

Landon Gives Program For World Peace

Says FD Policies Make 'Probable' American Entanglements

PRESIDENT AT WORK ON FINAL SPEECHES

Mr. Roosevelt Schedules Nine Talks In Last Week Of Campaign

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—A dual program for promoting world peace and protection against war was proposed by Gov. Alf M. Landon tonight in an address confronting President Roosevelt's policies a year ago made "probable" United States entanglement in a foreign conflict.

Rejects League Plan

Before a Hoosier audience in the coliseum and the country over the radio, Landon cast aside the league of nations collective security system because "we cannot use war to end war," and the world court because it was "a political court."

The Kansan's program "to avert war throughout the world," promote mediation first, and then arbitration.

Restoration of "international confidence in the good faith of the American government" which he said had been "shattered by the contradictions of the present administration."

Cooperation "in the reduction of armaments."

Assist in "lowering world-wide trade barriers and re-establishing healthy economic conditions."

Should war come in the world, Landon proposed to help keep America out by:

Neutrality Policy Developing a neutrality policy which, while not "an absolute guarantee of peace" is "one of the great hopes" since isolation "is unfair to our own people and impossible."

Legislation for "taking the profits out of war."

"In these high resolves, God helping us," the republican candidate said, "we shall protect America against war. And we shall do our full part to maintain the healing of peace throughout the world."

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Joe Pickle

The weather stopped work in the cotton fields last week, but it didn't halt business activity in the city. Merchants reported a good week. With an estimated one-half of the cotton crop in, farmers are in position to make some purchases, and they used the rainy days to do that.

Although the remainder of the cotton crop will suffer from a prolonged wet spell, the week's moisture cannot but help livestock growers. Winter ranges should be in excellent shape.

The inclement weather also brought to a stop work on the post-office building. Brick-laying had started the first of the week, and workmen were making good headway before the rains set in. With the walls going up, the structure will rapidly be taking shape.

Important news was that last week announcing that machinery will be provided for a unified terracing program in the county. Members of the commissioners' court have seen the value of the work, but had been unable to provide needed equipment. Farm value in this county will be enhanced with the installation of terraces that will conserve both soil and water. And it is a mark of merit that Howard county will be able this year to terrace approximately one-eighth of its cultivated land. The thing to do after this year is to go after a higher percentage.

Not so bright was the news that crude oil output from the local fields was pared by almost 3,000 barrels a day for next month. The state commission trimmed the south field's daily allowable by 1,697 barrels, and that of the east field 1,303 barrels. It means a temporary setback for producers, but if production is to accomplish its purpose, the rules of supply

Term Near Finish, Fate Of Pension Program In Doubt

Bitter Fight Looms In House Over Proposal For Deliberation; Tax Bill Is Nearly Completed

AUSTIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—The fate of legislation to provide new financing of old age assistance and cut down the number eligible to receive it was distinctly in doubt today as the legislature faced adjournment of its special session next Tuesday.

A conference committee had virtually completed work on a bill to raise additional taxes and delimit the pension law, but because of bitter opposition in the house of representatives to the latter none could forecast the outcome with assurance.

Some representatives asserted the lower chamber would accept deliberation, one of the most controversial subjects to face the legislature in Texas, while others as staunchly declared it would never agree to drastic restrictions.

Few thought the issue would be decided before the closing minutes of the session after the conference committee reported. The committee, like the legislature in adjournment today, planned to meet tomorrow to consider a final draft of its report.

Much "missionary" work was going on, with both proponents and opponents of delimitation seeking converts to their sides. Governor James V. Allred went to Oklahoma for a speech in behalf of the democratic national campaign, but intended to return in time for the showdown.

In a plainly-worded message personally delivered, the governor had called for delimitation, saying the state would never be able to finance the prospective pension load under the present law. His message and subsequent repercussions in the house were highlights of the past week.

The house first declined to instruct its members of the conference committee to reject a senate proposal for delimitation, but later reversed that position, adopting a resolution to the opposite effect. Speaker Coke Stevenson said, however, the second action was not binding on the conferees, a majority of whom were favorable to delimitation.

Under the delimitation section of the conference report, pensions would be given only persons in "neccessitous circumstances" and without other means of support. The present old age assistance commission would be abolished and administration would be placed under the board of control, the state's "business department."

Tax Bill Acceptable Comparatively few changes had been made in the omnibus tax bill, some levies favored by the house on senate individually having been altered or stricken out but most important features having been retained. No great controversy over tax sections was anticipated.

When the legislature re-convenes Monday, a motion by Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi to reconsider the house's latest stand on delimitation will be pending. Local bills probably will receive consideration in the senate, although several "single shot" tax measures might be taken up.

There was interest also in reports to be made by two or more committees. The house committee investigating rumors of communism and atheism in state-supported colleges planned to hold a last session Monday and then draft a report for presentation Tuesday.

YOUTH SUCUMB TO FOOTBALL INJURIES

HOUSTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Virly Fontenot, 18-year-old football player on the Crosby high school team, died today of injuries received in a game yesterday between Crosby and Liberty at Crosby.

Justice R. R. Zierlein of Goose Creek said cerebral concussion was the cause of death.

It was stated Fontenot was injured when he was tackled. He was knocked to the ground, but he got up and remained in the game a few minutes later while in a huddle. Fontenot dropped to the ground unconscious. He never regained consciousness.

Funeral will be in Eunice, La., tomorrow.

Look To 1938-39

Under federal rules when 90 per cent of the designated seven per cent of roads have been improved the state is allowed an additional one per cent. Department officials estimated the approved program would put them over the 90 per cent mark.

Also being prepared for early submission was the 1938-39 federally aided program. Every effort will be made to have it ready for submission in November, the department announced. The program will be somewhat larger than the approved 1937 program, they said.

In an effort to begin the 1937 program, in which the state has to match federal money, the state highway commission announced that other projects would be curtailed. Commissioners estimated that the program financed by the state alone would not exceed $3,500,000 in the next 18 months. Only emergency measures would be considered, they told county judges and commissioners in September.

State Engineer Gibb Gilchrist had left Austin when the approval of the 1937 program reached here. He is on his way to Washington to confer with the U. S. bureau of roads. His exact purpose in the trip was not known here.

Misting Rain Continues To Fall In Area

Temperatures Rising, With Warmer Weather Forecast For Today

TOTAL HERE IN THREE DAYS IS 1.86 INCHES

Slippery Highways Make Auto Travel Hazardous Over State

Cold, drizzling rains continued to fall over most of Texas Saturday, marring the day for football followers and making highway traffic perilous.

Although temperatures were slowly rising in North Texas and the season's chilliest weather was gradually abating, light showers continued.

"Soupy" weather still prevailed in the Big Spring sector. The mercury slipped to a low of 38 degrees early Saturday, but was rising during the afternoon; and the government forecast of last night said warmer weather was in prospect for today.

Saturday's misting rain accounted for little precipitation, only .03 inch being registered at the airport. That brought the total moisture since the beginning of the rainy spell early Thursday to 1.86 inches.

The fall halted work in cotton fields and made roads slippery. An automobile Friday night at Forney in which three persons were killed exemplified the risk of driving through murky weather on wet, slippery highways. There were numerous less serious accidents.

The temperature held to a low of 36 early Saturday at Amarillo. Abilene had 40, El Paso 44, Del Rio 44, Dallas 46, Palestine, Austin and San Antonio 48, Houston 52, Corpus Christi and Brownsville 52 and Port Arthur 54.

Continued precipitation increased the rainfall at Galvestone to 2.99 inches, Dallas 1.28, Abilene 2.24, Trinidad 1.56, Corsicana 1.36, San Angelo 1.80 and Texarkana .60. Only traces of rain fell at Houston, Galveston and down the coast to Brownsville.

AMERICAN EMBASSY IN MADRID REOPENED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The American embassy in Madrid advised the state department today it was being reopened as a place of refuge for Americans in view of the serious situation created by the insurgent advance on the Spanish capital.

The embassy, after having given shelter to Americans remaining in Madrid since the outbreak of the revolution, was closed as a place of refuge only a few weeks ago.

Deal To Be Closed For Land, Tower Ordered Immediately

Federal ruling requisite to construction of the Big Spring Herald Broadcasting company's station, KBST, was handed down Saturday, with the result that construction can move forward at full speed.

The broadcasting company was notified by its Washington attorney that the federal communications commission had put its formal approval on the proposed site for KBST's transmission station. Officials of the company immediately exercised an option taken on the site—a five-acre tract just north-east of the city—and moved toward final purchase.

On the land will be located the transmission building and tower. Orders for shipment of the latter will be forwarded immediately. It is expected that shipment of the 105-foot tower can be made without delay.

Meanwhile, work progressed last week on renovating of the Crawford hotel space leased as KBST studio quarters. General Contractor B. A. Reagan had started remodeling, and work of laying insulation material, contract for which was let to Hugh Bergin, was underway. The studio floors and walls will be especially constructed for sound-proofing and air-conditioning. The radio station's offices also will be in the Crawford hotel.

CONVICTED IN WIFE SLAYING

CLARENCE DUNCAN ASSESSED 25 YEARS; SECOND TERM IN TWO WEEKS

ABILENE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Clarence Duncan was convicted today of killing his first wife, Mary, when their farm home near Trent burned April 11, 1935, and sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary.

A jury at Sweetwater, last week, convicted Duncan of killing G. H. Jones, Trent filling station operator, and set punishment at 10 years in prison.

Officers did not indict Duncan of his wife's murder until after he was accused of the Jones killing. Mary Duncan's body was found in the ashes of their home. The state charged Duncan wanted to collect a $1,000 insurance policy carried on her life, and beat the woman to death with a monkey wrench before setting fire to the house.

Billie Lorene Duncan, the defendant's present wife, was the chief witness against him. She said Duncan told her he plotted to kill the first Mrs. Duncan.

Mrs. Duncan, who married five men in five years, is charged with bigamy in connection with her marriage to Duncan.

Defense witnesses said Duncan told of rising the morning of the fatal fire and lighting a lamp. Atorneys endeavored to convince the jury Mrs. Duncan fainted while her husband was in the barn, knocked over the lamp and ignited the house.

Over 75 Due To Attend Breakfast Honoring Connally

At least 75 Big Spring business and professional men—probably more—will be on hand at Hotel Setliff Monday morning to join in a breakfast given in honor of U. S. Senator Tom Connally, who will be a brief visitor here.

Grover Cunningham and Garland A. Woodward, in charge of the affair, said Saturday that many had indicated they would attend the breakfast. The two emphasized that the meeting is open to the public and that everyone who wants to meet Senator Connally is invited. The breakfast will be at 7:30.

Connally will stop here en route to Hobbs, N. M., where he is scheduled to make an address in behalf of the democratic ticket. He will be met here by a party of Lamesa men and accompanied to Lamesa for a short stop before continuing on to Hobbs. The senator will come here from Dallas, where he appeared before the Texas County Judge and Commissioners association.

Bartoloni is under $50,000 bail as a material witness.

POWERS CONCERNED OVER NEUTRALITY

Spanish Sailors Killed By Neighbor Nation's Ship, Madrid Claims

(By the Associated Press)

"Peace in work and work in peace!"

This proclaimed Italy's fiery Dictator Mussolini—a man who defied the league of nations and conquered Ethiopia.

While Spanish fascists aerial warriors bombed socialist Madrid; while socialist Spain and fascist Portugal struck at each other in Europe's neutrality committee sessions, Il Duce shouted:

"I desire to launch a message which should go beyond the mountains and the seas. It is a message of peace, peace in work and work in peace."

He spoke at Bologna, where ten years ago he escaped an assassin's bullet and promulgated his credo "live dangerously."

This message of peace was the sole bright spot in a tense Europe. The breach between fascist-inclined nations and socialist-minded states grew steadily wider.

Portugal broke off diplomatic relations with the war-torn Spanish government and in reply, the Spanish embassy in London charged Portugal with killing 40 Spanish sailors in a naval battle off the African coast.

Russia renewed her demands the Spanish non-intervention committee authorize a blockade of Portuguese ports to halt alleged fascist aid to the Spanish insurgents.

Sent Camouflaged Ship Specifically, the Spanish embassy charged Portugal with sending the camouflaged motorship Ciudad de Macao into African waters, the vessel, the allegations asserted, fired on and sank the Spanish warship Fernando Po with all hands lost.

The ship was sunk Oct. 14, the Spanish charged.

Asserting the information for its charge had been received from the Spanish embassy in Paris, the London embassy alleged Monday that the Ciudad de Macao fired without warning at very short range four shells at the motorship Fernando Po, flying a Spanish flag, which set this vessel on fire and sank it. The captain and the crew of the Fernando Po were drowned.

Renewed charges against Germany were added by the Spanish

CONTINENTAL NO. 11 EASON IS FINISHED FOR 1,242 BARRELS

Leasing Active In Area Near Albaugh Test Locations Planned In Glasscock

During the past three days brought to a standstill activities in the Howard county area which otherwise had proceeded without unusual developments.

Continental recorded another completion in the Howard-Glasscockfield, its No. 11 Eason testing 1,242 barrels daily in an official production gauge. The pay was topped at 2,306 and the hole was bottomed at 2,422 feet. Location is 4-32-2a-T&P.

The company's No. 10 Eason was acidified with 1,000 gallons at 2,435, but water broke through and operators were preparing to plug off the bottom hole water. Total depth was 2,445 and the hole was plugged back ten feet.

Continental's No. 2-A Eason was drilling in the lime at 2,085. The 15-S Settles, 159-29-W&NW, was drilling in anhydrite at 1,185 and the 10-S Settles was in the same formation at 1,045. Continental No. 2-A H. R. Clay, deepened from the 1,800 foot pay, ran tubing at 2,312, total depth in lime.

Testing Oil Sand

The same company's No. 6 Hart Phillips, 24-33-2a-T&P, was pulling 8 1/4 casing. It was at 2,360 feet in the lime.

In the Rosa City area of the Howard-Glasscock field, Merrick & Lamb's No. 7 Clay was shut down at 2,500 feet. It had been testing oil sand from 2,440-50, with 700 feet of fluid standing in the hole. Merrick & Bristow's No. 2 Hooks was shut down for cement to set at 1,908 feet. Both these tests will be drilled deeper.

Continental's No. 7 Clay had set tubing at 2,212 feet and was preparing to go on the pump.

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 2 Clay was drilling ahead at 3,185 in the lime. Oil shows were logged from 3,007 to 3,185. Imperial Oil company's No. 8 Hooks was drilling at 2,385.

Active Leasing

Recent active leasing spots have included the area between Ray Albaugh and others No. 1 Robinson, northwestern Dawson wildcat, and W. L. Pickens and others location for a Terry county test 10 miles to the northeast on the Estella Lewright land, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 1-C37-pal. Magnolia has been one of the purchasers, acquiring three 80's. Albaugh was preparing to deepen from 5,082 feet, where it had 4,500 feet of fluid in the hole. It has been showing some oil for about two months from 4,940-50 feet with possible increases at lower levels, also some water. No. Robinson is in the northwest quarter of section 46-M-EL&R.R.

Refiners Meeting Slated Tuesday At Fort Worth

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 24.—Executive and plant personnel from East and North Texas and the Panhandle, including those from Big Spring will assemble in Fort Worth, Tuesday, October 27, to attend the third in a series of plant operators meetings being held by the Western Petroleum Refiners association.

The meetings, arranged by the manufacturing committee of the association, are addressed to the petroleum and allied industries and bring to the refinery operators the newest developments in refinery equipment and operating methods.

Subjects for each meeting in the series have been chosen for their appeal in the region in which the meeting is held. Previous meetings have been held in Wichita and Tulsa.

Four papers of special interest to Texas refiners are on the program for the Fort Worth meeting which will be held in the Blackstone hotel starting at 10 o'clock in the morning. The subjects and the speakers are:

"The Economics of Gasoline versus Ethanol Fuel," by C. G. Krieger, Ethyl Gasoline corporation.

"Corrosion of Heat Exchanger and Condenser Tubes," by N. W. Mitchell, Chase Brass & Copper company.

"Petroleum Testing Methods," by R. W. Provine, Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation.

"Gum Inhibitors," by du Pont Chemical company, speaker to be announced.

Although the meeting is held under the auspices of the Western Petroleum Refiners association, all refiners in Texas and the Mid-Continent fields have been invited to attend. The fourth meeting in the series will be held in Shreveport, Nov. 9.

Ector Wildcat Gets Gas, Oil; Production Seen In Schleicher

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 24.—Rising oil in Magnus Oil Co.'s No. 1 Judkins & Spencer after swabbing at a rate indicating Schleicher county's first commercial production: the striking of gas and oil by Empire No. 1-C H. E. Cummins, northwestern Ector county wildcat, and a head, without agitation, by Honolulu and others' No. 1 Duggan, prospective discovery well in Cochran county, before drilling in salt water were among high lights in West Texas oil developments this week.

Thirty-three locations were listed in nine counties compared with 41 in the same number of counties the week before, while 39 producers and dry holes were completed in ten counties, nine more than the number finished in eight counties during the preceding week.

Fourteen of the completions were in Winkler county, seven in Ward county, six in Upton, three in Ector, two each in Crane, Howard and Jones and one each in Fisher, Glasscock and Pecos counties. Winkler also led in locations with 11. Seven were made in Ward county, four each in Pecos and Upton, three in Jones and one each in Crane, Ector, Gaines and Howard counties.

3 New Tests Spudded In Jones County

Two Other Wildcat Locations Made; Hawley Extension Tested

ABILENE, Oct. 24.—Spudding of three wildcat tests and location of two others before week-end rains shut down activity in Jones county featured development for this area during the week.

New tests spudding were: Ungren & Frazier No. 1 Davis & Stemmons, two and a half miles southwest of Lueders and a mile west of the Oyster, Frazier and Ungren & Frazier No. 1 King. It is drilling past 785 feet, and is in the F. M. Smyth survey. The King test was drilling ahead after passing a showing of oil at 1,688-93.

Oyster & Griffith No. 1 Tinah Bumpass, three miles southwest of Truby and half way between the Hawley and Noodle Creek fields. Location is 510 feet from the north and 220 feet from the south of the Bumpass 60-acre tract in the Allen Jones survey. It is past 500 feet.

K. O. T. Oil company No. 1 Mrs. Ella C. Duke, a mile northwest of the Hawley field, which was drilling past 900 feet this week-end. Location is 1,820 feet from the south and west lines of section 20, block 15, T&P.

Locations

Locations staked include: Charles J. Kleiner No. 1 Bird Fields, three miles east of the new Guitler pool opener east of Hawley, it is 3,788 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east line of Samuel Andrews survey No. 191.

Tannehill, Kiser & Fleming No. 1 A. B. and W. O. Rainwater, eight miles southwest of Anson, and about six miles northeast of the Turner extension to the Noodle Creek field.

Location is 220 feet from the north and east lines of the south half of section 34, block 2, SPRR survey.

As a north extender to the Hawley field, the Danciger, Fortex and Owens-Snebold No. 2 Dorsey gauged 688 barrels in 15 1/2 hours of a 24-hour production test, flowing through three-quarter-inch choke. It was shut in 1 1/2 hours because the pipeline could not take the oil. Originally, it flowed at the rate of about 5,000 barrels per day through three-inch line, filling a 150-barrel tank in 40 minutes. Location is in the southwest corner of the north half of section 20, Bueno survey No. 196.

Offsets

Ungren & Frazier No. 1-D Dorsey, a west offset is drilling past 1,200 feet. It is in the southeast corner of section 4, Bueno survey No. 197. Sinclair-Prattie moved rig onto location for a southwest offset to the new producer, in section 7. Operators of the test were moving rig to location for their No. 3 Dorsey, a north offset.

In the Sandy Ridge area of eastern Jones, the Forest Development Corp. and Merry Bros. & Parlin No. 1 J. M. White was unearthing sta-1/2-inch casing to drill deeper into a lime saturation encountered at 2,227-29 feet, and which showed a slight amount of oil on bailing. A previous show had been encountered in lime at 2,150-33 feet, but ran into water. Operators said the well was gassing slightly. It is a King sand test a mile west of Sandy Ridge production from Bluff Creek, and an offset to an abandoned well. It is in the southwest eastern Crane county, in the southeast corner of section 201-F-CSSD & RGNG, flowing 9,771 barrels of oil with 1,800,000 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours at 2,918 feet after being shut.

Test Is Reaming

Gulf No. 1 Waddell, exploring the Ordovician in the Sand Hills or Tubb district in western Crane county, in the southwest quarter of section 15-B21-pal, corral to 4,533 feet in shale and lime and was reaming. Farther southeast, Moore Bros. No. 1 Barnsley, seeking Ordovician production, had drilled past 4,100 feet in lime and chert. Striking of one barrel of salt water hourly from 6,015-24 feet indicated it had not reached the Ordovician up to that point. Location is in the southwest quarter of section 42-42-pal.

Magnolia No. 7 Edwards, between producers in the Waddell pool in northern Crane county, was shot with 160 quarts from 3,535-60 feet, then was treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. Earlier it plugged back from 3,988 feet and shut off sulphur water from 3,610-14. The test is in the southwest quarter of section 2-B23-pal.

Richardson Oils, Inc., No. 8 Hathaway in the northwest extension to the Grandfalls district in Ward county, flowed 4,475 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing, bottomed at 2,620 feet. It is in the east quarter of the east quarter of section 37-34-H&TC. Texas and Atlantic No. 1 Buckner Orphans Home, wildcat in the east part of section 2-32-H&TC, struck sulphur water from 2,392 to 2,410 feet and plugged back for a shutoff before shooting.

Buick For '37 Is Marked By Style Changes

Four New Lines Offered; All Models Stepped Up In Horsepower

Four new lines of motor cars, brilliantly styled and marked by important advances in design and construction, are announced for 1937 by the Buick Motor company. New models are on display at the Kelling Motor company, local dealers.

From the standpoint of appearance the new cars differ widely from their 1936 predecessors. In performance, all models have been stepped up in horsepower over the preceding year with resulting improvement in acceleration and general performance throughout the speed range. The same engine refinements that produced greater power have resulted in better fuel economy.

The four lines of cars are: The Series 40 Special, 122-inch wheelbase; the Series 80 Century, 126-inch wheelbase; the Series 80 Roadmaster, 131-inch wheelbase; and the Series 90 Limited, 136-inch wheelbase. The Century, Roadmaster and Limited models all are powered by a 130-horsepower valve-in-head straight eight engine. The special series cars are powered by a 120-horsepower 8-cylinder engine of the same design.

The four lines offer a selection from 21 different body types covering the entire lower medium and medium price range. Six new bodies have been added for 1937. They are the two- and four-door five passenger plain-back sedans in the Special and Century series, a new convertible phaeton in the Special series and a new formal sedan in the Roadmaster series.

Completely new streamline treatment with a smart speed motif throughout establishes a popular new style trend.

Among other features are: Uni-level bodies on the Special and Century cars, custom built bodies on the Roadmaster and Limited cars, Fisher "turrent tops" on all series, hydraulic brakes, double sway stabilizers, knee-action independent front wheel suspension, double-active shock absorbers, sealed chassis, torque tube drive, automatic engine controls, new aerobatic carburetion, new silent overhead valve mechanism, streamlined intake valves and other outstanding improvements.

NASH LAFAYETTE INTRODUCES 1937 MODELS

Three new lines of motor cars have been announced by the Nash Motors company for 1937. They are bigger, roomier and more smartly styled. All models have been improved and refined in body, chassis and motor. Lines offered are the Nash Ambassador Eight, Nash Ambassador Six and Nash La Fayette "400." Pictured is the Ambassador Six four-door sedan.

BUICK ADDS A NEW BODY STYLE FOR 1937

One of six new body styles added to Buick's lines for 1937 is this plain-back Series 40 Special five-passenger, four-door sedan. It has a 100-horsepower, valve-in-head, straight eight engine and is built on a 122-inch wheelbase chassis. It is one of the lowest priced cars of the four Buick 1937 lines.

Local Men Will See Chevrolet Models At Dallas Meeting

The 1937 models of Chevrolet, to be presented to the public on November 7, will be seen by Chevrolet dealers of the state at a meeting sponsored by the company at Dallas Monday.

Ben Carter and Walter Broughton of the Carter Chevrolet company, accompanied by M. K. House of The Herald and Ira Thurman, cashier of the First National bank, will go to Dallas Sunday to attend the meeting. They will return Tuesday. The Carter Chevrolet company will have new cars on display on November 7.

Dealers and their guests will be shown the new cars, and features of the 1937 models will be explained in detail by company representatives.

Nash Presents Roomier Cars

Three New Series On Market For 1937; Many Refinements

Bigger and roomier and designed to the public taste in streamlined beauty, three new series of Nash LaFayette automobiles were announced Saturday for 1937. Nash LaFayette is represented in Big Spring by the Tom Currie Motor company.

The three series announced by the Nash Motor company are: The Nash Ambassador Eight, aristocratic leader of the Nash line, built on a 125-inch wheelbase, powered by the Nash eight cylinder, valve-in-head, twin ignition motor, which develops 105 horsepower, and fitted with luxurious appointments.

The Nash Ambassador Six, generously designed on a 121-inch wheelbase, equipped with the Nash six cylinder, valve-in-head, 90 horsepower, twin ignition engine and, like its companion Ambassador, a quality built car.

The Nash LaFayette "400" with a 117-inch wheelbase, 90 horsepower Monitor-Sealed motor, a bigness and roominess rare in automobiles of the lowest price field, and appointments in keeping with the high Nash standard.

Although all of the 1937 Nash offerings are readily recognized as members of the Nash family, each has distinguishing characteristics.

The Nash Ambassador Eight and the Nash Ambassador Six are identical in many respects. Radiator ornaments and treatment of headlamps, however, give different front end appearance, while treatment in decoration of the trunk in the rear also makes for ease of identification.

Longshoremen Hold Out To Help Other Unions In Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24 (UP)—Pacific coast longshoremen refused to break their united front with seagoing unions today despite a peace offer to dock workers from 27 eastern and foreign steamship companies.

The offer was termed "favorable" by Harry Bridges, coast president of the International Longshoremen's association.

"But," he added, "it is useless unless the seagoing unions are granted what they ask—the hiring hall and cash overtime pay."

The longshoremen and six seagoing unions, representing 37,000 members, continued their referendum, which would authorize their joint committee to call a strike October 28.

Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, representing the United States Maritime Commission, pressed settlement efforts.

The offer to the longshoremen, including a pay increase, was made by the 27 companies independently of the coast committee for Pacific shippers.

ABSENTEE BALLOTING TOTAL JUMPS TO 31

Absentee balloting in Howard county for the November 3 general election took a big jump Saturday, 15 voters getting ballots to early scratching. That brought the total absentee vote in the county to 31.

Most of the ballots were mailed out of town by the county clerk's office Saturday. Voters who will not be in their home polling boxes November 3 but cast their ballots before the first of the month.

Big Drive For Votes Limited To Small Area

Candidates Concentrate On Those Few States Of Doubtful Class

BY BYRON PRICE
(Chief of AP Bureau, Washington)

While in theory a presidential campaign blankets 48 states, only a score or less usually feel the full force of the final pre-election drive for votes. It is so in 1936.

Firing may continue outside the crucial sector, for one reason or another. Presidential candidates may even make excursions into territory which they have not counted as their most promising. But all of that often is merely a part of the old military game of trying to confuse the enemy.

When it comes down to the real underground work of getting out the vote, which many believe controls elections regardless of the activities of the candidates, the situation is different. Each party's high command sets aside certain states as safe, and puts in its best lieks in those additional states where the possibilities seem most plausible.

New York To Colorado
This year the disposition of the Democrats is to look on the South and the Far West as the first line of their electoral strength. Since the Maine election, the Republicans have reckoned all of the New England states as theirs. These claims are disputed, in each instance; but the inevitable logic of the situation still indicates that the belt of contested states stretching from New York to Colorado will be the focus of the culminating engagement of the campaign.

Within this section are the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho and Colorado.

Together these 20 states have 284 electoral votes, 18 more than the 266 needed to elect. If Mr. Roosevelt can carry the South and the Far West, he still will need some of these states to win. If Mr. Landon can carry New England, he still will need most of these states to win.

That is the simplest way in which the situation can be stated. Democratic predictions of victory are based on a hope that at least two or three of the largest of the crucial states, or several of the smaller, will go Democratic; while Republican claims of an electoral college majority presupposes a Republican sweep through virtually the entire disputed area.

National Chairman Hamilton has said as much, in substance. He has predicted that Mr. Landon will win by carrying every state east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, and 10 or 12 west of the Mississippi. A glance at the map will show what a solid sweep that would mean.

The policy of the democratic managers is to claim everything, but to do it with a smile. Meantime they keep pegging away on the New York-Colorado front.

Hunches Play Part
Then why does Mr. Landon go to California, and why does Mr. Roosevelt swing through New England?

There might be many answers. Sometimes a candidate yields to the plea of deeply enthused local leaders that if he only will come into their state, a strong opposition will melt away. He wants to escape the remorse which might overtake him if he disregarded such advice, and was beaten.

Sometimes he sees a psychological advantage in striking where the other fellow thinks himself strong.

RAIL STRIKE, IN SIXTH WEEK, BRINGS WAVE OF TERRORISM

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 24 (UP)—The Louisiana & Arkansas railroad strike entered its sixth week today with a wave of destruction and terrorism extending down the lines, the length and width of Louisiana.

Five hundred strikers, members of the "Big Four" railway brotherhoods, stood adamant in their demands for a return to old working schedules. C. P. Couch, railroad president, was just as firm in insisting the demands be denied and said trains would continue to operate with strike-breakers.

Acts of violence and degradation have become almost nightly occurrences. Latest incidents were the sniping on a southbound passenger train near Alexandria early Friday, and the burning of two bridges near Vidalia Wednesday night.

Two engineers were killed the tenth day of the strike, when a vandal threw a switch in front of an oncoming passenger train at Moor's spur and sent the train hurtling into a ditch.

The derailment accounted for the only deaths so far, but assaults on trainmen, yardmen and station workers have been reported all along the lines from New Orleans to Washok, Tex.

Mobs of women, presumably wives and daughters of strikers, have appeared near Minden and Jonesville, halting trains, mauling the crews and in two cases, holding trainmen prisoners, until they wired their resignations to headquarters.

Railroad officials posted $5,000 reward for information that would betray the sniper. A volley of nearly 20 shots poured into the engine, a Pullman and rattled against the sides of coaches.

Tension was highest around Vidalia, where repair crews worked on two burned bridges while guards protected them under orders to "shoot to kill."

The strike involves both the L. & A. and its companion line, the Louisiana, Arkansas & Texas, over which C. P. Couch presides. He is the brother of Harvey C. Couch, a director of the R.F.C. in the Roosevelt administration.

"Big Four" executives charged that the trouble dates back to April, 1933, when the railroad abrogated mileage agreement with workers and installed an hourly plan of payment. The employees rejected it and voted to strike, but President Roosevelt intervened, and appointed an emergency board to investigate. The board upheld the employer, union leaders said, and ruled that the workers' attitude was justified.

Later, in February, 1935, the national mediation board investigated the situation but without results and the unions voted almost unanimously to walk out.

CHARLEY AKEY, Munny golf pro, back from a week's visit in Dallas, played in a sweepstakes event on the Walnut Hills course and tied for fourth place.

THE CONDITION of Woodrow Wilson, seriously ill of pneumonia in a Boston hospital, was reported Saturday night as "about the same."

CHARGES OF professionalism in college football recently provoked a variety of comment from college sports officials.

William Reid, athletic director, Colgate University: "If alumni did to worthy boys, athletes and non-athletes, in professionalism, we are guilty of professionalism and glad to so plead."

THE $80 GATE at the Steer-Ranger game Friday night was nothing to please school officials, although they managed to come out on the deal.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE officials should throw open the door to Texas Tech. The victory over Centenary removed all doubt.

THE RANGER game didn't help the Steers a bit. Playing a team like Ranger serves to hurt a ball club.

STEERS SHOULD have another breather here this week-end when they entertain Class B Comanche, but it's a good bet that Comanche will be a lot tougher than Ranger.

AFTER THE Comanche from the locals have a tough row to hoe. They meet San Angelo, Abilene and Sweetwater.

THE MIDLAND invitation golf tournament is scheduled for this week-end and a number of Big Spring golfers have indicated they will enter the tourney.

Late Charge Gives Rice Owls 7-0 Victory Over Texas Longhorns

OFFENSE IS STUCK IN THE MUD

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Aerial machines grounded in ankle deep mud, Texas Christian and Mississippi State gave the game over to a pair of stout lines and sloshed to a scoreless tie at the Cotton Bowl here today.

Throughout a dull 60 minutes both teams kicked constantly, waiting for a break on the rain-swept, muddy field that never came.

Unable to gain through a fine Mississippi line, Texas Christian happened upon two breaks that gave them scoring opportunities.

It was O'Brien's kicking toe that kept the Christians out of trouble. The 150-pounder, filling in for injured Sammy Baugh, averaged 34 yards per kick on the worst playing field seen here in years.

Late in the first period Texas Christian got its first chance to score when Pickle, hurried on a punt back on his four-yard stripe, booted meekly into the line of scrimmage.

Offensive drives were almost impossible on a field that was a quagmire even before the game started.

Roach gave the Horned Frogs line again when he scooped up Stubbs' fumble of a kick on the Mississippi 18.

However, Pickle did give the brief example of his heralded running skill in the third period by driving 30 yards on two straight off tackle runs.

FIGHTING IRISH CRUSHED, 26-0

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24 (AP)—Notre Dame football allegiance have called the loftiest heights and suffered its most humiliating defeat in 11 historic years today as the mighty Pittsburgh Panthers, subdued a week ago by Duquesne, broke loose to crush the fighting Irish, 26-0, before a wild crowd of 70,000.

Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, 17-year-old Irish soph from the mountains of West Virginia, solved the great mystery of the Irish who came to Pittsburgh undefeated and undefeated.

Slippery and fast, the boy called "Biggie" because he is smaller than other heroes of Pitt, led the furious attack.

The defeat was the worst suffered by Notre Dame since Army crushed the Irish, 27-0, in 1925.

Halfback Goldberg weighs 175 and stands 5 feet, 9 inches tall.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Purdue's team of destiny, like 20 other attackers before it, attempted to force Minnesota to surrender today but in the end it was vanquished, 33-0, before 50,000 spectators.

After playing brilliantly for 30 minutes, Purdue gave out in the second half before a surge of Minnesota manpower and was trampled under four touchdowns.

RUSSELL, PITNER IN PUNT DUEL

By DAVID CHEAVENS

WACO, Oct. 24 (AP)—A slick field and a slimy football cramped the style of the Texas Aggies and Baylor Bears as they battled to a nothing to nothing tie at Waco stadium today before seven thousand spectators.

Sensational punting with the sodden ball by Lloyd Russell, Baylor halfback, and Bill Stages and Doc Pitner for A. and M. made it a good football game despite the mud and an annoying, intermittent rain.

Neither the Aggies nor the Bears was able to get anywhere with their running attacks, and the few passes attempted were wild or batted down.

Baylor made the only earned first down. Bob Masters on two successive end runs, one for five and the other for a fraction more in the fourth period, accounted for it.

Baylor threatened the Aggie goal line seriously near the end of the first half. Oz Parry, great Bruin tackle from Dallas, broke through the Aggie line to throw Dick Todd for a 10-yard loss deep in A. and M. territory on a desperate pass attempt.

Both teams began punting soon after the game opened and from that point to the closing gun both the Bruins and Cadets often kicked on first downs waiting patiently for the break which came for neither team.

Both teams began punting soon after the game opened and from that point to the closing gun both the Bruins and Cadets often kicked on first downs waiting patiently for the break which came for neither team.

Today of the Aggies limped throughout the game and finally was removed late in the fourth quarter, stumbling to the side lines after playing a heads-up defensive game.

Parry of Baylor was outstanding on the defense. The strong Aggie line and Baylor's forward wall battled evenly throughout the contest.

Dodgers Are Troubled By Club Bosses

New Manager Of Brooklyn Team Will Never Be Able To Swing Deals

By HARRY GRAYSON NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Once he is hired, the new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers will spend most of his time trying to find one of the club officials.

It's the same old trouble in Flatbush, of course. Delta, constant bickering between the Ebbets and McKeever factions, a poor organization, inefficiency in the president's seat, and a mediocre club to begin with makes the situation intricate.

Casey Stengel got no help at all during his three-year sentence. Brooklyn club presidents only show up to complicate things.

Joe Gilletteau, who is a hat salesman, goes south with the club each spring, and does the old hawkhaw on the manager and the athletes.

They seldom see Gilletteau during the season. He's too busy peddling hats. When he does put in an appearance in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, or Boston, where he apparently sells the most hats, it's only in the grandstand. He never gets in touch with the manager or drops around to the hotel.

Jim Mulvey, the other vice-president, is a more practical baseball man, but is seen even less. A big shot in a motion picture organization, he's in Hollywood most of the time.

Stengel Had Deal, But No Vice-President Mulvey, son-in-law of Judge Steve McKeever, the president, makes too much money in the picture business to sacrifice his position or to give more time to baseball.

This perhaps is the reason why the McKeever interests have not gone out and dug up outside money and taken over the club from the Ebbets' hand.

The business manager is John Gorman, who looks like a misprint from Esquire. Gorman is a nice fellow, but the only thing he knows about baseball is the names of the National League cities, and someone probably told him that.

This gives you a rough idea of how tough it is for the Dodger manager to make deals. When he does round up the officials, they don't seem to want to deal.

Stengel could have made a deal with the Chicago Cubs during the season just closed which would have helped the Dodgers. He could have obtained Chuck Klein and Stephenson, the young catcher, for Fred Frankhouse. But he couldn't find either vice president. The day of the major league trade deadline he didn't hear from either vice president and Gorman called just once.

Stir Up Interest by Firing Manager But the club again showed a neat profit, and that is all that interests either faction, it seems. The goat was Stengel, as Max Carey was the goat before him, and Wilbert Robinson the goat before Max. The officials probably decided that they could stir up enough interest to get by for another year or two simply by showing a new manager.

The club drew more than 150,000 paid admissions by June 1, enough to pay all expenses. It has the cheapest payroll in the business unless the St. Louis Browns get by for less.

The club didn't Stengel more harm by the way they handled the Van Lingle Mungo case.

Mungo is a real hill billy who gets a bit wacky when he steps out a bit and realizes how good he can pitch and how poorly he is at bat. Stengel always was unable to handle Mungo the hard way because the officials wouldn't back him up. Stengel had to try the soft way and Mungo didn't understand and was too easily led to make that a success.

Mungo came, went, and did about as he pleased, and the club morale suffered, particularly with so many hits on it.

Casey Should Have Demanded Full Control Stengel's big mistake, of course, was made that February day of 1935, when he called him into the office, broke his old contract which had a year to run, and gave him a new one for three campaigns.

Casey was quite a guy then. The club had drawn very well and in-

Cowboys Take Out Creighton Bluejays, 13-7

Fourth Quarter Fumble Paves Way To Hardin-Simmons Victory

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 24 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, Texas, knocked Creighton University of Iowa from the select circle of undefeated football teams by handing the Bluejays a 13 to 7 defeat here today before 10,000 spectators.

The Texans scored in the first quarter when they made 37 yards in four plays after a Creighton punt. Tyler went around end for 26 yards to score the touchdown. Calloway's placekick for the extra point was wide.

Creighton took the lead in the second quarter when the Bluejays traveled 85 yards in six plays, one of which was a 35 yard pass. Piet to Wilcox and a 40 yard run by Wilcox after he caught the pass. Wilcox was downed on the Texas five yard line and Piet plunged over on the third play.

The game was won by Hardin-Simmons in the fourth quarter after Euseb of Creighton fumbled on his own 20. A pass took the ball to the three yard line and McCallany plunged over. Frost place kicked the extra point.

WILDCATS CLAW ILLINOIS, 13-2

CHAMPAIGN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Northwestern's powerful Wildcats used their claws just twice today to take out two touchdowns and conquer Illinois, 13-2, for their third straight Western conference football triumph.

ished in Heaven, as far as the Brooklyn filberts were concerned by knocking the despised Giants out of the pennant in the last two games of the season.

Stengel should have refused to sign unless he was given absolute control of players and trades. But he didn't demand that and as a result was out of luck from that time until the finish.

It is doubtful whether the Brooklyn officials would place any manager in supreme command, however. They apparently don't want that kind of a manager. They seem to believe that a manager is something to fire when it is imperative that interest be stimulated.

DRIVE IS LED BY TOM VICKERS

HOUSTON, Oct. 24.—For the second time in succession, the Texas Longhorns went down in defeat under a last minute charge, losing to the Rice Owls Saturday, 7-0, before 18,000 fans.

Tom Vickers went over from the one-yard line to give the Owls their touchdown with less than two minutes left to play. Vickers' kick was good.

The Houstonians held a wide advantage in play throughout the afternoon but the Steers helped to defeat themselves by taking a total of 110 yards in penalties.

Jimmy Kitts eleven piled up 37 first downs to ten for the Owls. Their touchdown with less than two minutes left to play. Vickers' kick was good.

The Houstonians held a wide advantage in play throughout the afternoon but the Steers helped to defeat themselves by taking a total of 110 yards in penalties.

The loss was Texas University's second in conference play this season, having lost to Baylor, 21-15, on a last minute touchdown.

Americans Add To Sweepstake Winnings

DUBLIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Americans added approximately $180,000 to their Cambridgehire Sweeps winnings today in the morning draw for residual and consolation prizes in the 19th Irish Hospitals event.

In addition to five residual prizes, each worth $4,480, United States citizens drew 327 out of 700 consolation prizes, each worth $500, up to the luncheon recess.

This was an average of $4,697 for the Americans.

GAELS KNOCKED OUT OF UNBEATEN CLASS BY RAMS

RAMS FIGHT BACK FOR 7 TO 6 WIN

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 24.—Fordham's mighty Rams kicked the St. Mary Gaels into the list of defeated teams here Saturday before 45,000 fans, and maintained their own perfect record for at least another week by defeating the west coast team, 7-6, after Slip Madigan's men had tallied twice in the first stanza on two field goals to take a 6-0 lead.

The Gaels started with a rush after Stanton had kicked off for the Rams and, aided by two roughing penalties, went all the way down to Fordham's 16-yard line. The New York gridders held at that point for three downs, however, and the visitors lined up for a try at placement. Lou Ferry's boot was good and put the Gaels out in front, 3-0.

Six plays later, Ferry tried another boot from the Fordham 35-yard stripe and the ball again went between the uprights.

The Rams machine started to move with its back to the wall and shoved into St. Mary territory for the first time.

Duklie broke loose with a 20-yard sprint to place the ball on the enemy's 40-yard marker and Andy Palau slipped a pass to Ed Jacuriski who lateraled to Alex Wojciechowicz. The big center got all the way down to the 15-yard line before Hugh Hill and Ned O'Loughlin brought him down. Duklie gathered in Palau's pass and picked up eight yards to the seven, but Fordham penalized five yards for off sides. Palau, however, snapped a pass to Jacuriski who was standing on the Gaels' five-yard marker and he went over for the score.

Palau booted the extra point to give the Rams the lead and the advantage they needed to win.

Alr, Ground Attack Falls The St. Mary eleven, led by Ferry and Hill, tried desperately to gain by ground and air throughout the remaining three quarters but seven of their passes were intercepted and a great Fordham line, with Paquin and Wojciechowicz playing great ball, withstood every thrust.

Score by periods: St. Mary 6 0 0 0-6 Fordham 7 0 0 0-7

Ranger Bulldogs Just A Breeze For The Steers

PITTSBURGH PROVIDES CLUB FOR THE CURBSTONE COACHES

BY HENRY McLEMORE United Press Staff Correspondent PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24 (UP)—Cheerleaders, squaws and squawks, maid and second gowns, ice cream and I-Told-You-So's. That is a typical menu of the Pittsburgh curbstone football coaches club which sits down for luncheon each day of the gridiron season to vocally replay the games of the preceding Saturday. The membership, which numbers about 200, is composed of the hottest football fanatics of this section, and this section is probably the hottest hotbed of football in America.

At a typical meeting there will be coaches of the leading schools in this area, ex-coaches, ex-players, and men who never coached or ever played, but who consider themselves absolute authorities on everything pertaining to the game, from the single wingback to mud cleats. These luncheons constitute the Utopia, the seventh heaven, for the Monday morning quarterbacks. They can squawk without interference, and what is more they are guaranteed an audience. There is no blackboard for them to use in illustrating the strategy they would have employed at a certain point, but the luncheon caterers thoughtfully provide a vast quantity of rolls. When a squawker wants to illustrate a play he simply grabs a handful of rolls and uses them for men. With poppyseed rolls for backs, Parker Houses for linemen, and clover leaf for the opposition, he can drive home his point in masterful fashion.

I attended a session of the club yesterday. The regular session was on Monday (and they tell me it was a sweet treat, what with Pitt just licked by Duquesne) but President Chet Smith called another one in order to warm up the members for the Pitt-Notre Dame battle and acquaint visiting newsmen with the organization.

One of the speakers at yesterday's session was Doctor Jock Sutherland, coach of the Pittsburghs. He warned Elmer Layden, Notre Dame coach, that he had better watch out for a trick play late in the game for he (Sutherland) had just received a special delivery letter from a West Virginia mountaineer, enclosing a play he had evidently thought out while rolling down the mountain one day.

"The letter explained," Dr. Sutherland said, "that the originator of the play had never played football, in fact, had seen only a few games, but had read so much about it in the newspapers that he considered himself quite capable of devising a touchdown formation. I'm not sure we'll use it against Notre Dame, for it calls for only three men on the line and eight backfield men, and I'm afraid it would startle my boys as much as the Notre Dame players. And I don't want to startle my team any more. Duquesne was quite enough."

Another speaker was Judge Egan, the Pittsburgh jurist who is one of the country's leading football officials. The judge scarcely had time to finish his soup, because he had to catch a train for New York where he was to referee the Fordham-St. Mary's game. When he left, the club members, knowing what vicious battles Fordham and St. Mary's always stage, said a silent prayer that he would be returned safely on Monday, and all in one piece.

Jay Berwanger, Chicago's All-America of last year, and now a football commentator for The Chicago Daily News, gave a vivid account of the trip Notre Dame's Williams Shakespeare and he took to Hollywood's artistic life during the summer. "It was the only place Shakespeare never got kidded about his name," Berwanger said. "You see, the boys and girls out there never had heard it before."

Then we had dinner mints and more mutterings from the curbstone coaches.

Players Get Series Cash Oilers Open With Lueders

Members Of First Division Teams Get Split Of $460,002.66

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (UP)—Players on first division teams in the major leagues received $460,002.66 of the $1,304,389 world series gate receipts, the baseball commissioner's office announced today.

The New York Yankees, series winners, received $183,201.12, most of which went in sums of $4,280.55 each to 27 players. The New York Giants, National League pennant winners received $128,800.74, with regulars getting $4,635 each.

The second place Detroit club received $34,500.20, and the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, who tied for second place in the National League, received $28,750 each. The Chicago Sox received the $23,000 third place share, and Washington and Pittsburgh each received $11,500 for fourth place.

Shoey Shoemaker, 'Bama soph and, is a baseball guard and a baseball catcher.

Despite serious intentions on the part of the quartet of newcomers and the "old-timers" to break up the defensive post—have shown to the extent out against Oiler opponents last season, the five regulars of a year ago are expected to be out on the floor when the starting whistle blows for the opening basketball game between the Cosden Oilers and the Lueders All-Stars in the Lueders gym Thursday.

The veteran five—Jack Smith and Tommy Hutto at forwards, "Skeets" West at center, and Jake Morgan and Horace Wallis at the defensive posts—have shown to the best advantage in the first week of practice. Their performances have been topping the play of Smitty Jones, David Hopper, "Rat" Ramsey, Ray Groseloc and others of the crew who have been taking the initial workouts in the local school gym.

Hutto has been looking good in his goal shooting and the tall ex-Aggie has once again stamped himself as the biggest scoring threat in the West Texas semi-pro cage circles. His work with Smith forms a good scoring combination.

West, although the shortest of the starters, consistently outjumped Hopper in the first drills and needs only a bit of polish around the goals to get back into his form of a few years ago.

Morgan shifted A shift of Jake Morgan proved a wise move if the vet continues to perform on the back courts with Wallis as he did last week. A constant threat around the basket and in the outer courts stamps him as an offensive guard.

Henninger plans to use every man on the squad in the Lueders game, even though the going may get rough. The Oilers' opponents boast a better-than-average record and may be hard to stop, especially on their home court.

Henninger has contacted officials of the Tuscola high school and will probably arrange a game in Abilene in the near future.

The Hutchinson, Kan., baseball club, a community-owned project, closed its season $9,069.27 in the black. None of the team officials is paid and the business management is donated. The club is a member of the Western association.

COMANCHE TEAM HERE ON FRIDAY

Without ever being threatened, the Big Spring Steers coasted to a 28 to 0 decision over the Ranger Bulldogs here Friday night. It was a District 3 contest, played in a cold, misty rain before a handful of spectators who paid in only $30. It was the smallest crowd of the season, and the game was dull and uninteresting.

Score Early The Longhorns took the ball from the visitors in the first three minutes of play, and on drives by Wood and Bigony it was played on the Ranger five yard marker. Wakelid Bigony, lanky junior, drove over for the counter.

The Game Chart

Steer-Ranger game dope: YARDS FROM SCRIMMAGE Big Spring 371 yards, Ranger 31 yards. LOST FROM SCRIMMAGE Big Spring 2, Ranger 56.

PASSES Big Spring tried 13, completing three for 68 yards; Ranger tried 12, completing four for 57 yards—one intercepted.

20 YARD PENETRATIONS Big Spring 6, Ranger 0. FUMBLES Big Spring 2, recovered 2; Ranger 2, recovered four.

PENALTIES Big Spring 9 for 75 yards; Ranger 4 for 30 yards. MICK-OFFS Harris 7 times for 330 yards, average 49 yards; Smith one time for 30 yards.

FUNTS Harris two times for 93 yards, 47 yard average; Cox, 10 times for 381 yards, 38-yard average.

FIRST DOWNS Big Spring 16, Ranger 5. STARTING LINE-UPS RANGER—Balch, re, Mitchell rt, O'Shields rg, Stevens c, Dudley lg, Barker rt, Lingle lb, McKelvin, Jordan, Mihno and Hinnman backs.

BIG SPRING—Burrus and McCullough ends, Trainer and Harris tackles, Hildreth and Phillips guards, Smith center Madison quarterback, Bigony fullback, Woods and Wilson halfbacks.

A few minutes after the initial touchdown a Ranger boy fumbled on his own fifteen and Smith recovered for Big Spring. Wood picked up five yards of tackle but a Longhorn fumbled on the next play and Ranger recovered and punted out to the Big Spring thirty-one.

Bigony made a beautiful fifty-nine yard run through the Ranger team to place the ball on the nine-yard stripe. The Steers took a fifteen yard penalty but Wood weaved through to the two-yard stripe and Madison drove off tackle for the second tally. Ranger failed to get in Big Spring territory during the first quarter.

Ranger got a few breaks in the second quarter. McKelvin completed a pass from the fifty to Hinnman on the Big Spring 35 but they lacked the punch and lost the ball on downs.

The Steers then launched another drive with Wood, Madison and Bigony lugging the leather. Madison went over center from the one stripe and the half ended with the Big Spring crew three touchdowns out front.

Woods accounted for two touchdowns in the last half on plunges and Bigony intercepted a Ranger pass and broke into the clear for a fifty yard dash and six points.

The Bovines piled up 371 yards from scrimmage and made 16 first downs while Ranger made 31 yards in scrimmage play and three first downs. Although gaining 31 yards from scrimmage the Bulldogs lost fifty.

Woods was the Big Spring star, carrying the ball eighteen times for a total of 226 yards, an average of 12 yards per try.

The Steers play Class B Comanche here Friday night.

STEER-ABILENE DATE CHANGED

Steer footballers will play Abilene on Saturday, November 21, instead of Friday, November 20, high school Principal George Gentry said Saturday. The change was made in order that the Sweetwater-Abilene game, scheduled for last Friday afternoon, could be postponed until November 16. The postponement was made because of inclement weather.

Sweetwater and Breckenridge, also scheduled to play on November 20, agreed to meet on Saturday. Under interscholastic league rules, boys who played on November 16 would be ineligible to play on the 20th, but would be eligible in the 21st, hence the change in schedule.

The postponement will give Abilene added strength. The Eagles will have the use of John Kimbrough, big bruising fullback, who became eligible Saturday. However, Henning believes the experience his boys will get between now and November 16 will give his team the advantage.

Goldthwaite, Saenger In Golf Finals

36-Hole Texas Women's Open Golf Final Scheduled This Morning

FORT WORTH, Oct. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, the defending champion, and Miss Edna Saenger of Shreveport reached the finals of the Texas women's open golf tournament at the River Crest country club this morning. They will go 36-holes Sunday for the title.

Saturday's matches, delayed from yesterday because of cold and rain, were played in a steady drizzle. Despite the conditions, some fine golf was turned in.

Mrs. Goldthwaite packed too many shots from Mrs. E. R. Hury of San Antonio, winning 5-3. Miss Saenger won three of the last four holes to beat Mrs. David C. Gaut of Memphis, Tenn., 3-2.

Mrs. Goldthwaite went two down to Mrs. Hury on the first three holes but rallied sharply to win four, five, eight and nine and turned one up. She then copped 11 and 12 and closed out the match on 15 by holing out a long putt for a birdie two.

Mrs. Gaut gave Miss Saenger an even closer battle. Three up through seven holes, the Shreveport star lost eight, ten and twelve to make them even. Mrs. Gaut, however, then hit a bad streak, dropping 13, 14 and 16 to bow out of the tournament.

Mississippi And Texas Aggies Sign

DALLAS, Oct. 24 (UP)—Max Gillilan, director of the Tyler Rose Festival, announced today that Mississippi State college and Texas A. & M. college have signed a contract for a football game to be played at Tyler, Tex., on Oct. 9, 1937, as the sports feature of the annual Rose Festival there.

Major Ralph Sasse, coach of the Mississippi squad, expressed pleasure over signing the Aggies "because it means a continuation of athletic relations with the Southwest conference."

DUKE LOSES TO TENNESSEE VOLS

KNOXVILLE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Thomas (Red) Harp, 155-pound halfback, pulled down a punt and raced 70 yards for a touchdown in the last period today to give Tennessee's Vols a 15-13 victory over the heretofore unbeaten Duke Blue Devils.

than San Angelo. Abilene has a breather scheduled with Cisco, Brownwood will have an easy time with Ranger, and Sweetwater should be able to push over Eastland. Big Spring has a fill-in game scheduled with Comanche.

Red Raiders Crash Over Gents, 12-7

Tech Ties Score In Second And Wins Game In Third Period

LUBBOCK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Striking back in the second quarter to tie the score at six-all, the Texas Tech Red Raiders scored again in the third period to defeat the Centenary College Gentlemen, 12-7, in a homecoming football game here Saturday night.

About 8,000 fans braved chilly wet weather to see the game. Centenary scored early in the second period when Hohmann intercepted Neill's pass on Tech's thirty-yard stripe and raced for a touchdown. Stokes failed to convert.

Tech drove fifty-four yards for the first score. Neill ran six yards to start the advance, then passed to Ramsey and Cannon for twenty yards, and then dashed to the one-yard line from where he plunged across. Hamstey failed to kick goal. The score was tied at the half.

Tech recovered a Gent fumble on Centenary's twenty-two yard line midway of the third stanza. Neill

Further Reports

—on banking show added indications of strength and stability.

OUR previous advertisement in this series described the fine progress in American Banking as reported by both state and national bank supervisory officials.

Another particularly significant item, recently issued by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Washington, D. C., stated that the banks and trust companies which had borrowed money from it have repaid 75% of their loans. The R.F.C. was organized in 1932 to aid banks in meeting the abnormal demands of the times. Since that time about 7,400 banking institutions have received from it advances of $1,900,000,000 of which they have returned $1,400,000,000. This has been made possible through the strengthening of their own financial conditions and the return of public confidence and stability.

This bank is an integral part of the nation's sound and serviceable banking structure.

men who frequently play with the Midlanders, and we offer another of Rogers' stories today:

"We introduced H. S. Forgeron Friday, and today we are introducing Pat Riley, the man who made rolling approaches take on the name of a 'Pat Riley.' He hits the cup so often from his short pitches to the green that opponents name all rolling approaches a 'Pat Riley,' and have long since attributed the trick in such a shot to skill. When Pat has his approaches going hot, he is almost unbeatable. He uses a stiff arm swing but whatever his method, he seldom loses a ball in the tall grass, he is one of the Midland Country Club golfers' straightest shooters. Pat shoots an awful lot of sub-par golf, and in the recent tournament in Olesca, Pat was 'runner-up' to Morgan Neal, the winner. Pat will play an even better game here on his home course, and it would not even be an upset for Pat to trim Morgan Neal, a veteran of many a tournament, on this Midland course. Pat won a prize in the Big Spring Municipal tournament earlier this season and was one of the top golfers on the Midland Golf team in the Sand Belt. In fact, Pat has played many seasons on the Midland team and has played about as many matches in the Sand Belt League as any man in this section.

"A special letter is being sent out to all the tournament winners in the area this past season. It is expected that the Midland Country Club tournament will have the most varied and fastest array of championship golfers that any tournament has had all year. The top players are due here from as far north as Lubbock, as far east as Abilene and San Angelo, as far south as Fort Stockton and as far west as New Mexico and Pecos.

The entertainment committee is expecting at least 100 golfers and a great gallery, which is admission free, to watch the tournament play. The Calcutta will likely run into figures as high as $1000 and the 'Auction Block' of golfers is the most fun and one of the features of the tournament. Those who have never taken part in the buying of golfers have something to look forward to. Study the records of the golfers and pick a winner in the Calcutta, you do not have to enter the tournament to be on hand the night of the qualifying round to buy a player. This is free and may be the highest bidder win. A Calcutta Pool is an auction sale that is unique to golf tournaments only, you buy a player and as he progresses, your income rolls along into big figures, the winner could easily be worth $500.00. This is not gambling. It is an auction sale of live merchandise.

Undeclared List Dwindling Fast

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. — The Minnesota Gophers swept to their 21st straight victory by swamping Purdue, 33-0, Saturday and Holy Cross, Northwestern and Yale continued on winning streaks, but Tennessee upset Wallace Wade's Rose Bowl dreams by defeating his Duke Blue Devils, 15-13, and St. Mary's went down for the first time.

It was the Fordham Rams who topped the Gaels in a great battle in New York, and the Rams are the east's best choice for the New Year's battle, but they run into Pittsburgh next week.

Creighton, another undefeated aggregation, fell before Hardin-Simmons, 13-7, and Texas A. & M. was tied by Baylor, 0-0, on a rain-soaked gridiron.

Yale swamped Rutgers, 28-0, and Princeton beat out Navy in other important clashes, while the Army had an easy time with Springfield, winning 33-0.

The Wildcats finished preparations for Minnesota next week by smashing Illinois 12-2 to make next week's game a natural.

Tulane highlighted the south's day by defeating North Carolina, 21-7.

HERE'S A BREAK FOR THE FANS

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 24. (AP) Drake university has officially recognized its "downtown coaches" and "Monday morning quarterbacks" and will even provide them with an audience.

E. C. Lytton, university business manager, said the school will hold a luncheon each Monday following a Drake game, and that the second guessers will be given "plenty of opportunity" to razz coaches and players.

Just to refresh their memory motion pictures of the games will be shown.

Froggies Return Home For Three-Game Stand

FORT WORTH, Oct. 24.—The Texas Christian Horned Frogs return home next Saturday, to play three games on their home sod on successive Saturday afternoons.

The first of this trio of contests, October 31, will be with the Baylor Bears; the next, November 7, with the University of Texas; and the third, November 14, with Centenary. The Texas game will be the occasion for the annual T.C.U. homecoming.

Both the Bears and the Frogs have been an in-and-out team this season. Add to that the fact that the two schools are rivals of long standing, with 42 games in the record book, and you have some idea of what might happen when these two elevens get together on a gridiron.

The teams have met 11 times in conference contests. Of these, the Frogs have won six, the Bears three, while two have ended in tie scores, both 7 to 7.

HUNTER QUICK ON THE DRAW

AURORA, Ill., Oct. 24. (AP)—A game warden met Harry Almsworth on his return from a hunting trip.

"How about that?" asked the warden, pointing to a newspaper clipping quoting Almsworth as saying, a year ago, that pheasants in the Dakotas were so plentiful he bagged the limit a day ahead of time.

"Why, I'm the biggest liar in Kane county," was the prompt reply.

No arrest was made.

GRIDDERS ARE NERVOUS JUST BEFORE KICKOFF

By TINY THORNHILL
Head Coach, Stanford University

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 24.—"How do you keep the boys from getting nervous before a big game?" is a question frequently fired at a football coach.

I have found that most players are under intense pressure for no longer than 10 minutes before the kickoff. Almost every starting athlete is about ready to run from the field and hide just before the opening whistle.

All this is forgotten with the first contact of the game. Once in the thick of things they forget all about the pressure and settle down to a good day's work.

Another big test comes just before a team goes on the field for the start of a game. Players feel like a young man reporting to a new position for the first time. They want to make a good impression.

The only thing a coach can do about it is to keep them busy doing something so they will not have time to think too much about themselves and get stage fright.

Red-blooded American youths are too smart to be talked out of the importance of a big game. The coach's job is to make the player realize that the task is not any greater than any other game on the schedule.

To impress this upon him we go about our routine preliminary preparation on the field the same as for any other contest.

The only difference is that we go over our scouts' reports and give the boys an idea of what they can expect their opponents to do on defense. We set out to change a few of our plays for this particular game to meet the defense and apparent weaknesses of our opponents.

Practice Hard for Alumni Spectators

We leave the idea that we are preparing to take advantage of weaknesses, which gives our boys to understand that they can put things over on their rivals if they buckle down and exert more effort and perfect themselves in the rudiments of the game.

Stanford alumni are very proud of their teams. They make it a duty to get down to the practice several times during the season. The boys realize that the interested alumni are on hand to get their reactions before every game. Consequently, they perform in a workmanlike manner, to convince their well-wishers that they mean business.

It was this attendance of alumni that caused Stanford to have open practice before every big game. We realized that the boys appreciated the fact that their friends were giving them all possible moral support.

College athletes prepared in this way become so interested in what they are accomplishing that they more or less forget about the game and give their undivided attention to perfecting themselves.

Among our biggest problems are student rallies and jolly-ups held on the campus. These have a tendency to stress on the athletes the importance of a game.

We are helped along this line by rally committees, which have talented students put on comedy skits after the tension of the rally has come to a high pitch. These skits give the boys a relieving last impression just before the pressure of the game really gets to them.

Movies Correct Mistakes of Previous Year's Game

The result is that most of the boys leave the rally in a very good frame of mind. The skits make them realize that the student body and well-wishers do not expect the impossible. They realize that after all they are just going to play a game, and that the team opposing them is composed of boys like themselves.

Another big job comes the evening before and the morning of the game. It is keeping the boys away from well-wishers and fans who want to get all the dope as to what to expect in the game. They shy the boys with all kinds of questions—what they expect to do to stop certain stars, etc.

To combat this, we usually get

ALLRED ANNOUNCES SPEAKING SCHEDULE

AUSTIN, Oct. 24 (UP)—Governor James V. Allred today announced a schedule of seven campaign speeches for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket in New Mexico.

He planned to deliver the first in Tucuman on the night of Oct. 29. Others were in Tatum on the afternoon and Lovington on the night of Oct. 31, and Artesia on the afternoon and Carlsbad on the night of Nov. 2.

Use Planes To Move Refugees

French Ships To Be Employed By Argentine Government

PARIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Women and children refugees now in the Argentine embassy in Madrid will be evacuated direct from the Spanish capital by airplane, Foreign Minister Carlos Saavedra Lamas of the South American nation announced today.

After a long conference with French government officials, Saavedra Lamas said French commercial planes had been promised for the task of evacuation.

At the same time he conferred with the Spanish foreign minister, Alvarez del Vayo, by telephone, seeking permission to have the evacuation cover the personnel and all refugees in all embassies and legations.

Plans to evacuate the refugees from Madrid by rail to Alicante, thence by boat or plane to France, were abandoned.

Portugal's action in breaking diplomatic relations with Madrid was regarded in authoritative circles as a likely prelude to similar action from Berlin and Rome, and recognition of a fascist, insurgent government in Spain.

This, coupled with the strong stand taken by Russia at London, was regarded as creating a situation fraught with danger.

France was lending her full efforts to the desperate London attempt to forestall an international neutrality breakup.

M'Craw Talks For New Deal

Cites Accomplishments Of Past Three Years In Kansas Speech

HUTCHINSON, Kas., Oct. 24.—The "ghosts of 1932" were conjured out of the past tonight by a democratic state official, Attorney General William M'Craw of Texas, in a plea to Kansas to vote on November 3, "not as republicans, not as democrats, but as American citizens."

"It is not pleasant," he said, "to revive the ghosts of 1932, when the spectre of fear clutched at men's hearts and want was their constant companion; but it is necessary if we are to appreciate the accomplishments of the past three years."

The Texan made here the first of four campaign talks he has been asked by the democratic national speakers' bureau to deliver in four states—two of which, Kansas and Pennsylvania, are claimed by the republican nominee as his home states. The other two, Oklahoma and Connecticut are sometime republican.

He will speak at Enid, Okla., Monday night, Oct. 28; at Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 29 with U. S. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings; and at Norwich, Conn., the following night with General Cummings.

M'Craw pitched his appeal candidly upon the basis of the "worthiness" of President Roosevelt for re-election. "If," he said, "our leader's service is not reflected by substantial accomplishment, the American people must look elsewhere."

"I am confident that a thinking citizenship, with the memories of the Hoover administration yet fresh in their memories will not be misled," M'Craw declared. "I am sure the scandals of the Harding administration will stir, in the American heart, an almost cruel hatred for unworthiness in high place."

"I am sure they appreciate how three years of Roosevelt have written on the faces of American people a recognition of dreams brought to actual consummation."

"We all know that Landon (Gov. Landon of Kansas, republican candidate for president) or Roosevelt will be elected," Sen. Long's father asserted. "No third party has a chance."

"I am glad to say that I favor Roosevelt because he is three times as much in favor of the platform advocated by my son as Landon."

"I guess my tightest squeak was in 1929 when I was flying a transport between Melbourne and Sydney. We bored into a storm, bounced around for hours. My co-pilot got panicky and grabbed the controls."

"We fought for the ship. Behind us were eight passengers, panicky, too. I finally got the control stick. My air speed indicator was frozen. The compass was going in circles. "I thought what a fool I was ever to have hopped off. I thought nebulously how nice it would be not to be where I was."

"Then, suddenly, we flew out of it."

Insurance Co. Agents Meet

American National Representatives Hear Two Officials

Local salesmen of the American National Insurance Company were hosts at a meeting of the West Texas and New Mexico workers Saturday at the Settles Hotel and heard Homer E. Reeves, supervisor of the Galveston offices, and Earle C. Pollard, division superintendent, honor guests, in addresses concerning the growth of the company in this area.

The affair was an award tendered to the Big Spring offices for their outstanding work. The local workers led to the country in sales for a summer period, extending over 12 weeks and gained the meeting as a premium. The local division was tied with the offices of Tyler, Palestine and Chickasha, Oklahoma, but an extra week's work decided the result.

Pollard's address concerned the growth of Big Spring, its present position and its significance with West Texas in the future. About 65 salesmen of the West Texas area were in attendance.

Mollison Recalls 'Tight Squeaks' As He Prepares For Trans-Atlantic Hop

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (UP)—Capt. James Mollison, fresh from a test flight in the new airplane he will fly to London Monday, barring bad weather, observed today: "A man facing death can have silly thoughts."

Hunched behind an ailing motor or lost in a storm, a flier thinks it would be fine to be lying at that moment on a palm bordered beach with his eyes closed.

"Or," supplemented Mollison, "he thinks about his favorite cocktail bar."

Mollison has had some tight squeaks. He conceded he might have one next week, when he will try to put New York within 15 flying hours of London with a plane turning up 248 miles an hour at cruising speed.

"I guess my tightest squeak was in 1929 when I was flying a transport between Melbourne and Sydney. We bored into a storm, bounced around for hours. My co-pilot got panicky and grabbed the controls."

JUSTICE OPENS COURT SESSION AT WHICH MRS. SIMPSON'S CASE WILL BE CALLED

(Copyright 1936 by United Press)
 IPSWICH, England, Oct. 24—Mr Justice Hawke, of the King's bench division of the high courts, opened today the Suffolk assizes at which he is expected to divorce Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, American friend of King Edward, from Ernest A. Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson was reported to be in hiding 10 minutes' automobile distance from the court house, at a rambling country bungalow owned by her husband, ready to give testimony as to her marriage, and to leave the witness stand for two witnesses to testify that Simpson was unfaithful to her.

King Edward planned to week-end at his country place near London, Fort Belvedere, tending his roses and perhaps golfing a bit. He had dinner last night with his mother, Queen Mary, at her new residence, Marlborough House.

About 2:15 p. m. next Tuesday, Justice Hawke was expected to hear the Simpson case, originally "Simpson v. Simpson E. A." but today, in the case list before him, simply "Simpson vs. Simpson."

The first session this morning was dull. As is usual, the judge started off the crime cases first. After two housebreakers pleaded guilty, he began on a case concerning the shooting of a policeman. Adjourning the court for lunch, the judge said this case was likely to extend until Monday.

Mr. Justice Hawke, as Sir Anthony Hawke, was the king's attorney general before King George died.

Villagers said Ernest Simpson bought the bungalow, where Mrs. Simpson is stopping, a long time ago. They added it was because as a house owner, he maintained residence there that the Simpson-Simpson case was brought here in quiet Ipswich rather than in gossipy London.

There were seven divorce suits on the court list. They were expected to come up after all crime cases had been disposed of. The entry of the case whose result will be flashed throughout the world because of Mrs. Simpson's friendship with King Edward—may not even be mentioned in the British newspapers, for the same reason, read:

Matrimonial causes (undefended) petitioners' solicitors, name of cause, respondent's solicitors, Theodore Goddard and Co. Wd Simpson vs. Simpson Middleton Lewis & Co.

The "Wd" means that the petitioner is the wife.

Workers Stage Parade Before White House

FD's Secretary Receives Demand For Higher WPA Wages

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (UP)—After a turbulent demonstration during which three leaders were arrested, a delegation from the Workers Alliance of America today was successful in arranging to deposit at the White House a demand for higher wages for WPA workers.

David Lasser, president of the alliance, who was arrested and later released along with two of his companions when police sought to break up a parade in front of WPA headquarters, finally reached Marvin McIntyre at the White House.

The presidential secretary agreed to receive a delegation from the alliance. Backed by between 300 and 400 representatives, a delegation earlier had been turned back at the White House gates. The marching demonstration in front of WPA headquarters followed.

Shortly before 2 p. m., the delegation marched again to the White House.

McIntyre refused to ask President Roosevelt for permission to see him personally, but agreed to receive them himself.

Lasser said that he and his two companions would appear in court Tuesday morning to answer charges lodged against them. He said they probably would be represented by an attorney for the Civil Liberties Union.

Lasser and Herbert Benjamin, organization secretary, were released on $25 bond on charges of parading without a permit. John Kelly, organizer in Lackawanna county, Pennsylvania, was released on $10 bond for resisting arrest.

All three had struggled when they were taken from the marching line near emergency hospital not far from the executive mansion.

ZEPHYR TRAIN SETS NEW SPEED RECORD

DENVER, Oct. 24 (AP)—Fastest thing on rails, the Burlington "Super Zephyr" which last night streaked into Denver 12 hours, 13 minutes and 27 seconds after leaving Chicago, leaves tonight to complete its first round trip—but it won't be another record attempt; just an ordinary ramble of 16 hours.

The Zephyr broke the best previous time between Chicago and Denver by 53 minutes, averaging 83.4 miles per hour.

A bouquet of these beautiful autumn roses to the American Business Club on its first major step toward opening a playground for youngsters on the west side of town. A tract of land was obtained by the club last week, and now members are setting to work to have the land cleared and playground equipment installed. Providing wholesome recreation for children who otherwise are denied it is as commendable a program as the ABC's could undertake. They are pursuing this endeavor in earnest, and deserve help as well as words of praise.

Such parks—and parking—will go a long way toward filling this city's most pressing needs.

Big Spring plays host, for a time Monday, to one of the state's ranking citizens, U. S. Sen. Tom Connally. It has been a long time since the Marlin man has come this way, and the city wants to pay him honor. A gathering honoring Senator Connally does not have to be a political affair. He deserves public recognition for the service he has rendered this state as its representative in the higher branch of congress. Few of his colleagues stand higher in Washington spheres of influence.

While the law makers at Austin are wrangling over "de-liberalization" of old age assistance, members of the pension organization go ahead and administer the law as ably as they can. A program of re-investigating pension applications was inaugurated in this district last week, with a view to ironing out any inequities. The figures show that Texas has indeed been liberal with its benefits to oldsters, and if this is not the proper time for restriction of payments, it certainly can be the time to see that no one is taking advantage of the state's liberality.

City of Big Spring continues to operate on an efficient financial basis. Total outlay for last month was nearly $3,000 under budget appropriations; and a comparison shows that, in most items, income has been better the first half of the fiscal year than had been anticipated. The budget has been exceeded for the six-month period, but largely because of capital outlay for street paving and purchase of the airport. Those investments cannot but yield a return later.

Business news of nationwide scope shows that wholesale activities are beginning to center on sales of holiday goods. Which reminds us to remind you that there are only 51 more shopping days until Christmas.

President's Son Releases Talk On Kansas Schools

BOSTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, today made public the text of his answer to a question over a radio forum in which he asserted Governor Alf M. Landon had achieved economy at the expense of Kansas' school system.

Last night at Tulsa, Okla., the republican presidential nominee declared a member of the president's "immediate family" had made "utterly untrue" and "malicious" charges against the Kansas school system.

Today Roosevelt released without comment the text of the question put to him at a radio forum here on October 19 and his answer to it.

The question:
 "Mr. Roosevelt, can you tell us how Governor Landon balanced the budget of the state of Kansas?"

The answer:
 "Governor Landon balanced the budget for the state of Kansas in accordance with the law of that state. The budget of Kansas is $19,250,000, which is a little more than that of the city of Worcester."

"To balance the budget of the state of Kansas required federal loans and grants of $425,000,000. In addition, governor Landon cut the salaries of school teachers of Kansas to an average of $9 a week. He eliminated 444 schools, thereby depriving thousands of children of their opportunity to receive a primary school education.

"It is one thing to pay lip service to the theory of economy. It is something else to practice it at the expense of the federal administration which he is now condemning."

TWO TEXAS YOUTHS DIE OF EXPOSURE

NOCONA, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—The thin, clad bodies of Floyd Carmon, 11, and Olander Carmon, 15, were found today in a pasture 15 miles north of here. They died of exposure, Texas' first victims of the winter.

John Foster, a farmer, made the discovery, slightly more than 200 yards from the home of Bonnie Mitchell, a neighbor, and four miles from the home of the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Carmon.

Foster said tracks led in a wide circle through the pasture and he thought the youths had become lost and wandered through darkness until exhausted.

GIVEN THREE YEARS ON MURDER CHARGE

FLOYDADA, Oct. 24 (AP)—Everett McArthur, 23, of Spur, was under a three-year sentence today for murder without malice in the death of "Uncle" Ben Speegle at Matador last November 22.

Defense counsel gave notice of appeal after the jury returned its verdict yesterday. Motion for a new trial was denied. McArthur was released under $3,000 bond.

The state charged Speegle, 60, was beaten and choked to death in a disturbance at his tourist camp after a Spur-Matador football game.

Contrast In Halloween—Then And Now

Modern Celebrating Is Very Different From Not-So-Long-Ago

By LUCILLE RIX
How times have changed! Time was when Halloween night drew nigh the youngsters bustled themselves for days making fragile little paper Jack-o-lanterns and eerie faces of construction paper.

They cut odd-shaped holes in shoe boxes and covered them with bright paper and then spent hours trying to make a candle stand upright in it so as to have a light on their way on the round about the town on All Saint's night. And nine out of ten times the homemade contraption never lasted after the first gentle breeze!

Remember how little brother and sister garbed themselves in sheets and hastily thrown together costumes and waited for hours all dressed in order to be ready when big brother and sister got ready to go.

The witching hour rolled around and the oldest announced to the youngsters that sorry as they were it was an impossibility to take them along. They probably not forgotten the horrible and blood-curdling screams that were emitted from the throats of the younger generation about a second after the announcement!

Babies Always Won
Of course the parent's sympathy turned to the babies and the party emerged from the house with the faces of the seven-year-olds beaming and the 14-year-olds looking as though their darkest hour was before them.

But there are ways of revenge! Big brother always managed to be the first away from the scene of a window-breaking, a picket-pulling, a bench-removing or a cow-staking. Nine out of ten times it was the youngster who couldn't get away and was caught red-handed by the irate property owner.

He was returned to his parents with skinned knees, a red nose, tear-puffed eyes and a desperate desire to get in bed.

But now!

Little Jimmie doesn't even bother big brother because big brother just simply can't be bothered with little Jimmie because on Halloween night he will be the escort of little Mary Jones at a dance where 14-year-olds will away with all their youthful glory. The young gentlemen may or may not be costumed, just as it suits his sartorial mood. Nothing so childish as pulling a picket or soaping a window will enter his "matured" mind. That he very generously leaves for the younger ones who still think it is fun!

Modern "Spooking"
Little Jimmie, after much coaxing persuades mother to take him out "a-spooking." By this he means he will don his clever little costume which has been purchased at the store, pull over his face a mask that resembles one of the more popular comic strip comedians and with a firm hold on mother's hand walk up and down the streets blowing a horn and throwing serpentine at other little brothers and sisters who are celebrating in a like fashion.

They will have their fun—but in such a different way! With the exception of those who break plate glass windows and cause irreparable damage, we are prone to believe that the boys and girls of 15 years ago had more real honest-to-goodness fun. Even if their throats were raw, the knees cut from a slide to safety and clothes in a bedraggled condition, Halloween to them was a night that only came once a year. And Hannah! did they make the most of it!

Four Clubs To Hear Poetess Monday Night

Mrs. Udy J. Wheeler Is Scheduled For Talk At Settles Hotel

To present Mrs. Udy Jones Wheeler of Abilene to Big Spring literary circles, the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority has invited members of the Hyperion Club, the 1930 Hyperion Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club to attend the lecture by Mrs. Wheeler to be given at the Settles hotel mezzanine at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

The lecturer, a niece of Mrs. R. E. Gey of this city, is well known as a lecturer but first as a poetess. In 1935 she was awarded the Old South Prize by the Poetry Society of Texas for her poem, "Heritage."

Of her works readers have said: "She says things I have wanted to say all my life." "In her verses the taken-for-granted things of life are strangely glorified."

Mrs. Wheeler is a native Texan having been born in DeKalb. She attended Kidd-Key college in Sherman and graduated in English in 1911 and in Speech-Arts in 1914 and then took a post-graduate course in speech arts in New York. Since making her home in Abilene she has been popularly received by women's clubs of that city as a lecturer.

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

You are to see David Barondess returning to his South Carolina village from New York in a mood partly nostalgic, partly defeated, partly made of exasperation.

For although David has been in New York for a decade and has had two novels published more or less successfully, he has had to confess to himself that he cannot bear the pseudo-literary gabble of his New York set. It bores him, and often it nauseates him. Little clevernesses running around biting each other.

The old square is just as it was when David went away, but David has changed. Worse, the wife he still loves in a hopeless way has left him. Worse still, he has a situation to face in the old house in which his father, with Celia and Lucius, aunt and uncle, still live. His father's sense of justice has made a failure of his life; in the generation before, David's grandfather's sense of justice has done likewise for him. The grandfather had gone from Carolina to the North to fight with the Yankees.

David has his defeated father, his own defeat, and a determination to spur him. He will write a book to express whatever it is that the family history has to teach. He will try to get under the magnolia and camellia veneer of his homeland, to work out the underlying motives. At any rate he thinks he will.

But there is a pattern to the Barondess life which has the habit of repeating itself. Just what happens to David is Hamilton Basso's affair, and he tells it remarkably well in "Courthouse Square." What needs to be remarked now is that he is actually working out his own salvation in the book, solving a problem posed (at least in bare outline) by his own history.

This is a rather difficult job. But Mr. Basso manages it. He also manages to write a southern novel with all the accents of the Southern night in it, and to keep the accents from cloying.

"Courthouse Square" by Hamilton Basso (Doubleday).

ROBB & ROWLEY THEATRE

Ritz Theatre Observing Eighth Anniversary This Week

Outstanding New Pictures Are Booked

Outstanding Showhouse Of West Texas Passes Another Milestone

Figuratively speaking, the birthday cake is being baked, and eight candles are ready for lighting at the Ritz theatre.

For the Ritz this week is observing its eighth anniversary week; and by booking a series of outstanding films, is making its week-long birthday party a public affair.

It was on October 29, 1928, that the Ritz, known as "West Texas Finest Theatre", opened its doors.

The top rank in this section's amusement interests is maintained today, as the showhouse celebrates its anniversary.

Throughout its history, the Ritz has been generally recognized as one of the ace film playhouses in West Texas. A unit in the potent R&R system, it has that organization's prestige in obtaining bookings of moviedom's outstanding productions; and its programs, as a result, uniformly rank with those offered in the state's major cities.

New Releases
Feature films are screened at the Ritz as soon as they are shown in larger centers; in some cases, releases here are earlier.

The distinction of meeting the demands for first-rate amusement has been maintained by the Ritz from the day it presented its first program, and for this reason, the R&R playhouse draws large patronage from towns throughout the Big Spring area. The Ritz is regarded by business interests here as one of the big attractions Big Spring has to offer visitors from other cities.

The week's anniversary program arranged by Manager J. Y. Robb is sufficiently impressive for the birthday occasion.

Four Stars
Headlining the bill, as the Sunday-Monday feature, is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's latest "big-name" production, "Labeled Lady," in which four of Hollywood's brightest stars are co-featured. They are Jean Harlow, William Powell, Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy.

The supporting cast includes some of Hollywood's ablest character players.

On Tuesday and Wednesday a comedy which also features a multitude of popular names will be offered. The title is "Pigskin Parade," a story of how a country boy came into big-time football, with Stuart Erwin, Patsy Kelly, Arline Judge, Jack Haley, Johnnie Downs, Betty Grable and Dixie Dunbar among the leading members of the cast.

The crazy comics, Wheeler and Woolsey, are the star performers of Thursday's offering, appearing in a laugh-bit called "Mummy's Boys." The two nuts have some new adventures in Egypt.

Topping off the birthday program will be the season's outstanding color film, "Ramona," the famous love story based on Helen Hunt Jackson's novel, with Loretta Young, Don Ameche, Kent Taylor and Pauline Frederick.

FOUR OF FILMS' BRIGHTEST STARS GROUPED IN COMEDY ROMANCE OPENING RUN TODAY

Harlow - Powell, Loy And Tracy In Labeled Lady

If the Ritz theatre was looking for big-time stars to grace its screen during the eighth anniversary week celebration, it couldn't have done a better job of film selection than in choosing "Labeled Lady," the Sunday-Monday feature which launches the showhouse's birthday party.

For in "Labeled Lady" one may see together for the first time no less than Jean Harlow, William Powell, Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy.

Each has a featured role in a brisk comedy-drama dealing with a metropolitan newspaper which finds itself defendant in a libel suit brought by one of the world's richest girls on the grounds that she has been slandered. Into the scheme of things come the heiress (Miss Loy), the newspaper's managing editor (Tracy), the girl in love with him (Miss Harlow) and a clever gentleman of the drawing rooms who has achieved a unique reputation for his ability to quash just such libel suits.

They Fall In Love
Powell is selected by the editor to "frame" Miss Loy, and Miss Harlow is persuaded into a marriage of convenience with him to assist in the paper's defense. Complications arise when Powell and Miss Loy fall in love, and it takes a lot of swift developments to straighten out the tangle.

Although "Labeled Lady" is the first time all four of these stars have been in the same film, they have been co-featured as teams in other successes. Miss Loy was with Powell in "The Thin Man" and "The Great Ziegfeld." Powell and Miss Harlow were together in "Reckless." Miss Harlow and Spencer Tracy co-starred in "Riffraff." The supporting cast of "Labeled Lady" includes Walter Connolly, Charley Grapewin, Cora Witherspoon, E. E. Clive, Lauri Beatty and Charles Trowbridge.

HUMBLE MEN BACK FROM CENTENNIAL

Chester Cluck, Coy Cook, Elanston Gorman, Charles Boyd, Bob Cardner, Arch Sweet and Clayton Rowe, of the Humble Oil company, stations in Big Spring, have returned from Dallas and Fort Worth, where they attended the Centennial exposition and Frontier Centennial as guests of the Humble Oil & Refining company by virtue of winning a contest staged recently by the company. There were 125 winners from all over Texas in attendance. The party spent two days and two nights at the Dallas exposition and one day and one night in Fort Worth.

Hunt Jackson's novel, with Loretta Young, Don Ameche, Kent Taylor and Pauline Frederick featured. The filming is entirely in natural color.

ACE PLAYHOUSE—EIGHT YEARS OLD

Manager Of Ritz From The Start, J. Y. Robb Credited For Its Success

The Ritz theatre's anniversary week observance also for J. Y. Robb for he has been managing director of the showhouse since it was opened.

Robb has been associated with the R&R theatre circuit since its organization 20 years ago. The Big Spring theatres are directly under his supervision and the Ritz, ace playhouse of the city, gets his personal attention.

And to him goes much of the credit for popularity of the screen programs and success of the Ritz as an outstanding amusement and business enterprise in the city.

Fun Included This Week In Ritz 'Party'

Gridiron Comedy And New Wheeler-Woolsey Hit Are Scheduled

The Ritz theatre's anniversary week program will not be without its quota of fun. Two new comedy films are booked for mid-week showing.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, due recognition is paid the current grid season with the screening of a football farce called "Pigskin Parade," with Stuart Erwin, Patsy Kelly, Jack Haley and others featured.

For Thursday, the Ritz has booked the new Wheeler-Woolsey opus, wherein the two boys get cornered in Egypt and become "Mummy's Boys."

"Pigskin Parade" tells hilariously of the excitement around Jerkwater college when it is discovered that the school, by mistake, has been booked as a grid opponent by one of the nation's biggest universities. It behoves the coach to build up a passing team, and he does so by the simple expedient of putting his ace basketball men in the backfield lineup. Things go well enough until one man is injured; then a country bumpkin whose prowess as a tosser of muskmeat is known far and wide enters the list to become the hero. He is a hero, incidentally, who insists on playing the grid game bare foot. Erwin performs as the muskmeat flipper. Haley is the coach and Patsy Kelly his wife. Others in the comedy are Johnnie Downs, Arline Judge, Betty Grable, Anthony Martin, Dixie Dunbar, Judy Garland, and that famous singing bunch, the Yacht Club Boys.

Murder, mystery and merriment among the ancient tombs of Egypt are in store for Wheeler-Woolsey followers. A satire on the "terror type" of mystery chiller their new film—the 19th they have made together—takes the boys from ditch digging in New York to shoveling in the graveyard of Egypt's "Pharaohs," where "the curse of the kings" is widely talked. The fact that a friend is employing the supernatural threat of death as a blind for his dirty work spices the hilarity with thrills and leads to a high-tension climax when Wheeler and Woolsey and their new leading lady, Barbara Pepper, are trapped in a spooky underground crypt with the murderer.

In the cast are Moroni Olsen, Frank M. Thomas, Willie Beat Mitchell Lewis and Francis McDonald.

Earlier Film Of Rogers To Be Screened

The Will Rogers the public came first to love—the homespun diplomat driving stuffed shirts silly with his shirt-sleeve etiquette and his hilarious horse-sense—is brought to the screen again in a revival of one of his early pictures, "Ambassador Bill." The film shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric theatre.

"Ambassador Bill" presents Rogers in a role closely resembling that he played often off screen. Dressed in unfamiliar "suep and fish" attire, the American ambassador to an etiquette-didn't-mystical European court, Rogers cuts capers that laugh troubles away.

His antics in the "Mogdena" realm, a humorous swarzen revolution, and he leads the way back to happiness for the country and two of its lovers.

Developments are such that an eight-year-old boy, played by Tad Alexander, inherits the throne, and the youthful King has a grand time with the American ambassador. He learns how to play baseball and starts a troop of Boy Scouts. He even learns, under the guidance of the American envoy, how to twirl a rope.

With Rogers in the cast are Greta Nissen as the blonde siren who causes him home trouble; Marguerite Churchill and Ray Milland, who furnish the romantic interest, and Gustav von Seyffertitz as the villain.

credit for popularity of the screen programs and success of the Ritz as an outstanding amusement and business enterprise in the city.

The R&R theatres organization had its inception in a partnership formed in San Angelo. There Harold R. Robb was operating the Lyric Theatre and Roof Garden, and there he joined Edward H. Rowley to form the R&R system back in 1915.

Their thought back of the idea of chain theatre operation was service to the various communities, with booking power that would command the finest pictures at the earliest dates. It was not sufficient that the best pictures be booked; these pictures must be available to R&R patrons on release dates or immediately thereafter if each community was to be served in a manner that would arouse civic pride in those theatres as community institutions. With this ideal of service, the R&R system has grown steadily through its 20 years until today the company operates scores of showhouses in a wide area.

STARS IN RITZ 'BIRTHDAY' WEEK ATTRACTIONS

Here are the principal players in three of the pictures scheduled at the Ritz theatre this week, as the playhouse observes its eighth anniversary. Left, Stuart Erwin as an earnest young football player in a comedy called "Pigskin Parade," due Tuesday and Wednesday; center, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey as they appear in their new faces, "Mummy's Boys," booked for Thursday; and right, Loretta Young and Don Ameche, who are featured in a film version of "Ramona," the Friday-Saturday offering. "Ramona" is screened entirely in Technicolor.

ONE-HALF OF A FOUR-STAR CAST

William Powell and Myrna Loy in a scene from "Labeled Lady," the Ritz theatre feature for Sunday and Monday and the first of a series of special pictures marking that house's eighth anniversary. They are only two of an all-star cast, the other principals being Jean Harlow and Spencer Tracy.

AT THE QUEEN

The popular Claudette Colbert, who returns to the Queen Theatre, Monday and Tuesday in a comedy romance called "The Bride Comes Home." Fred MacMurray plays opposite her.

All-Color Picture Will Play At Ritz Friday - Saturday

Climax of the Ritz theatre's eighth anniversary week celebration will be the presentation, on Friday and Saturday, of the film version of Helen Hunt Jackson's famed love story, "Ramona." The cast of thousands features Loretta Young and Don Ameche, and includes Kent Taylor, Pauline Frederick, Jane Darwell, Katherine De Mille, Victor Kilian and John Cardinale.

"Ramona's bid to popular interest is the fact that it is filmed entirely in natural color, and is said to set a new standard in that field of film development.

The picture was made in the beautiful San Jacinto meadow land of Southern California, the actual spots where Ramona and her lover, Alessandro lived and loved, and where the beauties of nature lend themselves perfectly to the new Technicolor process.

THE BIG SHOW CLOSES SOON

Although there is talk of re-opening the Texas Centennial central exposition next year, the person who wants to see a depiction of the mighty empire on parade will do well to arrange a visit to Dallas before November 29, scheduled closing date of the fair this year.

The exposition welcomed its five millionth visitor just a week ago, and indications are now that total attendance will be at the six million mark or above—a figure approximating the total population of Texas. Many Texans who have already visited the exposition will return for a final examination of the big show, and a large number from other states who have been awaiting cooler weather probably will be included in the crowds of the final month.

There have been words of criticism from some quarters on some phases of the Centennial show, but on the whole the Dallas exposition has earned the respect and admiration of all the five millions who attended it. It is safe to assert that a majority of those who passed through the gates witnessed their first, last and only exposition of such magnitude and importance, and very few have come away feeling that the show fell short of advance notices. In every sense it has fulfilled the promises made for it before the opening day, and will be long remembered as Texas' most elaborate and spectacular invitation for nationwide attention and appreciation.

The movement to make it possible for school children to view the exposition is a commendable one. Those who have criticized the Dallas fair as a succession of "peep shows" and gaudy entertainment spots are those who have gone to the fair with an eye closed to the magnificence of the grounds, the buildings, the commercial, historical and educational displays, and the higher type shows.

Those features are what make the Texas Centennial exposition great, and those features are the ones school children will see, enjoy and remember. They can get no broader view of the story of Texas, her growth and her position of today than to view the Centennial exhibits.

A trip to the exposition can be made an education in itself. Those who have not seen the fair owe it to themselves to visit the show before November 29; and those who have briefly glimpsed the exhibits have missed the spirit and scope of the exposition unless they make a more detailed study of its real attractions.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—In other years, before recovery encouraged them to throw away their horror masks, theatrical producers shared with football coaches the distinction of the world's gloomiest clairvoyants.

Broadway was filled with lugubrious predictions, and in essence they were as pessimistic as the moans of such dismal prognosticators as Gil Dobie and Alonzo Stag.

Happily, that's done away with, and the football mentors again have a monopoly on crocodile tears. It was a tragicomic sight, in the old days, to see our better producers, hemmed in with unread manuscripts, attempting to pluck from their number one that would gladden the customers and entice a few shekels into the till.

Ergo, today they're in a Maypole dance. The new season has swept arrogantly in and there's not a theatrical man along the rialto who isn't exuding optimism and confidence. This fact merits analysis when one considers that the reviews have been uniformly bad. As a matter of cold turkey, the only newcomer that can be called a real hit is "Hamlet." Most of the others have been dismissed with little if any praise. In the face of this, you can't blame the producers for their cocky attitudes if the customers continue to arrive in undiminished numbers.

Sometimes the reason for this may be explained by the personal magnetism of an individual star. Everybody, for instance, agrees that Tallulah Bankhead is a grand actress, and everybody is anxious to have a glimpse of her, but the opinion is general that Tallulah has drawn another bad play.

Meanwhile the producers continue to laugh heartily and plan other lavishly mounted productions. It is probably true that a part of their jubilation may be attributed to this singularly ironic circumstance: much of the backing supplied by Hollywood last season has been withdrawn, leaving Broadway with the alternative of investing its own potatoes or recruiting new "angels" from Wall street, society, or other heavens.

Too, studio "names" have shown increasing inclination to come to New York and appear on the boards. Of 25 plays now being advertised, at least a dozen flaunt players whose reputations were made or strengthened on the lots of Hollywood.

The World Series helped. Another happy factor is indicated by the mobs at football games. All of which means that much currency is on the move.

That's why, honey chile, the producers haven't time to weep. They're too busy counting their shekels.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—There are two inside factors behind the sudden switch of Jimmy Warburg to Roosevelt.

As vice-chairman of the Bank of Manhattan, son of a staunch friend of Woodrow Wilson, and an ex-Roosevelt brain trust, Warburg was one of the new deal's most effective critics. His book, "Hell Bent for Election," sold 500,000 copies. But when Warburg went out to see Governor Landon in Topeka, something went wrong. He was shunted about, did not get much of a reception, went away peeved.

Following this, Charles Tausig got to work on Warburg, Tausig, one of the original brain trusts. He is also the man who introduced Warburg to the president, was responsible for bringing him into the little group of Roosevelt advisers.

Naturally Warburg's defection upset Tausig's territoriality. His greatest love is Franklin Roosevelt, yet he had been responsible for creating one of Roosevelt's most effective enemies.

So finally he convinced Warburg that he should return. He did this through Secretary of State Hull, whose policies Warburg approves, and who had some frank talks with the black sheep before he finally was persuaded to return to the fold.

Picketing Hoover Opposite the Hoover home in Palo Alto, a sandwich signboard man paces to and fro displaying hostile slogans. The slogans read: "Inall's and Kruger's Bonus Army."

"Foreclosures and Bankruptcies." "Bullets and Breadlines." The sandwich man is p by the Young Democratic Club of Palo Alto.

"Fake Case" The department of justice is giving a lot of study to the "Fake Case."

The word has a double meaning. It is the name of Federal Judge Guy L. Falke, and it is a case trumped up by Liberty League lawyers to challenge the social security act.

The Newark, N. J. Milk company is called upon to pay a tax of $2,000 to social security. The company is in receivership. Receivers are asking instructions of the court as to whether the assessment should be paid.

The reason justice department lawyers regard "the Fake" as inspired is that its bankruptcy receivers have been paying out far greater amounts than this without asking for court instructions. Furthermore, the taxes are not due until next January.

The government has countered by filing a motion to dismiss the case, but probably will lose.

Library Rats The library of congress, which houses such precious documents as the constitution, the Gutenberg Bible, and the largest assortment of books in the western hemisphere, also gives asylum to a collection of bold and lusty rats.

In a basement room where guards and workmen eat lunch are a number of wires suspended from the ceiling. Each wire is hooked at the end, and on each hook is suspended a little bundle.

The bundles are packages of sandwiches—the lunches of guards and workmen. They take this precaution because the rats are so numerous that otherwise their lunches would not keep for five minutes.

Negro Affairs Eugene Kinckle Jones, colored chief of the bureau of negro affairs of the department of commerce, says he notices changes in the public attitude toward the negro.

Jim Crow regulations, he says, are breaking down, especially in the eastern part of the south. A respectable looking negro can walk up to a ticket window in Richmond or Greensboro and buy a Pullman ticket.

Sometimes they give you "Lower Thirteen" says Jones, "but we can't complain about that, for it's the best space in the car."

"Lower Thirteen" is the name used by the Pullman officials for the private drawing-room when it is sold as a lower berth. It is often unoccupied, and officials book negroes for the drawing-room to avoid complications.

Jones cites other tendencies: The first inter-racial track meet ever to be held in the south was staged in Dallas last June in connection with the Centennial.

Negro enumerators are hired to go from house to house taking the census of business in negro sections of cities. They carry a business places, a district, whether run by negroes or whites.

26,000 Fewer On WPA Rolls Than 6 Months Ago, Report Shows

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 24—There are 26,000 fewer persons certified as in need of jobs on the federal works program in Texas than there were six months ago, it was announced today by H. P. Drought, state works program administrator.

Current figures place the number of needy persons eligible for employment on the works program at 144,358. At the end of April there were 170,386 persons certified for such employment.

These figures are particularly encouraging to us," declared Administrator Drought, "for the task of the Works Progress administration is to work itself out of a job. During the entire operation of this program we have attempted to reduce our payrolls by placing workers in private employment."

"We feel that a considerable number of the 27,756 are at work on temporary jobs," Drought said "as national reemployment service officials inform us that practically every WPA district now has standing requisitions for workmen."

"Although we anticipate an influx of job applicants during the winter months as seasonal employment is terminated, we feel certain that the degree of need will not approach that of last February when 121,792 persons formerly on relief rolls were employed on WPA projects alone," he said.

work are observed in hundreds of communities annually, yet farm and home accidents, although they outnumber all others, have until recently received much less attention. They are more individual and private, less public and spectacular.

Quite surprisingly, however, farm accidents lead all other occupations with most of these fatalities resulting from the use of machinery.

On the other hand, more persons lost their lives in the supposed security of their homes than in all forms of gainful employment. In many localities home accidents are the cause of death with falls and burns leading the list of the dangers.

Mrs. Cardwell said that the Red Cross urged residents of the community to check floors and stairways, porches, appliances of all sorts, fire hazards, toys, sharp tools and instruments, the possibilities for illness from spoiled foods and misplaced poison in the home, pointing out that these were common sources of danger.

On the farm, she said, danger from animals was next to machinery, with heat, vehicular accidents, falls and lightning accounting for 88 per cent of all farm accidents with other causes amounting to 12 per cent.

Big Bend Project Called One of Great Recreational Ventures

DALLAS, Oct. 24. (AP)—William J. Lawson, executive secretary of the Texas state parks board, told the Texas Geographic Society last night the Big Bend International Park would be one of the greatest recreational and educational ventures ever undertaken by the national park service.

Lawson quoted from a report by Conrad Wirth, assistant director of the national parks service, which said benefits of the park to people of the United States and Mexico would be almost unlimited.

He showed ninety slides depicting scenic attractions of the region. "In the Chisos mountains in the heart of the Big Bend park are preserved the fauna and flora of many parts of our country," he said.

"Here one will find Canada, Colorado, the tropics, east, west, north and south meet and leave their mark. Here are preserved the legends and the romances of the great southwest.

"Living accommodations are so limited at the present time the visitor finds it extremely difficult to spend more than one day in the area. Cabins or lodges are planned with trails and roads to make the entire area accessible."

Lawson listed Santa Helena Canyon, the mining towns of Study, Butte and Terlingua and Boquillas canyon with a view of the Del Carmen mountains as spots not to be missed.

Home Ec Equipment For Forsan School To Be On Display

Equipment to be installed in the Forsan schools' home making department will be viewed as an "ideal" unit by educators who gather in convention in San Antonio early in December.

The Forsan equipment, made to specification by a San Antonio concern, is ready for delivery, but the manufacturer requested that it be left in that city for display at the American Vocational association convention, slated December 2-5. The laboratory apparatus will be set up and exhibited to the conventioners as an "ideal all purpose laboratory" for home making classes.

Leland L. Martin, superintendent of the Forsan schools, who announced the arrangement Saturday, said that two girls in the school would go to San Antonio during the convention to serve as hostesses at the exhibit.

Red Cross Wages Fight To Reduce Toll In Accidents On Farm, In Home

A year-round fight against the alarming total of accidents taking place in the homes and on the farms of the United States is being conducted by the American Red Cross, according to Mrs. B. T. Cardwell, chairman of the home and farm accident prevention committee of the Howard county Red Cross chapter, who Saturday described attempts the organization is making to reduce fatalities and injuries from accidental causes.

"Each year accidents have been totaling at least 10,000,000," she declared. "In round numbers, they bring death to 150,000 American men, women and children, and permanently cripple at least 370,000. Members of the Red Cross everywhere are taking part in a struggle against such loss of life and ability, and we are making a concerted effort in our community to carry out this safety campaign."

"During the past year," Mrs. Cardwell said, "a farm and home accident prevention program was inaugurated by the Red Cross and school children throughout the country proved invaluable in this work through arousing their parents' interest and prevailing on them to conduct a systematic survey of their homes and farms with the aim in mind of finding accident hazards and eliminating them. To this end twenty-three millions of inspection blanks were distributed to the children in schools with the request that they carry them home to their parents as a guide in the search for everyday hazards."

Parents responded splendidly. Many comments were received by chapters from members and residents of the communities thanking them for calling attention to the possible dangers lurking in the homes and on the farms, and promising cooperation in eliminating them.

The Wrong Murderer

Chapter 16

MAN KNOCKED OUT
 "I don't know where she is," he stammered. "How should I know?"
 Mahony was not in a pleasant mood. Though outwardly he was quite calm and matter-of-fact, there was a hard, black core of savage anger deep inside him.
 His throat the pistol suddenly into his pocket, turned on Mulgrave quickly, grabbed him by the collar and waist-band and heaved him bodily out of the car. Then he jumped out after him, hauled him to his feet, and gave him a crushing punch in the mouth that knocked him down again. Then quite deliberately he picked him up and knocked him down again.
 "Come out with it, you rat," he said in a low, savage voice. "Where ed Mahony grimly. "Well, you're going to take me to that house now. I'll kill you if you don't."

 Mulgrave made a despairing gesture. But he realized he had no choice.
 "All right," he mumbled.
 "Get back into the car then," said Mahony. "And mind you don't bleed on the upholstery."
 Five minutes later they were speeding the Great North Road towards Watford.
 About four miles from Watford

SPECTACULAR $2,000,000 FIRE IN DOWNTOWN SAN DIEGO

A disastrous downtown fire that broke out in downtown San Diego shortly after midnight in the Whitney department store (foreground), and spread to an adjoining office building (right), caused damage estimated at $2,000,000 by owners. This view shows firemen battling the blaze, which John Parrish, fire chief, said was the worst in the city since 1925. (Associated Press Photo) drove up the drive, and stopped immediately outside the front door of the house. It was evident that the occupants of the house had heard his approach. Hardly had the car stopped before the front door opened.

 "Who are you, and what do you want here at this time of night?" demanded a voice harshly.
 Mahony got out of the car. In his overcoat pocket his right hand was clasped on his pistol-belt.
 "Never mind who I am," he answered equally harshly. "I've been sent to fetch the girl, Ruth Fraser. Bring her out here to the car, and get a move on. I'm in a hurry."
 "Oh!" said the man blankly. "You want the girl?"
 The light from the car headlamps showed him standing in the front doorway of the house—a short fat man, with his head heavily bandaged. He had a sheepish, nervous air.
 "As a matter of fact... the truth is... there's been an accident. I—I didn't like to report it because... well... you see..."

 He did not appear to know quite what he wanted to say. Mahony felt a sudden quick chill of fear. "What had happened. Had they killed the girl by any chance?"
 "What the devil do you mean?" he demanded. "What's happened to the girl? She's not... dead?"
 "Oh, no. No, she's not dead. Far from it. But... the trouble is, we can't get at her. You see..."
 At that moment, from an upstairs window, there came the sudden unmistakable high-pitched crack of a pistol shot. "Whitt!"—a bullet slipped past Mahony's head and buried itself in the turf behind him. Mahony cursed loudly and moved swiftly. It was apparent to him that the game was up; his bluff was spotted. He had no wish to present a running target to anybody. Therefore his move was in the direction of the house, not away from it.
 He simply hurtled himself toward the front door, snatching his hand out of his pocket with his clubbed pistol in it. The man in the doorway was so surprised that he did not even attempt to move until Mahony's clubbed pistol came down on his head. Then he collapsed in the doorway.

 Over his body Mahony jumped into the house, and his voice rose in a terrific shout: "Miss Fraser! Miss Fraser!"
 A door on the left of the hall opened; a startled looking man came running out, almost colliding with Mahony.
 "Here! Who the—!" he began.

Relief Only A Palliative In Dealing With Social Ills, Scientist Asserts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 24 (UP)—Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, asserted today in an open letter to President Roosevelt that science feared the government might mistake relief and regulations for the cure of social ills.
 At the same time the institute president said the federal government did not act upon certain scientific recommendations intended to improve economic conditions.
 Dr. Compton's letter was a reply to President Roosevelt, who recently called upon educators to consider "whether the curricula of engineering schools was so balanced as to give coming generations of engineers the vision and flexible technical capacity necessary to meet the full range of engineering responsibility."
 Calling "relief, emergency work and regulation" a "palliative" method of dealing with social ills, Dr. Compton said:
 "As illustrations of our cause for concern, and of the need for broad understanding by political leaders as well as engineers, he continued, 'I would respectfully refer to four events:
 "(1) The engineering and scientific organizations of the country combined to urge that small portions of the public works expenditures be devoted to research aimed at better designs and materials for public works for the future. In accordance with the vision and flexible technical capacity necessary to meet the full range of engineering responsibility."
 "(2) Your science advisory board of prominent engineers and scientists recommended that attention be given to development of scientific knowledge on which can be built the new industries, so urgently desired by your administration to provide employment."
 "(3) Various groups urged that the present efforts to aid the farmer be supplemented by a really adequate attempt to create new markets for farm products through discovery of new industrial uses for these products through research. None of these recommendations was acted upon."
 "(4) Your letter to us calls attention of the public to the 'deficiencies' produced by science, and quite properly calls on us to try to cure them, but it does not indicate interest in the creative work and

Demos Spend More Than Two Million

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (UP)—The democratic national committee today reported campaign expenditures of $1,324,416 between September 1 and October 21, bringing its total disbursements since June 1 to $2,333,255.
 Campaign contributions since September 1 were set at $1,408,947. Earlier donations raised the total to $2,480,713.
 The committee's statement, filed with the clerk of the house, showed a balance on hand of $24,531.
 The republican national committee's report filed yesterday listed expenditures of $3,161,817 between September 1 and October 18 or a total of $4,919,428 since June 1. Republican receipts since June 1 totaled $5,008,419, including $2,957,785 since September 1.
 The largest contribution to the democratic fund was $100,000, given by the United Mine Workers of America.
 Walter A. Jones, of Pittsburgh, donated $40,000, the largest individual contribution.
 Miscellaneous receipts included $22,050 from the sale of advertising in the democratic national convention book; $142,711 from the sale of copies; loans totaling $17,500, and $489 from the sale of donkey banks.
 Individual contributions included: Curtis Bok, Philadelphia, $25,000; James W. Gerard, New York City, $15,000; Nicholas M. Schenck, New York City, $10,000; the National and State Democratic Finance committees of Tennessee, $24,000.
 fall business will be transcended by the beleaguered establishments during 1939, a 50 per cent gain over 1932, and equal to the 1929 peak.
 Most of the better known business places came intact through the economic storm. Cafes, theatres and hotels whose names are known over the world still are operating, with only two or three exceptions.

Hamilton Accepts Digest Poll As Accurate Forecast

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (UP)—John D. M. Hamilton, republican national chairman, predicted in a formal election forecast today that Gov. Alf M. Landon will receive a minimum of 302 electoral votes, 20 more than enough to elect him president.
 Hamilton said he based his forecast on the Literary Digest poll and not on his own reports which indicate a landslide for Gov. Landon.
 "Four years ago," he said, "James A. Farley, democratic national chairman, who now attempts to laugh off the Literary Digest figures, admitted that the poll was an accurate barometer. He knew it, then and he knows it now, but obviously he cannot say so in public."
 Allowances had been made, he said, for areas showing too large a proportion of republican or democratic voters where there was not a sufficient proportion of voters from heavy democratic strongholds such as New York City.
Famed Hollywood Boulevard Also On The Comeback
 HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 24 (UP)—Hollywood Boulevard, one of the world's famous streets, has got back its pre-depression sparkle. Like New York's Broadway, it went through the doldrums, but those days now are in the past.
 The appearance of this principal street of the film colony offers marked contrast now to the bleak period several years ago when a number of commerce figures show 50 per cent of the business frontage was unoccupied.
 Carl Bush, chamber of commerce official, estimates $60,000,000 in reis she? I'll smash you to pieces if you don't tell me."

 "Ow... ow!" yelled Mulgrave. He blubbered like a big baby. Mahony gave him a good kick in the pants.
 "Talk," he said. "I didn't ask you to sing."
 "Ow!... all right, I'll tell you," gulped Mulgrave.
 "She's in a house near Watford. There are three men guarding her." "And doping her, I suppose," added

Over his body Mahony jumped into the house.

they turned off the main road along a little country lane. Another seven or eight minutes driving brought them to the entrance to a rough drive leading through a thick copse to a small house that stood in an isolated position about four hundred yards from the lane.
 "That's the place. She's in there," said Mulgrave sullenly.
 Mahony stopped the car just outside the drive entrance. The lights of the house could be seen glancing through the trees.
 "We get out again here," he said. "You first. And don't shout or try anything smart, or I'll plug you."
 They got out of the car and stood in the roadway. Everything around them was quiet except an owl calling in the copse. Mulgrave stood sullen and uneasy. His face was hurting him; he suspected that he was going to lose a tooth.
 "W-what have I got to do now?" he asked.
 "Nothing," said Mahony quietly. "I shan't want you any more."
 With that he suddenly hit Mulgrave a tremendous wallop full on the point of the jaw. Mulgrave's heels came off the ground; he crashed down and cut into the ditch. Mahony bent over, hauled his unconscious body back into the lane, carefully bound and gagged him, and thrust him back into the ditch.
 Beside Mulgrave he flung his own fancy costume. That was a thing he was well rid of.
 For a few moments he considered; should he use bluff or stealth to get into that house and rescue the girl imprisoned in it? He decided upon bluff. The use of stealth and quietness would mean that he would have to leave the car where it was in the lane, four hundred yards from the house.
 That four hundred yards might make all the difference between success and failure; if he had to make a quick getaway with the girl. Bluff had served him well once that evening; it would probably serve him again.
 He stopped back into the car.

FIVE SENTENCED IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 24. (AP)—Max Robin, merchant and wool buyer, today had been convicted of concealing assets in bankruptcy, sentenced to a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at El Reno and fined $5,000 before Judge Wm. H. Atwell in United States district court.

Louis Chepova, Robin's brother-in-law, received a 90-day jail sentence and a $1,000 fine. Mrs. Lotie Robin, Mrs. Meda Chepova and S. L. Levy, father of the two women, were assessed fines of $1,000 each. Assets of stores here and at Vernon allegedly concealed totaled $51,540.

Services Churches Topics

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Services Sunday, 11 A. M., Settles Hotel, Room 1 "Probation after Death" is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, October 25.

The Golden Text is: "The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger" (Job 17: 9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb" (Revelation 7:14).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill" (page 233).

FIRST METHODIST

Alonso Buckley, Pastor Sunday school, 9:45 a. m., Pascal Buckner, superintendent. Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
