

RAIN NO PAIN TO MOST FARMS

Gentle, steady rains pattered down from low-hanging clouds for three straight days the first of this week, affording the first substantial moisture to farmers since late in August when about three inches was received.

As of Thursday morning, 2.5 inches had fallen altogether in Texico-Farwell, and this figure is accepted as being pretty nearly accurate for a large area on this part of the Plains.

A sudden cold front met moisture-laden clouds moving up from the Gulf Coast this week and triggered the rain, and established a heavy cover of fog and drizzle around the clock for the past three days.

Farmers met the wet weather with mixed emotions, yet there are few if any reports of farmers who would turn back the rain if they could.

Cotton farmers are those most liable for damage from the moisture, and many are expecting a mild setback because of the rain. It certainly could have been worse, however, as not a great deal of the cotton was open yet. Also, the manner in which the rain fell was least likely to hurt. Stormproof varieties are believed to be safe.

Grain sorghum growers didn't need the rain either, but they don't figure to lose too much. What their loss may be will depend upon later factors, such as frost, winds, etc. They have been delayed in cutting their grain by the rain, and not being able to harvest it now could conceivably hurt them if the weather continues bad.

It's not hard to spot a wheat grower or cattleman. Their smiles are wide, and this weather is just the ticket for up-and-coming wheat acreage, especially dryland, and exhausted native pastureland.

As The Tribune went to press Thursday morning, the rain showed no indication of stopping.

Mrs. Glen Hromas of Bovina was good enough to send us a copy of the Stanton Reporter over the weekend, published by James E. Kelly, who was mentioned in our paper several weeks ago for having been named as having the best weekly newspaper in West Texas in towns of under 2500.

The reason she sent us the copy of Sept. 2 was to allow us to gloat over the very kind words penned our way from the publisher. The writer of this column has never won any awards for modesty, but it causes him to blush at the thought of reproducing the gracious phrases of Mr. Kelly in his own paper.

This columnist is ready to accept the praises of Mr. Kelly in entirety, but he has his wife to contend with. She will go so far, but there always seems to be a limit on what she will and will not endorse.

When Uncle Jim referred to the writer as "handsome," she commented that it was indeed too bad what the infirmities of age sometimes do to eyesight. The Stanton publisher is over 80 years old.

As long as the good wife has been mentioned already, we may as well admit that she seems to be outdoing us in drawing comments from columns.

We hardly ever go anywhere anymore that we don't bump into someone who rushes up to her and exclaims how much they've enjoyed reading that stuff she dishes out each week.

One thing we have always said about these women, and experience has proved it to be true, and that is that every single one of them is always excited over a new recipe or a new diet.

We have never been able to understand how women consistently shy away from new and practical mechanical developments, such as automatic car transmissions, compressed air paint guns, power lawn mowers, and a host of other worthwhile inventions that pour down from manufacturers that will make life easier if we will just let them.

But a woman will faint dead away if her boy suggests putting a motor on his bike. She visions the danger to the well-being of her child and sometimes rightly so.

However, let her read a recipe in some magazine or newspaper, and no matter how foul may be the ingredients, she'll promptly whip it up and place it before her unsuspecting family who gather around the next dinner table.

If a recipe came out that suggested a dash of spot remover, a pinch of coal dust, and two tablespoons of anti-freeze, we bet we'd find it lurking on the stove within the next fifteen minutes.

It just doesn't make sense. And those diets—oh, brother. They last about as long as a New Year's resolution, and are just about as effective.

Ye gods, look what the Army has done now. Monday morning at the courthouse we bumped into Hubert Ellison, and he was asking us about a little story we had on the Ellison's boy, Jerry, a couple of weeks ago.

Pvt. Ellison is with the Seventh Army in Germany, and the Army sent us a story telling something about his duties.

In the story, they had told us that Jerry's wife, Katie, and his mother and father lived in Bovina. Only part of this is true, says Hubert. Jerry's mother's name is Kate, and he isn't married—yet.

This gave Marcella Verner of Oklahoma Lane a terrible scare. She is engaged to Pvt. Ellison, and they are to be married when he comes home.

Pat Patrick was in the other day to suggest that we look into soybean production as a possible cash crop for this part of the country.

We are sure that every worthwhile suggestion on possible new crops will be appreciated in this day and age, and not laughed off as it might have been before the event of allotments.

Pat says there is a fellow named Lee who lives south of Lariat down next to the State Line Farms who is growing a small acreage of soybeans this year, and he's very well pleased with the way they are turning out.

He is making about 30 bushels per acre, says Pat, and the beans bring him about a $3 per bushel gross. They are grown under contract with an oil mill in Lubbock, is the report. We hope to be able to do a story with a picture or two on this in a short while, hoping that farmers of the area may be interested in what Lee is doing.

DWI fined $100 And Costs Tuesday

Robert Wilkinson, 33, who is from Amarillo but is working on a local elevator, was fined $100 and costs Tuesday in county court on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

He pled guilty, but failed to pay his fine, so is sitting it out in the county jail.

Ever Use a Ladder To Pick Cotton?

Here is probably the tallest patch of cotton on the Plains this year. Although grown purely as an experiment, this Pema has attracted widespread interest from farmers who have visited the service station of Ed Meeks in Farwell to examine the long-staple variety. Ed is 6 feet tall himself, so the cotton is plenty healthy.

TEXAS-SIZE COTTON SOARS 8 FEET HIGH

Probably the biggest cotton within a hundred miles is flourishing in the "patch" belonging to Ed Meeks in downtown Farwell, where it is growing next to his service station office in about three inches of soil.

Causing many a farmer's eyes to pop, this cotton is a warm-climated, long-stapled variety, called Pema. It is probably impractical for this growing season, but this year's crop seems to be doing very well.

County Agent Joe Jones procured a small amount of seed for the experiment, and it was planted May 5. Meeks says he has "watered it when needed" with a garden hose, and the cotton received an application of 16-20-0 in June.

Pema is supposed to require a growing season of about 240 days, which it cannot normally be expected to receive at this latitude which has a growing season ranging from about 190 to 220 days. However, the Pema is maturing rapidly, and now has a few bolls open on its lower branches.

Yield of the tall cotton is astounding. Meeks says there are some stalks with over 100 bolls on them. The variety usually yields upwards of three bales per acre.

The Pema was attacked by lice in its younger stages, but seems not to have suffered a great deal from those or other insects. The experimental patch was not treated with insecticide, even for fleahoppers which, too, moved in.

Some other features of Pema which make Plains cotton growers' mouths water:

The staple, which usually runs from 2 to 3 inches in length, is in high demand, and usually will bring over $1 per pound. One thing that interests farmers of this area in particular is the fact that there are no acreage restrictions on this long-staple cotton.

Why Isn't It Grown Here? With all of these attractive figures, one may well wonder why Pema has not been tried locally on a commercial scale. There are several very good reasons.

Junior Red Cross Drive Set Soon

Enrollment of members in Junior Red Cross in Parmer County schools will be October 11 to October 15, L. J. Knight, congregational minister of Friona who is in charge of the drive, states.

The drive is slated in all schools in the county. Kenneth Fields heads the drive for Farwell grades; Fred Wilbanks, Lazbuddie grades and James Haynes, Lazbuddie High School; R. E. Everett, Bovina Schools; and Miss Tracy Smith, Friona High School; and John Parish, Friona Grade School.

The drive is conducted through classes, and Knight indicates that practically all students were enrolled last year.

Williams Given 5-Year Probation

Sentenced to five years under probation this week was Mark Williams, former band director of Bovina Schools, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of embezzling about $300 from the system.

A joint fund-raising concert of the Farwell, Friona, and Bovina bands which was held in December of last year raised the money that Williams admitted having taken, and he left the community with the funds on January 10.

The Parmer County grand jury charged him with this act, together with theft of a cotton trailer (which he has denied), and a jury comprised of J. C. Sherrill Jr., Archie Tarter, Ben Foster Jr., J. W. Gammon, Forrest Anderson, Gilbert Boatman, Carl Schlenker, M. T. Glasscock, J. R. Clark, John Burrow, C. R. Elliott, and John W. Blackburn sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary. This was

"M" Day for Hardage Motor Is Saturday

"M" Day, designated for the showing of the new Maytag automatic washers, will be Saturday of this week at Hardage Motor Company.

Walter Hardage issued an invitation to the public to see the new appliances, and urged the younger set of the community to drop in for free firemen's hats and whistles.

then probated, and Williams is to make monthly reports to Hubert Ellison and Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

During the course of the trial, Williams testified that he is now superintendent of a small school near Riverton, Wyo., and is earning $4500 per year.

A condition of his probation was that he clear up debts incurred while living in Bovina, which he has agreed to do. He gave the court a check for the amount taken from the concert, plus interest, and is to also cover personal obligations.

The charge of theft of the cotton trailer has not been disposed of as yet.

Exes Association Making Big Plans

Members of the Farwell Ex-Students Association, working on what they hope will be their biggest banquet Nov. 26, met in the home of Smokey Gast, president, Thursday evening to plan the affair.

An outstanding journalist for a metropolitan newspaper, and a former student of Farwell Schools, is being asked to speak at the banquet. Details will be published if he is able to accept the invitation.

Gast requested former students who may read this newspaper to send in names and addresses of exes who might be overlooked when invitations are sent out.

A turkey dinner is planned for banquet fare.

Panoramic View of New School

Here unfolds the 400-foot east facade of the new Bovina school, which, according to Supt. W. H. Willoughby, is "moving along pretty close to schedule." The building, which is 200 feet deep, is scheduled for completion next March 20. Sanders Construction Company of Sherman holds the $508,000 contract. The heating system has just been installed, and the roof is to be started soon. The Roman brick in the center of the span is the main entrance.

Farm Bureau Conclave Scheduled Saturday

Parmer County's sixth annual Farm Bureau convention will be held in the Friona school auditorium, beginning Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, according to A. J. Ellison, president. "This is the first all-day venture for the local organization, and lots of planning and work has gone into preparations to accommodate a crowd that will vary in size, depending upon the weather, since this is harvest time for many," officials say.

Here is the scheduled program for the day:

10:00 a. m.—Open with audience singing "America"; invocation, welcome, response.

10:30 a. m.—Reading of minutes of 1953 convention; reading of the financial report.

10:50 a. m.—Service program report.

11:00 a. m.—Local talent entertainment.

2:55 p. m.—Election of president and directors.

3:15 p. m.—Adoption of resolutions.

5:00 p. m.—Adjourn.

11:05 a. m.—Legislative report.

Burriss & Francis Sale Slated for Tuesday

The clean-up farm sale of R. A. Burriss and Orval W. Francis is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 12. Col. Dick Doshier will auctioneer the sale and Ancel Francis will clerk.

The sale is to start at 10:30 a. m., being held 5 miles east and 3 1/2 south of Clovis; or 3 miles west and 3 1/2 south of Texico-Farwell.

The sale is headed with a big list of machinery, including two tractors and three combines.

Sudderth Real Estate Opened In Bovina

The new and modern office of Ray Sudderth is completed, and he has announced the opening of a real estate business in Bovina. The office is located north of Highway 60.

Sudderth, a successful farmer, is making his first venture into the real estate business. Further details of the opening will be found on page one of the second section.

11:15 a. m.—Address by H. L. King, Texas Farm Bureau director, District 2.

11:50 a. m.—Fish dinner served to all present.

1:15 p. m.—Local talent entertainment.

1:30 p. m.—Presentation of Texas Farm Bureau leadership pins to leading 4-H, FHA, FFA boys and girls.

1:55 p. m.—Address by Loys Barbour, Texas Farm Bureau director, District 3.

2:40 p. m.—Amendments to by-laws.

Local problems as well as state and national problems facing farmers will be discussed with a view to improve the present as well as the long-range farming situation. Many forces, some for, but some either not concerned or directly opposed to the welfare of farm people are actively attempting to legislate for them, Ellison says. It is through their own organization that farmers and ranchers have an effective voice in these matters.

Problems indicated for discussion are weed control, improved state seed laws, the national farm program, federal social security for farmers and ranchers, world problems, and many others.

The general public is invited and urged to attend and participate, if voting members; otherwise, to see how Farm Bureau policies are formulated.

Chiefs Squashed 39-0 Under Hoofs Of Resurgent Steers in Non-Con Game

The Farwell Steers, perhaps mindful of some of the lopsided defeats handed them by the Friona Chiefs in recent years, came back strong with a 39-0 victory over Friona there, Friday night.

The score was decisive, but it was not until the opening play of the second half that Farwell looked as though it might emerge as the winning team. The Chiefs were trailing only 4-0 as time in the second quarter ran out, and they had set up a very good chance of scoring. The clock caught them on the Farwell 5 yard line.

It was 100 percent Farwell in the second half, however, as Truitt Hardage snatched a second half kickoff ball and dashed 91 yards down the west sideline to start festivities for the third quarter.

After that touchdown dash, the Steers' lead was never in danger.

Re-Allocated Acres To Be Released

Unused wheat acreage turned over by Parmer County farmers to county ASC committees likely will be released to farmers needing additional acreage late next week, says Joe Camp, office manager.

Twenty farmers have released about 1000 acres to the committee, but there are 70 applications totaling about 4000 acres in the till, so it is obvious that more is requested than is available.

County wheat growers who received more allotment acreage than they will use are requested to bring in the unused portion in order that the county's wheat history may be preserved.

Farmers who cooperate in this manner will get credit for planting the wheat themselves, Camp pointed out.

Dungill Family Leads Concert List Offer

The Dungill International Concert Company will present the first program of the Friona Concert series which is to begin Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Friona High School auditorium.

The company is listed as "one of America's greatest and most versatile ensemble of concert entertainers". Their management says, "They have a rich background of African, Egyptian, and French ancestry, and this mixture of blood has been musically set afire."

Comprising the group is a family of nine. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Dungill are the parents; the children fill out the team.

Listed as numbers are "Drums of Egypt", "Tico Tico", "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen", "Song of India", "The Rosary", "Hawaiian War Chant", "Donkey Serenade", "Eli, Eli", "Summer-time", "Night and Day" and others.

Admission to the program will be by membership only. Memberships are still available and will be sold until Tuesday. Cost is $6 individually, and $10 for a family ticket.

Memberships may be purchased at City Drug, Bi-Wize Drug, and Friona Star in Friona; Bovina Drug in Bovina and The Tribune in Texico-Farwell.

Score to Settle

Friona, as had been expected, was out to upset the once-defeated visitors, since it was Farwell which had upended the Chiefs last season. The Redskins were hungry for their first win this year, and for two quarters it looked as though they might manage to get it.

Friona is fielding its smallest football squad in some time (in point of numbers), and also has a team that is generally under average weight. Farwell and Friona were fairly evenly matched in weight, but the Steers have shown good reserve strength.

Texico Sewer Vote Scheduled Tuesday

Citizens of the Town of Texico will decide Tuesday whether they will permit the city commission to sell revenue bonds in the amount of $120,000 to finance improvements.

If the measure is approved, the city will install a water system of its own, including a tower, well, and extension of existing lines; and a sewer system and disposal plant, of which there is none at the present time.

Eligible to vote Tuesday will be qualified electors, which will include persons who have resided in the state one year, the county 90 days, and the Town of Texico 15 days prior to the election. It is not necessary to be a property owner to be eligible to vote.

The polls will open at 8 a. m.

Construction Begun On Skating Rink

Construction on a 60x128 steel quonset-type building has been started south of Meeks' Service Station in Farwell, which, when completed will be a permanent-type skating rink.

Ed Meeks, who is putting up the building, indicated this week that he was "not in any hurry" to get it finished, and it probably would not be completed until next year.

The foundation had been run by the first of the week and a concrete floor is next on schedule. The steel building will be about 20 feet high.

Why Has Not America's Subsidy Bill Been Reduced?

It was with frank disappointment that we read a report the other day in U. S. News that federal subsidies are as big as they ever were under the Truman administration. We would particularly like to see a decrease—gradual, perhaps—but nevertheless a steady decrease, in the amount of money Uncle Sam gladdhands to private groups. On other subsidies, such as those for schools, roads, and aid to the needy, we are not so keen, as these are areas where there is much more to be said for the public interest. But we think it would be a move in the right direction to decrease subsidies to private groups.

Uncle Sam has even found it difficult to reduce the amount of give-away going to foreign countries. In fact, we are helping foot a bill that runs over $4 billion annually to overseas peoples.

Here's the way the subsidy bill stacks up for private groups: Veterans, $4,393,000,000; farmers, $1,026,000,000; businesses, $934,000,000; hospitals, $43,000,000. As for the first group, we have no complaint. To be sure, there are undeserving veterans who are obtaining benefits from the government, but on the other hand, there are men and women who have done more for their country than money could ever repay. It would not be right to take from these people the small measure of appreciation they are now receiving.

With the remaining three, however, we think that there could and should be something done to reduce the amount of money spent on them. This would put a hardship on no one, as it would lower taxes for everyone. We are not getting anything we are not paying for. Don't be deceived.

One point that is surprising to note is that the Administration, or Republicans, are now giving more subsidies to farmers than the Democrats did in 1952, and that the Republicans are giving less in subsidization to businesses than did the Democrats! Just how many members of each party know all this, we wonder?

Give-away programs can end only in corrupting the national economy. We must fight to reduce ALL subsidies, not those of any one group—such as the farmers. It is not right for shipbuilders, airlines, newspapers or farmers to obtain benefits from the government at the expense of other taxpayers. Neither is a high tariff to protect American manufacturers right. We should work to abolish or at least reduce them all.

Johnson a Republican?

The Americans for Democratic Action, left wing political group, says that our own senator, Lyndon Johnson, who also happens to be the Democratic leader in the senate, is a better Republican than Democrat.

The ADA claimed Sen. Johnson supported the liberal position only 33.3 percent of the time, using the following issues for classification: The Bricker resolution, the St. Lawrence seaway project, public power, public housing, foreign aid, amendments to the AEC, immunity, taxes, and wiretapping.

This is a funny way to score a man's record, it looks like to us, but we've never known the ADA to hurt anyone's reputation, so Sen. Johnson probably has little cause to worry.

Handwriting on the Wall in New Mexico Area

The handwriting for High Plains irrigation farmers whose farthest worry right now seems to be how long their underground water will hold out, is on the wall over in New Mexico. And it's plenty big and legible for anyone to see.

Farmers of the Pecos Valley (in and around Roswell and Artesia) have pumped their irrigation wells so hard lately that the water table has dropped 86 feet since 1943. That's a tremendous rate of decline, as any farmer will tell you, and it scares all of us who depend so heavily on underground water for crops.

The reason that the table has gone practically out of sight is because farmers have violated pumping regulations. They are supposed to be limited to three acre feet per year per well. Many, many of them pump far in excess of this amount, hydrologists insist. Hence, their supply is decreasing at a much greater rate than the recharge that is available through rainfall.

Things have gone so far, in fact, that the state is now considering putting water meters on each well and govern its production very strictly. This sounds almost fantastic to we here in and around Parmer County who tend to think that our supply is almost boundless.

But the truth of the matter is that it isn't. Yes, we do have a tremendous reserve, but it is exhaustible. The time to start thinking of water conservation is NOW while our wells are strong and our water pure—not when they begin to fail us. The handwriting is on the wall, and the choice is up to us.

The Gulf Coastal cities of Beaumont and Port Arthur have reported that 196 billion mosquitoes have invaded the cities. Sand storms still sound bad?

jattin's from jeanne

After two hours of pecking a typewriter, that yellow-meated watermelon left at the shop by Orval Francis last week really hit the spot. The boss and yours truly devoured one-half of the melon in just a short while. We want to express our appreciation to Mr. Francis.

And we also want to thank the good Samaritan who left a sack of garden delicacies at the house on Monday. Our family likes those luxuries, but being print shop slave laborers, never has time to grow them.

And Mrs. J. C. Redwine gave us a rare treat. She presented our husband with the first Casaba we've ever seen. We haven't sliced it yet—but are anticipating something new and different.

We have found that when we have had a particularly bad day, if we will only take time to sit down and think of the nice things people have said or done for us that day, the little frustrations have a tendency to be less important. We don't always remember to do this, but it is a sure-fire cure for the blues.

What is the old saying, "Every cloud has its silver lining"? We believe it. No day passes without something to make it brighter—all we need to do is look for that "something".

Mrs. M. H. Stroup tells us of one little girl in a church of which Mrs. Stroup was once a member. The church had observed Communion Sunday, and the child informed the local lady that she just loved to go to church the Sunday they had "community plate".

And another youngster with whom Mrs. Stroup was acquainted, quipped, "they don't serve refreshments in our church".

Luckiest Boy on the Campus!

Drum major for the Eastern New Mexico University marching band is a popular job on the campus. The lucky man is Gail Poch, Atlantic, Iowa, freshman. The popularity of the job is seen in the five majorettes, left to right: Peggy Jo Randolph, Portales; Darlene Sprawls, Farwell; Candy Landers, Levelland; Valentine Sweeney, Santa Fe; and Bunchie Droke, Clovis. The band is rehearsing for Homecoming activities on Oct. 16.

Mrs. V. L. Martin of Farwell has a recipe that she calls her "old-time gingerbread recipe". She says it was handed down to her years ago—in fact, so long ago she can't remember exactly when she began making it.

But she is sure of one thing—this dessert is a favorite in the Martin household. So she is passing her recipe on to you other cooks. It seems to us that this rainy weather would just naturally call for warm gingerbread.

NEWS FROM LAZBUDDIE

By JANE BARTON

Lazbuddie-Bula Tie 13-13 In Thriller

Lazbuddie Longhorns battled the Bula Bulldogs to a 13-13 tie, Friday night on the home field. There was a record crowd to see this, the biggest game of the season. Everyone was so excited that no play by play reports are available.

David White ran 50 yards for the first Longhorn touchdown, and the ground try for the extra point was good. Leon Smith scampered 40 yards for the second Longhorn tally. It was originally announced that Bula had won the game on first downs, for they had eleven to Lazbuddie's seven, but a call to the Interscholastic League affirmed it as a tie.

Penetrations were tied at two each and only in play-off games are ties broken down. The game was a real thriller.

The Longhorns travel to Spade this Friday night.

At the half last week, the Pep Squad put on a black-out show. They formed a moon, turned out the field lights, and each girl held a light. The majorettes twirled "firesticks".

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Saturday morning at ten o'clock, Parmer County Farm Bureau's sixth annual convention will get underway. This will be the first attempt at an all-day meeting, with lunch served free at noon. With so many important subjects for discussion and decision, the directors voted several weeks ago that a full day should be delegated for the session. With a probability of a thousand extra people being in town at the noon hour, it was decided that it would be necessary to provide a meal for them. A score or more men, headed by James Mabry and O. B. Moyer, have been busy getting things lined up for the feed. The school cafeteria force is being employed to complete the crew and it appears that the noon hour will be an enjoyable one.

We are looking forward to a democratic day of arriving at decisions that will affect every farmer and every business man in the county in years to come. It is for this reason that officers and directors urge you and your family to be on hand. It is a family affair, not a stag party. The ladies who prepare meals and clothing for their families are as much concerned as the man who tills the soil, for they are dependent upon the fruits of his labor.

There will be public office holders and seekers in the audience, not on the platform. They will hear your desires and opinions at this meeting. You will have an opportunity to talk to them personally and man to man. The speakers this time will be your representatives and you; all of you dependent upon opportunity in agriculture and ranching for your income.

Entertainment will be furnished for occasional breaks in the regular procedures of the day. For those who wonder where Farm Bureau policies come from, this meeting will be an eye opener.

Scotchlite stickers are available at the Farm Bureau Office, free. Put them on the back of all your cotton trailers before harvest begins. Let's do everything possible to avoid accidents on our roads. CONSIDER THIS: There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. Proverbs 21:30.

Farm Bureau Will Elect Officers

New officers will be elected when the Texico Farm Bureau meets in regular session at the school lunchroom Monday night, beginning at 8:30 (Texas time).

Olan Schleuter, local chairman, will preside and Barney Harding will read minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. W. H. McDaniel, reporter, asks that any members who wish to make resolutions have them ready for discussion Monday evening.

Refreshments will be served, and members are urged to attend. Visitors are welcome.

THAT LITTLE RADIATOR IS AN EXPENSIVE ITEM

The radiator in your automobile is an often-forgotten item in this modern day. Not too many years ago, the motoring public was very conscious of the radiator, because it usually got hot and spewed into their faces on long drives.

Today, however, cars seldom overheat, but that doesn't mean that your radiator doesn't need care. Corrosion is your worst enemy, and the way to fight it is to let us drain and refill that radiator, and put in some rust inhibitor. It's time for anti-freeze, so why not get it done now?

Icebox Menace Campaign Urged

A new program has been inaugurated to fight the menace of young children being suffocated in discarded refrigerators, freezers and other airtight cabinets. The number of children dying in this manner is not as great as that compared to other accidental deaths that children suffer—but it is absolutely needless that a single child should die because of discarded airtight cabinets.

The solution is simple. Every discarded refrigerator and freezer must be rendered harmless. This can be done by:

Removing the entire door by removing the hinges;

Removing the latch or latch-stop with a screwdriver and ripping the rubber gasket from the door;

If used as a general storage cabinet, by drilling holes through the body of the refrigerator and removing gasket, so that anyone caught inside can breathe.

If the box is temporarily stored in the basement or garage, it should be turned so that the door faces the wall and can't be opened by children—or the door can be tied shut with stout wire or rope. Education is an important element in this program—to make people conscious that when a freezer, refrigerator or airtight cabinet is abandoned permanently, or is to be used as storage space, it should be rendered harmless.

It has been estimated that more than 3 million airtight cabinets are being discarded every year. And there are over 50 million of these cabinets in use today—usually larger in size than in former days—so that over the next 20 years the problem will be constantly growing one.

To help solve it, the discarded refrigerator and freezer safety drive is being spearheaded the week of June 6-12, 1954. This date was chosen because summer is the most inviting time for children to get into trouble and lose their lives, because of leisure time.

The drive is being supported by the Household Refrigerator and Farm & Home Freezer Sections of NEMA (National Electrical Manufacturers Association). NEMA, through the sales and field organizations of its member manufacturers, is distributing the material which has been prepared. This Association is also continuously alerting its members to the need for constant vigilance and cooperation.

tion.

The National Safety Council is lending important cooperation to this program. Radio and TV announcements and releases are being sent to hundreds of stations and to daily and weekly newspapers all over the country. The Council's publication—SAFETY EDUCATION—has made a full-page announcement to 8,000 leaders in school safety programs throughout the country. Local Safety Councils have been alerted. Boy Scout, Girl Scout and Cub Scout organizations, through their own facilities, are putting this program in motion. The 4-H Club organization, nationwide, has already alerted its members to cooperate.

The National Safety Council is distributing more than 26,000 posters on this subject, and more than 200,000 data sheets which go to school safety officials on a nationwide basis, covering 1,100 school systems.

In addition, though NEMA, the cooperation of industries and organizations is being listed—including safety engineers, casualty insurance companies and their agents, local service and fraternal clubs, and others. Any help that any organization—local, regional or national—can lend, whether or not it is directly connected with

Those who went were Bobby Patterson, Doyle Winegeart, Dick Adams, Dwayne Winkles, Nathan Tharp, Dick Lockhart, Weldon Bell, J. C. Kelley, Leon McDaniel, Jimmy Don Moss and Howard Leavell.

Some of the boys, after setting up the fair booth, went to see the rodeo and fireworks that were displayed at the fair. They also got to see the judging of the FFA and 4-H Club swine.

The boys went down in two cars with Tom Hudson, instructor, and Howard Leavell as drivers.

PATter

By Pat

Hi there, kids! Here we are with more "Patter".

Say, have you seen those seniors strutting around the last few days? The reason—their long-awaited rings have finally arrived. Representing twelve years of hard work, with lots of fun mixed in, they're really something to be proud of! And by the way, the rings are certainly pretty!

Everyone was really thrilled with the way our band performed in the assembly. Makes us realize the amount of hard work put in by both director and students. Farwell's band put on a swell performance, too, under the direction of their conductor, Mrs. Erma Jobs. Congratulations, twirlers! You put on a very impressive showing the other day. Keep up the good work.

It seems that some of Texico's senior boys' athletic teams are entering their "second childhood". Just the other day, we saw a group of them standing in line, waiting their turn on the first grader's slide. Oh well, guess they wanted to get up their courage before playing their next softball game! As you all know, it's been Scott Levins' custom each year to treat school students to free movies. We know all the grade school students enjoyed and appreciated his showing of Pinochio last week.

A couple of senior girls were almost sent to the "nut-house" this week because of magazine sales. Seems they lost track of $3.00, and spent two days searching for it. The girls? Bobbye Richardson and yours truly!

Jerry Johnson and the Jim Moss family were Sunday dinner guests of the Fred Barkers of Friona.

Your School And You

By Bobbye Richardson

"Texico our Alma Mater, forever you will be our pride." Truly, we have a great deal to be proud of in Texico School. Even though it is a small institution, it has on its teaching staff, teachers who are interested in turning out good students and citizens. Texico High is a progressive school; evidences of this are shown in the improvements that have been and are still being made in buildings and in the variety of subjects offered.

Yes, we should be proud of our school. But, will Texico High be proud of you? Are you learning all you can? You are if you're doing your best. Perhaps you think school isn't very important, but it is. One of the most important things you have to do while you're young is to get a good education. As a general rule, the jobs which offer a chance for advancement require at least a high school education. You have a chance to get a good education in a good institution, but you can't expect to get any more out of school than you put into it. So give it all you have, and not only will you be proud of Texico High, but she'll be proud of you.

Names Of Candidates Are Released

The names of candidates for the beauty and most handsome from the various school clubs were released this week by Mrs. Jimmie Allman, annual sponsor.

Candidates are as follows: Joyce Gilleen and Marvin Pendergrass, FHA; Sue Doolittle and Alex Brown, FFA; Verlene Thigpen and Allen Kelley, chorus; Susan Levins and Ronald Hutson, press club; Sue Reid and Kenneth Reid, business education club; Mikala Faville and Jerry Johnson, dramatics club; Doris Harriman and Jimmy Don Moss, band; Shirley Doshier and Allen Lockhart, pep club; Patricia Morgan, student council.

The student council's most handsome candidate will be given at a later date.

AG Club Initiates 14 New Members

"Oh, my, what a night!" That's what all 14 Ag I boys said Tuesday after they were initiated into the FFA club Monday night.

Some of the stunts required were: sitting in a tub of ice water; drinking a teaspoon of sauerkraut juice, and participating in a shoe race. Prizes were given the winner and loser in the race.

Taking first place was Buddy Spears, who managed to get his shoes on first. His prize was half a can of sauerkraut juice which he had to drink. Last place winner was Doyle Winegeart, who also got a half can of sauerkraut juice, which he relished very much.

After the initiation, the boys had a regular meeting. They voted unanimously to purchase five hogs for the chapter.

Classes Observe Fire Prevention Week

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, seventh and eighth grade classes in Texico School have written themes on "Fires" and made attractive posters which were in competition with each other.

Theme winners are Anita Moss, eighth grade, and Velma Martin, seventh grade. Barbara Chappell, seventh grade, and Monte Singleterry, eighth, won the poster contest. These four winners were victorious over about 60 other classmates.

Bulletin board display in the eighth grade room was arranged by Billy Thigpen, Billy Ferguson, Bobby Stover, Jerry Bowers and Mack Crawley.

Winning themes will be found elsewhere in The Wolverine's Tale.

Pep Club Begins With Enthusiasm

Officers were elected and cheerleaders were chosen when the Pep Club met recently to organize their club for the coming year. Mrs. Charleyrene Danforth and Agrie Jones are the club sponsors.

Officers elected were president, Shirley Doshier; vice-president, Bobbye Richardson; and secretary, Georgina Weisler.

Serving as cheerleaders for the coming year are Mikala Faville, Fay Autrey, Georgina Weisler and Patricia Morgan as head cheerleader, with Oneita Autrey as alternate.

FIRST GRADE ENJOYS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Sixth birthday was celebrated by Marilyn Doshier, first grader, this week when her mother, Mrs. Frank Doshier, Sr., treated the pupils with pops and pop-corn balls. Bright colored balloons added a festive note to the room. Marilyn was showered with gifts and the group sang "Happy Birthday."

"Pinochio" was enjoyed by students when they were guests of Scott Levins at the Border Theatre Monday.

Third grader, Terry Neice, brought a beautiful rose bouquet which was very much appreciated by first graders and Mrs. Faville.

After being away four weeks, Ronnie McCoy has enrolled again in the first grade.

A further study of zoo animals has been made in the inspection of pictures brought by Harvie Winkles.

HAL ED HELTON TALKS ABOUT TRIP

Hal Ed Helton gave an interesting report to the class on his visit in Amarillo last weekend. He visited his grandparents and attended the Sonja Henie Review at the Tri-State Fair. His grandfather took him duck hunting.

The pupils recently had an interesting unit on Iceland in geography.

Glenn Cox brought a beautiful bouquet of carnations and pinks for the school room.

Linda Palmateer visited with her sister in Clovis Friday night, then went to Amarillo to visit an aunt Sunday.

Jean Clayton was in Amarillo Sunday and enjoyed a picnic in the park.

Visiting in Bovina last week was Virginia Barnes, while during the weekend, Vernon Thigpen visited in Texas.

SPEAKING FEATURED IN SEVENTH GRADE

Courtesy posters are being made by the seventh grade. These, together with the help of their teacher, Mrs. Charleyrene Danforth, are aiding the students in improving their own personalities and learning how to be more courteous to others. They are also studying public speaking and making talks before an audience. "This is a great experience for them," says Mrs. Danforth.

The seventh grade welcomed one new student, Freddy Goldsmith, to their class.

Participating in the Center-Texico game Tuesday were a number of the seventh grade pupils. New students in beginners band are Travis Taylor and Priscilla Pichardo.

Those who have been absent recently are Nancy Glaze and Joan Tadlock.

THIRD GRADE COMPLETES FIRST READER

"Through the Green Gate" was the first book completed by the third grade. "This book was thoroughly enjoyed," said their teacher, Mrs. Frank Seale, "Looking Ahead," and "If I Were Going," are the new books they will start on soon.

Pat Hutson and Oriol Curtis were absent last week because of illness. Lonnie and Ronnie Curry went to the fair at Lubbock last Tuesday. They said that they liked the puppet show.

The third graders and their teacher, Mrs. Seale, wishes to thank Mr. Levins for inviting them to see "Pinochio." They enjoyed it very much according to members of the class.

PRE-HISTORIC ANIMALS STUDIED BY GRADE

Boys and girls are making soap carvings of the pre-historic animals of New Mexico as a project in New Mexico history.

Glendon Moss brought a zebra fish for the aquarium.

Wayne Martin attended the State Fair at Albuquerque Wednesday.

Forty-five state library books have been received, also.

Twelve students from the fifth grade are now in beginners band.

The Press Club met recently to elect officers. Those elected were: president, Ronald Hutson; vice-president, Georgina Weisler; secretary, Sue Reid; and reporter, Naomi Hapke. The next meeting is to be Oct. 14.

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES

By Anita Moss

Fire is something only a few people know enough about! Here are a few rules we can ALL follow: Don't throw matches or lighted cigarettes down, unless you are very sure they are out.

Don't leave matches where children can reach them.

Don't leave pan handles sticking out over the side of the stove.

Don't leave the iron on when you are doing something else.

Put all gas and oil cans in a container.

Do check all of your electric cords; if they are frayed, buy a new one.

Be sure and do these things all of the time, not only during "Fire Prevention Week".

Remember the life you save, may be your own.

MEMBERS OF CLASS TREAT 8th GRADE

Dena Bess and Zack Moore treated the entire eighth grade to pops and candy fourth period Wednesday. The class expresses their thanks to these two students.

The eighth grade played Center with the boys and girls both defeating their opponents 17-5 and 37-7 respectively.

David Lockhart has won the prize for the first six weeks, by having highest average in spelling. His average was 99.

The eighth grade read "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" by Washington Irving and saw a movie on "The Life of Irving." Highlight of the study were drawings of Ichabod Crane from a descriptive paragraph in the story.

SECOND GRADE ENJOYS MOVIE

Second graders were honored by Scott Levins, Monday, when he treated them to the show, "Pinochio", at the Border Theatre. "Everyone enjoyed the show," says Mrs. Stockton, teacher.

Dorothy Pruitt brought flowers for the room to make a more cheerful surrounding.

Much has been accomplished because second graders have been given new readers, entitled "Come Along."

SEVERAL STUDENTS ATTEND FAIR

Several students from the sixth grade attended the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last Monday.

Beale Stewart came to school and showed the class how to make crayon paintings. Some were sent to the fair and the remaining ones were used to decorate the room.

TWIN-CITY BANDS ENTERTAIN

Beginning the program with "Home-Town Band", the Farwell band presented a short concert in assembly Friday morning, under the direction of Mrs. Erma Jobs. They played a number of other pieces.

An exhibition of twirling was given by Farwell majorettes and drum major, Glenna Ruth Davis. Those participating were: Gloria Dial, Phyllis Magness, Jo Elaine Magness, Cora Sue Atchley, and Jeanette Hughes.

Following Farwell's presentation, Texico band performed, directed by George Hill. Twirling at this time were Susan Levins, D'rene Danforth, Melba Doshier, and Connie Tharp. Drum major, Doris Harriman, led the band in a march and also twirled.

Pat, as everyone calls her is active in many things: editor of the Wolverine's Tale, editor of the annual, secretary of the senior class, Business Education Club, Student Council, and chorus.

On top of all that, she is head cheerleader of the pep club and was elected beauty candidate of the Student Council.

Pat is enrolled in Typing II, chorus, Shorthand II, American History, Journalism I.

Pat couldn't decide whether Mexican food or fried chicken was her favorite food. Her favorite sport is basketball, while her pet peeve is "someone who thinks they are better than anyone else."

When asked who her favorite person is, Pat says, "Guess." Due to the fact that she is engaged, everyone can guess that her hobby is going out with W. T.

FIRE By Velma Martin

One of the most common ways to start a fire is by throwing away a lighted match or cigarette. Another way is with gas, oil, and cloth.

You should be extra careful with matches or anything that will start a fire easily. You should never get gas or oil near a flame of any kind.

As found in the encyclopedia, fire making was started from a man who stole a piece of fire from the golden chariot. It is a very old myth.

We have Fire Prevention Week from October 4 to October 9. Fire Prevention Week is made for the protection of the country, and everyone should take part in helping make America a safer place to live.

DRAMATICS CLUB MEETS

Dramatics club met Friday for the purpose of organizing the club. Allen Kelley presided until president was elected. The officers elected were: president, Doris Harriman; vice-president, Mikala Faville; secretary, Nadine Thornton; treasurer, Shirley Stover; reporter, Barbara Caldwell; parliamentarian, Jerry Johnson; and sentinel, Allen Kelly.

Candidates for the most handsome boy and most beautiful girl were determined by secret ballot.

Production of one-act plays was discussed for future club meetings.

The sponsor of the club is Mrs. Agrie Jones.

SALES COMPLETED

Seniors breathed a sigh of relief as magazine sales were completed last week. The class had set its goal at $500, but exceeded this mark for a grand total of $527.60.

For having the highest amount of sales, Patricia Morgan will receive a flash bulb camera set. Bobbye Richardson, who sold next highest, will receive a Shaeffer pen and pencil set.

The seniors netted $185.48 from the sales.

POPPIN' OFF... WITH POP

Office Boy (nervously): "Please sir, I think you are wanted on the phone."
Boss: "You think? What makes you say, 'I think?'"
Office Boy: "Well, sir, someone at the other end said: 'Is that you, you old idiot?'"

The visitor to the dude ranch decided to go horse-back riding.

"Do you prefer an English saddle or a Western saddle?" asked the cowboy attendant.

"What's the difference?" asked the tenderfoot.

"Well," explained the cowboy, "the Western saddle has a horn."

"I don't think I'll need the horn," said the Easterner, "I won't be riding in any traffic."

Does this snappy fall weather make you feel like going somewhere? Well, give in to that urge and take a little drive. It's beautiful to drive out into the country and see the crops being harvested. And don't forget to fill up before leaving town.

YOUR COOLING SYSTEM

There is no more vital part of your automobile than its cooling system. A modern car engine of 100 HP or over develops a tremendous amount of heat that is not utilized in driving the pistons which in turn drive the rear wheels.

This heat must be dissipated and removed from under the hood, and that is the job of the cooling system. All American automobiles use a combination liquid-air cooling system which means that both water and air are used as agents to carry away the heat.

YOUR job, Mr. Carowner, is to make sure that both get a chance to work properly. Have your cooling system checked regularly, especially as seasons change. A little money spent for proper maintenance such as draining, flushing, and rust prevention will pay off big dividends later.

Bring your car in for a pre-winter shot of Prestone. We have it available NOW.

Mobile X-Ray Unit To Be Here Oct. 23

Announcement has been made that the mobile tuberculosis unit will be in Texico Saturday, October 23, to give X-rays to determine evidence of lung disorder.

The unit will be at the Furniture Mart from 12 o'clock until 7 in the evening, Mrs. J. T. Lockhart, who is in charge of arrangements here, reports. Mrs. Lockhart asks that women who can volunteer to assist with the work of the unit contact her. She hopes to have sufficient workers so that each woman will be asked to give only an hour of her time.

The local woman urges that all residents of the Twin Cities take advantage of the public service and have the free X-rays made.

Steers Rest Friday, Resume Thursday

Resting up a little this weekend will be the Farwell Steers, who are about halfway through one of their toughest football schedules in recent years.

Next Thursday night, however, they will move into conference competition against the Anton Bulldogs, and the game will be played there at 7:30. The game schedule has been advanced to Thursday from Friday at the request of the hosts, who plan to attend the State Fair.

Under a new coaching staff this year, Anton last week beat Tatum, N. M. 25-15. Tatum had formerly beaten Plains 13-6. Coach Smokey Cates of the Steers says he doesn't know what to expect from Anton, but this will be a conference game, and therefore, emphasis will be placed upon it.

The Friona "B" team will be here tonight (Thursday) for a return bout with the Steer "B" boys. The blue-jerseyed team squeezed past the Chiefs 6-0 three weeks ago in Friona, and this is expected to be another evenly-matched contest.

The Dimmitt "B" team will be here for a game Saturday night, Oct. 16. The date formerly was announced as being on Thursday night.

DON'T LOOK NOW, BUT WE'RE OLDER

This week The Tribune is celebrating its forty-fourth birthday. The publisher and staff join in wishing themselves a happy birthday, and celebrate the occasion by observing only a 60-hour work schedule this week.

We all hope that The Tribune isn't showing its age, and that we have been able to keep it fresh and alive with factual and complete news coverage, interesting pictures, and perhaps a chuckle or two. At least, we know that we've been trying.

We are thinking about throwing a big party for our golden anniversary in another six years, so keep those subscriptions and ads coming in, and maybe you'll get a cut of our birthday cake on our 50th anniversary!

Activities Discussed By Council Group

Twenty-four members were present Monday for the meeting of the Farmer County Home Demonstration Council in the agent's office in the courthouse in Farwell, with Mrs. D. L. Carmichael, chairman, presiding.

Presidents of the thirteen clubs reported on club activities since the August meeting.

Mrs. H. D. Ivy, chairman of the council yearbook committee, reported plans were progressing for programs on clothing and living room improvement to be started in 1955.

Plans were made for a training meeting for club leaders on winter bouquets to be held at Bovina on October 29.

The council will meet again on October 25th, when clubs will present reports of achievements since organization earlier in the year.

COMPLETES WASH RACK

Completion of an inside wash and grease rack of Mears Produce was announced this week by Ray Mears, owner. The cement floor has been run and Mears is ready for business, he says.

Grain Loans Rise As Harvest Starts

Applications for loans on 1954 grain sorghums totaled 109 this week as county farmers were getting started on a mammoth harvest. Heavy dews and drizzly afternoons and the rains have delayed cutting.

Last week's heaviest run was 25 applications in one day at the ASC office in the courthouse.

Absentee Applications Can Begin Wednesday

Applications for absentee voting in the general election which will be held Nov. 2, may be made October 13-29, inclusive, reports the county clerk's office.

Ballots returned through the mail are valid only if received on or before the day of the election.

GAME NIGHT POSTPONED

A game night, which was originally announced for this coming Saturday night, has been postponed indefinitely, Mrs. Jack Williams, reporter, announced today. Further details on the entertainment will be given later.

Committees For FFA Are Named

Committees were appointed for the coming year when Farwell FFA met Monday night. Meeting of the entire organization will be the coming Monday at 8 o'clock, when freshman initiation is slated.

Committees include: supervised farming, Truman McKillip, Jerry Dee Owens and James Norton; co-operation, Don Geries, Gene Hardage and Glyn McDorman; community service, Dean Jones, James Roberts and Leon Jamison;

Leadership, LaVon Jones, Doyle Ford and Rolland Hillock; earnings and savings, Gerald Hardage, Darrel Garner, Jerry Venable and Bert Williams;

Conduct of meeting, Harvey Lesley, Jimmy Schell and Mitchell Walls; scholarship, Joe Roberts and Burl Anderson; recreation, Tommy Lovelace, Deon Branscum and Douglas Hillock.

More committees are to be named later says Dean Jones, reporter.

"42" Teams Will Organize Here

A call meeting of the Texico "42" Club is slated tonight (Thursday) at the Texico school auditorium, to complete organization plans for the group, announces Clyde McDaniel, president.

Teams will be organized and games made for the first round of games, October 18. Time of the meeting is 8:30.

PEMA—

It must be hand-picked, ginned with special equipment, and requires unusual care in production. Then, too, there is the matter of our comparatively short growing season, which is a hard factor to overcome.

(For additional interesting reports on Pema, see "In and Around" column on the Friona page in the next section.)

Probably the only way that Pema could ever be made to pay on the High Plains is for a group of farmers to go in together and each produce only a few acres.

The pickings could be aggregated and trucked to some point such as El Paso for ginning and marketing. At present, there is no talk of anyone seriously considering this method of production.

SKATING RINK

at the point of its arch, Meeks says, and the floor will be maple hardwood.

A concession stand, rest rooms, and full equipment is planned to be included in the building, which will be air conditioned and windowless except at the ends. Cost will run around $25,000.

Meeks pointed out that the building can be used for activity other than skating, although that will be its primary purpose. Games such as basketball will be possible, he added.

FOOTBALL

In speed, it was apparent that the wearers of the blue and white had the edge. Four times during the game Farwell players broke into the clear and simply out-distanced their pursuers on long down-field jaunts.

FIRST QUARTER

Friona received to start an infraction-filled first quarter. Wesley Barnett returned the kick from his 19 to the 30. From that point, the Chiefs pushed to the 37, but were penalized 15, and two plays later, when passing to regain lost yardage suffered their first interception of the evening.

Doyle Ford snatched the pass from the air on the Friona 49. Farwell pressed to the Friona 33, but a series of penalties put them back on their own 48. A backfield lateral was fumbled, and Robbie Foster managed to recover on the Farwell 31.

Two quick passes from Ford to H. R. Billingsley and Don Geries went to midfield, but the ball went over on downs. The teams then exchanged kicks after failing to make first downs, and the quarter ended with Farwell in possession on the Chief 47.

SECOND QUARTER

Quarterback Ford moved down to the 25, but penalties resulted in losing the ball on downs. Three plays later, when Friona was on its own 30, a long pass was intercepted by Ford on the Farwell 33. He returned to the Chief 27, but had 15 yards removed from his run by a penalty.

This yardage was regained in two plunges by Truitt Hardage, and from the Friona 28, Gene Hardage swept around right end for the first score of the game. Geries' kick was wide.

With six minutes left, the Chiefs started a long drive from their 27. Three straight first downs put them on the Farwell 20, and a pass from Jerry Houlette to Charles Kirk almost resulted in a touchdown. The half ended before the Chiefs could start another play on the 5.

THIRD QUARTER

Already in the lead 6-0, the Steers jumped upon their advantage with a 91-yard kickoff return to start the second half. Truitt Hardage went all the way, assisted by several timely blocks. Geries' try for the point-after failed.

Farwell's offense continued unabated as they kicked to the Chiefs, who touched the bounding ball but failed to cover it. Troy Christian recovered on the Chief 21 to set up a third Farwell TD. It came five plays later as Fullback Gene Hardage plunged through from the 3. This time, Geries' kick went through the crossbars, and the Steers led 19-0.

Friona's try with the ball fizzled out on their own 40, and they punted to the Farwell 20. Quarterback Houlette sustained a temporary injury at about this point.

Farwell was unable to manage to get back to midfield, and booted from their 14. Three plays netted two yards around the 50 for the Chiefs, and they too kicked. The ball rolled dead on the Farwell 5.

With their backs to the goal only for one play, Fullback Gene Hardage crashed out to the 30 to take the Steers out of hot water territory. The quarter ended with Farwell on the Friona 29.

FOURTH QUARTER

Friona took the ball, collected two firsts, moving into Farwell's end of the field. Their drive sputtered and died on the 35. After two five-yard penalties, Farwell took over again and Ford went all the way for the fifth TD from his 32. The point-after kick failed.

ward drive, Hardage moving from the 30 to the 8 to set up the fourth touchdown. Ford carried twice and Hardage then plunged over from the 5. Geries ran over the extra point to make the score 26-0.

Halfback Robbie Foster ran 62 yards for a touchdown about four minutes later, but was called back. Four minutes before time ran out, he broke away again, this time for 53 yards, and wrote in the final touchdown for the evening. Geries' kick was good and the game ended 39-0.

Bovina Bows To Amarillo Team

The Bovina Mustangs were defeated Friday night here in a non-conference game by the Amarillo Yinnigans. Both teams were scoreless during the first round and each tallied once during the second, with the tally 6-7 in favor of Amarillo at the half. Read carried five yards for the TD and Weston counted the Amarillo score.

The Yan's coach used the two-plateau system and superior numbers proved to be an advantage.

In the third quarter the Mustangs moved downfield with four successful first downs, but lost the ball on the 15. The Yans came back to score with a long run by Robinson. Robinson scored again in the last go-round and LaFon passed to Teague for the fourth counter. Weston and Crews added extra points.

During the last quarter, injuries forced Smith, Barron and Read out of the Bovina lineup.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Stevenson were honored with a bridal shower at the Bovina Baptist Church, Saturday afternoon at 3:00 p. m.

Decorations, refreshments, plate favors and the guest book carried out a pink and green color scheme. The bride's book, made by Mrs. Harold Hawkins, was pink and edged with a nylon lace ruffle. Tiny rosebuds and golden wedding rings decorated the cover.

The table featured a floral centerpiece around an umbrella with rosebuds climbing the handle of the parasol.

Six of the seventh grade girls presented the reading "Lochinvar" and Miss Joan Kay Ezell gave a toast to the young couple, which was written by Mrs. Frank Truitt.

It cleverly presented the pattern of the courtship and marriage of the Stevensons.

Miss Kay Hartzog sang "It Had to Be You" and "Secret Love", accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Hartzog.

Mrs. E. H. Moody and Mrs. Earl Stevenson were presented corsages of white mums. Mrs. Oakley Stevenson was given a corsage of white carnations.

The hostess' gift to the bride was an electric automatic toaster.

Baca-Brito Wedding Vows Read Recently

St. Ann's Church in Bovina was recently the scene of a solemn candlelight wedding ceremony that united Miss Mary Rose Baca, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fidel Baca of Bovina, with Eugene P. Brito, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Brito, also of Bovina.

Father Nathaniel Madden of Hereford read the service at 8:30 a. m. on Friday, Sept. 24.

White tapers in gold candelabra glowed softly on the altar rail, which was highlighted with vases of multi-colored dahlias.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin that featured a full hooped skirt, fitted bodice and a sheer lace-trimmed yoke. Her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion was edged in lace. She carried a small bouquet of carnations on a white prayer book, belonging to Mrs. R. L. Cervantez, sister of the groom.

The prayer book served as something old; her wedding gown was new; the blue was the traditional garter; and she carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Aubra Elision. For luck, the bride had a penny in her shoe.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Lucy Brito, sister of the groom. She chose a net-gown of orchid with circular skirt and fitted bodice, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Thomas Duran, Clovis, and Mrs. R. L. Cervantez, Portales, were chosen by the bride to serve as bridesmaids. They wore dresses similar to that of the maid of honor, styled in blue net, and carried yellow carnations.

Best man was John Baca, brother of the bride, and attendants were R. L. Cervantez of Portales and Thomas Duran of Clovis. Brothers of the couple, George Baca and Sonny Brito, were ushers.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Bovina High School. Brito recently returned from service. The couple is at home in Bovina.

BOVINA BUTANE SERVICE PRESENTS KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Redwine, who live southwest of the Hub, have an interesting married life, and are one couple who know the struggle of "working your way up." They both have worked for wages, but now farm 480 acres of their own with two wells.

She was born in Lawn, Texas, and her parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Counts. He was born in Lakeview (Hall County). She later moved with her parents to Ft. Sumner, N. M., and in 1943, that was where they first met. He was picking apples at the time.

They were married in January of 1940, and dryland farmed between Ft. Sumner and Santa Rosa for a time. That really was "dryland" farming, says Mrs. Redwine, except for 1941, when just about the entire country got plenty of rain.

They moved to Littlefield and farmed in 1942, and from 1943 to 1950 farmed the Jess Osborn place east of Lariat. The Redwines came to their present place in August of 1950. They put down their first well the next year, and their second down in 1952.

J. C. and Mrs. Redwine have three children, all boys. They include Clyde Ray, 13, and Harold and Carol, twins, 9. The Redwines are members of the Friona Baptist Church.

The boys are all active in helping their father to be a good farmer. This year, J. C. raised the first bale of cotton in Parmer County.

The Redwines are good customers of Bovina Butane Service, and they have two tractors and household equipment including a deep freeze, refrigerator, stove, and a hot water heater all operated from butane.

Mrs. Redwine commented that they have always received nice treatment from our firm, and we appreciate her remarks.

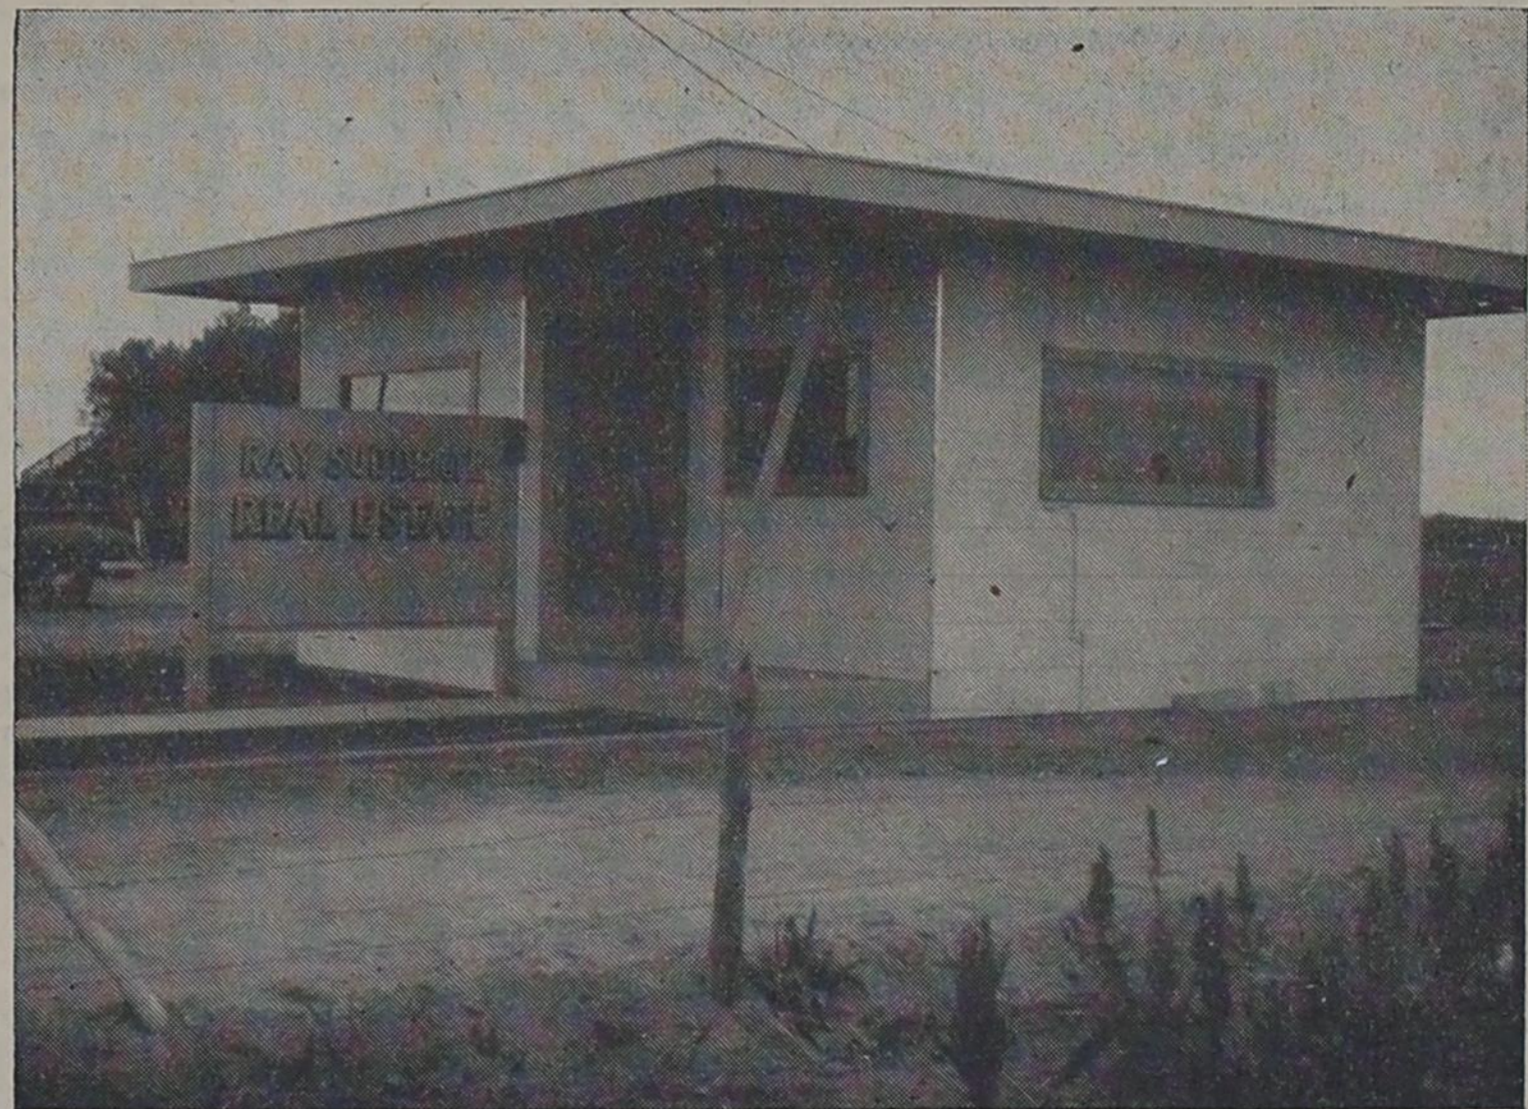

By the way, now is a good time to have your tractor changed over to butane. It's far cheaper, far more efficient. Ask us today how we can help you.

Water Extensions To Be Installed In Residential Areas

Water main extensions for the City of Friona, mostly in residential areas in the northeast part of the city, are soon to get underway, says Roy Wilson, city manager.

Pipe is now on the railroad siding, and is expected to be unloaded shortly. Included are 1400 feet of 6-inch pipe, and 790 feet of 8-inch pipe. Part of it (three blocks) will be used to replace smaller lines, and the remainder will go for extensions.

This is another leg in a 10-year improvement program by the city, which is now in its fourth year. Improvements are being made at an average rate of about $3500 per year, which to date has been sufficient to keep up with the growth of the community, reports Wilson.

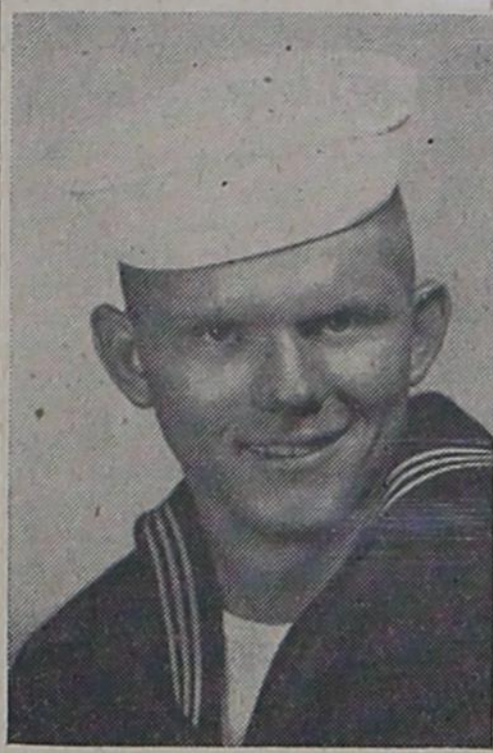

As to how long it will take to install the pipe, Wilson could not say, as this will be a variable factor. City employees will lay the lines themselves, on a "between-jobs" schedule.

The city has its own ditcher. It would be possible for the city to put the lines down in about two weeks if full time was devoted to the project, Wilson believes.

Other Improvements Planned
In addition, the city is planning improvements to its water pumping facilities. Three wells now in service have a combined capacity of about 1200 gallons per minute.

Repairs on the southwest well are hoped to boost this capacity to 1500 gallons or over, which likely will be sufficient for present needs. The city now owns 150,000 gallons of storage, 50,000 of which is an overhead tank, and the remainder is ground storage.

For the first time in history, water usage for the city soared over the 1,000,000 mark this summer. That day was Aug. 4, when 1,006,875 gallons of water were delivered to thirsty residents. There are 543 meter connections in Friona.

W. A. Tinney Visits Parents

W. A. Tinney Jr., seaman apprentice, and son of the W. A. Tinneys of Friona, returned home October 3 for a few days leave with his parents in Friona.

Tinney left Friona July 6 for service with the Navy and completed his boot training at Camp Decatur in San Diego. He is to report back to San Diego for duty October 16. From there, he will go to Great Lakes Training Center at Chicago for training as a fire control technician.

The boy is a graduate of Friona Schools with the class of 1954. He was very active in all phases of school activity, being a football letterman, and was named to the all-star cast of the Interscholastic League one act play, not only for the county, but at regional in Lubbock.

Dorothy Koelzer New Nurse At Hospital

Dorothy Koelzer, daughter of the Ben Koelzers of Lazbuddie, has been hired as a registered nurse for the Friona Community Hospital, says Jimmy Baxter, manager.

She is to begin her duties within a week. Miss Koelzer is now employed at a hospital in Oklahoma City.

Baxter commented that within recent days, the hospital has received three applications from nurses for employment. This is "almost unheard of" he says, as there has existed a critical shortage in this field for a long time.

The hospital will be fully staffed when seven nurses are employed. There are now five.

Supper Nets $200 For Hospital Fund

What was considered to be a good turn-out for the pancake supper Friday night before the Friona-Farwell football game netted $200 for the Parmer County Community Hospital drive.

That was the amount remaining in the hands of the Friona Progressive Study Club after all expenses were paid. They were the sponsors of the supper held in the school cafeteria.

Conferecne Opens Against Springlake

The Friona Chiefs, faced with perhaps their roughest schedule in years, get their trial by fire tomorrow night when they start their first year as a Class A football team.

The conference opponent will be Springlake, a strong team which last week beat Muleshoe. Five other conference opponents will be Happy, Kress, Amherst, Dimmitt, and Sudan—all considered to have better than average teams.

Rugged workouts with plenty of emphasis on contact were the rule for the wearers of the red jerseys this week, as they braced themselves for rugged going the rest of the season.

Friona Will Collect $32,266.78 In Taxes

Showing a continued business and residential development, the total assessed valuation of the City of Friona rose from $2,384,380 in 1953 to $2,581,450 this year, for an increase of about $200,000.

With a tax rate of $1.25 per $100 valuation, the city plans to receive $32,266.78 in revenue for 1954. Collections for the city are considered good, with 92.9 percent of the taxes having been collected in 1953.

The deadline for payment of city taxes is Jan. 31.

in & around FRIONA with the gang

We hear that Sam Williams, up at Consumers, is really in a sweat. The rumor is out that Jake Lamb, who went to Truth or Consequences a little while ago vowing that he'd outdo Sam, has landed a 51-pound catfish.

If this is true, it would really be an upset for Sam, who has been holding the town record with a 50-pounder for some time. We understand that there is to be some checking done by certain parties on this story to see how much truth there is in it. Jake is also supposed to have a 35-pounder on ice for a clincher. We'll see.

We thought that we were going to show Dalton Caffey something that would make his eyes pop Monday when we pulled out our picture of 8-foot-high cotton (see front page).

But it was sure a letdown when he said quick as a wink, "That's Pema, isn't it?" It turned out that Dalton is a former Pema cotton grower himself, and it was no mystery to him. Pema looks just like okra when it's growing, he says.

The reason our superintendent is so familiar with the cotton is simple—he grew it for about four years when living in the Pecos Valley.

"Wouldn't grow another seed of it if I got the chance," he averred. Knowing that the long-staple variety would yield three bales an acre and command over $1 per pound, we were hard pressed to find out the reasons for his attitude, but found them pretty convincing.

Turns out that this particular variety has to be hand-picked (not pulled), and that laborers don't want to mess with it unless they have to.

A picker must be very careful when handling the Pema lint, lest he should crush the fragile linters. The cotton is placed in a cotton sack just as are our bolls, but it cannot be packed tightly. The sack must be emptied frequently, and the cotton cannot be "tromped" into the trailer.

At the gin, Pema is a real mess, says Caffey. No suction pipe can be used to hoist it from the trailer. It is taken out by hand with pitchforks. On top of that, special ginning equipment is required. There probably isn't a gin within 200 miles that could handle it. Well!

Friona opens its conference opposite Springlake tomorrow night. There seems to be a transformation taking place in the so-far-winless Chiefs.

Monday afternoon they were being drilled under a hot fall sun by the coaches until everyone was wringing wet with sweat. "We've lost all the games we can lose now," we heard one squad member say.

We hope the boys get into the spirit of things and make a real comeback against their conference opponents—which, after all, is where it really counts. It looks as though they're going to try.

Did you read about "Pete" the escaped python at Ft. Worth? Well, in our community, we have a similar happening. Of course, Ft. Worth is much larger than Friona and so is a python larger than a garter snake. So our adventure is smaller than the python episode. Gert, the garter snake, escaped from the science room over the weekend. Just how he (she?) came to get out is a mystery. The school's greatest detectives have been on the hunt but no trace of Gert has been found. Anyone having information on the whereabouts of the escapee are asked to notify anyone concerned (namely, the FHS students). Who knows when Gert may turn up in a desk somewhere?

The Thespians are giving a play on the first Friday in December, "Finders, Creepers". The three-act comedy-mystery contains seven women: Celeste, Evelyn Ray; Nina Tugley, Jan Edelman; Aunt Mary, Eugenia Landrum; Madeline, Ann McKee; Daphne, Marie White; Frankie, Judy Bruns.

Male characters are: Hercules Nelson, Colton Renner; Wilburn Nelson, Gerald Floyd; Uncle Bob, Ray Dean Fleming; Mr. Quigley, Don Lewis; Claude, Morris Bruns; Mr. Brown, Charles Kirk; Harry Schuster, Randol Allen. Student director is Sue Cranfill. Mrs. White and Mr. Childers are adult sponsors.

Those on the "Arrow Staff", the school paper are: editor, Gay Cass; assistant, Jane Phipps; feature writers, Evelyn Ray, Randol Allen; FHA, Linda Gee; FFA, Morris Bruns; music, Deniese Magness; science, Ann McKee, Sue Cranfill, Eva Woolbright; sports, Deann Buske, Carol Blackburn;

The paper is published every two weeks.

In the vocal department, the girls choir, composed of 25, has been sight-reading and getting ready for performances. The girls' sextet, made up of Zelma Fay Beatty, Cleta Stowers, June White, Deann Buske, Phyllis Treider and Deniese Magness, has added an honorary member, Don Lewis. Betty Agee is the accompanist.

FFA met and an objective committee was selected, also an invitation committee.

All dues were payable Friday! There was talk of sending a delegate to the national convention in Kansas City in October. At present, plans are being made for a trip to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show in January. There are 64 boys in ag this year.

All members of the band are anxiously awaiting arrival of new uniforms, which should be here within three weeks. They are gray with red and white braid. Silver is the hat trim, which will also be decorated with a red plume.

These swell new uniforms will certainly improve the looks of the band—and probably make them sound as nice as they look. A band of 70 pieces is one any high school would be proud to have.

On Monday, Tim Magness substituted for band director, J. D. Fry.

Impressive Ceremony Unites Young Couple

In an impressive candlelight ceremony held Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church of Friona, Miss Mary Bell McGlothlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGlothlin, became the bride of Dale Randolph Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bee Westbrook, all of Friona.

Rev. U. S. Sherrill, pastor, directed the double-ring service as the young couple stood before the altar, which was flanked with baskets of white gladioli and complimentary greenery. Further accent was furnished by a basket of white carnations, red roses and greenery in the center background. Flanking candelabra held wedding tapers to give illumination, and Misses Brenda Collier and JoAnn Altman, niece of the bridegroom, were candlelighters. They wore matching formal-length gowns of yellow taffeta.

Miss Deniese Magness presented the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss June White as she sang "Because".

Mrs. DeWayne Cleveland, of Floydada, was matron of honor for her sister and wore a floor length aqua taffeta dress with a graceful off-shoulder neckline, and netting at the neck, with tiny cap sleeves. She carried a nosegay of white carnations tied with aqua ribbon. Bridesmaids included Miss Francis McGlothlin, sister of the bride, and Miss Laura Nell Hardesty. Their dresses were fashioned after the one worn by the matron of honor, with Miss McGlothlin choosing a yellow ensemble and Miss Hardesty wearing orchid. Each carried a nosegay of white carnations, tied with ribbon matching the costume.

Best man was Kenneth Bevel, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Jerry Brock and L. E. Bevel Jr., cousin of the groom.

Miss Gail McGlothlin, sister of the bride, served as flower girl, carrying a white basket of red rose petals. Her blue taffeta formal featured a square neckline with sequin trim, and a full overskirt of nylon net. She wore a wristlet of white carnations tied with ribbon complimenting her dress, and the bandeau in her hair was sprinkled with white flowers and sequins.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin, fashioned with bracelet length sleeves extending to points over the hands and with a Chantilly silk lace inset. The pointed bodice extended into a billowing floor length skirt, and the stand-up collar of Chantilly silk lace was accented by tiny covered buttons from neckline to waist. Her white satin ballerina slippers were brocaded in silver.

A fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a tiara of satin and lace edged in seed pearls, and her bridal bouquet was of red roses, laid atop a white Bible. Satin streamers showered from the arrangement.

For something old and borrowed, she carried the Bible, something new was her dress and blue was a garter.

At the conclusion of the vows, the young couple knelt on white satin pillows as Miss White sang "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Miss Magness.

Mrs. McGlothlin, mother of the bride, chose a gray suit with shocking pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mother of the groom wore a navy dress with navy and white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Friona Club House. Crystal appointments were used for the serving table, which was covered with ecru lace. The two-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and confections of red roses and white wedding bells were sprinkled over the cake.

Mrs. Elmer Altman registered the guests; Mrs. Jerry Brock and Miss Ann McKee presided at the serving table.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a gray and red wool suit with gray accessories.

The bride was graduated last year from Friona schools and was class favorite her senior year. Westbrook also attended school in Friona, and has been engaged in farming. The young couple will be at home in Friona.

Shower Given

A bridal shower honored the bride, prior to her marriage. Chosen by the honoree, the color scheme was orchid, yellow and aqua. Serving table was covered with a lace cloth, with a mammoth bouquet of garden flowers as centerpiece and the motif emphasized by bride and groom figurines.

From yellow tapers extended streamers of orchid and aqua, terminating at the table edge with attached showers of orange blossoms.

The gift tables were covered with orchid cloths. Miss Deniese Magness furnished soft piano music.

Guests included Mesdames Lucy Altman, JoAnn Altman, Ronnie Altman, Bee Westbrook, J. B. Westbrook, Wesley Hardesty, Jerry Brock, James B. Collier, S. L. McLellan, R. B. ALL IN ONE BASKET!

Carrying one's eggs all in one basket can prove to be a costly experience—especially if you have an accident! It's risky, too, to be careless about what kind of products you have around your farm supply house.

Why not be safe at all times and stock Consumers products—a collection of oils, greases, fuels, and retail needs unequaled in quality and acceptance.
