Heavy Local Registration Points Toward A Big Convention

Encouraged by around 200 local registrations in advance of the convention opening, members of the Howard county American Legion post today were prepared to care for 1,000 registrants at the 5th division meeting opening here Saturday evening.

R. R. McEwen, post commander, said that around 700 out-of-town legionnaires and auxiliary members from the four district areas were anticipated. At a meeting of the post Thursday evening, arrangements were made to entertain a record number of guests and to run the convention without a hitch.

Legion members said that they were particularly anxious for YFW members and all ex-servicemen to participate in the meeting, enjoying the entertainments and attending any or all of the business sessions.

Sam Goldman said Friday that Jack Armstrong would bring his American Legion band here from Sweetwater as an added convention attraction.

Response of Big Spring people in registering for the two-day affair in advance of its beginning was termed "a wonderful spirit of cooperation" by McEwen. "We are encouraged by it," he added, "because it will mean that our local people will mix with our guests and make them feel that they are welcome in Big Spring."

Registration for the convention will officially open at 9 a. m. in the Settles hotel lobby. Opening event, other than free swimming and golfing at the city swimming pool and golf course, will be the baseball games for the junior championship of the fifth division.

At 4 p. m. a stag party will be held in the Settles hotel ballroom, while auxiliary members will have a tea on the hotel mezzanine at 5 p. m. A dance at 9 p. m. rounds out the day's activities.

Officers breakfast, both for the legion and auxiliary, committee meetings, business sessions and speaking are other highlights of the Sunday morning session before adjournment for church.

Under the supervision of Bill Olsen, a barbecue is to be served at the city park at noon. The West Texas, vocal trio composed of Mrs. R. E. Blount, Mrs. Willard Read and Ruby Bell, will furnish entertainment.

Legion and auxiliary will merge for a joint session at 1:30 p. m. at the municipal auditorium when outstanding legion officials will speak. The convention will be concluded by a business session at 2:15 p. m.

Lint Acreage 78 Percent Of A Year Ago

First Report Is Given On The New Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The agriculture department announced today that 26,904,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation July 1. This was 78.0 per cent of the acreage a year ago from which the record crop of 18,945,022 bales was ginned.

Records Last Year It was the first report on this year's cotton crop. A law forbids issuance of government reports on conditions before August 1 each year. That information will be announced August 8.

Cotton in cultivation a year ago totaled 34,471,000 acres, abandonment amounted to 1.0 per cent last year, and 34,001,000 acres were picked. The yield of lint cotton was 266.9 pounds to the acre and total production was 18,945,022 bales of 500 pounds each—records for both yield and production. Cotton seed production was 5,428,000 tons.

Average acreage in cultivation July 1 during the previous ten years—1927-36—was 27,280,000 acres, with average abandonment of 2.1 per cent. Acre yield in those years averaged 170.7 pounds, average total production of lint cotton was 13,220,857 bales of 500 pounds each, and cottonseed production averaged 5,887,000 tons.

Income Cash income from cotton in the 1937 calendar year was reported by the department in December last as $684,622,000 for lint cotton and $136,535,000 for cottonseed. The acreage in cultivation July 1 and percentage of the 1937 acreage, by states, included:

Louisiana, 2,244,000 and 79; Texas, 9,960,000 and 78; Oklahoma, 1,903,000 and 77; Arkansas, 2,479,000 and 80; New Mexico, 115,000 and 71.

PRICES ADVANCE NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Cotton advanced sharply after the reopening today. Moderate declines shortly after noon were replaced by net gains of 4 to 5 points in the first half hour of trading following the bureau's report.

The government report of 26,904,000 acres planted to cotton up to July 1, while somewhat larger than average expectation, had little effect on sentiment around the market. Oct. and Dec. were relatively strong, advancing to 9.00 and 9.10 respectively. A good demand from commission houses was in evidence.

Scattered Employment Gains Are Revealed

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Re-hired workers answering calls to return to jobs in mill and factory crossed paths today with vacation-bound employes along the nation's industrial highways and by-roads.

A nation-wide sampling of trade and manufacturing centers indicated scattered employment gains since business barometers began to creep forward recently and a leaping bull market upset Wall street's traditions of summer quiet.

Attractive attention as counter-seasonal tendencies in certain industries, rather than for the extent of the increase, he gains lifted factory job figures by thousands in some places and left observers wondering whether the employment tide had turned after ebbing since last summer.

Start-downs for vacations or inventory reduction obscured reopening and enlarged working schedules. Not much net change for the time being was apparent. But gains in textiles, shoes, building and other lines showing the most pronounced inclination to move ahead were watched in the financial district as heralding possibly higher increases by autumn.

From steel towns came word observers were expecting more jobs when mills come out of early July shutdowns.

Government efforts to speed spending for housing, public works and shipbuilding were counted a front rank factor in the employment outlook in construction and allied industries.

Estimates of the national industrial conference board, a private research organization, indicated more than 4,000,000 workers would have to be returned to jobs in industry to regain levels at which recovery stopped last year.

Its latest figures, for May, put unemployment at 10,310,000 compared with 11,125,000 a year before.

Heavy forward buying in cotton cloth and key raw material markets the last two weeks were taken as foreshadowing production gains. Temporarily the buying served in part merely to clear away unsold goods rather than lift factory and mine output. As some mills first effects were noted in the stretching of work weeks.

Bombing Adds To Holy Land Terrorism

Britain Sends Men And Ships To Quell Rioting

JERUSALEM, July 8 (AP)—A bomb blast at Jerusalem's busy Jaffa gate today killed four Arabs and wounded 36 in a new outbreak of deadly terror which Great Britain is trying to crush with warships and troop reinforcements.

The bomb tore apart a bus in the crowded Arab bus station and a vegetable market in the shadow of David's tower.

The vehicle was filled with Arab countryfolk about to leave for Hebron. Its bloodstained and twisted framework was scattered in a roadway filled with panic-stricken humanity.

Troops of the Scottish Black Watch regiment with fixed bayonets cleared the square and started hunting for the bomb thrower.

One Jew surrounded by an apparent Arab mob was rescued by police and hustled to safety.

About the same time a general strike broke out in Amman, in neighboring Transjordan. Workers struck in sympathy with Palestine Arabs, victims of bomb throwings at Jaffa.

Today's violence raised the casualties in nine days of riots and ten to 37 killed and 150 injured. The British battle cruiser Repulse, one of the world's biggest battleships, steamed into Haifa harbor to take the place of the 7,000-ton British cruiser Emerald. The Repulse trained her cannon on Haifa.

LEE'S FERRY, July 8 (AP)—Out of dangerous water, the overdue Nevill's expedition was reported 30 miles up the Colorado river from here today ready to surge into Lee's Ferry and their first contact with civilization in 18 dramatic days.

Fears for the six-member scientific expedition ended last night when two crew and two fliers reported sighting the group, apparently making camp along the flood-tide stream.

The fliers, R. W. Fendley and J. L. Riggs, reporting to their commanding officer in El Paso, said they dropped notes to the party and that the six adventurers signaled that they needed no help.

LOCOMOTIVE 'BLOWS UP,' KILLING FIVE MISSOULA, Mont., July 8 (AP)—H. P. Van Pelt, rear brakeman, said today the locomotive of a Northern Pacific fast freight train "blew up" like a giant firecracker, near Willis, Mont., last night killing three of the crew and two fliers.

Carl E. Suris, U. S. forest ranger at Bonita, east of Missoula, said Van Pelt told him five were known dead "and there might be more."

Van Pelt told the ranger the dead were: Ernest M. Westin, engineer; E. T. Dunlap, fireman; Ernest Bedilion, head brakeman; and a crew member whose name Syria quoted the brakeman as saying the fast freight No. 601 left Missoula about 10 p. m., heading east. He told the ranger the explosion came without warning near Willis, 29 miles east of Missoula in Western Montana at about 11 p. m.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 8 (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran German airship commander, today ridiculed Secretary Harold L. Ickes' ban on export of helium to Germany.

Dr. Eckener intimated that the United States secretary of the interior's veto of a munitions board decision which would have permitted helium export was the result of American politics.

Map Permanent Plan For Highway Safety

Engineering, Education, Enforcement The Factors

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Formulation of a program to defeat death on Texas highways was the object of officials of four state safety organizations who met in conference here today.

Present were the directors of the Texas Traffic Safety Council, executives of the Texas Good Roads association and members of the public safety and highway commissions.

In response to urging at the state-wide safety rally at Fort Worth in mid-June, the executives considered a permanent plan for a balanced program in engineering, education and enforcement.

In the field of engineering, the program would urge adoption, publication and distribution of a uniform code of traffic control signals and devices to insure standardization throughout the state; give the highway department control of installation of signals on all major thoroughfares, and urge employment of a traffic engineer in larger cities to analyze accident

Return July 15

The Barons' next home game, and we hope they do come home, will be against Wink Friday, July 15. The Spudders come here for a two-game series, then Lubbock slips in for a doubleheader Sunday and a single game Monday.

The crew treks from Wink tomorrow to Lubbock and then goes on to Hobbs for their next to last journey of the year there. They return to Boesterville again August 12 for a series of three games.

The Lubbock Hubbers are now only two games out in front of the WT-NM loop pack and indications are strong that the crew has cracked wide open. It may be that the Panhandle outfit has slackened up just to allow the other teams to catch up but then again it may be because the other teams are getting tougher.

Thursday they lost their fourth game in six starts to the Clovis Pioneers which makes the third straight series in which they have hit the dust. Big Spring started their rolling downhill by applying two shutouts in three starts in the local ballpark, then they came and won and walloped them in three of four games.

Jerry Blanchard was the victim of the Pioneers Thursday, losing 6-1. In suffering his seventh reverse of the season, the left-hander gave up eight base knockers.

L. D. Cunningham, Big Spring Motor's speedy softball thrower who pays a visit to San Angelo every week or so to twirl for the Westerners, a major loop team of that city, was beaten for the first time the other night despite the fact that he whiffed eight batters and allowed only five hits.

L. D. has been bothered by a hitch in the side.

First half batting and fielding averages of the WT-NM league will be released for publication soon, according to statisticians.

Local Golfers To Play In Angelo

Doug Jones and Ohle Bristow, popular Big Spring golfers, will probably be chosen on Billy Bob Coffey's crew that will invade the San Angelo country club links next weekend for the Merit cup matches, a pre-tournament match play feature held yearly in that city between a team composed of out-of-town golfers and a team of San Angelo hot-shots.

The invaders have captured the honors for the past three years, should do it again.

Marty Now Pro

Matt Martinez, the Golden Gloves kid who represented Texas in the national tournament at Chicago after Champion Lou McMillan of Haskell announced that he could not go, is now fighting as a supporting pro in South Texas rings.

Marty, who declaimed Big Spring's Ellis Road in Fort Worth, appeared on the Whiskey Jones-Wesley Ramey brawl in Houston a few days ago and won his battle.

Incidentally, Ramey, the Grand Rapids buzz-saw, was ranked seventh in the NBA ratings July 4 yet was trimmed decisively by Jones when they met.

Lou Jenkins, the No. 1 Texas lightweight, was beaten by Ramey several months ago, is ranked ahead of Jones.

Speaking of these rankings, there are only two Dixie springers in the bunch, both lightweight. Fetez Barrow, ninth on the list and a former champion, hails from Birmingham, Ala, while Sammy Angott, No. 6, calls Louisville, Ky., home.

BROWN IS BEATEN

HOUSTON, July 8 (AP)—Johnny Brown, 36, Pittsburgh, easily defeated William Brown, 139, Baton Rouge, in 10 rounds here last night.

Barons Go On Road After Losing 5-2 Decision To The Wink Spudders

Held To Seven Hits By Red Roberts

Frankie Jacot Hits Homer To Feature Local Offense

In the throes of a batting slump, the Big Spring Barons hit the road for Wink this morning for a four game series with the Spudders. A doubleheader will be played to-night and Manager Charles Barnabe was expected to send Foa Vins Trantham and Marvin Keller to the hill in quest of victory.

Despite great pitching by Willard Ramsdell Thursday in Baron park the locals were thrashed by Red Roberts and the Spudders, 5-2, in a game that took but an hour, 40 minutes to play. Ramsdell allowed nine hits, three earned runs and whiffed eight of the opposition, including three in one inning, but the invaders capitalized on errors by Dick Hobson and Jo-Jo Saporito for three of their tallies in the fourth frame to win.

The visitors captured the lead in the second frame when Reeves, Kaerwer and Bates binged in succession. Reeves' and Kaerwer's blows took had hope on the rough Baron infield, going for hits that ordinarily would have been caught.

Hobson failed to drag in Eater double play ball in the fifth and two runners scored when Saporito also let the pellet get away from him. Bates then went on to count when Roberts singled sharply into right field.

Roberts was pitching very effectively, meanwhile, allowing no more than one hit per inning until the seventh when Frankie Jacot walloped a pitch over the rightfield wall for four bases. Al Sweet followed with a drive down the first base line that netted two bases. Bernad watched a third one go by but Ramsdell gained first base when Ray erred on his ground ball and Sweet scoring on the play.

Bobby Decker contributed his 39th steal of the season in the first frame after Kaerwer miscued on his hopper through second base.

Aquatics, Softball Are Most Popular

Grand total attendance in the recreational department's activities for the month of June reached 30,000, according to a report released by H. E. Malone, director.

Aquatics proved popular with participants but softball was still by far the most outstanding of the activities.

CRONIN TAKES A DIVE

After making the first and only base hit off Johnny Vander Meer in the major league all-star game in Cincinnati, Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox takes a dive into first base as Umpire Getzel watches closely. McCormick is the first baseman.

JOHN ALLEN, A GRAND FUEDIST, IS THINKING OF FINISHING CAREER AT NL CLOUTER

TIGERS AND ANGELOANS TO PLAY

Manager Julian Vega of the Mexican Tigers has arranged for a game with a San Angelo baseball team to be played in Baron park Sunday afternoon.

The Angeloans will be repaying an early season visit of the locals, at the same time will seek to repulse the Tigers and even the Tigers for a drubbing received in that battle.

MacPhail Says Club Will Clear 200 C's This Year

By EDDIE BRIEZE
NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Max Schmeling, who collected approximately $177,000 for fighting Joe Louis, took around $100,000 of same back to Germany...

So, when Joe asked Johnny if he would like to pitch the second three-inning hitch against the Nationals on Wednesday, Johnny came right back: "Now don't strain yourself, Joe." An Allen never relents.

One of Johnny's pet theories is that he knows a darn-sight better what kind of ball to toss past a batter than his catcher does, and he'll cross up the best backstop ever born if he thinks it's a good idea at the time.

He shook off Bill Dickey's signals on one batter for so long at Cincinnati that the tall Yankee catcher finally yelled in exasperation, "All right, throw what you want to!"

All of which might sound like Allen is simply hard-headed. But look at his record, the greatest compiled by any modern pitcher, and try to laugh that off. Also, take careful note of the fact that the Indians are paying him $30,000 per annum on a two-year contract.

Fisher's Team Wins Jr. Title

By defeating the West Wardens Thursday afternoon, 17-14, the Albert M. Fisher company Junior softball aggregation captured top honors in the second-half race of the Junior softball league and will oppose the Mexicans next week for the city honors.

The Mexicans were adjudged champions of first half play. The Fisher aggregation was undefeated in its second half drive.

Three Big Spring Boys Battle On TAAF Show In San Angelo

Feature events on Don Legge's TAAF boxing show tonight in San Angelo will pit two Big Spring boys against poked amateur snappers of Abilene.

These two, Ellis Road, vicious lightweight, and Alton Hostick, a slugging 147-pounder who is one of the most popular state-purses to ever appear in the Cancho city, have probably the toughest fight of their respective careers. Hostick has the midsize against Lloyd Vick, a rugged Texas prizefighter.

Indians' Star Works Own Signals

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—After looking over all of the all-stars out at Cincinnati, our favorite ball player still is Johnny, Allen, of Cleveland.

Not only is John pitching phenomenal baseball, having won 27 of his last 29 games, but he was the only pitcher to carry his own private bat to the all-star game.

Johnny Allen American league and then round out by career as a hitter in the National.

That's Allen. He really says things like that, and he never yet has cared for who was in earshot when he spoke his piece. He is a grand feudist, a man who would have made good with either the Hallfields of the McCoy's. He's as rugged as the Rockies.

One of Johnny's pet peeves (outside of all umpires) is round Joe McCarthy, manager of the Yankees, for whom Johnny used to toil. They got along so poorly that Joe finally shipped him to Cleveland, and for all of Allen's miraculous pitching since, McCarthy never has regretted the deal.

Pitches Own Game

Several Major League Jobs In Jeopardy

Pie Traynor Must Get Results; Grimm And Grimes On Trial

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the time of year when tomatoes get ripe enough for good throwing from the stands, and major league managers start wondering whether they'll be reading the "help wanted" columns by autumn.

As the big leagues picked up their pennant races today, after their three-day all-star layoff, there were the usual few pilots about whom speculation already had arisen.

For the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, however, there isn't the hue and cry that usually results in the roof falling in on the incumbent at Cleveland.

On the other hand, you have fellows like Boiling Bolly Grimes, Jolly Cholly Grimm and Peaceful Pie Traynor, who annually, from about this time on, are reported on the skids.

On the other hand, you have fellows like Boiling Bolly Grimes, Jolly Cholly Grimm and Peaceful Pie Traynor, who annually, from about this time on, are reported on the skids.

Grimes, it is known, hasn't met with the absolute approval of the powers that be in Brooklyn—namely Boss Man Larry (The Honorable) MacPhail. Up to a month or so ago, about everyone from Judge Landis down to the Phillies' baby was reported in line for the Dodger leadership.

Then, along came Ru. And now, it's generally accepted that the Babe will be handling the reins by no later than the start of next season.

Whenever you think of managerial shifts you somehow think of Grimm. For two seasons now, they've been saying that Jolly Cholly and his banjo are on the way out of the Chicago Cubs' dugout.

Last winter the Cubs got Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees as infielder and assistant to brains to Grimm and Gabby Hartnett. Immediately the word went out that come another year and old "Poosh 'Em Up" Tony would be the boss.

And unless the Cubs show a lot more down this season's stretch than they have to date, the idea isn't far-fetched at all.

Another involved in talk of the old "heavy" is Traynor. With a club containing more individual class than any other outfit in the league, the Pirates have advanced exactly nowhere for years. This may be the season, for they're not hot right now, but if they do their regular falling asleep in the late weeks, there's the possibility that Pittsburgh may put on a "new faces" set, come next April.

Absentee Voting Is Slow In Many Texas Counties

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Absentee voting for the primary July 23 seems to be getting off to a slow start despite the increasing tempo of candidates' campaigns.

An official in Travis county (Austin) in charge of such voting, said interest plainly was lagging behind that two years ago, both requests for ballots and the number of ballots cast being below comparable figures for 1936.

Dallas county also reported slowness, but in Harris county the trend seemed to be in line with the last previous primary.

Absentee voting began Monday. It will continue until July 19.

With the important first test election only two weeks ago, the commencement of absentee voting, the dispatch of more and more speakers into the fray, the heavier canvassing by candidates themselves and the further development of "showmanship" marked the past political week.

In his race for Governor four years ago 457,621 votes were cast for Tom Hunter—within 7 1/2 of his election. An intensive survey of the State indicates that in this race more than a half million votes will be cast for his election. Join these half million citizens with your vote in the interest of a fair, sound, sensible, economical State Government.

Broiling Food A Cool Method

Contrary to the prevailing idea that broiling is a hot, smoky, arduous job—entirely too much bother—it is one of the simplest and coolest ways of preparing a dinner in warm weather; this because science has modernized and thoroughly insulated the gas range. Its efficient broiler burner is a smoke-eater, and the new slotted broiler rack prevents grease-splatters by draining the fat into a receiving tray. Also, the double-searing rack speeds the broiling action. Even while a large steak is broiled, there's plenty of space on the rack for vegetables to complete the main course.

AIRLINE OFFERS TO CARRY MAIL FREE

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The mails will be free to the government—on a new airmail route between Houston and Brownsville, Texas.

The Eastern Airlines offer to carry mail without charge was approved as legally acceptable yesterday by W. E. Kelly, acting solicitor of the postoffice department.

Kelly added in his ruling that the Eastern Airlines "is the lowest responsible bidder x x x and under the law is thus the only bidder which could be awarded the contract x x x."

Branch Airways, Inc., offered to carry the mails over the route through Brownsville, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and Houston, for the second lowest figure—a fraction of a cent a mile.

The airmail service has not yet awarded a contract for the route.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harris of Tucson, Ariz., left Thursday for a trip to Breckenridge and Corpus Christi after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hull.

Shippers Gain On Tulsa Nine

Defeat Sports, 10-1, As Oilers Lose To Oklahoma City

By the Associated Press. Besumont's Exporters, anxious to topple Tulsa from Texas league leadership, looked hopefully today for aid to a few more wins like their own wretched 10-1 pleasuring of Shreveport, combined with a few more set backs for the Oilers like the 6-0 blanking handed Tulsa by the Oklahoma City Indians.

The Sports, playing last night under Hub Nothen as temporary manager because of the illness from an eye infection of Skipper Claude Leonard, tossed in seven errors to add to a barrage of 15 Exporter hits as the latter drove Frank Sanscott from the mound in the second and continued the attack on Wagner.

Oklahoma City, chalking up a clean sweep of a series, bunched 11 hits neatly behind the six-bit pitching of Jack Brillheart in defeating the Oilers.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth ruined what would have been the seventh straight Dallas victory by downing the Oilers 6-1, and the Houston Oilers and San Antonio Missions split a double bill by identical scores of 4-1, leaving the Missions a game ahead of the Oilers in the standings.

18-Year-Old Is Best Prospect In Coast Loop

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8 (AP)—Pacific Coast league baseball, passing the halfway mark of a red-hot pennant race, has produced a handful of youngsters whose sensational performances stamp them as future major league timber.

Outstanding among the prospects is Fred Hutchinson, 18-year-old youth who broke into the Seattle club's line-up this spring as a regular pitcher in his first year in organized baseball.

Veteran scouts class him as the "find" of the season, one destined to star in the big leagues before he reaches his majority.

Hutchinson is a righthander with a fast ball. He pitched semi-pro ball last year. Scouts buzzed in from far and wide. His father, a Seattle doctor, decided to spot the boy close to home.

This far Hutchinson has won 13 and lost six games. He's pitched four shutouts and fanned 74 in 183 1-3 innings.

Two other pitching prospects have poked their heads above the bush. One is Manuel Salvo, husky righthanded fireball artist of San Diego. Lou Tost, Hollywood left-hander, is the other.

The hanging took place at the federal detention farm here at sunrise.

Cheboris, a Detroit gangster, was sentenced under the national bank robbery act for an abortive holdup last September 29 in Midland, Mich., in which Henry S. Porter, an innocent bystander, was slain.

Michigan laws do not permit capital punishment except for high treason.

State Taking Bids On Items For Institutions; Everything Needed From Lipstick To Dynamite

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—The state of Texas is on the market today for approximately $3,000,000 worth of supplies including everything from lipstick to dynamite.

The board of control will open nearly 300 bids on more than 1,000 items and an army of clerks will consume more than six weeks tabulating them preparatory to awards for purchases of various governmental departments, eleemosynary and educational institutions in the fiscal year starting Sept. 1.

The purchases, covering about $300,000 worth of groceries, a least amount of dry goods, and most items necessary to human labor and existence, are so huge they could well supply a good-sized city for three, six and 12-month periods for which they are contracted.

Among usual items one would never suspect a state goes through of buying are some $5,000 worth of face powder, rouge and hair-dressing equipment for beauty shops maintained in insane asylums. Psychiatrists have found these excellent for rebuilding the morale of broken minds and patients receive the treatment free.

Recently a requisition was received for two pianos since inmates sometimes are accomplished performers and music has been developed into a factor in inducing moods beneficial to the mentally deranged.

The board also purchases dynamite in varying amounts, totaling around $65,000 annually, road construction materials and tools for the highway department, school and laboratory supplies for institutions of higher learning, stock, feedstuffs and seed for Texas A. & M. college's extension work, and automobiles and trucks for agents wherever they are needed when old ones wear out.

Highly-blooded bulls for stock breeding cost from $250 to $500 each while doctors in institutions regulation scientific books and treatises running to hundreds of dollars.

Motion pictures are shown in some institutions and baseball, basketball and other athletic activities occupy students as well as inmates, all supplies for which are bought through the board. Physical education classes in colleges use about $4,000 in equipment a year while juvenile schools and orphan homes consume $2,000 worth.

CONTRACTORS NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION Selected proposals for constructing Standard Frame and Corrugated Metal Section Warehouse in Big Spring, Howard County, and Aspermont, Stonewall County, covered by Maint. Clerks Upset Motorists, 12-9; Devils Clout Lone Star Ten

T&P Clerks, gaining strength with every game, upset the highly touted Big Spring Motor company softball aggregation Thursday evening on the Mundy diamond, 12-9, after the Devils had walloped the Lone Star Chevy crew, 13-4, in the opening frames.

In chalking up their starting victory the Clerks tallied all but one of their runs in the first three innings.

Bill Tate paced the victors about with two singles.

L. D. Cunningham, regular Ford pitcher, did not take over the hurling duties until the fourth frame and pitched hitless ball for the remainder of the game.

Robby Savage twirled a neat ball game for the Devils in the first game, allowing but four hits.

Girl Jumps From Hotel—But Life Net Is Below

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—With a leather-lunged fire lieutenant shouting instructions, blonde Muriel Strong, 34, dropped from a sixth floor hotel window into a life net early today.

Her left leg was broken as she crashed into an open French window in her plunge, but her condition was reported not serious.

Detective Charles McGowan said she had exonerated Sidney Smith, 37, of Los Angeles, from whose room she fell.

"Don't hold him," she moaned to McGowan. "I just jumped."

Many of the witnesses of the spectacular rescue coupled Smith with the firemen in credit for saving the girl's life. The Los Angeles man held her dangling by her wrists while the firemen hurried to the scene.

Smith told police he was a naval supplies salesman.

Smith said he was in New York on a business trip and last night met Miss Strong in the bar of the hotel. They quarreled, he said, and he left her and went to the room. Some time later, he said, she came to his room. He let her in and then went back to bed while she sat on the window sill and continued the argument. Then, he asserted, she started out the window, screaming.

Smith said he jumped out of bed and grabbed her wrists, but was unable to pull her back.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McPherson of Chico will be here this weekend for the Legion convention and plan to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston.

Stylist For Slips To Be In The City For Consultation

The new sleeve fitting slips, created by Barbison, internationally famous for tailored lingerie, will be the subject for consultations by Miss Marguerite Pierce, stylist for the designers, Saturday, July 6, at Albert Fisher company.

Miss Pierce, who is well-known to the women of Texas, having visited the larger cities as style advisor on previous occasions, will arrive here from New York Friday night.

The new sleeve fitting dresses, Miss Pierce explained, "seamless neck fit in slips. Barbison has created new sleeve fitting slips that are resping round after round of applause from style-conscious women."

Fashion, being a paradox, is proclaiming romantic, fuzzy clothes and strictly tailored lingerie. Be-neath a frivolous frock, Madame wears a form-fitting, strictly tailored slip. She removes a frilly chiffon dance frock, and reveals in the contrast.

"A perfectly tailored slip," Miss Pierce stated, "is important as a carefully fitted foundation garment. Some that are out of line, the slightest crease or wrinkle, a superfluous lace or embroidery is relentlessly X-rayed through one's frock and detracts from its fit and beauty. Distinctive tailoring and superior quality of fabric are characteristic of Barbison garments."

Albert Fisher company invites all women to come in and consult Miss Pierce during her stay in Big Spring. She will be a guest at the Crawford hotel.

Against Tax Increases He is against any new taxes, including a sales tax, until a sound savings program is put into effect, and until it is determined whether the Social Security program, as outlined above, can be financed out of savings.

Organized Labor He is in favor of Organized Labor and of collective bargaining. He is in sympathy with all the efforts of labor organizations to improve the wage, hour and living conditions of laborers and their families.

War On Unemployment The real problem of labor is that of unemployment, and the real problem of the State Government is that of unemployment. Thompson pledges an active and continuous program of encouraging new industries and the development of natural resources in Texas to the end that more jobs can be provided for Texas citizens.

Higher Prices for Farm Products He is for all sound programs designed to raise the prices of farm and ranch products. The farm must be given an even break with industry. Will lend the influence of the Governor's office in co-operation with all agencies seeking to better farm prices and further the conservation movement.

READING AND WRITING

"THE MAKING OF A SAILOR," by Alan J. Villiers; (Morrow: $4).

Alan J. Villiers has probably developed the technique of making books out of wind and water to its practical limit. Villiers is, of course, mad about ships that sail. He will cheerfully spend his last available penny buying one of these ships, and just as placidly go about the business of turning his acquisition back into money by the use of his pen and camera.

"His camera has done more for the 'Making of a Sailor' than his pen, although there is some text and it has interest for those who really want to know something about the system of training youngsters on school ships. There are 181 pages of nicely reproduced photographs—not those photographs now in vogue by which a perfectly normal person is turned into a monster by being 'shot' from an insane angle, either. Just good serviceable pictures.

Villiers is not, by his own confession, much interested in naval school ships. These, he feels, are too much concerned with teaching their young sailors to perform maneuvers which look effective at a distance, but which turn out a standardized product—in overcrowded quarters; young machines instead of self-reliant sailors.

But Villiers is very much interested in such ships as the Danish "Georg Stage," Poland's "Dar Pomorza," and Norway's "Christian Radich." These countries believe in the virtues of the sailing ship, and the training a youngster may have on such a ship. The smaller ships of this type mostly cruise in the Baltic; larger ones go farther afield.

The comment and the photographs in "The Making of a Sailor" have come out of Villiers' world cruise in his "Joseph Conrad" in 1934-35, and out of another cruise on the "Georg Stage" in the summer of 1937. The cruise of the "Conrad" already has produced one book, and some quite good news stories—some sailors will remember that she went aground off the Brooklyn sea wall, of all places, and was laid up for repairs.

If you are interested in the future of seafaring youths, or in good maritime photographs, "The Making of a Sailor" is for you.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Almost every Saturday, Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, drives over to the treasury for lunch with Secretary Morgenthau. Often it is a pleasant little affair.

But in late weeks if the luncheon has been pleasant, it is to the surprise of observers, who have noted growing rivalry between the two for the ear of the president and for the advancement of conflicting views.

More recently an equally sharp conflict arose between the two on an important bit of government policy that was hard to write into headlines but was nonetheless important. And again, Eccles had an edge.

By an agreement of the treasury and controller of the currency (both Morgenthau's), the Deposit Insurance Corporation (independent) and Eccles' federal reserve, banks were given leeway, such as they had not had in many a day, in lending money to small local industry.

Out of the agreement are expected several things: 1—Expansion of bank loans to small industry for modernization and repairs amounting, in estimates here, to many millions, or perhaps a billion or more.

2—Benefit to big industry in filling machinery and equipment orders for little industry's modernization.

3—A healthier glow in the banking community as it expands its business and checks the tendency of the federal government to step in to take care where banks lately have refused to go.

For Liberal Attitude Keynotes in the agreement is the liberalization of the attitude of bank examiners toward banks in approving loans to small industry.

For 70 years or more the controller of the currency, director of bank examiners, has emphasized the importance of keeping banks not only sound but liquid. At the time of the "big flood" in 1929 and later, runs on banks were so frequent and furious that many went under because they could not sell perfectly "sound" but "slow" securities in a depression market.

The banking laws were revised in 1933 to provide that federal bank examiners would approve few long-time loans by banks except to concerns whose securities were listed on stock exchanges or otherwise nationally rated so as to be readily saleable. That practically eliminated long-term loans to the local lumber company or foundry.

Rating Cost Out The Eccles faction argues that several elements justify a change of policy: First, that reserve bank laws now make it possible for banks to convert even slow securities into cash, if they are sound.

Second, the federal guarantee of deposits has decreased the prospect of bank runs, thus reducing the need for extremely liquid assets.

Third (and this is a matter of long-range credit policy) is times of stress, such as the present, bank examiners should encourage sound expansion of bank credit. Only on approaching booms should credit be contracted.

Fourth, the soundness of banks will be sustained best by reviving industry. Under the new schedule, sound long-term loans can be approved without any rating and registering cost.

It wasn't a complete victory for Eccles, who had to compromise on several points.

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Brooklyn bridge at night continues to be a favorite vantage point for artists who wish to capture something of Manhattan's after dark emence. The arch of the bridge just beyond mid-stream affords a magnificent view of the sleeping city with its twinkling windows and folding tiers of skyscrapers.

John Barrymore, who applied to act long before he became an actor, once sketched the island from this point. And rare is the exhibit that does not contain at least one canvas wrought in the spell of white stars over blue water with the long length of the island behind.

But personally I prefer the Hudson view to any from the East River side. Manhattan at dusk from a ferry in midstream or from any of the Palisade promontories is so breath-taking beautiful as to defy description. It hangs in a haze of unreality, almost a mirage which is tinged with a blue that makes one think of Maxfield Parrish. As the blue deepens the lights wink on like millions of fireflies, and then it is that New York takes on an enchantment to be found only in a fairy tale or a Walt Disney picture.

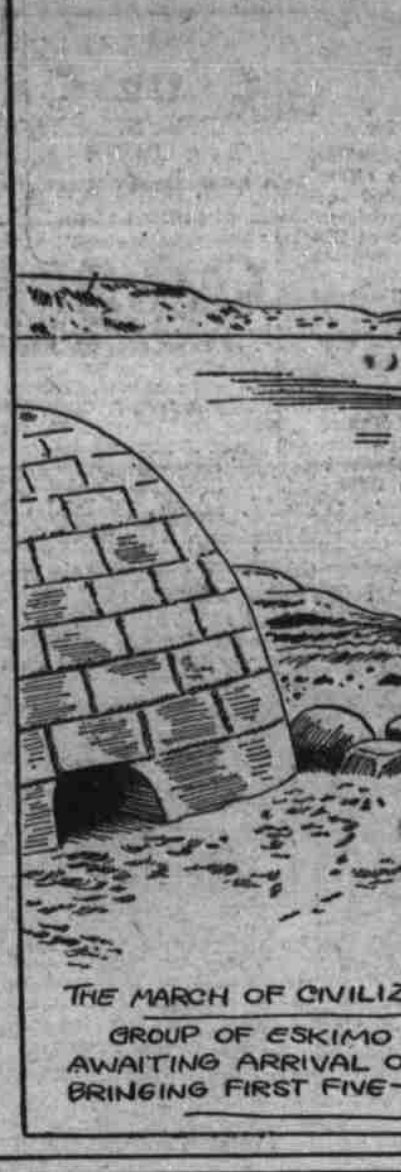

A handwriting expert reveals that sporting people almost invariably write in a bold, straightforward style. Gene Tunney's signature, for instance, is expansive which probably indicates unbounded confidence. Jack Dempsey's hand is rather cramped but steady.

Billie Holiday's handwriting is a study in itself. Her signature is written with a flourish and a flourish is written under the name of Morton White.

Hollywood LOVE ON THE RANGE

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

(Robbin Coons, our Hollywood columnist, is in New York for two weeks to see what movie activities are like in the east.)

NEW YORK—Prescription for feeling about as big as a freckle on a flea's nose; any trip, any time, to the Radio City Music Hall.

In this chronicle, mirrored vastness the good old Hollywood descriptive "colossal" seems subtle understatement. Without bothering your head or mine with figures, I'd guess that Hollywood's Chinese theater, the Warner Bros. Hollywood, and the Los Angeles Paramount could fit neatly into a small portion of the building, and the auditorium itself, seating 3,500, could take care of the crowds at those three coast houses on any given night.

There is nothing like the Music Hall anywhere else in America, and yet it isn't New York's. It isn't Hollywood's, either. It is a sort of American institution—the ultimate in movie houses. It had its beginning, actually, when Thomas A. Edison built his "black Maria" box of a studio over in Jersey; when Carl Laemmle and Adolph Zukor used to stand in front of their little theaters and hawk the customers in to see "The Great Train Robbery"; when the first flickers were shown in remodeled livery stables and grocery stores and opry houses in towns and villages from coast to coast.

More Than Movies The Music Hall is America's temple to the Great God Cinema. It is the Rheims cathedral of film houses, but like that church it never could have been built without the cinematic estacombs era, the period of furive and often scorned worshipping at lesser shrines.

A movie temple, it gives you more than movies. Much, much more. It has a stage on which a few of the things Busby Berkeley of Hollywood makes happen on his stages might conceivably happen. It has elaborate lighting effects, and a turntable and elevator that makes the dearest tricks possible. And it uses them all. It gives a first-rate feature, some shorts, and a stage presentation of the kind that Sid Grauman in his stage-show heyday would have liked. This includes invariably a big ballet and the Rockettes—36 pretties who make precision dancing a rite—as the finale. The presentation is done with such serious and loving tenderness, a veritable "Goldwyn touch," that its burlesquing in the current musical hit, "I Married An Angel," would be deplorable if it weren't so funny.

Almost Last Backstage, around-stage, under-stage at the Music Hall is a labyrinth of modern theatrical conveniences. The cautious inspector of these air-cooled and wondrous caverns begins to feel like leaving torn bits of paper along his course.

MONOPOLY PROBE NOT 'PUNITIVE'

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The monopoly investigating committee brushed aside suggestions today that it inquire into specific industries while trying to evolve a comprehensive solution of the anti-trust problem.

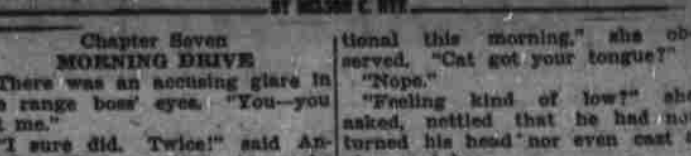

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) put the committee on record for an "objective, not a punitive" investigation after the group had approved a general outline of inquiries to be conducted by six government departments.

"The purpose of the committee," O'Mahoney said, "is not to pillory any industry or group, but to draw a broad picture of American industry as it is and to find out how the machine operates."

This will involve, he indicated, discovery of where monopolistic defects lie and how they may be corrected.

O'Mahoney was chosen to head a subcommittee empowered to issue subpoenas for records of business transactions.

That committee also will be empowered to issue subpoenas for records of business transactions.

As they sped along in the burning heat, Ankrom was distant, uncommunitative.

Chapter Seven MORNING DRIVE There was an accusing glare in the range boss' eyes. "You—you hit me."

"I sure did, Tricia!" said Ankrom. "You wanting to make something out of it?"

"No damn man can do that to me—you're fired!" He licked his lips, cleared his throat and said again, less certainly: "You're fired."

Ankrom laughed. "I told you this afternoon that Abe Streeter's on your payroll. He's going to stay on till it suits him to drift along. Now look—" Ankrom's tones grew soft and earnest: "When I see a tarantula I usually aim to shoot it. But when a tarantula jumps at me I squash it. Do you understand?"

Hackett's hand dropped in swift descent to his holstered weapon. There it paused, fingers clamped about its butt. Ankrom had not moved an inch. His face was colorless and hard as a granite crag. A moment ago Hackett had had notions—vicious ones. He would have shot down this apparently unarmed interloper as swiftly as he could get his gun from leather.

But now, something stayed his hand. The will to murder had been written on his face, but now it was absent, twitching. He could not have drawn that gun for all the wealth of El Paso.

The watching punchers saw nothing menacing in Ankrom's attitude. But they could not see his eyes, and it was into Ankrom's eyes that Hackett stared. They swam with a light that challenged Hackett to draw that gun.

It was sheer bluff; Hackett knew it. Yet he paused to wonder—and was lost. He was up, and knew it. One tiny upward pressure on that gun and death would grab him. Hackett shivered and raised his hands.

Bare contempt lay in the cold grin parting Ankrom's lips. "All right, Hackett," he drawled. "You can take your hands down. Now that we understand each other I reckon we'll get along. You better gettin' on to that line camp 'less you're figuring to spend the night here."

Some courage had returned to the range boss while Ankrom talked. He wondered now what could have caused him to refrain from drawing and sending this drifter on to drier pastures. With the wonder came resentment that he had been bluffed before his men again. As he lowered his arms an ugly light sprang into his eyes.

"Don't crow, hombre. You ain't heard the last of this," he snarled cold, swinging round, he made his way to the corral to get his horse. As he jerked the rope from his saddle Ankrom's laugh, deep and throaty, rang in his ears.

The following morning was a bright and hot. Side by side on the front seat of the Rafter's touring car, Lee Trone and the new hand were speeding across the sandy miles to where El Paso lay beyond the Huaco Mountains.

Ankrom drove with both hands, staring straight ahead. His smooth cheeks showed close contact with a razor, his clothes were neatly brushed and his boots shone like polished bottle glass. Yet his lips were pressed in lines of indifference. His greeting of the girl had been courteous but brief. Thereafter, for the past two hours, he had spoken not at all. He was politely uncommunicative.

Lee's chic attire fitted her willowy figure; her little hat was smart but offered a minimum of protection from the sun's glare. She studied Ankrom with curiosity. There was a bold sweep to his nose that matched well, she thought, the forward jut of his rugged chin. As she watched them the impressions formed at their first meeting, that turbulent scene in Paso Pinto, were strengthened. She found him vital, colorful, intriguing. Undoubtedly there was much more to him than appeared upon the surface; several times she had sensed a vein of bitterness that smoldered her curiosity.

"You're not overly conversational this morning," she observed. "Cat got your tongue?"

"Nope."

"Feeling kind of low?" she asked, noting that he had not turned his head nor even cast a glance at her.

"No lower'n usual, I reckon."

"Weighty problems?" He still stared straight ahead. For a time she left him, her head upturned in pique. He did not have to talk to her, of course. She thought it likely she could survive without his conversation. But as the miles sped by, curiosity overcame resentment.

"When I left you last night," she hoped her voice sounded as firm and even as she intended, "I no-

ART OF BUILDING PLATFORMS

Some people say that the building activities of the federal government, which include slum clearance and moderate (7) cost homes, are cockeyed. What would they say of the platform building some Texas candidates are doing in these hectic days of scramble for nominations?

News reports say that Mrs. Clarence Miller, wife of the Dallas shirtmaker, was opposed to her husband getting into the political race until he agreed to put a plank in his platform to eliminate billboards along Texas highways.

When he agreed to add that plank to the structure, she began enthusiastic support of his candidacy.

Practically all women's clubs in Texas have declared war on unsightly billboards for a long time, and it is fair to presume that this inserted plank in the Miller platform will have some influence on the votes of such of these women club members as are voters.

Should the highly improbable come to pass, and Mr. Miller be nominated, all he could do would be to recommend to the legislature that laws be enacted to meet the desires of the people who object to billboards. Beyond that he would have no power whatever, regardless of how worthy the proposal for billboard elimination.

This is a fair sample of the vote-catching items included in individual platforms. Each man who makes appeal for votes inserts in his declaration such things as he hopes will result in a successful campaign. Some of the planks are for the general good—many of them are for groups or individuals, others are wholly impractical.

Such structures, with their varying planks, serve to confuse the voters, or to raise false hopes. The remedy would be for the people to elect representatives to a convention to write a platform of democracy before the campaign begins.

GOALS TO NEWCASTLE

NEW YORK—Despite Mayor LaGuardia's anti-noise campaign, New York is known as a noisy city.

Yet there's a limit, as 11-year-old Maria Van Aunsdale found out yesterday.

She was fined $10 for making so much noise selling newspapers that she disturbed tenants in the vicinity of her newstand near Times Square.

Billie's are concerned about "the balance of trade." This is also of interest to towns as well as to nations.

If the citizens of a community should go or send out of town for all their requirements, they would soon have no money to send away.

There would be no money at home to earn in exchange for labor and services, and the community would die.

Every dollar sent away, that would be spent at home with equal or greater profit, burts the community as a whole—the sender included.

This business of ours spends its profit at home, and thus benefits all the community.

There is a story about Sir Henry which you may have heard, but since it illustrates this thesis you will have to bear with it again.

It is said that Sir Henry once wrote a note to the box-office man in his own theatre, requesting a pair of tickets for a friend. When the note was delivered the box-office man shook his head. "I'm sorry," he said, "but you must want the drugstore next door. We don't mix prescriptions here."

'Marks Of Christian' Topic Of Minister At Revival Service

Services at the open air revival being conducted by the Fundamental Baptist church are drawing good crowds. Rev. Horace C. Goodman, pastor, preached Thursday evening on the topic, "Birth Marks Of A Christian." The text was "Not born of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God," and Rev. Goodman said in part:

"How may I know that I have been born again, simply by the birth marks of a newborn child of God?"

"He that is born of God hath the witness himself; he that is born of God abideth in Him; He that is born of God loveth the brethren; He that is born of God overcometh the world; He that is born of God is led by the Spirit of God."

"He that is born of God will have a new nature and disposition. He will have a new tongue. He will speak the heavenly language and love to talk of the Redeemer. He that is born again will feed on new food. It will no longer be novel
