Strong Winds Blast Area

The unpredictable and ever-changing West Texas weather showed its less favorable side again last week as winds reaching 60 miles per hour hit the Farwell-Texico area again last Thursday and Friday. It brought with it the usual accompaniment of dust which made being outside unpleasant and driving hazardous.

The dust did settle long enough Thursday night and early Friday morning for a thin coat of snow to cover the area. The snow was gone by midmorning, however, as the winds returned to near 60 miles per hour for the second day in a row.

Neil Stewart, owner of Farwell Hardware, reported that the high winds blew out two plate glass windows from the front of his store about 10:15 Friday morning. According to Stewart, no other damage was sustained when the windows were broken. Stewart said he may wait until the windy season is over before replacing the windows, and then he might remodel the front of his store to make the windows smaller.

Other reports said a trailer was over turned by the winds near Hereford and debris and dust blowing across highways made driving on the High Plains dangerous.

The weekend was a different story, however, as Saturday brought with it the fair weather and calm winds which one would prefer to associate with springtime. The beautiful weather has continued into the first of the week, bringing with it hopes that the dust will stay in the fields where it belongs.

It is too bad that two articles we read last week were not side by side. They had a definite relationship that would have been interesting for all to compare.

One article, in the United States News and World Report, concerned our government spending, with particular reference to social welfare. This report tells us that in 1977 the government will spend approximately $375 billion in the various areas of social welfare, while our defense spending will amount to about $100.1 billion.

In 1980 it is projected that our overall social welfare spending will increase to the huge sum of $550 billion and that the defense spending will increase to $130 billion. It is obvious that many more of our tax dollars are going to welfare rather than to defense. The article doesn't give the projected spendings by our government for its myriad of other activities nor does it tell how much of our Gross National Product (GNP) our government will be spending in a scant three years.

It would be interesting if it did, because of the observations contained in an article in Readers Digest by Professor Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago.

In talking about our national solvency, Friedman says that a poor country like Chili tipped over when the government spent 40 per cent of its GNP and that a wealthier country such as Great Britain appears on the verge of tipping over at 60 per cent spending.

The question now is: Where are we on this scale? Neither article answered that vital question, but we can draw our individual conclusions that we are on a dangerous road to economic disaster.

Professor Friedman closes his article with these sage words: "Let me propose that, as we contemplate the future, we take as our major motto what I would like to see as an 11th commandment: THAT EVERYONE SHALL BE FREE TO DO GOOD AT HIS OWN EXPENSE."

George McGovern has the last laugh. True, he is not President, but his surrogate is. Consider McGovern's stance of four years ago with the actions of the first 60 days of the Carter administration.

The President pardoned the Vietnam draft dodgers. A new budget has been submitted upping welfare and cutting national defense. Soft line liberals have been appointed to high positions to deal with Russia and in the United Nations. A delegation is now on the road to Hanoi to see how we can send "aid" to that country. Diplomatic feelers have been extended to Castro's Cuba looking to "normalize" relations.

We loaned New York City an additional $288 million to shore their tottering economy. The administration's minions are testifying before Congress on decriminalizing marijuana. With the administration's blessing, Congress is passing a law barring purchase of chrome ore from Rhodesia. This will again make the Soviet Union our main source of this vital steel ingredient. They instituted massive savings in the bureaucracy such as taking away their limousines and TV sets while giving themselves a paltry 29 per cent boost in pay.

George McGovern must be a happy man; he lost a battle, but won the war.

For the lovers of country music an annual treat is in the offing. We refer to the Floyd, N.M., Lions Club Country Jamboree. This will take place in Floyd on the nights of March 24-25-26 at 7:00 PM (MST). We always have a big evening at this event and we know you will also. As a remark on today's entertainment, you can bet your boots this will be "family entertainment" and one that the youngsters will enjoy.

In Farwell Murder Case - -

Carlisle Conviction Overturned

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin has overturned the murder conviction of David Carlisle. Carlisle had been convicted of the August 1, 1974 shooting death of his ex-wife, Betty Ann, whose body was discovered about noon on August 1, near Bob's TV Service in Farwell.

The appeals court overturned the decision on the basis of the testimony of a new witness, Willard Wright of Plainview. According to Wright, he saw Carlisle's car stop as he (Wright) was moving cattle along the highway to Plainview at 3 a.m. on August 1.

He testified he went to thank the driver for stopping and recognized Betty Ann but not her passenger. He asked where Carlisle was and was told he was "asleep or passed out in the back seat." Wright said he looked in the back of the car and saw the boots of someone lying on the back seat.

In overturning the conviction, the appeals court said, "It is the incredible nature of (Carlisle's) testimony, however, which makes Wright's testimony so very significant. We are unable to state categorically that the jury would have reached the same verdict if Wright had testified in their presence."

Betty Ann's body was discovered in a parked car on August 1, at the northwest corner of Bob's TV building by Ronny Anson. Anson reportedly summoned his brother, Bob, and together they informed Farmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace.

According to Bob Anson, Mrs. Carlisle was sitting behind the steering wheel of the car. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Farwell Justice of the Peace R.E. Mears.

Carlisle, accompanied by his father, turned himself in to Sheriff Lovelace shortly after noon on August 1. An autopsy revealed Mrs. Carlisle had been shot five times. A .38 caliber pistol and Carlisle's wallet were found near the scene.

Carlisle was convicted of the murder on April 25, 1975, by a seven-woman and five-man jury and was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Carlisle testified at his trial that he and Betty Ann picked up a hitchhiker because it was raining and she felt sorry for him. According to Carlisle, the hitchhiker found a gun under the front seat a short time later and forced Carlisle, under gunpoint, to swallow a quantity of Valium and beer. He said he remembered little after that.

The date for Carlisle's retrial has yet to be determined, according to a spokesman in the District Attorney's office.

Farwell Schools Announce Change In Transfer Policy

The Board of Trustees of the Farwell Independent School District, in regular session on March 7, adopted the following policy concerning out-of-state transfers for students:

"Any student living in the Farwell Independent School District and enrolled in the Farwell Schools whose parents move out of the state will be allowed to finish the school term of the year in which the move occurs. No transfer will be approved for any additional period of time except the case of a student living and being enrolled in the Farwell Schools and moving during his 11th year.

"In other words, if a student is enrolled in the 11th grade and his parents move out of the state, he may be allowed to finish high school in Farwell, provided he does not break his school attendance. This policy becomes effective immediately. Starting with the 1978-79 school year, even the high school students will be allowed to finish only the term of school in the year which they moved out of state."

Superintendent James Perkins said that at present about 15 students living in New Mexico attend grades kindergarten through the 12th at Farwell, adding that the present cost of educating these students is around $25,000 per year. Since the local school district receives no reimbursement for these expenses, Perkins said the Board felt it was time to effect a change in the transferring of students policy.

Cub Scouts To Host Banquet, Derby Races

Farwell Cub Scouts annual banquet has been set for Friday, Apr. 1, at 7:30 p.m. CST in the high school cafeteria. In past years the covered dish affair was for fathers and sons only, but this year all family members are to be included.

A highlight of the banquet will be the "pinewood derby cars" racing and best design competition. In the past, Cub Scouts built their cars with help from their fathers, but this year each father and each boy has constructed his own car which will be entered in competition in their respective categories.

The derby car kits contain a block of wood, four nails and four wheels. Each contestant has to whittle, sand and paint the block of wood into a race car. They may also add original designs and colorful decals just as long as the finished car does not weigh more than five ounces.

The Scouts received their kits free last week, but the dads purchased their kits for 85 cents each.

Youngsters will compete in double elimination races with trophies being awarded to first, second and third place winners. Another trophy will be given for the car with the best design.

Dads will also be competing for the honor of having the car with the most unusual design. It has not yet been decided what type of award will be given to the winner of this contest.

The race car track to be used is sanctioned by the National Cub Scouts organization and will be provided by Jim Cowman of Clovis, who is the District Executive of the Conquistador Council.

Donations may be given to any member of the local organization.

SWCD News

We have just completed our wind erosion report for January and February.

There were only six days during the two-month period which showed winds blowing at a speed that would cause erosion. Of course, the worst day was Tuesday, Feb. 22. This day the winds gusted up to 70 to 80 MPH. The street lights came on in mid afternoon. Some of the "old timers" said it was the worst since the 1930's.

From the Conservationist's point of view, we were in fairly good shape. Crop residues on the soil surface were good (could have been better). There had been no rain on the freshly prepared soil so it wasn't crusted or pulverized to where it could blow. There was some blowing on grazed wheat, from playa lake beds, county roads, and turnrows.

All this made driving hazardous and breathing difficult.

We are in relatively good shape here in Parmer County agriculturally from wind erosion.

Texas To Observe Agriculture Day

March 21 is Agriculture Day in Texas, and Parmer County farmers and ranchers can be proud of the $149,002,000 contribution they make to the economy of their area and the state, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

That figure is the amount of cash receipts and government payments in 1975, the most recent figures published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

"Though 1977 may prove to be one of lower profits for agriculture, cash receipts during this year should be substantial," White stated.

"Production costs have doubled for many regions in the state in the past two years, but several commodities have been able to stay even with these costs."

State totals for 1975 were $5.9 billion with livestock bringing in $3,060,908,000 and crops $2,785,683,000. Total cash receipts for 1976 are estimated to be more than $6 billion.

Livestock and products in Parmer County were valued in 1975 at $48,394,000. Crops totaled $99,465,000.

American Agriculture Day 1977 should prove to be the biggest day of national recognition ever organized for the farmer, rancher and grower in the United States.

Agriculture Day is under the sponsorship of the National Agri-Marketing Association and is funded by the American Agriculture Day Foundation, both of which headquarter in Kansas City. It will be the fourth such day under NAMA's sponsorship.

It is because it is so young that it has not yet received wide attention among the agricultural community, but each year, it has grown both in recognition and visibility. Last year, 30 governors proclaimed Agriculture Day in their respective states and some sort of effort was staged in each of the 50 states.

According to David Bennett, national chairman, the objective of Agriculture Day is to "heighten the interest in and understanding of agriculture and agricultural producers among the urban consumer public."

Bennett states that the group wants to give the American food buying public opportunity for a better understanding of what the industry of agriculture has done and must continue to do to maintain the abundance of food in America.

He says it is an overwhelming job to try to do it all at once, so the Agriculture Day Foundation -- through newspapers, magazines, radio and television -- will try to focus the urban public's attention on some of agriculture's progress, as well as problems, for at least one day in the year.

Efforts to have notable agricultural figures speak on network television are also under way, as well as some involvement of the White House in recognizing agriculture from Washington, D.C.

Activities for March 21 are being coordinated on a local level by the 16 chapters of the National Agri-Marketing Association throughout the county. The organization has 2,000 active members whose livelihood depends on agriculture.

School lesson plans developed by the Ag Day Committee are distributed by the Future Farmers of America. Coloring books, explaining agriculture to small children have also been developed. Elementary science teachers will receive materials on agriculture through a mailing by the National Science Teachers Association.

Agriculture Day was created by The Miller Publishing Company, a Minneapolis publisher of business magazines for agriculture, in 1973. The company felt that if there was a national day for labor, a national day for veterans, and a national day for presidents, there should also be a national day for farmers, ranchers and growers -- the people who put this country on the map and who keep it there.

John Wayne Says: Don't Cuss Farmer

When the Duke tells you something, you had better listen, podnah! John Wayne, the most well-known "Duke" in the country, will be urging Americans "for at least one day a year, don't cuss that farmer. Appreciate him."

Wayne will appear on television and radio as honorary chairman of American Agricultural Day 1977, to be held March 21.

Supporting statewide observance of the salute to farmers, ranchers and producers, Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed that day, the first traditional day of spring, as Texas Agricultural Day.

Texas agriculture adds around $20 billion to the state's economy, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture. Four out of every 10 jobs are directly or indirectly related to agriculture.

Agriculture Day, in its fourth year, is sponsored by the National Agri-Marketing Association and funded by the American Agriculture Day Foundation. Both are headquartered in Kansas City.

The purpose of the program is to heighten interest in and

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

As Reported by the Center Staff

Rev. Harvey L. Whittenburg, pastor of the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church, conducted services Sunday afternoon with 30 people in attendance.

Everyone misses Margaret Purcell who is temporarily out with a sore thumb. She is the "chief cook and bottle washer" and everyone cannot wait for her to come back and fix enchiladas again. All are glad to have Lorene Whittenburg back.

Rufus Carter still drops in for his daily visits and he still saves crossword puzzles for Dora Nittler. A new supply of talking books have arrived and Ruth Myers has donated a set of talking books about the New Testament and the Psalms. Everyone is delighted because these books will be in the permanent Center file and will not have to be returned after a month, like the ones borrowed from the library.

nated a flower arrangement which had been used on the altar of the Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church last Sunday.

Thursday's bingo winners were Bertha Kaltwasser, 2, and Burl Stringfellow, Inez Sullivan and Effie Scott with one each. Since the Center's popcorn popper is "on the blink," Mrs. Lorena Venable, an auxiliary volunteer, used her popper to pop corn for all to enjoy.

Everyone misses the R.W. Andersons, who are on vacation. Frances Kube dropped in for a visit and is reported to be "looking fine" following her surgery. Robbie Johnson is thrilled at the recent birth of a second grandchild, Summer Kay Johnson, who according to Robbie, "is not spoiled yet."

who observed tulips gently blowing in the breeze and looked at the globe willow tree which has tree houses, made by the Boy Scouts, nestled in its branches.

Auxiliary members are keeping the beauty shop open on Thursday mornings and Friday afternoons much to the delight of women residents.

A hearty welcome is extended to Edna Martin. Maude Wilson enjoyed a nice outing with her niece and family, the Bert Williamses of Farwell. They celebrated Bert and son Eric's birthdays, capping the day by attending the Farwell School Band Concert.

Bobby Hix is pleased to announce that his son Bobby Don of Bovina married Susan Garner, also of Bovina, last Saturday night.

Visiting Pearl Monk were Willie Andrews and Winifred Monk of Melrose. Ina Bieler received a surprise telephone call from her daughter, Betty Plex, who lives in Florida.

Floie Copeland's quote of the week: "Old age is wisdom and with lengths of days understanding." Job 12:12.

This week the Center's spotlight is turned on Pearl Eliza Monk, 84, who was born in Archer City, Tex., on September 12, 1892. She married Alvoid Monk in Matador on October 8, 1909. Pearl's future husband picked her up in a one-horse buggy which was loaded with sacks of feed. She had to ride in the back to keep the cows, which were freely roaming the streets, from eating the seed.

After Alvoid obtained the marriage license, he returned to the buggy with the justice of the peace and the Witnesses. While the couple exchanged vows, the witnesses were busy fighting off the cows. Afterwards, the Monks went straight to the dry goods store, bought a cotton sack, and went to pick cotton.

The Monks farmed in North Field, Tex., until 1940 when they moved to Melrose. There Alvoid became a truck driver. Pearl has five children, nine grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

The Center resident used to enjoy sewing and making pretty flower arrangements and was always busy doing something with her hands. Pearl reports that her daughter, Zonah, used to ride in a little red wagon which was tied by rope to the end of her mother's cotton sack. Like that, the two traversed many a cotton field.

Pearl always enjoyed piecing quilts and was considered a good barber for family and friends. She has been active in the Methodist Church since she was 17. Now she spends her time watching TV and visiting with her children and relatives who come daily to see her. Pearl's advice is to "try your best to live a Christian life."

Poet Laureate

Mrs. Eunice Crume, president of Farwell Study Club, holds the poet laureate plaque which she received last weekend at the Caprock District Convention of the Federated Women's Clubs. She was awarded the honor on the basis of two of her poems which placed first in their categories. The Farwell Study Club yearbook also placed first in the Class 1-A competition, for clubs which meet less than 10 times per year. Also attending the two-day convention were Mesdames Ellen Wurster and Carrie Christian.

Recipes Needed

Band Boosters To Publish Cookbook

Plans are still in the works by the Farwell Band Boosters organization to publish a cookbook, but to do so, they need the support of interested local residents who have recipes they would like to submit.

Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser asks that all recipes be typed or handwritten on only one side of good quality paper. Recipes may be submitted in numbers of one through four. Names and addresses should be typed or printed after each recipe, explains Mrs. Kaltwasser.

Recipes may be turned in to the following people: Mesdames Kaltwasser, Gerald (Martha) Curtis, J.W. (Lee Nell) Eubank, Pete (Tommy) Fulcher, Wilbert (Mary) Kalbas, Claude (Pat) Rose, Jr., and Lee (Gloria) Hutchins.

Current plans, explains Mrs. Kaltwasser, call for having the cookbooks ready for distribution at the beginning of next school year. As only 300 copies will be ordered, all interested persons are encouraged to reserve their individual copy now by contacting one of the above mentioned people.

Hospital Notes

Clarence Johnson of Farwell is reported to be "doing fine" following open heart surgery in Lubbock Methodist Hospital last Thursday. According to family members, Johnson is expected to remain in the hospital for several more days.

Randy Lyons, coach at Texico schools, is confined to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where he is receiving medical treatment.

Jimmy Birchfield of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Birchfield of Farwell, was hospitalized March 10 following a car accident in Dallas. He is presently in traction and is expected to remain in Baylor Hospital, room 6110, for at least six weeks.

Alma Hendrix of Texico was released from Clovis Memorial Hospital Saturday after undergoing eye surgery. She is home now and reports that she is "doing fine." Her daughter, Sharon Dean of Las Cruces, N.M., is staying with her this week.

The latest report on Brandi Hargrave, three-year-old granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. W.T. Perry of Farwell, is that her condition is "about the same." She is still under medical care and is receiving medication around the clock. Mrs. Perry remains in Cleburn helping to care for Brandi.

Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority met Monday night, Mar. 14, in the home of Doris Ford for a lengthy business session.

The group discussed which candidates to support for state office in the sorority and announced that voting for state officers will be at state convention in El Paso March 14-16.

West Camp Family Night Has St. Patrick's Theme

Grandsons Have Birthday Party

A birthday party was given in the home of Mrs. Virginia Winegeart at Oklahoma Lane Sunday for her grandsons "the twins." Paul Edward Winegeart and Dustin Eli Wilhite, who each turned two years old that day.

The "twins" who are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Winegeart and Mr. and Mrs. Delton Wilhite are actually first cousins, but since they were born only 30 minutes apart, both mothers agree that they seem like twins. Mrs. Winegeart and Mrs. Wilhite are sisters-in-law and they both have learned that what one child is involved in, also includes the other child.

Mrs. Eddie Winegeart made a clown cake for Paul and a tiger cake for Dustin. She said that on the morning of the party, her son Paul was "very concerned that his cousin should also have a birthday cake."

Besides birthday cake, everyone enjoyed homemade ice cream. Balloons and hats were also part of the festivities.

Attending the party were Mrs. Emma Lou Wilhite and granddaughter Kara Camp of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Winders and Stacy of Earth, and the honorees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilhite and Lonny-Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Winegeart.

R. Patricks Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Patrick of Victoria are the proud parents of their first child, a son, born Saturday, March 5, at a hospital in Victoria. The new arrival, who has been christened Eric Ross Patrick, weighed six pounds and 15 ounces at birth.

Mrs. Mary Jean Patrick of Farwell is the paternal grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wedel of Muleshoe are the maternal grandparents.

West Camp community residents gathered Saturday night at the community center for their monthly family night. Host couples for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Herington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt.

The Center was decorated in St. Patrick's colors of green and white complete with leprechauns and shamrocks. A wide assortment of cookies, cakes, punch and coffee were served.

Everyone played a mixer game of "Irish class telling tales." A tie between the four classes resulted due to the many interesting and funny tales which were told.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to all who have birthdays and anniversaries in March. All enjoyed visiting, food, and table games.

The next family night will be April 9.

Attending were Mrs. Louise Roark, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sinnacher, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Landers, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kalbas and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scoggins, Mrs.

Everyone who plants a seed with the expectation of a harvest dreads the possibility of drought. Because of the severity of drought conditions this year in several key farming areas, more attention than ever before is being focused on disaster programs to help alleviate the problems. Problems facing the producer in a drought situation are twofold: First . . . existing programs fall short of providing enough help to justify the gamble on suddenly improved weather. Second . . . recommended programs pending on both federal and state levels offer more realistic promises but still put the farmer in the proverbial position of counting chickens while looking at a basket of eggs. Some specifics about what's now available will be coming up next week.

If fuel costs are squeezing the profit out of your corn crop, plant

The Cost Cutter

One Less Irrigation • Lower Harvest and Hauling Costs • Less Moisture Dockage • Lower Drying Cost • More Income and Profit per Acre

Pioneer brand 3780 improves corn profits four ways. It is an early hybrid that takes one less watering than the hybrids you've been planting. It also dries faster after maturity than other corns. Since it has good standability and ear retention, you can leave it in the field to dry. This means you harvest less moisture, haul less moisture, and have little or no dockage and drying cost.

the higher dry yield, it made a difference of $20 to $30 net income per acre.

This hybrid matures 11 to 13 days earlier than our famous 3369A but it doesn't concede yield for its earliness. Under most growing conditions, it will yield pretty close to the full-season varieties and harvest several points drier.

SINCE IT DOESN'T COST AS MUCH TO GROW, IT CAN MAKE MORE MONEY

In 1976, farmers found that "Cost Cutter" 3780 produced significantly more net income per acre than competitive corns of much later maturity. Though the green weight yield of later maturity corns was greater, 3780 was usually much lower in moisture and thus higher in dry yield per acre. When the saving in irrigation fuel cost was added to

TOUGH ENOUGH TO TAKE IT

3780 is also a tough little hybrid that can take some stress. Head smut didn't bother it in 1976. It has good roots and stalks and holds its ears well. It is sensitive about getting pre-tassel water right on time, however. That critical irrigation time is fairly short since it passes quickly through each stage of growth.

Here are actual examples of 3780's ability to make more profit than later maturing, high yielding competitors:

	Yield wet weight lbs./acre	% Moisture at Harvest	Pay Weight after drying ¹	Gross return per acre ²	Harvest and hauling cost ³	Difference in irrigation cost ⁴	Gross return per acre for each hybrid	Dollar per acre advantage for 3780

PIONEER brand 3780	8,156	13.6	8,156	$ 326.24	$ 40.78	—	$ 285.45	$ 26.37

M17N28* Station Cross	8,661	20.7	7,760	$ 310.40	$ 43.31	$ 8.00	$ 259.09

*The most widely sold station cross on the Plains. It is sold under several different brand names and variety designations.
1. Drying and dockage charge was 2% per point of moisture above 15.5%. 2. Returns figured with corn at $4.00 per cwt. 3. Harvest and hauling costs at 50¢ per cwt. 4. The savings of one irrigation by 3780 at an estimated cost of $8.00 per acre.

STAGGERED MATURITY

If you're farming big acreage, 3780 is the perfect hybrid to use with Pioneer brand 3306 and 3195 in a Staggered Maturity planting program. This new Pioneer program allows you to:

- Hedge against weather problems.
- Use water, labor and machinery more efficiently.
- Harvest each variety at the optimum time.

Your Pioneer dealer has a brochure which gives you the whole Staggered Maturity story. Talk to him right away.

The seventh grade band will

At the joint concert for the public, the bands will be playing a program of patriotic, spiritual, march and concert music.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. "The program should be very enjoyable, and since it is the first time we have hosted such a concert, I know the people in the community will find that it is a rewarding evening," said Jerry SADBERRY, Texico band director.

Play, Inc. Teams Complete Season

For the first time in approximately five years, Texico had two teams that participated in Play, Inc. basketball. The Texico Cubs participated in the Midget division while the Wolverines played in the Junior division.

The Wolverines, coached by Oran Jay Autrey, had a 5-3 record in regular season play. In tournament play, the Wolverines won their first game 27-24 against the Tigers, but fell to the Gophers in the second round, thus making their complete record 6 wins, 4 losses.

The Cubs had 2 wins and 3 losses in regular season play, and lost their first game in the tournament. Ricky Cain, Lynn Cooper and Raymond Hadley served as their coaches.

Danny Powell was high scorer for the Cubs with Bob Steward, Paul Topliff, Eddie Atkins and Steve Smith also scoring. Other Cub team members were Charlie Bibbs, Buck Gaddis, Avery Parks, Stanley Cross and Jessie Garcia.

For the Wolverines, Kevin West, Brad Maxwell, Alan Hadley, Danny Reid, Ronnie

Dunsworth and Tony Cavallero all scored in double figures in regular season play.

All team members contributed to the scoring during the season. Other team members were Dale Autrey, Billy Askew, David Cain, Scott Elliott, Calvin Parks, Lloyd Williams, Joe Steward, Dennis Chavez, Jay Duncan and Jeff Johnson.

The Texico roundballers had their own cheerleaders as Elaine Horner, Jennifer Hill and Karen Snodgrass led cheers for the Cubs at each game.

IRRIGATE YOUR WIDE OPEN SPACES WITH OUR 360 THRIFTY-RAIN PIVOTAL SPRINKLER SYSTEM.

If you have relatively level land, and you've been putting off buying an electric-drive pivotal system because of price, we've got just what you've been waiting for. The new Gifford-Hill 360 Thrifty-Rain™

Finally, there's an electric-drive system that's within the budget reach of farmers who would ordinarily buy either hydraulic or water-drive systems. The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is a "long span" version of our classic 360. The basic difference being the distance between towers (164 ft. on the Thrifty-Rain™ 124 ft. on the standard 360).

The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ 164 ft.

The standard 360 124 ft.

By using longer spans, we reduced the number of towers necessary to cover the same acreage. That means less cost to manufacture. And less cost to you!

The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is also equipped with heavy duty drive systems. Both the original 360 and the 360 Thrifty-Rain™ feature a unique computer-designed sprinkler head spacing and nozzling concept that provides uniform water distribution and reduced pumping costs. Both systems use heavy-walled 6 1/2" O.D. pipe for extra strength.

Consequently, the 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is structurally stronger than other "long span" systems on the market today. It operates efficiently even under high wind conditions, and can handle up to 10% grades.

Standard 360 spans are interchangeable with 360 Thrifty-Rain™ spans. That means you can use standard spans to allow flexibility of tower location and accommodate special terrain problems.

So if you've got wide open spaces to irrigate, and you don't want to pay for capabilities you don't need, get a Gifford-Hill 360 Thrifty-Rain™. And save yourself some money to boot.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

PAUL, THE MASTER-BUILDER

In I Corinthians 3:10, the Apostle Paul declares by divine inspiration:

"According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise [instructed] master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon."

In what sense was Paul the master-builder of the Church, and what "foundation" did he lay? Did he not himself say that "other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Christ Jesus"? Yes, he did—and in this very passage! He sought to lay no other foundation than Christ, but God had chosen him to proclaim Christ in a new way.

Some years previous our Lord had asked His disciples: "Whom say ye that I am," and Peter had instantly replied: "Thou art the Christ [Messiah], the Son of the living God" (Matt. 16:16). This is how believers in general had recognized Him at that time (John 1:49; 6:69; 11:27; 20:31). Indeed the Messianic kingdom was to be established upon Christ as God's anointed Son [Messiah means "anointed"].

But with the raising up of Paul, God began to form "the Church which is Christ's body" (Eph. 1:22,23; Col. 1:24,25). This is the Church of today, and it is founded, not on Christ as King, but as the exalted Lord and Head of the "one body" (I Cor. 12:13).

Paul does not present Christ as Messiah, but as Lord. In Romans 10:9 he declares:

"That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as LORD, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." Again in I Cor. 12:3: "No man can say that Jesus is the LORD, but by the Holy Spirit." And again in Phil. 2:9-11, he declares that God has highly exalted Christ and given Him a name above every name "that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is LORD, to the glory of God the Father."

Have you confessed Him as your LORD and SAVIOR?

Bids Being Taken On Lazbuddie Dam

It was reported this week by the county Soil and Water Conservation District that the Soil Conservation Service is advertising for bids to construct Site #3 (Lazbuddie Dam) on Running Water Draw.

Conservationists have been looking for this invitation for bids for two years or more, say SWCD personnel. Due to environmental statements and changes in design specifications, the dam construction has been delayed.

According to the SWCD, all bids are to be in Temple, Tex., by April 1 for opening. Construction should start within 45 days of the bid opening, officials say.

A national census is called for in the U.S. Constitution. It provides that a counting take place every 10 years.

A two-week clean-up campaign is being planned in Farwell to rid the city of eyesores like the ones depicted in the photos. Photo one shows a run-down, dilapidated building which has become a nesting place for rats. The jagged edges of the metal roof are also a potential hazard to anyone passing by. Picture two portrays another old abandoned building which now provides a home for vermin to live in. The old limbs lying on the ground also detract from the general appearance of the area. Tall weeds, junk and another abandoned building mar the beauty of the area where photo three was taken. Old buildings are potentially dangerous because they are a temptation for children to play on. Curious, daring children and a weakened roof which caves in could result in serious trouble for the negligent property owner. The fourth picture shows a pile of unsightly rubble. These are just a few of the targets which the clean-up campaign intends to zero in on. Anyone needing help in cleaning up any area of town is urged to contact city hall. Clean-up dates are the weeks of March 28 and April 4.

Farwell Clean-up Campaign To Rid City Eyesores

Farwell Council Sets Clean-Up Campaign

Farwell City Council has designated the last week in March and the first week in April as official clean-up weeks in Farwell. The local council is spearheading the clean-up campaign and is seeking cooperation and assistance from local people, clubs and organizations.

Mayor Gil Patschke said everyone is encouraged to pursue clean-up tasks on their own, but if they are unable to follow up on the needed work, they may contact city hall for assistance.

Since Farwell School children will not attend classes the week of March 28, it is expected that several children will be employed to tackle the clean-up problems in Farwell. Alleys are littered and rubbish and discarded things are "piled high" in some yards. According to city employees, if items are stacked near trash cans, they will be hauled away during regular trash pick-up days.

Patschke emphasized the proposed campaign is important to Farwell and will only succeed if everyone cooperates and attempts to do their share. He added that the effort to clean up the city coincides with "Earth Day," which falls on the last day of March.

Anyone wishing to help or needing assistance with the upcoming work is urged to contact the city hall as soon as possible.

In other business at the Monday night meeting, it was decided to advertise for bids for the needed repairs to the city hall building and to install a fence around the dump grounds. Cost of the fence building project, including wire and t-bars, is estimated to be $450.

The Council also okayed the request made by Douglas Landrum to repair the trailer he uses to haul material for patching streets. They also authorized City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell to purchase heavy duty shocks for his police car.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Patschke, commissioners Fred Chandler and Ralph Franse, city employees Janie Bowery, Landrum, Dee Hammit and Mitchell, and visitors, Johnnie Curtis and Jerry Yows.

SWCD Names Troy Christian Conservation Farmer Of Year

The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District has selected Troy Christian as the Conservation Farmer of The Year.

Troy and Lillie, with their three children, live on their farm six miles south of Bovina. Troy farms seven quarters of land, each with a center pivot sprinkler. By farming corn under the sprinklers and cotton in the corners he is able to get the most efficient land use. Troy has been cooperating with the Parmer County SWCD as long as he can remember. Present methods of conservation farming are an everyday thing with Troy. It hasn't always been that way. He has pioneered water, soil and energy conservation in his community.

Troy put in one of the first center pivot sprinklers in his community. This has led to a number of conservation practices. Troy said he was spending a good bit of his tractor time getting furrows ready to receive the irrigation water. He has conserved both time and energy by cutting out this costly operation.

Troy does not use a deep bed. He has found that he has less erosion with a shallow bed.

By going sprinkler he is able to trash farm. He said that he cannot go "no till" because it is necessary to "bust out" stalks for insect control.

The minimum tillage Troy practices provides an insulation on the soil reducing the moisture loss through evaporation. The trash reduces wind erosion to zero. By leaving the trash on the surface, Troy has improved the water penetration from his sprinklers. He said water penetration wasn't much of a problem on his sandier soils, but his clay loam soils were a problem until he had built up his trash cover.

The kind of farming Troy is doing now has maintained his production. He is now shooting for optimum production because it is more economical than maximum production.

Another thing Troy is doing, in fact, was doing the day I visited him, is modifying his equipment so he can do a more economical job of trash farming. By saving time, labor, fuel, water, and soil Troy is doing a complete job of conservation farming.

Conservation Farmer Of Year

Troy Christian of the Oklahoma Lane Community has been named Conservation Farmer of the Year by the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District. Christian farms seven quarter-sections of land, each with a center pivot sprinkler, six miles south of Bovina. Christian farms corn under the sprinklers and cotton in the corners to use his farm land most efficiently.

"THE KING OF THE CROWD"

Plant Weather Master EPX 888 the consistent corn for this area. EPX 888 is medium tall, strong straight stalks, erect dark green leaves. With plenty of water and fertilizer this corn has made over 13,000 lbs. dry weight per acre. It's always at the top.

EPX 777 is a sister hybrid to EPX 888. Bred to take high population and peak fertility. Yield is almost as good as 888 and is about one week earlier in maturity. Plant Weather Master and have your corn in the elevator while other varieties are still dying down.
