

Light Showers Fall Monday Morning

Some Dryland Farms Still Not Planted

Light showers, ranging in moisture from about a quarter to a half an inch, visited the High Plains early Monday morning, temporarily halting the wheat harvest.

The storm blew in out of the northeast, and passed over Parmer and Curry counties about four or five o'clock. Some rain reporting stations in the Twin Cities reported a half inch; most others around a quarter. The moisture definitely had a wide degree of variance.

About a quarter fell up toward Bovina; north toward Pleasant Hill amounts measured under a quarter generally. South of town was about the same story, with indications being that the rain tapered off westward.

Some dryland farmers have never been able to get their feed into the ground. This is a critical matter for those who have waited this long for moisture.

Most agree that it may already be too late to plant even if we do get rain in sufficient amounts. Some, however, vow they'll plant up until July 4th and try to "luck out" with bundles.

Girl Sustains Burns in Accident

Wilma Norton, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Norton, sustains only minor burns about the face Tuesday morning when she was attempting to burn out an ant hill. Thinking that the fire was smothered, she poured gasoline over the hill and it exploded in her face.

Though painful, the burns are not considered serious and the doctor feels that there is little likelihood of disfigurement.

She was reported to be resting well Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. McDonald Has Pneumonia

Mrs. J. D. McDonald of Brownfield, who is spending the summer with her children in this community, was released from the hospital Monday, after having pneumonia. She is the mother of Johnnie and A. D. McDonald and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, all of this county.

During our stay in the convention city of Fort Worth, we had opportunity to visit two large industrial sites; the Swift & Company packing house and the Bell Aircraft manufacturing plant.

Both were marvels to the eye and were shining examples of the industrial might that has made this country the most productive in the world. Big business is much larger than some people would imagine. Between three and four thousand people were employed in each one of these plants.

There is a very striking difference between the meat processing plant and the aircraft manufacturing plant, however, and we talked with several of our newspaper friends who were with us to try to unravel the mystery.

The workers at the Swift plant went after their jobs like frenzied bees. They dressed, cut up, and handled the carcasses with blinding speed. There was no lost motion whatever. The finished products poured from the plant in a steady stream.

At the Bell plant, it was a different story. There was no assembly line technique. It astounded us to see about half of the workers standing around or idly leaning on their machines and "shooting the breeze" with fellow workers.

No one seemed to be in a hurry; in fact, no one seemed to be very interested in what he was supposed to be doing. Perhaps we got there at the wrong time of day. Perhaps we caught the plant in a slack moment.

The fact that a product as intricate as a helicopter demands the utmost care in its manufacture may have had something to do with the apparent slow pace of the work.

There are perhaps many answers to this matter that never entered the heads of us newspaper folk, but one thing that kept ringing in our ears was a statement made by a Bell public relations man that about 90 percent of the Bell production effort was contracted with the military.

We were told that one of these little 'copters cost more than $30,000. None of us was able to escape the suspicion that the company could pretty well get whatever price it wanted for the helicopters since it was selling to the government.

Hence, we reasoned, little or no effort was made to reduce productive costs by making the operation more efficient. Can you imagine such a condition in the great Ford Motor Company plants? We can't!

This week we are delighted to report a victory, or at least a stalemate, in our war on the seven red ant beds in our yard.

The most successful program yet tried proved to be a suggestion of Mrs. Foister Rector of Friona who wrote us last month in ways and means of eliminating these little pests.

Thanks to her and many other people who have offered serious and comical suggestions, we think that the tide of battle is turning.

Publisher and Mrs. W. H. Graham returned from Ft. Worth Sunday with several prizes awarded The Tribune at the 75th annual convention of the Texas Press Association.

Graham was awarded first place in the division of towns of 2500 population and under with an editorial last May entitled "We Bring It All on Ourselves." In this editorial, he pointed out to readers that most of the trouble in a person's life is the result of his own way of living.

He placed second in column writing in The Tribune's class in the state, and this newspaper also was given a second place for news pictures.

The winning picture was of two young Farwell boys eating watermelon last July 4th.

Perhaps the most outstanding recognition given The Tribune was in the "sweepstakes" division, which is a cumulation of the point total of all other contests prizes.

The Tribune rated third in the sweepstakes placings, which can be interpreted to mean that this newspaper, in the eyes of expert newspapermen chosen from out of state, is the third best newspaper in Texas for the size of its territory.

Beating The Tribune out for the highest prizes in this category were the Winnsboro News, published by Grayford M. Jones; and the Italy News-Herald, published by Russell Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham reported that they felt flattered by their prizes, and hoped that they were deserving of the recognition accorded them. At 23, he is Texas' youngest publisher.

Graham stated that "The Tribune is helping put the High Plains on the map, and is striving to gain the recognition in the eyes of the rest of the country that the people of this area have so long deserved."

James Gillentine, publisher of the Hereford Brand, was present to receive a second place sweepstakes rating in the divisions for papers published twice weekly.

SCD Schedules Tours in July

Soil conservation tours are being planned for Rhea, Lazbuddie, Bovina, Farwell and Friona communities, by the Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors with the help of County Agent and Soil Conservation personnel.

July 6, beginning at 2:00 p.m., Rhea community tour will begin by assembling at the Parish hall. There will be a short meeting at the parish hall where slides of new farm practices over the county will be shown. Steve Bavousett, work unit conservationist, will discuss these slides and bring farmers in the Rhea community factual information.

The County Agent will discuss weed control and demonstrate the use of a knap-sack sprayer in controlling Johnson Grass. From the Parish hall attendants will tour some grain sorghum fields that are inter-planted with cow peas, some clover that is being used as a soil building crop, look over the Soil Conservation District equipment that is available to farmers and discuss and observe native grass pastures and discuss their management following the drouth.

July 7, beginning at 2:00 p.m., Lazbuddie community tour will begin by assembling at the Lazbuddie school. There will be a short meeting at the school, slides will be shown, and Bavousett and the county agent will present discussions. They will look over the Soil Conservation District equipment while assembled at the school house, then will go on tour and look over bench levelled land, drops in ditches to prevent erosion of the ditches, look over some cow peas interplanted with grain sorghum, and grass seedings where farm land is being seeded back to

Wheat Allotment For Farms With No Wheat For 3 Years

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for all of the years 1952, 1953, and 1954 may apply for a 1955 wheat acreage allotment, according to A. F. Phillips, chairman of the Parmer County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of these years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by June 30, 1954.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Jack Glenn was returned home from the hospital Thursday, after having suffered strep-pneumonia and an infected tonsil. He is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily.

Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Willard attended a pastors' meeting with the district stewards in Plainview at the First Methodist Church Tuesday.

Wheat Allotment May Be Released In Near Future

The 1955 wheat allotment for Parmer County probably will be released in the near future, possibly by next week. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson Monday announced a 13 percent reduction in the national allotment of wheat, and as soon as this figure can be broken down for Texas and Parmer County, it will be released by the county ASC office.

The present county acreage is about 140,000 acres. About 80,000 is being used this year.

Cub Scouts Fly Kites At Bovina Park

At the monthly pack meeting, which consisted of a weiner roast at the Bovina roadside park, Cub Scouts enjoyed flying their homemade kites, assisted by their dads who had to come to their rescue on several occasions to keep the kites in the air.

About 30 parents and Cubs enjoyed the outing. Roasted weiners and marshmallows and ice cold watermelon was the menu for the evening.

Cub Scouts meet each Thursday at 4 p. m. at the Legion Hall with Den Mother Mrs. Gilbert Watkins, assisted by Mrs. H. R. Crooks and Mrs. C. L. Vestal. The third Thursday evening of each month is pack meeting, known as "fun night", and both parents and Cubs are urged to come and enjoy this evening of planned entertainment.

All boys from eight to ten years of age are invited to join the Cub Scouts.

Oklahoma Lane Crop Quota Set

Two hundred bushels has been designated as the Oklahoma Lane community quota for the Christian Rural Overseas Program. CROP is the set-up under which wheat is donated by individuals and each carload so donated pays for the transportation and distribution of 20 carloads of government surplus to needy people overseas.

Parmer County hopes to collect one carload and various churches are sponsoring the drive.

In the Oklahoma Lane organizational meeting last Sunday evening Jimmy McGuire was elected chairman; Walter Verner, vice-chairman; E. G. Snodgrass, secretary; and Wendol Christian, treasurer. Rev. Vance Zinn and Rev. Vernon Willard are in charge of publicity.

Anyone who wishes to participate is urged to contact one of the above-mentioned men for details.

School Bonds Voted In

Voters of the Farwell School District Saturday endorsed a proposal to build a new gymnasium and band hall by a vote of 216 to 118.

They authorized the school to sell revenue bonds in the amount of $115,000 to cover the additions. Completion of the plans will be wound up as soon as possible, and after the contract has been let, construction will get underway. The system is badly in need of the buildings.

The board met Tuesday night to canvass the election returns. It foresees no increase in school taxes to pay for the bond election.

Trash and Garbage Route Changes Hands Monday

In a called meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday afternoon, the resignation of Ray Mears who had contracted with the City of Farwell to haul garbage and trash was accepted.

At the same time, the commission engaged the services of the Jones boys of Texico, who will begin their duties along those lines Monday morning of next week.

The commission made an urgent appeal to Farwell citizens for better cooperation with those who pick up the refuse from the alleys. No unified system of disposal has been adopted city-wide, although there have been attempts to encourage the people to do so.

"Please," stressed one commissioner, "please, folks, let's all get together so we can get our garbage and trash hauled off in an orderly manner."

To accomplish this end, the commission says it is imperative that each home have two barrels for disposal. Into one of these barrels will go tin cans or other metal objects that will not burn.

Into the other barrel will go paper, and in the case of those who do not have a separate wet garbage can, the garbage from the home. Residents are asked to place garbage on paper when putting it into the barrels so that as much of it as possible will be burned.

The garbage and trash will be picked up once every two weeks, and the Jones' have also agreed to clear the alleys behind the houses of other waste matter such as grass cuttings. They will not, however, pick up trees, large branches, or other cumbersome matter that cannot be handled by the truck operator.

The commission is making a last-ditch appeal for cooperation in handling the waste in the city. Heretofore, it has been difficult for the city to meet sanitary standards because of the varying methods of emptying trash and garbage into disposal units.

Things to remember, says the commission, are:

1. Get two barrels
2. Don't put garbage in with the cans.
3. Burn as much trash and garbage as possible.

Those who need additional barrels may obtain them from the Jones boys.

House Number Sales Drop

Farwell residents who have not already done so are reminded to buy their house numbers. Clay Henson, at Farwell Hardware says sales have dropped in the last two weeks and estimates that only about 50% of the houses have numbers up.

Dee J. Brown Takes Training in Virginia

Dee J. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown of Texico, is in Quantico, Va., for 12 weeks training of the Platoon Leaders Class of the Marine Corps. The local boy has been enrolled in military courses at New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces, where he will be a senior next year.

Helpin' Out a Neighbor

Nine men, seven combines, and two trucks lined up near the O. L. Winkles farm in the Pleasant Hill community Saturday afternoon to cut wheat. Winkles suffered a broken leg recently and was unable to manage his own job of harvesting, so the neighbors all pitched in.

Neighbors Pitch in to Harvest Wheat Of Farmer Disabled by Broken Leg

When a man has his leg broken and is able to get around only on crutches and it is wheat harvesting time, he feels quite helpless.

That was the situation facing O. L. Winkles, who lives northwest of Pleasant Hill. But it didn't take long to find out that he could count on his wonderful neighbors. Nine men, with seven combines and two trucks, moved in last Saturday to harvest about 260 acres of dryland wheat for Winkles, as he stood by the side of the field on crutches watching the operation.

Bringing their combines and cutting the wheat were Barney Kelley, Homer Kelley, Vernie Sharp, Elmer Langford, Mason Neeley, John Spearman, and Howard Whitener. Allen Kelley and J. M. Goolsby drove the trucks and hauled the wheat to town.

Helton Oil Company of Farwell furnished all of the fuel for the day's operation. Maurice Clark and Floyd Coxco had offered to help, but they were repairing their stalled combines.

Winkles had his leg broken on May 26th, when the clutch on an irrigation motor broke and a piece of the housing casing hit his leg. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Winkles and son, Dwayne, live one mile west and 4 1/2 miles north of Pleasant Hill. The wheat is located six miles north of Texico on the Pleasant Hill road on the M. W. Smith land, which Winkles farmed last year.

The men stopped only long enough for a noon meal, prepared by Mrs. Winkles, which was served in the field on card tables. Mrs. Barney Kelley assisted.

Three Cases Heard In District Court

Three civil cases were heard in District Court Monday. Judge E. A. Bills rendered judgments for the plaintiff in two divorce cases, Woodrow W. Finley and Marie Finley; and Sarah Cordova and Fortunato Cordova.

Also default in Blanton Butane vs. L. A. Haws; and for the plaintiff in John S. Glover vs. Capitol Freehold Land and Investment Co., a suit in trespass to try title.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Congress Gets Highballed For Quick Legislation

Congressmen, like other Americans, enjoy a vacation. And congressmen, like other Americans, often postpone important work until the last possible moment, and then plow into it in a somewhat haphazard fashion.

Senator Lyndon Johnson reports that the U. S. Senate is "headed into one of the greatest legislative log jams in its history." That great deliberative body is aiming at a July 31 adjournment date, even though many of its members say it can't be done, considering the amount of work that lies ahead.

It is astounding to remember that more than $1 billion remains to be appropriated by congress during the next five weeks. Of this, about $29 billion is earmarked for the armed services. Senator Johnson points out that studies have been going on concerning these appropriations, but we feel that in the final analysis, they will be shoved through the legislature without the careful consideration they so badly need.

The farm price program is now a hot potato, and the congressmen are wary of it. The committee on agriculture has already voted to keep high supports for another year, but what the remainder of legislators will decide is a real question. The administration, of course, is plugging for a flexible price support program. Vote-hungry congressmen from farm states are likely to side with the old guard, however, and an extension of the high supports is more than just possible. Whatever the result, there surely will be a terrible squabble and delay when the question must be resolved.

Other such behemoths as foreign aid, housing, reciprocal trade, social security, and tax revisions are yet to be hashed out. As the functions of government grow more complex with each passing year, it is inevitable that less and less attention will be given to matters that need more and more study.

Pokin' Around Politics

It is certainly interesting to note the varied reaction of people with whom one comes in contact who have made an effort to keep fairly well informed on the McCarthy-Army investigations.

Many people have asked us several times to make concrete statements about which side of the fence we happen to be seated upon. It isn't exactly pleasant to be put on the spot, but we are fortunate in being able to express ourselves freely in this wonderful country of America, and have no hesitancy in so doing. Nor should anyone else, regardless of whether they may happen to be in agreement with our viewpoint.

Of this man Joseph McCarthy, we feel that he is one of the most dangerous threats to the welfare and preservation of the hard-earned respect for human dignity and individual rights that have ever appeared in America.

He would, we think, prefer rule by man instead of by law. We do not believe that very many Americans have been blinded into believing that he is the saviour of this country from those who would destroy us. He is vain, ambitious, unscrupulous, coarse, and merciless. He is also a master of emotion, a fearless champion of democracy, and a hardened contestant who fears no opponent.

Contrary to what some caustic news analysts would have you believe, however, there very definitely is a positive side of this man's ledger of life. If Joseph McCarthy has done nothing else during his two terms in Washington, he has awakened the great masses of the United States to the very real threat of communist infiltration, which might quite conceivably be our undoing some day if we are not meticulously careful.

The few days previous to a wedding, when last minute preparations are being made, are always quite hectic, but it was quite a problem for the Joan Spurlin-Ted Magness vows recently. It seems that the bridesmaids' dresses had been on order some time, and each day, the bride knew the dresses would arrive that day. Sure enough, Saturday afternoon arrived and still no dresses. The wedding was Sunday. With a few phone calls and a trip to Amarillo, everything worked out well. All the female attendants went to Amarillo, and an alteration lady was waiting for each one, so the dresses could be fitted immediately.

The girls then rushed back to Farwell, just in time for the wedding rehearsal.

We have a new correspondent out at Black, if you notice. The women of the Black Study Club utilize this method of adding a little money to the treasury. Each year, they elect a new reporter and she sends in the community news for that year, as well as the club news. We pay the regular correspondent's fee to the club treasury.

The job requires quite a bit of time, so this is a pretty unselfish move on the reporter's part, we feel.

Mrs. Donnell Rolland brought us some genuine "cow" cream last week, and the Grahams were treated with the most delicious and richest ice cream. We had forgotten cream "grew that thick." Thank you, Mrs. Rolland.

Calvin Murray, co-director of the summer youth program, is of the opinion that the Clovis information telephone operator must have his number memorized. The Murray number is a new one and is not listed in the directory, and before schedules for the youth program were completed, about half of the youngsters enrolled called the Murray home to obtain information.

"Before they called me, they had to call the operator," says Murray, "and I bet it didn't take her long to learn our number."

We are quite anxious to see what some of these men received for Father's Day, from some of the talk we heard before the eventful day. Our husband's most memorable gift was a cute little red water gun, that Ronny seemed to think he would like. But we heard some rumors that made us wonder about some of these other fellows. Onie Bradshaw told us that Buck took her fishing for Mother's Day, so she was planning to surprise him with a new dress the past Sunday. And Maxine Williams had a good one to tell on the Penny Andersons at Bovina. It seems that Penny had given Flossie candy for Mother's Day (of which she is not too fond), so she was considering sending flowers for his special day.

Sometimes when we think we have a rough time on this newspaper, we plan to remind ourselves of Mrs. Scott of the Quitaque Post. We stopped by her shop on our way to Ft. Worth last week, and were amazed.

She refers to herself as "the weakling with two weeklies." Not only does Mrs. Scott sell the ads, do the writing, and manage the paper for Quitaque, she also has the Turkey paper. Her husband is bedfast, and this cheerful, dynamic little woman takes care of all the woes of the newspaper business.

Between Turkey and Matador, the terrapin traffic was terrific. We saw 17 terrapins in that short distance. And one of the interesting sights we saw was a late model car whizzing along the road, with a big collie dog happily sitting in a side-car, which was attached to the right side of the car, and was exactly the right size to accommodate the dog.

Girls' Softball Team To Play

Farwell girls' softball team played the team from Springlake Monday night and were defeated. Plans are for the local group to join a league in the near future. Next game will be with Lazbuddie tonight (Thursday) at Labuddie.

Team members are Irene Hardage, D'Tanis Caldwell, Winnie Medley, Sue Christian, Lovey Hendrickson, Barbara Caldwell, Shirley Ham, Frances Routon, Ruby Meeks, Faye Autrey, Mrs. Kirk Rannels and Kathy Walls.

Mrs. Wilma Winegeart and children of Amarillo have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Winegeart of Texico for a week. They returned home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Summer of Vernon were here over the weekend on business.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Cynthia Bell, who has served as office secretary for two and a half years, is leaving around the first of July. Mrs. Bell has been our first secretary, and has done such a thorough, good job that we are going to miss her a lot. She and her husband, Bill, are returning to Michigan where he is entering business with a friend, dealing in aircraft and flight instruction.

Mrs. Olen Turner is taking over where Mrs. Bell left off. We trust you will be patient for awhile, because there are a lot of things that take some time for a new person to become familiar with. We're sure Mrs. Turner will not want you to hesitate in asking for what you want. That's the way she can learn to serve you in less time.

Wheat is needed for Christian Rural Overseas Program right now. The wheat contributed will provide transportation and distribution of government surplus to those countries and people who are hungry because of war, earthquake and other disasters. Each car of wheat accumulated will provide 20 cars of wheat delivered to these needy people. Tell your elevator manager to transfer 10, 20, or any number of bushels from your account to CROP before placing the balance in the loan. Parmer County hopes to send one car load. That should not be hard. We know that if you know about the program, you will contribute.

Did you know the Texas Highway Department spends $300 a week picking up beer cans and bottles in the Amarillo district? Is this one of the wonderful reasons for the highly advertised statements that "beer belongs?"

It's time for prospective queens to begin looking forward to the Farm Bureau Contest to be in August or September. Merchants or individuals who would like to enter someone are invited to start looking around. The state winner this year will get to go to New York for the National Convention.

NOTES

From the Parmer County SCD

By STEVE BAVOURETT

Most of the farmers of the county are busy getting wheat harvested, along with completing the replanting of some crops.

We of the Soil Conservation Service have been helping some of the local farmers bench level land that is a bit too rough to handle any other way. We note that this is paying off to some extent. Archie McCutchan, of Bovina, has done considerable work on some twenty-five acres on his place and is harvesting about thirty bushels of wheat per acre off of the bench leveled land that he had in wheat.

Vernon Jamison, who has a rough piece of ground consisting of about thirty-two acres, has it leveled and is now doing a good and much easier job of watering it. Glenn Scott of Lazbuddie did the job with his dirt moving equipment.

Jess Osborn intends to bench level some forty acres in the very near future.

This should work out as satisfactorily as that which other farmers have completed.

The Soil Conservation Service has word that quite a number of

Lawn Watering Has No Effect On Water Supply

Friona's water supply is holding out very satisfactorily during the summer seige of lawn waterings says City Manager Roy Wilson. The largest amount pumped in one day totals only a little more than half the capacity of the system, so there is not likely to be a scarcity, or a need for rationing water.

The growth of the West Loop Drive Addition and its admission to the city limits has created the problem of enlarging the water and sewer mains to give adequate service to the district.

Wilson reported Monday that sewer lines had been staked but further work is pending action by the board of city commissioners. They were to meet Monday night and were to discuss also adoption of recommendations made by the Texas Fire Prevention Bureau concerning the improvement of the city's fire protection facilities.

Enlarging lines and hiring a full-time fireman top the list made by the bureau which conducted a flow-test survey in Friona recently.

Monday was blank as well as blue. Not a soul could give us any news. Buddy Lloyd still hasn't gone fishing, we didn't see a single squirrel (or a married one either, for that matter) to bring us up to date on the doings in the park, and even O. J. Beene had nothing to contribute.

We've been wondering why Uncle Sam doesn't use some of the money he takes out of our paycheck to buy new socks for the servicemen. Hear that the ones issued to Gaylord Maurer for ROTC summer camp were full of holes.

Weldon Dickson tells us that the committee is "working on" plans for a youth program. So you kids—just sit tight for a while. We're betting they'll get something done.

How many of you people heard the story of Charles Schlenker on the Laura V. Hamner program over KGNK? She devoted two broadcasts, one on June 13 and one on June 20, to the story of Schlenker's life.

Bobbie Richardson Tells of Girls' State

(Editors note: This report was written by Bobbie Richardson who attended New Mexico Girls' State in Albuquerque last week.) We were scared, all twelve of us, as we climbed off a school bus at the University of New Mexico to begin our first and only week at New Mexico Girls' State.

Thank goodness, we didn't stay scared, because as soon as we stepped off the bus we started meeting 191 other girls just as scared as we were.

Before we registered, we ate lunch, and there I saw the place where, although I didn't know it then, I was going to spend a great deal of my time standing in line, waiting to eat.

After lunch we registered, and I met my roommates. They were both just wonderful.

At 3 o'clock Friday was a get-acquainted hour in the lounge of Marron Hall. After this we went to our group activities from 4:00 until 5:15. Three activities were offered at this time, music, athletics, or newspaper. I chose music.

From 5:15 until 5:45 we had what was called powder puff hour; in that time, needless to say, we remedied the shine on our noses and got ready for dinner at 5:45. We had until 6:30 to eat, then at 6:45 we went to vespers.

From 7:15 until 10:30 (it was supposed to be over at 10:00) we were in general assembly where we were introduced to our director, Mrs. Milton Davidson and her helpers, our counsellors. Also we heard a report on Girls' State, and a lecture on organization and function of political parties by Miss Dorothy Cline.

Following this, Miss Florence-ruth Jones gave us some very useful pointers on parliamentary procedure.

About 11:00 came the welcome call, "lights out," to a very tired 203 girls.

Every morning at 6:30 we were awakened by buzzers coming relentlessly down the hall; Saturday morning was no exception. At 6:45 we were out in the patio for calisthenics. At 7, we dressed for breakfast. From 7:15 until 8 we ate. At 8:30, after room inspection, we went to general assembly where we heard a talk on City Government by James A. Maloney, attorney at law.

At 10:15 we went to our city meetings. There were four cities—Sage (the one I was in), Yucca, Pinion, and Cactus.

After lunch and rest period we elected our city officials.

At 2:30 we went to general assembly where we were told about the work of the state police.

Saturday was a day we had been looking forward to, we went swimming.

After dinner we were given a talk on County Government by Mrs. O. H. Eichelberger, and a talk on State Legislature by Calvin Horn.

Sunday morning we went to church. Sunday afternoon we were entertained by the citizens of Cactus City. Mr. Maloney also briefed us on State Government.

Monday we had our primary elections. We used voting machines; something which was a new and very enlightening experience to most of us. At 7:30 Monday evening we heard a very interesting talk on communism entitled "Frontiers versus False Fronts," by Dr. F. M. Kercheville.

Tuesday we had the General Election. At 2:30 we went to general assembly where we heard the election returns, and also had a very entertaining District Court trial.

Tuesday evening we had our formal dinner and inauguration. We then got to shake hands with the governor of New Mexico. You'd think that would be a big thrill, wouldn't you? It wasn't nearly as exciting as shaking hands with the governor of Boys' State.

On Wednesday the state legislature was organized, and we witnessed a mock trial in the State Supreme Court.

Thursday was our last day at

Girls' State. We watched the legislature in action. Thursday night came stunt night. Boy, was that something! But it wasn't all laughs; there were tears as we sang together for the last time our Girls' State song.

Friday morning, we 12 Curry County girls bid reluctant good-byes to our Girls' State friends, and started home again.

Governor's Ball Highlights Texas Boys' State

(Editor's note: This review of Texas Boys' State was written by Jerry Poteet who was the Farwell High School representative.)

I left Farwell at 10:55 p. m., by bus, June 12 for my trip to Boys' State at Austin. We picked up Boys' Staters all along the way. We arrived in Austin at 2:30 p. m., June 13, and were taken to the Old Law Building on the Texas University campus to register.

The Old Law Building was the capital of Boys' State and was the meeting place of all the cities. There we registered and were given our program for the week. We checked in all of our money but $2. We drew on our account as we needed more money.

Boys' State "T" shirts and medallions to be worn at all times were given to us. We were assigned to cities, counties, and districts. I was in Giesecke City and Brown County. They told us that 503 boys had registered.

From the capitol we went to our dorms and found our rooms. There were three boys to each room.

Our first assembly was at 4 and the counselors were introduced to us.

On Monday, June 14, we fell out at 6:30 and had retreat and calisthenics. The morning meal was at 7:20.

We were divided into two parties—the Pioneers and the Longhorns. I was in the Pioneer party. We met in Batts Auditorium and began caucuses for primary nominations. The nominations and campaign speeches lasted until Monday night. The general election began Tuesday morning. During this time we were spoken to by Robert S. Calvert, comptroller, and John Ben Shepperd, attorney general. Mr. Shepperd is well-known for his speaking ability. Also we had elected temporary city officials. All balloting for primary and final elections was carried on in the cities. Voting was by secret ballot.

Final election returns were announced Tuesday night. Governor was Don Myers from Waco. He was from the Pioneer party and Giesecke City.

Daily routine was followed each day with flag raising and calisthenics and inspection of quarters in the mornings and lowering of the flag in the evening.

Wednesday we were no more Pioneers and Longhorns—we were Boys' Staters. I think everyone was proud when the elections were over. The inauguration of governor and lieutenant governor by Judge J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court was at 1:15 p. m.

After the inauguration we assembled in cities for election of permanent city officials. I was elected a city councilman and appointed an assistant to the state employment commissioner.

Thursday was the day of election of county and district officials. Speakers of the day were Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, and Wick Fowler, executive secretary of the Governor's office.

Friday was the big day. We were to make a visit to the capitol. At 8:30 a. m. we assembled in cities and marched down Capitol Avenue with our band and police escort out in front. We marched around the capitol building where we were greeted by several officials. The boys who had been elected to a high state office were taken to that office by that official.

We were able to go anywhere in the capitol building. The visit that impressed me most was to the underground vault where they kept all the state's stocks and bonds. There were $1,134,000 in the vault. The door of the vault was 34 inches thick and the walls 36 inches thick. It was fire and drill-proof and had various devices to prevent a break-in. It was rigged with mirrors that were fixed so that you could look in one mirror and see all the way around the vault.

After the tour, we attended a joint assembly of the Senate and House of Representatives. The speaker was Senator Roger Kelley. When the assembly was over, we assembled for the return to the campus and to start getting ready for the governor's ball at the City Coliseum. This was the social high-light of our stay at Boys' State.

The next morning being Saturday we checked our remaining money from the bank and received our certificates of attendance and election to office, and our Boys' State pins, awarded by the American Legion Department of Texas, which each boy treasured very highly.

We then assembled in Batts Auditorium for our final general assembly. We were all tired and anxious to return home but we wanted to leave all the wonderful boys which we had grown to think so much of. As the last notes of "The Eyes of Texas" died away, I think every boy realized just how much he had accomplished by attending Lone Star Boys' State of 1954.

PARMER COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS By JOHN GETZ OF JOHN'S FARM STORE

Culls Will Rob You, If You Let 'Em

You can't boost the price of eggs, but by culling you can lower your production cost. It's wise to study your production costs, then to determine the production rate necessary to leave you a profit. Holding production at 60%, 65% or 75% may take some close culling, but it's the best way we know to protect profits.

HEALTH HINT

Ever watch lice eat money? Actually you don't see them eating holes in your profits, but that's exactly what takes place whenever lice get ahead of you. At this season lice are most active, but with Purina Poultry Insecticide you can knock 'em cold. Painted on the roost, with brush or oil-can, the fumes rise and suffocate the lice. It's the sure way. It's easy and the cost is low. They'll knock production if you don't knock them first.

FLIES NEEDN'T BE A BOTHER ANYMORE

Seems like flies get smarter every year, and build up resistance to more new chemical killers.

But Purina Research workers are smarter than flies, and they've got programs that really do kill. First there's Purina Building Spray that you use in dairy barns, poultry houses and other buildings where flies are troublesome.

Then there is a new spray for cows. It both kills and repels after you spray.

For use inside the house Purina Household Spray is tops for killing flies, mosquitos, moths, silver fish, roaches and many other pests.

Then there's a special beef cattle spray, too. We'll be glad to explain details of this fly control program to you.

VISITING ON THE FARM FRONT

Sure got a "selling" on Chick Growena the other day. I stopped by Harry Baker's place, south of Texico. Harry sure has some "jim dandy" Berrygold chicks. They are only eight weeks old and are bigger than some of his neighbor's chicks at 12 weeks. Harry says that well bred chicks and good feed is the answer to the low cost layers.

James Roberts has a slick idea for helping his calves to keep on gaining through the hot weather ahead. James installed the family air conditioner in the calf stall. The calves are "cool as cucumbers" and twice as happy. It's tough on the rest of the family, but you can't sell them for 60 cents a pound like he did his last calf. Dropped in on our old friend, A. G. Chalk, for a chat. He is feeding his hens the same Checkerboard feed you are. His hens are producing eggs just like yours are. Your hens are eating as much feed as his are. BUT, Chalk is making money by receiving 75 cents a dozen for his eggs. He has a program and a goal. After all, we can't expect miracles from our hens. WE MUST MARKET THE EGGS NOT THE HEN. A little planning and you can be in the egg chips too. Won't you come in and plan for profits with us. You can make big money if YOU want to.

We are looking forward to a visit from you. If there is any way we can help with your livestock or poultry feeding or management problems, remember we are here to serve you.

Miss Henson, Paul Crooks Exchange Vows

In an informal morning ceremony last Sunday, Miss Roxie Henson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Henson, Clovis, became the bride of Paul Crooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crooks, Texico. Raymond Carson, Olton, Texas, officiated at the double-ring service in the Clovis Women's Club building.

The couple stood before an archway decorated with blue daisies, white gladioli, and baby's breath. John Carson, Olton, sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Ruth Stancell, Olton. Miss Stancell also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white pique and lace street-length dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

An old watch which belonged to her maternal grandmother, her new dress, a bracelet borrowed from Mrs. Frank Daugherty, and her blue hat carried out the old tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

Betty Hubbell, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a blue eyelet ensemble with white accessories and carried a blue and white bouquet.

Arlve Crooks, brother of the groom, was best man. Darral Harris and Larry Summers, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Four little cousins of the bride were flower girls who scattered rose petals in the path of the bride. They were Janie Hubbell, Jeree Summers, and Kay and Marilyn Deavours.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of a reception immediately after the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and served by Mrs. Neal Miner, aunt of the bride. Naomi Hubbell poured the punch, and Mrs. Arlye Crooks presided at the guest book.

After a wedding trip to points in Texas, the couple will be at home at 718 Jones, Clovis, and both will continue in their present positions. Mrs. Crooks is employed by the Clovis News Journal and Crooks is with R. M. Petty, building contractor.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Crooks are 1954 graduates of Texico High School.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Crane, Jal, N. M. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crane, Ceevee.

Pastor And Family Return From Trip

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Morgan, Wanda, Patricia and Charles have recently returned from an extended vacation. The family left Texico May 29 and drove from there to Abilene. They were accompanied from Lubbock by a son, Thomas, and his wife.

Sunday, they attended baccalaureate services for Hardin-Simmons seniors and Monday, were present for commencement, with a son, Charles, receiving his BA degree. Also present at the graduation were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Shockley and Myrtle of Bovina and W. T. Watson of Muleshoe. Mrs. Shockley is a daughter.

Monday afternoon, Charles joined the family and they traveled to St. Louis, Missouri, where they attended two days of the sessions of Southern Baptist Convention.

"Many outstanding speakers were at the convention and it was a very inspirational experience to hear them," says Rev. Morgan.

While in St. Louis, the family also visited the Forest Park Zoo, where 2200 species of animals and birds are kept. The zoo covers 72 acres of ground.

Leaving St. Louis June 4, the Morgans traveled to Ontario, Canada to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Snider and family. Mrs. Snider is a daughter of the Morgans. While enroute, the family visited three of the Great Lakes and Niagara Falls. "The two-day journey was made in a cold rain that required having the car heater on, but the countryside was beautiful and green and was really restful," state the Morgans.

They arrived in North Bay, Ontario, Canada, June 6, and spent five days with the Sniders. They also saw their new granddaughter, who is three months old and renewed acquaintances with the other two granddaughters, who are three and five years of age. It had been over 1 1/2 years since the families had been together.

Boat riding and fishing on Lake Nipissing across the highway from the Snider home occupied some time, and the visitors saw the home of the Dionne quintuplets.

On the return trip, the Morgans passed through the tunnel built under the St. Clair river, coming over from Windsor, Canada to Detroit, Michigan.

"It was a wonderful trip" say the Morgans, but they were glad to be home again. Rev. Morgan begins Sunday, June 27, his second year as pastor of Texico Baptist Church.

Austin—It will not take long to cast your ballot in the Democratic primaries on July 24.

There are only six contested races, as certified by the State Democratic Executive Committee, making up one of the party's shortest ballots. There are but 26 names on the ballots for 14 statewide elective offices.

Governor's Race

Governor Allan Shivers, running for re-election, designated Ralph Yarborough and his backers as "dreamers" who see as a solution of all our ills centralization of our government in Washington.

As an example of his meaning Shivers said his opponents were blaming him for supporting the Republican nominee for President in 1952.

"They say I'm a traitor," Shivers commented. "If getting the tidelands back for our school children means I'm a traitor, then I plead guilty." The governor added:

"Our opposition paid lip service to the tidelands. This two-time loser's biggest backers said the tidelands belong to the federal government."

Yarborough had hurled the charge of disloyalty at Shivers because of the latter's support of Eisenhower.

Yarborough also struck out against Shivers' bid for a third elective term, saying "Texas tradition condemns a third term. We approved the Twenty-second Amendment which forbids a third term for President."

Women In Politics

Two Texas women took over prominent spots in the state's political show last week.

Mrs. Pat Dougherty will manage the campaign of her husband, Dudley T. Dougherty, for the United States senate. Mrs. Charles Devall of Kilgore, whose husband is publisher of the Kilgore News Herald, was appointed state chairman of Texas Democratic Women for Shivers.

Demio Convention

A decision that will give big city counties who voted Republican in 1952 a strong voice in the Texas Democratic Convention was made by State Democrats in agreeing to count both parties' 1952 votes in deciding their convention strength.

The Democratic Convention convenes in September at Mineral Wells. The committee, meeting in Austin, agreed unanimously on the proposal after being told by its legal committee that the total vote was the correct basis on which to determine delegate strength.
