

Two Assistant Agents Offered Parmer County

A business trip over the weekend took us "deep in the heart of Texas," and afforded us some scenes which we never before have had the pleasure of viewing. It was the first time since we were very young that we have seen the deep central West Texas area looking like it could ever grow anything.

Often times referred to as the "cross-timbers" part of the state, this section, to us, is where West Texas joins with East Texas. This is where the dusty brown or red lands give away to the heavy black soils of the rolling Central Plains. Agriculturally speaking, it is a country of contrast.

Down through Stonewall, Jones, Shackelford, Eastland, Erath, and Bosque Counties, it is evident that they have had some good rains during recent weeks, and residents there tell us things are looking better for them than at any other time within the past four years.

Like the High Plains, where we only have one crop now growing (our winter wheat), the only thing putting on any green down there is oats. But they are certainly "feeling their oats," in that part of the state, and we cannot recall when we ever have seen fields more verdantly green than those.

According to reports in the papers, a lot of moisture has come to deep Central and Southern Texas. If you will recall, those are the areas where the present drought got started. It seems to be breaking up where it first got a foothold, and is moving north and northwestward. Maybe real natural moisture will even reach US before too long. Keep up those hopes!

There appears to be little hope that the price situation for grain sorghums grown in 1955 will be improved. Yet, from indications taken all around us, very heavy investments in machinery and improvements are being made in this part of the country, which all boils down to this: More people than ever before now have an abiding faith in the future of this part of the High Plains.

No one we have talked with is openly optimistic about prospects for doing very well with wheat, cotton, or feed this year, but that doesn't seem to be dimming everyone's appetite to continue drilling wells and improving farms with capital outlays that stagger the imagination.

The writer would probably be tarred and feathered if he suggested that 70 percent supports on grain sorghums will prove to be a blessing in disguise, and even we—with our inherent confidence in the future—cannot regard our plight with such optimism.

Yet, we do stand our ground and insist that this is a time when we should take inventory of our blessings as well as our misfortunes, and look for the silver lining in whatever clouds may be upon the horizon.

Our opinion is that the people of this part of the Plains are on the very brink of a new and unbelievable prosperous era. We feel that all of us should try, whenever possible, to look ahead not just at what next week, or next fall, or next year may bring to our lives, but where we likely will be in another five years—or possibly ten.

All of us who are living on the Western High Plains are proving to the rest of the world that we can "take it" in spite of the worst conditions imaginable. We are now enduring our trial by fire, if you prefer a descriptive figure of speech.

Drought has come. Crops have failed. Our markets have dwindled. Our prices have declined.

All these things happened in the 1930's. And you remember what happened then. People who were lucky moved out. They left this country calling it "The Great American Desert."

Today, what has happened instead? We have had an exact recurrence of those formidable conditions, but:

Our production has risen. Our bank deposits have climbed to all-time highs. Our good land, blessed with God's water and man's ingenuity, has produced in abundance. Our people have prospered. New growth is springing up all about us.

Most important thing of all: Our people have STAYED. They have not lost faith in our country this time.

In fact, they are putting the fruits of their labors back into improving their farms in order to take advantage of what they believe to be a real opportunity in the years that lie ahead.

Where do we get our long-range optimism? It is from the skyrocketing needs of our own people, not even including what we could expect in the way of a natural increase in needs for people of other lands.

"During the next 15 years we shall have to increase our total agricultural output by approximately (Continued on last page.)"

From among 254 counties in Texas, Parmer County this week was selected as one of the 12 others in the state which have been placed on an "eligible, if the people want it" basis for substantially expanding the services now made available to rural families through the Extension Service.

Called the Farm and Home Development Program, this comparatively new idea in Extension work is offering Parmer County the services of two additional full-time persons—one under the supervision of the home demonstration agent, another under the supervision of the county agent.

In a nutshell, the plan is this: If farm families in Parmer County appear to be interested in expanding the service with two additional persons to supervise farm and home development, then a reporting committee will indicate this desire to E. T. Ford, chairman, who in turn will report to the county commissioners.

The two new agents offered are associate agents who would work with a limited number of farm families. They would work under the two present agents but not as assistant agents to help the county agent and home demonstration agents with already existing programs.

The Extension Service has offered to pay the salaries for the new personnel, but the county will be asked to kick in $800 for each person (total of $1600 additional) for travel and incidental expenses.

So far as County Agent Joe Jones and HD Agent Corinne Stinson are aware, Hale is the only other county in this area which is being considered for the extension.

Doris Leggett and Knox Parr, district agents, explained the choice of Parmer County in this manner:

"We chose Parmer County to discuss this program with for several reasons. It has many new homes. The background, personalities, and experience of the county extension agents should enable them to help supervise and carry out the program successfully. There are many young families starting out. The size of the farm is favorable. We believe that people there might appreciate and make the best use of this service."

Called in for a quick conference Monday on the subject were several community leaders from over the county. They will constitute the "reporting committee."

Included are E. T. Ford, chairman; Walter Kaltwasser, Mrs.

Davis Gulley, Mrs. A. G. Thorn, and Mrs. D. L. Carmichael.

Commissioners J. H. McDonald and Forrest Osborn were present for the discussion, as well as District Agents Parr and Leggett, Jones and Miss Stinson rounded out (Continued On Last Page)

CHARLES A. GUY

Guy Speaker At C-C Feast

Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, will be speaker at the annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet scheduled for Friday night in the Farwell school cafeteria. It is to begin at 8 o'clock.

Crowds for the banquet have continued to increase in size in years past, and several hundred persons are expected to be on hand when President Otis Huggins gives the welcome to begin the evening.

Guests for all near-by communities, and as far away as Portales, Amarillo, and Lubbock, are expected to be present to hear the veteran newspaperman and enjoy a meal of chicken and dressing and all the trimmings.

Plates are going for $2 each. Rev. E. J. Keith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Farwell, will offer the invocation before the meal, and Charles Phillips and his troupe will provide entertainment in song and comedy.

Another highlight of the evening will be a presentation of five new directors of the Chamber, and the new president, vice-president, and treasurer.

Members of the organization this week elected Sam Aldridge, Hamlin Overstreet, Johnnie Williams, Bob Brooks, and Bob Anderson to director's positions. The Chamber retained the services of Otis Huggins, W. H. Graham Jr., Ed Blain, and W. V. Vinyard to complete the nine-man board.

The directors yesterday elected officers to run the organization for the coming year, and these posts will be revealed at the banquet.

Everyone is invited to attend, whether a member of the Chamber or not, stresses Huggins.

Wolverines Win First Round In District Tourney

Texico Wolverines are still in play in the district 6-B basketball tournament, after winning their first round of competition over Ranchvale yesterday (Wednesday), and will be back on the court tonight, striving for a chance to get into the finals. Games are played in the ENMU gymnasium at Portales.

The Wolverines topped their first opponents from Ranchvale by an easy count of 45-31 yesterday. Game tonight is with the winner of the Grady-Rosedale tilt, and will be played at 7 p. m. MST. If the local team should win tonight, they would play the top team of three schools, either Melrose, Elida or Floyd, on Friday night. That game would be at 7 p. m. MST.

The next round for teams remaining in the winners column will be at 7 o'clock Saturday evening and championship bout is set for 8:30. All times given are Mountain Standard.

Other teams in the district that have not been listed above are Tatum, Dora, Field, Rogers, Ft. Summer and Causey.

Agrie Jones, superintendent of Texico Schools, is chairman of district 6-B this year.

Many Go To Grain Meeting

Estimates ranging from 200 to 400 persons were made on the representation from Parmer County in attendance at what was called a "protest meeting" in Amarillo Tuesday afternoon, attempting to draw grain sorghum producers together for a discussion of the price for their produce this year.

Walter Berger, associate director of Commodity Stabilization Service, was the only official Washington audience present at the meeting, and his comments, which came at its conclusion, were not considered favorable. At least, it seemed apparent that most of the producers present disagreed with his position.

Two Parmer County men figured prominently in the huge gathering—estimated at 2000 or over. Those were Arlin Hartzog of Farwell and Bill Sherley of Lazbuddie.

Hartzog was elected as chairman of the meeting and conducted the four-hour long session. Sherley was one of seven committeemen named to grapple with the problem as best they could.

The theme of the meeting around one point: Sorghum support prices need to be raised. The arguments heard from Plains producers, however, had little visible impact on the USDA representative.

Following the gathering, Hartzog commented that he felt "The meeting definitely was worthwhile." He added, however, that he also thinks "it will be necessary for someone to go to Washington" before anything can be changed in the Department of Agriculture's attitude. Unlike some farmers who expect (Continued on last page.)

Bovina Boys, Girls Win District Tourney

The Bovina Mustangs trampled all opposition with ease to win the District 3-B tournament at Vega last weekend, and this was regarded as no great surprise among fans.

Something that really opened the spectators' eyes, however, was the performance of the girls' team from Bovina, which also swept the tourney without blemish, resulting in twin victories for the teams from that community.

For the Mustangs, the wins at Vega meant a clear-cut crown for District 3-B. The girls, however, earned only half of the conference title by virtue of winning the tournament, since they wound up in a tie for second at the end of regular playing season.

The lasses had previously knotted the score with Farwell, both having a 13-10 record for the year.

In order to determine who will be district champ, a "sudden death" game between Bovina and Lazbuddie will be played Friday night in Friona. The victor will then represent this district against District 4-B (Cotton Center).

Lazbuddie fell to the Bovina girls in the finals Saturday evening, and it was the first time this year that Bovina had managed to win from them. (See complete tournament game stories in the Bovina and Lazbuddie news sections).

The Mustangs, who Tuesday night beat Anton, champ of District 4-B, will move directly into regional play against the best team from Districts 7- and 8-B. This game will be tomorrow (Friday) at 3:30.

Bovina, although favored to handle Anton without too much trouble, won by only a four-point margin, and the Bulldogs gave the Mustangs quite a scare before falling 79-75. The quarter scores indicated the Mustangs started off well, but Anton gained steadily until the end of the game: 21-13, 33-30, 56-48. (Continued on last page)

Three "Extras" On District Teams

Some unusual circumstances came up when voting was tabulated last weekend to see who would be on the District 3-B team. Voting for three girls ended in a tie; and the same thing happened on ballots being cast for three members of the boys' all-district team.

Making the teams by clear-cut decisions were Lynn Hardin, Vega; Clara Jesko and Nealy Steinbock, Lazbuddie; Glenna Davis, Farwell; Norman Killough and Don Owens, Bovina; Phil Price, Vega; and Bert Williams, Farwell.

Barbara Pinnell, Judy Pinnell, both of Adrian, and Linda Kube of Farwell were tied for places on the girls' team, so a seventh trophy has been ordered.

Two extra trophies were ordered for the boys' team when Jimmy Oliver of Lazbuddie tied with Don Gerier and Eddie Smith of Farwell.

Oddly enough, no Bovina girl was placed on the all-district team, although it was that school which won the district tournament.

Because some persons have been curious about this point, league officials explained that the nominations were made on a basis for performance during the entire season—not just the tournament. All coaches of all teams in the district voted on the positions.

April 26 Selected For SCD Field Day

Members of the Parmer County SCD board of supervisors, meeting in Farwell Monday afternoon, selected April 26 as the date for the annual field day.

This particular event has been drawing much interest in recent years, principally because of the tremendous growth of irrigation on the Plains.

At later meetings, possibly the next one, which will be March 21, the board will decide on a place for the meeting, pick a speaker, (Continued On Last Page)

90% "Not Practical" Without Controls, Believes Committee

E. T. Ford, chairman, Edgar Walters, James Mabry and Melvin Sachs, members of Parmer County Farm Bureau's commodity committee, met in the Friona office Thursday night, for further study of the grain sorghum support price problem. A. J. Ellison, Farm Bureau president, was also present, according to Raymond Euler, service agent.

Information from Secretary Benson, concerning the surplus of this commodity, was too vague for conclusive consideration in relation to the 70% parity support announced, he said, and efforts are being made to obtain further information on this subject. Representatives were to be present at the Amarillo mass meeting Tuesday, where USDA officials were to present the complete picture. (Continued on last page.)

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Starting at the Wrong End With Tax Cutting Ideas

There may be more than one way to skin a cat, but Democrats who propose a personal income tax cut of $20—regardless of what the individual's income or situation may be—are starting at the wrong end of the thing, in our notion.

You say we aren't in favor of cutting taxes? Outside of a few treasury department officials, we don't know of a person in this country who wouldn't like to see his cut to Uncle whittled down a little bit.

Still, we feel that some of our legislators have everything backwards. The idea, it seems to us, should be to first reduce expenditures—then go ahead with cutting taxes if conditions warrant.

Take yourself for instance. If you'd like to have more money to spend on yourself, does it make sense to plunge in and poop off a lot of money on fun, and then have to borrow in order to pay the family's obligations: house payments, groceries, utilities, and so forth?

Of course not. The same principle exactly is involved in our government. If we want more for ourselves, it is foolish to take it when it then becomes necessary for the government to borrow in order to pay its obligations.

President Eisenhower is proposing huge expenditures in several fields. Aid to schools, the highway system, and a dozen other things total an additional $30 billion. If Americans want these federal "extras" they'll have to pay for them, and it can't be done by cutting taxes. If we would make up our mind that we could get along with less federal assistance in this and that field, however, then we might very well see the day when a rising national income would make the reduction of taxes a reality.

fancy trains where luxury and comfort has been improved to such a point that a mere trip is a vacation in itself, the railroads aren't carrying very many of the total traveling public in America.

Heavy buses, also considered far more safe than personal automobiles, aren't doing too well, either. Have you ridden a bus lately? How many people were on it with you?

Americans are truly an unusual lot. They associate speed with progress, and progress, to all of us, seems to be our most sought-after goal.

Businessmen Waking Up

A $20,000,000 gift last month by John D. Rockefeller Jr. to strengthen Protestant theological education pointed up a nation-wide trend that seems to be growing by leaps and bounds:

The businessmen of America are giving more than ever before to the work of God.

That $20,000,000 lump sum is far out of the class of most businessmen, but it is noteworthy only because it is the most noticeable of many, many sizeable gifts—some of which represent real personal sacrifice on the part of the donor.

While it is true that most gifts to the church can be discounted as income tax deductions, it is not at all fair for most of us to point to persons who are giving large sums of money to the church and exclaim that the only reason they are doing it is to escape paying taxes.

There are many other more subtle means of decreasing taxes, and the reason for the large gifts is more likely to be deeper than that.

If anything, more persons now than ever before are awakening to the knowledge that everything they have been given them, and that they are mere keepers of God's storehouse of goods on earth.

Americans Don't Seem To Be Afraid of Progress

An American, it would seem, will do almost anything in the name of progress—including risking his neck daily in a different dozen ways. Perhaps it is the urge to get ahead of his fellow man that drives him to do it. And since all Americans seem to be forever in a hurry, perhaps it is the hope of saving a few minutes or hours of precious time that is responsible for his interest in what ever seems to look like "progress."

Almost daily we read of tragedies involving airborne Americans. There is very little a person can do toward saving his life once he climbs aboard an airplane doomed to crash.

The toll of highway wrecks has mounted to such a bloody figure that most of us don't even shudder when we read the grisly details of our friends or neighbors who are killed on the highways. Instead, we step into the new car showroom and select the most powerful automobile on display so that we won't be put to shame by having other cars on the road pass us.

Travel by rail is accepted as the safest mode of transportation, but with the exception of really

We had quite a time on a fast and timely business trip to Walnut Springs over the weekend. We drove through all kinds of weather—rain, snow, sleet, sand and beautiful sunshine. We even forged about 15 miles of "pure bog" and made it without getting up to the doors in mud, as it looked like we might.

We noticed and enjoyed the slogan on the chamber of commerce sign outside the town of Hico—"Hico, Texas, where everybody is somebody."

And we saw the first striped roof that we have ever seen, on a home. Although it wasn't exactly the type exterior we would choose, it was unique to say the least. The stripes were very distinct, in bold colors of red and green.

We don't remember exactly where it was, but one of the most unusual highways we've ever gone over, gave one the impression of "hour glasses" placed end to end. The highway would widen into a four-lane affair, and just as the car would be back in the line of traffic, we would merge into a two-lane jaunt for about a quarter of a mile. It gave us a "weaving" sensation and we scooted from four-lane to two-lane and back again, over and over, for several miles.

Then outside the city of Glen Rose, a sign boldly announced "You missed it, turn back." Glancing back to see what we had missed, we fell into the trap, the sign was merely a clever advertisement, for a tourist court there.

And one clever advertiser had mounted a series of used refrigerators on a bill board, with the big boxes inscribed with an announcement that "we were traded in on a (trade name) new refrigerator, with all the glowing comments about the best products."

There is nothing that gives us more of a lift and makes publishing the paper more interesting and more enjoyable than to have a nice letter, as we did from Mrs. David Moseley last week. Thanks so much Mrs. Moseley.

She did remark that she had missed an account of Ronny's antics in the past few weeks. It isn't because he hasn't been just as active and "full of life," it is that we have failed to record some of them in this column. Being proud parents, we are typical in that we like to talk about our offspring.

He is most cooperative by making each day a little different and giving our lives "spice." He is changing and growing so rapidly (he'll be two in April) and has many definite habits that are so noticeable.

Our day begins with a loud chirp from Ronny, as he yells "ma-ma" and we peer into his room to see him standing at the end of his bed, holding pe-ah (pillow) in one arm and Mi-beah (Mr. Bear) in the other. His grin wrinkles all the way across his face when he spies us. When he hits the floor, that is the last time we see him standing still until evening.

He first finds the mambo (the radio) and if we don't assist him, he manages to find some music, it doesn't matter what kind just so it has a rhythm. He is rapt for minutes when his father permits him to watch the mambo change records.

Ready for breakfast, he pushes his high chair up to the table, crawls over the side and settles himself comfortably, then impatiently chants "eat, eat" until we have his food before him. Being quite independent, he wants no assistance in feeding himself. That usually makes up the first thirty minutes of the day, and during the remainder, anything can happen. "Grandma," who watches over him while we work, can vouch for that. She always has a story on Ronny, when we go in at the end of the day.

As the head of the household remarked only this week "we can hardly remember married life without Ronny, but who would want to?"

We have a most unique recipe for our column this week, and we know you will enjoy it. We have been wanting this one for a long time, because several people have told us how delicious it is.

It is Irene Dyer's recipe for English "trifle" and those who have had a chance to sample it, say it is one of the most delicious and unusual desserts ever served. It is also one of those delicacies that can be varied extensively by using different fruits and gelatin flavors.

First, a sponge cake is cooked and placed in the bottom of the serving dish. Any sponge cake recipe may be used, says Mrs. Dyer.

Then the cake is spread with jam or preserves. She likes to use apricot for this. Then jello is mixed and poured over the cake immediately. Mrs. Dyer recommends orange flavor.

After the mixture is placed in the refrigerator and has set, a layer of peaches or other fruit is placed on top. A small can of sliced peaches is usually sufficient for this.

Next layer is of strawberries (½ box of frozen ones is ideal) then a layer of vanilla pudding is added. The strawberry and vanilla pudding layers are repeated, and the last item is a whipped cream topping.

Sometimes to make the dessert a little more decorative, nuts may be added. The dessert is then chilled and is ready to serve.

Ceremony Unites Couple Sunday

A candlelight ceremony read Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church, united in marriage Miss Iris Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thornton of this city, and Randal Price, son of Mrs. Cora Price of Amarillo. Rev. Miller H. Stroup, pastor of the local church, read the double-ring vows. In the background was a greenery-entwined archway with accenting palms and mammoth baskets of white gladioli and stock on either side. Central arrangement behind the arch was an open Bible placed on a table, with tall apers flanking the Book, and a lighted cross in the background. Graduated candelabra were used, and a satin kneeling bench was placed before the altar.

Mrs. R. W. Anderson, pianist, played pre-nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Claude Dyer as she sang "Because." Mrs. Dyer then sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction to the ceremony. Traditional wedding marches were used.

Ushers were Wilfred Quickel, brother-in-law of the bride, and William Thornton, brother of the bride. Serving as candlelighters were Bill Quickel, nephew of the bride, and Miss Cynthia Collins, cousin of the bridegroom, from Borger. Miss Collins wore a ballerina-length gown of white, with a high neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. Completing her costume, ran her band of white rosebuds, worn in her hair.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Wilfred Quickel, who chose a princess style ensemble of soft rose, fashioned with a deep V off-shoulder neckline and band sleeves buttoned with rhinestones. Small rhinestone buttons were used down the front of the tight bodice, which extended into a bouffant skirt of after-five length. Her tier was of white rosebuds and she carried a colonial bouquet of red and white roses, with satin and maline backing.

Serving his brother as best man was Lee Price of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Little Misses Teresa Quickel and Irene Thornton, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They wore ballerina-length dresses of blue, with Peter Pan collars and fitted bodices, and full ruffled skirts. Their minute yellow baskets contained blue and yellow buds, and their headbands were of yellow rosebuds.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin wedding gown of ballerina-length, which was fashioned with a billowing skirt and fitted bodice accented by a lace bolero with Peter Pan collar and minute lace covered buttons extending down the front. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried a bridal bouquet of orange blossoms centered with a white orchid and placed atop a white Bible.

Traditionally, she wore something old and borrowed, her veil belonging to her friend, Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser; her wedding ensemble was new, and heart-shaped earrings belonging to her sister were something blue. She also wore a ixpence in her shoe.

Kidnap Breakfast Begins Rush Socials

A kidnap breakfast began a series of rush events by members of Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Don Williams.

Theme for decorations was George Washington's birthday. Centerpiece featured a log surrounded by palomino leaves and artificial cotton bolls, and dotted with red berries. A hatchet atop the log completed the color scheme and brown and natural wood candle holders contained yellow tapers. Place cards were hatchet-shaped sugar cookies, with names of attendants in red icing.

Bacon and eggs, orange juice, hot biscuits, butter and jelly were served with coffee to attendants. Special guests were Mesdames Claude Dyer, A. T. Watts and Miss Ella Bradshaw. Others attending were Mesdames Mitz Walling, Joe Helton, Walter Kaltwasser, Bert Williams, Wilfred Quickel, Bob Brooks, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Curtis Miller, Gilbert Watkins, Kenneth Fields, M. C. Roberts, Wilma Liner and the hostess.

Model meeting is scheduled for Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Walling, with a special program on Italy, directed by Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. W. H. Graham Jr. Members are to wear costumes reminiscent of ancient Rome, to further the theme of the evening.

Gamma Iota chapter of Delta Gamma Society met for a tea and program in the First Baptist Church of Plainview Saturday at 2:30 in the afternoon. Several women from this county are members.

Mrs. Gladys Whitacre, Miss Lucille Flowers, Mrs. Kate Jagers and Miss Mozelle Windweber were hostesses for the tea featuring cherry tarts with whipped cream. A silver service was used for coffee and tea.

Program was a panel discussion "Legislation and the Teacher Shortage." Miss Gladys Holley, legislation chairman, was leader with Mrs. Genevieve Howe, teacher welfare chairman, Mrs. R. B. McQuatters, Mrs. Mattie Ruth Nowlin and Miss Laura Mae Terrell participating.

It was brought out that reasons for the teacher shortage included low salaries, small yearly increment, absence of security, lack of prestige, too heavy teaching loads, extra-curricular loads, many after school meetings, and arbitrary administration.

Another problem discussed by the panel were the laws in relation to certification. Laws were passed in 1921, and attendants expressed the view that such laws are now outmoded in the present educational system. Basketball Teams Lose In Tourney

Farwell basketball teams closed out their season over the weekend, when they competed in the district tournament at Vega, and boys made a futile attempt in their last chance for a try for the district crown, when they were once again defeated by the Bovina Mustangs. The Mustangs have stymied the Steers in two previous conference games, and also during an invitational tournament encounter. The results of the district tournament left the Steers in the second place slot for the year. The Steers had also lost to the Mustangs for the football crown.

Drouth Steps Up Irrigation Interest

Drouth and its resulting loss of production as contrasted with irrigation farming has emphasized to farmers the necessity of utilizing every available source of water. The lack of moisture, reports Joe Jones, county agent, has brought record numbers of requests from farmers for information on soil and water conservation, irrigation and drainage. Extension agriculture engineers in their 1954 annual report say that county agents and specialists of the Agricultural Extension Service were asked for assistance on such problems as the layout and design of terraces, drainage and irrigation systems, mapping, surveying of ditches, drains, contours and borders. Also information was sought on spacing, drilling and equipping wells; the crop-water relationships; soil-water relationships; crop rotations; fertilizer and legume programs; irrigation management practices, costs; economics; marketing and many other related subjects.

Girls Game Lost

Lazbuddie girls began their scoring in the first period and steadily increased their lead over the Farwell team, in the first round of play Thursday evening. Final count was 57-36 for Lazbuddie.

Boys Games Given

The Steers met Adrian Thursday evening in their first tilt in the play-offs and doubled their opponents in an easy game, 50-25. From the beginning whistle, the locals had control of the scoring. David Willard paced the Steers with 14 points and Don Geries made 12.

Save It If You Read It

Several months ago, following several requests from readers, The Tribune began carrying each week a full record of the instruments filed at the courthouse. This column was begun in the interest of public service, and it will be continued as such if we are convinced that enough persons regularly make use of it to justify the time and space which we have been devoting to it each week. With the continued growth of Parmer County, real estate swapping has gotten to the big business stage, and publication of the complex records has become very burdensome. We of The Tribune will be more than happy to continue publication of this regular weekly feature if we can only be assured that readers find it to be of value. Therefore, we are asking that our readers be our guides in determining whether to continue publication of the records. We have plenty of other news we

Field Day Set At PanTech

At PanTech Farms, Route 2, Panhandle, the test of ability to gain in beef cattle is nearing the last lap of the fifth consecutive year of such tests. In these tests pure-bred bull calves, owned by beef cattle breeders of Northwest Texas, are self-fed a growing ration for 140 days to determine the inherent ability to gain rapidly.

These breeders, in co-operation with Texas Technological College, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA make the test possible.

Large differences in gain between individual bulls as well as between sire groups has been found. On the gain ability test at PanTech this year are 105 bulls representing 19 different herds throughout Northwest Texas. The bulls were officially placed on test November 15, 1954, and to date the entire group has averaged 2.62 pounds per day gain. The top ten sire groups averaged 2.91.

After the 140 day feeding period a Field Day and auction will be held. The sale order will be determined in ability to gain coupled with conformation grade. This Field Day and sale will be held at PanTech Farms, April 14, 1955

Texico Ends Season With Pair Of Wins

The Texico High School basketball team defeated Rogers, Friday night, the girls winning 41-36 and boys 55-48.

Although the Texico girls led the entire game, the Rogers girls kept very close behind making a very exciting game. Barbara Caldwell was high scorer with six field goals and 11 free tosses for 23 points.

A wild scoring spree by Rogers in the last quarter caused the Texico boys some trouble in keeping the lead. The Wolverines were enjoying a 13 point lead going into the fourth quarter but Rogers narrowed it down to seven points before the final buzzer rang.

Kenneth Reid was high scorer with 13 points followed closely by Jimmy Moss with 12 counters.

Frisona To Enter Legion Contest

AUSTIN—Members of the American Legion District 18 are working hard to make the annual District Americanism Oratorical Contest the most successful in the history of the event, Senator Andy Rogers, Co-chairman of the Americanism Committee, reported today.

To be held at the American Legion Building in Amarillo at 10:00 a. m., Feb. 25, the contest will feature oratory by contestants from many district high schools. Judges for the event were selected by Senator Rogers. They are: J. E. Dean of Tulia, Dave Rascoe of the Amarillo Daily News, and J. C. Phillips of the Borger News Herald.

"We of the Legion believe this contest is one of the most important projects we undertake," Senator Rogers said. "In these days of strife and tension, it is doubly important that the youth of the nation should speak out in confirmation of the ideals we Americans uphold." Senator Rogers called on the public and members of the Legion to attend the contest and "support this public statement of faith in America."

All Lions are invited to attend the regular meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Legion Hall and to hear a speaker. The meal will be served at 7:30.

A good motto for every motorist is to put Safety First—always. A driver is never more safe than his car, however, and it's always in style to keep that auto in tip-top condition.

Here at Rite-Way, we suggest regular checks of the steering system, as well as adjustment of brakes frequently. These are absolute "musts."

Also important, however, are your electrical system and your exhaust system. A light failure or poisoning by carbon monoxide should be avoided at all costs.

See us soon for these and other good ideas in auto maintenance. We believe in doing the job the "Rite-Way," and very reasonable fees.

Plan Your Spring Garden Now

COLLEGE STATION—There's plenty of satisfaction and amazing production in a "small" spring garden.

The garden fever however, often persuades folks to plant a larger area than they can properly care for. So when you plan this year's garden, trim it down to your size, advises B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturalist.

Spread out your plantings so the harvest will extend over a longer period of time, suggests Hancock. A garden planted at one time causes over-production for a short period and then supplies are gone.

Plant a variety of vegetables, about 32 are commonly grown in Texas. Why not try a new vegetable each season, he says.

Have commercial fertilizers, insecticides, seed treating chemicals and other needed equipment on hand for ready use.

English peas, turnips, cabbage plants, onions, head lettuce and white potatoes can stand considerable cold weather and may be planted four to five weeks before the last average killing frost.

Other vegetables adapted to early planting—two to three weeks before the last frost—are radishes, mustard, beets, carrots and leaf lettuce.

Finally, Hancock says for best results plant those vegetables suited to your particular area.

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here; I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

The sale will start at 10 o'clock, MST. The Fairfield ladies will serve lunch.

Cooperation Urged For School Census

Mrs. Ansel Doolittle of Texico Schools announces that she is now taking school census for the coming year and urges cooperation from all parents of school age children, in making the count complete.

She asks that all children who will be six years of age before January 1, be registered at the school, and also those students who will not be older than 19 at that time.

BOVINA WINS—

Bass of Anton led the evening's scoring, with 25 points. Of these, he netted 13 by way of free shots, and during the game stacked up an amazing 13-out-of-14 record at the foul line.

Scoring for Bovina was evenly distributed, Darrell Read, Norman Killough, and Larry Ezell all making 16 points each.

Fans will remember 1954-55

as one of the most successful seasons for any Bovina basketball aggregation. The Mustangs rolled up an impressive list of victories, pasting up wins over several schools much larger than their own. They gained state-wide recognition in twice scoring more than 100 points in a game.

Only two opponents managed to overhaul the high-scoring group. One of these was the Amarillo Yarnigans, and one was Quitaque, who last week sneaked through a 1-point victory.

No conference enemy even threatened the Mustangs, however, except perhaps the Farwell Steers, who twice came within five points of them.

Clovis Ratliff, coach, is in his sixth year with the team, and this is the second straight season he has tutored the Mustangs to a conference crown. With only three seniors on the squad (Killough, Newton, and Owens), he still will not be seriously hurt by graduation.

The season record: Hereford, 56-49; Canyon, 62-58; Tulia, 51-49; Hereford, 65-58; Texico, 64-45; Olton, 81-44; Brownfield, 73-53; Yannigans, 48-69; Dalhart 93-59; Farwell, 65-60; Farwell B, 77-26; Vega 80-64; Farwell, 74-69; Adrian, 90-27; Lazbuddie, 107-48; Vega, 92-71; Farwell, 76-63; Hereford, 74-77; Adrian, 126-40;

Lazbuddie, 92-34; Texico, 32-70; Vega, 93-60; Quitaque, 56-57; Lazbuddie, 93-45; Farwell 83-65.

90 PERCENT—

The committee agreed that it would not be practical to ask for 90% parity supports unless acreage controls were adopted, and expressed doubt that the majority of growers would favor such controls. Members also agreed that any increase in supports would have to be made on the basis of marketable need. Efforts toward establishment of more favorable marketing practices for Commodity Credit Corporation stocks for depletion of what surpluses may exist were favored by all committee men.

Requests for further experiment station studies and reports that would stimulate use of grain sorghums by feeders are being forwarded to appropriate stations.

"We are all grain sorghum producers," said Mabry, "and we fully realize the seriousness of the problem facing so many of us who depend upon this commodity as a cash crop; but we want to be sure we know enough facts to substantiate any claims we make for price support increases before we talk too much. When we have those facts before us, we will be ready to present them to the proper authorities and expect results."

All committeemen expressed opposition to asking Commodity Credit Corporation to finance production of any commodity so far beyond market needs as to be a stumbling block to the farm program in general. Cost of production ranges from $12.50 per acre to $35 per acre, depending upon the soil, fuel for irrigation, use of fertilizers and efficiency of farm operations, according to various opinions originating in Parmer County, reported Euler.

SORGHUM MEET—

pressed themselves after the meeting, Hartzog replied "Yes, I do," when asked if he thought that there was a possibility that something might be done about the matter this year.

In describing the reasons that independent producers had felt that their own meeting might better implement action in their interests, Hartzog was careful to point out:

"The independent grain sorghum producers are very anxious to work with all groups toward getting our price raised. But we are equally anxious not to cause friction between any groups, and for that reason, the Amarillo meeting must in no way be taken as a means of providing a vehicle for the furtherance of any one farm organization."

This statement was assumed to have been made because of the presence of one man on the program of the Tuesday meeting who represented the position of a national farmers' organization.

FIELD DAY—

and work out other details. Implement dealers from over the county, as well as some firms from outside of the county, will be invited to participate in showing their equipment at the field day.

Present for the board meeting were A. L. Black, Joe Blair, Clyde Sherrieb, Carl Schlenker, Matt Jesko, John Lamb, Ralph Humble, and Steve Bavousett. The latter three are connected with businesses.

ly one-fourth in order to provide for each of our new citizens the same kind and amounts of food available to the average person in the United States today.

"To accomplish this we are going to have to expand production from, roughly, the acreage that is now under cultivation. It is true that we may bring some new land into agricultural use through irrigation and reclamation each year, but even though these gains may be appreciable at times, they are offset by the farm acreage which is lost as the population of the cities overflows into newer suburban developments."

There is the heart of our philosophy. What other part of the country will be in a better position to supply these new demands than we will be?

When agricultural surpluses have finally worked themselves out, as it appears they will within a few years, we believe we will then enter into a new and opportunity-filled era for the farmers of the High Plains.

As some of our grizzled old-timers tell us: "This is the greatest 'Just wait 'til next year' country there ever was!"

and family satisfactions; put the plans into operation as rapidly as feasible and make adjustments in the plans as conditions change.

Basic parts of farm and home development include: a written plan made by the farmer and his family with assistance from the county Extension agents and other trained agricultural workers; following the plan which will be directed toward providing a satisfactory income for the family and at the same time building and conserving the soil and other resources of the farm and developing an understanding of how best to put science to work on the farm. It is an educational job since reliable information—based on research and practical experience—will provide the basis for decision making.

All agencies, based on their resources, have a part in carrying out farm and home development plans for the individual farm. Records have a place but are not all important. They will be used to determine progress.

Farm and home development is a means through which the assistance of various groups and agencies can be combined for work on the problems of concern to the family. The result will be more complete demonstrations showing the benefits to be gained from following recommended practices. It means more emphasis on specific as contrasted with general recommendations for specific problems require specialized treatment. Problems of greatest concern to the farm family will get first attention.

Parmer Gets $169,000 For Road System

AUSTIN—A check on State Highway Department records has revealed that $169,132.13 was spent by the department on Parmer County highways during the fiscal year 1954, Senator Andy Rogers, 30th District, of Childress, announced this week.

This was part of the whopping $3,531,666.01 allocated and spent in the 15 counties of District 30 during the period, he said. Of the amount spent in Parmer County, $110,997.08 was for construction of new highway and $58,135.05 for maintenance of existing road.

"And the benefit we get from this money in the 30th District is increased by the fact that ours is a rural area and the money goes for actual highway construction rather than for fancy and expensive traffic-routing devices," Sen. Rogers said.

The immediate future needs of Parmer County are taken into account in the $79,000 planned for near-future construction.

PAY BILLS

Routine business and payment of bills was included when members of Farwell School Board met last week. A study of the teacher situation for the coming year was begun, although no specific details were planned.

IS IMPROVED

Bovina Widows Club Enjoys "Heart Clinic"

Thursday, the Bovina Widows Club met with Mrs. Caldwell for a delicious luncheon, and a "heart clinic," where Drs. Windy and Mendy were in charge. The reporter gives her description of the meeting below.

"In the accident ward, those who were born homely had their broken hearts mended by putting the broken pieces together (heart picture puzzles).

"In the aching hearts ward, patients cut out as many hearts as possible in two minutes.

"In the nerve ward for those nervous souls who keep their doors locked by day, as well as night, patients dropped clothespins holding hearts, into jars. The oldest member, Mrs. James G. Charles, had the steadiest nerve, and dropped all of the hearts into the jar.

"In the convalescent ward, those who were exhausted, were told to relax and rest, or take a nap, later were given treatment and prescriptions. One really did take a nap.

"In the emergency ward, those who had eaten too much and had lost heart, had to make as many words as they could from the words "Lost Heart."

"One lady swallowed her heart, so Dr. Mendy had to "operate immediately."

"But when she was on the operating table and saw that the scalpel was a butcher knife, and the scissors were pruning shears that had to be sharpened on a "garden file," her heart came right up into her mouth, she jumped up from the table and ran away; and nobody seemed to know where she was when Dr. Mendy kept calling, "Where's the patient? Where's the patient?"

"Silly? Of course! But we do have fun. Points were given for each game, and Mrs. Sally Potts won. She was presented with a pretty red satin valentine pin cushion, a heart, of course."

Nine members were present: Mrs. James G. Charles, Mrs. Ollie Williams, Mrs. Bob Kelly, Mrs. J. Sam Gaines, Miss Ellen Remmsnyder, Mrs. Sallie Potts, Mrs. Tom Hastings and the hostesses, Mrs. Caldwell and Rita.

The next meeting will be March 17—St. Patrick's Day, with a St. Patrick's Day program.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Roundtree of Littlefield and Donna Roundtree of Lubbock visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Horton visited the Johnny Hortons of Clovis, Sunday afternoon.

Patriotic Theme Dominates Banquet

The WMU of the Bovina Baptist Church sponsored a banquet Monday night for the juniors and seniors of Bovina High School, to help promote Christian education. The patriotic theme was carried out in food and decorations, in honor of George Washington's birthday.

A large white cake, covered with red, white and blue candles centered the speakers table. At each of the tables, tiny flags were crossed to form the centerpiece, with toothpick flags as place cards. The programs were miniature patriotic shields. A large shield covered the door and on the piano were styrofoam hatchets, with several cherries clinging to them.

Allan Cumpton was master of ceremonies. Following the invocation, Mrs. P. A. Adams, WMU president, welcomed the juniors and seniors. Don Owens, president of the senior class, gave the response.

The Wilsonaires Trio, accompanied by Mrs. Doris Wilson, sang "My Blue Heaven" and "This Old House."

Margaret and Marcella Verner presented several patriotic pantomimes followed by group singing led by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, educational director at Earth.

Dr. A. Hope Owens of Plainville, president of Wayland College spoke to the group on preparing for the future.

Alfred Moody gave the benediction.

The banquet menu consisted of Martha Washington Special, (fried chicken); Musket Shots, (baked potatoes and gravy); Lincoln Logs, (green beans); Cannon Balls, (rolls); Independence salad (cherry congealed fruit salad); cherry pie and iced tea.

BOVINA BUTANE SERVICE PRESENTS KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS

This week our neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arthur Kriegel and their three children, Marilyn, Arnold, and Laurence. The Kriegels live three miles east of Bovina on the Dimmitt highway.

Arthur was born in and had his schooling at Copperas Cove, Coryell County. (Copperas Cove is near the town of Temple). He came from a family of seven children, five boys and two girls. Arthur has a brother and a sister at Holland, Texas, a sister at Bartlett, one brother at Copperas Cove, a brother at Muleshoe and a brother at Lariat. Both of Arthur's parents are deceased.

Mrs. Kriegel's maiden name was Marie Teinert and her parents live in Copperas Cove. Marie has seven brothers and one sister. Three of her brothers reside in Midland, three brothers and her sister are in Austin and the other brother is in Houston. Marie was also born in Copperas Cove and attended school there.

Arthur and Marie went together, after getting out of school, for about three years and then were married February 15, 1938, in Copperas Cove. After they married, they moved to Midland and lived there for 12 years before moving to Georgetown in January, 1950. In January, 1954 they moved to their present address in Parmer County.

The two boys, Arnold who is 12 and Laurence, nine, were not present when this picture was taken. They both attend Bovina schools and both boys play basketball. Arnold plays on the grade school team for Bovina, and was elected seventh grade class favorite for 54-55 in an election held last fall. Little Marilyn who was three years old last September is at home with her mom and dad. Anyone who gets near her can look forward to getting their leg talked off. She is as cute as a bunny and just loves to talk to anyone that comes around.

Arthur has 153 acres in his farm with 13 of it in cotton and the remainder in maize. He has one irrigation well which, as any farmer knows, helps him out a great deal. The Kriegel family attend the Lutheran Church at Lariat. Butane from Bovina Butane Service supplies them with heat, hot water, irrigation and tractor fuel. They say that they receive very good service from this firm.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

In the district tournament held at Vega, February 18 and 19, the Lazbuddie girls played the Farwell girls. The girls got off to a good start and played good ball ending the first quarter with a score of 12-5.

Farwell snapped out of it in the second quarter and the score at the end of that period of play was 25-22, with Lazbuddie still leading. In the third quarter, however, Farwell went back into a slump and scored only 3 points to 13 for Lazbuddie. This quarter score was 38-25.

In the fourth and final quarter, both teams played better ball, but Lazbuddie still led at the end of the game by a score of 57-36. This placed them against Adrian for their next game of the tournament.

High point for Lazbuddie was Clara Jean Jesko who had 34, Jean Gammon had 15, and Janice Oliver had 8 points.

In the girls second game, they played Adrian and led all the way. The scores at the ends of the quarters were: first quarter, 15-11; second, 36-23; third, 54-38; and final score, 72-50.

The tie was kept all the way through the third quarter as one team made a point, along came the other team and made another. The third quarter score was 28-28.

In the fourth quarter, it was still nip and tuck with first one team and then another in the lead. The final score was 38-37 with Bovina on top.

Whiteway Revision Plat Gets City's O. K.

The Friona City Commission met Wednesday, Feb. 16, in the city manager's office in Friona. In the business meeting that followed, a discussion was held on the sewer and paving project and the commission agreed to meet with a bond agent from Dallas on Feb. 23, to talk over the proposed bond election. Clyde Fields was appointed as assistant fire marshal. (Roy Wilson is the fire marshal in Friona.) The commission accepted the revised plat on the Whiteway Addition which had been approved by the planning and zoning commission earlier in the day. Water and sewer connections and also houses that have been built in Friona for the past five years were reported to the commission. Since these statistics may be of interest to local people, City Manager Roy Wilson obligingly offered them.

Friona Firemen Order Equipment

The Friona firemen met Thursday at the fire station at which time it was announced that some equipment had been ordered and other equipment, ordered some time ago, will be shipped to the local department very soon. In the business meeting, Dean Hall of the local department gave a talk on "Equipment." This is in conjunction with pamphlets that are given to members at each meeting. These are read and studied and a report is given at the following meeting.

A '52 pick-up was purchased by the department and will go with the other trucks on all fires. Approximately $1000 will be spent on equipping this truck and equipment has been ordered. Among other things it will have: a respirator, stretcher, 24 foot extension ladder, and smoke masks, and a light plant. The latter is to be used if the electricity fails at the hospital.

A two-way radio, ordered by the firemen, has been approved and will be shipped immediately, says Chief Charlie Bainum. This will enable firemen to keep in contact with the city, in case they are called out into the country, on a fire. Members adopted the revised constitution and by-laws which were brought up at the last meeting and were held over until Thursday's meeting.

A local businessman, who is constructing a new building, asked the department to burn off some weeds and trash around his structure. This project was taken care of immediately, says Bainum. Next meeting will be March 3.

Garage Fire Results In Minor Damage

Friona firemen were called to the residence of Mrs. Jim Wilson Saturday afternoon to extinguish a fire which started in the garage. Mrs. Wilson had a small gas stove in the garage with a 12-to-14-foot hose attached to the connection and it is believed that the hose caught fire at the connection. The storage shelves at the west end of the garage caught fire and little other damage was done to the structure, says Chief Charlie Bainum. The shelf contained paint and thinner and other articles. "There was quite a blaze when we arrived and if we had been a few minutes later, the entire garage would most likely have gone up in flames," says Bainum.

Flight Instructor Visits Parents Here

Lt. Kenneth Bainum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bainum, visited in his parents' home for a few days this week. Lt. Bainum is stationed at Williams Air Force Base, Chandler, Ariz. He was on a routine training mission and stopped over in Laredo to call his parents, who were very much surprised to hear his voice. He called at 2 p. m. Sunday and two hours and ten minutes later, he landed in Amarillo where his parents were waiting for him.

Kenneth just recently completed a course at the flight instructors school at Williams and is now an instructor there. He left Tuesday to go back to Chandler.

It was announced at the high school that March 3 is to be "Howdy Day" at Friona. Students and teachers have been asked not to shave between now and then and the longest beards will be judged on that day. Everyone, including teachers, are supposed to dress Western style on "Howdy Day." It hasn't been disclosed as to what will happen to those who don't take part in this affair. We've always thought that English was crazy, but we weren't sure until the other day when we heard this sentence, "We ax him if he had some boughten clothes?" That is English? It's rather hard to believe but both "ax" and "boughten" are in the dictionary and are correct although "ax" is obsolete. That we can believe! By the way, one of those words is most commonly spelled "ask." The other one is easy to figure, so we won't tell you what it is.

Dalton Caffey, superintendent of schools, traveled to Arkansas to try to find an English and Speech teacher combination for Friona High School. It was thought for awhile that he was lost in the Arkansas hills, but that wasn't true. His car developed motor trouble and he had to wait for it to be repaired before he could continue. We think the car got stubborn when it came upon those mountains and decided that the best thing to do was, just stop running and rest up a bit.

We have been told that school buses have to be inspected just as cars do and when that is finished, the Texas Highway Patrol comes around and inspects them again. We, believe, now, that after all of that is completed, that they are quite safe to drive children to school.

Perhaps this shouldn't be in this column, but we just couldn't resist the temptation. We sure would have liked the opportunity when we went to school. Want to know what it is? Well—the students at Friona are going to replace the

If 51% of your income is derived from agriculture, you can be a full-fledged voting member. If your ideas are not presently embodied in Parmer County's Farm Bureau policies, you can get them in there provided a reasonable number of your fellow farmers agree with you. That's all it takes.

We are rather proud of the recognition some of our members are receiving throughout the state. Gilbert Kaltwasser and T. L. Kent, out near Lariat, were delegated to meet with State Officials in Austin some time ago for discussion of the cotton allotment question. Since then, we have numerous complimentary reports from other county and state officials regarding their ability to present the problem at hand as they represent their constituents.

Then, just a week ago, A. J. Ellison was invited to Lynn County's Farm Bureau Kick-off meeting in Tahoka, as guest speaker. Parmer County has always had a good reputation for its membership and participation in problems that have come up for action. Men like these, of which we have many more, are ones who make that kind of reputation. All these services are performed without pay, too.

Parmer County has had more than its usual number of automobile accidents in recent weeks. Fortunately, no one has been seriously injured. We mention this to remind you to be careful in traffic. We would like to see every resident go through the year without serious injury in an automobile accident.
