

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

Where have you gone, Lone Ranger?

I was really hard up the other day: I actually watched a TV sitcom.

There's not much on television nowadays that I enjoy watching. I like a good football, baseball or basketball match. And some movies are nice to fall asleep to.

But most TV shows are too cutesy and have such little depth that I grimace while I watch. In other words, they're dumb. One popular private eye recently, for example, beat the heck out of a bad guy although the shamus had taken a bullet about one inch from his heart the day beforehand. C'mon, now, who are they kidding?

Actually, I long for the good, old days when TV was TV. Can any of these modern shows hold a candle to Playhouse 90? If it wasn't for some of the British productions that periodically come across the ocean, there wouldn't be much decent on.

In fact, take a look at your TV schedule. They are still showing old episodes of Alfred Hitchcock, I Love Lucy and Andy Griffith. I don't blame them; they're better than the pulp (with all its jiggling) that's being produced now.

I'm still waiting for shows like "My Little Margie" and "Howdy Doody" to return. And remember "What's My Line", "Toast of the Town", "Wednesday Night Boxing" and "The Milton Berle Show"?

Then there were the personalities: Arthur Godfrey and Julius LaRosa; Mary Hartline and her tigers; Hoppy; Perry Como and Dinah Shore; Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca -- and wrestling.

I wonder what ever happened to Verne Gagne, Johnny Valentine, Moose Cholak, Killer Kowalski, or the Hawaiian Rubber Man?

And roller derby. Remember its big fling on TV? Years ago, I had the nerve to write that roller derby wasn't purely aboveboard and that it was an exhibition, not a real sport. Boy, did I get the letters.

Let's face it. Commercial TV today is on the downhill. Cable TV is moving up rapidly, which I am glad to see. I've had a strong distaste for the way the commercial networks (ABC, NBC and CBS) have manipulated us and our children in their run for the Almighty Dollar.

That's not to say there are some decent shows nowadays. The producers of Sesame Street and Mr. Rogers Neighborhood are to be commended, for example. But for the most part, commercial TV has left educational aspects to public television. Maybe, that's a good thing.

And I would be remiss not to mention the news broadcasts. I'm sure some folks consider them objective. I'm not among them. These broadcasters are little more than show biz personalities who need to maintain their ratings. There's no better way to hike your TV ratings than by being controversial.

So that's the name of the TV news game: Controversy si, objectivity no.

If you disagree, just get a notepad and watch the TV news tonight. Mark an "X" next to each controversial topic and a "Z" next to any positive features.

You be the judge.

Perfect 12

Lonnie McFarland, manager of the Sherley-Anderson Grain Co. at Lariat, won the fourth week of the football contest by getting all 12

McFarland hits a perfect 12

You've heard of a perfect 10?

Well, Lonnie McFarland of Lariat scored a perfect 12 to win the fourth contest week in the 26th annual Area Merchants Football Contest.

McFarland was the only entrant last week to get the correct score on each game. He received a check for $7.50 for his effort.

Ten contestants scored 11 of 12 correct. The winner of the second-prize $5 check was Gaye Roberts, who was only seven points off the tiebreaker (Jan 27, Texico 0).

Gaye is the wife of Billy Roberts, who was the contest winner last week. Success must run in the family.

Others with 11 correct were Cheryl Burton, Earlene Porter, Christy Pena, Scott Parker, Jim Parker, Michael Littlejohn, Ann Liethen, Julian Jaime and Janene Berry.

Here are the leaders for the grand prize of the 12-week contest thus far:

Mona Hardage, 36 points; Ann Liethen, Gay Goetsch, Colleen Stover and James Williams, 35 points; and Charles Dannheim, Mami Howard, Craig Kaltwasser, Michael Littlejohn, E.M. Lonsdale Sr., Kim Norton, Earlene Porter, Gaye Roberts, Jerry Stover and Jennifer Williams, all with 34 points.

Mona Hardage led last week with 28 points, and maintained her lead by getting 8 right this time around.

So far, 381 persons have entered this year's competition. Each contestant can have only one entry. Persons can still enter the contest -- entry blanks are on the contest page in today's newspaper and are available at the Tribune office.

Totals are on display at the Tribune office weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

All entrants must be 12 years of age or older.

All entries must be turned in at the Tribune office before 5 p.m. Friday (today) or, if mailed, bear a Friday postmark.

The grand prize will be two ducats to the Dallas Cowboys-Washington Redskins game Dec. 9 in Dallas. The prize also includes lodging at the Regent Hotel, transportation to and from the stadium and $50 spending money -- to the person with the most points at the end of the remaining eight weeks.

Results of games last week were: Farwell over Bovina, Friona over Muleshoe, Sudan over Lazbuddie, Clovis over Eldorado, Baylor over Texas Tech, Georgia Tech over Clemson, Iowa over Illinois, Texas over Penn State, Indianapolis over Buffalo, New England over New York Jets, Miami over St. Louis, and Dallas over Chicago.

Texico Parents Night features chuck wagon

An outdoor barbecue will be featured as part of Parents Night activities at Texico High School tonight (Friday).

The big event, of course, is the football game against Springer, at 7:30 p.m. MDT.

But the barbecue, held at the football field, will start at 6 p.m. and will feature red beans, barbecue, potato salad, homemade cobblers, coffee and tea. Capitol Foods is preparing the barbecue.

If the weather is bad, the barbecue will be held in the high school.

Tickets cost $3.50 at the gate for adults, and $2.50 at the gate for youths. If paid in advance, tickets are 50 cents less. The cost is $3 to Booster Club members. Tickets may be purchased from any Booster Club member or Mrs. Kittrell at the school.

Other features of Parents Night will include:

*Wolverine band, rifles and flags will perform at halftime.

*At 7:10 p.m., parents of the football players, cheerleaders, plus coaches wives will be introduced.

*The barbecue will feature an Old Western atmosphere, with a chuck wagon and hay available.

After the game, Texico will treat the Springer team to a meal in the high school cafeteria, a tradition for Parents Night opponents.

Plans for Parents Night were finalized at Tuesday's Booster Club meeting. The club, which also will hold a membership drive at Parents Night, meets again Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

84 sign petition for special election

Petitions recently placed in various businesses around Farwell have accumulated 84 names of persons in favor of holding a special election.

The petition asks for a special election "in order to change the present commission form of administration to an Aldermanic form, increasing the amount of commissioners by three, needed at least 60 signatures of qualified, registered voters within Farwell.

Now that the required amount of signatures have been obtained, David Kube said he will present the petitions to the mayor at the regular Farwell City Council Meeting on Monday, Oct. 8.

Kube said, "I'm really surprised we got as many names as we've got but I think we will still get more."

He said the names of all persons on the petitions will probably be checked at the council meeting to determine if they are all qualified; "If it's that way, the mayor will call for a special election which will probably be held a week or two after the general election in November."

Currently, Farwell has two city commissioners; the mayor votes in case of a tie. Kube is calling for a setup of five councilmen and a mayor.

"Some people are under the impression we're trying to get the two current councilmen out; that's not the case, we just want to add to them.

I feel like the city needs more representation. The two current commissioners are doing a fine job but there would be less pressure on them if we had more council members," Kube said.

Concerning the petition, Councilman Fred Chandler said, "Nobody has brought one around for me to see."

Councilman Jerry Monk could not be contacted for comment.

Texico's First Baptist expands services to seniors, widows

Future plans for the First Baptist Church of Texico are to minister to the community in the name of the Lord, Rev. Joel Horne said.

"Our church is attempting to minister to anyone who wishes to be a part of the Body of Christ; that is the reason that long-range planning is so difficult. You never know who the Lord will encourage through the doors next," Rev. Horne said.

The purchase of a bus, which has the capability of highway travel, is one addition which has excited many of the folks in the community. "This gives us the opportunity to expand our ministry to seniors and widows, as well as our family ministry," Rev. Horne said.

Texico Baptist had its beginnings in 1905 when a group of individuals met in the courthouse at Farwell to establish a church in Texico. Six letters of membership were submitted at that time.

Bro. W.C. Grant was elected to serve as pastor of the church on May 20, 1905 at which time the church was named the First Baptist Church of Texico.

Deacons of the church at that time were S.T. Jamerson and J.N. Williams.

On Dec. 6, 1906 plans were accepted for a building and $300 was subscribed and an application was made to the American Baptist Missionary Society for the money.

The new church was erected and accepted during conference on May 18, 1907.

Texico Baptist ordained its first group of deacons, Bros. S.F. Woodling, D.B. Lanford and Coke Hopping, in January of 1908 and in May of the same year the first woman's missionary society was formed.

In August of 1909 a motion was carried for the church to withdraw from New Mexico work and to join the Tierra Blanca Association of Texas.

It was in the summer of 1914 that pews and a piano were bought for the church. The items remained in the old building until it was demolished; a fire in 1915 damaged the church building.

In 1917 an addition was made to the auditorium and in 1927 a nursery and church office were added.

A new parsonage was purchased in January of 1960 and the old one was turned into a Spanish Mission. It was in 1963 that the red brick auditorium was constructed and later dedicated in 1965.

Treider: A man who knows how to 'trade'

Raymond Treider of Lazbuddie has turned construction work into an art to be proud of.

With about 30 years experience in this field, Treider said, "The main thing I want is when I leave a job to be able to come back and be proud of what I've done."

Treider is currently working on the Farwell Community Center which he has transformed from an old bowling alley into a modern building convenient for community activities.

"I've taken my time on this job; they said they were not in a hurry to get it finished and I'm taking my time and doing it right," Treider said.

Along with all the other major changes, Treider has laid 12,000 bricks on the inside of the building and 15,000 on the outside.

He not only does bricklaying but also, cabinet work, concrete, air conditioning and heating and just about everything else related to construction.

"I don't ever back off from anything; if you learn a lot of trades you have a better chance to work," he said.

Treider learned all of his trades "on the job" beginning when he was 16 years old and working with his grandfather.

Treider has done numerous jobs in the Farwell area including the renovation of the Farwell Clinic a few years back, and work at the Farwell Country Club swimming pool.

Editor's note: This is one article in a periodic series featuring a review of the area churches.

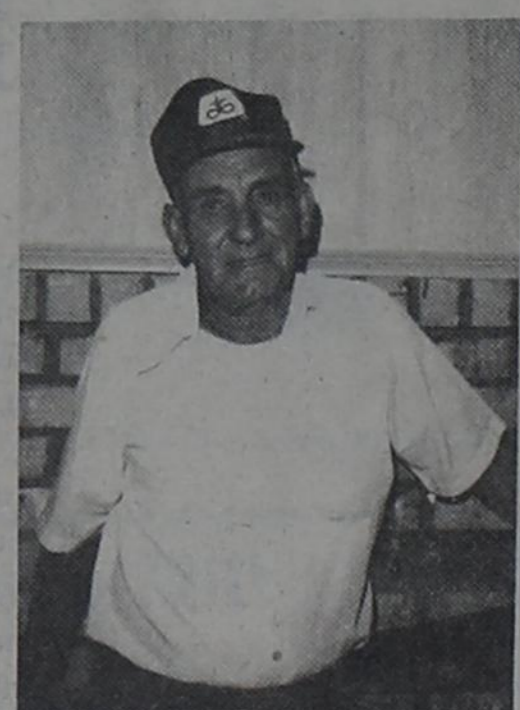

An Educational Complex, with six rooms and a library, was constructed in 1974. The building was built debt free with the help of members of the congregation. The men of the congregation did most of the construction work on the building themselves.

Rev. Horne came to the church on May 23, 1976.

Pastors which have served the church over the years are W.C. Grant, J.D. Ballard, W.T. Cantrell, J.F. Nix, H.P. Garret, H.B. Strickland and W.M. Couch.

Also, John Evans, H. Haywood, W.T. North Sr., W.C. Wright, Virgil Hunton Sr., E.M. Treadwell, O.D. Holiday, C.W. Field, C.C. Morgan and Orville Brantley.

And, Leroy Looper, John C. Summers and Joel Horne.

RAYMOND TREIDER

"They've asked me to do the addition to the Farwell Clinic and I sure want to do it. It just depends if I can make the time to get it done," he said.

Treider said, "It sure has been nice working for the people of Farwell; Joe Jones has been real cooperative and I think he has done a wonderful job of getting his project (the Community Center) together; the entire committee has been good."

Treider, born and raised in Lazbuddie, said, "I really enjoy my work. I love to take something beat-up and rundown and turn it into something worthwhile; I like a challenge."

Farwell Homecoming Royalty

Crowned as 1984 Homecoming king and queen for Farwell were Roger Robertson and Franka Bungarten.

The two were crowned at a pep rally last Friday, prior to the Homecoming game.

'Duck weather' blasts area

"Good duck weather" which hit the Farwell/Texico area last weekend shut down corn harvest activities from noon Saturday until 3 p.m. Sunday, according to Fred Chandler of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman of Farwell.

The cold and wet weekend slowed activities at Worley Mills of Farwell as well but reports from the elevator indicate that harvest is back underway.

Martin Chandler of the ASCS office said, "At this point the weather has slowed down the harvest; hopefully no severe damage has come from it."

He said every day longer the corn stands in the fields the more will fall. However, some of the fallen corn will be picked up with the combines.

Chandler said, "The crops I've seen received no major damage; they're still looking good."

Yields in Parmer County are expected to be pretty good, average or better. Chandler said approximately 50,000 acres of grain sorghum is expected to be harvested in the county and around 100,000 acres of cotton.

With the exception of cotton crops in the north end of the county, which has had some chemical problem, the cotton crops look excellent.

Credibility destroyed

In spite of the recent inclement weather we will again quote to you our favorite paean to October. We filched this a good number of years ago from Wes Izzard who will be remembered as the voice of the Panhandle with his A to Izzard column in the Amarillo G-N.

Oh suns and skies and clouds of June
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather.

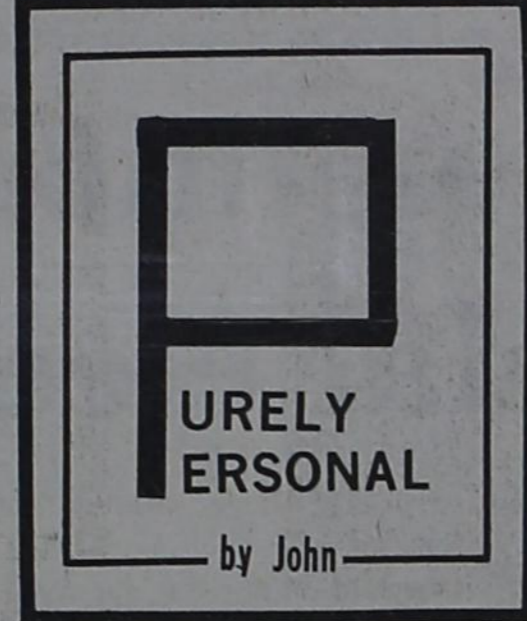

Those of you who just love to pay taxes can set this week aside to say "Thank You, Mark White." He has endeared himself to the taxpayers of Taxes, oops Texas, as presiding over the largest tax increase in this State's history.

We will issue the standard disclaimer and say that the views of this column are not necessarily the views of the management of this paper. To further clarify the origin of thought, the term "I" will be used in place of the editorial "We" that has been employed in the past.

The liberal television news media has assassinated what was left of public credibility in the impartiality of the press. Today's television news and special programs are blatantly anti-Reagan and pro-Mondale in tone, content, and presentation.

I had a friend who often said that he did not mind being lied to, but he bitterly resented it when they thought him too dumb to know it. I feel the same way about the television news broadcasters. I don't really mind them perverting the news, but I resent it when they assume that I am too dumb to know when they are so doing.

Of course they are playing the odds. The percentage of us who are a little long in the tooth and who have lived and remembered the times that they are distorting is small in comparison to the vast number of younger and less informed people in this country. Ignorance is bliss and there are a lot of happy folks in this country.

I think President Reagan missed the boat in bowing to political expedience and meeting with Gromyko. He should have taken the offensive and asked Mondale upon what evidence he would place trust in either the word of the Soviet government or Gromyko in particular.

Let me recall a little bit of the history that I have lived through and remember with a modest degree of clarity.

Gromyko was one of the parties involved in Joseph Stalin's infamous pact with Adolph Hitler that provided the elbow room Hitler needed to launch WW2. Gromyko was a participant in the WW2 conferences that led to an ailing American President effectively placing a score of nations under the heel of communist domination.

A little more up to date, Gromyko was the liar who sat across the desk from President John Kennedy and swore that there was no Russian rockets in Cuba as Kennedy had the photographs of the rockets on his very desk. Gromyko has been a signatory for the Soviet government on literally dozens of treaties and accords which the U.S.S.R has violated from the moment of signing.

Is it upon this dreary track record of nontruth and honesty that Reagan, Mondale and the TV moguls would place the safety and survival of the United States? Take the offensive Ronnie! I do not believe that the American public is as ready to risk their existence upon the word of such demonstrable prevaricators as the lords of our mass media would have you believe.

Inasmuch as you like to quote from previous Democratic Presidents, let me paraphrase one and say "Give 'em hell Ronnie."

Walter Freeman

Memories of old Texico

Walter Freeman, now of Clovis, is well acquainted with the Texico area and enjoys recalling memories of the days he spent there.

Freeman was born in Oklahoma and came to Texico when he was 10 years old. He and his family lived on a farm 20 miles north of the community.

"I remember crossing the railroad tracks in that old covered wagon; and the sidewalks at that time were made of boards," Freeman said.

"I remember a time when Texico, now dry, had 13 saloons. No women or anyone under 21 were allowed to go in them and there wasn't any bouncers - the bartenders just had six-shooters to back their authority."

Rumor has it, Freeman said, that at one time Pretty Boy Floyd spent the night in Texico and had a shoot-out with the local sheriff before leaving. "He was staying with a bootlegger friend that night," or so the story goes, Freeman said. man said.

From 1928 to 1963 Freeman worked as a barber and served 2 two-year terms as mayor, and was city clerk.

While mayor, Freeman appointed the first fire chief of Texico, I.F. Selman. "We took the fire department off pushcarts and motorized it," Freeman said.

The volunteers of the fire department underwent training while Freeman was mayor and "we even took two out of three water polo contests held in New Mexico; they have a nice fire department yet.

Also, while mayor, Freeman and the street department took caliche and hard-surfaced the streets up-town, around the schools and the

It was during this time that the water mains and fire plugs in the community were extended and installed. "We had no water lines to speak of when we started," he said.

Freeman said, "I had a long siege of being city clerk too, about 18 years." While serving as city clerk, he said, "We went through the government agencies and got the current City Hall built."

With the assistance of the Women's Club, the city took over the Texico cemetery and brought it up from "a weed patch" to its present status.

Freeman said while he was serving as city clerk, the city and the mayor worked to get the streets of Texico blacktopped and cooperated with the school board in building the school up. "I think that is something to be proud of," he said.

When asked his age, Freeman jokingly said, "I'm a day older than the United States." He is actually 86 years old, born July 3, 1898.

One change Freeman said he has seen in his lifetime is the way people rely more on the government for things.

"Back in the earlier days you had to be dependent on your own resources for survival; nowadays lots of people depend on the government."

Texico plans to buy used bulldozer

Marie Christian, Texico city clerk, reported that the City Council - wednesday decided to ask Case Equipment of Clovis to bring its used International Harvester over to Texico and, if found satisfactory, to buy it at a cost of $8,500. She said the details will be completed between the company and the Council so that the decision can be placed in the minutes for the next City Council session.

Texico is seeking to comply with the Environmental Improvement unit in regard to the city landfill. The Texico landfill has not met certain standards since the state regulations were written in 1974. The alleged violations led to a state suit being filed against the city in 1982. State official David Tanner said the problem has been with the disposal at the landfill. It is required for landfills to be covered with dirt to help break the reproduction cycle of flies. Texico has not had the means to do this, he said. The problem has been lack of equipment.

Upward Bound offered

Eastern New Mexico University offers a college preparatory program, Upward Bound, designed to generate the skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school. Selected students are of sophomore/junior standing, who have the potential to pursue academic, technical, or vocational training at a post-secondary school.

An academic year program for Upward Bound students is conducted throughout the regular school year. Students are provided transportation to attend one Saturday session a month on the Portales campus of Eastern New Mexico University. Academic enrichment blocks, counseling sessions, seminars, and cultural events are provided for the Upward Bound students during these monthly sessions. A five dollar stipend is given each student at the meeting.

A full-time summer educational program of six weeks duration is provided for Upward Bound participants on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University. This simulated college experience takes place during each summer of their sophomore, junior, and senior years. Tuition, books, dormitory, meals, recreation, cultural trips, activities, and a weekly stipend is furnished by the Upward Bound Program. There is no cost to students or parents.

After graduation from high school, the students are enrolled in six hours of college credit as part of one summer session at Eastern New Mexico University. During this time they will be aided in working out financial aid programs and class schedules for the fall semester at the college of their choice.

For any additional information contact the Guidance Office at Texico High School.

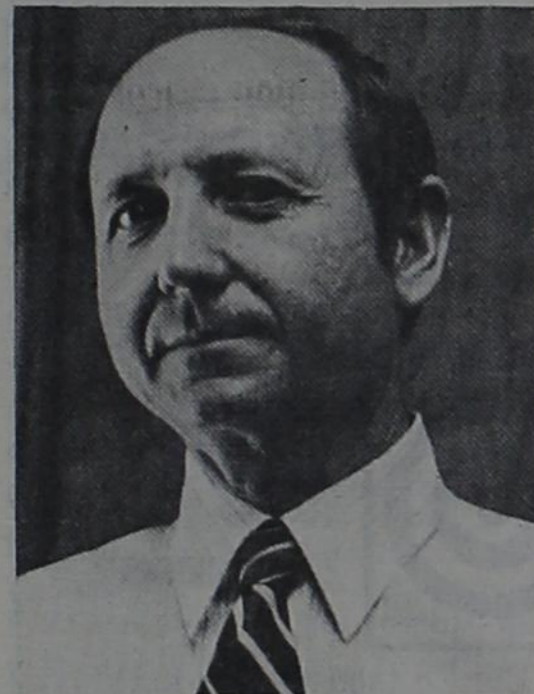

President's farm credit plan could help Parmer County farmers

Farwell, September 28 - President Regan's farm credit initiatives to reschedule portions of loans for some financially stressed Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) borrowers and to guarantee loans of some other borrowers may help farmers in Parmer County, FmHA Acting County Supervisor Jay Mc-Kay said today. Annual reviews of FmHA farm loans will soon begin, McKay said. A major priority of the reviews will be to determine which farmers in Parmer County will qualify for a rescheduling of part of their loans for up to five years.

The President's plan permits up to a five-year deferral, with no interest payments, for as much as 25 percent of a loan, up to $100,000.00 for FmHA borrowers who are experiencing severe financial stress and who show promise of success with a temporary economic boost.

Under the new guarantee plan, FmHA will be able to guarantee a loan in severe difficulty if the lender is willing to write off at least 10 percent, up to the amount necessary to give the borrower a positive cash flow. The borrower must meet general eligibility criteria for FmHA farm operating and ownership loans.

Weemes appointed

James Hull, general manager of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, has announced the appointment of Tommie Weemes to the position of Area Development Manager for the Cooperative.

Sheriff's report

According to reports from the office of Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan, Butch Preston reported that on Sept. 28 his home northeast of Friona had been burglarized. Total loss was valued at $860.

ENMU season set

The Eastern New Mexico University Department of Theatre and Dance has set its production calendar for the 1984-85 season. An interesting and entertaining series is planned.

Charley's Aunt, a popular British comedy, opens the season on Wednesday, October 3, at 8 p.m. in the University Theatre. Set in the late 1800's Charley's Aunt concerns two young men who wish to have a "rendezvous" with their young lady friends. A luncheon date is set with the widowed aunt of one of them (Charley's Aunt) serving as a chaperone to accommodate Victorian propriety. At the last moment Charley's Aunt is unable to attend and the two plotters prevail upon one of their classmates-a male classmate-to impersonate the aunt. He does and hilarity results.

As a part of ENMU's Fiftieth Anniversary Homecoming Festivities, Charley's Aunt will play Thursday and Saturday, October 4 and 6 at 8 p.m. with a special matinee performance on Friday, October 5, at 2 p.m.

Second on the Theatre/Dance production bill is Mother Courage by the 20th century German playwright, Bertolt Brecht. Written in post-World War II Germany, Mother Courage focuses on the strife and hardship of the symbolic central character. Her indomitable will to survive sees her through harsh social injustices and severe personal trials. Brecht's allegorical style makes the themes, characters, and plot larger than life. Mother Courage runs November 8, 9 & 10 at 8 p.m.

February brings a very special event in the season as the Department of Theatre and Dance in cooperation with the School of Music presents a revival of the first show ever produced at Eastern New Mexico University, Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore. It was performed on March 29, 1935 at the Portales High School Auditorium to a large and enthusiastic audience. On February 20, 21, 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. and on February 24 at 2 p.m. this musical satire will once again poke fun at human behavior through song and dance.

On April 4, 5 and 6, the Department of Theatre and Dance presents Oscar Wilde's classic comedy of manners The Importance of Being Earnest. This Victorian theatre piece is characterized by witty verbal repartee and mistaken identities. Wilde gives audiences a healthy dose of pointed societal criticism and manages to keep them laughing all the while.

The season concludes with Orchestis II and l'Histoire du Soldat (The Soldier's Tale), by Igor Stravinsky. Orchestis II will feature the work of a number of choreographers in various styles. l'Histoire will pool the talents of the Department of Theatre and Dance and the School of Music once again to present this multi-media chamber piece based on European folk lore. With instrumentalists, actors, dancers and mimes involved, it portrays the eternal struggle of good and evil as 'the devil barbers for men's souls.'

Season tickets for the 1984-85 Department of Theatre and Dance season are currently on sale through the Fine Arts Box Office at (505) 562-2710 or the Office of Promotion at (505) 562-2378. The season ticket price is $16.00 with General Admission being $4.00 per show. Senior Citizen Admission is $3.00 per show or $15.00 for a season ticket. Pre-College admission is $2.00 per show or $10.00 for a season ticket. ENMU students with ID's are admitted for $1.00 per show and may purchase a season ticket for $5.00. The Fine Arts Box Office is located in the lobby of the University Theatre and will take telephone or mail orders immediately.

Debate topic researched

The Farwell High School Debate Class is in the process of doing research on the 1984 National Debate Topic. The proposition for debate this year is:

Resolved: That the Federal government should provide employment for all employable United States citizens living in poverty.

As part of the assignment for the semester course each student must write to a Political Action Committee, a labor union, or an individual and ask their views on the proposition. Letters are being sent to William F. Buckley, Jr. (whose daily editorial appears in many newspapers nationwide), Democratic Presidential candidate Walter Mondale, and Representative Jack F. Kemp (R, NY).

Congressman Kent Hance (D, Tx.) recently sent a complimentary book on the national debate topic to Farwell High School, before a letter of request was sent to him. The debate class is sending a letter to Rep. Hance thanking him for his awareness of our school and the debate program's activities.

Puppetry

studied in the Theatre Arts Class. This class deals with all aspects of the theatre and is originated to meet the fine arts requirement for all junior high students.

Highway expansion discussed

Dutch Quickel, secretary of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce, attended a meeting last week in Friona where state highway department officials discussed the proposed widening of Highway 60.

Highway 60 runs from the state line to Amarillo, and the proposed expansion is suggested in three stages: the state line to Bovina, Bovina to Friona, and Friona to Summerfield.

Quickel reported that area officials will go to Austin later this year to meet with the state Highway Commission and seek funds for the project. Surveys have been done, specifications drawn and some rights-of-way have been purchased, said Quickel.

The expansion is being sought due to the high number of trucks which use the highway.

4-H project fair slated

The Parmer County 4-H Project Fair is set Oct. 6 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Farwell Community Center. It's open to the public.

Projects will include canning, baked goods, garden products, clothes, clothing and arts and crafts. Four-H'ers from throughout Parmer County will enter projects they have been working on all year.

The project fair is the kickoff for National 4-H Week.

The program provides help to low-income households, with priority to the elderly (over age 60) and the handicapped, in weatherizing their homes.

Demolition Continues

Demolition continues of buildings located in the blocks of Garwood and Wheeler in Texico.

The Old Texico Hotel, recently purchased by Jerry Duncan, is being torn down. The Texico Hotel was built in 1902 and operated until the late 1940s. The building was condemned by the State Building Inspector in the 1970s.

Duncan had previously purchased a building just west of the Old Hotel, from Carl McEnroe. The building, which had at one time been used as a car garage underwent demolition work at the end of 1983.

Once the Old Hotel is demolished, the only building which will be left standing on that block is a building, owned by George Olsen of Adrian, Texas.

The Olsen building has served various businesses over the years. Marie Christian, Texico city clerk, said, at one time it was a bar, then a furniture store and was also the site of the Old Museum.

Just recently, the City of Texico had to board up the windows of the building following the condemning of the property, Mrs. Christian said.

Duncan has also made inquiries as to the owners of the property located just south of the Old Hotel which is part of the J.R. Carver estate.

Duncan could not be contacted for further information.

Efforts made to revise Texas water plan

The Texas Department of Water Resources and the Water Development Board are making efforts to revise the water plan in the state.

In developing a comprehensive plan for the future, the Department of Water Resources made an evaluation of the population and water use requirements for all cities in the state with populations in excess of 1,000 and county totals for those cities with less than 1,000 residents and rural residents.

The statistics released indicate that Parmer County had a population of 11,038 in 1980 with a water requirement of 750,558,242 gallons.

This is just a drop in the bucket, so to speak, compared to projected statistics for the year 2030, 46 years away.

The projected population in Parmer County is 21,987 people with a water requirement of 2,038,198,005 gallons.

The release said, between the time a reservoir site is selected and construction is initiated, the value of land and improvements escalates due to market forces. Land values have increased at a rate of about 10 percent per year during the last two decades in Texas. This is faster than the general inflation rate.

Protection of reservoir sites from commercial development and inordinate price increases, will require new legal and public policy approaches -- actions which will directly impact the traditional emphasis upon protection of rights of landowners in areas outside of municipalities.

Among such concerns are proposed actions which include proper mechanisms for reservoir site designation and preservation and way to mitigate local tax effects of such actions, the report said.

At issue in the water and water-related problems of the state of Texas is the balance point for an acceptable trade-off between the maintenance of natural habitats, meeting the needs of the people and compensation for unavoidable losses to the natural system.

The report said, it is inevitable that the development and management of the state's water resources will result in both beneficial and adverse impacts to other natural resources.

Barbecue time

Eddie Smith, left, and Delbert Lingnau season the barbecue just right as they prepare the meat for last Friday night's Farwell High senior dinner. The two men have been in charge of preparing the barbecue for the last three years.

The 1984 Senior Class dinner made over $1,000 at the barbecue. All the food was sold out and the turnout of customers was large this year due to the reputation of the food being good in previous years.

Kube honored

Frances M. Kube has been selected for inclusion in the first edition of "Notable Women of Texas."

Her selection was based on recognizable achievement and contribution to the community. Invitations for inclusion were sent to less than one percent of the women in Texas.

Frances is the wife of Martin Kube of Farwell, and the mother of Wayne, Bryan, and David Kube.

How it was made

Delbert Lingnau and Eddie Smith prepared the barbecue for the Farwell High senior dinner in an old-fashioned manner.

The barbecue was seasoned, wrapped in foil and placed in a pit where it cooked on burning embers for 18 hours.

Smith said the fire was started in a pit, about five feet deep, at 11:30 a.m. the morning before the barbecue.

At about 5 p.m., when the flames had died down, the meat was placed on a rack and set down in the pit where it was then covered with a metal lid and dirt was placed on the top of it.

Both men said, "We really didn't know how to do this when we first started, about three years ago, but we've learned. So far, it's turned out pretty good every time."

Cemetery to be cleaned up

The Texico Junior Class will clean the Texico Cemetery Saturday, Oct. 6, starting at 7:30 a.m. MDT.

Anyone who would like to help out is invited.

This is a fund-raising project to help finance the junior-senior banquet and prom. All class members are urged to come and bring rakes, hoes or lawn mowers.

Parents of junior class members are invited to help out since this is a large task.

Junior class members who do not participate will be asked to pay a fine.

Outstanding wheat yield

C.W. and Tim Meeks of Farwell have recorded a 91.7 bushel-per-acre yield, adjusted to 13.5 percent moisture, on their land with Pioneer (R) brand 2157 hard red winter wheat, according to a news release from Pioneer.

The average Texas wheat yield last year for Parmer County was 38.1 bushels per acre.

The Meekses, consistently top producers, report this year's weather conditions, proper management practices and proper seed selection assisted them in producing this high yield, the release said.

They planted 2157 based on the variety's disease resistance, yield potential and drought and stress tolerance.

Jal blanks Wolverines

by Brian Walker

Brian Beckman led the Jal Panthers past Texico, 27-0, last Friday on the Wolverines' turf.

Beckman, a junior, scored on runs of 6 and 48 yards.

Texico Coach David Lynn said he was pleased with the Wolverine defense, especially in the first half. But the Texico offense struggled, gaining 110 for the entire game.

Texico played without starting quarterback Danny Powell, who was injured. Replacing him was sophomore reserve Don Vela.

Jal scored once in the first half, on a Beckman TD. The Panthers scored again in the third quarter when fullback Jose Ruiz plowed over from the one. Beckman's run for a two-point connection made the score 14-0.

Later in the third quarter Ruiz scored from the six, and a successful point after made it 21-0. Beckman's 48-yard TD in the fourth quarter capped the scoring.

For the Wolverines, Billy Bibbs led with 90 yards in 30 carries. Ronnie Galvan got 6 yards on 3 carries; Charlie Bibbs, 7 yards on two runs. Vela completed one of three passes, for seven yards to Doug Thornton.

The Wolverines were penalized 8 times for 75 yards.

The Panthers gained a total of 220 yards. They completed 3 of 8 passes. Jal was penalized 80 yards on 8 penalties.

Texico plays tonight (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. against the Springer Red Devils at Texico.

Big Lick Award

Named as Big Lick Award winners this week are Lupe Hernandez, left, Charles Sharbutt and Mark Meeks, not pictured. Lupe was given the award on offense for being leading tackler with 11 tackles; Charles got the award for defense, having 8 tackles; and Mark got the award for being one of the most consistent linemen for the Wolverines.

Size, big plays help Panthers

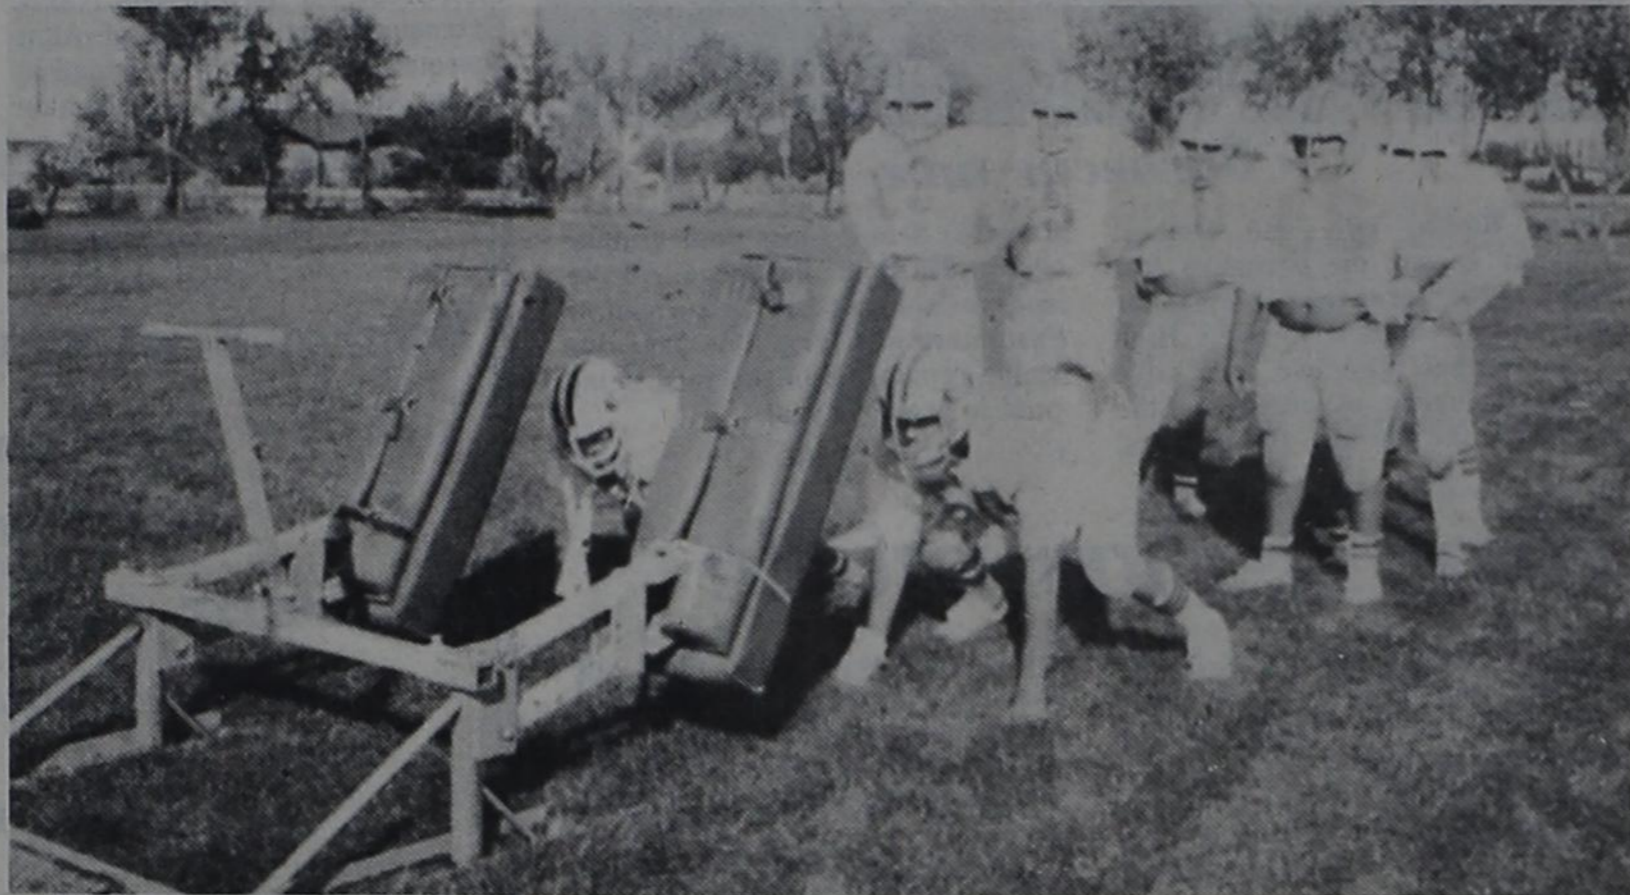

The size of the Jal ballplayers helped wear down the Texico Wolverines last Friday.

"We played pretty well, but they were a lot bigger," said Texico Head Football Coach Don Lynn.

Lynn said he believed the game, lost by Texico 29-0, was one of his team's better ball games. But the Jal size, plus three big plays by Jal, were too much for the Wolverines.

The coach notes that turnovers hurt, especially one deep in their own territory.

Lynn said regular Quarterback Danny Powell didn't play at all against Jal and he didn't know if he would be able to play in this week's game against Springer.

Heave-ho

Lonnie Smith and Charles Sharbutt shove the tackling dummy during Wolverine practice. The next Texico game is tonight [Friday] against Springer.

Texico Junior nips Portales

Texico Junior High won 8-0 in last Saturday's game against Portales.

"Considering the weather conditions, we played pretty well. We hung in there and won the game at the end," Coach Scott Parker said.

He said during the whole first quarter Portales had the ball and Portales had one touchdown called back for clipping. Texico was plagued with fumbles and penalties during the first half and it was during the last three minutes of play that Texico came through and scored a touchdown.

Noted for having big offensive plays during the game are Cory McDaniel, Larry Powell and Keith Harrison. Big defensive plays were made by Keith Harrison, Aaron Scott and Mike Williams.

Noted as Big Lick of the Week recipients for the junior high game are Aaron Scott, Cory McDaniel, Larry Powell and Mike Williams, all for defensive play.

Texico Junior High now stands 2-0. They played Melrose at 5 p.m. Thursday in Texico.

Spikers 2-0 in District play

The Texico Lady Spikers now stand 2-0 in District and 7-1 for the year. The Lady Spikers match scores at Tatum last week were 15-13, Tatum; and Texico, 15-12, 15-11 and 15-0.

Coach Mike Littlejohn said, "This was a big district match for us; it was a very emotional match with the teams being nervous and anxious. You could just see the energy in everyone."

He said the Lady Spikers lost the first match but stuck together and came back and won the last three matches.

"All six girls played extremely well," Littlejohn said.

He said the junior high and junior varsity volleyball teams of Texico lost two out of three matches at Tatum.

"The scores were close; I was pleased with the opportunity we had there to win," Littlejohn said.

Agriculture: hazardous occupation

With more than 3.5 million workers, the agricultural industry is the third most hazardous occupation after mining and construction, according to an article released by Dr. Francis C. Jackson.

Jackson is a professor of surgery at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center in Lubbock.

In an article released by Jackson, he said, there has been a gradual decline in agricultural injuries and deaths during the past decade, particularly following improvements in safety features in tractors and farm machinery. However, accidental injuries and deaths in rural areas remain disturbingly high, he said.

In recent years the National Safety Council reported that beef farm workers had the highest injury rate; 21.7 injuries per million hours of exposure.

Dairy and grain farmers had the lowest accident rates, or 18.3 injuries per million hours of exposure. Animal induced accidents generally account for less than 2 percent of all farm-related deaths in Texas, according to the article.

With estimates from a NSC 10-year study and data provided by the State Department of Health, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council and Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department an estimated number of disabling, serious and minor injuries was established which may predictably occur during a 12-month period.

Using these ratios based upon national estimates of death vs. injuries the following pattern was proposed for Texas in the article.

For every farm/ranch fatality there are an estimated 100 disabling injuries, 1,200 serious injuries and 3,600 minor injuries. The article said assuming this crude scale is right, for the 1,746 deaths during the 10 years between 1971-1980, there were 175,000 injuries in Texas.

From 1979 to 1983, in the 91 West Texas counties there were 196 deaths recorded, or 20 percent of the total 969 deaths on all Texas farms and ranches during the same period, the article said.

Two-thirds of all fatal accidents in that survey were caused by firearms, drowning, fires and explosions, tractors and other farm machinery, and falls.

Distribution of fatalities in the 91 western counties was somewhat different between 1975 and 1980 when the causes were, in order of frequency; tractors, electrocutions, firearms, and suffocation or asphyxiation.

Tractor accident fatalities during this period of time were caused by 40 percent, overturns; 26 percent, run over; and 17 percent involved the tractor's power takeoff. The article said the tractor was responsible for 2,400 severe but nonfatal injuries.

The article said farm machinery was responsible for only six percent of deaths; however, it produced 5,600 injuries statewide; 36 percent of these injuries occurred in West Texas during the period from 1978 to 1980. From 1971 to 1980, 15 percent of all farm and ranch deaths in Texas resulted from firearms. The article said the same number of fatalities (276) resulted from drowning.

Burn injuries caused 224 deaths to Texas farmers from 1971 to 1980 with 13 percent of these tragedies occurring in West Texas during the six years from 1975 to 1980.

While minor electrical injuries may occur with exposure to standard 110 volt AC systems, the overhead high tension lines in barnyards, on roadsides, and across fields have caused at least 10 fatalities in Texas each year. More than one-third or 39 percent of these, occurred in West Texas during 1975-1980, according to the article.

There were 51 deaths throughout Texas from 1975 to 1980 caused by entrapment in grain elevators, exposure to silo gases such as CO₂, methane and nitrogen dioxide resulting in suffocation and asphyxiation. Twenty of these deaths were in West Texas.

Animal induced deaths were numbered at 49 from 1975 to 1980; six in West Texas. Statistics indicate there were no farm fatalities in Parmer County in 1983.

Steer Homecoming

Farwell stops Bovina, 28-10

by Mark Cole

In the 1984 version of Farwell High homecoming Friday night, the Steers fought both bad weather and the Bovina Mustangs, but still came away with a well-earned victory, 28-10.

The Steers battered the Bovina defense with a vicious ground attack led by Roger Robertson who totaled 170 yards and 2 touchdowns. Kevin Owen and Blake Kelley also notched scores for the Steers.

Although the Steers dominated most of the game, it was Bovina who put the first points on the scoreboard after capitalizing on a Farwell turnover. Mustang Doug Johnson hit paydirt on a 35-yard run with 2:27 left in the 1st quarter.

Later in the 2nd quarter, things began going right for the Steers.

After a two-week absence (because of an injury), Roger Robertson made his presence felt once again when he took off on a 70-yard run. It was the powerful right side of the offensive line which gave Robertson his first sight of daylight, but after that it was all Robertson, who outran the Bovina pursuit. Blake Kelley ran for the 2-point conversion to put the Steers ahead 8-7.

Two possessions later the Mustangs drove into Steer territory, but Alan Kalbas, Kevin Owen, and Jesse Anzaldua halted the drive with big plays on defense, which forced the Mustangs to settle for a 26-yard field goal.

With just enough time for a shot at a touchdown the Steers set out to regain the lead before the half. On their second play from scrimmage, the Steers let loose Roger Robertson again who ran 36 yards to the 4 yard line, where he also scored his second touchdown of the game.

The Steers maintained a 14-10 lead at halftime, where it remained until late in the 3rd quarter.

The Steers gained possession of the ball after a defensive stand (with Brian White and Alan Kalbas making tackles) and wasted no time in lengthening their lead. Roger Robertson ran 38 yards to the 1 yard line on a play on 2nd down. The Steers were not able to score on this possession, (they were held on downs) but when Bovina took control of the ball the Steers defense forced a fumble.

This time the Blue and White offense needed only one try, as Kevin Owen hammered in from two yards out. Blake Kelley once more scored for Farwell on the 2-point conversion.

The Mustangs attempted to come back, but the Steer defense would not budge. Kevin Owen made tackles on all 4 downs, which gave the Steers the ball on the 47-yard line.

From there, Owen turned to offense and marked runs of 12, 10, and 7 yards to bring the ball to the 20. Blake Kelley notched the final touchdown for Farwell on a quarterback draw, covering 20 yards.

In the final minutes Alan Kalbas recovered a fumble caused by Jesse Anzaldua, which finished off the Mustangs, and gave the Steers their 1984 Homecoming victory.

Today (Friday) is an open date for the Steers. Farwell Junior High and Junior Varsity played Thursday against Sudan with the junior high beginning at 5 p.m. and the junior varsity game following. The games were played in Farwell.

Steers of the Week

Named as Steers of the Week for play in Farwell's Homecoming game last Friday are Jesse Anzaldua, left, and Todd Lingnau. Jesse received the award for his defensive play and Todd got the award for play at offensive tackle. He led blocking for several of Roger Robertson's long runs, Coach Monte Barnes said.

Touchdown, Farwell!

Farwell Juniors win

Farwell Junior High won last week's game with Bovina 16-6.

Coach Rex Cumpston said, "It was a super effort by these kids. We played well on defense allowing us not to have to go very far for either touchdown. We also, had a goalline stand from the one yard line for four downs. It was an excellent game."

Individual statistics include: Jeff Atkinson, fullback, for 48 yards rushing; 2 for 4 passing; one touchdown; and one interception.

Jaime Mendoza, running back, for 72 yards rushing; one touchdown; and one extra point.

Curtis Chisom scoring one extra point and making one interception.

Booster Club signs up 33

With the first big drive of the year, the Farwell Booster Club signed up 33 new members. This placed the membership at approximately 55 people, club official Cynthia Thigpen said.

Main projects of the Booster Club are to sponsor the athletic banquet at the end of the school year and a December Farwell Basketball Tournament where they set up a hospitality room.

Last year the Booster Club helped remodel the girls' dressing room, painting and carpeting, and installed a whirlpool, Mrs. Thigpen said.

"We will make plans for projects this year as they come up," she said.

Anyone interested in the athletes can become a member for $10 a year. This is a family fee, she said.

More information on the Booster Club can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Thigpen, Eddie Smith or Randy Kelley.

Barnes: We played well

The Farwell Steers won their Homecoming game against Bovina 28-10 last week.

"It's always good to win a Homecoming game and it's always good to beat Bovina," Coach Monte Old Timer's Day will be held at the Rosedale Baptist Church Oct. 7.

Barnes said.

Barnes said the Steers played well even though several mistakes were made due to the weather. "We fumbled several snaps from center," he said.

The Steers' offensive and defensive lines played very well in the second half of the game, Barnes said. "Roger Robertson was back and he made two or three good runs for us which we needed. I felt like defense played well except in a couple of spots where breakdowns allowed Bovina to make a touchdown. Other than the turnovers, I was pretty pleased with the way offense moved the ball."

Individual statistics for the game were: Kevin Owen had 13 carries for 84 yards and one touchdown; Roger Robertson had 12 carries for 177 yards and two touchdowns;

Blake Kelley had four carries for 29 yards, scored one touchdown and two extra points; and Bobby Ford had five carries for 49 yards.

Lazbuddie loses Homecoming

The Lazbuddie Longhorns lost their Homecoming game with Sudan 44-0. "They beat the tar out of us," Coach Bo Williams said.

Williams said the Longhorns could throw against Sudan but could not run. "We did some terrible things out there, we gave them the first two opportunities to score. During the first half of the game we never had decent field position," Williams said.

He said that Sudan beat the Longhorns down in the fourth quarter, when Sudan scored 19 points.

Williams said Shannon Weaver played excellent offense and defense during the game and Kurt Miller played well defensively.

Williams said today's (Friday) game with Smyer has been cancelled. Smyer will not be playing any more this season due to injuries.

It's ACT time

As the new school year begins, more than one million high school juniors and seniors across the nation are preparing to participate in the ACT Assessment Program.

The ACT Assessment, which consists of four academic tests that measure educational development and a detailed questionnaire that collects information relevant to educational and career planning, is recommended or required by more than 2,700 postsecondary institutions and scholarship programs.

School guidance counselors recommend that students participate in the ACT Assessment Program during the junior year or early in the senior year, so their results will be available in time for use in planning for postsecondary education and careers.

Students can obtain registration packets that contain all the information necessary to register and prepare for the Assessment from their high school guidance offices.

The basic registration fee for the Assessment is $9.50. New for the 1984-85 year, late registration will be accepted for an additional $10 late handling fee.

For 1984-85, ACT has established this test date schedule: Test date, Oct. 27, 1984, registration deadline, Sept. 28, 1984, late registration deadline, Oct. 16, 1984; test date, Dec. 8, 1984, registration deadline, Nov. 9, 1984, late registration Nov. 23, 1984; Feb. test date, Feb. 9, 1985, registration deadline, Jan. 11, 1985, late registration deadline Jan. 29, 1985.

Other scheduled test times are April 20, 1985, registration deadline, March 22, 1985, late registration, April 9, 1985; and test date June 8, 1985, registration deadline, May 10, 1985 and late registration deadline May 28, 1985.

The four ACT examinations in English, math, social studies and natural sciences take approximately three hours to complete.

The ACT Assessment also includes a two-part questionnaire that students complete at home when they register. The questionnaire focuses on the student's interests, academic and nonacademic accomplishments and vocational and educational plans and needs.
