I sometimes wonder if the American people haven't fallen into the habit of letting their generosity fall into reverse.

Back in the days when I was healthy and vigorous and working 12 to 18 hours a day, with the result of creating an appetite that was astounding, contributions of food stuffs from thoughtful neighbors and friends seldom found their way to our table.

But the story is entirely different today. Now hardly a day passes that delicacies and many dishes of substantial foods are brought to our home from generous friends and bare acquaintances. For all of these contributions I am most deeply grateful. The trouble is, however, that my limited appetite will allow me to dispose of only a small portion of these generous and delicious items of food.

All of which results in additional poundage to my wife and nurse maid who frequently clings to the idea that to waste good food is nothing short of sinful. She prefers taking heavy dosages of bicarbonate of soda three times daily rather than dump the surplus food into the scrap bucket.

It appears at this time that a substantial increase in telephone rates for Texico-Farwell subscribers, on March 1st, is a foregone conclusion.

Whether or not the proposed hike, by the Mountain State Telephone Co. will be adopted remains yet to be seen. Most certainly if the subscribers of Texico and Farwell are to accept the advance rates and take it lying down we are already whipped. If, on the other hand we exercise our rights of entering a vigorous protest, there is some prospect that a compromise in rates might be reached.

W. H. Strickfaden, manager of the Mountain States Telephone Company, points out that there has been no increase in local rental rates since 1921, a period of 31 years, and I believe under these conditions that a reasonable increase is justifiable in keeping with advanced prices in every other field.

But to increase our local rates, where there are slightly more than 300 subscribers on a par with the Clovis exchange rates, with 6500 subscribers, appears to me to be grossly inequitable.

Telephone rates, just like those of the newspapers and magazines, should be based upon the number of subscribers. Is there any fairness in asking the Texico-Farwell users to pay on an equal basis with Clovis, with the latter, offering twenty times as many outlets?

I see by the newspapers that hikes in telephone rates are being granted in many West Texas towns of comparable size to the combined population of Texico-Farwell and in all cases I have noted the one party business rate ranges from $8.00 to $8.50 per month. Such a rate was recently adopted at Littlefield and Hereford.

I am in sympathy with the Telephone Company in asking for an increased rate but I believe such an increase should be more equitable and reasonable.

Perkins Girl Killed When Struck by Auto

Stark tragedy struck the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Perkins of Bovina Tuesday evening when their 6-year-old daughter, La Rita, was killed by an automobile while crossing Highway 60.

The small child, accompanied by her 8-year-old sister, Jaquetta, stepped onto the highway from behind a parked car near the Gulf Service Station into the path of an east-bound Buick about 5:45 p.m.

The car, driven by George Elmer Bradshaw of Lubbock, was unable to avoid her. La Rita was rushed to Parmer County Hospital in Friona, and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Funeral for the girl is planned for this (Thursday) afternoon at the Bovina Church of Christ.

Jaquetta is the only other child of the Perkins'. The family moved to Bovina a little over two years ago. Perkins is an employee of Frank Smith.

Jim Moore Moved To San Antonio Hospital

Jim Moore, formerly of Texico, has been moved from a Hale Center hospital to Woodman's hospital in San Antonio for treatment, his daughter, Mildred, reports. Moore has been under an oxygen tent for the past two weeks. Mrs. Moore has also been ill, with the flu.

Mildred was in Hale Center last week to be with her parents.

Inquiry Continues By Tribune in Search For Local Opinion

The Tribune, seeking to compile an accurate reaction of local telephone subscribers on the "extended area" service which will become effective March 1, questioned people up and down the main streets of Texico-Farwell this week.

Each person questioned was requested to present his views on the problem, and no attempt whatsoever was made to influence his or her reply.

The Tribune does not pretend to have conducted a complete poll of telephone subscribers. Most of the comments printed below were secured from business people up and down the street as a reporter passed from door to door.

An attempt to get a sampling of opinion from more residential users will be made next week. The results of this survey, taken Tuesday, follow:

Ruby Stone (Stones' Variety & Dry Goods): "We think we're going to keep our business phone and let our home phone go."

LeRoy Faville (Red Cross Pharmacy): "I will keep the pay phone here at the business."

Johnnie Crawley (Crawley's Grocery & Bakery): "I can't afford any ten or eleven dollars for a telephone. If I can get a phone with somebody else (party-line), I'll keep it. If not, I'll let it go."

Lee Finley (Jim's Cafe): "I'll go along with whatever the rest of the people want to do."

Ben Smart (The Furniture Mart): "I'm in favor of it, personally. I think it'll be good for the community if we will be able to call Clovis direct."

Les Means (Means Grocery & Locker): "I'm not for it. I want the telephone situation to stay the way it is now."

Homer Dykes (resident): "I haven't been contacted yet."

E. M. Roop (Houston Lumber Company): "They're pushing up my phone to $11.99. I may have to take it out. I don't have a residential telephone. I was going to put one in, but this has stopped me."

Mrs. T. E. Roth (Roth's Grocery & Market): "It's going to help me. I'm really happy about it."

Claude Rose (Rose Drug & Gift): "I'm going to take out my business telephone. I will keep my pay phone."

Mrs. Buck Bradshaw (Bradshaw Grocery & Market): "We'll have to keep our business phone. It's necessary for our business."

R. W. Anderson Jr. (Security State Bank): "I think they're going up too much. They might be giving us something for our money, however. We're not going to fight it."

Scott Levins (Border Theatre): "I'm in favor of staying the way we are now. We are entitled to rates of towns of comparable size. I wouldn't object a bit if they left us the way we are now and had us pay the same as towns like ours. I'll bet there aren't a half-dozen people who will save by being able to call Clovis without a toll charge."

"A business telephone is not worth as much in a small town as it is in a large town. I don't know whether I'll keep my phone or not."

Loyde Cain (resident): "It's all right with me. If the rates get too high, I can always take my phone out."

Tom Wagner (Southern Union Gas): "I'm for it as far as the business is concerned."

Mae Porter (State Line Grocery & Market): "It isn't worth it to us. We're going to take our business phone out."

Francelle Lovelace (Lovelace Grain & Storage): "We will save money for the business. We make an awful lot of calls to Clovis. We haven't given it much thought."

Joe Crume (Kemp Lumber Company): "We're going to keep our business phone. I'm not in favor of it a bit. I wouldn't mind paying for an increase in rates if they give us more service."

Walter Hardage (Hardage Hudson Company): "It will help me. I spend $15 or $20 a month on calls to Clovis."

Fred Curtis (Karl's Auto Clinic): "It will help us at our business. It will save both money and time, since we won't have to spend 30 minutes getting the operator."

S. O. Billington (Billington Barber & Beauty): "I'm against it. We call Clovis about twice a month. We may take our telephone out."

Carl Davis (Piggly Wiggly): "They (Mountain State Telephone Company representatives) have never yet gotten down to brass tacks. We don't know yet whether our calls originate from Farwell or Clovis. I am definitely against it. I'd like to see the additional service before we ever see the rate increase."

Minature Flood Engulfs Farwell Piggly Wiggly

Anyone who has ever laid awake at night knows the torment of a leaky faucet. To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis of Farwell, however, a leaking faucet was more than just an annoyance Tuesday night.

Just before retiring, their telephone rang. It was about 11 p.m. Glenna Ruth, their teenage daughter, answered the telephone. From what she could understand, the Davis's big Piggly Wiggly grocery store was under water.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis hastily dressed, rushed down town, and there found a sure-enough flood in their store. A water hose connection had given away under pressure in a vegetable stand, and water was running everywhere.

After the water was shut off, the couple spent about an hour sweeping it out the front door. No damage was reported.

It was understood that a passing truck driver noticed the water escaping and gave an alarm.

Farm Bureau Directors Complete Plan for Drive

At a meeting of Farm Bureau directors Monday night, plans were complete for a membership drive to begin February 17. Kickoff supper is to be held Monday night, February 16, at Bovina Legion hall. About 50 workers and their wives are to be present for the banquet. An out-of-town speaker is to be featured on the program.

Half-Century club will serve the meeting.

At the Monday meeting, directors took maps and marked blocks for teams of workers to cover. "We hope to see every farmer in the county," says Raymond Euler, Farm Bureau service officer. Prizes for the most successful team in the membership drive will be given, including hats, billfolds and anti-freeze. Women are also eligible for gifts, if they work with a top team.

Conclusion of the drive will be February 23, when a victory meeting will be held in Friona. Dr. Bill Davis will be speaker for the evening. Dr. Davis is with the government department of Texas Technological college in Lubbock.

Only 1477 Citizens Pay Poll Taxes Here

A total of 1477 poll tax receipts were issued for the year of 1953 for Parmer County, Alvenia Cox, sheriff's deputy, reported to a Tribune reporter this week.

According to the officials, this total is about average for an odd election year, tallying pretty well with the number of receipts paid year before last.

The above total represents a little over half of the eligible voters in the county.

Workers Pleased With Response To March of Dimes Drive

Both Texico and Farwell citizens dug into their pockets the past month and contributed a record amount of money to the March of Dimes. All reports for Parmer County were not in at press time, but indications are that the same situation was true over the county.

In Texico, final tabulation on the polio drive was $700, the exact goal workers were striving for. Money was derived from contributions through miniature iron lungs placed about town, donations by organizations and individuals, coffees given by women of the town, coffee day at Jim's Cafe, a box supper, and Mother's march. "We had hoped to gain $700 and couldn't be more pleased with the drive," says Mrs. Perry Crawley, chairman. She expresses her appreciation to all who helped make the drive successful.

In Farwell, Sterlyn Billington, chairman, reports a total of $644.10, given to the dimes drive. Functions to raise money for the drive included a dance by the Legion post, coffees by women in the town, coffee day at City Cafe, a benefit basketball game, and a men's social at Farwell school cafeteria. Organizations and individuals were generous with contributions, and iron lungs netted $66.40. The coffee day at the cafe gained twice as much as was realized last year from the same function. Also, school cards brought a generous response from the children.

Border Theatre also took collections in the show, and had a total of $61.68, which was divided between the drives for Texico and Farwell.

Over Parmer County as a whole, only an estimate can be given on the success of the drive, says Raymond Euler, county chairman, since a report from all communities is not yet available. Unofficial reports list Lakeview with about $85, Lazbuddy, about $150; Black, about $130, Rhea, about $250. "We do not know if these are correct," says Euler, "and we have no reports on some of the other communities."

In Bovina, the total given this week was $380.37. In a breakdown of figures, money was derived from school cards, $77.09; coffees, $114.09; iron lung containers, $81.39; basketball game, $26.81; Study club, $10; PTA, $9.12; and Mustang theatre, $61.88.

Iron lungs in Friona gained about the same as last year, $189. Other money given in that community had not yet been tabulated this week. In Rhea however, $250 was derived from one big entertainment. At a pie supper, $185.50 worth of pies were sold to patrons. A quilt which was given away gained $30, and anti-freeze, a contribution of Paul Jones Service Station of Bovina was sold to help the drive.

Euler expresses his appreciation to all the workers helping with the drive, and to citizens who took the initiative and planned socials and other benefit functions for the drive. A more complete report on the March of Dimes will be given at a later date.

Survey Indicates 85 Persons Lag on Garbage Collection in Farwell

A survey conducted by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce last week indicated that there are at least 85 homes or businesses which should be participating in garbage collection in Farwell but are not.

Ray Mears, Farwell businessman, has made an offer to pick up garbage periodically for a set fee. He will charge $6 for residences, and $12 and up for businesses.

Chamber directors urged that persons not now cooperating in the service do so as both a matter of sanitation and civic pride.

Pentecostal Revival Continues This Week

Rev. C. A. Hatcher, pastor of United Pentecostal church in Texico, reports that the revival meeting at the church, will continue all this week. Sister Edna Mills of Vandalia, Ill. is preaching the services.

Rev. Hatcher invites the public to hear Sister Mills at 7:30 each evening, CST. Special music and singing are furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Smart and others.

Texico C-C To Meet, Telephone Delegate Has Been Invited

The meeting date for the Texico Chamber of Commerce has been changed from Tuesday to Monday night at the City Hall. The Mountain State Telephone Company has been requested to send a company representative here to discuss the "extended area" telephone service.

Contacted Tuesday, W. H. Strickfaden, Clovis manager, said he was certain he would be on hand for the meeting, but was not sure what other company officials might be present.

All persons who have questions concerning the new service, to begin March 1, are invited to be on hand. The company representatives will answer questions publicly, it is understood.

The meeting is to begin at 8 p.m.

Informed Speakers To Be Featured On Irrigation Program

Final plans have been completed for the annual Parmer County irrigation and soil fertility day to be held tomorrow (Friday) at the district court room, Farwell, sponsored jointly by the Extension Service and Soil Conservation district, County Agent Joe Jones says.

After introductions at 9:40 Friday morning, actual speeches and informative sessions will begin. Jay Boston, Castro County farmer, will begin the discussions with his views on "Wheat Under Irrigation for Pasture and Grain Production." His talk will be followed by facts on "Legumes in My Farming Operation," given by another farmer, Roy Euler of Black, Texas.

M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist, and head of the soil testing laboratory at Texas A & M College will be featured on "Commercial Fertilizers and Legumes." Then Dr. Whitfield of Amarillo Experiment Station gives farmers an insight on "Johnson Grass and Bindweed Control," to conclude the round of speeches for the morning.

John Box, irrigation engineer of Lubbock agricultural experiment station, will begin the program for the afternoon on "Cotton and Grain Sorghum Production" at 1:30. Following his discussion, Bob Thurmond, extension irrigation specialist of Lubbock will talk about "Irrigation Practices and Methods" at 2:15. E. M. Trew, extension agronomist of Texas A & M will tell farmers about "Irrigated Pastures and Legumes."

To conclude the program for the day, Willis Hawkins, Hart, Texas, district director for Parmer, Castro and Bailey Counties for the High Plains Underground Water District, will discuss the district in relation to the farmer, beginning at 3:30.

Several Projects On Hand For Chamber

Several projects were talked up at a directors' meeting of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. Mrs. Esther McLeod of the City Cafe tendered a request offering to cooperate with the Chamber in having Santa Fe property east and north of her business made into an all-weather parking area.

The directors recorded a favorable attitude toward the proposition. In addition, the directors are making a request to the Texico-Farwell ESA girls to help beautify the city park.

With respect to the banquet coming Feb. 27, Wilfred Quicke, secretary-manager, said tentative arrangements have been made to have Weldon Bright, KGNC music director play for the occasion.

Brewer Announces Coming Sessions

Loyde Brewer, commander of the local American Legion, announces that regular monthly meeting for the group will begin Monday night at 7:30 at the Legion hall. Refreshments of coffee and cake are planned. Tom Wagner has promised to donate the cake.

Brewer also announces that Legion zone meeting is to be held Tuesday night in Hereford. The hostess Auxiliary unit has invited all the Farwell Legionnaires and Auxiliary members to a dinner at the club house that evening.

Permits for drilling irrigation wells, which were feared by Parmer County farmers as going to be "just another tangle of red tape" seem to be working themselves out pretty well this week, after the permit regulation went into effect Monday.

A check by The Tribune at 10 a.m. Tuesday revealed that about 35 permits had been issued in the county since business began February 1.

Last Thursday, Bruce Parr, Raymond Euler, Tom Caldwell, all county committeemen, attended a High Plains District meeting at Lubbock designed to clear up any misinformation in circulation concerning issuance of permits. Also attending was Bud Crump of Friona. Cordie Potts, the fifth committeeman, was unable to go.

Euler advised farmers who desire permits to apply for them from their drillers or pump company. "These permit applications should be filled out before the signatures of the committeemen are sought," he requested. The committeemen indicated that a large portion of their time was being taken in attending to these preliminary details, when their duties only call for approval or disapproval of an application.

There will likely be a ruling made in the future, Euler predicted, that will require farmers to have an application filled out before he seeks his county committeemen.

Euler tossed in an optimistic note, too. "Everyone is being as cooperative as is possible, and seem to realize that an emergency exists," he said.

Many farmers are anxiously seeking the permits in order that they may go ahead with drilling of wells, and in some cases all arrangements have been made for drilling except the permits.

Farmers who already had wells spudded and equipment over the hole February 1 are not required to get permits, it was revealed. On the other hand, a site marked only by a stack of pipe or slush pit will not come under this category.

Committeemen are attempting to get together to set a regular monthly or bi-monthly meeting date in order that applications may be submitted with the least loss of time on the part of the prospective well owner. Nothing concrete has been worked out along this line, however.

Euler predicted that the rush for permits will soon subside, and the scramble for the pieces of paper will not be so difficult. "Most people know 30 days previous when they are going to drill a well," said Euler. The committeemen stated that if a location "is at all acceptable," they will go ahead and issue the permits.

Church Will Be Dedicated Sunday

Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas will preach and dedicate the newly-refinished Oklahoma Lane Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Vernon C. Willard, pastor of the church, says.

Rev. Willard emphasizes that the speaker is a great leader and "one of the outstanding religious men of the world." He is president of the National Council of Churches of Christ of the USA, which represents about 70 per cent of Protestants of America. "It is a rare occasion to have such a man as Bishop Martin to come our way and a cordial invitation is given for those who desire to hear him," Rev. Willard says.

Basket dinners will be served at the church, and an afternoon program of singing, a resume of the history of the church, and special numbers by Farwell high school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Erma Jobs, is planned. Rev. Roscoe Trostle, a former pastor, is to preach the evening service.

The Oklahoma Lane church building was purchased in January of last year, and the congregation donated labor to remodel the church into a sanctuary, eight class rooms, fellowship hall and kitchen, pastor's study and choir room.

Rev. Willard says that workers have been busy at the church the past week, getting everything ready for the dedication. The fellowship hall has been painted and the kitchen completed. A new refrigerator has been installed in the kitchen. "Everything should be completed by Sunday," the pastor says. He adds that church people have been working in shifts, both night and day to finish the building. "We are also working on the yard," he concludes.

Caught in the TV Tidal Wave

Here we go. We have succumbed to the most common sin of the small-town columnist—letting someone else write the column. However, our conscience isn't going to be too rough on us, because we believe that what you're about to read will be interesting and timely.

Whether we like it or not, television is having its impact on the small towns of the Plains. The march of civilization, we suppose. Newspapermen, as the voice of an informed public, cannot ignore the 40-foot antennas that clutter the skyline today any more than they could ignore the advent of that wonderful mechanism, radio.

Speaking for ourselves, we feel like having a ironic little laugh every time we see some wage-earner mortgaging his payroll for the next several months to afford his family the "wonders" of television. We're speaking of this particular area, of course.

Naturally, television is here to stay. It's legitimate. It's sensible. It's fascinating. We are going to have a set for ourselves someday.

But why the hysteria for this strange new form of entertainment when it isn't yet practical here?

Now, if we could go into our friend's home and see his set give us a respectable program reproduction any night of the week, we'd feel a whole lot differently about the matter.

Some people call Texico-Farwell a television "fringe" area. And "fringes" are about all they ever get on their sets. Yes, we're going to have a TV set. But not until they are a little more practical.

What, people are asking themselves, is network television going to mean to our locally-owned radio stations, newspaper, and picture shows? Marshall Formby, owner of radio station KPAN in Hereford, has a sensible approach to these questions. So here's Marshall, who'll write part of our column this week:

In a few months, there will be even more talk about TV. . . Many folks wonder what effect TV has on a town, on the theatres, on the newspapers, on radio. All we know is what has occurred up to now in other towns and cities where TV stations entered the field. For a few weeks, folks go crazy about TV. They read little, listen to radio very little, especially at night. They stop going to so many shows. But soon they get choosy in their programs. They get selective. They watch TV a little less, they radio more, they read more and start back to the moving picture theatres. TV becomes just another entertainment medium; a good one, but just another one. For certain sports, conventions, inaugurations, special events and some comedy, TV can't be beat. But it has not in other towns or cities replaced the radio, nor the newspaper, nor the theatre.

This columnist traveled several thousand miles during 1952 to get these above facts. We have talked to a lot of people, read a lot and observed a lot. The above is the final conclusion. TV is fine, but it replaces nothing.

Amen, Mr. Formby. Amen.

We're Not Agin' 'Em All the Time

In the current discussion over the proposed "extended area" service by Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, much has been said which casts disfavor upon that particular corporation.

Last week, we firmly stated how we felt about what rates appeared imminent for local telephone users. Lots of people agree with us. Lots of people are even going as far past center that they are saying nasty, catty little things about the company.

Some of these things, regrettably, are true. But most of them have no foundation as fact. The Mountain States Company, (as will be true of nearly all public utility companies), is meticulously careful in its public relations.

One wrong statement, one mis-mis-phrasing of a problem over which there is conflict, can heap down upon that company hundreds of irate words from the citizenry. Wounds of this kind, once open, too often never heal.

The reason large corporations must be so careful about what they say is because it is the tendency of every small businessman to blame his troubles on the "big boys"—the big businesses.

Bigness is not despised here in the great sprawling Southwest as it is in many places today. Yet, there is a certain amount of resentment that always comes to the mind of a small businessman who plans, sweats, struggles every day to see his family fed and clothed, when he sees big fleets of trucks, or acre on acre of office space—all bearing the same name—grinding effortlessly on to bigger profits.

He very often gets the idea he is being "squeezed." Sometimes he is.

But big business has been—and still is—the very lifeblood of the concept that made America. Without it, the industrial miracles, which in turn guarantee us a high standard of living, would never have been.

If expansion after expansion, merger after merger, had not been possible for the Bell Telephone system years ago, the nation's lines of communication would be a hopeless tangle of small, competitive systems. Efficiency on long-distance telephoning would be impossible.

Think again before you smear Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company. Squeal like a stuck pig if they try to kick you around. Your voice will be heard. But don't forget that if such a system as theirs wasn't in existence, you'd be writing a letter to some Washington bureaucrat about your woes. Think you'd get an audience?

No husband is legally permitted to be present when his wife is signing a legal document. The theory is that he might unduly influence her.

Some theory! Anyhow it's the law. But women who take an interest in legislative matters are trying to bring about its repeal.

This is one of the dozen projects that attract the interest of women, who have come a long way in establishing themselves around the capital in the last 30 years.

Take it from Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, who was secretary of state from 1927 to 1933—things were a lot different 30 years ago.

Then the women were trying to get the right to vote, but the "suffragettes" were subject to more ridicule than serious consideration from the male lawmakers.

The women were determined, however, and in 1918 Texas became the first Southern state to grant primary suffrage to women.

The difference today is like that between the daguerreotype and television.

Today there are more women than men around the legislative halls.

There are some 200 of them who attend to the members' typing, filing, and other secretarial chores. Not only that, but there also are four feminine lawmakers.

Some of the measures in which women are interested at this session are those that would:

1. Permit women to serve on juries. A resolution for this purpose has the support of Representatives Horace B. Houston Jr., of Dallas and Lamar Zively of Temple. The resolution, if passed, would result in a vote of the people on a constitutional amendment.

2. Permit women to sell separate property without the consent of their husbands, if the property belonged to the woman before her marriage or was acquired by her through inheritance. Women have long sought this privilege.

3. Abolish the separate acknowledgment required for wives. This is the one that chases the husband out of the room while the wife is signing a legal document. Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview is a supporter of this one.

4. Extend homestead tax exemptions to single persons. Many single women, as well as men, support relatives and should have the exemption the same as married couples, say adherents of this proposal.

5. Keep the motor vehicle inspection law. Officials of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers are behind this proposition. Some changes might be required, the board of managers agreed, to make the law workable. But the PTA group thought the law ought to be retained.

6. Increase the basic teaching salary to $3,000 per year and give raises to principals and supervisors. This is another goal of the PTA.

Approved by a house committee was a proposed constitutional amendment that would increase the salaries of legislators from $10 to $25 per day during the first 120 days of the session.

Members would get $5 per day after the first 120 days, the same as at present.

Proposed constitutional changes were introduced in both houses that would lift the present $35 million ceiling on welfare spending.

If passed by both houses and approved by the voters, this measure would permit greater payments to the aged, needy blind, and dependent children.

Two bills were aimed at reducing traffic accidents. Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano introduced one that would impose a minimum five-day jail sentence on drunken drivers.

Representative Thomas R. Joseph Jr. of Waco advocates increasing drivers' license fees and spending the money to hire more highway patrolmen.

The Texas Prison Board assures the legislature that disaster may result unless $3.5 million are spent for a new prison building at Eastham Farm.

The present farm facilities are "intolerable and indecent," the board's report said, and 1,200 prisoners could easily break out of the Brazoria County enclosure and cover the state in 24 hours.

The state pays out a lot of money every month to rent office space in private buildings around the capital. Representative Bill Daniel of Liberty wants the state to put up its own office buildings on land, near the capitol, now owned by the state.

If authorized by the legislature, the state would issue $6 million in bonds to construct the buildings.

Daniel says the state's rent bill in Austin now amounts to $250,000 per year.

Plans to rent the land have been temporarily sidetracked.

Representatives Thomas R. Joseph of Waco and Curtis Ford Jr. of Corpus Christi offered a resolution to give Missouri to the national military establishment, "for such use as they see fit, if any use can be found."

The idea was to get back at former-President Truman for giving away Texas' tidelands.

The whole thing was a joke, but Speaker Reuben Senterfitt solemnly declared that the resolution concerns broad legislative policy.

He referred it to the Committee on Federal Relations.

More farm women die of tuberculosis than women who live in cities.

Don't Laugh—YOUR WAY OF WASHING MAY BE JUST AS OLD-FASHIONED

There was a day when this locomotive was the latest thing in rail transportation. In that day, there was a washday—usually Monday—when everything else stopped while the homemaker went at the backbreaking job of getting the clothes clean. For cleaner clothes—washed when it's convenient for you—try an automatic electric clothes washer.

Grade School Column

GRADE SCHOOL COLUMN

FIRST GRADE

The first grade welcomed two new girls in January. They are Carolyn Jane Woodson and Jean Kinsey. Two of our boys James Keeth and James Ray Taylor moved away. We regret to lose them and wish them happiness. The girls were especially glad to get the new girls as we now have fifteen girls and eighteen boys.

Many of our children have been absent because of flu. Leon Lovelace, Danny Lindop, John Gomey, and Bill Homez still have the flu. We were sorry to hear about the death of Pamela's grandfather.

The first grade have started spelling and we have a new book to keep our words in.

We have illustrated the nursery rhyme, "The Old Lady Who Lived in a Shoe," by making a shoe of cardboard, and placing our pictures in the windows of it.

SECOND GRADE

For the first time since December fifth, the second grade had everyone present last Wednesday. It was certainly wonderful to have everyone well and at school once more.

Pat and Mike Landrum have finally recovered from the flu.

The children have missed Mrs. Miller, who has been in Oklahoma for her father's funeral. Mrs. E. G. Williams has been teaching Mrs. Miller's classes.

Bonnie Cochran visited her grandmother in Jal, New Mexico last Sunday.

Mrs. Pool attended the funeral of her uncle in Plainview Monday afternoon.

Now that everyone is in school again the children are working on cursive writing. They like it very much and are learning fast.

In science they are learning how to use and read a thermometer.

They have finished their first basal reader "Come Along" and the workbook that accompanies it. The new Reader, "On We Go" is very interesting and they are ready to begin work in a new reading workbook.

Many of the children have already read through the new supplementary reader "Have You Read." The stories were so interesting they could not stop reading.

LEMON'S THIRD GRADE

We are doing a little extra Arithmetic in drill on combinations. Each row tries to get the most cards each day. Last week Jimmie Cain's row won.

The boys and girls enjoyed playing a new game called "Find the Donkey."

Everyone is enjoying hearing Bambi at our story time.

Mrs. Lemons brought a black Molly fish to school Tuesday.

Valentines are just about our favorite art work, especially with February so near. This week marks the first absence for Jimmie Cain.

MRS. HUFFAKER'S NEWS

We are glad to welcome two new boys to our room. Marshall Lee from Lorenzo, Texas, and Scotty Turner from Taylor, Texas.

Those absent from school last month because of sickness were: Jolene Donaldson, Jane Gulley, D'Ann Garrett, Gloria Hillock, Shelia Lee, Virginia Willard, Dickie Gerles, Errol Johnson, Larry Lumpkin, Steve Smart, Marshall Lee and also their teacher, Mrs. Huffaker.

We are enjoying our lessons on Texas and Indians as we get to carry our ideas out on paper and with clay. Also in art we are having fun with paper mache.

Those neither absent nor tardy for the whole school term: Mike Billington, and Christine Paine. We take our hats off to you two.

The ones making 100 in spelling for last six weeks are: Jolene Donaldson, D'Ann Garrett, and Christine Paine.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

We received our new science readers recently. The unit on bees is especially interesting. We hope to make a special study of honey bee society in connection with this unit.

The practice for our assembly program has begun in earnest. We plan to present the program February 6th and hope that many parents will attend.

We are really gaining some experience; for the first time we are writing a book report. The most fun is telling why we did, or did not, like the book. We hope in this way every student will do at least a little outside reading.

Picture memory has been added to our course of study. We are studying famous pictures and master artists, and for most of us it is an entirely new world.

One of our geraniums has a huge pink cluster of which we are quite proud.

FIFTH GRADE BRIEFS

The class takes great pride in the plant collection, which contains twenty-seven pots. A geranium and a lily are now in bloom, and some striped tulips will be blooming soon.

Everyone is happy to be taking up the study of pictures for the Inter-scholastic League picture memory contest.

They have been having one lesson a week from the League spelling bulletin.

Along with other junior high boys, those in fifth grade have started track training. They will have racing, jumping, and chinning.

Two students, Richard and Julia King from New Mexico entered the fifth grade on Monday. Ruby Hillock is strong enough to return to school following a throat operation. Joan Hubbel is at home with asthma.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

We are glad to have Doyle Goldsmith back in school after a long illness.

In geography we have been studying about the land of the ancient Sun.

The flowers in our flower bed are growing very nicely.

Linda Maggart has been gone to Borger, Texas for a few days.

SEVENTH GRADE

We are glad to have Fern Tipton back to school after a short absence.

Vera Fern Williams and Naomi Hubbell are on the basketball team and played in the game at Friona. We are proud of the trophy we won.

The seventh grade had a visitor last Friday. She was Merlene Crook from the eighth grade. She was the only girl in the eighth grade that day.

NEW STUDENTS IN EIGHTH

The eighth grade was increased by the addition of four new students to the class who were: Jean Cooper, Muleshoe, Texas; Anita King, Portales, New Mexico; Manfred Hanne-mann from Texico, and Jerry Primrose, Amarillo. These pupils are indeed welcome to our community and school.

Mary Ann Walls is back after a long illness—also Jeanetta Hughes is able to be back in school after being out for some time due to sickness.

Phyllis Magness had a slumber party January 9. Her guests were as follows: Betty Smart, Sandra Maggart, Loveta and Lometa Perrin, and Pat Aldridge. The girls were prepared to stay up all night, but Mrs. Magness told them as they were in training for basketball they should retire early—which they proceeded to do. If mothers are unable to get their young daughters to bed early and they are in training just try to above theory.

Donnie Carpenter and Loveta Perrin made the all-tournament team at Friona last week. All are very proud of their success in basketball.

A birthday party was given in honor of Merlene Crook Sunday. Games were played and refreshments were served to those present. Those attending were: Molly Barnes, Buford Watson, Naomi Watson, Jimmie Williams and Rex Harris. The hostesses were Mrs. Crook and Eurith Marie Crook.

Seniors Plan Graduation Phases

The seniors are so wrapped up in thoughts of graduation they are unable to concentrate on such minor subjects. What to wear—how many invitations to send, what gifts to give—what will they receive in return—senior trip—senior play—gracious, could you expect a poor senior to give thought to anything else? Well, after all, they are seniors only once in a life time, they should be given a chance to think of graduation at this time.

The senior class wish Ruby (Kittrell) Craft a happy married life. Oh, didn't you know? Yes, indeed, our Ruby is a married lady. She has been married several months but just announced it Monday.

A committee is now working on a plan to select the senior play which will be given sometime in the spring.

Darla is back in school after her accident—all are glad to see her and hear her merry laugh again.

High School Welcomes Five New Students

The high school would like to welcome five new students this semester. The freshmen have two new students, Mary Kinsley and Dixie Turner.

The sophomore class has two boys, Glenn Lee and Doyle Ford. The Junior class has only one new student, Peggy Woodson.

Welcome, new students, to the high school halls.

Thoughts While Not Thinking

By KAYLA FELTS

You can sure tell we live in West Texas! One day we have a sand-storm, the next it's a blizzard, and the next we have a perfect spring day. Oh well, it may be confusing, but it's home!!!

Have you girls noticed how the cheating has dropped in American History since Willie took over??? Thanks a lot Mr. Roberts.

Read the other day that a bustle is artificial circumstances based on stern reality, and d'g' know? That's right!

Rose Atchley has one of the nicest figures in Farwell High School, especially in "riding britches."

It seems as if we can't play a basketball game without having a girl hurt, either seriously or other-wise. There are several big black and blue bruises making the rounds now

History is one of the most interesting subjects you can take, if you accept it with an open mind . . . (Personal Opinion No. 18365562).

Embarassing situation No. 1639984 . . . The other day in girls basketball period when Bernice tried to kick Marie, and fell down flat on her somewhat! !

One of the nicest things about going to the show on Sunday afternoon is getting together on Monday morning to compare notes about it, and laugh again.

Why is it that some people, like Darlene, for instance, have such a sparkling personality that you hardly ever get mad at them. One thing that I like about Darlene is that she makes friends so easily and keeps them so long

How come some days you feel like flying a kite and the next you are down in the 3rd basement??? It that what your thyroid gland is all about?

Impossible situation No. 54079174: Jo Hanna and Junior Potect with short eyelashes! ! ! !

The remainder of the chorus will be plantation singers and guests.

BAND NEWS

With the ordeal of chair try outs over, all of the band students are heaving sighs of relief or grief.

The contest solos have come in, and judging from the looks of the music, the players are going to spend many tedious hours of practice.

Those who are playing solos include: Dennis Raney, Gerald Hardage, Douglass Hillock, Gloria Dial, Naomi Hubbell, Kayla Felts, Judy Garrett, Robbie Foster, Phillip Crume, Bert Williams, and Don Gerles, and Rolland Hillock.

Soon will come the task of preparatory contest. The band members will enter in concert, sight reading, and possibly marching. "That depends upon the weather," says Mrs. Jobes.

There will also be ensembles entering contests. There are several trios, ect.

The juniors were measured for their band jackets last week. There are only six juniors in the band, and it will be comparatively easy to pay for this year's jackets, but there will be more expensive for next year's juniors. There are 13 sophomores in the band.

We have been working a lot on sight reading lately and have several new contest numbers.

BEGIN LICENSE SALES

Personnel in the sheriff's office began issuing car licenses Monday morning, they report. Up until Tuesday at noon, 25 had been purchased.

CHATTER IN THE HALLS BY BEL WILLARD

Everyone received a big surprise surprise this week when Rubie announced Monday morning that she and Bill Craft have been married since the last of September. We congratulated Rubie in this column on being engaged, after Christmas when she first wore her engagement ring. Now we want to congratulate her again. You make a lovely bride, Rubie.

Darlene Sprawls has been wearing a beautiful diamond ring since her birthday, January 9. It was given to her by her dad and was the setting from her mother's engagement ring. It's really pretty, you're a lucky girl!

Both basketball teams have played two games, each since Friday. We went to Friona Friday night where both the boys and girls were beaten. Perhaps we partially made up for it the following Tuesday night when we won over Lazbuddy. The girls won by one point and the boys won by two points.

We are sorry to lose one of our senior boys this semester. Lynn Carpenter has moved to Carlsbad, New Mexico, but he plans to complete his high school education by taking a correspondence course through Farwell.

Because of the snow storm last Wednesday night the junior class play had to be postponed. It will be presented Tuesday night, February 10th in the FHS auditorium. If you don't already have your tickets you can get them from any member of the class. The play "A Ready Made Family" is a good one that you should attend.

Jo Ann, we're sorry that you have been ill lately. It seems Jody had laringitis this week but she says she thinks her parents rather enjoyed the unusual quiet around the house. Anyway we're glad you are well and back in school, Cochran.

Juniors Continue Play Practice

The juniors had to postpone their play, which was to have been given January 22, to February 10. All are requested to have one play practice a week until the fateful day.

It is quite a problem for the juniors to realize that they will soon become the dignified seniors of '53 and '54 in only a few months—that they will have to assume the responsibility of the annual for next year. Mr. Roberts has already discussed the problem of publishing the annual with the class at a meeting called for that purpose.

PAUL'S PARABLES

If you owe an ancient bill and your conscience won't be still, and your neighbors bear ill will—forget it.

There is a lot of happiness in the belief that you are fooling others into believing that you are happy.

If money could buy youth we'd all be misers.

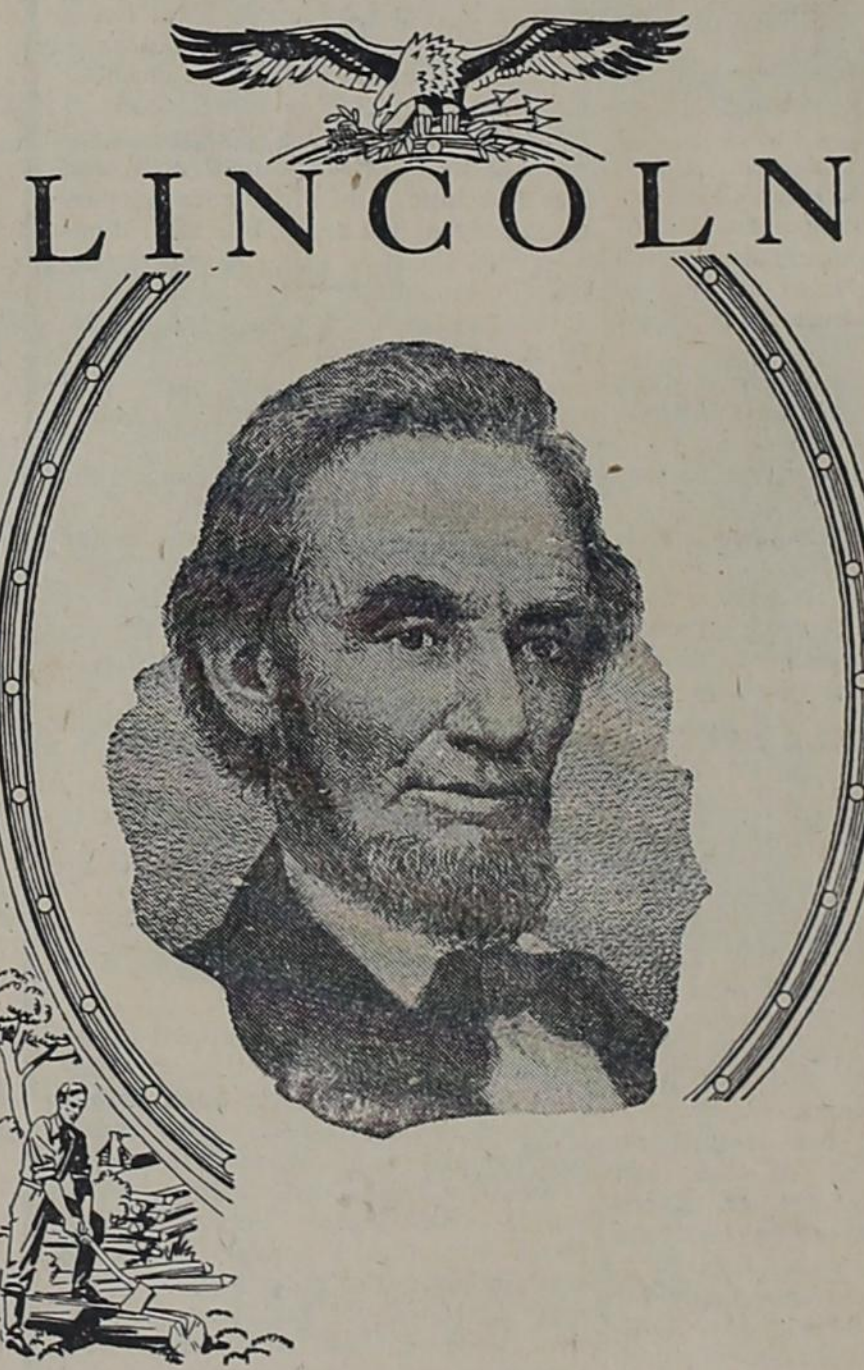

Conditions have changed. While the old-fashioned girl hesitated to hold a man's hand, the modern girl is afraid to let go.

Folks, our station operator is Jack Alexander. He's really a nice fellow, and wants an opportunity to serve you. Come in and let us show you what real service means.

There's no more fitting time than Lincoln's birthday, to be reminded of the fundamental precepts of our great democracy: that any man, no matter how humble his beginnings, may one day be president.

There's no more fitting tribute to the memory of Lincoln, than the simple phrase . . . all men are created equal.

THESE ARE YOUR Friends & Neighbors

Twenty-fourth in an informative articles series revealing little known facts about well known people in and around Texico-Farwell and nearby communities. Our sole purpose is to promote better acquaintances—in the hope of promoting better friendships.)

This week, our Friends and Neighbors spotlight is focused on Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson, well-known Texico residents.

Mrs. Johnson was born four miles southwest of Texico, and has lived in, and around this community all her life. She was the "baby" in a family of four children, born to Mr. and Mrs. "Uncle" Tom Randol. She went to school at a country school called Locust Grove, and recalls that they only had eight-month terms at that time. Mrs. Johnson says that B. A. Rogers, former superintendent of Texico Schools, was her teacher in the fifth grade. She quit school following her junior year, to get married.

Russell Johnson was born in Johnson County, Texas, and moved to this area at the age of 14. He was the sixth of ten children. The Johnsons met at a singing convention at the Moye Chapel, southwest of town; and Mrs. Johnson recalls that "Russell winked at me through the window, he always was quite a flirt." They went together for two years before their marriage in 1924. The wedding was solemnized at Farwell by the late "Uncle Sam" Tipton. The bride wore a grey dress, fashioned with a long waist, and a skirt reaching almost to the ankles, and her accessories were black. They set up housekeeping on the Ebb Randol farm south of town, and lived, says Mr. Johnson, "on every place between Texico and the Portales highway, at one time or another." In 1946, they moved to Texico, and built their present home.

The Johnsons remember all the fun they had as a young couple, when a bunch of young married folks would get together and play "42", and perhaps spend a day and night together. "Even though we didn't have much money, we had a lot of fun," says the Johnsons.

Gladys and Russell have seen some lean years together, and then some that were good, and say they may see some more lean ones before they're through. But, they don't expect the next ones to be as bad as the depression era. Johnson recalls one time when they were almost desperate, and he was offered a job moving a building from Portair to Grier, and was paid $1 a day. He says, "I used my team of four horses, and the team and I earned $6 in 6 days. That five-dollar bill looked as big as a wagon sheet to me, and we spent the whole amount on groceries. That was a lot of groceries then, when bread was 5 cents a loaf, and other prices ranged the same way."

The couple have five children; Bill, who is married and lives in Roswell, served for two years in the armed forces, with 15 months of that time, in Korea. Delphine, their second child, is now married to Cecil Dykes, and lives in Littlefield. Jerry, who is 15 is a sophomore student at Texico Schools, and a member of the band. Gloria Ann, born in 1940, is in the seventh grade at Texico. By an odd coincidence, Gloria and her brother Bill were both born on April 11, and Charles Don, the youngest of the children is in the fifth grade at Texico. All of the schooling of the youngsters has been received at Texico, except for Bill, who spent one year at Farwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson feel lucky to have escaped all the tragedies that usually go along with raising children. All of theirs have been exceptionally healthy, with Delphine giving them their only "scare." This came when she was 2 years of age, and, according to her mother, "quite a coffee drinker." By accident, her coffee was poured into a cup in which were stored morphine tablets prescribed for Russell by the doctor. She drank the coffee, with enough morphine in it for 16 normal doses. The attending physician said that it would be a miracle if she lived, but the Johnsons began walking her, and making her drink coffee, and the next day, doctors pronounced her as in good condition. Russel states, "I'll bet we walked that baby 500 miles, just back and forth through the house, to keep her awake."

Russel is a carpenter by trade, and laughingly states, "I do carpentering when I can get a job." He is a member of the Texico Chamber of Commerce, and was elected to the position of City Councilman in the election last April.

as head cook at the Texico lunchroom, and has missed only six days in the entire time. The children, too, have good attendance records, not missing a day of school last year, and in the first semester this year. She is serving as vice-president of the Texico Band Boosters organization, also.

The couple say that their formula for happy married life is "only one of us gets mad at the same time. We've found it saves a lot of arguments." One example of this sense of humor prevailing took place in the depression years. The Johnsons were really in need of that cream check were looking forward to a lot of milk from their eight cows, so the check would be a big one.

Russel was coming from the barn, laden with two full buckets of milk, and while crossing the stock tank, lost his footing and fell in. One bucket of white liquid followed him, and the other spilled its contents on the ground and ran in streams down to the back door of the house. Gladys says, "I laughed until I thought it would make me sick, and Russell didn't see a thing funny about the situation. But, a sense of humor really saved the day for us, if I hadn't been able to laugh, the pathetic side of it would probably have made us sit right down and cry."

Dean Martin L. Cole To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. Martin L. Cole, academic dean of Eastern New Mexico University will be guest speaker at the Hamlin Memorial Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 a.m.

Sheriff Lovelace Gives Case Reviews

Fred Allen and Harry Fennig were returned Sunday from Clovis, and will be tried for burglary here February 18, Chas. Lovelace, sheriff, reports. They have been charged with burglary of the Jack Williams home and other thefts in Parmer and Bailey counties.

Lovelace also reports one other case. Eddie Gunner and Henderson Campbell of Muleshoe, plead guilty to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace in Justice of Peace court last week. They were given fines of $29.50 and $15.50 respectively.

The Joe E. Douglass home near Friona was burglarized during the recent severe snow storm, the sheriff reports. Two suits of clothes and a watch were taken, but no leads have been found on the case. Similar thefts were reported in Deaf Smith County on the same day, says Lovelace.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RALPH SMITH

Parmer County Farm Bureau membership workers will begin an intensive farm-to-farm canvass February 17 to sign up new members, it was announced this week by Carl Schlenker, county membership chairman.

Quota for the spring membership drive is 550, Schlenker said. The membership total for Parmer County now stands at 527. About 30 other county Farm Bureau organizations over the state are also conducting spring membership campaigns.

The importance of the coming drive in this county was stressed by Bruce Parr, president of the county Farm Bureau.

"It is becoming increasingly important and necessary for farmers and ranchers to band together," President Parr said. "Prices that the farmer receives for his produce are going down all the time, yet prices that he must pay for the goods and machinery he buys are on the increase. It's the old familiar squeeze."

"This is an age of organization, and the farmer cannot afford the luxury of being independent forever. He must sell his produce to organized processors; he must buy from organized groups. Labor and industry are organized, and the farmer has the choice of organizing or watching his margin of profit disappear."

Consider this: "He that is void of wisdom despiseth his neighbor; but a man of understanding holdeth his peace." Prov. 11:12

Murray White Named To Texico Board

MEET TONIGHT

Texico-Farwell Lions will meet tonight (Thursday) for a regular session at the Texico school lunchroom. Time is 7:45, J. F. Adams, secretary, announces.

Guests Are Pests, But Really Are Nice Ones

Monday night was supposed to be a big occasion for Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Roberts of Texico. It was their twelfth anniversary. Plans for a big evening dinner were all complete.

The two were just putting on their coats when the front door bell rang. In walked Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pullam, usually very nice people, but considered as rather untimely guests by Mrs. Roberts.

She managed a wan smile, offered them a chair, and all four sat down to talk for a few moments. Time moved on. Grayson squirmed uncomfortably as he gently hinted the Roberts were going out to celebrate their anniversary. But the Pullams had lots to talk about.

Just as Mrs. Roberts (Azleat) was about to announce in a stern voice that she and her husband were just going to have to be excused, in walked a host of friends who gathered around, congratulated the couple and gave them a royal surprise party.

Judge Bills Tries Non-Jury Case Here

"He has had lots of experience," says Sikes, "and comes here with the highest recommendations."

Schneider, his wife, and their 8-year-old daughter are now living in Clovis, but have plans to move here in the near future.

NOW RUNS COVER SHOP

Vern H. Wilson, Clovis, has taken over the Cover Shop from Jess Latham. Bradley Burris, Muleshoe, will operate the business. Burris said this week he will have other assistants as soon as arrangements can be made.

Mrs. Watkins Is Reported Improved

Mrs. Leonard Watkins, who has been in a Ft. Worth hospital with polio for the past months, is reported to be somewhat improved by her mother, Mrs. Otis Branscum. Mrs. Watkins can now sit in a wheelchair some each day, although she has not yet regained total use of her arms and legs.

She is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Watkins.

Jess Latham's Car Destroyed By Fire

A fire destroyed the 1950 Nash belonging to Jess Latham early this week in Clovis. Latham was enroute from Farwell, when flames shot upward through the floor of the automobile. He pulled off the road and Clovis fire department arrived, but too late to save the vehicle.

Estimate of damage was not available here this week.

TO CONVALESCENT HOME

CONSERVATION NEWS BRIEFS
By Dick Barber

The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts is holding its seventh annual convention in Omaha, Nebraska, on February 3, 4, and 5. District Supervisors from all parts of the Nation are expected to be present. Olan Schlueter of Texico will represent the Central Curry Soil Conservation District.

Local farmers are making progress in controlling wind erosion. Most land in condition to blow has been listed or chiseled. Some of this has been done on the contour. New contour guide lines have recently been established for George Burdine of Melrose, Mrs. Lillian Wade of Melrose and A. W. Skarda of Clovis. Business has been rather rushing lately so we have had to request the farmers to help. They have all been very cooperative and have furnished from one to three men in order to speed up conservation work.

Charlie Starbuck of Clovis, Richard Vaughn and Claude Young of Hollene are some of the farmers who are chiseling their grass land in an effort to make it produce more grass. This is a good practice especially when performed on the contour. It temporarily destroys some grass, but it does conserve moisture and reduce run-off. A thick, soddy condition is present on most small pastures in the District and some thinning out of grass plants is beneficial. Grass is no different from other plants. It, too, will make more growth and produce more forage if it is not too thick.

Roy Anderson of Grier is pulling three 5 inch chisels an average depth of 14 inches. Even in the sandy land, one tractor does not have sufficient power to do this job. For this particular job Roy has put two F-30 tractors together in a tandem hook-up. He has devised certain attachments so that the driver can operate both machines while seated on the lead tractor. Roy built his chisel plow and designed it so that it brings part of the heavier sub-soil to the surface in order to leave the top of the ground in a rough, cloddy condition. The chisels are placed on row spacing, making it possible to leave the present stubble undisturbed. By performing this practice once each year Roy hopes to not only improve his soil condition but to produce better crops as well.

As high as 20 per cent of the juice of the full-grown cane plant is sugar.

Twin Upsets Tuesday Give Fans A Thriller

Twin upsets on the Farwell basketball court Tuesday night, gave the Texico and Farwell fans two ball games to be remembered when the favored Farwell girls, were edged out by the New Mexico team in exciting last minute play; and the Texico boys who were slated to win over the Steers, couldn't get rolling and were defeated.

Fans and players alike were baffled and tense over the exciting back-and-forth scoring in both games.

In the girls tilt, the first half was anybody's game, with neither team gaining a substantial lead during the entire first two periods. Then scoring became more and more even, and by the end of the third quarter, the contest gained momentum with a count of 20-20. Both Texico and Farwell were putting everything into the game, but neither could muster a lead. At the three minute whistle, the tie was still evident, 24-24. Then each team had two free shots, each making one, and changing the count to 25-25.

A field goal by each team, one after the other, put 27-27 on the lights, with only 20 seconds left in the game. The turning point in the match came with just seconds remaining. The excitement was too much for a Farwell member who fouled Esther McDaniel, Texico post forward. With the clock stopped, Miss McDaniel took careful aim, and the ball fell short. Score was still 27-27. The last free shot went through the hoop and the game was over with the underdogs holding a 28-27 score over the Farwell girls.

In the boy's session which was just as close and exciting, Texico was the favored team. In the first quarter, fans could detect that things weren't going as expected when the Farwell team gained the lead about the mid-point in the period and held it until the whistle. Quarter count was 7-4.

Action was slow for a while, with neither team able to muster much spirit; then before the half, both teams began playing ball. Texico was not to be outdone, however, and pulled out ahead of the Texas group by one scant goal, before the whistle for the half. Count was 11-9.

Going into the third period, Farwell again began to gather steam, and surged out to the front. The two teams stayed within five points of one another during the entire quarter, which ended 17-12. The last period was the thriller and it was only in the final minutes that Farwell gained their lead to win the game, 25-17.

Texico Teams Split Games With Grady

Texico's Wolverines lost a game Saturday night when they played Grady at Grady. Score at the end of the first quarter was 8-8; halftime score was 13-17 in favor of the Bronchos. Grady made a gain in the last half with the final score being 44-26. Crooks A. Allred, and Tucker all made six points for the locals, while Redus made 12 points for Grady.

The Whirlwinds continued their unbeaten record in the county Saturday when they beat the Grady girls by one point 33-32. The final score was the closest the Bronchoettes ever came to the Whirlwinds. Horton, McDaniel, Tucker and Stover all scored for Texico with Horton making 12 points, McDaniel 11 points, Tucker, six points, and Stover, four points.

The last home game of the season for the Whirlwinds will be played Friday, February 6, when they meet House.
