Nursing Home Status Discussed By Chamber

Members of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Tuesday with a discussion of the current Farwell Hospital District Nursing Home situation heading the agenda.

During the meeting, Don Williams, member of the Hospital District Board of Directors, reported that progress on the facility is "at a standstill" with the district's application held up in Austin.

He commented that a new commission has been formed by the government to award certificates for the building of such facilities and this commission is currently holding Farwell's application.

He reported that at the current time the commission "needs more proof that the district is working on" the nursing home. "Things would probably go faster if we had had a building started," Williams related.

The director and chamber member further remarked that hospital district officers and everyone involved are "real distressed with the situation but we can't give up. We're looking at a time factor more than anything."

In relation to the time factor, it was pointed out that it may take as long as six months for the application to come out of committee.

R. W. Anderson, also a Chamber member and director of the Farwell Hospital District, commented that the main concern about the hold-up in the commission is that "we can't sell the hospital district bonds until the attorney general signs our application." He went on to say that the attorney general will not sign the application until it is given the approval of the new commission which will not act on the matter until more proof of intent is given.

"What worries us most," commented Williams, "is the fact that with everything held up in Austin, we stand the possibility of losing our 'A' rating on our bonds if they are not sold within a certain length of time."

The Twin Cities teams will both be traveling out of town for their first games. The Farwell Steers are playing the Friona Chieftains on the Chieftains' home field at 7:30 p.m. CDT. While the Texico Wolverines will be traveling to Hagerman to take on the Hagerman Bobcats, beginning at 7:30 MDT.

The official contest entry blanks will appear each week in the State Line Tribune, so be sure and fill one out and return it to the office before 5 o'clock on the Friday of the contest games. Or you may mail your entries in, but be sure they're postmarked before 5 on Friday also.

The rules are easy! Just circle the team you think will win. A tiebreaker game will also be included and on this one you will be asked to predict the score. Remember, to give each team a score on this game. This game does not count in the weekly win-loss standings but is used to decide winners in case of a tie resulting. The tiebreaker will also be used at the end of the season to help pick the high point individual in case of a tie.

The prizes make it well worth your time to enter. That is, if you like football and/or money! The first place weekly prize is $5, second prize brings you $3, and third prize is $1. High point individual at the end of the contest will receive two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game to be played New Year's Day, 1976, plus an additional $50 for expenses. This annual event is sponsored by area merchants and a list of this year's backers will be published in following issues of the Tribune.

The floor was opened for suggestions as to ways to alleviate the financial burden.

PURELY PERSONAL

by John

Absentee balloting on the Farwell city sales tax election is now underway at the city hall. Contrary to a report in the Clovis paper, a one percent tax WILL NOT be levied on everything bought or sold in the city.

The additional municipal levy will apply in the same manner and to the same items now being taxed under the Texas State tax code. This means that some items will be taxed as they are now and some will be exempt, as they are now.

If you plan to be out of town on September 6, we recommend that you drop by the city hall and cast your vote now.

Incidentally we note that in this month's report put out by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts, Bovina is listed as receiving $2,002.54 as its tax share. This is $2,002.54 that the property owners of Bovina will not have to pay to keep their city running.

We do not know if the enactment of the 1% tax will keep a future tax raise from being necessary in Farwell, but we do know it will be just that much less the local property owner will be socked at that time.

Legend has it that six weeks after the first "Norther" we will have a frost. Now a frost is always of importance on the baldies, so the question has arisen as to whether last Monday's cool breezes from the north constituted a "Norther." We admit it didn't cool much and the wind was not very speedy. On balance maybe we should call it a half-fast "Norther."

Overheard in the coffee shop: "Gee it's too bad George Meany can't follow in Hoffa's footsteps."

Meany's rash crack that foreign policy was too important to leave to the Secretary of State surely put him on the wrong side of many people in our area in a hurry. Well, seeings as how he is not subject to a mass election for his office, he probably doesn't care how he comes across to the rest of the world.

Elsewhere in the paper this week is a report on the status of the Farwell Nursing Home. It is all tied up in the red tape machine we mentioned last week in this column.

How a room full of supposedly sane men could gather and enact into law a monstrosity such as the Texas Health Facilities Commission is beyond the ken of this mortal writer. If just half of the wierd tales we hear are true, our so-called State senators and representatives should be immediately committed for psychiatric evaluation.

We know and respect our State Representative Bill Clayton. He is so well thought of that this last term saw him chosen as Speaker of the House - a position of great importance in the State of Texas.

We would say this to Bill: If your new revised state constitution in any way resembles the Texas Health Facilities Commission, may the good Lord in his infinite mercy have compassion for the citizens of this state.

Ordinarily we can always throw a few bricks at the larger centers of population for electing nutty representatives to the state legislative body. We can't even do this now, because we understand that the City of Houston is fixing to enter a law suit over the mess this Commission has gotten things into.

When that "Bagdad by the Bayou" gets fed up, it really has to be bad. Well we have cussed and discussed this Texas Health Facilities Commission, and the hard fact is we are still stymied in our efforts to break ground on our nursing home.

We will keep our upchuck bag handy and try to keep you informed on the progress of our application. Writing the news isn't all a bed of roses.

OOPS, AGAIN - Dwayne Williams, signal maintenance worker for Santa Fe Railway, was out Friday evening, Aug. 22, doing repair work on the crossing arms installed on the main street joining Texico and Farwell. Someone was involved in a "hit and run" situation involving one of the arms. Williams, who resides in Texico, reports that the arms cost approximately $300 each and this is the sixth such incident to occur since the installation of the arms. The car shown in the picture was not the culprit, but belongs to Williams.

Railroad - - Crossing Arm 'Drops' Friday

Dwayne Williams of Texico, signal maintenance worker for Santa Fe Railway, was called Friday evening to repair one of the crossing arms located at the railroad tracks joining Avenue A in Farwell and Wheeler Avenue in Texico.

Williams reports that the Friday incident was the sixth crossing arm which has been broken since the devices were installed less than one year ago. As of press time, no one had been apprehended in connection with the accident.

"If Santa Fe can determine who is responsible for breaking or vandalizing the crossing arms, a report is submitted to the state and then a claim is filed against the person for recovery of repair funds," Williams stated.

He also commented that the arms cost approximately $300 each and must be placed or repaired each time such an incident occurs.

He remarked that Santa Fe is currently in the process of moving the switching devices in an effort to help smooth the area at the crossing. "The state is to be responsible for the first paving of the area of the crossing, then the responsibility will fall to Santa Fe," Williams concluded.

Plan Accepted To Repay Loan

A special meeting was conducted Tuesday evening, Aug. 26, with approximately 30 members of the Farwell Country Club present. Purpose of the meeting was to seek a means of solving the financial problems of the facility.

At the present time a total indebtedness of $183,000 is held against the Country Club, with

Board of Directors President Walter Hughes reporting that, if no payments are made during the current year, the club will be $38,654.53 in arrears as of January 1, 1976.

Club member Durward Bell noted, "FHA (Farmers Home Administration) means what is said about the club's back payments. They must be paid. But, they will hold off if a plan is implemented to pay off the debt."

It was stated that the Country Club Board of Directors feels that the people want to meet the obligation and a proposal was offered suggesting that (Continued on Page 2)

Absentee Voting To End Tuesday

Absentee balloting in the Farwell City Sales Tax Election is to close Tuesday, Sept. 2.

All persons eligible to vote in the election who will be out of town Saturday, Sept. 6, are reminded that in order for their vote to count, they must cast an absentee ballot before 5 p.m. CDT Tuesday, Sept. 2, at Farwell City Hall.

Election proceedings are to be held Saturday, Sept. 6, at City Hall between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Kay Hagler will serve as presiding judge and Wanda Walker as alternate presiding judge.

According to Farwell City Commissioners, a city sales tax will be paid by all persons patronizing establishments within the city. In this manner everyone will be responsible for contributing to city funds, in hopes that the additional revenue will ease the tax burden on property owners.

Not all items sold within the city will be taxed. The one percent sales tax will be levied in conformation with the state sales tax structure. Tax exemptions will also conform to state sales tax levying.

Herrington New Texico Principal

During a recent meeting of the Texico School Board of Education, George Herrington was acquired to head Texico Elementary School as principal. This will be his first year as acting principal, although he has had previous teaching experience.

Herrington was born and raised in Ponca City, Okla., where he graduated from high school in 1942. He served three years in the Army and five years in the Reserves. During his years as a Reserves member, Herrington attended Eastern New Mexico University in Portales and graduated with his bachelor degree in 1950.

Following his duty with the Reserves, Herrington joined the Air Force and served for 17 years. While a member of the Air Force, Herrington was stationed at Cannon Air Force Base. During this period he attended ENMU and in 1966 received his masters degree in elementary education.

He began his teaching career at Ranchvale, N.M., where he taught for seven and one-half years, three and one-half years as a fourth grade instructor and four years as a sixth grade instructor.

His wife, Margie, is currently employed as a second grade teacher at Lockwood Elementary School in Clovis. She has had a total of 11 years teaching experience, 10 in Clovis and one year at an Air Force base at Misawa, Japan.

The Herringtons have one daughter, Mrs. Kevin M. Morris of Phoenix, Ariz.

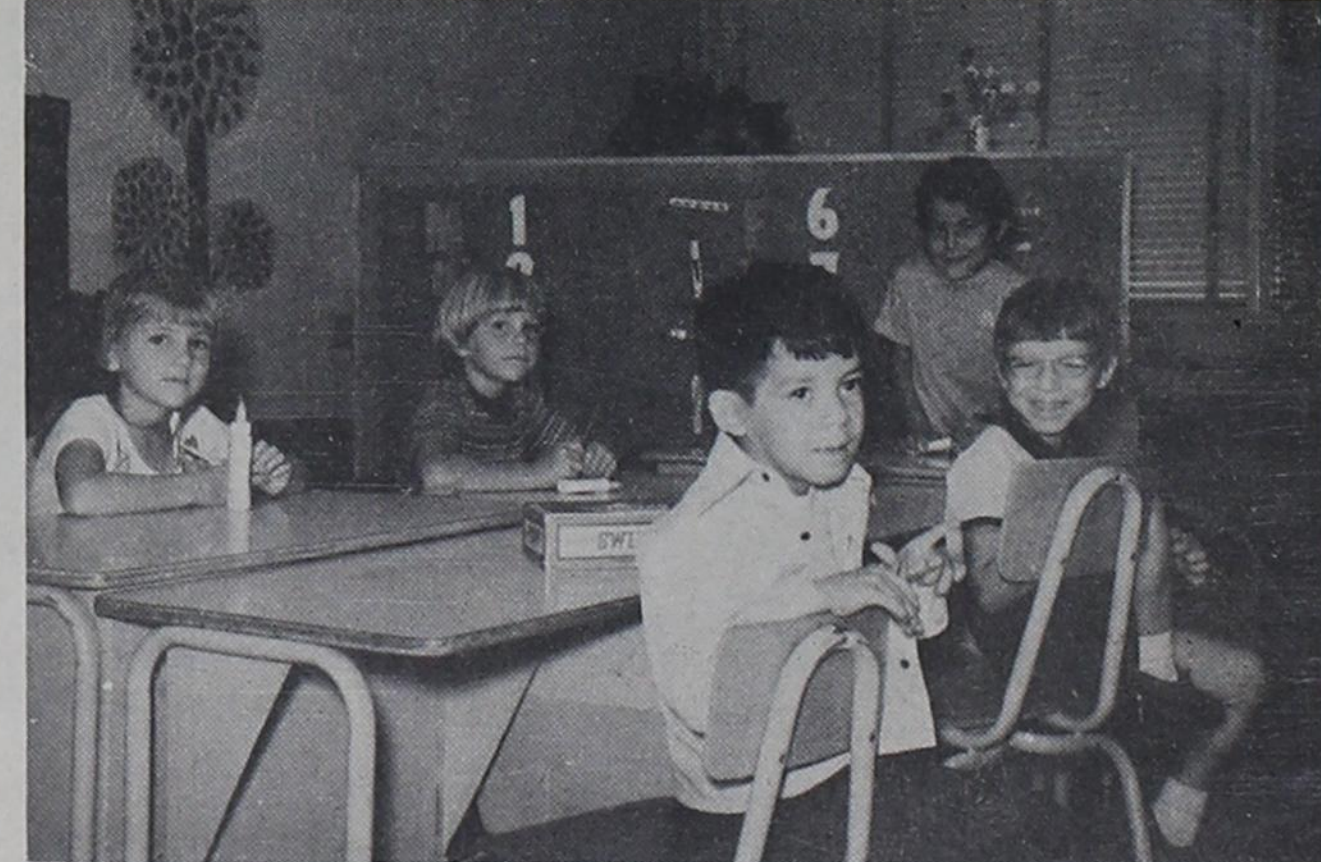

They are affiliated with the Episcopal church.

The youth suffered an accidental self-inflicted wound at his home Saturday. According to reports, Goforth was cleaning or disassembling a 12-gauge single-shot shotgun when it discharged striking him just above his navel.

The Texico emergency vehicle transported the youth to Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

commission." Chamber President Claude Rose, Jr., commented that he believes positive action is being taken on the situation.

Anyone with ideas concerning ways to get this "log jam" out of the way, is asked to please contact the Chamber.

Also on the agenda was a discussion concerning Farwell Country Club. Johnny Atkinson was present for the session to comment on the current critical situation of the country club. At the present time, the facility is in arrears to the Farmers Home Administration on the principal of its building loan.

Atkinson said a special meeting had been called for that evening. "If there isn't enough interest shown in our Country Club, there is no way the board of directors can carry the burden and the board will recommend that it be turned back."

"But, if we have enough interest shown by members and interested persons in general, we will have to come up with a means of raising enough funds to make a 'substantial good intent payment' towards the principal."

Farwell City Mayor Gil Patschke presented a report on the new traffic control situation within the city. "We (the City Commission) determined that First, Third, Fifth and Seventh streets will be through streets. Stop signs and yield signs are to be placed on streets running east and west with stop signs being placed on Avenue G at Third and Avenue G at Fifth Street."

Mayor Patschke also reported that he has conferred with City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell and it was determined that four-inch markings, which have been painted designating the Farwell School Zone, are not adequate. "We feel that these stripes should be at least two feet wide with hash or diagonal marks at least a foot wide inside the markings. This way people will be aware that it is a school zone and we can avoid the situation of running completely over the markings before realizing that they are there."

A discussion was conducted on absentee voting in the Farwell City Sales Tax Election. Absentee balloting is to conclude Tuesday, Sept. 2, with the election to be conducted Saturday, Sept. 6. Chamber members have voted to support the election. It was pointed out that "one way or another, taxes must be raised. This will be done either by taxing property owners or with the approval of a city sales tax."

It was also stated that Farwell is the only community in this part of the country without such a tax. "The return received from the tax will aid in providing services requested by citizens," Mayor Patschke reflected.

In a discussion on ordinances for the city concerning zoning and condemnation, the mayor reported that attorney

Charles Aycock currently has a model ordinance for condemnation. This ordinance will concern homes which create a health or safety hazard.

The city also has an ordinance drawn for zoning. "With the addition of a few minute details and a few last minute changes, this ordinance will be ready to put before the public for approval," commented the mayor.

Rose then reported that during a meeting with Panhandle Regional Planning Commission representatives it was decided that to alleviate the housing problem in Farwell, the city's best alternative will be to make available lots for building.

I. W. Quickel reported that at the current time there is no available rental housing in the city and new construction is at a standstill. "We have several houses for sale but the large down payments required are hurting the sale of these homes."

Fred Chandler, Chamber representative to the Border Town Days Planning Committee, reported that "the financial situation for the 1975 celebration is considerably better than 1974."

Quickel stated that Parmer County has been designated a bicentennial county for the 200th birthday of America and raised a question as to what has been planned by the city to mark the anniversary.

It was reported that Sam Aldridge and John Armstrong have accepted the responsibility of checking into things which can be done in observance of the bicentennial.

Mayor Patschke related, "Farwell as a community should do something to commemorate our country's bicentennial and the impetus for such an observance can come from the Chamber."

Several suggestions were offered and it was decided that during the next meeting of the Chamber a report will be presented regarding a bicentennial celebration.

each member be assessed $100 dollars now, and raise monthly membership dues from $17.50 to $25.

A second proposal was made that individual loans be made by the membership of $100 per member. Members making loans could then regain their investment by recruiting new members who would pay a $100 membership fee.

A third proposal was made calling for a total membership assessment of $34,000 or $340 per membership. The final proposal was to dissolve the stockholders membership and turn the facility back to FHA for disposal.

Johnny Atkinson said that some persons came to him and stated they would help if money collected would go entirely toward retirement of the debt. "Some of these people said they would not want to use the facility but want to help the club's debt," he commented.

Board members related that they are looking toward expanding the club's membership to 150, and expecting full support of all members in sustaining expenses of the facility.

Gil Patschke stated that the second proposition of securing individual loans seemed to him to be the best alternative. Claude Rose, Jr. seconded the comment. It was accepted by Draw Watershed Site No. Two. As the inspection date for the site is in September, it was agreed that the Court and Evans will meet at Bovina at 12:30 p.m. Sept. 22 and proceed from there to make an inspection of the project.

A general report of progress made on the right-of-way on Highway 214 was given to the effect that appraisals had been signed by County Judge Paul Fortenberry and forwarded to Austin for approval and return.

When these approvals are returned and a proposed deed is issued by the Highway Department, purchase of the required right-of-way can begin. Negotiations will, in most cases, be done by Judge Fortenberry and a representative of the Highway Department.

Commissioners agreed that the County Veterans Service Officer, Billy Sudderth, be authorized to attend a Veterans Service Office meeting in Dallas Sept. 8-11.

Commissioners also resolved that the county judge be designated as the official representative to the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System.

He also reported that projects include steers, lambs, barrows, crops, poultry, rabbits and various others. Heald said that he tries to visit each project each week if possible or each one every two weeks.

After much discussion, it was suggested that aggressive advertising be instituted informing the children and their parents of the various things actually offered by 4-H, especially to those children from eight to 14 years of age.

It is felt in general by the Court that an aggressive 4-H program is worthwhile.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

Three agricultural research field days are being held the first two weeks of September. The first one will be the North Plains Research Field Day at Etter on September 4. Starting time will be at 1 p.m.

The second event will be the field day held at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Center at Lubbock on Tuesday, Sept. 9. This center is located seven and one half miles north of Lubbock on Highway 87. The activities will be from 1-5 p.m.

The third field day will be conducted at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway on Thursday, Sept. 11, from 1-5 p.m. Halfway is located on Highway 70 between Olton and Plainview.

These field days will show experiments conducted on water use, weed control, varieties and insect control.

Speaking of insects, the Banks grass mite activity has increased on corn in the last three weeks. Although the population numbers have been severe mostly in a few spots in a field, their buildup has caused enough damage to have the fields sprayed. Their biggest buildup has been in the last two weeks.

They will attack water stressed or weak plants first, but may also be seen in fields receiving plenty of water. They start on the underside of the leaves next to the central rib and work towards the edge or the leaf, forming a web over the area they occupy.

Partial control can be obtained with chemicals, but a new egg hatch will follow in 4-10 days. Corn that is in the past roasting ear stage and still spongy is most susceptible to damage. Corn that is well denting is nearly out of danger.

Another group of insects we've seen a lot of this year are the cotton aphids and melon aphids attacking cotton. However, they are being controlled by the Braconid wasp, a small gnate like insect that can be seen moving very hurriedly over the leaf surface. Probably no spraying will need to be done to control them.

Charolais were the second most common exported breed, with about half of them moving into Mexico. The third largest number of exports were Brahman cattle, with the Republic of South Africa taking almost a quarter of them. More than half the Santa Gertrudis cattle, which ranked fifth in numbers, also went to this country.

Hereford cattle ranked fourth in breed popularity and the bulk of them went to Hungary.

What breeds were most popular and where were they shipped? Crossbreeds led the list of exports, with 89 per cent of these animals moving to Canada was also the most important export market for all U.S. breeding cattle, accounting for 47 per cent of the exports, points out Uvacek.

Other leading beef breeding cattle exporting states were Montana, North Dakota, Florida and South Dakota.

"For the nation as a whole, 41,999 head were shipped out of the country, an increase of 56 per cent over 1973 levels," notes the Texas A&M University system specialist. "Total value of the 1974 exports were $33.9 million, up 51 per cent from a year earlier. Animals went to 43 different foreign countries."

Texas led in exports of Angus, Beefmaster, Brahman, Brangus, Charolais and Santa Gertrudis cattle.

Council Okays Temporary Employee

During the regular meeting of the Farwell City Council held Monday, Aug. 25, City Commissioners gave their approval to a request for a temporary employee for the city.

D. E. Hammit, Jr. requested permission to employ Tim Ingram to operate the street sweeper until such a time as the work load enables the regular city employees to resume the sweeping. Following a brief discussion, Commissioners okayed the request.

In other business, the matter of a building permit for a resident to construct a garage and work shop was discussed. It was noted that the resident is seeking to build a pre-fab steel building in an area that is zoned for masonry only. Commissioner Fred Chandler moved that the permit not be issued and that the ordinance zoning the area be followed in all respects. The motion carried.

A discussion was then conducted concerning curbing and guttering on property belonging to Doyle Ford. Ford has asked permission to curb and gutter the north side of his property on Avenue I. He states that a section of curbing will then have to be removed in order to do the requested work.

Commissioners approved the request and stated that Ford will be allowed to do the curbing and guttering after having property grade lines set by Bob Lydick, engineer.

Next on the agenda was a discussion of the R. T. Abrahamson Traffic Study. It was the feeling of the Council that Abrahamson assumed a contract when there was not one intended. Mayor Gil Patschke was authorized to settle the matter with Abrahamson.

The matter of weeds and grass in pavement was discussed. Hammit stated that he has sprayed most of the spots with weed killer.

Present for the session were City Commissioners Fred Chandler and Ralph Franse, Mayor Gil Patschke, City Clerk Janie Bowery, City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell, Water Superintendent V. C. Venable, Assistant Water Superintendent D. E. Hammit, Jr. and city employee Roger Menning.

Complaining about the cost of food has been an ardent avocation of man ever since Adam found out the price of an apple. Just how much are we paying compared to the rest of the world? Samplings made earlier this year showed when steak was $1.69 a pound here it was $3.15 in Rome, $2.92 in London, $4.73 in Stockholm and a whopping $16.00 in Tokyo. What about the price of eggs in Brussels you say? 90-cents there, $1.29 in Copenhagen, 83-cents in Mexico City while we were paying 74. Our cost of butter was 89 cents a pound compared with $1.73 in Paris, $1.36 in Brasilia and $1.57 in Bonn. Adding bacon to the breakfast table was costing $3.41 cents in Paris when we were paying $1.56. At the same time, bacon consumers in Copenhagen were complaining about the price of $2.71 and the grumbling figure in The Hague was $3.08. Fact is, we obviously have a pretty good deal when it comes to food prices.

Texas Top Exporter Of Breeding Cattle

Texas remained at the top of the ranks as the leading exporting state of beef breeding cattle during 1974.

"About a third of all the beef breeding cattle shipped from the United States last year came from Texas," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Other leading beef breeding cattle exporting states were Montana, North Dakota, Florida and South Dakota.

"For the nation as a whole, 41,999 head were shipped out of the country, an increase of 56 per cent over 1973 levels," notes the Texas A&M University system specialist. Texico - - Booster Club Has Meeting

Organization meeting of the Texico Booster Club for 1975-76 was held Tuesday evening, Aug. 26, with 12 persons present.

During the session, members agreed to sell poster advertisements. Spots on the posters have been priced at $20 and $30.

Jim Pierce will present a report during the next session on the cost of equipment for filming and showing films of the Wolverine Varsity games.

Next meeting is to be held Tuesday, Sept. 9, at 7:30 p.m. MDT in the school cafeteria. During this session officers for the year are to be elected.

merican thought began to divide more distinctly between those who supported resistance and possible independence and those who remained loyal to Great Britain. Of course, there was always a large number, possibly as many as one-third according to John Adams who never took sides in the conflict.

The belief that not many people supported the British is another myth that still lives. In fact, probably another third of the population was Loyalist or Tory. These were the ones who took much abuse from the radicals.

As more people moved toward independence they became more abusive of the Tories. We often read and hear of Tories being tarred and feathered. On the surface, this appears to be a rather innocent type prank. However, on closer examination, we find that it was a humiliating and possibly dangerous activity.

The victim was usually stripped of his clothes and covered with hot tar or oil which could result in serious burns if it were too hot. Then the victim was covered with feathers. Possibly, he was then ridden out of town on a rail.

One can easily understand how a person could become very bitter if treated in this manner.

The Tories also came under verbal and written attack. Mrs. Mercy Warren of Boston used her pen very effectively to write plays that satirized the Tory cause. Although she did not limit her satire to Tories alone, they came under the most severe question. For example, her play, "The Adulterers," dealt with the Boston Massacre.

Unquestionably, by August 1775, it was becoming more risky to be a Loyalist.

It was even more dangerous to be a suspected French agent in the Spanish Southwest. As mentioned last week, John Peyton and eight other captives were marched from the mouth of the Rio Grande to Sante Fe.

Marching across Texas was quite an ordeal. Since the march was very strenuous the captives were given liberal amounts of jerked beef and corn meal from which they baked bread. Even so, after three weeks of marching, two others in the party died from fever, dysentery, and general fatigue. Fearing that all might die this way, the Spanish guards hired seven pack horses for 10 days. They then marched even faster with very little rest time allowed.

In this fashion the group marched out of Texas and into New Mexico having no idea what fate might await them.

GRACE FROM CALVARY

If you want to enjoy a real spiritual feast, take your Bible and look up the word "grace." First notice how often this word is found in the four Gospels—only four times and only once in a doctrinal sense. Then notice how often it is used in Paul's epistles (only about half the size of the four Gospels). Here it is found well over one hundred times and practically always in a doctrinal sense, about the love and mercy of God toward sinners and toward His own. Think of it: Only once is grace referred to doctrinally in the four Gospels, yet in Paul's epistles—only half as large in volume it is used more than one hundred times.

This is because St. Paul was God's chosen apostle to make known His grace to sinners, for in Acts 20:24 he speaks of "the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God."

But on what basis could God, through Paul, proclaim salvation by free grace to sinners? Ah, now take your Bible and begin looking up those passages which refer to the cross, the death and the blood-of Christ, again noticing that while Paul does not actually relate the story of Christ's death, he has more to say about that death, and what it accomplished, than any other Bible writer. It would thrill the heart of any sincere Christian to go through the epistles of Paul and see how much good news Paul proclaims on the basis of the death of Christ—far more than any other writer. This is why Paul's message is called "the preaching of the cross"—God's good news about what Calvary has accomplished for us (1 Cor. 1:17-23).

In Paul's epistles we learn that through Christ's death for us at Calvary believers are "justified," "accepted" by God and pronounced "complete in Christ." By His death they are "reconciled to God in one body," given a position at God's right hand in the highest heavens and assured "the riches of His grace" in "the ages to come"—all this and more.

Riches of grace from Calvary; this is the very essence of the great message which Paul was raised up to proclaim. Read his epistles and see.

Wolverines Victorious Over Tucumcari, 18-0

In their first pre-season scrimmage of the 1975-76 year, the Texico Varsity Wolverines met the Tucumcari Junior Varsity Thursday, Aug. 21, and shut out their opponents, 18-0.

Spencer Turner racked up two touchdowns for the Wolverines with the third six-point-er credited to Larry Galvan.

According to Head Coach Ray Manley, the Wolverines had one TD called back due to an infraction of rules.

Coach Manley commented that the offensive play for Texico was "very finely executed." Impressive blockers cited by the coach were Larry Rolan, Mark Howard and Chris Eshleman.

"Joey West and Steve Ashley also did a fine job of carrying the ball for us," Manley stated.

Defensively, the Wolverines also "looked good." Mark Howard and Spencer Turner did fine jobs, according to coaches. Other players who had an extremely fine game were linebackers Tommy Galvan, Joey West and Larry Rolan.

"I was also pleased with the defensive secondary," stated Manley, continuing, "Justin Gaddis intercepted a pass and ran for 40 yards."

In their final pre-season scrimmage, the Wolverines were set to meet the Clovis Wildcat Sophomores in action Thursday, Aug. 28, at Wolverine Stadium. Game time was set for 2:30 p.m. MDT.

Coach Manley stated that he expects Clovis to be a bigger team than the Wolverines and because of this "our boys will need to work a little harder."

Manley anticipated a few changes in the line-up. "Ted Richardson played sparingly against Tucumcari and did a fine job. We expect him to go full strength against Clovis," the coach concluded.

Steers-White Deer Battle To Standoff

Farwell Varsity Steer football squad traveled to Vega Friday, Aug. 22, where they met White Deer in their first pre-season scrimmage of the 1975-76 season.

During the four quarters of action, neither team crossed the goal line to put points on the scoreboard.

According to Head Coach Eugene Jennings, the teams seemed to be evenly matched. "However, the Steer defense did hold White Deer to only 98 yards gained while they (the Steers) racked up a total of 190 yards in offensive play," Coach Jennings remarked.

The Farwell "B" team met White Deer prior to the Varsity clash. Coach Jennings reported that the Steers gave up two touchdowns but only after a substitution had been made in the Steer line-up.

The coach commented, "I was very pleased with the way the boys played and am sure they have improved."

The Steers will be playing their final pre-season scrimmage Friday (today), Aug. 29, at 7:30 p.m. CDT when they host Morton.

Farwell Will Not Sell Parking Spaces

Farwell Superintendent of School James Perkins announced this week that no parking spaces for the Steers home games are being sold this year.

In past years, parking spaces were available for fans in order that they could drive their cars inside the gates and park at the fence surrounding the football field.

During the summer, the bleachers were moved from the football field to the track field to provide seating for track fans. Perkins explained that with the moving of the bleachers and the addition of new bleachers, the available room for parking cars was tremendously reduced.

There are a few spaces available, but according to Perkins, inside parking will be allowed only for emergencies or unusual circumstances.

Before any parking inside the gate will be allowed, it must be cleared by Jack Williams, high school principal.

Parking areas will be available between the football field and the baseball diamond. The other area to be used for parking is located to the west of the football field.

With home food preservation in full swing I thought you might like some of the most current information I've come across and some of the interesting information related to food preservation.

How about some good news on the canning lid situation? We were recently informed by our state food specialists that canning lids are available through Goodwill Industries and the Commerce Department on a mail order basis.

We encourage you not to order more than what you need for this year's canning season as manufacturers are catching-up with the need so next year's supply should be adequate. You might want to get together with a friend or two to order these if an order is more than you need this year. The address is: Goodwill Industries of Minneapolis, 3800 Washington Avenue N., Minneapolis, Minn. 55412.

A check or money order in the amount of $5 will cover the cost of nine dozen lids ($4) and mailing ($1). The sender should also enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for return of the check or money order if the supply is exhausted. There is a limit of one order per household.

For those of you who missed my food preservation workshops earlier this summer, or have not had a chance to stop by the office, I still have a good supply of Extension publications on canning and freezing.

One you might be especially interested in is "Good Quality and Safe Home Canned Food," which gives information on spotting poor quality foods and spoiled foods and information on the prevention of the problem. Pertinent information is included on such organisms as botulinum, which we've heard so much about lately.

We have an adequate supply of current information on canning and freezing from the Extension Service and a couple of canning supply manufacturers.

Just call or write and we will be glad to send you the information you would like to have, or stop by my office in the courthouse any time.

According to one of our foods and nutrition specialists the three most common causes of spoilage of home canned foods are inaccurate pressure canners, incorrect processing temperature and improper cooling of jars. She advised checking the pressure canner once a year to be sure it is accurate.

Noting ways to be sure foods are processed at the correct temperature in the pressure canner, Miss Reasonover suggested:

-test pressure gauge so that the temperature is at 240 degrees F. at 10 pounds of pressure

-exhaust pressure canner 10 minutes after flow of steam from the petcock

-keep pressure accurate. Less than 10 pounds of pressure won't kill bacteria in vegetables and meats

-make adjustment for high altitude in areas above 2,000 feet above sea level.

She advised homemakers using a waterbath canner to have water boiling when jars are placed in the canner. Water should be one inch or more above the top of all jars throughout entire processing time, and it must be kept at a rolling boil.

Check time table carefully for whatever product is being canned, and be sure to add recommended time for high altitude areas.

It's important to cool jars properly after processing is finished.

The specialist said that jars should come out of canner when gauge registers 0 degrees F, or when processing time is completed. They should be placed at least one inch apart and left uncovered until cool.

The processing times for various products can be checked in the publications that I have mentioned above. At this time I have a maximum thermometer to check the temperature and gauge of pressure cookers and will be glad to test any cooker if you will call or stop by and make arrangements with me.

Says Health Officials - -

Parents Should 'Safety Proof' Youngsters

It's that time of year again when parents should attempt to "safety proof" their youngsters - many of whom are entering school for the first time.

Whether walking, riding in a bus or car, or bicycling to school, plans should be made to ensure the safety of every child, reminds the Texas Department of Health Resources. Darting across streets without looking, crossing at mid-block from between parked cars, and doing bicycle tricks in traffic are just a few of the pitfalls to be avoided, advises the Health Resources Department.

Parents can caution their children about all careless practices, and they also can show them. If your child is starting to school, or going to a new school, it's a good idea to make the trip at least once with the child.

If he will be pedaling to and from school every day, often in inclement weather, you'll want to be doubly sure that your child is observing safety rules. If you're a motorist in the vicinity of schools, be especially wary, says the Health Resources Department.

What are the trouble spots for bicyclists and motorists? Collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles occurs about as follows:

*Well over half at intersections.

*Seven out of 10 during daylight hours.

*Most bicycle riders killed or injured in traffic accidents were violating a traffic law at the time of the incident.

*Half of the motor vehicle-bicycle accidents involved a violation on the part of the motor vehicle operator.

*One out of five bicycles involved in accidents had some mechanical defect.

Some of the most common traffic violations of cyclists are (not in order of frequency):

*Failure to yield right-of-way. (In most cases, the cyclists did not "see" the car; in some cases he intentionally infringed on the motorist's right-of-way.)

*Riding in the center of the street.

*Speed too fast for conditions of traffic and road surface.

*Disregard of traffic control devices - signal lights and stop signs.

*Improper turning.

To avoid such situations as just described, here are some safety rules for bicyclists:

*A skillful bicycle rider always has his bike under control. He never drives too fast and he never rides too far. He always has both hands free to steer.

*The cyclist must develop skill in balancing and pedaling to avoid swerving into traffic, hitting a fixed object, running off the sidewalk or highway. Parents have the responsibility to be certain their child has the skill to cope with traffic before permitting him to ride on the street.

*Every bicycle driver should be familiar with the laws governing bicycling in his community, or the one in which he is riding. These rules are usually available through the school or local police.

*Cyclists must ride on the right side of the street with the flow of traffic; NOT on the left, facing traffic.

*Hand signals should be used by the cyclists, and are now commonly accepted as a safe riding practice.

*Cyclists should avoid crowding between cars at stop signs, or between an automobile and the curb.

*Carrying more passengers than a bicycle is designed and equipped for is dangerous and illegal. Two on a bike also increases stopping distances. The polo or "banana" seat, standard equipment on the hi-rise bike, appears designed to carry two. Such is not the case!

*Never hold onto a moving vehicle nor in any way attach the bike to the vehicle. *Always ride single file.

*Trick riding is always dangerous. Drivers of hi-riders are especially cautioned against making the bike rear up and riding on back wheels only, or jumping the bike over obstacles.

Organizational Meet Held By Booster Club

Members of the Farwell Booster Club met Friday, Aug. 22, for their organizational meeting for the 1975-76 year.

"The Booster Club is just now getting organized for the year and we haven't really set a permanent date for future meetings," commented Joe Jones, current president.

It was reported that during Friday's session, a membership goal of 100 new members and 70 new advertisers was set. Membership fees are $10 per individual. Memberships may be purchased from any member of the organization. Advertisers are automatically included on the club's membership roll.

Jones commented that the club has not been able to purchase the type bumper stickers requested as yet. However, bumper stickers from the 1974-75 stock are available. "Hopefully," said Jones, "the club will be selling bumper stickers made of more durable fibers later on this year."

The first regular meeting of the Farwell Booster Club has been scheduled for Monday night, Sept. 1, at 8 o'clock CDT at Clara's restaurant. Officers are to be elected during this session.

Courage without conscience is a wild beast.

Courage without conscience is a wild beast.

All members and anyone interested in the Farwell athletic program is invited and urged to attend.

For the background, use plywood, 14" x 30". Leave it natural, or if you stain it, do so before stringing.

To enlarge the pattern, rule paper into 2" squares. Copy the pattern, square for square, onto your ruled paper. Tape the pattern to the board and, with a small nail, make holes through the pattern and lightly into the board every 1/4" to 1/2" (the closer the holes, the denser the stringing will be). Remove the pattern; hammer headless nails (brads) in the holes.

You need 11 skeins of embroidery floss: 7 red for cape, 2 green for pants and vest, 1 black for hat, hair, cummerbund, legs and feet, and 1 flesh-color for face.

To start each color, knot at a point marked by "X." To add more embroidery floss, tie the ends together at a nail.

Proceed as follows: face, hair, hat, cummerbund, legs and feet, bolero and trousers, and cape. Add braid trim and a toothpick for a sword.

To make over 25 other string pictures, including a sailboat, send for the book, "String Art Made Easy." To obtain your copy, send $1.95 along with your name and address for book number 11 to:

Cook your breakfast in an orange-skin shell. Cut off the top third of an orange and eat the orange with a spoon, leaving some pulp inside. Crack an egg into the orange, set it upright in the coals of your campfire, and in a few minutes you'll have a cooked egg with a deliciously different taste.

INSUR-MATION

P.C. Farm Bureau Insurance
Billy Watts Ph. 481-3395

I was told the premiums on an insurance policy could be deducted from my income tax. Is this true?

Fifty percent of the premiums on hospitalization insurance may be deducted from your income if you itemize deductions. A corporation may deduct the premiums for group insurance and are not taxable to the employee unless the amount of life insurance exceeds $50,000 on any individual. For several years there have been plans such as "split dollar," "minimum deposit," and recently, the "IRS Section 79." These plans, when properly used, following specific IRS rules and regulations, will allow legitimate deductions of life insurance premiums. These plans, however, require the counsel of a qualified life underwriter and accountant and generally are applicable only to the few and not to the average taxpayer.

SWCD News

by Herb Evans

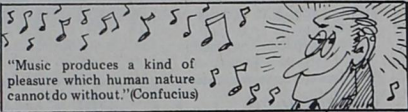

Last week we talked about wildlife tree planting packets. These packets will contain three different kinds of trees: Honey locust, Russian Olive and Red Cedar.

These packets contain 50 of each kind of tree and are ordered through the Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The subject I want to call to your attention this week is windbreak tree plantings. This type of tree planting must be ordered now, also. They are to be ordered directly from the Texas Forest Service. Order blanks are available at the County Agent's Office in the courthouse, the ASCS office in Farwell and the Soil Conservation Office in Friona.

Adapted trees for your consideration for windbreaks are Arizona Cypress, Australian Pine, and Ponderosa Pine.

Once more, remember, all these trees need to be ordered now!
