Democratic Runoff - -

Commissioner Races To Highlight Election

Parmer County Democrats will hold their second primary (runoff) election on Saturday, June 5, with nomination of two county commissioners highlighting the voting day.

For the first time in a number of years, the voters in both county precincts which are electing new commissioners will go back to the polls to decide nominees for the positions.

In Precinct 3, former judge Archie Tarter and Wendol Christian are candidates for the Commissioner post; while in Precinct 1, Raymond Euler and Ernest Anthony will oppose each other.

County Democratic chairman Hollis Horton this week sounded a reminder as to who is eligible to vote.

"Only those voters who voted in the Democratic primary on May 1, or those who did not vote in either primary may vote in the June 5 election," Horton pointed out.

Those voting in the Republican primary are not eligible to cast ballots in the Democratic runoff.

Runoff Polls, Judges Set

Polling places and judges for the June 5 Democratic runoff election have been announced by H.H. Horton Jr., county Democratic party chairman, as follows:

- Farwell: County Courtroom. Albert Smith.
- Oklahoma Lane: Community Center. Clarence Johnson.
- Lazbuddie: High School. Wyle Bullock.
- Friona: High School. Bessie Holt.
- Bovina: American Legion Building. Ken Horn.
- Rhea: Parish Hall. Raymond Schueler.
- Lakeview: Otho Whitefield residence. Otho Whitefield.
- Black: Tri-County Elevator. Ethel Bengier.

Yakubovsky - -

Track Coach Resigns Post

Coach Jim Yakubovsky has resigned his position as Farwell High School's Defensive Coordinator and head track coach to accept a position as head football coach at Sands High School in Ackerly, Tex. Yakubovsky will also teach history and health at Sands High School. He and his wife Janet and children have lived in Farwell for one year.

Mrs. Yakubovsky is secretary for Jack Williams, high school principal. Her contract terminates at the end of June and the Yakubovskys plan to leave Farwell the first of July.

Coach Yakubovsky said he and his family have enjoyed living in Farwell and that they had made numerous friends whom they will be sorry to leave.

Army Course

Army Pvt. George D. Byford, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Byford of 305 Lamar St., Texico, completed a seven-week lineman course at the Army Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., May 5.

He was trained to install and maintain field wire, open wire and cable communications systems.

Pvt. Byford entered the Army in February of this year and completed basic training at Ft. Gordon.

"We thought it important to call this to the voters' attention, due to the larger than usual turnout of voters in the May 1, Republican primary," Horton said. A total of 323 persons voted in the GOP primary in Parmer County.

Horton pointed out that a person casting an illegal ballot could be subject to a Class A misdemeanor charge, which could bring up to a $2,000 fine, and/or a year in jail. In case of a contested race, such illegal voters would probably be spotted, Horton said.

"We are not out to deny anyone a vote, but we wanted to call attention to voters as to the law on the subject," Horton said.

The County Democratic chairman said that all eight county voting boxes would once again be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on election day.

Horton said he personally was expecting around 60 per cent of the number who voted in the May 1 primary to vote in the runoff.

Tarter and Christian, the survivors of a four-way fight for the nomination for commissioner after the May 1 primary, will settle the issue Saturday.

In the first primary, Tarter led the four-man ticket with 271 votes. Christian received 173 votes over incumbent Cecil Atchley with 111 and A.N. Walls with 101 as a record 500 votes were cast in Farwell. The results of the second primary apparently will depend upon which of the two runoff candidates gets the most of his supporters back to the polls, and which picks up the most support from those who voted for one of the defeated candidates, or voters who did not vote at all on May 1.

In addition to the commissioner's race, runoff voters will cast their ballots for two state-wide races.

Seeking the railroad commissioner's nomination are Jon Newton and Jerry Sadler.

In the race for judge on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, Carl Dally opposes W.T. Phillips.

The student selected for "The Old Trophy" award must have scholastic ability, high qualities of citizenship in school as well as in the community, interschool accomplishments, leadership, character, and sports ability.

At the Awards Assembly at Farwell High School last Friday afternoon, the "Steerette of the Year" award was given for the first time to Kathy Booth. Selection for the honor was made by the girls' athletic coaches.

During the assembly Jack Williams, high school principal, presented honor awards to seniors who had maintained a 90 per cent or better average during the school year.

We talked to Farwell Postmaster Otis McMillan the other day and he commented on the growth taking place in town. Otis has had the back corner of the post office building completely filled with additional mail boxes.

He said this was due to the increased demand for boxes in town. He also specifically said that this was NOT in anticipation of a closing of the Lariat Post Office. He has no information on the status of the post office at Lariat.

Incidentally, in talking to Asa Smith we learn that he does not have any word on the matter, either. With the fate of Lariat unknown, it was still necessary to install more boxes to accommodate local demand.

There seems to be persistent rumors that the Postal Service will eventually close all fourth class offices. We all know that the Postal Service is wallowing in red ink. This is reported daily in the nation's press along with what we think is speculation about closing the smaller post offices. We hope that other operating economies can be found rather than the closing of small rural mail centers.

A suggestion from this corner would be to cut out some of the extremely costly urban mail deliveries. People in cities can go, via public or private transportation, a relative short distance to get their mail. While on the other hand, many of the small rural facilities serve people from a many-mile area with no public transportation.

It may be that we as a people will have to get used to lesser mail service. We commented several years ago that with the demise of the passenger train, mail service would deteriorate. With the energy situation forcing new looks at rail service we may, in several more years, see a revival of local rail transportation and as a corollary, better mail service.

As long as the government is now largely subsidizing rail transportation in the East, we wonder why the mail service and the transportation bigwigs do not get together and combine forces and possibly be able to give us both improved transportation and mail.

Recently the Farwell City Park, across the street from the Tribune, was the recipient of four new lights. Because we had to work times several evenings lately we have seen the improvement that these lights make to the after-dark usability of the park.

We hope that the local folks will take advantage of the extended time the park can be used for family recreation. Of course it will mean that when and if we receive rain the City will have to keep a close eye on the mosquito problem. Last year we felt that the park was well-maintained and sprayed by the city employees and feel they will do as well this year.

Keeping the city park clean is a two-way street - the public will have to cooperate in the proper disposal of trash and picnic debris. We feel that responsible citizens will aid the city in this matter.

We received a letter to the editor the other day in which the writer gave a particular candidate for office a severe going over. It was not a local situation and appeared to be a form letter sent to all newspapers, and so we did not print it.

However, we will pass on one remark wherein the writer said that the politician and his followers found a gold mine. The politician got the gold and his followers got the shaft.

We thought this was the usual treatment that the public got from politicians. In Ohio this remark would start a panic.

FHA Girls Paint Texico Hydrants

Texico's fire hydrants have been painted red, white and blue in preparation for the upcoming bicentennial celebration. The event took place Thursday, May 27. The public-spirited painters were Texico High School's Future Homemakers of America.

Kendall Burch, FHA sponsor, said that about ten girls participated in the "painting party." Afterwards the paint-splattered girls went to a Clovis restaurant.

Mrs. Burch said that Texico City Council trustee, Marie Christian, spoke to the Council on behalf of the FHA girls. The painting project was okayed about three weeks ago - and as a result Texico now sports bicentennial fire hydrants.

The FHA girls also painted the trash cans around the grade school in the colors of red, white and blue, according to Mrs. Burch.

For Building Permits --

City Of Farwell Sets New Rules, Deposit Schedules

Building permits were discussed at the Farwell City Council meeting Tuesday night and a new schedule of deposits on building permits has been approved. They are $100 for fences; $150 for construction of buildings other than residences; $200 for remodeling, additions, etc. and $250 for new housing.

The Council also approved a motion stating that deposits be refunded only after Douglas Landrum, sanitation superintendent, inspects and approves the building site. If the city crew has to do any clean-up, charges will be made and deducted from the building deposit.

It was noted during the meeting that a city ordinance instructs the city clerk to issue the building permit after application has been approved by the Planning and Zoning Board. In the future new permits and applications will conform to the city ordinance.

The clean-up campaign was briefly discussed. Farwell Jaycees will coordinate the campaign.

Mayor Gil Patschke said that he had received a petition to remove stop signs on Fourth Street. Patschke and City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell will look into the matter.

The Council also received a letter from the Railroad Commission regarding time changes on schedules of the New Mexico Transportation Company.

Those present for the meeting were Gil Patschke, mayor; Fred Chandler, commissioner; and Janie Bowery, city clerk.

632 Total --

Farwell Post Office Adds 68 New Boxes

Farwell Post Office is growing. According to Otis McMillan, postmaster, 68 new boxes were installed last week. Four of these boxes are the No. 3 size which are usually rented by businesses or by people who receive a high volume of mail. The other 64 boxes are the regular No. 2 size.

McMillan said that last October, 34 new boxes were also added. Farwell Post Office now has a grand total of 632 boxes.

Regarding boxes, McMillan and the other employees at the post office have a problem. The problem centers around the use of box numbers as part of the mailing address.

McMillan said that about a year and a half ago Farwell residents started using box numbers on all correspondence. That proved to be a tremendous help in sorting out and boxing the mail.

Now the time has come for rural route residents to also use their box numbers, stresses McMillan, explaining that the box number must be used in conjunction with the rural route number.

Costa Del Sol Tour Entertains Area Couples

(Editor's Note: The following account was written by 14 couples from the area about their experiences and travels during a recent tour of Spain.)

Recently 14 couples from the Clovis, Texico-Farwell area and one couple from Las Cruces, N.M., enjoyed a nine-day tour of the beautiful Costa Del Sol of Spain and its surrounding provinces.

Making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Dub Howard, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Mahaney, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bourlon, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Tharp, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Martin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Max Kelso, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bauske, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stouts of Las Cruces.

The group departed on the morning of February 24 in a chartered bus, driven by Larry Suttle, former resident of Farwell, to Denver, Colo., where they spent the night en route to and from Spain.

Joined by some of the other tour group in Denver, they departed Denver February 25 on a TWA Boeing 707, landing only in Indianapolis, Ind., picking up the remainder of the tour group, making 158 in the tour group. Then it was a non-stop flight to Spain.

Our first glimpse of Spain was the beautiful sandy beaches off the Mediterranean Sea at Malaga, where we landed about mid-morning. The beauty and splendor of the green mountains, countryside, and whitewashed houses were breathtaking! Malaga is a city of 361,282 population, being the capital of the province. From Malaga we were transported by bus to Torremolinos, a city of 25,000 population, to the beautiful Don Pablo Hotel that was to be our home for the next seven days and nights. Getting off the bus at the hotel, John McIntosh, wrenched his knee (which was our only major calamity in Spain).

Waiting for our luggage to arrive from the airport, and some of the rooms to be prepared, as a tour group was leaving as we arrived, most of us embarked upon a lesson in exchanging American dollars into pesetas, Spanish money. Located in the hotel lobby were several shops, so we women were able to begin our bargaining within the first hour we had landed in Spain.

After finally getting "settled" into our rooms, most of us managed to get a cat nap before it was time to go to our "welcome" party that night. Since there is a six-hour difference between Central Daylight Time and the Costa Del Sol, there was a little adjusting for most of us to get used to.

After our welcome party, we then experienced our first dinner in Spain. Mealtime, especially dinner at night, lasts approximately from one to two hours. Generally you have a three to four course meal before the main course is served. Not being the American custom of most of us, we were already stuffed before the main course was served. This also took some adjusting. The people of Spain are a very warm, hospitable, and happy-natured people. They never get in a hurry and do everything at a leisure pace. They do not know what ulcers are!

Our second day in Spain we toured the Andalusian countryside to view the local agriculture. The Andalusian countryside is a fertile region scattered through the mountains and hills with typical villages of whitewashed houses, narrow streets and roads. We visited the fruit market of Coin, a farm house where we toured an orchard and saw five different fruits growing on one tree. The orchard was not only beautiful with the tangerines, oranges, lemons, limes and grapefruit growing, but the ground was covered with beautiful ivy, plants and flowers as well. We made several stops in the different villages not only for refreshments, but to shop and generally acquaint us with the people, their cultures and customs.

One of our stops was at the picturesque mountain village of Ojen which is the center for excursions to Sierra Blanca National Hunting Reserve. We were always impressed with the homes that are whitewashed three times a year, the cleanliness of the homes, shops and farms which were all immaculate! We constantly marveled at the cleanliness of all the Southern part of Spain we visited. Not only the cleanliness, but we did not see one insect while we were in Spain.

The farmer walking behind his plow and mule, the man leading his donkey laden with sticks, fertilizer, or his wares, soon became a common sight to us because of the sides of the mountains and hills they farm. One of our group remarked they farm where "we wouldn't, and even where they shouldn't."

Spain has millions of olive trees and we saw thousands of them, with the people harvesting the ripe olives. Our guide stressed the fact that the young ladies who work in harvest of the olives are very well covered to the extent that they wear long dresses over their pants to keep the men from seeing their bodies. After a girl is married she no longer works in the fields, she is strictly a homemaker.

The olives are carried to olive presses when harvested. They are pressed, pit and all, three times. The first being the best grade of olive oil, used mainly by the rich. The poor people use the last squeezing with the residue being used in brick making and soap.

Between the olive trees were planted wheat and barley. The way the farmers terrace the side of the mountains for their olive and almond trees with their mules and plows was something to behold. It looked as if every inch of tillable soil possible was tilled. Besides the olive, almond and fruit trees, we saw sugar cane, lima beans, lentil beans and chick peas growing. The whole country was simply beautiful. Our guide told us in two more weeks it would be even greener and prettier, but we found that hard to believe as it was an awesome wonder to us in its present state.

The first day touring the countryside we all learned a great respect for the excellent bus drivers who can drive through narrow streets and narrow winding mountain roads that sometimes looked impossible. Our buses were something else also, all being Mercedes-Benz buses with panoramic view windows. It was like riding in a Cadillac car all day.

Although all the drivers and guides were excellent, everyone has favorites, and we were no exception to the rule: Alfonso, the bus driver, and Juan, our "beloved guide." Juan was like being with a "walking encyclopedia" every minute we spent with him. He not only knew the history of his country, but the history of our country as well, which not only put us, but would put most Americans to shame. He seemed to make history literally come to life with you enjoying every second of it. Juan, and the other guides, never ceased to be amazed at our sincere interest in their people, country, culture, customs, government and all aspects of their lives. He said the average tourist is interested in sightseeing only, and not about their country and people.

Another point of interest on our tour of Spain, was the city of Granada, population of over 200,000 people. There we visited the "Alhambra" castle, famous fortress and supreme monument of Arabic architecture. Built in the ninth century, and added on to by each reigning power, it stands majestic, overlooking the city of Granada. In the castle we were shown the many rooms in which so much history was made. It was overwhelming to realize you were standing in the same rooms. Also, the many patios, gardens, and special baths where the women bathed with balconies above where blind musicians played.

From the castle we had a panoramic view of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, the Gypsy quarters "Albaicin," and the city of Granada. Crossing the bridge over the moat that encompassed the castle, we entered the gardens of Generalife.

Leaving the castle, we were taken to the lace factory where we watched women and children making homemade lace tablecloths. The average tablecloth takes three to four months to make. They had all kinds of handwork besides tablecloths, such as tapestries, scarves, blouses, shirts and napkins for sale.

Before leaving Granada, we visited the Royal Chapel where tombs of King Ferdinand, Queen Isabella, their child, and other royal members are situated.

On our return trip to Torremolinos we stopped for refreshments at Antequera, a city founded by the Romans, where we saw the remains of the Arab walls, Santa Maria Arch, from the 16th century. We also visited the village of Trevelez famous for its hams.

The people of Spain believe in the close family life. Therefore, everyday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., everything is closed for siesta time. Children are bused home to be with their parents, and returned to school to attend classes until 7 or 8 o'clock that night. Our tours were so well planned that we would either be touring on the bus, or sightseeing during this time. Our guide told us we walked an average of four and one-half miles a day. We believed him!

All businesses are closed on Sundays, but the small villages of Mijas, because it is not on the tourist route being situated about 460 meters above sea level in the mountains, obtained permission from the government to open its shops on Sunday mornings. All who made the trip thoroughly enjoyed shopping in the picturesque village with its narrow whitewashed streets and friendly people. Eating their fancy donuts, that looked more like a large pretzel, dusted in sugar and strung on a bamboo, and their candied almonds which was really unique to watch them make, was a treat for us all.

TAKING IN THE VIEW - Bill Bourlon was a member of a tour group which recently returned from the Costa Del Sol in Spain. While visiting Spain, the group was able to view the magnificent architectural achievements which have been preserved throughout the years. The majority of materials used in construction of buildings in Spain is marble with very little wood used anywhere.

Taxis were horsedrawn carriages. Except in the cities you saw very few cars, mostly because people simply can't afford them, and steep narrow Plastic food has come one step closer with the successful marketing of a new human food protein called "Torutein." This latest step away from natural protein is a derivative of petroleum grown as a yeast from a culture of ethyl alcohol. Most of the buyers will be food processors trying to enhance the flavor of simulated foods now on the market and running into consumer resistance because of taste. Another major market will be bakery products where the oily invader has the extra advantage of a nutritive complement in addition to protein (its only high amino acid, lysine, is desirable in most bakery products). If nothing else, the time and money which went into the research and marketing of an oil-derived protein should illustrate to everyone the critical importance of research to develop and enhance all food-protein sources.

ESA State Convention - - Rosa Roberts Award Initiated By Sorority

The "Rosa Roberts Outstanding Educational Trophy" was presented for the first time during the recent Epsilon Sigma Alpha State Convention conducted in Portales.

Marsha Thomas of Clovis, who was installed as state president at the meeting, proposed that a trophy be named after Rosa Roberts and be presented annually to the outstanding educational director in the state. The proposal was accepted during the convention with Marilyn Rigby named as first recipient of the newly-named award.

Miss Thomas commented that she admired the loyalty and dedication to ESA that Mrs. Roberts has displayed throughout the years and she felt that the award needed a special name. In view of the fact that Mrs. Roberts has served Theta Rho chapter of Texico-Farwell, ESA, as educational director for 25 years and was named State Outstanding Educational Director in 1969, Miss Thomas felt the award should carry the name of Rosa Roberts.

The award is a traveling trophy and will be passed from outstanding director to outstanding director as they are named yearly. In years past, certificates were presented to the recipient of the outstanding educational director title.

Although Mrs. Roberts is not a charter member of Theta Rho, she has been a member of the organization during its 25 years of existence having been sought out as its first and only educational director shortly after the chapter was chartered.

She was named a lifetime honorary member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha in 1954. In 1970 the State Council of ESA presented Mrs. Roberts a plaque for 20 years of outstanding service.

In addition to her ESA activities and awards, Mrs. Roberts was named to "The World Who's Who of Women" for 1974-75. She served as New Mexico State Chairman of Republican Women in 1944-45.

Mrs. Roberts was named "Outstanding Member" of the Gateway Garden Club for two years and she served the organization as president for four years. She was made a lifetime member of the Federated Garden Club of New Mexico in 1972.

Several years ago "Rosa Roberts Day" was celebrated in Farwell and in 1971 Mrs. Roberts was listed in "Outstanding Personalities of the West and Midwest."

ESA State Award Named

Mrs. Rosa Roberts, left, and Marsha Thomas display the Epsilon Sigma Alpha outstanding state educational director award which was designated as the "Rosa Roberts Outstanding State Educational Director Trophy" during the recent ESA State Convention held in Portales. Miss Thomas of Clovis, who was installed as president of the organization at the convention, made the proposal to name the award for Mrs. Roberts in honor of her loyalty and dedication to ESA. First recipient of the traveling trophy was Marilyn Rigby of Portales. Mrs. Roberts has been educational director of the local Theta Rho Chapter for 25 years and has won many state honors.

Outstanding ESA Members

Theta Rho chapter awards were given to ESA members during their final meeting of the year and founder's day banquet at a Clovis restaurant May 24. Dardanella Helton, left, is holding the chapter's "Outstanding Girl of the Year" trophy. She was presented the trophy for her work and involvement in all sorority activities. Doris Ford, right, holds the "JoAnn Liethen" award which is given to the Theta Rho member who works the most philanthropic hours during the year. During the Epsilon Sigma Alpha convention held last month in Portales, Mrs. Helton received a 25-year membership pin. She is a charter member of Theta Rho chapter. Mrs. Ford is the newly-elected Theta Rho president for next year.

Theta Rho Members Honored At Meeting

Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held its final meeting of the year and founder's day banquet Monday, May 24, in a Clovis restaurant. Members were recognized for their service to the sorority and award winners were announced.

Dardanella Helton was named Chapter "Outstanding Girl of the Year" for her involvement and assistance to the sorority in its many projects. The "JoAnn Liethen Award" was presented to Doris Ford. This award is presented each year to the girl who has worked the most philanthropic hours for the sorority.

Diane Atkinson and Betty Jean Castleberry received the first degree of Pallas Athene and Doris Ford and Faye Parr received the second degree of Pallas Athene.

Perfect attendance awards went to LaMoin Williams, Faye Parr and Diane Atkinson.

Faye Parr, outgoing president, received an engraved silver tray as a going away gift. She and her family are moving to another city soon. Her final act was to present her gavel to Doris Ford, the incoming Theta Rho president.

During the business session, a report was given concerning the ESA State Convention held earlier this month in Portales. "Spirit of '76" was the convention theme.

Members of the local Theta Rho chapter helped decorate and they served as hostesses for the Saturday morning awards breakfast.

Saturday night, new officers were installed. Marsha Thomas of Clovis is the incoming state president.

Members of the Theta Rho also hosted the Sunday morning memorial service. Entertainment was provided by Dot Christian, pianist, and Lillie Christian, soloist. Twenty-five-year membership pins were given to the charter members of Theta Rho during the Sunday brunch. Honored with the pins were Nell Walling, Dardanella Helton and Maxine Williams. Jeanne Graham of Lovington, N.M., a former Theta Rho charter member, also received a 25-year membership pin.

Crepe Paper Flag

Here's the perfect centerpiece for your Bicentennial party! This flag is made on hardware cloth, 18" x 24", with 1/4" squares. Hardware cloth is available at hardware stores. To protect your hands, tape the edges of the hardware cloth while working.

You will need one package each of red, white and blue crepe paper, a cardboard carton, about 25" long, for a base, and a strip of wood, about 1" wide and 18" long, for a flagstaff.

Fig. 1. To cut the needed 2" squares of crepe paper, leave the package of crepe paper unopened and then cut on the heavy lines, as indicated.

Fig. 2. Use a folded pipe cleaner to push the paper squares into the mesh, as shown. Then, with your fingers, grasp the paper on the underside of the mesh and pull the paper about halfway through the opening.

Fig. 3. To start the flag, position the stars (white) first. Leave 3 squares of mesh open along the left side for attaching the staff.

To make the flag, insert the first star in the sixth square from the left edge and the third square down from the top. Position the remaining stars in rows, following the marks on the grid, as shown. After inserting all the stars, fill in the grid with blue squares.

For the stripes, allow three rows of squares for each stripe, with a vacant row between each color. Let the longer stripes extend to the right a little more than twice the width of the blue field. When the stripes are complete, cut off the excess hardware cloth on the right side. Leave an unfilled area across the bottom.

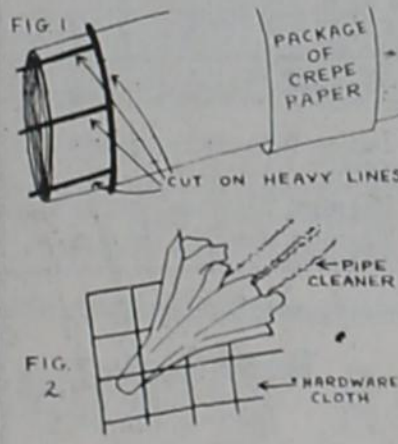

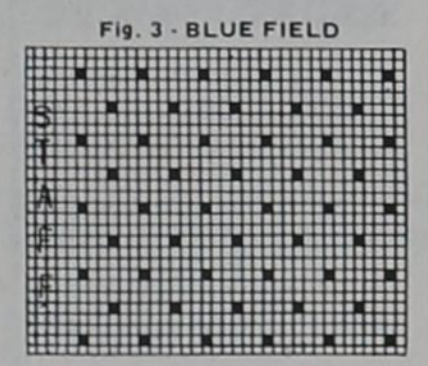

Glue a plastic bottle cap to the top of the flagstaff. Paint the staff; staple it to the left side.

For the base, cut down the carton to 3 1/2" high, and invert. Cover with crepe paper or foil. Cut a curved slit in the base the length of the flag. Widen one end of the slit to fit the flagstaff.

Insert the flag so that the bottom of the flag rests on the base. Add a paper streamer sign.

Little Known Facts About America's Greatness

Everyone who appreciates the dignity and design of American Colonial furniture sees that something made from a purely practical point of view can also be beautiful.

Everyday, it appears, more people are being turned on to the reliable excellence of American-made furniture, since, according to the U.S. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the production rate of American furniture has more than doubled in only 20 years.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAH BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

HOW THE SPIRIT HELPS

"The Spirit helpeth our infirmities" (Rom. 8:26).

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. If one link in a chain will hold one hundred pounds, another fifty, and another ten, the chain as a whole will hold ten pounds, no more. This is why James 2:10 says:

"For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all."

Many people suppose that we will be saved or lost according to how good or bad we have been. This is not so. It is not a question of how good or bad we have been, but of whether or not we have sinned. A man need commit only one robbery to be a robber, burn only one house to be an arsonist, kill only one human being to be a murderer - and commit only one sin to be a sinner. This is why the Word of God says that all are sinners (Rom. 3:23).

How wonderful to know that in grace "Christ died for our sins" and that by simple faith in Him we may be saved and fully justified before God! (Rom. 5:6,8,10).

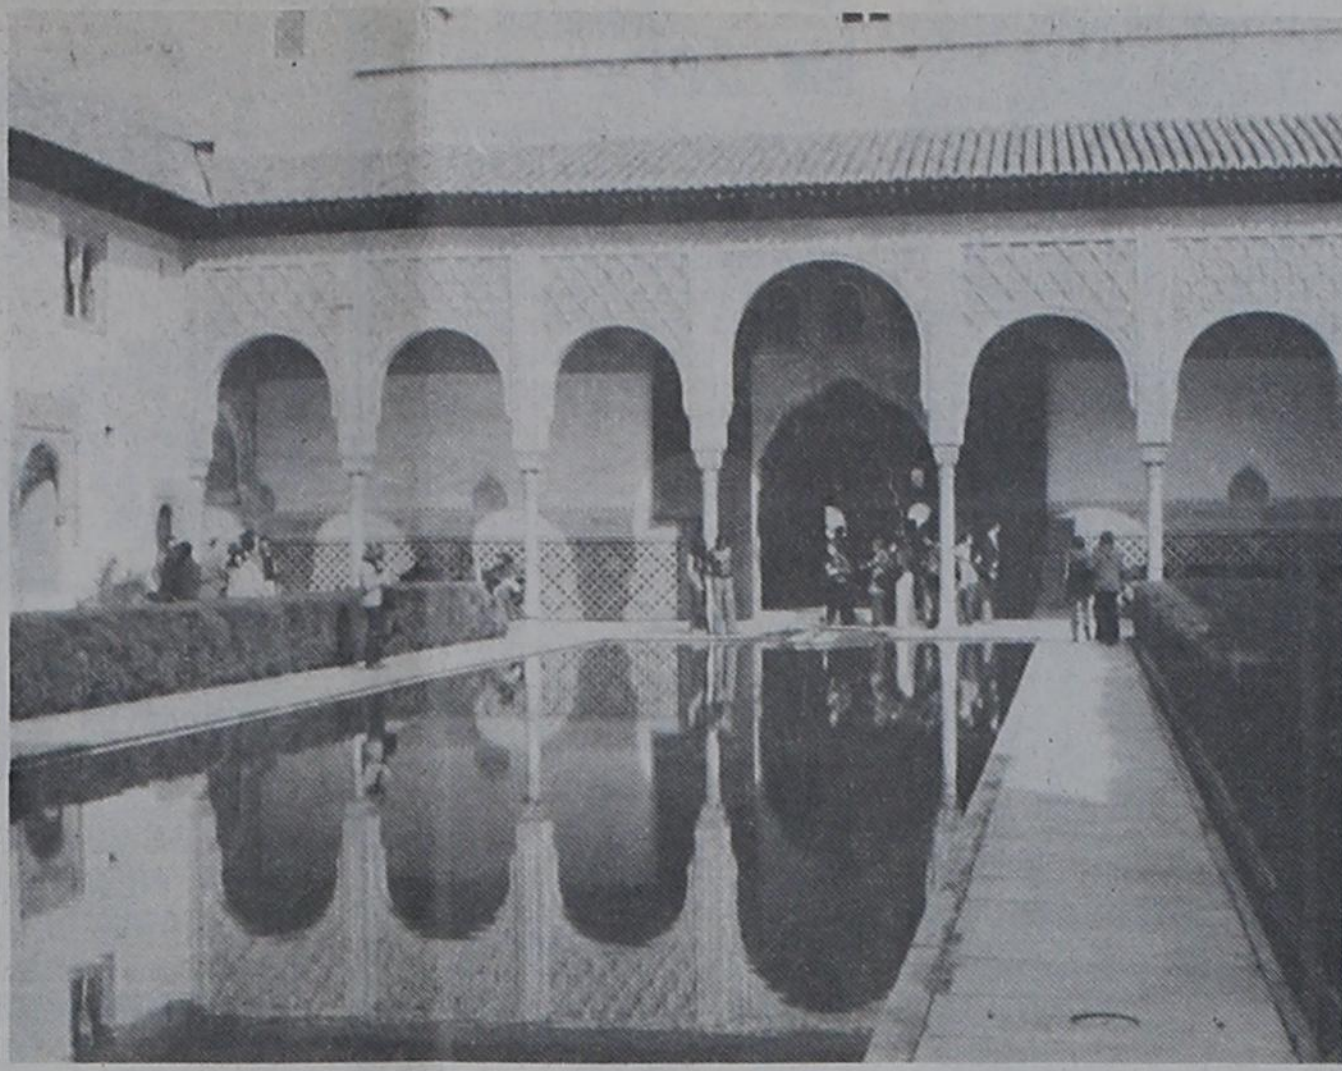

But born-again Christians find that the above principle is just as true of them as of the unbeliever. None of us is any stronger than his weakest point. Frightening, isn't it, especially when we consider that Satan constantly attacks us at our weakest point to wreck our testimony if he can.

But here is where the believer can rejoice that "the Spirit helpeth our infirmities" (Rom. 8:26). He dwells within to help in time of need, so that we need not fail (Rom. 8:11,12). This does not mean, however, that He takes control without being called upon, as He did "when the day of Pentecost was fully come." Unlike the Pentecostal believers, we live under "the dispensation of the grace of God." What God provides by grace we must appropriate by faith. Thus in any given case we may have victory. Indeed it is concerning the weak brother in Christ that Paul declares by inspiration: "God is able to make him stand" (Rom. 14:4).

OUR BELOVED GUIDE, was the way the 14 local couples who toured Spain referred to Juan, right, their "walking encyclopedia." Juan is shown with two young women at Granada as they weave tapestries for sale.

ALHAMBRA, FORTRESS AND MONUMENT - In the city of Granada, local travelers viewed the "Alhambra" castle, famous fortress and supreme monument of Arabic architecture. Built in the ninth century and added on to by each reigning power, it stands majestic, overlooking the city of Granada.

Costa Del Sol Tour...

streets would make them impractical. They either ride on donkeys or walk. All cars were small foreign-made cars, with the exception of one Ford car we saw in Torremolinos, and it looked out-of-place.

Returning from Mijas that Sunday afternoon, several of our group went to the Plaza de Toros to see the bullfights.

Going to Tangiers, Morocco, was quite an experience for all of us. Some flew over by plane and part of us went down the sea coast to Algeciras by bus, where we boarded the Hydrofoil to go across on the water. (C.L., Bill, and Lonnie ran up and down the Hydrofoil like mountain goats, thoroughly enjoying themselves, 30 foot waves and all. Needless to say, some of us were not such good sailors, and couldn't enjoy all the view with our heads back and eyes closed.)

Passing the Rock of Gibraltar, it was a thrilling sight to see where the Atlantic Ocean meets the Mediterranean Sea. It looked like a perfect straight line, the Mediterranean Sea being a beautiful blue, and in contrast made the Atlantic Ocean look a dirty blue green. It was interesting to learn that the Rock of Gibraltar is inhabited by 3500 British soldiers and an air landing strip on top of the Rock.

Upon arriving in Tangiers, we were taken on a countryside tour, and there also, the countryside was beautiful and green. A visit to the caves of Hercules, rides on the camel, and being constantly badgered by the gypsies wherever we stopped.

Arabs are allowed four wives if they can afford them, which is determined after the king has come and assessed taxes. Being a wife of a rich sheik didn't sound like much fun to us since she was more like a prisoner living behind high walls in the castle. Servants do all of the shopping for them, and if they have guests in their homes, they have to veil themselves if the sheik even allows them to meet the guests. Any Arab wishing to divorce his wife, only has to say "I divorce thee" three times, and returns the dowry to her parents, and she is free to remarry, but this is unlikely as she is considered damaged goods. If they had any children, he has to support them. Abdul, our Arabic guide, said he could only afford one wife this year. The mother of the Arabs selects the bride for her son when she feels her son is old enough to marry, and then the bargaining for the bride begins. When they reach an agreement on the price, the parents of the bride will pay the snake charmer, then they are married.

Naturally a stopoff by the snake charmers was a must in Tangiers. Those wishing to handle the snakes did, but some did not wish to handle them.

From there, Abdul invited us to go with him to the Casbah. Disappointing and depressing are not the words to express most of our feelings about the Casbah, seeing the poverty, and sickly little children. The guide told us less than 10 percent of them would reach the age of 21.

The Casbah was a direct opposite from the surrounding city of Tangiers. The highlight of our tour through the Casbah was going to the Medina and seeing the little girls making beautiful Persian rugs. Hagging over prices was the Arabs' game. Some of us were good bargainers, and some of us were, as we would say in the U.S.A., "ripped off." They did have lovely copper, brass, leather goods, Persian rugs, clothing, and other hand works.

After shopping, we were taken to the beautiful International Hotel for lunch, where we were entertained by belly dancers, musicians, Arab ceremonial dancers, and Arab rhythm dancers. It was interesting to note in Tangiers that dope of all kinds is not only sold on open markets, but raised openly in yards and fields. A Moslem is forbidden to touch alcohol in any form.

In contrast, Spain has no dope problem as it is life imprisonment to be caught with any amount, but the people drink wine and other alcohol beverages because of their bad water. Because of the dope laws, you see no hippies in Spain, but we were told by our guide that Tangiers is especially overrun with them in the summertime.

Seville was one of the most beautiful cities we visited. A city of wealth in statues, monuments, cathedrals, castles, buildings that were outstanding in Moorish, Spanish and Christian architecture. One of the first places that we stopped on our visit was in a plaza to feed the beautiful white pigeons that flocked about us. Touring the city to see the buildings and the culture of Seville was worth the whole trip.

We were taken to the famous Alcazar Castle built on approximately 15 acres, including many picturesque gardens, patios, inner courts, long beautiful halls, fountains and baths. Built in 1326 by the Moors, it is the same castle where Queen Isabella gave Columbus permission to take his three ships to the New World. The same castle is where Franco died, and it was presently being remodeled for Juan Carlos, the new ruler, who was to arrive in about three weeks. Only small portions of the castle were being remodeled.

One of the most beautiful buildings in Seville was built in 1849 to house the world's fair, using United States exhibits. It now houses the American Embassy. It covers a city block with ceramic tile and marble bridges over the river leading up to the building.

Our next step took us to the Seville Cathedral, where Columbus is buried. The cathedral is filled with an untold wealth of paintings, gold, silver, gems and royal apparel of past kings, queens and bishops. It was interesting to learn that only kings of royal lineage are allowed to enter the front door. Others have to use the side door. Franco could neither enter the front door or have his final rites in the royal chapel, as he was not of royal lineage. But Juan Carlos, being of royal lineage, will enter through the front door and be able to have final rites in the royal chapel. To date, only four kings have entered through the front entrance.

Returning to Torremolinos, we stopped at the village of Campillos which is noted for its baking of the holiday "Campillos Cookies" that are so famous all over Spain. The different varieties were delicious.

A special treat for all of us Tuesday night was a trip to a farm house and barn, high up in the mountains, that had been converted into a restaurant serving pit barbecue Spanish style. Arriving that night, the mouth watering aroma of the chickens and roast pork turning over open pits was beautiful. Entertainment for the evening was furnished by local college boys from Malaga wearing their ancestral college uniforms. Everyone enjoyed joining them in a sing-a-long. They also had their record albums for sale.

The one free day that we had, some of the group rented cars and traveled to Ronda and surrounding villages, and the lessor brave ones missed a wonderful opportunity to see more of the beautiful countryside. The rest of the group spent the day catching up on a little sleep or doing last minute shopping in Torremolinos or Malaga. It was easy to see why the airlines limit you to the amount of pounds going over.

Eventually, all of us wound up at Rosa's, the restaurant nearest to serving good ole American hamburgers, French fries, and homemade apple pies. The owner of the restaurant came from England and catered to the O's Gold tourist group.

The last night in Spain, we were guests at a "Farewell Banquet" in the hotel's beautiful ballroom, where we were entertained by singers and Flamingo dancers.

Although most of us were ready to come home, it was mixed emotions saying goodbye to our new found friends from the Costa Del Sol of Spain. Not only those of Spain, but the many friends we had made from the different states of the United States to whom we would soon be saying goodbye.

Our many thanks to go Dennis Dudley and Ron Heuer from Denver, Colo., for a well planned and organized tour. Heuer and Dudley are representatives of O's Gold Seed Company, sponsor of the tour.

After the group's return, those making the trip and other guests were guests of Dub and Beth Howard in their home for a delightful evening showing our movies, slides, and pictures taken in Spain. Fun was had by all reminiscing our trip and being served delicious refreshments.

Some memorable quotes from those making the tour are as follows:

"The pretty countryside tours," John and Vera McIntosh.

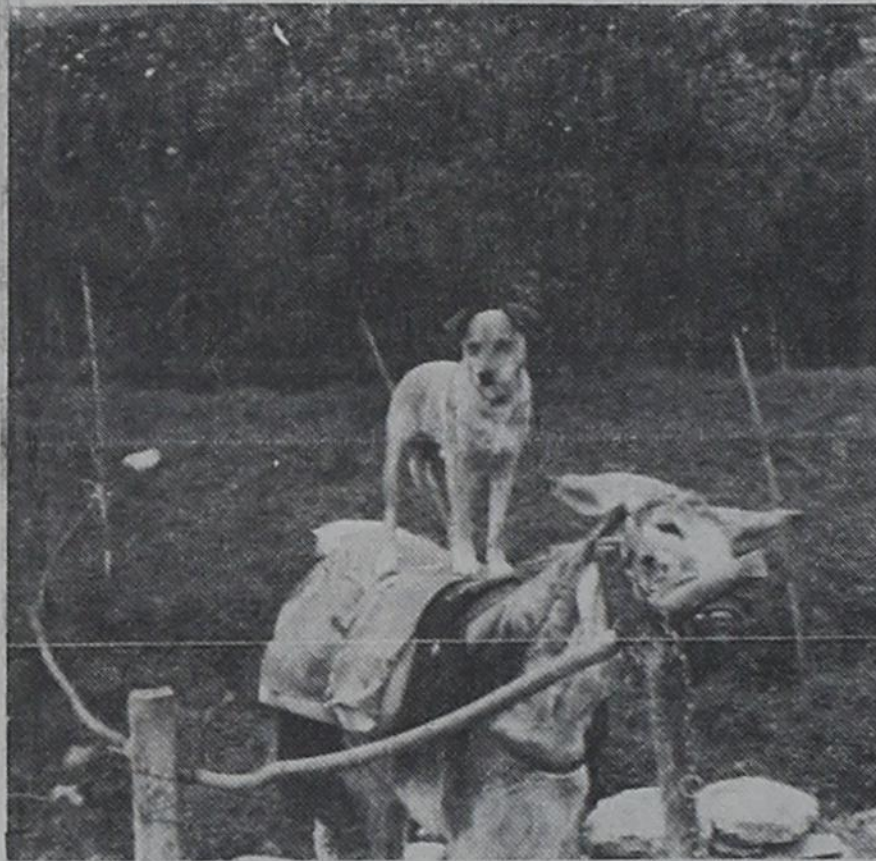

"One of the men's belly dances in Tangiers," the Clovis gang.

"The pretty white buildings with tile roofs and the quaint narrow streets," Bob and Letha Howard.

"The countryside and beautiful castles and churches," Wayne and Linda Martin.

"The country villages. Just everything was a unique experience, but it really made us appreciate the good 'ole' U.S.A.," Teresa and Ronnie Curry.

"The lady bullfighters on stage," Richard Motl.

TAKIN' A RIDE - A common sight in southern Spain is the donkey with his constant companion, a dog. It was reported that all donkeys of Spain have their own dogs. The dogs are used to keep the donkeys calm. Also, all the donkeys are muzzled at all times due to the tremendous number of rabies cases in the country. Inoculation against rabies is not practiced in Spain.

JON NEWTON

Texas Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation... bad absentee record in public office... investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel... sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS... in 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

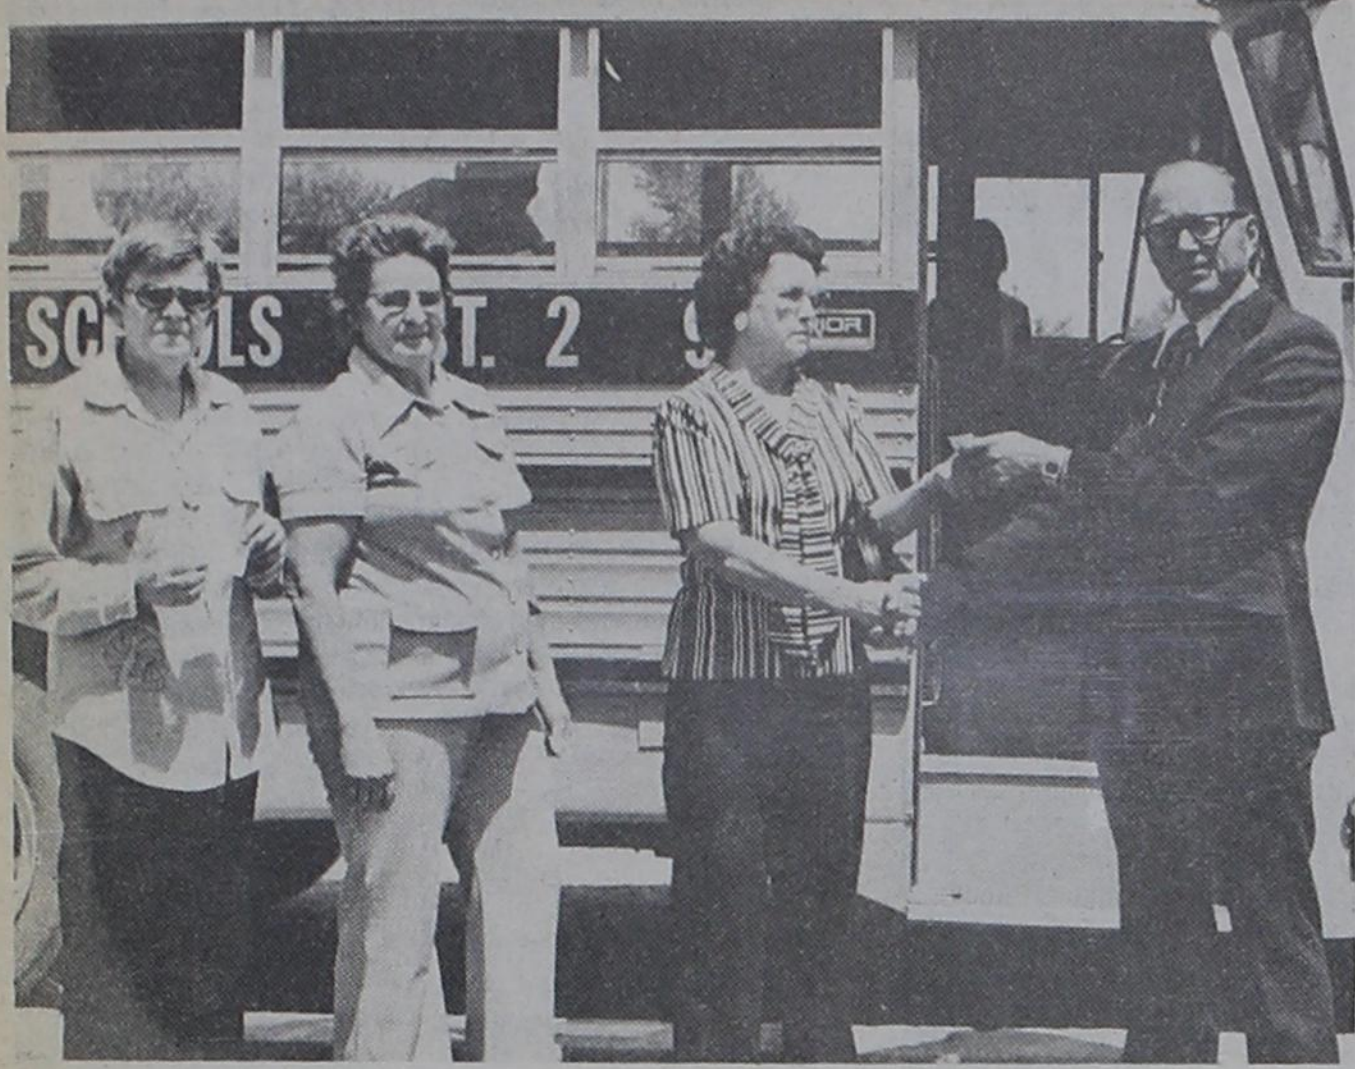

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service... authored the law regulating strip mining... fought for a Public Utility Commission... serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman)... endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas... described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature"... in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

Safe Driving Awards

Each year the New Mexico State Division of Transportation recognizes school bus drivers who have accident free driving records. Recently three Texico Municipal School bus drivers received safe driving certificates. James Pierce, superintendent, right, presented the awards to, from left, Minnie Hagler, Jean Skaggs, and Zonah Crooks. Each of the drivers has racked up an impressive number of years of service to Texico Municipal Schools. Mrs. Crooks has 13 years of service, Jean Skaggs has nine, and Minnie Hagler has ten years of service.

TRAVEL TIPS AND TRICKS

If your flight is an overseas flight, get to the airport between 45 and 60 minutes early. The movie heroine who arrives breathlessly a few minutes before takeoff would be recognized as a novice. The knowing traveler comes to the airport calmly and in plenty of time.

If you're traveling with a friend, husband or children, your luggage can be weighed in together. Children are given the same baggage allowance as adults.

If you have a foreign-made camera, and are headed out of the country, you must register it with the United States Customs Bureau, unless you have a bill of sale, or you'll be asked to pay a high import when you bring it in again.

Understanding Farm Program Means More Dollars For Farmers

"It is not easy for a farmer to keep up with all farm program regulations - but it pays him to do it," states Prentice Mills, executive director, Parmer County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservative Service.

Last year, there were a number of farmers who lost money because they did not fully understand the program rules. Some had crops severely damaged (or lost) by hail and failed to report in time to earn payments. Others had crops that failed - but they plowed the crop under before the people from the ASCS office had an opportunity to inspect the crop damage, he commented. Some farmers apparently do not understand that disaster payments are now based on each crop individually with credit being given to an over-planted crop from an under-planted crop. For example: Farm with 100 acre wheat allotment, 100 acre grain sorghum allotment, and 20 acre cotton allotment for total allotments of 220 acres. There are 120 acres of wheat and 100 acres of cotton planted on the farm. Both crops are completely hailed out on June 15, just prior to wheat harvest and too late to plant cotton. Now, this farm would be eligible for disaster payment on the 120 acres of wheat and the 100 acres of cotton as no feed grain was planted and the under-planting of feed grain (100 acre allotment) can be credited to wheat and cotton, he explained. "Right now," said Mills, "there are dryland farms that have not received enough moisture to plant cotton or feed-grains on. If this condition continues through the final planting dates for cotton and feed-grains, chances are that these farms will be eligible for disaster payments under the 'prevented-planting' provisions of the disaster program.

"If conditions are favorable, a farmer is expected to plant during the normal planting period for the crop in question." Normal Planting dates established for Parmer County are: cotton, May 5 through June 1; grain sorghum, April 1 through June 20; soybeans, April 20 through July 1.

Any farmer who is confronted with a disaster situation should visit the ASCS office, report what happened and find out just where he stands program-wise. It can mean money to him and the people in his office will be pleased to explain the program to him, Mills concluded.

Sheriff's Report

Parmer County Sheriff's Department is investigating a vandalism report received Monday. A motorcycle belonging to Randy Gerles had parts stolen from it and other parts were bent and dented. The motorcycle was at the agriculture farm east of Farwell at the time of the vandalism.

Apparently, a two-seater bike belonging to Carolyn Owens was "borrowed" according to Sheriff Lovelace. She reported it missing and the next day she found it in her yard.

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoffs to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

DON AND WANDA HARMON

Welcome to the world of TRI-COUNTY SAVINGS and LOAN ASSOCIATION and our two new locations in Farwell and Littlefield. It is indeed a proud feeling to see a dream come true, to know that our Association is filling a need in these two progressive communities.

We feel that we have provided two excellent facilities for the citizens of these two areas not to mention our already established quarters in Muleshoe and Friona. Our building in Littlefield has a very spacious and comfortable community room and we invite you and your various civic and local groups to take advantage of it. We also have a drive-up window at Littlefield to help expedite your business transactions. Both of the new locations offer the most modern up-to-date Savings and Loan buildings in the area.

Open House will be in Littlefield on Saturday, June 5th from 10 A.M. until 4 P.M. and in Farwell on Sunday, June 6th from 2 P.M. until 5 P.M. We hope that you will attend. There will be free gifts for you and a drawing for three hundred dollars CASH at each location for those attending and registering during Open House hours.

We will look forward to seeing you all at one of the locations on the 5th and 6th and in the meantime we want you to realize that these two new facilities and TRI-COUNTY SAVINGS and LOAN are JUST FOR YOU!
