Franksters got the jump on hal-low'en stunts at Longview, Texas, the other night when they placed a sign on the front window of a funeral home, which read, "We give S & H Green Stamps."

And speaking of trading stamps, I am reminded of the fight that is being made against the issuance of these tokens by many of the merchants over the country. It begins to appear that all forms of trading stamps are on their way out. Talked to a merchant the other day, and he told me that trading stamps represented not less than 2 per cent of his net profits, which is quite an item on a year's business.

A merchant that does a business of $35,000 during a year is giving away a total of $1,700 in stamps, which could represent a nice profit.

Frankly, I don't like these high winds any more than the rest of the people who live in this section of the southwest. But I got a new slant on this wind business the other day when I read in a magazine that residents of the industrial east often prayed for winds.

Smoke, smog and fog hover over the thickly populated industrial centers to such an extent that many residents become ill and often die for the lack of pure air.

When we consider this, maybe we can be a little more tolerant when the wind blows and the sand swirls.

From reports in circulation and actions already in evidence, Farwell and Bovina are soon to see a number of new homes under construction. Some three or four new homes are in the process of construction in Bovina at this time, and reports indicate that not less than a half dozen are in the offing for Farwell.

Last week the city council of Olton came out with a 2-column explanation of a proposed bond issue in that city in order to give the town better fire protection and to expand the water facilities. The Olton city dads gave a detailed explanation of the proposed bond issue, letting the people of the town know just what the city was up against and what to expect should the bond issue be defeated, and also what to expect in the form of increased taxes should the issue be adopted.

They talked frankly, with no details left under cover and no cards up their sleeves. They took the people into their confidence and laid all the cards on the table, faces up.

I like their frankness. Too often men in authority take the position that they are elected to run things to suit themselves and have the attitude of "the public be damned".

Rarely do misunderstandings occur when the people have been correctly informed about affairs that directly concern them and their pocketbooks.

"Give the people light and they will find their way," is a motto that needs to be applied in dealing with the affairs of the public.

Often a good, worthy and badly needed project has been voted down simply because the public has not been properly and adequately informed.

Local residents felt a sense of pride this week to note that Paul Crume was now writing a column in the Dallas Morning News.

Paul, a former local lad, and son of Chas. Crume of this city, got his first newspaper experience on the State Line Tribune as cub reporter while a student in high school. He has been with The News since graduating from Texas University some years ago. Lately he has been assigned to the night desk. Beginning the first of the week, he was given a column on the front page of the southwest's greatest newspaper, under the heading of "Big D."

HOME FROM OKLAHOMA

Mrs. Ed Blain returned home Sunday from Mountain View, Okla., where she had spent three weeks in the home of her mother and father. She said that her father, who is 93 years old, sustained a broken hip recently, but had been permitted to leave the hospital and was at home doing very well. Her mother, age 82, suffered a heart attack just last week. Mrs. Blain said that she planned to return to the home of her aged parents in the next few days.

From Newfoundland

Capt. Carthon P. Phillips, son of Mrs. Kate Phillips of this city, arrived in Farwell Monday for a short leave with his mother. Capt. Phillips is stationed in Newfoundland, and is home for the first time in 1 1/2 years. Enroute to Farwell, he visited shortly with Dr. and Mrs. Bill Roberts, in Dallas.

Capt. Phillips is an alumni of Farwell High and former student at Texas Tech college in Lubbock. He entered the service in September, 1940.

Machinery Here For Paving City Streets

Edgar Martin, member of the E & E Contracting Co., of Alpine, stated Tuesday morning that part of the machinery to be used on the Farwell street paving program had arrived and the remainder of the equipment would be here before the close of the present week.

Tom and Bud Bridgeport, engineers for the E & E Co., have been here since the first of the week, establishing grades and setting stakes for the five-block loop in the south part of the city, which will be the first program to be undertaken.

Martin said that he would move his equipment to other jobs "as they become available," which is another way of saying when the contracts are in hand along other streets in the town.

He said that he felt certain that First and Second Streets would be paved, and he added that other paving projects were being considered. He expressed the hope that at least one or two east-west streets would come into the program while his equipment is on the grounds.

Palmateer Case Is Continued by Judge

After spending two days, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, taking testimony in the Ralph Palmateer vs. Della Light et vir Travis Light case, Judge E. A. Bills continued the hearing until Friday of this week.

Judge Bills stated that he was due to hold court in Tulia on Friday of last week, when testimony in the Palmateer hearing will be resumed.

Grandchild Of Local Woman Dies in Calif.

Robert Andrew Williams, three years and four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Williams, Del Paso Heights California, passed away in that city, February 5. Funeral services were held the following day with burial in the East Lawn cemetery.

The child is survived by his parents; two sisters, Ellen Elizabeth and Susan Elaine, and his grandmother, Mr. R. E. Williams of this city.

Francis Announces Coming Farm Sales

Orval Francis announces three farm sales, which are slated for the next few weeks. Roscoe A. Burris and Francis will have a sale on the Burris place on March 4, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. Col. Dick Doshier is auctioneer and Vernon Symcox is clerk. They will sell an entire dairy herd, horses, hogs, furniture, and some farm machinery.

On March 11, a general farm sale is planned on the Thad Watkins place northeast of Farwell. Doshier is again auctioneer and Francis and Symcox are clerks.

Doshier and Emmett Cross will be auctioneers and Francis will clerk, when a half section of land is sold north and east of Littlefield March 3. Some farm machinery and equipment will also be sold.

600 Members Goal of Farm Bureau

Texico Triples March of Dimes Quota

Featured by a box supper last Friday night that netted $488, the Texico community more than tripled its quota for the March of Dimes campaign, Mrs. Perry Crawley, community chairman, reported today.

Originally, Texico had been asked to contribute at least $200 to the fund, and when all contributions were compiled the first of the week Mrs. Crawley said that the total would exceed $625.

"I am mighty proud of the showing our community made and I want to thank those who made the drive such a wonderful success," Mrs. Crawley said.

With only a small crowd present at the box supper, bidders were very generous with none of the boxes selling for less than five dollars, ranging upwards to $25. Coin collectors at the school and in the business houses helped swell the total with the fire department chipping in $25.

"I am overwhelmed at the success of the Texico drive," Mrs. Kem White, county chairman of the Polio Foundation told The Tribune in a long distance telephone message, congratulating the people of Texico.

Col. Dick Doshier, local auctioneer, had charge of the sale of the boxes at the auction sale, which was held at the school auditorium.

No Quarantine On Cattle Movements

Harry Whitley, local cattle inspector, stated today that as yet there had been no quarantine placed on the movement of cattle to and from Farmer County, due to the outbreak of anthrax in some herds in the Texas Panhandle.

Whitley said that the only restrictions placed on the movement of stock applied to the movement of dead carcasses across the state line into New Mexico for processing purposes. In recent years local stockmen have disposed of their dead animals by having them picked up by a processing plant in Clovis, Whitley explained, and added that such movements are not permitted at this time.

No Farmer County herds have been affected with anthrax up to this time, Whitley said. The nearest affected herd is in the eastern part of Castro County he said.

City Makes First Payment on Bonds

The first payment on Farwell's $40,000 sewer bond issue was made the first of the week when City Treasurer R. W. Anderson drew a check on the city for $5,200 which represented the first annual payment due on the bond issue.

Anderson said that the payment represented a payment of $4000 on the principle and $1,200 interest. He said that this initial payment was made possible by the prompt payment of city taxes when they were due the first of the year. Only a few delinquencies remain on the city tax rolls, he said.

The Security State Bank of this city, bought the sewer bonds when they were issued a year ago.

Says Fuller Family Has Received Much Financial Aid In Fight Against Polio

"To my own certain knowledge the Polio Foundation has spent between five and six thousand dollars in an effort to help Roy Fuller," Mrs. Kem White, Curry County Chairman of the Polio Foundation, told The Tribune in a long distance telephone message Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. White said that she was not complaining, but she felt that The Tribune had been misinformed about the case. She had reference to the story carried last week in this newspaper in which it stated that Fuller, a polio sufferer, and his family had been neglected.

Mrs. White said that the Polio Foundation maintained Fuller at a Plainview hospital for ten months at an expense of $14.50 a day. On another occasion his hospitalization at El Paso for a period of three weeks, at an expense of $9.50 per day, was paid by the Foundation.

Street Paving Gets Airing At Meeting

With a good representation present Monday evening in the county court room, street paving in Farwell loomed as a very definite possibility, with prospects of getting at least three north-south streets paved, with the added possibility of a 12-block loop to run by the school buildings.

With little likelihood of getting additional paving work done on Third Street, attention was turned to other projects.

The meeting endorsed a project that would ask the State Highway Department to connect New Mexico Highway 348 along the state line with Highway 70, running from the southwest corner of town, via the school property, thence north along Sixth Street.

A committee was named to contact the Highway Department with reference to this project, and this committee made plans to go to Lubbock Wednesday to confer with S. C. McCarty, dist. highway engineer.

Edgar Martin, one of the members of the firm of the E & E Contracting Co., addressed the meeting and explained the details of getting street paving in the city. He said at the conclusion of the meeting that prospects for paving Second Street were very favorable and he felt that this project would be carried out.

Prospects for a 20-foot paving slab along First Street were shoved to the forefront with the announcement of Gene Lovelace that he would donate $3000 to this project. Lovelace even went further and offered to give that amount toward any other project in the city, provided the State should take over the First Street paving.

Business and residents along First Street, contacted Tuesday morning, expressed the opinion that the street would be paved.

With Third Street already partially paved with a 16-foot slab, and the five block loop in the south end of town already definitely assured of paving, it appears that Farwell is in for a real paving program during the next few weeks.

DHIA Names Three High Dairy Herds

Three high herds in Farmer County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of January, were owned by Humphrey and Ells, Humphrey's Dairy and Leo Witkowski. Two were holstein herds and the other was shorthorn.

In the monthly report of the association, facts were also given on high cows in milk production. Humphrey and Ells owned two of the top animals and Humphrey's Dairy had five animals listed. The remaining three cows listed, belonged to Witkowski.

For butterfat production, however, Witkowski led the group, with five animals listed. Humphrey's Dairy had two cows that were tops in butterfat production, and Humphrey and Ells owned one. Also listed as high in butterfat production was a Guernsey cow, owned by Joe Harbin.

About five meteors strike out Earth's atmosphere every day.

Box Supper Friday Night Nets $85.00

The FFA and the FHA classes of the Farwell school sponsored a box supper at the auditorium last Friday evening, which netted $85 for the two classes.

Funds derived from the sale of the boxes will apply on two school projects. The FFA class will use the money to apply on a film projector, and the FHA class will apply its proceeds on a curtain fund.

Raymond Martin acted as auctioneer. Following the sale of the boxes, Mrs. Robert Morton was awarded a new bath robe, or dress to be made by the home economics girls, and Leamon Stancell drew tickets entitling him to a free haircut, a wash and grease job, an oil change, a sack of flour and a free dinner.

Getting Ready For Road Construction

County Judge A. D. Smith received a letter from Resident Highway Engineer W. H. Garrett on Wednesday asking that work be started immediately on clearing the right-of-way along the farm-to-market road from Oklahoma Lane to 8 1/2 miles north of Bovina.

Garrett said that the contract for the construction of the new road was scheduled to be let in Austin on Feb. 20, and that he expected the successful bidder to move in at an early date to start work.

Judge Smith said that fences along the route would have to be moved back and that phase of the work would begin at once.

Fire Threatens Home Of School Teacher

Fire threatened one of the Farwell school teacherage houses, occupied by Mrs. Dorothy Jack, Wednesday morning, resulting in only a small amount of damage.

The bathroom door facing and some of the sheetrock on both sides of the wall were burned, and a large dresser was burned considerably.

Firemen speculated that the fire started from an electrical extension cord which had been knotted and looped over a nail in the wall.

No one was at home when the flare-up occurred.

B. N. Graham, local insurance agent, said today that an adjuster had already satisfied the loss, which amounted to "about two hundred dollars."

Enters Guilty Plea To Drunken Driving

Neal Faulks of Friona, entered a plea of guilty in county court here Wednesday noon to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and was assessed a fine of $100 and costs. His driver's license was also automatically revoked for a period of six months.

The charge against Faulks grew out of a car collision on Highway 60 in the city limits of Friona Sunday afternoon, in which three automobiles were damaged.

According to Billie Joe Mercer, driver of one of the cars, Faulks rammed into his car from the rear as both machines were traveling east. The impact against Marcer's car caused his machine to swerve from the highway and ram a third car belonging to Dale Tolley, which was parked in front of the Villa cafe.

Faulks is reported to have suffered a slight head injury and was taken to the Farmer County Community hospital, just across the street, for treatment.

Spellina Bee To Be Staged In Bovina

A group of Farwell grammar school students will participate in a county spelling bee in Bovina February 27, Kenneth Fields announces, although selection of representatives has not been made.

Three top spellers in the county will then participate in the West Texas Spelling Bee in Amarillo on March 8 at the Herring hotel in Amarillo, and the West Texas champion will be sent to the National spelling bee.

Farmer Farm Bureau members put their annual membership drive on the road Tuesday morning, and set for themselves a goal of 600 members. The drive will culminate at Lazbuddie Monday night when results will be announced at a party. "Cotton" John of KGNC in Amarillo will be a special guest.

On Tuesday, members of the Farm Bureau held a drive over the entire county, with 10 teams contacting farmers. A total of 16 workers brought in 205 memberships during the one day.

Highest team according to the Tuesday report was Henry Hasehoff and Charles Christian who obtained 48 members, 23 of which were new ones.

Last Monday night at the Legion Hall in Farwell, an excellent attendance was attentive to the instructions given them by Bureau leaders. Carl Schlenker, Rhea, heads up the entire drive, and commands a legion of 10 directors from Farmer communities.

These directors include Earl Stevenson and Aubrey Ellison, Bovina; Walter Kaltwasser and Vernon Symcox, Farwell; T. E. Lovett, Bill Buchanan and Joe Scott Menefee, Friona; Melvin Sachs, Rhea; and J. J. McDonald and Jimmie Seaton, Lazbuddie.

Hadley Reeve, secretary for the Bureau, was toastmaster for the kick-off banquet, and Judge A. D. Smith introduced the speaker for the evening, Judge Otha Dent of Lamb County.

Judge Dent warned that farmers came perilously close to losing the 4-cent rural gasoline rebate, lateral road funds, and other important rural rights during the last legislature, and pointed out that the real fight had not begun.

"Because of the re-districting in Texas," he explained, "metropolitan areas have gained three seats in the legislature to every one for rural West Texas. This means that 'big city' voting can be expected to control the legislature unless the farmers are efficiently organized."

The visiting Judge admonished Bureau members to keep their eyes open during the coming year, and make it their business to let the farmer's representatives in Austin hear from them.

Referring to legislators from metropolitan areas, Judge Dent commented, "They don't care about our needs out here. They advocate legislation that would turn the 4-cent rebate into funds for their own purposes."

Judge Dent reiterated his point of farmers keeping in touch with their representatives. A lethargic attitude of "Let John do it" will not get the job done, he said.

After the guest speaker concluded his talk, it was announced that prizes of hats would be awarded members of the teams in the drive that secured the most new members.

Among guests at the meeting was Rep. A. J. Rogers of Childress, who made a short address. He was accompanied by his father, who was also a special guest. Mrs. Florence Grover, mother of Mrs. Walter Kaltwassers, was also present, and made a short address. Mrs. Grover, who lives in London, England, has been visiting her daughter and family here for the past few months.

Other guests included a quartet from Dimmitt, who sang several old-time religious songs for the group.

Dinner for the meeting was served by members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Menu consisted of chicken and dressing topped with giblet gravy, baked potatoes, green beans, celery, cranberry sauce, french bread, cherry cobbler, and coffee. A George Washington theme was carried out in both the menu and decorations.

Each table featured an arrangement of greenery interspersed with cherries, with small hatchets to complete the theme.

Assembly Program Is Planned on Exploring The Marine Underworld

Marguerite Soule Shoemaker, one of the world's foremost naturalists and a recognized authority on deep-sea life, has thrilled audiences from coast-to-coast with her strange adventures far beneath the ocean's surface, a publicity release says. She will present her program at Farwell schools, Feb. 29 at 9 o'clock in the morning.

A charming personality, a dynamic speaker, Marguerite Shoemaker carries her audience with her through each dramatic experience. Strange, fascinating marine life holds new interest as she weaves her magic spell.

A noted authority on the psychological development of various forms of sea life, Mrs. Shoemaker has spent 18 years investigating the smell, hearing and emotional reactions of deep-sea creatures. Each year she spends several months exploring the ocean depth for new material. The remainder of her time is spent filling the many demands for her services as a speaker.

One of a few women deep-sea divers, Mrs. Shoemaker became interested in diving because she wanted to be a more effective life saver at the swimming beach where she worked. Her interest in aquatic life has been passed on to her son who is assistant oceanographer at the University of Miami.

Five cases of interesting and unusual specimens of marine life collected during her 18 years of underwater exploration are exhibited in connection with the program. Included in the fascinating display are such aquatic oddities as seahorses, cowfish, octopi, porcupine fish, moray eel, star-fish, gorgonias (sea fans) doctor fish, scorpion, queen trigger fish, queen angel fish, pork fish, green parrot fish, trumpet fish, flying gurnard trunkfish. Mrs. Shoemaker's diving equipment is also included.

By-Product Feeds May Become Important

Grain sorghum by-product feeds—sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal—may become important in the rations of livestock grown in Texas, County Agent Joe Jones says. These feeds have been available for only three years.

Grain sorghum made up about 30 per cent of the total grain grown in Texas from 1941 to 1950. In 1950 it made up nearly 50 per cent of the total grain produced in the state.

One reason for the increasing importance of grain sorghum in Texas is its expanding industrial use. The grain now is being processed in a manner similar to corn.

Sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal are by-products obtained when sorghum grain is processed for starch, sugar and oil. These feeds are offered for sale as "milo gluten feed" and "milo gluten meal."

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a series of feeding trials from 1947 through 1951 to determine the value of these by-products. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, poultry, sheep and swine were fed in the tests.

"Grain Sorghum By-product Feeds for Farm Animals," B-743, a new bulletin released by the Experiment Station, discusses the feeding value of sorghum gluten feed and sorghum gluten meal. This bulletin is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Farm Income In Texas Increases

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Farm income in Texas during the first 10 months of 1951 averaged 27 per cent more than the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The October index was 29 per cent above that of September, statistics reveal. Research indicates inflation rather than a good crop year was responsible for the greater farm income.

During January-October, 1951, cumulative income from marketings of calves, as compared to the same 1950 period, was up 128 per cent; cattle, 57 per cent; wool, 56 per cent; eggs, 41 per cent; grain sorghum and poultry, each 39 per cent; hogs, 29 per cent; cottonseed, 28 per cent; and cotton 24 per cent.

In the same comparison, rice income was down 11 per cent; flaxseed, 95 per cent; wheat, 51 per cent; and peanuts, 39 per cent.

CARLOADINGS GIVEN

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending February 9th, 1952 were 24,619 compared with 21,583 for the same week in 1951. Total cars moved were 37,278 compared with 30,911 for the same week in 1951. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,518 cars in preceding week of this year.

Familiar Facts For Faculty Fans

By Bobbie Williams

F. D. Stout is principal of Texico and the gentleman thus designated to wield the 'board of education.'

Stout has been teaching five years, all of which have been spent at Texico. He has a B. S. Degree from New Mexico A & M and has 12 hours of graduate work.

Grady is Mr. Stout's home town. After graduating from high school there, home entered West Texas State College for three semesters, then transferred to New Mexico A&M for two semesters. Upon graduating in 1947, Mr. Stout came to Texico to teach.

Stout has been married nine years to Oleta and has one son, Roger Dale.

A most unusual fact is that our principal is not sensitive about his age. He very willingly told this reporter his age, who, through respect to elders, will not print it.

In the past Stout has taught Vocational Ag, science, chemistry and general science. This year he is teaching biology and journalism. However, girls' athletics has been taught by Stout for the past five years.

Stout knows a great deal about discipline after spending from 1944 to 1946 in the army.

After 30 years of teaching, Agrie Jones, superintendent of Texico, states "Although teaching is not a job that pays off in money, it definitely has advantages in that you form some friendships that are very close and lasting."

Jones has spent the last three years teaching at Texico. He received his B.A. Degree from Highlands University of New Mexico and has a Masters Degree from West Texas State.

Floyd, New Mexico is Mr. Jones's home town. Here he grew up with the prairie dogs, coyotes, and rattlesnakes.

Jones was married to Elva in 1925 and has two daughters, Lona Mae and Gerva, and one son, Monte.

Jones, by his own admission, has never excelled in business education and music; these being the only two subjects that he cannot remember teaching. This year he is teaching geometry, physics and algebra.

An interesting fact about Jones is that his one aim in life and teaching is to make better citizens of his students.

"Good Luck" Theme For Jr.-Sr. Banquet

"Good Luck, Seniors!" was the theme of the Junior-Senior banquet given Thursday night in the Student Union Building on the campus of ENMU at Portales.

Good luck theme was carried out by horse-shoe token on the programs, golden horse-shoes extending from the centerpieces, and a reading and son about the lucky wish-bone.

An appropriate valentine theme was used for the nut cups and place cards. Menu for the banquet featured baked ham with hawaiian sauce, pineapple juice, sweet potatoes, green beans, rolls, jello salad, ice cream and cookies.

James King, president of the junior class, served as toastmaster for the evening. E. U. Scott, instructor at Texico High School, gave the invocation. Jo Sandra Magerus gave the welcome address, and the response was given by Kennard Harris, senior class president. Chorus of junior and senior girls sang "Sunny Side of the Street" and "We'll Meet Again". Doris Leavelle gave a reading entitled "Merry Thought"; and Bettye Bridges and Anita Brown read a wish for the seniors made by each of the teachers, after drawing them from the Wishing Well.

The hilarious part of the program was Fern Stout, Curtis Miller, and Carl Schmitt, pantomiming the song, "Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar."

FFA Farming Projects Given

Member of the FFA and agriculture classes now have a chance to look back and see how much they progressed in 1951. There were thirty-three boys who together had forty-four enterprises. Some of the boys who had farming programs did not complete them, for various reasons.

Since the past growing season was unfavorable, three boys reported losses.

Beef seemed to have returned the most profit. There were seven members who, together, had twenty-one head of cattle including steers and breeding stock. The net profit in the beef projects was $1,667.33.

Swine ranked second with twenty-eight members and a net profit of $1,006.43.

Dairy ranked third with four members giving a net profit of $336.80.

Crop enterprises consisted of forty-seven acres which was made up of ten acres of cotton, and thirty-seven acres which was made up of ten acres of cotton, and thirty-seven acres of grain sorghums. Because of a poor growing season there was only a net profit of $79.05. The cotton crop was a total loss as it was ruined by hail early in the season.

All boys had an average net income of $94.17. Some farming programs were composed of more than one enterprise, thus creating a better balanced program. Farming programs of this type returned profits that ran into the hundreds of dollars.

Ronald King had the outstanding farming program for the past year. His programs and other outstanding qualities won him the State Farmer Degree which is the highest award given by the state association. Ronald also received a chapter star farmer key from the national FFA foundation.

All members are looking forward to better farming this coming year. Several farming programs have been enlarged and new enterprises added to existing programs.

Weather forecasts are said to be accurate.

CELEBRATE SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. J. F. FOSTER

Reception Honors J. F. Fosters On Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

"I never did think much about it, but although it hasn't all been roses, we've had a very pleasant 60 years together," Mrs. J. F. Foster states, in regard to she and her husband celebrating their sixtieth anniversary. "We've had lots of pleasure and lots of heartache," she continues.

John Franklin Foster and Margaret Hammonds were married at Calico Rock, Ark., Feb. 21, 1892. Mrs. Foster was 18 and her bridegroom was 23. She was a native of Arkansas, and he of Missouri. Asked how they met, Mrs. Foster related that they attended school together. She was only 7 when his family moved to that section of the country and the two young people grew up together. They began going to parties together. They began going to parties to be married. For her wedding, the bride chose a powder blue dress trimmed in navy with of lace and frills. Asked if she still had the dress, Mrs. Foster quipped, "No, I was practical and made a baby dress out of it several years later."

The young couple farmed in Ark. for a year, then moved overland to Collin County, Texas. The young couple and their tiny baby were on the road 21 days in a covered wagon. It was in December and "it got pretty cold," the local woman says. Snow fell as the wagon moved out of Arkansas. All of the Foster belongings were in the conveyance, which was drawn by three mules.

Mrs. Foster remembers one incident on their trip to Texas, that still gives her a helpless feeling. The wagon was to cross a river in one place. Since it was very heavily loaded, she decided to get out and walk across to lighten the load. The baby was asleep in the back of the wagon. The mules then backed the wagon into the river, and the water was just on the verge of creeping into the wagon where the child was. "I was scared to death and couldn't do anything to help," the mother says, "but the baby didn't even wake up."

When the Fosters arrived in Texas, they rented a farm near Weston, Texas, and stayed a few years. The family then moved to Oklahoma, where they bought a farm. This trek was also made in a covered wagon, and three children made the trip with the couple. "I guess we had our time of pioneering," the local woman says.

The family stayed in Oklahoma for 21 years, but when things became so congested there, Tom was ready to move to West Texas for a "free breath". He was also interested in getting grass. The Fosters then came to Oklahoma Lane, and resided south of where they now live, on what is now the Bandy farm. At that time, there was a little one room schoolhouse, and Miss Erma White taught all grades. Within five miles, there was another small school, and upon consolidation of the two, the former Oklahoma Lane school originated.

"There wasn't a church or anything when we came to this country," Mrs. Foster adds. They helped to organize the first Sunday School at Oklahoma Lane, and local preachers were present for services. Eventually, the community was able to have a building for services.

Asked to relate one of their happiest moments, Mrs. Foster told of the church which the couple helped to organize in Oklahoma. Worship services were held in a half dug-out with logs for benches, and small children were placed on blankets at the back of the church.

"When we first came here, there were only two houses between ours and town, and in Oklahoma, our closest neighbor had been five miles away," Mrs. Foster states. And she adds, that Farwell has really changed. Hardly anything is the same.

The Fosters retired a few years ago and lived in Clovis. But two years ago, they moved to a small home located next door to the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. C. Christian. They have retired and are taking it easy, as Tom is now in failing health. The Fosters are happier in Oklahoma Lane, where they are closer to the children.

All of their five children reside in and around Farwell, except Ernest, who lives in Clovis. Other children are: Tom Foster, Mrs. C. C. Christian, Mrs. L. M. Grissom and Will Foster. There are 27 grandchildren; and 25 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Foster remarks that her husband told her recently, "My goodness, 60 years is a long time to live with one woman." Her answer, "It hasn't been any harder on you than me."

As she reminisces, she adds that their years of marriage don't seem like such a long time looking at it one way, but when they begin recalling incidents, it does.

"If we had our sixty years together to live over, we could see some of our mistakes, but we did the best we knew how at the time and we were happy. So we don't feel like we were failures," Mrs. Foster concludes.

Reception Given

Unique and informal, was the party given for the Fosters in commemoration of their anniversary at the home of their eldest daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom, the past Sunday.

The house was made festive with the many flowers presented the couple by friends. On the register was an arrangement of white carnations tipped with silver, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Billington; a potted plant on the piano from Miss Jennie Bolton.

On the small table by the chair on the small table by the chair where Mr. and Mrs. Foster were seated, were huge yellow mums, a gift from the Oklahoma Lane Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gettys sent flowers which were placed on the desk. The centerpiece for the serving table, an arrangement of silvered white carnations with white rosebuds, from which extended the letters "60", was a gift of the Foster children. Mr. Foster's gift to his wife on their sixtieth anniversary was a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Theme of the program for the evening was "When You and I Were Young Maggie." The entertainment was arranged by the grandchildren. Rebecca Foster played the theme song on the flute, accompanied by Miss Bettie Foster on the piano. Phyllis Christian then read "My Grandmother", which was especially written for the occasion by Louise Christian. Bettie Foster and Miss June Christian, accompanied by Miss Carvetta Grissom, sang "Sweet Sixteen", after which Mr. and Mrs. Billie Foster gave a skit on "How We've Lived Together." Then all the grandchildren present, sang the theme song, Misses Christian and Grissom furnished background music while Miss Foster read "Beyond the Sunset" to conclude the program.

The serving table was laid with an imported linen cutwork cloth, with a crystal punch bowl, and a coffee service at one end, and a three-tiered cake at the other. The white cake was decorated in a soft blue icing, the same colors used at the wedding of the couple 60 years before. The center arrangement was white carnations given by the children.

Mrs. C. W. Grissom presided at the guest register. Mrs. Tom Foster received guests at the door; Bonnie Warren served cake to the guests; and Mrs. K. G. Grissom served punch and coffee. Miss Lola Grissom was in charge of the gifts.

Preceding the reception, Mrs. C. C. Christian pinned a corsage on her mother; and Tom Foster presented his father with a boutonniere. The children's gift to their father was a gold knife and chain, and the mother was given a gold necklace.

Over 100 guests attended the celebration.

Mrs. Clyde Magness then presented a look in the future, adding points on what it takes for a good PTA, and listing the home, the church and the school.

The second grades of the school, under the direction of Mrs. Lenton Pool and Mrs. L. E. McDrmitt, instructors, then gave choral reading, closing their portion of the program with an impressive "Prayer Song", where they closed their eyes and clasped their hands in reverence.

W. B. Gummell, pastor of the Lutheran church at Lariat, gave the opening prayer for the meeting.

Mrs. McDrmitt's second grade won the room prize for having the most parents in attendance for the meeting and hosts served homemade pie and coffee. Hosts included Harold Carpenter, Sterling Donaldson, Leon Billingsley, Rev. Mayo D. Carpenter, Gene Rea, Doyn Merri-man, Alton Berry, Turner Paine, D. K. ## LETTERS from Our Readers

Texico, N. M.
Jan. 1952

Dear Hop,

I would feel very ungrateful to you, your paper, and many of my friends if I didn't write this letter of thanks.

Several have said "Uncle Les, we are proud of the fact, since reading your ad in the paper, that we trade in Texico-Farwell," and they were not all my customers.

One business man, Ben Smart, called me on the phone, and for the nice things he said, he will never know how much I appreciated that call. It repaid me for the price of the ad many times.

It has been asked by five people, if it is true that in over five years, I have lost only $43.30 with the credit I have given. Its the truth!

Here is my motto in business as well as life, "When some one asks me for credit, that I do not know, I investigate his credit rating. If he is no good, that is the end. I know how to say no. If it is good, we have an understanding. I tell him to investigate me, that is just as important that he be sure that I am deserving of his business as I am of his. That way we have placed a position of trust in one another. In other words, we are partners in business. You must have confidence in one another. And once in a while, get him by the hand and tell him how proud you are to have him as a customer. It makes you both feel good.

There are two classes of people that I sure want their friendship and good will, that is the young and the old. If you get those two, don't worry about those in between.

I hardly ever see an old mother or dad that I don't think of my own, who have passed on to a better world. And as I look back, I can see the small things I might have said or done, to make their lives more pleasant, so if yours are lying, you have time, don't waste it.

To the young—I have never seen a boy I didn't like, am a little parshal to boys, guess it is because I don't have any of my own. Let me be closely associated with a boy for two weeks, and we are partners for life. I give him to understand that his mistakes are mine. I have been through these things and know better, and pass on my experience to him.

In all my experience with boys, and I have had many, your boys, not mine, I have had only two, that ever betrayed a position of trust that I had placed in them. Instead of getting mad and have nothing to do with him, I put my arm around his neck and said, think nothing of it son. You know a long time ago, I was a little boy just like you, and I did things like that, but tried never to do it twice. Never has a boy done me wrong the second time, and we were closer friends than ever. A boy or girl has to know you trust them, before they are going to trust and respect you, this will work on grown ups to.

Just these few words and I'll be going.

If you are not affiliated with your home merchant, go down and get better acquainted with him and remember, it's a mark of distinction to be seen trading at home.

By now, (Uncle Les) Means Texico, N. M., who treats you like he likes to be.

Caprock Milo Gives Big Yield, Jones Says

Caprock milo produced the highest average yields in in the grain sorghum variety tests conducted at Lubbock on dryland, 1947-50, and on irrigated land, 1948-50, Joe Jones, County Agent, says.

These tests, conducted at the Lubbock unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, included 21 commercial varieties and experimental strains of grain sorghum.

Caprock was outyielded on dryland by an experimental selection of Plainsman, which ranked fourth in the irrigated tests. An experimental strain of Combine kafir produced the second highest average yield under irrigation, followed by Combine kafir-60.

On the average, irrigation increases yields by approximately 110 per cent, according to E. L. Thaxton Jr., argonomist with the Lubbock substation.

Thaxton reports that, when normal seeding rates are used, the late maturing varieties have a higher average yield than those of medium or early maturity.

A summary of these variety tests is given in Progress Report 1422, available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

This report gives separately the results of grain sorghum variety tests conducted at Lubbock in 1950, along with the characteristics of each variety and strain such as days to bloom, percentage lodging, height, threshing percentage, test weight and moisture percentage.

Jane Gallagher Gives Tribune's First Report On Winter Olympics Epic in Oslo, Norway

This is the first time The Tribune has been able to offer its readers the services of a "foreign correspondent," but that's what we have available this week, and we hope for several weeks to come. Jane Gallagher, Friona student in Norway, has agreed to attend the Olympic Games in Oslo and to report to her friends here in the States how they are progressing.

Strictly speaking, she does not write a news story, but her comments come in the form of a letter to her parents, the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meyer of Friona.

The Winter Olympics are now in progress, and although we read day-by-day current accounts of their progress, the Friona woman gives the report a personal touch that is refreshing.

—Editor's Note.

Dear folks,
Here is a pair of "Aerograms", couldn't get all I want to say in one. In regard to the Olympics in which much of the world is interested, I saw the trail jumping at Holmenkollen on Sunday. I practically froze to death, but it was worth it. Was it cold? I'll say it was, Whew. A "mere" fifteen degrees below zero and that at "centigrade" figures too.

It looks to me as the Norway has a good chance to walk off with at least three of the top honors in the winter games which open this week; that is jumping, speed skating and the down-hill skiing. I saw Aren Hoel jump seventy meters with the weather all against him, heavy snow and a strong wind against the jump. His jump was mighty close to the record.

As I see it, Hjalmar Anderson is tops in speed skating. He has already broken the existing speed records for the 500 and the 10,000 meter races and this official times too. The downhill course from Norfjel is the toughest in all the world, they say.

The Norwegians ski from the time they are mere kids. The Tom Mustad Ski-Skole" starts youngsters at 2 and 3 years of age. You see boys of 5 and 6 on skis that are already veterans" and at 7 and 8 they start jumping.

The Norwegian kids are plucky and cute as "buttons". I saw a 10 year old take a bad spill, saw him carried off on a stretcher, and then to my amazement saw him on the course again in twenty minutes. Everyone here takes to skiing. There is no such thing as clearing the streets as they leave the snow right where it falls and just ski and I do mean ski.

I found out why the city planning board left the greenbelts all around the city. It is so the business men can ski to work in the mornings. About nine you see them scrambling into their skis and taking off down the hills.

From the opening of the winter games this week and on through the rest of the games, the Olympics will make Oslo the center of the sports world. Its great to be here right now and from now on.

Lions Hold Meeting, Minstrel Is Slated

Highlighting the business session of the regular Lions Club meeting the past Thursday night were preliminary plans for presentation of a spring minstrel show by local members. Boss Lion Wesley Foster announced today.

Scripts have been secured, and actual work on the minstrel is slated to begin in the near future, Foster added, with the presentation date some "six weeks or more" in the future.

At the Thursday night meeting, special guests were the girls quartet of the Friona school, composed of Donna Miller, Gay Ann McFarland, Joyce Miller, and Denise Magness. The girls offered several vocal numbers.

Members were also reminded that at the next meeting, February 28th, Boyd Meador of McLean, Texas, district governor of Texas, Lions, will be the visiting speaker, and a good attendance for the coming meeting is urged.

Cage Season Ends Here, Teams Enter Tourney

With conclusion of conference play Tuesday night of last week, the Friona Chiefs and Squaws will be engaged in district tournament play this weekend at Bovina, the initial games for both teams coming off tonight (Thursday).

Playing last week, the boys took their conference match from Vega, 45-37, while the girls lost to the visitors, 36-41, coaches reported today. The Chiefs have a 5-5 standing for the season, while the Squaws have won four games, losing six.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the squaws meet Lazbuddie in their first game of the district meet at Bovina, while following them the Chiefs meet Bovina, taking the floor at 9:45, Coach Raymond Cook said today.

Bovina is currently at the top of the heap in the girls' ratings, while the Adrian boys' squad is heading that division. Conference play during the season counts one-half toward the district title, with the tournament outcome carrying the other 50 percent of the honor.

Should there be a tie between the contestants for district title at the end of the tournament, a play-off game will be Saturday of this week, as tourney play ends Friday night and Saturday is the final date when play-offs may be held, Coach Cook added.

Retail Credit Bureau Is Organized Locally

Mrs. Lucy Jones announced this week that she was "getting started" a Retail Credit Bureau office, to be operated here, and added that memberships from merchants were being obtained the first of the week.

Some thirty members are expected to avail themselves of the information available to the Bureau, Mrs. Jones said, adding that a sliding scale of charges would be made per month for the various-sized businesses. Members wishing information on credit of individuals can check with the Bureau at any time, Mrs. Jones said, with no additional fee being made. However, extensive written reports, required by some dealers, will cost per report.

The Bureau is located in the office of the Chamber of Commerce in the Friona Legion Hall.

Special Meeting Is Planned For Tonight

A special meeting, beginning with a covered dish supper at 6:30, is planned for tonight (Thursday) at the local Methodist Church, it was announced by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Tidwell.

Planned primarily for officers and teachers, the finance committee, and board of stewards, the evening will be devoted to "passing on" information obtained by local representatives at the district training school for Sunday School workers, held the past week at the Hereford Methodist Church.

Rev. Tidwell, in speaking of the meeting tonight, said "We hope to offer information from the Hereford school to various teachers and other members of the church who were not able to attend the sessions, with a view to working out some of the newer details of Sunday School work in our own church."

Sessions at Hereford were held Monday through Friday nights of last week, with some ten local representatives receiving certificates for work when the final meeting was held on Friday night.

"The Hereford training classes were very interesting and well attended in this portion of the district," Rev. Tidwell said today.

SPEAKS AT MEETING

The pastor of the Congregational Church, George E. Meyer, was the speaker for the Woman's Fellowship meeting of the church Wednesday, Feb. 20, giving some "Personal glimpses of Toyohiko Kagawa, pronounced by many as the 'number one' Christian of the World."

First-Blasted Walls Come Tumbling Down

The brick shell which once served as an attractive exterior for the Friona high school came tumbling down last week, as razing operations on the fire-gutted building were carried out under the direction of BMFP, contractors for construction work on the new school building.

Crewmen arrived on the scene some few days ago, and actual work began the early part of last week, although little progress was visible to the casual onlooker until Thursday, when the standing walls were brought down by the workmen.

Officials of the school said that none of the brick would be used in construction of the new building, as laboratory tests had proved there was not sufficient strength in the brick to make it trustworthy. However, a good deal of lumber can and is being salvaged by workmen, with Doc Ratliff, foreman of the crew, remarking with a grin that "This is the first time I haven't had my carpenters grumbling about green lumber."

Work is expected to progress at a rapid clip, barring weather difficulties, as materials for the new building had been stockpiled in Lubbock by the contractors for some months before actual work was begun.

New Locker Plant To Be Opened By Crow

Additional freezer locker space will be available to Friona residents within a short time, with completion of a unit by W. S. "Red" Crow, local slaughterer.

Crow has maintained lockers at the back of the Corner Grocery in downtown Friona for some time, and was formerly connected with the Friona Locker Plant, now operated by K. T. Thornton.

He has been engaged in doing local slaughter work at his butchering pens just south of town, across the railroad tracks, and recently erected a building in conjunction with the slaughtering house, which has been equipped for installation of the freezer boxes. A total of some 70 boxes will be available for patrons.

Coming Plans For Church Are Given

The Reverend George E. Meyer of the Congregational Church announces the plans of the church for the Lenten Season. He will give a special series of sermons; the "prologue" sermon scheduled for Feb. 24 with the title, "He Had Jesus on His Hands."

The Rev. Mr. Meyer also announces that there will be mid-week services Wednesdays beginning with Ash Wednesday Feb. 27 at 7:30 P.M. These services will be on the discussion basis and will be Bible centered. The pastor invites anyone interested to bring written questions to the service Sunday morning, the 24th.

The "Fellowship of Prayer" booklets will be available at the Ash Wednesday service, according to Mr. Meyer.

The next Church family night is to be observed Sunday, March 2. A film strip on the Holy Land will be shown, and also one put out by Life and Time magazines, "This Is Korea." The usual invitation to all members and all friends and families of the church goes out.

Local Representatives Will Attend Meetings

Representatives from the Friona school and community will attend meetings slated for Monday and Tuesday of next week, in Lubbock and Amarillo respectively, which are being sponsored by the Texas Education Agency.

Mrs. J. T. Gee, who has been asked to attend the Lubbock meeting, said that sessions are planned for teachers and lay workers to work out a special five-year plan which will be inaugurated in both home making and vocational agriculture work in the schools over the state.

Sponsors of the plan hope that through work with laymen of the community, a more basic program of training can be worked out in the schools, according to information furnished here.

"Pore Man's Party" Is Given Local Faculty

A typical "Pore Man's Party", complete with hobo clothes and trimmings, was enjoyed by members of the Friona school faculty on Monday evening of this week.

Miss Iola Richards, Miss Patsy Curtis, Mrs. Rita Mast and Mrs. Johnny Nazworth served as hostesses for the affair, which opened with a supper in the cafeteria building of the school.

Games were enjoyed by the guests during the evening.

CONSERVATION NEWS

By BILL KENNEDY

Lewis Dawkins who works out of Lubbock for the Hancock Company, attended a regular meeting of the Parmer S.C.D. Board of Supervisors last Monday. He discussed legume seeders and fertilizer attachments.

The Board extended its invitation to Dawkins to discuss the possibility of making the district seeders more portable.

Last July one legume seeder was purchased and it was widely used throughout the district. This machine attaches to a tractor similar to a lister. It seeds legumes between rows of growing feed or cotton, a practice which improves the soil and prevents wind erosion.

All members present at the meeting reported district land planters are in action, but waiting lists are fairly short.

All irrigated land should be floated at least every third year for the best results. Land which is floated during this time of year is likely to blow. However, if you have very much land you may have to go on in order to complete the floating before the pre-watering season starts.

Many farmers omit pre-irrigation in hope of getting a good rain before planting time. Spring rains usually come, but in the past, farmers who paid no attention to the clouds made the best crops. A good pre-watering may cost, but it removes the element of chance.

Soil can be watered too much for good plant growth. When soil moisture passes 80 percent of the total water holding capacity, plants slow up due to lack of air. At the other extreme plants wilt when the moisture in the soil drops below 20 percent of the dry weight of the soil.

Sixty percent of the water-holding capacity of a soil is considered about the best point for best growth of plants.

There follows below a few questions which you might use as a self-check in determining how much you have done toward conservation.

1. Have you avoided overgrazing native grass and crop residues?
2. Have you applied barnyard manure, straw, or other residues to shallow or eroded areas?
3. Have you avoided burning residues?
4. Have you diverted outside water to protect farmstead, cropland, or active gullies?
5. Have you avoided emptying diversion terraces into roadside ditches?
6. Have you established protective outlets or waterways for terraces or diversions?
7. Have you planted at least 10 percent of your land to soil improving legumes each year?
8. Have you inoculated legume seed with correct inoculant?
9. Have you provided reserve feed supplies to avoid improper use of grassland and cropland vegetation?

10. Have you taken measures to exterminate insects, rodents, and noxious weeds?

11. Have you planted farmstead windbreaks for erosion control and livestock protection?

12. Have you established permanent vegetation on all land which is unsuitable for cultivation?

13. Have you divided your farm into fields and used them according to sound land use and crop rotation?

14. If irrigation farmer, have you developed an adequate water supply and used it according to the infiltration rate and water-holding capacity of the soil? Have you avoided running water down roadside ditches?

15. Have you maintained all proven conservation practices.

Revival Dates Set For Methodists

March 16th through March 23rd will see the spring revival effort at the Friona Methodist Church, it was announced today by Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor.

The visiting evangelist for the series is to be Rev. Alsie Carlton, now of Big Spring and formerly of St. John's Church in Lubbock, while the singing will be under the direction of Rev. David Binkley, of Anson, former local pastor.

Two services will be held daily throughout the revival, Rev. Tidwell said, with special breakfasts being planned for the men, and other functions being arranged for the young people of the community. Further details will be announced later.

G. B. (Pete) Buske, who sustained the loss of the fingers on his right hand some weeks ago, following an accident involving a new rope and a quick calf, returned to Amarillo Wednesday, where a checkup on the skin grafting operation is to be made, it is reported. Buske will spend several days in Amarillo before returning here.

Leg Is Injured In Accident, Wednesday

Tolbert Stowers received a painful and rather serious injury to his right knee the past Wednesday, while engaged in loading cattle at the Chitwood stock pens here in Friona.

Reports of the accident said that Stowers was at the gate when a particularly large and obstreperous bull was being loaded. The animal lunged at the gate, pinned Stowers behind it and crushed a small bone on the kneecap of the right leg.

Stowers was given emergency treatment here and then taken to Amarillo where he underwent surgery by a bone specialist. He was returned to his home during the weekend, but is slated to go back to Amarillo on Friday for a checkup.
