

Local Baccalaureate Sunday

Loren Thompson To Be Speaker, Service at 11:15

Loren Thompson, minister of the Lariat Church of Christ, will be the speaker at the Farwell baccalaureate service Sunday morning. The service is scheduled to get underway at 11:15 in the school auditorium. The time has been set so as to give local residents time to get to the service from Sunday school. Most local churches will have Sunday school but church services will not be conducted Sunday morning. The processional and recessional for the baccalaureate will be by the school ensemble. Other than the main address, the program will include a solo, "My God and I," by Martha Blair. The invocation is to be given by Rev. T. L. Pond, pastor of the Mayfield Baptist Church, and the benediction will be by Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor of the Okiahoma Lane Methodist Church. Honor guards for the service will be Larry Pike, Truman McKillip, Martha Smith, and Johnny Armstrong. Ushers include Glyn McDorman, Frankie Coffman, Phillip White, Jerry Turner, Fern Tipton, Naomi Hubbell, and Doug Tucker. Commencement activities for the Farwell seniors will be next Friday night, May 24. The commencement will bring to a close activities for the final week of school and Rev. Vance Zinn, pastor of the Melrose Baptist Church, will be the speaker.

20 Receive Diplomas At Texico Graduation

Twenty seniors were graduated from Texico High School at commencement exercises Tuesday night. Rush Hughes, director of public relations at Highland University, gave the address and several seniors were honored with awards.

The subject of the speaker was, "Commencing to Live." "At graduation your education has only begun," said the speaker as he listed several things which would better enable the graduates to pursue their course of life.

"Develop an interest in what's going to happen in the future," Hughes stated. "The world owes you a living, but there is no free delivery to your door. Neither can your parents give you an education."

The public relations man pointed ed out that our democracy gives a person an opportunity to pursue his own interests and it is up to the student to become a success.

"Decide what you want to do and have faith and confidence in yourself," Hughes told the seniors.

Carrying out his theme more fully, the speaker added a statement made by Theodore Roosevelt, "Do the best you can, with what you have, wherever you are."

New Personnel At McKillip Motor

Two new members have been added to the service staff at McKillip Motor Company in Farwell. Hired as new service manager is Ben Bates and taking over the air conditioning repair is Joe Perez.

Bates has had 15 years experience in auto mechanics and for the past six years has been service manager at the Ford company in Tulsa. He is married and has two children, one boy and one girl. He and his family plan to move to Farwell at the close of this school term.

Perez is an air conditioning expert, having had 13 years experience in that field. He is married and is the father of six children, three boys and three girls. He is living in Clovis at the present time.

Farwell Motor Now Open For Business

Opening of Farwell Motor Company was announced this week by K. D. "Stoney" Stone and Leroy Williams. The two have opened their new business in the building formerly occupied by Farwell Hardware.

The new firm is offering general repair on automobiles and irrigation motors and it also will have a complete line of auto parts, tires and accessories.

Wagner Receives Ten Year Pin

Tom M. Wagner, Southern Union Gas Company's manager at Farwell, this week received a ten year service pin from the company for continuous and meritorious service since May 12, 1947. Announcement of the award was made by J. Harvey Wilson of Clovis, Southern Union's eastern New Mexico district manager.

Wagner, who manages Southern Union's distribution system in Texico-Farwell, first started with the company in Tucumcari and was made town plant manager here in June, 1951.

Wagner is a member of the First Christian Church, and is active in the Lion's Club of Farwell and the American Legion. He is also enrolled in the American Rifle Association, and devotes a large part of his time to work with summer youth programs through the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Texico Court Decision Upheld

In district court at Clovis Tuesday morning, Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. upheld a court decision issued in Texico police court last July. Judge V. G. Sullivan, trying the case in the Texico court, found Lewis Pierce guilty of violating a sewage disposal ordinance.

Pierce was fined $150 plus court costs and the defendant appealed the decision to district court. After hearing the case Tuesday, Judge Hensley acted in favor of the city and the verdict was upheld.

However, the fine was lowered to $50. The defendant was instructed to pay the fine, all court costs, and also pay the City of Texico for the copies of statutes and ordinances he requested for the trial.

Attorney for the city at the district trial was Earl Hartley and witnesses for the city were Juanita Autrey, city clerk; and Russell Johnson, water and sewer superintendent.

Subpoenaed as witnesses for the defense were Scotty Levins, mayor; Joe Helton, councilman;

Judge Stone, councilman; Dan Buzzard, Hartley's associate; and Mrs. Ben H. Smart, tenant in one of Pierce's houses.

Counsel for the defendant was Fred Boone, Portales.

The charge that Pierce was found guilty of was unlawfully digging a cesspool on his premises early last year. The city's charge read that Pierce violated Ordinance 97, Section 302, which specifies that a citizen must have a special permit before digging a private sewage disposal system.

John, Mae Porter To California

John and Mae Porter, in business as owners and operators of the State Line Grocery and Market in Farwell for 27 years, have sold the stock of their store to C. F. Elliott, and will lease the building and fixtures to him, it was announced this week.

The Porters are moving to LaJolla, California, where he has accepted a position as manager of a new motel now under construction on Highway 101.

Elliott, who has been employed as a butcher by the Porters for the last 10 years, took over Monday of this week. He and Champ Porter will run the store, and he said he has no plans for any changes other than that of the management.

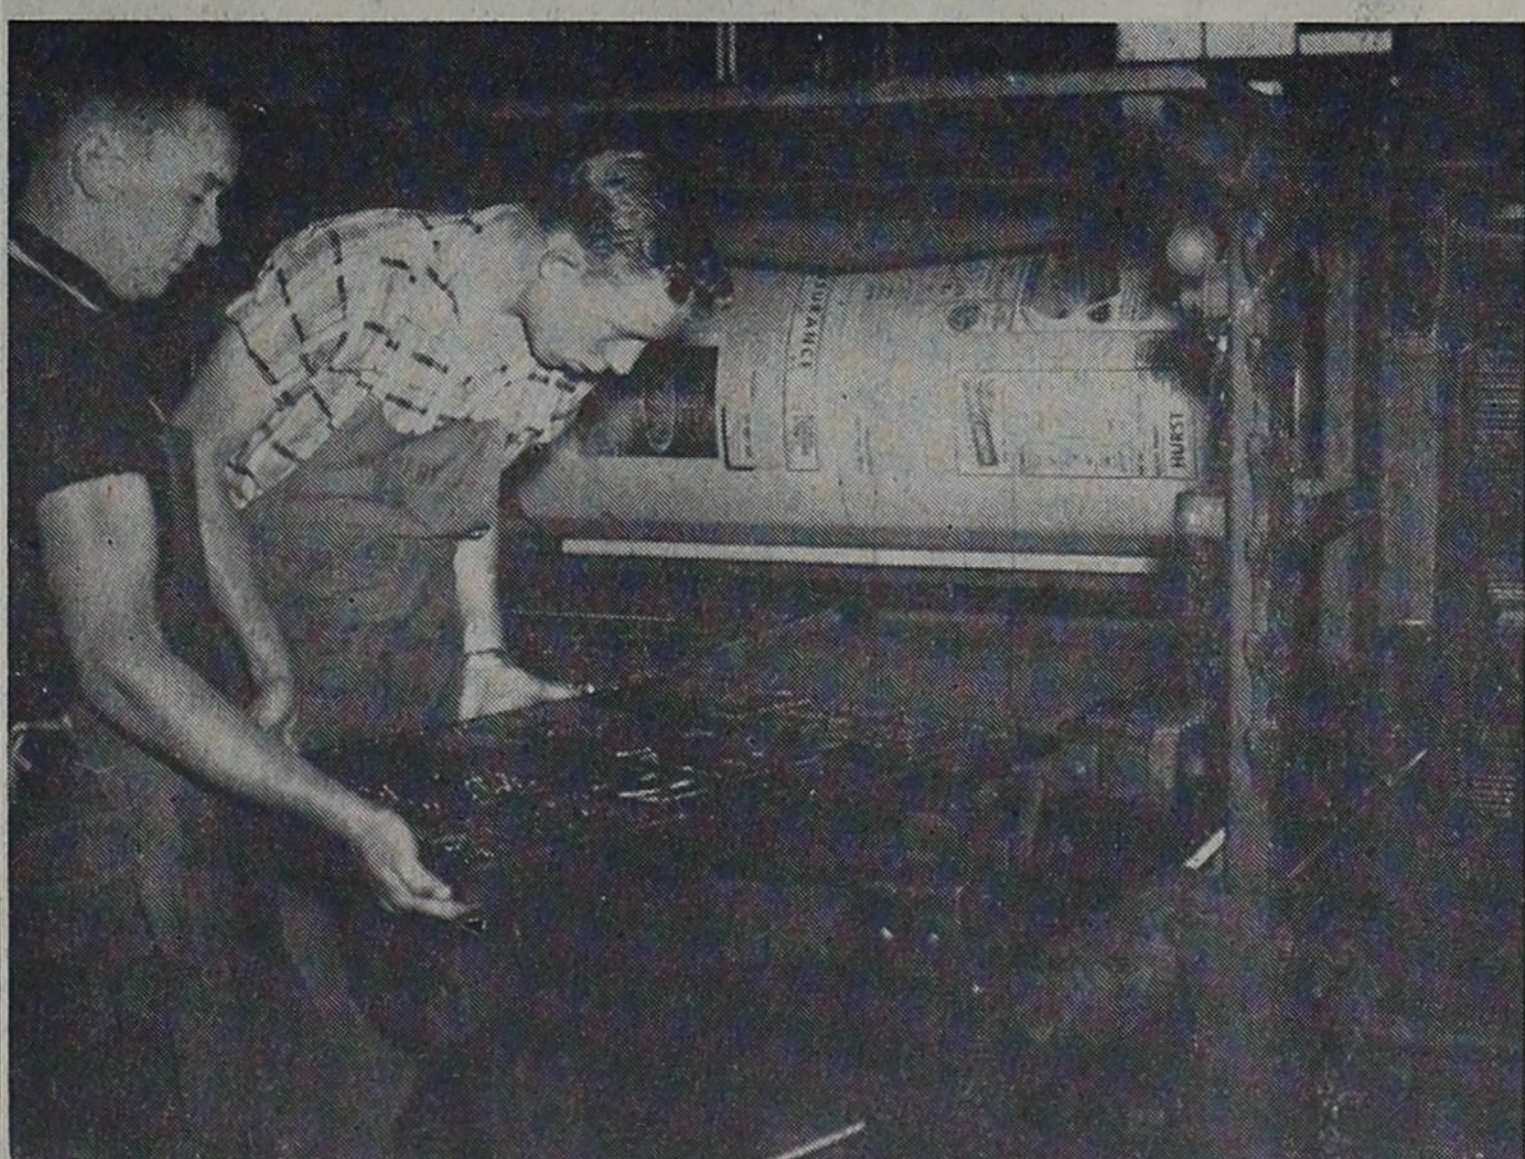

The business will continue to be known as State Line Grocery and Market. The Porters will rent their home in Farwell and plan to move to California about June 1.

Elliott, who lives on a farm east of town was formerly in the grocery business in Sweetwater.

Farwell Hardware In New Location

Farwell Hardware is now open at its new location, in the building formerly occupied by Hardage Motor Company, reports Clay Henson, owner. The move from the old location to the new site was completed early this week.

NEW PRESS — In an effort to improve the typographical quality of the newspaper, The Tribune recently installed this Babcock Optimus press. The cost of installing the new press was $4,600. Here, Eldon Thatcher, left, and Doyle Goldsmith, mechanical department employees, load two page forms on the piece of machinery. The Tribune has long been an advocate of top quality printing and this printing machine will improve the appearance as well as speed up the output of the papers.

TURNING OUT THE FLAPJACKS — Working over the grill during the Lions Club breakfast this past Sunday were these three Lions. They turned out better than 200 orders of the pancakes during the first breakfast, conducted to raise money for the summer youth program. Spanish Class To Be Organized Monday

Following up on a project under study for several weeks, the Farwell Chamber of Commerce this week got in touch with Ben Vera of Floydada, a professional Spanish instructor, with the idea in mind of arranging local classes.

A meeting will be held Monday night, May 20, in the city hall, at which time the Chamber and the teacher will attempt to determine how many persons in the area are interested in undertaking classes in Spanish.

The meeting, to begin at 8 o'clock, does not obligate the persons who attend to enroll in classes, and there will be no charge for the first session. However, as soon as a course has been set up, teaching will begin on a commercial basis.

The cost of a Spanish course such as the one proposed here will be $8 per person, and there will be 12 hours of instruction. Likely, the class will be held on Thursday evenings, though it may be that students will desire classes twice a week.

That would be eight lessons, with the classes lasting about one and one-half hours each.

Those who may be interested but unable to attend the meeting Monday night should get in contact with Wilfred Quickel, C-C manager.

Interest in conversational Spanish has been increasing in recent years, with an increasing population of Spanish-American extraction. Developed farming requiring greater labor has been the reason for this change.

Athletic Banquet Tomorrow Night

The annual athletic banquet at Farwell Schools will be tomorrow night at the Farwell cafeteria. Burl Huffman, former Texas Tech and University of New Mexico football coach will be the speaker. The time is 8 p.m.

There are only a few tickets to the banquet left and Jack Williams, superintendent, asks that those interested in attending contact the school to make reservations before noon tomorrow (Friday). Admission price is $1.50.

Highlight of the banquet will be the presentation of awards. To be recognized will be the outstanding football player, the outstanding basketball player (both boy and girl), the athlete of the year, and the hardest blocker and tackler in football.

To be shown at the feed will be a film on the Farwell-Hale Center bi-district football game.

FIRE WHISTLE TO BLOW FOR SECOND FEED

As a reminder for those who forgot the Lions Club breakfast last Sunday morning, the fire whistle will be sounded Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. The feed will get underway at that hour and will continue through 9 a.m.

Like the first one last Sunday, it is to raise money for the Texico-Farwell summer youth program. Tickets to the breakfasts are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

A good crowd was on hand for the first breakfast last Sunday and the Lions are hoping for a better one this Sunday, as more money is needed for the program this year than in the past.

It is not known what the summer program will include, but proceeds from the breakfasts will determine what can be offered. J. D. Atwell, new Farwell football coach, has been hired as director of the program.

Lions club members will be serving the breakfast and part of the items for it have been donated. General Mills has furnished all of the Bisquick and the coffee has been given by Waples Platter, through Bradshaw Grocery. Bacon was acquired from State Line Grocery at cost.

Junior Band Wins Awards at Plainview

Farwell's junior band, composed of fifth and sixth graders, received a division II rating in concert at the elementary band contests conducted Saturday in Plainview. This was the first year for the local group to participate in the elementary contests and the director, Mrs. Erma Jobs, says "We were all learning together."

Besides the entire group rating, the local band members brought home six first place awards and five seconds.

Those placing first with their solo presentations were Murrell Smith, clarinet; Bonnie Cochran, flute; Dorris Donaldson, clarinet; Linda Nelson, clarinet; Monte Lesly, cornet; and Barry McCuan, alto saxophone.

Second place winners were Roy Donaldson, bass horn; Sylvia

Smith, trombone; Leon Lovelace, trombone; Jane Hubbell, clarinet; and Jimmy Armstrong, alto saxophone.

Correction!

The Tribune regrets the error made last week in reporting the story of the local Farwell Study Club's contribution to the swimming pool fund.

Mrs. D. W. Bagley, who was pictured, called to inform The Tribune that she is not president, but treasurer of the club. Mrs. Juanita Garrett is president of the group. The Tribune apologizes to the above mentioned women and to the club, for making the error. Since federation, the name of the organization has been changed to Farwell Study Club.

Ronny was disappointed that we didn't receive an announcement from each member of the graduating classes from Texico and Farwell.

He got to be the postman (play-like of course) and deliver the gifts to the young people from the Grahams. It was such fun, he begged us to go buy some more presents so he could ring some more doorbells. We enjoyed it too!

Well, the rains finally got here. The weather has stolen the show. Just try talking to anyone longer than 10 minutes without mention of the weather stealing into the picture.

It just wasn't our week when we decided to help out with some of the stories in The Tribune last week. In the first place, it wasn't the Farwell Woman's Club who made the donation to the swimming pool fund. The group has changed it's name to Farwell Study Club.

It was not the president that was pictured with the check, although we were correct, in one phase, it was Mrs. Bagley. She's an officer in the club too—but the office is that of treasurer.

But we were right when we aid the club gave a sizable donation to the above mentioned fund. They did and it was wonderful.

The Tribune being what it is, and run by humans, it is so fallible. That doesn't keep us from wishing that we could get everything correct, and we do keep trying. We apologize to the ladies.

We are always reading about something that has "stark realism" and know that our kids are blessed with it.

The baby was giving his big brother lots of headaches as Ronny was trying to play quietly with his cars. So we intervened with "Hal, quit pestering your big brother."

Ronny, indignant, looked us straight in the eye and explained disgustedly, "Mama, he's not, he's kicking me."

Oh, brother! We were speechless after reading the following feature story on Billie Smith. You probably will be too. But we'll have to admit it is an interesting, if not particularly engaging, idea of child rearing.

By ELSTON BROOKS

Billie Smith has to take his thumb from his mouth before he can light up a cigar, puff on a cigarette or chew a plug of tobacco.

That's because Billie, who's been smoking and chewing for four years now, is still only five. "He just has a craving for it," explains his mother, Mrs. Bill Smith of 1636 E. Daggett. "He started out on chewing tobacco when he was a year old, wanting bites off his daddy's plug."

"Then he'd want puffs off his daddy's cigars. The next thing we knew, he was demanding his own cigars. You might say he's been smoking cigars all his life, but he only took up cigarets eight months ago." Billie might have been impressed by all that talk about lung disease from cigarets. After all, he doesn't inhale the cigar smoke and he did stay away from cigarets until he was four. Billie, an average youngster who dislikes girls but loves things like football and nicotine, knows more about filters and such than the other five year olds know about sandboxes and blocks. He'll smoke only cigarets that come in a "flip-top box." He certainly doesn't believe this country needs a good five-cent cigar because he'll only smoke 10-centers. Says his father: "Billie smokes a pack of cigarets a day and about one cigar. Of course, I don't let him smoke a pack every day. Cut him off about every third day, because that's pretty expensive."

First Official Weighing Friday At Pig Parlor

The first official weighing of the hogs to be raised in the pig parlor on the B. A. Kelley farm north of Texico was conducted last Friday morning. A good crowd was on hand as Tom Hudson, ag instructor, and the Texico FFA boys conducted the weighing.

Forty-five pigs were placed in the parlor about a week before and as they were weighed Friday, they averaged 68 1/3 pounds each.

Present to assist with the weighing and record keeping were T. E. Willmon, Citizen's Bank; Howard Martin, Clovis National Bank; Alan Staley, Clovis vocational ag instructor; and Leroy Tucker, Clovis Production Credit Association.

Taking some of the action on film was Everett Jones of REA in Clovis. Also, there to record some of the work were representatives of KICA-TV, Clovis; and KGNC-TV, Amarillo.

It was the official weighing in of the hogs and they will be weighed every 30 days until ready for market. The parlor is an experiment and an educational project for the Texico FFA department.

Several of the spectators were asked their opinions concerning the new business venture. Most seemed to believe that the pig parlor was a worthwhile undertaking, but some were skeptical as to whether or not it will make hog-raising profitable.

A. G. Chalk, a Clovis man, said that no matter what methods are used in hog-raising, it can't be too profitable until there is a basic price for hogs. He cited the past year when many people lost money due to the bottom dropping out of hog prices.

All in all, though, those present at the weighing considered the logic behind the parlor to be sound and believed that it would help toward making the hog business a more profitable undertaking.

Steers Drop Final Game to Morton

Morton's Indians copped the District 1-A baseball championship here Tuesday afternoon by pounding out a 7-2 win over the Farwell Steers. The win gave them a 4-2 record for the season.

Had Farwell been able to come up with a win, the district race would have been thrown into a four-way tie.

The final standings other than Morton were Friona 3-3, Springlake 3-3, and Farwell 2-4.

Two hits and an error in the first inning got Morton off to the lead, 2-0, and timely hits and additional errors helped the Morton cause the rest of the way. The Indians collected 10 hits off Donnie Carpenter and Owen Huffaker, Steer moundsmen.

Farwell had only four hits and left 10 men stranded on the bases.

In a game last Friday, Farwell knocked the Friona Chiefs out of the running for the title, racking up a 13-2 win. Two big innings accounted for most of the Steer runs as they collected five each in the third and fourth.

Coach Calvin Murray's nine picked up only eight hits, but coupled with walks and errors the Farwell team had easy sledding.

Ronnie Wood, Friona third baseman, suffered a broken leg in the fourth inning of the game, receiving a compound fracture just above his right ankle. The accident occurred when Phillip Berry, Farwell second baseman, attempted to slide into third.

The third baseman was standing with his leg in front of the sack and Berry hooked it as he slid in. Wood received emergency treatment at the Farwell Clinic before being rushed to Parmer County Community Hospital. He was then taken to Amarillo where he remained until Tuesday.

His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Rev. J. R. Bunts Speaks at Texico Baccalaureate

"Key to Victorious Living," was the topic of the Texico Baccalaureate address delivered by Rev. J. R. Bunts, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of Clovis, Sunday night. The service was in the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church in Texico.

In his talk, Rev. Bunts outlined three main points to the seniors, "Evil, Suffering, and Faith," the latter being the key to overcome the first two.

The speaker said that evil was something which has been confronting everyone since Adam and Eve. To overcome it one must have faith and the right inner relationship with God. "It is what's in your heart that counts and it is up to you alone to overcome evil," Rev. Bunts told the graduates.

The speaker emphasized the difference between physical and spiritual suffering and told them to be ready to face both. The way to do this would be by faith, he said. "Faith in oneself is not enough, you need faith in the faith of Jesus Christ."

"If you're going to have faith in something, have faith in something that is sound," the pastor said.

His talk was based on the scripture, "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." —John 8:31-32.

Providing special music at the service was the Methodist Choir, directed by Mrs. Ollie Burton. Numbers by the choir were "The Kingdom of God," and "On Wings of Praise."

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. C. C. Morgan, pastor of the Texico Baptist Church, and the processional and recessional were played by Mrs. R. W. Anderson.

Mosquito Control Studied

The countywide meeting in the interest of the control of mosquitoes at the Friona High School auditorium Monday evening was well attended. Dr. Paul L. Spring, county health officer, spoke and Friona Superintendent Dillie M. Kelley showed two educational films.

Representatives were present from every religious, civic, cultural, and educational group in the county. HD Agent Jimmie Lou Wainscott presided over the meeting, and offered the cooperation of the 11 home demonstration clubs in the county

Plans are being made for each community to work out its own campaign for the elimination of breeding places for mosquitoes. A study will be made concerning the most practical method of controlling the insect on a large scale basis.

Dr. Spring pointed out that August and September are the peak months for sleeping sickness. He also stressed the importance of control measures before an epidemic occurs. Statistics on the increase of the disease in Texas were given by Dr. Spring and a list of suggestions offered by the State Department of Health was read.

Says Dr. Spring, "I will be more than glad to assist in any way possible in the problem of mosquito control, and until a vaccine is developed for encephalitis, this is the best we can do."

It may have ruffled his feelings in the armed forces, but a salesman likes to hear it in peace time: "That's an order."

Continuing Rains Green Up Pastures

Recent rains over this part of the High Plains have greened up pastures considerably, and this week Joe Jones, Parmer County agent, made a report on grass conditions in this respect.

Jones says the grass is responding, "but in too many instances, we see broken turf and a lot of the green showing up is weeds that have invaded our range land. This has been caused by over grazing during the drouth."

He adds, "Anyone living here through the drouth years can understand how and why abuse of our range land has occurred. The important thing now is to give the native grasses a chance to recover."

Jones says that once that is done, the native grasses will crowd out the weeds and return to their once productive state. To enable the desirable grasses to do this job, proper management practices must be followed.

"The one most important thing that can be done is to let ranges rest during the season rains are most likely to occur, to give the grasses a chance to develop their root systems and make seed.

"This," admits the county agent, "is always a hard thing to do when grazing is needed so badly, but one month's rest during a favorable growing season can do more than resting range land during the entire winter months when grass isn't growing anyway."

The best time to rest range land is during a period when desirable grasses will have the most favorable growing conditions. One thing that might help farmers and ranchers do this would be providing temporary pasture such as sudan pasture so livestock can be kept off native grass during the growing season as much as possible. Mowing spots where weeds are heavy will also help conserve moisture and help grasses get started again.

"Don't expect your range land to make a very satisfactory recovery from the effect of over grazing and drouth if the grass is eaten off as soon as it greens up. If you cannot defer grazing on all your pasture land perhaps you can select a portion of it and let it rest during this spring and summer. Just keep in mind the one most important thing is to defer your range land during the favorable growing season if you expect much improvement in range condition. When we speak of deferred grazing we mean defer during the growing season and not during the months when the grass will be dormant anyway," is Jones' emphatic point.

THE PARMER FARMER

An interesting person to pass the time of day with is Kenneth Neil, who with several others, has bought the Friona potato shed, and now is making plans for getting into the carrot business on a pretty good scale.

Kenneth has done what most farmers only talk about doing, and that is getting out on the highways and biways and searching out markets for his crops.

We suspect that instead of going fishing, a farmer like Kenneth is usually occupied with making plans for the coming year and what it might mean in the way of vegetable sales. At least, that's our impression.

Kenneth and John O'Haugherty (who'll be their vegetable salesman this year) took a flying trip a couple of weeks ago to get firsthand information on what's ahead.

They made calls at Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Austin, Houston, Beaumont, Lake Charles, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Alexandria, Shreveport, and Dallas and Fort Worth—as formidable a list of stops as we've ever seen on any traveling salesman's itinerary.

The two men called on vegetable brokers, supermarket chain managers, and other large buyers of truck produce. It was a very educational trip, Kenneth says, and helped the area men to understand a lot about the vegetable business.

In such a fast-moving, "dog-eat-dog" business as the vegetable industry, it is a fairly common notion that the industry is full of big shots who, with their millions in buying power, carry a lot of weight at the bargaining table.

Kenneth says they didn't run into any of these big shots. In fact, he says he was surprised to find that most of the buyers were just "country boys, like you and me, trying to get along and make a living."

Kenneth says he has always felt that farmers have to work hard for what they make, but he has found some other people who have to hit a few licks, too.

Those people are the vegetable brokers, who are down to the market by 4 o'clock every morning, scrapping with one another. There aren't any friends in this kind of trading, and it's every man for himself.

This is the touted Americanized brand of pressurized living at its ultimate. We bet that heart failures and stomach ulcers are the rule rather than the exception among these fellows.

HD Show Success

The HD Silver Tea and style show, which was held at the Friona Club House Friday, was well attended. Representatives were present from each of the home demonstration clubs in the county.

Several visitors were also present. Hostesses were members of the HD Council of Parmer County.

In addition to the style show in which persons who had completed the advanced tailoring class modeled garments they had made, there were displays of handwork done by members of the different clubs. Some of the displays included Dresden painting, children's garments, copper paintings and the making of tiered candy dishes.

Those who modeled were Doris Hall, Mildred Mingus, Emma Elmore, Cherry Mingus, Dorothy Bauer, Ona Patterson, Blanche Woody, Billie Long, Genny Bingham, Mildred Walters, Sarah Dean, Olive Massie, Lois Whitaker, Pat Spring, Jerry Bernard, Lauretta Brookfield, Vuthil Loanman, Gertrude Renner, and Tress Tannahill.

Also, Neoma Oldham, Mary Gibson and daughter, Jean Cox, Sue Smith, Glindeen Bailey, Lois Latham, Helen Potts, Altha Presley, Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Elizabeth Kaltwasser, Katherine White, Velma Magness, Gladys Kaltwasser, Elzada Gulley, Dixie Johnson, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Allen Bingham.

Refreshments of eclairs and punch were served. The centerpiece was formed of three rows of pink and white carnations. Spring flowers were used as decorations on the mantel.

Mr. Businessman, when sales don't add up, it may be time to up the ads.

Mr. Businessman, advertise and discover for yourself how good business really is.
