

By Hop Jr.

Probably no more illuminating an experience can be had between father and son than for just the two of them to get off by themselves for a couple of days. At least, that is our conclusion after an experiment last week.

Ronny, the writer's oldest son (4 years) and his daddy made a hustle-and-bustle trip to Fort Worth on Thursday and Friday. Originally, it was "Dad's business trip," and the idea of taking the boy was more or less to get him out of his mother's hair for two days.

However, before the car had rolled many miles down the road enroute to Fort Worth, it became apparent that this was "Ronny's trip" and that Dad was along just to do the driving, buy the meals, and map the restroom strategy.

The author is absolutely appalled at the things his son has already learned in life. Many things we can trace to his grandmother's teaching. Some facts come from his mother's instruction. But a raft of others have come from goodness only knows where, and a few have sneaked in by way of the back alley.

For instance, Ronny can't count to ten, but he knows if the speedometer needle gets past the halfway mark, "Daddy will get picked up by a cop." And he warned us several times.

He also knows that "Daddy drives an old Ford because Mother spent all his money on a carport." Ronny thinks that anyone who can't distinguish a Thunderbird from an MG should have his head examined, and "They won't let us drive on that new road 'cause we'd get sticky on our wheels."

He doesn't profess to know all the answers, however, and can come forth with some interesting questions. To wit: "Daddy, when Jesus brought me down from heaven when I was a little baby, did we fly in a airplane?"

He also awakened his father at 2 o'clock in the morning at the motel in Fort Worth, and said, "It sure does get dark when everybody turns out the lights, doesn't it?" Then right on top of that, "Daddy, are all the bugs asleep?"

The other morning we were drafted to teach a Sunday school class of intermediate age. Because we were totally unprepared to deliver a lesson, after about 10 minutes we ran out of soap, and had to resort to general conversation, hoping we could make an occasional point with respect to the topic under study.

Our questioning of the youngsters brought out something that we had almost forgotten about. The little booklets on Texas history distributed by Humble Oil and Refining Company still seem to be very much in demand in the grades.

We remember when we were along about 12 or 13, the booklets, which weren't a text for any formal course, but from which we all got most of our knowledge about Texas history, were even picked ahead of such items as Superman comic books and the Hardy Boys series.

It has been over a decade since we saw one of the little booklets, but our memory of many of the pictures (done in cartoon style, in case you've never seen one) is still vivid. Davy Crockett wasn't the national hero that he is now, and we thought Jim Bowie was about the greatest man. At least, he was our personal idol, although we acknowledged the greatness, historically speaking, of Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, Col. Ben Milam, William Travis, and others.

The public relations man who dreamed up those little booklets probably had no idea of the impact on young and pliable minds that he was making at the time. Perhaps Humble still doesn't know that more Texas history is learned from these first cousins to "funny books" than all the other state-distributed textbooks put out.

We can still see the "Twin Sisters" cannons routing the Mexicans, and Gen. Santa Anna surrendering to Houston. It stirs our memories to hear that the little books are still in distribution.

These books are to young fry what Bill Mauldin's "Up Front" was in World War II, except, perhaps, that Mauldin was an out-and-out cartoonist, while the account of the Texas Revolution in the Humble publication was factual.

Huggins at Boot Camp, San Diego

Otis Huggins received word this week that his son Clive, who recently joined the Marines, is receiving boot training at San Diego, Calif., and that he will remain at the camp until sometime in November.

In November, Clive will go to Camp Pendleton for gunnery school and will then probably be able to come home for Christmas. Huggins' current address is Pvt. Clive B. Huggins, 1629840, Plt. 194, A Company, First RTC Battalion, M.C.R.D., San Diego 40, Calif.

Back to the Gridiron for Steers Monday

By Dick Hapke

THIS COULD HELP—The Farwell Steer football coaches, J. D. Atwell, right, and Shelby Jobs, inspect the new seven-man blocking sled which will be put into use when football workouts get underway Monday. Filling several vacancies left in the line via graduation is the main problem confronting the coaches and they say this could help in the development of a line. Purchase of the sled is to be a fan project. It had to be left off the school budget due to other badly needed equipment depleting the athletic fund. Several fans have already pledged money to the cause and some are to contact other fans to raise the remainder of the $210, cost of the item.

With a strong pre-season ranking to live up to, the Farwell Steers, minus eight of their 14 offensive and defensive starters of last season, begin workouts for another football season Monday morning. The first session is to get underway at 7.

The workouts will be in preparation for a 10-game schedule which will put the Steer gridgers in the position of champions, trying to thwart off the onslaughts of all challengers for the district and bi-district crowns, which the vaunted 1956 Steer aggregation rang up.

First game on the slate this season will be with Melrose on the Farwell field, September 6. Prior to that time, the workouts will be conducted twice daily for the Steer hopefuls. In addition to the early morning sessions they will also practice at 7 each evening.

New head coach J. D. Atwell says that all boys, freshmen through seniors, are welcome to come try out for the team. Most of the boys signed up last year, but even though someone didn't sign up last year and still wants to play, he can do so by reporting for practice next week.

Contrary to what the Class A football coaches of Texas think the Steers will do this year, Coach Atwell and Shelby Jobs, assistant, take a little different slant.

At the recent coaching school in Dallas, the coaches tabbed the Steers as one of the top contenders for the state crown, but as the Farwell mentors view the vacancies in the middle of the line the district championship looks somewhat distant, not to mention the state playoffs.

The Steer coaches do have 14 lettermen returning from last year but the main problem confronting them will be finding replacements for such line stalwarts as Jerry Owens, Preston Cain, Larry Cooper, Leo Lemons, Roland and Douglas Hillcock.

Graduation took five of the boys, one moved away, and another joined the army. Starting linemen returning, who were either on the offensive or defensive units last year, will be Glyn Hardage, Derrell Garner, Leon Jamison, Glyn McDorman, and Mitchell Walls.

The backfield is the one bright spot of the picture this year, there being three of the four offensive starters returning. They are Johnny Lovelace, junior, quarterback; Phillip Berry, junior, halfback; and Tommy Lovelace, senior, fullback. All three will be more experienced this year, and barring no injuries, should make for a strong backfield.

One hole that will have to be filled is the one left by David Willard, all conference halfback last season. Willard, who was the break away runner last year, was lost via graduation. Also, Jerry Henson, a good defensive back, was one of the graduating seniors.

Returning lettermen, other than those already mentioned, will be Larry Pike, Johnny Gulley, Wayne Jesko, Gerald Christian, Mike McManigal, and Dickie Williams.

The lettermen will probably be the leading contenders for some of the vacant spots but there is some "pretty good material" coming up from last year's B squad, who could make their way into the starting lineup.

The coaches expect close to 40 boys out for workouts and they say much experimenting will be done. "There are 11 positions to fill and all boys will have a chance," Atwell says.

Favoring the Steers again this year will be their schedule, although not to the extent that it did last year. They meet the weaker teams on the schedule early in the season and will have five games behind them before entering conference play.

However, when conference begins, the Steers will clash with the Morton Indians the first thing. With much of last year's team returning, Morton is considered one of the best in the district by the local coaches.

The following week, the Steers will face Friona, a team considered another strong contender, and picked in the Panhandle Pigskin Review to cop the District 3-A banner.

The other two members of the conference, Springlake and Sudan, will be the final foes for the Steers. These two were the powerhouse of the district last year, but both teams lost the bulk of their starters.

Nevertheless, both schools have always fielded strong teams and are expected to do likewise this year, according to pre-season dopsters. Sudan has more lettermen returning than any other district team, with 19, and Springlake has 10.

All in all, it boils down to a mad scramble for the district championship and any one team could unseat Farwell as the champion. Atwell and Jobs see Morton and Friona as the teams most likely to cop the district honors.

Getting back to the Steers, will they be as strong this year as last? According to the coaches, this all depends on what can be done to mold a line that will compare with that of 1956. The rugged line was the chief reason for the Steers' success last season.

Coach Jobs, who was also assistant last year, believes that a "pretty fair line" can be developed, "but it will not be as rugged as last year's." To Jobs, another problem could be depth. Even if a good first unit can be fielded, lack of reserve strength could be a detriment.

Another question is whether or not the backfield can improve over last year enough to offset a weaker and more inexperienced line?

These and other questions cannot be answered until practice is underway and several games played.

A sleeper their first year in Class A, the Steers go into the second season facing a challenge—that of defending the district crown with many of the big boys missing from the lineup.

Driest year in Texas weather records was 1917, when only 14.3 inches of rain fell.

School Openings Drawing Near

Minus Teacher, Texico Classes Begin Monday

With one teacher yet to be hired, and four other new ones on the faculty, school opens this Monday, August 26, for students in the Texico school district.

The doors open at 9:20 and the day's activities will consist of registration, issuing of books, and class assignments, reports Agrie Jones, superintendent.

Buses will run at the regular time and school will be dismissed so the students can be home in time for lunch, the superintendent says. The first full day of classes will be Tuesday and the first lunch will be served in the school cafeteria on that day.

Jones points out that registration will take only a short time Monday, since most of the students pre-registered at the close of last year. Only the new students will have to register on opening day.

Since half of the Rosedale school district has been consolidated with Texico, there will be quite a few new students to enroll at Texico this year and Jones says that enrollment is expected to be up over last year.

"It's hard to estimate just how much it will be up, but it will probably be from 30 to 50 students," Jones says. The approximate average attendance last year was 400.

Not all of these new students will be from Rosedale. There are several new families in Texico which will account for some of them, the superintendent points out. Just how many new ones there will be in Texico was not known by Jones but he cited how all the vacant houses in town had recently filled up.

"Several months ago there were quite a few vacant houses, but now there are hardly any," he said.

As school opens, there will be two additional teachers in the system over last year. The consolidation with Rosedale accounts for one more teacher and the other is from local increase in attendance.

New members of the faculty include Mrs. Viola Mitchell, who taught at Anthony, N. M., for the past two years. She will teach in the elementary grades.

Two other new teachers are Mr. and Mrs. Buck Doran. Doran, who has been principal at Field for nine years, will be the English instructor, and his wife, who has been county superintendent, will be grade school supervisor and will also do remedial work wherever needed.

Kendall Hanks, a recent graduate of New Mexico University, is the other new faculty member. He will teach science. The teacher yet to be hired is for the eighth grade.

Returning faculty members are Mrs. Leroy Faville, first grade; Mrs. C. B. Stockton and

Texico Says 'No' To Legal Liquor

By a 3-1 majority, Texico voters agreed with other residents of Curry County in voting against legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages during the county-wide local option Tuesday.

More than half of Texico's 380 qualified voters turned out for the election. Those casting ballots totaled 200. Opposing the issue were 147 voters and favoring legalized liquor were 52. One ballot was cast due to the voter marking it both ways.

County-wide totals were 3,016 for and 4,289 against the issue. The City of Clovis, which was deciding on the question separately from the county, voted against the legal sale by 3,024-2,708.

HARD ONE TO MAKE

The decision of whether or not to vote "for" or "against" legalized liquor must have been a tough one to make for one Texico voter during the local option election Tuesday.

Not wanting to neglect his duty as a citizen, the voter went to the polls even though he couldn't make a decision one way or another. In fact, it was so hard a decision to make, he voted both ways.

Election judges were in sympathy with his plight, but nevertheless had to cast the ballot out, without counting it.

Paving Resumes on First

After considerable delay, First Street residents are finally going to see their street receive some black-topping.

Work got underway Monday and the coating of the street will complete the project which was started last November. Capperton and Amerson, Lubbock, are the contractors and the project is scheduled to be completed by Sept. 1.

A. O. Poteet, Ralls, was the initial contractor and installed the curbs and gutters and prepared the surface for the black-topping last November. Due to it being late in the year and chances for a damaging freeze possible, the coating was postponed until this summer.

According to the contract it was to have been done this year by July 15. Mayor Sam Aldridge said this week that since Poteet was unable to complete the job at this time a contract was entered into with the Lubbock firm.

Receiving the topping are four blocks of the street, from Avenue C to Avenue G. Also, part of Avenue E from First Street to the New Mexico state line is being paved.

The paving project is vol-

Electric Shoe Shop Burglarized Over Weekend

Sometime over the past weekend Electric Shoe Shop in Texico was broken into and a quantity of men's clothing stolen.

Rip Snodgrass, owner of the store, said that dress trousers, sport shirts, belts, socks, and a western mackinaw were known to be gone, and possibly some more dry goods.

The break-in was discovered Monday morning when Snodgrass went down to open the store. He said it probably happened Saturday night.

Entrance to the store was gained by chopping through the bottom panel below the glass in a back door to the building. In front of the door was a display table which the burglars had to crawl under.

Two men are believed to have taken part in the break-in.

Some of the goods taken were part of a shipment which had just arrived, Snodgrass said.

The break-in was being investigated Monday morning by Curry County Sheriff Briscoe West, Deputy Nelson Worley, and Sheriff Chas. Lovelace of Farwell.

Band Mothers Ask For Contributions

Farwell Band Mothers organization is this week urging every person interested in the Farwell School and the band, to contribute to the uniform fund. New uniforms are due to arrive for the band around September 1st and $1000 is needed at that time.

All band parents have been contacted and $600 has been raised and pledged. Mrs. Sterling Donaldson, Band Mothers president, urges those who have pledged money to please turn it in as soon as possible.

Mrs. Donaldson says that outside help is needed now that all band parents have made contributions and that any donation will certainly be appreciated.

She also expressed appreciation to those who have already contributed.

Lazbuddie Tries PL 116 Again

Only about 20 percent of the eligible voters of the Lazbuddie School District turned out to mark ballots in the tax rate election of July 27, and the election (which failed at that time) is being returned for another vote, Wednesday, August 28.

Forty voters found their way to the polls last month, and the election failed by a 24-16 majority.

Up for consideration again is Public Law 116, which would allow the school trustees to increase the tax rate needed for local maintenance purposes. Tax receipts for interest and sinking (which go to retire bonded indebtedness) are sufficient.

After defeat of the proposal, which the school board had requested the taxpayers approve, a public meeting was held August 9, at which time answers to the school's financial plight were sought.

The result of the discussion was a decision to have the election again, and the board was petitioned to do so.

Revival In Progress At Assembly of God

A revival which began last Sunday is currently in progress at the Texico Assembly of God Church.

Guest evangelists for the revival are Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Boatwright of Kilgore. Services are held daily at 8 p.m. (Texas time) and will continue for two weeks.

Rev. T. E. Simpson, pastor of the church, extends a cordial invitation to everyone and says the public is welcome to attend all services. He urges everyone to come out and enjoy special music and good singing each evening.

NICE CROP—Jess Landrum has undertaken something new in his garden this year, most of it going into peanuts. As can be seen in this picture, he appears to be having good luck with the new crop and plans to harvest quite a few bushels in several weeks. "We like peanuts," says Landrum, who is raising them only for his own use. The crop has been watered once a week and part of it has been fertilized.

Road Meeting Set Tuesday

A second meeting of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce and other interested individuals for discussion on a four-lane highway route to Farwell has been called for next Tuesday night. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 at the City Auditorium.

The meeting has been called by the four delegates who recently presented a road proposal to highway officials at Lubbock. The purpose of the meeting is for the representatives to explain what happened at the meeting and then have the group decide on what the next steps by the local group should be.

The four individuals who made the Lubbock trip were Sam Aldridge, mayor; Joe Blair, Chamber president; J. H. McDonald, county commissioner; and D. W. Bagley, Farwell businessman.

At the time the four men were in Lubbock they presented the proposal, agreed upon by Farwell businessmen, to the highway officials for a four-lane route, in addition to one for a farm-to-market loop around Farwell. Prospects concerning the loop are good, it has been reported, but the possibility of the city getting a four-lane road to come to Farwell as far as Seventh Street is not as bright.

Construction of a four-lane route on Highway 70-84 is not in prospect for any time soon, but it is anticipated that such a road will be built sometime in the future. For that reason Farwell road workers believe that something should be done on the local level to try to avoid being bypassed altogether.

Wilfred Quickel, Chamber secretary, says that this road meeting is an important one and he asks that all interested parties be on hand for the meeting Tuesday.

The meeting will be in conjunction with the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. M. H. Poteat directed the Royal Service program when the WMU met in regular session at the church Wednesday of last week.

Others present were Mesdames Nora Day, Ed Henry, J. O. Ford, Sid Thomas, B. A. Kelley, C. C. Morgan and John Lockhart.

Girls Auxiliary did not meet last week and no regular meetings are being held this week because of the revival.

Several persons surrendered for special service and many rededications were made. Preaching for the week-long meeting which was led by the young people of the church was Rev. Vance Zinn of Lubbock, formerly of Oklahoma Lane. Vernon Stokes of Sundown led the singing.

Attendance at Sunday School was 212 and 101 were present for training union.

Meeting tonight (Thursday) at the church will be members of the nominating committee who will nominate officers and teachers for the coming church year.

Fifty Years of Marriage Noted By John Stagners

Mr. and Mrs. John Stagner pose with the man and woman who served them as best man and maid of honor at their wedding 50 years ago. In the picture are Roy Terrell, Mr. Stagner, Mrs. Stagner and Mrs. Eula Parrish.

On a Sunday 50 years ago in a home ceremony in Cone, Texas, Miss Cordie Chapman and John Stagner were married. Sunday, a half century after their vows were read, they celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary, with 175 friends calling in the afternoon to commemorate the occasion.

Special guests for the Sunday celebration were two people who were present back in 1907 at the wedding. They were the best man, Roy Terrell, who now lives at Lorenzo; and the maid of honor, who is now Mrs. Eula Parrish of Lubbock.

Hosts and hostesses for the reception Sunday were Mrs. H. L. Tidenberg, J. L. Stagner, Jack M. Stagner and Mrs. Carroll McCleskey, all of Clovis. Granddaughters-in-law presided at the serving table. They are Mrs. Linda Stagner and Mrs. Peggy Tidenberg. Miss Phyllis Kay Stagner, granddaughter, presided at the guest book; and Jonasue McCleskey, a granddaughter, and Pamie Russell, a friend, assisted in the hospitalities.

A crocheted cloth over gold satin was over the serving table, with a centerpiece of bronze mums and miniature golden lilies highlighted by the gold letters, "50", protruding from the arrangement. Triple crystal candleholders were emphasized by gold tapers, and crystal appointments were used. The white napkins were inscribed with the letters "1907 - John and Cordie - 1957."

The anniversary cake was three-tiered and iced in white, with a miniature bride and bridegroom atop the cake. Golden punch was served.

On the registration desk was a unique music box which played "Here Comes the Bride." Bouquets from well-wishers were used throughout the entertaining rooms. Mrs. Howard Martin was featured in two vocals during the calling hours. She sang "When Your Hair Has Turned To Silver" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Stagner was born at Cone in Crosby County, and lived there during her early years. Her father owned a general store and established the first post office in the little community.

Her husband was born in Eastland County and moved to Cone in 1904. Asked how they became acquainted, Mrs. Stagner remarked, "in a small town like that, everyone knows everyone else." Before their marriage, they attended parties and singings together.

The young couple repeated their marriage vows at her parents' home. She wore a wedding dress of white organdy. After their marriage, they lived on a farm about three miles east of Cone. Then in 1918, they moved to Parmer County, making the trip in a new Ford car. They made the drive in one day, coming through Plainview and Lazbuddie. There weren't too many towns or houses either, they report. They shipped their belongings by train.

Their new farm was located two miles south of Bovina and they lived there until 1921 when they moved to Bovina, where they have lived since that time. He has been in the building business in Clovis.

Asked for advice for any young couple's beginning their married life, Mrs. Stagner commented "it's just an experience you have to live yourself."

And, Mrs. Nina Hooker of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gunn, Mrs. Della M. Ezell, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Willford, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Venable, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ross, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Extra Good Yield Of Sesame in 1957

Sesame's place in the agricultural pattern of the Parmer County area is not yet established, but it appears that 1957 will be the best year so far for this "borderline" crop, which is making some headway into grain sorghum acreage.

On the whole, this is the third year for growing sesame in the area, although some farmers are raising their fourth crop, some their first. Sesame got most of its publicity three years ago, and results ranged all the way from poor to excellent.

Approximately 3,000 acres in Parmer County is devoted to the "new" oilseed crop, which at this writing, is looking wonderful according to most farmers. Although getting a good stand of sesame is hazardous, most "repeat" farmers seem to have mastered the trick this year, and the crop is looking excellent nearly everywhere.

Most farmers are tending toward heavier planting rates, since they have the plant food and water required to make good use of heavy stands. Sesame is fruiting now, and most farmers agree that this looks like a very good year for the crop.

Yields usually run all the way from 400 to 1,500 pounds per acre, with 800 to 900 being regarded as a good average to shoot for. If you like to count the chickens before they are hatched, it wouldn't be too unreasonable to expect over half of this year's crop to beat 1,000 pounds, though, the way things are looking now.

The top price for sesame was paid in 1953, when it went at 13 cents per pound. Since then it has hovered around 10 cents, and that is about what most of the growers are anticipating this year. Sesame is not supported, and the price depends altogether on production and demand factors.

By contacting seed dealers in Farwell and Friona, High Plains Farm and Home compiled a list of growers that will give some idea of the spread of this new cash crop.

It is pointed out that this list of growers is by no means complete, since some farmers, especially in the Lazbuddie area, obtained their seed from Muleshoe or other sources.

Cool Skies Help

The hot, dry spell of summer was cracked down the middle by moisture-laden clouds over the weekend, and although moisture was generally light and widely scattered, overcast skies and a cool front offered welcome relief from crop-withering heat.

Grain sorghum and corn were showing the effects of continued low-humidity, high-temperature afternoons, and the change in weather was a welcome one. The showers also give hint that cool fall weather may not be too far away, and farmers are again reminded of the recommended August 20-25 "shut-off" date for irrigated cotton.

Agricultural advisors strongly recommend against watering the cotton after this time of the year, because anything other than a late, dry fall could seriously affect both yield and quality of the lint.

Merridith to Speak At SCD Banquet

Austin Merridith of Borger, secretary of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, is slated as speaker for the Parmer County Soil Conservation District banquet, to be in Bovina Sept. 5.

Secretary of the Parmer SCD Steve Messenger reports that Merridith uses illustrated topics and plans to have films of the irrigated area to offer with his talk.

Bovina School cafeteria is to be the site of this year's banquet, with preparations being taken care of by the operators of the cafeteria.

Besides Merridith's speech, winner of the Soil Conservation Essay Contest is to read his paper, and the outstanding farmer for 1957 is to be named for Parmer County.

Plans are that a plaque signifying this award will be presented to the one chosen.

Wool and mohair processing plants, like many other industries, can expect more economic production if located in Texas.

THE PARMER FARMER

By LELAND BOYD

Another farm plan has been advanced by a major commodity group. At least, it's major to our area. The Grain Sorghum Producers Association is pushing what they call the "surplus reduction farm plan" which would substantially alter net loan prices for several crops, including grain sorghum.

In a nutshell, GSPA wants treatment of our feed grains on a basis that reflects the relative value of any given grain sorghum to corn. Under their plan, milo would go to $2.10 price support, compared with $1.57 now.

Here is the way it would work:

1. No farm will be permitted to plant more than approximately 85% of total cultivated acres in price supported crops, leaving approximately 15% in non-revenue layout acreage.

A. No payment will be received by a farmer for non-revenue layout acreage.

B. No grazing or cash crop will be permitted on non-revenue layout acreage (fallow or soil building crops permitted).

C. Non-revenue layout acreage must be rotated yearly.

D. Non-revenue layout percentage can be increased or decreased yearly by the Secretary of Agriculture within limits set for by law, according to supply of non-basic crops (feed grains, soybeans, cotton seed, non-commercial corn, etc.).

2. Cross-compliance will be in effect.

3. Farmers will be permitted to plant price supported non-basic crops in case of drought, hail, or flood on basic crop acreage.

4. Marketing and acreage allotments will not be used on price supported non-basic crops as non-revenue layout automatically reduces acreage.

5. Program voluntary (in that it must be approved by a national referendum each year, and then is mandatory).

A. Penalty of 50% of parity for non-compliance.

6. In exchange for no pay on non-revenue layout land, farmers will receive 75% of old parity for presently price supported crops (basic and non-basic).

7. All crops now supported will be supported on the same parity formula.

Here are the benefits they claim would result from such a plan:

1. The layout land could be increased or decreased yearly by the Secretary of Agriculture to meet supply and demand within limits established by Congress.

2. No payment on the layout land would be received by the farmer, as this is his offer in return for a minimum floor for presently price supported basic and non-basic crops.

3. Farmers in many instances would take their layout acres out of their basic crop allotment. This would help reduce the surplus of these commodities.

4. This plan is flexible and takes care of hardship cases (hail, flood, drought).

5. This plan would not penalize the farmer who is already summer following his land.

6. Compulsory rotation would prevent the farmer from permanently laying out his least productive land.

7. With no payment to the farmer for layout land, this plan would help balance the budget and cause less resentment by taxpayers, as a farmer

Friona Farmer Grows Vegetables In Big Variety

Hardy May, a farmer east of Friona, is growing seven different vegetable crops this year, and may be regarded as a forerunner of farming patterns to come. He has diversified his vegetable base, and while he may have some "misses" on some crops, he is almost sure to have "hits" on others.

Vegetable farming is much more hazardous than growing so-called "basic" crops with government support prices, because a vegetable farmer usually has very little idea what he will get for his produce. It could be all the way from nothing to a small fortune.

Right now, May is digging on 75 acres of his 125-acre carrot crop, and the early carrots are being processed at the Valsling house in Hereford. Harvesting started only Saturday, and May, who is busy with many chores around the farm, says he hasn't really had a chance to figure how his early carrots are making out.

However, harvest crews report that they are making from eight to ten tons per acre, and May says the current price is $65 a ton. Since May has invested about $75 an acre in the crop for seed, oil, fertilizer, water, and farming, he is doing all right at that figure.

"We are looking for the market to go down some pretty soon," he says, "but we don't think it will go below $30 a ton." And, he adds, $30 a ton isn't a bad price for carrots. May raised carrots and sold them for around that price last year and did all right.

May is a stockholder in the Friona Growers and Shippers packing shed, which processes potatoes and carrots. The reason the first 75 acres of his carrots are going to Hereford is that he had made an agreement with Valsling for that acreage prior to the time he went in on the Friona deal.

May believes the carrot acreage in the Friona area will continue to grow. "Carrots are a pretty stable crop," he pointed would not be receiving payment for not producing crops.

8. This plan could be effective immediately upon referendum and give strength to farm credit, both in the banks and through FHA.

9. Easy to administer under present set-up.

10. Each basic crop problem subject to government change in future without affecting this program.

11. This program would eliminate the problem of diverted acres increasing surpluses.

12. Adoption of this plan would eventually eliminate allotments.

If we had to guess, we'd say this plan runs a poor chance of ever becoming law, but with the agricultural program in such a state of flux, there's no telling what the laws will be by next year. In fact, with a big grain sorghum crop coming off this year, the secretary of agriculture could set the price support of milo at zero!

One thing is plain, and that is that the acreage reserve phase of the soil bank program is a big flop. Abuses brought forth under the program have raised the hair on the back of a lot of congressmen's necks, and since the surpluses haven't been cut either (the idea of the whole thing, remember), there are going to be some drastic changes made.

out, and not subject to the extreme price fluctuations that some other vegetables are. Also, competition for carrot growing isn't as keen as for some other crops. The only carrots now being harvested to compete with the Plains crop are coming from Arizona and California.

Potatoes, by contrast, are grown from California to Maine, and from Florida to Idaho.

The other crops that May is growing this year: Lettuce, 35 acres; potatoes, 100 acres (already harvested — he about "broke even"); onions, 10 acres; parsnips, 25 acres; peppers, 7 acres; and tomatoes, 15 acres.

May is pretty excited about parsnip prospects. The current price is $250 a ton, and he figures that his parsnips will make between eight and 10 tons per acre.

The Friona farmer has 640 acres of land he rents from Elmer Euler. With a 170-acre cotton base and 100 acres in maize, May doesn't have much land left for additional vegetable ventures.

Texas' constitution is 43,000 words long.

Gathering in the "rabbit food" is a big job and requires lots of hand labor. A tractor plows the carrots loose and laborers such as the fellow above come into top the greens from the carrots and toss them into a bucket.

After being sacked, the carrots are hoisted into a large truck which is driven into the field. These carrots from the Hardy May farm are on their way to Hereford for processing.

Judy Billingsley Is 4-H State Alternate

Miss Judy Billingsley, Farwell 4-H club member, is alternate to the state-wide 4-H Club dress revue to be held soon as a result of placing among the top contestants in the district dress revue held recently in Amarillo.

Two delegates were named to the state meet, and Judy will be alternate for either of these two girls if they cannot attend. Judy had previously been named first place winner of the county-wide dress revue which was held about a month ago in Bovina.

Highest temperature ever recorded at any Texas weather station was 120 degrees F. at Seymour on August 12, 1936.

Recent rains have diminished the dangers of grass and woodland fires in some areas, but the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council warns that grass fires pose a real threat for livestock producers. Motorists and rural residents are urged by the Council to observe fire safety rules. Community and county organizations are suggested as effective means of fighting grass fires.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas August 21, 1957

Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the Friona Methodist Church, is preaching for a revival at Vigo Park this week. He was pastor of the Vigo Park Methodist Church 16 years ago. The church is a union church now — Methodist one Sunday and Baptist the next — with a new building.

Have you seen the new McCormick Farmall 450? It is the greatest tractor ever built for large row crop farms — more horsepower — unmatched comfort and unequalled economy. Let us give you a demonstration at your farm.

A goodly portion of the early settlers came to Texas because it was much healthier for them where people did not know their past. Those who mended their ways found a healthy paradise on earth. Those bent on continuing their nefarious practices got sudden relief from health problems when swift, direct-action Texas justice put them six feet under the ground.

Greater horsepower than ever before — better use of this power to help you do more faster, easier, and better — that's that power story of the Farmall 450. No other 4-5 plow tractor on today's market will do as much.

The J. T. Gees visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes while they were on the coast. The Holmeses live near Houston and Mrs. Holmes (Christine) teaches school and Charles is school superintendent. The Holmeses are Friona folks. Mr. Holmes was superintendent.

There's power steering on the new Farmall 450. Power to help you at every turn of the wheel. With power steering you stay "on course" with the light touch of one hand — finish each day more relaxed, less tired.

The H. K. Kendrick family visited in Lubbock Sunday with Mrs. Ralph Miller and her daughter, Joyce Cunningham, and her granddaughter. Mrs. Miller and her daughter have been in summer school here but will be home this week. Mrs. Cunningham to Bowie and Mrs. Miller to Friona.

Don't fail to poison that Johnson grass and bindweed. A little now will save your land from now on. We have the sodium chlorate and it costs little considering the value of your land.

If there is anything faster than a Texas Ranger drawing his six-shooter, it is the temperature falling in the Panhandle when north winds drop out of the Rockies. It is when they stretch out on the Panhandle that they really get cold, gather momentum and get the name "Blue Northerners." A 40-degree temperature drop in as many minutes is doing about average.

Texans in the Panhandle and in the Rio Grande Valley both take winter vacations. They go north from the Panhandle to Alaska to thaw out, and south from the Valley to the mountains of Mexico to cool off.

Once famous almost entirely for cattle (a late census shows over a million head still around), the Panhandle became even more famous for wheat (producing over 60 million bushels annually and having the world's largest wheat field). Its greatest fame today is for its gas and oil production (it has the world's largest natural gas field, one of the world's most fabulous oil fields and produces most of the world's supply of helium).

POTENT PORKERS FOR MAKING MONEY — Doyle Cummings of Friona is starting two other bunches of feeder pigs on a pig parlor feeding program after the first group marketed for $20.75 cwt., and cost only $9.03 cwt. to feed to 200 pounds.

Pig Parlor Pushes Porkers To Top Pronto

From 60 pound feeder pigs to 200 pound butcher hogs in 81 days—this is what records of a pig parlor feeding experiment demonstrate near Friona.

Conducting the enterprise was Doyle Cummings of Friona, who wants to show farmers that hog feeding can be profitable, especially when home grown feed is used along with necessary supplement feed.

Records prove this point. Cummings sold the porkers July 15 for $20.75 cwt. Cost to him, not counting labor and medication costs, was $9.03 per 100 pounds of gain.

The records were started April 25 when Cummings put 19 60-pound feeders in his pig parlor. After the porkers gained an average 140 pounds each, at 1.69 pounds per day, they were sent to market, the records tabulated, and the figures interpreted.

Amount of feed for one pound of gain was 3.7 pounds. Components of the feed were maize, figured at $2 cwt. For 100 pounds of gain, the hogs consumed 326 pounds of maize and 54.3 pounds of supplement. Cost of the ration was $2.44 cwt.

Milo was fed without grinding, Cummings says. "More efficient gain could be obtained from feeding ground milo, but since facilities were not available, this shows that fairly good efficiency is possible from whole maize."

"The ration was fed free choice. Some experiments have shown that it is best to mix the supplement with the grain. But I am well pleased with the results," he says.

"Another way to look at the records," Cummings points out, "is to figure that the maize was sold for $5.44 cwt. instead of $2 cwt. This means a profit of $3.44 cwt., excluding costs of labor, building depreciation, and medication."

The latter part of the test came during warmer summer days, and to keep the porkers cool, a sprinkler was installed in the pig parlor. No loss of rate of gain was detected.

The price would have been $1.50 higher if the hogs had been held about one week longer. This was about the time of the jump in hog prices—to a record for the past several years.

Cummings believes that other farmers can do the same thing, with their grain and a complete supplement. Several farmers in the county have maintained a hog feeding enterprise every year, but records of performance are lacking.

Even if the hog price had not risen, Cummings believes his profits would still have been considerable since the feeding cost was only $9.03, leaving about a $10.70 margin.

Two other groups of pigs are present occupants of the pig parlor.

FARM & RANCH LOANS
Long Term-Low Interest
Ethridge-Spring Agency, Friona

Do You Know How Your SCD Works?

Texas has 172 Soil Conservation Districts which cover 97 percent of the land in the state. A board of five supervisors governs each district. There are 180,796 farmers and ranchers who are cooperators of Soil Conservation Districts and these cooperators operate 92,486,823 acres of farm and ranch land in Texas.

The supervisors of the Soil Conservation Districts are elected by the landowners within the district. They serve five year terms and receive no pay for their services.

The headquarters for the Farmer County Soil Conservation District No. 146 is located in the American Legion Building in Friona. The district board of supervisors are A. L. Black, chairman; Joe Blair, Lloyd Prewett, G. W. Crain, and Carl Schlenker, members.

The policy procedures for carrying out the district program are established by the supervisors within the framework of the Texas State Soil Conservation District Law. The supervisors direct, plan, and manage their own soil and water conservation programs and affairs with the help of local people and the Soil Conservation Service.

The programs are based on the resources and needs of the landowners within the district. Districts are concerned with making the best use of land and water resources through voluntary application of sound conservation farming practices. In general, districts are authorized to do everything that needs to be done to achieve the prevention and control of soil and water.

Landowners of the district are encouraged to apply a complete conservation program on their farms and make the best use of the facilities and assistance through the district.

Technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service is made available to the landowners at their request. Their cooperation in the district is voluntary. Since Soil Conservation Districts have no power to tax, make assessments, or issue bonds under a Texas Law, a landowner has no financial responsibility other than pay for the conservation practices which he has decided are desirable for his farm program.

Weed Committee Checks Certified Seed Status

Parmer County Farm Bureau's weed committee met last Thursday night and had several topics under discussion, including seed quality. Farmers who have what is believed to be an excess of tall or wild "bastard" stalks in their fields that can be traced to the planting seed have been asked to contact the weed committee chairman, Raymond Schueler, or any of the directors. The committee will inspect the field and if fault is found due to certified seeds, then state inspectors will be called in to inspect the field.

Farmers who make complaints are asked to have their certified seed tags available also. Without these tags nothing can be done by either the committee or state inspectors.

At the meeting, Joe Jones, county agent, gave his report on contacts with railroad officials about bindweed along the railroad right of way. The railroad wants bids on what it would cost to control bindweed. A committee composed of Bill Nichols and Bruce Parr was appointed to contact custom operators to see what they would charge the railroad for the job. Gus Schlabs, Archie McCutchan, Oscar Hubbell and Jack Black are to contact all FFA instructors in the county in regard to having bindweed classes as part of their regular work and help complete county maps as to location of bindweed plots. Schlabs reports good results on his meeting with the Friona Lions for controlling bindweed in the city. He reports a committee has been appointed to hunt the weed and the Friona State Bank will furnish the sodium chlorate to sterilize the plots.

A discussion on the possibility of a school with farmers next spring on what to expect from certified seed was held. Some farmers believe seed laws are not strict enough, but certified seed growers believe the laws are too strict. The committee feels that the farmer should know what seed he is planting and how many "bastard" stalks are permissible under the certified seed laws.

Attending Thursday night's meeting were Raymond Schueler, Oscar Hubbell, Archie McCutchan, Gus Schlabs, Vernon Symcox, Joe Jesko, Bruce Parr, Joe Jones, Jack Black, Bill Nichols, Prentice Mills, and Gilbert Kaltwasser.

Sesame is an unusual crop, and produces seed up and down the plant body. Notice in the picture that the plant is blooming at the top, and less distinct are seed pods that have already formed their fruit and are now maturing.

ning Christmas gifts — especially if your plans include some homemade ones. One of the nicest gifts that you could make for children from 2 to 6 is a bean bag. They can be made in various sizes and shapes and can be decorated in an endless variety of ways.

One clever idea is to make them of plain colored denim then with bright colored nail polish draw designs on each side. To make them personal and make a hit with the child who is to receive them, too, print the child's name on one side.

We have never seen it tried, but the idea of making the bags, then filling them with grains of wheat or maize or even de-linted cotton seed should work out very nicely.

When is an apple pie not an apple pie? That question can be answered at least two different ways. One is that it might be a Mock Apple Pie which is made of crackers, sugar, cinnamon, and butter. The other is that it might be a Squash Pie.

Now, don't say, "Who ever heard of a squash pie?" That is exactly what most everyone says. Frankly, we had never heard of one until recently. Mrs. W. R. Reithmeyer, who lives south of Friona, gave us the recipe and several who have eaten her squash pies say they are delicious.

For squash pie, you use the round white variety. "Yellow squash doesn't work," says Mrs. Reithmeyer. The recipe was given to her by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Otto Reithmeyer of Lamesa. Squash for pies can be frozen. For freezing cut slices slightly thicker than you slice apples for pies, blanch three minutes, then put in containers and freeze.

Squash Pie

Prepare unbaked pie shell. Arrange alternate layers of sliced squash; sugar, cinnamon, and butter; then cover with top crust and bake in slow oven. Use 1½ cups sugar and cinnamon and butter to suit taste.

Alfalfa is described by Extension Agronomist Ted Trew as a "tri-purpose" crop. It will provide income from hay and pasture as well as seed to say nothing of its recognized value as a soil improving crop. Trew says fall seeding of this popular legume is best.

For something unusual that will please just about everyone, the next time you make fudge, spread about one half of the mixture in the platter, add a layer of pint sized marshmallows, then spread the remaining fudge on top.

We have had several recipes for Apple Crisp and every one of them was very good; however, Cherry-Pecan Crisp is something entirely new to us. It is simple to make and makes a wonderful addition to a company meal or a family meal either.

Cherry-Pecan Crisp

½ cup sifted all purpose flour
½ cup quick-cooking rolled oats
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup butter
Cherry Filling
¼ cup coarsely broken pecans

Combine sifted flour, rolled oats, and brown sugar. Cut in butter with pastry blender. Pat one half of the mixture into bottom and on sides of well greased 9 inch deep pie pan. Spread with Cherry Filling, which has been cooled.

Add nuts to remaining crumb mixture. Sprinkle evenly around outer rim of pie. Bake in moderate oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

Cherry Filling

1 can (20 oz.) frozen, sweetened cherries
1/3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons quick-cooking

tapioca
¼ teaspoon almond extract
3 or 4 drops red food coloring with sugar and tapioca and bring to rolling boil. Remove from heat. Add flavoring, coloring, and reserved cherries. Cool, then use as directed.

Drain juice from defrosted cherries. Reserve cherries. Combine 2/3 cup cherry juice

It isn't too early to start plan-
