

BASQUE STRONGHOLD CAPTURED BY INSURGENTS

Gen. Franco Leads Forces Into Bilbao

City Falls Into Insurgent Hands Without A Shot Being Fired

By EDWARD J. NEIL, BILBOA, June 19 (AP)—For the first time in the history of sieges dating from medieval ages, Bilbao, proud capital of the Basque autonomous province, fell today before the attacking legions of insurgent General Francisco Franco.

Red-bereted infantry moved through the streets shortly after noon, bringing to a riotous cheer

ALGORTA CABLE STATION On Outskirts of Bilbao, Spain, June 19 (AP)—This is how the Associated Press correspondents, Edward J. Neil and Charles S. Foltz, Jr., told about the fall of Bilbao:

Arriving in Bilbao with insurgent troops, they learned that Bilbao's direct cable to London had been blown up.

It was 35 miles back of insurgent lines to the nearest telegraph station and that would have taken eight hours for a cable to reach the United States—too late for Sunday newspapers.

The insurgent press officer, Captain Aguilera, suddenly remarked that the Algorta cable station might be undamaged.

The correspondents found some cable workers in Bilbao. They gathered up delicate sending apparatus, commandeered an automobile and sped to Algorta.

There the cable workers soldered connections and re-installed equipment while window shades were kept drawn so as not to draw fire of government coastal batteries. Within an hour direct communication with London was established.

ing close a nine-day drive momentum to Spain both in military and international political significance.

Bilbao, second only to Barcelona in importance as a seaport and the fifth largest city in Spain, tumbled into insurgent hands without a shot being fired.

Half-stranded crowds without water supplies for four days thronged the streets waiting for troops after Asturian miners, among the last defenders, blew up eight bridges crossing the Nervion river into Bilbao.

Crowds Sing and Parade

Wild, cheering crowds sang and formed impromptu parades. Among the marchers were gaunt, unshaven men, hungry women and children who had lived for days under almost unbelievable conditions.

Basque militiamen numbering about 500 and a few civil police guards promptly surrendered to insurgents and laid down their arms along with thousands of Basque soldiers.

Infantry moved in from Begonia from the east and down the hills west of the city taken after smashing the famed "iron ring" of defenses.

Water Front Battered

Sections most badly battered in Bilbao were along the water front where terrific charges of dynamite used to blow up bridges shattered windows and showered debris for blocks. A dock and old steamer burned.

Hospitals were jammed with wounded. The Basques were estimated to have used 75,000 men in defense of the city and to have lost 10,000 killed and wounded.

Insurgents said last-minute executions and street killings boosted the death list.

It was estimated that Bilbao's population, normally about 200,000, had been swelled over the half-million.

Federal Board To Meet With Steel Group

Confab Also Slated With John Lewis, Strike Generalissimo

CLEVELAND, June 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt's new steel mediation board, moving swiftly to settle the far-flung Great Lakes steel strike, arranged tonight to meet Monday with officials of the four affected corporations and with John L. Lewis, strike generalissimo.

Lewis and Philip Murray, his first lieutenant, are to meet the three-man emergency board here at 9 a. m.

Two hours later, the board is to see Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel corporation, Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube; Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, and a representative of Inland Steel.

Strikes have been called in plants of all four concerns by the Steel Workers Organizing Committee over refusal of the steel companies to sign labor contracts.

Charles P. Taft, board chairman, said any effort to bring the two sides together would depend upon the outcome of the separate conferences.

In a statement after an all-day board meeting, the board said both the corporation and union officials "expressed their readiness to meet with us as soon as possible but because of circumstances over which the parties concerned had no control, conferences cannot be held until Monday."

The companies insisted they would sign no contract with the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, the steel unit of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Lewis was said to have sent the board just as strong a statement that he wanted the corporation executives' names on the dotted line.

Some observers expressed an opinion that the only possible compromise would be a written agreement—not a contract. The western Pennsylvania "captive" mine strike of 1933 and the General Motors of Canada strike this spring were settled by written agreements between company and union officials when a contract was the issue.

Varied July 4th Program Is Planned

C. Of C. Arranging Attractions In Connection With Rodeo

Preliminary plans had been mapped Saturday for staging a varied Fourth of July celebration in Big Spring, as a supplement to the annual cowboy reunion and rodeo scheduled to open on that date and designed to attract West Texans from a wide area who are in search of holiday recreation.

Directors of the chamber of commerce, following a conference with cowboy reunion leaders, laid the groundwork for a series of attractions, and announced that various committees would be named this week.

The C-C group hopes to better the Independence Day celebration of last year, which attracted thousands to the city.

Stores To Close

It has been indicated that all local stores will close on Monday, July 5, for the festivities, since July 4th falls on Sunday this year. Plans for the enlarged celebration call for a mammoth street parade on the morning of the 6th, when local business houses will be asked to have entries. This part of the review would supplement the annual rodeo parade.

Other features of the program will center in the city park and at the municipal swimming pool. Aquatic events will be arranged, and already invitations have gone out to San Angelo, Abilene, Sweetwater and Lamesa to send swimming teams for participation in contests. Other towns will be asked to join in.

Open Pool To Visitors

The city administration has announced that the pool will be open free to all Big Spring visitors on the morning of the 6th, until 11:30 a. m. All facilities of the park will be extended for visitors' use, and groups will be invited to bring

COMMITTEE RULES ON MINIMUM SALARY

AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—The committee on classified and accredited schools ruled today that non-state aid accredited high schools must pay teachers a minimum of $103 per month for nine months beginning with the 1938-40 term.

Thomas E. Pierce of Big Spring, a member, said the regulation would affect 27,000 teachers, including those in schools seeking to be accredited by the state department of education.

Increases above the monthly minimum must be determined on a basis of college training, tenure and experience rather than on the level of instruction to which the teacher might be assigned, he said.

The committee also authorized teaching of the Bible in public schools and allowed one-half unit of credit each for the Old and New Testament. It named a sub-committee to report on a plan for setting up the course of study.

COUNTY SCHOOLS GET STATE MONEY

Office of the county superintendent Saturday had received another allotment of state money for state rural schools, the figure being $2,834.

It represents a $2 per capita payment, Miss Anne Martin announced. Distribution will be made to the various school districts.

Johnstown Is Placed Under Martial Law

Lewis Calls Off Projected Mass March

C.I.O. Chairman's Sudden Peace Action Brings Great Relief

By the Associated Press
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 19—Martial law having been proclaimed by Gov. George H. Earle to quell any disorders, John L. Lewis tonight called off a projected mass march of 40,000 miners on strike-embroiled Johnstown.

The C.I.O. chairman's sudden peace action brought great relief to the atmosphere bristling with high tension. A telegram dispatched to United Mine Workers officials in all parts of Pennsylvania read:

"At the request of the governor

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 19 (AP)—At least one man was killed and five injured tonight in a fierce fight between police and striking workers of the Republic Steel corporation plant.

The dead man was John Bogovich, who carried a picket card of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee.

The identified injured were: Thomas Osrbay, 55, bullet wound in the head.

Ed Salt, photographer for the Youngstown Indicator, shot in both legs and the right arm.

The other three wounded were not identified.

of Pennsylvania, I have agreed that the mass meeting to be held at Johnstown, Pa., tomorrow at five p. m. be called off and canceled.

"Please make public announcement to this effect and advise all interested persons that the meeting will not be held. It is our purpose to cooperate fully with Governor Earle in his efforts to preserve public peace."

At the same time Lewis announced he would meet with the federal steel mediation board in Cleveland Monday. Attending with him will be three of his assistants, Philip Murray, Van A. Bittner and Leo Pressman.

Brief Sent To State Board

Amended Document Includes Option On 585-Acre Tract Of Land

Amended brief supporting Big Spring's bid for the state's $817,000 hospital for the insane went to the state board of control at Austin today—last day of filing of briefs.

The document was amended in the respect that it included option on a different tract of land, a 585-acre parcel owned by C. L. Barnes, located about a mile and a half southeast of the city. Previously, the chamber of commerce brief had listed option on 320 acres of the Wilcox company farm southwest of here on highway 8; but this, as well as several other tracts will be offered as optional sites if and when the board of control wants to consider them.

$2.50 Per Acre

The land will be available at $2.50 an acre. Selection of the Barnes property was made because of producing water wells on the land and because of proximity of water and sewerage connections with city facilities. Manager J. H. Greene of the chamber of commerce and members of the organization's hospital committee expressed the belief Saturday that the proffered site would meet in fine fashion all demands made by the board of control.

The brief supplied information on all other items requested by the state. Maps were included showing Big Spring's choice location near the center of that part of Texas to be served by the institution; the hospital must be located west of the 100th meridian or in a county through which that meridian runs.

An Associated Press dispatch from Austin Saturday night said the board of control had received briefs from Odessa, Lubbock and Sweetwater. Other contenders, with Big Spring, from whom briefs were expected are San Angelo, Lamesa, Plainview, Amarillo, Colorado and Abilene.

Probability was that after the board—which has final say-so in locating the hospital—studies the briefs, its members will visit the West Texas area, holding hearings on the various applications.

Fliers Race Southward Over Canadian Wilds

Soviet Aviators On Last Lap Ocean Flight

(By the Associated Press)
SEATTLE, June 19 (AP)—The U. S. army signal corps office here announced tonight the soviet transpolar fliers, last reporting their position over Great Slave lake, messaged later they were "turning" and proceeding along the Canadian coast.

The radio station at Digby Island near Prince Rupert gave the Great Slave lake position at 5 p. m. CST.

After that the plane signalled three times, the signal corps announced. The last message, copied by Boeing field station here at 10:40 p. m. CST, said: "I am turning and proceeding without crossing mountains along the coast over sea. Am receiving well. We go along Canadian coast."

Anti-Gambling Drive Ends Friday Night

Both Houses Pass Bills Prohibiting Dog Track Betting

AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—The legislature will come to the end of the anti-gambling trial next week.

The special session called by Gov. James V. Allred to repeal the law authorizing horse racing under the certificate system of betting and strike at other forms of gaming must end by Friday night.

Both houses had passed bills prohibiting dog track betting and tightening statutes against horse race bookmaking with majorities sufficient to make them effective when signed by the governor. Amendments inserted by the house will necessitate senate concurrence or conference committee deliberation.

Some believed these would complete the slate of major legislation. There still was a chance, however, for bills disposing of blooded jacks and stallions purchased and distributed with horse racing proceeds, authorizing the supreme court to mandamus local officers to enforce the law and restricting market dealings in futures.

The senate killed a jack and stallion bill this week but advocates intended to seek reconsideration.

Pending in the house was a reaso-

BLUM LOSES IN FINANCIAL POWER FIGHT

Substitute Bill Trims Powers

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—The chamber of deputies tonight voted for the second time to give Premier Leon Blum full powers to rehabilitate French finances by decree, throwing back to the senate a fight which some political quarters thought might develop into a life or death issue for his government.

The upper house earlier rejected 188 to 72 the bill embodying the emergency powers demanded by the premier, the opposition charging they were dictatorial.

Premier Blum took up the challenge and, returning with his original demand to the chamber, received a second avowal of support in a late night session 346 to 248.

Roving Bands Move Ahead Of Insurgents

Bilbao Terrorized By Asturians And Santander Militiamen

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR., WITH THE INSURGENTS ON THE EDGE OF BILBAO, June 19 (AP)—The insurgent legions marched into Bilbao unopposed today and the long, desperately-fought steps of the hitherto invincible capital of the Basques ended.

As the victors in the three months campaign moved cautiously into the city chief obstacles to their progress were swarms of prisoners and refugees moving out. Not a shot was heard.

Refugees told of complete disorganization and panic. They said Bilbao had been terrorized at the end by roving bands of Asturians and Santander militiamen. The refugees carried what few possessions they could.

Most were convinced they had narrowly escaped death by execution or at the hands of lawless bands.

One insurgent force moving from Begonia, northwestern suburb, into Bilbao, encountered a straggling column of 1,000 insurgent sympathizers just freed from prison.

Two hundred of them carried rifles given them by members of the Basque battalion, a Basque organization supporting the insurgents, who had opened the doors of Larrinaga prison in the heart of Bilbao and told the prisoners they would have to get out of the city as best they could.

Most of these ex-prisoners were weak and half-starved, without strength to carry rifles. As they met the incoming victors they raised feeble cheers.

For hours, they said, they had feared their release would mean only death at the hands of leftists—all in the streets. The prison gates had been opened at midnight.

The insurgents loaded them on military trucks, gave them food, supplied them with Carlisle red berets to identify them and sent them to a refugee camp near Vittoria.

Before General Franco's men moved in, insurgent officers declared their encirclement of the once proud Basque capital was accomplished with the cutting of two roads leading west to Santander. All routes for further escape or for aid from outside were closed.

The investment of the long-besieged city was completed when an insurgent column drove across the two Santander roads, captured Mount Arriaz and pushed on to the "Fort of the Little Mountain" on the west bank of the Nervion river, northwest of Bilbao.

From insurgent lines at Bilbao's edge in the city ahead appeared a deadly calm, a picture of desolation. Here and there smoke columns told of fires. The University of Commerce, apparently dynamited, was burning. Other fires appeared to come from the Vasconia steelworks, one of the largest in Spain, the postoffice and the municipal savings bank.

Long series of explosions told of Basque ammunition stores being destroyed.

"In the streets are many bodies of soldiers who died for lack of cure," said a first aid man. "They are dying like flies in the hospitals."

LEON BLUM—French Premier

The senate had rejected the premier's proposal and instead passed a substitute bill substantially trimming the powers he contemplated.

Blum, in the midst of refection, said he would mean the end of his government, said merely: "Resignation would be an attractive idea to me but what a disappointment it would prove to the country."

With those words he went back to the chamber to get a new start in the battle and the deputies rallied to his support to enable him to take his demand to the senate tomorrow, when an intense, if not a crucial, fight is expected.

It was necessary for the chamber to readopt the bill because the

WHEAT HARVEST UNDERWAY, MEANS MUCH TO HOWARD CO.

Within a few days, wheat will have been shipped out of Big Spring in the value of more than $30,000.

And that's just getting into full blast—in a territory where the farmer's income has always been counted in terms of cotton.

Wheat isn't the "big money" crop by any means; but it will mean money to Howard growers this year. Acreage is larger than ever before; yield on the whole is exceptionally good.

As to the total value of what is already on the move: the Texas & Pacific railroad reported Saturday that 21 carsloads have been shipped out during the past week; seven more or on the team tracks, being loaded. The cars will average probably 1,500 bushels; that's 33,000 bushels in the 25 cars. And the local price has held fairly close to the 90-cent mark, accounting for, in round figures, $30,340. That's a pretty close estimate, according to figures of buyers and railroad men.

Most local wheat is grading No. 1, a buyer said Saturday, adding that "the Fort Worth Mills like this wheat out here."

There are about a half-dozen purchasers in the county, all of them handling grain.

The wheat yield in the county is spotty, some production being only about five bushels to the acre, some of it as high as 25. But many agriculturists are guessing the county will produce as much as 80,000 bushels.

It looks like another $75,000 or so in farm income for Howard.

FACULTY MEMBERS AID IN SELECTION

AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—Faculty members will have a vote in the selection of a successor to the late Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, by 16 years.

Leo Haynes, secretary, said the board of regents had agreed to appoint a faculty committee of 12 members which would confer from time to time with the regent's committee.

The board will meet in Austin July 3, Haynes said, although it was unlikely final action on the presidency would be taken before several months.

Request For Troops Denied

White House Gets Back At Critics In Strike Zone

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The White House refused to order troops into the Johnstown, Pa., steel strike area today and accused its critics of wanting the federal government to violate the constitution.

The flat refusal was in response to a telegram by Mayor Daniel J. Sheilke, who asked President Roosevelt:

"Are you going to fall me by allowing this reign of terror to continue?"

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, told reporters that no troops could be sent unless the governor or state legislature asked for them. Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, he added, has given no sign that he is "incapable of taking care of his own troubles."

WASSON TEST IN GAINES CO. SWABS FROM 4959 FEET

Wilson Test In Dawson Drills Ahead After Hitting Sulphur Water, Another Location Rigged Up In That Area

Attention was centered at the close of the week on the Carter-Continental No. 1 A. L. Wasson, northern Gaines county wildcat 14 miles north of the Seminole pool, the nearest production. It was swabbing through tubing, bottomed at 4,959 feet, after drilling plugs from seven-inch casing at 4,779 feet. Oil and gas showed at interand 1,870 feet south of No. 1 Wasson and 440 feet out of the southwest corner of section 47-AX-pal, cemented 13-inch casing on bottom at 245 feet.

Argo No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, nine miles west and slightly north of No. 1 Wasson and in the northeast quarter of section 2-A7-pal, topped the anhydrite at 2,589 feet, 1,589 feet above sea level. This was 100 feet higher than the marker in No. 1 Wasson, which was not surprising taking into account the regional rise.

Other Gaines Tests
Shell No. 1 Mann, east offset to the Seminole discovery well and 800 feet out of the northwest corner of section 220-G-WTRR, was drilling plugs from 254 feet of five-inch liner cemented at 5,627 feet to shut off heavy gas. Before being killed several weeks ago, the well flowed 64 barrels of fluid, 95 per cent oil and five per cent basic sediment, with 6,259,654 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours, bottomed at 5,000 feet.

Amerada No. 1 A. H. Faskan, 4 1-2 miles southeast of the Seminole pool and 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 160-G-WTRR, was running seven-inch casing, bottomed at 4,883 feet in anhydrite and lime, and was to standardize. It logged the first brown lime stringer at 4,289 feet, 997 feet below sea level.

New Locations
In Fisher County
ABILENE, June 19. — Magnolia this week announced two locations in Fisher county near the Rodon discovery well of Southern Oil Company No. 1 Joe Robinson, while Tide Water delayed spudding No. 1 Ernest Smith because of water shortage.

Magnolia No. 1 Buckalew was reported 1,315 feet from the north and 1,423 feet from the east line of section 172-2-H&T survey, an east offset to the Tide Water location; and the company's No. 1 Smith, 1,975 feet from the north and 1,420 feet from the east line of section 172, same survey.

Extension In Loving Co. Is Indicated
Finley-Cherry No. 1 Johnson Gets Oil And Gas At 3640-50
SAN ANGELO, June 19.—Striking of oil and gas in Dave Finley and Alton Cherry's No. 1 W. D. Johnson to promise a 1 1-2-mile west extension to Loving county and West Texas' second Delaware pool was the region's principal oil development this week. The first oil and gas were struck from 8,540-50 feet, broken pay was drilled from that horizon to the bottom 3,670, and oil rose 300 feet in four hours.

The test was shot with 150 quarts from 5,602-62 feet, tamped with eight yards of gravel, failed to clean itself but had 450 feet of oil in the hole and was making an estimated one-half million cubic feet of gas daily when cleaned out to within 80 feet of the bottom. Location is 2,310 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the east line of section 24-45-1-T&P.

Drilled After Acid Shot
Continental No. 1-A18-Wright which the week before promised a one-mile east extension of the original Goldsmith pool in Ector county by testing two barrels of oil hourly and two million cubic feet of gas daily, natural, at 4,130 feet, showed only eight million cubic feet of gas after being treated with 7,000 gallons of acid. It drilled ahead. Location is in the southwest corner of section 18-13-1A-T&P.

Shell No. 1 Witcher, one mile west of the south end of the Foster pool in Ector county, failed to clean itself following a 700-quart gravel tamped shot and was rigging up standard tools to clean out. Total depth was 9,194 feet. The test is in the northwest quarter of section 24-42-2-T&P.

Lease Play Picks Up In Hawley Area
Townsite Included As Well Estimated At 1,500 Barrels Daily
ABILENE, June 19.—Prices ran to a $400 per acre base in townsite leasing at Hawley this week—led as the Brown Eagle Oil company and S. B. Roberts company No. 1 Will S. Lewis, quarter mile west extension to the Gular pool, was estimated up to 1,500 barrels per day.

The extension well which proved Gular pool structure into the townsite, 14 miles north of here in Jones county, flowed at a natural rate estimated between 75 and 80 barrels per hour by 10-minute heads as it deepened into Cook pay zone. Six-inch casing had been cemented at 1,970 feet, after gas sand was topped at 1,968 feet. Sand was found to 1,978, sandy lime to 1,987 and soft lime to slightly below 2,000 feet. It will be treated with 4,000 gallons of acid, owners said.

The pool was also broadened to the south with the Gular Trust estate No. 2 fee finding a fuller body of pay sand which yielded a railroad commission potential gauge of 150 barrels per hour after acidization. Top of sand was logged at 1,972 feet, bottom at 1,985, and soft lime to a total depth of 2,004 feet.

Swabs 30 Barrels
A quarter-mile east of the new Gular producer, the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 3 Gular flowed at an estimated rate of 30 to 35 barrels per hour on swab before acid treatment of 3,000 gallons, and will take potential gauge this weekend.

Danciger Oil & Refineries No. 4 Gular Trust estate, inside well, completed official test flowing 72 barrels in 11 hours, 20 minutes from pay zone at 1,986 to 2,007 feet after 3,000-gallon acid treatment.

Eight locations have been made in the Hawley townsite, but only one officially announced; that of Dr. H. Arthur Swan of Abilene who owns block 68 in fee and will begin operations within two weeks. His test will be about 1,000 feet south and west of the Brown Eagle-Roberts No. 3 Lewis.

One block half a mile west of the extension was sold by Claud Lewis for $600 cash. Several others closer in went for the same price, and a few lots sold at $50 to $60 each before the well was drilled in.

TAX VALUATION INCREASE OF ABOUT $800,000 SEEN ON OIL PROPERTIES IN HOWARD CO.

Lease Play

The townsite blocks are 2,066 acres, but with space enough for one well.

Deals Reported
W. T. Miller sold 50 acres a mile south of the pool for $14 per acre, and an eighth of the royalty for $900 cash. Raymond Allred purchased the lease.

Sherwood E. Owens of Albany was reported to have staked location half a mile south of the Gular No. 2, in section 45, after purchase of 24 acres for $200 cash, $75 in oil.

John Craker, head of the new Bryson refinery, has purchased a town block a quarter mile south of the No. 1 Lewis. T. C. Hadley of Graham obtained a total of 20 acres inside the townsite and acreage of the extension. H. H. Simons, Abilene drilling contractor, holds 22 acres to the south in the townsite.

Brown Eagle and Roberts purchased the 26-acre Lewis tract on which the extension was drilled from R. C. Humphrey last month at a consideration understood to be $4,000 cash, $4,000 oil. Location of the well is 660 feet from the north and 220 feet from the east line of the tract. In G. Martinez survey No. 194. Space or five other wells remain on the lease.

Gauges will not be taken until early next week when storage arrives.

Offsets

Gular Trust estate will move in a new machine for an east offset to the No. 1 Lewis, and will also move to the south for No. 4. Fee as an offset to their No. 2 fee. All are in section 44-15-T&P survey.

A northwest outpost, the Unren & Frazier, F. E. Shaheen and R. M. Wagstaff No. 1 Shipley, was delayed in drilling pay zone as baller was lost in the hole at 1,905 feet. Operators were attempting to drill it up to complete the remaining 20 feet above the pay.

Rig was also on the ground for a west offset to the No. 1 Shipley. South of the Hawley field, the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1 Moore, in section 3-16-T&P survey, reported a three-barrel showing of oil from lower Tanehill sand at 2,081-84 feet, but was drilling ahead past 2,150 feet.

Engineers To Report On Possum Kingdom Dam

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Representative W. R. Poage of Waco, Tex., said today a report of reclamation bureau engineers on a survey on a proposed Possum Kingdom dam on the Brazos river was expected within the next two weeks.

The bureau took over the project at the request of President Roosevelt after noting the difference in estimates on construction costs furnished by Brazos conservation district engineers and army engineers. The former estimated the cost at $3,500,000 and the army engineers at $6,700,000.

The government has allocated $3,100,000 for the work. The dam itself would be located about 18 miles north of Mineral Wells, Tex.

OAKLAND SELECTED BY JUNIOR C. OF C.

DENVER, June 19 (AP)—Delegations to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce convention selected today Oakland, Calif., for their 1938 conclave.

Oakland's bid for next year's meeting narrowly won over Tulsa, Okla., as the convention's business sessions ended.

The delegate body earlier approved a resolution asking congress to enact legislation to make labor unions equally responsible with company managements for fulfilling labor contracts.

Applause spread through the convention hall as the resolution condemning strike violence was adopted. Labor unions, the resolution urged, should be liable to penalties for intimidation or coercion in the same degree as industrial employers now are held under the Wagner labor relations act.

Congressional defeat of the administration-sponsored Argentine sanitary pact was asked in another resolution. The proposed pact would lift present restrictions against importation of meat or meat products from areas in which hoof and mouth disease exists, the resolution stated.

MARKETS

STOCKS UNEVEN IN DULL TRADING DAY

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Stocks moved unevenly within a narrow compass and got nowhere today in the slowest Saturday trading in two and a half years.

Among the most active shares, the widest price change was seven-eighths of a point. Rails and coppers were mostly a little lower, utilities perked up for a while but interest died and they finished about unchanged. Steels, motors and oils were mixed.

Keepers of the records had to go back to Oct. 27, 1934, to find a day in which transactions were fewer than the 220,950 shares traded today. At the finish the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 2 of a point to 64.4.

Traders were obviously waiting for some sort of break in the steel strike situation.

Sales, closing price and net change of the 15 most active stocks today:

COTTON

NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, June 19 (AP)—Cotton developing softening tendency today following declaration of martial law in the Pennsylvania strike zone and favorable growing weather over the belt. Final prices were barely steady at net declines of 6 to 9 points.

Trading on the whole was limited and for a time the market barely moved, but nervous selling followed the strike development and the close was at or near the bottom for the short session.

Good Liverpool cables were reflected in an initial gain of about 2 points on active positions. Some minor trade buying was encountered after the start but was supplied at an advance of 3 points on the October position.

Part of the selling in final trading was brought out by a bearish construed long range forecast for next week and liquidation by recent buyers for over the weekend.

July closed at 11.81, Oct. at 12.02, Dec. at 12.07, Jan. at 12.10, March at 12.17 and May at 12.22. Spots were quiet with middling at 12.28, or 6 points net lower.

Quency today following declaration of martial law in the Pennsylvania strike zone and favorable growing weather over the belt. Final prices were barely steady at net declines of 6 to 9 points.

Later the market sagged 11 to 15 points from the early highs under selling promoted by the forecast for mostly fair weather in the western belt next week and reports that martial law had been declared at Johnstown, Pa., steel area.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—Greatly improved domestic harvest conditions somewhat plus wheat values downward 1-2 cents a bushel maximum today.

Ideal harvest weather prevailed. Indications pointed to a much enlarged movement of newly harvested winter wheat away from farms and it was expected the increased receipts would result in decidedly heavier offering of Gulf of Mexico, causing augmented selling pressure abroad. Arrivals of winter wheat at nine southwestern centers today totaled 926 cars, about three times as many as a year ago.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1 3/4 cents under yesterday's finish. 'IRON LUNG' VICTIM STARTS LAST LAP OF 12,000 MILE TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19 (AP)—Squad of white-clad longshoremen, nurses and medical attendants, transferred Frederick R. Snite, Jr., 26, infantile paralysis victim, from the liner President Coolidge to a Chicago-bound train today for the last lap of his 12,000-mile journey in an "iron lung."

In less than three minutes the stricken youth was moved from the ponderous machine which sustains his life on a transpacific voyage and placed in a portable respirator on the train as hundreds watched from the streets.

Cheerful despite 447 days of "iron lung" existence, Snite expressed a wish to see the liner which had brought him 7,000 miles from Shanghai to San Francisco.

Nurses rigged up a mirror arrangement which gave him a glimpse of the ship just before the train moved away.

A baggage car containing a spare respirator and a dining car for the Snite family entourage were connected to the train, making a three-car unit for the rail journey to Chicago. Ruthlessness Of A Temporary Majority Denounced By Hughes

AMHERST, Mass., June 19 (AP)—Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes today denounced the "ruthlessness of a temporary majority" and the "activities of organized minorities," charging the former, "if unchecked," would eventually lead to the entire overthrow of democratic institutions.

The 75-year-old chief justice, asserting the fundamental needs of democracy are "moral," did not elaborate on his references to the "temporary majority" or the "organized minorities," declaring it would not become him to speak of current interests.

He said he would "leave to the experts" the task of answering questions on current problems. Nor would he grant an interview as he left the campus for Providence, R. I., where he will attend the Brown university commencement exercises.

The chief justice expressed his opinion of the "ruthlessness of a temporary majority" as he discussed the need for colleges equipping their graduates with qualities which would "supply the essential resistance to specious appeals of demagogues and the irrational demands of zealots."

Frequently during the talk the chief justice's audience applauded and, at the conclusion cheered.

The chief justice said democracy carried the banner of freedom and that there was no conflict between progress and liberty, adding that a thorough knowledge of democracy was one of the most important things educators could inculcate in youth.

He declared the highest mission of educational institutions was to send men out into the world equipped with thorough knowledge of their subjects and "emotional drive."

"Such qualities," he said, "would supply the essential resistance to specious appeals of demagogues and the irrational demands of zealots."

He attributed the condition to an increase in the production tax, greater production and a higher market price of oil. The tax is based on value of oil.

Authorities were unable to say immediately what the damage would be but a heavy water loss was anticipated in the first and second floors.

The hotel long has been a landmark of the southeastern section of the state and for years has been the rendezvous of the stockmen of this section.

TEXAS DELEGATION SEEKS ROAD GRANTS

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Delegates from two Texas counties remained in Washington over the weekend, hopeful that the Senate would pass the relief bill Monday with provisions that would cover the Public Works Administration grants they seek for road projects.

County Judge Paul Snyder of Nueces County called on Representative Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi and P. W. A. authorities, urging action on an application for a $225,000 grant. It would be applied with $275,000 already raised by the county with a bond sale and now lying idle, he said.

From neighboring San Patricio County, Homer Trimble, road engineer on a project already under way, and Commissioner W. E. Tedford, seeks a $51,000 grant.

"There seems little we can do but wait," said Snyder. "We are hopeful that the relief bill will make these grants possible. They have been fully approved and are held up only because funds are not available."

Big Doin's For The Dusky Folk As June Teenth Celebrated By Them All

Man, Man! Dey really was some goin' on 'round this heah town last night. It was June 'Teenth, an anniversary, if anybody cared, of a proclamation freeing the blacks in Texas. Well, the dusky population made a day and night of it, aided and abetted by friends from other towns. The shindig got under way with the customary street parade Saturday morning and was still going strong with a dance late at night.

If a ducky didn't have a car, he there they all went, decorated with tere they all went, decorated with loud streamers and horns blowing for a turn through the downtown streets. Sam Leach astride a horse contributed for the occasion by the Slaughterers, was No. 1 man.

Then out at Cottonwood park there was a barbecue and a speaking. Lotless folks.

And in the afternoon a ball game. Reports were that the local Brown Bombers blasted a nine from Brownwood. They said the score was 18 to 5, or some such; but that was the Big Spring count.

Festivities reached the proverbial climax with high-steppin' at Cottonwood park last night. The gals were there in fancy dress and in slacks; the young bucks putting it all in and having as good a time.

There were about as many white as blacks as onlookers. One suspects that the gate fee contributed

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT Spudder Fans Still Maintain WF Team Best

By HANK HART

There may be an argument over this statement but baseball fans of Wichita Falls still insist that the Spudders of 1927 were the greatest team ever to come out of the Texas League.

Wichita Falls, that year, had five starting pitchers who worked their regular turn every fifth day. The Spudders longest losing streak was only three games and the Spudders needed only two relief pitchers.

They won both halves of the split schedule easily and the margin over the second place club at the end of the second was about 13 full games, which sets some kind of record for half a season's play.

According to Frank Standfield, who lived in Wichita Falls at the time, the 1927 edition of the Spudders is unrivaled in Texas league history. They went into the Dixie series and copped that event in four straight games. Before the fourth game started, starting pitcher Steingraph and Keefe flipped a coin to see who would start that final game and Steingraph won.

FIGHTERS READY TO QUIT CAMPS FOR CHICAGO DATE TEXAS OWNED HORSE, DAWN PLAY, WINS AMERICAN DERBY

LOUIS STILL FAVORITE, ODDS DROP

By ALAN GOULD

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—The "battle of the scrapped contracts," involving Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis brings the latest upheaval in the boxing industry to a climax next Tuesday night under the lights at South Side Comiskey Park.

The circumstances, the fanfare and the gladiators themselves represent a far cry from that gaudy affair in September, 1927, when Gene Tunney arose from the celebrated "long count" to beat off the challenge of Jack Dempsey but the current conference of pugilistic capital and labor looks like a highly profitable evening for all concerned.

Strange as it may seem, the Louis-Braddock match, with a prospective "gate" of $750,000 and a crowd of 60,000, may return nearly as much profits to its promoters as did that famous battle at Soldiers Field, where upwards of 100,000 cash customers contributed to the all time record receipts of $2,658,000.

The late Tex Rickard, after paying approximately $1,500,000 in guarantees and otherwise lavishly producing his 1927 spectacle, got back to New York with less than $300,000 for the directors of Madison Square Garden, who now have nothing but a series of legal knockouts to show for their attempts to block the latest shift of the heavyweight industrial conflict to the big town of the American midlands.

The governor reconvened it May 27, four days after the regular session ended, for the primary purpose of repealing the horse racing law. The lawmakers passed a repeal bill eight days after the special session started. It did not get a two-thirds vote in the senate, however, and therefore would not become effective until 90 days after the end of the session, or late in September. Talk persisted that operators of one or more of the major tracks might go to the courts in an effort to invalidate the act or hold late summer meets or both. The racing commission had refused to grant dates past September 1 on grounds it would not be in existence after that date.

had picked up speed greatly and were within 2,500 miles of their goal. At the last previous official report, 2:20 a. m. (CST) they were only 320 miles south of the pole. The Canadian report showed they had covered about 1,400 miles, passing through one of the great unexplored stretches of the Arctic in the 12 hour, 5 minute period of silence. The Canadian agency said the Russian ship was flying at 4,400 feet, that the radio channel was "clear" and that they soon would be in direct communication with Edmonton or Fort Smith, 335 miles north of Edmonton. Weather conditions were reported favorable although skies were cloudy along some portions of the track. The temperature was comfortably above freezing during the day. On the basis of the 1:40 p. m. report the fliers had covered more than 4,000 miles and had been out for 40 hours. Canadian signalmen said they were making about 125 miles an hour. Maintaining that speed they would arrive in Oakland Calif., across the bay from here, before 2 p. m. (CST) tomorrow. Soviet officials, concentrated here for the welcoming ceremonies, said the long interval of silence probably was due to poor radio conditions as the plane sped over the trackless Arctic wilderness. Even in obtaining the 1:40 p. m. report the Canadian signalmen said they had been unable to transmit messages to the plane. Bearing southward after passing close to the pole, the three fliers passed within a few hundred miles of the little known area which scientists call "a magnetic and mathematical jangle." This spot is the magnetic North Pole, in the north Canadian islands. It is more than 1,500 miles south of the true North Pole. Secrecy imposed by Russian authorities at the outset of the flight made the route and the progress uncertain to the outside.

Johnstown, Gov. Earle had declared: "Workers in the plant will be evacuated. If they remained there it might mean a terrible massacre and I'm not going to take a chance. It was not indicated immediately whether cancellation of the mass meeting would change the governor's viewpoint on evacuation of the Cambria works. However Edward W. Pendergast, secretary to Governor Earle said martial law remained in force. President Grace countered the governor's order for shut-down of the mills with a flat refusal to do so "voluntarily."

senate had killed it and passed a bill of its own making. Government supporters viewed the situation of the people's front cabinet with pessimism. Many predicted Blum would be beaten again tomorrow in the senate when, presumably, he will pose the question of confidence. Others close to the premier, however, said a compromise might be reached to save the cabinet. After rejecting the government's bill the senate administered another setback by passing its own substitute by a vote of 238 to 52. The substitute was sent to the chamber. The senate substitute bill would specifically deny the cabinet power to establish exchange control, change the gold value of the franc or in any way interfere with free dealing in gold, foreign exchange and securities. Blum insists the cabinet must be given the right to act by decree to meet an expected 1937 deficit of $1,750,000,000 to protect the franc and government credit. These sweeping powers were asked until July 31.

Lewis Calls

strike-involved steel companies agreed also to meet with the board Monday. Executives To Confer The board will meet the executives of Republic Steel Corp., Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., Bethlehem Steel Corp., and Inland Steel Co. at 11 a. m. after a 9 o'clock conference with Lewis and Murray. Asked whether he would try to bring the two parties together, the board's chairman, Charles P. Taft, said: "We'll have to wait and see what develops Monday morning." Taft and Lloyd K. Garrison, who with Edward F. McGrady, complete the mediation board, canceled speaking engagements to take part in the conferences. Lewis agreed to cancel the miners' mass "invasion"—calculated to encourage C.I.O. steel strikers in the 24-day-old battle over the question of signed labor contracts—upon receipt of a telegraphic request by Gov. Earle asking him to call it off "in the interest of public peace." Gov. Earle proclaimed a "modified form" of martial law in the Johnstown strike area after refusal by Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, to heed the governor's demand for a temporary shut-down of the big Cambria works "to preserve peace and avoid bloodshed." Gov. Earle explained the "modified form" of martial law included the state's taking over policing, disarming of vigilantes and the closing of plants. Col. Augustine S. Janeway, acting under the governor's proclamation, formally took over police duties of Cambria early tonight. Pledges Cooperation Col. Janeway said Mayor Daniel J. Shields of Johnstown agreed to co-operate with him and had decided not to send his city police home as he earlier had asserted he would if Janeway took charge. One of Col. Janeway's first acts was to notify Mayor Shields to direct city police to disarm and disband all special police and vigilantes. State police and highway patrolmen will take up their duties. Janeway said he had been directed to "come here for the basic reason of preventing riots, insurrection and bloodshed."

"It is not my intention to disrupt normal routine of affairs any more than necessary," he added. "All normal functions will be permitted to continue as long as they do so without disorder." Gov. Earle ordered the immediate shut-down of the Cambria works, despite Grace's protest that such action "would involve admission... that the forces of law of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania are powerless to protect our men in the exercise of their rights to work." Before Lewis' move in calling off the march of 40,000 miners on

Committee To Resume Tax Study On Tuesday

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Representative Vinson (D-Ky) said today that the incorporators of more than 100 foreign companies might be subpoenaed to testify in the congressional tax-dodging inquiry. The treasury contends many persons who earned their incomes in this country sent large funds abroad to escape payment of taxes. Committee hearings were adjourned until Tuesday morning.

TORPEDO ATTEMPT ANGERS GERMANS

BERLIN, June 19 (AP)—The government's announcement today that the German light cruiser Leipzig had escaped injury in two attempts to torpedo her near the Algerian coast evoked angry demands from the inspired Berlin press for vigorous international action against the Spanish government. Germany charged that a Spanish government submarine or submarines fired torpedoes at the Leipzig June 15 and 18 while she was part of the international patrol fleet in the Mediterranean. The German ambassador to London, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, was instructed to protest to the London non-intervention committee, and Berlin newspapers demanded that the committee act immediately. The press saw the "hand of Moscow" in the reported attack and declared powers which refrain from taking a definite stand "against communist desperadoes" are jeopardizing world peace.

Robt. Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck Co-Starred In Dramatic Romance Opening Today At Ritz

'This Is My Affair' Given Historical Background

Two stars who travel together in real life as sweethearts—Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck—are co-starring in a film production, "This Is My Affair," which headlines the program at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday. In the film, each is given an important assignment, in a dramatic account of a courageous love that was involved with important national affairs.

The supporting cast is headed by Victor McLaglen, who plays a strong role.

The exciting events of "This Is My Affair" take place at the turn of the century, when the stability of the nation is threatened by an alarming series of sensational bank robberies in the Midwest. In a bold move, President William McKinley calls upon a young lieutenant (Taylor) who has made a brilliant record under Admiral Dewey. Sworn to secrecy, Taylor is instructed to disgrace himself in the navy, to be discharged and eventually to find his way to the bank robbers. Information turned up is to be forwarded directly to the president who is to receive the reports unopened.

In a midwestern city, the lieutenant meets a cafe owner (McLaglen), his right-hand man, and the dancing star of the show, Miss Stan-

REAL LOVERS AS REEL LOVERS

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor are shown here in a scene from their new dramatic romance, "This Is My Affair," booked Sunday and Monday at the Ritz. A story of nearly a generation ago, it tells of a young lieutenant's assignment on a private chase of midwestern bank robbers, the difficulties he encounters and the aid he gets from a girl who once had been friendly with the outlaws. Miss Stanwyck and Taylor are the screen lovers that Hollywood says they are in real life.

Queen Offers Musical Film Of The Stage

Dick Powell, Joan Blondell And Warren William In 'Stagestruck'

Another of First National's musical comedy spectacles, "Stagestruck," offers laughter and song in a Sunday-Monday run at the Queen theatre. The story, with appropriate tunes, gaiety, big dance numbers and handsome settings, is handled by a cast headed by Dick Powell, Joan Blondell, Frank McHugh, Jeanne Madden, the Yacht Club Boys and others.

There are three spectacular dance numbers with a large chorus in each, and a specialty number set in a replica of the New York Aquarium where Powell and Miss Madden warble love songs with the seals and fishes and other sea folk as listeners.

Songs for these two, who carry the romantic interest in the picture, were written by the team of Harburg and Allen. Also rendered by the Yacht Club Boys were written by themselves.

Powell sings two popular airs. He appears as a Broadway director trying to whip a chorus into shape for the premiere of a great musical.

He has some trouble with young girls who would catch his attention, among them Miss Blondell, who plays a typical girl of the chorus. Warren William is cast as the harassed theatrical producer who is driven almost insane trying to keep peace in his vast organization during the exacting work of rehearsal. A good bit of the picture's comedy is supplied by Frank McHugh, as Powell's assistant director.

One of the outstanding performances is that Miss Madden who appears in "Stagestruck" in her first major role. She came to the movies by way of the concert stage and shows ability as a singer as well as player of a romantic role.

Others in the cast are Carol Hughes, Craig Reynolds, Hobart Cavanaugh, Johnnie Arthur, Spring Byington, Lulu McConnell and Mary Gordon.

Dance numbers were under direction of Busby Berkeley. "Stagestruck" is fare for those who like the stories-with-music of laugh behind the theatrical scenes.

TENSE MOMENT IN JUNGLE

Remember that thriller which started all the African jungle pictures—the amazingly photographed "Trader Horn"? The film which was awarded high standards in season past is being shown again in a revival presentation, and will be offered at the Lyric theatre here Sunday and Monday. Harry Carey and Duncan Hinaldo, who starred in the first showing, again are to be seen in the leading roles. Above is one of the thrill scenes, in which Hinaldo is seen in a dangerous spot with wild African tribesmen. Jungle scenes of "Trader Horn" are among the best ever filmed of the dark continent, before or since that film's day.

Car Burns After A Crash On Highway

Five following a crash on highway 9 about three miles north of Big Spring destroyed a Ford V-8 coupe belonging to Henry Becker of Houston, representative of the Shell Petroleum company. Slight damage was done to a Chevrolet coupe being driven by Mrs. Gladys Dyer of Big Spring.

Officers said Mrs. Dyer's car hit the rear of the Becker machine as the latter was preparing to stop. Impact of the collision burst the gasoline tank on the Becker car and flames flared up. The car rolled into the barrow ditch, was completely afire in a short time. Becker narrowly escaped without injury, officers investigating the incident said. The fire department was called out, but could not arrive in time to save the machine. A slight blaze on Mrs. Dyer's car was soon extinguished.

In view of the many children appearing on the Kiddies Revue Saturday morning, the dramatized version of an old nursery rhyme was omitted. However, a report was given as to the whereabouts of youngsters who appeared last spring on the radio station. This will be a regular Saturday morning feature of the Revue, on the air from 9:15 to 9:45.

The widely known V. O. Stamps quartet, popular vocal organists throughout the South and now associated with KRLD, Dallas, was presented over the local station Saturday at the noon broadcast.

Graham Berry and his orchestra presented a series of programs over KBST last week featuring Cleo Shirley, vocalist in the torch manner. Graham and several members of the orchestra were formerly with the Jimmie Ross gang. One of Jimmie's sax men, Dick Jones, is now playing with Marshall Van Pool, nationally known dance organization appearing at a Fort Worth dance spot.

Jimmie Wilson, popular manager of KBST, was the recipient of a unique birthday party tendered by the station staff and several artists. The affair was instigated by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bulot, and Jimmie was surprised during the regular Saturday evening 7 o'clock Studio Frolic. While he was accompanying "Chick" Bulot in a song, the other persons present proceeded to bring in cream and cake and make the disconcerted manager join in singing "Happy Birthday To You." All went well until Jimmie was requested to make a speech. Jimmie has an aversion to talking over the radio, regardless of the fact that he appears each day as organist and pianist. Nevertheless, it was quite a unique party over the air.

Avery Falkner, control operator, has joined the ranks of the candid cameramen. No one is safe as long as Avery has his camera (which is all the time). He has made several interesting shots of the KBST equipment and studios. His collection of candid studies of the artists is rapidly increasing.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

SOC—READING and WRITING

"PULPWOOD EDITOR," by Harold B. Hersey; (Stokes; $3).

More than ten million Americans, they say, buy "pulp" magazines every month. If that is true—and it probably is—then it was high time someone wrote a book about them. Harold B. Hersey, with a staggering list of pulps to his credit (sometimes not to his credit, he doesn't hesitate to admit) has done it.

Hersey writes "Pulpwood Editor" with authority. He has been editor and publisher of a string of these periodicals longer, probably, than any other man. He was the first editor of "The Quill," was head editor for a time of the Clayton magazines ("Ace-High," "Ranch Romances," "Clues," "Cowboy Stories," etc.), supervising editor of the Macfadden Publications ("True Story," "True Romances," "True Detective Mysteries," etc.), publisher of the Red and Blue Band magazines ("Gangster Stories," "Mobs," "Flying Stories," "Outlaws of the West," etc.) and co-founder of the magazine "Flying Aces," Hersey magazines on "Flying Aces," "Spy Stories," "Murder Stories," "Loving Hearts," etc.) After which list, take a deep breath.

With all this experience as background Hersey tells why the pulpwoods are published, by and for whom, how they are distributed and how profitable they are. He agrees that the pulps appeal to a different public than do the so-called "slicks" but he argues earnestly that the pulp writers are just as good and probably better than those who write for the "quality" magazines.

There are several professional pulpwood writers, Hersey says, who grind out a million words a year at rates that average a cent and a half a word. He once came upon H. Bedford Jones, one of the pulpwood ace, writing two novels at once, using two typewriters and jumping from one story to the other every few pages.

Pulpwood heroes are always manly, the girls are always of sterling character and simple charm, and the stories are clean. Sex never blinks its ugly head in the pulps. Always this type of reading matter

Scouts Will See Annapolis

Local Group To Be Guests Of John Quinn At Academy

In addition to seeing all the sights of the national capital, Big Spring boy scouts who are to attend the national jamboree in Washington June 30-July 9, are due to have an exciting, educational side trip to the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, Md.

John Quinn, officer taking post-graduate work at the academy and a former Big Spring youth, has arranged, according to word received here, to have the local scouts as guests at Annapolis for a day. There they will get a glimpse of the nation's training school for its naval officers.

The ten-day jamboree, in addition to providing advantages of meeting fellow scouts from all corners of the country, will give the boys an opportunity to see all government buildings and other items of interest in Washington.

Dr. W. B. Hardy will be the scoutmaster in charge of the local delegation. Scouts planning on making the trip include W. B. Hardy, Jr., Warren Woodward, Paul Knack, Julian Fisher, George Miller, Sam Atkins and Ray Ferguson.

is packed with action. Dickens could never have sold to the pulps, and most certainly Washington living couldn't have. Pulp readers are not interested in leisurely presentation.

STOP AND GO DRIVING IS COSTLY

EVERY TIME you start up from a normal traffic stop, you can waste enough gasoline to drive a third of a mile.

To cut the cost of today's stop-and-go driving in village, town and city, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This balancing process rearranges the entire chemical structure of gasoline—makes it "digestible" for your engine—just as cooking makes food digestible for you.

Your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content . . . and you get the savings!

Super-Shell—the "MOTOR-DIGESTIBLE" gasoline is sold from coast to coast. There's a Shell station in your neighborhood.

RECOVERY FOR OUR SCHOOLS

The prospect of greater tax payments is never a cheering one to the owner of property, be he large landholder or possessor of one small parcel. But there come times when additional revenues must be raised, if our governmental functions and facilities are to be maintained at the level a progressive people demand.

The Herald believes that such a time has come for the Big Spring independent school district. Voters of the district will be called upon, next Saturday, to determine the issuance of $65,000 in bonds and the authorization of a maximum increase in the district's total tax rate from $1 to $1.50.

Significant questions on the propositions are (1) Do our schools require this bond issue and this provision for new revenues?; and (2) Is there any better way to meet housing and financing demands?

The answer to the first question, to anyone who has surveyed the school problem, must inevitably be an emphatic yes. The answer to the second appears to be a no.

They recite that in the past ten years—Big Spring's period of greatest growth—the enrollment has climbed from 1,289 to 3,220; the district's bonded debt (to provide needed buildings) has increased from $137,000 to $339,000; the number of teachers has risen from 40 to 94; the number of classrooms from 41 to 83; the district's property valuations from $4,065,655 to $7,467,935.

The bond issue would provide for repairs, remodeling and new building that must be done, if the school's physical plant is to serve our children adequately, healthfully and safely. But an important point is this: the bond issue cannot stand alone; it must be backed up by an authorized tax increase.

Business is recovering; Big Spring is on the upward climb; the road lies ahead. But no city can be bigger or better than its school system, and we have been slow to provide for recovery of our schools.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Standing on the after deck of a customs cutter the other morning as she raced toward the lower harbor, I glanced up suddenly and gasped from the thrill that always accompanies a sight of the New York skyline.

That is one of the most over-emphasized and written-about features of New York, yet, like recurrent electrical shorts, it never fails to impress and hold you.

Suddenly I discovered a tall, rangy fellow standing on the starting towards the tiers of turrets that climb higher and higher above New York.

"That's a noble sight, isn't it?" I broke in, introducing myself.

"Yes, it is," he said. "You'd never think anything could be quite like it."

"There isn't anything like it, not anywhere."

"Where's the old Flatiron building?" he wanted to know.

"There it is—it used to be one of the seven wonders, but it's almost dwarfed now, isn't it?"

"It sure is."

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippman

MR. ROOSEVELT'S FIASCO

The report of the Senate committee does more than to state with devastating logic and moral passion the reasons why the judiciary bill should not pass. It goes further and calls upon the Senate to establish a precedent sufficiently impressive to discourage any one else in the future from attempting to make the judiciary subservient to the Congress or the Executive.

This is high ground. But no Senator who takes it will ever be sorry that he took it. None will ever regret that he has been numbered among those who defended triumphantly the essential principle of the American government—that all men, all officials, all agencies of government are under the law, and that subject to the inalienable right of the sovereign people to amend the law, the law at any moment is what independent judges say it is.

Standing on this ground, they will be standing where the liberators of mankind have stood for three hundred years. They will be in good company, and they need have no qualms. For while there are sincere and earnest men who believe in this bill, they have been met in open debate, and so completely has the case for the bill been shattered that its nominal sponsors have been reduced to silence.

No doubt the outcome is a shock to the Administration. To have staked so much on such a daring gamble, and to have lost, is a serious blow to its prestige. The real question for the President is whether he wishes to repair his position or to make a bad situation worse.

They comprise the ablest progressives and the ablest conservatives among the Democrats in the Senate, whereas the few really able Senators supporting the President are manifestly sick at heart. So obviously is this the case that at the climax of the struggle, when the vote is needed and every ounce of influence, the Vice-President of the United States has left the field of battle and has gone to Texas to catch fish.

The government of the United States, with such incredible power concentrated in the President, has become too complicated for a ordinary human brain.

They need a rest and they need a pause. If they do not take a rest, if they just plunge ahead asking for new powers to deal with more and more problems, they will, because human nature cannot stand the pace, make one ghastly error after another.

The fiasco of the judiciary bill if due at bottom, not to some consciously sinister design, but to the sheer fact that Mr. Roosevelt thought it was a good idea, and never had the time or the energy to take the trouble to study it or to ask the advice of competent men.

Lounging in the Ritz bar of an afternoon, swapping small talk, I suddenly noticed a man of perhaps 30, drinking alone, and looking as if he craved companionship.

"Sure," we said, "sit down."

"Say," he cried, "I'll bet you consistently break 80." He was delighted to have somebody—anybody—to talk to.

Chapter XXVII. Tip O'Brien, figuring the day's take with an assistant, did not seem to have heard Duke's jubilant cry.

Fritzie ran into his room, her arms outstretched in love and joy.

"That's what I've always told her," said Duke with a laugh. "I've warned her about the law of averages." The old man was chuckling mischievously.

man. "Anyway, Carol won't marry you! She ain't got sense enough." Tip raised his hand as if in defense.

"Just supposing," he said as if suddenly timid—"I said, just supposing—Lightning doesn't win. You'd lose an awful lot of dough, wouldn't you?"

"Duke chuckled him under the chin. "Perhaps you are a little crazy, Gramp. Let that pass. Did I ever tell you—if not, I tell you now—I love you!"

"No can do," said Duke. "Don't try to stop me. I'm off to Brookdale, to steam up my chump." "Scram, I said!" roared Grandfather Clayton.

"You can depend on him to be in condition, anyway. Give the devil his due as it were. But other-wise—well, I'm glad we got his signature down on that piece of paper."

"I've been wondering when you would know for ages you and Carol were that way. Began worrying if I'd have to have some heart-to-heart talks with you two saps to get you together. Well, Romeo, run along."

"But Kiffie was not glad to see her. She ran into his room, her arms outstretched in love and joy. She stopped suddenly. There was a look on Wiffie's face she had never seen before.

"That's nothing I'd put past Dixie. But, Kiffie dear, how could you go for a story like that—a cooked-up yarn from a double-crossing rat! You are so honest yourself—"

Kiffie retreated into his obstinate silence again. Fritzie thought intently for a moment.

"There was no answer in words. But Fritzie, always clever, was made triply so by her horror at what had happened. She read the answer to her question in Kiffie's face."

"I might have known it," she said. "There's nothing I'd put past Dixie. But, Kiffie dear, how could you go for a story like that—a cooked-up yarn from a double-crossing rat! You are so honest yourself—"

Nothing Very Easy About Staging A Rodeo; Local Officials Busy, And Will Be Until Show Opens July 4th

If you think the life of a rodeo man is a bed of roses, or the arena the only scene of activity, drop out to the Cowboy Reunion stadium in southeast Big Spring and take a gander at the labor and expense necessary to whip a show together.

Already bucking horses are being delivered to rodeo officials and housed in the rodeo grounds to grow fat and saucy for the benefit of rodeo patrons here July 4, 5 and 6. And delivering a cargo of bucking horses—even just one bucking horse—somehow is a job for five or six men.

As soon as a bronc arrives, he is run through the chutes time after time. During a rodeo, a wild bronc must be herded through a complicated tangle of fences, saddled and mounted in less than two minutes. There is strange to say, a shortage of chute hands at every rodeo.

Tough Broncos
Most of the broncs at this year's Big Spring reunion and rodeo will be furnished by Red Lyons of Cotulla, who is generally conceded to have the best string of horses on the road. In Red's assortment are "Bing Crosby", "Jimmy Allred", "High Noon", "Dizzy Dean", "Hell's Angels", "Amarillo Boy" and "Paint Rock", just to mention a few. Lyons will leave some of his charges here on June 30 and will ship the others from the Stamford Cowboy Reunion on the night of July 3rd, the horses arriving here in time for the local show's opener that afternoon.

A fleet of motor trucks, each manned by a crew of wranglers, is necessary to convey the horses here.

The roping calves offer a problem almost as difficult.

The Brahms this year will be furnished by Vance Davis of Garden City, and will be slightly heavier than those used in last year's rodeo, which means slower time and more wrestling in the arena.

The calves will be driven to Big Spring this weekend, will be fed in the park until show time.

They present no rampage threat as do the broncs—bucking horses have torn up many an arena fence—but working them through the chutes will keep a small crew of men busy daily until July 3rd.

They Keep Busy
Big Spring's Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, rapidly becoming one of the state's foremost shows, keeps a secretary, assistant secretary and a stenographer sending out entry blanks and corresponding with prospective competitors. Ira Driver, secretary, Curtis Driver, assistant secretary, and Miss Lucille True won't breathe a sigh of relief until the opening show gets underway. Registering nearly 200 on the morning of Sunday, July 4th will keep them in a sweat for hours.

Or maybe you want Robert Middleton's job. Big Spring's Reunion-Rodeo last year attracted nearly 14,000 paid admissions, a bigger crowd is expected this summer. Middleton has sole supervision of ticket sales.

Co-managers Jess Slaughter and M. M. Edwards have handled the purse lists and the contracting of featured performers. The two of them have corresponded with no less than 100 different riders and ropers in the last thirty days before arranging their program.

A Long Talk
Announcer Curtis Bishop has anything but a snap himself. All he has to do is to call a series of performances that will run from 9 a. m. until 11 p. m. without resorting to a single line of pre-written script, and then he shows assist Driver in outlining the schedule for the next day's competition.

What does Harry Lees do? The arena is sprinkled after each show, an ever dozen water containers are filled—there will be plenty of free ice water at this year's show—empty bottles are picked up, cushions replaced, bleachers swept out. In two hours' time, Lees and his assistants will get the stands in shape for another show and then another and then another and on until he's quite ready to call it a day in the wee hours of the morning.

Jess Slaughter, as arena director, has nothing to do but to stay in the saddle for fourteen hours directing the arena hands. And if you'll notice him on the 4th, 5th and 6th, you'll see him moving at a gallop most of the time.

And all have a joint responsibility—the show must be kept moving. This year's performance is expected to be concluded in two hours, necessitating co-operation from every man.

This chicken house de luxe, built in New Hampshire, is four stories high and has elevators, electric lights, running water in every apartment and scientific ventilation.

Rivalry Over Nuggets Rises
DUNOOLLY, Australia (UP)—This city is protesting energetically against recent claims that the world's largest gold nugget was found at Ballart in 1862 and weighed 2,195 ounces. This community has an abelisk that records that John Deason on Feb. 5, 1869 discovered the Welcome Stranger nugget that tipped the scales at 2,316 ounces.

Crime Cost In US Put At 15 Billions

Felony Occurs Every 24 Seconds, Imperiling 3 Of 4 Persons

WASHINGTON, June 19. (UP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, has urged the nation to "accept a gauntlet thrown down by more than 4,300,000 persons who have chosen to defy our laws."

"The crime army threatens three persons out of every four in our United States, bringing about a succession of crime so magnitu-dinous that a felony occurs every 24 seconds," the chief G-man said. He estimated the nation's annual crime bill at $15,000,000,000, or $23,500 per minute, $41,040,000 a day. "It seems inconceivable," Hoover continued, "that in a country as advanced as America each setting sun should look down upon a daily toll of some 38 lives taken at the hands of the underworld—one such murder being committed every 40 minutes."

Hoover said records of the bureau for 1936 revealed 1,333,626 "major" crimes in the nation, including 13,242 murders and manslaughter, 7,881 criminal assaults, 55,860 robberies, 47,534 aggravated assaults, 278,823 burglaries, 716,674 larcenies, and 213,712 automobile thefts.

"In analyzing the cost of crime a little further," he pointed out, "we find that it means a burden borne by each and every individual of $10 a month. "Our greatest need in America today is a new type of mental vigilance on the part of our citizens, who will realize that there cannot be safety from the depredations of the vast criminal underworld unless this safety is insured by the combined efforts of all right-thinking persons.

Sets Two-fold Goal
"Our citizens must become not only foes of corruption and inefficiency but the strong right arm of the honest law enforcement officer."

Pointing out that 17 per cent of the nation's crimes are committed by persons under voting age, Hoover declared that "the key to this great problem is the careful training of our young people."

"Few pioneer mothers underwent the mental anguish of the more than 700,000 mothers in the United States who today live in the horrible gauntness of the realization that their children have rewarded them by being sent to prison or the gallows for criminal activities," he said. "We have an army of 200,000 persons in our nation who are free but who have murder in their hearts and who will take human life before they die," Hoover concluded.

RESERVATIONS ARE POURING IN FOR CASA MANANA SHOW

FORT WORTH, June 19.—Attaches are busy at the reservations desk of Casa Manana in handling the flood of orders that are coming in by wire, long distance telephone and mail from all parts of the United States for reservations on opening night, Saturday, June 26, and the week following for Billy Rose's stupendous spectacle.

Among the telegraphic reservations were those of Fannie Brice and Beatrice Lillie, famous comedienne, who will fly down from

New York City for the premiere. When accompanied by check, a reservations request will receive definite table assignments. "We could have asked, and received, $10.00 or even $20.00 for opening night of Casa Manana, so great is the interest," Rose said, "but in the interest of good will, we preferred to keep the price at the regular Saturday night figure of $1.50." Except on Saturdays and holidays, the price is $1.
