Capacity Crowd Attends Opening of Hub Center

Despite the steady rainfall of Friday evening, the crowd at the opening of the Hub community center was larger than was expected. Guests came from Friona, Clovis, Amarillo, Bovina, Farwell, Muleshoe, and Littlefield.

Following the barbecue, which was served by members of the Hub Community Association, a program was presented. The welcome address was delivered by Bill Wooley, president, who also served as master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker of the evening was Hal Mayfield of KGNC at Amarillo. Mayfield offered words of encouragement to residents of the community, backing their plan to enter the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest. He also congratulated them upon completion of the building, which is definitely an asset to the community, he says.

A pantomime was given by Tonya Bingham of Littlefield. Kitty Black and Gerald Daniel sang "My Blue Heaven," accompanied by Eva Miller at the piano. The Trebelaires sang "Dark Town Strutters' Ball," "I Love My Baby," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." They were also accompanied by Eva Miller.

Don Green, Leroy Burnett, and Bobby Gene Mercer accompanied Bill Wooley as he sang "A White Sport Coat and a Pink Carnation," "Poor Man's Gold," and "Crazy Arms." Billy Don Thomas sang "99 Ways" with Anna Mae Thomas at the piano.

Connie Bingham presented a piano solo, "Poor People of Paris," then accompanied Bill Wooley as he led group singing.

When asked for a report on the construction of the building, Melba Bursleson, who serves the organization as secretary-treasurer, said "Not too long ago, it was very common to hear men at the gin, women at club meetings, or young people at different gatherings remark that they would like to have a building in which to meet for community wide activities. "We will not be hearing that from 'Hub-ites' any more because we now have a place that could well be the envy of any rural community. By pooling our ideas, time, money, and effort, we have erected a building which will serve our needs and be a symbol of the cooperation of a community as well as the surrounding towns.

HAPPY HUB — It was laughs a-plenty as a joyous crowd enjoyed the program as Hub celebrated the opening night of its new community center. As can be seen in the picture, residents of neighboring cities and communities joined in the fun and fellowship.

"The first ideas expressed were for a building large enough for club and similar meetings with kitchen and rest room facilities. That was before the men of the community were consulted. With the idea in mind of erecting a building that would be sturdy enough for skating parties and ball games, the whole community rolled up its sleeves and went to work.

"A lot of talking and speculation was done at every meeting and even though there were some disagreements on different points, the overall plan never bogged down with hard feeling and a cooperative attitude. has prevailed over every objective.

"All of the committees which were appointed have worked hard and accomplished the goals set for them. It is hard for us to believe that this building was still in the planning stage fewer than four months ago.

"The people of the Hub community are proud of their accomplishment and are the first to admit that without assistance of their friends, it would have been impossible to have reached the goal. We believe the old adage, 'Use them, or lose them.'

"Anyone who had any time or talent was busy. We hope that this community will continue to push forward together and help prove that 'Texans are the friendliest people on earth.'"

Those who have assisted with the financing and building of the community center are Aldridge and Aldridge, E. R. County Support Prices Announced

Support prices for 1957 wheat and grain sorghums in Parmer County were announced this week by the county ASC office.

The price support for wheat is $2.01 per bushel, two cents higher than last year. This is 23 cents higher than the guaranteed price for the 1958 crop.

The 1957 support for grain sorghum is $1.73 per cwt. in the county for grain grading No. 2 or better. This is 15 cents less than last year.

County HD Meeting To Be Held At Hub

There will be a county-wide meeting of all home demonstration clubs in the county at the Hub community center Thursday evening at 8. Roll call will be answered with a household hint.

The program, which will be on "Know Your Heart, and Mind—Diet, Tension, and Disease" will be presented by Sue Smith and Dorothy Bauer.

Prospects For Pecans Good

The recent heavy rains have greatly improved the prospects for a good pecan crop in 1957. But, warns Extension Horticulturist B. G. Hancock, uncontrolled pecan nut casebearers can take millions of the prospective pounds of nuts. Now is the time to get on with the control job. The three most important phases of the control program are timing of the spray application, proper application of the spray and use of the right insecticide. Hancock urges pecan growers to check with their local county agent for details on a good control program.

NEED ELBOW ROOM

Chickens need elbow room. Efficient broiler production demands at least two linear inches of available feeder space per bird. Tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that growth response was from two to five percent greater when chicks got sufficient feeder space.

4-H'ers Attend Camp

Three boys and three girls from 4-H Clubs in Parmer County attended the District I 4-H Club camp which convened Monday through Wednesday of this week at Don Harrington Boy Scout camp near Canyon.

Club members attending from this county were Richard Chitwood and James Brown, both of the Lazbuddie club; Jim Roy Wells of a Friona club; Beverly Smith of a Lazbuddie club; and Gladys and Lindy Dean of the Bovina club. They were accompanied by Joe Jones and Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county agents.

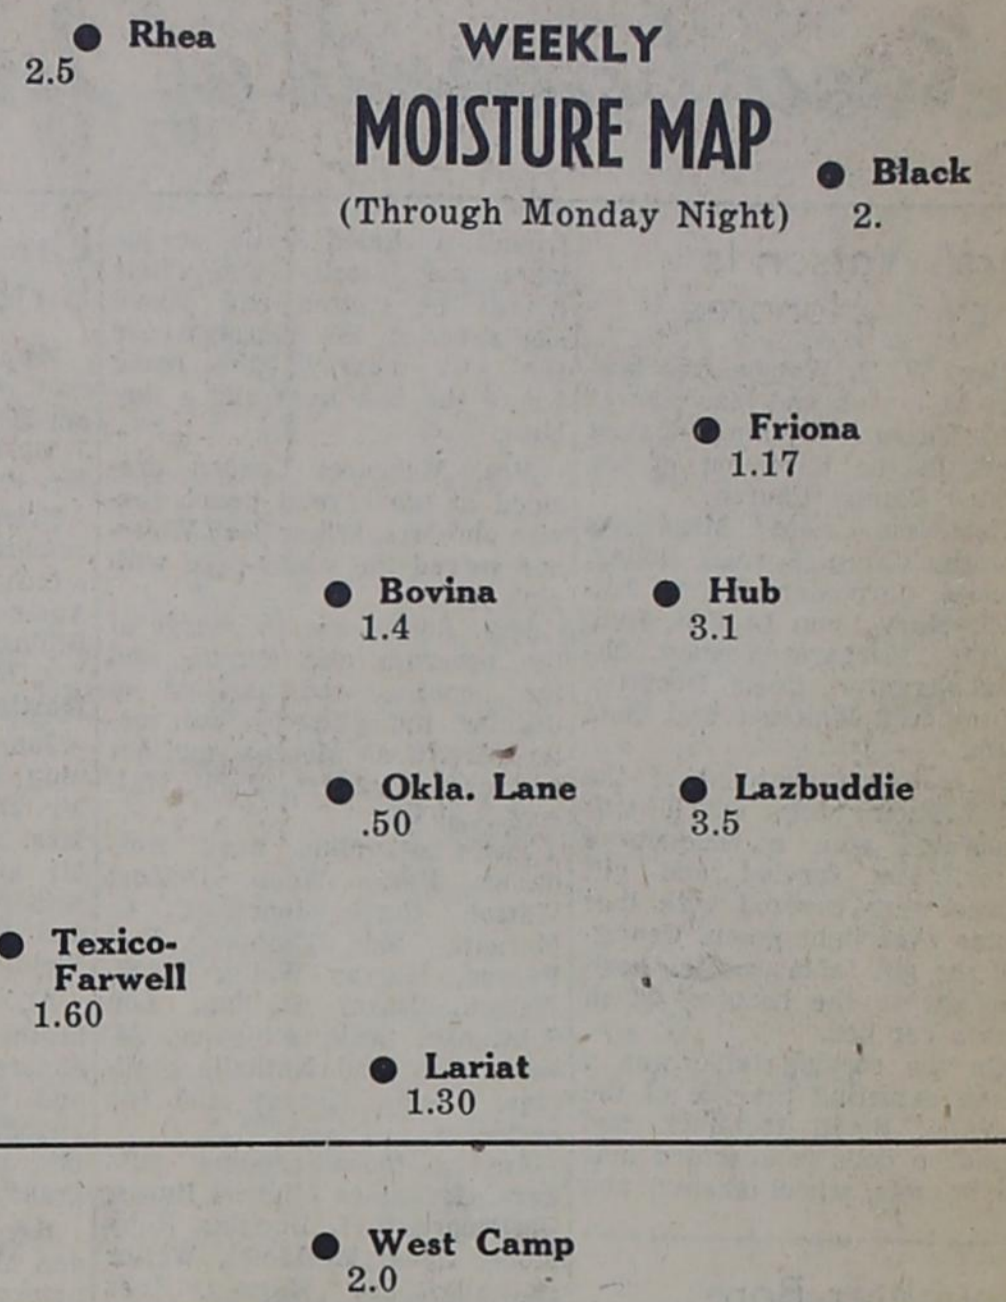

Members qualifying for the district encampment must have had a project during the past year and must submit club record books to be judged with others of the county 4-H clubbers.

During the three days of camping, the attendants have a variety of things to keep them busy. Nature study plays a large part in the trip and they are taught the procedures of keeping good 4-H records. Supervised recreation is enjoyed by all and attendants have the opportunity to make things such as lamps for their electrical demonstrations and study.

About 130 persons attended the camp, including six members from each county in District I, county agents, home demonstration agents and camp personnel.

Government run by women is called gynarchy.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Right Idea

A trend noticed recently in raising money for the swimming pool fund has been the providing of entertainment for the public at a fee, with the proceeds from the events going to the civic project.

This type of campaign has been done in the past too, but of late the idea seems to have picked up momentum. A miniature golf course and a game night, if pushed enough, can derive considerable funds, and many more such programs could be instigated.

Building a swimming pool is no small operation and it will take many and various kinds of money-raising events to hit the top. All Twin City organizations could well hop on the band wagon and assist with more of the fund-raising.

The swimming pool drive has been lagging somewhat of late, although several of the civic clubs which are behind it are constantly pegging away. But, there will have to be more and bigger events if the pool is to be realized by next year.

FARWELL BAPTIST NEWS

Rev. E. J. Keith, Pastor

Attendance has been good at the Bible school which is in progress this week. Ninety-one children were present on Monday morning and 107 attended on Tuesday. The parade scheduled for Saturday was postponed until Monday morning because of the rain.

Children will be presented attendance certificates at Friday morning's session to close the week-long school. No commencement program has been planned because the children have been seeing films rather than participating in hand work. Films seen by the youngsters include "Indian America," "Advance in Africa," "The High Room," and "Recruits for Christ."

The local church will be host for the associational youth rally this Saturday night starting at 7:30. All young people and intermediates of the church are urged to attend. They are asked to bring sack lunches for the evening meal—drinks will be furnished by the church. An interesting program has been planned and those attending will benefit from the evening's fellowship and worship.

Sunday School attendance for June 2 was 143 with 62 present for training union that evening.

"The High Plains Farm and Home"

Planting Figures Indicate Minor Cropping Changes

Although wet and rainy days have kept Farmer County area farmers from usual schedule, early estimates are being made for this year's crops.

And in the rainy spells that promise better crops for dryland farmers and less irrigating expense for farmers who have wells, Farmer County area farmers managed to get the jump on other areas of the High Plains.

Travelers report after returning from the Lubbock vicinity, Abilene, Central Texas and South Texas, that grain crops there are delayed three to four weeks. Cotton and vegetable crops in other areas of Texas are being delayed past planting deadlines.

Area farmers watch these developments closely and are mapping their operations accordingly.

County Agent Joe Jones says the trend in Farmer County agriculture this year is toward more grain seed crops of milo, red top cane, and hegari, rather than sorghums to be sold as feed alone.

He estimates there will be 250,000 acres of grain sorghums planted this year. About 220,000 of this will be under irrigation, he says.

During the first year to be available on a large scale, hybrid milo is moving in similar to hybrid corn when it became available about 10 years ago. Seed dealers report good demand for the hybrid seed, encouraged by reports of about 25 percent more production over standard varieties. About one-third of the milo production is expected to be in hybrid varieties this year.

Of the approximately 103,000 acres of allotted wheat, 80,000 acres have been measured by the County ASC office.

An estimated 40,000 acres of this is under irrigation. Total acreage expected to be harvested is 65,000 acres after about 15,000 acres have been grazed and failed to produce enough to warrant cutting.

Acres devoted to corn production in the county are in for a small increase over last year, with 25,000 acres expected to be planted. After reports of expected lower corn production in other areas due to weather conditions putting an end to planting there, enough Farmer County farmers got in extra acres—5,000 additional is the guess—over about 20,000 acres harvested last year.

Like last year, all but a few small patches are hybrid varieties. Another trend seen by speculators is the possibility that part of the additional corn will be cut for silage, as will a considerable amount of the sorghums.

Minor grain crops—barley and oats—are about the same this year with scattered planting over the county. Of the two, barley harvesting is expected to have some increase, though not in particularly important amounts.

Alfalfa and hay crops are not expected to reach the total for last year. Lush pastures over most of the state nurtured by drouth breaking rains is expected to cut down on roughage demand. Unfavorable weather in the county has hindered hay cuttings for Farmer farmers.

Cotton planting, still ahead for many who held off planting before the three-week-long rains started, is expected to be at the allotted 43,000 acres, with a relatively small portion going into the acreage reserve of the USDA's soil bank.

About 11,000 cultivated acres in Farmer County will be withdrawn this year from production because of the soil bank.

Sorghum almum, a new crop to Texas and the Plains, is being planted in limited amounts. Pete Buske is reported to have planned to plant about 500 acres on his farm north of Friona.

Potato growers are fewer this year than last year, with a few of the in-and-out growers staying out. Estimated potato acreage this year is 400 in the Friona area, and 250 in the Lariat area, according to County Agent Jones.

In an area where vegetable growing is getting more consideration each year, some speculators are looking into tomato growing possibilities in the county, since damaging weather nipped that crop in the traditional tomato growing areas of East and Central Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

Sesame plantings are expected to be up this year in the county. After a light planting of about 800 acres last year, an estimated 3,800 to 4,000 acres will probably be devoted to the oil seed crop this year.

Castor beans, after being planted occasionally several years ago, are still around. About 500 acres have been noticed in the county this year.

Loans to Farmers Exceed $760,000

More than $760,000 has been loaned to farmers in Farmer County during the ten months ended April 30, 1957, by Farmers Home Administration, the agency's county supervisor, Billy R. Boling, announced this week.

The heaviest demand has been for credit to finance wheat, grain sorghums, and cotton operations.

During the same ten month period, Farmers Home Administration extended credit in operating, emergency, and real estate loans to some 18,500 Texas farmers and ranchers for a total of $54,773,000, the agency's state director, Walter T. McKay, reported. This is an increase over the same period last year of about $6,500,000.

agency operations for next year. This meeting is preparatory to training meetings to be held for county office staffs throughout the state.

The objective of these meetings will be to insure that maximum service is rendered to Texas farmers and ranchers promptly and efficiently.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

For a new and interesting garden that anyone can plant without soil or without having to weed or water, you might like to try the following recipe:

A GRACIOUS SPRING GARDEN

First plant four rows of peas: presence, promptness, preparation, and perseverance.

Next to these plant three rows of squash: squash gossip, squash indifference, and squash criticism.

Then plant five rows of lettuce: let us love one another, let us obey rules and regulations, let us be true to our obligations, let us be faithful to duty, and let us be loyal and unselfish.

No garden is complete without turnips: turn up with a smile, turn up with new ideas, turn up with the determination to make everything count for something good and worthwhile.

It isn't too late to plant your gracious spring garden.

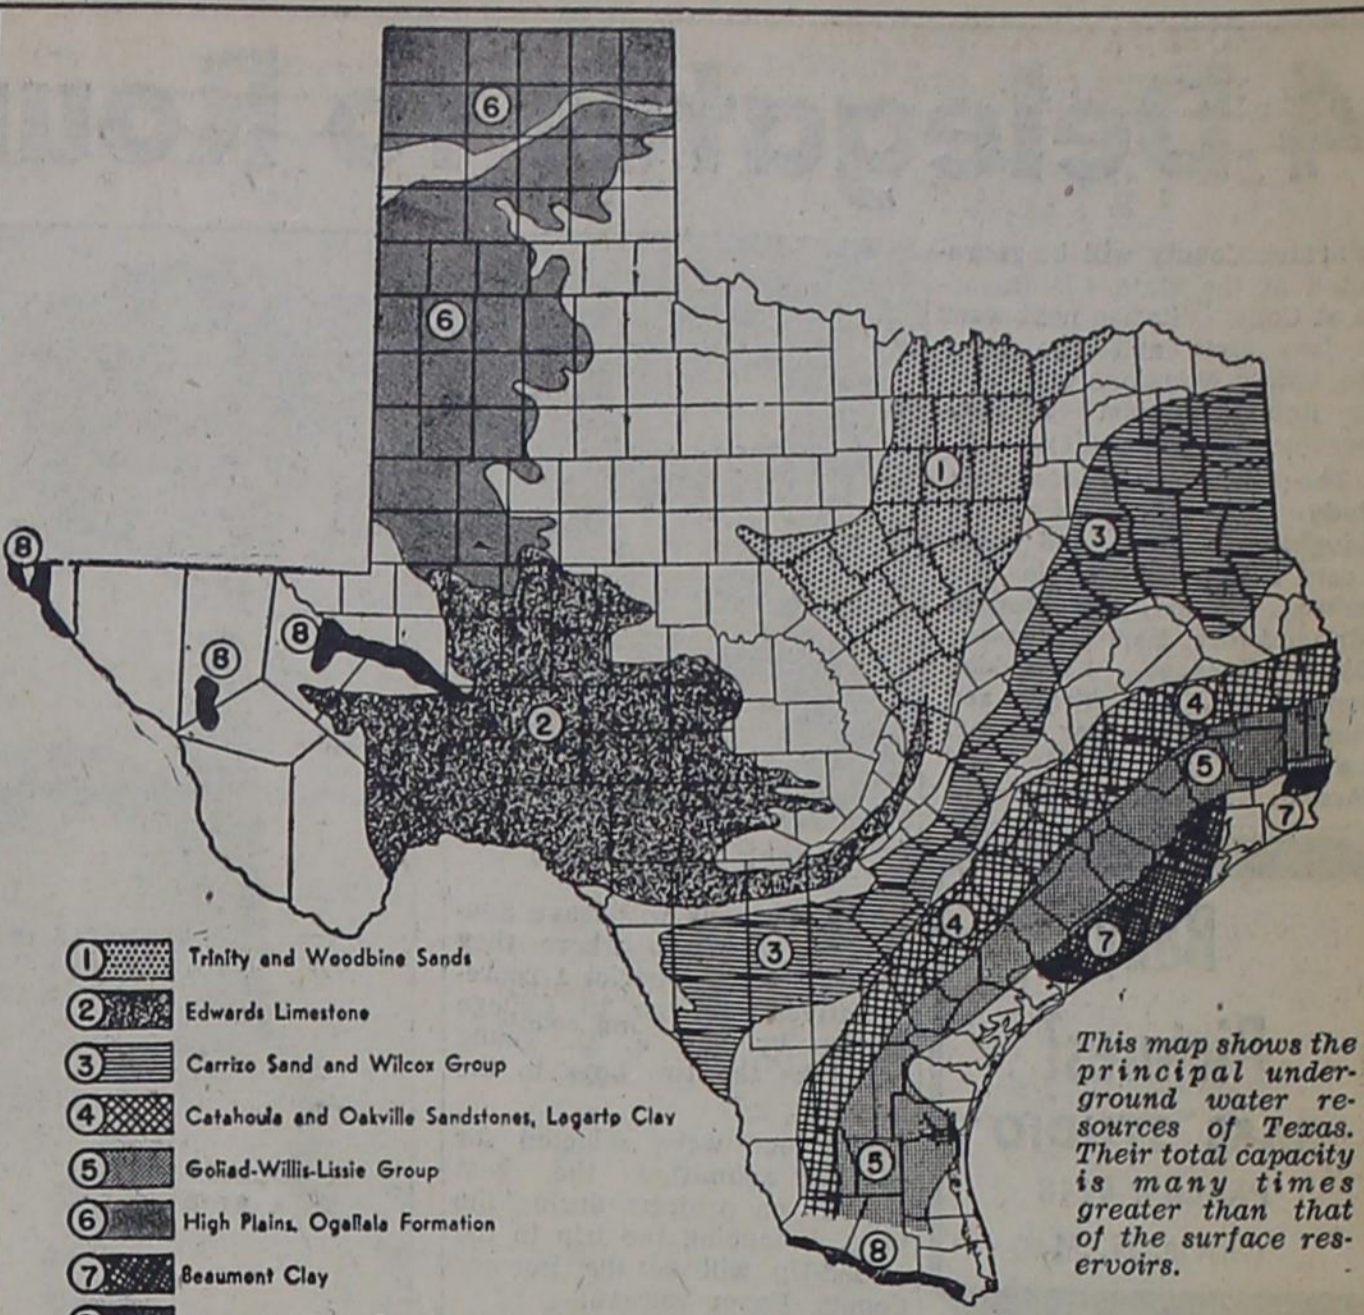

"This increase is due primarily to the demand from family-type farmers for credit needed to place their farming operations on an efficient basis," McKay explained. "In fact," he added, "agency records reveal that there has been a slight decline in the demand for emergency credit so far this year. Long-term credit, to develop balanced systems and make full use of resources available, has been extended to a number of operators of family-type farms who previously obtained emergency loan assistance."

McKay and members of his staff are meeting this week with National Administrator Kermit Hansen to go over

Two Chinese proverbs which help to make us stop and count our blessings are:
"I grumbled because I had no shoes until I met a man who had no feet."
"I grumbled because I had to get up so early in the morning until one morning when I could not get up."

This map shows the principal underground water resources of Texas. Their total capacity is many times greater than that of the surface reservoirs.

This interesting map, prepared by hydrologists for the Texas Almanac, shows principal water-bearing formations of Texas. As can be seen, the Ogallala formation is one of the major reservoirs, and is the one from which practically all ground water on the Texas Plains comes. It is a common misconception that the Plains north of the Canadian River have a different underground formation than the South Plains, but they do not. In most cases, they are deeper, and that is the principal difference.

If you are planning a party and want to serve something unusual, try this recipe for Chiffon Pie. It is also good for serving the family on any occasion.

Chiffon Pie

 - Few grains of salt
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1/2 cup molasses
 - 3 egg yolks
 - 2 egg whites
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 cup broken nut meats
 - 1 8-inch baked pie shell
 - 1 egg white
 - 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 6 teaspoons tart jelly
- Sprinkle gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water. Stir cinnamon, salt, and water into molasses. Beat egg yolks; add molasses mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring, until slightly thickened. - Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm. Make meringue of remaining egg white and sugar. Line small pie pan with greased waxed paper. Drop six small, hollowed mounds of meringue on waxed paper. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in a very moderate oven until golden brown. Place meringues around edge of pie. Drop jelly in centers.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas June 5, 1957

Douglas Connelley has been fishing, hunting, swimming and vacationing with relatives the last two weeks. Our daddy took his place at the Parmer County Implement Company while he was gone and Doyce Barnett acted as Sunday school superintendent at the Baptist church.

The L. B. Blakes have lost their dog, Taby. Taby often goes to visit the neighbors but has never been gone so long before. He's a sandy blonde, English bulldog, and if you see him please let the Blakes know. He is wearing a collar with his name on it.

John Bill, our first grader, is a great television fan and has seen judges who wear robes on some of the TV shows. We went to the baccalaureate service at the auditorium last Sunday night and John Bill enjoyed the flowers on the stage and then wondered what the four men were doing. Our mother told him they were going to make speeches. When all the seniors in caps and gowns came in, he asked, "Why do they need so many judges?"

The weeds are almost raising the earth's surface in Parmer County. We recommend our crust buster as the best weed killer we've seen.

If Texans aren't going places, it isn't their fault. Texas has more miles of railroad tracks (over 15,000), more miles of paved highways (over 31,000), more miles of commercial airways (some 4,000), more miles of unpaved roads (anybody's guess), and more miles of bald prairie than any other state. If anybody wants to take the underground route, Texas has more miles of pipe lines, too.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas have bought a lot in Friona. As soon as the ground dries up so they can, they will build a foundation and move their house into town. The Thomases live 11 miles south of Friona.

Now's the time to begin killing the Johnson grass and bindweed on your farm. Plenty of Sodium Chlorate for sale at the Parmer County Implement Company. Sodium Chlorate is the sure kill for obnoxious weeds.

Children aren't happy with nothing to ignore and that's what parents were created for.—(Ogden Nash)

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Recent rains have somewhat hindered field work around the district the past several weeks. This has worked to our advantage in giving us an opportunity to get some needed farm plans completed. As many of you know, we have been running several months behind on getting these plans completed and back to you. The District Board of Supervisors approved 18 plans at their last meeting.

The supervisors plan to have their June meeting in the Rhea community. The meeting will be Monday afternoon, June 17. It is their desire to invite all cooperators and farmers of the area to meet with them and discuss conservation problems and make suggestions on conservation activities. It will also give the visitors a better idea of what the supervisor's job is. Make plans now to attend this meeting.

Clyde Goodwine who farms 1/2 mile south of Friona is in the process of bench leveling about 15 acres. He is planning on using tail-water to water part of this land. He is going to plant the leveled acres to grass.

Goodwine will accomplish several things by leveling this land. Tail-water will be utilized that would otherwise be lost or standing in puddles and providing a breeding place for insects. By planting the borders to grass, he will provide supplemental grazing for cattle. Grass borders will also prevent erosion.

An operation of this sort is something to think about. One can certainly see the dollar value of it.

Council Names Delegates

The Parmer County HD Council met Tuesday afternoon at the Bovina home economics cottage. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lee Renner in the absence of the president, Mrs. Dee Chitwood.

Games were directed by the Friona Club and Phyllis Sanders read "A Parent's Prayer." Minutes were read and the roll was called by Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Walter Schueler.

Delegates were elected to the National THDA meeting in Houston July 30 to August 2. Mrs. A. S. Grubbs of the Lakeview Club, Mrs. Joe Brummett of the High Point Club and Mrs. Ralph Price of the Black Club, were elected delegates. Mrs. Carrie Hardage of the Farwell Club will be the alternate.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau checks of $15 were mailed to each chapter of FFA boys and FHA girls in Parmer County last week. These payments are made to assist in defraying expenses of delegates to the annual conventions of these groups. 4-H boys and girls will be recipients of similar checks very soon. Your directors agreed last year that these were worthwhile projects that you would like to have your organization assist in. These boys and girls are, of course, the future farmers and homemakers of our country.

Once again, we want to urge users of farm fuels to respond to notices to file for the five cent state road tax refund on these fuels. Filings must be made every six months, and there is no grace period. The three cent federal road tax will be eligible for filing from June 30 to October 1, for the preceding year. These taxes represent at least a third of the retail cost of farm fuels, and should not be overlooked as long as they can be redeemed. The letters mailed to those who had not filed in the last six months or more do not mean we do not wish to continue this service for you. Notify us if you wish the service continued, and it will be re-

Good response is reported to a series of sessions on early season cotton insect control, conducted by County Agent Joe Jones at Lazbuddie, Black and Hub, Tuesday of last week. Pointing out some of the signs to look for in spotting a need for insecticide application, Jones says about 40 farmers attended the Lazbuddie sessions in the high school. Turning out for the Black Community discussions were about 16 persons. An estimated 45 farmers attended the Hub insect study.

A similar series of sessions are planned to help farmers become better acquainted with problems on controlling bollworm and boll weevil. The date will be announced later.

July 1 Deadline For Applications

In order to be considered for a wheat allotment on a farm which had not wheat in 1955, 1956, or 1957, applications must be made before July 1, says Prentice Mills, Parmer County ASC manager.

The proper forms for making such an application are now available at the ASC office. "If you want a wheat allotment and feel that you are eligible, be sure and see us before that final date," Mills says.

Referendum Date Near for Farmers

Parmer County farmers are reminded this week of the 1958 wheat referendum on Thursday, June 20. Any person who will have an interest in more than 15 acres of wheat next year will be eligible to vote, says Prentice Mills, county ASC manager. This includes the farm operator and the farm owner and the wives of each.

Questions which farmers will be voting on are whether or not there will be price supports on the 1958 wheat crop. If quotas are approved, county wheat growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support at $1.78 per bushel on their entire production.

If quotas are not approved, the allotment will remain in effect and wheat producers who comply with their allotment will be eligible for price support at approximately $1.18 per bushel. In this event, non-complying farms would have no price support whatsoever.

At least two thirds of the producers voting in the referendum must approve quotas before they can be put into effect. This question carried by a margin of seven per cent last year, Mills says.

THE PARMER FARMER

(Editor's Note: This week we introduce as the new writer of The Parmer Farmer Leland Boyd, a newcomer to the staff of High Plains Farm and Home. Leland is a "farm boy" and is well qualified to write on the subject of agriculture. He is a graduate of Texas A & M, and comes from a farm in the Brazos Valley area below Waco. Farmers will find his new viewpoints refreshing, we feel.)

By LELAND BOYD
If a person has the least bit of "farming blood" flowing in his veins, there is nothing like seeing the High Plains to stimulate his longing to be a farmer.

This holds true, and especially for the area of Parmer County.

Just to enumerate the impressive facets and advantages which Parmer County area offers to farmers and ranchers starts one to wondering why anyone would want to farm anywhere besides in this area. The initial impression of the area is fascination that an area always described as miles and miles of miles, among people of other sections, can be so endowed with a prosperous agriculture.

To a newcomer, as he learns more of the area, it is amazing to think of the probability that it will continue to retain those advantages for uncountable decades. If he is a native of the Blacklands, the reddish color of the land makes him wonder if "red" can possibly produce as much as "black." But seeing in believing. And he looks forward to seeing what he hears about the area.

Parmer County soils are relatively new. Many other areas of Texas are "worn out" as a whole, or they are being depleted by erosion, where slope of the land allows excessive rainfall to take its toll.

A solemn vow which every Parmer Farmer should take, offered as advice from a newcomer: I'll do every feasible thing to keep the soil I have. I'll not gamble on haphazard measures assuring that my soil will be here tomorrow.

The optimist sees things as they should be—not as they are.
