Country Club Board Solicits Your Help

At the Monday night meeting of the Farwell Country Club Board it was reported that some 65-70 per cent of the funds needed to retire the debt had now been collected or pledged. It was decided that the club would continue to try to collect the balance before the April 4 meeting of the club members. In the event the funds are not available at that time, all contributions will be refunded and the club will be forced to liquidate its holdings to the Farmers Home Administration. Board president Walter Hughes says that although other ideas to put the problem off have been advanced, it does seem that this is the most logical time and method to clear the problem - that being whether the people of this area want to keep the facility and pay it off or to let the FHA decide its fate. Hughes continued, "The board at this time wishes to thank those many people who have worked hard to save the facility and at the same time take this means of saying we do not presently have all the support we need and also point an accusing finger at those who have not come forth to help." "The area can and will survive without the facility, but it does seem a shame to let such a nice recreational area be transferred to a possible owner who might or might not keep it for our good and wholesome use," Hughes said. The board reiterates that those who have not come forward to help in this endeavor should do so now. "Help uphold the character of our area. Call the board or be kind enough to pledge your part, whatever that may be, before April 4. Your part is what you can afford, and all can afford some. Your help is needed now," plead board members.

One of our more canny political observers remarked that we are a trifle hard on the current administration. In fact, said our visitor, President Carter does have some redeeming features; after all, he is the one who got John C. White out of Texas.

Last Saturday we participated in the Twin Cities Relays by helping to oversee the shot put event. We were happy to draw this assignment as we figured we would have a minimum of contestants.

As it turned out, we had quite a few boys and a whole herd of girls heaving the iron ball. This took us by surprise. We hadn't equated the distaff members with this particular activity. Had we staged a rolling pin fling or a skillet skittle, we would have been more prepared for the outpouring of female entries.

Burr, burr, burrrup ... you don't have to tell the folks in and around the courthouse that this is elm tree trimming time. We just hope that there is enough tree left to support the squirrel houses lodged in the many formerly graceful elms surrounding our county seat of government.

Excess verbiage and polysyllabic words have become a hallmark of government literature. This fact of life has been pointed out from time to time by everybody from the President on down to the office stenographer. Many illustrations have been printed, but we will give you one more that came to our attention last week.

From the Lord's Prayer come the words, "Give us this day our daily bread." As expressed by a bureaucrat it comes out, "We respectfully petition, request and entreat that due and adequate provision be made, this day and the date herein-after subscribed, for the satisfying of these petitioners' nutritional requirements and for the organizing of such methods of allocation and distribution as may be deemed necessary and proper to assure the reception by and for said petitioners of such quantities of baked cereal products as shall, in the judgment of the aforesaid petitioners, constitute a sufficient supply thereof."

You do know that there is a large sheep rancher down in the San Angelo area who has taken to dipping his sheep in a colored solution. Yes, 'tis true, that he is becoming known as the biggest lamb dyer in Texas.

Meeting Postponed

Clara Wehl, Texico city clerk, reported that the Tuesday night meeting of the city council was postponed because a quorum was not present. The council will meet next Tuesday, Mar. 29, at 6:30 p.m. MST in the city hall.

Farwell Chamber Honors Woman, Man Of Year

The annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet was held Thursday evening, Mar. 17, in the school cafeteria. Highlight of the occasion was the presentation of the Man and Woman of the Year awards.

Amid the St. Patrick's Day decorations of leprechauns, shamrocks, and redheaded little boys and girls, Mrs. E.G. (Nettie) Blair and Jack Williams were named as Farwell's top citizens for 1977.

Mrs. Blair was born in Jonesboro, Tex., in 1892 and came to Farwell in 1908. She is a charter member of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. She recently received a plaque honoring her as the oldest active member of the women's missionary society.

In the 1940's, Mrs. Blair was the sole instigator of the Texico Cemetery Association and organized the annual Association dinner which marked its 20th birthday this year.

Mrs. Blair has served as past precinct chairman of the Curry County democratic party and attended the state convention in Sante Fe. She is also a charter member of the Red Bud Garden Club.

The Farwell Convalescent Center was another of her dreams and she was privileged to turn the first spade of dirt to dedicate the Center to the community. She is an honorary auxiliary worker for the Center.

Jack Williams was born near Hollis, Okla., in 1912 and moved to this area in 1939. He took a position in the Muleshoe School as high school principal and coach where he stayed for four years until joining the Farm Security Administration in Bailey County.

During World War II, Williams joined the Farwell School system where he served for five years as the high school principal, math teacher, football coach and both girls and boys basketball coach.

In 1949, he became superintendent of schools in the Farwell Independent School District. He stepped down as superintendent in 1959 and has served since then as principal of the grade school and high school.

Williams is secretary of the Board of Trustees of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and is active in community life.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was C.H. (Pudge) Rose. Rev. Herman J. Schelter provided the invocation.

I.W. (Dutch) Quicquel introduced the out-of-town guests, which included Texico Chamber of Commerce president, Joe Caywood, and his wife. Quicquel also read letters from Representative Bill Clayton, Senator Max Sherman, and U.S. Representative George Mahon, who because of prior commitments could not attend the affair.

These distinguished members of State and Federal Congress had received special invitations from the Farwell Chamber to attend the banquet because of assistance they provided Farwell in obtaining the Farwell Clinic and Convalescent Center.

Rose provided the Farwell progress report for the past year. He noted two businesses had closed their doors in the last year but several new businesses had opened since the last banquet.

Two medical practices have opened in the last year. Dr. Jerry Don Gregory and Dr.

Lee Clayton opened practices in the newly renovated Farwell Clinic. The renovation took one and a half years to complete and opened last August.

Also opening last August was the Convalescent Center. The Center idea originated 16 years ago, with plans being finalized six years ago. Dora (Continued on Page 2)

Crim Prediction - -

S'west Wind Forecasts Little Rain, Poor Crops

As the sun peaked over the horizon on Tuesday, Mar. 22, J.W. "Indian" Crim wasn't standing by the fire to read the drifting smoke in the annual weather predicting ceremony. Crim was ill and could not be at the ceremony; however, his family was there to carry on the tradition.

The southwest wind carried the smoke smoothly to the northeast. By tradition, a southwest wind is the worst kind of wind to forecast from and carries the worst signs for weather. It means a poor crop year and not much rain. The smooth, unswirling flow of the smoke Tuesday morning indicated an almost steady wind, with little indication of hail and no severe storms. Crim has conducted the annual ceremony on the old Crim homestead place since 1922 and has drawn a lot of publicity since making the ceremony public in 1952. Traditionally, the fire is made from old trees and branches placed in the shape of a teepee.

Crim learned the technique from his father who worked on the railroad. Every year, on March 22, his father noticed several fires attended by the Indians in the area. The Indians wouldn't discuss the nature of the fires, so Crim's father asked a sheepherder who told him the significance of the fires and the purpose the Indians were trying to accomplish.

If a northeast wind is blowing at sunrise on March 22, it means a bumper crop will be produced that year. A north wind carries an indication of a good year, a northwest wind means a fair year, and a west, south, or southwest wind indicated a poor crop year with little rain.

A southeast wind traditionally means for the Indians to "put the old squaw in the wagon and head for Oklahoma, because you're going to starve to death."

Crim came to the area in February 1922 and worked on the section of land his father had purchased one mile west and one mile north of Clay's Corner. He retired from farming in 1967 and moved to Muleshoe. Each year since then, he has made the trip back to the old homestead place to conduct the ceremony at dawn on March 22.

Weather Prediction

The annual March 22 sunrise weather prediction was performed Tuesday morning at the old Crim homestead near Clay's Corner. The early morning wind was from the southwest, which indicated a poor crop year and dry weather. Making the prediction this year in the absence of J.W. "Indian" Crim, were his sons, from left, Buck, Weldon, and Max Crim.

On the civic and community level, Knoy is a member of Lions International, B.P.O.E. #1440, and has been a Jaycee. He is on the official board of the United Methodist Church at Wilson and also served on the board of the church while at Alamogordo.

Knoy says his parents influenced his career in the educational field a great deal since they are both teachers holding M.A. degrees. Last year his mother, who is office education coordinator in Hagerman High School, was chosen outstanding business educator in New Mexico and was also named Teacher of the Year in New Mexico. His father is elementary principal at Hagerman and has taught math, Spanish, English and driver education during the 23 years he has been in the school system.

Hughes made the presentations of the Man and Woman of the Year awards. Mayor Gil Patschke introduced the speaker for the evening, Rev. Robert Harrison.

Rev. Harrison spoke on the topic of "Joy". In his talk, Rev. Harrison commented that "life without joy is like stew without onions, it has no flavor, something is missing."

The Chamber officers and directors for 1977 were also named at the banquet. Johnny Actkinson will be the new president; W.M. Roberts, first vice-president; Joe Hughes, second vice-president;

The directors for 1977 are Walter Hughes, Toby Booth, Jerry Monk, B.J. Roberts, Lee Hutchins and J.B. Sudderth. R.W. Anderson is the treasurer, Quickel is secretary, and Rose is the ex-officio member.

Rose received the Presidential Service Award. Fred Chandler made a special award of a lifetime membership in the Farwell Chamber of Commerce to Marlon Inman. Inman had donated the material and labor involved in making the Chamber of Commerce a steak cooker.

The menu consisted of steak, baked potato, salad, hot rolls and butter, cobbler, and coffee or tea. Chandler, Joe Jones, and Actkinson cooked the steaks. The Farwell cafeteria ladies served the meal.

Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority and Mrs. Cole's kindergarten class provided the decorations of shamrocks, leprechauns, red-headed, little boys and girls, rabbits, and even Snoopy and Linus.

Ed and Juanita Hardage provided the interlude music and the benediction was given by Rev. Carroll Watkins.

Chamber Officers

Banquet Dignitaries

C.H. (Pudge) Rose, Jr., 1976 Chamber President, received the Presidential Service Award last Thursday at the annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet. Looking on is Rev. W.T. Perry, 1976 Man of Year, and Rev. Robert E. (Bob) Harrison, speaker for the banquet.

Jack Williams Loves Work

With Students Best Of All

Jack Williams, principal of Farwell High School, retires this year after serving in the local school system for 32 years. During that span of years he has been teacher, coach, principal and superintendent.

Williams, along with W.M. Roberts, former superintendent, and the late Amos Tatum, former high school principal, watched the school system grow and expand beginning with the consolidation of the Oklahoma Lane and West Camp schools and ending with the construction of the present elementary, junior high, high school, gymnasium, auditorium, band hall and woodshop. According to Williams, none of that progress would have been possible had not the people in the community cooperated and backed the school system all the way.

Thursday night Williams was named Man of the Year at Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet in honor of his dedicated work with the Farwell School system. He says he has enjoyed all aspects of his school involvement, adding that he likes the students best of all. Williams explained that during his years in education he "never had a dull moment and always learned something every day."

He was born near Hollis, Okla., on May 24, 1912, and has two brothers and one sister, all who live in Farwell.

Williams graduated from Hollis High School and then obtained a bachelor of science degree from Southwestern State Teacher's College at Weatherford, Okla. He also holds a master's degree in administration from Eastern New Mexico University.

The man of the year began his teaching career in Leedey, Okla., where he taught and coached for three years. In 1939 he took a position in Muleshoe School system as a high school principal and coach. He also worked for the Farm Security Administration in Bailey County, Tex., for four years. In 1945 Williams joined the Farwell School system where he was the high school principal, math teacher, football coach and boys basketball coach for three years. He also coached girls basketball when he was superintendent.

He became superintendent of schools in the Farwell Independent School District in 1948. Starting in 1959 he assumed a less demanding position and has served the local school system as principal of the grade school as well as the high school.

Williams is a member of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church where he is secretary of the Board of Trustees. He is active in the community and throughout his years of association with the local school system has counseled many a school child with his wisdom.

In 1937, Williams married Ella Ruth Dunbauld and together they reared four children, Dr. Bert Williams of Houston, Dr. Dick Williams of Seabrook, Tex., Dr. Tom Williams of Ft. Smith, Ark., and Sharon Williams of Lubbock.

'Woman Of Year' Surprized At Honor

Mrs. E.G. (Nettie) Blair was somewhat surprised to receive the "Woman of the Year" award at the annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet. To hear her tell it, her life story "is not worth putting in the paper." But the indomitable octogenarian, who celebrated her 85th birthday Tuesday, has lived a life of service to the Twin City Community.

Mrs. Blair was born in Jonesboro, Tex., in the year 1892. She was the only girl in a family of nine children. At age 16, she and her family traveled by train to the Farwell area in 1908.

Besides completing her education in Farwell, the woman of the year also learned how to play the organ. On many a Sunday afternoon, the walls of the community church reverberated with the sounds of the sing-a-longs held there.

The local woman's first community service began when she played the organ for the handful of people who attended Farwell's first church. During one of the memorable sing-a-longs, Mrs. Blair met her future husband, E.G. Together they reared one son, Joe Blair of Farwell, and two daughters, Helen Kay Wellman of Illinois and Doris who died in 1942.

Life in the Blair household consisted of farming and attending church. Mrs. Blair recalls working side-by-side with her husband as they tackled the everyday chores of farm life. She also tended to chickens and turkeys and milked the cows until son Joe was 10 years old.

When the first Methodist church in Texico burned down, Mrs. Blair said they held services in the county courthouse for years. When it was decided to build another Methodist church in Farwell, the women's society pledged $1000 to the support of the new building. According to her, they held bake sales, card sales and even peddled paring knives to come up with their share of the money. And they did just that.

Mrs. Blair is a charter member of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and has always considered it to be an important part of her life. Recently she received a plaque honoring her as the oldest active member of the women's missionary society, which includes over 50 years of service.

In the 1940's, the woman of the year was the sole instigator of the Texico Cemetery Association, which became a reality only after this determined woman spent endless hours getting donations, writing letters and making phone calls. She organized the annual Association dinner, which marked its 20th anniversary this year.

The octogenarian recalls that since her determination to secure donations for the Texico Cemetery coincided with election time, she simply "collared" voters coming and going from city hall and succeeded in obtaining needed funds.

Mrs. Blair has always been a woman with vision. Ten years ago she was the first person in town to seriously voice the idea of having a home for the older folks in the Farwell area. When the dream became a reality, she was privileged to turn the first spadeful of dirt and to dedicate the Farwell Convalescent Center for the community. Last month she paid her dues and became an honorary member of the Convalescent Center Auxiliary.

The local woman says she is happy the Center was finally built because "it is so convenient to visit her friends, the 'old folks.'" However, she is not ready to become a resident of the establishment yet.

Mrs. Blair is an active woman who knows how to take care of herself. She lives alone in her home on Fourth Street which she has occupied since her husband died in 1955. She still drives her own car to the market and to church, stopping on Sunday mornings to give her good friend, Mrs. B.N. Graham, a ride.

Mrs. Blair used to drive to the neighboring cities of Amarillo and Lubbock to attend to her own business but lately has given that up in favor of the short jaunts she takes in town.

A story is told that one day Mesdames Blair and Graham decided to buy rose bushes in Lubbock. They stopped at a red light and then just sat there even after the light had changed three times. When a policeman investigated the incident, Mrs. Blair informed the young officer that if he would give her directions, she would be glad to purchase her roses and get out of town.

Another incident occurred in Clovis when Mrs. Blair was caught running a red light. When questioned by a police officer, she informed him that she was merely following the car in front of her and that it was that car he should be stopping.

The local woman has also been known to invent a medical cure or two of her own. A year ago when her tom cat became ill, she wrapped him in a towel, turned him on his back, and administered a dose of Pepto Bismol. The cat survived and to this day Mrs. Blair claims that it will cure "almost anything."

The 1977 Woman of the Year

has served as past precinct chairman of the Democratic party in Curry County. She attended the state convention in Santa Fe. For the past two years, various history classes have been privileged to visit her home to be enlightened about the old pioneer days. They have received a first hand and very entertaining account of the local community. Mrs. Blair remembers it all, from old saloons in Texico to the depression and the dust bowl era.

Mrs. Blair, Farwell's "youngest" senior citizen is known for her blue eyes that glisten and the beautiful smile which dances across her aging features whenever she speaks of her town and her community. For 69 years of faithful community love and service, Mrs. Blair was honored not only as the 1977 Woman of the Year but as the woman of the years.

April 2 Elections - -

Absentee Balloting Continues

Absentee voting for the upcoming April 2 elections continues this week after beginning on March 14. According to voting officials, eight absentee ballots have been cast in the city elections and one ballot has been cast in the school board trustee and hospital district board elections to date.

Persons wishing to vote absentee in the city election or in the school board trustee and hospital district board election may do so until 5 p.m. on March 29.

Two places are to be decided in the school board election. Troy Christian, Gary Foster, Jim Walker, Jerry Darby, Joe Schilling, and incumbent Billy Mayfield are vying for the open seats.

Two places on the city council are also to be filled by the April elections. Johnny Curtis, Truman McKillip, and incumbent Fred Chandler are battling for the expiring terms.

In the mayoral race, Jerry Yows and Walter Kaltwasser are vying for the right to replace Mayor Gil Patschke, who decided not to run for reelection.

The five incumbents on the hospital district board are running unopposed for another term. The candidates are Maxine Williams, Bob Anderson, Pudge Rose, Prentice Mills, and Jim Berry.

There is a combined ballot for the hospital district board and school board trustee elections. Absentee ballots may be cast in the county clerk's office from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. On April 2, the polls will be open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. at the county courtroom.

Absentee ballots for the city elections may be cast in City Hall from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. The poles will be open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. on April 2.

Persons living in Bailey County and within the Farwell School District are eligible to vote only in the school board election but not in the hospital board election since they don't reside inside the hospital district.

While Jack Williams was out of town for the weekend, Lena took care of the flowers he received for being named "Man of the Year." She reported that the assignment was a "lot of fun."

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wright of Batesville, Ark., and Jaci Edwards of Hereford visited Ruth Myers. Visiting the Herman Gohlkes were the Eldon Gohlkes of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Holland and children, and Mrs. Sally Holland, all of Clovis, visited Mrs. Lyra Holland recently.

Floie Copeland, activities director, was in Graham this week for a fishing holiday. Members of the Auxiliary assumed her duties.

Rev. Herman J. Schelter, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat, conducted Sunday afternoon worship services. About 30 people attended.

CORRECTION: Mrs. Ruth Blair donated the new testament edition of the talking books, not Ruth Myers as was incorrectly reported in last week's paper.

Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. Dora Nittler, administrator, speaking on behalf of the Center staff and residents, said they appreciate all the "nice things" which were said about the Center at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday night. Joining the two women at the banquet was Mrs. Nittler's husband, A.C.

Bingo winners were Ollie Utsman, Viva Grant and Inez Sullivan. Blackout winners were Jerry Utsman and Bobby Hix. Small, appropriate bingo prizes, such as hairnets, jewelry, sleeping hats, etc. are needed.

Working on crafts projects are Christa Gohlke, Maude Wilson, Nora Edens and Bobby Hix. Manning the crafts room on Friday and Monday afternoons were Sherry Curtis and Doris Bourland, auxiliary volunteers. Supplies for crafts, such as small pieces of thin wood and paneling scraps are needed. Other needed items include mod-podge, which is used for decoupage projects, small paint brushes, carpet scraps and clean cotton rags.

The Center also has established a "crafts fund" which is entirely different from the "love fund" which was set up several months ago. Money donated to the "crafts fund" will be used to purchase any supplies which are needed for crafts projects and are not donated. Money given to the "love fund" is used to purchase things for the residents. Anyone donating money to the Center is asked to specify for which fund they want their money used.

The Center grounds are looking better, thanks to the "green thumb and know how" of Pat Rose.

The spotlight this week is on the T.P. Kittrells. Thelma Ruth was born March 15, 1902, and T.P. was born May 11, 1897. They were married February 9, 1921, and reared five children. They have 10 grandchildren and two great-granddaughters. They laugh about how the justice of the peace shined the light in Thelma's face to be sure she was old enough to marry. She responded that she certainly was because she was one month short of being 19. He was 24 when they married.

When they were first married, the Kittrells lived near Frederic, Okla., before moving to Muleshoe in 1924 where they farmed. They tended chickens, milked cows, raised a garden and canned while rearing their active family.

T.P. reports that he tried his hand at cowboying but found it not to his liking. Thelma used to enjoy crocheting and was always active in Baptist church work. Now she says she passes her time reading and watching TV. She reports that her husband spends his time eating.

Mrs. Kittrell's word of advice is "know what you are doing before getting into it and then stick with it." T.P. says to "keep busy and stay happy by minding your own business."

Workers For The Blind

Lutheran Women Make Books For The Blind

Thanks to several dedicated women of St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat, blind people throughout the world are able to enjoy reading braille copies of "A Prayer For The World." The braille workers at St. John's are a small but necessary cog in the vast network of machinery which mass produces these books for the blind.

The local group is one of 112 work centers throughout the United States and is comprised of Mesdames Wilbert Kalbas, Paul Geuther, Hubert Gohlke, Herman J. Schelter, Otto Lingnau, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Madge Peiman, Adolph Haseloff, Roger Menning, Helen Meissner, Ed Ramm and Larry Jones. St. John's workers meet once a month, usually on the fourth Thursday, from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. to make the books. During a good day's session it is not unusual for them to put out 35 books, each 63 pages in length.

The process begins with organizing the paper and metal plates in correct sequential order. Special paper is used to enable both sides to be printed. Mrs. Schelter said this paper saves money in the long run and provides for a less bulkier book.

After the paper is placed between the metal plates the sheets are sent through a printing machine. Later these same sheets pass through a punching machine which makes spiral hole markings on each sheet. Finally, after the pages have been arranged in order, they are placed in another machine which locks a plastic spiral holder in place around the sheets.

All materials are donated to St. John's by the national Lutheran's Braille Workers organization. Once a month workers from other Lutheran churches, including Littlefield, Clovis, Hereford, Friona and Rhea, meet at the parish hall to make their own books. About 70 are produced each month by all the volunteer workers. Following the work sessions the braille books are packed in boxes and shipped all over the world.

The current book on which the local women are working is printed in the English language; however, the book they made before was printed in the Korean language and the finished books were sent to people in Korea. Mrs. Schelter explained that that book had no title, it was just a "book of religious instruction." She added that they made 4,000 copies before switching to the present book on which they are working.

The national organization of Lutheran Braille Workers began operating in 1944 in Yucaipa, Calif., with five volunteers. Today, membership in the volunteer organization numbers 10,000.

Locally, St. John's branch was organized in 1972 by Mrs. Kaltwasser. Mrs. Schelter had attended a braille workers workshop in Louisville, Ky., that year and was so filled with enthusiasm for the project that she wasted no time in communicating her desire to form such a group in her home church to Mrs. Kaltwasser. Today, Mrs. Schelter is head of the project and says that she is very proud of the dedication workers have shown and of the accomplishments they have made.

Mrs. Schelter said that Helene Loewe, who is head of the national organization, plans to visit St. John's work center in May of this year.

'Living Proof' Campaign Coming To Farwell

The Good News in Texas Revival Campaign, "Living Proof," will come to the Texas Panhandle region March 27-April 24. The campaign is the result of a concern by the Southern Baptists of Texas, who felt there was a need for a concerted effort to reach the non-Christian people of Texas with the word of Jesus Christ.

Most of the Southern Baptist Churches in Texas are working together in the campaign which includes efforts through revivals, lay renewal weekends, and the media. The campaign started in January of this year and will continue through December.

Well-known celebrities, ranging from entertainers and movie stars to sports and political figures will help communicate the theme through the use of radio, TV, newspapers, magazines, and billboards.

Farwell First Baptist Church will hold a revival April 18-24, in conjunction with the "Living Proof" campaign. Evangelist will be Bro. James Hackney, pastor of the Maplewood Baptist Church in St. Louis, Mo.

Derby Races To Highlight Farwell Cub Scout Banquet

The Farwell Cub Scouts annual banquet is slated for Friday, Apr. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The banquet will consist of a covered dish supper to which all family members are invited.

A special feature of the occasion will be the "pinewood derby cars" racing competition and design. This year Cub Scouts and their fathers will be entering separate competition with prizes to be awarded in each category.

Each contestant received a derby car kit containing a block of wood, four nails and four wheels. They had to construct a race car by whittling, sanding and painting the block of wood. Original designs and colorful decals can be added as long as the car does not weigh more than five ounces.

Each Scout received his kit free, but the fathers entering the competition purchased their kits for 85 cents each.

Youngsters will compete in double elimination races for first, second and third place trophies. A trophy will also be awarded for the car with the best design. Dads will receive a prize for having the car with the most unusual design.

The race track will be the standard track used by the National Cub Scouts organization and will be furnished by Jim Cowman of Clovis, district executive of the Conquistador Council.

The next derby car racing competition for local Scouts will be at the Scout Craft Fair in Clovis to begin April 16. Scouts in the Texico-Farwell area will begin selling tickets for the fair tomorrow (Saturday). Prizes will be awarded to the Scouts who sell the most tickets with a special prize being awarded to the enterprising youngster who knocks at the door of the home which has a hidden certificate.

Frances Treider, C.B. Lovelace Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Frances Treider of Lazbuddie and Charles B. Lovelace of Farwell were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie on March 5. Officiating at the ceremony were Hershel Thurston of Hereford, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Jim Standridge, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie.

The couple exchanged wedding vows before an altar flanked by tall, white baskets holding red roses and baby's breath, tied with red ribbon. Family pews were marked with red bows.

Wedding music was provided at the organ by Mrs. Sam Long of Hereford, sister of the bride, and Brad and Stan Treider of Lazbuddie, grandsons of the bride, who sang the "Wedding Song."

Escorted by her son, Ted Treider of Lazbuddie, the bride wore a blue chiffon full length gown with a capelet draped to the back hemline. A self fabric rosette accented the V-neckline. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath, decorated with lace streamers.

Following tradition, the bride wore her dress for something new; a linen hankiechief belonging to her grandmother for something old; a necklace borrowed from her daughter, Mrs. Billie McGee of Oxnard, Calif.; and the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. McGee, who served as the matron of honor, was attired in a peach colored chiffon full length gown with a capelet and flounces tied in peeks. She carried a long stemmed red rose and stephanotis tied with peach ribbon.

Johnny Lovelace of Richardson, son of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Leon Lovelace of Grapevine, son of the bridegroom, and Clinton Cox of Bovina, grandson of the bride. They all wore red rose boutonnières.

Mrs. Lena Menefee of Hereford, mother of the bride, was attired in a blue and pink floral, full length chiffon gown with long full sleeves. Hazel Thurston of Hereford, sister of the bridegroom and special guest, wore a full length, pink floral chiffon gown. They each wore a white gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Carla Lovelace of Grapevine, daughter-in-law of the bridegroom, registered guests at the receiving table which was covered with a white lace cloth over a red underlay. Red roses and stephanotis in a white vase centered the table.

An off-white hand embroidered linen cutwork cloth over a blue underlay covered the serving table. Centering the table was the silver coffee service flanked by three-branch candelabra holding blue tapers. Also on the table were the bride's bouquet and white napkins imprinted in silver. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The three-tiered wedding cake, with white columns separating each layer, was frosted in white decorated with blue flowers. A miniature bride and groom under an archway holding wedding bells, topped the cake.

Members of the serving party were Bobbie Grant of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Imogene Cox of Bovina, both daughters of the bride; Adell Treider of Lazbuddie, daughter-in-law of the bride; and Carla Lovelace, daughter-in-law of the bridegroom.

Hints, Reminders In Tornado Season

Now that spring is here, Twin Cities residents are once again concerned about tornadoes. In the event that one should threaten the area, both the Texico and the Farwell volunteer fire departments will sound the alarm which consists of one full cycle followed by a second full cycle.

lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building; but stay away from all windows. In home, particularly frame homes, the corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

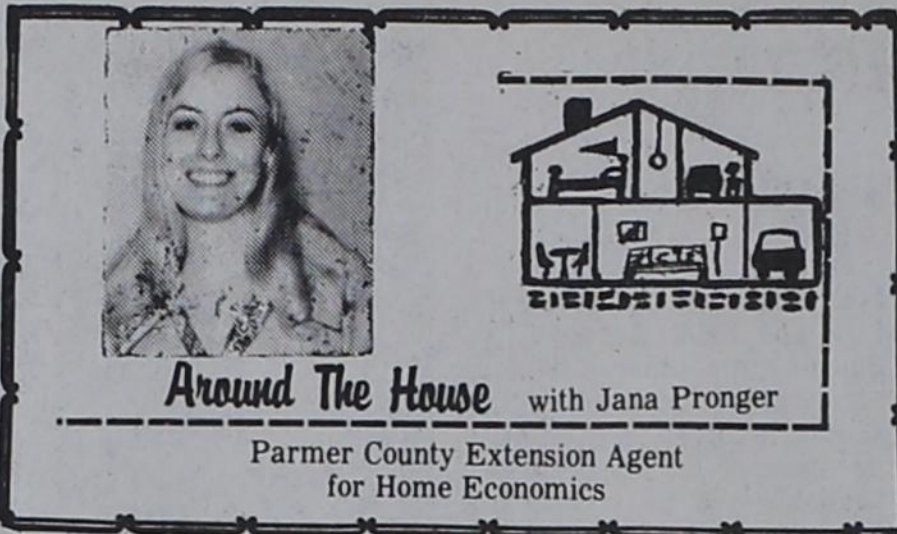

Since the tornado season is "around the corner" a few helpful hints are also in order.

1. When time permits, seek shelter in a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. Underground excavations are considered to be the only universal protection against tornadoes.

2. If caught in the open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. If there is no time to escape,

4. If a school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside away from windows. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums with large, poorly-supported roofs.

Tornado "weather" can be hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. Familiar thunderstorm clouds are present. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color. Rain and frequently hail precede the tornado with a heavy downpour after it has passed.

Most consumers know how easy it is for harmful bacteria to grow in raw meat or poultry held for several hours at room temperature. But equal concern should be given to being sure cooked food is properly refrigerated.

Most bacteria in raw food are destroyed at cooking temperatures above 140 degrees F. But cooked foods can also be a haven for growing bacteria through re-contamination or cross-contamination.

"Cooked foods may be re-contaminated if kitchen utensils used for preparing the food before cooking aren't washed before handling the same food cooked.

Foods can be cross-contaminated by handling uncooked meats, then fresh vegetables without washing kitchen utensils and hands.

A good rule to follow is to wash all utensils and hands in hot soapy water after handling raw food—since it may contain bacteria—and before touching cooked food.

"Cooking food at proper temperatures will destroy bacteria that cause food poisoning."

FOOD SAFETY IMPORTANT FOR GOOD FAMILY HEALTH

Some of the unpleasant symptoms such as diarrhea, headache, vomiting and stomach cramps that spoil a family's fun may not be due to a "bug" virus or influenza.

Improperly handled foods could be the culprit. During family gatherings, many times foods are left on the table for hours where room temperature can lead to the growth of bacteria.

Many foods provide the warmth and moisture that bacteria need to thrive—they begin to grow rapidly in foods held for three or four hours at temperatures between 60 degrees and 120 degrees F.

The growth of harmful bacteria can be controlled with a few basic precautions.

—Keep cream, custard or meringue pies with custard fillings refrigerated. This includes cakes, cream puffs and eclairs also. Don't allow these foods to stand at room temperature after baking—refrigerate immediately.

—Remove all stuffing from leftover cooked meat before cooling and storing in the refrigerator. Store the stuffing in a separate container from the meat.

—Keep hot foods hot, above 140 degrees F.

—Keep cold foods cold, below 40 degrees F.

—Heat leftovers thoroughly.

Farwell Spring Clean-up To Get Started Monday

Preparations are underway in Farwell for the spring clean-up campaign which is slated to begin Monday, Mar. 28. The local city council is spearheading the project in conjunction with the Farwell Jaycees. The local club has pledged to supply trucks and manpower on April 2 to assist anyone in clearing away trash or debris.

Janie Bowery, city clerk, said current plans call for finishing the bulk of the task by next week. The original plans for a two-week campaign were shortened because the Jaycees can only work on April 2. Mrs. Bowery stated that because many of the Jaycees are farmers they do not have a lot of spare time this time of year.

Members of the local organization will assist the city in hauling away the junk, branches and debris which will be collected next week. However, for the week of April 4, regular city trucks will be employed to carry away trash. Residents are urged to stack their discards near their trash cans to facilitate the pick-up procedure.

Since April 2 is election day, Mrs. Bowery said the office will not be open for regular business; however, she stated that she will be manning the telephone in order to take calls from anyone needing help with their clean-up tasks. The messages will be forwarded to the local Jaycees and any other interested group or individuals who are cooperating in the joint venture to rid the city of eyesores.

Farwell is laden with old abandoned buildings which provide habitat for rats and other vermin to thrive in. The old dilapidated buildings also are a hazard because many have metal roofs with jagged edges.

City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell commented that sometimes these buildings are a temptation for children to play on, adding that if an inquisitive child falls through a weakened roof or otherwise injures himself, the owner of the property may be held liable.

Overgrowth of weeds are not only unsightly but also provide territory for rats and other pests to breed in. They are part of the eyesores which plague the community and as a consequence are one of the targets for the clean-up campaign.

Doug Landrum, city employee, said that since Farwell school children will enjoy their spring vacation next week, he hopes to employ several youngsters to assist him with some of the work which needs to be done.

Any organization or individual who would like to assist with the project is urged to contact city hall as soon as possible.

Mayor Gil Patschke explained that everyone is encouraged to handle their own clean-up tasks as much as possible. However, those needing assistance may contact city hall and it will be provided.

The mayor commented that the clean-up campaign is important to the city and will succeed only if all the residents cooperate and try to do their share of the work. He added that the joint clean-up venture coincides with "Earth Day" which is March 31.

Clean-Up Task

Farwell city employee Doug Landrum is hard at work clearing away a pile of discarded branches. His efforts are part of the local two-week clean-up campaign which is scheduled to begin Monday. Residents are asked to proceed on their own during the first week and to call for help if necessary the following week. Farwell Jaycees will have trucks and volunteers standing by on Saturday, April 2, to assist with the work. Anyone needing help may contact city hall on that day. Even though it is election day, someone will be there to answer the phone.

Volunteers Are Needed For Cemetery Clean-up

Janie Bowery and Earl Roberts of Farwell are spearheading a drive to clean up the old Farwell Cemetery, which is located on State Line Road, south of Far-Tex Feeders.

The main objective of the drive is to rid the cemetery of the weeds, brush, and rocks which have overtaken the approximately 60-acre block of land. According to Mrs. Bowery, work has progressed over the past two weeks but less than half of the cemetery has been cleaned up to date.

Any donations of equipment, money, or labor will be greatly appreciated, say the drive organizers. There have been a few donations so far, but more are needed to cover the fuel costs incurred in the clean-up operation.

Also needed is any information about who is buried in the cemetery. The workers hope to make a map of the cemetery, but some of the markers are not legible and some of the graves do not have markers at all.

Mrs. Bowery says she has no idea how long it has been since the cemetery has been cleaned up, "but it hasn't been cleaned in the 15 years I have been here," she said.

The workers have found some iris beds in the cemetery and are working on them in hopes of getting the flowers to bloom this summer. They are also considering the idea of planting some marigolds or other "hardy" flowers to make the cemetery more presentable and are trimming the trees located on the land.

If anyone has any information concerning the cemetery or would like to provide any type of assistance, they may contact Mrs. Bowery at Farwell City Hall or at her home. Earl Roberts may be contacted at his home.

Your help will be greatly appreciated, emphasize the workers.

The clean-up drive is still in progress and any donation of equipment, money, or labor and any information concerning the cemetery will be greatly appreciated. Contact either Janie Bowery or Earl Roberts if you can provide any assistance.

According to Sheriff Lovelace a tractor, which was taken from the Royce Gene Welch place nine miles east of Friona, was used to vandalize the surrounding countryside. Road signs were run over and irrigation pipes were damaged. Preliminary reports estimated damages at $300.

If all the drought relief proposals were raindrops they would probably do a lot more good for producers in areas where water is needed more than talk. One of the problems with the deluge of suggestions for drought relief is that there are more suggested remedies than problems. Disaster programs actually on the books at this time include: a Presidential Emergency Declaration, Emergency Livestock Feeding Program, Federal Crop Insurance, Agricultural Disaster Declaration and the Interstate Commerce Commission Drought Order. Any or all of these may apply in given areas depending on the severity of drought conditions, but a really severe drought is still far from compensated for even when all the current disaster programs are used.

THE HEAT PUMPS KEEP ROLLING ALONG FIGHTING LOST HEAT...

MANUFACTURERS SHIP 170,000 HEAT PUMPS IN FIRST 7 MONTHS OF 1976 (as compared with 169,000 for all of 1975)

If you don't have a heat pump you, at least, should find out more about it. It's the most efficient, here NOW, piece of heating equipment available at reasonable cost. The electric heat pump saves energy, so it saves money. By using otherwise wasted Lost Heat present in outside air, the electric heat pump delivers as much as two units of heat for every heat unit of electricity it uses. Nationwide, heat pumps are going into nearly half the new homes with electric heating. In our area alone 287 heat pumps have been installed in the past year. Updating your old home's heating system? Better find out about the heat pump... ask us.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE RESURRECTION

In his great Epistle to the Romans, St. Paul introduces himself immediately as "a bondsman of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle," to proclaim God's good news about Christ.

Paul's "gospel of the grace of God" was essentially about Christ. He was always talking about Christ. His epistles are filled with Christ. Christ, in his message, was everything. This is in striking contrast to much of our modern preaching and evangelism, which is not Christ-centered, but man-centered.

The gospel Paul proclaimed was God's good news about Christ and His power and glory in defeating Satan, overcoming death, paying for sin and nailing the law to His cross.

This is why the apostle calls his message "the good news of the glory of Christ" (I Cor. 4:4) and "the good news of the glory of the blessed God" (I Tim. 1:11). To enter experientially into the truth of this good news is the greatest blessing one can possibly enjoy.

In Verse 4 of his introduction to the Roman Epistle, the apostle declares that Christ was powerfully declared to be the Son of God "by the resurrection from the dead."

Now the resurrection of Christ had been both prophesied and proclaimed as an historical fact before Paul, but to Paul was committed a special message of good news in connection with the resurrection. In his God-given message, Christ was raised from the dead to demonstrate that as God the Son He had paid the full penalty for sins that would have sunk a world to hell. Thus the apostle writes to Timothy, his son in the faith:

"Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

"Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David (this is how Christ had formerly been known) was raised from the dead ACCORDING TO MY GOSPEL, wherein I suffer trouble as an evildoer, even unto bonds" (I Tim. 2:7-8).

Read the Epistles of Paul and see how salvation by grace through faith always hinges upon the finished work of Christ for our redemption. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

"WHAT'S THE USE?"

YOU CAN'T CHANGE THE WORLD. THINGS JUST KEEP GETTING WORSE AND WORSE. THERE'S NO ONE YOU CAN TRUST ANYMORE. NOTHING YOU CAN BELIEVE IN. AND WORST OF ALL, NOTHING YOU CAN DO ABOUT IT. NO MATTER WHAT YOU ACHIEVE, LIFE SEEMS EMPTY AND MEANINGLESS. AND THAT MAKES IT TOUGH TO KEEP GOING."

If you feel that way you're not alone. Thousands of people do. And with good reason. Just look around. Listen to the news. Chaos, corruption and irresponsibility seem to be everywhere.

Maybe you're right. Maybe you can't change the world overnight. But there is a place to start. You can learn to live in this world by first learning to live with yourself. You can better understand others by first understanding who you are, what you can be and what you can't.

Only one person makes this possible. His name is Jesus Christ. For two thousand years He's been telling us we can start over—we can become new persons—through a personal relationship with Him. We can acknowledge our faults because He forgives us. We can love ourselves because He loves us.

JESUS said He came "so we could have life, and have it more abundantly." And countless Christians today are living proof that He does have the power to change lives. Executives and store clerks. Singers and homemakers. Sports figures, teenagers, actors and government officials. People you know. People you don't know. They've all found that Jesus Christ is the one person you can trust and believe in. That He gives your life meaning, purpose and direction. That He gives you peace of mind.

They are living proof that Jesus Christ is real in 1977. That people can be changed. And enough changed people can change the world.

IF you would like to know more about people who are living proof, if you need more information, or have made a decision to accept Jesus Christ, there are people nearby ready to share that with you. Please let them know.

What's the use? Find out.

More information is available through a Southern Baptist Church near you. Or, write Living Proof, Box 1000, Dallas, Texas 75221.

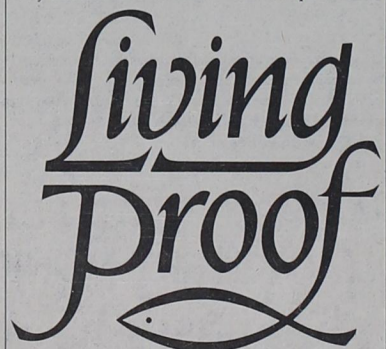

- Please tell me more about people who are living proof that Jesus Christ is a real person, with real solutions for today's problems.
- I am now trusting Jesus Christ to change my life.
- I would like to reaffirm a prior commitment I made to Jesus Christ.
- I need more information. Please get back to me.

Steer Band Garners Division I Ratings

Farwell High School Band earned Class A Division I ratings in both concert and sight reading at the UIL competition held in Dimmitt last Friday.

Lynn Burton, band director, said that this is the first time the Steer Band has won a Division I sight reading award since its conception. He also said that the last time the local band took a Division I UIL honor in concert was in 1955 when Mrs. Erma Jobs was band director. Earlier in this school term Burton's charges received a Division II rating in the UIL marching contest.

Burton said that the band students participated in a good warm up session prior to the concert.

Other schools involved in the contest and their ratings in concert and sight reading, respectively, are as follows: Bovina, IV, II; Kress, III, III; Petersburg, I, I; Hart, II, III; Hale Center, II, I; Dimmitt, I, I and Friona, I, I.
