

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP JR.

We've had dog poisoners to add to the miseries of life for a long time. Now we have dog dumpers. The writer has been an audience to four separate discussions involving persons who said they were eye-witnesses when unknown out-of-town parties stopped their cars within the city limits of Texico-Farwell and shoved from two to five dogs onto the public sidewalks.

It's always a pleasure to see new faces in town, but as for stray canines, we believe we have our share at the present time. It is to be hoped that the person or persons involved in these alleged incidents will in the near future be apprehended by our local police force and questioned about these actions. The explanations would be interesting to hear.

The news that the local business district will soon be graced by the addition of two new service stations comes as somewhat of a jolt to us. It must be that we simply hadn't realized how much gas and oil and wash and grease business there is around here.

We were beginning to think that the filling stations and the cafes were so numerous as to make it pretty doggone hard for an operator to even make ends meet.

Maybe it 'tain't so. One thing we do know, however. We have all the newspapers we need.

News notes from the Graham, Wife & Son Experiment Substation:

We have just transplanted a handsome row of shrubbery (about 40 plants) on the east side of our station up next to the Second Street Parkway, sometimes derisively referred to as the "alley."

These little gems of the botanical world, so says the nurseryman who sold 'em to us, are about the hardest things on the face of the earth. The mere transference of ownership from him to us will be a test for the accuracy of his claims, because as green thumb experts, all we know is what we read in The Tribune.

However, we went ahead and gave the little rascals their start in life last week, being careful so as not to apply such a quantity of water as might exceed the $2.50 flat rate.

When boasting of our landscaping undertaking one evening last week, a friend asked the wife, "What kind of shrubs are they?"

Without a moment's hesitation she replied proudly, "They're the twenty-five cents each kind."

Now, some women may never attain great heights as gardeners, but we challenge you to find one that can not itemize each addition to the family plot with a breakdown in expenditures.

Irrigation Day Will Be Held in Bovina Thursday

Irrigation and soil fertility day for Parmer County has been set for February 25, at the Bovina American Legion hall, to begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The special program for farmers is sponsored by the Extension Service and Soil Conservation District, and has been an annual affair for the past few years.

In the past, the meeting had been held at Farwell, but directors decided it might be a good idea to have the meetings in various sites in the county. "The Chamber of Commerce has always given us the very best of cooperation in Farwell," Joe Jones, county agent, says, "but we felt by having the session in Bovina, the program might reach farmers that heretofore have not been able to attend."

Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist of Lubbock with the extension service, will discuss irrigation in general, with emphasis on methods of water application.

Norris P. Swanson, irrigation engineer with the soil and water conservation research branch of USDA, will talk about "Timely Irrigation for Crops." He has worked at both Amarillo and Lubbock experiment stations, and will point out to farmers the critical periods for various crops.

Phillip Trew, soil scientist with the Soil Conservation Service of Plainview, will discuss management of soils in this county under irrigation and explain things that need to go along with the fertilizing program to maintain high yields that will pay off when prices aren't as favorable. "This will be important in years ahead," says Jones, "when farmers will have to know when they can afford to water and still make a profit."

Also here will be J. Boston of Hereford, Castro farmer, who will talk about wheat, irrigation and fertilization. He has been one of the most successful irrigated wheat farmers in this area, Jones states.

LEGION DONKEY BALL GAME SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

The donkey basketball game, sponsored by the local Legion and Auxiliary, that was postponed in January, has been re-scheduled and will be played Tuesday, February 23, at the Farwell gym.

Scheduled to start at 8:15 p.m., the first event will be a race on Ralph Godfrey's mechanical donkeys, with members of the Farwell school faculty as riders. They are W. M. Roberts, H. K. Milford, and Robert "Prof" Morton.

Riders for the second race will be three members of the girls team.

For the third race, the jockeys will be "Rough and Reddy" Otis Huggins, president of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce; Nelson C. (Star Route) Smith, president of the Lions Club; and John (Feed Bag) Getz, commander of the Legion. The winner of each of the first three races will run in the final heat and prizes will be awarded for all three races.

Two girls teams will oppose one another in the opening basketball game, which will run two 8-minute halves.

Line-up for one girls team is as follows: Marcia Foster, Rose Hines, Lila Gardner, Laverna Christian and Irene Hardage. Line-up for the other team has not yet been completed.

County Students Asked To Write Essays March 1-6

Again this year, the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Texas will award a scholarship worth $1000 to a senior who graduates from a Texas Public School in the May or June class of 1954. Nelson Smith, committee member, says. The scholarship will be awarded for the best essay on "What Makes America Great," and postmarked during Public Schools week in Texas, March 1 to 6.

Any interested young man or young lady should contact the superintendent of the school for information and entry blanks, Smith says. Last year's winner was Meda Miller of Waco, who compiled a 650 word paper, which was rated on content, arrangement, and concise and bright style. She entered the University of Texas last fall to major in journalism.

Essays submitted from this area should be forwarded between the above dates to W. L. Brown, Grand Generalissimo, P. O. Box 328, Amarillo, Texas.

Smith says: "I hope we can at least get some essays from this county and nothing could please me better than for one of our Parmer County graduates to write the best essay."

Screwy Weather Throws Sandstorm, Spring Rains, Hot, Cold at Residents

It's been a screwy week of weather for Plains residents, ranging in temperature from 23 degrees on Friday, to 78 degrees on Sunday; and from a dandy dust storm on Saturday, to a refreshing spring shower on Monday evening.

Everybody in the area, however, didn't get the rain. It just about played out slightly west of Bovina. Westward past Texico-Farwell on in to New Mexico, however, the rain was in sufficient quantity to really be appreciated, for it was badly needed. Locally, rainfall measured .31 inch.

The duststorm whipped in out of the northwest early Saturday morning, and the wind continued to blow hard until nighttime. Land in the area is pretty well "nailed down" with cover crop and good plowing practices, but there was a lot of real estate in the atmosphere, nevertheless.

Farwell CC Feast Is Friday

Speaker for the annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday, Feb. 26, will be Dr. D. M. Wiggins, former president of Texas Tech, Otis Huggins, Chamber prexy announced this week.

Dr. Wiggins is now vice-president of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, and is well known throughout this part of the country as a speaker.

The banquet, which will be in the cafeteria of Farwell Schools, will be presided over by Huggins, who will act as toastmaster. Rev. Miller Stroup is scheduled to give the invocation.

Wilfred Quickel, chamber secretary-manager, will give a recap of accomplishments which the organization has had during the past year, and R. W. Anderson Jr., vice-president of the Security State Bank, will introduce the guest speaker.

A large crowd is anticipated for the event, which last year drew 300 attendants. The Farwell Band Mothers are scheduled to serve the dinner.

Tickets, which are $2 per plate, are on sale now, and may be obtained from any Farwell Chamber of Commerce member.

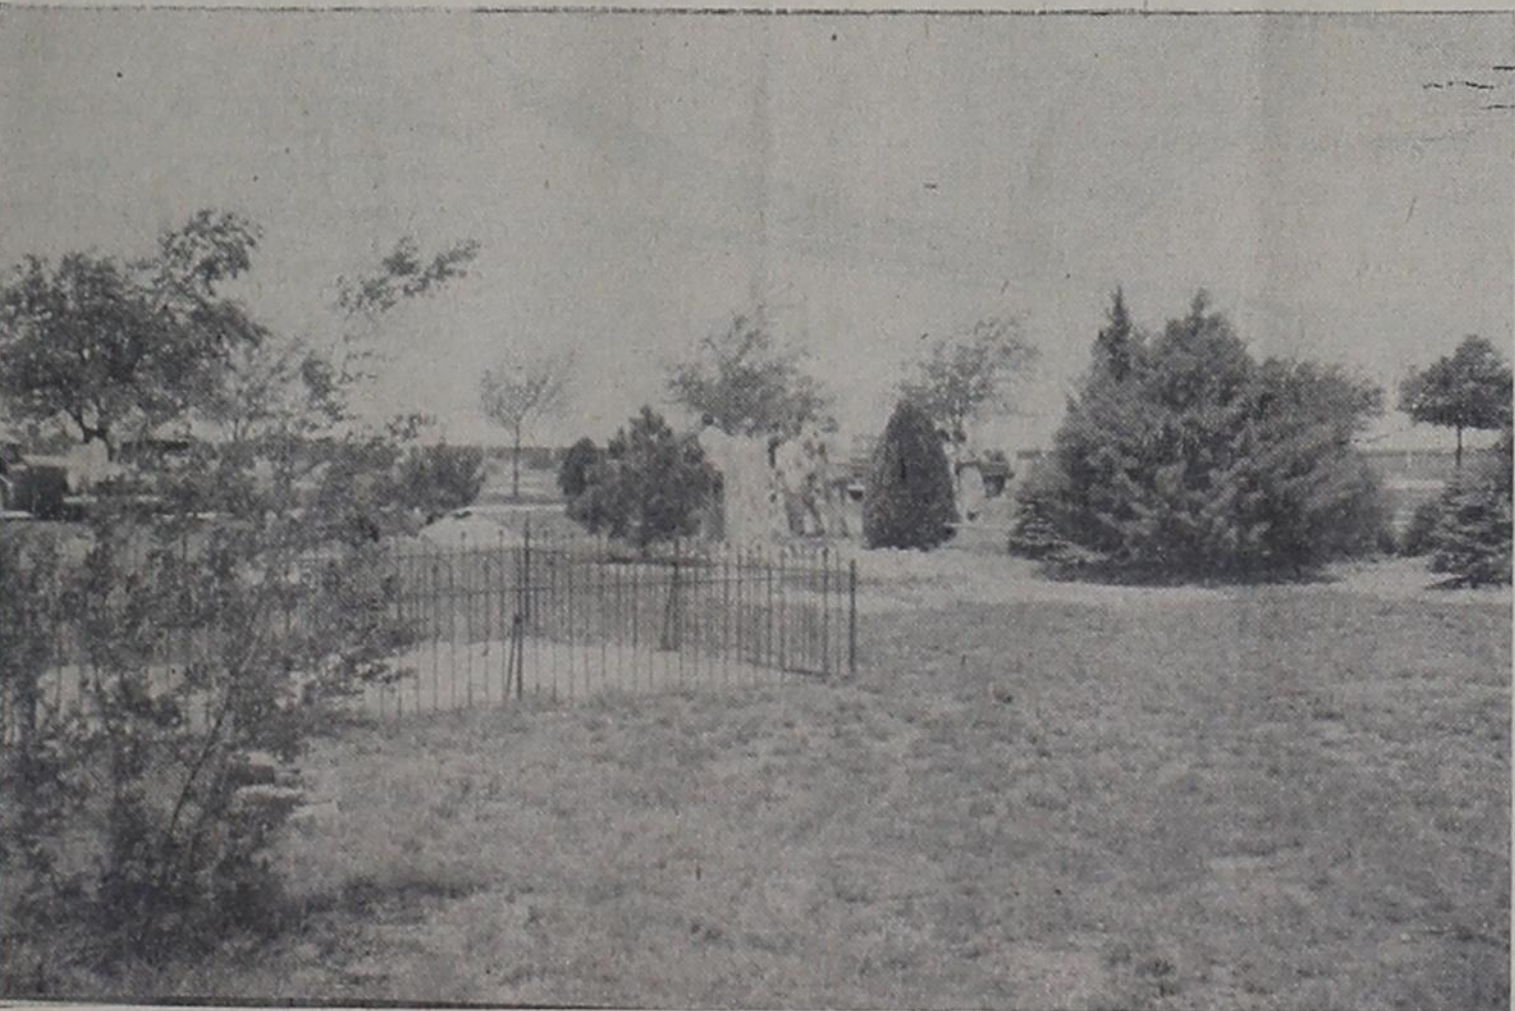

The board of directors for 1954, which were chosen at a meeting Monday night, include Sterlyn Billington, Otis Huggins, Carl Davis, W. H. Graham Jr., G. T. Watkins, Joe Crume, J. H. McDonald, W. W. Vinyard, and Ed Blain.

This group will elect a president at its next meeting.

FIRE RUN SUNDAY

The garage of Clyde Magness, Farwell, was damaged by fire Sunday afternoon. The structure was not burned down, but the inside was damaged considerably. The local fire department extinguished the blaze.

Association To Give Dinner

Pictured above is the Texico Cemetery, which is maintained and improved by the Texico Cemetery Association. Members of the group will serve a baked chicken dinner with all the trimmings Saturday, February 20, and proceeds will be used for the upkeep of the cemetery. Dinner will be served at the Furniture Mart building in Texico, next door to Crawley's Grocery. Menu will include chicken and dressing, gravy, creamed potatoes, jello salad, cranberry sauce, green beans, pie and coffee. The plates will be $1.50 each, and the association invites all friends in the area to eat with them Saturday. Coffee and pie will be served in the afternoon.

Gas Main Lines to Irrigation Areas Now Under Study

Many Lines Talked, Only Three Definite; Squeeze on LP Men

The hottest topic of conversation for irrigation farmers right now in Parmer County is the subject of natural gas pipelines: fact or fancy?

At least three lines appear to be definitely planned for installation in the near future, and several more are in talking stage. Negotiations are going forth with Pioneer Natural Gas Company of Lubbock, which serves all Parmer County communities except Farwell.

Set up for construction as soon as pipe can be brought in is a main-line extension south of Friona to the Hub community, a distance of about 10 miles. From there, the line is scheduled to go at least six miles—and possibly 13—toward existing lines eastward in Castro County.

A 13-mile main west of the Black community appears to be "in the works" as well as a 9-mile-long extension south from the Oklahoma Lane Underpass (3 miles southeast of Farwell) to the West Camp community.

Lines that are being talked include one from Oklahoma Lane north to the main on Highway 60, one east of Bovina to the Hub, and an extension from the Hub on to the "crossroads," a jog over to Lazbuddie, and then south into Muleshoe. Another would go north of Summerfield.

However, nothing has been committed between the farmers and the company on these lines, according to C. I. Wall, vice-president of Pioneer Natural Gas.

Several factors have influenced the creation of this situation of a sudden branching-out of natural gas lines. Among them are reasons of pumping economy using natural gas as a fuel (especially in deep-water areas, such as are present in some parts of the county), and also because the company has a "summer slump" in gas use and the business slack would be taken up by heavy pumping in hot weather.

When a project is undertaken, Wall says, the company makes a proposition as to how many in-

Hospital Workers Have Dinner Tonight

Area team captains and their workers for the Parmer County Community Hospital building fund will gather at the Friona cafeteria tonight (Thursday) to talk over final plans on the money-raising drive.

They will sit down to a banquet and receive instructions on the next move of the drive, which is just now getting underway. Work up until now has been organizational in nature.

On page eight is a list of names of the persons who have been recruited to see the campaign through. The aim of the drive is $150,000—one-third of that which must be raised in cash if the proposed hospital building is to be constructed in the near future.

PURCHASES TOP ANIMAL

Harvey Lesley went to the Chesterwhite Breeder's Association sale at Plainview recently. He purchased one of the top bred gilts for his FFA project.

stallations will be necessary to make the main line feasible, and then "steps out of the picture" and lets the farmers get together and decide whether to commit themselves.

As an example, Pioneer says they must have 64 wells committed before they will make the extension south of Farwell. The farmers get together, decide how much it will cost for them to tie on, and announce whether they will cooperate.

For a farmer whose well will be right on the planned main, his cost would be very slight. For another who might find it necessary for him to pipe in two miles in order to tie on, the cost would be high.

However, the man whose well is in the "area" even though it may be quite a way out, contributes to the feasibility of the project. Otherwise, the man on the main would not get the gas anyway, so all who will tie on agree to share equally in the cost of hooking up.

With the Friona-Hub extension definitely planned, Wall said it was highly unlikely that the Bovina-Hub project will go through, for the reason that it would not be economically feasible to go to the expense of running two lines into one general area.

Cost of installing a 4-inch main, he said "runs about eight thousand dollars a mile."

Farm Bureau Session To Be In Lubbock

Important issues now before Congress will be discussed at a District Two Farm Bureau meeting February 27 at the Lubbock Hotel in Lubbock, according to A. J. Ellison, president of Parmer County Farm Bureau.

Officers, members of the legislative committee and the publicity chairman of the Parmer County Farm Bureau have received invitations from Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond. In urging them to attend, the state farm leader stressed importance of the meeting as it relates to national legislation affecting agriculture.

"Farm Bureau members have spent a good deal of time and effort in developing the policies of the organization," Hammond stated. "These policies, to be worthwhile, must be executed. For that reason, and because of the nature of the meeting agenda, it is vital that we have Farm Bureau leaders from each county in attendance."

The meeting is one of a series of 12 policy execution sessions being held over the state in February and March. Subjects include agricultural price supports, natural resources, labor-management and foreign trade. Speakers include C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau; Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, District 3 director; R. G. Arnold of Auburn, Ala., assistant organization director for the Farm Bureau Southern Reg.; and M. C. Jaynes of College Station, organization specialist for the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

The meeting for counties in this district will begin at 10 a.m. District Director H. L. King of Brownfield will preside.

MEET AT CENTER

Curry County schoolmasters will meet Thursday (tonight) at Center for regular discussion. Texico teachers are included in the group.

Band Mothers Striving To Complete Calendar

Any local person that has not been contacted for the birthday calendar, sponsored by the Band Mothers, is urged to see any band mother and give his name and birth date to them.

Only about 300 names were turned in for the calendar project. A minimum of 400 names is needed before the list can be sent in, reports Mrs. Jack Williams. No special committee has been appointed for this project and every band mother is urged to work especially hard in contacting as many persons as possible. "We want everyone in both the Texico and Farwell area to have their names entered on this calendar," says Mrs. Williams.

At the meeting Monday afternoon, committees were named for the serving of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held February 26. They are as follows: meat, Mrs. Maud Brown, Mrs. John Armstrong and Mrs. Boone Allison; salad, Mrs. Mae Magness, Mrs. Dickie Magness, and Mrs. Chas. Lovelace; green beans, Mrs. Bob Hammonds and Mrs. Joe Crume; potatoes, Mrs. Doris Johnson, Mrs. Dick Gerles; rolls, Elsie Hardage; pies, Mrs. Frances Norton, Mrs. Webb Guber and Mrs. Oscar Hubbell; incidentals, Mrs. Myron Hillock and Mrs. R. Christian; table decorations, Mrs. Loucille Foster, Mrs. Avis Carpenter and Mrs. Jack Williams.

TO HEREFORD SHOW

A group of FFA boys will go to the Hereford Junior Livestock Show this weekend, where they will exhibit their project animals. About 15 lambs and five calves will be shown.

From there, several of the boys will go to Amarillo for the showing of their animals.

The four suits in a deck of cards symbolize the four seasons.

The Mustangs, however, are expected to sweep the meet and emerge as the conference champ.

Richards Establishes New Slaughter House

Earl Richards and son of Bovina announce this week that they have begun operation of a new business, which will be known as Richards & Son Slaughterhouse.

Custom killing will be a specialty of the father-and-son team, and butchered meat will be wrapped and made ready for cold locker storage. Customers also may purchase meat in bulk from them, if it is desired, and quarters and halves will be offered.

Although the slaughterhouse itself is located about three blocks off Main Street, Richards says he usually can be found at Comb Grocery & Market.

Spring Stock Show Set For March 13

Parmer County Fair directors met Monday and set the date for the spring show for March 13. Present Monday were Walter Kaltwasser, Robert Morton, Weldon Revel, Joe Jones, Clyde Hays, and Raymond Euler.

Divisions will be announced later.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Saving Stamps: Boon or Blow To Business?

The savings stamps theory of increasing business, which received such sudden re-emphasis a couple of weeks back, is still going strong in some parts of the country, but the retailer's enthusiasm for this method of merchandising seems to have been dulled somewhat in the past few months.

The old "something for nothing" gag has always been one of the greatest pitfalls of the American consumer, and an amazing number of these people still will take the drive if they think they stand to make a gain at no expense.

It is on this philosophy that the stamp business was established, and upon which its foundation still rests. Who can argue with the housewife who says, "Well, I might as well go ahead and get my stamps, because they are included in the purchase price of whatever I buy anyway."

The stamp companies have been most successful in their advertising insofar as they have created the illusion for the American housewife that she indeed is getting something "free" with her purchases.

Well, the truth is, saving stamps, in all their forms, are far from being "free" as any merchant will be happy to tell you. However, it is true that in some cases the merchant, for the sake of increasing his volume of business, will absorb most or all the cost of including the stamps as part of the sale.

His position to do this depends in part upon his idea of how to conduct a business and in part on the volume he is able to arrive at with the inclusion of stamps.

Businessmen, though, are beginning to see that whereas they would be at an advantage with stamps when they were first introduced, there is little or no advantage to be gained when every neighboring business up and down the street offers the same thing. His choice position as a merchant who "offers something more" is lost when his competitors offer the same thing.

Many firms which now carry stamps have done so only through what they felt to be the pressure of competition, and as a consequence, the whole merchandising structure has weakened.

Yes, stamps are a very real liability to the businessman who already has more worries than he cares to think of, and the advantage of paying for them steadily declines as others jump on the stamp bandwagon.

Something for nothing? There's no such animal.

What this County Needs Is Not a Five-Cent Cigar

Three farm fires in Parmer County in the last three weeks have pointed up the need for a county map. Last weekend, as an instance, the Texico-Farwell Fire Department was to extinguish or control the blazing barn on the Ned Foster home, northwest of Oklahoma Lane.

As always local firemen responded willingly, but they charged off blindly toward a location not one of them knew for sure how to get to. A plume of smoke indicating the presence of fire drew them toward it as they roared eastward, but it turned out to be coming from the Parmer County Gin, many miles from the Foster home.

The barn was lost, of course, through no fault of the department, but it is well to remember that the fire could have as well been the home as the barn.

Some organization or group of individuals would do this county a great service if they would take it upon themselves to map and have put into print Parmer County, its open rural roads, and the location of each farm home. We predict that there would be a big demand for such an article, and the undertaking could be made financially rewarding.

At the present time, two types of maps of the county are in general circulation. One, distributed for oil leasing companies, hangs on the walls of a good many businesses in the county. It shows section lines and the persons who own land. It does not show, however, where people live, or what section lines are open for roads.

Another map, distributed by the State Highway Department, indicates all roads in Parmer County. It too, however, is minus the names of farm families' homes.

Combining the first two and installing the names though new effort would be an undertaking not incapable of being accomplished, and the benefits would be many.

The community of Rhea, in the northwest part of the county, has pioneered development along these lines. Probably you have seen one or more of these maps, which shows, without any chance at confusion, the location of every farm home in the community. We sincerely hope this sort of thing catches on until the entire county can be mapped.

Youngsters Ready For Spelling Bee

Three youngsters of this area are readying themselves for a spelling bee in Amarillo Feb. 27, a check revealed this week.

Serving as Curry County champion is Bobby Patterson, son of Mrs. Avis Patterson, instructor at Texico. Bobby spelled down contestants in the county, and racked up a 100 percent record on 140 words.

Parmer County champ is Elmer Snodgrass, Bovina. Glendon Moss will be entered in the junior bee in Amarillo. He was top of his group in Texico.

Forrest, as president of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., will officially welcome delegates to the conference. He also is chairman of the committee on soil and water conservation-irrigation and domestic water systems.

After a half-day opening session during which representatives of each type organization will outline the work and objectives of his organization, the conference will break up into fourteen committees for work on specific subjects, such as rural industries, dairying, heating, air conditioning, and home appliances.

Wells Turned On To Water Winter Wheat

A drive over the trade area of Friona the past weekend revealed a good number of irrigation wells running full blast, bringing precious moisture to winter wheat which thus far has not been blessed with sufficient natural moisture.

In spite of the prolonged drouth, wheat in most cases looks good and a casual checkup revealed no damage from the brisk west winds, as of the first of this week. Dryland stuff is still green, although the irrigated fields definitely have an edge in growth. Some cattle grazing is being continued on the fields but indications are that unless moisture is received shortly, this practice will have to be discontinued if any yield is to be expected from the wheat.

And cotton farmers are not sitting idle to let their precious topsoil move into bar pits during the blowing season. A good number of fields are feeling the deep bite of the turning plows as the far-seeing producer takes that well-known stitch in time to prevent blowing. Exceptionally warm weather has encouraged brisk growth of wheat, which means that more moisture will have to be forthcoming if the crop is to maintain its stand.

The crew down at Friona Motor Co. was in Amarillo Monday evening, enjoying a barbecue sponsored by Don McMillian Motor Company, of that city. Attending the feed from the local business were Jim and Oscar Baxter, "Preach" Collier, and Lonnie Dement.

We've about decided to change our vacation to something that will give us a bit of vacation time, like, for instance, a banker, insurance man, doctor, or school superintendent. After listening to Frank Spring rave about the weather and scenery down around Guaymas, Mexico (you pronounce that Wy-mas), it seems a shame to be corralled up here in the wind and dirt.

Actually, Frank, brother Dr. Paul, Dan Ethridge, and Dalton Caffey didn't bring anything home in the way of fish, which was what they were after, but they did have a swell vacation. Frank says they heard tell about lots of catches being made in other places, which is usually the case. The locals did get a good look at spouting whales as they came up to blow, saw quite a few other oddities and had a big time in spite of a little luck.

In the middle of the city office this week (as of Monday) sat a vacuum cleaner, complete with attachments, which Elda Hart insisted she had brought down to clean the place thoroughly. She went on to add she planned to wash the woodwork, since the "rain comes in and then the sand blows and makes it so dirty." We don't know just when Elda washed that woodwork last, but as best we can remember, it's been a couple of years or so since we got enough rain here to mess up the windows.

Understand that the Troy Kemps, now of Lubbock, were here during the past weekend for a bit of a visit.

Rhea Foster was a bit dull on the news side this week when we got around, but she did have something of interest in the way of costume jewelry: daintiest things you ever saw, made out of braided net, with the necklace and earrings to match. Quite eye-catching, and surely looked like spring.

Remember the Seago family that formerly lived here? He was pastor of the Methodist Church, and is now minister to a new church in Lubbock. Lois Norwood and Elda Hart visited in that church the past Sunday, and reported it was packed to the walls.

With three girls, we always knew it was coming but didn't actually expect it so soon. Not-quite-seven seems a bit young for our oldest to have a boyfriend, or several, if you count all she claims. But the payoff came last Friday, when one of her school admirers came by to leave her a box of honest-to-gosh chocolates in a Valentine box. Don't know who was more surprised or thrilled, her, or her parents. Maybe this will be the first long step on the road from turning a ram-paging, whooping, gun-totin' cow-girl into a young lady—although we can't expect miracles.

Family Night Held On Tuesday Evening

A family night was observed by members of the Modern Study Club on Tuesday evening of this week, when members and their families enjoyed a covered dish supper at the club building.

Annual Cub Scouts Banquet Is Held

Annual Cub Scout Blue and Gold banquet was held Tuesday night at the Congregational Church basement. There was a good attendance of cubs and their parents.

The program was opened by songs led by Mrs. Henry Outland, "We're Glad To See You Here". Introduction of the guests was made by the Cubmaster Fred Barker Jr. They were Maurice Teague of Amarillo, Jimmy Patton and one new den mother, Mrs. Wolfington. The group sang the Cub Scout Grace. Mr. Teague paid special tribute to the Cub leaders and presented certificates to den mothers: Mesdames Faye Reeve, Fred Barker, Henry Outland, Frank Spring, Mary Robards, Jay Sanders and Glenn Reeve. Awards were made to councilmen Frank Spring, J. D. Sanders, Cubmaster Fred Barker and Glenn Reeve.

The Scouts sang to their dads, "There Are Dads", and then the dads sang to the boys. Cubmaster Fred Barker gave birthday tribute and asked Mrs. Rhea Foster, representative of the sponsoring club (Modern Study Club), to cut the cake and serve it. After the banquet a treasure hunt was held.

"The Nicest Job I've Ever Seen Done" Says Frank Spidler of M-M Plow

Frank Spidler and son, Frank Jr., who live northwest of Lazbudie, know the real value of doing farming with up-to-date M-M equipment. In the picture above they are shown with their new UTS 4-row tractor and the 3-bottom moldboard plow with which they have broken their land. Pointing to a field that the unit had been used on, Mr. Spidler said, "That's the nicest job of breaking I've ever seen done. I sure do like that plow."

The Spidlers know that having big, capable equipment doesn't mean that operational bills have to be rough, either. For instance, with the M-M tractor shown, they pulled a 1-way, stalk cutter, and the moldboard plow over 100 acres—and used only 350 gallons of butane for all three operations combined. That's real economy for such power, they say.

Hundreds of farmers in this area are experiencing how to make real profits with top-notch equipment. Talk with them—then talk with us!

Bovina Methodist Men Hear National Leader

Methodist's President of the General Conference Board of Lay Activities, Ray Nichols of Vernon, spoke Monday evening to a crowd of Methodist men and their guests at the Bovina Methodist Church. His visit to Bovina marked the charter night of the new Methodist Mens organization of that parish.

Nichols' address was directed to the men in which he challenged them as Christians of today to be optimistic, and he stated, "a Christian today cannot follow the Master with the pessimistic frame of mind, he only can be optimistic in his attitudes toward the problems of the world, the nation and his home." He further concluded that "belonging to the Methodist Mens organization locally gives men a sense of belonging to a great body of men, instrumental in bringing about the Kingdom of God before the present day as a counterpart to forces conflicting with His Beliefs."

Nichols then presented the Charter of Methodist Men as granted by the General Board of Lay Activities in Chicago to J. T. Hammonds, president of the Bovina group, stating, "as of this date Methodist Mens organizations have charted more local groups than any civic club in the world; therefore be proud of the great opportunities that lie challenging before you."

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Austin—Politically troubled waters in Duval County came to a boil as federal and state officers probed errors in impounded records.

Pressure of the investigation resulted in mass resignations including school district officials and county commissioners, all supporters of Political Boss George Parr.

Most prominent man to quit was Tax-Assessor-Collector D. C. Chapa who is regarded as Parr's lieutenant.

Attorney General John Ben Sheppard obtained the record impounding order from Special Judge Arthur Klein of Harlingen after some 800 cancelled checks were found missing.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported that the first voucher he turned over in Duval County records was the transfer of $5,000 from the jury fund to another fund.

Sheppard asserted that a jury fund is "inviolable" and could not be transferred legally into any other fund.

A squabble appeared likely over who will get to rule on Klein's temporary injunction impounding the records. Hearing on the motion is set for February 19.

District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin said he had arranged "is affairs to be present for the hearing on that date."

"My understanding of the law is that when I am in the district, am the district judge," he said.

It appeared that the matter would be settled among Klein, Laughlin, and Administrative Judge W. R. Blalock who assigned Klein to the case.

In pushing the state's case, Sheppard asked Judge Laughlin to set hearing on a petition to discharge the Duval County grand jury because seven of its twelve members were linked with Parr.

Laughlin has stated that Sheppard will have to prove allegations that the jury couldn't make an impartial investigation involving Parr or his supporters.

"I am confident they would indict me if they thought they should—and they would waste through 17 Texas Rangers to do it," the judge said.

Removal charges against Laughlin were considered by the Texas Supreme Court.

One of the charges of official misconduct against Laughlin in the ouster proceedings was that he discharged a grand jury before it had completed an investigation.

Judge Klein presided in Duval during Laughlin's appearance before the Supreme Court.

A state witness and former deputy tax collector testified that school fund vouchers had been made to fictitious persons and the money given to George Parr on the latter's orders.

These vouchers were against the school district for the amount of teachers' contributions to the teacher retirement system, the witness said.

According to the witness, Parr had dominated the board of trustees of the district and had "taken it upon himself to countersign all vouchers" but to the witness' knowledge had never been an employee of the school district.

Five Texas Rangers were stationed in San Diego. One of them, Captain Alfred Allee, had another scuffle, this time with District Attorney Raeburn Norris.

Allee also has fought with Parr and is under indictment on a charge of assault to murder the political leader.

Signs of revolt by long-time Parr supporters have also been reported.

J. L. MacDonald, Benavides oilman-rancher who holds a special Texas Ranger commission, said that representatives of three prominent Duval County families claimed they had given Parr an ultimatum to clean up the mess or they would do it with or without his help.

Governor Allan Shivers declared, however, that it will take "continual vigilance" to see that the mess is stamped out.

Four "wrongs" need to be righted in Duval County, he said, listing these wrongs as the apparent misappropriation of funds, the denial of rights, the absence of a forum to which citizens can appeal for help, and officers who deny the rights citizens ordinarily have when those citizens oppose the regime.

"Texas legislators were poring over the tax revenue problem in order to raise teacher pay at a special session of the Legislature in March."

Intensifying the problem was the US Supreme Court's decision striking down the natural gas pipeline tax.

There was talk of a sales tax threat. At the same time, a large gas company served notice that any move to increase natural gas taxes will be opposed.

Attorney General Sheppard announced his department had drafted new gas tax bills which were considered legal and would be available to the legislators.

Also studying the tax problem prior to the special session were the Legislative Council and the Legislative Budget Board.

Governor Shivers indicated he will submit other issues to the special session.

He declared that he plans to ask the Legislature to make membership in the Communist Party a death penalty offense.

"American adherents to the international Communist conspiracy are traitors—period," he said "and Communists should not be allowed the protection of the Constitution they are trying to wreck."

A foe of US Senator Joseph McCarthy said in a speech here that he would go to jail if necessary to test in court the senator's right to question citizens about their spoken or written beliefs or their political affiliations.

Harvey O' Connor, author of several books, is under indictment for contempt of Congress. He spoke at a meeting of Americans for Democratic Action.

He refused to answer McCarthy's question on the grounds of the first amendment which provides that congress shall make no law abridging freedom of speech or of the press.

"When any public servant may inquire about your thought rather than your action then the servant becomes the master," he said.

ses easily walked away with the game, 41-33. Halftime score was 15-11. The boys were not so fortunate against the Mustangs. The Steers were scalped with a 79-48 count.

They didn't have a chance after Bovina marked up a 21-point lead in the first period and held a wide margin for the remainder of the game.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Rhea Farm Bureau had a good, well attended meeting Friday night (February 5). Dr. Spring spoke to them relative to hospital activities and accomplishments. In their Farm Bureau business session, they accepted twelve renewals of membership which Raymond Schueler, their president, brought in to the director's meeting the following Monday night.

When directors met to plan for the membership drive which begins the first of March, all officers and directors were present except President Ellison and Secretary-Treasurer Bruce Parr, who were in Lubbock attending a district meeting that night. Also present were Melvin Sachs, Ellis Tatum, A. D. Cumpton and Jack Patterson, who were assisting their directors in planning area maps for the drive. Joe Camp, ASC Manager, was also present and presented official information received concerning cotton allotments and answered questions relative to the program.

Hugh Nelson, an ardent Farm Bureau member and former director in Swisher County was in the other day to familiarize himself with the local county Farm Bureau facilities. Nelson moved here from Tulsa recently and will live and farm about four miles south of Friona. We extend a hearty welcome to all new farmers to come in to get acquainted with their county Farm Bureau servants.

Your organizational workers appreciate the steady flow of membership renewals coming in, in person and by mail. This substantially reduces the cost of membership acquisition and saves a few miles driving for the workers a little later. We also appreciate the fact that we no longer hear the question from merchants and bankers, "what good does it do me?" They all know what 20,000 plus acres of additional cotton will do for them next fall. It pays for clothing and food and fuel and houses and increases bank deposits.

Agricultural experiment stations and extension services in America make our agricultural situation different from that of most other countries. Through them, answers to production and conservation questions are provided which make for net profit increases.

"We'd like to see several of you cooperate in the 'strip testing' when you fertilize this year as County Agent Jones suggests. Find out if your application is what is needed. Maybe you need more or less of it, or something else.

CONSIDER THIS: In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof is no death. Proverbs 12:28.

JOHN'S FARM STORE CHECKERBOARD NEWS

JAMES ROBERTS CALF SELLS FOR 60c LB.

A Purina-fed Hereford Calf exhibited last week by James Roberts of Farwell at the El Paso Stock Show sold for 60 cents a pound. It was judged 13th in a large entry field.

James gives credit to Purina Fat Calf Chow which was fed the animal since its purchase when 2 months old. The calf was 14 months old when sold.

Purina feeds can do the same for you. Ask someone who has been using them.

SEE OUR CHICK DISPLAY

We've got 25 baby chicks in our display pen, showing how easy it is to use heat lamps for heat in the winter-time. Come in and see them, and don't forget to ask how you may make $20 to $40 extra per 100 pullet chicks by starting them early—right now.

W. O. Barber, who lives across from the Court House has had 16 hens in cages since last fall. They lay him 10 to 16 eggs a day and he has a demand for all his eggs, at above the market prices. This makes a nice back-yard or garage unit that makes extra money on the side.

ARE YOU POULTRYMAN OR CHICKEN KEEPER?

These cold February days are the ones that separate the poultrymen and women from the chicken keepers. The good poultrymen are doing things to keep those layers hitting at least 60% production and making good money.

One of the worst problems we find in poultry houses we visit right now is poor ventilation. Folks have kept those houses closed up so tight there's no place for the damp air to get out. Remember that hens can stand a lot of cold, if they're not damp or in drafts. Keep your windows cracked a little bit at the top and make some sort of vent opening at the highest point in the roof. That is where the warm, damp air has got to get out before it cools and begins to drip.

RABBIT RAISERS or folks interested in getting some, are invited to come in and get a Purina Rabbit Book. And if you want to know where you can get some good breeding stock, we can give you the name of a good Purina feeder who will treat you right. See O. B. Tisdale out in Oklahoma Lane.

HEALTH HINT

It's a good idea right now to check a few birds for lice. If you find lice or their eggs around the vents, it's time to get busy, because lice irritate the hens and usually cause production to drop. Easiest way to kill lice is to paint Purina Poultry Insecticide on the roosts. Fumes kill the lice. Repeat in 10 days to get new lice that hatch out from eggs.

WE WANT TO MEET YOU, and we want you to know our people. So come in the store next time you are in town. A couple of our boys are trained to help farmers with their feeding and sanitation problems. It's not all "book learnin'" either. They've had a lot of experience helping your neighbors. Could be we could help you, too. Let's get acquainted!

NEW RESIDENTS HERE

Several new families have moved into our little community. We are happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lawrence, living on the C. A. Lawrence place; also Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wall and daughter from Bellview who now reside on the Norbert Schueler farm.

MOVES TO CLOVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schueler and daughter have moved to Clovis. We will be missing them here, but are happy they didn't move too far away. Their new address is 237 Torreon Drive.

Observe 40th Wedding Anniversary
Monday afternoon, February 15, a group of friends and neighbors gathered at the W. H. Alderson home to surprise them on their 40th wedding anniversary. The afternoon was spent with Mr. Alderson, better known as "Uncle Billy," telling his early experiences in courting Mrs. Alderson and his life. Pastor Pullmann gave an interesting talk on "The many blessings in their long married life."

Those attending were Mrs. Sarah Dean, Mrs. Floyd Schlenker, Mrs. Clara Sachs, Mrs. Albert Drager, Mrs. Jack Nixon, Mrs. Henry Minter, Mrs. Jack Waltman, Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Pullmann, Mrs. Cordie Potts, Mrs. J. D. Stevens, Mrs. Betty Stevens, Mrs. Selma Wagner, Mrs. Terrel Paul, Mrs. Charlie Calaway, Mrs. Herman Schueler, Mrs. Paul Koeltzow, Mrs. Vernon Ward and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Alderson.

They received many beautiful and useful gifts. Uncle Billy was given the job of unwrapping while Mrs. Alderson looked on with an eager eye.

The afternoon was a most joyous occasion for everyone attending.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee, and spiced tea were served the guests.

Many of the housewives have been cleaning some of that stuff off the window sills that looks like cocoa. Of course, if you have lived in West Texas a number of years, it doesn't seem to bother you a bit. It is accepted as just routine. It is a bit sickening to see the wheat fields heading east. Our farmers are very busy this year with the plows to prevent this erosion.

Lasser, reveals a lot of things you probably don't know about your old-age income . . . and tells how the Social Security Law can be altered so that everyone gets a fair shake. Brewer Gives Final Total Final total on Parmer County March of Dimes is $3969.64, Loyde Brewer, chairman, says. Expenses for the drive in the county totaled $109.42, which leaves a balance of $3860.22 for polio work. Mothers' Marches in the county netted a total of $728.62.

One-third of this final goes to the National Polio Prevention for research work, one-half of the remaining goes to the National Foundation, leaving the local chapter a balance of $1286.74.

Reserve funds left over from last year, together with funds from this year's drive, leaves the county with around $2700 to carry on this year's work, reports Brewer.

By STEVE BAVOSETT

An irrigation school will be held in Bovina at 1 o'clock Thursday, Feb. 25, in the American Legion Hall. "Swede" Swanson of the Amarillo Experiment Station will discuss "Timely Irrigation of Crops." This will include a discussion of each of the major crops of the district and their use of irrigation water. The yields of some crops are affected more severely than others when the moisture is low.

"Swede" will point out these facts and suggest some ways that you might use your water to produce more pounds of cotton or grain with your irrigation well.

Bob Thurmond, extension service specialist from Lubbock, will discuss methods of water application. Uniform water distribution is

Announcement

The Texas Highway Registration laws concerning Motor vehicle have been somewhat revised and now require that everyone purchase their registration plates in the county in which they reside. The percentage of Parmer County residents registering cars in other Counties has been very low, in the past. Parmer County (since it has a population of under 10,000) retains the first $50,000 from motor vehicle registrations. 50% of all over $50,000 is remitted to the State of Texas Highway Department.

1954 Motor Vehicle plates are now on sale at this office and may also be obtained at the following places and the days designated, in the month of March.

Every Friday in March at the City Hall in Bovina, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Every Saturday in March at the City Hall in Friona, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Monday, March 15 at Lazbuddie Store, Lazbuddie, Texas, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Monday, March 22 at Black Store, Black, Texas, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. We are prepared to handle any registration by mail in case this form of purchase is desired. We will need the certificate of Title and the 1953 registration receipt to register any Motor vehicle. It is not necessary to have your inspection receipt.

When purchasing 1954 plates you can render your 1954 personal and real property for taxation and secure a Homestead exemption on your real property on state tax. The statutes allows an exemption on your Homestead on State tax only.

As in the past we will be open on Saturday afternoons in the month of March to register ears and trucks.

Men Are Models
In Style Show

A womanless style show was presented Thursday night at the high school auditorium, sponsored by the Friona FHA girls. Announcers were Deann Buske, Jane Phipps, and John Parrish as Bertha (buttonbuster) Parrish. The men in their famous "Paris" fashions attracted hundreds of Friona people by modeling night wear, sports, and maternity wear, dresses, suits, and evening dresses. Usherettes were high school boys wearing formals.

First on the program was Betty Joyce Agee, who sang one number. Sally Osborn and Evelyn Ray played the piano throughout the evening. Then came the young models: Kim Buske, John Bill and David McFarland, and J. L. Baxter. Then eight year-old Billy Don Thomas modeled red slacks and sang one number. His mother, Mrs. John Thomas, was at the piano.

Then next on the program were S. T. Thornton, Edward Lehnick, Dillie Kelley, Leonard Coffey, Bud Crump, Hadley Reeve. Little Steven Thornton modeled a print dress and said a reading "What It Was, Was Football". The next beautiful models were Lee Burnett, Bill Stewart, Murray Ford, Jack Knox and son.

H. K. Kindrick and son, Danny, came out modeling sun dresses, then on stage was O. J. Beene wearing a maternity dress. Usherettes Jim Dixon, Teddy Fangman, Virgil Phipps, Wayne Haulette, and Paul Coker were presented a powder puff each, for their shiny noses by Deann Buske, one of the FHA girls.

A sophomore, Morris Burns came on stage modeling a street dress and played the accordion, other very striking showmen were Raymond Cook, Steve Scott, Harrison Cope, Jimmy Baxter, Virgil Zeeman, Glenn Reeve and Dr. Smith. Robbie Osborn, a sixth grade student, wore a blue formal and sang one number. The last models on the program were Bert Neeley and Ralph Roden. The judges chose for the ideal girl, Lee Burnett who wore a rayon faille skirt with sheer white blouse and a beautiful hat. The "prettiest girl" was Murray Ford in lounging pajamas. It was reported by Deann Buske that the show brought $170 to help the girls toward an FHA trip.

We caught Johnnie Crawley of Texico over having a cup of coffee this week and asked her for her favorite recipe. Johnnie is one of those people that you have to catch in a rare moment of relaxation. She not only assists in the family business, but rears her children, works at the Texico post office, is March of Dimes chairman for Texico and has numerous other activities.

Her favorite recipe is pecan pie. She lines a pie shell with about 1/2 cup of pecans, ground rather finely. She then beats two eggs, adds 3/4 ounce of sugar and 3/4 ounce of flour, a pinch of salt, and one teaspoon of vanilla.

She mixes all this together, then adds 1/2 cup white Karo and 1/2 cup water. She pours this mixture over the pecans and bakes 25 minutes in a slow oven.

We have one standard disagreement at our house, and further comments on the subject crop up every week, almost every time we cook a meal.

We love to try new fancy recipes, and our husband has a four dessert stomach. No matter what we try, to give a new twist to the menu, to maintain harmony, we seem to go back to chocolate cake, fruit pies, chocolate chip cookies, and angel food cake.

We always tell our husband he is difficult to cook for, and he says he thinks that he would be easy to cook for. Just fix one of those four desserts and he is happy. But all in all, we like variation in our cooking, so we keep trying new things, just to see if he won't like the newest creation.

Sometimes, we are pleasantly surprised and he does. We must admit that the opposite is true on many other occasions, however.

But it is one family joke we always get a good laugh about, and never ceases to be amusing. We have found that our mother-in-law enjoys different desserts also, so when the husband turns up his nose, we prepare something else for him, and thoroughly enjoy our extra servings.

And after all the months of matrimony, we still haven't converted our husband to the "coffee habit." Right now, with the price of the beverage climbing higher and higher, the laugh is on us.

In the Merkel paper, we found the following little item, which to us was quite interesting. "Coffee is 5 cents or 10 cents per cup. Pay whichever you feel is right on the present cost of coffee per pound. Thanks. Myrtle."

This is a sign in a cafe in that city. The story further reports that about one-third of the customers in the eating place offer to pay a dime, according to the owner.

Sometimes sayings or situations, or little things seem to stick with us and pop out at the most unexpected times. And when we are growing up, our parents might be surprised at some of the things which make the most profound impressions. We are on the other side of the fence now, and certainly realize the job before us.

But we never fail to get ready to go somewhere, when we are trying to look our very best, to present the most acceptable outward appearance, that we don't recall a statement our daddy used to make to us when we were about to embark on one of those important teen-age "society" functions.

We would always question him most urgently, "How do I look? Are you sure I look all right?" The comeback was always a variation of this: "If you will worry about how you act as much as how you look, things will work out wonderfully, and if you act as well as you look, you will have nothing to worry about."

It has always been food for thought to us, and we try to remember to "act well," no matter how we look.

Street Signs Up, Paving Being Patched

The City of Farwell was putting its best spring foot forward last week, with the new completed installation of street signs at opposing corners, and a crew was busy patching up holes in the city paving.

Wilfred Quickel, Farwell Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, reported collections toward financing the signs were coming along nicely. He said that a contribution of about $100 worth of welding by Blain & Son Welding Shop had helped the cause considerably.

The signs are all-metal, and are set in concrete. Besides being useful and handsome in appearance, they definitely are permanent fixtures. C. C. President Otis Huggins did the stenciling.

Truck Hit By Car East Of Farwell

A car driven by Earl Miller, Sudan, crashed into a parked truck Monday night, about three miles east of town. Damage to the car was estimated at $300; the truck, $100. No one was seriously injured.

G. A. Nystel, Lubbock, was driver of the truck. He had stopped on the signaling of a parked motorist, who wanted to know what highway he was on.

Nystel was unable to get his truck off the road in time to avoid the oncoming car of Miller, which was east-bound.

Gas Mains—

Butane dealers have in the past three or four years grown by leaps and bounds in the area, and their place in the economy of the county has been definitely established.

Talks with dealers in Friona, Bovina, and Farwell indicate they aren't too mournful about business prospects, but they are not side-stepping the issue of natural gas as a competitor, either. Their attitude is one of realism, but not pessimism.

"This is going to separate the men from the boys in the butane business," one Friona dealer said Wednesday. Another added, "Well, you can't stop progress."

In Bovina, it looked as though butane operators were playing a "sit still and see" game. One dealer said he had heard talk of wholesale gas line extensions for some time, but as yet, he hadn't been hurt much, so he guessed he'd just hold on for a while.

In Farwell, a butane representative said that gas line extensions were going to take the "sugar" from their business, and would make their servicing and hauling costs bigger, because of a lot of the accounts close to the home office would be lost, but he wasn't discouraged either.

"There's going to be a whole lot of wells that won't be able to get natural gas service," he said, "and some of our outlying areas are just now developing."

Competition, it would seem, is anticipated by butane dealers, but not feared as something that would eliminate their business entirely.

Lions Honor Firemen At Thursday Supper

The Texico-Farwell Lions Club entertained the fireboys at a banquet held in the American Legion Hall Thursday evening.

"Many of us take for granted and overlook the many services that are rendered by our local fireboys," says Nelson Smith, the club president. "Your Lions Club wants this fine group of unselfish men to know that they are not forgotten, and in giving them this dinner tonight we do so in recognition of their service to our community," said Smith.

He went on to recognize the fact that the local department is at the present time "undermanned, and noted that young men, especially, should take an active participation in the group.

He also reminded men and boys over 10 years of age to be on hand at the Lions party in Farwell School Thursday, Feb. 25, at which three FBI agents will be club guests. They will put on some lively entertainment, as well as give an idea of the workings of the organization, says Smith. Time for the special program is 7:45.

The following committee has been appointed to nominate officers for the club for next year: Otis Huggins, Agrie Jones, and Joe Crume. This committee will report at the April 8 meeting, the election will be May 13, and new officers will be installed June 24. They will take over their duties on July 1.

A special ladies' night will be observed April 22. "Better not miss this, ladies," says Smith, "as you will be privileged to hear your own voices and those of your husbands in your own homes."

Texico Teams Lose Out In Tournament

In the boys semi-finals of the Curry County tournament last weekend, Melrose moved by the inspired Texico team 44-42.

Hustling Paul Crooks directed the Texico offense and contributed 13 points. His overall floor play was outstanding.

Melrose opened slowly and was in the lead 16-12, but Texico came up to 24 while Melrose was raised to 25. The Wolverines were still behind 34-36 at the end of the third quarter.

Texico's J. L. Moss took a fast break assist from Crooks to send the Wolverines into a tie with only 1:45 remaining in the quarter.

Lawrence Widener, Melrose, was then fouled and dropped the ball in for a 2-point lead, 42-40, over Texico. Another Melrose teammate was fouled and once again scored two more points, putting Melrose ahead 44-40.

"YOUR FRIENDLY FORD DEALER"

Farwell, Texas

Wolverines stole the ball and dribbled to Texico's basket for a lay-up shot to make the final score 44-42.

A preliminary game was played Thursday night against Field, and Texico took the victory 43-33.

The Whirlwinds fell to the Grady Bronchoettes Thursday in a preliminary game in the meet.

The two teams played a game that saw Texico jump to a 10-7 quarter lead and then refuse to put the ball into play for 7:45 of the second period. The score was still 10-7 at half.

Texico whipped into a 24-17 lead after three quarters and seemed on the way to a win.

Wanda Redus, Grady forward, did some fine offensive work and tied the game 33-33 with 1:20 to go.

A three throw by Tucker at 1:05 was nearly good for a win, but Grady gained possession with 10 seconds left and Redus was fouled in the act of shooting with one second left.

She calmly dropped in both shots for a 35-34 victory as the buzzer sounded.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Stone went to Quitaque over the weekend to take Mrs. Stone's mother, Mrs. Maude Jack, home. She has been visiting here with the Stones.
