

LIVING EXAMPLE OF "SEE AMERICA FIRST" VISITS HERE AS HE PLODS ALONG HIS WAY

Jack Ratliff, who has traveled over the United States, Mexico and Canada for the past decade in the above pictured covered wagon, poses with his family, three burros, a goat, dog and rooster. The cage, built on the back of the wagon is his dairy, where he keeps a milking goat and under the structure is the chicken house. He averages fifteen miles per day.

"Most people live fast, I live slow," says 62-year-old Jack Ratliff, who has his home in a covered wagon, travels from place to place, and wouldn't think of trading his way of life for the fast-moving modern mode of living in a million years. Jack passed through Farwell Saturday on his way to Phoenix. Previously, he had visited this city in 1942.

To begin with, Jack is plain happy, he and his family. Now there's Clovis, Iowa, Little Ben, Kate, Mae, and Jude, and Jack never goes anywhere without them.

The dog, Clovis, was born in Clovis, Calif., and was named after his birthplace; Iowa, the goat, was added to the family in the tall corn state. Derivation of Little Ben's name, the bantam rooster, is another story. Back in the good old days, Jack says, there were the Big Ben and Little Ben alarm clocks—and the bantam rooster is the best alarm anyone could ask for.

The three burros, Kate, Mae, and Jude, have been with Jack ever since he began his travels; the rooster has been present for five years, while the goat is only two months old. Each has a special place to ride, and they never get confused. Little Ben rides on Kate's back, Clovis on Mae, and Iowa on Jude.

Jack, who is originally from Pritchett, Colo., began his trek ten years ago in Phoenix. Since then he has been in most of the states, excluding New England; it rains too much there, he points out.

He has traveled in Mexico and Canada and is now headed back to Arizona. He keeps moving all the time and "stays where it is warm in the winter". Fifteen miles a day is average speed. Leaving Wisconsin in July, Jack has been through Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and parts of Texas; and has covered 30,000 miles or better in the decade since he began his travels. Asked when he would be in Phoenix, he replied promptly, "Oh, I plan to be there by Christmas."

At the beginning, the doctor recommended an outdoor life for Jack's health, and since he was a confirmed

9 Miles New Paving Slated

Three Injured When Cars Collide Monday

Three local people are in the Clovis Memorial Hospital suffering injuries sustained in a two-car collision about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning one-half mile south of the Oklahoma Lane school house on Farm to Market Road No. 690.

The injured are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jesko, both 54, of this city and Mrs. A. T. Kersey, 57, who lives one and a half mile north and one mile west of the Oklahoma Lane school house. The extent of their injuries had not been definitely determined at the hospital early Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Kersey, hospital attendants said, appears to be the only one whose injuries could be described as critical, while Mrs. Jesko seems to be the least injured of the trio. The extent of Mr. Jesko's injuries had not been determined early Wednesday.

Mrs. Kersey suffered a frightful scalp injury and possibly a fracture of the skull, as well as other lacerations about the face, body and legs. Mrs. Jesko's injuries seem to be confined to her face and upper part of her body, while her husband received lacerations about his face and head, in addition to burns and bruises in the shoulder and chest regions, and possibly a fractured right arm. He is scheduled to be X-rayed today.

The attending physician said it would be several hours before the condition of Mrs. Kersey and Mrs. Jesko could be determined.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesko were proceeding east in their car and Mrs. Kersey, who was alone, was traveling south when the cars collided at the road intersection a half mile south of the Oklahoma Lane school house. There were no eye-witnesses to the crash, and none of the parties involved have been able to relate the details.

Markings on the pavement show that the Jesko machine slid 40 feet before hitting the Kersey car. Both cars were knocked from the road by the impact, but neither of them overturned. The Jesko car came to a standstill some 50 feet after the impact, while the Kersey car stopped some 70 feet from the crash point, after careening off the road and knocking a concrete highway marker out of the ground.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jesko were thrown out of their car, and Jesko was pinned beneath his upright machine, requiring it to be hoisted with two jacks before he could be removed.

Mrs. Kersey was found pinned on the floor of her car, with the upper part of her body hanging out the right hand side of the front door, her head touching the ground. Two St. Edward ambulances carried the injured trio to the hospital.

Mrs. Frank Doshier, who lives at the road intersection, and Mrs. Clyde Perkins, who lives a quarter mile west of the scene of the crash, were among the first to reach the scene. They said that Mrs. Jesko was walking about and had hailed John McDo-land, who was passing by, and enlisted his help. Mrs. Perkins said Mrs. Kersey was "literally scalped from her forehead to near the top of her head."

Mr. Jesko's burns are believed to have been caused by his bodily contact with the hot muffler of his car while he was pinned beneath it.

This particular road intersection, although unobscured in all directions, has been the scene of a number of automobile accidents in the past few years. It was at this corner that Brice Bullock met his death some years ago. At least three lesser accidents have happened at the same location.

Farwell Gin Being Readied For Season

N. L. Tharp, owner of the Farwell Gin, stated today that the local plant would be in operation for the 1950 cotton ginning season.

Tharp said he had just completed the erection of a cotton house that would hold 100 bales, and workmen are now installing late model feeders. W. M. Smith, who operated the gin last year for Tharp, has returned and is overseeing the overhauling of the machinery.

The gin owner is not expecting a heavy run this season, he indicated, but predicted a brisk rush once the harvesters begin operation following a killing frost.

"Black is a good reliable color in which a woman can't go wrong," asserts a dress designer who evidently hasn't been around very much.

No Absentee Votes Filed In Election

No absentee votes had been cast for the general election on November 7 by Tuesday of this week, employees in the county clerk's office report. Absentee voting is scheduled from October 18 through November 3.

Anyone desiring to cast an absentee ballot should make application at the County Clerk's office for the ballot, returning it to the clerk after it has been voted. The ballots may be cast at the office or via mail, members of the clerk's office explain.

Thurman Case May Conclude Tonight

Indications Wednesday morning when the Tribune was preparing to go to press were that evidence in the case of the State of Texas vs. Gordon Thurman, charged with rape, would be concluded late Wednesday afternoon, and would reach the jury Thursday morning before noon.

Thurman, 23 years old, of Littlefield, who was brought here from Fort-Sill, Okla. to face a Grand Jury indictment of rape, allegedly committed on the night of Oct. 26, 1949, a short distance southeast of this city.

The complaining witness is Miss Florence Sadler, also of Littlefield. Miss Sadler was in the witness chair for more than two hours Tuesday afternoon, during which time she detailed the events that took place from the time she left Littlefield in company with Thurman and another couple until the alleged assault actually took place.

Herman Martin of Plainview, and Karl Lovelady of Muleshoe, are representing the defendant, and the prosecution is being handled by District Attorney Joe Sharp, County Attorney Sam Aldridge and Billy Hall of Littlefield.

After exhausting a special venire of 108 jurymen late Monday afternoon, nineteen additional men were brought in Tuesday morning for jury duty. Selection of a jury was not completed until mid-afternoon on Tuesday, with L. S. Pool being the last man selected.

The jury is composed of Gilbert Ford, A. J. Ellison, Webb Gober, Marvis Southward, Chas. Thompson, Arthur Bolton, Chas. Hawkins, Buster Gast, Gene White, G. W. Crane, L. W. Routen and L. S. Pool.

Attorneys for both sides predicted early today that Judge E. A. Bills would read the charge to the jury Thursday morning and that the arguments would consume most of the afternoon.

Other than Miss Sadler, only four witnesses were placed on the stand Tuesday afternoon. Sheriff Chas. Lovelace testified that Miss Sadler was not a resident of Parmer County. Mrs. W. O. Wasson, Mrs. J. H. Gaither and Minister Jack McCormick, all of Littlefield, all testified as to Miss Sadler's virtue and good character.

INTER-SCHOOL RIVALRY RENEWED AS STEERS AND CHIEFS TANGLE AT FRIONA

Inter-school rivalry of long standing will be resumed for 1950 on Friday night, when the Friona Chiefs play hosts to the Farwell Steers in a 11-B conference game, on Chieftain field.

Traditionally, the two teams will play their best games of the year as they get together in the annual grid scramble, and although Friona's tallies against conference opponents may place them a little above Farwell "on paper", neither coaches, fans, nor players will be ready to concede the battle until the final gun is fired Friday night.

Friona went down before Olton last week, climaxing a losing streak they have maintained all season. On the other hand, the Steers squeezed past Bovina in a rough and tumble fray to mark their first victory of the year, with a near-miss tie game listed against Melrose early in the season.

Already braced for strong opposition, the Steers are readying themselves for a determined struggle on Friday night and are pinning a lot of their hopes on the fleet heels of

The farm-to-market road between the Oklahoma Lane school house and Bovina, set up several months ago by the Parmer County Commissioners Court as the No 1 project in the county, will be included in the 1951-1953 program, according to a letter received here the first of the week from District Engineer S. C. McCarty of the Texas State Highway Department.

Officials have expressed the opinion that the nine-mile paving of this rural project would not be undertaken until after the beginning of the next fiscal year, on July 1, 1951.

Highway Engineer McCarty, in his letter, said that the first move looking forward to securing the new piece of road would be for the Court to accept the offer to pave the route. After the Court's final acceptance, the application would be filed with the Highway Commission at its November meeting in Austin.

The offer was approved in Commissioners Court here Monday, with W. S. Menefee making the motion, which was seconded by C. L. Calaway. The estimated cost of the road has been set at $84,000.00, all of which will come from state and federal funds.

The county will be required to provide the 80-foot right-of-way, and County Judge A. D. Smith stated today that the entire right-of-way has already been secured, with the "exception of one or two places".

Officials were of the opinion the strip would be constructed the latter part of next summer. Specifications call for a 22-foot slab of asphalt topping to be laid on an 8-inch base of calche, and to meet specifications of the Texas Highway Department.

New Minister Takes Over Work, Nov. 1

District Supt. Carl W. Clements of the Clovis District filled the pulpit at the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church last Sunday morning.

While here, Dr. Clements confirmed earlier reports that Rev. Lance Hurst, who is now stationed at Santa Rosa, N. M., would come here as pastor of the local church early in November. Dr. Clements explained that Rev. Hurst would conclude his work at Santa Rosa on October 29 and would come here immediately thereafter.

Rev. Hurst is serving his third year at Santa Rosa and comes here highly recommended. He succeeds Rev. Murphy Duncan, who resigned a few weeks ago to take over a pastorate at Maysville, Oklahoma.

What, Again?

Everyone has heard about various instances of the race with the stork—but this is a new angle to the old adage. This time, the old bird by-passed himself between Clovis and Muleshoe.

It all happened when Mrs. J. T. Jones, of Muleshoe, called Dr. Mary Leone McNeff in Clovis, and was told to meet the doctor at the office in Farwell.

Dr. McNeff jumped into her car and rushed to Farwell to find the mother and a 6-pound son waiting for her in the one-seated sedan. Baby and physician arrived at Farwell simultaneously.

Both mother and baby are doing exceedingly well and have been returned to Muleshoe, Dr. McNeff reports.

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP

Saw this somewhere: Even if you don't value your life, you should think of your new car.

Andrew Moorman, who lives west of Bovina, was in last Thursday to report that there are lots of ducks already coming in on the lakes in his section. We failed to ask Andy if he had opened the season yet.

We have often wondered why the farmers who have lakes on their farms don't thresh their sudan near one of the lakebeds. What a wonderful duck blind a good haystack would provide.

Officials of the Farwell school are asking the cooperation on the part of local motorists to avoid driving along the street in front of the school buildings between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 4 p. m. Recently, new playgrounds have been opened across the street directly in front of the school buildings, and children are continually darting from the school to the new playground.

New streets have been opened up and graded which will allow traffic to avoid passing directly in front of the school property. Let's cooperate with the school officials and take these by-pass streets. It may save a life.

Saw a new book advertised the other day. The advertisement claimed that the book "contained answers to every question a child can ask". Evidently, the guy who wrote that ad has never interviewed our granddaughter.

Seen at the Lariat Gin last Friday: Grayson Roberts with the first bale of cotton he ever produced.

We overlooked it last week until we were ready to go to press.

Last week's issue marked the beginning of the 40th year for this publication. And as such, The Tribune is one of the oldest newspapers in the Texas Panhandle, being out-ranked by only the Hereford Brand and the Canyon News in this immediate section.

The present publisher has been at the helm for more than 24 years and today we claim the distinction of being the oldest business institution in Parmer County under the same management—and in the same location.

Bond Issue Approved In Friona Election

Friona voters on Saturday went to the polls in fairly good numbers to approve a proposed bond issue of $100,000, with the money to be used for street, city hall and waterworks improvement over the city.

Three issues faced the voters, with the $50,000 street paving carrying by a 179 to 74 majority; the city hall construction program for $15,000 was also given the nod, 132 to 115; and the $35,000 waterworks project okayed by voters, 175 to 73.

In the paving program, approximately 60 blocks within the city will be outfitted with all-weather roads, while the city hall construction will include room for the city's fire-fighting equipment.

Serve the juice with the vegetable or use it in soup or sauce. Serve vegetables as soon as done.

Cotton Begins To Move At Lariat

With 30 bales already up to last Friday, cotton in the Lariat section began moving over the past weekend according to Guy Nickles, owner-manager of the Lariat Gin.

Nickles said that the lack of pickers was holding up the gathering of the crop considerably. He estimated that there were 5000 acres of cotton, all irrigated, in the Lariat region and he figured that his gin would handle "three to four thousand bales" for the current season.

Cotton harvesters are expected to play an important part in the gathering of the crop this year, Nickles said. But these will not be put in operation until "at least two weeks after a killing frost". Current receipts are from hand pulled cotton.

There are a number of cotton harvesting machines in Bailey County, Nickles said, and these machines are capable of gathering a bale of cotton in 45 minutes.

During the summer off-season, the Lariat Gin has been completely overhauled and new equipment added. Five new centrifugal line cleaners—one for each stand—have been installed and are in operation. These cleaners remove all the notes and small bits of trash that would otherwise go into the ginned bale, eventually showing up in the sample and reducing the grade of the lint.

Nickles, who has had many years of experience in the ginning business, characterized these lint cleaners as "the biggest improvement in 20 years" in ginning cotton.

Sugar Beet Harvest Begins At Lariat

With 262 acres being produced in the irrigated district around Lariat, the harvesting of the first crop got underway there last week.

Up to Friday of last week, where a reporter visited the shipping point, a total of eight carloads had been shipped out, and the harvest was just getting under way.

Don Dunsmore, a field representative of the American Crystal Sugar Co., of Rocky Ford, Colo., could not be reached for an interview for more definite details of the sugar beet program in that section. But it was learned that the average yield amounts to about 15 tons to the acre, and the growers are paid on the basis of the sugar-content of their products after the beets have been refined.

All products of that field are being shipped to Rocky Ford for processing.

Growers contacted said that the cost of producing the tubers ran about $70.00 per acre including the fertilizer, watering and harvesting expenses.

Macon Elevator Now Nearing Completion

The new concrete and steel grain elevator being erected at Bovina by J. P. Macon is nearing completion, Macon stated on Saturday.

The 28-foot headhouse, atop the concrete tanks, was being finished over the past weekend, and Macon gave it as his opinion that the entire new plant would be ready for operation shortly after November 1.

Meanwhile, grain receipts are being handled in the old structure, built only a few years ago.

Tax Collections For City Begin

Tax collections for the newly incorporated City of Farwell began pouring into the city coffers over the past weekend, R. E. Mears, collector, reported.

Mears said that within two days after the 1950 tax notices were mailed out, payments began rolling in with approximately $900.00 being received in the first two-day period.

Mears said that some of the taxpayers putting off payment for various reasons, but there had been no complaints on the part of those who have paid their 1950 assessment.

City taxes become delinquent, along with county, state and school, on Feb. 1, 1950. After that date 10% will be added to all unpaid city taxes.

'From Other Papers'

"DO NOTHING CONGRESSMAN"
 (Canyon News)

A good Democrat, who always votes the ticket straight—regardless—even in the face of advice of such noted Democratic presidents as Cleveland, Wilson and Roosevelt—remarked the other day that he was going to support Walter Rogers, since Ben Guill had done nothing but gripe about conditions he found in Washington.

That may be a good theory, but what about Rogers? Wasn't he nominated on the strength of his opposition to the White House? Didn't he refer to Altavene Clark continuously as the "Washington candidate"; didn't he criticize everything that has gone on in Washington—from the outside instead of from the inside; would he ever have had a chance to be on the powerful agriculture committee, to which Ben Guill has been appointed; has there ever been a Congressman from this area who has been so highly praised by Bascom Timmons, as has Ben Guill; has not Ben Guill been accepted as a member of the Texas delegation, voting with them, and being in constant touch with all of them on matters of Texas as well as national importance; hasn't the White House opened the road for just criticism, and Guill has taken over?

Guill may be a turn-coat Democrat who has been untrue to his party, as some Democrats have constantly charged. But what about Rogers; has he not criticized the administration as vehemently as has Guill?

Texas sent one free lancer from Texas in the person of Pappy O'Daniel. If elected Rogers would either have to bow down to the administration and do its bidding, if he ever landed anything for the Panhandle, or continue the role of lone wolf.

Since Ben Guill is a political accident, coming from a district which does its own independent thinking, we believe that he has a chance to stay in Congress. However, as we have pointed out time and time again Guill already has two strikes against him because of the silly pledge that the Democrats seek to impose on the voters. They paid no attention to this pledge when they voted for Hoover, and downed Al Smith. Maybe the voters of the Panhandle are a little more intelligent than the balance of the voters of Texas and will vote for the man and not for the pledge on the Democratic ballots.

ENMU Begins Saturday Non-Resident Classes

PORTALES—Teachers and others interested in the area of Eastern New Mexico university will be able to earn graduate and undergraduate credit by taking Saturday classes, Dr. Martin L. Cole, dean of the university, has announced. Enrollment is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 21, 10 o'clock in the morning.

Residence credit, not to exceed six semester hours, may be earned between Oct. 21 and the close of the spring semester, Dr. Cole said. Since the university does not offer correspondence courses, the Saturday morning classes enable teachers to continue their education during the regular academic year.

It is anticipated that courses will be available in business and economics, English, music, psychology, sociology and Spanish. If the demand is sufficient, Dr. Cole pointed out, courses in other fields may be organized.

Mrs. Brown was complaining to her doctor that his bill was too high.

"Don't forget," he reminded her, "that I made 11 visits to Tommy when he had the measles."

"Don't you forget," she replied, "that Tommy made you wealthy by giving it to the whole school."

WITCHES, GOBLINS AND BLACK CATS TO APPEAR IN FARWELL TUESDAY NIGHT

The annual Halloween carnival of Farwell schools will be held on Halloween night, Oct. 31, on the football field, members of the carnival committee report.

If weather conditions are poor, location of the festivities will be moved to the gymnasium.

Sponsored by the junior class, a committee of five teachers and three high school students have been chosen to oversee arrangements for the affair. The committee includes Mrs. Dorothy Jack, Coach Kenneth Livingston, Miss Jett Byerley, Mrs. Lloyd Cain, Mrs. Lenton Pool, Bob Gerles, Bernice Christian, and Charles Phillips.

The annual carnival queen will be chosen, by using the one-cent vote method. The girl who receives the most votes will be crowned in a special coronation ceremony that night at 10 o'clock.

Candidates for the queenship honor and their escorts are: Wynema Cochran, Harold Doshier, seniors; Georgia Lee Mears, Charles Phillips, juniors; Doris Marie Gober, Ronnie Dial, sophomores; Mary Pair, Duane Herington, freshmen; Peggy Hardage, Billy Watts, eighth grade; Barbara Ann Jack, Troy Lynn Christian, seventh grade.

Royal attendants for the coronation of the queen will include Nelma Jean Branscum, Gerald Curtis, seniors; Wanell Hughes, Leon Meeks, juniors; Jimmie Gulley, Buddy Gulley, sophomores; Shirley Smith, Calvin Barber, freshmen; Gloria Jean Sanders and Dan Gerles, eighth grade; and Betty Evelyn Routon and Donald Meissner, seventh grade.

Each class and organization will have a booth at the carnival, some of which have already been selected.

Included in the list of entertainments are bingo, seniors; country store, juniors; archery, sophomores; baseball target game, freshman; marriage booth and fortune telling, 8th grade; duck throwing and weight guessing, 7th grade; grab bag and jewelry sale, 6th grade; pull a string and get a prize, 5th; fish pond, 4th grade; hot dog concession, 3rd grade; dart game, 2nd grade; turtle race, 1st grade; mouse game and ducking board game, FFA; cake walk, FHA.

Several organizations will have food for sale including pop corn, candied apples, cup cakes and chocolate milk sold by the chorus; trading post by band mothers; pie and coffee by the PTA, and pop corn, candy, chewing gum and peanuts by the Award department.

Mrs. Jack Williams, reporter for the PTA, urges all PTA mothers to bring two pies for the organization's booth at the carnival.

Chances will be sold for special gifts to be given away. Included in these is a bedspread, electric percolator, radio, panda, wool blanket, and a "real live pig."

The employees of the cafeteria will set up for baby sitting so parents can go to the carnival and not have to worry about the small children. These women are Mrs. Travis Brown, Mrs. Hazel Petree, Mrs. Charlie Hromas, Mrs. James McDorman and Mrs. Willie Hardage.

Queen coronation will not be a formal affair this time, students plan to use a harvest theme.

Ice Cream Contains All Nutrients Of Milk

Have you ever wondered how much food value there is in the ice cream you eat hundreds of times during the year.

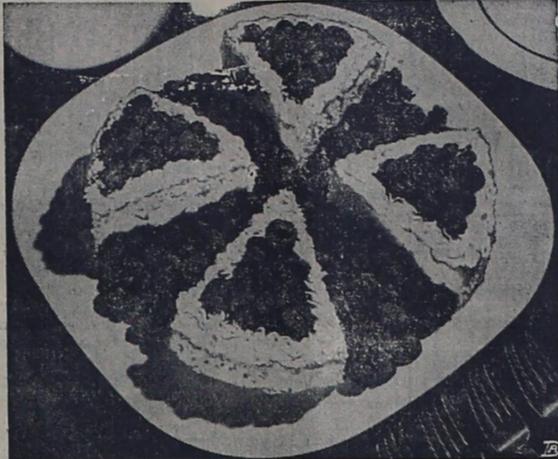

Science unfolds the answer to that question in this way. Take one serving and you'll find ice cream has all the nutrients of milk only in different proportions. Each one plays a significant role not only in satisfying normal appetites, but also in strengthening bones, muscles and nerves.

Nutrition scientists say that one average serving of ice cream measures about 1-6 of a quart. From this serving you get for energy, 206 calories; for protein, 3.85 grams; for fat, 12.06 grams; for calcium, 0.12 grams; for phosphorus, 0.11 grams; for iron, 0.12 milligrams; for vitamin A, 5.48 units; for thiamine, 0.04 milligrams; riboflavin, 0.24 milligrams; and niacin, 0.10 milligrams. All these represent food substances which keep the human machine functioning normally.

Ice cream is even better nutritionally than scientists had thought at one time, stated Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, in commenting on the scientific analysis of ice cream. Besides, the nutrients in ice cream can be assimilated readily and put to efficient use by the body.

Party Shortcake

Truly a party pie is this sweet biscuit shortcake cut into wedges, then heaped high with raspberries and glorified with whipped cream cheese piping.

For gala vacation parties during the summer, solve dessert problems with a deluxe shortcake. Fluffy shortcakes made with enriched flour please both eye and palate, and score on good nutrition, too.

Who could resist taking their B-vitamins and iron in the raspberry party shortcake pictured? Allow about five minutes to mix the simple drop biscuit batter which needs only to be spread in a greased nine-inch layer cake pan. The batter looks lumpy as it goes into the hot oven, but it comes out golden brown, fluffy and even-textured in 20 to 25 minutes.

You may want to split the big biscuit in half and fill as well as top it with fresh raspberries. To decorate, whip cream cheese fluffy with a little milk and pile into pastry bag. Pipe around each wedge. Once raspberry shortcake was strictly a summertime treat, but now its refreshing flavor provides a lift all the year around, for frozen or canned raspberries make a delectable topping, too.

RASPBERRY SHORTCAKE

- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- 1/4 to 1 cup milk
- Sweetened raspberries
- Whipped cream

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a thick batter, stirring only until flour is well moistened. Spread in ungreased 9-inch layer cake pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cut in pie-shaped wedges. Heap with sweetened raspberries. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes 1 9-inch shortcake.

The Congressman Who Can Get BOTH Parties to Work For THE PANHANDLE OF TEXAS

THE PICTURE OF INTER-PARTY CO-OPERATION

Ben Guill, Congressman from the 18th District of Texas, is pictured above in a candid camera shot talking with Democrat Sam Rayburn, of Texas, Speaker of the House, and Republican Joe Martin, of Massachusetts, Minority Leader, the two most powerful figures in Congress. Because of inter-party co-operation like this, Ben Guill is a member of the powerful House Agriculture Committee. Because of inter-party co-operation, Ben Guill got top Department leaders to travel to Amarillo from Washington for the only small business clinic ever to be held in Texas. Because of inter-party co-operation, Ben Guill has been able to get more attention for the Panhandle than any other Congressman could have got in a full term.

BEN GUILL—through his honesty and ability—is doing an outstanding job as our Congressman . . . He deserves a full term of his own. Let's re-elect the man who has proved he can do something for the Panhandle.

TRIO GETS GAME

A trio of hunters—Dwane Curtis, and Jess and Essie Hicks of Plainview—returned home Saturday from a successful hunting trip to Colorado. Curtis got a small elk and a doe; Jess brought in a buck, and Esste downed an elk calf.

The 1949 rice, wheat and grain sorghum crops in Texas were the second largest on record.

Home for a 50-Foot Lot

A one-story dwelling that can be built on a 50-foot lot is the kind of house desired today by many potential home-owners, says American Builder magazine. This house, Plan No. 44, was selected to meet those specifications. The main part of the house is only 25 feet, 5 inches wide. At the rear, the width is 39 feet, 1 inch including the garage. Overall length is 54 feet, 7 inches. A feature of the interior is a low wood screen between the living room and the dining area. The three bedrooms meet a requirement of many families. The rectangular shape of the dwelling makes construction economical. Interior living area measures 1,012 square feet. (Detailed building plans of this house are available from American Builder, 30 Church St., New York 7, N. Y. Refer to Plan No. 44.)

Eight Bovina Hunters Bag Nine Deer

Eight Bovina nimrods returned home Friday from southwestern Colorado, where they spent five days in the hills in quest of big game, and were fairly successful in their efforts.

Reagan Looney topped the list with a 10-point buck and a doe; with one of his sons, Howard, coming in for second honors with a spike buck and doe, while a second son, D. C., downed a spike buck.

Troy Armstrong connected with an 8-point buck; Dan Dunn a 7-pointer; with Aubrey Brock and Perry Looney having to be satisfied with a spike buck apiece. Glenn Dunn was the only unsuccessful member of the party. None of them succeeded in connecting with an elk.

The hunters reported several elk killed in the neighborhood of their camp by other parties.

Bovina Hunter Lands Bag Limit In Colo.

So far as has been reported to date, Tom Griffith, Bovina hunter, is the most successful Parmer County man to return home from a big game hunting trip in Colorado.

Tom brought in all the law would allow when he rolled in home Saturday with an elk, a buck deer and a doe deer. Tom got all his wild meat a short distance from Deloris, Colo., a short time after the opening of the season on October 15.

The bull elk, a 900-pounder, was the pride of his hunting success, to be followed by the six-point buck and a nice sized doe in that order. He picked up the buck just a few minutes after the season opened less than a 100 yards from the road, where he had parked his pickup.

The elk and doe proved not such "easy pickings", but he succeeded in bringing in a bag limit for the season. Mrs. Griffith accompanied her husband and visited in the home of her husband's parents, near the hunting grounds, while her husband stalked the game.

JACK WINES HOME

N. E. (Jack) Wines, well-known Bovina farmer, who was injured several days ago when he fell from a combine, returned to his home in Bovina last Friday after recuperating in the home of his son, John Wines, at Borger.

Wines fell from a combine while it was being operated at his place by Troy Fuller. One wheel of the large machine passed over one of his legs, but the member was not broken. He was first taken to the Parmer County Community Hospital at Friona for treatment before going on to the home of his son in Borger.

PMA Funds Are Still Available, Camp Says

"We have a small amount of funds available for subsoling, 8 or 12 inches deep, construction of diversion and standard terraces, and several other practices which require a small amount of funds," Joe Camp, PMA secretary, says.

With several of the farmers getting their crops out, now looks like a good time to do some deep chiseling or terrace building if farmers intend to carry the practice, Camp explained.

"If you are interested in any of the above practices, please call at the above practices, please call at is started, and secure prior approval," he emphasizes.

Local Hunters Fail To Get Game Quota

A party of nine local hunters returned home Sunday night from a big game hunt in southwestern Colorado, with reports of a fairly successful hunt "but lots of fun".

Only six of the hunters brought in big game from the rugged country in which they were camped. The following score was reported:

LeRoy Faville, a buck Bill Sherley, a buck; Buddy Jones, a buck and a doe; M. A. Snider, a doe; Webb Gober, a doe; Penny Anderson, a buck. G. D. Anderson, J. I. Gober, and Bert Shackelford came in empty-handed.

Nose Injuries Are Thwart To Health

If you got a biff in a tiff it may make a diff in the way you sniff. Which is one way of boiling down the most frequent occurrence which may change the way your nose grows.

An injury to the nose may affect the bridge, the nasal bones, or the septum, that cartilage-ridge that separates the nostrils, which in turn may change the looks of the nose or interfere with the breathing job the nose has to do.

When your doctor examines your nose and mouth, that's one of the first things he might check. Sometimes the nose is injured in birth and sometimes it isn't formed correctly, but more often during life sticking your nose into the path of an object such as a fist will change its pattern.

"Sores" inside and outside the nose may have some general significance to your doctor or just be a local eruption that has no overall effect upon your health. Foreign objects lodged in the nose or bones where they are not supposed to be will also interfere with proper breathing.

Nosebleeds may have an origin remote from the nose, in which case the doctor will add that symptom to others he finds as he checks you over or they may be spontaneous local hemorrhage, just a plain old nose-bleed.

Unless your nose has been giving you trouble like pain or excessive bleeding or continuous discharge, the nasal examination reveals all in short order; when more detailed examination of the nose is indicated, your doctor will use special instruments or perhaps refer you to a specialist.

The specialist you probably associate with your mouth is your dentist, but your mouth is also a very important part of your general physical examination, revealing more than tooth and gum condition. The teeth and gums certainly play a part in the examination but the lips, breath, cheek linings, tongue and palate are also important in the medical check-up.

Lips, tongue and cheeks that are too pale, too red, or spotted may tell your doctor a definite story of ill health. Discolored gums may have a special significance, such as the blue line or blue dots at the margin of the gums which accompany lead poisoning. Trembling lips and off-center tongue may be other medical hints he picks up from your mouth.

Those spots that appear in your mouth before you break out in measles, however, are more than hints. They practically shout that measles are on the way. They are bright red spots with bluish-white centers that dot the inner surfaces of the cheeks, called Koplik's spots.

Deviations from normal in color, size, shape or appearance may be of no importance at all as isolated instances, but added to other deviations discovered somewhere along the line of the physical examination, they may have tremendous significance. For example, some people have a normal enlarged tip of the nose; but if that tip is big and bright as a red bulb and the tongue trembles, and the hands shake, and a bunch of other symptoms stack up into the recognized picture of alcoholism, then the enlarged tip of the nose is not normal, but a health problem.

of sophomores, juniors and freshmen, so it will be primarily a game between inexperienced groups.

"Their weight is just about our par," Coach Hes'nd says. Robbins is listed as an outstanding back for the Chiefs, with Cleveland ably holding down the quarterback job.

Comparing notes, Farwell has 20 players suited out, Friona has 29.

Hestand remarked on Tuesday that "last week's game showed up our offense at its very worst", and adds that he is trying to iron out the flaws in both offensive and defensive strategy.

In looking toward Friday night, the local coach predicted that "the team most determined to win this game will be on the winning end."

Dr. Cross, discussing her work in Farwell, reports that she feels the clinics have been very successful and her post-graduate course with Dr. McNeff has been very worthwhile.

Agent Jones Discusses Range Conditions; Warns Against Fire

Parmer County has the best range conditions that have been prevalent in several years, Joe Jones, county agent, states, and farmers should take extra precautions to preserve them.

One of the principal hazards at this season of the year is fire, and an unthinking person needs to be careful with fire only once, and acres and acres of precious grass can be destroyed in the matter of hours.

Discussing pasture conditions of Parmer County further, Jones points out that judges of pasture condition and of vegetation—especially grass—too many ranchmen do not know what to look for.

It is important to learn what to look for in a good pasture grass because 75 to 80 percent of the forage consumed by livestock in Texas is roughage in the form of native grass.

Grass is the cheapest feed available and Jones states that knowing the vegetation, primarily grass, is as fundamental in the livestock business as knowing livestock.

In some respects, judging livestock and judging grasses are very similar. In judging a horse certain characteristics are looked for in the animal's head. Grasses also show different characteristics in the head. In fact, the grass family is broken down into various groups on the basis of the differences in the seed head.

On a horse you want a good trim middle with a short coupling and a fairly level croup. The middle of the grass—that is the leafy part—should be abundant, produce over a long season and cure out well.

Every livestock man knows that a horse must have straight well-muscled legs with strong bones, or he will be of little value. The legs on a grass—that is the roots—are just as important and require just as much care as those on a horse. A grass plant depends on its root system for food and water for leaf growth. Unless the roots are deep and well distributed, reduced forage production results.

Jones reminds farmers that heavy or close grazing or burning off has the effect of reducing the root system of the plant as well as the top growth. Good native grasses that are close-grazed die out and are replaced by poorer, short-rooted grasses and weeds which require less water and produce less forage.

A good livestock man selects animals for breeding not only on the basis of their quality as individuals, but also from the standpoint of their desirability for use in the present breeding herd. Grasses too, should be selected not as individual plants, but on the basis of their suitability for use in a well balanced grazing program.

Good, deep-rooted grasses seeding out indicate that the pasture has been receiving proper management.

If you need help in identifying the various grasses, contact Joe Jones, your county agent.

Extensionists Check For Wheat Insects In Parmer County

Bill Rogers, assistant county agent in training of extension district two, and Guy Carpenter, extension entomologist of district two, were in Parmer County Thursday checking on white grub, wire worm and army worms in wheat in this area.

Carpenter who works with county agents in 18 counties in the South Plains, states that he did not see any army worms here, but in other South Plains counties, they have caused a good bit of damage to wheat crops.

On discussing other prevalent insects, he emphasizes that it is evident that some white grubs have been present in Parmer wheat fields, but most of the crops examined Thursday looked as if the grubs had slackened off and hadn't caused any new damage. Possibly, farmers will not have too much trouble with them the rest of the season, he adds.

The wire worm ordinarily harms wheat in this area more than any other insect, Carpenter explains, but this fact is not necessarily true this year.

"The insects cannot be controlled after the wheat is planted," Carpenter states, "farmers must treat the seed for results." For wire worms, the extensionist recommends 8 oz. of 25 percent lindane per 100 lbs. of seed. There really isn't any recommended control for white grub, he points out, but wheat farmers can try one to two lbs. of DDT per acre with the seed.

Study of soil insects is in the experimental stage, Carpenter adds. Good results have been gained by using lindane on false wireworms, however.

Every Farmer Has A Stake In Ben Guill's Re-Election

Every Businessman In a Town That Depends on Agriculture Has a Stake in His Re-election

AS A MEMBER OF THE POWERFUL
HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE

HAS FOUGHT THE BATTLE FOR PANHANDLE
FARMERS IN CONGRESS

-- FOR PRICE SUPPORTS:

Farm Supports Are Under Attack!

During the last Congress the farmer came within an ace of having crop supports cut right out from under his feet.

Ben Guill has promised to fight for supports for the farmer, and as a Member of the House Committee on Agriculture, he is in the world's best position to help the farmer. (A DEMOCRAT Congressman from the Panhandle would have to wait at least ten years before he could hope for appointment to the Agriculture Committee.)

Here's What Ben Guill said on the floor of the House on September 22:

"I want to raise my voice in protest against any attempt to eliminate supports . . . The big city dweller thinks it is wicked for the farmer to make money . . . Their whole argument is based on false assumptions . . . The money spent on the farmer by the Commodity Corporation has been the best investment the Government has made in the last 20 years . . . If farm prices had not been supported farm income would have dropped, national income would have dropped, business would have dropped and a depression would have resulted . . . If we reduce the farm incomes drastically, we must look forward to soup-lines, foreclosures, misery, poverty and a depression which would make us push-overs for world-communism."

Re-elect GUILL To Congress
NOVEMBER 7

(Pol. Adv. Paid for by Parmer County Friends of Ben Guill)

BEN GUILL INTRODUCED HR 514

Ben Guill introduced HJ 514—his bill would allow the farmer to participate in writing his own farm program. Ben Guill, as a member of the Agriculture Committee, will be able to fight for that law next year.

Ben Guill Has Won the Respect of Congressional Leaders:

On the floor of the House the following Congressmen have given high, public praise to the work that Ben Guill is doing on the powerful House Committee on Agriculture for the farmers of the Panhandle:

Chairman HAROLD COOLEY (Democrat from N. Car.) of the Agriculture Committee.

BOB POAGE (Democrat, Texas) high ranking member of Agriculture Committee.

AUGUST ANDERSON (Rep. Minn.) distinguished member of Agriculture Committee.

CLIFFORD HOPE (Rep. Kan.) ranking minority member of Agriculture Committee.

EDWARD H. REES (Rep. Kan.) well-known veteran member of Congress.

BEN GUILL has earned the respect and admiration of members from BOTH sides of the House. He is doing a fine job for the farmers of the Panhandle. Keep him where he can do the most good. Remember—no Democrat Congressman from the Panhandle can hope to get on the Agriculture Committee for TEN YEARS at least.

BEN GUILL WILL STAY ON THE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE AS LONG AS HE IS OUR CONGRESSMAN!

Farwell's First Kindergarten Learns Work By Playing

By JEANNE DUDLEY

"All work is accomplished through play in a kindergarten class," Mrs. Tom Foster says, discussing her work with pre-school children in Farwell. "There is no set schedule, work is changed as the student interest changes."

Some days, children will work 45 minutes at crayola coloring without becoming bored; other days, they are ready to do something else in 15 minutes. "You certainly have to be on your toes to keep up with them," Mrs. Foster laughingly emphasizes.

The children make their own decisions and choices in every possible instance. Before beginning an assignment, the instructor will ask, "What will we color today?"

Kindergarten boys and girls work with clay, paper, and also work some in public speaking and express themselves through dramatization of stories. They have short memory work assignments, and sing. They can recognize their own written names.

Attention is given to personal hygiene; they have their own combs, towels, and drinking glasses.

Song books especially adapted for nursery schools are used. Some have stories with special singing exercises. To help build vocabularies, Mrs. Foster defines all the words in the songs. Children enjoy "To Market, To Market," "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," "Yankee Doodle," and others.

Most of the children enrolled in Mrs. Foster's kindergarten could recognize colors before they entered the class, but they naturally have no sense of color combination. One little boy paints everything purple, which is said to be a "four-year-old color".

The use of crayolas isn't taught merely for its artistic value, it helps to develop the hand muscles for learning to write later.

Hand and eye coordination with use of colors and shapes are used in games; and also learned by threading beads, which is likewise beneficial in gaining skill in counting and color knowledge.

Arithmetic, Why Not?

Children work extremely simple arithmetic problems, but Mrs. Foster exerts no pressure on them in this learning process. She will merely ask a question, as, "How many spools do you have in your hand?" to call attention to numbers. Outside of their names, children don't learn much about the alphabet except the age group to enter school next year.

Each morning, the youngsters are served fruit juice and cookies, give "thanks" and learn table etiquette. This break in the morning schedule is a welcome intermission for the pupils.

Discussing dramatic ability, Mrs. Foster exclaims, "I am not responsible for their being able to dramatize all these western shows. They can be dead as a doornail and grab the play phone and call the sheriff, jut like in western movies."

The children are particularly adept in observation and quips, according to their instructor. Describing some of their anecdotes, she told of one child who stated, "My mother is pretty, but she is awful old." Another remarked one day, "Do you know, Mrs. Foster, you're just like my grandma?"

Discussing school, another small fry came up with, "I can't go to pub-years and years, but when she began her kindergarten class, she realized they were just what she needed. In school, children should have toys to help develop ingenuity.

Very Few Fusses

Mrs. Foster has very little trouble with the children's reactions toward each other. They have a few fusses, but the greatest correction is "I think everything would be all right if you would just ask them what you want to know." They are learning cooperation with others easily.

Pupils often bring their own toys several bring flowers. All of them like to do things for themselves, such as hanging pictures on the pin-up board. They suggest stories and songs.

Chief outdoor play is centered around the sand bed. They like to look for bugs and worms and discuss them with others, learning nature the easy way.

The yard still isn't actually prepared for outdoor games, but there is a fenced play pen. Landscaping will be done later, Mrs. Foster emphasizes. She plans to continue the school, and has every reason to believe that it will grow. Kindergartens are becoming nationwide, she added.

Total charge per month for attendance is $12.50. This includes all materials, and the mid-morning snack. Asked if she might expand the kindergarten to all-day sessions, she was indefinite because such action would call for a lunch room and other additions. However, if the demand grows, she might consider such a step.

"I've always wanted to teach a kindergarten class," the instructor admits. "One of my friends instructed me, and I always thought her work was very interesting."

Last year, Mrs. Foster worked with 11 pre-school age children while teaching expression. Before Oklahoma Lane school was consolidated with Farwell, Mrs. Foster taught English, and began expression classes two years ago.

Building Comes First

When she finally decided to open a kindergarten, the housing problem was the biggest obstacle, so last May Mrs. Foster decided to have a special building constructed for her work. In the meantime, she went to school at ENMU in Portales, studying nursery education and speech.

The building in which classes are held is a colorful green stucco structure with a red roof a large picture window in the front. Located a block north of Farwell schools, it faces the east. The building is scientifically approved by those experienced in kindergarten work. Mrs. Foster drew up her own plans with skilled advice.

All furniture is scaled to children's size, even book racks. With everything in reach, the child gains a feeling of security and "feeling of belonging", Mrs. Foster feels.

Tables are 21 and 23 inches high with minute chairs; the blackboard on the north wall is low, and tiny benches are arranged for use of the children, most of them four years of age.

"I've always been interested in pre-school children; in fact, I did practice teaching with such boys and girls in college," Mrs. Foster adds. She attended ACC in Abilene.

Students of County Getting Aptitude Tests Under Itinerant Instructor

By JEANNE DUDLEY

The four schools in Parmer County, Bovina, Farwell, Friona, and Lazbuddie, will have a new service in the schools this year. The purposes of the program are varied, and they have been set up by educators in Texas who have recognized the needs of students in our schools.

Head of the program for Parmer County is Miss Nell Cunningham, itinerant teacher.

In planning a guidance program, several objectives were set up.

Each child in Parmer County Schools will be given standardized aptitude tests and a standardized achievement test—as recommended by the Texas Commission of Education. In addition, senior students will be given vocational inventories in an effort to help them to understand vocational possibilities.

The scores on these standardized tests will be compared with other scores in the state. The achievement tests will cover such subjects as reading, English, math and geography. By this method, any teaching or learning weaknesses in an individual school can be found. Such a program helps to keep the educational standards on a higher level, and improvements can be recommended accordingly.

Purpose of vocational interest inventory is to give students an idea of what they are most interested in, and help them to decide what they can do best. This enables them to decide on a profession immediately after leaving high school, whether they begin work immediately or decide on a college education.

A career day will be held for all seniors in the county. People from different vocations will be brought in as consultants to the students. These people who are already in a profession will be available so seniors may interview them for information from their fields. Career day will be held in the spring; tentative date is March 22. At present, site of the forum has not been selected.

Each student who plans to go to college may request information concerning course of study, costs, and entrance requirements. The students are free to ask Miss Cunningham about any school in which they are interested and she will try to help them. Each school library contains material on various colleges, but if sufficient data isn't available, the itinerant teacher will send for additional information.

A cumulative record for each child is kept. Background forms which have been filled out will be available to the guidance worker. This progressive record begins in the first grade and continues through high school. The purposes of the record, which is personal as well as scholastic, is to help solve any difficulties a child might encounter while in school.

What has brought about the need for this service in our schools? A few of the reasons are:

- (1) Increase in school population—elementary, high schools, and colleges,
- (2) Increase in the number of school subjects,
- (3) Increase in number of personal choices,
- (4) Increase in the number of work choices.

Miss Cunningham was graduated from Lakeview High School, and received her B. S. degree in business education at North Texas State College in Denton, Texas and has done graduate work at the University of Texas in educational psychology.

She taught commercial business at Mercedes and was guidance director at junior and senior high schools in Marshall for a year, where she received her first experience in guidance work.

Asked why she decided to become an itinerant teacher, she stated that she became interested in this type work while sponsoring 75 Y-teen girls as counselor. Because she did like to work with young people, she decided to make guidance work her profession.

Discussing the new program, she explained that counseling is so new in this part of the state that some question is evident. Because so few people know anything about the program, they do not understand its importance.

Miss Cunningham works directly under County Judge A. D. Smith, who is secretary of the County Board of Education.

"I'll be happy to answer any questions about the guidance program at any time" Miss Cunningham states. Her office is located in the courthouse.

The itinerant teacher's work is far from dull, hardly a day passes without some humorous anecdote to brighten it up. She was walking across the school ground one day last week when a tiny first grader stopped her and said "I want to give you a nickel". Quite surprised, she asked, "But why do you want to give me a nickel?" The serious faced child remarked, "I just want to give you something."

Another small Latin-American student was so engrossed in her work that he would slip out of class and run to her office, then stand in the door and stare at her. This happened so many times, she finally asked his teacher to keep him in the room.

Discussing the new work further, Miss Cunningham emphasized that the program is to help each child to perform at his maximum capacity with as little conflict as possible.

Though the program is new to the county, many schools in Texas have had some type of guidance program for the past few years and it has proved successful. As early as 1920, some work was being done in the field of vocational guidance. Each college now has a guidance center of some nature.

Auxiliary Completes Interior Decoration Of Legion Hall

"All members of the Auxiliary who were present at the regular meeting of the organization Monday night were very happy with the appearance of the inside of the building on the first floor," Mrs. Mae Porter, one of the members, reports.

The walls have been finished in cream colors and wide cornices of colored cretonne have been placed on the windows. The kitchen walls are a cheerful yellow, with plastic ruffles around the windows. Lights have been installed over the sink and the outside of the back door. Lavatories have been installed in both ladies' and gentlemen's lounges.

Mrs. Porter says, "We would like to take this opportunity to thank each one who had part in making this project possible." She invites everyone to see the newly-decorated building and emphasizes that people of the community may use the Hall. Anyone wishing to rent the building is asked to contact either Mr. or Mrs. John Getz at Farmers' Supply.

Ten members were present at the Monday night Auxiliary meeting; Dardanella Helton, president, was in charge, with Dorothy Quickel acting as secretary.

The group approved a new project of helping make UN flags for both the Texico and Farwell schools. The Auxiliary will serve the Lions Club on Nov. 21.

At the close of the meeting, pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream, and coffee was served by the hostesses, Ellen Wurster and Ruth Thornton.

Student Council Holds Meeting

The student council of Farwell schools met for the second time this year, last week. Bob Geries, president, presided.

A committee composed of Bob Geries, Bernice Christian, and Charles Phillips was appointed to meet with the carnival committee to make preparations for the annual affair.

Members of the group then discussed the noise situation in the school halls and decided to have a "quiet campaign," sponsored by the council. If this method does not lessen the noise the council will turn the problem over to the teachers.

Members of the organization also decided on official holidays for the school deciding on two days for Thanksgiving and a week Christmas holiday. If weather conditions do not cause students to miss too many days of school, Easter holidays may be announced, a spokesman for the council says.

Wet Pavement Causes Tourist Car Skid

A car being driven by Mrs. Alice Westrop of Minneapolis, Minn., skidded on wet pavement Sunday afternoon of last week and went out of control, finally coming to a stop without turning over.

Mrs. Westrop was traveling alone and her husband was following in another car when the accident happened. The car skidded across the pavement, hit a concrete culvert abutment and landed in a shallow ditch. Considerable damage was done to the car, but the driver escaped with a bruised left shoulder and a small cut on her left instep.

Mr. and Mrs. Westrop were headed for the west coast from Minnesota.

PAINTS CURBING

Noble Goldsmith, courthouse custodian, applied a coat of white paint to the curbing which extends north and south in front of the Parmer County courthouse, the first of last week.

R. B. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller of Friona, who is a senior student at Texas Tech, was a member of the championship Tech wool judging team which recently competed at the American Royal show, it has been learned here.

This is the third time Tech has taken the trophy, which is offered by the Kansas City Star, and the winning means that the school will retain the award permanently. Representatives from a large number of colleges and universities over the nation competed in the judging.

Chiefs Bow To Olton On Friday, 53-7

The Olton Mustangs hung up another victory in the 1950 football season the past Friday night, when they dumped the fighting but out-classed Friona Chiefs, 53-7 on Chieftain Field here in Friona.

As was to be expected, Gerald Allcorn and Jerry Maynard, big husky backs of the Olton set-up, did most of the ground-gaining and scoring for the visitors, as they consistently drove wide distances down the field.

W. L. Cleveland, 155-pound senior, powered over from the 5-yard marker for the solitary Friona marker, as the game was drawing to its close.

Farwell Comes Here Twice This Week

Two football squads from Farwell, the Yearlings and the Steers, will be guests on the Friona gridiron this week, with the junior squads to play on Thursday night and the senior teams taking the field on Friday evening.

The Yearlings have previously defeated the youngsters from Friona, but revenge will be the driving power for the juniors on Thursday night. In previous sessions, Friona has lost to Hereford and won from Vega.

As to the Steer-Chief clash, that can only be figured as the annual grudge battle between the two teams, and no matter what figures may say on paper, the outcome will be in doubt until the final whistle blows.

Game time on both nights is 8 o'clock, and local fans are invited to be on hand for the clashes.

Hallowe'en Carnival Slated For Tuesday

The annual Hallowe'en carnival of the Friona schools, sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association, will be held in the ag building of the school next Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, sponsors said today.

All classes of the school, as well as various clubs, will take part in preparing booths to entertain the public. Included among their selections will be the cake walk, fish pond, dart board, doll rack, fortune telling booth, spook room, bean bag throwing, white elephant sale, and the novelty booth, in addition to various food dispersal units set up by various groups.

'Day Of Retreat' To Be Held By Ladies

Mrs. John Gaede, in charge of the program, said that during the week the women are asked to devote time each day in prayer for special projects of the WSCS, concentrating this year on deaconess' homes and girls' homes in the United States, and missionary work in Pakistan and Africa.

At the Friday meeting, Mrs. Howard Ford will be in charge of the worship service with Mrs. George Jones to review the projects of the year. A "Love Offering" will be taken, all of which will go toward project work, Mrs. Gaede added.

Shorthand Class Is Offered To Adults

Expanding the adult education classes which are being held at the Friona public school will be a shorthand class, with the first meeting held on Monday night of this week. Billy Kelley, high school principal, said.

Kelley is currently conducting a typing class for adults of the area on Thursday night, with the shorthand group to meet on Monday evenings. In addition, Mrs. Baker, home economics instructor, is handling ceramics classes for women of the community on the second and fourth Tuesday nights at the school.

All adults of the area who are interested are invited to attend these special training sessions.

DEMOCRATIC VOTE FOR CONGRESSMAN BEN GUILL WILL BE COUNTED IN ELECTION

Persons who participated in the Democratic primaries have every right to vote for Republican Congressman Ben Guill in the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 7, and their ballots will not be thrown out, Mickey Ledrick, Pampa businessman and chairman of the district-wide organization of Democrats for Ben Guill, declared this week.

"This is a general election, not a party primary," Ledrick pointed out. "Every citizen of the 18th Congressional District who paid his, or her poll tax can vote for the candidate of his choice, with full assurance that his vote will be counted."

He explained that the State Supreme Court has held repeatedly that no voter is legally or morally bound by the so-called Democratic pledge.

"I am a Democrat," Ledrick said, "and so are thousands of Panhandle men and women who are supporting Congressman Guill in his re-election campaign. We aren't bad Democrats—we're just mad Democrats who don't like what has been going on in Washington.

"We are Democrats who saw Ben Guill go to Washington five months ago and start right to work for the Panhandle. As a member of the house Agriculture Committee, as a

Wood With Handsome Grain Chosen for Veneer Cutting

The decorative grain patterns of hardwood veneer, a material prized for use in quality furniture, radio and television cabinets, wall panels and flush doors, are due to the parts of the tree from which the wood is taken and the way the log is "opened" or cut. The same effects cannot be achieved with solid lumber.

Distinctive wood grain figures are obtained not only from the trunk of a tree but from the stump, from the crotch where the tree forks into limbs, and from burls, wart-like growth deformities.

The crotch, where the wood fibers are crushed and twisted together as the limbs grow in the living tree, yields one of the most striking patterns. Swirl, another figure, comes from the outer sides of a crotch block or a burl. The grain of the burl itself often is rippled and variegated.

Wood veneer from the stump of a tree is unusually attractive because pressure from the growing tree has wrinkled the wood fibers. Stump veneer also is known as butt veneer.

In converting a log into thin sheets of veneer, slicing is the method customarily used to produce the choice face stock. Slicing through the entire thickness of the log is the flat cut method. Sometimes the log—or "fitch" as it is known in the industry—is cut first into quarters lengthwise, producing a beautifully striped figure in most woods.

In making veneers for the inner layers of hardwood plywood, rotary cutting is the method usually selected. The log is mounted on a lathe and turned against a

WOLVERINES WIN SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT; WHIRLWINDS LOSE CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE

Texico boys' softball team won the championship title of the Curry softball league in play-offs in Clovis Saturday, when they defeated the opposing title seekers in final sessions.

The Whirlwinds, girls' team, winners of the league last year, lost their title Saturday, when they dropped a rough and tumble battle to Ranchvale.

The Wolverines drew a bye in the first round of play, and met Ranchvale in the quarter-finals of the tournament, to swamp their opponents, 17-9. The locals chalked up three home runs, with Aryle Crooks hitting two and Wayne Tucker clouting one.

Texico then met Rosedale in the final deciding game of the meet. Both teams got breaks in the first two innings, Texico racking up six scores and Rosedale crossing home plate twice, after which no counters were made by either squad. The locals won a traveling trophy which they will be allowed to retain until next year.

The Texico team had previously won games over Forrest, Grady and Ranchvale in season's play this year, losing in conference play to Rosedale, which in 1949 took first place in the finals over Texico.

Competing in the conference are Ranchvale, Rosedale, Grady, Forrest and Texico.

Wolverine team members are Brown, Reid, Breeze, Horton, Palmer, Doolittle, King, Tucker, Harris, Sparks, Christian, Bocox, Jester and Crooks.

Girls Play Reviewed

The Whirlwinds took their first engagement by a top-heavy score of 14-1 over Melrose. The losers only tally came by virtue of a homer and Violet Curry chalked up a four-bagger for the locals.

Playing Ranchvale in their second game, the girls lost 3-0 in a close, tense session. Ranchvale made all their scores in the first inning, and the remainder of the game was a shut-out. Rosedale gained the girls' title in a victory over Ranchvale.

The Whirlwinds were co-champions last year and placed second in the county in 1948. They had not lost a game all season prior to the tournament.

FARWELL STEERS SLIP BY BOVINA ELEVEN WITH TWO POINT VICTORY FRIDAY NIGHT

Bovina Mustangs played a whale of a game in their first eleven-man football clash against Farwell Friday night, but went down before the Farwell Steers 14-12, giving the locals their first win of the season.

Both teams were fighting their hearts out and from the moment the beginning whistle blew, it was anybody's game.

Bovina had all the breaks in the first minutes of the game, making yardage every time they picked up the pigskin. Farwell was playing defensive, but the first period of the game passed without either team scoring.

However, things looked pretty good to the Bovina fans as the Mustangs completed one pass right after another to make yardage. The opponent's initial drive for paydirt began with a pass from Willie Denney to Billie Derrick, followed by a series of line plunges. Derrick then smashed 1 yard for the first touchdown of the game.

Still in the second period of play, Hromas caught a 45 yard pass to make a second score for the Mustangs giving the Bovina eleven a 12-0 lead on the next play.

bachelor, he "took to the road". He sells picture post cards, advertises for firms and rides in parades to make a living. He keeps up with the world too, buying daily papers along the road, and rarely misses a newscast on the radio. In addition, he has his mail forwarded on ahead of him, and it really isn't so difficult to keep up with it as one might think.

Asked why all the burros have bells around their necks, the wanderer replied, "If they ring, I know I'm going, but if they stop—well, I'm not moving either."

Just A Home On Wheels

The wagon itself is unique. The small wood-burning stove is sufficient for all Jack's cooking, even though he bakes his own bread and "everything". He picks up wood along the road, and even has a special wood box built at the back of his mobile home.

"At the back of the wagon is the dairy where the milk goat belongs, and built on the axle is the chicken house, home of a dozen chicks. Each night stop, the fowls are released but they always come back to their tiny chicken roost."

The wagon is 9x6, built on a V-8 axle. Just a good old-fashioned covered wagon that provokes many memories, it is autographed with names from all over the union. On the front is displayed a large sign, announcing "Here Comes Jack".

Discussing people he has met, the nomad says there "really isn't much difference" in the inhabitants of various sections of the country. He feels that they are all "just pretty good folks". Most of them are curious—but Jack never tires of answering questions, he's used to it. He would not even try to guess how many snapshots have been taken of his wagon.

In St. Louis, he remembers, one newspaper man could hardly believe it when Jack told him that nothing exciting ever happened. A few people ask him to write to them and occasionally he will, "but I'd have to hire a stenographer if I wrote to everyone."

Hunting warm weather for winter, Jack finds Phoenix to be one of his favorite winter homes. There, he can spend his time attending rodeos, where he advertises in parades.

He was back in Phoenix in '47 and a fellow began telling him of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. So, Jack just hitched up, said "I'll see you in '50" and headed for the big celebration. After wintering in the Texas Rio Grande valley, he is on his return trek.

Asked how he planned his jaunts through the desert, when making only a few miles a day, he explained that he did have to carry lots of water and feed. He merely finds out how far it is to the next stop and loads up accordingly.

The hoofs of the burros, incidentally, are recapped with cut-up automobile tires, as cushions for their feet.

Jack says that he has "no relatives and no friends" then he explains that he does have a brother, but doesn't know where he is. It's been about five years since Jack heard from him.

Having regained his health, the slow-motion traveler is happy with his outdoor way of life, and adds, "I'll probably live in this wagon until I die."
