Pension Law Change Holds The Spotlight

Hot Battle Looms On Proposal To Make Payments Less Liberal

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. (AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to raise the tax on oil production from two to two and three-fourths cents per barrel.

Although the solons were called in special session for the purpose of providing funds to pay old age pensions, interest centered over the proposed revision of the pension law as the legislature started its last full week of the extra session.

The omnibus tax bill, already approved by the house, was before the senate.

Under terms of the measure stripper wells producing ten barrels per day or less would be exempted from the levy.

Fifth Person Gravely Hurt; Baby Escapes

Merkel Residents, Martin Co. Man Are Victims In Highway Collision

Death rode the highway Sunday to snatch up four persons when a light passenger car and a heavily loaded cottonseed truck crashed on highway No. 1 east of Big Spring, some 500 yards from the Howard county line in Mitchell county. A fifth person was critically injured.

The car, bearing a group bound on a pleasure trip to Lamesa, and the truck, headed for a Colorado mill with 7,440 pounds of cottonseed as the load collided at about 6 a. m. An instant later, these lay dead:

B. F. Middleton, 67, Merkel farmer. Mrs. B. F. Middleton, about 65, Merkel. Mrs. W. A. Whiteley, 31, Merkel.

Elvis W. Newman, 28, Lenora (Martin county) truck driver. Critically injured was W. A. Whiteley, Merkel filling station operator and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Middleton. Nearly, his one-year-old son, hurled from the wreckage with only a few bruises, crawled away from the worst motor car disaster ever to befall this section.

Brought to Hospital

Tourists, driving by the scene a few minutes later, picked up the baby and rushed it to Big Spring and notified officers of the crash. In a few minutes, another car of tourists drove in with Whiteley and rushed him to the Big Spring hospital. Eberley ambulances sped to the crash site. The bodies were brought here and prepared for burial.

Monday afternoon Whiteley's condition was slightly improved but he remained in a semi-conscious condition, rousing occasionally to ask questions. He was unable to tell of the tragedy. Attending physicians said he was suffering from a fractured skull, concussion, several deep scalp wounds and severe shock.

Auto Demolished

Impact of the crash demolished the passenger car and scattered cottonseed and wreckage over a distance of 150 feet. Middleton was virtually decapitated, his wife's face was mangled beyond recognition, and Mrs. Whiteley's skull was crushed. Newman was the only one of the victims easily recognizable. Pieces of flesh and blood were littered over a 50-foot area.

Middleton's body lay in a heap of tires and twisted car parts about midway between the two machines which came to a stop about 50 feet apart and facing in directions from which they were traveling. Eberley ambulances sped to the crash site. The bodies were brought here and prepared for burial.

COSDEN OILER CAGERS START PRACTICE TUESDAY

HENNINGER LINES UP CLASSY '5'

By Tom Bessley

OSIE BRESTOW writes from Rochester, Minn.: "Just a line to let you know something about high school football teams here. They all use pro rules and pass anywhere behind the line. Don't know how I would like it, but it sure opens up the game."

"PS-If you see Blonday Cross t h him they have a place up there where they give brain transfusions to sports writers."

"CHAMPIONS DON'T repeat." That is the cry of the Southwest conference, and it has stood to date, at least. The records show that A. & M. has won five championships, SMU four, Baylor three, Texas three, TCU two, Rice one and that no championship was awarded in three years. The record by years: 1915-Baylor. 1916-No champion. 1917-A. & M. 1918-No champion. 1919-A. & M. 1920-Texas. 1921-A. & M. 1922-Baylor. 1923-SMU. 1924-Baylor. 1925-A. & M. 1926-SMU. 1927-A. & M. 1928-Texas. 1929-T. C. U. 1930-Texas. 1931-SMU. 1932-T. C. U. 1933-No champion. 1934-Rice. 1935-SMU.

Not content with the material that made his Oiler, representing Cosden refinery, the classiest basketball organization in West Texas Spike Henninger, generalissimo of Cosden's athletic teams, has issued a call for all his old members plus a selected sprinkling of newcomers to get an early start for the '36-'37 season. First workouts will be held Tuesday night in the high school gym, and the Cosdenites will band together three times a week thereafter to sharpen their basket eyes. Fifteen men are scheduled to report for the initial practice. The veteran from last year's squad include Jack and Phil Smith, Horace Wallin, "Skeets" West, Jake Morgan, Tommy Hutto, Dave Hopper, Ray Groseclose and "Mileway" Chiller, while "Rat" Ramsey of Chillicothe, Bud Jones of San Antonio, Jack Webb of Nashville, Tenn., Weir Phillips, and Charley Spikes are listed as newcomers. Ramsey, the harness mite of the Cosden baseball team, played "mean game" while making Chillicothe his home. Little is known of his ability here but he is one of the best chatterboxes in the business. The remaining quartet of newcomers have several years of experience on the hardwood, which may or may not stand them in good stead. Henninger has series lined up with two college quints and a pair of tilts with strong high school fives. Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech have agreed to games and Tusculoa and Luaders high schools will be met. Tech has asked for games on Dec. 10 and 11, but the series with the Athletics college have not been arranged.

BAYLOR'S CROONING QUARTER MIXES SONGS WITH SIGNALS; TOSSES TUNES AT TACKLERS

By FELIX McKNIGHT
WACO, Oct. 19. (UP)—Triple-threaters Lloyd Russell, who can hit high "C" and an enemy line on foot dropping a note, is ripping off gains to his own vocal accompaniment in the Southwest conference again.

The Baylor university quarterback is no Eling Crosby but he likes to sing and does so on or off the gridiron.

Two seasons ago Russell broke into song as he romped away on a punt return against a tune-up opponent. Jinx Tucker, veteran Waco sports editor, caught a bar or two, fumbled at his typewriter and came up with a paragraph about the "crooning quarterback." It not only stuck—it spread.

Fans flocked to the stadium to see and hear the slippery Russell in action—a youngster who could run touchdowns and the scales simultaneously.

Russell insists his vocal accomplishments have been greatly exaggerated and explains—
"I have a peculiar habit of calling signals after the ball is snapped, often after I'm tackled. Some of the opposing players have told me that just before I am tackled I start mumbling and singing. I don't willfully start singing, but I have caught myself doing it."

Head Coach Morley Jennings smirks when the subject is mentioned. He respects Russell as a triple-threat but when the extra "threat" of crooning is tossed in, he labels it "tommy-rot."

"Gets Chances On Radio
But Russell doesn't object to being called the "crooning quarterback," a name that brought him a couple of radio offers, both declined.

The son of a mail-carrier, Russell ranks with the best of the Southwest conference backs, is one of the few 4-lettermen in Texas and one of the brightest young baseball prospects hereabouts.

Rumor says he is to have a fling in baseball under the guidance of the Cleveland Indians after his graduation from Baylor.

On top of all his other accomplishments, in baseball, football, track and basketball, he's a star performer with the textbooks—an honor student.

AGGIES ARE 'TOPS' IN SOUTHWEST Old Football Days Pictured By Pa Corbin

Captain Of Yale's Famous Team Traces Rise Of Coaching

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The form players took a terrific licking last Saturday when the sunlight on the last gridiron front faded and the race for national honors is just as wide open as it ever was.

With such chieftains as the Pittsburgh Panthers, Princeton Tigers, Georgia Tech Wracklers and Navy on the short end of scores, the list of undefeated teams continues to dwindle.

In the east, Fordham, Army, Yale and Penn still boast perfect records. The Rams are in for their hardest tussle of the year when they take on the wild Gaels of Saint Mary. The Cadets take it easy in a game with Springfield, Penn has a breather in Brown, and Yale gridlers should triumph by any score they choose against Rutgers.

The Blue Devils, who defeated Georgia Tech last week, 19-7, takes on Tennessee, always hard to beat, while the Aggies catch the Baylor Bears on homecoming week. The Farmers took TCU into camp, 15-7, last week to give that team more defeats than it had during 1935, while Baylor overcame an 18-point deficit to decision Texas, 21-18.

Other south and southwest headliners include the Georgia-Auburn affair in Columbus, LSU-Arkansas game in Shreveport, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech in Nashville, and the Texas-Rice argument in Houston.

In the midst of what Purdue will attempt to stop that 20-game winning streak of Minnesota's in Minneapolis, and may do it with the help of Texas' Cecil Inell, who has been a shinin' star in the Bittermakers' offense all year.

Northwestern, who upset Ohio State last week, 14-13, and handed that eleven its second defeat of the year, is in for trouble with Illinois, but should be ready, since their record for the season is still perfect. They will be looking for the game with Minnesota a week from Saturday.

Farther west, Stanford and Southern California hook up with the latter favored, and Washington and California get together in a battle for supremacy. UCLA, who cannot be counted out since the licking administered to California, should triumph over Oregon State.

Spontaneous course in plays during summer vacations, and were served hot towels and cool drinks during time out at the games.

A far cry from the old days when some of the huskies trained on ale at a hearty breakfast before the game and went in to play "For God, For Country and For Yale."

Adialex acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adialex cleans your system, a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not know had in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headache for months.

Dr. M. L. Shaw, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adialex gently rubs the bowels and relaxes the muscles. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adialex and see how good you feel. Just one powerful relieve GAS and constipation."

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You Can Become Peppy This Easy Way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years this famous old medicine to pep them up... to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. A try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.—adv.

Winter Coats Are Dramatic

Russia And Victoria Give Fashionists Latest Designs

By ADELAID KERR

NEW YORK (AP)—The most dramatic winter coats the fashion world has seen have come to town, Beaver borders swirling on a full-skirted model as dashing as a Cosack's coat, silver foxes spilling down a black broadcloth breadth with four heads meeting at the waist and rich cloth molded to show a figure's most glamorous curves spell drama for modish moderns.

"Entrances" In Order Many a smart sophisticate is going to make an entrance as theatrical as a movie star's when she steps into fashionable restaurants this winter, for the new coats are cut to draw and hold the eye.

Well in the lead are those close-fitted, flare-skirted, four-trimmed models which bring back pictures of Russia under the czars. After them comes a more demure version of the same cut, molding the figure but less lavishly trimmed with fur and giving a hint of Victorian days. Fewer in number, but equally striking are double-breasted position coats with cape collars which recall the days when the world traveled by stagecoach.

Princess Model Aids Figure The woman whose figure does not lend itself so well to dramatization is remembered with slimming princess models, trimmed with silver fox or Persian lamb and with fur swaggers. Many sports and mourning coats are swaggared and bulky, others straight as a string. There seems to be more black than ever for town coats though grays, wine reds, deep greens, smoky blues and occasional browns are seen. Broadcloth is important and plain mat wools, diagonal, hairy wools and nubby wools, whose surfaces resembles Persian lamb, are all present in the wool winter coat pageant.

Sports Coats Simple Furs have been used with a lavish hand and add much dash to the designs. Wide fur borders swirling round hems, silver foxes swooping over shoulders and down the front, big square collars and small flat ones, fur backs, fur fronts, fur pockets, lapels, hats and muffs contribute their quota of drama. Persian lamb is still in the forefront, silver foxes give luxury, beaver is staged a comeback and mink and sable, seal and squirrel are all used as trims. Sports and traveling coats are much simpler. They are made of diagonals, tweeds and fleeces cut on swagger bulky lines, and furred, generally only on the collar, with nutria, leopard, panther or lynx.

VANITY TABLE WITH RIGHT LIGHT IS "BEAUTY TABLE"

When the light is as long as the face is reflected softly, without false lines or shadows. The new lumiline lamp units have this desirable quality.

By JEAN PRENTICE All the fine cosmetics that a woman buys haven't half a chance when applied under the wrong kind of light.

You might really call this vanity table a "beauty table," because it is just that. Whenever I see an otherwise attractive girl or woman with one cheek rouged differently from the other, or the powder unevenly distributed, I shake my head and think, "No 'beauty lighting' at home."

There's no use denying that smooth soft modern lighting helps you to a better complexion and grooming. And makes you like your own reflection better, too. . . . Which in turn brings additional poise.

It's the old type of lighting from pink and blue shaded dressing table lamps, with a shadow here and a colored high spot there, that makes you play poor tricks upon your complexion.

No Shadows Wanted The vanity table is made exquisite and yet extremely serviceable when one of the new lumiline lamps is placed at each side. Note

INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT NEEDS WILL FORCE BUSINESS UPTURN

Survey Reveals Lack Of Replacement In Last Five Years Has Created Big Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A sharp upswing in heavy industry and a consequent increase in employment throughout the country will result in the near future from the current extreme percentage of obsolescence in manufacturing, railroad, utility and general plant equipment, according to a national survey just completed for Collier's by John T. Flynn, author and economist.

"The most important thing in this country today," he concludes from his investigation, "is that we need so many things and need them badly."

Among the many fields covered in Flynn's survey was the building industry, where he found a high degree of obsolescence. "I found that there are between ten and eleven thousand condemned school buildings," he reported, "still housing during school hours at least a million children. So at least 10,000 school buildings are needed to replace these villainous old fire and deathtraps in which a million little lives are being menaced every day. There are more than 20,000 school buildings which were built before 1870.

School Building Needs "There are two million kids getting only part-time schooling in portable, inadequate or condemned buildings. Then too, there are about 2,000,000 more children of school age than there were in 1928, but there are about 12,000 fewer school buildings." These 12,000 school buildings Flynn explains, have succumbed to the "bugs of obsolescence" which have also been eating away like termites in all sorts of other fields.

and roadways all the more now. In 1929, he says, the roads installed 750 new locomotives. In 1933, only one single locomotive was bought. Last year there were only thirty-four sales. As a result, railroad equipment, he states, is run down and must be replaced.

Another Question About CARDUI MOTHERS RECOMMEND IT "Why do so many MOTHERS recommend Cardui to their daughters?" Isn't it but natural that any good mother should tell her daughters about Cardui if the mother herself felt that she had been benefited by this medicine? It is impressive that so many women report having taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers. Cardui has been found to benefit women when weakened by malnutrition (poor nourishment); and it helps to relieve much discomfort at monthly periods. Thousands of women testify Cardui helped them. Of course, if it does not help you, consult a physician.—adv.

MOUNTAINS OUT OF MOLEHILLS: Continuance of investigations such as that the legislature permitted Representative Joe Caldwell to inaugurate will bring the lawmaking body of Texas into greater disrepute with the taxpayers and citizens generally than it has heretofore labored under...

Promising startling revelations, the chairman of the committee to look into the subversive teachings of certain instructors at the university has so far succeeded in bringing out exactly nothing. As Representative Roy Hofheinz of Houston so aptly expressed it, the committee gave a nineteen-year-old boy a big moment by asking his views on politics and government.

What a pity that every member of the legislature cannot realize the importance of the position to which he is elected. What a pity that when they have a really important problem before them there are some who are willing to fritter away time on such investigations as the one headed by the representative from Dimmit county.

Investigations like this are not the purpose of a legislature.

Man About Manhattan

Personal notes of a New Yorker's cuff: Dorothy Tree is the only actress on Broadway who formerly was a newspaper woman. She used to be a reporter for the old New York World.

Billy House, arriving on Broadway after 25 years of vaudeville and one-night honkey-tonk stands, is a Scottie fancer. Jane Pickens and Helen Morgan are authorities on tropical fish. Al Goodman might have become an architect if he hadn't decided to become a famous maestro.

Fifty-Second street continues to be the late prowling ground of theater folk. Irving Rubine drops by to say that Eddie Cantor, a Jew, has won a popularity poll conducted by the Young Men's Christian association.

Ina Claire, Pauline Lord, Philip Merivale and Jane Cowl won't be seen on Broadway this season. They're trouping with road companies from coast to coast.

Arturo Humberto, night club entertainer, is a dead ringer for the late Rudolph Valentino. The Ritz, shaking off a tradition of 25 years, is going modern with a girly-ishly show, a lavish musical revue, and Monty Proser is handling it.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DEWEY FEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt will be re-elected on November third. His popular majority will not be as great as in 1932. Neither will his electoral vote. But he will have a safe and comfortable majority.

This survey shows that Roosevelt will go into the voting on November 3 with 21 southern and western states which he can definitely count on. This does not include doubtful states, only those which are sure. They give him a total of 223 electoral votes.

In addition to Roosevelt's certain 223 electoral votes, there are enough doubtful states leaning in his direction to net him the remaining 44 votes necessary for election.

Part of this ground-swell comes from the silent voters who hitherto, but not come out shouting from the house tops about their pro-Rooseveltism. Perhaps they might not even have voted if the opposition to Roosevelt in certain quarters hadn't become so intense.

To this extent the Liberty League, big business, and possibly Al Smith have done Roosevelt more good than harm. They have focused attention on what Roosevelt at least has tried to do for the little fellow.

Third, the Catholic vote, which for a time seemed to be veering away from Roosevelt, is now with him. Roosevelt always had a strong following among Catholics, and the tendency of church leaders in the last few weeks has been to offset the Coughlin-Al Smith influence.

Fourth, the farm vote is not as secure for Roosevelt as his advisers originally estimated. Some of the midwestern states such as Nebraska and Minnesota, which they counted upon as certain, now are not so certain.

Big business support also has hurt Landon. The huge donations from the duPonts and the Rockefellers have not had a healthy ring in the middle west.

Table with 2 columns: State and Number of electoral votes. Includes Alabama (11), Arizona (5), Arkansas (7), California (13), Florida (9), Georgia (15), Kentucky (8), Louisiana (10), Maryland (10), Mississippi (7), Missouri (11), New Mexico (5), North Carolina (13), Oklahoma (7), Oregon (6), South Carolina (8), Tennessee (11), Texas (23), Virginia (11), Washington (8), Wisconsin (12).

Landon, on the other hand, can count definitely on the following: Connecticut (7), Delaware (3), Maine (4), New Hampshire (4), New Jersey (14), Rhode Island (4), Vermont (3). Total 7 states; total electoral votes 42.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter Five
STICK-UP

It was evident that there was going to be action shortly. He made his way to entrance number three. A short distance from the entrance two black-clad monks were lounging.

"Blas!" said Mahony briefly. He realized that he was in the wrong costume. He hurried to the men's cloak-room, changed his costume about, and returned as quickly as he could to entrance number three. During his absence the black-clad monks had been joined by another monk dressed in dark brown. He hung about near them.

By this time the gaiety had reached its highest pitch; everyone was noisy and excited. A thousand people were enjoying themselves, irresponsibly and a little drunkenly, not caring what anybody thought of them or how much row they kicked up.

As the floor emptied, Mahony caught sight of Elias and the Charles the Second coming towards the exit. When she was near the exit, the monk in brown stepped forward. The black monks drew closer together, as if preparing for action.

"Hall! Queen of Hearts!" exclaimed the brown monk in a loud, jovial voice. "Let us salute her, brothers."

He made a flamboyant gesture with his right hand, beckoning the forget your instructions. As soon as we've delivered her, we get back into our Arab make-up and return to the hall at once. Nobody will have missed us during the short time we shall be away, and when it's discovered that she's not there, somebody who's still fairly sober is sure to remember that she was carried off by a party of monks. A pretty scheme, I have to hand it to Mulgrave; he certainly is a neat schemer.

"Yes, if he thought of it himself," observed another monk. "He probably got his orders typed in on a sheet of blue paper with a number at the top."

"Well, whoever gave the orders, we did the job," said the brown monk. "And a very neat job we made of it. All we have to do now is to hand her over and get back to the hall."

Mahony sat silent, saying nothing. He did not feel in the slightest degree nervous. Nor did he feel that he might have to shoot one or two of these men trouble him at all. It did not seem to occur to any of them to question Mahony's presence among them.

The drive did not last very long. After 20 minutes they turned off the main roadway and drew up inside a small timber yard off a side street in Housatonic. Another car was drawn up inside the yard. In an office on the right hand side of the yard a light was shining.

"Stick up your hands, all of you!"

black-clad monks. Laughing loudly, they ran forward, surrounding Elias. Mahony went with them. It was his intention to stay with those monks as long as he could, and find out what they meant to do.

"Form a circle," commanded the brown monk. "Dance, brothers, dance."

The masked figures joined hands, forming a circle, and began to dance wildly round Elias and the Charles the Second. It all looked perfectly natural and harmless, merely a ray by a small party of people occupying a small space on the big floor. Elias stood in the middle of the circle, laughing; the sight of those solemn figures capering round her amused her.

"Let's take her to the monastery, brothers," shouted the brown monk suddenly.

He plunged into the middle of the circle, picked up Elias's light figure easily in his arms, and began to carry her towards one of the exits. "Make way for the Queen of Hearts," he shouted.

Laughing and shouting, the other monks crowded round him, clearing a way through the throng. Nobody attempted to interfere; it was still so obviously merely a harmless ray by a small party of irresponsible. And Elias did not seem to mind much. One effort she made to escape from her captors' arms; then she remained quiet and ceased to struggle.

Shouting and singing, the party surged along a passage, crossed the vestibule, and went out by the main doorway of the hall into the street outside. A short distance away a big car was waiting with its engine running, and they made for it. The brown monk thrust Elias into the car; the other monks scrambled in after them.

Mahony entered the car with them. Nobody tried to stop him. Under his robe, his hand was clenched on the butt of his pistol; he was ready for anything that might happen. Nothing happened except that the car started.

"That went off all right," observed the brown monk in a tone of hearty satisfaction. "I pushed the needle into her as I poked her up; she hardly moved at all. Now don't

Remarkable Attendance Record Registered By Morgan School District

Morgan school, now temporarily out of session due to cotton picking, has a splendid record of attendance this year.

Attendance up to the time school was dismissed, averaged 98 per cent. To cap this, the school has an enrollment of 42 when the scholastic census showed only 41. Albert C. Smith is principal of the school and Mrs. Louise Sneed is the other teacher.

The school will resume its term Nov. 2, it was announced.

In the meantime residents of the community are using the school house for community gatherings. Singing is being held every Friday night with prospects of it being shifted to Sunday afternoon due to the fact that farmers are too tired to sing after a hard day in the cotton fields.

Friday there will be a box supper at the school house for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase piano and music. Miss Joannette Mansfield is taking the lead in the move.

Fiftieth Anniversary Of Statue Of Liberty To Be Observed Oct. 28 With Elaborate Ceremonies

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—The 50th anniversary of the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty will be commemorated October 28 at Bedloe Island, the little dot of land in the entrance of New York harbor on which the statue stands.

President Roosevelt is scheduled to speak at the ceremonies. Ambassador Andre de la Boulaye of France will make the main address. Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York will act as master of ceremonies. Premier Blum of France, speaking from Paris, is expected to be heard over short-wave radio.

The French super-liner Normandie will anchor off the statue. Army, navy and coast guard units will be present with service bands. Warships of the United States and France also will be in the harbor.

Symbol To Millions

Joining in the ceremonies will be millions of Americans who saw in the figure of the Goddess of Liberty, emerging from shackles, bearing a lighted torch aloft. The entire structure, including base, is 300 feet tall. It is made of bronze and due to weather has a light green color, or patina.

"Enlightening the World"

The figure is entitled "The Goddess of Liberty Enlightening the World." Inscribed on a tablet 22 feet and one half long and 12 feet wide and two feet thick is the dedication: "A gift from the people of the Republic of France to the people of the United States—This Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World commemorates the alliance of the two nations in achieving the independence of the United States of America, and attests their abiding friendship."

It was on Oct. 28, 1886, when New York, enjoying a public holiday, dedicated the statue. President Grover Cleveland accepted the monument and in the group of eminent men from France were Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, president of the Franco-American Union which had been the driving force in the completion of the project, and Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor.

Paraded Down Broadway

Although there was an incessant drizzle, thousands paraded down Broadway. With banners and bunting flying, boats thronged the harbor. From early morning until midnight, cannons boomed. In France, too, homage had been paid to the symbol of Franco-American friendship, more than 300,000 persons having visited the Paris workshops to inspect the construction of the statue.

Constructed piece by piece in Paris, the statue was stored in a Bedloe Island warehouse until the pedestal could be completed. The arm bearing the torch, completed in 1876, was exhibited at the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia and for a number of years was on view in Madison Park here. At the Paris exposition in 1878, the head first was shown. All pieces were returned to Paris and the complete statue assembled for the formal presentation by France to the American people through Ambassador Levi P. Morton on July 4, 1884. It was proclaimed a national monument in 1922, it has since been maintained by the department of interior.

New Airplane Motor Has No Crankshaft, Engine Revolves

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 19. (UP)—An airplane motor without crankshaft, valves or carburetor, which burns ordinary gasoline and follows other general principles of internal combustion engines, has been invented and patented by W. H. Smith after 10 years' experimentation.

The engine was created to overcome lost energy used by ordinary motors in keeping themselves running.

The engine has eight cylinders each fired four times per revolution of the engine, making 32 strokes per revolution. Ordinary automobile engines have one power stroke for every two revolutions.

The engine revolves in its casing, eliminating the necessity of a crankshaft. When completed, the engine will produce 10,000 to 15,000 revolutions a minute. Smith believes, or 4,000 revolutions a minute under load.

Experiments with a previous model proved, Smith said, that the engine will operate for as long as 16 hours on a gallon of gasoline, producing 150 horsepower constant.

The entire engine is to be made of aluminum to conserve weight and will produce as high as 12 horsepower per pound of weight Smith believes. Vanes built into the engine casing itself are designed to create a cooling system.

The engine, designed principally for planes, will serve as its own propeller, thus eliminating automatic pilots or anti-sway devices, according to Smith.
