Border Town Days Plans Finalized At Special Meet

Plans for the 1975 edition of Border Town Days in the Twin Cities to be held July 24-26 were finalized at a called meeting of the LTD Committee held Tuesday evening, July 15, and a deadline for purchasing advanced tickets was set.

Those persons wishing to take advantage of the reduced price advance tickets are urged to contact one of the local civic organizations today (Friday), July 18, as advanced ticket sales end today.

Advanced combination tickets may be purchased for $5 for adults and $3.50 for children. The ticket is good for the barbecue and admission to all three performances of the AJRA rodeo. Single rodeo tickets are priced at $2 each for adults and $1 each for children for each performance. Single barbecue tickets have been priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children.

In addition to the barbecue and rodeo, other activities including a parade and queen contest will be available to those participating in the annual celebration.

Prior to the official opening of festivities Thursday, July 24, an art show will be held at Irrigation Supply, Second and Avenue A in Farwell.

All past and present students of art courses given at Art 'N Such have been requested to bring their paintings to the establishment at 12 noon Thursday. The show is to get underway at 1 p.m. that afternoon. Shows will continue throughout the remainder of Border Town Days.

No admission will be charged. Kicking off activities Thursday, July 24, will be the annual parade to begin at 2 p.m. CDT. Parade Marshal Fred Chandler reported Tuesday evening that several float, riding club, organizational and marching entries have been received for the parade. Marching this year will be a band unit composed of Texico and Farwell band students.

Parade participants will assemble on the south side of the highway in the west end of Texico. The parade will proceed down the highway, across the railroad tracks and disassemble at the road to the Farwell Arena.

A special attraction is in store for parade viewers as Miss Rodeo New Mexico 1976, Renee Keilt, has agreed to participate in the event along with the two local contestants for the crown of Border Town Days Queen, Lee Ann Williams and Brenda Jones.

Entries for the parade including organizations, social clubs, civic groups, businesses, riding clubs, etc. may be submitted to Fred Chandler at 481-3343. It is requested that entries be made on or before July 20.

Being held in conjunction with the annual celebration is the official dedication of the Farmer County Law Enforcement Center. The Center will be open for public viewing Thursday afternoon. The Center is located on the north side of the County Courthouse.

Members of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the barbecue in the Farwell City Park beginning at 4:30 p.m. to include barbecue beef, potato salad, beans, onions and drinks. It was reported at Tuesday's meeting that approximately 500 advanced combination tickets have been sold, and based on that figure the LTD Committee agreed to purchase 300 pounds of barbecued beef. The order will supply enough beef to feed approximately 800 persons.

Topping events for the opening of Border Town Days will be the initial performance of the rodeo. Gates will open at 6 p.m. CDT each evening of the rodeo, July 24, 25 and 26, with performances set to begin at 8 p.m.

Rodeo competition this year will be divided into six age categories including 12 and under girls, 12 and under boys, 13-15 girls, 13-15 boys, 16-19 girls and 16-19 boys.

Entry fees will be $11 for each event plus a $4 office charge for the 12 and under group. For the 13-15 age group, entry fee will be $16 for each event plus the office charge. Competitors in the 16-19 age group will pay a $21 entry fee for each event and the office charge.

Pay for rodeos is on the first six places and the number of entrants in each event will determine the amount of money in that particular pot.

The rodeo is open to all American Junior Rodeo Association members and local arena contestants. There is a limit of three events per contestant. There will be one go in each and every event.

Farwell Council Okays City Sales Tax Election

Among items discussed by members of the Farwell City Council during a session Monday, July 14, was a city sales tax for Farwell.

Tax rate for the city was discussed and it was revealed that within the next year, costs are expected to rise to such a level that city tax rates will have to be raised. It was also cited that if the city had a city sales tax the property tax, in all probability, would not have to be raised. Commissioners stated that a city sales tax is far more equitable in that all people using the city facilities pay a share of the cost.

In view of this discussion, Commissioner Ralph Franse moved that an Election for City Sales Tax be called. City Clerk Janie Bowery was instructed to proceed with all necessary arrangements to call such election.

Farwell Fire Chief Lee Hutchins met with members of the Council to discuss obtaining another vehicle for the Volunteer Fire Department.

The matter of obtaining a vehicle, equipped with tank and pump, from the Texas Forest Service was discussed. Hutchins explained that the vehicle is a surplus military truck with a 750 gallons-per-minute pump, siren and lights. The vehicle can be used for grass fires primarily in order to save the newer big fire-trucks.

The chief pointed out that 60 to 65 percent of the fire calls are grass fires outside the city. It was reported that the vehicle can be obtained at a cost to the City of $3,500. Commissioners agreed to purchase the additional vehicle.

Hutchins also stated that three men from the local fire department are to attend a fire school at Texas A&M University. According to reports, when these men complete the school, the city should get a full five percent credit on insurance key rates.

The fire chief told Commissioners that a bill which the Council had received from Sa-So, Inc. was for replacement of a siren which had burned. The original bill had been paid by the Fire Department.

The matter of liability insurance for the city was reviewed by the Commissioners. Mrs. Bowery was asked to obtain further information from a local insurance agency and submit a report at the next meeting.

Raking of the city park in an effort to clean up and get rid of excess grass clippings was brought before the Council. Mrs. Bowery reported that the cost of a grass catcher to fit the mower to be used at the park had been quoted as $99.95. Commissioners Franse and Fred Chandler will look into the matter of purchase of (Continued on Page 2)

Application Made For Two Doctors, Dentist

According to Farwell Chamber of Commerce President Claude Rose, Jr., application has been made to National Health Service Corps for two doctors and a dentist for Farwell.

Under the arrangements of the application, two physicians and one dentist can be brought to Farwell. NHSC is a program designed to encourage physicians to stay in small towns.

NHSC helps students through medical school. After the student graduates, he is then indebted to NHSC for two years of work. The organization then places the accredited physicians in towns needing their services.

After a doctor's "debt" has been paid to NHSC, and if they elect to leave the area, another doctor is automatically assigned to fill the vacancy without the community having to reapply for a doctor.

Frionian Designs County Bicentennial Medallion

Bobby Wied, an instructor in the Friona School system, submitted a sketch to the Farmer County Historical Commission to be judged in open competition for a design for an official Bicentennial Medallion for Farmer County.

Wied's design for the medallion was selected by the Commission and is to be coined for sale.

The obverse design of the medallion shows a bust of Martin Parmer, who gave the county its name. The county's location is outlined in the Panhandle area and the dates of 1776, 1876 and 1976 are shown.

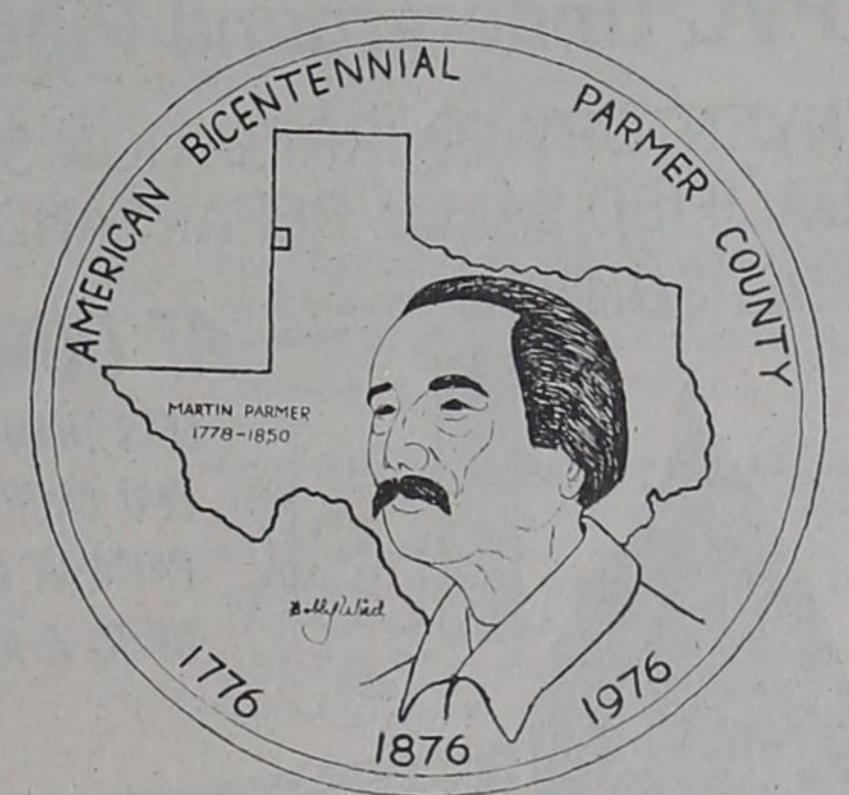

The year 1776 is the nation's birthyear, 1876 is the year in which Farmer County was created, and 1976 is the Bicentennial of the United States.

According to Hugh Moseley, chairman of the historical commission, the medallions should be available for purchase by November 1. A list of purchase locations and prices for the medallion will be announced at a later date.

Texico Council To Meet Tuesday

The regular meeting of the Texico City Council will convene at 6:30 p.m. MDT Tuesday, July 22, at the City Hall.

Included on the agenda for the meeting are a discussion of insurance for the city and a discussion of water lines.

OFFICIAL MEDALLION - This design was selected by the Farmer County Historical Society as the official design of the Parmer County Bicentennial Medallion which will be coined by the organization. The first choice design was submitted by Bobby Wied of Friona. Medallions are expected to be available for purchase by November 1. Purchase locations and prices for the medallions will be announced at a later date.

PERSONAL

by John

We receive a wide cross section of the area weekly newspapers and have some favorites which we read rather religiously. Some we read because their slant on news and politics are so completely different from ours, that we always come away with a bit of mental food for thought.

Others we read because our thoughts tend to coincide, and it is pleasant to know we are not the only "ole dingbats" left in the news profession.

One of the papers we like to read for the latter reason is the Union County Leader published in Clayton, N.M. The following column written by Clyde Sowers is one which we wish to share with our readers:

"There was an obscure period of time in history following the fall of the Roman Empire. At that point in time, according to historians, ancient civilization collapsed and mankind made little or no progress in the art of learning for a period of about 600 years.

"According to scant historical evidence available, life for mankind was very insecure and the entire environment in which humanity existed was discouraging to individual thought or achievement. The era of time is commonly referred to as the 'Dark Ages'.

"Historical scholars generally agree that the time of the dark ages was one of extreme inhumanities. A large percentage of mankind were identified as serfs who were subject to the will of their feudal master.

"Serfs contracted with the lord of the feudal domain to pay for the use of the land where they might produce food to sustain themselves. Historical scholars say the indentured serfs spent one-fourth of their time or three months of every year toiling for the benefit of their master. The balance of the year they were allowed to produce for themselves.

"With the dawn of medieval civilization in the 15th century, mankind entered a new era of learning. Since that time much progress has been made in the area of arts, literature, communications, etc. Modern man sends individuals to the moon and brings them safely back to a predetermined landing area.

"It seems strange that, with this vast accumulation of knowledge, mankind has lost ground in the payment of rental to his lord and master. One example is the current American who is a citizen of one of the most enlightened societies in existence.

"In comparison to the feudal serf who paid three months of his production in rental, American citizens are currently spending some five months out of every year working to pay direct and hidden taxes to the various levels of their government.

"Seems to us that the vast increase in knowledge and productivity should provide mankind with the ability to contain the costs of government at a level at least comparable to that supported by the serfs of the Dark Ages. -LCS"

Elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune is a report on the prospect of a "City Sales Tax" election for Farwell. We heartily applaud the City Council in taking this step in helping to share the cost of local government.

We will give more information in the near future on such a tax for Farwell. We think many people do not fully understand how the tax is collected and how it is received by the city. We will also try to get some estimates on how much this will return to the city coffers.

We have said it before, we say it now, and we will say it again in the weeks ahead. A "city sales tax" helps to spread the cost of government over everyone, not just the property owners.

Everyone benefits from the services of a community. It is only just that everyone contributes to the upkeep of the community.

During a discussion of traffic signs in the city, the Clerk stated that Earl Bartley had contacted the city office and explained the necessary items which must be completed in order for Farwell to participate in the traffic program with the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety. Hammit stated that the building is ready to be opened (one wall and a portion of the roof must be removed) so that the pump can be pulled. The pump company responsible for the repair has not been able to get to the job and Commissioner Franse stated this pump should be put into service as soon as possible and that the city should contact other pump companies.

Mayor Gil Patschke and Commissioner Chandler agreed that another pump company should be contacted in an effort to speed up the work. Matter of replacing or repairing the building following the repair of the pump was discussed and tabled for action at a later date.

For Highway Patrol . . . County Commissioners Acquire New Radar Units

The County Commissioners Court convened in regular session Monday, July 14, with the first order of business concerning radar units for the Highway Patrol.

Jim Fuller of Kustom Radar met with the Court and following much discussion a resolution was adopted in confirmation with a proposition made by Fuller.

The Court voted that the units now in use be traded for two new units in the amount of $1885 each difference, payable at the rate of $63.35 per month for a period of three years. It was agreeable that no more payments be made upon the units now in use.

Ted Mereno, representative of the Mental Health/Mental Retardation Center in Plainview met with Commissioners and explained certain phases of House Bill 3. Mereno asked that the Court contribute some 30 cents per county resident to the Central Plains Mental Health / Mental Retardation Center. After much discussion, the matter was tabled until a later date.

Approval of the Revenue Sharing Actual Use Report then came before the court. Commissioners gave their approval to the report with the amount of $281,377.23 being spent for public safety and showing a balance as of June 30 of $3,820.11.

Assessment of sprinklers, airplanes and mobile homes was discussed at length. However, it was decided not to take any action until the July 28 meeting.

A motion was made and accepted that the tax assessor-collector's report of 1974 delinquent and insolvent taxes on personal property in the amount of $4,158.10 and errors in assessment in the amount of $877.50 be approved.

Commissioners voted to have a curb installed on the west side of the Law Enforcement Center from the entrance area north to the southwest portion of the building at a cost of $44 and that this be paid from the General Fund.

Following an inspection of the paving around the courthouse with Charles Green of Jake Diel Dirt and Paving, payment to the company was made in the amount of $13,000. It is understood that this is partial payment and not the complete amount of the contract.

The Court was informed that additional notes in the amount of $500,000 had been put on deposit by the bank in Friona to secure county deposits and certificates of deposit.

Court members present for the session were Commissioners Charley Jefferson, Cecil Atchley and Jimmy Briggs and County Judge Paul Fortenberry.

At Kanakuk Kamp --

Nicky Liethen Honored As 'All Around Athlete'

From, June 2-27, a Farwell lad, Nicky Liethen, attended Kanakuk Kamp for boys in Branson, Mo. While at the camp, Liethen went through daily sessions of athletics and returned home with several honors in recognition of his athletic ability.

He commented that all types athletics are instructed during the three four-week camp sessions conducted annually. "There's baseball, basketball, football, canoeing, skiing, tennis, sailing, soccer, fishing, archery, riflery, volleyball, golf and all others," he stated. There are also courses in advanced and basic scuba for boys age 12 years and over.

The local lad related that all boys attending the camp were required to participate in all events. "I enjoyed the water skiing most of all," Nicky said.

In addition to the sports available at the camp, boys attending are also instructed in crafts of all types, nature studies, astrology and many other things.

Every participant at the camp spends several days and nights on camp-outs and canoe trips. The trips vary in length, purpose and nature to fit the various age groups. Boys are divided in senior, intermediate, junior and midjet groups. Groups are then divided into tribes, Choctaws and Cherokees. The local camper was a Cherokee in the junior division.

Nicky participated with his group in a Table Rock Wilderness trip. The trip is a three-day two-night camp-out that combines canoeing, water skiing, fishing, cave exploring and lake swimming in a wilderness camping area on Table Rock Lake.

Nicky related that at the camp site the boys were required to pitch their sleeping tents, with assistance from a counselor if necessary. Each camper was required to share camp duties such as kitchen patrol, clean-up, etc.

The young Farwellite gave a brief report of his daily agenda while at camp. The day began with "Reveille" after which everyone participated in a session of calisthenics. Following the flag raising ceremony, breakfast was held as was a tooth brush check.

"After our morning duties, we went to Lake Taneycomo and were assigned our sports for the day," Nicky stated. The various age groups were given their athletic schedules for the day such as juniors, basketball, midjets, swimming, etc. This was done in order that all may have time to be active in the different sports available.

During these athletic sessions the two tribes of each age group, Cherokee and Choctaw, competed for athletic honors. Each time an event was won, points were added to that tribe's total. At the close of the camp session, the tribe accumulating the greatest number of points was declared the championship tribe. Nicky's tribe, Cherokee, was named champions this year as they were last year.

In individual competition, ribbons are awarded for outstanding honors. Nicky has gathered quite a collection of awards. Included in honors garnered this year are first place ribbons in diving, throw darts and washer pitching. He explained that to win his ribbon in diving he did a double flip and a half from the high board.

Second place ribbons awarded to Nicky were in the 100-yard dash and 50-yard dash.

He was also honored by being named recipient of the "All-Around Athlete" for the junior division.

The camper also received a "K" patch. "In order to get a 'K' you have to do certain things like leather crafts. I made a billfold for my craft. And you have to do certain things in sports and get points." He explained that the tougher the competition, the bigger the "K."

Nicky also returned home with a "wampum" necklace. According to the athlete, each bead on the leather string represents a different accomplishment. "The red bead is for doing the rope climb five times a day, every day. The white is for 100 chin-ups a day, every day. Blue for the 'Front and Back Flip Club' on the trampoline and black is for the 'Hoss Club.' The Hoss Club means you have done everything each day like dips, push ups and other exercises."

These awards were added to the sixth grader's awards earned at the camp during the 1974 session. At that time he took first place ribbons in diving, chinning, 50-yard dash, high jump and a craft award for a belt.

A second place ribbon was awarded Nicky in washer pitching during his first year at camp. He also took the "All-Around Athlete" during his first year. During this session, Liethen was a Cherokee in the midjet division.

In addition to the ribbons and medal awards received by the lad during this first year, he was awarded a National Water Ski Association Beginner Patch. For completing his requirements, Nicky also received a Beginner Skier Diploma from the NWSA.

During the final three days of each camp session, parents of campers are invited to attend and view the final days of athletic competition. Nicky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Liethen, joined Nicky at Kanakuk Kamp June 25 for the competition. The group returned to Farwell June 28.

POOL SAFETY TIPS

Whether you have already taken the plunge—or are seriously thinking about getting into the swim right in your own backyards—it will pay you to read these hints about swimming pool safety.

1. Arrange for an adult to be present whenever the children are in for a swim. In the case of neighborhood kids, make an informal rule that no small children will be allowed unless accompanied by an adult.

2. Be sure that swimmers stay out of the pool for at least an hour after meals.

3. Have a life preserver handy. An inflated inner tube is fine.

4. A high fence around the pool will protect wandering tots—and possibly save you from negligence charges. Keep fence gate closed whenever pool is not in use.

5. Pool water should be completely filtered every 8 to 12 hours. Celite diatomite makes it possible to obtain maximum filtration with utmost clarity and cleanliness of pool water. For a free red and black disc that lets you judge the clarity of water in your pool, write to Johns-Manville, Box 5705-C, Denver, Colorado 80217.

6. Keep water well chlorinated to fight algae and bacteria.

FIRE CALLS

The Farwell Fire Department dispatched the emergency vehicle to the scene of an accident Saturday, July 12. A man was injured in the turnover of a fork lift and was taken to the Clovis hospital.

No other calls were reported. Texico Fire Department reports no calls for the week.

Texico Youths

Place At Rodeo

Karen, Susan and Mike Snodgrass, children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snodgrass of Texico, entered competition at the New Mexico State 4-H Rodeo July 11 and 12 in Clovis and returned home with a total of five places.

Eight-year-old Karen took her first "big wins" in rodeo competition when she garnered first places in both the flag race and barrel race events.

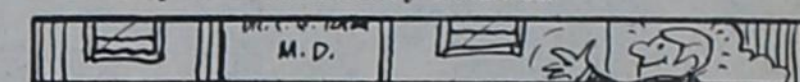

Mike garnered top honors in bull riding when he was awarded first.

Susan took the fifth place slots in both the goat tying and barrel race in her age division.

Sunday, July 13, Vicki Snodgrass entered events in the New Mexico Junior Rodeo Association Rodeo at Belen and took two places. She was awarded the second place slot in both ribbon roping and goat tying.

WORKER INJURED - Farwell Volunteer Firemen responded to a call Saturday afternoon, July 12, to the sight of an accident which injured Alfredo Garza of Bovina. Garza, an employee of Corbin Trailers of Farwell, sustained a broken leg when the forklift he was operating turned over. He was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital where he was admitted. As of Wednesday afternoon, July 16, Garza was still confined to the hospital in satisfactory condition.

Better pay honor to thy physician before thou hast need of him.

AWARD WINNER - Nicky Liethen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Liethen of Farwell, returned recently from Kanakuk Kamp at Branson, Mo., where he participated in the camp's athletics program and garnered various ribbons and medal awards. The local camper is shown with three blue (first place) ribbons he won for diving, throw darts and washer throwing. The two red (second place) ribbons were awarded Nicky for the 100-yard dash and the 50-yard dash. He is also displaying a "K" awarded him for his accomplishments and a medal declaring him "All-Around Athlete" for the junior division of competition.

SWCD NEWS

Cover cropping is an old outdated practice that is no longer pertinent to today's technology.

Wrong! Even though our fathers used it when the old mankiller tractors were being used it is still useful. In fact more uses are being found all the time.

The age old use of sowing turnrows to small grains to keep them from blowing is still good. Now it has the added attraction of controlling erosion from tailwater.

Even irrigation will not boost new grass seedlings enough to give it the vigor and size to survive the blow season. A dead litter crop will protect young seedlings and prevent high winds from killing them. This same dead litter crop also insulates the soil so that there is hardly any evaporation loss.

This gives the grass a better chance because moisture conditions are better. When grass is seeded where no irrigation water is available a dead litter cover is essential for the germination of the seed as well as the survival of the seedlings.

Town people can utilize cover also. In odd areas where there is no grass such as alleyways, small grain can and does stop blowing dirt and looks better than weeds.

When new buildings or houses are being built grass cannot be established, but small grains can. Construction areas are very susceptible to the wind damage, too.

Our fathers and grandfathers practiced methods that we smile at sometimes. However, more and more we find that some of their basic thoughts were accurate.

58th Annual - -

Red Cross Officers Elected During Meet

The 58th Annual Meeting of the Curry County Chapter of the American National Red Cross was held Friday evening, July 11, at a Texico restaurant.

"Texico is a part of Curry County and we feel it is proper to go to other locations within our county," commented Max Lowry, chapter chairman, in his opening statement.

During the meeting Frank Gendreau, executive secretary of the chapter, presented his report for the year. Among items included in his statement were the number of cases handled involving active servicemen and women, veterans, those given limited services and information, emergency leave messages, etc.

The executive secretary organized a Junior Red Cross Volunteer program consisting of 15 girls ages 14-16. These girls are presently working at a Clovis nursing home assisting the elderly.

The secretary also assists in coordinating Safety Services programs, orientation classes and any other program in which the chapter participates. Gendreau reported that the county Red Cross Chapter has increased in every area of service and that the number of volunteers working with the chapter has also increased.

Following the report, recognition awards were presented to chapter members. Lowery made the presentation of the first two awards. Honored were Mrs. Rose Bloom, 20-year pin and certificate for service to military families; and Mrs. Bette-Jane Goodwin, 20-year pin and water safety certificates.

Mrs. Goodwin then made presentations to two youth volunteers. Patricia and Theresa Jacobs were recognized for having served 110 volunteer hours each for the chapter.

Kay Yeager and Patricia Hegarty, members of the volunteer office staff, were each presented a certificate and pin for their assistance. Volunteer First Aid Instructor Terry Knight was recognized for his service in teaching the techniques of First Aid.

Also recognized, but not present to accept her awards, was Maureen Sheriff. Mrs. Sheriff was honored for having served 10 years as a Water Safety instructor.

Chapter Chairman Lowry then presented his annual report in which he compared the Red Cross to a row boat. "It takes an effort to keep a row boat from going downhill. And, this year the Red Cross workers have rowed a lot to stay where we are."

In commenting on the improvements attained by the chapter during the year, Lowry cited a stronger relationship between the Red Cross and the United Way; redecoration and refurbishing of the organization's headquarters; Board action on the Red Cross building lease; and an active disaster committee.

Following his report, Lowry was presented an appreciation plaque as he is leaving the local chapter to move to Albuquerque.

Next on the agenda was the report of the nominating committee and the election of officers. Serving as officers for the 1975-76 year will be Calvin Neumann, chairman; Capt. A. C. Jones, vice-chairman; Adolph Dolezal, treasurer; and Frank Gendreau, executive secretary.

Directors for the organization include Col. Lloyd B. Troutman, Dr. Selwyn Goodwin, Maj. C. W. Lawrence, Cass Nikel, Adolph Dolezal, Jean Waters, Bob Slagle, Gordon Spies, Ethel Stubbs, Fr. Reginaldo Rivero, Nola Marsh, Capt. A. C. Jones, Calvin Neumann, Eugene Beavers and Rachel Crystal.

PREPARE TO LEAVE -- This group of Parmer County 4-H'ers is representative of the numerous 4-H campers who left Farwell Monday, July 14, for Camp Scott Able near Cloudcroft, N.M. The camp continued through Wednesday, July 16, and during this time the 4-H'ers were to visit the Sun Spot Observatory, take planned hikes, and engage in other activities. Waiting for the trip to begin are, from left, Tommy Mesman, Mark Owen, Craig Kaltwasser, Robert Green and Bernard Mesman.

Add Lace For Fashionable Summerwear

Romantic, feminine lace looks are inexpensive, easy and fun to add to existing wardrobe items, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist noted this week.

"Lace details and trims are leading fashion items for the warm weather season this year," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reported.

Add lace to highlight top or undersides of cuffs, pockets, yokes, collars, bands or flaps. Stitch on lace appliques and ruffles or insert lace edgings into seams to accent blouses, skirts, dresses and sportswear separates, she suggested.

"Lace fabrics and trims range widely in fiber content, recommended care, texture, price and width. Lace dollies, tablecloths, scraps or trim from outdated garments are excellent sources for trims.

"When adding lace, choose one that compliments and is compatible with the fabric, design lines and mood of the original garment," she advised.

To achieve a permanent beige or antique lacy look, dip cotton -- or a blend of at least 50 per cent cotton -- lace in a strong tea solution and simmer 20 minutes. Rinse and dry thoroughly, Mrs. Culp directed.

The specialist reminded that a little lace goes a long way. Motifs can be cut apart and separated by clipping away from the mesh background. Don't cut the heavier motif threads, she warned.

"Due to the mesh and knotted background, the design motif and pattern is the prime consideration in planning placement. The grainline isn't that important," she said.

Lace with finished edges or motifs should be stitched on top of the garment to show off shaped and scalloped edges. Unfinished edges should be inserted into seams or hemmed.

"The design of the lace can be used to camouflage seams. Cut seams to lap so that the bottom edge is cut straight and the top follows the design motif. Top stitch following the outline of the motif. Trim excess fabric from the underside. "Narrow zigzag stitches are ideal for stitching and appliqueing laces. For a sheer look underneath, fabrics may be cut away or supported with organdy or other sheer fabrics," the specialist suggested.

POPCORN MAKES NIFTY NIBBLERS

Popcorn is an ideal food for between-meal nibbling, according to Popcorn King Orville Redenbacher. The American Dental Association recommends his favorite food as an excellent snack because of its texture which aids gum massage and teeth.

Goulash originally meant shepherd, now it means the kind of food that Hungarian shepherds used to eat.

TRIBUNE RIVIA from across the desk of Joann Getz

Most people are considerate and appreciative, but very often we forget to express our feelings and especially our thanks.

The Curry County Times, our sister newspaper weekly in Clovis, recently received a "Letter to the Editor" from Janice Elizabeth Felton of Los Alamos, N.M. Miss Felton was a contestant in the recent Miss Rodeo New Mexico Pageant in Clovis.

She writes, in part, as follows: "My visit to Clovis during your Pioneer Days celebration this June was a beautiful experience for me, which I will always treasure.

"Although I did not win a trophy as a contestant in the Miss Rodeo New Mexico Pageant, I certainly was a winner in another way. I won the opportunity of meeting some of the most interesting and kind people from your lovely warm city of Clovis.

"I would like to express my feeling of thanks to the Pageant Committee, all of the individuals and businesses who donated time and gifts to the contestants, the hostesses, escorts, judges, chaperones and news media. Thank you Clovis."

What a thoughtful gesture this was. Feel sure that everyone who helped -- the sponsors and the donors -- felt repaid for their time, efforts and expenditures that went into the Pageant, with just this one letter of thanks.

Proper Canning Ends Food Poisoning Fears

AUSTIN—Backyard and community gardens are booming as Americans get back to the earth and try to beat the high cost of living at the same time.

But what happens when all those beans, carrots and tomatoes ripen at once?

Based on estimates from seed experts, some 6 million people will try their hand at gardening this year, and anywhere from 25 to 50 percent of them will attempt home canning or freezing for the first time.

Health officials believe an increase in spoiled foods and botulism, a serious form of food poisoning which can cause death, is bound to coincide with the upsurge in canning.

determining the temperature and times required for heat processing.

Fruits, pickled vegetables and tomatoes contain enough acid to destroy bacteria in them at 212 degrees F. Therefore, they can be processed safely in a boiling water bath canner. Higher temperatures are required to destroy the botulinum bacteria in low acid foods such as meats and poultry and all vegetables except tomatoes. The only safe way to can these foods is in a steam-pressure canner which provides temperatures higher than that of boiling water.

Jars manufactured especially for home canning must be used. Those which contained coffee, mayonnaise, peanut butter and other household items are less resistant to extremes of temperatures and mechanical shock and may break more readily.

Standard jar closures—new flat metal disks with rubber screw bands or porcelain-lined zinc caps with new rubber rings—are also necessary. Flat metal lids should be used only once.

After jars of processed foods have cooled, the center of the flat metal lids must be pressed to determine if the lid has sealed. If it won't move, it has. Jars sealed with porcelain-lined zinc caps should not leak when turned partly over in the hands.

Jars should be labeled and dated and screwbands from two-piece lids removed.

Canned foods store best in a cool, dry place.

Before eating home-canned foods, examine the jars carefully. When they show signs of spoilage—bulging lids, leaks, spurting liquid, off-odors or mold—discard without tasting.

The event has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 26 and 27, in conjunction with Border Town Days. A banquet, Family Day and tour of the Farwell school are among activities on tap for those attending. Committee members include, from left, bottom row: Mrs. Gerald Clancy, Mrs. Harold Doshier and Mona Hardage; back row: Don Geries, Doyle Ford and Gene Hardage.

Hospital Notes

Comparison Shop For Energy Savings

One good way to conserve energy is to shop carefully when replacing old appliances. Look for labels that tell the wattage of a new appliance or estimate what its use of energy will be over a specified time.

Many manufacturers of room air conditioners now rate their models in terms of energy efficiency standards set by the U.S. Department of Commerce. This Energy Efficiency Rating (EER) number ranges up to 12, and the higher the number, the more efficient the model.

E.A. Walkers Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Brad Jones, Bruce Kaltwasser 'Learn By Doing' At Boys State

(Editor's Note: Brad Jones and Bruce Kaltwasser, students at Farwell High School, recently returned from a week's stay at Texas Boys State held on the campus of the University of Texas. The following are Brad's and Bruce's impressions of the session.)

by Brad Jones

"Learn by Doing," that was the theme of 1975 Boys State and that's exactly what we did. From the time we arrived until we left, we had a full schedule of activities that kept our days busy.

The first night we were there, we elected our city officials and began getting acquainted with each other. Everyone was trying to meet new friends and get support for the office they were running for.

When we weren't in our city, county or party conventions, we were attending a general assembly where we heard several good speakers.

Even though we were busy with official duties most of the time, we were allowed three or four hours on most afternoons for recreation. During this time we could play football, basketball, softball or baseball.

The week ended up with a visit to the Capitol where the elected officials took their places in their respective offices. While we were at the Capitol, we heard speeches from Governor Dolph Briscoe and House Speaker Bill Clayton.

To sum up my week at Boys State, I would say it was a very enjoyable and rewarding experience.

by Bruce Kaltwasser

Boys State is an experience every boy and girl should have the opportunity to attend. The motto was "Learn by Doing," and I learned the structure of our government by participating in the building of Boys State. I would like to sincerely thank the American Legion Post in Friona who sponsored and supported me.

We traveled by bus from Amarillo to Austin early June 11. We arrived at the University of Texas campus that afternoon. There we were assigned to a political party and a city. I lived in Scott City of Rather County and was a member of the Nationalist Party.

We wasted no time and set up our city that night. We elected a mayor and other city officials were then appointed.

The next day started with calisthenics at six in the morning. If you can picture 900 boys in downtown Austin yelling cadence before sun-up you have a good imagination.

Then we moved up the ladder from precinct meetings to the county convention and all the way to the state party convention, all on Thursday.

The State Party convention is where the juices really started flowing. We elected our state party chairman, secretary and whip. The party whip is sort of a cheerleader and leads the party in yells. All roommates were intentionally divided so there was one Federalist and one Nationalist in each room. This helped create competition between the parties.

Mixed in with the week's activities were speakers such as the American Legion State Chairman, last year's Boys State Governor and representatives from the Republican and Democratic parties of Texas.

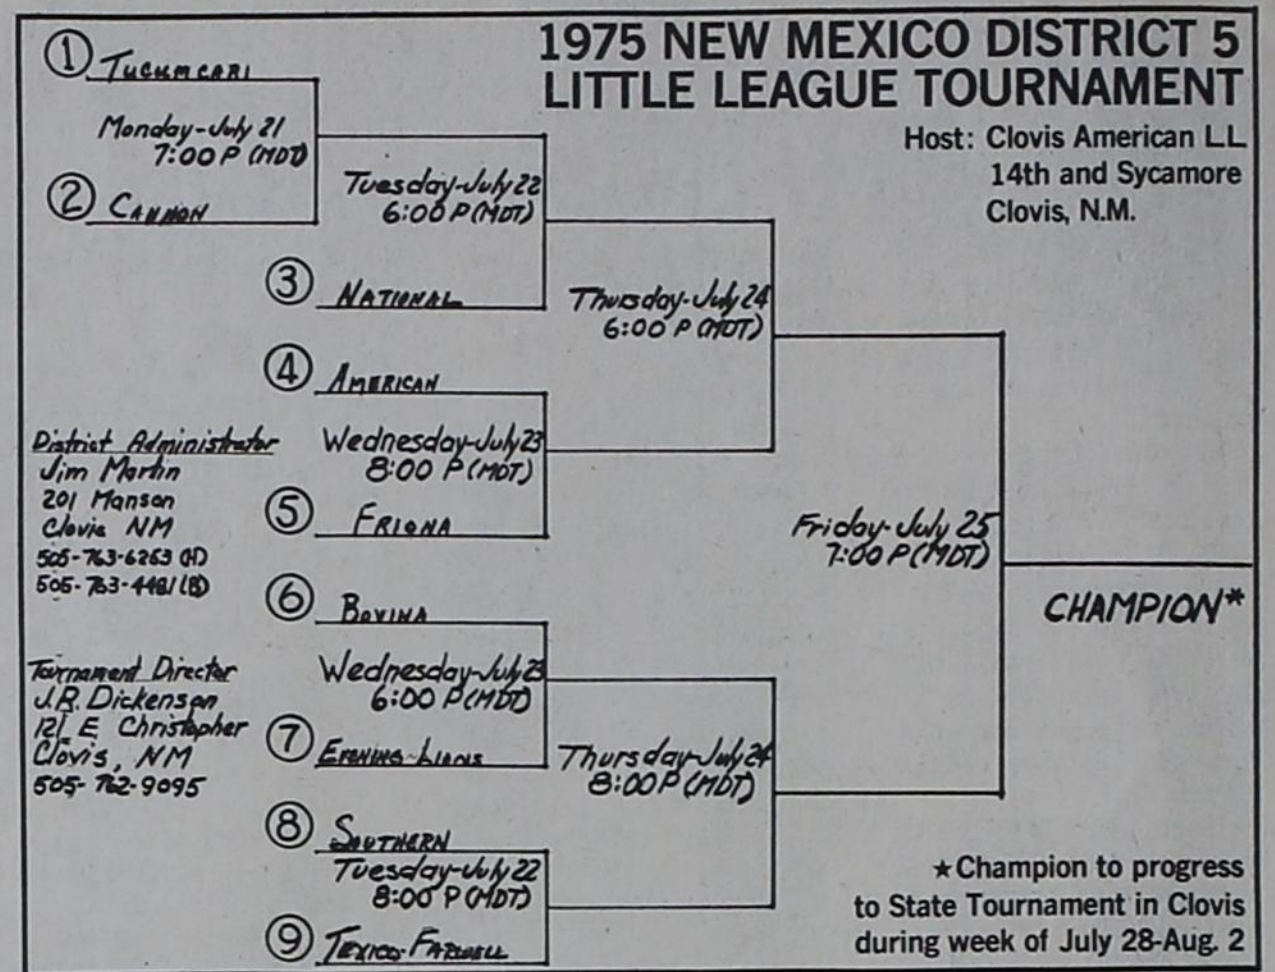

I ran for the House of Representatives but lost. I still was able to attend the mock sessions of the House as a spectator.

Afternoons were filled with recreation. Baseball, basketball, football, volleyball, swimming and handball were all available. I participated on Scott City's volleyball team and we won second out of the 20 teams. Our basketball team won fourth.

Our party elected our candidates and the clash with the Federalists came to a head. Each party was convinced it had the best candidates. There was much yelling, sign carrying, and campaigning. But when the smoke cleared, the Federalists won Governor and the Nationalists took the next two highest offices, Lt. Governor and Attorney General. The rest of the offices also balanced out to a degree and everyone was content with the results.

On our last day, June 17, we marched to the Capitol. I also visited the State Archives Building. The House and Senate meet in the House Chamber in the Capitol. Governor Dolph Briscoe and Speaker of the House Bill Clayton spoke to us.

Boys State gave me and the other boys an important insight into the workings of our government. It was an inspiration week and boosted my faith in my country.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin- Little leagues and other youth sports organizations across Texas will get a couple of tax breaks starting September 1.

This tax relief comes as the result of a small tax reduction bill passed by the Legislature.

The sales tax division of my office will prepare rules and regulations for provisions in the new law which will exempt little league sporting groups from having to pay sales tax on the uniforms and equipment they use.

But let me point out that the legislation is very specific in stating that the new exemptions applies only to a league organization itself and does not apply to individuals who play in that league.

This means that league officers can go to the sporting goods store and buy uniforms and equipment for everyone playing in the league and that purchase won't be subject to the sales tax. But Johnny or Johnny's dad will still have to pay the sales tax when they make purchases individually.

Another very important part of the new law specifies that this exemption applies only to organizations in which all participants are less than 19 years old.

Between now and September 1 when the new law takes effect, any and all items purchased by these young sports groups will continue to be subject to the sales tax.

As the date of the new law's effectiveness nears my office will be contacting as many sporting stores as possible and explain the new law. We want to give them as much information as possible so they will know for certain when the exemption applies and when it doesn't.

Little League groups also will receive property tax relief from the new tax bill effective September 1. Under this provision all property owned by any non-profit organization which uses that property for youth sports programs will be exempt from all ad valorem property taxes.

I expect that the state will lose very little revenue because of these new exemptions. On the other hand, these exemptions can mean a lot to the groups involved in making ends meet.

There tax breaks were, of course, an attempt by the Legislature to encourage and assist more widespread development of youth sporting programs as a means of giving our young people healthy outlets for their energy and spare time.

Now's the time to get a head.

On The Farm In Palmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

After putting a lot of hard work into that vegetable garden, it's important to harvest crops at the proper time.

Produce that is picked too soon can be either too tough or too tender and often lacks in flavor or substance. That which is harvested too late may also be tough, fibrous or squashy, depending on the crop. Once produce passes its peak of maturity, its flavor begins to decline.

Many vegetable crops should be harvested on a regular basis as they will mature over a period of time. Certain crops such as okra, squash, tomatoes, beans and cucumbers can be harvested every two or three days.

Most vegetables can be easily picked or snapped off the stalk or vine. However, care should be used not to damage the plants. It may be best to use knife when harvesting certain crops such as okra and eggplants. Also, use care to avoid stepping on vines or breaking stems when harvesting vegetables.

Harvest vegetable crops when the foliage is dry to avoid spreading disease spores that may be present. Wilted plants should not be harvested since harvesting creates wounds which increase water loss from the plants.

Freshly harvested vegetables should be moved to a cool location and preferably placed in the refrigerator. They should be used as soon as possible, whether they are to be consumed as fresh vegetables or are for canning or freezing.

To get the most enjoyment from homegrown vegetables, harvest them on time for a taste-satisfying delight.

With recent rains, weather conditions continue favorable for the spread of the tenacious screwworm.

Screwworm cases have been increasing by leaps and bounds in South and Southwest Texas, and the flies are continuing to move out to other areas of the state. So it's vital to check animals regularly, to treat all types of wounds, and to submit all worm samples for identification.

Samples should be sent to the Screwworm Lab, Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572. Containers for mailing samples are available at my office and from local veterinarians.

At the end of June, 1,774 screwworm cases had been confirmed in Texas for 1975, well above the number recorded during the same period last year. To make matters worse, 1,164 of the 1975 cases were recorded during June. Screwworms are popping up in some counties that have not recorded cases since 1972.

This means that producers had better prepare for an onslaught of screwworms unless cases are reported rapidly so that sterile flies can be dispersed over the areas where cases are confirmed. Unless target areas are identified by virtue of samples submitted and identified, the sterile fly program cannot function effectively.

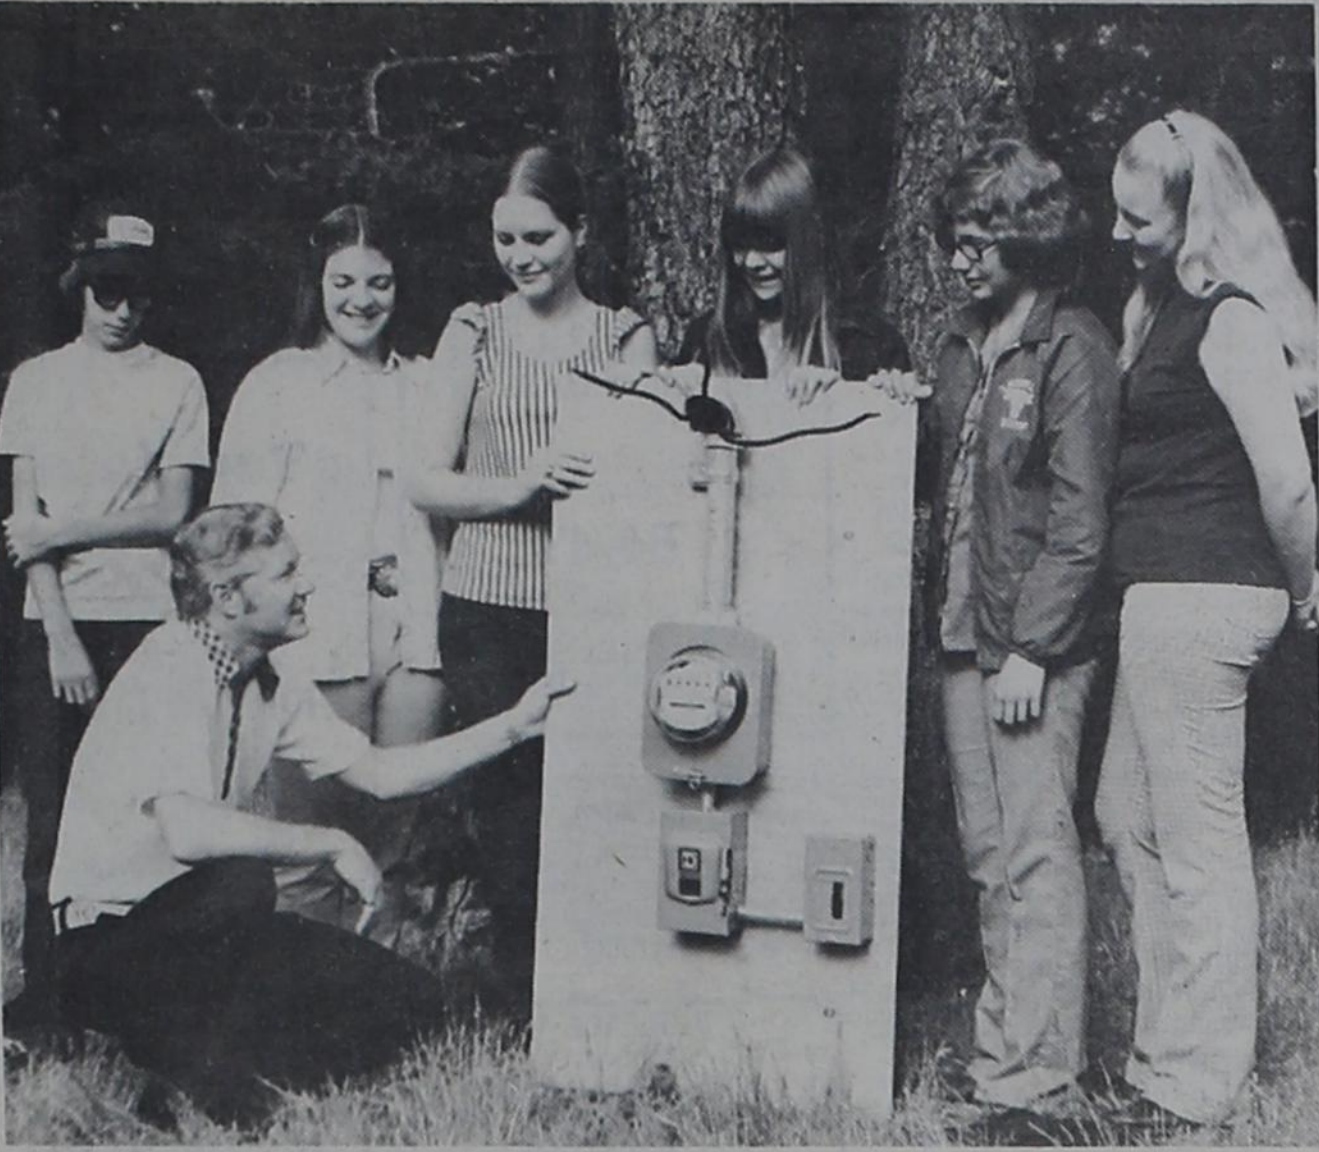

A large number of the screwworm cases confirmed this year in Texas have come from the navels of newborn calves. "Working" wounds such as those resulting from shearing, docking, ear-marking, branding and castrating are also prime locations for screwworm flies to lay their eggs.

Many virus diseases occur in the home vegetable garden, and there is little that can be done to control them once they occur.

Although viruses attack many plants, those commonly afflicted include beans, tomatoes, peppers, potatoes, southern peas, squash, mustard and turnips.

Viruses can be identified by mosaic of the leaves (mottled appearances), ring spots on the foliage and sometimes of the fruit, yellowing of the foliage along with possible bronzing and reddening, and stunting of plants.

Virus diseases in home vegetable gardens are primarily spread by insects. Aphids and leafhoppers are mainly responsible. Therefore, insect control is important to the pre-

THE NATURE OF GRACE

To a young Christian who kept bemoaning his failures and lack of spiritual growth, and wondering how God could love him, a more mature believer responded substantially as follows:

"When I leave here and return to my home I will pick up my little baby girl and put her on my knee. Tired as I am, I will dandle her on my knee and, somehow, looking into that darling face and those pretty blue eyes, I will soon feel rested and refreshed.

"This is strange, in a way, for she does not love me. She doesn't even know what love is.

"She doesn't appreciate my problems and has no sympathy for me. My heart can be burdened with grief or filled with anxiety, and my mind vexed with difficult problems, but she doesn't even know or care. She just keeps gurgling and giggling at the attention I lavish upon her.

"She doesn't contribute one cent toward the needs of our family; indeed, she costs me a great deal of money and will for years to come. Yet I love that child more than I can say. There is no sacrifice I would not make for her; no good thing I would not gladly give her."

Such is the grace of God toward us, His children. It does not depend upon our faithfulness to Him or our appreciation of His love to us. He loves us with an unspeakable love and keeps lavishing upon us "the riches of His grace" simply because we are His children in Christ, the Beloved.

And strangely, is it not precisely this fact that provides to be our greatest incentive to give ourselves to Him in loving service and sacrifice!

INSUR-MATION

P.C. Farm Bureau Insurance
Billy Watts Ph. 481-3395

What is "Whole Life" Insurance?

Whole life is permanent insurance which accumulates cash value and paid-up values. This will last as long as you do. Usually the premiums are level. The increase of the above benefits, which are called Non-Forfeiture Values, becomes greater the longer the policy is in force. You have the option to continue the premiums for the rest of your life but are not required to do so. To illustrate, using an example company, a $10,000 policy purchased at age 35, the insured could at the end of 20 years cease paying premiums and be insured for nearly $6,000.

TDA Surveys Infestations Of Fire Ants

AUSTIN--Surveys to examine the extent of imported fire ant infestation in 52 counties are being conducted by crews from the Texas Department of Agriculture, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Ten teams will work this summer to document locations of the ants' cone-shaped hard mounds.

Samples of the insects will be gathered for positive microscopic identification from Texarkana to San Antonio.

"These counties are adjacent to known infested areas, and this information is necessary to determine future control programs in the state," White said.

"Millions of dollars in losses to farmers and ranchers have been confirmed because of ruined pastures, deaths of newborn animals caused by the sting of the ants, and damage to machinery in fields which became pock-marked with the mounds," he stated.

People who think imported fire ants are on their property are asked to call their Texas Department of Agriculture district office.

Imported fire ants are usually reddish-brown, measuring one-eighth to one-fourth inch long. Their mounds are six inches to three feet high and can spread 15 to 18 inches in diameter. The pests infest nine southern states, including Texas.

By early 1974, 25 million acres in Texas had confirmed populations. The known total currently stands at 27 to 28 million.

Defense Plans Hindered By Shortage

by Donald Whisenhant

In looking back at the American Revolution today, it is very easy for us to get the impression that there was furious activity every day. In truth, very significant events occurred and then were followed by periods of relative calm. Even during these calm periods, activity was underway to prepare for future events.

For example, 200 years ago this week things seemed relatively calm, but in truth American officials were taking several actions designed to place the colonies in a better defensive posture.

A major handicap faced by American forces was the short supply of powder, ammunition, and other articles of war. Efforts were made to promote the manufacture of munitions, but with little success. Even if home manufactures developed, the supply would not be sufficient to meet colonial needs if full-scale war started.

The importation of munitions, however, violated the provisions of the Continental Association agreed upon by the colonial governments. Therefore, on July 15, 1775, the Continental Congress provided for an exception in the trade embargo for any vessel that would import gunpowder, saltpeter, sulphur, brass field pieces, or good muskets fitted with bayonets. The Congress concluded that its own laws should not be allowed to limit its own defense efforts.

On July 18, Congress also recommended that each colony establish a committee of safety to oversee and direct the defense preparations for the colony. Most colonies already had such committees, but this directive from Congress gave them greater impetus.

The following day, on July 19, Congress appointed peace commissioners to deal with the various Indian tribes. For purposes of dealing with the Indians the country was divided into northern, middle, and southern districts. The purpose of the commissioners was not to ally the colonies with the Indians, but to keep the Indians from allying themselves with the British.

Although the efforts were sporadic, defense plans were gradually taking shape.

Meanwhile, as British Americans dealt with the Indians through diplomatic arrangements the Spanish in Texas tried to deal with them on a more personal basis.

In Texas the friars attempted to bring Indians together in what they called "reductions" at the missions. This policy was in direct contrast to the practices in New Mexico where the native inhabitants already lived together in cities or "pueblos."

At the mission the friars instructed the Indians in Catholic doctrine, ministered to their physical needs, and used their labor to support the mission. The success in all three areas was often open to question, but mostly the missionaries were very conscientious in their jobs.

The Parmer County Clerk's Office issued four marriage licenses during the week ending July 10.

Licenses were issued to Donnie Joe Lewellen and Deborah Ann Anderson; Robin Ricky Cooper and Nancy DeVore Norris; Teddy Lee King and Connie Sue Lindeman; and Earl Lester Quintana and Celia Ortiz.
