

51 merchants participating in BTD giveaway

Some 50 Twin Cities businesses are participating in the third annual Border Town Days Merchants Giveaway program held in conjunction with the annual BTDC celebration's park activities, July 28.

This year's giveaway will take place throughout the afternoon at the Saturday festivities at Farwell City Park.

Each participating business has a box in which customers may register for the prize to be given away by that merchant. A person may sign up as many times as he wishes from now through July 27, when the boxes will be picked up and taken to the park for the drawing during the afternoon activities.

Drawings will be held from each individual merchant's box, and the person whose name is drawn will be allowed ample time to claim the prize; however, in the event that the person does not show up to claim the prize in the allotted time, another name will be drawn so that all prizes will be awarded that afternoon. It is essential that a winner be at the park to hear when his name is called.

No purchase is necessary at any of the participating merchants in order to register for the many prizes. Registrants must be 12 years of age or older.

Benny Haney and BTDC Committee members Ann Cooper, Gladys Hardage, and Pam and Curtis Smith are organizers of this year's giveaway, and they have been busy the first of the week placing the registration boxes in the participating businesses.

A list of the participating merchants and a partial list of the prizes they plan to give away include:

All local and area residents are urged to visit the participating merchants and sign up for the many prizes to be given.

Just call me "Gum Shoe." We live on First Street and the office is on Third. Both of these streets were recently covered with a coat of hot tar and chat rock. The hot sunshine has caused the tar to ooze to the surface and our shoes look like we had a session at the Little League Ball Park, also known as bubble gum heaven.

Poor old Ronnie Reagan, the liberal doomsayers won't let him win for losing. Here he has been catching billy blazes from assorted Democratic politicians for high unemployment for the past several years, and now unemployment is the lowest in a long time.

So what happens? "Unnamed" political and economic analysts now are worrying that high employment is going to be bad. Their rational, to call it in charitable terms, is that with all these folks now working and earning paychecks, they will rush out and spend the money and thereby boost inflation.

By the way, Reagan has looked good in reducing the galloping rate of inflation, but to listen to some of the television commentators, a body would never suspect any improvement in the economy since Jimmy Carter's runaway economics.

Well, they say fools rush in where angels fear to tread. So having been called worse than a fool in times past, we're going to rush in and say: We are cotton picken' well tired of all the pressure groups hollering and bellyaching for their pet causes. Most of the causes involve picking the pocket of the taxpayer.

It's about time to form a "Tax Payers" pressure group and tell the assorted spongers, ne'er-do-wells, draft dodgers, loud mouthed harridans, queers, and ban-the-bombers to go out and put in a hard day's work instead of trying to pilfer somebody else's livelihood.

We have always had a nagging question about all the massive demonstrations. We wonder, where do they get the money for such travel and how do they get off from a steady job for days at a time? Now, we travel from time to time, and know that getting from here to there is not cheap, even if you walk. These people have always looked as if they exercised their tonsils much more than their tootsies.

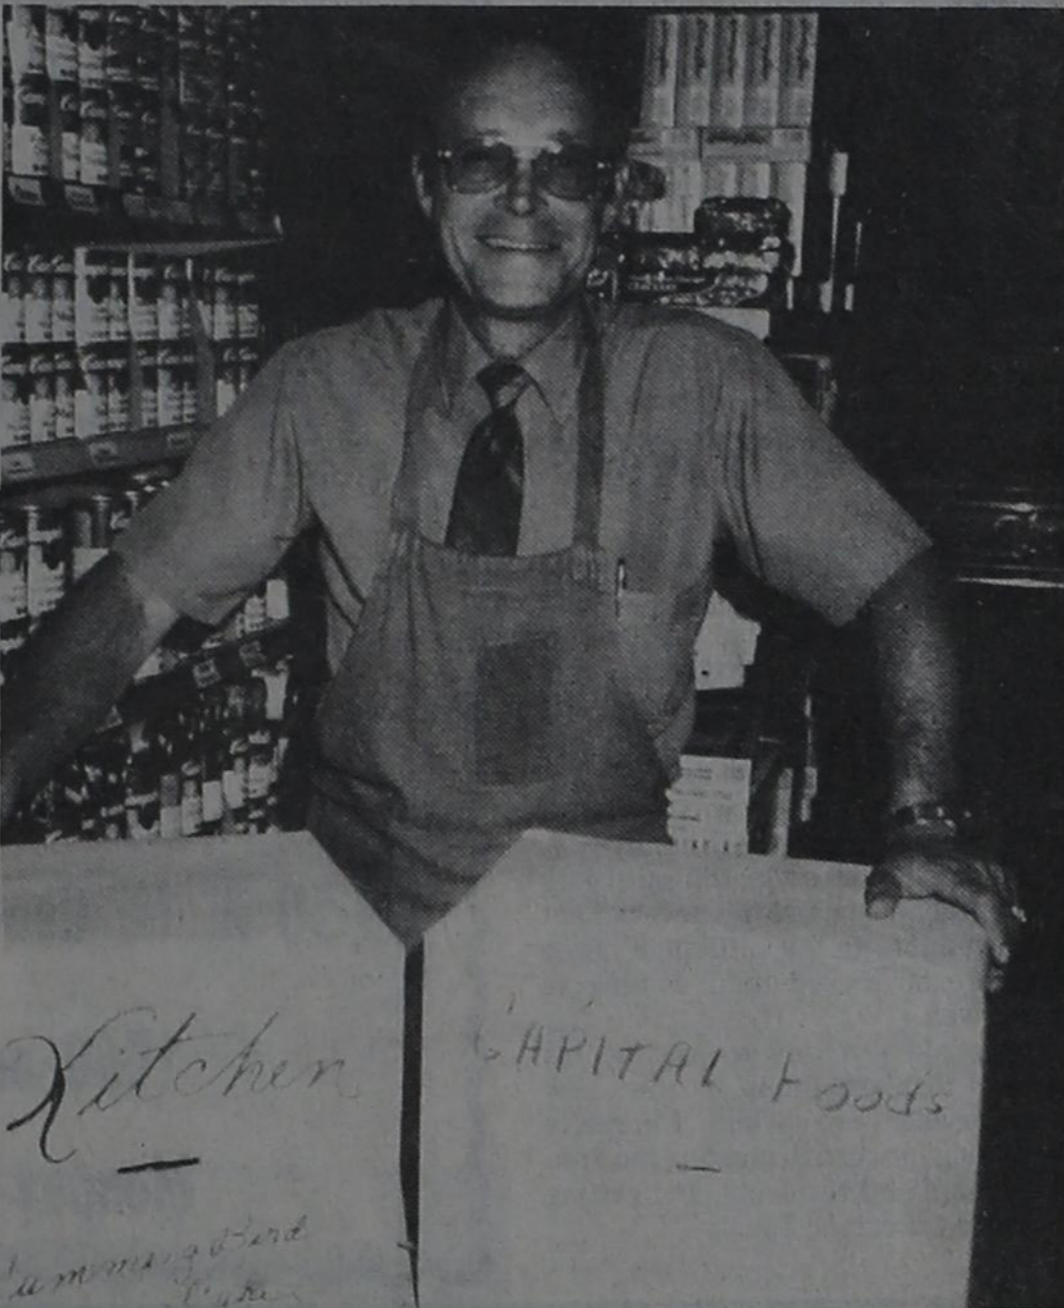

How do you go for days without eating. Eating out can run into a tidy sum even if it's only milk and bologna.

We have never reached a conclusion as to how these tens of thousands of demonstrators held responsible jobs, earned a living and supported a family, and managed to be seen in San Francisco one week and in Washington, D.C. the next.

We admit that we are plumb dumb. We only work and pay taxes.

The Texico-Farwell annual Border Town Days celebration is a scant two weeks away, and if you haven't made plans to attend this summer bash you had better get on the ball.

All the good things we have had in the past, we will have again, only bigger and better. The Merchants Giveaway program has reached 51 participating businesses in the area. That means that a whole slew of goodies will be distributed at the park activities beginning about 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 28. Be There, Be There, you will be glad you did.

Sign up for giveaway

Benny Haney of Capitol Foods urges customers to register at his store for Capitol Foods' and The Kitchen's prizes which will be given away at the Merchants Promotion during the Border Town Days celebration Saturday afternoon, July 28, at Farwell City Park. Boxes are in over 50 merchants' places of business in the Twin Cities, and Haney urges everyone over 12 years of age to visit the participating merchants and register for their giveaway prizes. No purchase is necessary when registering.

Spaces still available for park concessions, crafts

Numerous booth spaces for the sale of various concessions and wares in Farwell City Park and for the Arts and Crafts show on the courthouse lawn, have already signed up, but spaces are still available during the Border Town Days celebration on Saturday, July 28.

Lots of tasty items to eat will be offered along with cool drinks and a variety of other things to tempt those taking part in the afternoon festivities.

Handing the assignment of booth spaces for the concession area in the park are Theta Rho chapter of ESA sorority and Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Groups interested in having a space for concessions or wares should contact Altha Herington at 481-9351, Pam Smith at 481-3231, or Cynthia Thigpen at Parmer County Extension office, 481-3619. Cost of the park space this year is $7.50.

No commercial booths or individuals will be allowed in the park area with resale items. The spaces are available only to area civic or non-profit groups.

Booth spaces are also available for the Arts and Crafts show at $10 per booth. Spaces may be reserved by calling Janie Bowery at 481-3620

Kids reminded of bike registration

All area youngsters are reminded that registration for the Border Town Days Decorated Bike Contest is now open at Texico City Hall.

"Everything is ready at the city hall in Texico for registration," says Ann Cooper, who is in charge of the bike contest. She says that kiddoes planning to enter the decorated bike contest in the parade need to register, giving their name and age, if they are to be eligible for the cash prizes to be awarded.

No motorized bikes will be allowed in the parade, says Mrs. Cooper.

All riders must have their bikes at K.K. Runnels Park at 10 a.m. Texas time, and line up for judging on the south side of the park. "You must be on time or you will not be judged," Mrs. Cooper stresses.

Other rules are as follows: Riders must stay between the three-wheelers, they are there for your safety. No doubling back.

All participants must continue to Farwell City Park, and then park their bikes. NO RIDING WILL BE ALLOWED IN THE PARK AREA.

You must be present at the park to receive your prize.

There will be two divisions in the judging this year:

Division A: Best decorated bike, ages 7-12.

Division B: Best decorated bike, ages six and under.

Judging will be based 50 percent on originality and theme; 30 percent on neatness; and 20 percent on use of color.

Kiddoes are urged to follow the parade theme, "Holidays on Parade," in decorating their bikes.

Tedson Trailers in Texico is providing the cash prizes to the winners.

NUMBER 45 SEVENTY-SECOND YEAR 25 CENTS

More entrants needed - -

Deadline July 18 for queen contest

The deadline for entering the Border Town Days Queen Contest is Wednesday, July 18, and more contestants are needed now.

"We urgently need more entrants in the contest," said Joann Getz, contest chairman, "and we invite and urge all Texico and Farwell girls who will be attending either Texico or Farwell high school next school term to enter the contest right away."

The only other requirements to be eligible to be a BTDC Queen candidate, in addition to attending either of the local high schools the next school year, are that they must not be over 18 years of age, must never have been married, and have a sponsor who will provide the $10 entry fee.

Mrs. Getz has been contacted by many area organizations and businesses seeking a contestant to sponsor, so queen candidates need not worry about obtaining a sponsor as they are available.

A major change has been initiated for this year's contest. The contestants will not be required to perform a talent. They will still be judged on personality and poise at a noon luncheon by out-of-town judges.

"We use out-of-town judges so that in no way will partiality be shown to any girl or either town in selecting our new queen," Mrs. Getz explained.

The contestants will be introduced in the gazebo at Farwell City Park during the activities Saturday afternoon, July 28, but they will not perform a talent. The new BTDC Queen will be revealed and crowned a short time later, and she will reign over the remainder of the afternoon activities.

In addition to naming the 1984-85 Queen, a first, second, and third runnerup will be named.

If for any reason the queen should not be able to serve the entire year, or if she should get married, in which case she must relinquish her title, then the first runnerup would take over the reign, or if necessary, then the second or third runnerup in that order.

"Not only is it an honor to represent the Twin Cities as Miss Border Town Days Queen throughout the year, but we want it to be a fun time too," Mrs. Getz said. The BTDC Queens in past years have appeared and ridden in area parades and they have been invited to special functions in Texico and BTD Committee final wrap-up meeting Mon.

The Border Town Days Committee will have its final wrap-up meeting for this year's celebration Monday, July 16, at 8 p.m. at Spur Restaurant.

All civic and social organizations in the Twin Cities, plus the churches, are urged to have their representative at this important session.

"The celebration will be less than two weeks away, and we must have reports from all groups," said John Getz, BTDC chairman, "in order to complete the final plans."

Please be at the Monday night meeting, Getz urged.

BTD attraction

A special attraction at the Border Town Days celebration this year will be the fiddler and recording artist, Caesare Masse of Bandera, Tex., thanks to the efforts of Truman Welch and Ed Hardage, local musicians. Masse has been playing the fiddle for over 50 years, playing with such celebrities as Willie Nelson and Hank Thompson, and recently with the Leon McAuliffe Band in the Austin area. Masse has been in several movies, and has traveled with Dale Robertson. He will be visiting with his friend, "Smiley" Welch, and will appear and play during the BTDC activities in the city park.

Ronald Hardin began his new job as Parmer County supervisor for the Farmer's Home Administration this week, having accepted the position vacated by Bill Boling who retired. Hardin was formerly the assistant county supervisor at the FHA office in Littlefield. He and his wife Jackie and their two sons, Casey and Stacy, are currently living in Amherst. Ronald is anxious to get settled into his new job and is looking forward to meeting all of the area residents. "I hope I can be of service," he says.

Ronald Hardin assumed his new duties as Parmer County supervisor for the Farmer's Home Administration office in Farwell on Monday of this week, stepping in to fill the position vacated by Bill Boling who retired.

Ronald comes to Farwell from the Farmer's Home Administration office in Littlefield where he was assistant county supervisor off and on for the past 3½ years. During the time he was not acting as assistant county supervisor for FHA, he was holding a position as assistant vice-president of PCA in Lubbock and Seminole.

Ronald and his wife Jackie and their two sons, Casey, age three, and Stacy, age one, are currently living in Amherst where they have resided for the past seven years. For the present, says Gary, he plans on commuting everyday, at least until he can get his house in Amherst sold.

Ronald is a native New Mexican, having grown up in Hobbs. He

Mustang League All-Stars enter tourney

The area Mustang League All-Star Tournament was set to begin Thursday night, July 12, at 7:30 p.m. CDT in Lions Park in Texico, with the Texico-Farwell All-Stars taking on Friona's finest. This is the first year that Texico-Farwell Little League Association has selected an All-Star team from the 9- to 10-year-old age group.

Four teams are entered in the tournament; Friona, Texico-Farwell, and two teams from Muleshoe. The teams from Muleshoe drew an automatic bye in the tournament because the regional tournament is scheduled to be played in Muleshoe later this month. That leaves Texico-Farwell and Friona to battle it out for the division title in the best two out of three games.

Tonight (Friday), game time is also at 7:30 at Lions Park. Should there be a need to play a third game, it will be played Saturday night at the same time.

All-Stars are Cody Monk, Matt Foster, Chad Byrd, Amy Chadwick, Ray Haseloff, Kenny Shaw, Corey Kirkpatrick, Peppy Gonzales, Tuck Traynor, Andy Stormes, Chad Dunsworth, Brandon Kirkland, Marty Moss, Kirk Lingnau, Jody Mahaney, Barry Foreman, Ruben Lucio, and Joe Chavez. Of these 18 players, 15 will participate in the tournament.

The Bronco League All-Star Tournament has been set for next weekend, July 19-21. A location has not yet been decided.

Coaching the Bronco League All-stars are Chaco Arce, Craig Kaltwasser, and Randy Kelley. All-Stars are Bruce White, Benji McDaniel, Larry Powell, Clint Kelley, Brian Rogers, Keith Harrison, B.J. Daniel, Greg Atkinson, Michael Arce, Monte Delgado, Ruben Ortega, Jeremy Jones, Preston Hubby, Darren Haseloff, Dale Rubio, Hector Orozco, Lance Castleberry, Ron Wilson, and Freddie Chavez. Fifteen of these 19 boys will participate in the tournament.

Mustang League All-Stars

Members also discussed forming a cooperative with the other schools in Curry, Roosevelt, and Quay counties, and appointing a regional director who would see to each school's needs in the special education program.

Hail damage received in recent storms was discussed, as was repairs. A report was given on the new extension to the cafeteria which will consist of a 20x12 ft. dry storage unit. It was reported that the extension should be completed in a month.

Conserving water in the kitchen

About one-quarter of all household water use can be traced to the kitchen and laundry room. But with just a few adjustments, families can cut the amount of water they use for cooking and washing dishes. Here are some of the water-saving suggestions:
Cut down on the number of utensils used in preparing meals and on the plates and glassware used with the meals themselves. Plan more one-dish meals in which vegetables are cooked or baked in little or no added water, and save nutrients too.
Because a kitchen faucet can deliver five gallons of water a minute, find ways to avoid running water. For example, use a pan of water to wash fruits and vegetables instead of doing it under the tap. If you wash dishes by hand, use a dish pan and rinse all the dishes at once rather than a few at a time.
Find ways to make double use of water. Ideally, the liquid from cooking vegetables and other foods should be used again as stock for soups or broth. But even if you don't intend to use it for cooking, don't throw it away. Cooking liquids can be used to soak baked-on food off of cookware before washing.

Washing dishes by hand requires anywhere from 8 to 20 gallons of water. A dishwasher typically uses between 12 and 16 gallons of water, so the dishwasher should not automatically be considered a water waster. However, a dishwasher uses the same amount of water whether it is completely full or only partially full, so it pays to wait until the dishwasher is loaded to capacity.
Most of the newer models of dishwashers are designed to make pre-rinsing unnecessary. Many automatic dishwasher owners use their appliance more as a sanitizer than an actual dishwasher because they essentially wash their dishes before loading them into the machine. Pre-rinsing is often a habit begun when they used earlier model machines without the same cleaning capabilities.

Marriage licenses

Three marriage licenses were issued from the office of the Parmer County Clerk since the last report. Receiving the licenses were Jose Alfredo and Mary Isabele Vierra; John Louis Ingram and Beverly Ann Ferguson; and Martin Francisco Contreras and Mona Sue Rocha.

Pamela McDonald, Jay Sealey wed in double ring ceremony

Pamela Beth McDonald became the bride of Jay Kirk Sealey in a double ring ceremony Friday, June 8, in the Farwell Church of Christ. Andy Rogers, Church of Christ minister from Antlers, Okla., performed the ceremony. G.W. Mimms of Lazbuddie led the closing prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.J. McDonald of Farwell. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Sealey of Clovis. Grandmothers of the bride are Mrs. G.W. Crain of Lazbuddie and Mrs. J.H. McDonald of Farwell. The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Grace Kelso of Clovis and Clovis Sealey of Rockmart, Ga.

The front of the church was decorated with a 15-branch center fan, brass candelabra adorned with pink bows, two 15-branch brass spiraling candelabras with garlands of grapevine ivy and pastel pink votive cup candles. In front of the center fan was a large bouquet of enchantment lilies, pink roses, and iris. The unity candle was of sculptured roses with two white tapers.

The bridegroom escorted both his mother and the mother of the bride to the front of the church. Guests were ushered by Brian Jones and Robert Klebold of Clovis.

Maid of honor was Kerri Donahey of Canyon. Kim McDonald, sister of the bride, of Amarillo and Julie Johnston of Crosbyton served as bridesmaids.

They wore dresses of pastel yellow, pink, and lavender dotted swiss featuring a ruffled cape collar, semi-fitted bodice, and gathered skirt culminating with a deep ruffle to the floor. Bows of matching satin graced each shoulder with a satin sash tied in front.

Each carried a nosegay of African violets, yellow and white daisies, pink phlox, and lavender tulle accented with delicate butterflies.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a long sleeved fushia chiffon street length dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bride's mother wore a pale blue street length chiffon dress with a matching long sleeved jacket with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was an off-the-shoulder silk taffeta, appliqued with alecon lace and pearls, and clusters of silk roses gracing the florentine neckline and skirt.

She wore a crownless hat sewn of sheffli lace and iridescents finished with a waltz length illusion and silk ribbons cascading to the floor.

The bride's bouquet consisted of both white cabbage roses, white sweetheart roses, pink azalia blossoms, silk lavender, and ivory baby's breath, pink Bells of Ireland, embossed with silver tulle, and a rainbow of lace streamers.

For something old, the bride wore a diamond necklace made from her Grandmother Crain's engagement ring. Something new was pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. Something borrowed was a small gold ring belonging to her sister, Kim McDonald. Something blue was her garter made by her aunt, Fleeta Webb of Lubbock.

The bridegroom wore a solid white tuxedo and a white shirt. His boutonniere was a single pink rose.

Serving as best man was Layne Walker of Dallas. Groomsmen were Gary Starbuck of Clovis and Max Martin of Texico. They wore silver gray tuxedos, white shirts, and pink carnation boutonniere.

Wedding music was solo and trio selections by Sheryl Day of Texico, D'Ann Richardson of Texico, and J.R. Sewell of Farwell. Selections were "The Lord Our Savior Is," "The Rose," "Speak Softly Love," "The Wedding Song," and "Whither Tho Goest." As the bride entered the church the group sang "Let It Be Me" and "Follow Me" as the couple left the church.

The reception was in the church banquet room. The bride's table was draped with a three-tiered white floor length cloth caught up into scallops and trimmed with pink bows. The three-tiered white cake featured hearts enhanced by scallops, doves and bells. It was highlighted by roses made of the bride's chosen colors of pink, yellow, and lavender. It was roped with wedding rings, doves and bells and adorned at the bottom with leather leaf and baby's breath.

Appointments were silver and crystal. Mints of pink, yellow and lavender bells and roses were made by the bride's mother. A flower arrangement of orchids, daisies, and pink carnations centered the table flanked by four pink candles in crystal holders. Serving at the bride's table were Jeanette Darden of Canyon and Mitrelle Johnson of Amarillo.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a pastel yellow linen cloth, made by his mother. The cake was chocolate hexagon with chocolate icing and decorated with dark chocolate hearts on each side and topped with a cascade of chocolate roses and leaves.

Appointments were a silver service belonging to the bride's grandmother McDonald. The centerpiece was yellow and white daisies in a wooden western boot. Serving at the bridegroom's table were Darla Sealey and Susan Sealey of Clovis, sisters of the bridegroom.

Rice bags were yellow, pink, and lavender rice in miniature bells entwined with net, made by the bride. The were distributed by Layle Sealey, sister of the bridegroom.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at K-Bobs in Clovis. Gifts to the wedding party were presented.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Bill Bourlon and Mrs. Preston Martin of Farwell and Mrs. G.W. Mimms, Mrs. Bill Thorn, Mrs. Everett McBroom and Mrs. J.W. Gammon of Lazbuddie.

For a going away outfit, the bride chose a red one-piece jump suit with an orchid corsage.

After a honeymoon to Ruidoso, N.M. the couple is residing north of Clovis where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

There will be no admission charge for the opening ceremony, and all Twin Cities and area residents are urged to attend.

The tourney, which is part of the National Junior Olympics, will be handled in Olympic style, and the opening ceremony will be similar to those of the International Olympic Games.

According to Jim Martin, chairman of the AAU Steering Committee, 57 teams from all over the United States are signed up to participate in the tournament. This is not only the first AAU tourney to be held west of the Mississippi River, it has now become the largest in the history of the AAU.

There will be six games a day in Rock Staubus gym in Clovis and six per day in ENMU gym in Portales; 108 games in all to determine the National AAU girls championship in both the 16-year-old and 18-year-old groups.

Two games per session are scheduled with sessions starting at 8:30 a.m., 1 p.m., and 6 p.m. MDT.

According to National AAU rules, no team can play more than two games per day.

Season passes good for all games may be purchased for $20 at the three offices of Sunwest Bank in Clovis. For individual sessions (consisting of two games), tickets may be purchased at the gate for $2 for adults, $1 for students, and $50 for ages six to 12. Children under six are admitted free.

The Clovis Community Band, directed by Norvil Howell, will play at the opening of the ceremony, and then during the parade of teams, the band will play "Olympic Fanfare and March."

One of the highlights of the evening will be the carrying of the Olympic Torch into the gym by Mona Bryant, Miss New Mexico USA; and Rhonda Pullman, Miss Clovis USA.

Olympic Gold Medal Winner Kurt Thomas will give a welcome, as will other Junior Olympic dignitaries, the Clovis and Portales mayors, and the ENMU president.

Entertainment will include the Old Lyceum Theatre Gaslight Players, Cannon Air Force vocal duo, Los Guadalupanos Mariachi Band, Triad Square Dancers, and Clovis High School Wildcaddettes.

The grand finale will be the Clovis Community Band and Singers performing "Sounds of New Mexico."

New Lion officers

Evangelist to preach at Texico Baptist Church

Charles Massegee, renowned evangelist from Ranger, Tex., will be preaching in revival services at the First Baptist Church in Texico at 7 p.m. MDT nightly, July 15-19.

Massegee is in great demand nationally, and his crusades must often be booked two to four years in advance. Rev. Joel Horne, church pastor, urges the public to attend this series of services.

The evangelist was born in the small West Texas town of Ranger, where he lived until graduating from high school. He was literally "raised in church," for his father was pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Ranger, and the parsonage was located in the third story of the church building.

Massegee has now been in full-time evangelism since 1953. He has become a major figure in the Southern Baptist Convention, serving as president of the Evangelists' Conference for three consecutive terms beginning in 1969. His revivals have taken him into almost every state in the Union.

The public is encouraged to hear this dynamic man at Texico Baptist. All seats are free for these inspiring crusade services, says Bro. Horne. A nursery will be provided.

"I was surprised how quick the variety was ready to graze."

"In fact, some of my neighbors tried to rent my pasture when they saw how much better established it was than others all around us."

Pioneer® variety 2157 gets off to a fast start, quickly establishing the kind of healthy, vigorous growing stand so necessary for good pasture. Its upright growth habit helps provide maximum available grazing.

And because 2157 has proven to be such a good yielder, you can count on it to deliver top-quality wheat at season's end.

If pasture is part of your wheat program, new 2157 should be, too.

New Wheat Variety 2157

Superior Yield • Excellent Standability • Outstanding Grazing

"When I pulled my combine into the field, I knew for sure this wasn't an ordinary wheat crop."

"That 2157 was standing out there good and straight. And when I moved down the rows, I could hear the cylinders running full."

Farmers who've seen this impressive new high yielding variety like its standability and tolerance to dry growing periods and severe weather. It has excellent resistance to leaf rust, fungal leaf blights, soil borne mosaic virus and the Hessian fly.

In side-by-side comparisons, Pioneer® brand 2157 wheat has consistently out-yielded other popular varieties. And it has shown consistently high test weights.

"I switched to Ford."

Nap Lawrence of Tempe and Casa Grande, Arizona with his Ford Ranger.

"I bought my first Ford four-wheel-drive in 1979. Today I own both a Ranger and an F-150. There's no question Ford is totally superior to the GMC and Chevrolet trucks I had driven previously.

Since I switched to Ford I don't think I've had a truck out of action since 1979. That's important, because downtime is money to me. I farm 1000 acres in Casa Grande, and home is 40 miles away in Tempe. I need something that's not gonna wear me out making that drive everyday, but is tougher than nails when I get off pavement.

If there's one thing that sold me on Ford trucks, it's ruggedness and dependability, no question.

All I can say is keep making 'em that way, I sure like 'em."

Semi-rig leaves wide path of destruction

Jeffrey Baker, a 35-year-old truck driver from Seattle, Wash., was seriously injured early Saturday morning when the tractor-trailer rig he was driving failed to make a turn on U.S. Highway 60 going into Texico, causing the rig to careen off of the road.

According to New Mexico State Police Officer Stephen Whittington, investigating officer, Baker was coming into Texico on the Amarillo highway at approximately 1 a.m. MDT when he missed the turn. The semi left the road, crashed through a guard rail near the Spur restaurant, knocked down a billboard, crossed State Street, and demolished a storage shed just behind the Crossroads Motel, severing a natural gas line and knocking down electrical lines.

Baker, a self-employed truck driver, was transported to the Clovis hospital by the Texico ambulance.

He was immediately transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell by another ambulance. He suffered a broken back among other multiple injuries, but a report of his condition was not available at press time.

According to Juanita Hardage, owner of the Crossroads Motel, the truck leveled a storage building that rested in back of the motel. "The building is completely gone," said Mrs. Hardage. "It destroyed everything in it. We had clothes and a lot of photography equipment in it from when we used to work with photography a lot."

Mrs. Hardage also said that because of the break in the gas line, guests at the hotel had to be evacuated to sleep in their cars. Until the gas line was fixed so that they could get some hot water, they were not able to rent any rooms, Mrs. Hardage added.

Early morning accident

This semi tractor-trailer rig, driven by Jeffrey Baker of Seattle, Wash., did a thorough job of demolishing a storage building behind the Crossroads Motel in Texico, narrowly missing the motel. The truck failed to make the curve on U.S. Highway 60 coming into Texico. It left a path of destruction as it crashed through the guard rail, knocked down a billboard, jumped State Street, and leveled the storage building. It also severed a gas meter and knocked down electrical lines and a fence at the motel. Baker was transported to the Clovis hospital, and then was transferred to a Roswell hospital with serious injuries.
