

INDEPENDENCE DAY

URLEY
ERSONAL

by John

In days of yore, Cartagena on the north coast of Columbia was a haven for pirates and buccaneers preying on shipping to and from Central America and Europe. In fact, we recall that Errol Flynn and Tyrone Power sailed from this infamous port in several old time swashbuckling pictures. In later years it declined into a sleepy port city full of lawabiding burgers and merchants.

For a brief time last week, the shades of Captain Blood must have chuckled at the charade that was being played out by financial ministers of several South American countries. They were much more sophisticated than Blood and his ilk. Today, instead of boarding ship in a burst of cannon fire, they just refuse to pay debts and hijack the money anyway.

Of course, several hundred years ago, the victim had to be subdued with musket and cutlass. Today, the patsy comes running with bushel baskets full of greenbacks and asks to be relieved of same. In the old days, the losers put up a fight for their possessions. This was probably because they did not have the U.S. taxpayer to reimburse them for their losses.

We will admit that several years ago when these countries were running around with their hands out to receive infusions of dollars, it looked like, well almost like, they would be able to pay the big U.S. banks back, along with interest for a tidy profit.

One thing that we can say is that these Third World mendicants were not held to the standard of banking rules and fiscal responsibility which you, I, and most businesses in this country are expected to meet.

Now, economic times have changed and these debtor nations cannot, and in most cases will not, take the difficult financial steps to repay their loans. The Head Cheeze of MegaBucks Bank Unlimited should have foreseen this possibility and not have been so generous with the depositors' money.

Most businesses that nearly go bankrupt, or do go belly up, replace their management, but in this case these financiers seem to still be enjoying huge salaries, perks, and stock options.

We have no quarrel there, but let's not stick the poor old Citizen Taxpayer to save MegaBucks Bank. If such a disaster does occur and the banks go busted, it may shake the U.S. financial industry, but we have the firm conviction that the free enterprise system will survive and that better management, more interested in the plight of home grown industry, will produce a better system in the long run.

All spring we have been faithfully watering our front lawn, and thought we were doing a good job of keeping it green. After last week's more than six inches of rain, we discovered we must have just been keeping it alive.

It immediately got a much darker and vital looking green. It got lush, thick, and dense all over the yard. In fact we had to make two cuttings a few days apart to mow it back to our normal grass height.

Anything can grow, and grow abundantly out on these baldies if we can just get enough water to it. Too bad Houston doesn't understand where their meat, potatoes, and bread come from. Maybe Lt. Gov. Hobby could tell them, but as we recall he helped defeat the Texas Water Importation bond issue several years ago, and maybe he doesn't know either.

You're over the hill if you can remember when cars passed trucks.

You're over the hill if you can remember when you could still have a nice chat even though you forgot the phone number.

Grandmother Dodie Actkinson accompanies granddaughter Jill as she makes a selection of fireworks for observance of the Fourth of July, from the Farwell Youth Commission's fireworks stand. Granddaughter

Kelley, the sales person behind the counter, is helping out in the stand while visiting here, and no doubt is suggesting what fireworks Cousin Jill should have. Jill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Actkinson of Far-

Farwell City Council Signs Cable Contract

At a called meeting of the Farwell City Council on Wednesday afternoon, June 20, the city councilmen voted to sign a new franchise agreement with McCaw-Midwest Cable Television.

The new agreement was the result of a conference held earlier between Farwell City Councilmen Jerry Monk and Fred Chandler and the representatives of the cable company at the office of Lynn Skarda, attorney for McCaw Cablevision.

The new franchise pact will not be effective unless it is accepted by McCaw-Midwest at the regional office of the company in Little Rock, Ark. McCaw, head of the company, is away on a trip, and so the matter of the Contract's acceptance by the company will not be known for several more days.

Farwell City Council expressed satisfaction with the agreement which they voted to accept and sign, and hoped that it would be satisfactory and fair to the City and the cable company.

Hospital District Continues Efforts For Duplex Living

Farwell Hospital District is continuing efforts in developing duplex plans for housing independent elderly persons of Farwell and surrounding areas in condominium-style living.

Several elderly individuals have shown a sincere interest in making a new home for themselves in a duplex setting located in Farwell adjacent to the Convalescent Center.

The Evangelical Lutheran Good Samaritan Society is drawing up plans for the near future construction of the duplex units.

The Hospital District will soon have plans for interested persons.

The project encourages elderly living with "beautiful surroundings and personal services provided to enhance independence and life-style."

Supportive services include help with bathing, intravenous injections by nurses, and the availability of the central dining room if desired. Studies show that residents can live independently for several more years than is otherwise the case.

The duplexes or apartments in a condominium setting, for example, will have one or two bedrooms, and a self-sufficient kitchen. The units are not connected to the nursing facility.

Interested persons may contact the Farwell Hospital District, P.O. Box 177, Farwell, Tex. 79325, or call Ron Fechner, Convalescent Center administrator, at 481-9027.

United States Department of Agriculture recently announced the basic provisions of the 1985 Wheat Program, noting that the Payment-in-Kind program and advance deficiency payments have not been authorized for 1985.

Among the provisions announced by the USDA on June 14 include a target price of $4.38 per bushel, and a national average loan rate of $3.30 per bushel.

Cash land diversion payment provisions include; a diversion to ACR equal to ten percent of the base is required; land diversion payments will be $2.70 per bushel; and eligible producers can receive 50 percent if requested at signup time.

Eligibility for the program benefits is limited to participants in the 1985 Wheat Program; and maximum permitted wheat acreage for ARP is limited to no more than 70 percent of the farm's base, according to the USDA.

Delayed By Rain - -

Area Wheat Harvest Begins Rolling Again

Area wheat harvest is under way this week in earnest, after being temporarily halted by rain, and grain trucks are beginning to arrive at local elevators with their first loads.

Harbage and Harbage was first in line at Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell on June 22, with a load of wheat testing 59 pounds and a moisture content of 11.3 percent.

Harvest was delayed again this year, the same as last year, due to the large amount of rainfall which the area received recently, just as farmers were gearing up for the harvest.

Eight days and 4 to 6 inches of rain later, the clear skies and warm temperatures are allowing the farmers to get on with the harvest.

Although the Twin Cities proper received quite a beating from the hail that accompanied the first rainfall, most of the area farms escaped the hail damage.

According to Martin Chandler, executive director of Farmer County ASCS office, very few farms received hail damage, but those that did were hit badly. "A few farms north of town, and out toward Lazbudie, received quite a bit of damage," said Chandler, "but the majority of the county was spared."

Billy Dictson, Curry County Extension agent, had the same thing to say about Curry County. "Curry County mostly received a lot of rain," said Dictson. "We had a little hail damage in the Pleasant Hill area and just north of Melrose, but compared with the rest of the county, we came out of it pretty good."

Although the hail damage was pretty extensive in spots, local elevator men feel that the weather hasn't hurt the yield production as a whole, although they all said that it was still too soon to predict what the average yield would be.

"So far, the average yield received has been 65-90 bushels per acre," said Fred Chandler of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell. "The rain didn't hurt us any, but it did bring up a few weeds. As long as the weather holds out and we can get on with harvest, I don't think the weeds will be a problem."

"It hasn't picked up enough for us to tell about a yield average yet," said Guy Cohee at Worley Mills. "Things will get pretty busy during the next few days, and we can better tell then. I will say this, though, the wheat I've seen is good quality. It looks excellent."

"A lot of the wheat brought to us is a little bleached," said Lonnie McFarland of Sherley-Anderson elevator in Lariat. "That happens sometimes when you get a lot of rain, but I don't think the rain hurt the yield production."

"It's a little too early to tell, but from what we've received, I think the yield might be 10-13 bushels lighter than the last two years. This is partly due to the fact that we had a pretty dry winter, and most of the wheat is testing out at a lighter weight. It does seem to be of good quality though," McFarland added.

ASCS Director Chandler also said that he felt that the quality of the grain was excellent this year, adding, "I don't know when I have ever seen a better looking wheat crop, certainly not in the last 20 years."

Gary Patterson, Farmer County Extension agent, agreed, saying, "The dryland wheat looks above average this year, and the irrigated wheat is in excellent shape."

Although the harvest has just begun and won't be over for another few weeks, the general consensus of the local elevator men to date is that this seems to be an excellent crop of wheat this year, in spite of the rain and varying hail damage. Although it is a little too early to determine what the overall yield average will be they believe the harvest this year will be a good one.

30 Years Of Service - -

Bill Boling Honored With Surprise Retirement Party

Bill Boling, Farmer County supervisor of Farmer's Home Administration, will officially retire today (Friday) after 30 years of service to the United States government.

In honor of the occasion, the FHA office staff and the attorneys and staff of Aldridge, Harding, Aycock, and Actkinson hosted a surprise retirement party at the law offices Tuesday morning.

Attorney Hurshel Harding invited Bill to the law offices under the pretense of handling some business matters. When Bill arrived, he was surprised to find his FHA co-workers, the entire law office staff, and several friends waiting for him.

A large cake with the inscription "Congratulations Bill" and decorated with a miniature farmer hoeing his crop, was prepared for the occasion.

As a retirement gift, his co-workers at the FHA office presented him with a travel bag, as he has made plans to take an immediate vacation to California to visit his children and grandchildren.

FHA office staff members are Jay McKay, Marcy Pena, Robert Woo, and Leslie Glover.

Bill began working for FHA 30 years ago in Hereford. Not long after he began, he was transferred to Perryton, and within three years to Farwell, where he has been for the past 27 years.

When Bill first came to work in Farwell, his office was located in the Farmer County Courthouse. After 15 years in that location, the office was moved to a building on the east end of main street. It remained there for four years and then moved to the current offices located at 207 Avenue D.

"I've seen a lot of changes in my years with FHA," said Bill. "When I first began 30 years ago, the maximum amount of money you could hand out for an operating loan was $7,500. That

BTD Committee

To Meet Mon.

Border Town Days Committee will meet Monday, July 2, at 8 p.m. CDT at the Spur Restaurant, for what is hoped will be the final session before the 1984 Twin Cities celebration.

Plans for the annual event will be finalized Monday night, with the schedule of events set for July 28 at Farwell City Park highlighting the meeting topics.

John Getz, BTD Committee chairman, urges each civic and social organization in the Twin Cities to be sure to have a representative on hand for this important session. "The celebration is only four weeks away and we must complete our planning," he said.

"We need to hear reports from organizations and individuals concerning their participation in the BTD event," Getz said, "so please remember to attend the Monday night meeting."

Congratulations, Bill

Bill Boling, right, Farmer County supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, accepts a piece of cake from Attorney Hurshel Harding at a surprise retirement party Tuesday morning. The party was hosted by his FHA co-workers and the lawyers and staff of the local law firm, at the law offices. Bill, who has 30 years of service with the FHA, displays the travel bag given to him by the local FHA staff as a retirement gift.

Tribune Sets Early Deadline

The State Line Tribune will have an early deadline next week. Its deadline date for news stories and pictures will be moved up one day, to Monday at 5 p.m., so that the staff may enjoy the July 4th holiday.

The paper will be published as usual by noon on Thursday, but the issue will be made up on Tuesday afternoon ready for the printers, instead of on Wednesday.

Other offices planning to observe the Fourth of July holiday are Parmer County ASCS office, Farmers Home Administration office, and both Texico and Farwell post offices.

was to cover the purchasing of your equipment and such for a year. Today, the maximum amount of money you can loan under an operating loan is $200,000. Quite a difference," he said.

"Another big change that I've seen in this office is the number of different loans that can be made. When I first started, you could only make three types of loans, an operating loan, used mainly to help a young farmer get started; a farm housing loan, given out only to farmers who were purchasing a farm house; and a farm ownership loan, to help a farmer purchase a farm. But he could only farm the land he purchased with that loan.

"Today, there are 23 or 24 different types of loans. We can loan money on golf courses, or make home loans in towns under 10,000 population for example. A lot has changed.

"Interest rates have changed of course. Thirty years ago an operating loan was made on about five percent interest, an emergency loan on three or four percent. Housing loans were given with four percent interest. Since then, the interest rates have gone as high as 16 percent on operating and housing loans. But right now they are down to 10.25 for operating, and 11.78 percent for home loans. It's all changed, all right."

Bill says that he has no immediate plans for what he wants to do now, but he is planning on enjoying his upcoming vacation. On Thursday, the FHA office in Farwell was to be closed for the staff to attend a district meeting in Plainview, with the staff from offices in Dimmitt, Floydada, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Plainview, and Tulia all in attendance, as well as staff from the main offices in District one and seven.

Planned at this meeting was a surprise luncheon in Bill's honor. The group was to present Bill with a Pentax 35 millimeter camera as a retirement gift.

Sheriff's Report

Another act of vandalism occurred at Farwell Schools over the weekend, according to the report from the Parmer County Sheriff's Department.

Officials at the school reported that sometime over the weekend someone put water in the gas tanks of three tractor mowers while parked on the south side of the bus barn. Also, it was reported that items were scattered everywhere. Amount of the damage was unknown.

In other action, Armando Ortiz, 19, of Bovina was arrested on June 23 by sheriff's officers on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Ortiz appeared before Justice of the Peace Albert Smith on June 25, and his bond was set at $3,000. The case is pending Grand Jury action.

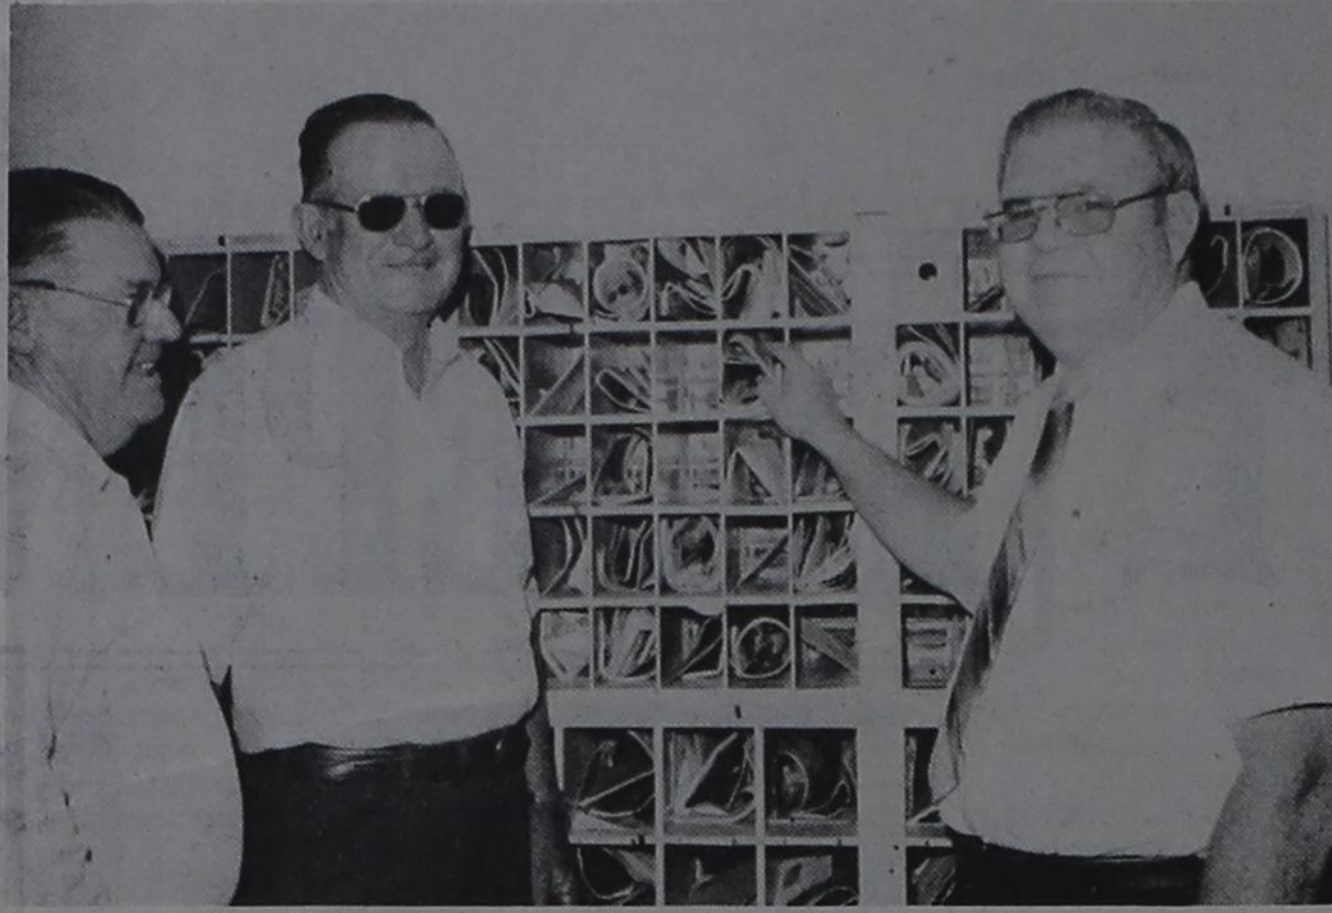

In a non-leap year, the middle day of the year is July 2.

Mayors At Open House

Twin Cities mayors, John R. Hadley of Texico, left, and Walter Kaltwasser of Farwell were among the 144 patrons who attended the open house Tuesday morning at Farwell Post Office. Postmaster Otis McMillan, right, enjoyed conducting guests on tours of the post office building. "I want the people to know that this is their post office, and we want to be able to run it to their satisfaction," he said.

Many Patrons Attend Post Office Open House

Some 144 patrons signed the guest book at the open house hosted by the Farwell Post Office on Tuesday morning.

Purpose of the open house was to acquaint the postal patrons with the operations of the post office, and to acquaint postal employees with their patrons so that they might find ways to serve them better.

Guests were registered in the foyer of the building by Postmaster Otis McMillan's six-year-old granddaughter Lana who is visiting from Amarillo, and serving refreshments of punch and cookies was his daughter Melinda.

The serving table was decorated in post office colors of red, white and blue. The tablecloth was white edged in red and blue stripes. Napkins were assorted in colors of red, white and blue, and an arrangement of red, white and blue flowers in a mailbox centered the table.

Modean McMillan, wife of the postmaster, baked the wide assortment of cookies and breads and made the punch.

While some guests enjoyed the refreshments, Postmaster McMillan conducted other guests on tours of the post office building, showing the recent changes and additions, and explaining the equipment.

FIRE CALLS

Texico and Farwell volunteer fire departments were both busy last week answering fire and ambulance calls.

On June 21, Texico Volunteer Fire Department received a call for an ambulance to the Target Truck Stop on the Clovis Highway. The victim was transported to the Clovis hospital.

On June 23, the ambulance was called to a Turner Street residence where it transported a resident to the Clovis hospital.

Also on June 23, the fire trucks were called to a Texico business on the highway to extinguish a pickup fire.

On June 20, Farwell Volunteer Fire Department received a call for an ambulance to the Convalescent Center where a resident was transported to the Clovis hospital.

On June 25, the ambulance was called to Fourth Street where a resident was transported to the Friona hospital.

'Memorable Experience' Says Delegate

by Mark Cole
Attending Texas Boys State was a unique experience for me. I learned a great deal about our state government and our state court system. The session was at the University of Texas in Austin, June 2-8.
Each participant in the Boys State program is placed in a city, county, and one of four districts which make up the mythical 51st state of the United States. The participants then proceed to organize and run the state government by electing officials and passing bills.
Citizens elect all government officials from one of two political parties, either Nationalist or Federalist.
In the 1984 Texas Boys State (which was the largest ever) there were 20 cities with approximately 50 members each. This added up to just over 1,000 high school seniors who took part in this year's program.
Upon arrival I found I had been placed in Sherwood City (which was named after a former Texas Department Commander) and was a member of the Federalist Party.

During the first day we elected city officials and organized city governments.
The next task was to elect delegates to our state convention, so our parties could hold orderly meetings. During party meetings the voting delegates are needed to vote on certain issues, since it is nearly impossible to take a hand count when 500 people are together.
Beginning on Tuesday evening, the two parties split apart and began a series of meetings as separate political parties. During these meetings we developed our party platform, devised a campaign strategy, and held primary elections.
After many debates and speeches, the Federalist party platform was complete. All Federalist candidates were to stand by our platform which included: 1) The raising of the legal drinking age to 21, and strengthening of DWI laws. 2) Tougher enforcement of illegal drug laws and full support of the anti-drug war. 3) Increased border security and stronger penalties against illegal aliens and employers who hire illegal aliens. 4) Strong opposition to any limitation of extracurricular activities in high school.

As a member of the Federalist Party I was elected to the state campaign committee, and received the Federalist Party nomination for county attorney.
On Wednesday evening, the two parties met together once again to hear speeches for all state offices. Later that evening votes were cast for all offices in the general election.
Early the next morning results were announced and it was revealed that there had been a Federalist party sweep of the major state offices (governor, Lt. governor, and attorney general). Unfortunately, in my bid for the office of county attorney, I was defeated by a margin of four votes.
The week wrapped up with all elected officials taking their oath of office and getting acquainted with the offices they would be holding.

On Friday, all citizens were treated with a visit to the Capitol Building. I chose to take the tour of the Attorney General's Office, where we met and spoke with Texas Attorney General, Jim Mattox.
During the recreation program at Boys State, I participated in basketball, and volleyball (in which Sherwood City proceeded to go undefeated and win the state championship), and took the official Boys State Bar Exam which qualified me to practice as a Boys State Lawyer.
To add to the excitement of the week, we also heard speeches by Supreme Court Chief Justice Jack Polk, and Governor Mark White.
This trip was really a memorable experience for me. I made many new friends whom I will always remember, and learned many things I never would have known had I not had the opportunity to attend.

Farwell Delegate

Mark Cole, Farwell School's delegate to Boys State, recently returned from the mythical 51st state, at the University of Texas in Austin, where he learned first hand about the functions of the government on state, county, and city levels. Mark was elected to the state campaign committee for his party, the Federalist, which made a clean sweep of the major state offices in the general election. Mark is the son of Marcia Cole of Farwell, and will be a senior at Farwell High next school year.

Safe Driving For Holiday

"Fifty percent of all traffic deaths are alcohol related," said Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.
During the holidays, this percentage is considerably higher because some drivers think the best way to celebrate a holiday is by drinking and driving, whether on vacation or at the area lake.
This 4th of July Holiday, lives will be lost and people will be injured in traffic accidents.
"The best way to have a safe accident-free holiday this 4th of July is by not drinking and driving, observing all traffic laws, and not trying to pack a week's vacation into a two-day holiday," Major Cawthon said.
"Be especially watchful for the other driver and remember that your safety and the safety of your family depends on you."

1984 Texas Boys State

Over 1,000 boys participated in the 1984 Texas American Legion Boys State at the University of Texas in Austin, setting a new record. The 51st mythical state consisted of 20 cities with approximately 50 citizens each. The citizens elect all government officials in the two political parties, Nationalist and Federalist. Mark Cole was the Boys State delegate from Farwell High School. He was a resident of Sherwood City and a member of the Federalist Party. Mark described the trip as "a memorable experience" where he made many new friends and learned much about state government and the state court system.

Methodists Welcome New Pastor, Family

New Methodist Family

Rev. and Mrs. Steve Stephens and 11-month-old Hanna Beth are busy getting settled into their new home and community, as Steve is the new pastor of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell. Having been here only a month, Steve and Leesa say they already love it here, and are looking forward to meeting everyone and becoming friends.

Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church in Farwell recently welcomed a new pastor and family into their midst.

Steve, Leesa, and Hanna Beth Stephens arrived here from the First United Methodist Church in Grants, N.M., where Steve had been pastor for the past two years.

Actually, Steve's name is Harrell E. Stephens, Jr., but he really prefers to be called Steve. Leesa is a native West Texan and a former Parmer County resident, having grown up in Friona. Her parents are Joe and Tommie Mercer of Friona.

Steve was born in Knox City, Tex., but attended schools in Abilene, graduating from Cooper High School there in 1972. Steve attended McMurry College in Abilene where he graduated in 1978.

In the fall of 1978 he entered the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, where he participated in Student Council and sang with the Seminary Singers. Steve also enjoyed writing articles for a couple of campus newspapers, one of which he was editor.

Steve fulfilled his internship at the First United Methodist Church in Midland where he met and married Leesa. After completing seminary, he joined the New Mexico Annual Conference, accepting his first appointment in Grants in 1982.

Steve and Leesa were very active in both community and church activities while in Grants. Steve participated actively in the United Way and the American Cancer Society, as well as serving as coordinator for the Youth and Camp organization in the Albuquerque District. Leesa, who graduated from West Texas State University in 1980 with a degree in education, accepted a teaching position in Grants. For the past four years, Leesa has taught grades four, six, and seven. She enjoys teaching and hopes to find a position in the area soon.

Steve and Leesa are both active persons who enjoy several sports and hobbies. When not caring for Hanna Beth, Leesa enjoys snow skiing, horseback riding, playing the piano, and sewing, although she says she doesn't get to sew as much as she likes to.

Steve enjoys all spectator sports, and participates in golf, snow skiing, and water skiing. He also likes to read, fish, talk, and drink coffee. "Most people tell me I'm best at talking and drinking coffee," says Steve.

Hanna Beth is not without her hobbies and activities, her favorite of which is to pull Daddy's beard. Hanna enjoys eating, sleeping, and jabbering, and right now her main goals in life are to grow some hair and to catch the cat "Kizzie" and the dog Tootsie." Hanna Beth will be one year old on August 1.

Steve and Leesa chose the name Hanna because in Hebrew it means peace and grace. They both also agree that although Steve's occupation is pastor, Hanna is not a P.K. (preacher's kid), she is a T.O. (theologian's offspring).

Steve and Leesa both say that they enjoy living in West Texas and really like living in Farwell. They are looking forward to meeting all of the area residents and becoming friends.

Laz. Young Homemakers Work For Community

Lazbuddie Young Homemakers will soon be conducting a membership tea as part of their annual membership drive. Anyone interested in becoming a member is urged to contact any of the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers at this time.

The organization has been active for over two decades. This service organization seeks to strengthen the family and community and to provide assistance to community members in need.

Through the years, Lazbuddie Young Homemakers have donated winter coats and eyeglasses to needy children, provided for the school playground equipment, a television and video recorder, elementary track meet ribbons, and other needed items, report the members.

Area senior citizens are a special concern to the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers. Members visit, correspond with, and give gifts to these special citizens.

Although the main purpose of the organization is to strengthen and preserve the family, the members organize and conduct many worthwhile projects which are designed to serve the community.

They have held free blood pressure and fingerprinting clinics, style shows, and children's art and poster competitions and awards. In addition, they arrange and preside over an annual Christmas Bazaar which promotes area artists and craftsmen.

In the past, the Young Homemakers have organized a school-wide reunion. They have collected recipes and created a Lazbuddie Community cookbook.

The main money-making project of the organization is the sale of pecans in September and October. This money is fed back into the community.

Meetings are held the first Thursday of every month, September through May. Each month, members have a program which is directly related to the family and homemaking.

They have door prizes, secret pals, and family get-togethers.

A spokesperson for the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers said, "We really want to encourage membership in this club. Many area Young Homemaker clubs have folded from lack of interest. The Lazbuddie organization is a vital contributor to the strength of this community. It will be tragic for this area if our club is not kept strong with active members."

She also stated, "This is the club for anyone who is interested in a fulfilling and worthwhile service to and participation in the community, which in turn, benefits her own family. It is also the place to build lifelong friendships and have a lot of fun."

Current members of the Lazbuddie Young Homemakers include Marleen Bennett, Janice Bradshaw, Vickie Burch, Cindy Cargile, Lana Copp, Ellen Gallman, Joann McDonald, Debbie Magby, Reta Mimms, Marca Morris, Debra Redwine, Mandi Seaton, Debbie Smith, Janette Thorn, Debbie Weir, and advisor, Cassandra Cargile.

The creed of the Texas Young Homemaker organization is: "We, the Young Homemakers of Texas, seek to strengthen the bonds of the family with knowledge, integrity, love, understanding, and faith in God. In order that our homes may be established in the firm foundation of our community, nation, and world. Upholding the right of each individual to dream, to work, and to assume the privilege and responsibilities of the democratic way of life."

The assigned purpose of the Texas Young Homemaker organization follows:

"To develop skills and gain information on new and improved methods of homemaking; to develop a deeper understanding of the home and its influence upon the community; to plan and carry out activities designed to improve our home and community life; to provide wholesome, social, and recreational activities; to become better acquainted with the products and information of current consumer trends;

"To plan and carry out a program for recognizing and honoring members and others for outstanding achievement; to support the Future Homemakers of America and other groups working for the improvement of homemaking; to maintain the spiritual values of the home; to encourage democracy in home and community life."

Home Ec Advisory Committee Meets

The Advisory Committee for Vocational Home Economics at Farwell High School met on June 5, in the home economics building. Members Eva Ancira, Ruth Anne Bennett, and Maxine Williams met with Martha White, home economics teacher. Members Eva Dean Stephens and Lynn Burton were unable to be present.

The committee asked Martha to continue to preside at the meetings until the group set goals and began to function more actively. Ruth Anne consented to serve as secretary.

Members suggested that the terms of office be one year for each member, or on a year-by-year basis.

The next meeting will be in the early fall, after HB 246 has been settled and Martha has been to the August Home Ec teachers conference which will include a half day session on the implications of the bill for vocational home economics.

Items discussed by the group were:

Purpose of the committee and responsibilities of the members. Vocational home economics courses in Texas and those offered at Farwell the past three years.

The Conceptual Framework and competency objectives for courses set up by Home Ec. Div. of TEA.

Replacement of "Home Projects" with "Encounter" personal improvement and involvement experiences.

General philosophy and focus of courses the past three years.

Special projects of the program--Parliamentary Procedure for all students, 81-82; Decoration of Home Ec kitchen by HE II students, 82-83; Human Reproduction Unit for Biology, Health, and HE I students (81 students), 83-84.

Course schedule for 84-85. Budget of 83-84, and projections for 84-85.

The purpose of the Advisory Committee is to provide a link between the community and school for the purpose of maintaining and improving vocational educational programs to equip students with skills needed to become useful in society.

Some of the responsibilities include interpreting the interests of the community to the teacher, assisting in interpreting the program to the community, assisting in the promotion of youth and adult homemaking organizations and activities, and evaluation of existing and new programs.

Kirklands Attend Family Reunion

Jack and Sue Kirkland of Farwell traveled to Lake Brownwood last weekend to attend the annual Kirkland family reunion. The reunion is held each year at the Christian Retreat on the lake at Brownwood.

Approximately 40 persons attended the gathering, and all enjoyed visiting, eating, and relaxing, said Mrs. Kirkland. The big event of the weekend was the family auction. Family members bring homemade items such as jelly, dolls, doll clothes, quilts, and handcrafts and put them up for auction. Proceeds from the auction go into the reunion fund for the next year. Mrs. Kirkland said that it was terribly hot there, about 104 degrees each day, but that everyone had a good time in spite of the heat.

Center Auxiliary To Meet Monday

Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary will have their quarterly meeting Monday, July 2, at 4 p.m. at the Convalescent Center.

All members and interested persons are urged to attend.

DeAnn Curtis To Tour Europe With U. S. Band

DeAnn Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis of Farwell, was one of several students at Farwell High School who received the All-American Hall of Fame Band Award this year. Along with the award came an invitation to tour Europe with the United States Collegiate Wind Band.

The Collegiate Wind Band is directed by Al Wright of Purdue University, who organizes the band from among the students across the United States who receive this award. About 80-100 students will perform in the band. DeAnn is the only Farwell student planning to take the tour.

Although DeAnn, who will be a junior this fall at Farwell, plays the mallots in the percussion section of the high school band, she will be playing the base drum while on tour.

DeAnn will depart July 9 for New York City, where the band members will meet and practice for three days. They are planning a concert at the Georgian Ball Room at the Penta Hotel in New York before they depart for Europe on July 12.

While in Europe, the band will tour cities in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, and Italy, before returning home on August 5.

ENMU Presents 'The Boy Friend'

"Vodoo-o-do" and "doo-wacka-doo" will be heard more than once this summer at the ENMU Theatre as the Corral Playhouse presents "The Boy Friend" the first three weekends in July. Set in the south of France in the 1920's, this musical comedy is a spoof on all the musical comedy conventions.

We have the boy-gets-girl, boy-loses-girl, boy-gets-girl theme in the characters of Polly Browne, and Tony Brockhurst. Mistaken identity and suspected villain foil their initial love scene. Then we have the second-time-around love theme between Percival Browne, Polly's father, and Madame Dubonnet, proprietress of the exclusive finishing school Polly attends.

We have the comic-love-match theme between Polly's schoolmate, Maisie, and the rich American, Bobby Van Husen, according to Karyl Lyne of ENMU, Office of Promotion.

There must of course, be a lecherous old geezer with an eye for the ladies and a wife whose voice cracks glass at 20 yards - enter Lord and Lady Brockhurst. A clever witty maid who makes everything come out right in the end rounds out the full complement of musical comedy elements.

Add to this a fair share of song and dance, bright costumes and scenery, and you have a grand evening of family fun. The Fine Arts Box Office is open for the 8 p.m. MDT July 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 and 21 performances.

Tickets are $4.00, General Admission; $3.00, Senior Citizen; $2.00, Pre-College; and $1.00 ENMU Student with ID. Summer hours for the Box Office are 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. MDT at (505) 562-2710. Seating will be limited to 125 people per performance.

Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Winkler of Roswell visited in Texico June 21-22 with his mother, Gracie Dane.

ENMU Play

Maisie, played by Holley Crouch of Lubbock, has some flapper fun in the ENMU production of "The Boy Friend."

July 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 and 21 at the University Theatre at 8 p.m. MDT. For tickets, call 505-562-2710.

"Making Jelly"

The "secret" to making good jelly is no secret at all - it's a combination of pectin, acid, and sugar in the right amounts. Whether you make your own jelly each year or you're trying it for the first time, it pays to know how these ingredients work together.

Pectin determines the firmness of the jelly. Too little pectin can produce a jelly too soft to hold its form. But good homemade jellies don't have to have as much pectin as commercial jellies, which must be firm enough to withstand shipment.

Different kinds of pectins produce jellies with various degrees of firmness. For example, cranberry pectins yield jellies that break easily into small clumps, while apple pectins create more elastic jellies.

The acidity of the fruit also has something to do with firmness. Juices from higher acid fruits yield firmer jellies than juices from lower acid fruits, even where the pectin content is the same. Fruits actually have a mixture of acids in them. But tartaric acid, which is plentiful in grapes and currants, is more efficient for jelly-making than citric or acetic acid.

Perhaps the biggest question in jelly-making is how much sugar to add, since that can vary from fruit to fruit. Most of the time, it's better to use too little rather than too much sugar if you want a jelly that will hold its form.

Experiments show that three-fourths cup of sugar per cup of fruit extraction works better than a cup or more of sugar. Partly ripe currants, gooseberries and grapes may need one or more cups of sugar, but that depends on their stage of ripeness and the amount of water used to cook them.

Having low acid or low pectin fruits does not mean you have to give up on making jelly. Low pectin fruits can be made into excellent jelly if commercial pectin is added. An acid can be increased in a fruit juice simply by adding lemon juice or combining it with other acid fruits.

Golden Grain

Frank Landry at Worley Mills prepares to sample a load of new wheat brought to the elevator by W.T. Meeks of Farwell. The grain tested a good 10 percent moisture content, with a test weight of 61 pounds. Meeks cut the wheat from his farm east of Farwell. While it is a bit too early to tell the overall yield average, area grainmen believe that the harvest this year will be a good one.

FAITH HAS BROUGHT US 208 YEARS OF INDEPENDENCE!

Today we have a generation of those who reject a display of patriotism as outmoded because they have never been taught the significance of it: that our national symbols are revered for what they represent, rather than for what they are.

Since faith was the original guiding force that put the words "One Nation Under God" into the Pledge of Allegiance, you should honor our country by attending the Church of your choice and thereby enjoy one of the priceless freedoms this country has given to you.

Commissioner Ernest Anthony presided as Chairman when Parmer County Commissioners Court met Monday, June 25, in regular session, due to the illness of Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts.

Their Faith and Courage gave us One Nation Under God . . .

Nearly two centuries ago, a small group of men with everything to lose and possibly nothing to gain stood firm in their faith and their convictions when they affixed their signatures to a document the like of which has never been seen in all the history of mankind. Disregarding fear for their safety and, in some cases, their children's safety, they literally pledged "their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor" in exchange for the many freedoms which you enjoy today, including the right to worship God in any way you choose. Letter To The Editor

June 19, 1984

John Getz, Editor
Farwell State Line Tribune
Farwell, TX 79325

Dear John,

I would like to ask why nothing has been in the paper concerning the closing of a landmark in our town. Last week, Rose Drug closed its doors. From my recollections and from visiting with Claude Sr., I found out that Rose Drug has been in business for 56 years. I understand that before that the same building housed a drug store called Fox Drug.

I realize that a new business opening in town is a cause for great excitement and interest but the closing of a landmark should be of some news. Possibly you could find some space in your Border Town Days issues for a story on this.

I for one will miss Rose Drug. Not just because of the convenience of having my prescriptions filled but for the friendliness I found there. All of the Rose family has been a source of friendship to me since I was a small girl. You could always meet up with someone to visit with while waiting on a prescription. To me, we have lost more than a drug store but a meeting place to say "Hi" to some neighbors.

Sincerely,
Lena Cole
