

The hypocrites nailed Earl Butz. In eight years as a very controversial Secretary of Agriculture, a variety of political charges have been hurled at the man to no avail. It took an election year and an unfortunate remark to do him in.

We do not know what his "racial slur" amounted to and will not defend it. We will not defend racist remarks; only point out that references to race, parentage, religion, diet, sex, etc., have been with this country probably longer than the government of these United States.

Up until the last 30 years, such was known, and to a large degree accepted, as part of the American melting pot heritage. It has been only recently that the "do gooders" have begun a campaign of "equality" which has dangerously fragmented the American dream of national unity.

We worked in the eastern steel mills for a number of years before sojourning to the High Plains. We vividly recall the following terms for the very diverse ethnic groups working in these mills. For example: Wop, Hunkie, Frog, Kraut, Dago, Limie, Squarehead, and Kike Jig, were some of the terms applied. Some of the most respected workers went by such names as Dago Charlie, Joe the Wop, Big Nig, Pighide, Slewfoot, Bottle Butt, Highpockets.

These people showed up for work, put in a full day on the job, shared their humor, their tragedies, their successes, their lunch buckets - and after work stopped at "Cotton's" saloon and shared their beer. The measure of a man was the quality of his work, not anything else. Without this ethnic humor, life would have been unbearably monotonous to most of them. This glorious day in America has been shattered, and debilitating ethnic and social barriers have been artificially raised in the American Republic.

These media and politically-aggravated barriers are in a large measure responsible for the unrest that now pervades our society. Today a man's worth is legally defined rather than proven in the crucible of everyday living. It is this legally forced "acceptance," one of another, that is one of the root causes of our social ills.

When we accept another person because his worth has been demonstrated, we are friends for life. When we must accept another person because we are compelled to, we are enemies for life.

This is part of the American tragedy being promoted by vain and self-serving politicians. It seems it will end only when "Big Brother" speaks to us all in dictatorial terms.

We note in our news items last week that the Farwell and Texico Chambers of Commerce are going out to mutually tilt at the overpass/underpass windmill. As we went to Shallowater last Friday we measured, via our odometer, the length of the overpass as you take U.S. 84 around Littlefield. It was six-tenths of a mile. Now measure three-tenths of a mile from the center of our railroad crossing and see where you are. This destroys a sizable segment of our mutual main street.

Overpasses are not without traffic hazards in themselves. Look at the Amarillo and Lubbock experiences with their freeway overpasses. They are a boon to the local automotive body shop proprietor. In this relation, the steeper the grade, the greater the traffic hazard.

Building an overpass is a pretty expensive way to lure a body shop to the Twin Cities.

Convalescent Center - -

Floe Copeland New Activities Director

Floe Copeland of Clovis is the new relief LVN and Activities Director at the Farwell Convalescent Center.

Mrs. Copeland says working at the Center is "natural" for her because she "practically grew up in a nursing home." She explained that her mother had operated the nursing home in Childress for 17 years. "I ate a lot of my meals there and I worked there as well," the new Activities Director added.

Mrs. Copeland worked at the Childress home as a janitor, nurse's aide and administrator. Afterwards she decided to attend nursing school. She graduated in 1971 from the Childress Nursing School. Following graduation Mrs. Copeland worked for a doctor in Childress for one year.

She says she is excited about her new responsibilities. As a relief LVN, she will work one day a week and will substitute for other LVNs who are ill or on vacation.

As the Activities Director, Mrs. Copeland plans to have numerous crafts sessions in anticipation of the coming Christmas season.

Mrs. Copeland says she needs volunteers to help with the residents. Volunteer services would be utilized to visit residents, write letters for them, and assist with the afternoon Bingo game.

Mrs. Copeland's husband, Rodney, is a pharmacist in Clovis. They have two children, Robin, 8, and Amy, 6.

'4-H--Room To Grow' - -

4-H Week Observed Oct. 3-9

National 4-H Week October 3-9 will provide a challenge for youngsters across the United States to fulfill this year's theme, "4-H -- Room To Grow."

This theme is appropriate because it focuses on how 4-H programs help youth achieve self-fulfillment. 4-H emphasizes the development of "real life" skills: learning "how to learn" for today and for a lifetime; using one's knowledge to improve the quality of life for self and for others; relating to social, technological, environmental and economic change; and growing through the pursuit and achievement of self-imposed goals.

These skills are desperately needed in a society that increasingly must cope with problems of apathy, unemployment, crime, deterioration of the family as a social unit, and crises in health and morals. Today's youth need to be involved in meaningful activities that will affect their lives and society for the better, and 4-H can play a key part in this effort.

With a 7.8 per cent increase in membership nationwide, this year's enrollment includes 5.6 million young people between the ages of nine and 19 who will try to increase membership and leadership during the week-long observance.

National 4-H Week is scheduled annually by the cooperative Extension Service to bring public attention to the values of 4-H as an informal, youth educational program that stresses development of practical skills, leadership and citizenship.

Some 120,000 4-H youngsters across Texas will also be participating in different county-wide activities.

Texas enrollment includes about 3,000 youth under nine years of age; 45,000 in the pre-teens (9-11); 46,000 in their early teens (12-14); and 24,000 between the ages of 15 and 19.

A little over half of the Texas young people enrolled in 4-H live in towns with populations over 10,000. The rest of the youngsters live in the ever-increasing suburbs and on farms.

The 14 Extension Service districts in Texas will have different activities planned during National 4-H Week in an attempt to attract new members as well as to encourage current members to expand their involvement in 4-H and thereby increase their learning experiences.

Farwell In Second Year Of 'Right To Read' Effort

During the 1975-76 school year the Farwell Schools decided to join in the national "Right to Read" effort. We at the school would like to share with you, our community, what "Right to Read" means and some ideas that we think will assist you in helping your child become a better reader.

James E. Allen, Jr., Commissioner of Education, set a goal stating that "... by the end of 1970 no one shall leave our schools without the skills and the desire necessary to read to the full limits of his capability. The Texas 'Right to Read' goal is directed toward ensuring, as far as possible, the success of all pupils in school in their mastery of the skill of reading."

"Right to Read" is not a teaching method, not a series of readers, not a special reading kit that will solve all reading problems, but it is a system or process by which schools can look at their own reading program and determine their own individual strengths and weaknesses.

Last year the Farwell Schools did just that. We conducted a "needs Assessment" in our reading department, and we, as teachers, want to strive to meet the national goal. One of our objectives is to help parents be-

Vickie Yruegas Calls Perfect Contest Score

The first perfect score in the 1976 edition of the Merchants Football Contest was recorded in last week's guessing when Vickie Yruegas called all 12 games correctly to top all predictors and take first place prize money. Because tabulating of the weekly contest is done alphabetically, Mrs. Yruegas' entry blank was the final one to be recorded (there are even three other Yruegas' tallies to be scored before hers) and hers was the only one to boast more than 10 correct picks.

In a week that saw the women dominate the scoring, only four persons managed to call 10 games correctly. Taking second place with 10 right and a 13-point wrong guess on the tiebreaker score was Becky Norton. Donald Jones, the lone male in the week's top five winners, guessed 10 games correctly and was 14 points off on the tiebreaker.

Others calling 10 games right were Fern Christian who was 20 points off on the tiebreaker and Ellen Wurster who was 40 points off.

Jones' high scoring pushed him into sole possession of first place in the overall contest with 44 points, one point ahead of two second place contenders who each have 43 points.

In the second place position are Louise Hancock, who was in first place last week, and W. M. Roberts, who was one of five persons in second place previous to last week's guessing.

Leigh Ann Kirkland, the other contestant in first place last week, dropped to third place with 42 points. She shares this spot with Ellen Wurster, a newcomer to the top three positions.

D'Lynn Eubank and Eddie B. Smith each have 41 points to hold a share of fourth place while seven contestants have 40 points apiece. They include E. R. Coffman, William Danheim, Dan Geuther, Ron Hancock, Sue Kirland, Tex Smith and Beulah Williams.

Persons calling nine games correctly in last week's contest were Chip Craft, Johnny Curtis, Eugene Guss, Julian Jaime, Liz Kaltwasser, Judy Landrum, Leslie Lunsford, Micky Lunsford, Sherri McCully, Lori Norton, Sherry Perkins, W. M. Roberts and Jo Walker.

Seven weeks remain to get in the grid guessing contest to try for weekly prize money. With district play starting soon for many area teams the guessing should become even more interesting; so get your entry blanks and turn them in by 5 p.m. Friday or have them postmarked on that day. Everyone 12 years of age or older is eligible.

Dry Weather Needed - -

Corn Harvest In Full Swing

Corn harvesting in Parmer County stepped into high gear last week and continues in full swing this week.

The harvest, which began around the middle of September, is expected to continue until the middle of November.

Mack Heald, Parmer County Agricultural Agent, said if the weather remains dry and sunny the harvest should be finished in another five or six weeks. He said average yields are running from 7,000 to 12,000 pounds per acre, with some over 12,000.

According to Heald, Parmer County had 197,000 acres of corn planted last year. The total this year is estimated to be 215,800 acres.

The agricultural agent said some area farmers are a little later in harvesting than they were last year. He said that several farmers had finished harvesting by October 1, 1975. Heald said the difference depends on the rate at which the corn matures.

He declined to comment on total yields as compared to a year ago saying, "it is too soon to tell yet." He added that corn farmers in the immediate area were not really hampered by the rains which fell recently as they had not received that much moisture.

According to Fred Chandler of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, they started receiving their first loads of corn 10 days ago. He said he expects the harvest to continue for another six weeks.

He commented that the corn they have received thus far has good full kernels and is a good test weight. He elaborated by saying that a good weight for wet corn is 52-53 pounds per bushel. Good weight for dry corn is 55 pounds per bushel.

Chandler said they are accepting corn which has a moisture content of less than 24 per cent. He added that the rains did not really affect farmers in the immediate areas. He said that farmers north of Farwell near the county line received the heaviest moisture.

Chandler also said that corn prospects are at least comparable to a year ago and indicated that they may surpass the 1975 corn harvest.

He said that the harvest started about two weeks later this year because the corn matured at a slower rate than the previous year.

Bill Thigpen of Worley Mills said they took in their first loads on September 13. He indicated that this was approximately five days later than the previous year's starting date.

He said the average moisture content thus far has ranged from 17 to 35 per cent. Thigpen said that as of early Tuesday the market value of corn was $4.23 per 100.

Thigpen explained that the market fluctuates, usually on a daily basis. On September 13 the market value was $4.66

He hinted that storage might present a problem this year. He said many elevators are still from one-third to one-half full of wheat. Thigpen said wheat prices dropped and the selling process slowed down.

He indicated that if elevators lack sufficient storage space for the corn it could present a serious problem. He said he has received reports that some elevators are full, but added that local elevators have not reached their capacity yet. Thigpen said it was too early to tell yet whether local elevators would face a lack of storage space crisis.

Talented Guesser

Vickie Yruegas of Farwell, left, receives her first place check of $7.50 from Bobbie McFarland of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, one of the sponsors of the 18th annual Merchants Contest. Mrs. Yruegas is the first contestant this year to score all twelve games right. Second place money went to Becky Norton who had 10 games right and was 13 points off the tiebreaker. Donald Jones landed in third place by calling 10 games correctly and being 14 points off the tiebreaker.

A West Texas State University expert on reading habits and development of primary school students has pointed out that parent cooperation can sometimes make the difference between an underachiever in reading progress and an advanced reader.

Dr. Helen Wilbur said, "Word-calling is not reading," adding that, "Many students are good at just calling words, but the words may not have any meaning."

Parents can help the decoding process by using new words in meaningful situations. Another key to helping the child become a good reader is good parent-teacher communications.

er is good parent-teacher communications.

"It may be that with both working together they can see that the reading process is moving along very smoothly and very fast. Or it may be that the parent could become more aware of some of the readiness skills and that will help the reader along," said Dr. Wilbur.

Next week we will include "Tips for Parents," ways to aid your child in reading. If you have a friend who does not subscribe to the Tribune, please share your article with them. Let's all work together to help our children. We owe it to them as parents and teachers. If we at school can be of any help to you, please contact us.

Singing Group To Be At Church

The Gospel Relatives, a nationally traveled singing group, will present a service of gospel music at the Texico Assembly of God Church Sunday, Oct. 11, at 10:15 a.m. MDT.

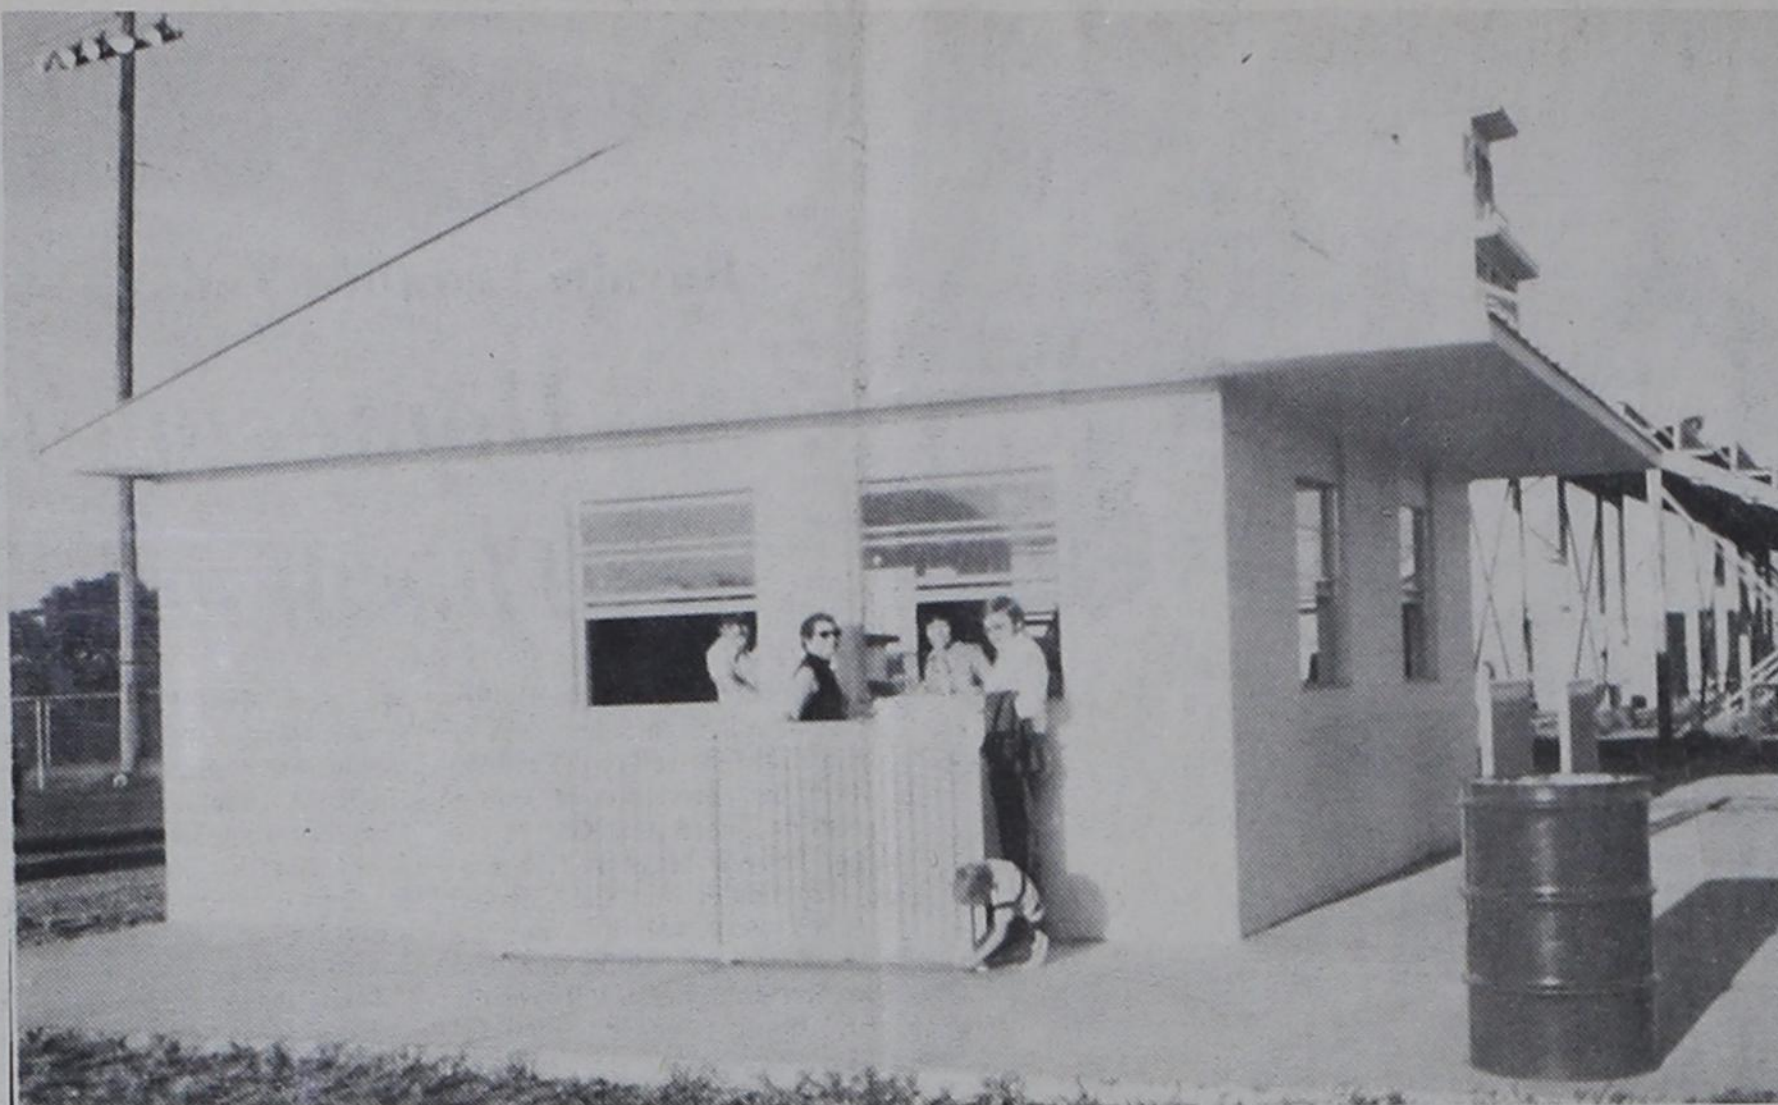

Members of the group include Jerry Hunter, Gay Hunter, Larry Yater and Wanda Yater.

Church pastor, Rev. M.R. Brumfield, says that the Gospel Relatives present gospel music at its best and that they have been well received in all their travels across the United States. Everyone is invited to hear this inspirational program, he says.

Anyone needing transportation to the services is asked to call 482-3280.

Here's an idea for spur-of-the-moment picnics. Wrap freshly baked oatmeal cookies (thoroughly cooled) in aluminum foil or plastic wrap. About 12 cookies per packet is a convenient number. Freeze cookies.

When leaving for the picnic site, remove the number of packets that you need from the freezer and take them along. The cookies will be thawed by serving time.

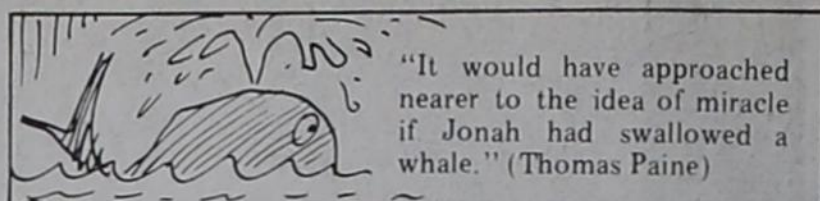

New Concession Stand

Fans at Farwell's home football games are now able to enjoy improved service and shorter waits at the concession stand due to the opening of the recently-completed building located at the west side of the home stands. The building was completed just in time to be in service at Farwell's first home game Sept. 3. Besides providing faster service because of the six windows from which patrons may be served, the structure is much more comfortable and convenient for those working inside. James Craig, who, along with Jerry Dee Owen, supervised construction, says that convenience was the main idea in planning the building. There are 10 electrical boxes with four outlets each and four boxes with two outlets each, providing ample electrical supply for the varied appliances used. There are separate electrical circuits for the hot water heater and the four-burner cooktop. (The cooktop was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Orie Jones.) A specially built faucet at the sink provides for filling coffee urns and tall containers. A water outlet and hose beneath the sink are handy to wash off the cement floor which is equipped with drains. Personnel working in the stand during the first home game report that fans were served easily.

Bicentennial Notebook - - An Appeal To Arms

by Donald Whisenhunt

It is one thing to proclaim independence, but it quite another to make such a proclamation have meaning. American leaders learned quickly in the weeks following the Declaration of Independence that it would take the greatest resolve, fortitude, and sacrifice to create an independent nation.

As this realization spread across the land the press took up the cause. Obviously, the supporters of independence would have to be vigilant against those - the Tories - who opposed the development of a new nation. Also, those who supported the Revolution had to be convinced of the seriousness of the situation.

An example of the appeals made by the press appeared in the "Freeman's Journal" in the first week of October. The editor tried to explain to the general public that an army would have to be raised immediately. The person who enlists, the editor stated, "enrolls his name in Fame's brightest temple," and will be honored throughout succeeding generations. This editor understood human nature. To appeal to the pride and ego of the individual was a good tactic.

The editor was not content to stop there, however. He went ahead to appeal to the anger of the American and to place the blame for the war. The villain was king George III. To personalize evil is always a good way to arouse emotions. The editor suggested that the sacrifices of those who came and created a new society would be lost if the tyranny of George III prevailed.

Despotic rulers have been common throughout history, the editor admitted, but he also posed the somewhat rhetorical question: "in the whole catalogue of royal villains, has there been one of a more infernal character than George the third?"

He then reminded the potential soldier of what America would eventually become with his assistance: "the asylum of liberty, the land of virtuous freedom, the seat of learning, of industry, manufacture, commerce, and husbandry; the nurse of heroes, the parent of science, the bosom of virtue, and the guardian of mankind." Obviously, this editor would leave no stone unturned to obtain the desired support.

Just as Americans were looking to defend, so too were those in the Spanish Southwest. Spain, as a declining power, had more and more trouble defending its northern outpost in Texas, as we have seen in preceding columns. However, the year 1776 was a time when Spain made a strong effort to bring the defenses of its frontier outpost back to a state of readiness. We will look more closely at these reforms in succeeding weeks.

Corn harvest is well underway. We have seen our first smoke signals of residues being burned. This is not good conservation.

If there is one thing our good productive soils lack in Parmer County it is organic matter. The organic matter can be furnished by our crop residues such as corn residues.

The organic matter in the soil makes the following happen:
1: The soil takes and holds water better.
2: The soil plows better (good tilth).
3: The soil breathes better which is necessary for good plant root development.
4: The beneficial soil micro-organisms have food to eat and make for a healthy soil.
5: The soil nutrients (fertilizer) are made more available to the plants.

The best way to handle the residues is on the surface through minimum tillage. I know some of you don't believe minimum tillage works, but you might talk to Teddy Fangman, Elsie Jo Buchanan or Charles Hough. These farmers are making minimum tillage work.

Portraying Area Homemakers

Mrs. Otis (Modene) McMillan of Farwell, our area homemaker for this week, likes to cook and bake for her family and she also spends four months of each year as a cotton classer.

The McMillans moved to Farwell from Lubbock a year ago.

"Otis was the foreman of mail delivery at Lubbock when the position of postmaster at Farwell opened up. He applied for it, was accepted and we have not regretted our move," Mrs. McMillan said.

She added that their children, Sandra, 16, and Melinda, 7, have adjusted to the change in schools very well. Gary, 18, remained in Lubbock to finish his high school education. He is presently working there.

Our homemaker said she and her family enjoy living in Farwell. "Everyone is friendly and you can always get in when you go somewhere," she explained.

Mrs. McMillan said she is not handwork-oriented and does not like to work in the yard, but numbers cooking and baking as two of her favorite pastimes. She also cans and freezes vegetables.

Sewing also occupies this homemaker's time. She said she likes to sew for the children and has made a couple of shirts for her husband.

Mrs. McMillan cited bowling as a favorite hobby and said she belonged to a women's bowling league when they lived in Lubbock. She admits she has not bowled very much this past year.

The local woman also works as a cotton classer, a job she has held for the past three years. "If my family did not cooperate and encourage me to work, I could never manage to have a job which takes me away from home," she explained.

Sixteen years ago Mrs. McMillan first went to work for the U.S.D.A. Cotton Division office in Lubbock. Three years ago she attended a six-month school which qualified her to work as a cotton classer. Last year during her working months she stayed in Lubbock all week and commuted home on the weekends. She also worked in the branch offices in Abilene and California, where she stayed for three weeks.

As a classer, Mrs. McMillan gives the grade and staple of cotton, which is coded on green cards and given to farmers. She explained that the grade is determined by leaf, color and preparation. A grade of 11 is the best, but in this area 31 is the average rating according to the Farwellite. She added that the difference in growing season and the type of cotton planted makes up the differences in grading and coloration.

Mrs. McMillan said that a California state law requires farmers to plant only one variety of cotton, whereas farmers in this area plant as many varieties as they want to. She added that the Lubbock office is the largest classing office in the world.

Our homemaker has concentrated to share with our readers some of her family's favorite cookie recipes.

What Are The Odds?

The odds of recovering from cataract are great. Surgery can restore vision in 95 percent of cataract cases for which it is recommended.

The odds are 1 in 20 that your preschool child suffers from a vision problem. But it can be detected early and corrected. One aid in detection is the Home Eye Test available free by writing to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, SN, 79 Madison Ave., N.Y.,

N.Y. 10016.

Of the 45,400 new cases of blindness this year, 50 percent will be needless.

Recipe Correction

Allie Burris, who shared her recipe for "Orange Slice Cake" a couple of weeks ago in the column "Area Home-maker" has asked that we amend the baking time for the cake. She said that she obtained the recipe from North Carolina and that probably would make a difference in baking time from what it would take here.

The recipe calls for baking the cake at 325 to 350 degrees for three hours. Instead, she suggests that the cake be baked from one hour to one and one-half hours and then test to determine the doneness.

Also, she stresses that the cake remain in the pan overnight in the refrigerator after pouring the topping over the cake. However, she cautions not to use a Teflon-coated pan, as the cake is hard to remove from the pan and a Teflon-coated pan would be damaged.

The leading cause of blindness in the U. S. is cataract, which accounts for 16 percent of all cases. But according to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, surgery can restore vision in 95 percent of all cases for which it is recommended.

Steers Blitz Mustangs

Farwell Steers raised their winning streak to four in a row without a defeat by blitzing Shallowater 41-0, Friday night before a frustrated Shallowater homecoming crowd.

Travis Bibbs returned the opening kickoff for the Steers and with only 36 seconds gone in the game, quarterback Russ Jones threw a 49-yard bomb to Carlos Lucio and Farwell had a six-point lead. The kick for the PAT was no good.

Farwell was offside on the kickoff and Bibbs made the second attempt from his 35. Pete Alvarado returned for the Mustangs. Shallowater made two quick first downs, crossing into Steer territory. A pass from Jesse Longoria put the Mustangs on the Farwell 10; however, the Steer defense stiffened, holding the hosts scoreless and the ball went over on downs at the eight-yard line.

On third down Mike Goettsch carried to his own 35 only to have the run nullified on a motion penalty. Shallowater held and the Steers were forced to punt.

The Mustangs had two incomplete passes and were thrown for a loss on third and 10. On fourth and 14 the quarterback was sacked and Farwell took over on their own 32.

During the remaining minutes of the first period, Farwell received three penalties and could not muster an offensive drive, once again punting to the hosts. Alvarado was stopped by Lucio on the return. Shallowater was penalized five yards on the first down and on second down Lucio recovered a fumble for the Steers.

Operating deep in Mustang territory, the Steers faced a fourth and six situation. Bibbs was the carrier on a reverse sweep that was good for the first down on the Shallowater 10.

Goettsch picked up one yard, Jones was downed for a four-yard loss to make it third and 13. Jones then dropped back and fired a 13-yarder to Rowdy Chandler in the end zone for the Steers' second TD. Goettsch carried across the line on the two-point conversion attempt and the Steers' lead widened to 14-0.

Billy White kicked for Farwell and the Mustangs quick-kicked three downs later.

In the next series, Goettsch carried for six yards and Jones connected with Bibbs on a 20-yard pass play. Three plays later Jones charged four yards to paydirt. Bibbs kicked the point after and the Steers retired to the dressing room at halftime with a 21-0 lead.

Billy White kicked off to start the second half, putting the pigskin deep in Mustang territory. Shallowater managed one first down and had a 20-yard pass gain nullified on a holding infraction to make it third and 30. Goettsch picked off the Mustang aerial and ran 35 yards for a Farwell TD. Bibbs kicked the extra point and put Farwell ahead 28-0.

White again kicked to Shallowater and on third and six, the Mustangs fumbled and Joe Haseloff recovered for the Blue and White. Jones completed a pass to Bibbs for a first down and on the next play Jones was smeared for a six-yard loss. On third down Jones' pass was intercepted and Shallowater took over.

Kent Goldsmith and Bibbs teamed up to stop the runner for a loss and on the next play Farwell again came up with the Mustang bobble.

A Jones-to-Chandler aerial was good for a first down on the 25. White recovered his own fumble for an eight-yard pickup and a fumble on a pitchout on the next down resulted in a loss, making it third and nine. Goettsch took the ball and ran in for still another Farwell TD. Bibbs toed the PAT and the score climbed to 35-0 for the Steers.

White again booted the pigskin into Mustang country and it was returned for 15 yards. Quarterback Longoria completed a 12-yard pass to their own 32. The next play belonged to Tim Norton as he sacked the quarterback for a ten-yard loss. The quarter ended with the score remaining 35-0.

At the start of fourth quarter play, Shallowater received a 15-yard holding penalty. The next play found Norton again sacking the quarterback for a one-yard loss. The Mustangs punted to White who did not return it.

A delay of game penalty pushed Farwell into a first and 15 situation.

Chip Craft, White and Goettsch carried the ball on three successive plays, but failed to earn a first down. Goettsch punted a 50-yarder and Shallowater took over on their 20-yard line.

The Mustangs recovered their own fumble for an eight-yard loss on the second down of play. They fumbled the ball on the next play and Craft recovered for Farwell.

Chandler assumed quarterback duties for Farwell at this point. On third and four White carried for the first down, making it first and goal. From there Norton carried it in for Farwell's final tally of the contest. A bad snap on the PAT attempt left the score 41-0.

Bibbs kicked for the Steers who held the Mustangs without first down yardage, forcing them to punt. The teams then exchanged punts once more with Farwell just receiving possession as the final gun sounded.

STEER OF THE WEEK

Joe Haseloff, the "Steer of the Week," recovered two fumbles against Shallowater Friday night. Coach Tom Whatley said Haseloff did an outstanding job blocking from the offensive center position. He also praised his efforts as a defensive tackle. Whatley said Haseloff has consistently improved since the first game.

Watch Goettsch Go

Mike Goettsch, Steer back, takes off for another Steer gainer in Friday night's 41-0 defeat of the Shallowater Mustangs. Goettsch scored two touchdowns for the Blue and White, one coming on a 35-yard run with an interception of a Mustang aerial. He also ran for a two-point conversion after a TD early in the second period.

First Down Yardage

Travis Bibbs, Steer senior, picks up yardage good for the first down after grabbing a Russ Jones' pass in Friday night's game at Shallowater. Bibbs also kicked three extra points in the Steers' 41-0 blitzing of the Mustangs.

7th Yearlings Earn Victory

Farwell's seventh grade team traveled to Shallowater Thursday, Sept. 30, and blanked their opponents, 16-0.

Roger Costello scored a touchdown from 15 yards out and Alvino Lopez made a 40-yard touchdown run. Both players also ran for the two-point conversion following their touchdowns. Both scores were earned in the first two quarters of play.

Coach Larry McDorman praised the backs for "running better and doing a good job."

He added that Waverly Coates had "good speed" and said quarterback Blake Buchenau is "learning the trade better."

The junior high coach commented that this game was the first full game for the 7th Yearlings to play. He added that he was well pleased with their efforts.

The players were to be idle Thursday, Oct. 7. The 7th Yearlings' next action is set for Thursday, Oct. 14, when they will pit their strength against Bovina at Bovina.

Steers Face Boys Ranch In Battle Of Unbeatens

Farwell's Steers, starting off with their best season record since 1960, will be striving to unseat the Boys Ranch Rough Riders in a battle of the unbeatens tonight (Friday) in Steer Stadium starting at 8 o'clock.

Coach Van Tom Whatley's charges take their 4-0 record into competition with the Class AA Rough Riders who also have yet to lose this year. The Ranchers have defeated Bovina 24-6; Sanford-Fritch, 32-15; Vega, 9-7; and Clarendon, 20-19, to keep their slate unblemished. The Steers have been victorious over Nazareth, Morton, Happy and Shallowater.

"The Steers are looking forward to playing Boys Ranch," Coach Whatley commented, noting that the two teams boast perfect records.

The Rough Riders offensive line averages 185 pounds per man while the offensive backs average 155 pounds, says Whatley, who expects the contest to be a hard-fought one.

In commenting on the Steers' 41-0 victory over Shallowater, Coach Whatley said he was "pleased with the overall performance" of the team and feels they are "coming of age." He added that they were still making a "few too many mental errors."

Whatley said the backs ran hard and said the offensive line performed well. Early in the game the defense had some problems, but they came back and shut the other team down, Whatley noted.

In singling out players for special honors Whatley named Joe Haseloff as "Steer of the Week." Other players receiving praise included Mike Goettsch, outstanding offensive back; D. D. Foster, Steve Meeks, and Clay Roberts, outstanding offensive linemen; Travis Bibbs, outstanding secondary man; and Richard Yruegas, outstanding forcing unit man.

8th Yearlings Suffer Defeat At Shallowater

The eighth grade Yearlings suffered a 32-6 defeat at the hands of their Shallowater counterparts Thursday night, Sept. 30, at Shallowater.

Boyd White scored the single Farwell touchdown on a 30-yard reverse play. The PAT failed.

Early in game action Raul Garza and Kerry Ford were injured. Garza sustained an ankle injury and Ford suffered a shoulder injury.

Coach Larry McDorman said the early injuries forced them to run a "makeshift backfield" throughout the remainder of the game.

He cited Mac Langford as the outstanding lineman and praised White as the outstanding back. He added that Gary White did "a fine job defensively."

McDorman said the team moved the ball all night, but that the "bigger players did a job on them." He commented that the Shallowater team was one of the biggest eighth grade teams he had seen in awhile.

day. Their next outing will be Thursday, Oct. 14, when they travel to Bovina for the first match of the District 3-A competition.

Farwell JV Wins Third of Season

Farwell's Junior Varsity JV 36-16 in a game at Steer Stadium Thursday night to up their season record to 3-1.

Benny Yruegas made three touchdowns and two extra points to lead the scoring for the JV. Others adding points were Gary Lee and Mar. Owen who ran for touchdowns. Lee also made an extra point.

JV Coach Royce Baker commented that Robin Roberts, quarterback, "executed well," and also praised Leonel Jaime, Bruce Mayfield and Ricky Coleman for defensive work in the game.

team played its best game overall, adding that they played good ball for an entire game instead of having "one good half and one bad half."

The win was especially important to the team after having lost 33-12 to Muleshoe last week, says Baker, who stated, "They needed to know they could come back after a heavy loss." He added that they will now be working to overcome a "weak pass defense."

The JV was to have played Sudan at Steer Stadium Thursday night. On October 14 they will travel to Bovina to battle

Panthers Drub Texico 51-0 In District Meet

by Susan Snodgrass and Gail Dorris

Jal's Panthers lived up to their billing as the state's fourth ranked Class AA team when they came to Texico last Friday night and drubbed the Wolverines 51-0. This was Texico's first district contest and left them with a season record of 2-3.

The Panthers amassed a total of 384 yards in the game while holding Texico to 70 yards. The larger Jal team took good advantage of four Wolverine fumbles inside their own 20 while the Panthers didn't turn the ball over. Jal started its scoring spree early in the first period when they tallied a safety. Danny Dorman scored a touchdown for the Panthers a few moments later but they were unable to convert on the point-after try. With 3:45 left in the period, Jal scored again, this time kicking the extra point to lead at the end of the first quarter 15-0.

With 18 seconds gone in the second quarter, Jal scored again, but the PAT was no good. Shortly before halftime the Panthers put another TD across and this time made good on a two-point conversion effort.

In the third stanza, Jal scored with 8:26 left and also kicked for an extra point.

Near the end of the period the Panthers hit paydirt once more but failed on the PAT attempt.

The final touchdown of the game came with five seconds gone in the last period. The point after kick was good, leaving the final score 51-0.

Coach Paul Toppliff of the Wolverines says that Texico just needs to be more aggressive on both offense and defense. He felt that the team members thought they were ready physically to play Jal, but that the mental aspect of playing a school that size is what defeated them.

The Wolverines are readying themselves for the clash with the Ft. Sumner Foxes tonight

(Friday) and feel that they are meeting a fine ball club. Ft. Sumner, who hosts the game, is 4-1 on the year and Coach Toppliff says, "It would really be a feather in our hat to beat them with their 4-1 record."

Wolverines Plagued By Costly Fumbles

"Fumbles are killing us," said Coach Paul Toppliff following Texico's 51-0 defeat by Jal Friday night.

"Our backs just aren't running well," he added. "We lost the ball on our own 18, 15, 25 and 20-yard line," he explained. "We can't play like that and expect to win," he continued.

Toppliff said that Jal was physically bigger than the Wolverines and "literally blew the defense apart."

The Wolverine mentor said Friday's defeat proves how far they have to go to become a winning team. He added that the loss itself was not the big let down. What hurt was that the team did not show any progress. "We regressed and that was costly," Toppliff said. "We didn't tackle well and we showed no aggressiveness," he added.

Toppliff cited Mark Howard with playing his "best ball game so far." He played the middle linebacker position and was responsible for 16 tackles.

"He was aggressive throughout the long night," the new coach said.

Toppliff said they will have to revamp for Ft. Sumner. "We have to come back from this loss. Ft. Sumner is a 'must' game for us," he said.

The Green and White is slated to play Ft. Sumner tonight (Friday) at Ft. Sumner.

Ducking the Facts

"Those who would break up the big, efficient oil companies duck the fact that if these privately owned companies are broken up and rendered unable to make the necessary large investments, big inefficient government will have to make them. This would make our already big government even bigger—which the people have repeatedly told the polltakers they oppose."

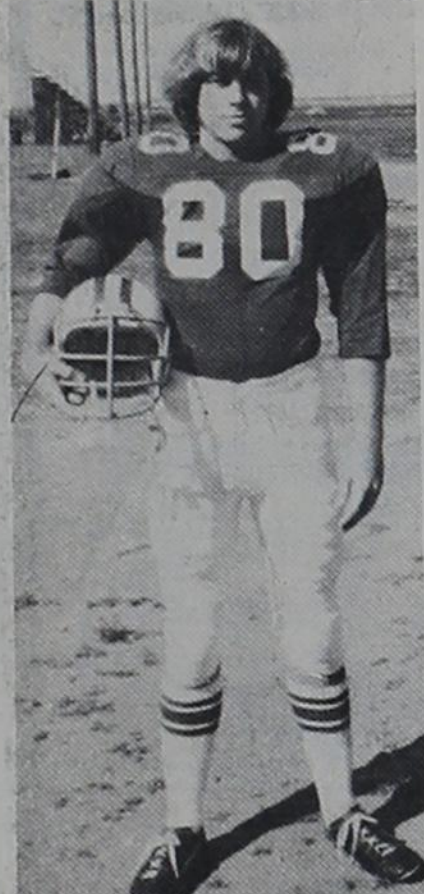

—Rawleigh Warner, Jr. Chairman Mobil Oil Corp.

Wolverine In Pursuit

Texico's Mark Howard (#30) takes off in pursuit of a Jal runner in Friday night's 4-AA district class between the Wolverines and Panthers. The Panthers controlled the ball most of the night and defeated Texico 51-0. Howard, who was named Wolverine of the Week, was credited with 16 tackles during the game for one of his best defensive efforts of the season.

Wolverine Of The Week

Mark Howard, senior, has been named Wolverine of the Week following his performance in Texico's game against Jal last Friday. Howard played the middle linebacker position and was responsible for 16 tackles during the contest. Coach Paul Toppliff said, "Howard played his best game so far," adding that he was aggressive and that he had "improved a lot."

Junior High Wolves Fall To Chaparrals

Texico's Junior High Wolverines were defeated 30-8 by the Chaparrals of Yucca Junior High, Clovis, in a scrimmage game Saturday, Oct. 2, at the Texico field.

Angel Toro was the big scorer for the visitors, making three touchdowns. Worm scored the fourth TD for the visitors. Schmit scored two of the extra points and Pruitt scored the third.

In Tuesday night action Texico seventh grade lost to Portales 15-10 and 15-8. The eighth grade also went down in defeat 15-4 and 15-4. The ninth grade won two of three games played with Portales. Scores were 15-10 and 15-6.

Texico seventh and eighth grade combined team lost two games to Floyd, 15-1 and 15-6. They won one game by a score of 15-9.

The Junior Varsity played the Floyd Junior Varsity and lost 15-5 and 15-5.

agri-facts
Taking a look over your shoulder is sometimes a good idea. It not only helps make us more secure... it adds perspective to where we are now. Looking over our shoulder at agricultural production produces similar results. Today's farmer produces over fifty percent more than his father. He does so on six percent less land. Twenty years ago each person working in farming accounted for production of enough food and fiber for sixteen others. Today each farmworker produces enough for 56 others. No other country even comes close to that kind of productivity. Russia's farmers produce enough for only six others. This quick, over-the-shoulder glance should make us feel more secure... having such a super productive agricultural environment. It should also help perspective. If we continue to encourage full farm production, the future of a hungry world should be considerably brighter.

"OUR GREAT COMMISSION"

Much is said of the "great commission" which our Lord gave to His apostles just before His ascension. We wonder whether our listeners have ever examined the various records of this commission carefully.

This "great commission" does not say one word about "the preaching of the cross" or "the gospel of the grace of God." The "gospel" which they were sent to preach was very evidently the same "gospel" they had been preaching—"the Gospel of the Kingdom"—only they could now declare, as Peter did at Pentecost, that the King had risen from the dead and would still some day occupy the throne of David (Acts 2:30-36).

The "great commission" demanded faith and baptism for the remission of sins (Mark 16:15,16); it included the power to heal the sick and work miracles (Mark 16:17,18); but it did not include the glad message that "Christ died for our sins" (1 Cor. 15:1-3). At Pentecost, when Peter began to carry out this commission, he rather blamed his hearers for the death of Christ; and when, convicted of their sins, they asked: "What shall we do?" he did not say: "Believe on Christ who died for your sins." He rather commanded them to "repent and be baptized every one . . . for the remission of sins" (Acts 2:38).

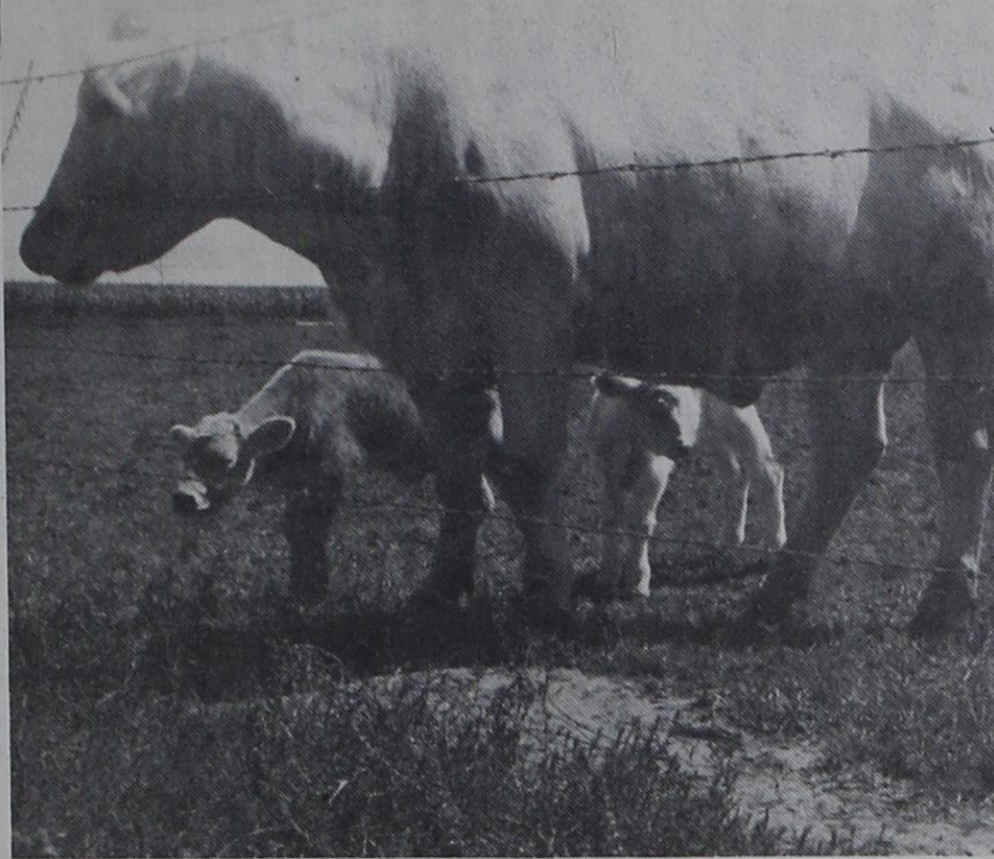

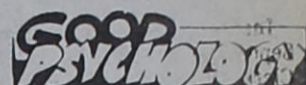

But after Christ and His kingdom were again rejected, God interrupted the prophetic program and sent Paul forth to proclaim "the preaching of the cross" and "the gospel of the grace of God." In II Cor. 5:14-21, this apostle proclaims "the love of Christ" who "died for all" and instructs us as to our "great commission."

"And all things are of [provided by] God, who hath reconciled us to Himself by Jesus Christ, AND HATH GIVEN TO US THE MINISTRY OF RECONCILIATION; To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself . . . AND HATH COMMITTED UNTO US THE WORD OF RECONCILIATION (II Cor. 5:18,19).

Twin Char-Swiss Calves Born To Hardings' Herd

Dam And Twin Calves

Twin purebred Char-Swiss calves peek from around and underneath their proud dam, Miss NB Abraham 3-905, as she stands guard over her offspring. The calves are the first born from the Hurshel Harding foundation herd, which is owned jointly by Harding and his son, David.

Twin calves were born August 23 on the Hurshel Harding place in Farwell. They are the first purebred Char-Swiss offspring to be born from the Hardings' foundation herd. Twelve cows make up the foundation herd and all are registered with the Char-Swiss Association. The animals are owned jointly by Harding and his son, David, who is a freshman at Baylor University.

Young Harding was active in Future Farmers of America and 4-H, raising pigs and lambs. Three years ago, after selling all his pigs, David turned his attention to cattle.

Mrs. Harding explained that they felt David needed "something to occupy himself with" and since their interest in breeding Char-Swiss had already been stimulated, that proved the perfect solution. She added that David left for Baylor University the day before the twins were born and has not been home to see them yet.

Nine members of the foundation herd were purchased from the Nelson Bunker Hunt ranch near Dallas and three were bought from Dan Valentine of Whiteface. The foundation sire came from the Martie Farms in Cleburne, Tex.

Mrs. Harding explained that in order to be certified purebred Char-Swiss, calves must be three-fourths Charolais cows. The foundation herd sire who sired the twin calves is Clem M 500 and is half Brown Swiss and Charolais.

The dam, Miss NB Abraham 3-905, is a registered Charolais.

Mrs. Harding says that the reasoning behind breeding the Char-Swiss is to obtain the favorable characteristics in both breeds. The Charolais are known for their size and make good beef feeder animals. The Brown Swiss produce extra milk which makes them good for raising calves.

The twin calves each bear the characteristic color of one of the breeds. One is tan colored and the other is white.

The Hardings are members of the Texas Char-Swiss Association and the West Texas Char-Swiss. Harding is a director of the West Texas

The dogtooth violet is not really a violet, but belongs to the lily family!

Char-Swiss Association, which numbers 45 breeder members in all. Benny Splawn of the Lazbuddie Community is serving as president.

Mrs. Harding said that in order to qualify as Char-Swiss breeders the national Char-Swiss Association examined the foundation herd members and certified them as proper breeding cows.

"We love cows and have really enjoyed our involvement with the Char-Swiss Associations," Mrs. Harding says.

Among the greatest things parents can give their children, most psychologists agree, are themselves. They recommend parents be available to their children whenever they're needed.

Halloween Costume Safety

As Halloween nears, safety comes to mind - especially costume safety.

Claudia Mitzel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggests some ways parents can make children's "trick or treating" safer this year.

-Consider using make-up to decorate the face rather than wearing a mask which may block vision.

-Sew or glue reflective tape to both front and back of the costume, be creative and incorporate the tape into the costume design.

-Check labels or packaging on purchased costumes for flame retardant finishes. Children may be exposed to many direct sources of fires such as lighted pumpkins, colorful candles or open fires for toasting marshmallows.

-For home-sewn costumes, select fabrics that have a flame retardant finish. Or apply one at home - aerosol or home made. But remember that the commercial aerosol may not be effective on all fabrics, so check the aerosol label.

The specialist suggested a recipe for making flame retardant finish, but cautioned that this solution will work only on costumes made of muslin, burlap, old sheets - in other words, items made of cottons, cotton blends or other natural fibers. It is not good on synthetics or resin-treated cottons.

Dissolve three ounces of boric acid in two quarts of hot water and stir in seven ounces of borax (boric acid and borax are available at drugstores).

Soak the costume in this solution for about five minutes, then wring out and hang. When just damp, iron until dry.

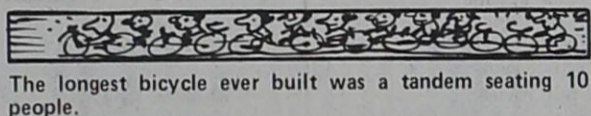

"This solution will not appreciably change the fabric, although any fabric that will shrink or discolor in water will be affected by the solution. This treatment will not fire-proof a costume, but will help it to resist ignition and spreading of the fire. It will be effective until the costume is laundered."
