Governor Declares A.D. McDonald Day

During the annual budget meeting of the Texico Municipal School Thursday, May 29, retiring superintendent of schools, A. D. McDonald, received an honor which made him declare, "I was never so shocked in my whole life."

The honor bestowed upon McDonald came from the office of New Mexico Governor Jerry Apodaca. Gov. Apodaca had signed a proclamation declaring Thursday, May 29, as "A. D. McDonald Day in New Mexico." The proclamation stated:

"Whereas, A. D. McDonald has been involved with the Texico School System in many capacities since 1935; and

"Whereas, as teacher, coach, principal and superintendent he has worked with devotion and dedication and has done much for youth; and

"Whereas, A. D. McDonald has been active in church and community affairs during his dedicated career; and

"Whereas, A. D. McDonald was honored as Man of the Year at the annual banquet of the Texico Chamber of Commerce;

"Now, therefore, I, Jerry Apodaca, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby proclaim Thursday, May 29, 1975, as A. D. McDonald Day in New Mexico and urge all citizens to join me in praising and honoring this devoted and praiseworthy New Mexican."

In relating the events leading up to the presentation, McDonald stated, "We had gathered as we do every year for the annual budget meeting. It was set to begin at 10 a. m. "Everything was ready to go but for some reason we were being delayed. Then Harry Wugalter, director of Public School Finance and educational consultant to the governor's office, came in and presented me with the proclamation."

McDonald declared that he knew nothing at all about the special recognition but that Mrs. McDonald knew a little about what was going on.

The honoree related that he had personally invited Wugalter to the budget meeting. "When I became superintendent, Wugalter began his present career. This was my last budget meeting and I personally wanted him to be there for the last one as he was for the first one."

McDonald recalled that he had not seen Wugalter at the budget meetings of the other schools and "just figured he wouldn't be able to attend ours."

Wugalter and Richard Johnson, Legislative School Study director, flew to Clovis from Santa Fe to make the presentation. Johnson presented scale models of motorcycles to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald.

McDonald's dedicated work over the years has not gone unnoticed as can be evidenced by taking a look around the den in the McDonald's home. The proclamation by Gov. Apodaca had been added to several other awards.

McDonald was recently recognized as an outstanding citizen in New Mexico and was presented a "Distinguished Service Award" of a silver plaque centered with the seal

PURELY PERSONAL by John

Yea gads! The bumbings of bureaucracy. We now understand that parts of Farwell are considered flood hazardous. We presume that Texico will be declared in the same parlous predicament.

Apparently this determination was made by the Army Corps of Engineers. We wonder if this was just after Noah's flood, or more recently. At first we laughed - after all we are up 4,200 feet in the air and water runs down hill. We have no towering adjacent mountains or coursing waterways through the Twin Cities.

When we had our last paving project we even lost "Cap's Pond" on First Street so we can't imagine what might be subject to flooding other than the Ninth Street barrow ditch.

It turns out that there are several low-lying lots, presently unoccupied, that are suspected of harboring (no pun) potential high water possibilities.

We found out that this is no laughing matter as it would affect the abilities of these areas to receive any mortgage funds from any federally-insured institution. In order for the designated areas to be eligible for a federally-insured mortgage, the building to be built thereon must be insured against floods. Flood insurance, except through some government program, is terribly expensive.

So, we will now have to unravel another yard or two of red tape or mark off some potential building sites in town. Red tape always proves to be expensive to unravel, especially the government kind, and we surely need all the building sites in town.

Which brings us to the topic of where will Farwell expand in its future growth. At the present time this community is severely restricted on housing sites. An off-the-cuff estimate would be that at least 50 new dwellings of various sizes and costs could be utilized and occupied before another 12 months passes.

We base this guesstimate on several barometers. When the upcoming nursing home passes the vote on June 24, there will be an immediate potential of 20 to 25 new homes needed. Even our Tribune business has been unable to find housing in Farwell for any of its recent employees. We have talked to other employers in the Twin Cities and hear the same story. That story being that any employees, present or prospective, cannot find suitable living accommodations in town.

This lack of adequate housing is the ultimate bottleneck for Farwell and Texico. It must be broken or community rigor mortis will set in. All the efforts of Chambers of Commerce, City Councils, Development Commissions and others will go for naught. People must have a place to live - there is no alternative.

There are many answers. None easy, some just harder than most people are willing to face up to. We will keep a running commentary on housing in the Twin Cities. It is the most critical item facing our communities and one that will not go away by city governments just sitting and sublimely ignoring the situation.

An interesting saga in American history is painfully unfolding for the eyes of all to observe and heed. The major city of the United States is going bankrupt. New York City is about to go down the financial drain. It's high time, if our various news sources are correct.

Here is a vast City that has lived way beyond its fiscal means. Its citizens have voted city services far beyond the city's ability to pay for them. It has put almost every third citizen on some form of public dole. It has paid its employees exorbitant wages while receiving ever decreasing productivity from these employees. It has borrowed huge sums of money at a tremendous annual interest burden. In short, it has been the mob speaking in NYC rather than the voice of fiscal reason. It would almost be fitting for the City to walk off and leave its creditors holding the bag. After all, every little hamlet in the USA has to go to the money marts of Wall Street to prove their financial soundness in order to sell their municipal or school bonds. What a huge joke! Wall Street set the bond rate for the Farwell Independent School District at the same time Wall Street's own city government was violating every sound financial principal in the economic book.

Well it's not so funny either, because what New York City has done in the matter of fiscal irresponsibility, the Federal Government has already done only bigger and better. Nationally, our country is in worse financial shape than "Fun City." This state of national affairs is thanks to the biggest continuing bunch of clowns ever to be graced with the title of a Congress.

We keep an upchuck bag handy by our easy chair, reserved especially for news from Washington D.C. We used it twice the other night when we read the accounts of the recent "Human Kindness Day" held under the very noses of these selfsame legislative nincompoops.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Runaway Trailer

To move some household goods to the country, Watson hitched up his trailer and set out along the highway. But as he was climbing a hill the trailer broke loose, veered across the center line, and slammed into a car coming the other way.

The other driver was seriously injured, and in due course brought suit for damages. At the trial, Watson insisted that he was not to blame because "it all happened so suddenly."

But the evidence showed that the trailer hitch had a faulty weld, and that the defect had been plainly visible before the accident. Result: Watson was held liable.

Anyone who undertakes to haul a trailer on the public roads must also undertake reasonable precautions. He must exercise a degree of care commensurate with the size and speed of this extra vehicle.

Furthermore, he must conform to the special requirements—such as a "fail safe" set of chains—that may be called for by the local traffic code.

Even if a trailer does not actually break loose, it may still be dangerous because of swaying. Another driver incurred liability because his trailer, swinging from side to side, knocked down a woman walking on the shoulder of the highway.

On the other hand, not every injury inflicted by a trailer is the driver's fault. Consider another case in which a runaway trailer caused a collision. This time, the trailer came loose as a result of the shearing off of a pin in the hitching mechanism.

But there was nothing to put the driver on guard for such an eventuality—no visible defect, no prior experience to warn him of danger.

Accordingly, a court refused to make him pay damages. "The collision," said the judge, "was the result of an unavoidable accident."

SWDC NEWS

by Herb Evans

We have just finished our official wind erosion season, according to Herb Evans, SCS Friona. The period runs from November 1 each year through May 31.

Our records show that the first four months (Nov.-Feb.) of the "blow season" had only seven days of wind erosion. This was a slow beginning for which we can be thankful.

The last three months (Mar.-May) made up for the slow start. One thing to remember is that there is more clean tilled land ready to blow during March and April than at any other time of year.

We observed 14 days during the final three months that we called "blow days." The worst of these days occurred April 7 with 60 to 80 miles per hour winds, and on April 17 with 45 to 50 miles per hour winds.

Moisture conditions have been fairly good, which made emergency tillage an effective practice.

There have been about 15,000 acres damaged in Parmer County this year. Only a small portion of the damaged acreage had growing crops.

"We have been real lucky this year that more damage has not occurred with the number of high winds we've had," Evans concluded.

The news has been full of gloom for the irrigation farmer lately.

Priority for gas for irrigation was reduced and the price for what gas can be obtained may go up.

This is going to cause a lot of belt tightening and a lot of pencil sharpening to try to keep from starving.

Now is the time to look at the efficiency of irrigation water application.

Most furrow type systems can be improved to provide greater efficiency. The slopes of the land, the length of the row, the furrow stream, and the soil type all play important roles in the design of an efficient irrigation system. An efficient system can be erosive. The amount of erosion produced should also be a factor to be considered.

This all seems to be complicated and it can be, but the information needed to design a system is available free for the asking. The Soil Conservation Service provides this design service to all members of the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Each producer must decide what he must do in case of an agricultural energy crisis.

Wouldn't it be better to implement an energy saving system now and be prepared for all eventualities.

Pressure Canner Clinic Is Slated

Food Preservation Workshops and Pressure Canner Clinics will be held from 2 - 5 p. m. in the high school home-making departments at Lazbuddie, June 17; Bovina, June 18; and Friona, June 19.

A cleanup and checkup for the pressure canner is a real necessity before beginning the year's home canning, Jana Pronger, County Extension Agent, reminded.

This helps insure a safe and high quality product, she added.

- Clean removable petcocks and safety valves, using vinegar to remove any corrosion.

- Clean openings in lid of canner using a toothpick, pipe cleaner or string.

- Check gasket for tight fit and be sure it's free from grease and dirt.

- Use salt-free fat to grease the closing surface of lid that seals metal to metal, if it's difficult to remove or if steam escapes.

- Tighten screws on handles.

- Use plumber's paste to close nicks that allow steam to escape.

- Remove odors and stains using one of the following mixtures and processing at five pounds pressure for five minutes: juice of one lemon in two quarts water or two tablespoons vinegar in two quarts of water.

- Check dial gauge using a maximum thermometer or master gauge tester.

A weight gauge needs only to be cleaned according to manufacturer's directions. Pressure Canners will be checked using a maximum thermometer at the Food Preservation Workshops, sponsored by the Parmer County Extension Service.

agri-facts

By John Ricci

Thickening the spread thins the profit. "Spread" is the farm-retail spread, i.e., the difference in what consumers pay and farmers receive for agricultural products. "Thickening" is the unusual increase the "spread" has gone through in the past year. In January of 1974, farmers received 46 cents of a market basket dollar... by December their share was down to 41... this year the figure could be less than 40. Growth of the "spread" is causing officials to launch specific investigations into agricultural marketing and distribution systems. Suggestions are being made to locate processing plants closer to the producer, to increase efficiency in food transportation, to locate major supermarkets in central-city areas and to take a second look at effects of labor unions. Success in shrinking the "spread" will work well for everyone. The producer will get a larger share of the money spent and the consumer will receive more product for his food dollar.

Methodist Home Children To Visit Local Church

Eight children from Methodist Home in Waco will be special guests at the Sunday evening worship service on June 8 at the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell.

Dub King, director of public relations at Methodist Home, will speak on the Home's role as one of the nation's leading child-care centers.

Methodist Home was founded in 1890. Its "umbrella of services" includes residential care on the main campus, a nearby Boys Ranch, a large Foster Home program and a children's treatment center. It is supported by Methodists across Texas and New Mexico.

King had a sports background before going to work at Methodist Home in 1966. He was a sports writer for the Forth Worth Star Telegram; served as sports information director at Texas A & M, Baylor University and at Texas Wesleyan College. He covered sports events in Lubbock, Odessa, Amarillo, Canyon and other cities.

While doing a weekly sports television program on KCEN-TV (Waco-Temple), he interviewed such sports personalities as Bear Bryant, Darrel Royal, Sammy Baugh, Randy Matson, Junior Gilliam, Hot Rod Hundley, Ronnie Bull, Sandra Haynie and many others.

"Those were exciting days," says Dub. "But now my main interest is in helping children - chiefly Methodist Home children."

He has taken Methodist Home children and the story of this child-care center into every part of Texas, Houston, Dallas, Orange, Paris, Brownwood, El Campo, Gruver, San Angelo, Marshall, Pasadena, Hamlin, Weatherford, Tyler, Brenham, Fort Worth and Cisco are among towns and cities where he has spoken in Thought this information might come in handy for some of you, especially when so much is at stake, expense wise, when you have a freezer full of meat these days, and with gardens coming on, so many fresh vegetables and fruits.

Have you ever thought about what you would do if your home freezer stopped running? If your freezer does stop running or the electricity goes off for sometime, you can take special precautions to keep your food from spoiling.

Follow one of these rules suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and you stand a good chance of preserving your food:

- Keep the freezer closed. Open it only to take food out for transport or to add dry ice. Try to determine how long the current will be off, and how long the food will keep. The length of time food will stay frozen depends on:
- The amount of food in the freezer. A full freezer will stay cold many hours longer than a freezer only a quarter full.
- The kind of food. A freezer full of meat will not warm up as fast as a freezer of baked food.
- The temperature of the food. The colder the food, the longer it will stay frozen.
- The freezer itself. A well-insulated freezer will keep food frozen much longer than one with little insulation.
- Size of freezer. The larger the freezer, the longer the food will stay frozen.

If you have a locker plant in your area, make advanced arrangements to take care of food during an emergency. When transporting the food to the plant, wrap it in plenty of newspaper and blankets, or

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

LET IT GET YOU DOWN
"For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Eph. 3:14).
When adversity strikes, the world keeps telling us: "Don't let it get you down," but believers in the Lord Jesus Christ have learned that it is good to let troubles and difficulties get them down - down on their knees.
A native evangelist in Africa sat outside his hut discouraged and unhappy. Trouble and disappointment had brought "great coldness" into his heart and he seemed ready to give up. The Lord, he felt, had utterly forsaken him.
As he sat there, though, his little girl kept nudging him and saying: "Daddy, go inside and pray."
Finally it worked! The evangelist went inside, poured his heart out to God and arose feeling sure that the Lord would see him through.
It is good for us to get down on our knees before God. There is no attitude more appropriate to the redeemed sinner. And as we pray, often falteringly....
"The Spirit also helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit Himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered."
"And He that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because He maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God."
"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose" (Rom. 8:26-28).

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

Certain environmental conditions will cause tomato blooms to shed, resulting in a poor fruit set. Partial failure of flowers to develop into fruit will result in abnormal fruits which may be misshapen or catfaced.

Blossom drop is most common in tomatoes which bloom late. The usual cause for poor fruit set is high temperatures -- either at night or day. Nighttime temperatures above 72° F. along with daytime temperatures above 90° F. often result in heavy blossom drop. On the other hand, unseasonably cool weather may also cause blossoms to drop in addition to causing abnormalities in fruits.

Other factors causing lack of fruit set or abnormal fruit include unbalanced nutrition, extended periods of warm, windy weather with low humidity, extended periods of showery, cool, overcast weather in the early spring, and insects and diseases.

Therefore, providing a balanced fertilizer and controlling insects and diseases will help in controlling blossom drop. Of course, little can be done about weather conditions.

Poor fruit set is most common in the large slicing types of tomatoes. However, such varieties as Early Giant, Spring Giant, Spring Set and Improved Summertime have the ability to set fruit during somewhat higher temperatures.

Smaller sized tomatoes that normally do not have the fruit set problem include such varieties as Small Fry, Red Cherry, Roma and the New Texas Agricultural Experiment Station variety, Saladette.

If you bought more seeds than needed to plant your spring vegetable garden, store them properly and they will remain viable for a number of years.

Properly stored seeds can be used for fall gardens as well as for plantings next spring. Saving seeds is especially important since some varieties are often difficult to find. Furthermore, seeds are becoming more expensive so they should not be wasted.

Most vegetable seeds can simply be stored in the home refrigerator for periods of two to five years. Seeds should be packaged in an air-tight container such as a glass jar with a tight-fitting lid. Before storing seeds, make sure they are free of moisture.

If seeds are to be placed in packets or envelopes other than the ones they come in, be sure to note the variety and source of seeds on the packet as well as the date seeds were stored.

Most seeds can be stored at least three years except for corn, okra, onion, parsley and parsnip, which can be stored up to two years without losing viability. Seeds of vegetables belonging to the cabbage family as well as cucumbers, squash and watermelons can be kept in cold storage up to five years.

It's best to purchase only the amount of fresh seeds you need for a particular planting. However, surplus seeds can be stored safely if they are kept dry and refrigerated.

With the coming of spring each year several, undesirable weeds also appear on crop and range land in Parmer County. This year we are seeing more loco weed than usual. For those of you who have livestock on rangeland or weedy pastures it might pay you to inspect the area and destroy any loco weed you find.

Loco weed is a broadleaved plant growing from six to 10 inches tall. It is grayish-green in color and has purple blooms in the early spring. The weed is found more commonly in wet years than in dry years. Cattle and horses will become addicted to the weed after eating it. An animal can never be completely cured from the poison in the plant once it has eaten it.

Home vegetable gardens are highly susceptible to damage from violent spring thunderstorms. Whether or not to replant or wait for damaged plants to recuperate depends on several factors.

With some plants such as squash, cucumbers and beans, it is often best to replant. If space is available, some damaged plants can be left while the remainder of the crop is replanted. Seed will germinate rapidly with the warm weather so a crop can be reestablished rapidly. Of course, delays due to replanting will mean more attention to insect control and watering during the hot summer months.

Lawn mowing can be hazardous to your health, especially if you disregard safety when using a power mower.

The first rule in safe operation of a lawn mower is to become completely familiar with your machine. Read the owner's manual carefully. Make sure everyone who will be operating the lawn mower understands the controls and knows how to stop the engine quickly in case of an emergency.

Before mowing, clear the entire lawn of sticks, stones, wire and debris -- anything that could be thrown by the mower blade. Then get pets and small children out of the mowing area.

Disengage the clutch and shift into neutral before starting the engine. Keep your feet away from the blade when starting the engine.

Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, if even for a moment. Always stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug wire if you intend to check or work on the mower.

Also stop the engine and allow it to cool before refueling. And use safety containers for gasoline.

Exercise extreme caution when mowing on slopes or wet grass, and never pull the mower toward you. Use a "plug-in" electric mower only when the grass is dry.

For Parmer Co. - - Committee Will Issue Medallion

The Parmer County Historical Survey Committee has announced plans to issue a Bicentennial commemorative medallion for the county later this year.

At the same time, the committee announced a contest for designs for the two sides of the coin. Professional and amateur artists of all ages are invited to submit designs for the coin.

The historical survey committee suggests that the front (obverse) side be representative of Parmer County. The reverse side could commemorate the Bicentennial.

Designs may be in pencil or pen and ink, but not crayon. School children may submit ideas for the medallion, and if selected, their designs will be redrawn by a professional, a spokesman for the committee said.

The artwork may include several themes such as agriculture, landmarks or anything typical of Parmer County. Several areas of interest should be incorporated into the design.

Designs must be submitted by June 15. Drawings should be 8 1/2 x 11 inches and should be submitted in a manila envelope to Mrs. Glenn E. Reeve, 510 West 10th, Friona, Tex.

A suitable prize for the winner will be awarded. Details on the prize will be announced at a later date.

LaShawn Sheets Honored As UTA 'Athlete Of Year'

LaShawn Sheets of Farwell was chosen as the University of Texas at Arlington "Intramural Athlete of the Year" during the spring semester. This is the highest honor awarded by the intramural department.

According to Intramural Director Jim Garrett, this was quite unusual for a mid-term transfer student to come in and win such an honor. LaShawn had previously attended college at Weatherford (Tex.) Junior College.

The athlete participated in the Intramural All-Star competition and was the top point collector of all female athletes. She is a junior majoring in physical therapy at UTA.

She is the daughter of Alta Sheets and Harry Sheets, both of Farwell.

Barry Kingston, male "Athlete of the Year," was also from a small town, Whitney, Tex. He is a junior and a transfer student.

WE ARE DEALERS FOR DriAll DRYERS!

THE LARGE PLENUM CHAMBER combined with high airflow per bushel and correct fuel combustion insures even heat distribution and evenly dried grain throughout the drier. Even distribution plus even heat plus even unloading equals uniform drying at highest capacity and at lowest cost.

AUTOMATIC FEED
All units are equipped for automatic loading. The bin switches let the drier fill automatically from truck, wagon or wet storage.

DISTRIBUTING SYSTEM
Uniform drying is assured by this adjustable system which distributes the grain evenly over the full length of the drier and keeps "fines" from piling up at the inlet end that cause uneven drying.

SIMPLE CONTROLS
Easy-to-read temperature limit, flame-out, loss of airflow and thermostatic temperature controls provide quick, effortless control.

FRONT ENCLOSURE
Reduces the noise level and provides operator safety, as well as reduces recirculation of the air to increase drier efficiency.

AIRFLOW FAN
Specially designed fan delivers correct airflow for uniform, high speed drying. Blades can be factory set for various power sources.

INDUSTRIAL BURNER
Heavy-duty burner especially designed for each model provides proper combustion and heat distribution. Optional dehydrator unit can be added at any time.

MOISTURE CONTROL AID
Because of reduced recirculation, proper airflow and even heat distribution, a DriAll unit needs only one moisture control sensor. This control helps keep grain dried to a set moisture level and takes the worry out of drying and are designed to prevent jamming. The venturi augers turn slowly to gently move the grain to a central unloading point at the rear for ease of handling.

GRAIN FLOW
Straight 42-inch grain columns expose an equal amount of grain on each side to proper heat and airflow to give high quality, uniform drying. Grain moves slowly down the columns and passes into the cooling section where it completes drying the grain and equalizes. Grain leaving the cooling section is cooled to near outside air temperatures.

INSULATED DECK
The deck that separates the chambers is insulated for more efficient heating and cooling.

SAFE VAPORIZER
In DriAll models using LP Gas, low temperature vaporizers are safely located in the plenum chamber away from flame, as contrasted to short tube systems that are located directly in the flame that can be potential fire hazards.

TOTALLY ENCLOSED
Weatherstrips and front enclosure reduce recirculation, increase drying capacity, and abate air pollution. The roof saves you valuable down time in case of rain or snow.

POWER OPTION
Either power-take-off (PTO) or Electric Drive may be selected for any DriAll model.

SCROLL PRESENTED - Texas House of Representatives Speaker Pro Tempore Richard Slack, right, presented a scroll signed by members of the House to Speaker Bill Clayton of Springlake on Monday, May 26, in observance of Speaker's Day. During past sessions, House members and friends have honored the leadership of the Speaker during a session by giving presents. This year Speaker's Day activities were geared toward recognizing the cooperation and work of members and House employees as well as the Speaker.

Breaks Tradition - -

Speaker's Day Activities Recognize Bill Clayton

In a break with tradition, Texas House of Representatives Speaker Bill Clayton has requested all gifts and contributions usually given to the Speaker and his family on Speaker's Day be given to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and Girlstown, U. S. A. in Whiteface.

During past sessions, House members and friends have honored the leadership of the Speaker during a session by giving presents. This year Speaker's Day activities Monday, May 26, were geared toward recognizing the cooperation and work of members and House employees as well as the Speaker.

Clayton said contributions to the charity organizations are still being donated, and he plans to make a formal presentation of the money after the session. He has reiterated his call for contributions, encouraging any persons who still might be interested to contribute.

Five receptions were scheduled on Speaker's Day honoring House members, employees and the Capitol news media. Included in the day's activities was a House floor ceremony in which Clayton was presented with a scroll signed by House members and two framed batiks from House employees.

Thirteen former Speakers also congregated to honor Clayton. They were seated on the podium behind the Speaker during the formal House ceremony.

Speaking to members and guests, Clayton said that the session had been a success because of the hard work of members and their staffs.

"With one week remaining in the session," he said, "I am proud to say that when the smoke is settled and the gavel is silenced, this Legislature will have written a progressive era in Texas history that will be a long time being told.

"When the session began, I knew there were doubts across the state because of the diverse ideologies and political philosophies in the Legislature. The question was whether we could accomplish much for Texas. I'm proud to say that we've passed legislation that people thought would be impossible. You've worked together as a team regardless of your ideologies.

"You've worked long and hard. I doubt there's been any Legislature to this point in history that has had the work load this session has had. More than 2,300 House bills alone have been introduced this session, along with the 1,500 Senate bills. I wish the citizens of this state could follow your trail on a couple of your legislative days to see how much interest and desire you have to see the people of this great state get a fair shake."
