Farwell Invitational Tournament Begins Today

American education right now is undergoing some pretty critical scrutiny. What do we think about it? Well, all we can say is that if it's as rigid as a mock "eighth grade test" we took from a magazine the other day, the kids are doing okay if they just eke by on their grades.

While reading Changing Times Sunday night, the writer chanced across the article, "Can You Still Pass the Eighth Grade?" We usually don't bother with such nonsense, because we know we're smarter than average, but on account of all the loud noise that's been going on about our teaching standards lately, we decided it'd be fun to just see how high a score we could run up.

The quiz was pretty long (two full pages), and we can't possibly reprint it here. But we'd like to give you a sample or two. Just one look at the first question and we called in the wife, and both of us started to work.

We were given a list of names including Daniel Boone, De Witt Clinton, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, John Jay, John C. Calhoun, Alexander Hamilton, Dred Scott, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Jefferson Davis, Eli Whitney, Henry Clay, Cyrus W. Field, and William H. Seward.

All of those names sounded familiar, except one. Next, we were supposed to match them with a list of descriptions: the great compromiser, inventor of the cotton gin, states' right advocate, loser in a fatal duel, promoter of the Alaska Purchase, first supreme court justice, extender of the spoils system, pioneer in Kentucky, developer of the Erie Canal, president of the Confederacy, writer of an inflammatory novel, negotiator of the Louisiana Purchase, layer of the Atlantic cable, and tester of the Missouri Compromise.

Needless to say, we made some colossal blunders, and we'll bet you will too, if you try.

Then we moved on into fields of spelling, geography, literature, grammar, science, and old-fashioned arithmetic. We made the biggest flops in literature and science, but swept the series in grammar and spelling.

Truthfully, if it wasn't that we deal in the mechanics of the English language daily, we probably would have fallen short in those departments, too.

After circling what we felt were the proper answers to the questions, we turned to the list of solutions on another page, and scored ourselves. The author and his wife, working together, made a cumulative grade of D on the test. If we hadn't had each other's help, both of us would have flunked out!

Well, needless to say, we've been set back a bit. It doesn't help our ego to size up our knowledge of, say, American history, and find how briefly informed we really are on such a vital subject.

We have made our first New Year's resolution, and it will have to do with reading at least one chapter a week in our old American history book. We are pulling it down from the shelf and dusting it off.

Very likely, many of our readers would be equally as shocked if they had an opportunity to measure their actual knowledge of the world about them. In this day, surely we should know the difference between fission and fusion, or just exactly what are protons, neutrons, electrons, atoms, molecules, and roentgens. However, most of us don't, and those are perfectly elementary terms in the field of science.

The next time you scowl at Johnny or Jane for not making their grades, and the next time you feel like giving the teacher a piece of your mind for running such a lousy, lazy school system, better check your own IQ a little.

You might be in for a surprise.

We have several printing presses and are in the printing business up to our ears, but we'll be hanged if at times we don't wish that everything put down on paper could be burned so we could start over from scratch.

The mountain of paper work required to keep a business running is increasing in size almost daily, and even the humblest enterprises are so wrapped up in paperwork their managers hardly have time to worry about sales.

A great amount of paperwork is required by various agencies of the government, and a businessman today almost needs an attorney at his elbow to properly fill out the blanks, or face the penalty of the law.

However, the bulk of the paperwork in business today is self imposed, and seems almost impossible to get rid of. As time goes on, we find that the use of statistics from this or that department of our operations need to be referred to from time to time to maintain proper accounting procedures, and the burden of just "keeping the books" as we loosely call it is one of the biggest time consumers of this newspaper.

In fact, it might surprise you to find that we spend more time sweating over the books than we do out gathering the news! That isn't the way we want it to be—it's just a reflection of the times,

Old Friendships Renewed by Exes Saturday Night

Old times were renewed Saturday night when 123 ex-students and teachers of Oklahoma Lane, West Camp and Farwell Consolidated Schools, met to once again recall stories of days gone by, at the annual Ex-Students Association banquet.

Scouts to Serve Chili Dinner This Saturday

Texico Boy Scouts will serve a chili dinner for 50 cents a person at the Texico Woman's Club Building Saturday, December 7. Pie and coffee will be included and serving will be from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The dinner is one of the first fund-raising events planned by the scout troop which was organized six months ago with Jerry Stallings as Scoutmaster and C. W. Webb as assistant.

The troop now has 14 members working in patrols led by Kenneth Murdick, Larry Lancaster, Lee Spears and Bill Roth. All 14 have completed the Tenderfoot and Second Class rank requirements and are working on the requirements for First Class Scouts.

Six members have their uniforms and Stallings hopes that others will get theirs soon.

"We commend Stallings and Webb for the work they are doing and the time they are giving the scouts," says Mrs. Curtis Miller, president of the Texico Woman's Club. The two leaders meet with the boys each Monday night for business, games, refreshments, and to plan future activities.

Barbecue Dinner To Be Served Friday Night

A barbecue dinner with all the trimmings is planned Friday night, beginning at 6 p.m., preceding the Farwell invitational basketball tournament.

The dinner is a money-making project of the Young Adult Sunday School class of the Methodist Church, and serving is scheduled to begin at the Farwell school cafeteria at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Originally planned at the church, the place of the barbecue was changed because of lack of serving facilities for a large number.

Everyone is invited to attend the dinner, with tickets selling for $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years of age.

St. Nick Due Here Dec. 14

The latest news flash from the North Pole, confirms an earlier report to The Tribune, that Santa Claus has placed Texico-Farwell on his schedule of pre-Christmas stops, and will be here December 14 to visit with local youngsters and to distribute treats to the little ones.

The ruddy-faced bearded gentleman, who will be assisted by members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha in distributing 1000 treat bags during his afternoon visit here, will be met by the local women and escorted to town on the fire truck, as has been the practice in years past, and is to arrive at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on the announced date.

After a drive through the Twin Cities so he can wave at all the children, Santa will return to the vacant lot adjacent to Lone Star elevator where bags of candy, fruit and nuts will be given away by Santa and ESA members.

TROPHY AWARDS—Of the 16 teams participating in the Farwell Invitational Basketball Tournament this weekend, six will be the recipients of the trophies shown above. To be awarded trophies will be the first and second place winners and the consolation victor in both boys' and girls' divisions. Looking over the trophies are Farwell's coaches, Calvin Murray, left, and R. B. Tucker.

Car Hits Pole In Effort To Miss Bicycle

Swerving to miss a boy on a bicycle, a 1956 Ford station wagon rammied into a utility pole in an accident late Wednesday evening in Texico. Matt Pendergrass, driver of the vehicle, was uninjured.

Traveling west on Main Street, Pendergrass crashed into the pole when Bobby Hapke, riding his bicycle in the same direction, attempted to cross the highway in front of the approaching car. The accident occurred at the Highway 108 intersection near Tom Finley's Texico Service Station No. 2.

The car received a caved in left fender and a broken windshield and the utility pole was severed off near the ground.

Fruit Market Now Open for Business

A new business was opened in Farwell this week by L. T. Utsman. Located in the building adjacent to Hughes Auto Supply in east Farwell, the business will be known as Farwell Fruit Market.

Utsman says he plans to handle all kinds of fruits and vegetables. At the present time, produce display tables are being built and additional items will be stocked as they are completed, he adds.

Phone Company Seeks Rate Hike

Residents of Texico-Farwell may well be paying more for the use of telephones beginning January 1. C. H. Forester, Clovis manager for Mountain States Telephone Company, which serves the Twin Cities, announced yesterday that the

New Hours Listed For Southern Union

New office hours effective December 7 for Southern Union Gas Company's Farwell office were announced today by Elmer Teel, the Company's local manager.

Teel said that beginning this weekend, the gas company's business office will close all day on Saturday, and will be open Monday through Friday from 8:00 to 5:00. He emphasized however, that the Company will have key personnel on a stand-by basis on Saturdays to handle emergency calls and requests.

As a convenience to customers the Company has installed a 24-hour deposit box where payments for gas bills may be made on Saturdays and after closing hours. The depository, with a supply of special envelopes for enclosing payments, is located in front of the business office.

firm seeks advances in rates on that date.

He indicated that the company has already filed with the New Mexico Corporation Commission, regulatory body for utility rates, and that the way is clear there. However, it will be necessary for the Farwell city commission to approve the increase, and because of the lateness of the announcement, the city had taken no action today.

Forester says, "For rate purposes, all communities in New Mexico served by Mountain States are classed in groups, depending on the number of phones in service. Rates charged are the same for all communities in their respective groups. Rate schedules are higher for larger communities where there are more telephones, and lower where there are not so many."

Farwell and Texico subscribers have "extended area" service with Clovis and vicinity, and are considered as would be Clovis subscribers.

Forester says that all exchanges in the state between 2,801 and 7,500 telephones pay the same rate. "Since the Clovis area has grown to 9,236 telephones, it has been reclassified into the next higher telephone rate group." The manager adds that the Clovis exchange went over its previous bracket in August of 1955, but rates have not been raised since then.

Residence rates are due to go up $1.20 per month for one-party service, 90 cents a month for two-party, and 50 cents a month for either four-party or rural. Business rates are to be hiked $1.90 for a one-party line, $1.20 for two-party, and 50 cents for rural.

Chorus to Appear Before Farwell PTA

Presenting their first program for a local audience will be the newly organized chorus of the Farwell High School at a PTA meeting Thursday, December 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Mrs. Shelby Jobs will direct the group in several numbers and the remainder of the program will be presented by the fourth grade classes. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria by the social committee.

Dinner guests of Mrs. Susie Jesko Thanksgiving Day were Mrs. Merrill Turner and Dixie.

Six basketball games are on tap today at the Farwell gymnasium as an invitational tournament gets underway. The tourney opened at 2:30 this afternoon with a game between girls' teams from Amherst and Lazbuddie.

The tournament is to continue through Saturday night, and participating are boys' and girls' teams from eight area high schools. In all, 20 games will be played during the three-day event, with the championship games set for Saturday night.

In addition to a tournament champion in each division, there will also be a consolation winner emerging from the losing brackets. Six trophies will be presented at the close of the tourney to the first and second place winners, and to the consolation winner in each division.

Games scheduled for today other than the tourney opener, have the Sudan Hornets meeting the Bovina Mustangs at 3:30 and the girls' teams from the two schools clashing at 5:10.

Starting off the night session will be the Friona Chiefs and the Lazbuddie Longhorns in a game at 6:30. That game will be followed by an encounter between the girls' teams from Farwell and Friona at 7:50, and in the nightcap, Farwell's Steers will meet Amherst at 9:10.

Two other first round games will be played Friday afternoon when the Adrian and Whitharral girls' teams meet at 2:30 and the boys' squads from the same two schools clash at 3:50.

The tournament will have two sessions both today and Friday and three are scheduled for Saturday. Admission price for each session is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students and children under 12.

Semi-final games in both the championship and consolation rounds are booked for Friday night and Saturday morning.

In the girls' division, the winners of the Farwell-Friona and Lazbuddie-Amherst games will play at 5:10 Friday and the losers meet at 6:30. In the lower bracket, the victors of the Adrian-Whitharral and Sudan-Bovina games meet in the final game Friday night at 9:10, while the losers meet at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

In the boys' division, the winners of the Farwell-Amherst and Sudan-Bovina games will play at 7:50 p.m. Friday and the losers meet at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. In the lower bracket, the Adrian-Whitharral and the Friona-Lazbuddie victors meet at 9:50 a.m. Saturday and the losers play at 11:10 a.m. Saturday.

Starting at 8:30 Saturday morning, there will be four games in the morning session. The two consolation finals will make up the afternoon session, the girls' game beginning at 4 and the boys' game at 5:20.

The two championship games will be Saturday night, the girls' game getting underway at 7:30 and the boys' contest beginning at 8:30.

Texico Postpones Play Production

Production of the Texico senior play, tentatively scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night, has been postponed until Thursday, December 19, according to Buck Doran, director.

The delay is caused by the installation of new stage equipment which has not been completed.

Members of the senior class are cast in the three-act farce which takes place on a western ranch. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Swim Pool Still Being Pondered

What to do next was still the question being pondered this week by a few "diehards" working on a swimming pool for Texico-Farwell.

No definite decision was reached at either of the last two meetings, and Jess Land-rum, the man who instigated the project, said that probably no decision will be made until after Christmas.

"Several things have resulted in the project reaching a stalemate, thus making it doubtful that it can be continued with success," Landrum says. "Nevertheless, we still have a few workers who are willing to go on, and at the present time we are debating what should be done," he adds.

The last plan undertaken was for the pool to be located on N. L. Tharp's property in Texico, on the state line road. Tharp donated the site, plus $4,000 and the Texico Woman's Club made a canvass of Texico and raised $1,240 for the project.

As it had been decided to locate the pool in Texico, the canvass was made with the understanding that the pool was to be on the New Mexico side of the line.

Citizens of Farwell and Farmer County had previously pledged over $8,000 to the project when it had been planned that the pool would be located in Farwell. However, when the Texico site was decided on, about $2,000 of the figure was withdrawn by various contributors, thereby leaving the total at approximately $6,000. The two totals amount to $11,000, $4,000 short of the $15,000 goal.

"The Texico women indicated that the $1,240 was all that could be raised in Texico, therefore it looks like that's as far as we can go," Landrum says.

At the present time, the pool workers are letting the project ride in hopes that something will develop. It has been suggested that the location be moved back to the original spot in Farwell, and go on from there.

Ways of raising the remaining funds if this were to be done are still to be pondered and several ideas have been discussed. "However, if we do continue the project in this way, we will need more people to assist with it," Landrum says.

He adds that, "One thing we do ask of the people at the present time is that they do not request their money back by January 1." "Those who want it can have it by asking, but if we continue the project, it will take longer than had been originally planned."

The deadline for raising money was originally set for January 1.

Landrum points out that the ones working on the project still don't care where the pool is located, and they will take any feasible step in any direction.

Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Effie Johnson were her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parrack. They were enroute to their home in Albuquerque.

SHE DID IT AGAIN—Mrs. George Eades of Dumas again took the trophy for representing the oldest class at the Farwell Ex-Students banquet. Taking honors for coming the longest distance was Charles Holland, who lives in El Paso.

Grand Jury Call Set for 16th

The Farmer County grand jury, dismissed from October service because of harvest, will be called to go to work on Monday, December 16. Notices will be mailed to 16 residents next week by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

Bill Sheehan, district attorney, indicates that the panel of 12 will have four cases to investigate for possible indictments. They include one case of child desertion, and three cases of theft.

However, he does not see a need for calling the petit jury immediately afterward, as is sometimes done to dispose of cases indicted by the grand jury members.

The call for a petit jury will be carried over until March, Sheehan indicates.

District Judge E. A. Bills was in Farwell Monday to hold court, but found business pretty light. Joe McKinney of Bovina, charged with destruction of property, was expected to be tried, but his case has been deferred.

Pablo Baca of Clovis was ordered by Judge Bills to be taken to prison to serve a two-year sentence. The Clovis man had failed to meet the requirements for probation that had been set by the judge several months previously.

Baca had previously been convicted of theft in the amount of $100, and has been in the custody of the sheriff for a period allowed him to replace the $100, which he failed to do.

Also, Judge Bills heard one civil case, and awarded a default judgment to Gifford-Hill-Western. They were in suit against Finis Kimbrough in the amount of $864.15. Kimbrough did not answer the suit.

Texico-Farwell really turned out for the holiday fantasy at Country Club in Clovis Sunday, and it was a marvelous presentation. We've never seen so many yummy Christmas decoration ideas at one time.

We wouldn't have missed it for anything, even if Mrs. D. W. Bagley hadn't been so kind to yours truly and gran'ma, and entertained us as her guests.

We were so engrossed in watching the artists assemble centerpieces, door decorations, and conversation pieces that we long overstayed the time we told our husband it would take when he agreed to baby-sit so we could go.

Would someone please tell us how to remove purple crayola from beige wool carpeting?

Mrs. George Eades of Dumas carried away one of the coveted awards at the ex-students banquet at Farwell Saturday night.

Cotton Allotments Take Slight Rise

This year has been rugged on county cotton growers, and they would be cheered by almost any good news. The good news this week is that cotton allotments for their next year's crop will go up—not down.

The 1958 allotment for Parmer County is 47,246 acres, an increase of almost 4,000 acres over last year. During 1956, Parmer County growers were allotted 43,298 acres.

The good news is not a result of any special legislation or political bonodoggling. It is plain arithmetic on the accepted yardstick of determining allotments—history of planted acreage.

Used as a basis for the county base acreage is the past 5-year average. In 1952 (an uncontrolled year), an estimated 80,000 acres were planted to cotton. Then, in 1953 (another uncontrolled year), 97,127 acres were planted.

The 1954 allotment was 54,235; 1955 had 44,310; and 1956, 41,460 acres.

The main reason Parmer County's allotment is headed higher next year is that 1951 (31,500 acres) is being replaced with 1956. Parmer, Castro, and Swisher Counties on the High Plains will have an increase of

Senior 4-H Girls Meet Monday

Three girls attended the regular monthly county-wide 4-H meeting Monday night, November 25. It was held in the home of Judy Billingsley, and was for members of the Senior 4-H Club for girls.

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Parmer County home demonstration agent, gave two demonstrations. She taught the girls how to make chocolate peanut cluster candy and also showed them many ways to keep dresser drawers neat and tidy.

Those attending were Virginia and Barbara Rea, Judy Billingsley and Miss Wainscott. County-wide meets are held in the home of one of the members the fourth Monday night of each month.

about the same ratio. Asked whether an increase had been expected previously, Prentice Mills, ASC office manager, says, "An increase was justified by our history, but we weren't sure about the increase until we got it."

Statewide allotments are down one percent. The maximum any county in Texas is being reduced this year is one and one-half percent. Lamb County, a Parmer County neighbor, is being cut back that amount, but still has an allotment exceeding 200,000 acres.

Individual allotments are now going out to farmers, and the history method of setting those figures has been used, also. The law requires that no farmer be reduced to fewer than four acres, but Parmer County will have no allotments of fewer than 10 acres.

A local reserve of 410 acres is being held back for new growers, errors in allotments, and other contingencies. All the allotment will eventually be used, however.

Mills says he expects "from 20 to 25" new growers will appear in the county next year. He also expects "about 100" to apply for new grower allotments, though many will not qualify for them, he says.

Marketing Quotas At Stake Tuesday

Cotton growers will go to the polls Tuesday, December 10, to vote on whether marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1958 upland cotton crop.

The secretary of agriculture is required by law to proclaim marketing quotas if the supply of upland cotton is more than the normal supply. Such a proclamation for the 1958 crop has been made by Secretary Benson.

Marketing quotas cannot be continued in effect, however, without the approval of at least two-thirds of the cotton growers voting in a referendum on the question. So the next step is to hold a referendum in which farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1957 are eligible to vote.

If quotas are approved for the 1958-crop upland cotton, price support will be available to eligible growers at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the minimum level depending on the supply at the time the support is determined.

Under a quota program, also, quota penalties will apply to cotton producers in excess of farm cotton allotments. If quotas are disapproved, there will be no quotas or penalties, but cotton acreage allotments will remain in effect. In this case, price support to eligible growers of upland cotton will be limited to 50 percent of parity.

The voting in Parmer County will take place at the polling places listed below, which will be open between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Lawlis & Ely Gin — Bovina

You need not pay a poll tax to be eligible to vote in the cotton referendum.

In previous years, local cotton growers have been "lukewarm" on the matter of the referendum, although it has always carried in Parmer County. This year, for the first time, there is organized effort to "jump the fence" and turn down the referendum.

Whether those agitating for defeat of the referendum will be successful remains to be seen, but it is interesting to note that marketing quotas have been retained by only a slim number of votes in recent years.

Mighty Winds Tumble Grain, But Recovery Outlook Good

What farmers feared most finally happened last week. The High Plains, famous for their big winds, were swept by a northern gale that flattened or severely damaged several thousand acres of grain sorghum that had not yet been cut.

At first, the results of the wind were thought to be almost catastrophic, but after the damage was surveyed, and tests were made to determine how much of the fallen crop could be recovered, spirits revived considerably.

The hearts of many farmers were in their mouths by Wednesday afternoon, when the cold north wind persisted hour after hour, and the crops began to tumble. Hardest hit were the east-west rows, thousands of which were laid flat by the force of the wind.

Grain heads in such rows had nothing to lean on as did those of the north-south rows, and nearly all the grain wound up in the middles. Also, much more grain was exposed to the wind. Fields so affected were reduced to a "mess" in only a few hours, and farmers were frightened to consider the consequences.

Combining the grain with ordinary equipment was out of the question, because there wasn't anything left to cut. It was all down on the ground. Saving the day for the grain men who were struck with this misfortune this year were special "pickup" combine attachments that have just been popularized.

As the grain began to fall, calls for these gadgets, which replace the common reel with fingers that work like a cotton stripper, row binder, or corn puller, could be heard all over the Plains.

Area dealers had been sold out for weeks, and some farmers hauled in such accessory equipment from as far away as Oklahoma and Kansas. There is still a big demand for the gadgets, but enough of them are in operation, and are scheduled to be passed around from one farmer to another, so that most farmers either have immediate access to one, or have been promised the use of one in the near future.

Cushioning the blow of the winds, which could have been much worse if they had come just a little earlier, were these factors:

1. From 75 to 80 percent of the Parmer County area had been cut.
2. From the remaining 20 to 25 percent, only the east-west rows received full effects of the winds, which put total possible loss at 10 to 12½ percent of the total crop. Reports indicate that farmers who are using pickup attachments on the downed grain, are being careful and are taking it easy, are coming up with from 75 to 90 percent of what fell over.

This part of the Plains was much more fortunate than farmers to the east. Although moisture has been a problem here all fall long, conditions have been much more severe on the eastern part of the Plains. Over half of the crop there was still unharvested.

The biggest dents in the harvest were made during the first of last week, while, in spite of cold, tough days, combine crews kept at it—even into the night and all day Thursday with hardly time taken off for the traditional Thanksgiving meal.

Moisture content was running too high in most cases, but elevator operators were cooperative and were sticking their necks out to share the risks with the farmer. Much grain has been placed on the ground to dry, and some will be dried artificially with special equipment. Blending with dry stocks is helping, too.

The haste to get the crop in paid off, because the high winds began Wednesday. They abated somewhat on Thursday, but then came back with renewed vigor on Friday and Saturday.

The latter two days were the most damaging.

Of the winds, County Agent Joe Jones says, "It sure would have been a whole lot worse if the winds had come sooner." Damage likely would have doubled if the wind had come only a week earlier.

Jones remarks, "The county as a whole wasn't hit as badly as you might think." This isn't the first time such a thing has happened. More experienced farmers say that in years past they have seen conditions just this way. Years ago, when shocking feed was still common, it used to happen. They also can remember picking up much of the fallen grain, tossing it into wagons pulled behind horses or mules, and taking the grain in to the barn to be fed.

However, this is something new in this era of irrigation, when crops are big and stakes

Talk about a mess, these farmers have it! They are edging into this felled Texas 620 milo very cautiously, and, with special attachments on their combine, are having good luck in recovering the lodged grain. In this field near Bovina, near 5,000 pounds is being recovered, as compared with what appeared to be a total loss. The nose of the attachment is put right on the bottom of the middles, and actually does some plowing on occasion. Such low-angle combining forces nearly all the straw into the machine, and threshing is more tedious. However, farmers have successfully adjusted their machines for satisfactory operation.

are high. It's the first time that farmers have ever gone out to see their 5,000-pound feed and found it all lying on the ground.

No particular variety has been pronounced especially susceptible to the winds. Nearly all grain, both standard and hybrid, was toppled when exposed to the winds at right angles to the rows.

However, County Agent Joe Jones says some strains appear to have bigger, stronger stalk development, and he will present information on that subject after results can be assayed following conditions of this year.

The 1st Marine Division brought to a successful end the Battle of Guadalcanal, the first offensive of the U. S. against the Japanese, December 9, 1942.

As the combine inches along, constant attention is required to unclog the tangled stalks as they are pulled into the sickle. Jack Kirkpatrick pokes at the snarls with a stick to keep things rolling smoothly.

This is our favorite letter to Santa Claus. We are sure it was written by a little boy exactly like the ones at our house. It goes like this: "Dear Santa Claus—Last Christmas I asked you for a puppy and a kangaroo and a boa-constrictor. You brought the puppy and he is fine. This year, please bring me the kangaroo and the boa-constrictor." The letter was signed "A Little Boy."

The only 1958 car that offers more of everything you want... yet is priced lower than in '57

Here's great news! While prices of 1958 cars of other manufacturers are up, the price of Ford's exciting new Custom 300 Series is down. A brand-new 58 Ford Custom 300 with all of its exciting new styling and engineering advances is priced lower than a '57 model, similarly equipped!

World approved styling. A Custom 300 brings you styling that is dramatically new. With its Honeycombed grille, Slipstream roof, Deep-Sculptured rear deck, and Safety-Twin headlights and taillights, Ford styling drew admiring glances from Paris to Saigon... yet it's yours now in any 58 Ford Custom 300 without extra cost!

New handling ease. Slide behind the wheel of a Custom 300 and you'll soon discover just how much fun driving can be. Notice how smoothly it handles. That's Ford's new feather-touch Magic-Circle steering, the next best thing to power steering.

New riding comfort. Notice, too, the solid comfort of your ride. That's Ford's easier acting front and rear suspensions. They soak up the bumps before they reach you.

Thrifty, new engines. You have a wonderful choice of new, more efficient power plants... designed for real gas-saving economy plus greater performance. Six or V-8, they give you more power, smoother power, from less gas!

Priced as much as $50 lower. A comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail delivered prices shows that a 58 Ford Custom 300 is priced as much as $50 less than the same model for '57! You'll wonder how Ford can offer so many of the things you want in a car priced so low. One big reason: Ford gives you more car for less money because Fords sell more!

See and drive a Custom 300 and we believe you'll agree that these Fords give you more real value for your car-buying dollars than any car on the American road today.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

Castor beans are coming to the front in discussions of replacements for grain sorghums again. Improved varieties and methods of harvest are giving them more appeal, along with the uncertainty of grain sorghum prices.

C. H. Janeway, field representative for the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation, was in the office the other day discussing various fields of research on the beans and other crops. Sesame is another that is being improved to the extent that it is believed acreage will increase in this area.

We haven't been over to the research station, but we have been told that there is much to interest anyone interested in commodity experimentation for this part of Texas.

With Christmas, a season that inspires spending, or at least the desire to spend, coming up, we again call the attention of wives to a good source of redeemable cash, the five cents per gallon road tax refund on farm-used fuels. When you receive your notice, a post card, you can come in and sign the affidavit for your husband, and in a week or so, have the money back.

Some of our people who were unable to make the State Farm Bureau Convention because of milo harvest are expressing interest in the national convention in Chicago, December 8. We hope they can make it.

Some of you, who have not returned your draft authorization for membership signed or unsigned, are requested to do so as soon as convenient. You are urged to make any suggestions you may think of for improving Farm Bureau's service to you and other members.

We hope you will remember to drive safely and sanely at all times and avoid an accident. Apparently, anxiety over harvest delays has contributed to an increase in truck accidents the last couple of weeks. Take it a little easier and save money and possibly someone's life.

Consider this: "The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion." Proverbs 28:1

Farmers' grins are a mile wide as they finally get into their fields with stripping machines. This is John West atop the tractor on his farm in the Oklahoma Lane community. He is pulling about a bale and a quarter per acre.

Conservation Reserve Sign-Up Is Opened

The Parmer County ASC Committee has been authorized to begin accepting applications for conservation reserve contracts to become effective with 1958 as the first year of the contract period.

The conservation reserve is the phase of the soil bank program under which producers agree to retire certain cropland acres from production for a 5 or 10 year period.

Under this program, a producer who already has a contract in force (which began in 1956 or 1957) on a farm, may modify that contract by placing additional land in the reserve.

The annual payment rate for land placed in the conservation reserve in Parmer County is $10 per acre.

DeKALB offers PROOF of its STANDABILITY

More and more farmers are ordering DeKALB Hybrid Sorghum for 1958 planting. DeKALB's standability is a quality they want to be sure and have in their next year's milo crop.

The above picture was snapped Thursday morning after the near gale-like winds struck on Wednesday night. DeKALB F62a Hybrid Sorghum withstood the gusts, while competitive Hybrids went to the ground. By noon Friday winds were strong enough to damage DeKALB Hybrid Sorghum, but only 5 percent to 50 percent of the remaining DeKALB was blown down.

However, the two and one half days during which DeKALB Hybrid Sorghum stood gave most farmers an opportunity to go ahead and harvest their DeKALB Hybrid Sorghum.

Farwell Senior Boys 4-H Club met at school Thursday, November 21. The meeting was called to order by Maurice Smith, president. Secretary Michael Nelson read the minutes of last meeting. Joe Tom Reed, pledge leader led the club in the 4-H pledge.

The next 4-H County-wide party which will be December 14 for the senior 4-H club members was discussed.

At the January meeting Clifford Nicholson and Jimmy Keith will give a demonstration on electricity. David Watkins and Aubrey White will demonstrate clipping a pig for show. Barry McCuan and Kenneth Smith and Joe Reed and Ricky Cooper will give demonstrations at the February meeting. Joe Jones, county agent, discussed a committee for an electric school. The committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

LAZBUDDIE JR. BOYS

The Lazbuddie Senior Club met at school on November 25. President Richard Chitwood called the meeting to order. Harrol Redwine led the club in the 4-H pledge. Cooper Young, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting.

James Brown gave a report on the council meeting at the courthouse in Farwell, Saturday, November 16. Richard Chitwood, president of our club, was elected vice-chairman of the council.

The president gave out pictures he took on the crops tour last summer. The group discussed giving the National 4-H News to their leaders for Christmas. Eugene Houston and Calvin Mason gave a demonstration on how to raise a sow and litter. Glendale King gave a demonstration on landscaping.

Cooper Young gave a report of the 4-H signs the members plan to buy. The president then turned the meeting over to Joe Jones, county agent. He talked about demonstrations that could be given and asked if anyone needed to buy a 4-H record book. We also discussed the party for older 4-H members to be December 14.

BOVINA BOYS

Bovina 4-H Club met at school on Wednesday, November 27. 4-H Club members ages 9 to 12.

After regular business Joe Jones and Ronnie Sudderth gave a demonstration on swine. Gary Stevenson and Dickie Clayton gave a demonstration on poultry. Following the demonstrations, Joe Jones, county agent, talked about giving demonstrations properly, and about other demonstrations 4-H members could give. At the next meeting Joe Jones and Ronnie Sudderth will give another demonstration on swine. Julian Berry and David Lowrie are to give a demonstration on irrigation and Tally Kelso and Gary Beauchamp will give a demonstration on dairy cattle at the January meeting.

Our 4-H Club met November 26 at school. President Joe Bob Johnson called the meeting to order and after regular business the meeting was turned over to Joe Jones, county agent. Mr. Jones showed slides on the crop contest sponsored by the Cotton Improvement Association and the Grain Sorghum Growers Association.

Johnson reported on the county council meeting he attended at Farwell November 16.

Randy Price reported on the party at the Hub Community House on October 26. It was announced that there will be a 4-H party at the Hub Community Center on December 7 for 4-H Club members ages 9 to 12.

Then, as the bolls fly out of the stripper mouth and into the trailer, they are "forked" toward the back to take advantage of the maximum capacity of the trailer. Often, an attempt is made to keep the "bollies" near the front and out of the gin.

Cotton Looks Up, Gins Are Ginnin'

"Cotton is looking better this week."

That was the improved report given by County Agent Joe Jones today after a check of harvesting conditions in the county.

"The sun has been helping the bolls a lot," he said.

On the strength of improved conditions with favorable weather, the agent suggested that some farmers might profit by delaying pulling their bolls, but he emphasized that he was not suggesting farmers regard that as advice. "As late as it is, and as much as farmers want to harvest their cotton I certainly would not want to delay them in doing it," he said. "Besides, some of the cotton is ready to go right now."

It will be the farmer's job to decide which is the best course, he believes.

Most gins are now keeping busy, and prospects for the season to wind up this month are good. Yields of lint cotton are generally running from one to one and one-half bales, which is better than was first hoped for, but grades are low, as had been anticipated.

Point of Delivery Farmer's Choice

Some county corn growers have wondered about this year's loan program. In the event corn is stored on their farm, a government loan is made on it, the loan matures, and the government calls for delivery, farmers have wondered where delivery would be made.

"It would be made to the elevator of the farmer's choice," says Prentice Mills of the ASC office. "Any of the area elevators that were eligible to receive such grain could be selected by the farmer."

One loan has been made on this year's crop. The grain is being stored with a Clovis concern. Many more loans are expected this year.

16 Permits Issued For Irrigation Wells

Sixteen permits were issued during October by the High Plains Water District for drilling irrigation wells in Parmer County. However, only one completion has been indicated on the records during the same period of time.

Ten permits were issued, and ten wells were drilled in September. Harvest activity has likely been responsible for the drilled drop in October.

Parmer County was second in the District for October permits. Lamb County left far ahead with 56.

Graef of Lazbuddie Heads Farm Union

Clayton C. Graef of the Lazbuddie community is to steer the Parmer County Farmer's Union through the coming year as county president.

Graef was named at the Union's annual convention held at the Community Center at Hub Friday night. Also decided upon at the meeting were officers for the Friona local. Delegates for the state convention were nominated.

John Renner is the 1958 president of the Friona local. He replaces W. L. "Preach" Edelman, who has been president since the Union's organization in Parmer County.

Gordon Massey is the 1958 vice-president. Billy Dean Baxter was elected secretary-treasurer of the Friona group.

The Lazbuddie delegation at the meeting reported on their 1958 membership, announcing that their ranks now include 60 farmers. This is down a bit from last year, when 75 farmers subscribed to membership in the Lazbuddie Union.

Lazbuddie president is T. O. Lesly. Lesly and Freeman Davis are to be delegates to the Farmer's Union state convention.

Nominated for delegates to the state convention from Friona were Sloan Osborn and Ranza Boggess. The state convention is to be in Abilene Friday and Saturday.

Discussion at the meeting, led by Edelman, centered around the two-price plan for cotton as proposed by Plains Cotton Growers.

Edelman explained the program, saying the National Farmer's Union has strongly endorsed the measure, which includes acreage allotment for domestic markets and another for export markets.

The outcome of four meetings of commodity groups which Edelman attended was reported to have developed a solid front of all commodity producers. Edelman said that the National Grange, along with Farmer's Union, endorses the program, and the only farm organization withholding support is the Farm Bureau Federation.

Edelman also explained the group insurance program offered to Farmer's Union members through the organization.

A call to give more support to FU activities was made by the group, with plans for regular meetings being talked. No action was taken about regular meetings.

COOKING GAME MEAT

Wild game should be cooked according to the type of cut and age of the animal, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. Standard methods of cooking beef and lamb are successful for venison and antelope.

For tender cuts, such as loin and shoulder, use dry heat. Season the meat with salt and pepper and place on a rack in an uncovered pan, fat side up. Do not add water and do not cover. Extra fat, such as bacon may be added to venison or elk. Roast in a slow oven, 300 to 360 degrees F., allowing 25 to 30 minutes per pound. If the meat is frozen, a longer time will be needed for cooking.

When frying game meat, first heat the frying pan until it is sizzling hot. Brown both sides of the meat, turning only once. Season when ready to turn. For thick steaks or chops reduce heat after browning to finish cooking. Insert a rack under the meat to prevent over-cooking the meat next to the pan.

Steaks, chops, or ground meat patties may be broiled on a hot, greased broiler rack about three inches from the heat. If the meat is very lean, brush with fat. When it is brown enough, season and turn. Reduce the heat and cook until done. Serve on a hot platter.

Less tender cuts, such as flank, round, rump, or shortribs, can be made tasty by braising. The first step by this method is of the fat will make it less "gamey."

The loin will give the best roasts or steaks (sirloin or porterhouse). The chuck and rump are good for pot roasts and ground meat. The round will make good steaks unless the animal is particularly tough and then it may be used as swiss steaks or ground up. If the leg is small it may be roasted as in one piece in the manner of a leg of lamb.

The shank, neck, flank and spareribs can be best used in the soups, stews and ground meat. The neck will be tender if the tendons are removed and will make a good roast. It is all too good to waste. Venison is one of the choicest of wild meats and what objectional qualities are encountered in its use are almost always the result of carelessness before it reaches the cooking stage.

Roast Venison

Wipe clean and season with salt and pepper. Place on rack in a pan with fat side up. Do not cover or add water. Strips of bacon or beef suet can be laid across the top to baste the venison as it roasts. Roast in slow (330 to 325 degrees F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes per pound.

Broiled Venison

Use tender cuts from the loin or leg, about 1/2 to 3/4-inch thick. Brush with oil and place on preheated broiler rack, 2 or 3 inches below gas flame. Broil 7 to 10 minutes, turning without piercing meat, to brown both sides. Season with salt and pepper.

Venison Meat Loaf

1 pound ground venison
1/2 pound ground pork
1 egg
1/2 cup dried bread crumbs
1 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoon chopped onion
Beat the egg, add milk and bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly with the meat and seasoning. Put in a greased pan and bake in medium oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Tomato and green pepper may be added if additional seasoning is desired. The meat loaf may be made with all venison, but the fat of the pork makes a more tender loaf.

Venison Swiss Steak

1 1/2 pounds round steak
3 large onions
1 medium stalk celery
1 cup tomatoes
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper
Steak should be about 1 1/2 inches thick. Dredge with flour and season with salt and pepper, then brown in fat. When brown on both sides, add the other ingredients. Cover tightly and cook in medium oven (350 degrees F.) or over low flame on top of the stove until tender, (about 1 1/2 hours). Remove meat to platter and make a gravy from drippings in the pan. Serve with baked potatoes.

Venison Pot Roast With Vegetables

(shoulder, rump, round)
3 to 4 pounds of venison
5 whole carrots
5 whole potatoes
5 whole onions
Turnips and celery may also be added

Dredge meat with flour, salt and pepper, and brown in fat. Braise the meat for two of three hours over a very low heat. When the meat is tender, add the vegetables and cook until vegetables are done. Make a gravy of the liquid in the pan and pour over the meat and vegetables.

VENISON RECIPES

(Compiled by extension foods and nutrition specialists)
Venison is a rather dry meat and is usually improved by the addition of suet or butter when roasting, broiling or frying. The characteristic venison flavor is concentrated largely in the fat and the removal of the bulk

Rhea Elevator Expands

The wide open spaces of the Rhea community, being broken somewhat by a towering elevator for the past eight years, now have an elevator that is spreading out.

Carl Schlenker has added a metal hut-type building adjacent to his elevator. He figures the new building will increase his storage capacity to 70,000 bushels. Along with the addition to his storage capacity, he is preparing to install a gas-heated grain dryer. The dryer is waiting to be placed into position for use with the storage facilities.

The business is organized now into a corporation. It is known as Rhea Grain and Fertilizer, Inc., with members of the corporation being Schlenker, his wife, and Kenneth Houlette.

"The additional storage building should have been completed two weeks ago," says Schlenker. "But the rain and wind hindered work. It should be ready, though, by the end of this week," Schlenker says.

The business has a pair of scales for doing heavy-load weighing. Schlenker points out that he is proud to have the scales, because all weighing needed in the Rhea community prior to this was done of necessity in Friona or Bovina.

Though notably away from the railroad, which is usually a prerequisite for a storage business of this nature, Schlenker hopes to arrange to ship by truck to grain terminals. At least this is what the Commodity Credit Corporation of the USDA has unofficially indicated will be possible.

Also, a farm to market road that will serve the Rhea community is being constructed on the road that extends by his elevator, allowing passage in nearly all weather conditions. There is an interesting story behind Schlenker's decision to build the elevator.

He first planned to construct a building with which to handle and store grain for a few of his neighbors. He checked with CCC for this possibility, and learned that he would be required to have a separate bin for each farmer's grain. This was not feasible, so he started planning for an elevator.

After the building itself is completed, the main thing left before everything is lined up and ready to go is the license and bond for grain storage for loan purposes. At latest report, this important item has not been taken care of, but Schlenker expects no hold-up on getting a license. Inspection by the USDA inspector will take place after construction ends.

Schlenker says the building is not to be equipped with conveyor belts or augers. The trucks will be able to drive into the building and unload the grain until it reaches a depth of about four feet throughout the building. The grain will then be moved about with a scraper powered by a tractor, he says.

The elevator is equipped with leg belts to raise grain into bins, and from there it can be moved to the new building.

The annual Dairy Short Course sponsored by the Department of Dairy Science of Texas A & M College will be held on December 5-6. All meetings are scheduled for the Memorial Student Center. Professor A. L. Darnell, now retired, will be honored at the annual banquet to be held the evening of December 5.

Carl Schlenker of the Rhea community has added storage to increase his elevator capacity to 70,000 bushels. The metal hut addition is due to be completed soon.

It's a crowded counter as farmers line up to get papers straightened for government grain loans on the big grain sorghum crop. This is a scene at the county ASC office. The crowd is sometimes even bigger, though.

GSPA Asks Later Loans Deadline

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association today requested that the deadline for farmers to make application for government loans and purchase agreements on the 1957 crop of grain sorghum be extended to Feb. 28. Present regulations set the deadline date at Jan. 31.

Bill Nelson, Amarillo, made the request to Raymond J. Pollock, director of the grain division of Commodity Stabilization Service in Washington and to the Texas State ASC committee at College Station.

In making the request, Nelson pointed out that there is a large volume of grain sorghum with excess moisture on the ground at county elevators and that with delays in shipment and installation of artificial drying equipment, much of the high moisture grain may not be processed suitable for storage before the Jan. 31 date set for all grain to be in a warehouse in order to be eligible for the government program.

The Association official also pointed out that the recent winds which lodged much of that still in the field also is slowing harvest and further makes an extension of time necessary.

Hospital Annual Meeting Date Set

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Parmer County Community Hospital will be held in the lobby of the hospital Tuesday, December 10, beginning at 8 p. m. Bill Curtis of Amarillo will be present to read the annual audit report.

During the meeting two directors will be elected. Those on the board of directors, whose terms are expiring, are G. B. Buske of Friona and Leon Grisom of Oklahoma Lane.

Kenneth Thompson, manager, urges that all stockholders attend this meeting and lend their support to the transaction of business of the organization.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Since the holiday season will soon be here and guests will be dropping in unexpectedly, it is always nice to have refreshments on hand. Fruit cake, which used to be a favorite at Christmas time, is being forced into the background by a number of desserts which require less time for properly aging.

An interesting variation of fruit cake is:

Southern Pecan Cake

3 cups seedless white raisins
3 cups broken pecan meats
1/2 cup shredded candied orange peel
1/2 cup shredded citron, if desired
2 1/4 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, unbeaten
4 tablespoons molasses
2/3 cup orange juice

Combine raisins, pecans, orange peel, and shredded citron and set aside. Sift together flour, baking powder, nutmeg, and salt. Mix 1/2 cup of flour mixture with fruit and nut mixture, which you have already prepared and set aside. Place shortening, sugar, and eggs into large bowl of a mixer, beating at high speed for two minutes, scraping bowl while beating. Stop mixer and add molasses, orange juice, and sifted flour mixture. Beat at low speed 1 1/2 minutes, scraping bowl while beating. Beat only enough to blend well. Add flour and nut mixture gradually while beating at a very slow speed until blended, continuing to scrape sides of bowl while beating. Place into two large loaf pans, which have been lined with paper and greased. Bake at 300 degrees F. for two hours. Cool thoroughly, wrap in waxed paper and store in tightly covered container.

It isn't too early to address Christmas cards and get them ready for mailing. When you have all of them addressed, stamped and ready to take to the post office, check them once again to see that all are correctly addressed.

Another thing which you might do that would be appreciated by the post office employees is to keep them neatly arranged with all the addresses facing the same way. Then when you take them to the post office, either put rubber bands around them or tie them with string. It is also helpful to postal employees if you separate the locally addressed ones from the out of town ones.

A few minutes of your time spent in following these suggestions will save time at the post office and expedite the delivery of all mail. This task is usually done by the homemaker in the family and she can give the postal clerks a gift of time by doing these small things.

If any of you, except Jo Buchanan, tried the recipe for hot water pie crust which was printed in this column last week, we hope you had good luck with it. Jo said it worked out all right but that it took more flour to make it the right consistency than it did to make the batter.

Maybe it would be better to use three cups of flour instead of one and one half. We had just never bothered to measure the additional flour. Since Jo is a former home economics teacher, we want to stay on the good side of her. Maybe she will pass on some of her

THE PARMER FARMER

tion at Halfway, was in the county last week, and had some interesting things to say about work that is just winding up over there. They are completing harvests of experiments during their first year of study.

Janeway handed us a reprint of a talk made by a man named John H. Kraft that we thought was very interesting. It is the first time we have seen in printed form the story of how sesame got started here in Texas.

Sesame as a cash crop is so new here that you, too, will probably find the following paragraphs of great interest:

The title of my talk, as shown on the program, is "Sesame—a Profitable New Crop." Now, actually, sesame is anything BUT a new crop . . . it is one of the oldest crops known to man. We know that at least 4,000 years ago, and probably much earlier, it was a thriving crop and a big business.

But so far as the United States is concerned, it IS not only a new crop, but one that offers some exciting and very interesting possibilities.

Perhaps it would be well to first review exactly what sesame is. Sesame is an oil-bearing seed. This seed, as we have now learned through recent research, has many other important and very interesting properties, which I shall tell you about. It is these newly discovered virtues that lend the excitement to the possibilities in the sesame field, and that open up world-wide opportunities for its development.

Its use has been limited to the bakery and confectionery trade. And then only a few years ago, some of our agricultural scientists began to think about sesame as a cash crop for American farmers . . . for sesame can be grown anywhere cotton is grown. The original concept of sesame, in the minds of its developers here, was simply as an oil seed, to be sold in competition with other established seeds.

Sesame first came to my attention several years ago at the Texas Research Foundation in Renner, where I am a member of the board of trustees.

They were at this time experimenting to develop a strain of sesame seed that would be best adapted to this country. Their basic problem was this: Sesame is what we call a "shattering seed"; that is, when the seed ripens the pod opens and scatters the seed on the ground. Sesame is usually grown in countries where labor is cheap and plentiful, so they had no problem in harvesting it their way—by cutting the stems, tying them into a bundle, leaning the bundles against a bamboo rod in a sunny place for a few days, and then taking the bundles and tapping them with a stick so that the seeds would fall down upon a mat.

Obviously such a method of harvest is impractical in the United States. So the Texas Research Foundation and other college experiment stations have for the past ten years been working on the development of semi-shattering and a "combine" type of seed, that could be harvested direct.

My first direct entry into the business came about through discovering a young man in need of assistance—by name, Roy Anderson. Roy was an agricultural field man for the Liberty National Bank of Paris. He had the laudable desire to start something new, using the background of the Texas Research Foundation. He organized a farmers co-op to grow sesame. His trouble was that after getting the sesame grown and harvested, he was having difficulty marketing it. Mr. Anderson's problem was to get the domestic seed competitive with the imported seed. The oil buyers wanted to buy it at six cents a pound. The farmers had to get around nine cents a pound to break even or make a slight profit. And the more I looked into the situation, the more sesame seed looked to me like an excellent marketing opportunity.

Sunshine brought forth scores of cotton trailers this week, as cotton poured into already humming gins. Nearly all area gins are running behind schedule—but this has been expected because of the long delay in getting started. This is the Nickels' Gin in Farwell.

This young man had made a start that just could not be allowed to lapse. To lend him a hand in his project and to encourage the growers I, together with a courageous banker by the name of Gilbert Cecil, bought all the unsold domestic sesame seed available in 1954.

Then we set up a little dehulling plant to prepare our seed for the confectionery and bakery trade. So far as I know this was the first plant of its kind in the United States or on the North American continent.

Well, shortly after our American Sesame Products Company was organized, something very interesting happened. The Pillsbury flour people were running their $25,000 Bake-Off Contest for prize recipes, and the prize winning recipe was for a delicious pie called "Open Sesame" . . . using sesame seed in the crust. At this time I doubt that Pillsbury knew any more about sesame than you do. About the only sesame seed available to the ordinary consumer was sold from the spice rack of specialty foods stores. If you wanted it, you had to hunt for it.

sell one-sixteenth of our inventory . . . which reminds me to tell you that in thinking of sesame, you will have to gear your thoughts from tons to pounds. This is where our went from pounds to OUNCES.

That tremendous order for 750,000 1-ounce packets of sesame seed caused quite a scramble at the little pilot plant. It immediately brought production problems, demanding greatly increased facilities. And since there was no precedent to fall back on, everything we did took a lot of search and research.

We eventually worked out ways to adapt machinery from many other unrelated industries, and in due course we were able to dispose of our first purchase. In the meantime, the producers group, having been encouraged by the sale of their inventory, increased their production in 1955 to about 4 million pounds, on the strength of being able to unload their disposal problem onto the American Sesame Products Company.

As a matter of fact, I don't know what would have happened to the American sesame industry if we hadn't been there to take the product off their hands, because as they went into 1955, they produced over four million pounds . . . thereby creating a new marketing problem. This, then, was our situation at the time of the fall harvest of 1955 . . . four million pounds to market in 1956. We were able to interest many of the large bakery chains, and we gladly committed ourselves to supply them.

But as we got into our job of processing the 1955 crop, we ran into something that again caused consternation. We found that in buying the 1955 output we had also bought a large percentage of Johnson grass seed in our sesame. Now Johnson grass seed is shaped about like a caraway seed, and is black, whereas hulled and sesame seed is pure white. With that Johnson grass seed scattered in white sesame, it looked as if the mice had left their tracks. So several of our truckloads of sesame had a round trip.

We didn't have the time to go into any highly scientific research to find a solution. The only sure way to lick this problem immediately was to hire 25 women, equip them with little vacuum tubes, and have them pick out the Johnson grass seed. It was expensive and slow, but it was cheaper to lose the money than to lose the customers. By the time we had devised special mechanical methods for removing the foreign seeds, we were into the 1956 harvest. And we had learned that the best way to get Johnson grass seed out of our sesame was to keep it out of the fields.

So, beginning with the harvest of 1956, we were looking forward to a profitable operation at last . . . when the drought in the Southwest cut our production down to 25 percent of what we could sell.

Now we have had to curtail our sales promotion work and merely take care of the business already developed, in the hope that we will be able to increase our supplies. We are opening year, as well as attempting to new areas of production this increase the established ones. We are making the attempt in northern Arkansas areas—in Mississippi—in northern Louisiana—and although sesame can be grown wherever cotton grows, we don't find many farmers rushing in to plant sesame. In spite of idle acres—as long as the government soil bank plan looks like a sure thing. In the meantime, research has shown that sesame is much more than just an oil seed and stock food. The study of its protein and amino acid values clearly indicates that it has many of the virtues of milk powder, the olive, the peanut, and similar products—with many qualities peculiarly and exclusively its own. Its future leads to its development as a food for humans.

Due to the high cost of production, we have furnished a market for the greatest part of the last three years farm production. It appears that present price structure must be maintained and possibly increased to stimulate increased farm production, since a lot of hand labor is still necessary.

The seed is worth from 6-8 cents maximum for the oil value in competition with other oils.

Sesame oil offers a potential for blends with other oils to increase stability. This is due to a natural antioxidant Sesamol, which is hydrolized from Sesamoline.

Two Big Prizes Won By Golden West

Two top-notch prizes for seed samples were won by Golden West Seed Company of Texico-Farwell at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago last week.

Samples of Hybrid 610 and Double Dwarf Yellow Sooner were entered by Pat Patrick, manager of the Texico warehouse, and received prizes of grand and reserve champion. Patrick has not received official word, and as yet does not know which sample received which prize.

A cash award of $50 will be received by the area company, as well as its ribbons.

accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mark Fairman of Texico. One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of loving cups to the person who represented the earliest graduating class, and to the person traveling the greatest distance to attend the banquet. Mrs. George Eads of Dumas, class of 1915, was a member of the earliest graduating class represented at the banquet, and Charles Holland of El Paso, had traveled the greatest distance, 325 miles, to be on hand for the get-together. In a business meeting following the banquet, Harry Sheets was named new president for the group. Other officers elected to serve with him were Pete Rundell, vice-president; and Alvenia Cox, secretary. The banquet is scheduled for the Saturday night after Thanksgiving in 1958.

Hoppers—

when managers find that by time they take care of all the government returns, and then make all the entries and tabulations their own needs require, there isn't much time to do anything else. This is, in a way, a sorry state of affairs. While it is common to ridicule the merchant of old who sold crackers out of a barrel from his "genral store" and didn't know what an invoice was, he at least had time to visit with his customers once in a while, and that is something we are finding increasingly hard to do.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vestal and family have moved to Amarillo. Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mem Sprowls were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tillery of El Paso. Mrs. Tillery is Mrs. Sprowls' mother.

Three Get Fines

Three men were fined for four offenses in county court this week. All the cases were tried Monday in Judge, A. D. Smith's court. L. A. Mitchell was charged with illegal possession of liquor for the purpose of resale. The man, a transient laborer who had been residing near Friona, pled guilty and was fined $100 and costs. Mitchell was also charged with possession of illicit, un-stamped alcoholic beverages. He pled guilty to that charge also and was fined $100 and costs. The arrest was made over the weekend. Santos Rondo, Friona, was charged with illegal possession of liquor for the purpose of resale. He pled guilty and was fined $100 and costs. Officers in Friona spotted a man leaving his place, and upon searching the store which he operates, made the arrest.

The most unusual case of the day involved J. D. Sullivan of Muleshoe, who was charged with operating a car while his driver's license was suspended. Previously, he had been convicted of a DWI offense in Muleshoe, and had his license suspended for six months.

He was driving on State Highway 214 in Parmer County between Muleshoe and Clay's Corner when he passed a state highway patrol car whose officers had been investigating an accident. The officers recognized Sullivan and started after him. Sullivan, who had a woman companion in the car, noticed he was being spotted, so slid from beneath the wheel and had her driving when the car stopped.

However, he failed to take into account the woman did not have a driver's license too, so he was charged not only with driving his car while his license was suspended, but also permitting another person without a license to operate his car.

He pled guilty to both charges, the latter of which was tried in Farwell JP Roy Thornton's court. He received a $20.50 fine there. Then, in county court, Judge Smith assessed him a $50 and costs fine and tacked on another six months to his license suspension.

Bowers, with seven points, paced Texico. Anita Moss and Janet Seal had four each and Garlene Clear and Darlene Day had two each.

Baker in Hospital

Mrs. Irene Baker and son, Harry, went to Pampa Wednesday, November 27, to visit another son, Emery Dale, who is confined to Worley Hospital there.

Emery Dale is undergoing treatment for a crushed thumb injured in an oil field accident about a month ago. He was allowed to go to the home of his sister, Mrs. Raymond Magness, for Thanksgiving dinner, but will have to remain in the hospital until around the first of the year. Mrs. Baker stayed in Pampa until Friday.

Rural Carriers Attend Convention

Attending a convention of the Rural Letter Carriers Association in Clovis November 23 were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wilson, Nelson Smith, and Charley Bieler. Principal speakers for the dinner meeting at a Clovis restaurant were Representative Joe Montoya and Ray L. Hulick, national president of RLCA. Mrs. Wilson is a state board member of the New Mexico RLCA Auxiliary.

Bovina, Texico Divide Tuesday

"You take one and I'll take the other," Bovina and Texico teams decided about a pair of basketball games Tuesday night in Bovina. Bovina won the girls' game 49-19.

Texico boys took a close 40-34 win over the Mustangs. The Wolverines led at the end of each quarter with scores of 9-6, 22-14, and 31-24. Texico's Jerry Trower was the game's leading scorer with 17. Jerry Henson had 16, Raymond Hadley five, and Buddy Spears two to round out the scoring for the New Mexico team.

Dick Horn led the Mustangs with 16. Raymond Brandon made 11, Jerry Burnett four and Billy Burnam three.

In the girls' game, Bovina led throughout, 16-6, 31-9, and 41-15. Nancy Cumpston led the point makers with 16. She was followed by Janice Richards, who had 12, Joanie Ezell with 10, Mildred Young four, Arlene Clayton and Kay Hartzog two each, and Kay Leake one.

Bowers, with seven points, paced Texico. Anita Moss and Janet Seal had four each and Garlene Clear and Darlene Day had two each.

Mail Christmas Cards Soon, Say Postmasters

Postmasters Noma Lokey and Lucy Brown said today, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas."

The postmasters urged special care in preparing gift packages for the mails. Make sure that all addresses are legible and complete.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the post office before attempting to mail them," the postmasters warn. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package.

When wrapping gifts for mailing, it is always better to use corrugated cartons, especially where there are a number of various sized objects in the shipment. Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper for extra protection against shock, and wrap each package or carton in heavy paper, and then tie it

Farwell Drops Two Tilts At Adrian Tuesday

Traveling to Adrian for a pair of ball games Tuesday night, Farwell's teams came out on the short end of the score in both contests. The girls' team was nosed out 39-35 and the boys' team dropped a 44-32 decision.

The girls' game was a close one throughout and the lead changed hands many times. Adrian built up a 15-8 lead at the end of the first period, but a 14-point second period gave the Farwell team a 22-19 lead at halftime. Adrian outscored Farwell 11 to 5 in the third quarter to take a 30-27 lead and they remained on top in the final period.

Naomi Hubbell accounted for 16 of Farwell's points and Doris Rolland scored 13. Adrian's Pinnell was the top scorer of the game with 20 points.

Despite a 19-point effort by Johnny Lovelace, the Steers dropped their second game in a row in the nightcap of the doubleheader. The Steers led 8-6 at the end of the first period but fell behind 17-14 at halftime.

Scoring 14 points in the third quarter, Adrian took a 31-27 lead and they increased the margin in the final frame.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCauley and Melissa spent Thanksgiving in Plainview with Mrs. McCauley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnston.

Spending Thanksgiving in Amarillo were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helton and Hal Ed and Jackie Dyer. They were guests of Mrs. Helton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whatley.

News From LAZBUDDIE

By MRS. CLYDE MONK

Miss Schumann Weds Andy Fuqua

In a beautiful afternoon ceremony Miss Madlyn Schumann became the bride of Andy Fuqua, Sunday at 3 o'clock in the Lazbuddie Baptist Church. Madlyn is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Don Schumann of Route 1, Friona, and Andy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Fuqua of Aspermont.

The double ring ceremony was read by Bill Curry, pastor of the Baptist Church, and Mrs. John Agee played the traditional wedding music.

Miss Rosemary Agee, maid of honor, wore a red cotton satin dress, red velvet picture hat, and silver accessories. Dan Smith served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, wore a white lace over satin and net and carried a Bible with baby pink rosebuds and carnations tied with silver and pink streamers. Something borrowed were white gloves from Mrs. John Agee; something blue was a garter made by Mrs. Leon Smith; something old was the Bible, given to her by her grandmother Schumann; and something new was her dress. Her slipper contained a good-luck penny given her by Mrs. T. O. Lesly.

The aunt of the bride was dressed in black faille with black accessories and she wore a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore navy and white with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For her going away dress the bride chose a grey-blue sheath dress with white accessories.

After a short honeymoon in Carlsbad and other points in New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Lazbuddie where the groom is engaged in farming.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Fuqua, Aspermont; Mrs. Francis Fuqua, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Nolin Grice, Claremont; Mrs. Alice Lucas, Post; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Fry, Post; Mrs. Juanita Burke, Wichita, Kans.; Mrs. J. Haun, Hesperus, Colo.; Mrs. Edna Howell, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fuqua, Spur; and Rosemary Hicks, Mozelle Ellis, Carolyn Hicks and Ann Broyles, all from Muleshoe.

Meets Monday

Lazbuddie PTA met Monday with the president, Mrs. John Agee, in charge. A report was given from the treasury that $309 was made from the Thanksgiving supper sponsored by the group. The program was given by Mrs. Rodgers' and Mrs. Cooper's second grade rooms with the room count going to Mrs. Cooper's room.

Two new Brookwoods—4-door 6-passenger and 4-door 9-passenger models. Luxuriously appointed.

Meet the year's smartest station wagon set! Chevrolet brings you five new wagons for '58—all long, low and loaded with news. They're more than nine inches longer, dramatically lower. They set a new style with boldly sculptured lines. And these new Chevrolets are the most practical wagons that ever took to the road. The liftgate is hinged into the roof and raises completely out of the way for easier loading. There's a new easy-opening tailgate, too, and room for longer loads. No station wagon built ever carried loads with more ease or passengers with more comfort! Chevrolet's new standard Full Coil suspension cradles you on deep coil springs at every wheel. And you can have a real air ride as an extra-cost option. Stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and look over the smartest, smoothest going station wagons of them all.

Only franchised Chevrolet dealers display this famous trademark. See Your Local Authorized Chevrolet Dealer
