Commenting on his public listing of grain speculators, Anderson said that most of the government employees named couldn't speculate to any degree because they didn't have enough "to buy a hatful."

Tax Deadline Comes Saturday, Jan. 31st

Laggards were warned today by the office personnel in Collector Earl Booth's office that they have only until closing time Saturday, January 31st, to pay their 1947 state and county taxes without being assessed delinquency charges.

At the same time, Mrs. Bess Mansfield reminded that the identical deadline applied to poll taxes and advised those who wish to cast ballots in the pending elections this year to pay their state assessments for voting privileges.

Asked as to the rate of tax payment, Mrs. Mansfield said Monday afternoon she believed the office was "a little ahead", which might indicate that the final two days of the week will not see the customary waiting line at the paying window. Poll taxes at noon Monday stood at the 1354 mark, with the belief expressed that the count should reach a total of 1700 to 1800 this year.

Asked as to exemptions for discharged servicemen, Mrs. Mansfield reported that the local office had received no ruling. It was previously announced, just after the war, that if a serviceman had been discharged for 18 months or less, he could sign an affidavit and vote without payment of the poll tax. "Whether that is still in effect or not we don't know, as we have had no information on that line," she added.

With little or no organized effort being put forth, it was admitted here this week that the March of Dimes program in Parmer County was definitely lagging.

Dan Ethridge, March of Dimes chairman, of Friona, stated last week that aside from asking the schools of the county to shoulder the burden of making the solicitations in their respective communities, no program had been undertaken.

"We are hopeful that the people of the county will be contacted through the schools and that Parmer County will make a commendable showing as it always has," Ethridge stated.

Paralysis Fund Drive Slow in Parmer Co.

Spokesmen for the Texico Farm Bureau announced this week that a meeting of the group had been called to meet at the Texico schoolhouse on Monday, Feb. 3, at 7:30 p. m.

Matters of importance to the membership are scheduled to come up at the gathering, among them being an open discussion on road improvements in the Texico district. "Heretofore," one member said, "our pleas for improved road conditions have amounted to but very little, but with a well organized Farm Bureau now in operation, we feel that we are in a position to accomplish a great deal in this regard."

TEXICO CAFE REOPENED

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Farmer have returned to Texico and re-opened the Texico Hotel Cafe after an absence of three months. Before opening, new fixtures, including new booths and kitchen equipment, was added to the cafe to make it one of the attractive eating places of the Twin Cities.

Three Drivers Fined For Excessive Speed

Three drivers of caliche dump trucks, engaged in hauling material for the Farwell to Oklahoma Lane farm-to-market road were fined in Justice Jess Newton's court last Saturday morning on charges of speeding.

And at the same time brought a warning from County Attorney Sam Aldridge that other offenders would be similarly punished. The arrest of the three drivers came, officers said, after three warnings had been issued to drivers of the trucks to reduce their speed while going through the business section of the town.

Officers said that the trucks had been "making from 50 to 60 miles an hour" through the business section. The offenders were hauled into court by Sheriff Earl Booth.

Loyde Brewer Again Candidate For Clerk

County Clerk Loyde Brewer this week authorizes his announcement as a candidate to succeed himself as County and District Clerk of Parmer County.

In making his announcement, Mr. Brewer issued the following statement:

"In announcing my candidacy for reelection to the office of County and District Clerk of Parmer County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July, I wish to take this means of expressing my gratitude to the people of Parmer County for the privilege of serving them in that capacity during my first term.

"I have always strived to discharge the duties of my office honestly and fairly, and to the best of my ability. If the people of Parmer County see fit to re-elect me for another term, I hope to be able to continue giving the same kind of service during the second term."

Work Scheduled For Cicero Smith Yard At Bovina Soon

The preliminary work of leveling off the grounds and adding a coat of caliche surfacing was started last week by the Cicero Smith Lumber Company in Bovina, for the company's new yard in that city.

Aubrey Brock, yard manager, stated Saturday that it would likely be "three or four weeks" before actual work would start in the new buildings. The site is north of the Santa Fe tracks and just east of the new Sherley elevator.

Plans call for a new and modern office and two new and larger sheds. Some of the old warehouses now in use will be moved to the new location, Brock said. The office will be frame and stucco construction and the lumber sheds will be frame with sheet iron sides and roof.

Preparations for this expansion were begun a few years ago, and just about the time actual work was scheduled to start all plans were suddenly interrupted by the war.

Truck-Car Collision Damages Three Cars

A truck-car collision on the main street in Farwell last Friday afternoon resulted in heavy damage to two passenger cars and slight damage to a third, as well as considerable damage to the truck involved in the collision.

The mishap occurred when Tom J. Finley, Clovis resident, and owner of two independent gasoline stations in Texico-Farwell, turned his '41 Buick into the rear of a caliche truck that was traveling empty and going west at what spectators said was an excessive rate of speed.

The Finley Buick hit the caliche truck and caused the latter to spin completely around and then run backwards for a distance of approximately 100 feet before ramming into a '39 Chevrolet belonging to Howard Ham, which was parked in front of the Hardage Tire Store. The impact against the Ham car knocked it over against Lee Jones' '41 Dodge pick-up, crumpling down a rear fender.

Finley is said to have assumed responsibility for the smash-up, explaining that he did not see the caliche truck, being driven driven by David Hicock, as it approached from the east. Damage to the Ham car the Finley car and the caliche truck were considerable, while the Jones pick-up was only slightly damaged.

Farmers of this community and their families have been invited to attend the showing of a motion picture in color which tells the story of agriculture through the ages and of its importance to mankind. The film will be shown here on Wednesday, Feb. 4th in dealer's store as a part of a program arranged by Ralph Humble, the local Minneapolis-Moline dealer.

Entitled "Saga of the Soil" and produced by Minneapolis - Moline Power Implement Company, the film emphasizes the importance of agriculture in the development of past civilizations and the contributions agriculture has made and is making in stabilizing the welfare of a nation. Most of the scenes for this colorful motion picture were filmed in Europe, Africa, and the Near East.

In announcing the showing of this film, Ralph Humble, owner of the local farm implement store, declared that a diversified program has been planned for this event. In addition to the main film, other color films of special interest to farmers will be shown. The program is scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

TO ATTEND PRESS MEET

W. H. Graham, publisher of The Tribune, plans to go to Dallas this weekend, where he will attend the mid-winter convention of the Texas Press Association, being held at the Baker Hotel on Saturday.

Falling in line with the major part of the weather over the nation, the Panhandle weatherman really got going the first of this week and brought out the coldest night of the season on Tuesday, when the local Santa Fe thermometer recorded a low of 5 degrees above zero.

Although the cold snap is slated to continue through the remainder of the present week, skies were clear Wednesday morning. Forecasts for the area were for a scarcity of clouds and scant moisture in what remains of the current cold spell.

The second snowfall of 1948 was registered here on last Thursday night, when clouds swept in and brought some three inches of heavy wet flakes in a short fall. Light sleet was recorded on Sunday night, becoming heavier during Monday morning, but by mid-afternoon Monday the sleet particles turned to snow which continued to fall fairly regularly through Tuesday night. All in all about five or six inches of snow were received here, but the strong wind that accompanied the fall the first of the week sent most of the dry flakes into drifts.

Fields where stubble was left following harvest show a good covering of white, which is destined to remain for several days before the temperatures rise, but bare fields caught little of the flying snow.

Warnings were issued to cattlemen over the area by weather bureaus, but Parmer County herd owners were little inconvenienced by the weather, since few cattle in this particular area are on the range.

Although the snow will not actually measure out much moisture, wheat farmers were delighted, pointing out that "every little bit helps" the arid fields that have waited for rain since last July. In some cases where the farmers "dusted in", the recent snow flurries have caused the wheat to begin to show, and it is believed that this week's addition will bring the wheat out.

Travel over most of Texas and New Mexico was hampered by the freezing sleet and rain, which iced highways and railroad tracks, but in this particular area, no accidents were reported due to the weather, and persons who drove across the country the first of the week stated that the roads actually were not dangerous. Trains were running a little behind schedule, and busses showed some effects from the weather, but in general, travel continued at a fair pace.

Gas Pressure Holds

To the considerable relief of residents who read about Easterners and Mid-Westerners shivering as fuel oil supplies ran low, the local gas pressure held to par and most homes and business houses were comfortable. The Southern Union Gas Company, however, asked Tuesday that residents conserve as much gas as possible, and some businesses were asked to discontinue use of gas completely.

Schools Dismissed

Schools were dismissed at both Farwell and Texico on Tuesday, due to road conditions and the difficulty of heating the buildings. Supt. B. A. Rogers, contacted Tuesday morning, stated that classes would not be resumed at Texico until temperatures moderated, and Supt. O. T. Loyd gave the same report for Farwell.

Ball games and organization meetings were called off the first of the week, and announcement was also made that the scheduled youth meeting at the Baptist church on Tuesday had been postponed.

No damage resulted locally from freezing sleet which turned bare trees and shrubs into a winter wonderland. Reports from other parts of Texas were to the effect that ice had disrupted communication lines, but no service lines in this area were broken.

C. Shelton and Mrs. Willa McWhirter, of Rotan, Tex.

Third Tourney Trophy Is Taken By Steers

The Farwell Steers came out ahead in the finals of the Whiteface invitation basketball tournament, Saturday night, taking their third cage title of the current season. Farwell went to the play-off at the expense of Morton and Three Way, and defeated Shallowater in the last game.

In addition to taking the first-place trophy, the Steers placed two men on the all-tournament team. Robertson, who has previously been named on such squads, was listed, and Thomas made his first appearance on an all-star selection. The boys were awarded individual basketballs by the entertaining school.

Opening the tourney, Farwell faced Morton on Thursday, and came out ahead 36-20, despite the steady defensive offered by the opposing players. Thomas led the scoring parade with 15, while Willis had 10 for the losers. Quarter count ran 8-4, 17-9 and 24-9, favoring Farwell.

Advancing to the semi-finals, the locals were cast against Three Way, whom they had defeated in the finals at the home town meet in December. Final count on the game was 35-17, although the first half was considerably closer than the final periods. Thomas had 12 and Booth 10 to lead Farwell, while Davis scored 6 to point Three Way.

The final, played against Shallowater, ended 28-16, with the scoring fairly close throughout. The outstanding feature of the game, according to Coach Jack Williams, was the superb guarding of big Toby Booth, who crammed so many of star Murphy's shots down his throat that the Shallowater forward almost gave up. Hart was high for the evening, accounting for 10, while Murphy had three fielders and a free shot for the losers.

Coach Williams praised the playing of all his boys, commenting on the fact that Hart, usually one of the high scorers, was held down by the opposition in this department, but fed his fellow players the ball to convert into baskets.

Girls Lose on Saturday

The Farwell girls, going into the consolation bracket after losing their opener, 18-30, to Bula, were ousted in the semi-final of the consolation by Morton, in a tight 14-16 battle.

T. Randol led the scoring in the Bula game for Farwell, with 6 points but Hall was far out ahead for game scoring honors, with a total of 17. Quarter count ran 6-9, 10-18, and 10-

Health Notes
By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—This is the season of the year when influenza or "flu" is most prevalent, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Colds, grippe, influenza or whatever we call them, are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges of the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such diseases here are some of the things to remember:

Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contact it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are coughing, sneezing, or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel; always wash your hands before eating; and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief.

Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, eating simple nourishing food, and taking some exercise each day out of doors. Dress according to the weather, get plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room, and keep the bowels regulated.

Disastrous results may ensue from this disease if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from this disease are particularly susceptible to other infections; so, if you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually.

Handling of Live Ammo Dangerous

FORT SAM HOUSTON—Live ammunition has been reported to have found its way to junk yards and other locations where it becomes a potential menace for those handling scrap metal in preparation for salvage. Such ammunition has been known to cause death or serious injury to workers, and is particularly dangerous where shearing and crushing is taking place, in making the junk ready for baling and shipping. Very often persons have found and recognized live ammunition or "duds" which they placed in a water course. This practice is likewise a violation since the law prohibits disposing of such materials in inland waterways, tanks or lakes. While this practice is dangerous from the standpoint of unskilled handling, it is also detrimental to human health since many types of army ammunition contain poisonous chemicals which would pollute or poison the water.

When suspicious ammunition of any kind is found, it should be at once reported to the nearest police or sheriff's department, who in turn would dispatch officers to dispose of the item in a safe manner.

The practice of picking of metal duds and other types of ammu found on or adjoining military reservations formerly used by the army is dangerous to human life as well as a punishable federal offense.

Prosecution of persons who, by handling or selling illegally acquired live ammunition or duds, endanger the lives of others as well as themselves, will be promptly effected, upon apprehension, for the safety of all concerned.

A BROKEN FRIENDSHIP

Little four year old Mary Tankersley peeded through the crack made by the opened door of their one-room house and saw an Indian squaw grinning at her.

"Me friend!" grunted the old squaw and tried to force beads through the crack to the frightened child. To Mary, flattened against the wall behind the opened door, those beads looked horrible.

But the squaw spoke the truth; they were Kickapoo Indians and friends of the settlers. Their party was now on a scouting expedition looking for some horses they had lost. Mary had glimpsed several Indian men as they talked with her father outside. They drew the picture of their brand in the sand and then Richard Tankersley drew the picture of his brand. He too, had lost some horses.

In the meantime Mrs. Tankersley had been quite busy about the fireplace. The little iron pot of beans that had been simmering slowly above the low embers of the fire since bed-time last night was now swung out over the hearth, and its heavy cover lifted off. Generous helpings of the beans, with hunks of sowl belly seasoning, were heaped onto the waiting plates. From the dutch oven on the back hearth came the hot cornbread, while from the ashes in front of the fire Annie Elanor Tankersley raked little dirty looking ash-covered mounds. Broken open, they revealed the golden mealy texture of baked yams.

After, their hearty but hasty meal little Mary stood with her mother in the doorway and timidly waved goodbye to their new friends. The tight little band of fear had loosened from around her chest and she could now breathe easier.

Two days later, on Jan. 7, 1865, the Indians returned with some of their own and Mr. Tankersley's horses they had found. And again Mary stood with her mother in the open doorway and watched them ride away. That band of fear was practically gone, now.

Mary always remembered this incident with a feeling of sadness. The following day, Jan. 6, 1865, their new-found Kickapoo friends were attacked by 500 Texas Rangers and Minute Men, under the command of Captain Totten. Two days later, following a severe snow storm, Mr. Tankersley helped dig the one long trench grave. Mary heart him tell her mother of the bodies they placed in it—the men, the women, and the children and little babies.

This unfortunate tragedy had been labeled the Battle of Dove Creek. Its major result was that a friendship was destroyed, and never again could the settlers of the Concho country be at peace from the vengeance of the Kickapoos.

Highway Engineer D. C. Greer declared. "It gives a flashy and obvious warning of danger to the motorist who wants to protect his own life and the lives of others, and it gives the police something definite on which to jail or punish the driver who apparently cares little for his life and thereby endangers the lives of innocent motorists in the other lane," he said.

New No-Passing Lines Adorn State Hiways

AUSTIN—Officials of the Texas Highway Department Thursday told the story about the bright yellow lines now being seen by motorists every day throughout the vast 27,000 mile system of paved highways.

Highway Department officials pointed out the state-wide yellow-striping program for no-passing zones is considered the best method from the engineering point of view for temporarily combating the traffic accident menace on the highway system.

"Do not cross the yellow line," is the new password to safer driving.

Ranch-Style House for City or Country

Designed for rural or suburban acreage by Walter T. Anicka, Ann Arbor, Mich., as his plan No. 707, this house provides a spacious living area, a closely-knit work center and three large bedrooms on a single floor. The combination laundry-"mud" room connects with the kitchen and garage, and has both rear and front entrance. An extra bathroom, or lavatory with stall shower, may be added adjacent to the laundry room by a slight rearrangement of the steps leading down to the cellar. The engineered kitchen provides ample cabinets and shelving, and contains a breakfast alcove and snack bar.

Sliding Doors on Closets
The open planning of the living room, reception hall and dining room, gives spaciousness to the living area and serves to separate the work center from the three-bedroom unit. The four bedroom closets have sliding doors. There is an extra-large closet in the reception hall for heavy coats.

The house is frame construction and the architect has specified a roof of dark asphalt shingles to give a pleasing contrast with the wide white siding. Fire-resistant asphalt shingles were selected for the roof, not only for attractiveness but to give added protection from the threat of chimney sparks and windblown firebrands. Exclusive of land, building costs for most localities are estimated at $10,000 to $13,000. Blue prints and building specifications may be obtained from the architect, Walter T. Anicka, DHU Varren Road, Ann Arbor, Mich., by reference to plan No. 707.

Small Pack Viewed As Temporary Setback

NEW YORK—The generally smaller packs of Texas vegetables in 1947 compared with the previous year, were described by market analysts of American Can Company today as "but a temporary setback likely to be followed within a few years by a new peak in canners' requirements from farmers who produce primarily for commercial processing."

Three reasons were cited for expecting the unsung, inconspicuous tin can eventually to provide a bigger market for Texas agriculture than in 1946, when growers' income from a record-breaking output of 122,440 tons of truck crops for processing totaled $4,059,000, compared with an estimated 60,600 tons, worth $2,504,000 in 1947.

First, it was stated, prices of cans and canned foods have "held the line" closer than most cost-of-living items during the last year or so of runaway prices, thus winning new friends among consumers by increasing the normally favorable spread in price, pound for pound, between canned and other foods. The price of cans for food in 1947, according to official industry statistics, was only about 5% above 1936, while retail prices for 21 canned foods on Oct. 1, 1947, were about 3% less than a year earlier, according to the National Canners Association.

A second reason can company analysts are inclined toward optimism is the apparently irresistible upward trend for canned foods revealed in a long range study of packing statistics. Commercial canning of fruits and vegetables, they pointed out, has expanded since 1909 at a rate 19 times faster than the country's growth in population. The 1909 pack was 40,000,000 cases, compared with 508,000,000 in 1946. Meanwhile, population has grown from about 89,000,000 persons to approximately 142,000,000. In this 37-year period, there have been five major setbacks to the canning industry, but none has lasted more than a year or two, and in every case the industry went on to new peaks within five years.

The analysts are also encouraged to look for still greater packs in the near future by their inside knowledge of what is taking place in research laboratories devoted to expanding agricultural markets via the tin can. It is pointed out that there are numerous products packed in cans today which are so commonly accepted and used that they seem always to have existed, but which only a few years ago were new packaging or canning problems of the laboratory. There is good reason, they feel, to expect similar development in the future through persistent effort.

Questions, Answers For Servicemen

Q. What is vocational advisement all about and why is it required under Public Law 16?

A. The main purpose of vocational advisement is to determine whether a disabled veteran should train for a profession, or for a particular trade or occupation based on his previous education, experience, personal desires and present ability. The veteran is interviewed by highly trained specialists who will consider his desires, but are required to advise him against starting a course for which his aptitudes or physical limitations do not insure reasonable likelihood of success. In short, this advisement is mandatory under the program to insure the disabled veteran's proper rehabilitation.

Q. Under Public Law 16, must I go to a vocational school or may I attend a liberal arts college, high school or similar institution?

A. You may enroll in any VA-approved educational institution or training establishment offering the course of training which VA has found you need to insure your proper rehabilitation in line with your own desires.

Q. Will my disability compensation be reduced if I go into training under Public Law 16 or under the GI Bill?

A. No.

Q. I am receiving compensation for injuries received during World War II and would like to know if my compensation check is subject to seizure by creditors or for taxes?

A. No.

Q. I am a disabled veteran of World War II and would like to know if I can be given a statement of my disability?

A. Information from your folder regarding your disability may be furnished you when, in the judgment of the Administration of Veterans Affairs, it would not be injurious to your physical or mental health. Your private physician may obtain from VA, upon written request, any information concerning your condition which he requires to treat you.

Q. Will VA pay for tools and equipment while I am taking on-the-job training?

A. VA will pay for those tools and equipment needed by all trainees for the satisfactory pursuit of the same training course.

Q. Will VA pay tuition for a vet to attend school while he is taking on-the-job training under the GI Bill?

A. Yes VA will pay for such schooling if his course of study is related to the vocation for which he is in training, or if the school course is prescribed and recommended as a part of his job-training.

Q. What should the veteran do if he is not satisfied with the job training he receives?

A. That is a matter for the veteran to decide himself, but it might be advisable for him to seek the counsel of a VA training officer. He can always discontinue his training, or, with VA's approval, switch to another training establishment.

Communities Will Help Choose School System

Every county and small community in the State of Texas will be engaged in determining the kind of education system the State should have, under a program announced today by the Gilmer-Aiken Committee on Education.

Sen. James E. Taylor, chairman, speaking before 500 representatives of city and county school systems in their annual meeting in Austin, revealed far-reaching plans for carrying a study of education to the people of the State.

Under the plan announced, committees will be formed in each county to advise and inform the Gilmer-Aiken committee. "Thus," said Sen. Taylor, "the eventual recommendations of the Gilmer-Aiken committee will become the recommendations of the people of the State. We are convinced that the people want an education system even better than our present excellent one, and this means will be used to carry out their wishes."

The new program is to be implemented by the appointment of Dr. H. A. Moore of Austin as executive agent of the committee, and retention of Dr. L. D. Haskew, dean of the College of Education of The University of Texas as technical consultant. Both men are assuming their duties at once, and a speedy program of action is contemplated.

CONSCIENCE CLEAR?

LUBBOCK—Somewhere, someone's conscience grew clearer this week and, as a result, Texas Tech is richer, by $50.

A letter containing a $50 bill, addressed simply to "Texas Tech, Lubbock", was received by Pres. W. M. Whyburn.

The letter stated: "Here is payment of a debt which I have been owing for some time. Sometimes it takes some of us a long time to develop high moral values. Some equipment in your physics department is just too accessible at times. Anyway, it was for me. Sincerely, A Friend."

VETERANS QUESTION BOX

Q. Why is it that I can't get a reply to a letter I wrote VA several months ago?

A. In all probability, your letter is one of many that does not give sufficient information to identify you. In many instances, research must be made before the writer is identified, the claim acted on, and a reply sent out. It is estimated that about 20 per cent of all letters received by VA do not give sufficient information for identification.

Q. Can veterans studying overseas under the provisions of the GI Bill qualify for benefits of the Fulbright Act?

A. World War II vets studying overseas under the GI Bill may receive benefits under the Fulbright Act because funds used to administer the letter were not secured from the U. S. Government appropriations. The Fulbright Act is administered by the State Department.

Q. May I change the beneficiary to my NSLI by a last will or testament?

A. No. A change of beneficiary must be made by written notice to the VA over the signature of the insured, and shall not be binding on VA unless received and indorsed on the policy by VA. An original designation of beneficiary may be made by last will and testament.

Housewife Resolutions Prove Good Idea

COLLEGE STATION—Although the period of making New Year's has passed, it is never too late for the homemaker to make resolutions which will help to solve the problem of serving nutritious, appetizing, economical meals to her family and at the same time share America's abundant foods with the world.

Louis Mason, extension food preparation specialist for Texas A & M College, says that this two-fold problem calls for greater ingenuity on the part of the housewife than ever before and she suggests a series of resolutions which may help.

Prevent waste of food in the home; use the Texas Food Standard as a guide in planning family meals; buy wisely in order to obtain the quality and quantity of food to meet the family's needs; buy abundant foods, as they are generally cheaper; store food properly to prevent spoilage and waste; prepare food carefully in order to retain all of the nutritive qualities and to prevent shrinkage, spoilage and waste; use leftover foods skillfully; and serve foods attractively.

The family that makes and keeps these resolutions can feel that it has made a definite contribution to world peace, Miss Marson says, as well as to better family living.

Milking Parlor Being Built At Tech

LUBBOCK—A "milking parlor", one of the newest innovations in production of sanitary milk, is being built at Texas Technological College as a part of a long-range program to modernize dairy facilities and expand production.

Tech is the first school in the state to construct a dairy combine unit of this type. An observation room will be open for class instruction and for interested visitors when the "parlor" is completed, probably in mid-March.

With the new system, cows will be fed before milking and then led into individual stalls. A stationary milking machine will be used that will automatically draw milk into a jug resting on scales, enabling the output to be weighed immediately. A vacuum system will carry the milk through pipes into an adjoining building where it will be strained as it is emptied into large cans.

In addition to cleanliness factors, further advantages of the new set-up are that it will eliminate the necessity of moving portable milking machines from stall to stall where the cows eat, and do away with certain other manual steps required under previous systems. Working in a pit by the side of the stalls, operators will be able to open and close all doors in the building by remote control.

SOURCE: *Bureau of Labor Statistics
**Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau

Proof that high volume can keep prices down even when costs are up is offered by the manufacturers of asphalt roofing, an industry which in 1946 supplied 88 percent of the nation's total roofing requirements, according to the Department of Commerce.

Since Pearl Harbor, production of asphalt roofing has increased 86 per cent. In the same period, manufacturing costs have surged upward 25 to 30 percent; yet, since December 1941, the price of asphalt strip shingles reflect an advance of only 14 percent, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics for March.

While the price of asphalt strip shingles was increasing 14 percent, the Bureau of Labor reports a 60 percent advance for all commodities at the wholesale level, and a 65 percent advance in the price of all building materials.

Peak production, the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau reports, has largely offset higher manufacturing costs by lowering unit costs, enabling the industry to sell the bulk of its products generally at a lower price than in 1926, the base period for computing the rise and fall of building material prices.

Turkey Producers May Lose $100,000.00

COLLEGE STATION—Somewhere between the nest and the incubator, Texas turkey hatching egg producers may lose $100,000 this year.

There will be probably around 60,000 hens used for producing turkey hatching eggs in the state during 1948. As an average, each hen will lay 45 eggs worth 35 cents each. A 10 percent loss in eggs due to breakage or other causes is not uncommon. Using these figures, F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist for Texas A. & M. College, estimates that the loss may total $100,000 before the end of the season.

Prevention of the loss will vary on different farms, Beanblossom says, but he lists 10 suggestions which have general application.

"Gather eggs 4 to 6 times daily," is first on his list. Provide plenty of nests of sufficient size so that more than one hen will not be on the nest at one time and use suitable nesting material. Handle the eggs carefully when gathering and packing. Use good cases. Keep the eggs clean. Use good flats and fillers. Feed a complete ration.

Boiled down, these suggestions amount to good management practices, Beanblossom says, and may mean a saving of an average of $1.57 per hen.

Cotton Improvement Takes Forward Step

COLLEGE STATION—Cotton improvement work took a step forward in Texas in 1947, and figures from Smith-Doxey classification records help prove it.

F. E. Lichte, extension cotton gin specialist for Texas A. & M. College says that 1,034 applications from 148 counties, covering 97,154 producers and 6,783,068 acres of cotton were received for the free classification and market news service offered under the Smith-Doxey Act of 1937. Eighteen varieties of cotton and 1,414 cotton gins were involved.

About 1,243,600 bales of cotton ginned so far this season, representing about 45 percent of the estimated crops, have been classed free for farmers in Smith-Doxey cotton improvement groups in Texas, John L. McCollum of the southwest area cotton branch of the USDA's PMA, reports. This total does not include cotton classed for CCC loans, cotton futures, the Army, and farmers and ginners not in improvement groups who sent samples to the branch office.

The Lubbock office, where 747,072 bales already have been classed for improvement groups, leads the State. These figures compare favorably with past years, Lichte says, and he expects an increase in the number of applications for 1948, as more and more farmers realize the benefits to be obtained from cotton improvement organizations.

The Smith-Doxey Act provides free classification and market news service to cotton farmers who organize into improvement groups, adopt a variety of cotton, file application, arrange for sampling, and meet certain other requirements.

A NATIVE OF CHINA

An ancient native of China, first introduced into this country in 1837 deserves more modern recognition of its contribution to the American scene. Called the jujube tree, comparatively small in size and with fruit similar to the date, it was planted in the south during the 1870's as an ornamental or hedge plant.

Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening for Texas A. & M. College, says that the jujube tree is particularly well suited to the low flat-top design of modern and Spanish type homes of the Southwest because of its size. A group it is a handy tree in hot, dry climate and resists drought, yet grows just as well in areas of long rainy periods or low temperatures. A group of three or four will make excellent shade for an outdoor living room or barbecue pit area.

The fruit of the jujube has never received much recognition. It has high sugar content and is much like the date in appearance, texture and taste. It is mild and sweet, Miss Hatfield says, and is good with dry cereal without the addition of sugar. It is preferred by most in its candied or dried form, or as sweet pickles or preserves.

Miss Hatfield suggests that in making landscaping plans, consideration be given to the jujube tree and its adaptability to Southwestern climate and scene. The Li and Land are two of the best varieties for Texas and produce large fruit.

CORN KING . . . Walter J. Harpel, 45, of Shannondale, Ind., crowned 1947 Corn King of North America, is shown with the 10-year exhibit of Indiana certified yellow dent hybrid 844-D corn that won him the grand championship at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. Harpel's recipe for growing top-flight corn is "good soil management that builds up the soil's organic matter supply, good seed, plenty of fertilizer and hard work."

All Teams Slated For Games This Weekend

All cage teams of the Texico school are booked for games this weekend—providing the weather allows, Supt. B. A. Rogers said today. On Friday night both junior and senior boys will go to Floyd, where they will be in contests, and on the same night the eighth grade boys will play the Clovis junior high boys and the local senior girls will meet the Field team. Both these games are to be played in Clovis. Saturday night sees home games, with both Oklahoma Lane teams due to come here. Game time is 7:30.

THIRD TOURNEY

Had the locals been able to put the regular forwards on the floor in the semi-final match, the game could have ended differently, spectators opined. Minus the services of the Petree sisters and the Rando sisters, the forward lineup was a bit unusual, but the locals played a strong game, and held a precarious lead most of the time. Quarter score showed Farwell ahead 6-5, 8-7 and 12-11, with Morton taking it away in the final canto. Hardage scored 7 to lead Farwell, Lackey came in with 6 to top Morton.

Mrs. LeRoy Faville, Texico primary teacher, was off duty the first of the week, receiving treatment in the Memorial Hospital in Clovis.

John Deere Day Draws Full House, Friday

Bud Crump, manager of the Friona Farm Equipment Co. distributors of the John Deere line expressed himself as more than well pleased with the turn-out for his John Deere day at Friona last Friday.

Farmers and their families from all over Parmer County were in attendance at the showing, which was preceded by a luncheon. Several interesting films, including "What's new for 1948" were shown at the Regal Theatre, and Crump reports a full house at the show.

Revival Is Started At Bovina Church

A revival opened at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Bovina on Sunday, with Rev. Alfred E. Spell as evangelist. Rev. Spell is regional president of the PHYS of the Southwest. Mrs. Spell will serve as children's director, and also as musician and singer. Services begin at 7:30 in the evening and the public is invited.

BURIED AT OKLA. LANE

Burial services for Arthur Parish, age 45, former Lariat resident, were held Monday afternoon at the Oklahoma Lane cemetery. Parish, it is reported here, died at Colorado Springs, Colo., and his remains shipped here for burial.

Vega and Bovina Come Here for Cage Games

Winding up the home-game list of the current cage season insofar as the schedule shows now will be conference matches with both Vega and Bovina, on Friday night, January 3rd, it was announced today by Coach Jack Williams at Farwell.

On Friday night, the game which may determine the district champs will be played here. At this time the locals face Vega, whom they have once defeated in conference play, but by a very close margin. Vega, Coach Williams explained, has to date dropped two conference matches. Farwell has four more league games to play, and if the Steers oust Vega they could go into a decline and drop the remainder of the conference games—and still be tied with Vega for district honors.

If they defeat Vega, the championship appears to be in the bag. After having had their perfect season record smirched by the Friona squad last Friday night the incensed Steers are out to run rough-shod over their remaining opponents they hope.

The Farwell girls, who are in the cellar so far as conference rating is concerned, have shown improvement recently, and might upset the visiting Vega-ites, to whom they have previously bowed.

On Tuesday night of next week Bovina and Farwell battle it out for the last time this year. Some two weeks ago the favored Farwell boys and Bovina girls nearly found themselves out in the cold, when both games were exceptionally close, and it is quite likely that the same will be the case when the teams come here next week.

Game time on both nights is 7:30, with Fisher and McDowell officiating.

Field Teams Downed By Texico, Friday

Both teams from Field, visting on the Texico court last Friday night, were downed by the locals, with the girls taking a tight 24-28 win, while the boys romped off with a 19-49 victory.

LaRue and McDaniels led Field and Texico, respectively, in the girls' contest, with the Whirlwinds holding a fairly good lead after the initial quarter ended.

Baldock, still on his scoring spree, paced the Texico boys, with other members of the team turning in good performances. Subs finished out the game when the Wolverines had a comfortable margin.

Paralysis Fund Being Aided By Students

Cooperating in the annual March of Dimes Campaign, Farwell students are staging contests and intramural basketball games this week. Supt. O. T. Loyd said today, with proceeds going into the fund for assistance of infantile paralysis victims.

Members of the high school classes are engaging in inter-class games, with admission being charged to go into the "Dimes" fund. A contest is also being held to raise monev in the grade school, the deadline coming on Friday of this week. The winning classes are to be entertained by other groups participating, Supt. Loyd reported.

No checkup was available today on the amount of money on hand.

Football Players Are Presented Awards

Coach Jack Williams served as a presentation man last week, when individual gold footballs were given to members of the Farwell Steer football squad, as recognition of the effort and time expended by the boys during the season. The awards were purchased by merchants of the town.

Before presenting the awards, the coach explained that during the season the players worked 52 days at a naverage of 2 hours per day, for eight games, all of which were won by the Steers who were named as bi-district champions of Districts 1B and 2B of six-man football in the Texas Interscholastic League.

Players receiving the footballs included Bobby Hart, Junior Robertson, the co-captains; Harry Sheets, Sonny Graham, Warlick Thomas, Toby Booth, Jackie Holland, Don Ford, A. C. Henneman, Herman Gerles, R. A. Cassidy, Pete Hughes, Leon London, Jerry Pool, Gerald Norton, Leon Meeks, Bob Gerles and Troy McKilip.

In addition, Coach Williams presented the bi-district trophy to Co-Captains Hart and Robertson.

Girls Lose Benefit Game To Bovina

The Texico Whirlwinds failed to master the fighting Bovina squads in the final canto, Monday night, when the two squads participated in games staged for the benefit of the March of Dimes, in the Clovis gym.

Final score of the game was 23-27, favoring the Texas team, and the count was close throughout most of the match. The locals trailed by some five points at half time, but had almost closed the gap when repeated fouls sent some of the main stringers off the court.

Peggy Rogers had held star Markham down to few baskets until the final period, when she fouled off, and after that Markham hit the bucket to lead the Bovina scoring.

McDaniels, of Texico, was high for the team with 13. Missing of free shots was held primarily responsible for the loss by the locals.

Preceding the girls match, the Clovis Wildcats dumped the Sudan boys by a two-point margin in an overtime playoff. Proceeds of the matches go into the paralysis fund.

Steers Trip Over Chiefs For First Loss Of Year

It was 17 wins and no defeats for the Farwell Steers when they took the Friona Chief's court last Friday night in a non-conference tilt, but ere the game was over they had been handed their first defeat this year by the Redskins who proved that they could hit from just about anywhere on the court, much to the dismay of Farwell. Not once did Farwell lead the host cagers, and when the first stanza ended 7-10, that was as close as the Steers ever came to overcoming Friona's lead.

When Friona pushed futher out at halftime, 16-24, the Steers, who had been playing their usual man-to-man defense, changed gears and dropped back to the old shifting zone, a move that was hoped to stop the Chief's shooting, since their court is somewhat small.

This slowed the Indians down somewhat, but Farwell still just couldn't catch up. The apparent reason for this was because the Steers were unable to get the ball inside Friona's tight defense, while Friona stole the ball at every opportunity and made their shots count.

At the end of the third period a 21-28 tally was chalked up. Numerous time outs were called by the Steers who attempted to muster their usually well-oiled bucket attack into action, but it seemed to be too late. Farwell finally resorted to shots from way out front, but it just wasn't the Steers night; they wouldn't fall. This holds true except for one very long shot that whipped the net from the hands of Don Ford in the last minutes of play. Farwell ended behind six points, 28-34, when the final whistle sounded.

Friona was somewhat handicapped by the loss of V. Weis who left the court by the personal foul route, but his substitute proved himself very well.

Harry Weis of Friona and Warlick Thomas each netted nine points for high honors.

Girls Overpowered
The hopelessly outclassed girls' sextette fell below the mauling attack of the Friona Squaws, 11-37, in Friday night's opener.

The Squaws got started early, 1-15, and still led 19-4 at half. Main-string forward Hazel Petree sprained an ankle severely in the third quarter, and spent the remainder of the game on the bench.

Third-quarter score was 7-28. Robason of Friona was high with 10, and Peggy Hardage led the local girls with 5.

Booth officiated both contests.
