Swimming Pool Will Be Discussion Topic

Fire Truck Due Here Jan. 23

Although work has not yet started on Farwell's new fire station, the truck and equipment are scheduled to arrive here by January 23 or before. Until the new building is completed the truck will be housed temporarily at Farwell Hardware.

The Ford truck is complete with a 500-gallon pumper, fittings, extinguishers, and hose. The chassis was purchased from McKillip Motor Company at cost and Howe Equipment Company installed the fire fighting machine.

It is not known when construction will get underway on the new station, as a site still has to be purchased and bids received for the construction of the building.

Three Farm Sales Set Next Week

Three farm sales have been announced for next week by Dick Doshier of the State Line Commission Company. The first one is scheduled at Doshier's place, one mile west, one south, and one west of the Texico Port of Entry Tuesday, January 8. Sale time is 10 a.m.

The following day, Wednesday, also beginning at 10 o'clock, will be one at the Herman Neff farm, 2 1/2 miles east and 1 1/4 miles north of Frbona on the Amarillo highway.

Thursday, January 10, an auction will be conducted at Fred Bolton's farm, 15 mile east of Farwell on Farm-to-Market road 960.

Doshier and Col. Dean Sanders of Hart will be auctioneers at all three sales and Jerrel Doshier will be clerk. Complete lists of items to be sold are shown in advertisements in this issue.

Texico Youth Overtakes Car In Oklahoma

Eldon Thatcher, a Texico youth, overturned his car three times near Sayre, Oklahoma, Christmas night when he fell asleep at the wheel of his 1947 Ford. The car went off the highway, hitting a post and rolling down an embankment. Damage to the vehicle was total.

Receiving minor injuries in the mishap was Thatcher's sister, Anna Lois. She was taken to a hospital at Elk City, Oklahoma, and was released the following morning. Thatcher and two other occupants in the car were unhurt.

The two youths, children of Mrs. Effie Thatcher of Texico, were in Oklahoma visiting friends.

Call Meeting for PTA Executives

Mrs. Joyce Coffman, president of the Farwell Parent Teacher Association, announces that there will be a call meeting of the executive body of the organization at her home on Monday afternoon, January 7, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Coffman says that the committee needs to make plans for the annual senior supper and that this meeting is very important. She urges all officers of the PTA to attend.

Last-Second Tip-in Gives Steers Win

A tip-in shot by Johnny Lovelace before the buzzer sounded gave the Farwell Steers a 46-41 win over the Lazbuddie Longhorns here Tuesday night. The tip-in gave Farwell a split for the night as the Lazbuddie girls team won the first game by a 42-26 count.

With the game tied up, the Steers had possession of the ball with 25 seconds remaining and stalled for a last-second shot. With five seconds to go the attempted shot was missed and Lovelace controlled the rebound. The tip rolled around the rim and dropped through the bucket just as the buzzer ended the game.

It was one of those ball games where neither team enjoyed much of an advantage at any time and the lead changed hands many times. A first quarter saw the

"OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF PARMER COUNTY"

FARWELL, TEXAS THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1957 NUMBER 13

TO BE GIVEN AWAY—This new 1957 four-door Plymouth Savoy will be awarded to some lucky person Saturday afternoon, January 12, at the Farwell football field. Fourteen Texico-Farwell merchants are teaming up to award this auto which is complete with all accessories, including push-button drive.

MOD Drive Started

The 1957 March of Dimes is underway in Parmer County, announce Hugh Moseley, chapter chairman, and Raymond Euler, campaign director.

Moseley has prepared direct mail appeals for contributions and Euler is supplying community chairmen with supplies for distribution in trade centers and at other activities they may have planned.

The theme of the MOD this year is "Let's Finish the Fight." The advent of the Salk vaccine which, according to the medical profession, has opened the door to prevention of polio, makes it even more important that contributions be made for its perfection as well as care and rehabilitation of victims already stricken," Euler says.

Sheriff's Office At New Location

The Parmer County Sheriff's office has been moved from its old location to a new one in the courthouse at Farwell. The new site is on the east side of the hall on the first floor, the space formerly occupied by the county agent.

The move was made to make room for the new office, created by a special election last year. Lee Thompson, newly elected assessor-collector, will occupy the old sheriff's office.

Prior to January 1, Chas. Lovelace filled both the sheriff and assessor-collector positions.

for its omission, according to the chairman. "Any groups wishing to stage activities, such as ball games, stunts, or other public events, will be welcomed and given full support," Euler says.

Parmer County citizens contributed over $3,300 last year and it is hoped that the figure will not be less this year. The talent show, which has been featured for the past two years, will not be conducted this year but it is believed that other events will compensate

Bobbie Richardson To Tennessee Meet

Miss Bobbie Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Richardson of Texico, and a freshman at Eastern New Mexico University, was one of the four delegates from the Baptist Student Union at the University to attend the Student World Missions Congress held in Nashville, Tenn., December 27 through the 30th.

Over 2500 delegates from the entire nation attended this educational meeting which is sponsored by the student department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board.

Along with other New Mexico delegates, Bobbie traveled to Nashville on a chartered bus which the New Mexico group met in Amarillo. Accompanying the group from ENMU as a sponsor was Ruth Peoples, director of the University Baptist Student Union.

Bobbie reports that she enjoyed the meeting tremendously and that especially inspirational were the talks made by the evangelist, Billy Graham.

Howard Billingsley Improving at Home

Howard Billingsley is reported to be improving steadily at his home in Texico this week. Howard was released from the Hotel Dieu Hospital in El Paso on Sunday, December 23, after having been confined there since November 20.

Howard was seriously injured when struck by a car on that date in Alamogordo, N. M.

Fireboys Receive Thanks for Donation

The Texico-Farwell Fireboys have received a certificate in appreciation of their $200 donation to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch recently. The donation was given to help with the purchase of fire-fighting equipment at the ranch.

The certificate reads, "The boys of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch have elected The Texico-Farwell Fire Department partners for life with appreciation for help given."

It was voted at a meeting of the local fireboys last week to give a similar donation to New Mexico's Boys Ranch.

The possibilities of undertaking a swimming pool project will be discussed at a joint meeting of the Texico and Farwell Chambers of Commerce tonight at the old Legion Hall, beginning at 8 p. m.

A plan for such a project in the Twin Cities has been outlined by Jess Landrum and it is to be presented to the two organizations for endorsement or rejection. Whether such a program is feasible or not will probably be determined by response at the meeting.

All townspeople with ideas and suggestions are urged to attend and take part in the discussion. "This is not only a meeting of the Chambers but also all townspeople who want to take part," Landrum says.

It is hoped that a good representation of Texico-Farwell citizens will be on hand to give some indication as to whether the people are interested in a swimming pool. A poll will later be taken for the purpose of finding out how much money and labor families in the Texico and Farwell School Districts will pledge to the cause, according to Landrum.

"Tonight's meeting and the poll will give citizens a chance to say whether they are for or against the swimming pool project," Landrum states.

Landrum's plan calls for an organized program with everybody donating money and labor. "A swimming pool for Texico-Farwell can become a reality through our collective efforts, whether they be in large or small measure, he says, adding that "A thriving healthy community is attained only by the spontaneous cooperation of all its members."

Thirty-Six Attend Texico Exes Banquet

Thirty-six persons were on hand for the annual Texico exes banquet held at the school lunchroom Thursday evening, December 27. The banquet is held for ex-students and teachers of Texico, Pleasant Hill, Fairfield, Locust Grove, and Union Schools.

Fern Stout, superintendent of the Grady School System, was master of ceremonies for the event and the program consisted of the presentation of movies made of previous banquets.

Sam Randol of Farwell, exes prexy, represented the oldest class present. Randol was graduated in 1914. No recognition was made of the persons traveling the farthest distance to attend.

Also included on the program was a piano solo by Tom W. Langston and a talk by W. J. Matthews who spoke of experiences during his teaching career.

The menu for the evening included ham, peas, corn, rolls, coffee and peaches.

Mrs. Lloyd Roberts of Clovis, secretary-treasurer of the organization, reports that next year's banquet will be held on December 26 at the lunchroom.

Officers in the organization will remain the same for another year as they are elected for two year terms. Officers other than Randol and Mrs. Roberts include Ray Hungate of Clovis who is the vice-president.

Mrs. Lovelace Is Improving

Mrs. Willie Lovelace returned to her home Monday from Clovis Memorial Hospital where she underwent major surgery on December 21.

Her condition is reported as good this week and her daughter, Mrs. Hurschel Thurston of Dalhart, is here to stay with her for about a week.

Funeral Services Conducted for Mrs. Sally Potts

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Jane Potts, 69, were held in First Baptist Church in Bovina December 24. Rev. Virgil Goodwin, pastor of the church, officiated. Interment was in Bovina Cemetery.

Mrs. Potts died December 22 in Amarillo at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Kennedy. She was born March 9, 1887 in Hamilton County.

In 1901, she was married to John S. Potts in Cove. Her husband preceded her in death in 1952. They had lived in Parmer County since 1913, when they moved here from Comanche.

She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include four sons, Bonnie, of Amarillo; John, of Oklahoma City; Garland, of Amarillo; and Herbert, of Farwell; one daughter, Mrs. Kennedy; five sisters, four brothers, 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Aubrey Brock, Nat Read, Troy Armstrong, Joe Wilson, Reagan Looney, and Lester Rhinehart.

Encephalitis Newest Disease Threat to Parmer Countians

"It looks to me like we are quite likely to have a real problem with encephalitis in Parmer County next year. In time to come, I expect that we'll stop worrying about polio, and start worrying about encephalitis."

So warned Dr. Paul Spring, Parmer County health officer, this week, as he was questioned concerning reports that the Texas Plains and the Rio Grande Valley expect trouble from encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," in the coming year.

The Parmer County doctor indicated that he and other physicians in the area are concerned about the rising incidence of the disease, which, through a seeming oddity, is increasing in the area each year in spite of the fact that the vector or carrier is a mosquito, and that the Texas Plains are in the midst of history's greatest drought.

Dr. Spring says that he feels sure at least eight persons in the county had serious cases of encephalitis last season, and many others were only brushed by the sickness, and often dismissed their trouble as "the summer flu."

State health officials are predicting that encephalitis will become as serious and as widespread human disease entity as malaria formerly was, "if the present natural increase continues."

The forecast accompanied an appeal to city and county mosquito control units to begin making plans now for local mosquito abatement programs in the spring. An outbreak of the so-called "sleeping sickness" struck 336 Rio Grande Valley residents in 1954, and an outbreak this year in the Plains area of West Texas accounted for 341 cases.

They constitute two of the biggest outbreaks of the mosquito-borne disease ever recorded, State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle said. By contrast, only 96 cases were reported in 1955.

The Plains outbreak caused an estimated 15 deaths, Dr. Holle reported.

"Encephalitis seems to occur in epidemic waves," the commissioner said. "And for some unknown reason the outbreaks are becoming more frequent."

Dr. Holle advised city and county health departments to make sure they had both funds and technical personnel available for their mosquito killing campaigns in the spring.

He said State Health Department entomologists and vector control experts are available to local areas for consultation on their problems of mosquito control.

But he added: "Local programs will be useless without working funds."

Meanwhile, the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, meeting in New Orleans last month took cognizance of "the increasing exposure of man to mosquitoes due to various socioeconomic trends."

Dr. Spring has pointed out that there is no vaccine available. (Continued On Last Page)

Mrs. Frank Seale Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Frank Seale underwent major surgery at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo on Saturday, December 22, and again on Monday, December 31. Mrs. Seale was reported to be getting along fine after the first operation, but a report of her condition following surgery Monday had not been learned at press time.

$38,000 Earmarked For Road Repairs In Parmer County

The Texas Highway Department will spend $38,000 for improvements on highways in Parmer County during 1957. D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, has announced. This is in addition to the regular construction and maintenance program.

The State Highway Commission has approved this appropriation to improve already existing highways in this county, and there will be little or no additional right-of-way requirements, Greer said. At the December meeting of the highway commission, $30 million was allotted to 196 Texas counties for road improvement during 1957. The $30 million is being spent for shoulder widening, seal coat jobs, additional surfacing, and for widening of structure and highways in counties.

The 3 projects will be... (C)

Don't do it. Our hope that this advice will come before it's too late. Too late, that is, to stop you from leaving on an 10-mile trip with the wife and the small kids.

Maybe being the newspaper business, when you just about have to forget about vacations, isn't so bad after all. Two or three more vacations like the one we have just returned from would put us in a straight jacket, not to mention of the rhinestone.

Our trip to Rio Grande Valley, the Te. Gulf Coast, and some points in between is now history, by the hallowed moments of the excursion will forever remain blazoned into our subconscious. In fact, we wouldn't be at all surprised if we wake up this morning screaming about it.

Recipe for mad: Take one station wagon, just enough to take you think it will make the trip in good shape and just old enough to prove we were mistaken.

Add three rambunctious kids, two of them riding in the "I want" stage and not out of diapers.

Throw in a patient and long-suffering wife, who in spite of her virtues is only human and can and only so much.

Then a husband who has his faults too; mix well and lock them up for 1,800 miles.

In spite of all this, we still had fun, and after a few months to recuperate, we dare say we'd try again. In case you insist on trying it yourself, we'll leave you off on some mistakes we made.

The first one was thinking we had made a mistake when we left without a thermometer or other device of any kind to see along some water for the roads. The "I wanna drink" cries would have been cured with a little respite, we thought.

This false notion was placed in our proper light a day later on our trip, when we gave in and bought water jug at a roadside store.

To our dismay, we found that the mere knowledge by the children that there was a cooler in the car cultivated almost unquenchable thirst, and the throat-rasping cries from the little old Connie (R.C.'s 8-year old aunt) resulted in almost continual circulation of the jug.

After one round of jugging, about 10 minutes would elapse, and someone would take the jug for water again. If we suggested that they couldn't be thirsty again so soon, the tones of their voices would be a agony, rising in pitch and volume. They would roll their eyes and lol their tongues, as if you would think that they had just returned from a 20-day trip in the Sahara. The course, would be brought out gain. We couldn't stand this kind of torture.

Another big mistake was our liking to take along a side of beef, at least 15 pounds of ham, burger and a couple of dozen cans of pork and beans.

All of a sudden we discovered, and much to our dismay, that the little "babies" we have seen so accustomed to have sprung into voracious boys and girls who get hungry about every three hours and can inhale a plate of lunch like it was nothing more than a between-meals snack.

This oversight proved to be the most costly, because of the four ways we were gone, it was rare indeed when we picked up the tab at an eating establishment that didn't total more than $5 for the usload we had.

Add to this the junk picked up at every drugstore and curio shop passed, and you have some idea of how we seemed to feel our wallet cringe every time we looked into the rear view mirror and spotted those three hungry heads in the back seat.

Other more serious but still interesting trip sidelights:

We stopped in Johnson City north of San Antonio to get gas and fell into conversation with the station attendant. Knowing that this was the home of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the state political figure who has risen to widespread fame in only a short time, we asked him some unguarded questions, supposing this to be a good place to find "grassroots" opinions as any.

The small businessman told us that Johnson is by and large a very popular man in his home town, even though he does have some enemies. In fact, the attendant himself had once thought Johnson tainted in his famous senate election race, but since has changed his mind.

"He's a mighty fine man," he told us.

Padre Island, that long, narrow strip of Gulf-washed land running from near Brownsville clear up the coast to Corpus Christi, is some day going to be quite a place. Development possibilities (Continued On Last Page)

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Goals for 1957

With the beginning of a new year many individuals, businesses, and organizations establish goals to strive for during the ensuing 12 months. Going hand in hand with these goals are resolutions for making the coming year a better one for an individual as well as for his fellowman.

We once read that many times these goals and resolutions are too numerous and a person doesn't concentrate on any one too seriously. Thus, they all are soon forgotten. An answer to this is concentration on one or a few and putting forth every effort to fulfill them.

Numerous goals and resolutions look easy enough as one thinks about them, but when it comes to reality it is a different story. It is better to attempt a few things and complete them than to undertake numerous ones and fail in each.

With that in mind we will attempt to outline a goal for The Tribune, all individuals, and ones which we think should be strived for in Texico-Farwell.

As for The Tribune, we will try to give better news coverage to the area which we serve. Not that we haven't endeavored to give the best in the past, but lack of time in many instances and not knowing about some events have caused us to fall short of what we would like to do.

We are aware that this will probably exist in the future, but we will make every effort to cover local events to the extent that we are capable. To do this we will need the help of our readers, tipping us off on news. All news tips will be appreciated and will be followed through.

Individually, there could be many and they would differ from person to person. But, there are a few resolutions from which almost everyone could not go wrong. One would be getting along with your fellowman. Being able to get along with people is one of the hardest (even though it should be simple) things to do, especially if it is one whom we disagree with to a great extent.

To treat one's fellowman with decency and fairness no matter what his belief might be, is a resolution practically everyone would benefit from, if he strived to carry it out.

For Texico-Farwell there are many goals which we would like to see reached, but a few uppermost in our minds would be:

A SWIMMING POOL—Preliminary work is already underway, but much effort will have to be put forth before it becomes a reality. It is needed now and the longer it is put off, the more such a project would cost. Cost of materials is going up day by day.

AN ADEQUATE WATERWORKS FOR FARWELL—The present system does not meet the needs of the city. Even with a new fire department, fire protection will not be up to par until better lines and additional fire hydrants are installed.

MORE SCHOOLROOM SPACE—Both Texico and Farwell Schools are bursting at the seams with students, and the number is increasing each year. It will force the already over-burdened taxpayer to dig deeper in his pockets, but it will have to be done and should be done on a local scene—not through federal aid.

MORE RETAIL BUSINESSES—Texico-Farwell is dragging its feet as far as retail businesses go. There is a large trade territory which this community could serve if there were enough businesses to keep the people at home rather than going to neighboring cities.

A PARK—Presently, there is no place in the Twin Cities where a family or other groups can go for an outing or picnic. Possibly, in connection with a swimming pool a park could be realized. Water from the pool could make for trees and grass.

Who cares about chores When one has a happy family!

One reason that some of us have a bulging middle is that we hate to see good food go to waste, so we eat it and it goes to waist.

We would wager that no one had a quieter New Year's Eve than the Grahams. We did hear the merry-makers herald the New Year, on the radio.

Driving down through the valley last week, our husband suddenly remarked "Have you noticed that odd sweet odor that seems to be evident in this part of the country?"

"Yes," we answered, "but I can't figure out what it is."

So we rode along and commented at intervals on the odor, but when we finally got out of the fruit country, it was still with us. About that time, the 3-year-old held something up for us to see, remarking "mama, look, what is this I found under the seat." Sure enough, it was the father's shampoo that he had placed under the seat and it was leaking. Surely was an odd sweet odor.

EAT HEARTY AND "STARVE" Three "hearty meals a day" is no guarantee of good health. It is "what you eat" and not "how much" that counts.

Strangely enough, in the richest agricultural nation on earth, an alarming percentage of the population is deficient in consumption of vital nutrients such as calcium and vitamin C. Even over weight people who eat high-calorie foods rarely get a real balanced diet. The current popularity of high-calorie foods only tends to make some people fat, according to recent diet studies. A danger point is approached when these rich but unbalanced eating habits prevent a person from getting enough protective foods necessary for good health.

It is generally accepted that people should maintain in later years the weight that was ideal for their height and bone structure at the age 25. Yet, regional studies show that a large number of older people are seriously overweight. The problem today is to encourage people with low energy requirements to plan diets that eliminate surplus calories but do not curtail essential nutrients.

For example, the National Research Council recommends a daily intake of 8 grams of calcium as necessary for good health. Yet, only about one person in six takes that much calcium daily—and calcium is abundant in eggs, milk and cheese.

It is well established that vitamin C is important in maintaining health, teeth and gums. Most people are 10 percent below normal in vitamin C intake except in areas where citrus fruits are plentiful.

Texas is a big producer of citrus fruits. The diet study seems to suggest that foods rich in vitamin C should be promoted and made more attractive to adults, and that frozen and dried citrus concentrates and other dependable year-round sources deserve more attention.

Greater calcium consumption should be encouraged through increased public value of milk and perhaps also through development of new calcium-rich foods. Overeating of these foods may make a person fat, but he still may be starving for the essential nutrients.

Entertaining Tips

Taking a tip from their youngsters who like to appease their thirst for sweet beverages by using mix-it-yourself soft drink powders, homemakers have discovered that these beverage flavors in envelopes can be used as a base to make tempting drinks that appeal to grown-ups, too. For instance, by combining grape juice with an envelope of raspberry soft drink powder, sugar and water, you can make two quarts of flavorful, inexpensive punch in a few minutes' time, ready to serve whenever there's a hurry-up call for a tempting beverage to please grown-ups—as well as youngsters—and their guests.

RASPBERRY GRAPE-ADE PUNCH
1 package raspberry soft drink powder
1 cup sugar
2 cups grape juice
2 quarts water with ice cubes

Combine all ingredients. Stir to dissolve soft drink powder and sugar. Makes about 2 1/4 quarts, or 20 servings.

Two roaches who had decided to move picked up their sole possession, a cookie, and crawled under the door of a brand new apartment. They got settled and began eating their cookie when one of the roaches took a look around and said, "Don't think we're going to like it here—everything is so bright and shiny, so sanitary, so clean."

He: "I wonder what all those chickens are doing out in front of our house this morning?"
She: "Just curious, I suppose. They probably heard you were planning to lay a sidewalk today."

eliminate the birds, so we will have to control the mosquito."

Asked where all the mosquitoes are coming from, Dr. Spring points out that there is more surface water in the area than ever before. Ditches near irrigation fields provide ideal breeding places.

People in the cities water their lawns so heavily nowadays that they actually grow mosquitoes in their own back yards without being aware of it. "It's going to be a problem to control the mosquitoes," Dr. Spring asserted.

In Friona, truck-mounted power sprayer douses alleys and bushes with insecticide to kill the insects. This control is only a temporary measure, however, and new infestations always seem to hatch out or come in from other areas.

Work Begins on Texico Hall

UNPACK DISHES—These three members of the Texico Woman's Club are shown unpacking dishes and other equipment as work gets underway on the Texico Community Hall. They are, left to right, Mrs. Fred Danforth, Mrs. Jim Moss, and Mrs. Milton Henson. The equipment purchased from the local American Legion Auxiliary.

Members of the Texico Woman's Club and other volunteer workers started remodeling the building which is to be converted into a community hall, last weekend.

The work included replacing of broken window panes, putting screens on windows, hanging a door on the powder room, plastering of holes in walls, and painting ceiling and walls.

With the help of high school students, the women packed and moved the equipment recently purchased from the American Legion Auxiliary into the building.

Decoration plans call for the building to be painted green inside with a white ceiling. A floral designed drapery will be hung on the front windows and the double doors on the west side, which leads into the City Hall, according to Mrs. Fred Danforth, Woman's Club president. Mrs. Agric Jones has volunteered to make the draperies.

Other plans call for painting the front of the building and putting up a sign.

Those who helped with the work over the weekend were Grayson Roberts, Fred Danforth, John Adams, Curtis Miller, Jess Richardson, Joe and Buddy Spears, Weldon Bell, Mrs. Scotty Levins, Mrs. Jim Moss, Mrs. Milton Henson, Mrs. Danforth, Mikala Faville, Susan Levins, Janice Adams, Anita Moss, and D'Rene Danforth.

Mrs. Danforth expressed thanks to those who have helped with the work thus far and said that anyone wanting to work on the project at anytime may get a key to the building from her. Presently, there are stoves in the building which have to be connected, and lights to be installed, Mrs. Danforth says, adding that "We can use some men to help with the painting. The spray guns, compressors, and paint are in the building."

53,000-Bale Mark In Parmer County By December 1st

Folks here in Parmer County know it anyway, but the U. S. Department of Commerce is just now beginning to find out what an excellent cotton crop this area produced in 1956.

A report that included figures on ginnings up to December 1 has just been released by the department, and in it, Parmer County is listed as having 53,286 bales at that point in the harvest.

Checks by county newspapers two weeks ago with all gins in the county indicated a crop of 60,000 bales, and the official tabulations seem almost certain now to reach that amount.

At the same time last year, Parmer County gins had turned out 36,746 bales, — considerably less during that poor cotton growing year on the High Plains.

Parmer County, with a smaller acreage (about 40,000 harvested) has nosed out Castro, our neighbor to the east, according to the report. Castro ginnings totaled 51,658 up to December 1.

Bailey County had 69,883 bales. No report was given on Deaf Smith.

You don't get the news if you don't read the papers.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Though CARE, CROP and other national and international agencies of mercy receive lots of national publicity, we believe much more would be contributed to them if local civic and church leaders would give them recognition.

Friona High School students are due recognition for having diverted their regular Christmas gift money in school to CARE. Enough was contributed to deliver over 616 pounds of surplus milk, flour, eggs and other foods to men, women and children in sections of the world where they have no other source than such agencies for the bare necessities of life. Principal Raymond Cook is to be commended for leading the student body in the project, according to our information.

Hugh Blaylock, Friona Methodist pastor, led his young people in a like crusade Halloween night for a contribution to CROP. We heartily recommend that you give, and lead your children in giving to these causes; not primarily to make you feel better, though you will, but to make some hungry or cold child or man or woman feel better, and live.

Another Texas Legislative session will begin in a few days. Texas Farm Bureau will, as usual, have representatives there to present views voted upon by you and other members of Texas Farm Bureau in 1956. If you are particularly interested in some phase being considered, we would like to know of your interest. Write your representative and tell a member of FB's legislative committee.

Harry Hamilton and Les Bruns are co-chairmen, assisted by John Henderson, Summerfield, John Range, Lariat area, Vernon Symcox, Oklahoma Lane area, Donald Christian, Bovina area, and Jack Woods, Lazbuddie area. These men will lend their advice or assistance to you on any legislative problem on which Farm Bureau has taken a stand.

Texas Farm Bureau will be supporting a "Flexible Rate Law" for insurance in Texas, to replace the present "Standard Rate Law," which makes all drivers pay the same rate of insurance with no consideration for their careful driving. Economy of operation of a company would also allow lower rates for patrons under the proposed law which exists in 43 states at present.

Consider this: Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty. Proverbs 30-10.

Your newspaper is still the best buy.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

The New Year is now three days old and most of us have probably broken several of the resolutions which we made at the beginning of the year. There are people who disapprove of making resolutions because, "Well, we never keep them anyway."

Even though we do not keep all the resolutions we make, we generally become better homemakers as long as we keep trying. There are so many different angles to becoming good homemakers that it is difficult at times to decide which one is more important.

Are you planning a large party in the near future? If so, you might like to keep the following recipe for the next big event you are planning. This hot mulled punch is especially good for cold evenings.

Pour five No. 2 cans of apple juice into kettle, add three 2 inch sticks cinnamon and one tablespoon nutmeg and simmer for 20 minutes. Add 6 pints cranberry juice and two 46 ounce cans grapefruit-orange blend. Place whole cloves in two oranges and one lemon and drop into punch then heat to boiling. Stir in 1/2 cups honey. Heat punch bowl and fill with heated punch and spiced fruit. This makes about 2 gallons of punch or 2 cups each for 50 persons.

Now is the time to begin thinking about spring sewing. Some of us have hardly finished the woolen things we had planned to make, but the new materials are so very pretty and colorful that sewing on them is a temptation.

Plain dresses with fancy belts will be very good for girls of all ages and a lot of the new belts will have matching bags. According to the experts, pink and orchid will be the leading colors, but any pastel will be good.

Sheets are now being packaged in lots of two in matching colors with one a regular sheet and one a contour. Having a contoured sheet on the bottom is a great help to anyone but especially to inexperienced bedmakers. If you have a young daughter who is just beginning to learn to make her own bed, why not present her with some colorful sheets?

When you begin thinking about the things you hope to accomplish in 1957, don't forget to include some time for participation in church work, PTA activities, Scout work, and neighborliness. One resolution which would add a lot of enjoyment to the lives of many people would be, "Be a better neighbor in 1957."

Too many of us are too busy most of the time to stop long enough to even think about the neighbors. Yet in time of need, they are always the ones who come to our rescue.

It might even be a good idea to take time to visit your neighbors occasionally. Neighborhood visiting seems to be on the way to joining the list of vanishing pleasures in our way of living.

Some people are like blotters—they soak up most everything, but always get it backwards.

A prim little old lady was telling her friend about her awful shock upon finding two empty whiskey bottles in her garbage can. "You can imagine my embarrassment," she said. "I got them out fast because I didn't want the garbage man to think I drank."

"What did you do with them?" asked her friend.

"Well, the minister lives next door," was the reply, "so I put them in his garbage can; everybody knows he doesn't drink."

"I'm sorry, George, but I make it a rule never to lend money. It ruins a friendship."

"Don't worry about that; we never were what you would really call good friends."

4-H Achievement Et Is Saturday

Sat. January 5, will mark an occasion for many county 4-H Club girls as they meet for their achievement event at the Bo.

The program will get underway at the Bovina auditorium. The program will be staged on the program and welcome, the present awards by the county agents, the showing of slide pictures by J. B. and Cooper Young, and the adjournment of the session by the 4-H Club pledge and prayer.

Members of the recreation committees from every club in the county met December 20 in Bovina to make final plans for the event. A reporter for the group says that an interesting program has been planned and that an enjoyable time is in store for all who wish to attend.

All 4-H Clubbers in the county are especially urged to attend and all parents of 4-H members are invited.

After the program, the group will adjourn to the school gymnasium for games and refreshments. Girls and mothers planning to attend are asked to bring four sandwiches each, and boys are asked to bring 20 cents each. Parents attending will be in charge of serving refreshments.

Miss Sharron Thorn of the Lazbuddie Senior Club is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and Miss Judy Billingsley of the Farwell Club is publicity director for the event.

You can get a good education reading newspapers—but you can get a better one working for a newspaper.

Crop Improvement Mapped by 4-H

Recommendations of the panel of cotton experts from all phases of the industry, which met in Lubbock in November at a short staple research conference, have been announced by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Woodrow Fleming, Parmer County ginner, said this week.

The reorganization will use these recommendations in formulating a long range and immediate program for improvement of cotton produced and marketed on the South Plains. They will be presented to the directors at the PCG's January meeting.

George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of the PCG, explained the recommendations were made in brief form at the conclusion of the research meeting last November. Since then various chairmen of the panel have worked out details on the recommendations and submitted them to the PCG.

Genetics and breeding recommendations were broken down into fields of cotton improvement research which needs to be emphasized. These include work on fiber properties, boll types, earliness and disease resistance, and their reaction to environment.

In connection with this phase, Dr. Henry Barker, Washington, D.C., with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, announced that a committee will be assigned to work on problems at the Lubbock Station as soon as a person is located.

In the plow, disease and insect work is to be done in plow, diseases, insects and research with a number of throughout the High Pl.

Production recommendations call for irrigation, fertilization and soils.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas—Wednesday, January 2, 1957

The Hollis Hortons have been visiting in Rome, Georgia. While they were there, Mr. Hollis Horton Sr. baby-sat for the first time with his grandchildren who are two and three. His comment, "I believe they move faster than I can see."

— PCIC —

And now it is 1957. Start the new year by purchasing a new IH 450. The biggest four-row tractor on wheels.

— PCIC —

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner are building on their house in the northwest part of town. The new addition will about double the floor space of their present home.

— PCIC —

The Parmer County Implement Company doesn't plan to go into the used car business, but we have a good many on hand right now. Some are good and some are not so good, but we do have a good price on all of them.

— PCIC —

Our mother has been traveling with the boys some this past week and she is a firm believer in this little verse by Betty Lister: "No breast of pheasant under glass can tempt our little lad or lass. No filet medium disturbs their mealtime tedium. No matter where we dine or how imposing the list of chow—Answering each hungry one demands a hamburger on a bun."

— PCIC —

Breaking plows—sure we still have them. Come by and let's trade.

— PCIC —

Mrs. Charles Schlenker has been very ill this week and doesn't feel like having visitors yet.

— PCIC —

See the new Farmall 450 demonstrated with the new six-row lister-planter. When modern equipment is built, International Harvester will build it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Myster were hosts at a dinner party at their home New Year's eve. High score was Mr. and Mrs. Newn Jarrell and low score went Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osbor.

— PCIC —

Yes, our shop is busy. Ben Woody and make a date get your power unit ready for the next season.

— PCIC —

We are sure you have got antifreeze once and maybe several times this winter. The way to be perfectly safe with a cold spell hits, however, to keep a close check and add more antifreeze when necessary. Parmer County Implement Company still has lots of antifreeze for sale at the lowest price in town.

— PCIC —

The best time to have your motors and tractors repaired is when you aren't using them. Call 2091 and we will pick up your tractor or motor, put in first class working order, and deliver it back to your place.

Texas coastal and inland waters have over 450 species of fish. Over 4,000 rivers, bayous, creeks and lakes to put fish in, plus the big Gulf of Mexico. With 1,800 miles of coastline on the Gulf and the Rio Grande's 1,569 miles of winding course from source to mouth, there is no use crowding the other fellow's fishing hole—in Texas.

— PCIC —

Pre-watering season is just around the corner. Let our shop get your power unit ready. Don't wait until you start irrigating.

— PCIC —

Several girls spent New Year's eve at our house. Welcoming the New Year with Doris were Ruby Grubbs, Lavon Fleming, Phila and Lila Buske, Nancy Outland, Betty Agee, and Raye Jene Jones.

We still have a few new 400 tractors left. See these for a good deal.

Jeanne Beth Jordan is in the hospital in Amarillo. Beth, who is four months old, seems to be allergic to her home and her country as well as to her food. She is receiving treatments from a specialist and hopes to be home next week. Beth belongs to the Ben Jordans and to us. She is our grandchild.

Of the five leading species of four-legged game, over four million are killed in Texas every year. Of the five leading game birds, over seven million are killed annually. Texas has over 900 species of birds, and 30 of North America's species of waterfowl spend their winters here. The state bird is the mockingbird but it should be the wild turkey because nearly half of the nation's wild turkeys are in Texas.

— PCIC —

Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKenzie and children spent the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives in Alabama. Mrs. McKenzie, Jean, is a nurse at the Parmer County Community Hospital and Alabama is her home state. Keith is a mechanic at the Parmer County Implement Company.

If it is used equipment you are looking for, drive by our lot. Used Ford tractor with lots of running, just overhauled. Model L Case that will break a lot of land. Just go by and take a look—it's all for sale.

ations are augered into the feed lot trucks. Electric power directs the movement of the locally grown feed through the 75 horsepower grinder, to one of four overhead storage bins, through the scales, to the electric mixer and then augers the rations into the feed truck. The entire operation requires 100 horsepower.

"Profitable feed lot operation allows no margin for error; exact control is essential in mixing rations," says Kirchhoff. "Even a 1% error on mixing 25 tons of feed can be costly. Electric equipment gives us the positive control to eliminate mixing errors."

Benefits of precise ration mixing is shown by Carter-Kirchhoff's daily records on the feed consumed, medical treatment, if any, and the 30 day weight gain record. "Our records show that our feeders gain an average of 2.4 pounds per day," Kirchhoff stated that a long-time resident of the Panhandle would have a hard time distinguishing from his own neighborhood.

From a short distance below Corpus Christi up the coast for over two hundred miles toward Houston, there is an area as flat as the High Plains, and seemingly as fertile and productive. Oddly enough, the major crop of this strip near the Gulf is grain sorghum, our own bread and butter crop.

We spotted no irrigation wells or ditches in the area as we drove through it, so presume the moisture from the Gulf-bred rains to be sufficient for normal growing conditions. Our conversations from residents there led us to believe that they have yields from 2,000 to 3,000 pounds on the average.

The soil is heavy and dark with a high clay content, and appears to be very fertile. We were surprised to see the quality of the land right down almost to the water's edge. We would have presumed that land only a few hundred yards from the Gulf would be too salty to farm. Apparently it is not.

Farms of this territory are, for the most part, clean and well-kept. The general appearance is one of modest prosperity; not unlike the irrigated Plains. There are no stock in the area, and the absence of fences gives the land a clean appearance. Weeds, such as our tumbleweed, ragweed, and ticklegrass clusters, are nonexistent.

A killing freeze has not visited the area as yet, although all crops have been gathered, stalks shredded or disced in, and most farms are plowed and ready for next spring's work.

Below San Antonio, we passed through some of the counties that have received state and national publicity because of their drought conditions. Karnes County has been the subject of stories in state-circulated newspapers and the Saturday Evening Post in recent weeks.

It pleases us to report that much of this drought-devastated area has received considerable rainfall in just the last few days, and the seared pastures and fields are receiving the balm of God-given moisture.

Karnes City, where they actually have had bread lines for many people unable to earn enough to feed themselves, doesn't look as rough as we had expected it to. However, from the things we have heard and read, their condition must be far more acute than our own where we can rely on irrigation.

The real show-case of Texas agriculture, of course, is the lower Rio Grande Valley, where not only are vegetables grown the year around, but such tropical citrus fruits as oranges and grapefruit abound.

It is surprising, to one accustomed to the open Plains spaces, how concentrated is the area of the lower Valley. Raymondville, Brownsville, and Mission form the extremities of a triangular-shaped area for this virtually frost-free garden. The area of production is not more than 50 miles in width at any one spot.

Tropical palms, fruit trees, and vegetables offer a startling contrast to brushy ranchland that borders this sunny oasis. This is no paradise, however. In 1951, a hard freeze, killed many expensive citrus trees and cost farmers millions of dollars.

The big worry today is where fresh water will come from for domestic, industrial and agricultural needs. Even with storage at newly-completed Falcon Dam to the north, supplies cannot meet the need. Irrigation wells help somewhat, but for the most part, their water is brackish, and long-time pumping will increase the salt content of the land to undesirable degree.

One of the most impressive areas we passed through was the "winter garden" area below Uvalde and Dimmitt Counties. Carriza Springs and Crystal City appear to be the focal points of a large vegetable producing area here. Their principal crop is, if you've never heard, spinach, and at Crystal City we were told (though we didn't see it) is a monument of Popeye, the cartoon character who did so much with the young fry to popularize the eating of this nourishing green.

All of this area is irrigated from wells, having settings of around 150 feet. They get their water from limestone formations coming from the Edwards Plateau to the north.

We enjoyed seeing these sights, but it was still good to get back to the Plains. We still have more land, more suitable to mechanized farming, more water, and the best farmers in the world, even if we can't raise oranges outside the hothouse!

PUSHBUTTONS PROFIT FEED LOT OPERATORS

Daily conversion of 51,000 pounds of bulk feed into choice beef is a pushbutton operation at Carter-Kirchhoff feed lots in Plainview, Texas.

Six men handle the pushbutton operation of the electric mixing plant that efficiently grinds, weighs and mixes the fattening rations for as many as 2500 feeders and provides custom rations for 25 separate pens.

The venture started two years ago when two Plainview farmer-stockmen, John J. Kirchhoff and R. M. Carter, joined their capital and herds. The business has grown from a 400 head capacity to its present size. The rations fed are prescribed by Carter-Kirchhoff or by the cattle owners.

Pushbutton electric power controls the mill operation from receiving the feed until the mixed

John J. Kirchhoff operates one of the pushbutton controls which directs the movement, grinding, weighing, or mixing of grain sorghums, alfalfa or cottonseed hulls for individual pen finishing formulas.

Bureau To Request Soil Bank Changes

Texas Farm Bureau members will join with American FB during the next session of congress in attempting to amend soil bank legislation.

At Miami Beach, last month, delegates to the national convention approved the following recommendations "in order that the soil bank may make a maximum contribution to the solution of our surplus problem:"

(1) Maximum possible use should be made of CCC stocks for payments in kind under the acreage reserve program. Certificates entitling producers to payments in gains other than rice should be interchangeable.

(2) No acreage placed in the soil bank under either the acreage reserve or the conservation reserve should be harvested or grazed under any circumstances.

(3) Farmers placing land in either the acreage reserve or conservation reserve should be required to maintain the acreage of other land on the farm that normally is idle or devoted to uses that exclude it from the soil bank base.

(4) Producers desiring price supports should be required to place cropland in the soil bank in amounts determined by applying a percentage factor to their acreage devoted to allotted crops. This recommendation is not intended to require a reduction of acreage devoted to allotted crops. Producers would be free to meet this requirement either by placing such amounts of their allotted acreage as they desire, in the reserve program, or by placing "non-allotted" acreage in the conservation reserve program. In either case soil bank payments would be earned, says FB.

THE PARMER FARMER

One does not realize the true diversity of agriculture in the Southwest until one is able to see with his own eyes the great differences that latitude, soil types, and other factors make.

This was brought home to us during the past week as we took time for a week-long tour of Central, Coastal, and South Texas parts. For us, this was a very eye-opening experience, and helped us to see our own Plains farming in an altogether different light.

While the most noticeable thing about our travels was the marked difference between our farming and farming as it was carried on in the areas we visited, another conclusion, this one more subtle, came to our minds: there are parts of the Texas Coastal Plains

Effective Tuesday, January 1, Mack Bainum has purchased full and sole ownership of Blanton Butane, Inc., of Friona, Texas. We will now be known as Bainum Butane Company.

This change, we hasten to remind, is in name only, and we plan no alteration of either personnel or the reputation for service that we have built up during the past 17 years of business here. Mack will remain manager and owner, and the employees and policies of the business will be unchanged.

All accounts due and payable Blanton Butane, Inc., of Friona through December 31, will now be due and payable to Bainum Butane Company of Friona. It gives us great pleasure to announce that the ownership of this firm serving the needs of the farmers of this area is now all-locally owned and managed.
