

Business took us to Carlsbad last weekend, and we took advantage of better-than-average spring weather (the wind didn't blow) to look things over in that part of Eastern New Mexico.

It wasn't very long ago that we regarded that part of the country as practically worthless. We weren't the only ones, either. The looks of the land would discourage just about anybody.

But things have changed greatly in recent years. East of Carlsbad, across the Pecos, there are five tremendous potash mining plants going full blast, and a sixth is under construction.

These industrial installations are the backbone of the Carlsbad economy, and from the looks of some of the homes along the river, there are a lot of people doing okay down there.

The mines must have a tremendous labor force. Company buses by the score can be seen almost any time of the day hauling workers to and from the plants.

Potash, which has always been regarded essentially as a farm product, has come out in a different guise today. Although it still is a basic component of commercial fertilizer, modern chemistry has found hundreds of new uses for the chalky mineral. It seems to be almost as versatile, in fact, as petroleum, from which we have come to discover that almost anything can be made.

We looked over Hobbs and Lovington while down there, and they seem to be steaming right along on the crest of a big oil boom that started only a decade ago.

As one might expect, Hobbs is showing the most impressive strides toward becoming a city of significance. It is taking on a cosmopolitan air in suburban developments that hides its old "oil boom town" look that wasn't too pretty.

However, Lovington is no town to be sneezed at so far as growth goes. One of the main appeals Lovington has for us is that it does not rely on oil alone. There is some pretty decent farmland around the city, which is irrigated from the same (Ogallala) formation as our

W. S. McDaniel Is Buried Saturday

Final rites were conducted Saturday afternoon, March 30, for Wayne Smith McDaniel, 85, at the Church of Christ in Farwell with J. E. Randol of Clovis officiating.

Mr. McDaniel, a retired farmer, and a resident of the Texico-Farwell area since 1913, died Tuesday, March 26, at his home here where he had lived since 1943.

Born near Hemple, Mo. to Richard and Jane McDaniel on January 1, 1872, Mr. McDaniel was married to Kate D. Adleman on March 26, 1897. They moved to Hereford in 1908, and in 1913, they moved to Texico. The next year, the McDaniels moved south of Farwell where they lived until 1943.

Mrs. McDaniel preceded her husband in death on December 21, 1933, while they were living on the farm south of town.

McDaniel had been a member of the Church of Christ for more than 70 years and served as an elder of the local congregation for many years. He also served several terms as a member of the Farwell school board and five of his children were graduated from the Farwell school.

Six of the McDaniel's seven children survive, including four sons, George Ernest of Porterville, Calif., Raymond Lee of Oakland, Calif., Richard A. of Garberville, Calif., and Herbert W. of Tulsa, Okla.; two daughters, Mrs. Noma Jean Short of Roseburg, Ore., and Mrs. Maurine Reynolds of Clovis; 13 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. One child died at the age of two.

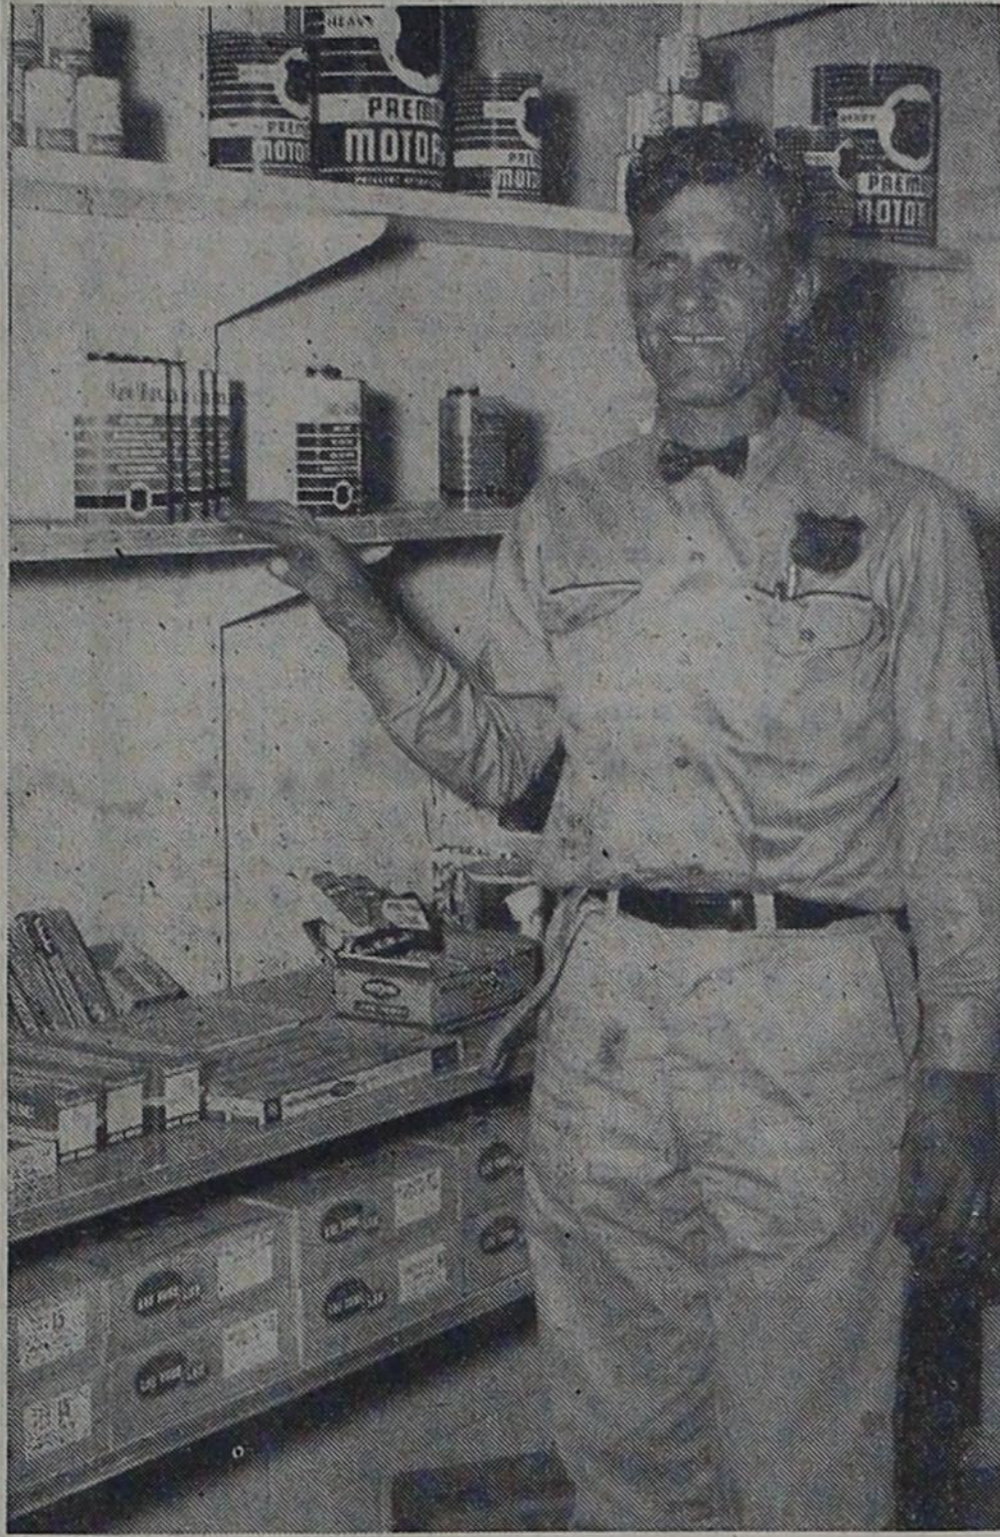

Pallbearers were C. J. Huffaker, Clarence Meeks, Sam Randol, Fred Gerles, John H. Reynolds and Clyde H. Reynolds. Interment was in the Texico Cemetery with Steed's of Clovis in charge.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this musical attraction.

GOC Has Alert Past Sunday

A special alert was conducted by the Texico-Farwell Ground Observers Corps this past Sunday, from 3 to 6 p. m. Six members participated and only one plane was spotted during the three hours the local post was manned.

The phone was out of order at the regular post, located in the old Legion hall, so the ground observers set up shop at the Tribune office. Taking part in the alert were John Armstrong, Wilma Linder, Dick Hapke, Jimmy Armstrong, Lex Huggins, and LaMoin Williams.

Community Auction Starts Saturday at 10

A community auction, sponsored by the Farwell FFA Chapter, is set for Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. The sale will take place just south of the Felix Monroe building on Third Street and proceeds from the event will be divided between the FFA Chapter and the Texico-Farwell swimming pool project.

Items to be sold include a tractor, tractor tires and tubes, car tires, hoist, metal tool cabinets, swing set, chicken brooders, feeders, power take-off sprayers, lawn mowers, and various other items.

On Tuesday of this week, Robert "Prof" Morton, FFA sponsor, said that consignments were beginning to come in and that quite likely a good assortment will be ready for the sale by Saturday. Consignments will be accepted until the sale is over.

"We will sell up into the afternoon as long as there is something to sell," Morton says. The sale will recess at noon and resume at 1

New Station Grand Opening Is Saturday

Two Cases Tried In Police Court

During the month of March, two cases were tried in Texico Police court by Magistrate Sam Lewis. One involved a man operating a motor vehicle with expired license plates, and the other case was for reckless driving.

Both were found guilty and were assessed fines of $5 and $50, plus court costs, Lewis says.

Aldridge New Mayor

Gast, McKillip Commissioners

Sam Aldridge is Farwell's new mayor. Compiling 85 votes in Tuesday's city election, Aldridge won over his opponent, D. W. Bagley, who received 40 votes.

Serving with the new mayor on the three-man city commission for the next two years will be Karl "Smoky" Gast and L. E. McKillip. Gast received the largest number of votes in the race with 89 and McKillip had 84. The other candidate for commissioner was C. C.

Christian, who received 70 votes.

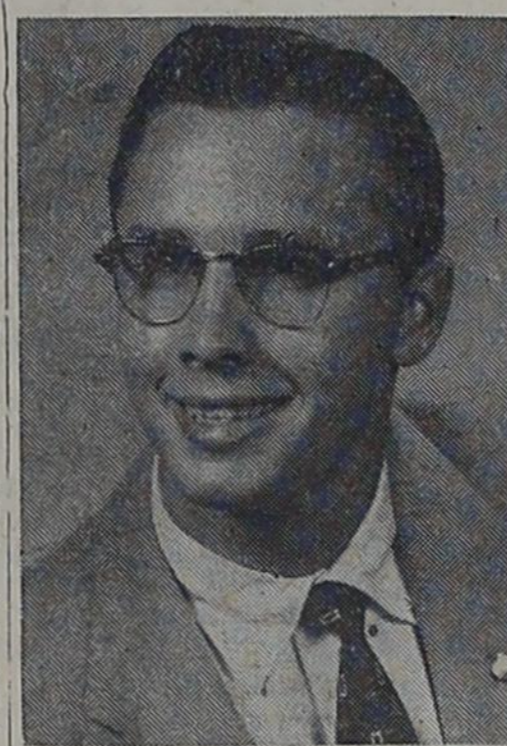

A last minute check of the state statutes caused a reprinting of the ballot Monday night. It had previously been understood that all candidates would run for the commission and the one receiving the largest number of votes would be mayor and the two runners-up would be commissioners.

However, on further study of the statutes it was found that the races had to be separated. The petitions filed had listed Aldridge and Bagley as candidates for mayor, and the other three for commissioners, so the ballots were printed to read that way, says Wilfred Quickel, city clerk.

The three elected officers were to have taken their oaths of office this week. Outgoing officers are Johnnie Williams, mayor, and Walter Hardage and Clarence Meeks, commissioners. The three did not seek re-election.

The new officials will take over their duties at the first meeting this month, which had not yet been set Wednesday morning.

Jerry Poteet Holds Revival

Jerry Poteet, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Poteet of Texico, and a sophomore Bible major at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene was guest speaker at a recent youth revival held at the Allendale Baptist Church of Wichita Falls.

Two other students from the Abilene school assisted Jerry in the revival which was held for three consecutive days at the Wichita church.

At Hardin Simmons Jerry is a member of the Baptist Student Union, executive council, ministerial council and life service band and missions.

Pool Materials Would Cost Less Than $15,000

An exact cost of the materials for the proposed Texico-Farwell swimming pool has been arrived at, reports Jess Landrum, member of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce Civic Improvement Committee.

A bid received last week from the A. E. Stein Company in New Braunfels, showed that pool equipment, including the filter system, would cost $7,318. This does not include the cement, sand, and gravel, needed for 240 cubic yards of concrete, but that would cost $2,500, Landrum says, boosting the total to $9,818 on the pool itself.

The swimming pool promoter goes on to say that the bath house would not exceed $2,500. This makes a total of $12,318 for the pool and bath house, and leaves over $2,500 from the original $15,000 figure for a steel fence, lights, and other equipment which might be needed.

A break-down of the materials listed by the Stein Company is as follows:

12½ tons reinforced steel, bent to specifications and 24 squares of 6x6 mesh reinforcement, $2,500.

Complete list of pool and filter pipe and pipe fittings, $835.

Inlet fittings, pool drains, weirs, etc., $295.

Filter equipment (recirculating pump and filter valves), $835.

Bromine disinfecting equipment $98.

Pool deck equipment, and accessories, $1,965.

Bids have been received from other companies, but none have compared in price with the above mentioned one. Cardinal Pools of Dallas, the company which furnished the plans and perspective drawing, would furnish the materials at about the same cost as Stein except for the filter system. The Cardinal filter system, an above-ground tank type, would cost approximately $3,500. The Stein filter is an under-ground gravity-flow sand-type.

Investigation into the effectiveness of the Stein filter is now underway, Landrum reports, and answers on questionnaires thus far show that it is highly satisfactory.

Farwell Voters Like Martin Dies

Parmer County voters went to the polls Tuesday and helped to elect Ralph Yarborough to his first major political office. It was the first time that the Austin Democrat carried the county in an election. He previously lost three times in the governor's race.

The county story:

Yarborough compiled a total of 354 votes, followed by Martin Dies, 294; Thad Hutcheson, 148; Searcy Bracewell, 71; John White, 28; Elmer Adams, 5; James P. Hart, 4; Clyde R. Orms, 2; C. O. Foerster Jr., 1; and H. J. Antoine, 1.

Strongholds for Yarborough in the county were Bovina and Lazbuddie. Bovina gave Yarborough a 111-30 margin over Dies, and Lazbuddie went 55-27 in his favor. Until the Bovina box reported, the last one to do so, Dies was

Break-In Reported At Dial's Drive-In

Dial's Drive-In in east Farwell was broken into Friday night and $12 to $15 in silver was stolen. The place was ransacked but nothing other than the money was reported gone, says Chas. Lovelace, Parmer County sheriff, who investigated the burglary.

Entrance to the eating place was gained by breaking a window at the rear of the building. No other damage was reported. The break-in was discovered by Cecil Rundell, operator of the firm, about 9 a. m. Saturday.

The break-in is similar to numerous burglaries which have occurred in Clovis recently, Lovelace says.

Security State Cited by Magazine For Big Growth

"The American Banker," nationally circulated magazine of banking, wired Security State Bank of Farwell its congratulations last weekend for the local institution's rise in national banking ratings.

The magazine described as "spectacular" the climb of Security State during the past year, as the local bank moved up 198 places in national rankings of the top 5500 banks in the United States. There are about 15,000 banks in the country.

This announcement came just as Security State was reporting its condition at the end of the first quarter of 1957, which saw deposits at $3,981,823. Total assets are $4,286,650.

A year ago, deposits rested at $3,375,436, and total assets were $3,661,891. R. W. Anderson, vice-president, says the increase over 1956 is principally a reflection of better crops last fall.

The telegram from the magazine was sent to G. D. "Gabe" Anderson, president, who in 1957 is observing his 30th year with Security State.

He came here from Friona in 1927, when deposits were about $85,000.

School Election To Be Saturday

Two school trustees for the Farwell Independent School District will be elected this Saturday, April 6. Running for the three-year terms are Walter Kaltwasser, Veron L. Billingsley, Clay Henson, and Herbert C. Potts.

Kaltwasser is a candidate for re-election. Presently, the other member of the board, whose term is expiring, is Paul Wurster. Wurster is not a candidate for re-election.

To be elected on the same day will be a county school trustee. Running for the post from Precinct 3 (Farwell) is Clyde Magness, present holder of the office. He is unopposed.

The voting place in Farwell will be the county court room and the polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

DO YOU WANT THIS SWIMMING POOL?—Shown above is an architect's drawing of the proposed Texico-Farwell swimming pool. The pool is being promoted by local civic clubs and voluntary contributions are being solicited for its construction. "The sooner it can be built, the cheaper it will be," says Jess Landrum, promoter of the project. He is referring to continued increasing costs of materials.

Hornets Buzz, Injuns Shave, But Steers Win

For the second time in district competition this year, the Farwell Steers have eked their way into a championship. The latest achievement for Farwell in its new district was the track and field championship Saturday, and at the expense of the Sudan Hornets.

It was a real photo finish and when the dust had settled down from all events at Steer stadium, the Farwell team had 45 points, Sudan 44½, and the Friona Chiefs had 43½. Morton finished with 12 points and Springlake had 9.

Farwell's previous championship was in football when a scant one point gave them the title over the Hornets, 20-19.

To take the title Saturday, Coach R. B. Tucker's Steers had to come from behind in the late events. Falling behind in the field events, the Steers trailed by 8 points going into the final three races. With the twin speedsters, David Willard and Roland Hillock, finishing first and second in the 220, Farwell went ahead by ½ point and managed to maintain the lead in the anxious waning moments of the meet.

Following the 220, Wayne Jesko, Steer miler, gave it every effort but had to settle for a close second to Friona's Sterling Prichard, who ran the four laps in 5:11.9. Sudan came in third and the score read, Farwell 42, Friona, 41½, and Sudan 39½.

The final race, the mile relay, proved to be no contest for any position, but it did bunch the scoring and no one was sure who was champion until the final tabulation had been checked and rechecked.

Sudan's foursome ran home in 3:43.7 in the relay event, the Steers finished second with 3:49.6, and Friona came in third.

Everything about the meet was close, including many of the races. In copping blue ribbons, the top three teams tied with four each. Morton and Springlake each had one. Also close was the individual scoring. Farwell's Willard came out on top, with 14½ points but he was pressed by Friona's Phillip Weatherly, who had 13, and Sudan's Gene Bartley with 12½.

Participants winning first and second places will represent the district in the regional meet at Lubbock next week. Going to the meet from Farwell will be Willard, R. Hillock, Jesko, Larry Pike, Glyn Hardage, Derrell Garner, Jerry Henson, Doug Hillock, Johnny Gulley, and Doug Tucker. Gerald Christian will be an alternate on the mile relay team.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Petitions Needed

More and more, our rural areas are being linked closer to the towns which they surround. With the addition of modern conveniences, living conditions on the farm are a far cry from what they used to be and are on a par with those in town in many respects. In some ways, better.

In recent years, something else has helped in bringing the people of the rural area in closer relationship with the people living in town. It is the addition of Farm-to-Market roads, a program which has been in existence for less than 10 years.

With good roads on which to travel, it is much easier for the farmer to haul his products to market, which is the chief reason behind building the roads. Also, rural families have much easier access to trade territories, schools, doctors, and recreation. With the high-powered automobile, few if any families make only a once-a-week trip to town.

For those who benefit from them, little explanation of the benefits of Farm-to-Market roads is needed. The addition of paved roads on rural routes has been a real asset to the farmers in many ways, and in future years many more will benefit from the farm road paving project.

This is especially true in Parmer County where the state paves several miles each year. Under the state program, the highway department does the paving and the county obtains the right-of-way for the roads. According to all indications, Parmer County will continue to receive several miles of farm roads in the state program each year. And, say the county commissioners, "We will accept them."

By accepting them, they mean that they will have to continue to furnish the right-of-way. To do this, it will be an expense, and will be done in one of two ways—calling an election to increase the tax rate 30 cents per $100 valuation, with the additional revenue going to the right-of-way fund, or the property valuation will be raised.

The county commissioners can raise the valuation without an election, but by so doing it will increase the revenue in all funds. The commissioners point out that funds other than the right-of-way are in the black and do not need additional revenue. Therefore, they propose the 30-cent increase, with the boost designated for the right-of-way fund.

They have publicly explained this before and are awaiting petitions, which have been distributed over the county, asking them to call an election. Signatures of 10 percent of the voters are all that is needed to call the election, and one from Friona has been submitted, bearing over 100 names. However, another 100 names are needed on a petition before the election can be called.

The commissioners believe they will have them sooner or later and will call an election when the required number of signatures on petitions have been received. It had been hoped by the local commissioner, Johnny McDonald, that the election could have been called in conjunction with the past senatorial election, which would have saved the county some election expense.

However, only the one precinct came through with a petition in a hurry and the other three have yet done nothing, according to the latest report. Perhaps there is no big rush now, but to save the county tax payers an increase in property valuation, some will have to be submitted, and it is time to start thinking about it.

It will be far better to have money where it is needed than to have excess funds in other categories, where it is not needed.

Tax Discussed By Texico Commission

The possibility of using a portion of Texico's recreation tax for tennis courts and park improvements was discussed at the monthly meeting of the Texico City Commission Monday night.

Agrie Jones and Curtis Miller, members of the recreation committee appointed by the commission, appeared before the group asking what amount was available for use. The two wondered about the possibility of using it for construction of tennis courts, a fire place, benches, and tables, at the City Park, located by the water tower.

The Texico Woman's Club plans to work on some park improvements, according to the committee. The two were of the opinion that tennis courts would be a worthwhile investment. The recreation fund presently has about $900 in it.

The commission was asked if the tennis courts would be a satisfactory investment for the fund, and how much money they could have to figure on. The commissioners said that about $750 of the figure could be used at the present time and the recreation committee is to meet sometime in the near future to see what can be worked out for park improvements with this money.

After meeting, the committee will make recommendations to the council, concerning the spending of the money. It was thought at the meeting that $750 would not go far at constructing tennis courts but the committee will check into how much can be done with the amount.

Other business brought up at the meeting included the question of whether or not to install additional water lines in the recently annexed portion of the city. The extension of the city limits is still being fought by several citizens, who recently appealed a district court ruling to the supreme court.

It was decided by the commission not to install any more lines on the annexed property until the suit had been cleared up. It will probably be several months before the case comes up before the supreme court.

Also, the commissioners purchased a new chlorinator for the well on the Santa Fe property. The state had recommended that the city do so, and the commissioners accepted a low bid for the purchase of one.

Lewis Pierce appeared before the commission and asked that his appeal of a city court decision to district court be called up by the city attorney or that the city withdraw charges. Pierce's appeal is presently pending in district court.

Pierce was found guilty last summer by Judge V. G. Sullivan in Texico police court for unlawfully digging a cesspool.

All five of the commissioners were present for the meeting. They included Scotty Levins, mayor; Judge Stone, Joe Helton, Bud Peyton, and Olan Schlueter, councilmen. Also, Juanita Autrey, clerk; Russell Johnson, water and sewer superintendent; and Earl Hartley, city attorney.

Bills for the month of March were approved. They were:

Water and Sewer Fund—Farwell Waterworks, $9.56; Mountain States Telephone Co., $8.10; Southwestern Public Service Co., $87.52; and Mrs. T. L. McLeod, $8.50.

General Fund—Mountain States Telephone Company, $14.61; Southwestern Public Service Company, $33.01; and Texico Waterworks, $7.55.

Judge Bills To Be In Farwell Monday

District Judge E. A. Bills will be in Farwell Monday, beginning a new term of court in Parmer County. On tap for the judge are several non-jury criminal cases and possibly some civil cases, reports Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

Usually, both grand and petit juries are summoned with the beginning of each new term, but since they were called just a short time ago, they will not be called up again until needed, the sheriff says.

Spencer Charged With Kidnapping

Robert Spencer, 20, of Arizona, was arrested near Friona Sunday afternoon and charged with kidnapping. He allegedly picked up a 14-year-old Friona girl Saturday afternoon, keeping her out most of the night. The girl was returned to her home unharmed, say county officers.

The arrest was made by Jim Roberts, Parmer County deputy sheriff, about 4 p.m. Sunday. The case has been bound over to the grand jury by Justice of Peace J. R. Thornton. Spencer's bond was set at $2,000.

Texico Band Concert Presented Monday

The bands of Texico School, under the direction of Fred Danforth, presented their annual concert at the school auditorium on Monday evening, April 1.

Although attendance was light, response to the presentation was very good according to the director.

Besides the regular band, the beginners band also performed, presenting two numbers.

"The Four Mistakes," a jive band composed of regular band members, also played several numbers.

Danforth introduced members of the seniors who will not be with the band next year, including Mikala Faville, Alex Brown and J. C. Kelley, clarinets; Dick Lockhart, baritone saxophone; Susan Levins, horn; and Weldon Bell, drums.

Numbers played by the bands included "Men of Ohio," a march by Fillmore; "Cranberry Corners, U.S.A." by Klein; "Allegheny Moon," Hoffman and Manning; "Colorama," DeRose;

Also, "Swing a Tune", Beeler;

"Londonderry Aire", Tolmage; "Bugle Call Boogie", Dilley; and "Ballet Pariesien", Offenbach, Issac.

Danforth complimented the group on the way they played the final number, which, according to the director, was a very difficult piece for this group.

Coastal Bermudagrass continues to grow in favor with Texas farmers and stockmen. Extension Pasture Specialist E. M. Trew lists several advantages for the hybrid over common Bermuda. It grows earlier in the spring and later in the fall; is more resistant to drought, disease and nematodes and above all is a higher producer of forage. Local county agents can supply detailed information on Coastal Bermuda.

TASTES CHANGING
American families are continually changing their tastes and habits in eating, and these changes affect the markets for various types of farm products. A. B. Wooten, extension economist, said this week that these changes reflect a number of influences such as a general rise in family incomes and new marketing methods which make new and more foods generally available.

Don't forget the FFA auction sale this week. There are numerous items that should be interesting to residents of this area. And by buying from the FFA boys, you help their educational program as well as helping to build a swimming pool for Texico-Farwell.

And when you take your coffee break, go by and eat with the FFA girls who are selling pie and coffee that day. They are also splitting the profits with the swimming pool fund.

And while I'm on the subject, don't forget that we're selling stationery, all-occasion cards and have the sweetest Bible devotional books for children. Our profits go to the swimming pool fund.

When you start getting those graduation announcements, give us a ring and let us have an opportunity to show you stationery for the seniors.

When about to fall on icy ground, a person usually tries desperately NOT to fall. The National Safety Council says the body and limbs should be relaxed. Instead of stiffening in an effort to avoid the fall, the body should be relaxed and allowed to slump in the direction of the fall.

Photographer To Be At Texico
A photographer from Boyd Photo Shop in Clovis will be at the Texico Woman's Club building on Saturday, April 6, from 10 a.m. until late afternoon to take pictures for anyone interested.

The project is being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Texico and interested individuals should call any club member to make an appointment.

A group picture of the club members will be taken at 5 p.m. and Mrs. Fred Danforth, president, urges all members who possibly can be on hand at that time.

Members especially urge students who are planning to graduate to have their photos made at this time, and an advertisement in this issue invites all interested parties to have their pictures made.

The club picture will go into the scrapbook which must be completed by next week.

a drop of net spendable income exceeding one fourth what you hoped for in a year's time, we're sure you know how GM stockholders and the management feel.

Still, the motor car giant led all other manufacturers in the nation in profit totals, with a whopping $847 million. Standard Oil of New Jersey was hot behind with $810 million in the black—up 14.2 percent over last year.

The Bell System made $755 million, up 13.8 percent, DuPont stashed away $383 million, and U.S. Steel's profits were $347 million. The latter two saw declines of 11.1 and 6 percent, respectively.

Ford Motor Company ranked 10th, but we notice that its profits dropped an astounding 45.9 percent from last year. That means, we suppose, that the generous Ford Foundation gifts may not be repeated with so many zeroes in the next year or so.

If you want to know some of the "coming" companies, you might look at their profit gains. Anaconda (copper manufacturers) jumped 70.6 percent, International Business Machines 23.1 percent, and Cities Service 21.7 percent. The only big money-maker we spotted with home operations anywhere near here was Phillips Petroleum, which ranked 19th with a $95 million profit in 1956.

Well, enough dreaming. We must get back to our two-bit job.

factory. A letter was received from Munday, Texas, this week, where the Stein Company constructed a pool in 1954.

The manager of the swimming pool there said that the Stein filter has proved satisfactory and they are well pleased with their pool in every respect. Also, he said that he would recommend this type filter over the conventional above-ground filter.

All of the questionnaires sent out have had the question, "Are pool receipts sufficient to pay pool operation (lifeguard, chemicals, etc.)?" The ones received thus far have said yes.

An answer from Muleshoe in regard to pool receipts being satisfactory for its operation, said, "Yes and also sufficient to retire annual payment on bonded indebtedness."

A visit to Tullia several months ago revealed that the community pool there was also operating at a profit. Too, the filter system, built by Stein, was operating satisfactorily, reported the manager of the pool, whom two Texico-Farwell men talked to.

"We are highly pleased with the answers received thus far, and we expect to get more replies in the next few weeks," Landrum says.

In answer to several questions on what the pool would cost to have it built by contract, Landrum gave several figures. The Stein company would build the pool for $23,000 and Cardinal Pools would construct it for $28,000. Neither of the prices include the bath house, fence, or apron around the pool. Also, a bid of about $30,000 has been received from Chester Products Company, of Hamilton, Ohio, on an aluminum pool.

Another company, Fiesta Pool Builders, with an office in Lubbock, said they would submit a bid, but have not yet done so, Landrum says.

Cardinal Pools offered to contract the pool and subtract for any materials, or voluntary labor that might be offered.

"Even though we have received prices on a complete contract job, we are still planning to build it by voluntary labor," Landrum points out.

"Our concern at present is to raise money for the materials. When the money is raised for the materials, we will then worry about building it. It may take some time, but sooner or later we should get it built by voluntary workers," he adds.

Plans presently call for the hiring of a local contractor to oversee the job, which will be done by all voluntary labor. The contractor's job would be to see that the job was done right, according to Landrum.

The pool which is being planned for the Twin Cities is 50 feet across the shallow end, tapering off to 35 feet at the deep end. The pool would be 80 feet long, and ranging from 2½ feet to 11 feet in depth. Too, a small wading pool is planned at one end.

"A site has already been donated and if we can get some more workers to assist with the fundraising we should be ready to start to work in time to have the pool built by a year from this summer," Landrum says.

leading by a 266-245 margin over Yarborough.

Both the top candidates carried three boxes in the county, and in two, plus the absentee votes, they finished in a tie. Yarborough boxes were Bovina, Lazbuddie, and Oklahoma Lane and those favoring Dies were Farwell, Friona, and Black Rhea and Lakeview gave each a like number and the four absentee ballots had both receiving two.

A total of 11 candidates copied votes from county precincts but other than the top four, who received organized backing in the county, the votes were light. Farwell gave the largest number of candidates votes, casting ballots for nine.

In Friona, the county's largest box Dies eked out a win over the Austin attorney, compiling 103 votes. Yarborough had 98. The close margin there, along with the Bovina landslide gave Yarborough the edge.

The county vote was considered average for this type of election. Over 900 ballots were cast which included about half of the qualified voters. City elections in Bovina and Farwell helped the turnout, but Friona's was lighter than it would have been, had there been a city election.

Lewis Tries 10 Cases In March

Ten cases were tried in Texico Justice of Peace Court during March by Sam N. Lewis. Fines ranged from $10 to $75, plus court costs.

Speeding topped the list of offenses with six being tried. Others were no permit for house trailer, 1; overload, 1; and violation of State Corporation Commission laws, 2. The month of March was down considerably over the previous month when 22 were tried. The 22 in February included speeding, 8; violation of SCC laws, 11; DWI, 1; overload, 1; and larceny, 1.

FFA Barbecue To Be April 30

The annual Farwell FFA barbecue has been set for April 30. The date for the parent-son feed was set at a meeting of the local FFA Chapter Monday night.

A program has not yet been planned but A. J. Jesko will furnish the meat, says Robert "Prof" Morton, FFA sponsor. More details on the barbecue will be worked out later.

Also at the meeting Monday the boys made plans to participate in two judging contests. Yesterday (Wednesday), three members were in Muleshoe taking part in a lamb judging contest. The three were Jerry Owens, John McCuan, and Roland Hillock.

The other judging contest which local boys will enter will be a dairy judging in Portales next Tuesday. It is not yet known which boys will make the trip from here, Morton says.

Another item brought up at the meeting was the building of a miniature golf course in Farwell. It was decided to investigate the possibility of constructing one for recreation purposes during the summer.

County Spelling Bee Tomorrow At Friona

Top spellers from Farwell Grade School and all over Parmer County will be in Friona tomorrow (Friday) participating in the County Spelling Bee. The bee is scheduled to get underway at 1 p.m.

Farwell will have three representatives in each division. One division is made up of the fifth and sixth grade and the second is the seventh and eighth graders. The top county speller in each event will go to Amarillo on April 27 for the regional bee, sponsored by the Amarillo Daily News.

The six students who will represent Farwell at Friona were to have been picked today at the school, says L. B. Penick, grade school principal. "Most of the time in recent weeks has been spent working for the literary events, so we are giving the students most of the week to work on spelling for the local contest," Penick says.

Accompanying the local students to the bee tomorrow will be Mrs. Winnie Bradley, who is in charge of the local spellers.

Volleyball Meet Scheduled Saturday

The District 16-B Interscholastic League volleyball tournament is set for Saturday at Springlake. Teams which will be participating are Sudan, Friona, Farwell, Morton, and Springlake.

Six tournaments are to be conducted. Participating will be boys and girls teams in the high school, junior and grade school divisions. The volleyball tournaments are the final interscholastic league spring events.

Commenting

with Carolyn

Congratulations to Gwennette Powell Branson and Glen Hancock who were crowned as the most beautiful girl and the most handsome boy at THS Tuesday night. Following the crowning, the '57 Wolverine annuals were distributed.

Tomorrow night at Hotel Clovis, the juniors will honor the seniors and faculty at the annual junior-senior banquet. As usual—Mr. Adams, the junior sponsor, has really planned for a spectacular occasion.

The senior class is enthusiastically planning their senior trip to Colorado. As an added feature this year, they will also visit El Porvenir Peak near Las Vegas.

Next weekend, the business ed and journalism students will be in Las Vegas competing for state awards. The speech class is scheduled to attend a clinic in Portales where they will present a one-act play, "Antic Spring." Yes, April 11, 12 and 13 are days that many THS students are looking forward to with much anticipation.

As the track season progresses, Raymond Hadley, sophomore, is showing some very fine ability. Possibly, he could be Texico's contribution for the all-state track team.

"In Appreciation," an editorial by Betty Pendergrass appearing in this paper, expresses how most THS students feel about the Woman's Club Recreation Center. To the Woman's Club from The Wolverine's Tale—"A job well done."

In Appreciation

By BETTY PENDERGRASS

For many years our community has been in need of a recreation center. Recently an enthusiastic group of women began a campaign to give our youth the opportunity to enjoy wholesome recreation.

Under the sponsorship of the Woman's Club, the entire town rallied to make this campaign a colossal success. Among other accomplishments, they have given students a place to go for entertainment after school functions, and on special occasions.

A library has been established in the teen center, which provides enjoyable entertainment to students who like to read. Games such as table-tennis, checkers, and ping-pong are also offered.

After many weeks of difficult work, their goal has been reached. To Mrs. Fred Danforth and all of the members of the Woman's Club, we would like to say, on behalf of student body, "Thanks for the time and effort you've spent originating 'teen town.' You have passed a landmark that is almost a necessity to any community."

To Present Program

The seventh and eighth grade students are planning their annual spring program for Tuesday, April 9, in the gymnasium.

Music, singing, folk games, pantomimes, and patriotic skits will be featured in the entertainment. All seventh and eighth graders will participate in the program.

"There will be no admission," state the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth and Curtis Miller. The seventh grade is sorry to lose Robert and H. W. Lawson who recently moved.

English notebooks have been made for the seventh grade to put their English papers in. Sharon Webb has been absent this week on account of illness.

Texico Press Club Attends Press Meet

The Texico High School Press Club attended the Panhandle High School Press Association at West Texas State College at Canyon, Tuesday, March 19.

Following registration at 9 was a short talent show. Then lectures were given on feature writing, headlines, yearbooks and Mimeograph. Immediately following the election of officers was a luncheon served at the school cafeteria.

Concluding the program was the presentation of awards. Out of the 43 schools represented there, only about 12 schools received certificates for outstanding work.

Receiving honorable mention awards from Texico were Verlene Thigpen on news writing and Audrey Hapke on feature writing.

Students attending were Betty Pendergrass, Carolyn Curd, Mikala Faville, Glenda Richardson, Joyce Gillean, Susan Levins, Rebecca Richardson, Verlene Thigpen, Audrey Hapke, and Melba Doshier. Sponsoring the trip were Naomi Hapke and Mrs. Jimmie Allman.

Texico Speech Group To Be In Festival

Six Texico High School speech students and their sponsor, Mrs. Jimmie Allman, are to participate in a speech festival being sponsored by the Eastern New Mexico speech department on April 12 and 13.

A one-act comedy entitled "Antic Spring" will be presented by Alex Brown, Dick Lockhart, Audrey Hapke, Betty Pendergrass, Weldon Bell and Susan Levins. A panel of judges will criticize the plays although the plays will not be placed. Certificates will be awarded for outstanding performances and two $50 scholarships are to be awarded by the college.

The program will include various speech activities, lectures and movies as well as one-act plays.

Entertainment in the form of a picnic, banquet, and a three-act play will be furnished by students from the college.

Junior Play Is Big Hit

Junior sponsors, John Adams and Mrs. Mark Fairman, report that the junior play "If Mother Only Knew" presented Friday, March 22, was a big hit and that about $85 was taken in at the door.

If you missed the show you missed numerous laughs because the audience was kept laughing the entire length of the play.

The characters for the play were: Mrs. Maxwell played by Rebecca Richardson; Aunt Mary played by Lynell Lovett; Connie Maxwell played by Gloria Johnson; Betty Lou Maxwell played by Audrey Hapke; Bernadine played by Melva Doshier; Wilbur Maxwell played by Nathan Tharp; Hercules Nelson played by Dwayne Winkles; Dr.

Recreation School Held at Farwell

Miss Lucille Moore, recreation specialist from the Agriculture Extension Service at College Station, was in Farwell on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week to conduct a recreation training school for 4-H Club recreation leaders from Parmer County. Also represented at the training sessions were 4-H and adult leaders from Castro and Deaf Smith Counties.

Starting the sessions off with lectures on how training leaders should get the attention of their audiences and participants, Miss Moore then showed the group how to play many new games. The recreation specialist emphasized the importance of the leader in getting a group to join in the activities of a group party and told the attendants that planning was one of the most important parts of the role of a leader. Miss Moore stated that a person should plan at least one full day ahead before giving a party, and that when "party time" arrives, he should have necessary equipment ready. She explained that the more persons involved in a game, the more fun there would be, and told the group that each leader should "employ" several assistants in each activity.

Explaining the game to the group, even if they already think they know how to play it, is vital, remarked the specialist. After explaining the rules of the game, the leader should then "show" them how, she said.

Listing the most important rules for leaders, Miss Moore put planning first. Number two on the list was that the leader himself must look like he's enjoying himself. Next in line was that the leader must know what he wants done and how to do it. Explaining it to the group was next and finally, a leader should know when to stop one activity and move on to another. And the specialist says that that time is when everyone is enjoying himself in that particular game so that one game will not be "worn out."

Miss Moore's sessions were especially beneficial to the 4-H leaders attending because they are the ones in charge of the county-wide parties staged throughout the year by the 4-H clubs. And with such large crowds for the parties, sometimes it is difficult to get all of the attendants to participate.

Among those attending the meetings besides Joe Jones, Parmer County Agent, Miss Jimmie Lou Wainwright, home demonstration agent for the county, and Miss Moore, were Mrs. Earl Plank, Earleen Plank, Mrs. Cecil Curtis, Don Curtis, John McCuan, Diann Barnes, Bonnie Cochran, Pat Chitwood, Mrs. Dee Chitwood;

Black Community Presented Award

The Black Neighborhood Club was one of several organizations to receive group awards from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council at the annual council meeting held in Houston last week. Recognition certificates were presented to groups and individuals for their outstanding contributions to farm and home safety during 1956.

Residents of the Black community on hand at the Houston meeting to receive the award were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Braxton and Mr. and Mrs. John Bengier.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We are pleased to note that several Plains congressmen are getting around to stating publicly that federal spending should be cut deeply, and that this can only be done when the people at home slow down on their requests for federal checks. Farm Bureau has held this view for some time, and has been rebuked quite severely by some political groups and individuals.

The truth of the matter that ultimately almost had to be recognized, is that our servant should not be made the manager of our estate. We noted with some satisfaction, that at the forum conducted in Abilene a few days ago by some congressmen and senators, the audience applauded statements that indicated a need for a return to more localized, and less centralized government.

The writer was privileged to accompany the Plains Farm Bureau leaders who journeyed down to the capitol in Austin last week to visit with our legislators and see them in action in the house and senate. It was both enlightening and enjoyable. We found Farm Bureau legislation being given thorough and air consideration. Several of those bills are assured of passage.

The opposing force is not the legislators themselves, but some of the lobbyists who have selfish individual dollar interests that might be jeopardized by some of the proposals. Among such bills are the egg grading and labeling bill, milk labeling, household insecticide labeling, flexible insurance rates, and several others. Milk processors and distributors strongly opposed passage of a "minimum butterfat content labeling bill," even though they insisted they never distributed milk below these minimum requirements.

The only argument they presented was that it would cost the state government so much money. The fact was quickly established that it would not cost the state government one cent more, since the milk must be inspected, whether labeled or not. The bill is still under committee consideration.

The Electric Cooperative Corporation Act, actively supported by Farm Bureau, is meeting strong opposition by private power companies, but is expected to become enacted anyway. Your letter to your representative and senator would be worthwhile insurance of its passage, however. They are anxious to hear from you.

Consider this: The ear that hears the reproof of life abideth among the wise. Proverbs 15:31.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

If you don't have some rhubarb growing in your garden, you are missing out on a very rare treat. There is nothing that is easier to grow or that makes better pies or sauce. Recently a recipe came across our desk that sounds very good. Just wish our garden had a few stalks of rhubarb.

RHUBARB GINGERBREAD
(Shortcake Style)

2 1/3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup shortening, melted
3/4 cup mild, light molasses
1 cup sour milk
2 eggs, beaten
Rhubarb Sauce
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 tablespoons sugar
Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Sift first six ingredients together into large mixing bowl. Add brown sugar and mix well. Combine next four ingredients and gradually stir into flour mixture. Beat until smooth. Turn into two well greased, lightly floured 9x9x2-inch pans. Bake 25 minutes or until done. Turn out on a wire rack to cool. Put together in shortcake fashion with Rhubarb Sauce and whipped cream sweetened with 2 tablespoons sugar. Makes about 8 servings.

RHUBARB SAUCE

Combine 4 cups fresh rhubarb cut into 1 1/2 inch pieces, 2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, 1/8 teaspoon salt, and 3/4 cup sugar in top of double boiler. Mix well. Cover and cook over hot water 35 to 40 minutes, or until tender. Stir once or twice, being careful not to break rhubarb.

Drain off juice and lift out best whole pieces to use as garnish. Spread remaining drained rhubarb and whipped cream sweetened with the 2 tablespoons of sugar between gingerbread layers and over the top. Garnish with whole pieces of rhubarb.

Did you know that there are gadgets on the market that will enable a person to fasten a back zipper without anyone assisting? So far as we have been able to learn, they are not on sale at local stores, but probably will be very soon. Think the inventor had sheath dresses in mind while working on the invention.

All a person has to do is to hook or snap a small chain like device onto the zipper pull, then pull the chain over one shoulder until the zipper is closed and remove the gadget.

Several persons have asked for the recipe for salad which Mrs. E. R. Day makes and has taken to several gatherings at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Day was very cooperative and has written the recipe for us to share with you.

Says Mrs. Day, "It is Tila Rue's favorite salad." It has appeared in several publications as "Perfection Salad." Regardless of what it is called, we know several persons who are very anxious to have the recipe.

Perfection Salad
1 box lime Jello

1 1/2 cups boiling water
3 tablespoons sugar
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
2 small packages cream cheese
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup heavy cream

Dissolve Jello in boiling water. Add cream cheese and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, pineapple, and nuts. Chill until thick. Whip cream and fold into Jello mixture. Chill until firm.

WASHINGTON BOUND

W. L. Edelman and James Mabry will leave Amarillo Saturday evening for Washington. They will represent the Parmer County Cotton Association at a hearing of the House Agricultural Committee. Other delegations are being sent by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Plains Cotton Growers.

Follow Chemical Directions Carefully

Chemicals of many kinds are used by agricultural producers in ever-increasing amounts as a regular part of their production program. But, warns, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, all chemicals should be used exactly as the manufacturer suggests. Failure to observe the recommendations given for safe handling and use of farm used chemicals can result in great personal injury or even death. Don't take chances, follow the manufacturer's directions to the letter.

Must Comply with SB Requirements

Farmers who have placed cotton or wheat under the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Program should remember that they must comply with all requirements of the program in order to qualify for the payments, Joe W. Magness, chairman of the Parmer County ASC committee, reminds farmers this week.

A program provision which farmers are likely to overlook, Magness says, is the one which requires that a farmer comply with all acreage allotments established for his farm if he wants to earn any kind of a soil bank payment. This means for instance, that a farmer who expects to earn payments under the wheat acreage reserve program must also comply with the cotton allotment for his farm, if there is one.

Payments to farmers who take part in the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Program will be made when compliances with the program provision can be fully determined, the manager says.

Compliance with acreage limitations is in general on a harvested rather than a planted acre basis. Therefore, in many instances, compliance cannot be checked until nearly cotton harvest time.

Through March 31, 1957, over 9,800 acres have been put in the conservation reserve in the county, reports Magness. This acreage is covered by 62 contracts and includes all contracts signed from October, 1956, through March 31, 1957. About 30 percent of the total number of contracts signed include the entire eligible acreage on the farmers covered.

Total payments for the acres involved on these contracts could be as much as $166,883 for rental and soil conservation practice payments.

April 15 is the final date for signing conservation reserve contracts to go into effect in 1957.

ADJUST MACHINE TO SEW SYNTHETICS . . . Some synthetic fabrics have a tendency to pucker in stitching if not handled properly, says Nena Roberson, clothing specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service.

Make three adjustments before you begin sewing:

First, shorten the stitch slightly. Some spongy types of synthetics take about the same length stitch as similar-textured natural fibers. Test for the proper stitch on the lengthwise grain of the fabric. When the lengthwise grain shows the proper stitch, the crosswise grain and the bias will be correct, too.

Next, loosen the tension slightly. Adjust the top tension first as this may be all that is necessary. If not, loosen the bobbin tension screw a bit. Many machines are set tighter than necessary for ordinary sewing.

For hard finish synthetics, such as nylon organdy or a very smooth, tightly-woven synthetic, increase the pressure from the presser foot. Thicker fabrics will require only the usual pressure.

Thread may make a difference, too . . . nylon, dacron and mercerized cotton are used for sewing on synthetics. For best results, use a thread corresponding to the largest percentage of fiber in the fabric—nylon thread on nylon, mostly nylon blends, etc.

Be sure to use the same thread on the bobbin as in the needle, and wind the thread loosely and evenly on the bobbin, with no tension.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

We were out by Donald Watkins' farm out south of Bovina, and we observed that Donald was setting out a farmstead windbreak on the west side of his home. The windbreak is Red Cedar composed of three rows with trees alternately spaced in each row. Donald has also ordered and received 300 more Red Cedars for replacement stock should any die, and to put a windbreak on the north side of his home next year.

For those of you who have been thinking about setting out your windbreak trees, now is the time to get this job done before the hot, drying winds begin. It is also necessary on most of these trees that they be protected from wind and sand.

When moving trees for resetting, caution should be taken to ball the soil around the roots in the transfer. This increases greatly the percentage of livability of trees when moved.

Quite a few windbreaks are beginning to show up now. And in a few years the protection and beauty to the farmstead will be priceless. This can be observed on the windbreaks that were established a few years ago. Of course, it will take the new trees a few years to give us the protection that the present, established breaks are giving, but we have to start at some point and the quicker that we do, the quicker we will see the results.

We noticed that in the eastern part of the District that the trees slowed down and stopped a large amount of that hard, fast moving snow in the recent storm.

THE PARMER FARMER

You may have noticed a few weeks ago that we said farmers in southwestern Lamb County were figuring on buying water rights in the sandhills north of them, and pumping the water through big pipelines to irrigate their dryland cotton.

This, we thought at the time, was a plan to capture the imagination of even the most ambitious promoter.

Well, that plan got shot full of holes last week when the City of Lubbock and Southwestern Public Service Company plunked down over a cold million dollars for water rights on 37,000 sandhills acres. At least, so says the County Wide News at Littlefield.

The water rights sold for about $35 per acre.

That is sure to put some farmers to frothing at the mouth down there in Lamb County, where underground water is already a subject that can start a fight at the drop of a hat.

An interesting article appears in The Nation's Agriculture, written by Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau. He writes of government subsidies to various segments of the national economy.

Direct subsidy payments to the airlines are about $34 million this year, he says, plus another $20 million for airport construction. The postal subsidy to newspapers and magazines is approximately $218 million per year, while direct mail advertising is carried at a loss of $147 million.

Water transportation costs the taxpayers $170 million per year, and labor, which is protected by the minimum wage law and the government unemployment compensation program, is benefitted by more than one and one-half billion dollars per year. Tax write-offs granted large industries, says Shuman, amount to about $85 million per year.

However, AFB head figures that government underwriting of agriculture involves big sums, too. Commodity Credit Corporation loses $975 million on stored farm products, he says, plus another $645 million on the export program. Soil bank costs are going over one billion.

The writer warns, "We might be able to defend expenditures of this kind as a temporary matter to help agriculture become more prosperous. However, past experience with government subsidy seems to prove that those who receive grants and gifts finally pay a very high price."

"Expanding real markets is a far better way of increasing farm income than increasing dependence on subsidies," he says. "We agree."

Mr. Businessman, make your service so good that it is the customer's loss if he doesn't trade with you. Tell him these facts through the advertising columns of your hometown newspaper.

BOVINA

BIG OPERATION — J. T. Ford looks over the work of more than 80 field hands as they hand-plant onion settings on his farm between Farwell and Bovina. Such hand work is both time consuming and expensive.

County Men Try 70 Acres Onions

Commercial production of onions has been attempted in Parmer County a number of times before, but probably not on such a scale as is being tried this year by some farmers between Farwell and Bovina, who this week are planting between 60 and 70 acres to the eye-watering crop.

The men are J. T. Ford and his sons, Burl and Doyle. They have pooled their resources for the big venture, and have agreed to divide the profits—or losses—between themselves.

A lot is at stake in an enterprise of this kind. The Fords estimate that if they have a "washout" on their onion crop this year, it will set them back $12,000. On the other hand, however, when demand for onions is good and prices are stable, a small fortune could be reaped from the acreage.

Last year, for instance, when onions were selling for up to $5 a crate, and some fields were yielding up to 1000 crates an acre, the growers on the Plains did quite well for themselves.

The vegetables are being planted on J. T.'s farm, which has mixed, deep soil and abundant water. "I don't believe you can go anywhere to find better conditions for vegetable growing," J. T. believes.

Planting began Monday of this week, and even with over 100 hands in the field to set the young plants out, the Fords figure it

A 20-acre onion patch is considered a pretty big planting. The Fords are sure to have the biggest onion deal in the area this year, and it is possible they may have the biggest acreage on the plains.

The onion settings, which were ordered from Uvalde, are placed into the prepared bed 3 1/2 inches apart in dual rows that have been marked off by special equipment, and water furrows are provided on either side.

The local farmers are planting four varieties of onions to assure that they won't be "short" on any kind at any given time. White and Yellow Spanish, and White and Yellow Grinos are being sown.

In all, it is taking 1300 crates of seedlings to cover the acreage. With about 60 bunches of onions per acre, and about 80 plants per bunch it is easy to see how much work will be required to place each of the more than six million plants in the ground.

Vegetable farming is new to the Fords since they have moved to the Plains, but they've had some experience with it before. Near San Angelo a number of years ago they raised onions, but not on so large a scale as here.

The farmers know they're taking a big gamble, but they have made up their minds to go ahead. They are figuring to "stay with it" for five years—win, lose or draw.

The onion sets cost about $50 per acre, and it takes about $40 per acre to plant them. By time the crop is ready for harvest, the Fords will have about $175 per acre invested.

They have pre-watered the land, and heavily fertilized with 500 pounds of 16-20-0, 100 pounds anhydrous ammonia, and 100 pounds potash.

The crop will be watered about six times, and will be ready for harvest about the middle of July. No contract for selling has been made for the onions, but Ford says they will sell through a vegetable broker and not direct.

As soon as the onion crop is out of the way, the Fords will follow with a carrot crop aimed at fall consumption. The carrots will be planted about August 1, and will be harvested late in October.

Asked what price they hope for, Ford says, "If we can get $1 a sack, we'll do okay." He says the 10-year average onion price is about $2.50 per sack.

The onions will be aimed at the "middle market" that will come off after the "winter garden" harvests in the Rio Grande Valley and South Texas.

Onions are hardy plants, and Ford says he doesn't think they'll have any trouble raising a big crop. The onions will have to be hand-hoed three times for weeds, and possibly sprayed once for thrips.

"Tell everybody not to say 'cut the onions' when they order hamburgers," he requested the reporter.

GREGG COTTON

The happy farmer who has grown the field of Gregg cotton shown in the picture above has nothing to distract his mind from the satisfaction of knowing his cotton has IT — an excellent yield with good grades. The pleasure of growing a field of cotton like this is not only a joy to be experienced in a year like 1956 — a year in which we have had an unusual amount of heat to mature cotton here on the Plains; but cotton fields of similar appearance should be grown on the Plains on almost any year with Gregg cotton. Gregg has been bred to produce under the adverse conditions of our cooler weather, and especially with its cooler nights; it should shine the most on the really bad years; it should in a large measure cure those cotton headaches which are very common in our section of the country.

Early Maturity
Yes, cotton headaches are not a myth; they are a fact; for we have seen farmers in the midst of summer standing and discussing the problem of whether to water cotton, for fear that it would go to stalk and fail to fruit. Gregg with its close, quick, rapid fruiting has solved this problem for our farms. For the past six years we have made it an experiment to water a small block of our cotton five times, finishing around the 25th of August, with excellent results even upon the coolest of years. Each year it fruited heavily and the maturity was good. With results like these there are no headaches in the summer, and there are no headaches in the fall either for you or anyone else who may have an interest in your crop.

Maturity is not a problem for the Plains only; many cotton sections or communities under the Cap could grow a better-maturing cotton to a good financial advantage.

Clean White Seed
Clean white seed is an indication that white cotton came off the seed. Examine our seed in bulk at our farm or in open bag of our fuzzy seed which have been partially delinted, and note the absence of lemon or orange colored seed.

It is a matter of public information that the classing office in Lubbock handled 1,622,000 bales the past year with 47.1 per cent of the grades light spots and 2.5 per cent of the grades light spots, and 40,500 spots. This percentage figures 763,900 light spots, and 40,500 spots. It has been estimated by an authority that the average price over the entire season for light spotted cotton above the loan was 100 points; but even allowing 140 points there was lost on light spotted cotton $15 a bale, and for spotted $22, making a total of twelve million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The point that should be of interest to farmers in this connection is that on our own farm we had less than 2 per cent light spots, with the rest white cotton; and we have had the report from many growers of Gregg that their grades were this good or better.

High Yield & Grade
As to the tremendous importance of both yield and grade to the farmer let us take the example of a field of cotton that makes a bale and a quarter to the acre and another field that makes a bale to the acre, but brings $15 a bale less when marketed. Figuring the extra lint and seed with the extra price and you have almost $60 an acre increase for the first field of cotton.

Storm Proof
Our cotton is stormproof not only from the standpoint of its staying in the burr, but also the bolls remain on the stalk well. As an experiment we have left cotton in the field until late spring, with no great loss from the wind storms.

Stripping
Since nearly all farmers are using the mechanical stripper in the harvesting of their cotton, either partially or completely, they are naturally interested in a cotton that strips well. When you consider the fundamentals of a good stripping cotton, you will find Gregg ranks high. Its stalk confirmation is well suited to the stripper, and because it is a close, heavy-fruited variety there is less trash, limbs, and leaves.

Staple Length
Our growing season on the Plains will not permit the growing of long staple cottons satisfactorily. Gregg has been bred to the optimum length to give the best results on the Plains, combining with staple length, fiber qualities of high character; for Micronaire, strength, and uniformity. Staple lengths, under irrigation, are generally from 31-32 to 1-1-32 for early hand pulled cotton, with slightly shorter staples for late machine-stripped cotton.

Our cotton is a close, heavy fruiting variety and this fact generally results in the stalks bending with their load of bolls, but when the cotton opens the stalks will straighten again, thus making it possible to do an excellent job

Dependable Pumping Power

New 800-6A power unit develops 148 hp on LP gas and 134 hp on natural gas at 1200 rpm.

Here's another dependable MM power unit designed to furnish low-cost, trouble-free performance. Smooth, 6-cylinder high-turbulence power and counter-balanced crankshaft reduce torsional vibration for longer engine life.

Newly designed heat exchanger base plan keeps oil at proper operating temperature, greatly increases engine life and lengthens period between oil and filter cartridge changes. Pan acts as a cooler as well. Sight oil glass provided in base pan can be converted to oil-flow control valve for adding oil directly to crankcase from a barrel of oil, thereby keeping oil at a constant level. Pan attaches directly to an SAE standard flywheel housing and provides a rigid mounting of the power take-off for heavy belt drives, etc. Double-disc clutch and power take-off are of heavy-duty design.

MM heavy-duty power units are noted for their long life. Nine models to choose from. Stop in soon. Let's talk over your power needs.

Self Defoliation
While Gregg cotton is growing and up till the time it begins opening, it will hardly lose a leaf; but when it starts opening, a rapid self-defoliation sets in, which is far greater than in any other cotton which we have seen or grown. This self-defoliation together with the natural tendency of Gregg cotton to go to fruit and not to stalk, makes for a maturity in cotton which is highly desirable for us who grow cotton under the conditions we have on the Plains.

Self-defoliation in respect to our cotton, however, may vary somewhat with conditions of heat and moisture, there being a difference in defoliation between dry land and irrigated cotton. Under irrigation on the Plains and with cooler weather after the middle of September, the self-defoliation of Gregg cotton is near perfect.

Blight Resistance
We have found our cotton to be highly resistant to bacterial blight (angular leaf spot) as we have bred it and have observed it while growing on our farms here at Plainview. This quality has helped us to secure the many good grades which we have received.

With Gregg the solution of the problem lies in the quality of grades you can generally expect under the worst of conditions; because of its blight resistance; and its ability to take a frost and recover exceptionally white grades afterward makes it, no doubt, the kind of cotton you have been wishing to plant and harvest. Gregg Seed Farms confidently expect their cotton to perform according to the information given, and when you purchase seed from them, they believe you will get the same results which they have secured and other growers have also verified.

Visit The Gregg Farms
We cordially invite you to visit our farms any time during the growing season, to inspect our cotton for yourself and see its resistance to leaf blight or any other points you may wish to observe.

From the farms of our customers we have received many reports of high yields and good grades which are the factors which determine the farmer's profit. If you realize that it is feasible and possible to improve cotton growing on the Plains, Gregg is recommended as something different in a cotton.
