NUMBER 48

SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR

15 CENTS

Last Sunday marked the official opening of the Farwell Convalescent Center. It is well launched on the road to success. With the completion of this project, it is not too soon to put forth another coordinated effort to attract more industry to our area.

We do not know all the criteria than an industry uses in selecting a location but we would assume that markets and distribution would rank high on the list. Here are the Twin Cities, ideally located to reach mass markets almost on an overnight basis.

We recently drew a 600-mile radius circle from Texico-Farwell and we encompassed Phoenix - Denver, Tulsa - Oklahoma City, Dallas - Fort Worth, Houston - Galveston and El Paso - Juarez. These are all million-people population centers.

These large centers are only 12 hours or overnight from us. Maybe we haven't told our story loud enough. We are the hub of a golden circle -- somebody, somewhere should be interested in us as a manufacturing and distribution center.

On a "closer to home" basis, the Twin Cities have access to over 45,000 persons within a 20 to 25 mile radius. This ought to guarantee an adequate labor pool for small industry. There are many other reasons which will put us in contention for growth if we but tell our story long enough, loud enough and often enough.

Let's put our shoulder to the task and in another 20 years we can make "Ole Riley's Switch" a suburb of the Twin Cities.

The High Plains in general and Farmer County in particular are approaching a massive grain harvest. One growing item in the cost picture of this huge crop has been the steadily escalating price of fuel to provide the energy to pump the water that has made this abundance possible.

In some areas, notably the Pecos basin, fuel costs have almost returned the agriculture to a dryland basis. It is therefore quite apparent that the High Plains of Texas and Eastern New Mexico has a big stake in the Congressional battle to force the breaking up of the so-called large energy companies.

This madcap political idea may or may not surface before the coming fall national elections, but it behooves persons in this area to watch the political philosophies espoused by the contending candidates. Make no mistake about it. If our larger providers of petroleum products are forced to break up into smaller units, their final prices to the consumer will be up, up and up. This could well sound the death knell to our economy long before our water depletes.

Much time and effort has been expended toward the finding of adequate sources of water in the future. Similar efforts may be necessary in the near future if we are to retain fuel to drive the pumps that provide the lifegiving water.

It appears to us that at the present time all farm and related organizations have as much interest in the coming "divestiture" drive in Congress as they do in the importation of water in 20 years.

Elsewhere in this issue we are carrying a notice from the Parmer County Commissioners Court concerning liability that will accrue to a person who lets his sprinkler wet the county roads.

We have come across this problem on several occasions and did some slipping and sliding as we negotiated 40 or 50 feet of muddy right of way. This is akin to the problem of tail water making a few feet impossible to cross and necessitating a several mile detour. These are like the Santa Fe crossing -- not impossible to eliminate, only difficult.

We hope this reminder by the Court of people's legal obligations will help to cure this hazard before somebody is seriously injured.

Open House Registration

Football Workouts Underway This Week

Even though school has not started as yet, football workouts are underway this week in the twin cities of Texico and Farwell. Both schools have new head football coaches this year who will be getting acquainted with their players and their schools as well as coaching football.

The Farwell Steers began their practice on Monday with two-a-day workouts, at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams are all on the twice daily schedule.

Contact work is scheduled to begin today (Friday). Uniforms, pads and other football gear also will be issued today, according to Van Tom Whatley, Farwell head football coach and athletic director.

Coach Whatley said that 54 boys have shown up for the first week of practice thus far. He encourages all Farwell High School boys to try out for one of the three teams. The coach commented that he expects 13 letterman and 12 starters to return this year.

He stated that the only scrimmage in which the Steers will participate has been set for either Thursday or Friday, Aug. 26 or 27, in Sudan.

For the Blue and White, Coach Whatley will be instructing the offensive backs and defensive secondary players. He is assisted by Don Alana, with the offensive linemen and defensive linebackers; Boyce Baker, offensive tackles and defensive guards; Larry McDorman, defensive ends and head junior high coach; and Bob Askey, head girls basketball coach, who is helping with the offensive and defensive linemen.

Texico High School Wolverines were slated to begin their pre-season workouts on Wednesday night. The practice sessions will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. MDT, daily.

Head Football Coach Paul Toppliff said he expects about 34 boys to report for the workout sessions. He added that approximately 15 lettermen will be returning this year. Coach Toppliff commented that eight Wolverines were lost through last year's graduation.

According to the coach, football equipment and uniforms will be issued probably next Friday or Saturday. He said that the Wolverines will participate in two scrimmages, but neither has been definitely set as yet.

Toppliff will instruct the offensive and defensive backs for the Green and White; Cecil Davis, junior high coach, will work with the linebackers; and Roy King will be in charge of the offensive and defensive linemen. James Harding is Texico school's athletic director.

Texico City Council Appoints New Trustee

A new city trustee was appointed during the Texico City Council meeting Tuesday, Aug. 10. Max Carter replaces Ruby Goforth who resigned when she moved to Clovis.

At the request of the trash contractor, George Davis of Clovis, the Council agreed to notify all Texico residents that their trash will no longer be picked up unless they comply with the new ordinance and start using the required 30-gallon covered containers.

City Marshal Mickey Fenn reported that he is looking into a grant that might enable them to purchase a new police car.

The Council requested that Harry Patton, city attorney, draw up an ordinance pertaining to the procedure to be used for city meetings.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Manford Turnbough, trustees, Bill Thigpen, Vane Doshier, Marie Christian and Max Carter, and Clara Wiehl, city clerk.

The Interim Care Facility 3 (ICF3) is licensed for 100 residents. It features private and semi-private rooms, with a limit of two patients per room. Residents have a variety of rooms from which to choose. Part of the rooms feature painted walls while others have wallpaper. The rooms are furnished with hospital-type beds, a chest of drawers and chairs and have large closets, private baths and outlets for cable TV. The floors are carpeted with tweed-like covering. Drapes come in a variety of designs and colors, some in floral designs, block patterns and plain. Bedspreads are in tans, browns and oranges.

The six-wing edifice with a central rotunda is designed to make residents "feel at home." The spacious frontal sitting room accommodates four love seats, a game table and four brown vinyl chairs, a book and magazine case, numerous vinyl chairs in brown, green or print design. Pictures dot the walls and add a comfortable touch to the surroundings.

Walls and ceilings are painted white and the tweed-like carpet is in shades of green, yellow and black. Crystal chandeliers hang from the ceiling. A fireplace, which will burn either gas or wood logs, provides a comforting touch of home to the residents and visitors of the Center.

The dining area is spacious and covered with linoleum in a cream-colored hue speckled and bordered in gold. Residents eat their meals on small square wooden tables which set four. The wooden-back chairs feature yellow vinyl seats.

The recreation room adjoins the dining area. At times recreation activities will "spill over" into the dining facility. The three-member kitchen staff has a large kitchen in which to prepare meals. It features a six-burner stove, and walnut-colored wooden storage cabinets. The large freezer has three separate doors. The cleaning area is separate from the meal preparation area. An automatic dishwasher and stainless steel sinks facilitate the after-meals clean-up routine. A spacious storage and pantry area is connected to the kitchen. It also features numerous storage cabinets, shelving and another large freezer with three separate compartments.

The kitchen is designed to meet the state requirements that the cleaning process must be maintained separate from the preparation of meals. The cabinets feature doors on either side. A partial wall separates the washing area from the food preparation area. As the dishes complete their wash cycle they can be placed into the cabinets and removed from the other side.

Other facilities include a utility room, drug room with numerous cabinets and a three-way lock system, linen closets, and a combination beauty and barber shop.

The Center also offers physical therapy and 24-hour nurse's service. The Century whirlpool accommodations are a highlight of the physical therapy program. The hydraulic lift seat is designed to enable residents to be easily and carefully lowered into the soothing waters.

Therapeutic diets are provided and an RN dietitian consultant will spend eight hours a month supervising the kitchen.

The nurse's station is located in the center and the full length of all halls can be seen from it. Decorative dark marbled mirror paneling and crystal chandeliers add to the decor of the central area.

Assets of the facility include an emergency electrical system which takes over within seconds if and when a blackout should occur. Of special interest to the residents and future residents of the Center is the director who will arrange recreational activities for them.

As part of the effort to involve the entire community with the heartbeat of the Center, local ministers will take turns conducting Sunday worship services. Community suggestions and projects will be welcomed by Mrs. Nittler and her staff. They will incorporate a "tender, loving care" philosophy in their daily care of the residents of the Center.

Part of the outside decor of the Center includes the covered patio and walkway leading to the front entrance which has been carpeted with green artificial turf.

The Farwell Convalescent Center is a member of the Texas Nursing Home Association.

It takes a lot of soybeans to build a Datsun . . . American soybeans. Although Russia seems to get all the publicity, the number one customer for the American export market is, by far, Japan. And not just for soybeans. Last year the Land of the Rising Sun was number one in purchases of feed grains, cotton, tobacco and livestock products as well as soybeans. Just how important is number one? For each of the past three years purchases have ranged from three to three-and-a-half billion dollars. Or, in terms of acreage, they bought the production of 14 million American acres, that's about the same as all the crop land in the three West Coast states. And, considering current buying projections, the best customer is going to become even better . . . good news for the world's best producer . . . the American farmer.

Corn Disease Demonstration Tour Slated

The George Sides farm at Dimmitt is the site of a corn disease demonstration tour Tuesday, Aug. 17, at 1:30 p.m. for corn growers and other interested persons.

A corn disease demonstration nursery was set up this year with 70 commercial hybrids in four-row plots one-half mile long for observation of disease development.

The most damaging disease has been head smut. In 1975, this field had 30 percent infection by head smut which resulted in a 30 percent yield loss below the long time average on the Sides farm.

This year preliminary evaluations are showing wide differences in varietal response to head smut.

Tour guests also will be able to view the effects of corn rust which attacked all but one of the commercial hybrids. With recent rains and dews, ideal conditions exist.

Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus, another serious disease of corn, are also evident in the Sides farm demonstration although infections are not prevalent in most hybrids.

Corn growers and others interested in that increasingly important High Plains crop are urged to attend. The tour will begin at the George Sides home seven miles west of Dimmitt on Hwy. 86.

FIRE CALLS

The Farwell volunteer fire department responded to a call Tuesday at 12:30 a.m. to the alley behind 702 Second Street. One of the trash cans had caught on fire.

Board Meets

A special session of the Texico School Board convened August 4. Purpose of the meeting was to hire Katherine Culshaw of Roswell, N.M. as the new girls coach.

All-Around Athlete

Nicky Liethen, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Liethen of Farwell, attended Kanakuk Camp for boys at Branson, Mo., in June and returned home bearing five ribbons and a Circle "K" patch. The young contender earned first place honors in washer pitching and the 330 yard relay. He took third place in high jump and the 50-yard dash. Liethen also received a crafts award for a belt and was runner up for the "All-Around" athlete title. This was his third summer to enter competition at Kanakuk Camp and the young Farwellite is eagerly looking forward to returning next year.

Third Year Winner - -

Nicky Liethen's Athletic Prowess Earns Top Honors At Kanakuk

Twelve-year-old Nicky Liethen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Liethen of Farwell, attended Kanakuk Camp for boys in Branson, Mo., from June 1 through June 27. While at the camp, Nicky participated in daily athletic sessions and captured several honors with his athletic abilities.

The three four-week camp sessions instruct boys in baseball, basketball, football, canoeing, skiing, tennis, sailing, soccer, fishing, archery, riflery, volleyball, golf and wrestling, according to Nicky. He commented that he "liked all parts of the camp."

The boys who attend Kanakuk Camp are also offered instruction in crafts of all types, nature studies, astrology and many other things.

Part of the planned activities include spending several days and nights on camp-outs and canoe trips. The trips are of various lengths, purpose and nature geared to fit the various age groups. Camp participants are then divided into tribes, Choctaws and Cherokees. Nicky was a Cherokee in the junior division.

The local camper participated with his group in an Island Adventure. They traveled Table Rock Lake in canoes and camped out for four days and nights. He said the camp counselors cooked and pitched the tents but the boys were required to assist in other camp duties.

The young Farwellite related that a typical day at camp began with "Reveille." Calisthenics, a flag raising ceremony and breakfast followed.

"After our morning chores we were assigned our sports for the day," Nicky stated. The various age groups were given their athletic schedules for the day such as juniors, basketball, midgets, swimming, etc. This procedure was followed in order that all may have time to be active in the different sports available.

During these athletic sessions, the Cherokees and Choctaws of each age group competed for athletic honors. An event won meant points added to the tribe's overall score. At the close of the camp session, the tribe accumulating the most points was declared the championship tribe. Nicky's tribe, the Cherokees, were defeated by the Choctaws by 13 points. The Cherokee tribe had won the championship the last two years in a row.

During individual competition, Nicky garnered several awards. He received first place ribbons in washer pitching and the 330-yard relay. He took third in high jump and the 50-yard dash. The young contender also received a crafts award for a belt and was runner-up for the "All-Around" title.

The camper also earned the Circle "K" patch. In order to earn the "K" the boys had to perform certain tasks and athletic feats perfectly. He explained that the bigger the "K" the tougher the competition. Since Nicky had earned the little "K" last year and also received the "K" during this year's competition, he was awarded the Circle "K" patch.

These awards were added to Nicky's collection from the two previous camps he has attended. During the 1975 camp the young athlete earned first place victories in diving, throw darts and washer pitching. He was awarded second place ribbons in the 100-yard dash and 50-yard dash.

He was also honored by being named recipient of the "All-Around Athlete" for the junior division.

During the 1974 camp, Nicky took first place honors in diving, chinning, 50-yard dash, high jump and a craft award for a belt. He placed second in washer pitching and took the "All-Around Athlete" during his first year. During this session, Liethen was a Cherokee in the midget division.

During the final three days of each camp session, parents of the campers are invited to attend and view the final days of athletic competition. The Mark Liethens joined their son at Kanakuk Camp for the competition June 25. The family returned home June 28.

County Agent

The crop insect situation in Parmer County is running about on schedule for this time of year. Major corn insects are present in most of the fields throughout the county. In quite a number of fields the second generation of the Southwestern corn borer has hatched or is in the process of hatching out.

A producer can determine his infestation by looking in the leaves at about ear height on the plant. At this time of year when young eggs, old eggs, and young larva are found, one knows that the second generation is in the process of hatching out.

As an economic infestation is present, then control measures are necessary. Either Furdan or Sevimol gave good bore control. Furdan will kill less of the beneficial insect population, and therefore forestall a mite build up.

Speaking of mites, most of the corn fields throughout the county have Banks grass mite populations. In some instances, I have seen a population build up to justify spraying. However, most of the build up may possibly be seen during the month of August.

This insect can do a great deal of damage in a very short period of time to both corn and milo fields. Natural predators have kept the population down to a minimum. However, the insect thrives on water stress fields during hot, dry periods of weather.

Therefore, if you have an infestation, you should keep your field as wet as possible to avoid a heavy build up. This insect has a natural resistance to most insecticides used in this area. Comite and sulfur give reasonable control.

Another insect seen in corn over the years is the oat bird cherry aphid. A heavier build up has been seen this year than years past. However, I have yet to see a build up heavy enough to warrant spraying. Even though I have seen some leaf sugaring due to this insect, I can detect that the aphids are injecting a toxin into the plant. Therefore, I do not believe at this time that they are causing enough damage to spray for them. Also where these aphids are found, mite build up is very light. The Banks mites will not build up in heavy numbers on the leaf where cherry aphids are forming colonies. These insects bear watching, but I would refrain from spraying until definite damage has been established.

In regard to grain sorghum, both greenbugs and corn leaf aphids are present in most fields. I have seen several fields where greenbug damage was high enough to justify spraying. In most of the fields I have seen Branconid wasp activities working on the aphid population. These wasps inject an egg into a single aphid thereby reducing the aphid population.

The wasp build up should be seen in a greater number through August. You may have sufficient wasp build up to decrease the aphid population so that you need not spray the greenbugs. You should allow their build up and give them a chance to work for you if at all possible. Of all beneficial insects working in grain sorghum, the Branconid wasp does the most good.

Screwworms have mounted a siege in Texas this spring and summer, and the coming months hold little promise for relief.

Virtually all of Texas is now subject to the screwworm.

Recent cases in Montague County in North Texas and in Baylor, Cottle, Kent and Motley counties in the Rolling Plains and Lubbock County on the South Plains mean that screwworms are now within striking distance of all livestock in the state. Therefore, it's vital that producers check their livestock regularly, spray for flies, treat any wounds, and send any worms found in wounds to the Mission Lab for identification.

If the worms are identified as larvae of the screwworm fly, then action will immediately be taken to bombard the area where the case was reported with sterile flies reared at the Mission Lab.

sterile flies will breed with wild screwworm flies, rendering any eggs that they may lay as sterile. Thus the eggs won't hatch. The screwworm fly dies after mating, so the mating process with the sterile flies breaks the reproductive cycle of the screwworm.

Texas screwworm cases in June totaled 2,306 and were double those recorded in June of 1975. That makes this June the third worst on record since the screwworm eradication program got under way in 1962. Through July 28, a total of 6,398 screwworm cases have been confirmed in Texas this year.

With the recent wet weather in South Texas, a letup in the screwworm siege is not likely. And traditionally, screwworm cases have been high during the fall months. So, the outlook isn't good.

However, a new effort that may eventually keep the screwworm out of Texas will be kicked off in late August when the first screwworm eradication program begins in Mexico. That's when the first consignment of flies from the new insectary at Tuxtla Gutierrez is scheduled for delivery to Baja, Calif.

Striking a Balance

"The overthrow-and-rebuild, destroy-and-start-over philosophy which gained momentum in the sixties has given way in the mid-seventies to a sounder, more sensible kind of searching for the improvement of life. The search now is to strike a workable balance between what might be termed admirable but grandiose ideals and the economic realities of our time."

Jan Holloman, Jace Ensor
Exchange Double Ring Vows

Jan Holloman became the bride of Jace Ensor in a formal, doubling ceremony, July 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the 16th and Pile Church of Christ in Clovis. Mark Littlejohn of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ribble Holloman of Clovis, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Ensor of Ruidoso.

The couple repeated their wedding vows before an altar centered with an arch entwined with pastel majestic daisies and greenery. In the background was a 14-branch candelabrum flanked by two five-branch candelabra and two tall candle trees entwined with greenery, and two palms. Votive candles, yellow ribbons, and greenery marked the family pews. At the close of the ceremony the couple lit the unity candle which was a three-branch candelabrum holding yellow tapers.

The church chorus: Clayton Fuchs, Byron Merritt, Otis Moore, James Emerson, Marlene Newman, Myrl Davis, Mary Sue Merritt, Louise Simms, and Jill Firestone, provided a medley of vocal selections before the entrance of the bride. The songs included, "Hand in Hand", "Whither Thou Goest", "I Love You Truly", "Processional", "Twelfth of Never", "O Perfect Love", and "Recessional". Clayton Fuchs sang a solo, "The Wedding Song".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of polyester organza with a tucked yoke, sprinkled in seed pearls, and high neckline with lace ruffle trim at the shoulder. Lace bands trimmed the empire waistline, wrist cuffs, bishop sleeves and front skirt. Lace also trimmed the flounce hemline with chapel train. The lace trimmed fingertip veil was held in place by a Juliet cap.

The bride carried a cascade of white daisies, white miniature carnations and baby's breath with bows and streamers of white ribbon on a white lace covered Bible. As the bride approached the altar, she paused to present her mother with a long-stemmed, yellow rose. Upon leaving the altar after the ceremony the bride again paused and presented the bridegroom's mother with a long-stemmed, yellow rose.

Following tradition, the bride wore for something old, a brooch which had been worn by her mother at her wedding and which had belonged to her late maternal great-grandmother LaRue. Something new was her bridal attire. Something borrowed was a Bible which was borrowed from her maternal grandmother McDaniel which had belonged to her late grandfather McDaniel. Something blue was her garter. Pennies minted in their birth years were worn in her shoes.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo and white shirt.

The maid of honor and bride's attendants wore floor length dresses of polyester with lace trimmed yokes, high necklines with lace trimmed wrist cuffs and bishop sleeves. Each wore a white picture hat trimmed with satin ribbon to match her dress and carried a nosegay of dyed daisies and baby's breath with matching streamers to match the respective dress.

Maid of honor was Julie Holloman of Clovis, sister of the bride, wearing pale orchid. The bride's attendants were: Mickey Newman of Clovis, friend of the bride, wearing pale pink; Sandra Littlejohn of Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom, wearing pale blue; and Sharon Bacon of Tulsa, Okla., sister of the bridegroom, wearing pale green.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Dennis Ensor of Arlington, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were: Scotty Holloman of Clovis, brother of the bride, Josh Ensor of Ruidoso, brother of the bridegroom, and John Bacon, Tulsa, Okla., brother-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore tuxes of white coats, black pants and colored shirts to match, respectively, the maid of honor's and attendants' dresses.

The candles were lit by John Ensor of Ruidoso, brother of the bridegroom, and Curtis Davis of Clovis. They wore tuxes of white coats, black pants and apricot shirts.

Flowergirl was Kenda Kelley of Clovis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kelley, who wore a floor length yellow flowered embroidered dress. She carried a basket of pastel daisies. Ringbearer was John Christopher Bacon of Tulsa, Okla., nephew of the bridegroom, who wore a white coat, black pants and yellow shirt. He carried the rings on a white lace heart-shaped pillow.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Holloman chose a floor length pale aqua lace trimmed knit dress overlaid with a floor length aqua lace coat. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a floor length lace trimmed orchid polyester knit dress. Both mothers wore white daisy corsages.

Maternal grandmother of the bride, Nora McDaniel of St. Vrain, N.M., was attired in a floor length, lace trimmed blue dress. Maternal grandmother of the bridegroom, Lena Kelso, of Idalou, was attired in a floor length pale green figured dress. Both grandmothers wore white daisy corsages.

Serving as ushers were Ray Duke and Brent Davis, both of Clovis. They wore tuxes of white coats, black pants and yellow shirts. Also serving as ushers were Scotty Holloman and Josh Ensor.

Patty Brown and Patty Johnson, both of Clovis, registered the guests and handed out "thank you" scrolls.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the fellowship room of the church. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over white satin was centered with an off-white, four-tiered, hexagonal-shaped cake accented with white daisies, and supported by white columns. The top tier was adorned with a lacy heart and wedding bells. The cake was baked by a life-long friend, Wilma Barnes. The bride and bridegroom cut the first piece of cake with a pearl handled knife with their names and the date of their marriage engraved on it.

At the end of the table was a silver candlestick with a yellow taper encircled by the bridesmaids' nosegays. Golden punch was served from a silver punch bowl encircled by yellow daisies and greenery. Daisy mints and nuts were also served. Dona Gerries of Huntsville, Ala., and Debbie Gunnels of Clovis served the cake. Kenna Moore of Friona, and Janie Duke of Clovis served the punch.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a mint green taffeta cloth accented with pink flowers and ribbons, featured a silver coffee service and chocolate cake made in the shape of wedding bells iced in brown and yellow daisies. The cake was made by Ima Gene Swinney, life-long friend. Coffee was served by Bonnie Ensor of Arlington, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. The cake was served by Paula Martin of Farwell.

Reception hostesses were: Mesdames Marie Duke, Myrl Davis, Bonnie Johnson, Lois McCready, Jo Jones, Marlene Newman, Nellie Maberry, Earlene Gunnels, Ima Gene Swinney, Linda Fuchs, D'Ann Rogers and Jean Whitted.

The pastel rice bags were distributed by Jonalee Maberry and Jill Davis, both of Clovis.

On Thursday evening a rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at a local restaurant, with James Hobbs of Farwell entertaining.

The bridegroom is a 1974 graduate of Farwell High School. He attended a semester at Abilene Christian College and attended Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock, graduating with the missions program. He is presently self-employed as a carpenter in Ruidoso.

For her wedding trip to Six Flags over Texas, the bride changed to a lace trimmed floor length beige dress. She wore a white daisy corsage.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

MORE THAN CONQUERORS

Two boys fight in a back alley. Fists fly. Shouts go up from the other kids standing by. "Give it to 'im! Let 'im have it!"

Finally one of the two walks away with a cocky bearing, head and shoulders wagging. He has won!

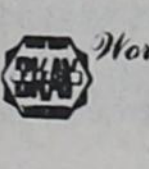

But has he? Look at him. He has a bloody nose, a black eye and welts on his face and arms. And if looks could kill he wouldn't even be alive, for while his friends shout his praises, the boy he has beaten gives him a look that says: "Just wait!" He has not won anything except, perhaps, a bitter and lasting enemy.

So it is with the wars that nations wage against each other. Necessary as it sometimes becomes to defend our liberties, our homes, our way of life, by force of arms, seldom does any nation actually win in war. Rather all lose, even the "victors," as in their "victories" they sow the bitterness and hate which are the seeds of future wars.

It is different, however, with "the good fight of the faith," for the Christian may come out of every battle stronger than when he went in. Only the Christian can say with regard to the heartaches and disappointments, the sickness, the difficulties and obstacles, that cross his path: "Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through Him that loved us" (Rom. 8:37).

During Paul's busy ministry for Christ he suffered a painful "thorn in the flesh," and "besought the Lord thence" that it might be taken away. The Lord did not see fit to remove the thorn, but answered Paul: "My grace is sufficient for thee, for My strength is made perfect in weakness" (II Cor. 12:9).

Paul's response: "Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. . . . I take pleasure in infirmities. . . for when I am weak, then am I strong" (Vers. 9,10). Let all go well, and we are prone to grow careless in our Christian lives. Adversity, on the other hand, makes Christians pray the harder and lean the more — and therein lies their strength and their victory.

Women's Slow Pitch - -

Trails BT Team Earns State Runner-Up Slot

Runner-Up Champs

Trails BT, the Texico women's slow pitch team, placed second in the New Mexico Women's Slow Pitch Tournament held in Clovis last weekend. As a result of their victory, the team has earned the right to compete in the regional tournament to be held in Flagstaff, Ariz.

The treasured victory and coveted trophy did not come easy for the local girls. They played a total of seven games. During Saturday's competition, Trails BT defeated A-1 Paint and Body Shop of Espanola, N.M., 17-6; Espanola Type-writers, 12-2; and Pac's Plumbing of Santa Fe, N.M., 14-9. Those three victories earned them a berth in Sunday's final round of play.

That day, the slow pitchers played four games back to back. They lost the first round of competition to TEWA Lounge of Espanola, 15-11. They took the second game from Pac's Plumbing, 22-16. They followed that victory with another triumph over TEWA Lounge, 6-2, but dropped the fourth game to TEWA Lounge, 12-5.

In the Clovis tournament, Marie Steward, a member of Trails BT, received the 1976 Women's State Slow Pitch Outstanding Outfield Player.

Trails BT team has racked up an impressive record during its regular season and league play. They carried with them into state championship play an impressive 33 wins and five losses, with no losses suffered during league play.

The state tournament was the first ever to be held in Clovis. And Trails BT was the only Clovis team to make the finals during championship competition.

The local softballers have fared equally well in other tournament action. They placed first in the July 4th Weekend Bicentennial Tournament held at Cannon Air Force Base, the July 16-18 meet at Espanola, and the July 23-25 Clovis City Championship. They earned fourth place honors at the July 10-11 Clovis Invitational. They were undefeated during competition at Espanola and the Clovis city tournaments.

Trails BT was the only undefeated team out of the 48 Clovis teams who participated in soft ball action this year. Team sponsor this year is Trails Steak House of Clovis. Last year, under the title BT Express, the team went to regional play at Greeley, Colo. They placed third in the New Mexico State Championship held at Los Alamos, N.M., last year.

Clovis team members include Michelle Hall, pitcher; Judy Brenning, first base; and Janice Golden, short stop. Two Clovis girls, Beverly Mullins and Debbie Teakel, joined the team for the weekend tournament.

The coach is Albert Steward and assistant coaches are Curtis Lindley and L.D. Betts.

Sherry Curtis Appointed Girl Scouting Organizer

Mrs. James (Sherry) Curtis of Farwell has been appointed local Girl Scout organizer, according to Mrs. W.C. Griggs, president of Caprock Girl Scout Council.

She explained that the organizer provides administrative leadership and takes responsibility for developing and maintaining Girl Scouting within a given area, town or community.

Accordingly, Mrs. Curtis' duties during her two-year term will include appointing consultants and leaders, ensuring that a Girl Scout program is available to all girls, and presiding over volunteer meetings which identify needs for service in the community and which determine goals for the area and ways of improving the quality of Girl Scouting.

According to Mrs. Griggs, the strength of Girl Scouting within a given area does not come merely from the work of the organizer, but rather, it develops from the united efforts of the entire team of adult volunteers.

Positions are filled each year by men and women who strive to fulfill the Girl Scout objective of providing a positive environment for young people to grow up in through emphasis on character, conduct, patriotism and service. She added that each position is a vital link in the overall network of making Girl Scouting available to girls.

Mrs. Curtis will also serve as Brownie leader along with Linda Autrey.

Mrs. Curtis said that many girls in Farwell are interested in joining a Girl Scout junior troop, for grades four through six; or cadette troop, for grades seven and eight; but no team leaders are available. She added that leaders are needed "desperately."

Anyone interested in becoming a leader may contact Mrs. Curtis at 825-3535.

Letter To The Editor

August 4, 1976

Mr. John Getz
Publisher, State Line Tribune
Farwell, Texas 79325

Dear Mr. Getz,
We have read the item in your "Purely Personal" column, dated July 30, 1976, about being delayed 30 minutes because of the crossing gates being down on Wheeler Avenue.

We are sorry that you were delayed; we regret having to block the crossing at any time, but it is one of those impossible physical situations where you have a railroad taking care of its business requiring blocking of the crossing, and the need of the public for use of the highway at the same time.

However, in the case you cite, the time the gates were down was unreasonable, and the crew should have made arrangements to clear the track, allowing the gates to ascend and vehicular traffic to cross. This crew has been admonished for their failure to give due consideration to motorists. In an attempt to preclude recurrence, our trainmaster will issue a bulletin to all our crews, cautioning them to give consideration to motorists when it is necessary to do extensive switching at Farwell-Texico that activates the gates.

We want to be good citizens of the community, and want our crews to be more attentive to motorists at crossings, and should there be other bad delays brought to your attention, we would appreciate being advised of them.

Sincerely,
K.C. May

Dear Sir:
Last Friday, I picked up a leaflet from a major pattern company and was shocked to see that in a "Memo from Marlo" a salute was given to Mrs. Barbara Shuttleworth who started the meat boycott of 1973.

I think that this is a slap in the face to the cattlemen and farmers in the United States. Many cattlemen went broke as a result of Mrs. Shuttleworth's action and many other farmers and ranchers have not fully recovered from the financial damage done to them. Evidently, Mrs. Shuttleworth has not heard of the law of supply and demand.

If the women of this area who sew will look at their old and new patterns from this company, I think they will notice that the prices paid for them have gone up considerably in the last few years.

I would hope that the women of this area will write a letter to Marlo Thomas and the president of this company to let them know that we do not appreciate what they have done in honoring such a woman.

As I understand the leaflet, the Life Pattern Fund of this company has given Mrs. Shuttleworth a grant of $2500 to either further her education or move up higher in the working world.

I have heard that some states are calling for a boycott of this company if the president does not make a public apology, but at this time I do not advocate such. I just hope that the women from this area will make themselves known to this company.

If you need an address to write, please call me.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Donahey

Every year the beautiful American countryside is messed up with 60-billion no-deposit cans and bottles. It is estimated that $20 million is spent each year to kill so-called bottle bills aimed at legislation to prevent the litter. No one knows for sure how many more millions are spent each year to pick up the debris on our roadsides.

Sheriff's Report

Parmer County Sheriff's Department recently recovered two tractor lawn mowers which had been stolen from a cemetery in Artesia, N.M. early in July. The director of the funeral home in Artesia arrived in Farwell August 4 to reclaim the mowers.

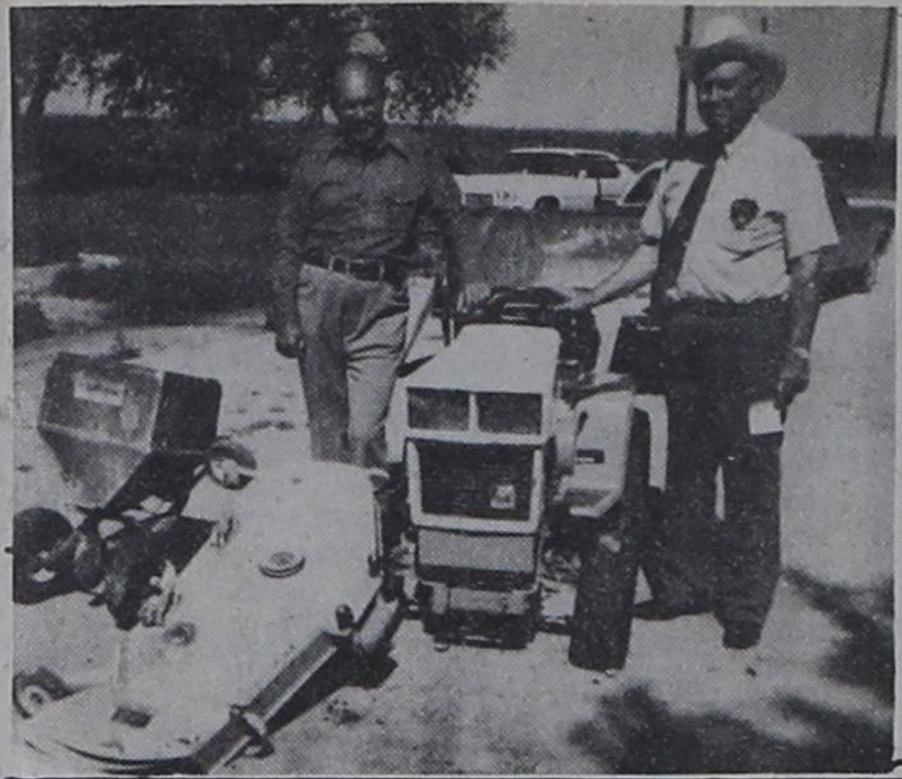

The two lawn mowers were allegedly stolen by Dick Busbee, Jesse Mann and Bennie Hurtoda. It was reported that they sold the stolen property to Tommy Clement who lives north of Bovina. He reportedly sold the mowers to Dave Neely, who lives 14 miles west of Farwell. The mowers were recovered at the Neely farm.

Sheriff Charlie Lovelace was expected to leave Wednesday for Osborne, Kans., where he is to return William Milton who is wanted in connection with a forgery incident. Milton was apprehended Sunday on a warrant issued by the sheriff's office. He waived extradition rights. Lovelace was to return with the suspect Thursday.

Sunday, vandals destroyed one of the coin machines at the Joe Hughes car wash in Farwell. No money was taken but the damage was reported to be about $35.

Parmer County Deputy Henry Minter and Bovina City Marshal Gary Gillespie brought in a robbery suspect this week. Elmer Drinkard allegedly robbed a Bovina resident. According to Sheriff Lovelace, he pretended to have a gun. No bond has been set yet.

Three Friona juveniles were taken into custody this week in connection with destruction of private property. Two of the juveniles have been released to the custody of their parents.

Stolen Property Recovered

Early in July, two tractor lawn mowers were stolen from the cemetery in Artesia, N.M. Recently the two mowers were recovered by Parmer County's Sheriff's Department. Pictured with one of the recovered mowers is Mr. Yelvington, left, director of the funeral home in Artesia and Sheriff Charlie Lovelace.

WHAT A SHARK

There's something fishy going on in Munich where real sharks can be seen in a popular night spot. The three-story cabaret was built as part of a huge tank filled with salt water. Forty sharks from the Atlantic are kept there, where patrons of the "Yellow Submarine" nightclub, a part of the Munich Holiday Inn, can watch them through huge portholes. Some fish might learn to drink like people!

N-SERVE* HOW IT WORKS

N-SERVE blocks bacterial action that would quickly convert ammonium fertilizer to nitrates. Nitrates are subject to rapid loss through leaching and denitrification. This blocking action keeps nitrogen in the soil longer so that it becomes available slowly as it's needed. This reduces the crop stress that would occur from temporary nutrient shortages if you had to rely on side-dressings to maintain a steady nitrogen supply.
