward.

The Boston Massacre occurred in 1770.

J. O. Latham Grows First Bale Cotton

J. O. Latham, who farms five miles east and five north of the Hub, south of Friona, has raised Parmer County's first bale of 1956 cotton.

He brought his 1788 pounds of hand-pulled bolls to the Fleming & Son Gin about 11:30 Monday morning, and shortly after noon, the county's first bale tumbled out of the press.

Latham, who chose Northern Star No. 11 as his variety this year, said he had no intention of trying to raise the first bale, but that in his 81-acre field, it was apparent there was enough open, so he just went after it.

From 15 to 20 acres of cotton were gone over by Latin American pullers to get the cotton, which was middling 15-16, although, a "little green," according to Jack Tomlin, ginner.

Latham estimates that his cotton this year will produce between one and one and one-half bales per acre.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

For the past several weeks, technicians of the Soil Conservation Service have kept busy laying out border irrigation for alfalfa and other crops. Some of the farms on which these borders were laid out on were John Armstrong's at Farwell, A. L. Black's of Friona, and Gilbert Schueler's of the Rhea community.

There are two types of border irrigation systems. The one to use should be determined by the crop you want to grow on the borders, the soil, and the amount of water you have available.

One of these types is level borders. They are laid out level from side to side and from end to end. The length is determined by the intake rate of the soil and the amount of water available. These types of borders are the best because they let you take advantage of all the rain that falls. These systems are always laid out so that they may be drained if need be.

The other types of borders are graded. These borders are level from side to side but have slope from end to end. On borders to be used for row crops the fall cannot exceed 3 inches to 100 feet. On such crops as alfalfa, wheat and other drilled, close-growing crops, this fall may be exceeded. Water is very difficult to control, and it is hard to obtain an even distribution when it is exceeded, however.

If you are interested in border irrigation and would like for one of the SCS technicians to look over your situation, contact the SCS office in Friona.

The Soil Conservation District tour which will be held Thursday, September 13, will begin at 2 p. m. The tour will gather at the county courthouse in Farwell.

We believe we have put together a program you will be interested in as well as one that will be helpful in your farm planning. Some of the things that will be covered will be hybrid grain sorghums, bindweed control, the use of level borders to control tail water, the use of various types of fertilizers and various other subjects.

Plan now to attend this get-together.

Big Program, Specialists Up For Parmer County SCD Tour

The annual field tour of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District will be Thursday afternoon, September 13, SCD officials announce this week.

Emphasis will be placed on the appearance of Cecil Ayres, agronomist from Texas Tech, who will be on hand to identify and discuss weeds.

Farmers who have weeds they have been unable to identify are requested to bring samples with them in order for Ayres to look them over.

Farmers will gather at the courthouse in Farwell, and leave from there at 2 o'clock to view conservation practices on nine farms in the District.

The first stop will be at Arthur Haseloff's farm, where cotton fertilized with barnyard manure will be demonstrated.

The second stop will be at the John West farm, Oklahoma Lane. West has 10 hybrid grain sorghum varieties growing under dryland conditions. The tour will then visit the Walter Kaltwasser farm and see fertilized cotton, noting the difference between fertilized plots and those which received no such treatment.

Still in Oklahoma Lane, farmers will look at irrigated hybrid grain sorghum on the Cecil Winegeart farm, in addition to viewing the same thing at Gilbert Kaltwasser's.

Kaltwasser also will show his cotton which has been fertilized with barnyard manure.

Moving north toward Bovina, the men are scheduled to call on Carl Rea, who last year was named conservation farmer of the year in the district. They will check over his grain sorghums, following alfalfa, and inspect bench leveled land designed to catch and hold irrigation tail water.

Also near Bovina, the group will stop at the Roy Clark farm and observe his practice of planting cotton and skipping four rows, with two rows of soybeans interplanted between the cotton rows. Red Wright, producer of hybrid grain seed, will be host to the tourists, and from there, the group will move eastward to the Hub community to see W. F. Elliott's bindweed control project.

Elliott has worked out a control program with the Highway Department.

The final stop on the tour will be at the Rene Snead farm at Hub. Snead is a hybrid grain sorghum grower this year, and has several varieties growing under irrigation.

Also to be on hand for the tour will be Darwin Metcalf, certified seed specialist from Tech, who will discuss irregularities in plant growth in fields having been planted to certified seed.

Planning the tour were the members of the district board of supervisors, who include A. L. Black, chairman; Joe Blair, secretary; and Carl Schlenker, Matt Jesko, and Lloyd Prewett.

THE PARMER FARMER

Farmers hired less work done this growing season than in any other during the past five years.

At least, that was one opinion we heard expressed by a Parmer County tiller of the soil last week, and his argument sounds pretty convincing.

His reasons for expounding this theory sound logical to us. First, he says, farmers have felt the need to save money by reducing overhead. This urge has been greater in 1956 than ever before. The idea has been to partly make up for lower prices at the elevators and gins by reducing the cost of producing the crop.

This has cancelled a lot of fishing trips, and saved a lot of miles in just general "running around" in the farm pickup, too. Most farmers have stayed pretty close to their irrigation ditches all summer long.

Another factor that caused farmers to hire less labor this year has been the difficulty in securing dependable help. Farmers, like any other employers, don't mind paying fair wages to field workers if they can get something in return.

But it seems that common labor is becoming so undependable—in fact, insolent in cases—that it's more trouble with help than it is without it.

In addition to worrying about laborers who won't work, farmers have had to deal with just plain incompetence. As this fellow put it, "Why, I have to meet my tractor driver on both ends of the row to see if he's doing the job half-way right."

Yes, farm life has its worries as well as its pleasures.

What type soil do you prefer to farm in? Do you like tight land, or do you look for a sandier soil? Maybe you believe that a choice in between is the best. That's another good feature about farming in Parmer County. You can just about pick what you want from one extreme to the other. The tight Amarillo clays to the north and east represent one end of the scale, and the loose, almost gravelly, soils of some parts of the southern part of the county form the other end.

In between, there are all kinds of mixtures. Pick yours. Generally speaking, the Parmer County hardlands are better suited for grain production, while cotton seems to do a little better in lighter soils. There are many exceptions, of course, but this is a pretty good rule of the thumb.

The Parmer County Implement Co. News

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1956, Friona, Texas

School days are here again, with a shortage of good teachers everywhere. Most mothers think any teacher is wonderful who will take care of 30 or 40 children all day and try to teach them their ABC's besides.

Miss Mary Spring of Houston visited her parents, the F. L. Springs, this weekend. Mr. Spring has been feeling low for a couple of weeks but is better now and hopes to be back at work in his grocery store soon.

We sell lots of sodium chlorate every day. If you haven't poisoned the Johnson grass and bindweed on your place, now is the time to do it.

We heard the gin start up Monday afternoon and before the motor got to going good, Curtis Murphee passed our house with a bale of hand-picked cotton in his trailer. In the trailer also were the two Murphee boys, who look like they'd make good cotton pickers themselves.

Parmer County Implement is headquarters for Goodyear tires. We will trade for your old tires, too.

John Bill visits his sister and helps her with her children sometimes and the other day he said to her, "Lunell, what you need is a soundproof booth."

Prepare for grain harvesting. Try the world's finest combine—the International No. 141. You'll think it was made for the heavy harvest of Parmer County's irrigated crops.

Maisy: It's outrageous for that man to charge us ten dollars to tow us three miles.

Daisy: That's alright. He's earning it. I have the brakes on.

Texans have the biggest state to fly or drive or walk through, and also, subject to debate, the biggest hats to talk through!

Why use old or worn irrigation dams? We have several kinds and good dams will lighten the work of irrigating.

Texans are neither Southerners nor Westerners. They are TEXANS, which is God's plenty in itself. A Texas compass has six directions—north to the Panhandle, south to the Rio Grande, east to East Texas, west to west of the Pecos, down to oil, up to the Texas moon. In Texas there are creekbeds that stay dry so much of the time it is easier to find bird nests in them than fish. There are areas so flat that they have to put up signs to tell the water which way to run when it rains.

We sell genuine IH binder twine, the best binder twine on the market. IH Binder twine is the best quality and so gives less breakage. It costs no more than ordinary twine, so why not get the best?

The boys in town with the queer hats on their heads are wearing them for their own protection. They all got together one day last week and traded hair cuts. Some of the best ones are Mohawks and the other ones have bald spots or bald heads with a tiny tuft of hair, and we saw one boy who had shaved his head leaving only his initials spelled out on top in hair about 1/2 an inch long.

In a national farm magazine we saw this article. "Good time to shop for new machinery, especially for items like plows and cultivators that are out of season. If you can't afford a needed piece of equipment, see if a neighbor will share the price and the rig." We will be glad to have you shop for in season or out of season equipment at the Parmer County Implement Company and we are sure you can afford any kind of "rig," with the financing help we can give.

International cotton strippers are designed for all sizes of cotton. Get best results with International pullers, new and used.

The revival at the Baptist Church will continue through this Sunday. Sunday we saw some Baptist Church members with pictures of bananas pinned on their lapels. When questioned they said, "Join the bunch, attend church." So whether you want to join the bunch of bananas or not you are invited to the services at the Friona Baptist Church.

Corn harvesting is just around the corner. Prepare for corn picking with an International corn picker—2-row mounted for Farmall tractors or a corn harvesting head for your combine.

If all the tomatoes grown in Texas annually were squeezed into tomato juice, it would float the Battleship Texas and leave enough for everybody in North America to drink a toast to the Texas garlic crop which is the strongest grown anywhere.

Sudan Harvest Starts As Prices Strengthen

Sudan grass seed, third in importance only to cotton and grain sorghums in a considerable area of the High Plains, is being cut this week in and around Parmer County, and in many fields, already is standing in the shock.

Acres for this cash crop is down considerably this year in comparison with 1955, although production is probably some above average on account of the crop generally turning out very well under irrigation this year.

The sudan picture was a bleak one a year ago, when the biggest crop in history flooded the country's market and caused a slump in prices which have not yet fully recovered.

However, checks with a couple of seed dealers of the area this week show that they expect the market to open at about five to five and one-half cents, which is a reasonably good price.

Last fall's tremendous harvest broke the market, which opened at about a similar figure, to down around three and three and one-half cents for most of the selling.

Many farmers, pressured to sell because they needed cash, could not hold out for better prices and were forced to let their crop go at less than they hoped they would have had to.

Looking at the country as a whole, it may be generally said that the three-county area including the central and southern parts of Curry, Parmer, and Bailey Counties produces roughly one-third of the entire crop of sudan seed.

At least, it is true that the High Plains of Texas produce that much—and the biggest acreages of the High Plains are through this strip. California has another big producing area in the Sacramento Valley, and the remainder of the crop is scattered here and there across the Southwest.

The annual average production of sudan seed is about 40 to 45 million pounds. Last year's production, by comparison, soared to over 90 million. There is a domestic disappearance of seed that runs about 52 million pounds annually, but because of the tremendous carryover from last year still in the hands of dealers and farmers, a short crop this year still probably could not make up for the oversupply produced last year.

C. M. Henderson and M. C. Roberts, Texico-Farwell seed men who both handle considerable sudan, appraise the market this year about the same. Both believe it will be much stronger than last year, but neither sees the possibility of extra high prices for any length of time.

SUDAN IN THE SHOCK—The Parmer County area's first harvest scene unfolded in many fields this week. This sudan standing in the shock is in a field near Farwell. This year's crop is good, and prices promise to be much improved over last year.

"I don't think we'll see any more three or four cent sudan, but at the same time, we won't see much seven or eight, either. I look for the market to range from five to six cents," Roberts says.

Henderson this week commented, "No doubt, the price will be better this year." He pointed to a decline in acreage, but added that it was his opinion that the area sudan crop may be larger than some imagine.

Henderson is looking for a "reasonably strong market" this year.

One factor which Roberts brought up that will have a far-reaching effect on local sudan markets is the switch by many Midwestern farmers to sudans other than sweet, which is the predominant variety in this area.

"They are being advised by agricultural colleges to change over to piper and greenleaf varieties instead of sweet, because of the prussic acid poisoning factor," said Roberts.

He added, however, that farmers on the Plains can grow these other varieties as well as sweet sudan.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Members of the resolutions committee are working on subjects for consideration at the annual convention September 24. Subjects already slated for discussion and action are:

State water development, Texas right-to-work law, noxious weeds in feed grains, flexible versus rigid acreage and price controls, administration of the soil bank program, minimum parity for non-basic commodities, reduction of cotton acreage reserve, repeal of existing farm trailer licensing law, retaining present legislative districts, public school segregation, and state sales tax for school use only.

Other subjects will be presented by the committee, and resolutions from members will be welcomed from the floor of the convention.

Plans are being made to help emphasize Texas Farm Bureau's "Lead the South in '56" movement. The aim of this organizational move is to give Texas the greatest number of votes, through increased membership, in the national convention where all national issues are finally decided.

According to USDA reports, cotton exports this year are showing promise of doubling those of the previous year. This means that there will be no increase in the surplus stockpile, which has been on the increase for the past several years. With this step-up in the export program, actual reduction of surplus stocks should become evident with proper administration of soil bank provisions.

Rhea Farm Bureau meets this Friday night at 8:30 (September 7). If you have not attended a good community meeting lately, you ought to go. They'll make you very welcome. Franklin Bauer is their president, and Jack Patterson is county director from the Rhea Community.

Consider attending the Texas Farm Bureau convention in Houston November 11-14. Then you'll surely want to go to Miami the second week of December to attend the American Farm Bureau convention. You can get first-hand information about the two organizations at these meetings.

What happened to summer? Here it is September and school has started. We can start planning what we will do next summer!

Pears are now available in most Texas markets. Fresh, or canned and pickled for later use, they will add variety and appeal to year-round meals. When you buy pears, extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest you keep these things in mind. Look for fruit that is firm or fairly firm but not hard. Choose clean, unblemished fruit that is well shaped for the variety. Color is not a reliable guide to ripeness in pears. Some varieties are in prime condition when green or greenish-yellow, while others may be yellow and yet not ripe enough for eating.

If pears are not fully ripe when purchased, let them ripen in a cool place for a few days. Place them in a fairly tight container. Store them in a fairly humid place at about 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit, if possible. Check the pears often, for some ripen faster than others. Do not store fully ripened pears too long for they may lose some of their delicate fresh flavor.

The versatile pear fits into any meal. Use in fruit cups and gelatin salads. For refreshing salad combinations, top pear halves with shredded cheese, cranberry sauce, peanut butter, minced chicken, or shrimp. Pears may be stewed, baked or boiled. Plan for future use. Pears canned or pickled now will taste good next winter, too. Here is a very good recipe for pear pickles you might like to try.

2 quarts sugar
1 pint water
1 quart cider vinegar
2½ sticks of cinnamon

Wheat Acreage Reserve Is Open To "Old" Growers

Any producer who has a regular wheat acreage allotment may take part in the soil bank acreage program for the 1957 winter wheat crop, Robert Shrauner, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today. Producers on farms which receive an allotment as a "new farm" for the 1957 wheat crop, however, are not eligible for participation in the 1957 acreage reserve program.

Payments under the program will be made for reducing the acreage of winter wheat below the amount of the allotment, designating in a written agreement a specified part of the allotment acreage as acreage to be "reserved" from production. Land so designated may not be cropped or grazed for the period of the agreement.

The rate of payment for wheat acreage placed in the acreage reserve varies by counties. The amount of the payment will be based on the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the designated acreage, whichever is the smaller.

The acreage reserve agreement must be signed not only by the farm operator, but also—if the operator is a share tenant — by each person who as owner or landlord has control of the acreage reserve land or who is to receive compensation under the agreement. Provision is made for properly protecting the interests of tenants and sharecroppers under the program.

Chairman Shrauner explained that farmers may designate as much as 50 percent of their allotment or 50 acres, whichever is larger, for inclusion in the wheat acreage reserve. However, the wheat acreage designated for the reserve may not exceed the wheat allotment. The minimum acreage which the farmer may designate for the reserve is 3 acres or the wheat allotment, whichever is smaller.

If any winter wheat is grown on the farm this fall, September 21 is the deadline for signing agreements to place 1957-crop wheat acreage allotment under the soil bank's acreage reserve.

DeKalb Farm Tour Is Next Tuesday

Farmers interested in touring the DeKalb research farm near Shallowater have been invited by the Cummings Farm Store of Friona to do so Tuesday, September 11.

The farm, which is seven miles east and four miles north of Shallowater, is a scene of numerous interesting plant breeding projects.

Farmers who want to go with a group can arrange to leave Cummings' store at 8 a. m. Tuesday, says Doyle Cummings. The tour starts at 10.

One man area farmers will be interested in seeing, he believes, is Dick Holland, DeKalb plant breeder, who will be in the day's program.

Farmers also will want to hear Dr. W. L. Stangle of Texas Tech, who will be principal speaker at the tour.

This revolutionary engine installation is the best news to irrigation farmers since perfection of the deep well turbine pump. Vertical installations are breaking records for performance and economy. You must see this well yourself.

It is located on the J. Earl Denton farm halfway between Texico-Farwell and Clovis, on the north side of the highway. The well is right by the highway. It is powered by a Chrysler engine on natural gas.

We are dealers for the Chrysler and G.M. Diesel vertical applications for this area. We can give immediate delivery and installation for both these units. You are invited to investigate the big savings that a Vertical Pumping Unit can bring to your irrigation farming.

8TH ANNUAL PARMER COUNTY FARM BUREAU CONVENTION

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 8:30 P. M.—BOVINA SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Does Farm Bureau Really Represent You? Come Vote—See That It Does!

STANDING ON ITS HEAD—Things don't look quite right in this picture, but it's not the fault of the camera. This is a new-type irrigation well installation on the farm of J. Earl Denton five miles west of Texico.

Vertical Engine Makes Appearance

Although they have been on the market for several years, one of the first vertical engine irrigation well installations was completed recently on the farm of J. Earl Denton, between Texico and Clovis.

"I sure like it," says the owner of the unique installation. The six-inch well, which is drilled 360 feet deep, is pumping from a 270-foot set, and has an 11-foot draw-down.

It is powered by an automotive-type V-8 engine on natural gas, and has no trouble lifting a pipe of water. In fact, "It just plays along with the load," says Denton.

Because the engine is mounted directly to the pump shaft in its upended position, it turns "backwards" in order to rotate the pump impellers in the correct direction.

Special carburetion and lubrication has been designed to service this unusual position. The engine turns 1750 revolutions per minute in normal operation.

Western Machinery Company in Clovis installed the unit.

First daily newspaper in the U. S. was the "Pennsylvania Packet and General Advertiser," Philadelphia, September, 1784.

Elder Brings First Maize to Bovina

Bovina's first load of 1956 maize arrived at Sherley Grain Company Thursday afternoon, Joe Moore, elevator employee, says.

The early grain was grown by O. B. Elder, who farms 11 miles east of Bovina. Test on the grain was 14 and weight was 58.

First Load Milo To S-A-P, Farwell

Orie Jones, farming on the Austin Jones place five miles southeast of Farwell, brought the first load of 1956 milo to Texico-Farwell Tuesday evening. He took it to Sherley-Anderson-Pitman.

The 11,000-pound load, which tested 13.6 moisture content, received a $25 premium. It was hauled onto the elevator scales about 8 o'clock.

This cutting was from a dry end of the Jones Martin's Milo field, and the grower estimates that it will make about 2,500 pounds on that end.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Mrs. John Bengler, who lives in the Black community, has been our favorite first grade teacher. She started two of our daughters on their way to higher education. In addition to being a good first grade teacher, she is also a good cook and gardener. One day last week she gave us a recipe for a cake which has been recommended to us by a number of her neighbors and friends.

FRESH ORANGE CHIFFON CAKE

Step 1: 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3 table-spoons baking powder and 1 tea-spoon salt. Sift all together into large mixing bowl and make a well. Add in order, 1/2 cup cooking oil (Use Wesson or Mazola); 5 unbeaten egg yolks and juice of 2 medium oranges plus water to make 1/4 cup. (Frozen orange juice may be used.) Grated rind of 2 oranges. Beat with spoon or slow speed of mixer until smooth.

Step 2: In another mixing bowl, add 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar to 1 cup egg whites (about 7 or 8) and beat with mixer or by hand until very stiff peaks are formed. (They must be much stiffer than for angel food cakes or meringue.) Do not underbeat.

Step 3: Pour egg yolk mixture gradually over whipped egg whites. Fold gently until well blended. Do not stir or beat. Pour into un-greased 10" tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 60 to 70 minutes. Turn pan upside down immediately upon removing from oven. When cold, loosen sides and tube with spatula.

To make the cake special, split it into three layers using a thin serrated knife and spread the two bottom layers with this rich orange filling. (This also takes care of the extra egg yolks.)

Mix 1 1/2 cups sugar, 4 1/2 table-spoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups orange juice, 2 table-spoons lemon juice and 3 table-spoons butter. Bring to a boil and boil one minute, stirring constantly. Slowly beat half of hot mixture into 4 egg yolks which have been slightly beaten. Then blend all into remaining mixture in saucepan.

Cook at least one minute more or until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Blend in three table-spoons grated orange rind. Chill before spreading on cold cake layers. Coconut may be substituted for part of the orange rind. Spread this mixture on the layers and stack together carefully.

Ice with the following icing: Melt 1/2 cup shortening or oleo in saucepan. Remove from heat. Blend in 4 table-spoons cake flour, 1/2 tea-spoon salt. Then stir in slowly 1/2 cup orange juice and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. (If mixture curdles, do not be alarmed.) Remove from heat. Stir in 3 cups sifted confectioners sugar. Set saucepan in bowl of cold water. Beat until consistency is right for spreading. Stir in 1 table-spoon grated orange rind. Spread on cake. Coconut may be spread on top and slides if desired.

With the beginning of school, all homemakers who have school age children should be very appreciative of the school cafeterias. To those of us who attended rural schools 30 years ago, cafeterias were unheard of, but we were well acquainted with lunch pails.

Our thanks this week go to Mrs. Olan Schlueter of Texico. She called and shared her recipe for Mock Apple Pie with us. Mrs. Schlueter says, "Unless you know the difference, you honestly can't tell it from genuine apple pie." This we just must try.

Mix 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 pound of oleo. Boil until dissolved. Crumble 24 saltine crackers into unbaked pie shell. Pour first mixture over crackers. Cover with top crust and bake for 40 minutes at 400 degrees.

Former County Agent Receives Award

College Station—Ollie Liner, county agricultural agent in Hale County since 1950, is one of six Texans named to receive the National County Agricultural Agents Association's distinguished service award for 1956.

Liner was nominated by the Texas Association and Orange County Agent A. J. McKenzie, chairman, state selection committee, made the announcement.

The association annually makes the awards to a select group of county agents who have over a period of years made outstanding contributions to agriculture. Presentation of the awards will be a highlight of the association's annual meeting to be held this year for the first time in Texas at Houston, October 21-25.

Liner is perhaps best known for his work with rural youth. He has supervised the demonstrations and training programs for 14 state and national winners in 4-H records and achievement programs, one of the top records in the state. An average of 650 Hale County boys each year receive training through their 4-H program. In 1954 a county land judging team took top state honors and the Hale County record at the state's leading livestock shows is one of the best.

Liner was Parmer County agent from 1947 through 1950.

Seed Treatment Will Insure Stand

Considerable wheat seeding is underway in the Parmer County area this week, and because it is possible that numerous acres will be "dusted in," County Agent Joe Jones is advising on the advantages of treating seed.

"In cases where the soil is dry at planting time," he says, "it is possible for farmers to lose a large portion of their stand to soil insects."

Recommendations for treating seed wheat call for two ounces of dieldrin or lindane, or two to three ounces of heptachlor mixed in 100 pounds of seed.

For example, if a 50-percent wettable power of dieldrin is used, four ounces of this material would treat 100 pounds of wheat.

Dieldrin, lindane, or heptachlor may be applied to the seed whether or not they have been treated previously or will be treated with a fungicide.

The agent recommends that farmers avoid overdoses of insecticides, which may retard growth of young plants.

Artificial Rainmaking Study in Conference

Is artificial rainmaking a possible answer to Texas' water woes? Is it practical?

The various aspects of rainmaking will be discussed frankly and objectively by a representative of the U. S. Weather Bureau during the second Water for Texas Conference to be held at Texas A. and M. College September 17-19.

The conference is sponsored by the Water Research and Information Center of the Texas A. and M. College System. All Texans who are interested in the state's water problems are invited to attend, by Gibb Gilchrist, head of the water center.

Gilchrist says the U. S. Weather Bureau has been making a study of the possibilities of artificial rainmaking for the past several years. Information which it has collected should be of great help to Texans in evaluating proposals made for solution of drought problems, he added.

Signing of the Declaration of Independence took place in Independence Hall, Philadelphia.

Texico Ball Teams Open Season Friday

With two weeks of practice behind them, Texico's softball teams open the regular season Friday night, when they go to Fields for two games with the Panthers.

In going into the Friday games, both coaches, Charles Stockton of the Wolverines and Paul Frederick of the Whirlwinds, were hopeful for pretty fair teams this season.

Stockton says his team was a little ragged in a practice game last week, but he expects the team to come along after more practice and as the season progresses.

Last Friday night, both squads went to Ranchvale, and in a pair of practice games the Wolverines fell 15-4, while the girls team was subdued 13-9.

Complete schedule for both teams is as follows:

Sept. 7, Field at Field, night.
Sept. 14, Grady at Grady, night.
Sept. 21, open
Sept. 28, House at House, afternoon.

Oct. 5, Ranchvale at Clovis, night.
Oct. 12, Texico at Forrest, afternoon.
Oct. 16, Rosedale at Clovis, night.
Oct. 18, 19, 20, county tournament at Clovis.

Nevada was the first state to use gas for capital punishment.

Fireboys Donate $50 To Sunray and Dumas Departments

The Texico-Farwell fire department recently received a letter from the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas, asking for a donation for the families of firemen who lost their lives during the blast at the Shamrock oil refinery between Dumas and Sunray.

The local department answered the call with a $50 donation and this week received the following letter from Olin Culberson, secretary of the state association:

Up to and including Tuesday, August 28th, the total contributions to the Dumas-Sunray Disaster Relief Fund amounted to $39,212.17.

A check for $20,913 payable to the Sunray Firemen's Relief Fund has been mailed to Chief Earl Shields, who together with Chap-curb and gutter for the next project may start prior to that time, Levins says.

Also, the commission approved two ordinances in regard to vacating streets in Texico. One street vacated was the one east of the Border Service Station, from Highway 70 to the railroad tracks. The street has never been open and is being used by the Border Station.

The other one which will be closed is one block of Eunice street. The block is north of the schoolhouse and will be vacated from the west side of Griffith street to the east side of Highway 108. It is to be closed for the purpose of adding additional playground at the school.

Mrs. Brown Confined To Oklahoma Hospital

Mrs. Maude Brown remains in very serious condition at St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City, Okla., this week. Mrs. Brown went to the Oklahoma hospital last Thursday night and has been under the observation of five specialists since arriving there. Wednesday of this week they still had not determined the cause of her illness.

Mrs. Brown was in very critical condition on Saturday, but family members reported that she was some improved late Sunday.

Anyone wishing to write Mrs. Brown may do so by addressing the letters to Room 208, St. Anthony's Hospital, Oklahoma City, Okla.
