FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP

I have had a number of comments—all favorable—on the article carried in this column last week with reference to the qualifications of Gen. Eisenhower for president.

Ike is a good and capable man as a soldier. But I still wonder how much of a statesman he is. We don't need playboys and piano players in the president's seat, but an honest-to-goodness statesman with proven ability.

I am reminded of the old expression, "politics makes strange bed-fellows." Wes Izzard in the Amarillo News is tooth and toe-nail against the administration, and yet at the same time he is tearing his shirt for Ike.

Looks to me like trying to carry water on both shoulders. Who, for example, elevated Ike to his present prominence at the expense of a great American, Gen. McArthur? Who has given his endorsement to Ike? The answer is Harry, of course.

Can't understand how a fellow can be so utterly opposed to Harry and at the same time boosting Ike's causes.

What I have been predicting and still predict, is that Taft and Eisenhower will wind up at the national convention in a deadlock. And the Republicans will nominate Gen. McArthur as a dark horse. Such a move would be in the interest of national solidarity. Rock-ribbed GOPers won't support Ike and died-in-the-wool Democrats will give the cold shoulder to Taft.

But the liberal element of the Republican party can unite with the anti-Truman Democrats to give us a real president.

Here's a letter from Mrs. Cora Mae Hudson, formerly of this city and Bovina, who now lives at Gail in Borden County. She says, "things here are in bad shape," due to the continued drought. Only light showers have fallen there, she reports.

And here's a letter from J. C. Denney, who used to live at Bovina, and now gets his mail in Fort Worth. J. C. wants to know if I have any pictures of those big fish the Bovina fishermen have been bringing back from Lake Mead.

Seems as though some wild stories have been drifting down Fort Worth way about the fish the boys at Bovina have been bringing in, and he wants confirmation of the stories in the form of actual photographs.

Well, in reply, J. C., I'll have to admit that all I have heard are the wild stories, which are probably the same ones that have reached you. None of the bragging fishermen have been by to have their string photographed. Neither have they brought me any steaks from any of the big ones.

Vivian Derrick of Bovina informs me that Roy Fuller, the former Bovina boy, who is suffering from polio at his home at 416 Ash Street in Clovis, is now a qualified agent to handle magazine subscriptions.

This is a way his friends may help the young man in a financial way, and I hope you will remember him when you are subscribing for any magazines. Send them direct to his home.

Even wild life on the whole reacts just like humans, it would seem from a study made lately in Idaho.

Up in that country where there are big snows in the winter, supplemental feeding of big game animals was believed to be the solution to heavy winter losses. But the indications are now that the practice is more detrimental than beneficial. Feedings cause the animals to concentrate in small areas, and they soon deplete the range.

Once a feeding ground is established, deer and elk tend to move into the area at the first sign of winter, do not forage for themselves and soon become inactive, are less vigorous and thrifty than the animals rustling for themselves. All of which sounds like an editorial in opposition to the dole for the two-legged feeders.

Piggly Wiggly Store Expanding Stocks

The Piggly Wiggly store here, owned and operated by Carl G. Davis, is expanding its stocks to about double the stock that has been carried in the first year of the store's operation.

"I am now convinced after a full year that the people of this trade territory appreciate a large store, and I am expanding my stocks to meet that demand," Davis said in discussing plans for his expanding stocks.

Several additional display racks have been set in place to take up the greater part of the floor space, which had formerly been confined to just one-half of the building. The hardware stock is being reduced to make room for additional food stocks. As the hardware stocks are further reduced, more foods will be added.

Davis said that he intended to ultimately close out all of his present stock of shelf hardware and small appliances and would handle only refrigerators and washing machines.

An additional checking stand has been added, giving the store three in number now, and these have been moved to the east side of the building. The west door on the front of the building has been permanently closed and customers will use only the east front door and the side door on the east side of the building.

Such an arrangement will allow customers to park their cars on Third Street, off the main highway that runs along the front of the building.

Misfortune Follows Minister And Family

The Ray L. Boatright family seems to be having more than its share of misfortunes as they are making their way from their home in Arizona to Ohio, where he is scheduled to conduct a revival meeting.

On April 29 Rev. Boatright and three-year-old daughter, Linda Marlene, were injured just west of Texico when the pickup in which the family was traveling overturned when a tire blew out.

They took refuge in the Ben Smart home until they could get a new pickup and do some minor repair work on the trailer house, which was attached to the rear of the pickup.

Leaving here Friday to continue their journey to Ohio, they ran into a hail storm in Amarillo that evening which rattled all the windows in the trailer house. Last heard from they were being detained in Amarillo to get the windows replaced.

Rev. Fields Announces Revival For May 25

Rev. C. M. Fields announces that revival services will begin at Texico-Farwell Baptist church Sunday, May 25, and will continue for two weeks.

Rev. Alton Green, pastor of the Baptist church at Belen, N. M., will conduct preaching services, and Bob Douglas, of the local church, will be in charge of the music, and direct the singing.

Two services will be held daily, Rev. Fields says, but times are indefinite and will be announced at a later date. Vacation Bible school will also be held during the revival. Workers will be announced next week.

OFFICES REDECORATED

Offices of Dr. Mary Leone McNeff have been completely redecorated, with a green and white color scheme used throughout the rooms.

Showers Fall Here When Mercury Drops

A light shower of rain and a few pellets of hail fell here late last Friday afternoon when the wind switched to the north and sent the mercury tumbling from readings up in the 70s to 45 degrees during the night.

Reports from over the county indicate that the rainfall was light, and no damage or consequences from the hail, which was soft and mushy.

50,000 Acres Going To Cotton This Year

Parmer County farmers will plant the biggest acreage of cotton this year ever known in the county in the opinion of agricultural observers who were contacted this week.

Last year saw 21,000 acres go to cotton in this county for the record up to that time. Observers and PMA officials, while admitting they have no accurate figures available, are estimating that the acreage this year will be at least 50,000—or even more.

The heavy cotton acreage this year is being stimulated by more than one factor. In the first place, last year's cotton producers "made a killing" on their acreage, yielding them a very profitable financial return.

Two other factors enter the increased acreage movements this year. The first is the early moisture received last month, giving sufficient season of early plantings; and in the third place, two new cotton gins are going in the county this year to take care of the increased production.

Most of the cotton will be planted on irrigated farms, it is agreed, although many dry-land plantings will be made throughout the county.

Motor Inspections Drag In Parmer Co.

Parmer County motorists are lagging behind on their motor vehicle inspections, in the opinion of L. W. Wilhite of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, who was making a tour of this county this week.

Wilhite said the tendency of most motorists with reference to this inspection was the idea that "I still have plenty of time" before the law becomes effective. On the contrary, Wilhite pointed out, citing the fact that there are approximately 3000 cars and trucks in Parmer county yet to be inspected—and only three authorized stations to do this job.

The Hardage Hudson Co., in Farwell; and the Parmer County Implement Co., and Reeve, Chevrolet in Friona, are the only authorized stations in the county, he added.

"Actually," Wilhite said, "all un-inspected cars are now operating in the delinquent period," and he added that Sept. 6 was the positive deadline. "No un-inspected car will be allowed on Texas highways after that date," he further warned.

As an example of the apathy on the part of Parmer county motorists, Wilhite counted nine automobiles parked in front of The Tribune office—and not one of them carried the inspection certificate.

Mrs. John Porter was in Clovis Monday night to attend initiation services of Order of Eastern Star. Miss Betty Hillhouse, formerly of Farwell, was initiated.

Forecast Heavy Rains Starting Here Friday

M. C. Roberts of the Roberts Seed Company, is in possession of a long-range weather forecast for this region of the Plains country, which is put out by a firm in Crystal City, Ill.

Roberts says he did not invest in the forecast until he had made a thorough investigation of the accuracy of the predictions and he said that he had found that they had been 85 per cent correct over a period of ten years.

Roberts is so "sold" on the predictions that he feels the farmers who are now planting feed and cotton will see them washed out by heavy rains before the end of the present week, starting about Friday.

His advice to farmers is to delay their plantings until after June 9th, when heavy rains are predicted.

"According to their forecast, it looks like another 1941 for this region," Roberts says. Local residents will recall the year of 1941 when slightly under 50 inches of rainfall were recorded here, and old-time binders had to be used in gathering the wheat crop when the heavy combines were driven from the fields by soggy ground.

A number of prominent grain men and cattlemen of the plains country have been using the long-range forecast service for several years, Roberts added, and they all agree that it has been reasonably accurate through the years.

Heavy rains are predicted for this weekend, tapering off with showers for a few days, then again heavy deluges are in the offing for May 28 to 30, according to this forecast.

Agent Rips Britches With Surplus of Brains

County Agent Joe Jones has a problem. He has a rip in his trousers, and $30 down-payment on a sewing machine; but the story ends there. He can't sew.

Jones recently noticed an "Unscramble Town" contest sponsored by a chain store of Lubbock and Amarillo, so the county agent immediately filled in the answers, mailed the entry, and promptly forgot about it. He was notified this week that he had won second prize in the contest which is a $30 down-payment on a famous brand sewing machine.

But Jones can't sew, therefore will not claim his prize. And furthermore, the county agent still has a rip in his trousers!

New Service Station Sets Formal Opening

The new super-service station, which has been under construction in east Farwell on Highway 70 for the past 60 days, will observe its formal opening on Saturday, May 17, L. E. Meeks, owner and operator, announced today.

Flanked with a large, paved driveway, and dotted with six gasoline pumps, the new station is ultra modern in every respect. Meeks said he would feature Panhandle gasoline at popular prices, and eleven different brands of leading oils. Miller tires and tubes will also be handled.

Timely Talks

FROM THE TRIBUNE

This Week:

"Let's Talk Advertising"

Few people indeed realize the full importance of advertising—both to this newspaper, and to them. The State Line Tribune, like hundreds of other newspapers, large and small, has only two sources of income. One of these is money derived from sale of subscriptions. This is a thinly-spread method of allowing a large number of people to help pay for the high cost of publication. However, the $2.00 or $2.50 that most people pay for 52 copies of this newspaper mailed to them will not absorb the bill for paper, postage and ink, let alone other far more significant items in the publication expense account.

Therefore, the sale of advertising is turned to as a means of bringing the expense and revenue columns closer together. Advertising in The Tribune can be grouped into two large divisions: display and classified. There is considerable difference in the two, although they are utilized to serve the same ends. For practical purposes, one might say that the display (any advertising other than that carried in the classified column) is intended for businesses and professions, and the classifieds are intended for individual use.

This is not altogether true, however. For instance, on some occasions a church or school chooses our advertising field to announce a meeting, social gathering, or some similar event. Practically always, they choose a display advertisement of moderate size which will be low in cost yet noticeable to many readers.

On the other hand, a businessman sometimes tries some "stunting" with his advertisement budget by using catchy short ads in the classified columns. So, you see, regardless of your needs, there is a type of advertising in this newspaper to fit them.

How Much Does It Cost?

To tell how much advertising costs the advertiser, we had better explain its functions a little farther. If advertising is properly used, it should not cost the user anything at all. Advertising's objective is aimed at making advertising itself a desirable product at an attractive price. Consider the businessman who, cognizant of advertising's aim, has goods or services which he wants to offer the public. Through the use of advertising in our columns, he draws a good demand for these goods or services, thereby nullifying the cost of his advertising.

Display advertising is computed by this newspaper on a "column-inch" basis. The Tribune's rate is 35 cents per column inch. A column inch represents a space one column wide and one inch deep. Thus, an advertisement which is two columns wide and five inches deep will total 10 column inches, or $3.50 per issue. Display rates for firms which do business through national advertising agencies runs 42 cents per column inch, but to the average local advertiser in The Tribune, this is of little significance.

CENTER TIE COST

Most railroad ties are removed from service because of mechanical damage rather than decay. In 1950, 36 million were taken out of service with a cost of $180 million to replace them. As a result of research developments undertaken by the Timber Engineering Company, in behalf of the lumber and railroad industries, to prevent checks and plate cutting, tie replacement cost will be reduced as much as 10 to 20 per cent.

TELESCOPES RESEARCH TIME

The Timber Engineering Company, in Washington, D. C., has a machine for testing the mechanical wear on railroad ties which, in 800 hours, can give a tie as much wear as it would receive in 20 years of normal service.

In these days of uncertainties the only things you can count on are your fingers.

They celebrated at the depot the other day because old No. 6 came in on time. Then they discovered pine in Steuben County, New York. The train was a day late.

WOOD LIGHTER, STRONGER

Recent developments in glue techniques place wood on the list of outstanding engineered materials; properly designed glued wood products are lighter and stronger than their solid wood counterparts.

FIRST FOREST RAILROAD

The first forest railroad was established in 1825 for logging white pine in Steuben County, New York.

Jones Urges Control Of Parmer Bindweed

County Agent Joe Jones this week again urged farmers of this area to declare war on bindweed. The plant, which is known as possession vine, spreads by both root and seed.

Small lots of 1/2 acre or less are a constant source of infestation for surrounding area, so when bindweed is found in small patches, it should be eradicated, regardless of cost, Jones says. Once bindweed makes a crop of seed and the seeds are turned under, there is the possibility that it will take as long as 40 years to rid the group of the seeds, as the plants have been known to come up after such a long time.

Cultural practices to prevent the spread of bindweed should be followed, when cultivating through plots of the weed. However, before eradication can be accomplished, farmers will probably have to resort to either selective or non-selective herbicides. When non-selective herbicides are used, farmers should realize the rate it takes to kill bind weed and that it will leave the soil bare and unproductive for a limited period of time. This depends on the soil and that is used, Jones adds.

The county agent lists one lb. of 2-4-D Ester per acre mixed with a sufficient amount of water to cover the acres, to thin out stands of bindweed. This should be applied when the weed is in the bud or bloom stage and is actively growing. For blue-weed per acre, Jones says farmers should use two lbs. of 2-4-D aneme acid, 39 gallons of water, one gallon of diesel fuel and an emulsifier such as Dreff to cause the water and oil to go into solution.

The weed should be actively growing for the process to be effective.

INJURES ANKLE

Jess Latham is getting about on crutches this week, due to an injured ankle he sustained a week ago when he leaped from the rear of a truck. X-ray examinations reveal no broken bones, he said.

Asked about a report that he had sold out his Cover Shop, Latham said the report was not true.

Farwell Seniors Plan Busy Schedule In May

Farwell seniors have a busy schedule outlined for the coming week, according to reports issued this week.

The annual senior all-night party is to be held on Wednesday, May 21. Site of the supper is indefinite, but a middle of the night weiner roast will be held at the W. T. Magness home; and breakfast will be prepared at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Foster. The Magnesses and the Fosters are room parents for the seniors.

Following graduation exercise on Friday night, May 23, seniors will leave at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, May 24, for their annual trip. They will go to Canon City, where the group members will visit the state prison, then travel on to the Royal Gorge. The remainder of the time will be spent in Colorado Springs, and the seniors will return home May 30.

Challenge Presented For Baptist Revival

Baptist officers and Sunday School teachers met Tuesday night in the undercroft of the church for a covered dish supper, and to discuss the coming revival, beginning May 25 at the church.

Approximately 40 people attended the meeting. Barney Kelley, general superintendent talked to the group; and Rev. C. M. Fields, pastor of the church, presented a challenge for the revival.

Members will try to enlist 285 persons in Sunday School on May 25, the first day of the meeting; 300 on June 1, the second Sunday; and 325 on June 8, the third Sunday. The pastor set goals of 125, May 25; 150, June 1; and 165, June 8, for Training Union.

A visitation campaign was planned for next week in preparation for the meetings.

The program featured counseling and advice in the various professions and vocations in which the young people indicated an interest through a survey conducted before the special day.

General assembly was held in the morning, with several speakers featured, and sectional meetings were held during the day. Lunch was served in the school lunch room.

Farwell students attending the forum were: Jo Veta Billingsley, Jessie Coburn, Bobby Joe Crume, Marcia Foster, Delores Goldsmith, Rose Hines, Donald Jesko, Alvin Jordon, Joella Lovvorn, Katherine Magness, Lueta McKillip, Leon Meeks, Dar-

Rev. Mayo Carpenter Addresses Seniors

Baccalaureate services were held for the Bovina seniors on Sunday morning at 11:15 a.m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Doris Wilson played the processional and recessional. Invocation was given by Rev. I. T. Huckabee, pastor of the Methodist church, with Rev. M. D. Durham, pastor of the Baptist church, giving the benediction.

The high school chorus rendered two numbers, "Awakening Chorus" and "Lead Me Lord," under the direction of Keith Baten. Miss Clara Derrick presented a solo number "Hear Our Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Doris Wilson.

Rev. Mayo Carpenter, pastor of the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church, was the speaker with "Living the Life of Daniel" as the subject for his talk. His scripture was taken from the first chapter of Daniel. He had six points taken from the name Daniel. First was "D" standing for decision. He urged students to make their decision and to make them in the right way and for Christ. "A" stood for ask, or pray. He pointed out that all were given the opportunity to pray and that "whatsoever ye ask, ye shall receive."

"N" was for no, telling the seniors that they should be strong enough to say no to the temptations that would come during life. "I" was for interpret, and he said they should try and understand God's will for each of their individual lives.

"E" means Endure, the strength and courage to endure the hardships, trials and sorrows of life without letting them take over your life. "L" was for Love, love for your fellowman, a love that would express itself in daily living.

In closing, Rev. Carpenter urged the seniors to remember at least three things from the message. To make their own decisions, to love one another and to endure the hardships of life.

The next group of garments was play clothing, for sun and summer sports. Sandra Jefferson modeled a pair of peddle pushers made of red terry cloth with tiny white stars in it with a white pique blouse. Dyalitha Bradshaw modeled light brown peddle pushers with a white terry cloth jacket. The top of the suit was of the same material as the peddle pushers with saddle stitching in the same smart trim. Military Personnel Return as Civilians

Veterans Administration today announced for the first time the number of military personnel who have returned to civilian life as veterans since the Korean conflict started June 27, 1950.

As of January 31, 1952, there were 655,000 living veterans with U. S. military service since the Korean conflict began. This is an average discharge rate of nearly 35,000 a month for the 19-month period.

Many of these since-Korea veterans also saw service during World War II.

A total of 135 veterans who were disabled in service since June 27, 1950, were being rehabilitated on January 31, 1952 under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act to overcome the handicaps of their disabilities.

Of the 135 veterans, 99 were in school training; 4, in institutional on-farm training, and 32, in job training. Institutional on-farm training combines class room studies with practical work on the farm.

Mr. Mac Ceiling says:

DID YOU KNOW THAT BABY FOODS ARE COVERED BY OPS CEILING PRICES?

As of December 31, 1951, a total of 3,988 were drawing compensation for service-connected disabilities or pension for nonservice-connected disabilities.

VA hospitalization was being provided on January 31, 1952, for 1,862 veterans with service since Korea.

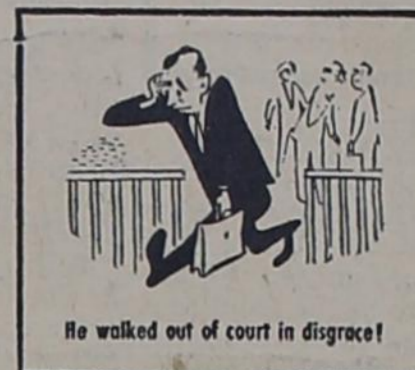

In addition to living veterans with service since Korea, VA was furnishing benefits to dependents of deceased veterans of the Korean conflict. As of December 31, 1951, 17-

061 dependents of 8,895 such deceased veterans were receiving VA death compensation or pension.

On the same date, VA had allowed 4521 claims for indemnity payments to survivors under Public Law 23, the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951. This is the law that provides a free indemnity of up to $10,000 less any GI insurance in force, for the immediate family of eligible servicemen and women who die in service or within 120 days of their discharge from service.

Underground Water Conservation District

Texas Ground Water Law

In talking with several organizations over the State, we find that they are all of the same opinion on our present law. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Bar Association, and the Texas Water Conservation Association, all feel that our law is good, possibly needing an amendment or two as necessity arises. It is up to us now to put this law into effect, properly, to gain all of the benefits as we grow.

Any suggestions from the people in the High Plains will certainly be appreciated in helping plan a well-rounded program of work, or any practices they might think would help us in the proper use of our greatest natural resource—Water.

Election Year

This is election year. Know your candidate. Know where he stands on our underground water problems. See that he is properly informed. Remember, he is working for you!

Friona Cubs Compete In Amarillo Palava

Although Friona Cub Scouts didn't bring home any ribbons from their trip to the Palava held Saturday in Amarillo, they did have a big time and are making plans already to bring home ribbons next year. This was the first time any of these Cubs had attended such an outing.

The attendance blank showed 37 cub scouts, 6 den mothers, and 40 parents and visitors attending from Friona. Friona has 39 registered Cubs, and 8 den mothers; so a good percentage were at the Palava.

The Cubs and sponsors met at the school house at 10:00 o'clock on Saturday and left about 10:30. After arriving at the Ellwood Park in Amarillo, picnic lunches were enjoyed by the group. At 1:30, the cubs were in their place waiting for the show to start. After the contests were over, ice cream bars were served by the Cub Scout Council and a group of weary cubs and parents started home.

Ernest Anthony and Glenn Reeve, members of the council and Bert Neeley, cubmaster, attended.

Den mothers who attended were Mrs. C. S. Bainum, Mrs. Sloan Osborn, Mrs. Cayson Jones, Mrs. H. F. Brewer, Mrs. Tilden Slagle and Mrs. Glenn Reeve.

Cubs who made the trip were Roy O'Brian, Jimmie Anthony, Larry Anthony, Dee Taylor, Owen Drake, Joe Reeve, Robbie Osborn, Robert Neeley, Frankie Spring, T. E. Parsons, Wayne Brewer, Bobby Sanders, Carl White, Glendel Jones, Jimmy Ray Bainum, Larry Elmore, Johnny Miller, Tommy J. ## Large Crowd Attends Parent-Son Barbecue

Despite the disagreeable weather, approximately 200 people attended the Friona FFA annual barbecue held Friday night in the FFA show barns.

Prior to this year this had been a father and son affair, but inasmuch as the mothers are also vitally interested in the activities of their sons, the 1952 meeting was made a parent-son affair.

Menu included barbecue from the reserve grand champion fat calf of the recent county wide show. In addition there were beans, pickles, onions, bread, fried pies, ice cream sticks, coffee and tea.

The program consisted of several numbers rendered by the TECHSONS, a quartette from Texas Tech with Tim Magness in charge; W. L. Browning, assistant manager of International Harvester Co., Amarillo, gave a history of farming, and a movie of the recent Junior livestock show was shown.

A good time was had by all who attended and thanks are given to the Farmer County Implement Company. The Farmer County Implement Co. furnished all of the food and it was served by the members of that firm.

HAS SPIDER BITE

O. C. Jones, Friona, was bitten by a black widow spider on Wednesday and suffered such intense pain that he was admitted to the Farmer County Hospital for further treatment. He returned to his home on Thursday but reentered the hospital on Friday. The spider is believed to have crawled into his clothes while he was tearing down and old combine which was partially overgrown with weeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Reeve and family had as their guests on Sunday Mrs. Reeve's parents and her sister and families; Mr. and Mrs. Pinkley of Merkel; Mr. and Mrs. Otha Cassel and family of Perryton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Collins of Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan and family of Perryton.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Cleveland and daughter of Canyon were guests in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGlothlin and Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Jones for Mothers Day.

The annual poppy sale in the Friona Community will be on May 24 according to the local American Legion Auxiliary. The memorial poppies, which are worn to honor the war dead on Poppy Day, are made by veterans. Contributions made on Poppy Day are the main source of support for the extensive activities for the welfare of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans that are carried out constantly by the Auxiliary.

The coins which people drop into the contribution boxes go to give comfort and cheer to disabled veterans in the ten VA hospitals and to contract beds in Texas. They make possible aid to families of veterans left destitute when the veterans are forced to undergo hospital treatment. ## Jones Releases Summary on Grain Sorghum Tests

County Agent Joe Jones this week released a summary of grain sorghum variety tests at Lubbock and Amarillo, experiment stations, and stated that information on the crops could be obtained in his office.

According to Jones, sorghum varieties have been developed bred from dwarf stature, combining adaptation, satisfactory yield, and other desirable qualities and have solved problems and limitations of harvesting so well that production of grain sorghum has doubled in the past 10 years.

The grain sorghum is divided into three classes, late maturing, medium maturing and early maturing. Perinent facts on various varieties are given below.

Kafir Types

Included in this group is combine kafir-60, with juicy stalks which stand up well in the field, with the head erect on a long stem. The head dries as the plant matures, making it possible to combine before frost.

Redbine-60 and Redbine-66 are new red-seeded varieties, blooming in 60 days and 66 days, respectively. Redbine-60 is a little surer of production because of its earliness, while Redbine-66 will yield better under favorable conditions because of its longer growing season. Plainman is a double dwarf variety, blooms in 72 days, matures in 110 days, and has potentialities of high production. It is resistant to milo disease.

Caprock blooms in 77 days and matures in 115 days; and will produce larger yields of grain under favorable soil and seasonal conditions; it is also resistant to milo disease. Martin double dwarf is resistant to milo disease and should be planted thick. Chief merit is that grain can be harvested shortly after seeds mature and it yields consistently under less favorable conditions.

Midland blooms in 65 days and matures in 100 days. Juicy stalks and green heads may cause delay in harvesting, but very little lodging occurs in this variety. Westland and Combine 7078 are both double dwarf combine varieties. Westland blooms in 70 days and matures in 100 to 105 days and is similar to Martin and Midland in performance. Combine 7078 blooms in 65 days, principal asset is certainty of producing some grain under rather adverse conditions.

Milo Types

Double dwarfs and white sooner milos will not stand long after frost for combining and should be harvested before or shortly after frost. These varieties bloom in 60 days or earlier and mature in 90 days, making them well adapted to late planting. Sooner milo will produce under severe conditions. All milos are highly susceptible to charcoal rot, a fungus disease.

Hegari Types

Early Hegari when planted either quite early or quite late and exposed to short days during early growth, is likely to be dwarfed to lower average rainfall and higher altitudes.

Bonita is a dwarf that blooms in 65 days and matures in 100 days; having wide adaptations and is recommended for its high yields and certainty of grain production. Hegari has the same maturity adaptation and grain yield as ordinary Hegari, but it yields approximately 20 per cent forage per acre.

General Recommendations

Giving general recommendations, County Agent Jones says farmers should plant seed of good purity and germination and treat them according to directions for control of smut and seedling disease. Planting should be done after the ground in warm for planting in cold, wet soil seldom gives good stands, particularly with soft-seeded varieties such as hegari.

The agent recommends that grain be planted in 36 to 40-inch rows and given good clean cultivation. Small-growing varieties such as Double Dwarf Sooner milos will give larger yields and also stand up better if planted in narrower rows and seeded thick in the row.

Early maturing varieties will usually produce better yields of grain when planted the first 15 days of June, Jones says.

Listed below are yields per acre from the Amarillo experiment station under dry land conditions, giving the variety, number of years, the experiment was run and the comparable yields per acre:

Early Hegari, 11, 20.5 bu.; Plainsman, 11, 21.4; Martin, 9, 24.1; Caprock, 8, 18.9; Westland, 8, 21.0; Combine 7078, 7, 25.4; Midland, 5, 24.4; D. D. White Sooner Milo, 5, 23.3; D.D. Yellow Sooner Milo, 5, 20.4; Redbine 60, 3, 25.7; Redbine 66, 3, 23.9; Combine Kaffir 60, 3, 26.3; Texas Milo, 11, 21.2.

Summary of the irrigated variety test at Lubbock experiment Station with comparable yields is: Caprock, 3, 59.4; Combine Kaffir 60, 3, 55.4; Plainsman, 3, 51.6; Texas Milo, 3, 50.6; Redbine 60, 3, 48.2; Combine 7078, 3, 47.8; Martin, 3, 45.6; D. D. Yellow Sooner Milo, 3, 39.3; D. D. White Sooner Milo, 3, 38.8; Early Hegari, 3, 46.4; Texas Black Hull Kaffir, 3, 52.8.

PLANT COTTON FOR DEFENSE!

Now that we have adequate moisture, the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association, made up of Cotton Growers desirous of increasing future Parmer County Cotton Allotments, respectfully urges each Parmer County Farmer to consider planting a reasonable portion of his land to Cotton this season.

Here Is Why:

- 1. Cotton is second only to steel as a national Defense Commodity.
- 2. Cotton fits a diversified farming program on either Dry or Irrigated land.
- 3. Cotton is essential to our balanced economy.
- 4. Parmer County has not had its share of the nation's cotton market.
- 5. Future controls and allotments are almost certain and any future allotments are likely to be based upon current acreages.
