

Bovina New Gymnasium To Be Ready Next Month

FROM THE HOPPER
By LITTLE HOP

It seems to us as though it's happening awfully quickly, but nevertheless, it's true that the bond election for Farwell Schools is right at hand. In fact, it will be Saturday, and, as the backwoods advertisement often reads, for one day and one day only.

That means that whether you are for it or against it, you will have to make up your mind and say so not later than Saturday.

Considerable speculation and investigation into the $255,000-bond issue has taken place since the election notices were posted last Tuesday, and on every hand we find ourselves asked to express an opinion on the outcome of Saturday's election.

We don't dilly-dally in the foolhardy realm of prognostication any more than we have to, and this isn't any exception, but we do note that whomever we have happened to converse with concerning the issue has been gratifyingly receptive to the proposal.

That is to say, they openly express themselves regarding the admirable aspects of the bond election, and have been somewhat negligible in condemnation of it.

All of which is well and good for this newspaper. We believe, as many others, that the proposed improvement and enlargement of educational facilities are needed by the Farwell School District.

The voter doesn't need a lot of propaganda to see that. He can examine the reasons of the school board, and see that the facts pretty well speak for themselves.

And here's something else. Three, maybe five, years from now if the building program should happen to be postponed that long, might mean that what is now proposed would cost $350,000—even more.

And although it isn't a pleasant thought, there is a distinct possibility that this may be the last chance for many, many years to undertake such a program for the schools, simply because of the uncertainties of international tension.

Well, of course we advise you to see that as you want to. The fact of the matter is that the only time you're going to get a chance to permanently go on record for yourself on this bond election will be Saturday at the Parmer County Court house. Don't miss this chance to express yourself.

Mrs. Jim Moore indignantly asked that we run something in the paper this week to the effect that they have not sold, leased, or been run out of business.

No, we didn't have it that way in the paper. . . she says it's just a rumor that got started, and she doesn't know where it came from. They're still very much in the business, she claims.

Generally speaking, this year was to be an off-election year, and for that reason many otherwise qualified voters failed to pay their poll tax for 1951, which means that such persons will not be qualified to participate in any elections held in Texas this year.

Taking everything into consideration, we might say that there is no such thing as an off-election year; we never know how many elections are to be called during any year, and for this reason we should always be armed with a poll tax receipt.

Already, at least four important elections are facing the voters of this county. First on the list will be the special school bond election in the Farwell district Saturday. Then, school trustees have to be selected and city officials have to be chosen, just to mention a few elections in the immediate future.

Then, later on in the year, it appears certain that a number of constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters of Texas. It's never safe to be caught without a poll tax receipt in Texas.

Encourage that son of yours to set his goal in life at a high level. He might even wind up by being a high-salaried executive in some big industrial institution. Then again, he might turn out to be a plunderer.

FREEMAN PROMOTED

Belvin S. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Freeman, Texico, has recently been elevated to the rank of first lieutenant, he advises his parents. He is stationed at Yokosuka, Japan.

Bovina High School's huge brick-and-tile gymnasium, now under construction, probably will be ready the last of April, according to an announcement from Royce McNeal, construction superintendent of West Texas Builders.

The physical education plant, which will total an investment of approximately $85,000 before completion, will be able to seat a capacity house of near 1000 people, according to W. H. Willoughby, superintendent of Bovina Schools.

He said that it had been hoped that the gym would be finished in time to accommodate some athletic activity this year, but delays have slowed construction to the point that it may not be used this year at all.

At present, the construction company is preparing to run a cement floor on the inside of the building, which already is topped by a steel deck.

Elaborate preparations have been made to insure the best construction possible, Supt. Willoughby pointed out. The inside dirt floor of the building was excavated and replaced with a deep layer of sand, which will give a "cushioning" effect for the concrete slab that soon will be run.

Inside dimension of the building (including a foyer housing two public rest rooms) is 106 x 102 feet, and will allow a basketball court 84 x 50 feet.

The structure runs east-west, and on either side of the court will be erected the bleachers, and under them will be located four dressing rooms, two boys' and two girls', which occupy a space 10 x 82 feet on either side.

Also under the bleachers will be offices for boys' and girls' coaches, Willoughby explains. Other refinements include a glassed-in trophy case in the foyer.

The floor, which always is the finishing touch to a basketball gymnasium, will be either of maple or oak, the superintendent says. Goals, two for games and four for practice sessions, will be fan-type.

Texico Farm Bureau Meets Monday Night

The Texico Farm Bureau held its monthly meeting at Texico Schools Monday night. Luther Pearce, president, presided at the meeting, and presented several lines of opinion on rain-increasing projects that have previously been discussed.

The project, as planned, would be to cover approximately four counties in Eastern New Mexico dependent on wheat and row-crop farming. They are Curry, Roosevelt, DeBaca, and Quay.

The bureau has conducted negotiations with "rain-increasing" businesses, but as yet, members of the bureau report nothing beyond the talking stage.

Also discussed was the status of farm hands with the present selective service laws. Several who were present have felt that draft boards were not giving proper consideration to those on farms who might be classed as essential workers.

After the meeting, Ray Mears, produce retailer, presented two motion picture films. One was on feed, and the other was an instructional short on care and raising of baby chicks.

There were about 60 members present at the meeting, and following showing of the pictures, refreshments were served, and those attending played several rounds of "42."

In conjunction with the games, it was announced that a "42" tournament will be held at the school Friday night. Entered in the meet will be players from Texico, Clovis, and Pleasant Hill farm bureaus.

Bovina Baptist Revival Begins Wednesday, 21

Rev. M. D. Durham, pastor of Bovina Baptist church will preach the revival meeting beginning at the church, Wednesday, March 21 and continuing through Sunday April 1.

Mrs. Vernon Ward and Mrs. R. E. Everett are in charge of the music for the meetings.

Services will be held twice daily during the revival, at 7 o'clock in the morning at 8 o'clock each evening. On Easter morning, however, a sunrise service is scheduled at 6:30, with special music and sermon planned. Bro. Durham says.

The pastor invites everyone to attend the revival services at the Bovina Baptist church.

PARMER WHEAT CROP BEING DAMAGED BY WORMS, GREENBUGS OFFICIALS SAY

Mrs. Tidwell, Friona, Injured In Blast

Mrs. Connie Tidwell, wife of Rev. James E. Tidwell of Friona, was resting fairly well at her home in Friona, Tuesday, following a near-escape in a blast which wrecked a washateria belonging to Mrs. Tidwell, in Hereford, around mid-morning on Monday.

Mrs. Fronie Gauldin of Dalhart, mother of Mrs. Tidwell, who arrived Monday night to spend several days, reported that her daughter sustained burns on both legs and her left shoulder, in addition to receiving a severe bruise on one leg where she was struck by flying debris. The burns are not believed to be of a serious nature, Mrs. Gauldin added.

Cause of the blast has been ascribed to accumulation of steam in a 50-gallon water heater in the washateria. Rev. Tidwell, it is understood, had cut off all inlet and outlet water valves leading to the boiler during the weekend to avoid freezing, and Mrs. Tidwell, unaware of this fact, lighted the gas burner under the boiler. Consequent building up of steam caused the boiler to explode, blowing out the rear wall in the washateria building.

Damage was also sustained in the adjoining Home Beautiful Shop, and in the prescription department of the Park Avenue Drug Store. All businesses are housed in a new business unit constructed by Jimmie Witherspoon of Hereford, and occupied last December. The businesses comprise the Park Avenue shopping center, in Hereford.

Mrs. Ray Cowser, operator of the Home Beautiful Shop, and Mrs. Tidwell were the only persons injured in the explosion, neither seriously.

Damage has been estimated at around $30,000, with some $20,000 assigned to the business building itself. Mrs. Tidwell estimated that around $2,000 was sustained in damage to equipment in the washateria, and Mrs. Cowser also estimated $2,000 to $3,000 damage in the Home Beautiful Shop.

No fire followed the explosion, fortunately. Plate glass windows in the business block were destroyed by the blast, and the roof of the unit was buckled by the concussion, it is reported.

Old Taxing Method Restored In County

The Parmer County Commissioners' Court, in session here Monday, voted unanimously to go back to the old method of assessing taxes for county purposes, completely reversing a decision reached for determining land values in the county.

Officials explained that it was deemed necessary to remain on the old schedule for the current year since the county tax rolls already were compiled in accordance with the former formula.

Recently, the Court has decided to change the manner of proper assessments, with special emphasis given to land values.

Under the previous system, which was restored in Mondays action, the land values will range from $4 to $7 per acre, depending on the distance from the county seat. The tax rate of 95 cents on the $100 valuation was also restored by action of the Court.

Other taxable valuations include: Irrigation wells, each $500; merchandise stocks, 65 percent of inventory; cattle, $30 per head; hogs, (brood sows) $15 per head, horses, $20; sheep $5; pool tables, $100 each.

The tax schedule for cars, trucks, pickups, and combines is graduated from $450 for 1951 models down to $100 for 1938 models.

TO DEALERS MEET

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sikes, of the Sikes Motor Company, spent the first of the week in Denver, Colorado, attending a Ford Dealers meet. Mrs. Sikes' sister of San Antonio, Texas, accompanied them on the trip.

Both cutworms and greenbugs are working on wheat over Parmer County, Joe Jones, county agent, says, and farmers face the problem of eradication of the pests.

Parmer County farmers seem to be more concerned over the cutworm threat. Millers lay the eggs in the fall; warm weather hatches them out and they begin feeding on the young wheat.

The cut worms live under the ground and come out at night, and sometimes during the day.

In recommending insecticides that are not dangerous to men or animals if minor precautions are used, Jones listed actual DDT, ¼ to 1 lb. per acre; actual toxaphene, 1 to 1½ lb.; and actual chloradane, 1 to 1½ lb.; stating that DDT gives greater residual effect than the other two, or lasts longer.

Also, it is emphasized that the insecticides shouldn't harm grazing cattle.

Naturally, says Jones, it is left up to each individual farmer to decide if he can put any more money into his wheat, or if it would pay him to poison the cutworms. Jones says that the recommended insecticides will kill lots of ladybugs, and lace wing flies which feed on the greenbug, so farmers would have to remember that poisoning of cutworms could let greenbugs build up.

Any of the insecticides will give good control, Jones again emphasizes, but DDT is recommended over the others.

Concerning greenbugs Jones says control should be initiated during periods when the greenbugs are on stems and leaves of a plant. These insects are wingless, greenish colored plant lice which attack wheat and occasionally other small grain. Damage occurs generally in February and March, infestations after March are usually being kept in check by natural enemies, the county agent points out.

The insects feed on the stems and leaves at temperatures above 50 degrees, but migrate to the crown during lower temperatures for protection. Parathion and tetraethyl pyrophosphate (TEPP) give adequate control when used properly, Jones adds.

Precautions should be taken in using these two chemicals as both are highly poisonous to man and animals. Only those persons who are willing to follow directions rigidly should handle the materials, he adds.

Jones states, however, that TEPP has a short residual effect, and livestock may be grazed on treated fields three days after treatment. For parathion treated fields, livestock should not be allowed to graze for 14 days following treatment.

County Sells More Oil Royalties On Land In Gaines Co.

The Permanent School Fund of Parmer County was boosted $13,282.50 Monday when the Commissioners' Court sold a one-fourth non-participating royalty to Ben Harwit of Midland on 1,062.6 acres of school land in Gaines County.

The proceeds of the sale will be invested in Series G U. S. Bonds and the interest from the bonds will be distributed to the schools of the county on a per scholastic basis.

Previously, the county has realized better than $300,000.00 from school lands located in Gaines and Andrews Counties and all the proceeds have been invested in Series G Bonds.

WALKER GROCERY WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Henry Jacks of Texico and Mrs. Lena Mae Bass of Littlefield were winners of the two $5 grocery boxes given away Saturday during the formal opening festivities of Walker Grocery in Texico.

The Walkers, successors of Dykes and Dymun, served free coffee and doughnuts throughout the day, with the drawing held at 5 o'clock. The Walkers were former residents of Sudan where they were in the grocery business.

Harold Carpenter, a director of the West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op movement for this area, this week announced that both Farwell and Bovina have gone over the top on subscriptions to the rural telephone program.

This announcement will mean relief for those in Parmer County who were beginning to express concern over the reception of the program. Carpenter said that approximately 100 applications have been paid for in the Farwell area ($50), and around 70 in the Bovina area.

The directors met at Hereford Monday night and definitely set aside April 1 as the deadline for submitting applications. Carpenter said that the directors felt that by that time all persons who were likely to be interested in the program would have an opportunity to join the movement.

This does not mean, it was clarified, that no one will be able to make application after the deadline, but no promises can be made relative to guaranteeing hooking on the line.

Hasie & Green of Lubbock, engineers, discussed plans with the directors Monday night, and announced that all "paper work" should be completed within a week after the deadline.

After this is done, maps of the proposed telephone extension program will be feasible.

"We have every reason to believe," said Carpenter, "that this area will meet with favorable attention by RTA officials."

With the number of subscribers in the Farwell and Bovina areas assured, the directors were of the opinion that both places stand excellent chances for having automatic switch boards when the telephone installation is effected.

This would mean that a rural patron in either place could call any number included in his switch board, plus the phones inside his town, without a long-distance fee.

"We are very well pleased at the interest shown in Bovina and Farwell," said the director, "We have covered both places during the last two weeks and tried to see every man to get his application.

"Previously, both Friona and Dawn had gone over the top in applications. We are glad to inform the people of Farwell and Bovina that they have now done the same.

Dosher Lists Two Large Farm Sales Coming

Two large farm sales have been scheduled by Col. Dick Dosher, local auctioneer, to be held in the immediate future, the first being booked for Friday, March 16.

On that day, starting at 12:30 p. m. Davide Robertson will conduct a general farm clean-up sale at his place one mile east and one north of Lariat.

Then, on Tuesday, March 20, starting at 10 a. m., Gilbert Ford will stage one of the biggest farm sales held in this section in recent years. This sale will be at the J. O. Ford place 5 miles northeast of Farwell. Lunch will be served at noon by the Farwell Parent-Teachers Association.

Terms of both sales will be cash, and Vernon Symcox and Bill Dollar will serve as clerks. A complete list of all items to be offered appears in this issue of The Tribune.

4 Muleshoe Youths Involved In Wreck

Four Muleshoe youths, two boys and two girls, were involved in a car wreck last Thursday night near Farwell, and one is believed to be seriously injured.

Thought to be seriously injured is Ann Johnson who was taken to Clovis Memorial with reported internal injuries. Other occupants of the car were Bobby Landers, driver, Bud Johnson, and John Anna Thompson.

Sheriff Charles Lovelace said the 1950 Plymouth in which they were riding overturned several times on the sharp curve leading to an underpass two miles southeast of Farwell.

The four were returning from a party at Oklahoma Lane on the farm-to-market road, and turned over about 10:30. Excessive speed for the curve was believed to have been the cause of the mishap.

Jimmy Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moore, is recuperating from the bumps.

A bond election to determine whether voters of Farwell School District favor modernization of their present plant in Farwell will be Saturday, March 17, according to school officials.

The measure, which has been pending for many months, was released by the district school board last week, and notices of the election were posted last Tuesday, the 6th.

If the voters approve the $255,000 issue, it will mean that Farwell Schools will receive a complete new high school, gymnasium, and cafeteria, and the old high school building will be remodeled to make available an auditorium and conversion of the entire unit to grade-school classes.

A petition signed by 40 qualified voters was presented the school board asking for the calling of an election, and the board responded by posting notices last week.

Under law, at least 10 days must expire from the time the notices are posted until a vote is taken on the measure (neither the day of posting nor the day of voting is counted).

Officials have been making extensive surveys to sample voting opinion in the district, and stress that the voting will be done Saturday in the County Court room at Farwell.

It is presumed that the laws governing general elections will be adhered to for the special election, which will mean that the polls will open at 8 a. m., and will remain open until 7 p. m. All property taxpayers in the district will be classed as eligible to vote.

Two School Elections Coming Next Month

Two school elections will face voters of the county and school districts next month, according to A. D. Smith, ex-officio county superintendent of schools. The elections will be Saturday, April 7.

The trustee elections for the four school districts will be put before the public, as well as elections for the county school trustees. The four districts are Farwell, Bovina, Friona, and Lazbuddy.

From each of these districts will be elected either two or three trustees, depending on the system of rotation in use. Most boards are composed of seven trustees, the official explained, and two memberships expire at a time, with the exception of every third election, at which time three trustees' terms end.

On the other hand, one county trustee is to be elected from three of the four schools. They are Farwell, Bovina, and Friona. Lazbuddy does not have a county trustee elected this year because last year the trustee-at-large came from their school. This county-wide trustee will serve another year before election.

Qualified voters will vote at the usual polling places from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m., the superintendent said. Persons who have resided in Texas one year and the county six months, and are otherwise qualified, may vote.

Supt. Smith said, "The names to be placed on the ballot should be certified to by five or more voters of districts and filed with the County Judge at least ten days before the election."

This will be true for all nominees with the exception of Friona regarding the district elections, but all county nominees must be turned in to Superintendent Smith.

County school trustees whose terms expire this year are: J. L. Shaffer, Friona; C. R. Elliott, Bovina; and H. Y. Overstreet, Farwell. The hold-over trustee from Lazbuddy is W. M. Sherley.

Revival Postponed At Oklahoma Lane

The series of revival meetings which were slated to begin at Oklahoma Lane Methodist church the past Sunday were postponed, with the opening service scheduled tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30.

Rev. J. E. Cochran of Shawnee, Okla., one of the general evangelists of Methodism, who is speaker for the revival series, was unable to begin the meetings as scheduled because of the illness of his wife.

Rev. A. D. Moore, pastor of the church, say services will be held nightly preceding Easter Sunday, March 25. Morning services are scheduled at 11 o'clock. Singing will be in charge of local talent. Rev. Moore invites residents of the area to attend the services.

Pioneer Day Is Planned, To be at Hereford Soon

Residents of the entire Mid-Plains area are invited to start making preparation for the Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration to be staged in Hereford the last of May or first of June, the definite date to be announced soon.

The first contest which may benefit anyone from the entire area is the naming of the pioneer organization to be established during the celebration. Everyone is eligible to enter the contest, Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, said. He explained that the name should be one which will apply to the entire area, not just a locality.

Entries should be mailed or brought to the C of C office in Hereford by Friday, March 23, when they will be judged by the Retail Merchants Committee, which is sponsoring the entire celebration. A prize of $10 or $15 will be presented the person selecting the winning name.

McFarland urged men of the area to start preparing for the big two-day celebration by growing whiskers to compete in the whisker contest. Prizes will be awarded in several contests, including the whisker contest, greased pig contest, greased pole contest, sack race, flour scramble, Old Fiddlers, best cowboy costume, best cowgirl costume, square dance, and horse shoe pitching. McFarland explained the flour scramble—$20 or $25 in half dollar coins are placed on the street and six barrels of flour dumped on top—then the scramble begins.

Prizes will be awarded the best float in the big parade to be held on Friday of the celebration. All floats are to depict some early stage of Texas history or characteristics of pioneer life. Towns and individuals of the entire Mid-Plains area are invited to participate in the parade.

Texico F. F. A. Project Reports Good Progress

Texico Chapter's Cooperative Swine Feeding Project, which consists of 31 Hampshire feeders is progressing in good order, school authorities say. The pigs were purchased when they were eight weeks old and were placed in a pen which was built on clean ground, a quarter of a mile north of the school building.

Ration of ground kaffir and Robert's Hog Supplement, which is furnished by the Roberts Feed and Seed Company of Texico, is being feed choice from self-feeders.

After one month in the feed lot, it became necessary to separate some of the "poor boars." Those pigs are now on a different ration, which have the same basic grain, with vitamin B-12 Complexes added. If the new supplement containing the B-12 Complexes proves itself, it will be added to the ration of the remaining pigs. During the trial period the B-12 Complexes have increased feed consumption almost a third more.

The chapter decided to pick out three of the gilts and keep them for breeding stock. They decided it would be cheaper to raise their own feeders.

Plans to try a cross-breed in the feed lot next year have been made.

The cross will be between a Hampshire sow and a Duroc boar which the chapter purchased from Donal Ray Ingram, who has a good Duroc herd established.

The chapter hopes to have enough feed left out of the 29,000 pounds purchased for the feeding project to carry the gilts and the boar's through until next harvest.

Farwell Student Council Considers Dallas Meet

The Farwell School Student Council first of the week was considering sending a delegation to the state meeting at Sunset High in Dallas this week, according to Marcia Foster, representative.

Miss Foster announced that the council had sent in its membership fee to the state council in order that the local delegation will have a voice in legislative matters.

She said that if a delegation is sent to the state meeting, it probably will include five members of the Farwell council.

Draft May Rub Out Local AAU Baseball

The future is definitely uncertain for the health of a Texico-Farwell AAU baseball team next year, Wilfred Quickel, manager, said this week. Asked if the team had any plans for spring training, manager Quickel pessimistically reported that only two players appear to be out of the immediate reach of the armed forces.

Quickel himself is expecting to be recalled into the Navy this month. Last week he returned from New Orleans where he had a physical examination.

"The only other man in line for the managership," believes Quickel, "probably is Blackie Williams." (Williams, draft-exempt, and Ronald London, who is married and classed 3-A, are the two players that are believed to be safe from induction.)

With regard to a spring training program, Quickel pointed out that most of the players are now attending college or have already been taken into the armed services.

However, he announced that it was certain a teen-age baseball team will be whipped up from the Twin Cities, this summer, and will compete in the Clovis Teen-Age League.

He said Bovina probably will enter a teen-age team also, and the two Parmer County nine will play against four teams from Clovis and two from Portales. Wilner of the Clovis league will play a post-season series with the winner of the Amarillo teen-age circuit Quickel said.

Becky, blonde, blue-eyed, 2 1/2-year-old daughter of coach and Mrs. Ken Livingston of Farwell, isn't very old yet, but she's quite a little adventuress.

Lately she's been leading her bewildered parents into some high adventure, too. Take last Tuesday, for example.

Monday night, the Livingstons tucked Becky into her bed in the usual manner, and a thought of her safety probably didn't cross their minds all night. The next morning, though, they waked up to find Becky's bed empty—and the little adventuress was nowhere to be found. In fact, they turned the house upside down in a disturbed quest for her. After about an hour's hunting she was unearthed in a closet, curled snugly up in a box and sleeping as soundly as she ever did in her bed.

Needless to say the Livingstons were relieved, but they say this isn't the first time such goings-on have cropped up. Early one morning recently (about 3 a. m.) they waked up to noises in the front room.

Investigating, they discovered their dashing daughter merrily circling the floor on her tricycle, apparently having the time of her life.

After a short period of processing at Fort Sill, Oklahoma and at Fort Riley, Kansas, Pfc Doolittle was sent to Camp Carson last October 17.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS EXPLAINED

Workers who have reached the age of 65 can now qualify for old-age insurance benefits if they have at least six "quarters of coverage," according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration. A quarter of coverage is any calendar quarter after 1936 in which a worker was paid wages of at least $50 for employment covered by the Social Security Act.

The present eligibility requirements went into effect on September 1, 1950, and apply only to workers who were living on that date. Persons who died before September had to meet the requirements of the old law in order for their survivors to receive benefits.

Sanderson said the new law permits eligible workers who are 75 or older to draw benefits without retiring. The law permits beneficiaries between the ages of 65 and 75 to earn as much as $50 per month without losing benefits, and removes the restriction entirely for those over 75.

Claims must be filed before any payments can be made. Delay in filing might result in a loss of benefits, since payments can be made retroactively for not more than six months. Therefore, any person who becomes eligible when the new law went into effect on September 1, 1950, should file his claim before April, 1951, in order to prevent a loss of benefits. Claims should be filed with the Social Security Administration, Amarillo, Texas.

The second was served to two Home Ec. girls, Phyllis Tucker and Marjorie, who served in the absence of Jeannine Donahey, and two guests, Carmen Roth and Bobbie Williams.

The breakfasts consisted of three courses, fruit, cereal, and the main course of meat, eggs, and a beverage.

CONSERVATION SUPERVISOR LISTS WAYS TO PREVENT WIND EROSION DAMAGE

Bill Kennedy, supervisor of the Parmer County Soil Conservation office in Friona, this week took under consideration ways and means farmers of the county could control wind erosion damage, usually to be expected during the windy month of March.

Eleven days of March have already given the county two good sandstorms, Kennedy pointed out, and more wind is sure to come this month. "It's a good time in the year to look around and see which farmers have the know-how to protect their land from blowing," the supervisor added.

In a report to regional headquarters, technicians at the local SCD office estimated that less than 5,000 acres in the county soil conservation district is subject to wind damage. "However," Kennedy went on, "this figure could easily change within 15 days, if winds continue high."

Crop residue and growing crops are adequate except on isolated spots of calcareous soils, the technician pointed out. He explained that the most careful farmer in the county may have an area of calcareous or lime-colored soil which is hard to hold when the winds come. Areas like this, according to Kennedy, should be handled according to the capability of the land, and should be used for closely drilled wheat, sorghum, irrigated pasture or alfalfa, with a heavy application of barnyard manure.

Kennedy offered the technical services of his staff at the county office to farmers interested in outlining procedures to protect against wind erosion.

"With continued dry weather, we are bound to have a good deal of topsoil on the move unless it is properly protected," he added.

TO HIRE JANITOR

Members of the American Legion decided in a meeting Monday night to hire a janitor to care for the Legion Hall. A selection has not been made, and anyone interested in the position is asked to contact: Loyde Brewer, Joe Helton, or Wilfred Quickel, committee members.

$90 LOST IN PURSE

Womans' Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Texico-Farwell Woman's Club met in regular session Tuesday night, March 13, at the home economics department of the Farwell School, with approximately forty ladies attending.

Mrs. Thelma Perkins, vice president, presided over the meeting, with Mrs. D. W. Bagley acting as secretary.

A short business session was held during which it was decided that the time of the meeting would be changed to 8 o'clock, rather than at 7:30, which has been the time of the meetings.

Nine new members were added to the roster at the Tuesday night meeting. They are as follows: Mesdames M. H. Poteet, A. J. Doshier, Ed Hardage, Joe Crume, C. E. Sanders, Claude Rose M. C. Roberts, W. P. Shelley and W. L. Liles.

After the business meeting, the ladies gathered in the school auditorium where special music was enjoyed by the Farwell School Band under the direction of Mrs. Shelby Jones. Superintendent Jack Williams outlined the new building plans for the Farwell School.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed in the HE department, with Mrs. D. W. Bagley, Mrs. J. E. Stone, and Mrs. Les Means acting as hostesses.

The serving table was covered with a lace cover, centered with a lovely bouquet of white gladiolus, yellow jonquils and green carnations.

Delicious refreshments of fruit punch and white cake with green icing were served by the hostesses.

The next regular meeting of the Club will be on Tuesday night, March 27, at 8 o'clock in the Farwell HE building, with Mrs. M. A. Snider and Mrs. Magness as hostesses.

Renner Sr., Smith, Bennie Gully, Earl Routen, Oscar Hubble, Lee Jones, Bell Foster, Fred Kepley, J. W. Herington, Hermon Gerles, Dick Gerles and Jim McGuire.

Many sent gifts who were unable to attend the affair.

Visits Mrs. Thomas

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Albert Thomas over the weekend was her sister-in-law and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton of Ann Arbor, Mich. They were accompanied by Erma Cottman of Chicago who returned to her home Sunday. The Thomtons were enroute to California where they planned to visit their daughter.

Former Texico Boy Married at Anthony

Miss Wannita Harkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harkey of Anthony, N. M., and Francis Smotherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Smotherman of Clovis, were united in marriage Sunday at the Baptist church in Anthony, N. M. The Smothermans were former residents of Texico.

Rev. Petty, pastor of the Baptist church in Anthony, performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride chose for her wedding a white lace dress with white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias. Her matron-of-honor was Mrs. Jerry Paul of Texico, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Paul wore a black dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Jack Harkey Jr., brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of her sister, Mrs. Howard Bartoo. The table was centered with a floral centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Smotherman traditionally cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was served to the guests with punch.

Mr. Smotherman was graduated from Texico High school in 1946. Mrs. Smotherman attended Anthony High school. The couple will be at home in Anthony where he is employed as chief at the port of entry.

Area people attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Smotherman of Clovis and Mrs. Paul and daughter of Texico. Another of the groom's sisters, Mrs. Dalia Wilcox of Bakersfield, Calif. was also present.

Farwell Freshmen Have Skating Party

Borger Couple Married Here

Miss Alene Cunningham and Leonard Huber of Borger were married in a simple ceremony at the Texico-Farwell Baptist parsonage Friday night.

Vows were solemnized at 7 o'clock by Rev. C. M. Fields. A single ring ceremony was read.

Mrs. G. M. Dial of Farwell, attended her sister as matron of honor, and G. M. Dial served as best man.

The bride was attired in a spring green suit, emphasized by an off-white hat with a short veil. Her corsage, a gift from the bridegroom, was of white carnations. Mrs. Dial wore a grey nylon crepe dress with black accessories.

A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henneman, with only close friends and relatives attending. Mrs. Henneman, is a niece of the bride.

Mr. Huber is employed by the Southwestern Public Service Co. in Borger and Mrs. Huber is employed by the State Department of Public Welfare. They will be at home at 800 Jackson Street in Borger.

Toastmistress Club Meets Tuesday Night

The Toastmistress club met Tuesday night of last week at the Casa de Fiesta in Clovis, with Mrs. Woody McDermit of Farwell presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Al Sass.

Sue Burns of Clovis was toastmistress, and Mrs. Bennett was topic mistress, choosing for her subject, "Should Women Serve On A Jury?"

An informal panel led by Mrs. John Porter, discussed, "Should Women Be Drafted Into Service or Industry?" Each person at the table presented a one to two minute discussion on the subject.

Sue Burns received the boot for the biggest blunder of the evening and Mrs. Porter received the cup for the best speech.

Spring council meeting for the club will meet April 7 in Las Vegas, New Mexico. Mrs. Porter of Farwell and Mildred Williamson of Clovis are scheduled to attend.

Hurshel Harding Enters Baylor Law School

Hurshel Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Harding left for Waco late Thursday and entered Baylor University Law School Tuesday. Hurshel was a member of the 1947 graduating class at Farwell and has attended Texas Tech the last three years.

During the past semester he served as a student assistant in the Government Department at Tech. Each semester, the four most outstanding students in that department are chosen by the head of the department to hold this position. Hurshel also was an active member of the Pre-Law Club, and Saddle Tramps, and active in Baptist Student work while attending Tech.

Officers Elected Seniors Honored At Farwell Meeting

The March meeting of Farwell Parent Teachers association featured election of new officers and a reception honoring the graduating senior class.

Mrs. Jack McManigal, president, presided over the business meeting. The PTA decided to save flaps from Meadowlake margarine for the five-cent refund each will bring. It was announced that the District Conference of the PTA is to be held at Childress on April 17-18; and that housing will be provided for anyone wishing to go.

The president also disclosed information she has received concerning House Bill 280, proposing that shooting B. B. or Pellet guns be prohibited inside city limits or across highways of Texas. This bill has not yet been voted on.

Mrs. W. M. Roberts, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the proposed list of next year's officers, selected by her committee.

Officers include Mrs. Jack McManigal, president; Mrs. Sterly Billington, first vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Potts, second vice-president; Miss Jennie Bolton, third vice-president; Mrs. Everette Christian, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Tommy Hestand, publicity; Mrs. J. F. Mounts, membership; Mrs. W. M. Roberts, publication; and Mrs. Tom Foster, parliamentarian.

A proposed amendment for the organization's by-laws specifies that PTA shall meet on the second Tuesday during the months, September, October, and November; thereafter, the second Thursday of each month shall be the regular meeting night. The issue will be voted on during the April meeting.

Seniors won the room count Thursday night.

Each member of the senior class was introduced to the group. Rex Pool sang "Le Vie En Rose" accompanied by Mrs. S. S. Jobs; and Doyle Vaughan presented two vocal numbers, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" and "It's A Sin". He was accompanied by Mrs. Jobs and Gerald Norton on his electric guitar. The musical numbers were concluded by Mrs. Jobs with two piano solos, "Valcik" and "Toujour La Mour".

Speaker of the evening was Miss Nell Cunningham (who discussed "Marriage and Family Relations." She stated that she thought a course of this nature should be taught in schools, using the illustration that about 40 percent of the graduates of the past two years are now married.

The speaker's conception of teaching marriage relationship consisted not so much of sex, but of moral attributes to be desired in one chosen as a life mate, a reporter for the organization states.

Refreshments were served in the home economics building with approximately 65 members and the honored senior guests attending.

The serving table was centered with a white cake decorated with red roses, a diploma, and the lettering, "Seniors' 51". Flanking the cake were two large bouquets of yellow roses tied with red satin ribbon. Lime sherbet was also served.

Mrs. Vinyard Is Guild Hostess

Mrs. W. W. Vinyard will be hostess to the Wesleyan Guild of the Methodist church, which meets tonight at her home.

Mrs. John Armour is in charge of the program which begins at 8:15. Mrs. Richard Jones of Clovis is scheduled to give a book review on "No Trumpets Before Him."

Texico-Farwell Seniors Honored with Banquet

"The world is waiting for you!" declared Dr. A. A. Brian when he spoke to the seniors of Texico and Farwell at a banquet sponsored by the Baptist church Saturday evening.

Invocation was given by Rev. C. M. Fields and a welcome was extended to the seniors by Mrs. B. A. Kelley, superintendent of the young people's department. The response was given by Farwell senior, Irene Hardage.

Howard-Payne boy's quartet provided musical entertainment during the evening with several negro spirituals, popular numbers, and with a barber-shop quartet melody.

After a banquet featuring baked ham with English peas, parsleyed new potatoes, cherry jello salad, ea, cake, and lime sherbet, Carmen Roth, mistress of ceremonies, introduced Rev. C. M. Fields, pastor of the church, who introduced Dr. Brian, vice-president of Howard-Payne College in Brownwood, Texas.

Attending were members of the quartet—Fritz Owens, Al Brian, Bill Denton, Charles Mayo, and the pianist, David Reynolds, guests and sponsors—Howard Ford, Dr. A. A. Brian, W. F. Markham, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Kelley. From Texico, sponsors were F. D. Stout and Supt. and Mrs. Agrie Jones; from Farwell sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Roberts, and Supt. and Mrs. Jack Williams. Seniors attending were Dee J. Brown, Carmen Roth, Jo Beth Engram, Violet Curry, Bobbie Allred, Lila Gardner, Beryle Nix, Nelma Branscum, Bettie Foster, Irene Hardage, Pete Hughes, Bob Gerles, Bobbie Christian, Jerry Pool, Wynema Cochran, Gerald Norton, Caryetta Grissom, Robert Armstrong, Nicky Foster, and Dot Kent.

Lazbuddy FHA Chapter Is Having Box Supper

The Lazbuddy chapter of Future Homemakers of America has announced that it intends to sponsor a box supper Friday night, March 16. The supper is to be in the school gymnasium, and will begin at 8 o'clock.

A representative of the chapter announces that proceeds from the sale will be divided half-and-half between the chapter and the school and FHA money will be used to send two delegates to the FHA state convention at Ft. Worth next May.

These representatives will be Miss Trixie Steinbock and Miss Jimmy Carpenter, it was revealed.

Ladies of the community are being asked to bring boxes to the sale in order that the event may be a success. Games and refreshments will be available after boxes have been sold.

Auxiliary Collects Margarine Flaps

Mrs. Tuckers' oleomargarine flaps collected by the Auxiliary are to be in by April 1st organization members say. Please call or notify the auxiliary members and they will be happy to pick them up, it was emphasized and all members bring flaps to auxiliary meeting Monday.

All members that have not been initiated are urged to be present at the meeting Monday night at 7:30 at the Legion hall. Mrs. Davidson from Clovis will be the initiating officer.

There will be an executive committee meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the home of Dardanelle Helton in Texico.

Beth Tharp has returned from a short visit to Albuquerque.

INSURANCE . . .

Golden Circle Class Meets at Church

The Golden Circle class of the Baptist church held a regular meeting at the church Monday night with Fern Hardage, president, presiding.

The program was opened with a group song, followed by a prayer, led by Caroline Fields. Peggy Hardage accompanied by Mrs. John Lockhart, rendered a special vocal number.

Following a business session, group members prepared an Easter surprise for the organization's adopted orphan child at Portales.

After group members played games, refreshments of hot chocolate, cake, and mints were served. Hostesses were losers in the membership contest.

Those attending the meeting were Iona Chappell, Juanita Huggins, Ona Bradshaw, Mrs. Black, Ruth Reed, Tom Paul McCuan, Carolyn Fields, Mabel Martin, Ophelia Billington, Dorothy Richardson, Catherine Lockhart, Nell Autry, Bula McWilliams, Edwina Owens, Fern Hardage, Carlie Hardage, and one guest, Peggy Hardage.

Workers' Conference Draws 100 Attendants

Approximately 100 people attended the workers' conference held on Tuesday of last week at the Baptist church.

The program began at 11 o'clock in the morning and the evening session was completed at 4 o'clock. Lunch was served by the local church women at one o'clock.

Principal speakers for the conference were Rev. Bill King, who was moderator for the day; Rev. Charles Polston of Albuquerque; Rev. George Elan of Albuquerque, and Charles Reese of ENMU in Portales.

Nineteen churches of the Plains Association were represented.

The constitution and by-laws of the organization were adopted and the group members decided to sponsor the purchase of band uniforms. Finance committee members chosen were Gene Ezell, Wilbur Charles, Walter Verner, and Mrs. Bill Bradshaw.

Bovina Student Council Will Attend State Meet

The Bovina Student Council has announced that it intends to attend the state meeting of student councils at Sunset High in Dallas this week.

The Bovina High School students, led by Loren Thompson, president, will attend the two-day meeting at Dallas with a hope of having their school elected to a high state office.

The Bovina council has decided to run for the office of state vice-president. They already have held one high office previously—that of state parliamentarian.

To leave Thursday, the representatives will include, besides Thompson, Jamie Tidenberg, vice-president; Allen Wasson, secretary, and a representative from each of the four high school classes.

They will be accompanied by Supt. W. H. Willoughby and his wife, and probably will make the trip by car. President Thompson is scheduled to lead a discussion group at the meeting, and the subject of the discussion will be "How to Emphasize Study in High School."

Nine other discussion groups are to be at the Dallas school, and Supt. Willoughby felt that at least 600 Texas schools will be represented at the meeting.

Deaf Smith Protests, Gets District Change

Seeking inclusion in a district nearer home and one whose counties have the same economic problems, Deaf Smith County vigorously protested its assignment to the 96th district in a recent action by the state legislature.

The original bill, it is understood here, would have put Deaf Smith in with six other counties to the north, and residents protested the proposals because of the unbridged Canadian river, which cuts Deaf Smith off from the rest of the 96th district.

Senator Grady Hazelwood, of Amarillo, has informed Deaf Smith residents that an amendment has been approved which would assign that county to be 95th district, including Parmer, Castro, Bailey and Lamb counties, and the amended measure is expected to have clear sailing when it is returned to the House for approval.

An argument is where two people are trying to get in the last word first.

Adventurous Souphound Is Ambushed by Guineas

Rusty, The Tribune hound, who has been in all sorts of miscellaneous mishaps during his association with the staff, even to the extent of having to hitch-hike home from Clovis, came up with a new one last weekend.

Insistent on accompanying a reporter on a visit to a farm home, Rusty gayly went prowling about the place to find something he could scare—only to come bounding frantically to the house begging for entrance.

Cause of his excitement: the farm guineas, who had put Rusty to flight in a hurry with their screeching and were following up the attack to make sure he didn't escape.

ABIE CRUME, correspondent. Phone contributions to 2791.

SCS Crews Busy On Various Tasks

Sloan Osborn, 4 miles west of Friona, had a small lake filled and leveled which he intends to put in alfalfa and use for hog pasture. There are probably a hundred or more such lakes in Parmer County which could be handled in this manner. The cost is high, but in the long run it means an economic advantage to the farmer. It usually takes three generations in an irrigation district before farmers realize that water should be applied on the dead level. With all the leveling work that has gone on it looks as though Parmer County may be getting ahead of itself.

R. E. Sneed who lives at Hub had his Bastrum-Brady level checked. Although S. C. S. is not habitually in the level checking business, farmers are reminded to check their levels at frequent intervals. It is rather easy to check a level and a farmer may gain confidence in himself if he trusts his instrument. In checking and adjusting Bastrum-Brady levels, follow these steps:

(1.) Set the instrument on the tripod and sight on the rod at 600 feet. Set the target.

(2.) Remove screws which allow the turret to revolve.

(3.) Turn the turret upside down and sight on the rod again.

(4.) If the cross hair hits in the center of the target, the level is correct. If not, adjustments should be made.

Billie Sudderth, 5 miles S. E. of Bovina, signed his place up with Parmer S. C. D. last Thursday. An old cattle trail runs across Billie's place which has an interesting history. It starts at Bovina and runs on an angle to the Southeast all the way to the old V. V. N. headquarters southeast of Muleshoe. The old trail looks like a gully and is about half as deep as a pickup truck. At one time Bovina was supposed to have been the biggest cattle shipping center in the Panhandle. The trail was beat out at that time and went almost unnoticed until irrigation started.

Another interesting thing about Bovina is brought out in the district program and plan. According to the History Committee Bovina was first called "Bull Town". This name came from early railroad engineers who had to stop their locomotive, get out and chase the bulls off the track before they could pass.

A topographic map was made for Lloyd Shulk last week. These maps are indispensable when it comes to laying out ditch lines and row directions. An irrigation system was planned and laid out for Ray Sudderth, which would not have been possible without the aid of a topographic map.

Farmers in S. C. S. office last week: R. E. Sneed, Hadley Reeve, Billie Sudderth, Erick Rushing, Roscoe Ivie, Joe Jesko, Burl Beene, Mary Bogges, and Ernest Englant.

Parents Respond To Invitation To Visit In Local School

Around one hundred and fifty parents of children in this area responded to the invitation to visit the Friona schools during the past week, proclaimed as education week over Texas, Supt. Dalton Caffey reported today.

Classes at the school were visited on Tuesday and Wednesday, primarily, the school added, with a large majority of the parents spending entire class periods in the different rooms.

The school cafeteria was also open to the public on Tuesday and Wednesday, and some 75 patrons took advantage of the opportunity to see for themselves the kind of hot lunches being served to students.

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning the high school choir, under the direction of Glenn Cunningham, presented a special musical program in the gymnasium of the school, with a number of outside patrons joining students for the occasion.

Supt. Caffey expressed himself as gratified with the response shown by local residents in visiting the school during the week.

Track, Field Prospect Working At Friona

Track and field prospects, in both junior and senior departments, have concluded one week of training at the Friona school, Raymond Cook, coach, said the first of this week.

Recent work on the track itself has put the grounds in excellent shape, Cook said, admitting "The track is in better shape than my boys at present".

Some 23 high school recruits and returnees are showing up for practice, with about nine grade students also reporting for practice.

Questioned about individual prospects, Cook said Monday that he was not able to be very definite as yet. Dargell Robbins, who last year did hurdle work, is again showing promise along this line, as well as in the quarter, high and broad jump, while W. L. Cleveland is looking fair in the quarter, Ross-Miller is tossing the discus, and Doyce Burnett is coming out for the half-mile.

"As for sprinters", Cook said ruefully, "We just don't have any... unless somebody develops during the next few days."

Funeral Services Are Held Here Tuesday

Final rites for Elbert Dennis Williams, who died Sunday afternoon at the Parmer County Community hospital in Friona, were held at the Friona Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Rev. J. E. Tidwell, pastor of the church, was in charge, assisted by Rev. T. B. Allen, former local Baptist pastor now located at Aspermont, Texas. Steed Funeral Home of Clovis, was in charge, and interment was made in the Friona cemetery.

Williams was born on May 6, 1881 in Monroe County, Kentucky, the son of W. T. and Belle Williams. He was married to Mary Weaver Johnson in 1906 at Salina, Tennessee, and Mrs. Williams preceded him in death in 1935, being buried at Friona.

The couple moved to Wellington, Texas, in 1918, and in 1930 took up residence in the Friona community, where Williams was active in farming until ill health forced his retirement some time ago.

Survivors include three sons, Sam and Glenn, both of Friona, and Jack, of Barstow, California; and one brother, W. C. Williams of Nashville, Tenn.

Gift Service Is To Be Observed, 21st

A special sacrificial service for women of the Congregational Church will be held at the church house next Wednesday, March 21st, it is announced, beginning at 3 p. m.

Mrs. George E. Meyer will be in charge, with an unusual candle-lighting ceremony being planned, and all ladies of the church are urged to participate.

Greenbug Situation Becoming Serious

Greenbugs, which annually show up in wheat fields, are doing extensive damage in the Friona area, it is believed this week, and numerous farmers, along with Chamber of Commerce officials, are ready to take some sort of steps to control the menace to what remains of the 1951 crop, plagued by drouth and high winds.

Allan Romich, manager of the local CC, reported on Monday that his office had requested the Extension Service, in College Station, to send entomologists to the area to study the situation.

In addition, Parmer farmers are going to take a whirl at trying control of the pests by importing ladybugs, the known foe of the greenbugs. Romich reported the first of the week that he was ordering a shipment of the ladybugs out of Phoenix, Arizona, to be loosed on the farms of R. W. Parr, John Renner and Carl Schlenker.

The ladybugs sell at $7 per gallon, Romich added and a single gallon will effectively take care of greenbugs over a 100-acre plot. Considerable attention has been given over the entire High Plains area during the past few weeks to control of the greenbugs by the ladybugs, and Romich is of the opinion that Parmer farmers may be well repaid for the money spent.

Four-Strand Gin Is Assured For Friona

A four-strand cotton gin, boasting the latest in modern equipment, is now assured for Friona, according to an announcement released by G. B. Buske and Wright Williams.

The two local men have purchased the gin equipment, and construction will be started locally by Edwards, of Muleshoe, as soon as the proper site can be secured, Buske revealed today.

Considerable agitation for a local gin had been going the rounds for the past few weeks, due especially to the lifting of cotton quota restrictions, and the fact that Friona has been without the services of a gin since the one owned by Bert Chitwood burned down on Christmas Eve, 1949.

Buske said the first of the week that the contractor had guaranteed the gin to be complete and ready to roll by the time the first bale of cotton is harvested in this area, next fall. Asked as to a gin manager, Buske said that nothing was definite along this at present.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day visited in Amarillo, Saturday, with their daughter, Miss Tila Rue.

Boys Leave Thursday For State Meeting

Thursday has been set as departure date for the Friona FFA ag boys and their instructor, J. T. Gee, for the state farm skill demonstration contests, to be held on March 16th-17th at Huntsville.

The Friona boys won their right to enter the state competition by taking first-place ratings both at Hereford and Amarillo, in area and regional meets, held some weeks ago. They will present a demonstration on inoculation of swine, Gee added.

Twelve teams will be entered in the state activities, Gee said, with six teams in each division for preliminary showing. The two top teams of each division will then compete for the last four places, he added.

Friona's boys carried honors at the state meeting last year, and are hoping for a repeat in 1951. Members of the team are Keith Brock, Ralph Reed, J. Vonne Fulks, M. C. Osborn, Jr., and Jack Redfern. The locals will return to their homes here on Sunday.

Balance Your Budget

WITH A FOOD BANK!

... and there is no better food bank than an electric home freezer. You can make purchases in quantity when prices are low, take advantage of the savings you make by storing "in season" foods for "out of season" eating, and cook and bake complete meals ahead so that you are prepared for unexpected guests.

Let your local electric appliance dealer show you the soundness of investing in an electric home freezer. See for yourself that food purchased in time and money saving quantities is a real help for your budget. And remember, too, that low cost dependable electric service makes it economical to operate an electric home freezer.

the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day, Sr. He will complete special electrician's training at a Navy school on Friday, his mother reported. The young man will have a 10-day leave to spend with relatives and friends.

Lions Club Hears German Youth

A good crowd was on hand at the Friona Woman's Club building last Thursday evening, for the regular meeting of the local Lions Club.

Special speaker of the evening was Ulrich Hundsberg, German exchange student, who is finishing high school in Amarillo this year. The youth, 17 years old, gave a very interesting talk, comparing conditions in Germany with the United States, and also giving some facts of the seven years he had spent in Central America.

New OES Chapter Is Requested

At a meeting on Thursday night, March 8, at the Masonic Hall the first steps were taken to institute The Friona Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Twenty five members of the Order attended and Mr. Charles Bainum acted as chairman.

It was voted to petition the Grand Chapter for a dispensation to form a new chapter. Recommended to act as officers were: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Opal Buchanan; Worthy Patron, J. E. Tidwell; Associate Matron, Mrs. Lucy Jones; Associate Patron, Bill Buchanan; Secretary, Joe Buchanan; Treasurer, Mrs. Pearl Kinsley; Conductress, Fay Southward; Associate Conductress, Clea Robison.

Meetings are to be held the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 P. M. from October 1st. to April 1st. and at 8:30 P. M. from April 1st. to October 1st.

The next meeting will be called March 26 at 7:30 P. M. for further discussions of proposed chapter.

Demonstration Given At Tulia, Saturday

Members of the Friona agriculture department presented a farm skill demonstration, "Treatment for Lumpy Jaw", at an area meeting of vocational teachers in Tulia, the past Saturday.

Conducting the demonstration were D. O. Robason Jr., Ben Wayne Jordan, Darrell Robbins and M. C. Osborn, Jr. The boys were accompanied to Tulia by their instructors, J. T. Gee, and also attending from this area were Allan Romich, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Melvin Sachs, of the Rhea community.

Gee said the first of the week that some fifty-three ag teachers from over the area were on hand for the Tulia gathering.

Speaks At Breakfast

Rev. Marvin Boyd, district superintendent of the Plainview district, of Plainview, was the special speaker at the Methodist church annex, on Tuesday morning of this week, when the regular men's breakfast was held at 6:45.

Training Classes Are Announced

Training classes for church membership will be held for primary, junior, intermediate and young people's departments of the Methodist church, beginning this week.

Rev. J. E. Tidwell, pastor, will be in charge of the instruction, with the primary and junior groups slated for five classes, beginning Wednesday of this week and continuing on Friday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week.

Two classes in instruction will be conducted for the intermediates and young people, on Tuesday and Thursday of next week, the pastor added.

BACK AT WORK

Mrs. Glen Harrelson, who recently underwent surgery at the Farmer County Community hospital, was back on duty at the hospital on Monday. Mrs. Harrelson, more familiarly known as "Kelly", is office nurse in the clinic of Dr. Paul L. Spring, hospital head.

Furniture Is Ordered For Baptist Church

New furniture for the beautiful new Baptist church, now under construction, was ordered the past week, G. B. Buske, one of the church laymen, said on Monday.

Buske added that construction work was proceeding at a good pace, with the congregation hoping to occupy the new sanctuary within the "next 60 to 70 days", providing no unforeseen delays hold up the work.

The new structure is being built on church property immediately south of the old building, which will, in turn, be converted into Sunday school classrooms, officials added.

Holy Week Services Planned Locally

Special services for Holy Week preceding Easter, March 19 through March 23, have been announced cooperatively by Rev. J. E. Tidwell, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Geo. E. Meyer, of the Congregational Church.

Monday through Wednesday evenings, Rev. Tidwell will conduct a devotional series based on the theme "A Master For This Hour", in the Methodist sanctuary, and in addition on Wednesday evening, a special musical program will be presented by members of the Friona High school choir, directed by Glenn Cunningham.

At the Congregational Church on Maundy Thursday evening, Rev. Meyer reports, communion services for the community will be held. The service used, Rev. Meyer said, dates back to the fourth Christian century. Eight laymen and the pastors will appear, with Rev. Meyer in charge and Rev. Tidwell giving the opening statement. The laymen will represent the two churches. The service will be given by candlelight, Rev. Meyer added.

Under the direction of Miss Jane Gallagher, seven young men of the Congregational Church will present a special dramatic program, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" in the sanctuary of the Methodist church on Good Friday evening, as the conclusion of the services for the week.

Miss Gallagher designed and supervised the making of the costumes to be used in the presentation, and her father, Rev. Meyer, will have charge of the introductory worship services.

All programs during the week being at 8 in the evening.

New Pastor Expected For Baptist Church

Rev. Russell Pogue, of Kress, Texas, has accepted a call to the pulpit of the Friona Baptist Church, and will take over his duties as pastor of the local congregation on Easter Sunday, March 25th.

Local church officials said that Rev. Pogue had been in the ministry for some ten years. His wife and two children will accompany him here next week, when he takes up residence in the local parsonage.

New Study Begins For Methodist WSCS

A new study on the book "The Christian's Vocation", by G. Bromley Oxnam, was begun by members of the Methodist Women's Society for Christian Service, at the regular meeting of the group at church annex on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Mrs. J. T. Gee is handling the study, and all members and others interested are cordially invited to the WSCS gatherings.

Special Music Will Be Featured, 18th

Music, both instrumental and vocal, is to feature the 11 a. m. service of the Congregational Church of Friona on March 18th, Palm Sunday, the pastor, Rev. George E. Meyer, announces.

Primary, junior and adult choirs will participate, and instrumental and vocal solos will add to the program. All members of the church are especially urged to be on hand for this program.

County Teachers To Meet At Lazbuddy

The regular meeting of Farmer county faculty members will be held tonight (Wednesday), at Lazbuddy.

Supt. Dal'on Caffey, of Friona, said on Monday that he had received word from Archie Simms, superintendent of the Lazbuddy school, that the host school would serve a dinner to visitors at 6:30 in the evening and a program will follow.

Mrs. Clyde Sherrieb Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Clyde Sherrieb was hostess on March 7th to the Wednesday Club, in a regular meeting at her home east of Friona.

Canasta and needlework were enjoyed by those attending, at the conclusion of which a refreshment plate was served to Mesdames J. K. Anthony, Ross Terry, Vance Crume, Ernest Anthony and the hostess.

Repair work on the G. B. Buske home, which was recently badly damaged by fire after the family had been in residence in the new home for only a few weeks, is continuing at a rapid pace, Buske said today. Total, he added, was finally set at $20,000, but insurance will cover the loss, it is expected.

Fire started from a faulty flue in the big fireplace in the central part of the house, and smoke and water damage was considerable inside the house, with a large portion of new roofing required where the blaze went through the fireplace flue also been revamped, Buske added.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN IS HELD THIS MONTH

Have you heard of cerebral palsy? If you have you may have noticed that much is being done these days to help children who are palsied. You may also have wondered why you hear so much about it now, and never did before.

It is not a new condition. Why the sudden concern about it? That is a story worth telling. It is particularly worth telling during the month of March while the Easter seal drive is on. For Easter seals pay for most all the treatment Texas kids get who have cerebral palsy.

The only new thing about cerebral palsy is that now we know something to do about it. Until recent years, children whose arms and legs went in all directions, and who made weird noises instead of speaking, were hidden away in the back rooms by families who knew nothing to do for them. They were physically helpless, or almost so, and thought to be mentally subnormal as well.

As a result of this treatment, these children grew into completely dependent adults, a burden to themselves and to the community.

Within recent years, we learned that this need not be. Certain forms of exercise, known as physical therapy, given expertly over long periods, will do wonders for these children. Most of them can learn to stand and walk. Certainly, to feed and dress themselves. Then too, they can be taught to speak intelligibly. If they have hearing problems, they can be taught to read lips.

Thus they can become acceptable members of society. They can go to public schools and become educated. Finally, they can learn a vocation within their capacities, and grow into active, healthy, productive adults.

It was four years ago that Texas Society for Crippled Children began its intensive program for cerebral palsied. Seeing the terrific need, for the state at that time had no treatment centers all for these children, the Society allocated most of its funds for that purpose. Today it has 17 treatment centers operating in various parts of the state. As fast as possible, it is planned to open others.

Already, the crippled children's societies have seen hundreds of children leave their beds for wheel chairs, and their wheel chairs for crutches or braces. Many have learned to walk alone.

These societies use Easter seal money to help children with other handicaps too. The orthopedic cripple, the coronary (cardiac) cripple, the child with speech or hearing difficulties — all of these maybe beneficiaries of Easter seals. All of them may not overcome all their ailments completely, but improvement is possible. That's why people all over Texas are using Easter seals, and donating in return. Contributions may be mailed to Crippled Children, in care of your local post office.

The Texas Society for Crippled Children has headquarters at 3703 Worth Street, Dallas. Martin M. Ricker is executive director. Dr. J. G. Flowers, president of the Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, is also president of the Texas Society.

Cerebral Palsy treatment centers are located at Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Waco, Dallas, Port Arthur, El Paso, Ft. Worth, Corpus Christi, Wichita Falls, Greenville, Lubbock, Amarillo, Galveston, Longview, Sherman and Baytown.

It has been estimated that 100,000 farm tractors have been converted to the use of liquefied petroleum gas as a motor fuel.

Just because he's a human dynamo doesn't mean that everything he has on is charged.

VETERAN'S QUESTION BOX

Q — I saw a house I'd like to buy with a GI loan, but the selling price is a good deal higher than VA's appraisal of reasonable value. Will I be able to get a GI loan anyhow?

A — No. The law prohibits GI loans being made on property where the selling price is higher than the VA appraisal.

Q—While in service during peacetime, I was disabled as a result of an aircraft accident. At the time of the accident, I was on duty as flight engineer on the plane that crashed. If I am awarded disability compensation by VA, will the pay be at wartime rates?

A — The answer to this question depends upon the conditions under which you were serving at the time. Wartime rates apply to all service-connected disabilities resulting from conditions simulating war or extrahazardous conditions. Peacetime rates if these conditions are not met.

Q — I was awarded disability compensation a year and a half ago, and recently someone told me he thought I should be getting more. Is it too late to appeal my disability rating?

A—Yes. Ratings must be appealed within one year after they were determined by VA. However, you may file a new application for increased compensation.

SHORT STORY

Once upon a time there was a boy penguin and a girl penguin who met at the Equator. After a charming interlude the boy penguin went to the North Pole and the girl penguin went to the South Pole. Later on, a telegram arrived at the North Pole stating simply: "Come quick. I am with Byrd."

The inspector was extremely annoyed by the amount of noise coming from the adjoining room while he made his usual rounds of the school. Unable to stand it any longer, he opened the door. Seeing one boy taller than the others and talking a great deal, he grabbed him by the collar, dragged him to another room and stood him in the corner.

"Now you stand there and be quiet till I tell you to go back to your room!" the exasperated school inspector commanded.

A quarter-hour later a small head appeared around the door and a small quivering voice asked, "Please, sir, may we have our teacher back now?"

STEEERS MEET HEREFORD TRACK TEAM; SHOW UP WELL BUT WHITEFACES WIN

Farwell's Steers lost but by a narrow margin to the Hereford Whitefaces in a dual track meet here last Thursday. The final score was 79 to 65, and was the first field competition for both schools.

Coach Tommy Hestand expressed his satisfaction with the way the Farwell thinclads were shaping up so early in the season. Although several of the top performers of the Steer delegation were not making marks to equal their best last year, chances appear good that training will move their current performances upward.

Several fans who witnessed the meet were of the opinion that Whiteface Coach Dalton Criswell's boys were able to beat the Steers because of the depth of their team. Points were awarded contestants on a four-place basis, and the Steers would have fared better if a narrower system of point-awarding was used.

For instance, both teams took first place in seven events, but the point-makers for the Whitefaces were their second, third, and fourth-place men, as evidenced by the score of the meet.

This week workouts continued despite chilling northern winds, because the Steers will be host to a three-way meeting Thursday afternoon between Bovina, Lazbuddie, and themselves.

Farwell placed first in the high hurdles, 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, mile, high jump, broadjump, and vault. Hereford took blue ribbons for the low hurdles, 440-relay, 880-dash, 220-dash, mile relay, shot, and discus.

The results of the track meet follow:

Pole Vault: 1st—Gulley (Farwell) 9', 2nd—Nix (Farwell) 8' 6", 3rd—Fields and Culpepper (Hereford), 8'. High Jump: 1st—Christian (Farwell) 5' 8", 2nd—Houston (Farwell) 5' 7", 3rd—Kelley (Hereford), 4th—Pool (Farwell).

Broad Jump: 1st—Pool (Farwell) 19' 1/2", 2nd—Culpepper (Hereford) 17' 6 1/2", 3rd—Houston (Hereford) 17' 6 1/2", 4th—Dial (Farwell) 17' 4". Shot: 1st—Dement (Hereford) 40' 1", 2nd—Janssen (Hereford) 36' 7", 3rd—Corbett (Hereford) 36' 1/2", 4th—Houston (Hereford) 35' 2".

Discus: 1st—Stanton (Hereford) 112' 8", 2nd—Nix (Farwell) 109' 5", 3rd—Engram (Hereford) 107' 6" 4th—Corbett (Hereford) 96' 5".

440-Yard Relay: 1st—(Hereford) (Time 47.7), 2nd—(Farwell) (Time 48.5).

880-Yard-Dash: 1st—Dial (Farwell) 2:21, 2nd—Culpepper (Hereford) 2:22, 3rd—Teed (Hereford) 2:23, 4th—Magness (Farwell).

Mile: 1st—Pool (Farwell) 5:15, 2nd—Axe (Hereford). 120-Yard High Hurdles: 1st—Christian (Farwell) 16.5, 2nd—Houston (Hereford) 17.2, 3rd—Slagel (Hereford) 17.9, 4th—Raney (Farwell) 20.1.

100-Yard-Dash: 1st—Pool (Farwell) 10.5, 2nd—Stanton (Hereford) 10.9, 3rd—Walterscheid (Hereford) 11.0, 4th—Raney (Farwell).

440-Yard-Dash: 1st—Pool (Farwell) 57.3, 2nd—Vaughn (Hereford) 59.5, 3rd—Engram (Hereford) 62.2, 4th—Brooks (Hereford).

200-Low Hurdles: 1st—Kelley (Hereford) 23.5, 2nd—Christian (Farwell) 25.3, 3rd—Dement (Hereford) 27.0, 4th—Raney (Farwell) 28.0.

120-Yard High Hurdles: 1st—Christian (Farwell) 16.5, 2nd—Houston (Hereford), 3rd—Slagel (Hereford), 4th—Gerie (Farwell).

220-Yard-Dash: 1st—Kelley (Hereford) 23.5, 2nd—Fields (Hereford) 24.0, 3rd—Jordan (Farwell), 4th—Rettman, (Hereford).

Farwell Juniors Have Inter-Squad Meeting

Juniors of Farwell Schools were going ahead with plans for a successful track and field season last week, and had an intramural meeting among themselves preceding the Farwell-Hereford thinclad meet last Thursday.

Shelby Jobs, coach of the juniors tracksters, announced this week that they will be in competition against Bovina and possibly Lazbuddie in tomorrow's (Thursday's) meet at the school, and counted last week's sessions as valuable training.

Contestants were divided off into grades for competition.

For the 50-yard-dash (5th and 6th grades): Frankie Coffman, 1st; J. T. Jack, 2nd; Darrell Martin, 3rd; and Arlen Smith, 4th: (No time available).

50-yard-dash (7th, 8th grades): Deon Branscum 6.1 seconds, 1st; Don Gerie, Jimmie Norton, and Don Pool.

75-yard-dash (5th, 6th grades): Frankie Coffman, 11.1, 1st; J. T. Jack, Darrell Martin, and Arlen Smith.

100-yard-dash (7th, 8th grades): Deon Branscum, 11.1, 1st; Jimmie Norton, Don Gerie, and Don Pool.

440-yard relay (5th, 6th grades): Frankie Coffman's team, 65.1. Arlen Smith's team 2nd.

440-yard relay (7th, 8th grades): Deon Branscum's team, 56.3; Jimmy Norton's team 2nd.

60-yard-dash (5th, 6th): Frankie Coffman, 1st; J. T. Jack, Darrell Martin, Arlen Smith.

100-yard low hurdles, 5 hurdles (run by pairs): Don Gerie won over Billy Watts in 15.3; Don Pool tied Jimmy Norton in 15.0; Bert Williams over Jesse Meeks in 15.1; Deon Branscum over Ed Rolland in 17.0.

Athletic Trophies Presented At Texico

Trophies won by the senior and junior high basketball teams were presented to the various teams in a special award assembly recently.

Presentation of the trophies won in the county tournament was made by Agrie Jones, superintendent, in behalf of the Curry County Athletic Association.

The first trophy awarded was to the junior girls who won second place. The next was the second place trophy awarded to the junior boys. The senior girls, who defeated Ranchvale, were presented with the third place trophy.

Senior boys' basketball team was presented the most prized trophy of all—sportsmanship. Before presenting the trophy to the boys, Agrie

WOLVERINES BEGIN TRACK WORKOUTS; STILL HAVE TUCKER AS TEAM NUCLEUS

Jones complimented the team on the sportsmanship displayed by them through out the year.

The third place district trophy was also given to the team, although it had been formally presented at the district tournament to captain, Wayne Tucker.

Wayne Tucker was again recognized by the school for being selected as an all district player.

Individual trophies were then awarded by F. D. Stout to the three boys and three girls who had made the largest per-centage of their free shots in practice for the year. Gold basketballs for first place were presented to Marsha Peterson and W. O. Reid. Silver basketballs for second place went to Margie Reid and Jerry Jester; while third place bronze basketballs were taken by Esther McDaniel and Dee J. Brown.

Steers and Yearlings Will Have Cinder Fest With Bovina, Lazbuddy

The Farwell Steers and Yearlings will be hosts to a three-way track meet tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon, on Farwell Field, coaches Tom Hestand and Shelby Jobs announced today.

The cinder fest which will begin at 1:30, will be the first of the year for both Lazbuddy and Bovina, but the Steers and Yearlings already have the edge on the visitors in experience this season.

Three senior teams will vie for the ribbons tomorrow afternoon, and two—possibly three—junior teams may strain for points. Lazbuddy juniors are the only contestants whose entry remains undetermined.

At any rate, coaches feel that five teams of thinclads should furnish enough excitement for one meet, and have announced that a small fee will be charged for spectators who want to see the festivities.

Senior events will all be standard, but the junior schedule was so varied it is carried here for clarification: 50-yard-dash, 100-yard-dash, 440-yard relay, pull ups (chinning bar), high jump, broad jump, 100-yard low hurdles (special event).

Fifth and sixth grade boys: 50-yard-dash, 60-yard-dash, 75-yard-dash, and 440-yard relay.

Farwell Girls Move to Volleyball and Softball

The Farwell girls, after closing out a successful basketball season last month, have moved into other fields of competitive sports, school coaches announce.

At present, they are occupied in assembling a volleyball team that probably will be used for several school meets this spring. Their chief aim is to capture the title at the Interscholastic League Meet in April.

Coming out for the volleyball team are 15 girls, including Caryetta Grissom, Bettie Foster, Katie Magness, Marcia Foster, Jo Ann Spurlin, Kayla Felts, Sandra Bateman, Bobbie Ann Christian, Jo Veta Billingsley, Ruby Kittrell, Rose Hines, Waynema Cochran, Nelma Branscum, Loueta McKillip, and Delores Goldsmith.

Virtually the same girls will be used for the softball team, officials announced, although softball practice will not begin until more pleasant weather arrives.

Intraschool Tourney Held At Texico

Basketball teams captained by Wayne Tucker and Wayne Breeze tied for first place in an intraschool tourney played between members of the Texico squad during practice the past week.

A double elimination bracket was drawn and each team was chosen by drawing of the captains. The two winning teams had each been defeated once, but no play-off was held because the boys started practice in track.

On Tucker's team were Jesse Cox, Dee J. Brown, Robert Tucker, and Ronald King. Breeze captained Alton Morgan, Buddy Sparks, Kenard Harris, and Vernon Lewis. Jimmy Horton, captain, Andre Palmateer, Stephen Stone, Bill Goldsmith, and Donal Engram were members of another team; while Jerry Jester captain, Arly Crooks, Terry Horton, Richard Hapke, and Ronnie Ferguson composed still a fourth.

The last of the teams was composed of W. O. Reid, captain, Jerial Doolittle, Keith Scott, Gayle Doolittle, and James King.

Rosedale To Give Volley Ball Tourney

Texico volley ball team will enter the invitational volley ball tourney at Rosedale, March 16, according to Fern Stout, coach. Stout reported today that seven or eight teams will enter the tourney to compete for first, second and third places.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gast spent the past weekend visiting friends near Las Vegas, N. M.

The Texico Wolverines, who finished third in Curry County last year and had within their ranks the highest scoring trackster in the county, began workouts last week, under the direction of Coach C. B. Stockton.

Questioned about prospects for a good team this year, the coach was neither optimistic nor pessimistic. While saying that he had little depth in material with which to build a winning track team, Coach Stockton brought up Wayne Tucker, the Wolverines' most versatile athlete in many years.

Tucker last year kept Texico in most of her point-getting meets. He was high individual scorer at the county meet last year, and since this is his senior effort, sports scribes are booking this to be his best season.

Coach Stockton says that he has twenty-four boys coming out for track drills. Most of this number is a carry-over from the basketball season, he says. In Texico's athletic program, it is required that all members of the basketball team also attend track sessions.

April, as usual, will be the big month for the New Mexico thinclads. Texico will enter a meet at Melrose, April 6, will attend the Fox relays in Fort Sumner the following weekend, and will be represented at the Curry County meet April 20. The county meet will be in Clovis this year, Coach Stockton said. District meet will be April 27 at ENMU.

Enumerating members of the team he hoped to develop into point-getters for the Wolverines, Coach Stockton reviewed the following:

Tucker—high hurdles, broad jump, 100 and 200 yard dashes, or the quarter. He will be captain of the team this year.

Jimmy Horton, senior—low hurdles and high jump; Jerald Doolittle, senior—one-half mile; Wayne Breeze, senior—javelin; W. O. Reid, senior, shot put and discus; Alton Morgan, sophomore, and Stevie Stone, senior—utility men.

Keith Scott, junior—mile; Arly Crooks, sophomore—relay man.

Coach Stockton stressed that these positions were not permanent ones, and some of the above named possibly may be used in altogether different categories.

Texico Teams Take Double-Header Wins

Texico's fifth and sixth grade boys' and girls' basketball teams defeated the Pleasant Hill teams in a game on the Texico court Monday afternoon.

In the girls' tilt, the Texico hoopsters downed the visitors 17-7 by a comfortable 10 point margin. Taking an early lead to outscore the Pleasant Hill team 4-0 in the initial quarter, the Texico squad stretched the lead to seven points by halftime to lead 8-1.

Gaining two points in the third period and one in the last the local sextette led 17-7 when the final whistle sounded.

In the boy's encounter, the Pleasant Hill team ran the locals a close race, although Texico led all the way. The Pleasant Hill team came from behind to make it a close 18-17, victory for Texico.

Grade School Meet Scheduled April 6-7

The grade school competitive meet will be held along with the District 10B meet at Farwell April 6-7, according to S. S. Jobs, grade school principal.

Literary events include junior declamation (one boy and one girl); sub junior declamation; ready writing (one contestant); number sense (one team based on enrollment); story telling (one contestant from second or third grades);

Also picture memory (one team based on enrollment, from fourth and fifth grades); Spelling (one team of two members from fifth and sixth grades); Spelling (one team of two members from seventh and eighth grades).

Choral singing and music appreciation will be held at a separate area meet at Canyon.

Athletic events for the grade school include playground ball with one boy's team and one girl's team entered.

Grade school track is also listed. One boy's and one girl's team will be entered in volleyball, and boys and girls singles and doubles tennis matches are planned.

Points will be awarded for each contest, Jobs says. There will be a Class B High School championship and a Grade School Championship. No school may win a championship unless that school places in both literary and athletic contests.

Mr. Jobs states that there are many benefits from the contests at the district meet, but he feels that the greatest good comes from getting a large number of competitors from the local school to enter.

Contestants must be certified by the principal as having passing grades and staying with in the age requirement. To be listed as a junior, students must not have passed their fifteenth birthday on May 1, 1957.

Pupils under 10 years of age are sub juniors.

No points are allowed to sub juniors in all-round championship, Jobs says.

Bovina City Election Is Scheduled April 3

Bovina is getting ready for its semi-annual election which this year will come Tuesday, April 3. City officials last week were busying themselves with securing election supplies for the voting, which will be at the City Hall.

The city government, which is a mayor-commission form will have no members up for re-election this year, it was announced.

Two men have their names on the ballot for mayor: J. T. Hammonds, and S. A. Calhoun. Up for the two positions as commissioners are T. W. Fuller, G. D. Anderson, Jr., Troy Armstrong, and A. M. Wilson.

Present officials are J. W. Kimbrow, mayor, and J. T. Hammonds and J. O. Glover, commissioners. Bovina was incorporated in 1947.

Friona Rejects Bids For Hall Building

Friona's city dads on Monday rejected bids submitted for construction of the proposed new city hall and fire station building, with Roy Wilson, city manager, explaining that the "two bids available were both felt to be entirely to high".

Wilson went on to explain that the plans drawn up for the new building had been figured by experts to cost around $13,000 for the actual construction, while the lowest bid submitted to the officials was well over $20,000, and consequently considered completely out of line.

Re-advertisement for bids on the city's proposed paving program is to be made in the near future, the initial bids having been rejected because of excessive cost, Wilson continued, and it is possible that the city will ask again for bids on city hall building at the same time.

Farwell Outsiders Top Bovina Team

Farwell outsider's basketball team overpowered the Bovina quintet, in their third try of the season recently topping their opponents by a scant 40-35 margin.

The score rocked back and forth with the Bovina group holding a slight 10-8 lead at the end of the first period of play, but competition remained keen and the count was 20-20 by halftime.

In the two previous encounters between the Farwell and Bovina outsiders, Bovina had topped the locals.

Mrs. Jess Newton has been staying in Clovis with her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Hawkins, who is recovering from an operation.

Temple Houston—Son of Raven—Fast on Draw

Long-Haired Attorney Added Color To Southwest Courts

The Attorney for the Defense rose from his place at the counsel table and stepped up to the jury box.

Tall, lithe, dark of complexion, he presented a picture in striking contrast with the others in the courtroom. He wore bangs, and the black hair at the sides of his head drooped to the shoulders.

He unfastened the buttons of his long-skirted coat, placed his thumbs in the armholes of his waistcoat, and surveyed the men before him.

There was a hush of expectancy in the room. One of the most colorful lawyers ever to plead in an Indian Territory or Texas court was about to present his case. He was Temple Houston, youngest son of old General Sam—sometimes called 'the Raven's Fledgling.'

Not Man of Arms

"Gentlemen of the jury," began the long-haired attorney, "my client is not a man of arms. He is not an accomplished gun fighter. He has never before used guns, coming as he does from a far-away state to settle amongst us and become a substantial citizen.

"These are the facts in the case—this lately lamented cowboy who was so unfortunately killed by my client in the protection of my client's life, had the reputation of being a gun fighter of more than ordinary ability. And that, gentlemen is a dangerous reputation!

"All other men fear such a man, and they have a right to fear him. It has been said of the deceased that he could let another man start his draw—that he could even let the other man get his pistol out into his hand—and that he could, even then, draw, shoot and kill his adversary.

Proves a Point

"My client had heard these things, and he feared that gun fighter. I don't blame him, and you don't blame him—for not waiting until that known killer could put a bullet through his heart!"

In the back of the jury box were two or three veneremen, evidently sons of the soil, who did not appear overly impressed; and it was to them that the picturesque lawyer now addressed the fire of his oratory.

"In Oklahoma and Texas," said Houston, "there are men so accomplished in killing that they can place a gun in the hands of an inexperienced man and then shoot him before he can raise the hammer and pull the trigger. Gentlemen of the jury, I will give you a demonstration . . ."

The white hands of the lawyer flashed down from his vest. There was a slight flutter of the long coat-tails—and the calm of the courtroom was shattered as the two six-shooters went into action, one firing toward the jury box, the other toward the bench where sat His Honor.

Jury Scattered

And then a dead quiet—the lawyer standing alone with weapons in hand, a boyish grin on his face as he watched the judge pick himself up from the floor. The jurors, after a time, began returning to the box. There was a purplish tinge noticeable on His Honor's face.

"Mr. Houston," he snapped, "It would seem that you have no respect whatever for this court!"

"Your Honor," said Houston, "I meant no harm. My revolvers were loaded with blanks. It was merely a demonstration to impress the jurors with the speed that can be accomplished by the practiced gun fighter."

And the jury apparently was impressed. Within a few minutes after receiving the judges instructions it returned a guilty verdict against Temple Houston's client.

Asked New Trial

But even that didn't stop the Raven's filed a motion for a new trial—the grounds that the law did not permit a jury to scatter during the hearing of a case, and this jury did scatter!

Eventually, a new trial was granted and the defendant came free.

Temple Houston was a fabulous character. He began law practice at the age of 21 in the Texas Panhandle town of Mobeetie. Later he settled in the Oklahoma Territory town of Woodward—where he was destined to give yet another demonstration of his speed with a gun.

This time it was brought about by a lawsuit involving land, with Houston on one side and two brothers, Ed and Frank Jennings on the other. Argument at one point became so hot that the judge adjourned court until the next day to allow tempers to cool.

He Shot Two

But that night, when Houston strolled into a saloon, he ran into his two opposing attorneys. Ed Jennings went for his gun, and Houston's quick eye detected the move.

"I wouldn't do that, Ed!" he shouted.

But Ed's Colt already was free of the holster and he was raising it.

It was then that Houston gave another demonstration of fast shooting. His gun roared and Ed Jennings fell to the floor, dead.

Meanwhile, Frank Jennings had jumped to his feet and was making his draw, but Houston caught the action and fired again. Frank too, fell, seriously wounded. He later recovered, to testify against Houston for Ed's killing, but Temple was acquitted on a plea of self-defense.

Temple Houston died peacefully in bed at his Woodward home on August 15, 1905.

There have been, in the annals of the Southwestern bar, many unusual figures, but there has been only one Temple Houston. He was 'fluent' with both tongue and gun.

Felix The Firebrand Turned 'Other Cheek'

The wine was going the rounds, and the candidate for the vice presidency of the Texas Republic, as he spoke before the dinner party at Houston that night in 1840, was eloquent.

He said a great many things that were hard to understand, and when General Felix Huston, seated at the speaker's right, rose to his feet a sudden hush fell over the assemblage.

"My dear sir," said the General, "I take it that those remarks were intended for me."

And without further ado the tall soldier reached across the table, seized the neck of a loaded bottle of port and brought it squarely down on the candidate's pate.

That gentleman, taken completely by surprise, slumped to the floor as a wave of excitement swept the hall.

Error Explained

Somebody took the General in hand and made explanations. The General had misunderstood. He had misinterpreted the speaker's remarks. The General, a fair man, was quick to see that he had made an error.

"My friend," he said to the candidate, who was in the process of weaving to an upright position. "I am sorry for what I have done. I misunderstood your speech and I must make amends. And since I struck you, sir, you must, in turn, strike me."

General Felix Huston, quartermaster of the Texas Army, picked up another loaded quart and handed it to his late victim, at the same time bowing his own head.

"Let me have one, sir," he urged, "and lay it on!"

The candidate needed no persuasion. He swung—and although the General was staggered by the impact, he steadied himself against the wall and did not lose his feet.

A Mississippian

That, it may appear, was going a bit far in the interest of fair play, but that was the way with the lank lawyer-planter who came out of Mississippi in 1836 to help the Texans win their freedom fight from Mexico.

He arrived too late for the battle of San Jacinto but he joined the new Republic's army just the same, and became so popular that he was elected a brigadier general.

About 1845 Huston resigned his commission and went to New Orleans to live, but even then he remained a strong advocate of the forthcoming annexation of Texas by the United States.

More fair play

One night, while making a speech on the subject before a large New Orleans audience, he was accused of favoring annexation because he had large land holdings in Texas.

Huston hesitated in his talk, and took a large sheaf of papers from the inside of his coat.

"Here is my answer to that," he shouted, tearing the papers to bits and throwing them to the crowd. "Those documents," he added, "were the titles to all the land I own in Texas."

Felix—who was sometimes called 'the Firebrand'—died shortly before the War Between the States. Otherwise the Confederacy might have gained another Lee or Stonewall Jackson.

Cerebral Palsy Centers Help Reclaim Children

We'd like to tell you a few things about four-year-old Glinda Mae McDonald, the little girl whose picture appears on this page.

Glinda Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. McDonald, formerly of Mineral Wells, but now of Fort Worth, Texas. She is a victim of cerebral palsy, like a lot of other children.

Cerebral palsy is caused by an injury to the brain. Glinda Mae happened to get her injury during birth. Her mind isn't affected by the injury—she is as bright as the next child.

But she can't make her right hand and leg behave as her mind wills that they behave, and she can't speak very well, even though her mind knows what it wants to say. That's what cerebral palsy does.

The McDonald's moved to Fort Worth from Mineral Wells so Glinda Mae could attend the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, one of several in the Southwest.

There are about 70 children more or less like Glinda Mae at the Fort Worth institution. Other treatment centers over the Southwest are handling similar children.

Parents can't go anywhere and buy the treatments these children receive, and if there were places, the expense would be prohibitive to most families.

That's where kind people come in, by putting up the money for the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Centers.

They give money by supporting the sale of EASTER SEALS every year. Thousands are receiving Easter Seals in the mail this month, and you help by putting some money in the envelope sent you and mailing it back to the address given on it.

If you didn't get any Easter Seals through the mail, you can send a contribution to any one of these addresses and you'll be sent Easter Seals:

More Lights Due In New Mexico

The Rural Electrification Administration has recently approved loans totaling $425,000 to two New Mexico cooperatives.

One loan, for $365,000, goes to the Central Valley Electric Cooperative, Artesia, for construction of 62 miles of distribution line to serve 91 new rural consumers, and system improvements including eight miles of new transmission line.

The other, for $60,000, has been loaned to the Kit Carson Electric Cooperative, Taos, for relending to members to finance purchase and installation of farmstead wiring, plumbing, fixtures, electrical appliances, and equipment.

Salt Governs the Feed

Salt has been used successfully to govern cottonseed meal consumption by beef cattle in a series of self-feeding trials at the USDA Station, Woodward, Oklahoma. Preliminary results indicate that it requires one-half to three-fourths pound of No. 4 crushed rock salt to maintain daily meal consumption at desired rates.

Cough Acts As Watchdog

When you offer something to an infant that he doesn't want, he pushes it away with his hand. When you offer something to the respiratory tract that it doesn't want, it tries to push it away with a cough.

If the object settles down someplace in the respiratory tract, despite the rejection, the cough keeps trying to push it away.

May Be Anything

This "something" offered the respiratory tract may be dust, smoke or foreign objects breathed in, gases or fumes in the air, infections or inflammations along the wet linings of the respiratory tract, all the way from the nose and mouth down to the lungs.

Or it may be something in the vessels or organs surrounding the respiratory tract that pushes into the breathing apparatus and makes it think it's got something there it can get rid of by a cough.

What happens when you cough? You might say the coughing signals are called by the diaphragm, that big muscle that lies below the lungs, and above the stomach. This diaphragm probably decides how strong a cough is going to be necessary to throw out whatever the "something" is.

Signal System

So the signals go from the diaphragm to the line, which is the glottis, that space between the vocal cords. They close up.

The diaphragm rushes up, expelling air from the lungs, bronchial tubes and such, the air hits the glottis, gathering pressure as it goes, the glottis opens, the soft palate at the back of the mouth closes off the nasal passage, and anything that gets coughed up lands in the mouth; an anatomical version of "Get out of here with that dum-do-dum and don't come back no more."—Prepared by the Texas Medical Assn.

Womanpower Studied

Prime reserve for recruiting manpower in the event of all-out mobilization would be the 37,000,000 women who are not now employed, declared Frieda S. Miller, director of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. But, she added, "more women can be utilized only if adequate community facilities are provided to ease the burden of housework, to care for children." Women who can work only part-time take non-manufacturing jobs and free others for more critical work.

The Cover

The full name of the Brazos River in Texas is 'Brazos de Dios'—Arms of God—and there is a pretty legend about how it got its name.

It is said that in the early days a party of Spanish explorers, trekking through West Texas, were attacked by hostile Indians. The Spaniards took flight and, coming to a river, splashed across it with the hope of making a stand on the opposite bank.

They were scarcely across when a sudden rise rolled down the stream, isolating the pursuing Indians on the other shore.

It was then, according to the legend, that a priest with the Spaniards knelt on the ground, stretched his hands toward the rushing river, and said:

"I chfisten thee Brazos de Dios—the Arms of God!"

A Study in Contrasts—

Color of Eyes and Hair Should Fit the Wardrobe

COLLEGE STATION, Texas — Do the colors in your wardrobe really "do something for you"?

Nena Roberson, association clothing specialist with the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, says that a person should make the most of his or her skin, hair, and eyes by wearing the colors that are right.

When a color is repeated, Miss Roberson explains, it becomes brighter. For example, a bright yellow dress makes a sallow complexion more noticeable.

On the other hand, a bright blue dress may make bright blue eyes seem dull because the dress over-powers the color of the eyes. A lighter tint or darker shade helps to bring out the color of a person's eyes.

Colors Make 'Weight'

Miss Roberson warns that bright colors and white make a person look larger. Color can even match personality, she believes. A timid, shy person may wear becomingly a slightly dull color trimmed in bright colors.

Blondes should wear colors, the clothing specialist adds, that make their hair seem more golden. Blues, dark greens and violets are suitable in this case.

Redheads should avoid red and red-violet, violet, white, and, in fact, any extremely bright colors.

An olive-skin brunette can be sure of appearing attractive in dark reds, red-orange, red-violet, colorful brown, beige and deep wine. She should avoid bright blues, greens and purples. Pure white and gray or colors lighter than the skin are not recommended either.

The In-Betweens

The clothing specialist adds that "in-betweens", that is, those with fair skin and dark hair with blue, green or gray eyes, or those with fair skin, brown hair and brown eyes, have special colors complimentary to them, too.

The type first mentioned should look for bright green, blues, blue-greens, and violet.

The second "in-between" type should seek dark rich red-violet, red and red-orange, bright beige, brown and eggshell. Colors to avoid would be bright blues and greens, as well as black.

Just to reveal that life isn't all glamor for an actress, this is to show that Louise Snyder is just as hard a worker at home as she is on the set. On second sight it does suggest glamor, partly because of the notable working garb she wears in her domicile.

Lightweight Wool Highlights 1951 Fabrics Parade

Just around the corner now comes colorful, fashion-bountiful Spring 1951—and with her, the most exciting fabric news in many a year: a full-fledged trend to "Cloud-Light" wool.

First of the flower-sprigged seasons in our final fifty years of the twentieth century, Spring 1951 properly makes her mark with something that's really new—a fabulous array of whisper-weight fashions in 100 per cent virgin wool fabrics.

Coats, suits, dresses and costume ensembles—the new fashions arrive in spongy, porous tweeds, feather-light worsteds, chiffon-like sheers—all imparting new sparkle to the fashion scene, bringing new individually to wool.

Though the weight of a cloud is a question best left in the air—"Cloud-Light" seems apt terminology for that special group of lightweight woolen and worsted fabrics weighing an almost incredible 2 ounces a yard to those weighing 9 and 10 ounces. Filmy, transparent dresses and shadow coats for daytime and evening wear make principal use of the 2 to 4-ounce weights.

The 9 and 10-ounce weights appear chiefly in full-length coats, toppers and suits. Favored weights, running the gamut of the fashion field and appearing at all price levels, are those from 6 to 9 ounces.

KEEP AN INVENTORY

Families should keep an inventory of all durable good. In the case of a fire, tornado, explosion or theft, many families do not know exactly what to claim as a loss when the insurance adjuster calls on them.

Garden Hints

Let bricks take care of your plants while you're on vacation. On the bottom of a tin tub, put as many bricks as you have plants. Cover the bricks with water and stand a plant on each. The bricks will absorb enough water to keep the plants in good condition for some time.—Rosalie Nowell, Pa.

An interesting garden light is made with a wide-mouthed glass coffee jar, having a frosted top and bottom and a clear band around the center. There are many types of globe holders the jar will fit into. For an attractive lantern effect, add a guard of sheet metal strips (three-quarters of an inch wide); lengthwise and crosswise about the globe by riveting them together.

"One a Penny, Two a Penny . . ."

Origin of Hot Cross Bun Secret of History

Almost as ancient as worship itself is the hot cross bun.

Although the stories of the origin of these spicy, sugar-coated buns are varied, their association with religious customs has never faltered.

Records claim that Cecrops, legendary Greek hero said to have been the founder of Attica, known today as Greece, offered a sweet bun to the gods as far back as 1,000 B.C. Petrified and perfectly shaped buns were discovered at Herculaneum, destroyed by Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A.D.

The early Egyptians offered buns, bearing two horns, to their Moon Goddess. The early Greeks changed the horn mark to a cross. The Saxons marked their buns with the cross in honor of Eastre, their Goddess of Light. Romans, too, ate crossed bread, buying it at the temple doors.

The Christian fathers adapted the Greek and Roman custom of eating crossed buns as a religious factor in Lenten observance.

In England, which most people consider the native land of the modern hot cross bun, they were designed to be eaten on Good Friday, a fast day. Today, however, hot cross buns are eaten during the entire Lenten period.

Quaint traditions and superstitions still cling to the hot cross bun. In England, it is believed if a hot cross bun is hung in the chimney place on Good Friday, and left there during the entire year, it will bring good luck.

So popular were these buns that a poem was written about them, a

Steeped in Tradition

Mother Goose rhyme familiar to everyone:

"Hot cross buns! Hot cross buns!

One a penny, two penny, hot cross buns!"

This boned and rolled pork shoulder is popular with the cook and the carver alike. It's roasted in a 350° F. oven for finest serving.

Rolled roasts are popular with the homemaker who has limited space for storing fresh meats, with other homemakers because of their trim, attractive serving, but perhaps from the carver of the family comes the highest praise of all.

A boned and rolled pork shoulder is roasted on a rack to keep it out of its drippings as it cooks.

It has been found that a roast is more easily carved if it has been allowed to stand first. Plan your cooking and serving so that the roast will come out of the oven from 20 to 30 minutes before serving.

Short Cuts In Kitchen Art

Hot party drinks for children or alcoholic abstainers are not always easy to find. We like mulled apricot whole fruit nectar, which comes in 12-ounce cans. All you have to do is heat the nectar in a sauce pan, add a bit of honey, then slices of lemon, stick cinnamon, and simmer slowly. Serve steaming hot in mugs.

***

When you're stuffing celery don't forget to use raisins to make a very good-tasting spread: blend cream cheese, lemon juice and mayonnaise to make a smooth mixture and add whole or chopped seedless raisins. Stuff celery with cream cheese-raisin mixture.

***

Have you ever tasted shredded cabbage cooked in canned tomatoes and garnished with ripe olives cut from their pits in large pieces? 'Tis very good—also creamed spinach, and cauliflower with cheese sauce to which good sized slices of ripe olives have been added.

Dust off your very best relish dish and keep it well filled. Guests love "nibble food". Here's a delectable quartet and a colorful one, too: pickled cocktail onions, raw carrot sticks, radish roses and shiny ripe olives. The trick of keeping ripe olives shiny is to roll them in a few drops of oil. The gloss never disappears.

Noodles Are Speedy

Egg noodles make a nourishing and hearty base for many easy main dishes when the homemaker is in a hurry. They rank high as extenders for left over meats and vegetables, too. If perchance you have some turkey or chicken left over, chop about 2 cups of it and fold into noodles with a white sauce. Heat thoroughly in top of double boiler about 7 minutes. If there is no left over meat but a can of table ready meat is on the pantry shelf add it to the noodles and include 1 cup cooked diced celery and ¼ cup chopped green pepper. Heat this Dinner Quickie in the top of a double boiler for about 7 minutes. Either dish will make 4 servings.

Macaroni Toss-Up

A flavorful Friday-night meal featuring Macaroni Toss-Up can be put together and on the table in no time at all. Take two diced hard cooked eggs, a cup cooked peas and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, add to macaroni and cream sauce and heat thoroughly in top of double boiler for about 5 minutes. Serve it with crisp relishes and enriched hard rolls.

COCONUT ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

No creaming, no egg-beating—one easy mixing this Kellogg-quick way!

1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk	¼ cup sugar
1 cup sifted flour	1 egg
2½ teaspoons baking powder	2 tablespoons soft shortening
	¾ cup shredded coconut

1. Combine All-Bran and milk in mixing bowl.
2. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into same bowl; add sugar, egg, shortening and ½ cup coconut. Stir only until combined.
3. Fill greased muffin pans ¾ full; sprinkle with remaining coconut. Bake in preheated moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 10 medium muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Meat Cookery

Veal Steak

Veal steaks and chops always should be braised (cooked in a covered skillet) rather than fried or broiled. After browning the floured or crumbed steaks, they may be cooked in tomato sauce or sour cream in a covered skillet for about an hour. To prepare that popular dish, Wiener Schnitzel, add some chopped onions and lots of paprika to the sour cream. Braising makes veal steaks and chops soft and tender. Frying or broiling tends to make them dry.

Fish supplies the same high quality protein that is found in other meats and is an easily digested food. Most fish provide the consumer with vitamins A and B and the salmon and mackerel also contain the recently discovered vitamin D.

GRITS AND CHILI

To cold grits add GEBHARDT'S Chili con Carne with Beans. After mashing the beans with a fork, shape into patties and fry. Hominy grits are wholesome, nutritious and economical. GEBHARDT'S Chili con Carne provides good lean meat, rich in protein value and a delightful 'South-of-the-Border' Chili flavor. Every member of the family, including the children, will appreciate this delicious combination that is so economical for a main supper dish . . . and which is so easy to prepare.

A QUICK LUNCHEON SURPRISE

For a quick, snappy snack, place GEBHARDT'S Hot Tamales in a pie tin. Cover with chopped onion, canned tomatoes or tomato sauce, and grated cheese. Slide into broiler, and when cheese is melted . . . presto! . . . a luncheon surprise. But be sure to use GEBHARDT'S Hot Tamales; because they are made from good U. S. Government inspected beef and pork, and are firm and round. They do not break or crumble in cooking.

GLORIFIED BEANS

Here's a quicky that will come in handy when you are pressed for time. To a can of GEBHARDT'S Chili Beans, add a can of GEBHARDT'S Sandwich Spread. Mix thoroughly with chopped onion. Heat and serve with a crisp green salad. It makes a delicious dinner and costs so little. Economy is now a by-word in so many kitchens, but food value must not be overlooked. GEBHARDT'S Chili Beans are lightly seasoned with GEBHARDT'S Original Chili Powder.

SPICE IS THE VARIETY . . .

It is said that 'variety is the spice of life'. But, spice adds variety in foods. With GEBHARDT'S Chili Powder always on hand, you have, not only endless variety in every-day meals, but you have a spice with an inimitable flavor. I often use it to individualize the flavor of deviled eggs, salad dressings, hash, soups, and—but, let's see how many ways you can find to use its distinctive flavor and bright color in your cooking. Remember, however, to get genuine GEBHARDT'S Chili Powder, for it alone offers that true Mexican flavor and American quality.

Hybrid Onions Now Make Bow Commercially

After 25 years of work by plant breeders, the hybrid onion is definitely moving into the commercial field.

In 1944, small quantities of seed and bulbs were released by the government to seedsmen and state agricultural experiment stations. The result, has been the development of a number of hybrids that are now appearing from commercial sources.

Some of them look very good, and seed of a number of them is listed in the 1951 catalogs. As new improved onion breeding lines are developed by the government, they are distributed to seedsmen in lots of a few hundred seeds to speed the development of more and more hybrids adapted to various areas and conditions.

Successful hybrid onions are not always so classified because of greater yield. Yields vary with type and location. A hybrid that matures a month ahead of a standard variety cannot be expected to give as high a yield but there are other advantages.

Farm Beasts May Turn Drug Dopies

STILLWATER, Okla.—Is there a drug addict running loose on your farm?

It's possible, says D. H. I. Featherly, Oklahoma A. & M. College botanist. He explains that an animal may develop an appetite for certain species of poisonous plants and eat them in preference to others.

"This is sometimes true in Loco weed poisoning," he said. "Certain animals in the herd develop a perverted appetite and actually become 'drug addicts.'"

TOP FARMER—Billy Paul Russell, 17-year-old FFA'er, has a lot to smile about, as who wouldn't when he's raising Jerseys like this registered cow. Billy, who lives near Pittsburg, Texas, is building up a herd of dairy cattle like this on a 68-acre farm that wouldn't grow weeds a few years ago. Now, thanks to soil conserving methods, including the planting of lespedeza, Billy has more than a dozen cows and a registered bull.

A bull on a farm near Brookville, Ohio, was born with four eyes, four horns and two noses. Two eyes are in normal positions another in the forehead below the horn and the fourth on top of his head. Two of the horns grow properly out of the forehead and the two others from each side of the head. He breathes with both noses.

Crops Near Record

The crops raised in the U. S. in 1950 were the third largest on record. They exceeded the average of the last eight years, when the nation's agriculture spilled forth its greatest bounty in history.

Lots of Fertilizer

Although over 13 million tons of fertilizer are being spread annually on U. S. farmlands, fertility is still being lost through leaching and erosion 10 to 20 times faster than it is being replaced.

Pictorial Cowboy Document Memorializes Old-Timers

'The Cowboy', a pictorial documentary of a vanishing American figure—the old-time 'puncher' of the Southwest—has just been issued as an original publication by Garden City Books (New York).

Illustrated with photographs by the Life photographer, Leonard McCombe, 'The Cowboy' tells the story of C. H. Long, a real working cowboy who is top hand on a famous old ranch in the Texas Panhandle. The book is the product of months of work by McCombe and John Bryson, a native Texan who did the research.

The JA Ranch, which provided

Wool Use Increase

American mills have been using more wool for weaving into clothing fabrics than they did last year, according to the U. S. Agriculture Department's Economics Bureau. An increase of about 16 per cent is indicated. Wool imports are expected to double those of last year.

New Cotton Figures

The government is turning up some interesting figures for cotton farmers.

Studies show that 155 man hours are needed to produce a bale of cotton with one-row mule-drawn equipment and hand chopping and picking, whereas if production was completely mechanized time would be cut to only 10 hours.

Studies are designed to determine the degree to which it pays farmers with varying operations to substitute more mechanized equipment for those currently used.

the background for The Cowboy, is a 1000-square-mile cattle empire spreading so far over the Staked Plains that the cowhands rarely see its borders.

For uninterrupted months at a time, the cowboys live in the saddle and follow the chuck wagon about the open prairie.

C. H. Long, according to Bryson, "belongs to an older era of cattle-ranching. The business is getting mechanized; on many other ranches cowboys commute daily to work by pick-up truck, dress to look like movie stars and generally get married."

None of these new ideas has overtaken C. H., who is single, lives out on the range almost all year and is master of all the crafts a cowboy must know."

McCombe is a 27-year-old English photographer who has been on the staff of Life Magazine since 1946.

Hens Work Hard; We Appreciate It

Hens are doing right well this year, and people—American people, that is—are showing their appreciation. They are consuming the hen's product at almost a record rate, U. S. Department of Agriculture records show.

As spring approaches, there will be even more of this versatile product, the egg, for people to appreciate. Pullets by the million are joining the production line.

Results: Lower prices, better bargains in protein. And, thrown in for good measure, iron and some other minerals, and at least four vitamins in important amounts.

The protein in eggs is what the nutritionists call an "efficient protein," that is it does a fine job of building and repairing body tissues. To make the most of this opportunity for better diets, the Production and Marketing Administration points out, all we need to do is to eat more eggs.

Which-Away Did That Stream Go? Cards Will Ask

The Texas Game and Fish Commission, abetted by the Navy, is sending out a new type postcard—by direct water route.

Several thousand postcards, each sealed in a plastic container, are being dropped into the Gulf of Mexico by U. S. Naval aircraft. Called "drift cards," they will carry the following wording, written both in English and Spanish, since many will probably be recovered in Mexico:

"NOTICE TO FINDER: These cards are being used to study the currents of the Gulf of Mexico. Please remove from plastic and fill in blank spaces. Mail every card you find. No postage needed in U. S. In return, you will be told the time and place of their release."

New Cotton Stripper Now Getting Test In Oklahoma

CHICKASHA, Okla.—A new, "all-Oklahoma" cotton stripper is a real prospect for helping "King Cotton" along the comeback trail in the state.

The stripper is the brush-type machine devised under Oklahoma A. & M. and U. S. Department of Agricultural auspices at the Oklahoma Cotton Research station near Chickasha. It is slated for extensive tests in 1951.

Cotton Harvest

Cotton's comeback, if it develops, will be no small achievement. The state has not harvested as many as two million acres of cotton since 1937.

And average yields have been over 200 pounds of lint cotton per acre only seven times since 1909.

But there's no disagreement among

Oklahoma cotton authorities that application of the latest methods can get the job done.

Mechanization of cotton production and harvesting, to lower costs per bale, is part of the answer, it is believed.

And the stripper, judging from experiment station tests, is practical on many Oklahoma farms.

The brush-type stripper features five-foot rolls made of the same kind of fibers that go into many household brushes. The rolls revolve as the stripper moves down the row and strips the cotton from the stalks.

Stripper Advantages

Chief advantage of the brush-type stripper is that the fiber brushes are flexible enough to handle large as well as small stalks.

Plenty of Pintos For New Mexico

Pinto beans are one of the best buys among protein foods at New Mexico markets at present. Homemakers who want to keep food expenditures low during this period of increasing food prices might well consider this inexpensive source of protein in planning the family meals.

Serving pinto beans with small amounts of milk, meat, cheese or eggs furnishes necessary protein to the diet. The high-quality protein of the cheese, milk, meat and eggs supplements the incomplete proteins in the beans, thus making the protein more valuable.

A nationally known farm machinery manufacturer has constructed several experimental models of the stripper and will test them on farms in cotton-growing states.

Bing's About As Casual As Cat Playing With A Mouse

Bing Crosby is about as casual in front of a camera as a cat that feigns indifference while playing with a mouse. Thus another Crosby legend goes into limbo.

It has sometimes been said that Bing glances at a script, wanders onto the set, says the first thing that comes into his mind, and charms his way through the scene with his easy nonchalance. The charge also has been made that he just doesn't care.

James Vincent, Paramount dialogue director, gives the lie to the legend. He has worked with Bing for the past eight years as well as with many other top stars.

"He's thinking every minute," said Vincent, "and he's far from indifferent. He does change lines, but it's not because he's forgotten or doesn't care. He's trying to make them better."

"The amazing thing," continued Vincent, "is that almost every time Bing makes a substitution it is better than the original dialogue for him. The extemporaneous lines supply naturalness and spontaneity to the otherwise studied, letter-perfect performance!"

Set-workers on Frank Capra's "Here Comes the Groom" at Paramount are constantly wondering what variation Bing will give to the dialogue in any scene.

Even Horses Get Hollywood Broken

When it comes to working in movies no horse can compare with a Hollywood nag, according to Robert Ryan, who recently returned from Kanab, Utah, with Claire Trevor, Jack Buetel and Robert Preston after filming location scenes for "Best of the Badmen."

"Horses trained to work in films," said Ryan, "aren't bothered by gunfire, large crowds, the noises of truck motors and public address systems. But the Utah cow ponies we had to ride have none of these qualities. We spent more time fighting in our horses than we spent fighting the picture's villains."

Lloyd Introducing New Leading Lady

In RKO Radio's "Mad Wednesday" Harold Lloyd, as in so many of his earlier starring vehicles, has a leading lady who is a newcomer to the screen.

She is Frances Ramsden, a former Conover model without previous acting experience of any kind.

Her debut will be watched with interest in light of the fact that Lloyd launched, among others, such stars as Mildred Harris and Jobyna Ralston.

VAN JOHNSON, next to wanting to fight a bull sometime has had a secret desire to sing the Toreador Song from "Carmen." He gets his wish in a dream sequence from his forthcoming picture, "Grounds for Marriage."

Film Stardom Path Lined With Vicious Paradoxes

This complex old world is packed full of paradoxes. Consider this one. Your chances of stardom in movies are best if you've made a hit on the New York stage . . . and your likelihood of top billing on the stage is greater if you're already an established movie player.

Each somehow promotes the other. Take Laurence Oliver, for instance. He made a dismal showing during his early years in Hollywood two decades ago. Couldn't get a part in anything better than a series of quickies filmed as lower halves of double bills.

Then he won stardom in the theater and lo! Hollywood brought him back to headline such films as "Wuthering Heights."

Offers Pour In

Or newcomer Charlton Heston. Heston received critical acclaim for his minor roles in a succession of New York stage flops. Producer Hal Wallis thought the lad had merit and tossed him into the top spot opposite Elizabeth Scott in "Dark City."

Since the film's release, Heston says he's been showered with offers by Manhattan theater producers who all want him to star in their forthcoming productions. He used to have to bribe secretaries to get into these same producers' inner sanctums.

Vicious Circle

Jan Sterling, the wide-eyed blonde who teams with Ray Milland and a cat in the Perlberg-Seaton laugh riot, "Rhubarb," tells much the same story.

She's a veteran of 17 Broadway shows, including "Born Yesterday" and "Panama Hattie," but she used to have to fight for every role she got. Now that she's a screen star, however, every day's mail includes bids from this producer and that producer to topline forthcoming Gotham shows.

"It's a vicious circle," argues Miss Sterling, no slouch at logic.

Jon Hall who is starring in "China Corsair" takes time out to read his SOUTHWEST MAGAZINE. Buddy Mason, our Hollywood correspondent, who arranged this specially posed picture for Southwest, writes, "Now here's a pair of stars if I've ever seen one!"

Cartoonists Agree

Sir John Tenniel's famous cartoon drawings for "Alice in Wonderland" are being used as inspirational models for the film version of the Lewis Carroll tale which Walt Disney is producing.

A 10-year-old Philadelphia schoolboy in compiling a notebook on Greece, wrote the Greek Ambassador in Washington indicating that perhaps that dignitary remembered when he, too, was stymied as a youth in school. The Ambassador sent him literature on his country, which enabled the youth to get a mark just short of excellent.

GAS PERILS ACTOR

Move Over—Baton Rouge! Make Room For Bastrop!

BASTROP, La.—Largest "town" in Louisiana undoubtedly is Bastrop, and that's no joke—according to the local newspaper, The Clarion.

Here's how that journal explains the claim:

"No, of course we don't mean that our town is larger than New Orleans, Shreveport, Baton Rouge, Monroe, Alexandria or what have you (although it's probably a BETTER town).

"You see, there's a state legal provision to the effect that all municipalities with populations not in excess of 1,000 will be classified as villages; that all municipalities with populations between 1,000 and 5,000 will be classified as towns and that all of them with populations in excess of 5,000 will be classified as cities.

"Certainly—we know that the 1950 census figures show that Bastrop has a population of 12,775 and under those provisions should be classified as a city, but here's where the rub comes in.

"Back many years ago the Town of Bastrop was incorporated under a special charter from the state. That charter called the municipality a "town," and it must remain a "town" until the phraseology of the charter is changed."

Tucson Fiesta To Revive Drama of Historic Days

Tucson, fabulous old city in the heart of Arizona's famed Santa Cruz Valley, a spot first visited by the Spanish missionaries in 1691, will show off its 250 years of history in a two-week fiesta starting Easter Sunday, March 25 through Sunday, April 8.

The city for weeks has been preening for what its Chamber of Commerce calls "its role as cultural capital of the Southwest," and has arranged a program of pageantry which will cover every phase of Tucson's colorful past.

The Festival will include music and dancing of regional nature, folk song recitals, art and handicraft exhibits, excursions to historic sites and Indian reservations, and outdoor gatherings in the desert.

Visitors will be welcomed by more than 200 hostesses in the colorful dress of the area. Mexican and cowboy bands will play in the streets and cafes, and there will be exhibitions of native dances put on by Apache, Papago and Yaqui Indians.

Highlight of the final day will be an epic play based on historic conflicts between the Indians and the white settlers, a drama written by Oliver LaFarge, renowned expert on Western Indians.

The Southwest's Own Architecture

For 2000 years the Southwest has been the scene of a continuous building tradition—from the cliff houses and pueblos of the pre-Spanish Indians, through the period of the missions and presidios, down to the modern cities and highways of today.

Trent Elwood Sanford has wrapped up the story of all this in his new book, The Architecture of the Southwest.

In telling why our Southwestern housing is what it is today the author never gets technical. Instead, he presents his architectural whys and wherefores through a romantic historical account of the people and culture of the various periods—Indians, Spanish and American. Mr. Sanford, a practicing architect, must have put years of research into his work.

Here's Fun For Teen-agers - - Fixing Up Old Lampshades

Don't throw out that old lampshade!

A little ingenuity and very little strain on the purse strings can revive it into one almost as good as new.

Decorative motifs taken from seed catalogues or pieces of left-over wall paper will conceal soiled spots on old shades, thus prolonging their life and helping the family budget.

Just cut out the most colorful blooms, brush the back of each with vegetable glue and paste over the soiled area. Then give the entire sheet a protective coat of clean varnish.

If a shade is beyond repair, recovering the frame is a simple matter when you remove the old shade with care, using it as a pattern for the new.

If you prefer to fashion your own lamp paper, obtain some heavy art paper at the stationery store. Treat it with a mixture of one part linseed oil and one part turpentine.

Then place the art paper on some old newspapers, brushing first one side, then the other, with the mixture. The desired effect should be uneven and slightly mottled. Hang the treated paper on a clothes-line to dry.

After it has thoroughly dried, fasten the new shade to the frame with clothespins, starting, not at the ends, but in the middle of the shade. Clip the paper at top and bottom, coming last to the seam where the ends should overlap.

You are now ready to sew the paper to the frame, using a heavy needle and bright yarn.

What's Happened to Spelling?

Go To Foot Of The Class Prof. Tells New Generation

Where's that old blue-backed High school students today don't spell as well as those in their parents' schooldays, a survey conducted by Prof. Fred C. Ayer shows.

Dr. Ayer included the same six familiar words in his 1950 survey of U. S. high schools as were used in surveys in 1915 and 1925. Results indicate a general decline in the percentage of pupils spelling the words correctly.

In 1915, for example, 100 per cent of ninth grade pupils tested spelled "trouble" right. In 1925, 95 per cent spelled it correctly, and in 1950 only 91 per cent could spell the word.

Dr. Ayer blames the decline in spelling ability on decreased emphasis on spelling in the elementary grades and lower average mentality of high school pupils. The latter is explained by the fact that nearly everyone goes to high school now, in contrast to earlier years, he said.

The elementary school trend to let pupils learn spelling incidentally as they study other subjects has kept them from developing a technique to learn to spell new words and from mastering many so-called elementary school words essential to high school spelling needs, Dr. Ayer claims.

He advocates new and better methods of teaching high school spelling, including use of a specialized spelling textbook and definite emphasis placed upon spelling as a separate subject.

They Use Water, Too

Tom Stays Home, But Ranges Far On Movie Films

Tom Higgins has been in a dozen films, yet has never been outside of the state of Arizona.

Actually, Tom has appeared in many more pictures than some of Hollywood's well known actors. He has just completed a role as a Confederate soldier with Ronald Reagan and Rhonda Fleming in Pine-Thomas' "The Last Outpost," on location at Tucson.

It all started ten years ago when he got a job as a player in a film being made outside Tucson. Ever since, he has gone all over the state, wherever Hollywood sent a troupe to do a picture.

He is now packing his bag to head for Sedona, Ariz., where Nat Holt will soon start "Fort Savage," and is confident he'll get a role.

What's Score With Junior

Conducted by Editors of Book House Plan for Child Development.

Q1. It is important that a child's parents, "really want him." (True or False).

Q2. Should parents allow their pre-school-age child to play with other children in different homes in the neighborhood or community where they live?

Q3. Even the pre-school-age child should be allowed to choose his own friends. (True or False).

Q4. Too many toys and other material possessions (a) confuse a child and causes him to lose his sense of values; (b) make him feel more loved and wanted than children who are given fewer things by their parents. (Select one).

Nature Facts For Small Fry

Sheep often are used as "lawn mowers" on golf courses and at country homes. They can crop the grass much closer to the ground than cows can.

* * *

Wild turkeys like to roost in the trees but they always make their nests on the ground. They live on seeds, berries, nuts and insects.

* * *

Geese like grass. They are put out to pasture just like cows, and when grass is plentiful they need no other food until shortly before they are taken to market.

* * *

Robins like cherries but like mulberries better. If trees of both kinds stand close together the robins will eat the mulberries and leave the cherries alone.

* * *

Humming birds makes their winter homes in Mexico and Cuba, but start flying north about the time the first fruit trees bloom.

* * *

Sponges are animals that live on the ocean floor, but they do not look like the sponges we use until they are dried in the sun.

* * *

The starfish is a strange thing. When it is hungry it opens its mouth and its stomach comes out to feed. When it is through eating it goes back inside.

* * *

The flounder is very peculiar. After it is hatched it looks a lot like any other fish but as it grows its eyes move across the head until they are both on the same side. And they stay there.

* * *

Turtles sometimes live to be more than 150 years old. A snapping turtle can cut off a man's finger with just one easy bite. Turtles have no teeth but their jaws are as sharp as razors.

* * *

The Burrowing Owl lives in the ground, usually in holes that are dug by animals such as the prairie dog and the badger. There are more than 20 different kinds of owls in North America.

Weighing the Pig

Pigs of 200-pound weight usually fit current market demands better than 250-pounders, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A ton of livepork in 200-pound lots includes less low-priced and a higher proportion of higher-priced lean.

Outdoor Notes For Sportsmen

By JOE AUSTELL SMALL

Fishing season is almost here, so I'm going to give you a tip that will save you some disappointments this spring and summer if you do much fishing.

There are utterly tons of fish wasted yearly because of spoilage. One of the most common problems of all fishermen is keeping fish after they catch them. Heres how:

Clean fish as soon as possible. Be sure blood is removed from along backbone. Wash and then dry fish with cloth. Be sure it is thoroughly dried. And do not allow water to come in contact with fish again.

Carry a roll of parchment paper. Roll each fish individually in this waterproof and airproof paper and tie the ends securely with string. Roll all small packages of fish into one large bundle using blanket of several thicknesses of newspapers.

Keep in dry, cool place and do not open bundle until fish are to be used. By using this method, fish can be kept upwards of a week in warm weather and will remain fresh and sweet. It is one of the most valuable tips I ever ran across.

Toothy Fellow

The walrus uses his large tusks to mow down or tear aside the great fields of seaweed among which he finds his shellfish prey. They also enable him to clamber up on blocks or ice and climb upon rocks and icebergs. Occasionally, they are used as weapons of defense.

Binocular Shortage

I am told by those who should know that all signs now indicate a binocular shortage in the not too distant future. During the last war those who had binoculars were asked to loan them to the armed services.

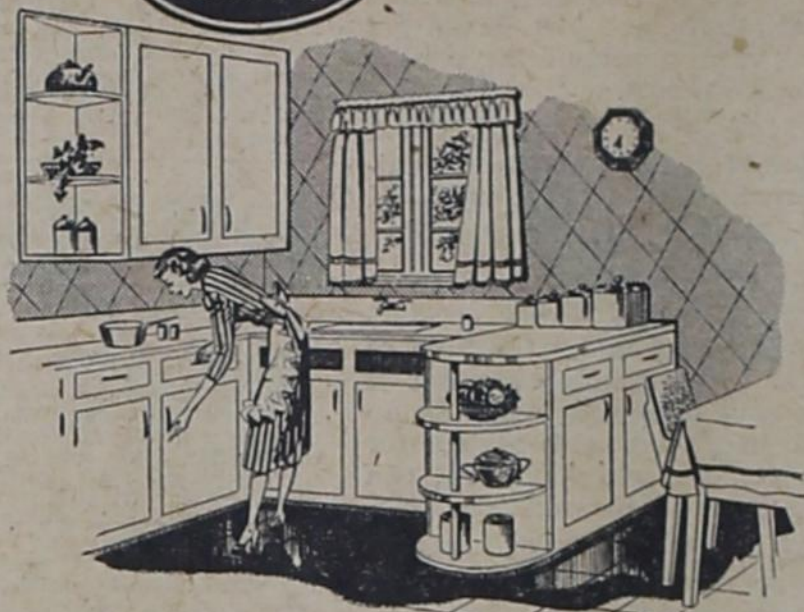

This probably won't happen any time soon again; however, if you plan on getting binoculars within the next year, better get them now.

Just finished reading a powerful little book. It's called "How to Select Binoculars" and it explains the various powers, field of view, "exit pupil," types of focus, lenses, technicalities.

You can get it free, as long as they last by dropping a card to D. P. Bushnell & Co., Dept. ON, Bushnell Building, Pasadena 1, Calif.

What About Basketball Rules?

Cager Coach Defends Slow Break

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — What about this slow break style of hardwood play that is drawing criticism from some quarters in the basketball world?

Coach Woody Clements of the New Mexico Lobos has had a few words to say on the defensive side.

"It would be ridiculous to try to legislate the controlled ball system out of college basketball," Clements contends.

"In the first place, what could a team do, whether they play fast or slow break, if they have a one point lead in the last minute of play but try to control ownership of the ball? And how can the referee determine when the players are working the ball in and when they are stalling with any degree of certainty?"

Clements ridiculed the idea that crowds dislike seeing slow break teams in action because the game tends to drag.

"The slow break is more scientific if its played right and the action, if not as fast, is more interesting to the basketball fan," he agrees.

"Some of the opponents of the slow break seem to have confused it with the old zone defense system of some years ago. Zone play is out as far as I'm concerned since I'm sure there's nothing duller than watching the offense and defense glaring at each other from opposite ends of the floor."

Chief argument for the slow against the blazing fast break, Clements feels, is that the material at the coach's disposal should be used to its greatest advantage.

"If a coach has a bunch of boys who are fast on their feet and can run all night, its obvious that he can make a good fast break team out of them, but if his boys, without being fast, can think on their feet and control the ball through teamwork instead of speed, he'd be foolish to try to force them to play a fast style for which they are physically unsuited. Its like a one-armed man taking up the bow and arrow because the experts insist its better than throwing rocks—it may be, but how's he going to shoot the darn thing?"

Clements disagreed with the current demand for a set of new rules to govern college cage play. He said:

"The rules we have are fine, and the last thing the sport needs is a bunch of new ones. What we really need is better interpretation of the rules we already have."

FISHERMAN in this case is interested in going after the trout in this stream because he's Clark Gable, enthusiastic sportsman. His wife, Sylvia, can take it or leave it. Scene is the Animas river in the Colorado Rockies.
