Lazbuddie students to school Monday

Lazbuddie students will return for the 1984-85 school term on Monday, Aug. 27, and classes will be in session from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Lunch prices have been changed since last week's announcement. The Lazbuddie School Board in its last meeting decided to increase the cost of meals by five cents, as follows: K-4, 75 cents; 5-8, 90 cents; 9-12, $1.05; teachers, $1.40; and visitors, $1.55. Reduced price lunches will cost 45 cents.

Students registered on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and teacher in-service was held Wednesday. Curriculum Planning by Barbara Hall is scheduled for tomorrow (August 25).

Ron McWilliams is new assistant band director

Ronnie McWilliams has begun his duties as assistant band director at Farwell Schools.

"Some 15 years ago, my first teaching job was at a small school. I've been associated with many large schools since then, but I always wanted to come back to a small school. I'm really excited about being here in Farwell now," said McWilliams.

He comes from Hobbs, N.M., where he taught at Highland Junior High School, to assist band director Lynn Burton.

McWilliams and his wife Faye have three children, Bryan 12, Kevin 9, and Sarah 4.

Assistant band director

Ron McWilliams, new assistant band director at Farwell Schools, admires one of the Farwell Steer Band uniforms. McWilliams just arrived in Farwell from Hobbs, N.M., where he taught in Highland Junior High School there. The band uniforms were handed out Tuesday during high school registration periods.

Registration time

Tuesday was high school registration day at Farwell for the 1984-85 school term which will begin next Monday, Aug. 27. Among the many students registering was Mona Meeks. Checking with her on her fall schedule is Principal Lynn Burton.

San Jose Church has new pastor

Father Joyce Finnigan, OFM, is the new pastor of San Jose Catholic Church in Texico. Fr. Joyce succeeds Fr. Charley Martinez, who is the new pastor of Chama, New Mexico. Father Joyce is a native of Cincinnati, Ohio. He was ordained to the Franciscan priesthood in May of 1946.

Fr. Finnigan has served in Franciscan missions among the Blacks, Native Americans, and Spanish-speaking peoples. He served as pastor for the parish in Dexter, N.M., from 1956 to 1964 and from 1966 to 1978.

From 1978 to 1980, Father was co-pastor and superior of San Diego Mission in Jemez, N.M.; he has also worked among the Zunis in western New Mexico and in Roswell and Albuquerque.

Fr. Joyce was pastor of the Church of Our Lady in Kansas City, Kan., when he was transferred back to Immaculate Conception, Dexter, in August of 1966. He has contributed articles and poetry to New Mexico Magazine, the St. Anthony Messenger, Pastoral Life, and other publications.

The parish council, Knights of Columbus and all church members invite the community to attend the church services.

Two inmates escape from Parmer jail

Two inmates escaped from the Parmer County Jail late Monday night, Sheriff M.C. "Bill" Morgan said.

Morgan said the escapees were two Mexican nationals, Antonio Martinez and Jose Chacon. They had been in jail since July 14 after being charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle in Friona. At the time of their arrest, they were heading for Mexico, the sheriff said.

Morgan could give no explanation for the escape, as of Tuesday morning. He said they, Martinez and Chacon, had made up their bunks Monday night to resemble sleeping bodies. Thus, the jailers had no indication that the men were missing. The escape apparently occurred after midnight. The two men had been sharing the same cell.

In other reports from the sheriff's department, three burglaries are being investigated by the law officers.

Wade Wilson, manager of Longhorn Ag in Lazbuddie, reported that his place of business had been burglarized. Taken was over $7500 worth of chemicals, and their safe was damaged.

Lovelace Oil Company in Farwell reported that its business had been broken into, probably the night of August 19. A tool box and assorted tools valued at approximately $500 were taken.

Dennis Willard of Bovina reported that his barn had been burglarized, sometime between noon on August 17 and 5 p.m. on August 18. Taken were an air compressor, socket set, some motor oil, anti-freeze, an electric weed sprayer, and miscellaneous items. Approximate loss was listed at $1195.

Texas Highway Patrol officers made two arrests during the past week.

Mario Torres, 20, of Friona was arrested on August 18 on a charge of DWI. Bond was set at $500, and his case is pending in county court.

Wayne Hayes, 32, of Clovis was arrested on August 19 on a charge of DWI. His bond was set at $500, and his case is pending in county court.

Deadline set for voter registration

The deadline for voter registration for those residents who wish to vote in the November general election and who have not already registered is October 7, according to Bernice Pennington of the Parmer County Tax Assessor's office.

If you do not have a voter registration card, you must register before this date to be able to cast a ballot in the upcoming election, says Mrs. Pennington.

For further information, contact the tax assessor's office in the courthouse.

Farwell yearbooks
 to be distributed

Farwell High School's yearbooks have arrived and will be distributed after a dedication ceremony at 1 p.m. Monday, Aug. 27, at the school.

Yearbook sponsor Dorris White said a few extra yearbooks are available and will be sold on a

BTD Committee to meet Monday

Border Town Days Committee will meet Monday, Aug. 27, at 8 p.m. CDT at the Texico community room, next to the city offices, for its final wrap-up session, announces John Getz, chairman.

Members are asked to please be present for this final meeting of this year. "All committee chairmen or their representatives are especially urged to attend to give their final reports," Getz said.

The BTD Committee is comprised of representatives of all social and civic organizations in the Twin Cities.

Other interested persons are also invited to the meeting. The Committee would appreciate suggestions for adding to or improving next year's celebration.

Also, persons owing money on yearbooks that they have ordered need to bring the balance of those amounts with them.

This week, the country has been witnessing one of the biggest non-events in recent history, the Republican National Convention in "Big D." Actually, we haven't witnessed much of it ourselves. Some of the TV reruns have seemed preferable to droning political drivel, and we got a dose of that several weeks ago.

This is not particularly the fault of the Republicans, but after all, there is no suspense as to who will be the standard bearers for them this fall. Other than refute Democratic pap, there is not much else they can say to occupy four days of prime time TV.

The TV coverage mainly centers around a hunt to catch some poor old politician with his foot in his mouth and try to blow it up to a monumental boo boo. This type journalism we are tired of listening to or about.

It does seem that some of the big media would sacrifice any amount of national prestige or security to have some kind of a "story." Phooie! This causes us to seek relief in some old Three Stooges picture. At least a body knows where they stood.

We are, of course, writing these words early in the week but do not expect any startling pronouncements on taxes out of the Repubs. Their thrust will be to hold the line on taxation and to look to reduce spending. Inasmuch as reducing spending is not too popular an approach at election time, we expect them to tread softly in this area.

These comments on taxes gives us an opportunity to pass along some doggerel on "taxes" sent to us by Floyd Embry. Floyd culled this from a newspaper clipping.

DEATH AND TAXES

- Tax his cow, tax his goat, tax his pants, tax his coat.
- Tax his crops, tax his work, tax his tie, tax his shirt.
- Tax his chew, tax his smoke, teach him taxes are no joke.
- Tax his tractor, tax his mule, teach him taxes are the rule.
- Tax his oil, tax his gas, tax his notes, tax his cash.
- If he hollers, tax him more,
tax him 'til he's good and sore.
- Tax his coffin, tax his grave, tax the sod in which he lays.
- Put these words on his tomb,
"Taxes Drove Him To His Doom."
- After he's gone he can't relax, they'll still go after inheritance tax.

Just take your pick, it could be me or you.

While we are on taxation, we will pass along the dubious information that the sterling representatives of the people of the State of Taxes, oops, Texas, put newspaper sales

H. O. Sewell services Monday in Littlefield

Funeral services for H.O. Sewell, 86, of Littlefield were conducted Monday, Aug. 20, from the Crescent Park Church of Christ in Littlefield, with Wilburn Dennis, church minister, and Dayton Keese of Lubbock officiating.

Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Mr. Sewell died Friday, Aug. 17, in Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona. He was born December 1, 1897, at Santa Fe, Tenn.

In 1915, he moved to Cordell, Okla., where he was engaged in building and operating cotton gins, until 1944 when he moved to the Littlefield area where he was a farmer. He served as an elder in the Spade Church of Christ for several years.

Mr. Sewell married Ella Lee Williams February 10, 1924, in Cordell. She preceded him in death in 1979. He married Winnie Burch Sorrensen February 14, 1981, in Spade.

Survivors include his wife, Winnie; two sons, Bob Sewell of Farwell and Sam Sewell of Lubbock; a stepdaughter, Mona Deen McElfresha of Lubbock; four grandchildren, three stepgrandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and two step-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were grandsons J.R. Sewell, Danny Sewell, Raymond Sewell, Jimmy Sewell, Gene Sewell, and David Sewell.

ing Foundation Camp, where they learned new cheers, stunts, and spirit ideas to cheer the Farwell Steers on to victory.

Farwell cheerleaders attend IFC camp

Farwell varsity cheerleaders attended the 1984 International Cheerleading Foundation Camp held July 8-11 on the campus of San Angelo State University. Also attending was their sponsor, Dorris White.

The cheerleaders were taught new cheers, stunts, chants, and spirit ideas from an eight-member ICF staff.

The girls are excited about this upcoming sport year and encourage everyone to attend the games.

The making of this year's football programs is underway. Name placements for the Steer Booster section of the program will be gathered by the cheerleaders. Cost of the placements this year are $3 for individual names or $5 for family name.

Anyone wishing to purchase a name placement and be a supporter of the Steers, is asked to please contact one of the cheerleaders or their sponsor: Twila Donaldson, 825-3278; Trena George, 825-2988, Melinda McMillan, 481-9137; Sherilyn Thigpen, 481-9355; Dana White 481-9043; or sponsor Dorris White at 481-9043.

Donations needed - -

Garage sale to benefit Amer. Cancer Society

Donations are being accepted by Lena Casey in Texico for a garage sale to be held August 23-25 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. MDT at 509 Garwood in Texico, to benefit the American Cancer Society.

Money received from the garage sale will be used by the Society's chapter in Clovis for the upkeep of equipment which is available at no charge to cancer patients. Mrs. Casey says that garage sales are also being planned in Grady and Melrose to benefit this worthy cause.

Anyone who has cancer and is in need of a specific item should contact the office in Clovis at 762-7127.

"Too often cancer patients and their families learn of the help they could have received from the cancer society too late," says Mrs. Casey.

Anyone having items to donate may contact Lena Casey at 482-3403.

District court results

In the 287th District Court which convened on Wednesday, Aug. 14, with Judge Jack D. Young presiding:

Eduardo Padilla Diaz, 22, of Bo-vina, charged with aggravated assault, was found guilty by the jury. He was sentenced to three years in the Texas Department of Corrections, and was fined $2,000.

County court results

In Parmer County Court on Thursday, Aug. 17, presided over by Judge Gordon H. Green, sitting in as special appointed County Judge, for Judge Porter Roberts:

Aldredo Sosa, 25, of Friona pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI. He was fined $250 plus court costs, and was given 72 hours in jail.

Jamie Ray Everett, 17, of Friona pleaded guilty to evading arrest. He was fined $100 plus court costs.

Fire calls

Farwell Volunteer Fire Department made one ambulance run the past week, while both Texico and Pleasant Hill departments reported no fire or ambulance calls.

On August 17, the Farwell ambulance was called to Farwell Convalescent Center where it transported a resident to the Friona hospital.

under the state sales tax. This will start in October of this year, and probably end some time next year.

We say this because Bob Bullock, the State Comptroller, is screaming to high heaven as to how the Legislature expects him to audit at least 10,000 paper carriers in the state. We understand this nonsense was tacked on to the "tax bill" during the last special session in Austin at the instigation of several legislators who were ticked off at their local paper for exposing them to ridicule. Now that is a good feat, and papers ought to be rewarded for this, rather than punished.

Just a word of warning, the Tribune is gearing up to run the annual football contest again. All fans are urged to get in on the first week's picking which will be out with the September 7th issue. We will again have the Cowboy weekend as a reward.

If the 'pokes don't play better than they did last week against the Stealers, we are not sure about the term "reward;" however, that die is cast and we look forward to a rousing season. After all, the Twin Cities is the football capital of the Golden Spread.

Curry County Fair gates open Monday

Curry County Fair will officially open for six full days of fun and entertainment starting Monday, Aug. 27, with an Appaloosa Open Performance and Youth Activities Show at 1 p.m. The fair, considered by many to be bigger than many state fairs, will offer something for everyone.

Monday will be the Entry Day and all exhibits must be in by 6 p.m. Throughout the week the carnival will offer rides and games galore for the entire family.

Tuesday will be Merchants Day, to be highlighted with a Talent Show in the indoor arena at 6 p.m. Thursday will be Parents Day with two watermelon contests in the indoor arena, one at 5 p.m. and the watermelon eating contest at 5:30 p.m.

Wednesday is 4-H and FFA Day with a Little Buckaroo Rodeo in the arena at 6 p.m., and a Youth Pet Show in the indoor arena at 7:30 p.m.

Friday is Kids Day. All school children will be admitted free from 2 to 6 p.m. The popular Tractor Pull will take place at 7 p.m., and square dancing will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

The last day of the fair, Saturday, has been designated as Pioneer Day.

The Curry County Fair Board wishes to recognize the people who settled in this area for their courage and steadfastness in the face of adversity; for bringing about the development of Clovis and Curry County; for their forward looking optimism that brought us where we are today.

Highlights of the day will be an Old Fiddlers contest at 2:30 p.m. in the indoor arena, Old Timers dinner at 12 noon in the Old House, and the Tractor Pull again at 7 p.m.

Texico Schools ask help to find special children

Texico Municipal Schools are looking for school age special children who are not being educated and reside in the school district.

"We need your help to find these children," says James Pierce, superintendent. "If you have, or know, any special child from age 5 to 21 years, who is not currently enrolled in a special education program, please let us know by calling Texico Municipal School at 482-3801, or by writing to Texico Municipal Schools, P.O. Box 237, Texico, N.M. 88135," urges Pierce.

Statewide survey: motorists slowing, but not to 55 mph

COLLEGE STATION—While all Texas drivers aren't observing the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit, only a small number of motorists are traveling more than 65 mph, a big change from before, say researchers for the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI).

According to a state survey, less than 10 percent of all drivers are exceeding 65 mph, said Dr. Quinn Brackett, a TTI researcher stationed at Texas A&M University.

In 1974, just after the new 55 mph law was passed, 62.2 percent of the motorists were in noncompliance, said Brackett. The highest rate of noncompliance came in 1978 when 77 percent of the motorists exceeded the speed limit, he said.

In the last surveying quarter which ended April 23, results showed that about 54.9 percent of the state's drivers were exceeding the 55 mph speed limit, he said.

The researchers have found that compliance with the speed limit tends to increase when gasoline prices increase dramatically, and decrease when prices are stable or dropping.

Texico Lady Spikers

Gonzales, Kathy Harrison, Tammy Sandoval, and Tracey McDonald; top row: Twila Longo, Cheryl Scott, and Kelly Lynn. First outing for the Lady Spikers will be Saturday, Aug.

25, at Hobbs in a scrimmage session. The first games of the season will be tournament play on September 15 at Cloudcroft.

TAES field day salutes 75 years

Roots of scientific efforts and progress to support the area agriculturalist with production and marketing problems of the Texas High Plains will be demonstrated September 11 at the 75th annual field day and anniversary celebration of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and Halfway.

The Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center is the host this year, said Dr. Bill Ott, resident director of research at the station. The annual program alternates between the Lubbock and Halfway locations. This year's field day is being held in Lubbock in conjunction with the station's 75th anniversary activities.

The center is located north of Lubbock International Airport on FM 1294, just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit.

"What is usually a conventional field day has been modified this year to include a celebration of the station's 75th year of service to the Lubbock and High Plains area," Ott said.

Field tours will begin at 10 a.m. and will feature four major stops, said Dr. John R. Gannaway, TAES cotton breeder at the station and the field day chairman.

Major stops will feature a historical planting of cotton, grain sorghum and other crops; the latest research of water use efficiency; the development of drought tolerant cotton, hybrids and disease resistant cotton varieties; and new techniques and products for weed control.

Other areas featured at the field day will be a special tour of the station's vineyard, a display of computers and computer programs for agricultural use, and laboratory tours which will display the latest technological advancements and research findings, Gannaway said.

In observance of the 75th anniversary, a slide presentation of the station's history will be presented in the auditorium. There will also be a display of old and new farm machinery, Gannaway said.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of TAES, the High Plains Research Foundation, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service, and the Texas Forest Service.

Staff members of these participating agencies will be on hand to answer questions and discuss problems with agricultural producers, homeowners and gardeners.

Local sexton gives message of comfort

Earl Roberts of Farwell, local sexton, has opened and closed more than 700 graves in the area, and in the process he has come in contact with many, many persons who have lost loved ones.

So many times, the question has been asked of Earl, "Why did this have to happen?" For a long time, this question has bothered Earl, and after lots of thought and searching for words of comfort, he offers the following message:

Does Man's Suffering Serve A Purpose?

Read Hebrews 12:1-3

(God) Comforts us in all our afflictions, so we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.

II Corinthians 1:4

Often the difficult question is asked, "Why must people suffer?"

Jesus suffered and each of us suffers, though in no measure to compare with His.

We do not know all the answers why, but one of them surely is that human struggles with pain, and suffering helps forge some of man's greatest virtues.

Through suffering, many people come to possess such virtues as patience, courage, self-sacrifice, and sympathy.

Growth seldom occurs except at some cost in pain and suffering. At the crucifixion of Jesus, one might have said, "If such a tragic end is the result of the good life, what hope is there?"

But looking on the same event from today, we can see immeasurable benefit for mankind which accrued from Jesus' suffering.

Surely God uses our suffering to accomplish divine purpose, though it may not always be made plain to us. Much of man's suffering comes from disobedience.

God gives meaning to the suffering we cannot understand.

JASON CHRISTIAN

Named All-American scholar

Jason Christian, Texico junior high student, has been named an Academic All-American by the National Secondary Education Council.

The NSEC has established the Academic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the Academic disciplines. The Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.

Only Scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Jason was nominated for this National Award by Kenneth Shaw, Student Council Advisor. He will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Academic All-American Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the NSEC.

Jason is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Christian, and the grandson of Carra Christian of Farwell.

Hawkins graduates

Staff Sgt. Erith A. Hawkins II, son of Erith A. Hawkins of Star Route, Bovina, and Patricia Morris of San Diego, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft loadmasters course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex.

During the course, students were taught dual rail systems and winching techniques in order to implement and carry-out aircraft loading and unloading plans. They also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Hawkins is scheduled to serve with the 14th Military Airlift Squadron at Norton Air Force Base, Calif. His wife, Darcey, is the daughter of John and Margaret Kesner of San Diego.

NOTICE

Dr. Jerry Don Gregory announces the relocation of his practice of medical and surgery from 708 South First Street in Muleshoe, Tex., to Stettner Clinic, 3303 University Avenue, Lubbock Texas 79410. Telephone 806-795-8271. Hours 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturday 9-12 a.m.

Copies of current records are to be kept by Dr. Gregory in Lubbock and Dr. Jack McCarty of 708 South First Street in Muleshoe. All new and old patients are still welcome to see Dr. Gregory.

Six Point Plan for Fair and Effective Farm Policy

Part 2

When farm group representatives from six states met with Ag Secretary Block last month, each of us told the Secretary of the concerns of our group or region. In my speech I presented six specific proposals based on my talks with farmers throughout the 19th Congressional District. Last week's column included the first three of these proposals; this week I'll discuss the remaining points.

The fourth point is that Federal Crop Insurance must provide fair yield coverage at a reasonable premium. Our farmers' extreme vulnerability to weather makes low coverage and high premiums impractical. The FCIC has begun to address this problem, but it must consider new procedures to lessen the penalty now placed on farmers when they can least afford it—after they have suffered several losses in a row caused by weather or other factors outside their control.

Fifth, the Maximum Payment Limitation should be increased. Much has changed since the $50,000 limitation was introduced several years ago. The current limitation forces too many producers to go off the program. This not only deprives these farmers of the benefits of the program, it also encourages production undermining the purpose of the program.

The regulation allowing farmers to "get back" a percentage of the ACR acres over the limit is not a fair substitute for the dollars lost. The limitation should be raised to a level that protects the family farm concept and encourages greater program participation.

And sixth, increasing exports must be a top priority for future farm policy. To attain a market price necessary for a reasonable profit, farmers have two options: Produce less or sell more. Federal policy can help increase foreign sales by providing education and training to farmers and farm groups on the techniques of selling our products, at a profit, on the world market. This training could more than pay for itself by reducing the burden on other farm bill programs.

Although each representative had specific concerns, there was a common goal expressed throughout the meeting with Secretary Block: We need a farm policy that realizes farmers must make a profit to survive, a policy that gives every farmer a fair shake on government programs. I believe that we must work together, in meetings like the one in Dallas, to achieve that goal with new farm legislation in 1985.

I'd like to hear your comments on these and other proposals for fair and effective farm policy. Write to me at 1606 Avenue X, Lubbock, 79401.

Archbishop to offer Mass Sunday at San Jose Church

Archbishop Robert Sanchez of Santa Fe will offer the 9 o'clock Mass at San Jose Church in Texico on Sunday, Aug. 26. Bishop Sanchez will celebrate the Mass and preach during the service.

After Mass, there will be a reception in the parish hall for the Archbishop. His schedule calls for another Mass at Guadalupe in Clovis at 11 MDT. All are invited to the Mass and reception.

The new pastor of San Jose, Father Joyce Finnigan, OFM, will assist the bishop in his visitation.

Archbishop Sanchez, a native of Belen, N.M., was ordained Bishop on July 25, 1974. At the time, he was pastor of San Felipe Church in Albuquerque. Bishop Sanchez completed his studies for the priesthood in Rome.

During the past ten years, Archbishop Sanchez has endeared himself to the people of New Mexico by his kindness and pastoral approach. On Christmas Day of 1983, he was involved in a near-tragic auto-bile accident. He is gradually recovering from the effects of this accident.

Former Trib news editor completes C of C course

Mary Sobin, manager for governmental affairs, business services and military affairs for the Virginia Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, recently completed a week's Institute for Organization Management at the University of Delaware. Over 400 voluntary organization executives from all over the country participated in this professional development program.

Mary is a former News Editor for the State Line Tribune.

The Delaware Institute is one of six annual, one-week sessions sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at leading universities throughout the country. Other universities that host Institutes are Notre Dame, University of Georgia, Southern Methodist University, San Jose, and the University of Colorado.

During the five-day session, participants spent 27 classroom hours in the Institute course of study, which is designed to assist voluntary organization executives improve the knowledge and skills necessary to enhance the effectiveness of their organization.

The Institute curriculum includes coursework in management philosophy, interpersonal processes, government, law and organization structure; as well as in more contemporary issues such as economic and environmental concerns. Each participant may attend progressive levels of the program throughout his/her professional career.

University professors chosen to serve as faculty are distinguished authorities in their fields. Additional courses are led by top-level Chamber of Commerce and Association executives, making the faculty unique in its depth and range of knowledge and experience.

"BIGGER THAN MANY STATE FAIRS"

J. W. Ellison family has annual reunion

Each year, the first weekend of August, the J.W. Ellison clan gets together for a family reunion in the Lincoln National Forest near Nogal, N.M., at the mountain cabin of the Buck Ellisons of Bovina. This year the Ellison family celebrated the 23rd family reunion.

At the annual reunion, church services are held, and each year a different family member leads the services. Along with the church services family members participate in various sporting events.

This year, the reunion began with a golf tournament Friday, Aug. 3, at the End of the Mountain Gods. Jay Glover of Alamogordo, N.M., was winner of this tournament.

On Saturday, Aug. 4, the other tournaments started with the finals finishing about midnight. The winners were: "42," Mary Lee Tidenburg and Sheri Bowers; Women's Horseshoes, Kathy Grissom and Peggy Baker; Men's Horseshoes, Melvin Terry and Ellison Glover, Couple's Horseshoes, Jay Glover and Kathy Grissom; Ping Pong, Murray and Jay Glover; Washers, Scott Sims; and Wahoo, Cindy Walls and Pat Read.

Sixty-nine persons attending the reunion were Buck and Dorothy Ellison, Pat Read, Tom and Nannie Rhodes, George and Bessie Trimble, and Thomas and Virginia Rhodes, all of Bovina; Howard and June Ellison of Nogal, N.M.; Aubra and Ruby Ellison of Brownwood; J.R. and Ellen Ellison of Brenham;

Also, Johnny and Lucille Glover, Ellison, Doris, Murray, Jay and Kristi Glover, Roger and LeAnn Holt, and Lou Bradley, all from Alamogordo; Dorothy, Scott, Mike, Dalene, Ryan, Pat, Susanne, Brandon and Dusty Sims; Mark, Susan, Elaine, Lou, Karen, John, Mark, Moudy, and Brandon Mullins, and Jay Sims, all of Happy;

And, Larry and Margie Warren from San Antonio; Ragan and Rhonda Armstrong of Roswell; Kathy Grissom of Lubbock; J.B., Peggy, and Wesley Baker of Corpus Christi; Melvin and Lois Terry of Lubbock; Roger, Sherri, Jennifer and John Bowers of Lubbock;

Also, Cindy and Crystal Walls of Clovis, Kenneth, Shella, Jason, and Shawna Early of Lubbock; Mary Lee and Rusty Tidenburg of Albuquerque; and Mickey, Shirley, and Kimberly Ellison of Plains.

"THE ELLISON CLAN"

There's a place in the mountains way high in the hills.
It's stocked with God's comforts, no fancies or frills.
Its forest are beauties; straight up is the sky.
The air clean and cool, the spring seldom dry.
But there is something different, bout this mountain land.
There's a tribe in those hills called, "The Ellison Clan."

This family's so blessed, and they're grateful as well;
There's babes and young and those that won't tell.
Every year bout midsummer, there's a longing to meet
All the Uncles and Aunties and Cousins to greet.
They've planned a reunion as an annual affair.
And they make every effort to be counted there.

They come from the cities, small towns and the farms.
There's new babes each year to delight with their charms.
Now when they get started, the roads with them fill,
You'd think the world's fair was being held in those hills.
The first ones are glad, cause they want to see
Who's going to be next to come round those trees
There's pickups and campers; motorhomes and vans
Auto's are bulging: A real Caravan.

When they round that last curve and yell "There she is!"
The sign says, "No Gal Inn," but usually there is.
There's greetings and hugs and beds to be made
But also there's time for a chat in the shade.
Food must be prepared and you'll get your turn
If some say they can't they're just fixin to learn.
They gather in bunches; most have stories to tell
But they cut it off short when they hear that ole bell.

The food is bountiful, delicious and fine;
The kings of this world would be pleased to dine.
They eat till they're filled; believe me that's plenty Even those in their seventies eat like they're twenty.
Not only the foods past words we could tell
Would you believe these folks have an artesian well?

There are games of all kinds; whatever's your pleasure.
But the Clan's greatest joy: just being together.
There's songs and there's laughter, but seldom a tear.
They bring many things but no worries brought here.
The Mountains seem happy, the joy you can't miss
Some hills never witness a gathering like this.
A big Campfire at night and we'll make a vow,
If your story's not told you'll tell it bout now.
Go to bed when you choose, the time they don't tell
But if you're gonna eat breakfast you'll arise with that bell.

The Sundays are special, the Lord's day you know.
So they gather their families and to church they go.
There's no pretty building, no carpet so fine.
But it's great to meet there in the chapel of the pines.
God's blessings are many of this they're aware
As they worship with scripture, with hymns and with prayer.

Yes the time passes swiftly, it draws to a close.
But there's been a refreshing of body and soul.
They think about leaving, the word passes round
For they must return, to those farms and towns.
Goodbyes must be said, but they're said with no tears
For with each goodbye there's a "see you next year."

They lead busy lives, so that time won't be long
These hills are too quiet with everyone gone.
As the months pass us by and it's midsummer again
The excitement of another reunion begins.
Once again cars are packed to get ready to go.
New stories to tell and new babies to show.
There's a long trail a winding with autos and vans
Wake up sleeping hills; tis "THE ELLISON CLAN."

Cookies send scouts to camp

Standing in front of the welcome sign at the camp site in Mayhill, N.M., are five girls from Farwell Junior Scout Troop No. 335. Thanks to the success of the Girl Scout cookie sales, two of the girls were able to attend the camp last month totally free, and the others attended at reduced prices. The Scouts expressed thanks to the Farwell area for their support. Pictured, from left, are Joy Morton, Brandy Martin, Priscilla Galvan, Heather Burton, and Amy Foster.

Laz. Young Homemakers 'fix-up' school playground

Lazbuddie Young Homemakers held a community playground "fix-up" day on Saturday, Aug. 18, at Lazbuddie School.

Club members provided a lunch and an afternoon snack of sandwiches, cookies, and drinks.

Several members of the club, their husbands, some of the teachers, Superintendent Joe Hall, and Elementary Principal Charles Beam donated their time and efforts to the building of new playground equipment for Lazbuddie elementary students.

The work was supervised by Principal Beam, who provided the ideas for and designed the new play area. The Young Homemakers were given old tractor and automobile tires from James Crane Tire Company in Muleshoe and from Lucky's Tire Service in Friona. These were used to create five new playground sections.

The Homemakers donated the necessary supplies, and Skip Magby and Rick Copp picked up and delivered the tires to the playground.

Several people who worked all day on the projects were: Skip and Debbie Magby, Bobby and Debra Redwine, Janice Bradshaw, Kirby and Vickie Burch, Marca Morris, and Charles Beam.

Other willing workers were Rick and Mandi Seaton, Superintendent Hall, Reta Mimms, Hap Elliott, Carl Bodiford, and Coach Steve Harris.

A spokesperson for the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers said, "The Lazbuddie community owes these people a debt of gratitude for their hard work which will benefit us all. We want to give special recognition to Lazbuddie's elementary principal, Charles Beam, for his dedication to this project, and to Superintendent Joe Hall."

Special services slated at Okla. Lane Methodist

Special services are scheduled at Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church beginning this Sunday, Aug. 26, and continuing through Wednesday, Aug. 29. Jerry and Kathy Kunkel will lead the services of renewal and commitment.

Services will begin each evening at 7 o'clock. A special youth service will be held Monday at 6 p.m. prior to the regular service, and will include a snack supper.

Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, the United Methodist men will host a breakfast meeting, and on Wednesday, there will be a potluck fellowship luncheon at 11 a.m.

Rev. Kunkel is pastor of Petersburg United Methodist Church and his wife, Kathy, is an accomplished musician in voice, piano, and woodwinds.

Rev. R. Joel Ware and the congregation invites everyone to attend the special services and music.

Relatives visit

Visiting last week in the home of Bessie Landrum in Farwell were her niece, Gail Bradshaw; her sister-in-law, Arlene Hogland; and her stepsister-in-law, Cottie Stevens and children Adam and Nathan, all from Dallas.

Marriage license

Only one marriage license was issued from the Parmer County Clerk's office since the past report.

It went to Daniel Ray Callaway and Phylcia Ann Hall.

Junior Girl Scouts attend N. M. camp

Five girls from Farwell Junior Scout Troop No. 335 attended camp at Mayhill, N.M. last month. While there, the girls worked on their requirements toward earning scout badges.

Leader Sudie Foster said that due to the success of the Girl Scout cookie sales in the Farwell area, some of the girls were able to attend the camp totally free, while the others attended at reduced prices.

The Junior Girl Scouts expressed thanks to all those in the area for their support in purchasing the Girl Scout cookies.

Two of the scouts, Amy Foster and Heather Burton, attended the camp for the second year, entitling them to the outpost section. They slept in tree hammocks and earned their hiking badges.

The other three scouts, Priscilla Galvan, Brandy Martin, and Joy Morton, slept in tree tents, reports Mrs. Foster.

Activities enjoyed while there were horseback riding, hiking, and learning the skills of outdoor cooking.

Brian Ecksteins visit in area

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Eckstein, Holly, Cindy, and Tammy arrived in Farwell August 3 to visit with her parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Embry and Eldon and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Embry, Rachel and Brandon.

The Ecksteins also visited with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Engelking and J.E. Embry in Muleshoe.

The Weldon Embrys hosted a dinner on Sunday, Aug. 12, where all of the Floyd Embrys and the Ecksteins were present.

The Eckstein family also visited with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Eckstein and Nan of Portales.

To return for visit

Margaret Lanham, former Texico resident, now living in Oakland, Calif., has sent word that she is planning a trip to Texico-Farwell sometime in October to see all of her friends and relatives, on her way to Oklahoma.

She hopes to be accompanied by her granddaughter, Tammy Mandt, and her new great-granddaughter, Crystal Beth Mandt. Crystal Beth was born August 14 in a close race with the stork to the hospital, an experience Margaret says she will never forget. The little girl weighed six pounds, eight ounces.

"I hope to see everyone when we get there. So much news to catch up on," writes Margaret.

Grandson here

Craig Wahl of Michigan City, Ind., will be spending this school year in Farwell with his grandparents, Leonard and Wyvonna Haney. Craig, age nine, will be in the fourth grade.

Anniversary reminder

Claude and Hattie Coffey of Farwell will be honored on their 50th Wedding Anniversary with a reception this Sunday, Aug. 26, from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church in Farwell.

Hosting the celebration will be their children and grandchildren, Jimmy and Martha Peoples and children of Lubbock and David and Mary Potter and children of El Paso.

No local invitations are being sent, but everyone is invited to attend the reception. The couple requests no gifts, please.

Hospital notes

Hugh Moseley of Farwell has been returned to Amarillo where he is confined at High Plains Baptist Hospital for further medical treatment and tests.

Gerra Dudley of Farwell will be admitted Friday to John Sealey Hospital in Galveston for medical tests.

Debbie Boone of Farwell is confined to Clovis High Plains Hospital for medical tests.

Visit Stephens

Spending a day recently with Steve and Leesa Stephens and daughter in Farwell were their good friends, Rhoda and Earl Arlin of Albuquerque.

Sodium perborate, available at the drugstore, is a safe bleach for cotton, linen, wool and rayon.

LEPA irrigation in county

Low Energy Precision Application (LEPA) irrigation continues to show its advantages to High Plains irrigators in field demonstrations of the highly efficient method. One of the dozen demonstrations over West Texas is located on the Phil Johnson farm in Parmer County. Phil is co-operating on the demonstration with Gary Patterson, county Extension agent.

The precisely planned system mostly demonstrated in one span of existing center pivot sprinklers applies water approximately six-inches from the ground. The low application protects the water from adversities of traditional west Texas winds.

Water pressure in the sprinkler can be lower too because individual application patterns are only 12 to 18 inches in diameter. Both features are highly beneficial to area farmers who are in the midst of increasing energy costs and declining water supplies.

The LEPA concept which was developed and researched by Dr. Bill Lyle, with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station can effectively apply 98 percent of the irrigation water. Water losses from standard impact sprinklers and spray nozzles are believed to average 20 to 25 percent.

The water saving is either available for crop use which is often needed where insufficient irrigation water is limiting crop production or where irrigation is sufficient, the extra water can be left underground for future use. An additional 100 to 150 gpm has made a difference in crop yields where water is limited.

Lower water pressure can reduce fuel consumption and cost 15 to 20 percent below that of most typical center pivot sprinklers according to Leon New, Extension Agricultural Engineer who has coordinated the LEPA demonstrations. On level ground, only six to eight psi are needed at the pivot point, New said.

Differences in ground elevation must be designed into the system to provide adequate pressure for uniform irrigation regardless of where the unit is located in the circle it makes. Of course, the main pipeline of the system must be large enough that friction loss is minimized too, New said.

A big boost to the demonstrations is the availability and contributions of special LEPA nozzles by manufacturers. At least three major sprinkler and spray head manufacturers now have LEPA nozzles on the market. LEPA utilizes standard sprinkler drops and these companies have helped, too.

The demonstrations include LEPA drops in every row and every other row of crops grown on 30- and 40-inch beds. Yield was no more where drops were in every other row in 1983. The additional demonstrations in 1984 will help verify how close the LEPA drops must be. Corn, milo, sugar beets, cotton, wheat and alfalfa are being grown in the LEPA demonstrations.

A disadvantage of the LEPA irrigation method can be that the water is dumped into the furrow. A quarter-mile center pivot with 1100 gpm and with LEPA drops in every other furrow will apply nine gpm in the furrows toward the end of the machine. In this case, runoff may occur especially on sloping ground. Water from center pivots that apply 500 to 600 gpm can usually be held by the water furrows.

Lyle's research and development of LEPA included furrow dikes. However, many corn growers will not use furrow dikes because of fear of not being able to harvest corn should it fall between the dikes. Dikes are a natural combination with LEPA and sprinkler irrigation in cotton, sugar beets and other low profile crops.

Growers who are cooperating on the LEPA demonstrations and do not use dikes are improving water penetration into the soil by chiseling 8 to 12 inches in the furrow after the crop is up, plowing crop residue back into the soil, making beds a little higher and using other tillage practices. Farming in a circle, which is essential with LEPA, channels water in the furrows and with adequate bed height especially on sloping ground provides additional time for water to move into the soil.

Cost of the material to convert existing quarter-mile center pivot sprinklers is as low as $2,000 where low pressure nozzles are already installed on drops and connected into the mainline pipeline every ten feet and 30- or 60-inch beds are used. Material to convert a sprinkler presently equipped with impact sprinklers where beds are spaced 40- or 80-inches is likely to be $8000 or more.

If the cost of conversion to LEPA can be paid for by greater yield in a single year, as was the case at one demonstration location in 1983, it's a good deal. Some center pivot manu-

Farwell Steers to collide in new district this year

The Farwell Steers will take the field this season in a new district which will pit the Steers against some new opponents plus some former district foes.

In the bi-annual shuffle by the statewide governing body of high school athletics, Farwell has been moved from Class AA to Class A. The classifications are based on high school enrollment for two years. Schools with 134 high school students or less will participate in Class 1A, while those with 135 to 274 students compete in Class 2A. The classes are then divided into zones.

In football, Farwell will compete in District 2-1A, North Zone, and in basketball will be playing in District 5-1A.

Farwell's football North Zone district includes Happy, Kress, Lazbuddie, Nazareth, Vega, and Farwell. Composing the South Zone in the same district will be Anton, Amherst, Smyer, Sudan, Sundown, and Whiteface.

Farwell Steers will start their season with a scrimmage tonight (Friday) when the Plains Cowboys come to town to show just how far pre-season workouts have progressed for both teams. The scrimmage will begin at 6 p.m.

Coach Monte Barnes says the team is ready for action. "We should be pretty well ready to hit someone other than ourselves. We have yet to open up. We seem to know our assignments without any pressure. We need the competition."

The coach added he was pleased with the two-a-day workouts so far, "although it's hard to tell until we get the pads on." He expressed disappointment with the lack of turnout by some of the younger players. He says some good young players have not as yet shown up for the sessions.

The list of potential players working out for a place on the Steer varsity is as follows:

Freshmen are Damon George, 5'6", 130 lbs., quarterback and defensive back; Stephen Geries, 5'6", 135 lbs., guard and defensive tackle; and Joe Jaime, 5'9", 140 lbs., running back and defensive back.

Sophomores are Homer Andaldia, 5'6", 170 lbs., guard and defensive tackle; Martin Arguelles, 5'8", 135 lbs., wide receiver and defensive back; Raymond Ausburn, 5'8", 125 lbs., tight end and defensive back; Sean Childers, 5'6", 105 lbs., wide receiver and defensive back; Daniel Hutchins, 5'9", 250 lbs., tackle and defensive tackle;

Also, Jason Schilling, 5'6", 125 lbs., running back and defensive back; Carey Stancell, 6'1", 245 lbs., tackle and defensive lineman; Robbie White, 5'11", 170 lbs., center and defensive end; and David Woods, 5'8", 160 lbs., quarterback and defensive back.

Juniors are Jesse Anzaldua, 5'10", 215 lbs., tackle and defensive tackle; Kindall Coates, 5'11", 170 lbs., guard and linebacker; Bobby Ford, 5'7", 145 lbs., running back and linebacker; Leonard Hillock, 5'8", 150 lbs., center and linebacker; Steven Jamie, 5'11", 155 lbs., tight end and defensive back;

Also, Blake Kelley, 5'8", 150 lbs., quarterback and defensive back; Eddie Longley, 5'10", 160 lbs., running back and linebacker; Kevin Owen, 6', 175 lbs., running back and linebacker; Allan Spence, 5'9", 160 lbs., running back and defensive back; Eric Williams, 6'2", 150 lbs., split end and defensive back; and Rusty Stover, 5'7", 145 lbs., running back and linebacker.

Seniors are Todd Davis, 5'9", 155 lbs., guard and linebacker; Allen Kalbas, 6', 160 lbs., center and defensive end; Todd Lingnau, 6'2", 235 lbs., tackle and defensive lineman; Felix Lucio, 5'8", 135 lbs., split end and defensive back;

Also, Roger Robertson, 5'9", 175 lbs., running back and defensive back; Sammy Sanchez, 5'10", 155 lbs., tight end and defensive back; Ricky Sikes, 5'10", 160 lbs., guard and defensive back; and Brian White, 5'9", 150 lbs., center and defensive back.

Farwell coaching staff

ton. Coach Barnes said he is pleased with the pre-season football workouts and is looking forward to the scrimmage tonight [Friday] with the Plains Cowboys at Steer stadium at 6 p.m. The Steers' season opener will be at Wilson on September 7.

Block plans early announcement of feed grain program

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15-Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said today he will announce details of the 1985 feed grain program soon after the September crop production estimates are released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"This will be the earliest in the history of farm programs that farmers learn the details of a USDA acreage reduction program," Block said. "This early announcement will give farmers the additional time they need to make intelligent decisions in marketing their 1984 crop and planning production for 1985." Block said the program details would be made public as soon as he and other USDA officials analyze the September 12 crop production estimates.

THE CROPS
We have conversed with a gentleman recently from Red River above the Raft, who gives cheering intelligence respecting the cotton and other crops in those sections of the country, both in Texas and Arkansas, where there have been no late rains or storms, and a more favorable season has never been known. The crops in eastern Texas are uninjured and the hopes of the planters most gladdening. We wish we could say the same about the cotton crop of this Parish, we fear it is much injured by the rot. Texas cotton begins slowly to arrive, and our merchants are on the qui vive for a large and profitable business this season. Natchitoches after this will be a 'place.'

Irrigation . . .

facturers offer selective mainline outlet spacings on new center pivot machines. This is a definite advantage for LEPA irrigation.

The water and energy conserving features and potential yield increases of LEPA irrigation are sufficient that the systems' fullest application and use is being investigated. We don't know how much water can be applied in a furrow that is in a circle without runoff, New said.

"It depends on a lot of factors but we are trying to successfully adapt the LEPA method to its fullest application to West Texas farmers."

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION ("The Cooperative") intends to change the design of its Irrigation Rate and its Cotton Gin Rate. The Cooperative is not requesting additional revenue from either of these two classification of service. The filing is to change only the method of collecting the annual revenue amounts presently approved by The Public Utility Commission.

The proposed changes in the Irrigation Rate are as follows:
The facilities charge of $7.50 per installed horsepower per year which is billed in twelve (12) equal installments will remain unchanged.

The present demand charge of $5.00 per operating horsepower for April through September is proposed to be changed to be $22.80 per installed horsepower during the on-peak season, which shall be billed in six (6) equal installments from April through September billing months. Customers shall have the option of requesting that the electric meter be disconnected for the entire on-peak season, in which case the customer will not be assessed the demand charge, provided that a written request is received by the Cooperative prior to the end of the customer's March billing month. The Cooperative will reconnect the customer's meter after the end of the on-peak season, if so requested by the customer, at no charge to the customer.

The present demand charge of $2.00 per operating horsepower for October through March is proposed to be changed to read "no demand charge for installed horsepower for the off-peak period from October through March billing months."

The present energy charge of $0.04234 per KWH per month is proposed to be changed to $0.04247 per KWH per month. It is proposed to eliminate the present energy charge of $0.0719 per KWH for non-irrigation usage.

It is further proposed to determine the installed horsepower to be the manufacturer's motor nameplate rating, but for billing purposes this shall not be less than five (5) H.P. for the three-phase service, and not less than three (3) H.P. for single-phase service.

The proposed changes in the Cotton Gin Rate are as follows:
For the Ginning Season (October - March)

Customer charge of $75.00 per month unchanged.
The present demand charge of $3.00 per KW of billing demand per month is proposed to be changed to no billing demand per month.
The present energy charge of $0.0531 per KWH per month is proposed to be $0.0645 per KWH per month.
The annual minimum charge of $15.00 per KW of peak demand and the non-ginning season (April - September) rates will be unchanged.

With these proposed changes, the date the irrigation and cotton gin meters are read will make no difference in the bills.

The proposed changes are applicable to all irrigation customers and all cotton gin customers of the Cooperative.

The classes and number of Cooperative customers affected are as follows:

COTTON GIN	25

Implementation of the proposed changes is subject to approval by the appropriate regulatory authority. A statement of intent including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located at 305 East Avenue B, Muleshoe, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Coach says Texico Wolverines 'ready'

With strong senior leadership and the squad's good attitude, the Texico Wolverine varsity football team is ready to go, said Head Coach Dave Lynn.

Last week's two-a-day workouts produced more than expected, with good offensive and defensive progress in the limited practice sessions, said Coach Lynn.

"I'm pleased to see the good attitude of all the players, and also to see the sophomores contributing," said the coach. "The seniors have shown strong leadership so far, and I appreciate the good efforts and attitudes that they have put forth." Seniors are Danny Powell, quarterback; Doug Thornton, line-backer and offensive lineman prospect; Charles Sharbutt, defensive tackle and tackle; Billy Bibbs, tail-back and linebacker; and Ronnie Galvan, noseguard and fullback prospect.

Coach Lynn said that he's looking forward to a challenging season of Wolverine football, and reminds all fans that Friday, Aug. 31, at 6 p.m. MDT, Dexter will be at Texico for a scrimmage.

Texico coaches

"The Wolverines are ready to go," said David Lynn, center, head football coach at Texico. He and assistant coaches Scott Parker, left, and Roy King are looking forward to a good season this year for their defending state champion Wolverines. The team will test its mettle next Friday night, Aug. 31, in a scrimmage with Dexter at Texico, beginning at 6 p.m. MDT.

Texico athletic boosters plan season's activities

Texico Wolverine Athletic Booster Club met Monday night for its first session of this school year and planned the season's sports events.

The boosters will host a watermelon feast on Friday, Aug. 31, for players, cheerleaders, parents and fans. The feast will take place following the Wolverine scrimmage with Dexter.

Main topic of discussion at Monday's meeting was the selling of ads for the Wolverine sports calendar. Booster club members will soon be contacting area businesses soliciting sponsorship for the sports schedules. Price of the ads this year will be $20 for a listing on one side, or $30 for listings on both sides.

Booster members also remind students who participated in the Lift-A-Thon earlier this year, and who have not collected all of their pledges, to please do so, as only half of the pledges have been turned in.

The club has set the next meeting on September 4 for election of officers for the coming year.

Present officers of the Wolverine Athletic Booster Club are James Holland, president; Kathy Morris, vice-president; Donna Reid, secretary; and Weldon Smith, treasurer.

Meetings are set the first Tuesday night of each month at 7:30 o'clock Mountain Time in the school library.

Club members encourage everyone to join and support the athletic programs, and especially invite parents of the athletes to come and get involved. Membership dues are $5 per year.

Trapper Dorris

Former Texico resident Splinter Dorris holds a trap which he used 30 years ago to trap lions. A former government hunter and trapper for the U.S. Wildlife Service, Splinter not only hunted and trapped lions, but bobcats and bears as well. He is now composing a book of stories about his days as a hunter.

Former Texico resident recording his memories

by Arlene High
Reflecting back on fond memories is something we all do, it's as natural as breathing to recall the good old days of our life.

No exception to this theory is former Texico resident, Splinter Dorris, now residing in Clovis. Yet one difference in Splinter's recall is that he has been keeping record of his past by writing down his thoughts and then using a recorder to tape his memories for preservation.

For many years Splinter was a government hunter and trapper for the U.S. Wildlife Service in New Mexico. Most of his storytelling is of the great challenges he faced while trapping and hunting wild animals such as lions, bobcats, and bears.

Since the day that he can remember walking, Splinter says he was shooting a gun. He admits he got more whippings for slipping off to go hunting than he ever did for leaving a gate open.

A tremendous sense of humor and a "tell it just like it is" attitude make up the biggest part of this man's personality. He refers to himself as just a typical ole country boy.

Thirty stories of his trials and mishaps are already in book form, many more in long hand, and probably just as many still to come to mind. His goal is one day to see all his stories in print, perhaps with a continuing series of short stories on the outdoor life.

About 10 years ago, Splinter lived in Texico. For a few years he leased a section of land from a local rancher and ran cattle on wheat pasture, once again going back to nature.

The early days of Splinter's life can be traced back to Beaver County, Oklahoma, where he first became addicted to fishing, hunting, and all outdoor life. Having some Cherokee Indian blood, he believes there was practically no chance for him not to prefer the country style of living.

Splinter's family came to Curry County in 1912 and most of his adult life he has lived in New Mexico. He is married to the former Hester Ingram, whose family were pioneers of the area.

His four sons are Jack of Purcell, Okla., Cone of Yuma, Ariz., Jay of Flagstaff, Ariz., and Curtis of Crested Butte, Colo.

Splinter has spent quite a few years in law enforcement offices both in New Mexico and Texas. He was with the Clovis Police Department for three years, the Kermit, Tex. Police Department for four years, and served as Justice of Peace in Gallup, N.M., for a period of time.

Reading the stories of the adventures of this hunter and trapper, one gets carried away with the sense of being in danger. With his unique way of recalling the exact happening of a bear hunt, somehow you almost feel the presence of a bear nearby.

Titles of a few of his stories best give a sample of his "hopeful" book. The titles are Mules for Uncle Sam, Ruffing It Out, Cactus Bucks, Waggoner Ranch Bobcats, N.T. Baco Horses, Killer Eagles, A Bear at Horse Thief Gap, and A Bear, A Rock, and the Game Warden.

His stories make amusing and interesting reading. A truly special sense of humor shows through. To do his writing justice, below is his letter of introduction which he has written to acquaint readers with his life.

Splinter lives by a simple rule of life that best expresses his true character. A prayer taken from his ancestors is simply known as an Indian's Prayer. "Great Spirit, grant that I may not criticize my neighbor until I walked a mile in his moccasins."

At any age, to see someone have a dream and a goal in life is something we all admire but to see a man at age 70 keep on reaching for his rainbow is even more commendable.
