Jail Completion Bids To Be Let

Bids for completing construction of a cell block of the Parmer County Jail will be opened Monday, Oct. 23, 1978 at 11 a.m. The cell block in question is one left uncompleted when the new jail facilities were built in 1974. Lack of funds stopped the construction of this cell block and proposed quarters for a jailer.

A resolution calling for completion of the cell block was passed by Parmer County Commissioners at their meeting last Monday, but no definite action was made concerning construction of jailer's quarters.

Completion of the cell block, on the east side of the jail, is necessary so that proper separation of prisoners may be accomplished according to

Marijuana Case Heard

Two Alamogordo, N.M., men were each fined $127 this week in Parmer County Judge Paul Fortenberry's Court for possession of marijuana under two ounces. They are Paul Bennett, 22, and Gary Peterson, 24.

The 1978 Border Town Days celebration is now part of history. But even though the two-day event is over, area residents are still talking about all the fun and excitement, calling it the "best one ever." With that thought in mind many persons are looking ahead to next year when it all happens again.

A variety of activities characterized the annual event, but one of the special highlights occurred late Saturday afternoon at Farwell City Park when Lisa Hughes, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hughes of Farwell, was crowned the 1978 Border Town Days Queen. She will be a junior at Farwell High this fall and was sponsored by the Beauty Box in Farwell. The newly crowned queen received a bouquet of red carnations donated by Texico-Farwell Rotar Club and a yellow gold engraved charm, courtesy of the BTD Committee.

Miss Hughes will reign over the 1979 BTD activities until her successor is chosen next year. She will also represent the Twin Cities at special functions throughout the year.

Pleasant Hill - -

Community Reunion Set

Pleasant Hill Community reunion is set for this Sunday, Aug. 6, at 10 a.m. MDT at the Community Center for all residents, as well as former residents, teachers and students.

Everyone is asked to bring a basket lunch for the noon meal. Recognitions will be made during the afternoon.

Around The Twin Cities

Farwell School Board will meet Monday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. CDT in the superintendent's office.

Texico School Board will meet Thursday, Aug. 10, at 7 p.m. MDT in the high school.

Texico City Council will meet Tuesday, Aug. 8, at 6:30 p.m. MDT in the City Hall.

Miss Hughes gave a monologue presentation of a "typical" farmer's wife who has to compete with "the latest thing in tractors" for her husband's attention. This disgruntled and somewhat desperate farmer's wife even considered the possibility of reincarnation as the only solution to her problem. Imagine coming back as a brand new late model tractor, guaranteed to capture her husband's attention!

Tina Geries, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Geries of Texico, was named the first runner-up. She will be a senior at Texico High and was sponsored by Lerice's in Farwell. She sang "I Enjoy Being A Girl."

Also vying for the honors was Toby Curtis, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Curtis of Farwell, sponsored by the Farwell Study Club. Toby read an original composition about her "little sister, who isn't so little anymore."

Other candidates included Cydney Ford, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Ford of Farwell, sponsored by the State Line Tribune, and Robin Vinton, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Vinton of Farwell, sponsored by Kirkland-Vinton Inc. of Farwell. Cydney sang a country and western song entitled "If You Don't Love Me, Let Me Go." Robin played a piano medley. All five candidates rode in the BTD parade prior to the talent presentation at the park.

Prentice Mills served as master of ceremonies of the queen contest. In addition to the queen, the other four candidates were also presented engraved yellow gold charms.

Another special feature of the 1978 BTD celebration was the Old Fiddlers' Contest which delighted the huge crowd.

The top winners were Alva Parker of Floyd, N.M.; Hutch Gardner of Rogers, N.M., and Turner Paine of Farwell. They received $50, $25 and $15, respectively. Sponsors included State Line Tribune, first place; Farwell Insurance Agency, second place; and I.W. Quickel and MONY, third place. Fred Chandler was the master of ceremonies.

Additional toe tapping music was provided by Ed and Juanita Hardage and Chandler who sang several songs.

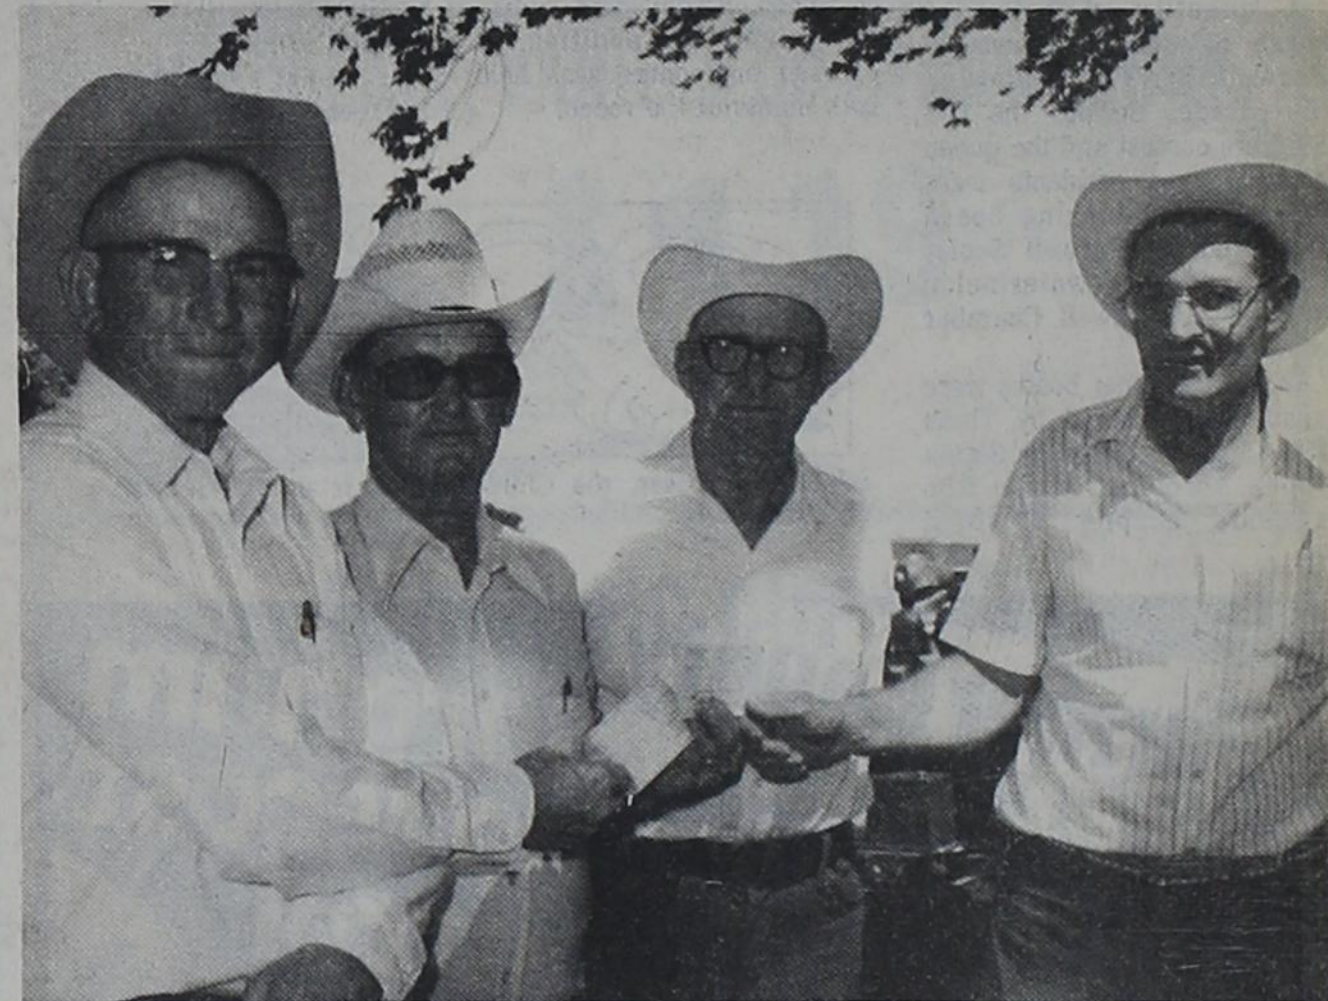

Numerous entries marked this year's BTD parade with the top rated participants receiving either money or a trophy.

PURELY PERSONAL
by John

The twelfth annual Border Town Days celebration passed in a blaze of fun, parading, rodeoing and talent. We cannot recall any larger or more enthusiastic crowd than that which showed up for the Saturday activities. All who participated in the complex planning and execution of this bi-community event deserve a "Tip O the Sombrero" by those who were so well entertained.

It would be impossible to name all those who had a hand in this affair, but as far as we could tell every civic group in Texico and Farwell participated in some manner.

This Border Town Days was truly a Twin Cities production.

The time has come, or may be even past, for this country to decide if this is a nation of laws or a nation run by special interests groups above the law.

At the present time there are several governmental bodies unions who are defying the law by striking. By the time this sees distribution the postal unions may have joined the illegality.

It is imperative for the concerned chief executives, Mayors or the President, to take a firm stand and insist that the law of the land be obeyed or the legal consequences be suffered by those so striking.

We are not against unions or the right-to-strike, provided it occurs in areas of non-vital public concern. Government employees city, state or national, have taken their jobs knowing full well that striking was an illegal activity. Now we feel that they should either obey the law or quit their jobs and find employment in areas where striking is legal. This certainly gives them a wide range of employment opportunities and in no way circumscribes their personal freedoms.

Freedom is only possible under a system of laws administered in a fair and impartial manner. It is not possible to excuse some from the effects of the laws and retain impartiality or respect.

The very legal foundations of the United States of America are crumbling under the pressure of special interests. When a sufficiently large segment of the populace comes to feel that they are not getting fair treatment under the law then the forces of bloody anarchy will destroy personal freedom. This is the inescapable lesson of history.

And the sad part of it is the fact that it is the working man that loses his freedom first. Please, Mr. Union Executive, point out to us what you consider the freedom of the working man in Soviet Russia. If you see it -- you see something we don't.

One of our concerned readers stopped by the Trib last week and gave us some information of how New Mexico values their farm land for tax purposes and apparently New Mexico has developed a fair and equitable method of taxation and valuation.

The "model" for assessment was developed as a joint effort of the Curry County Land Owners Association and Dr. Herbert K. Grubbs, who was also instrumental in getting the water depletion allowance recognized by the Internal Revenue Service.

Let us hope that the Texas legislature will eventually look to our western neighbor for guidance in this sensitive area.

Texico Variety's float entitled "A Friendly Smile Is Never Out Of Style" garnered first place. Second place was awarded to the Texico Woman's Club float entitled "To Have A Friend, Be A Friend." The Convalescent Center's "bus float" received third place. Signs taped around the bus said "We've Been Friends A Long Time" and "A Friend In Need Is A Friend Indeed."

Both Farwell and Texico fire departments sponsored water polo matches, giving local youngsters a chance to drench themselves as well as friends and neighbors. Toward the end of the day, Pudge Rose challenged Dr. Robert Silva to a "water fight." Later, Dr. Silva also volunteered to sit on the dunking board.

The top float entries received the winning checks of $25, $15 and $10 donated by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce and additional checks for $10 was awarded to each winner on behalf of the Texico Chamber of Commerce.

Texico Chamber sponsored horseshoe pitching and coin pitching. Theta Rho held balloon tosses and tricycle races. A few of the winners in the balloon toss were reported to be Corey Jones, Cynthia Ancira, Carl Hutchins, Jody Campbell, Mitzzy Campbell, David Johnson, Jeremy Jones and Chris Aycock.

Other parade entries included Brenda Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orie Jones of Farwell, the Jaycees' Rodeo Sweetheart, antique cars and decorated bicycles and vehicles.

Winners in the tricycle races included Mike Lingnau, Paul Winegeart, Kade Kent, Ray Haseloff and Amy Foster.

Music was provided by Ed Hardage who played the callopie, the Clovis Shriners Drum and Bugle Corps and a combined Texico and Farwell schools band.

A special treat was provided by the Amarillo Gunfighters Association who staged two real-life shootouts in the park, as well as ride and perform in the parade.

Farwell Mayor Walter Kaltwasser and Texico Mayor Manfred Turnbough also rode in the parade which was led by the Texico and Farwell city marshals followed by fire trucks from each city.

Many enjoyed a family style picnic later that afternoon.

As some of the entries passed through the Twin Cities bubble gum was tossed to the anxiously waiting youngsters who scrambled to collect the goodies.

The Parmer County Chapter of the American Heart Association sponsored a free blood pressure screening throughout the afternoon in the County courthouse. Approximately 125 persons were tested. Two films were also shown. A spokesman for the association said they plan to have the screening become a permanent part of the BTD celebration.

The parade started in Texico near the Burger Barn and proceeded east through the twin communities to Capitol Food where it dispersed.

No Border Town Days would be complete without the annual rodeo, and this year the Jaycees once again sponsored the High Plains Junior Rodeo Association Rodeo. Contestants competed Friday and Saturday night. In addition, a greased pig contest was held both nights of the rodeo.

A quantity of activities began Saturday afternoon in Farwell City Park following the parade. Besides the Old Fiddlers contest and the queen contest, area residents were treated to a dunking board sponsored by Farwell Senior Class and free watermelon donated by Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

Numerous other booths were available sponsored by Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta

Setting The Tempo

The Clovis Shriners Drum and Bugle Corps set the tempo in the annual Border Town Days parade through Texico and Farwell which kicked off the Saturday activities. Following behind Brian Miller, drum major, is his small son Chad who with baton in hand was dressed like dad in full Shriner regalia. His short legs had a hard time keeping ahead of the marching Shriners, but he managed to last the length of the parade.

Minister

Farwell Church of Christ

WHEN WE UNDERSTAND the value of being generous, we will surely manage our lives accordingly. "...remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, it is more blessed to give than to receive." (Acts 20:35).

GENEROSITY IS A MANNER OF LIVING. In order to be fully meaningful, and pleasing to God, our generosity must be "glad generosity." We must not do, and serve, and give grudgingly. Christian generosity will be controlled and directed by the greatest possible degree of wisdom and good judgment.

GREEDY, MISERLY AND STINGY PEOPLE are parasites. They take all and give nothing, and the more they get, the less they have.

GLAD GENEROSITY includes the wise giving of our money, time, energy, ability, our talk, and even our thoughts. It is indeed a way of life.

THE TRUE CHRISTIAN is generous and liberal. (1 Tim. 6:17-19). "He who sows sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he who sows bountifully shall reap also bountifully." (2 Cor. 9:6); "God loves a cheerful giver." (2 Cor. 9:7).

"AS WE HAVE OPPORTUNITY, let us do good (in every way good can be done) unto all men, especially unto those who are of the household of faith (fellow Christians)." (Gal. 6:10).

GOD IS GENEROUS with us, and we, within the Christian framework, please him with our "glad generosity."

Metering Wells Useful To Farmers

Metering irrigation wells provides farmers with useful information, according to officials with the Soil Conservation Service.

The information obtained from metering irrigation wells can be used to determine:

- (1) How many acres can be irrigated, with the amount of water one has. (usually figure at least 3 gpm per acre)
- (2) Determine if efficiency of pumping is in line with cost of pumping.
- (3) Determine size of pipeline, when installing new pipeline.
- (4) Determine gpm's for tax purposes has also become important reason.

"If you would like the wells metered on your farm, let us know in advance so we can schedule you," say SCS personnel.

Contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona, they advise.

Metered Well

Ronnie McLellan, left, of the Soil Conservation Service, is pictured with W.O. Duggan who lives southeast of Friona. A meter has just been installed on Duggan's irrigation well. The SCS says the process can be very useful to farmers for a number of reasons.

Farwell Okays Pay Raises

Farwell City Council Monday night approved raises for Jack Landrum and Dee Hammit, city employees.

The Council also agreed to pay the city's cost of the study made by three consultants asked to look into the proposed Southwestern Public Service rate increase. Farwell is one of several cities in the Panhandle who hire the consultants after deciding to challenge the increase. The cost will be 40 cents per local meter or approximately $240.

It was announced that a city employee should be present in Hereford August 25 for a "Public Hearing on Dump Grounds."

The matter of the municipal retirement system was tabled until "a further study could be made."

Attending the Council meeting were Mayor Walter Kaltwasser, Commissioners Johnny Curtis and Fred Chandler; city employees Landrum, Hammit, Ronnie Mitchell, John Johnson and Carrell Watkins.

Portraying Area Homemakers

By Shirley Gorman

Mrs. Royce (Terry) Baker of Farwell, our area homemaker for this week, stays busy almost all the time keeping up with a rambunctious son and daughter, Brandon, 4, and Lynsey, 1½. She is originally from San Angelo, but has lived in Farwell for the past three years.

Baker is a Farwell high school coach. As the wife of a coach and loyal sports fan, Terry attends the varsity football, basketball and track competitions.

Before moving to Farwell, the Bakers lived in Lubbock and Seymour. But our homemaker admits she "loves Farwell" explaining, "I don't like big cities like Lubbock where people don't even know their neighbors."

She is an avid reader. Terry said she does sew, but confided that she really did not like to do it. She has a small garden which she takes care of. Before coming to Farwell, Mrs. Baker said she had never canned, but now adds that she "really loves it." She says she does not grow the vegetables which she cans, but rather picks them in the fields.

For recreation the Bakers like to golf and fish. A favorite fishing hole is Mertzon near San Angelo, where Terry's parents still live. Mrs. Baker was an "only child" and says she "regrets it sometimes," because "you miss a lot sometimes not growing up with brothers and sisters."

Mrs. Baker said that when Brandon and Lynsey get into squabbles she is sometimes not sure how to handle it because "I never had any brothers or sisters to fight with."

Our homemaker likes to play bridge and often substitutes for an absent player. "I learned to play bridge at home from my mother and grandparents," she said. "We also played it in college."

Terry is a member of Baptist Young Women and will serve as secretary next year. She is also the treasurer of Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

She teaches the two-year-old Sunday School Class at the First Baptist Church in Farwell. "We read them stories, sing songs, listen to records and last Sunday we made no-bake cookies," Terry explained. She said she liked teaching the class and has done so for the past two years, but feels that she will quit after this year. "I think I want to learn some more about teaching Sunday School now," she said.

The Bakers have been married for eight years. She and Royce met on a "blind date" while they were both attending San Angelo State University. She was studying accounting at the time, but she quit school after attaining approximately 60 hours credit. She does plan to return to school though, once her children are in school, but will switch her major to elementary education.

"I like that field better," Terry explained. "It will be easier if Royce and I have the same type of job with the same holiday schedules, etc."

Our homemaker has three favorite recipes she has consented to share with our readers.

Health Tips

Texas doctors are joining plans for a massive immunization drive aimed at boosting protection levels above 90 percent of the population. The Texas Medical Association (TMA) says this large-scale effort is needed to protect people from diseases which in their most serious forms can cause death, crippling, blindness or brain damage.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that approximately 25-40 percent of U.S. children are not immunized against one of seven preventable, dangerous diseases. In an article in the July issue of Texas Medicine, the TMA monthly journal, Clinton Craven, M.D., of Austin, asks doctors to monitor patients' records and encourage people to get needed immunizations for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polo, measles, rubella and mumps.

TMA urges people not to wait for a postcard from their physicians but to update immunizations now. Check with your physician or local health department to find out what doses are needed and sometimes required for admission to school or summer camps.

TMA says summer is a good time to update immunizations because children generally are healthier in summer and immunizations would not be prevented because of ongoing illnesses. Summer immunizations also will provide more protection against diseases which occur most often in the winter. Dr. Craven, a member of TMA's child and adolescent health subcommittee, encourages summer immunizations when many children already are being examined for school, camp or athletic requirements.

Physician efforts are part of a state campaign.

Rabbit Project Opportunity To Earn

About 3,800 youth in 4-H rabbit projects are learning money management, animal husbandry practices and "how pride of ownership feels," according to Laura Jacobs, Farmer County Assistant Extension agent.

Boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, with 32 square feet of space in their backyard and two hours of free time per week, also can experience these same opportunities with a minimum financial requirement of $255-$300 for a small rabbit operation. The investment includes two does, one buck, annual supply of feed, housing and equipment.

Youngsters starting with two does and one buck can expect to produce 30-40 fryer rabbits a year. Using a marketing weight of two-and-a-half pounds and market price of $1.50 per pound, rabbit producers can expect to gross $225-$300 the first year.

4-H membership entitles boys and girls to expert advice and help from volunteer 4-H rabbit leaders and the opportunity to participate in 4-H sponsored shows, educational clinics, and workshops, says Miss Jacobs.

Boys and girls interested in enrolling in a 4-H Rabbit Project may call 481-3619 or contact Seth Ralston their county Extension agent.

Water District Board To Meet

One proposed rules amendment and one proposed new rule, both of major significance, will be on a heavily loaded agenda when the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1's Board of Directors hold their next monthly meeting on August 7.

The Board will consider amending Rule 1 (Definitions) to include a definition for an abandoned well site and will consider adopting a rule to provide a procedure for declaring a well site abandoned. These proposals are being considered to give the board a set of guidelines to follow in cases where a well has apparently been abandoned, but has not been officially declared so, and a new application for a well has been submitted for a well near enough to the "abandoned" site that it would be in violation of the District's spacing requirements.

In other action, the Directors will consider cosponsoring a water conservation contest, will hear a staff report on a "Cost Analysis Study of Irrigation Ditch Losses," and will hear a progress report on "A Summary of Irrigation Practices and Techniques in the Southern High Plains of Texas" which is being compiled by District and Texas Department of Water Resources personnel.

Routine business items to be considered include a report on the District's financial status, consideration of approval of applications for water well permits and the District Manager's status report. The Directors will also recess into Executive Session to discuss personnel matters relating to the Water District.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held at the District office at 2930 Avenue Q in Lubbock and will begin at 10:00 a.m.

Music Makers

Ed and Juanita Hardage, two of the Twin Cities liveliest and busiest music makers, were among the most popular attractions of Saturday's BTD parade. Ed played the ever-popular calliope throughout the parade route much to the delight of young and old. Later at the park activities Ed and Juanita furnished piano and organ music for spectators and accompanied other groups with their music-making.

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

As Reported by the Center Staff

Leonard Harper, minister of Farwell Church of Christ conducted church services Sunday at the Center. Several members of the congregation also sang gospel hymns.

Nina Dickinson spent all day Sunday in Clovis celebrating her 89th birthday with family members. All of her children were there. Nina also brought back some cake to share with fellow residents.

J.R. "Pop" Walton celebrated his 95th birthday last Wednesday with what turned out to be the largest birthday party ever observed at the Convalescent Center. Almost all the residents attended as well as staff members and Walton's family members including daughter Zona Smith, and Mrs. W.F. Stanley, both of Clovis; Al and Crystal Walton, Clara Harper, J.R. Walton and Ruby Walton, all of Portales;

Also, Jack and Nell Ford of Plainview; Glen Walton; Myrtle Shields of Abilene, Pop's only sister; and Curtis Walton and Winona Cure of Olton. Everyone enjoyed two cakes decorated in yellow and white made by members of the family. Ice cream and punch were also served.

Mrs. Winkles donated homemade jelly recently for all the residents.

The big news is, of course, the Border Town Day celebration. Many, many volunteers helped to make it all a huge success for us. The Center's "bus float" placed third, which was a delightful surprise. Many hours of hard work were put into the sketches, drawings and signs which included lots of flowers, bees, butterflies, turtles, worms, etc. and signs which read "A friend in need is a friend indeed" and "We've been friendly a long long time."

After the approximately 30 residents were safely aboard, thanks to the efforts of Don Brewer, Rod Copeland, Doug Brewer, Jack Adams, Linda Winegeart, Myra Armstrong, Jo Geuther, several staff members and anyone who happened along, a large sign was taped to the back door which read "From all the friendly folks at Farwell Convalescent Center" and it was signed by residents, staffers and helpers.

Those working on the signs were Martha Curtis, who actually did the drawings and sketches as well as the signs, then Sherry and DeAnn Curtis, Lari Curtis, Floe Copeland, Sharon Eubanks and children painted the sketches with tempera paint.

Helping to tape the float together were Martha Curtis, Nan Preston, Lari Curtis, Jan Marsh and anyone who happened along with a helping hand. The bus was donated by the First Baptist Church in Farwell.

Bobby Hix and Burl Stringfellow followed along behind in Brewer's van. Bubble gum was thrown out the windows to children along the parade route. Those riding the bus returned to the Convalescent Center a little tired but happy and quite excited.

A few of the comments were:

J.R. "Pop" Walton: "That was some shindig all right!"

Maud Wilson: "I'm glad I got to be in the parade - but I couldn't see the parade."

Bertha Kaltwasser: "I loved the old cars the very best."

Lois Poteet: "The best parade ever and I think I've seen every one of them."

Madge Henly, Lyra Holland's daughter who was visiting from Port Arthur, also rode in the bus. She said: "It was a lovely, lovely parade. Really a big deal for such a small town. We all had fun."

Christa Gohlke: "My first parade at 76 years of age. Why did I wait so long?"

Willie Shields: "My first parade ride and I loved it."

Ollie Utsman: "I just loved the parade. Don't know when I've had so much fun."

Lois Massey: "I sure was glad to get to participate in the parade. When I was younger we did a lot of parading. We had Tennessee walking horses. But for now the bus ride was lovely."

Ruby Hulse: "It was so much fun I wouldn't have missed it for the world. Nearly as much fun as my 80th birthday party."

Chloe Crawford: "Whew. Was I ever tired when I got home. My first parade to actually ride in and of course I loved it."

J.T. Cummings: "Boy that was fun in that fancy decorated bus." Everyone really enjoyed Ed and Juanita Hardage who followed the bus back to the Center and played music to unload by.

Floe Copeland commends everyone in the community who has been so good "to help us in any way. All we have to do is spread the word," she said.

The Convalescent Center's second anniversary is tentatively slated for Sunday, Aug. 27. The anniversary is actually August 8, but so many things have been going on lately that it was decided to let the residents "rest" before having another big "doings". Plans will be announced later.

Several residents attended the "Gong" show including Chloe Crawford, Nora Edens, Thelma Kittrell, J.R. "Pop" Walton and Maud Wilson. The complimentary tickets donated to the residents were greatly appreciated, said Mrs. Copeland.

Flash: Residents and staff alike are all wondering what happened to that little bit of fuzz over Don Brewer's lips.

ESTABLISHING A TRADITION

Historically, salt has been one of the primary ingredients used in preserving meats. But the salt which our early ancestors used was not the purified sodium chloride - better known as table salt - which we have today. It contained many impurities, one of which was nitrate.

As man's knowledge increased, he discovered that the nitrate in those early forms of salt has useful characteristics all of its own. Better known as saltpeter in those days, the nitrate served as a preservative and produced a distinctive flavor and color in preserved meats which was desirable to many people. It was later discovered that nitrate also had the ability to inhibit the growth of certain microorganisms, including those which cause botulism.

Down through the centuries, these qualities produced by nitrate became closely identified with cured meat products such as ham, bacon, luncheon meats, corned beef, frankfurters and other cured sausages. Thus, a tradition became established - i.e., that meat products without the characteristic flavor and color produced by nitrate were not "the real thing."

TRADITION BECOMES LAW
When Congress passed the Federal Meat Inspection Act in 1906, it included authority for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to regulate the labeling of meat products to ensure truthfulness and protect consumers against misrepresentation. Under this authority, regulations were established which prescribed the composition and processing procedures meat packers had to follow to be able to label products with certain names.

Thus, the traditional relationship between the use of nitrate - and in more recent years, nitrite - and the labeling of cured products such as ham, bacon, corned beef, and frankfurters became written into the regulations. To this day, these products cannot be labeled with such traditional names unless they have been cured with nitrate or nitrite. For example, cured pork bellies cannot be called bacon unless the curing mixture contains nitrate and/or nitrite, nor can a cooked sausage be called a frankfurter without the use of these additives.

QUESTIONS OF SAFETY AND ALTERNATIVES

In the past few years, public attention has focused upon the continued use of nitrate and nitrite in curing meat products - following the discovery that they can combine with secondary and tertiary amines to form nitrosamines, which are carcinogenic. Many consumers have stopped buying cured meats as a result, and others have expressed a strong desire to buy alternative products made without nitrate or nitrite. Safety issues with regard to nitrate/nitrite are presently under evaluation by the Department, and as result allowable levels of these additives may be reduced.

To meet this consumer demand, a few meat processors have asked USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service (FSQS) for permission to produce cured meats without using nitrate or nitrite, but still label them with the traditional names like bacon, frankfurters, etc. The proposed labels for these products - as well as other merchandising or advertising - would highlight the fact that such products are "nitrite free."

These requests heretofore have been denied, because the current regulations still require that products labeled with the traditional names must be manufactured with nitrate or nitrite. It was believed that consumers were so accustomed to associating the traditional names with the characteristic flavor and color produced by nitrate and nitrite, that - without these additives - products labeled with the traditional names would be misrepresentations.

Further, it was believed that consumers also were so accustomed to expecting cured meats to be safe from spoilage because of the use of nitrate and nitrite that they would also handle "nitrite free" products labeled with traditional names just as they have always handled the traditional products. Experience has shown that many people abuse cured meats by not maintaining them under proper refrigeration.

Consequently, USDA - and most of the meat industry - in the past has resisted consideration of any change in the current regulations and processing procedures that might result in someone contracting botulism under conditions of misuse.

RESPONDING TO CONSUMER DESIRES

A new proposal, issued by USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service, prescribes conditions which would allow meat manufacturers to name products with traditional names when limited or no nitrate or nitrite was used - provided that the flavorings and other cured agents used in preparation result in a meat product with similar flavor and consistency to the cured meat product prepared with traditional levels of nitrite and/or nitrate.

Cured meat products containing no added nitrate or nitrite, which are not preserved by thermal processing, fermentation, pickling or drying would be labeled "NO NITRATE OR NITRITE ADDED-NOT PRESERVED, MUST BE REFRIGERATED"

Step by Step

"... Inflation is the greatest threat to the sustained progress and strength of our economy and the ultimate survival of all our basic institutions. If we are to increase the output of goods and services and reduce unemployment, we must first make further progress in reducing inflation. Our objective must be to establish the foundation for a sustainable expansion, based on responsible fiscal and monetary policies, applied in a consistent fashion over time. We must not sacrifice these policies for manipulated low unemployment rates."

The New Melroe End Wheel Drill For Precision Seeding

At first glance it may look the same, but the Melroe End Wheel Drill has changed... and changed where it counts. A close look will reveal a new special feed system that provides precision seeding, row after row. The new feed system features an all new specially designed feed cup to maintain an even flow, new diagonally fluted feed wheels that allow accurate seed metering, and a new improved clutch and chain drive system. Also, seeds are planted at an even depth. Furrow opener pressure springs are set at an angle, instead of vertically, for a more even seed penetration, regardless of ground profile. Take a look at some of the other built-in features. Like a simple, sturdy frame with limited obstruction. A grain box that holds a bushel and a half per foot. A cluster gear box that allows over twenty application speeds. Or furrow opener boots that are made of steel to stand up better to rocks. And steel footboards that fold up and out of the way. Scrapers are standard equipment. Drag chains are available. Check out the New Melroe line of end wheel drills. Sizes range from 10 to 14 feet with 6, 7 and 9 inch spacings. One of them is just right for your farm and crops.

Royal Ambassadors Attend Baptist Camp

Fifteen Royal Ambassador boys and two adult sponsors from Texico First Baptist Church attended Sivells Baptist Camp located in the Sacramento Mountains, 13 miles east of Cloudercroft, N.M., the past week.

The camp is owned by the Baptist Convention of New Mexico and dedicated to God for the development of Christian character and the promotion of better understanding of world missions among the Baptist youth of New Mexico.

During the week, the boys participated in Bible study, missions study, camp craft, leather craft, rock craft, wood work, photography, plastics, riflery and archery.

George Hill and Bill Boling served as camp craft instructors. Senior boys, Howard Horne, Duwain Hill, Mike Scott and Lynn McDaniel, served as counselors for the Crusaders (grades 3-6). Each counselor had a tent of 10 boys to lead.

There was a total of 162 boys from all parts of New Mexico attending the camp. One of the local boys, Craig Horne, took the second place trophy in the camp archery tournament.

Others attending the six-day camp from Texico were Steve Zachrel, Kelley Tivis, Marty Walker, Buddy Adkins, Eddie Adkins, Raymond Cash, Craig Sharp, Stanley Cross, Paul Topliff and Gary Cain.

2nd Place Riding Trophy

Wilma Fulgham, left, and Sue McDowell, both of Clovis, display the second place riding trophy which they received for their participation in the annual Border Town Days parade. They represented the Curry County Mounted Patrol. Mrs. Fulgham was the first Curry County Fair Queen and the first New Mexico State Fair Queen. Mrs. McDowell is also a former Curry County Fair queen.

It Takes The Whole Family

Saturday's Border Town Day parade offered something for everyone as entries ranged from marching bands to antique cars and stubborn burros lined up for the annual event. During most of the parade route, it took the entire Olen Cole family to get this four-footed creature going.

Mesa Redonda Cowboy Camp Meeting--Part Of A Rich Heritage

Story and photograph by Faye Plank

The Mesa Redonda Camp Meeting is part of a rich heritage which can be shared by everyone, August 10-13, at the Bove-Farmer Ranch, 11 miles south of Tucumcari, N.M.

The Cowboy Camp Meetings started in Texas in the Big Bend Country of the Davis Mountains. The Bloys Camp Meeting, known as the "granddaddy" of them all according to the Rev. Bill King of Clovis (retired) who has preached at several across the area, dates back to the year of 1890.

At that time, West Texas was a wild, wicked, sinful frontier country, no churches, more saloons in every little town than there were houses. Killings happened every few days. The trains were robbed, bandits ran loose, cattle stealing was a common thing.

Brother Bloys was the preacher at Ft. Davis at that time. He was a sick man sent out to the mountains by the doctors in East Texas. He traveled over the country in a buggy pulled by a team of sorrel horses visiting the ranch people.

In those early days the ranches were far apart and the roads were not much more than cow trails. In these camps and ranch homes he preached to the people. Sometimes just to a lone cowboy.

It was in one of these very humble homes that the idea of a camp meeting was born. Mrs. John Z. Means, known to all as Aunt Exa, was the one that suggested to Brother Bloys, on one of his visits to the Means Ranch, that there should be some place for the cowboys and the ranch people to meet together and worship the Lord.

This suggestion started Brother Bloys to thinking and to making plans. The word had to be carried mouth to mouth, as there was no other means of communication, but it got around, and from this small beginning the Bloys Camp Meeting was started.

A time was agreed on, the place selected and a few ranch families in their covered wagons drove a few miles out in the mountains to a beautiful spot known as Skillman Grove. It was there they had the first service. John Means was responsible for buying the section of land on which the meeting was located. Here they erected a brush arbor.

The ranchers and families brought their round-up cooks and everyone camped out. The Camp Meeting became known as "Big Bloys."

As "Big Bloys" grew the ranchers erected a permanent tabernacle and cook sheds; then families began to build cottages and the camp meeting grounds took on a permanent nature.

In later years the sons of the Means, Huling and Sam Means, and their nephews, Dub and Joe Evans, came to southern New Mexico bringing with them their heritage of the Cowboy Camp Meeting. They were the founders of the Cowboy Camp Meetings in New Mexico. The first was held Aug. 1, 1940, on Nogal Mesa.

Later the New Mexico Cowboy Camp Meetings were taken over by the Presbyterian Church as a mission project but then became interdenominational and were organized as the Ranchmen's Camp Meetings in the Southwest, providing "A Christian Experience For All Ages."

July 5 thru July 9, the first Cowboy Camp Meeting of the 1978 season was held 17 miles east of Kiowa, Colo. July 13-July 16 saw the meeting south of De Moines, N.M., getting under way.

Several thousand people attended the Nogal Mesa Ranchmen's Camp Meeting east of Carrizozo, N.M. Esther and Ted Van Solen of Clovis with their four children and seven other children they had taken with them camped out during this meeting.

Mrs. Van Solen started attending Nogal Mesa Camp Meeting as a child with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith. This heritage is being kept alive by active participation each year of she and her family in the various camp meetings of the organization.

The Van Solens have been a big force in getting the Mesa Redonda Camp Meeting under way. They will be joining with families from all over Eastern New Mexico and West Texas for this first meeting Aug. 10-13.

Two other meetings are part of the association. One is the Four Corners Camp Meeting which was held July 27-30 between Mancos and Cortez, Colo. The other is the Chiricahua Ranchmen's Camp Meeting August 3-6, 50 miles southeast of Wilcox, Ariz.

Frank Crenshaw of Melrose, president of the Mesa Redonda Camp Meeting Association; Torrance Reed, Bill King, Vaudie Pierce and Wilma Fulgham, secretary, all of Clovis; and David Crow of Melrose are all looking forward to this first meeting. Plans call for it to become an annual affair.

Rick Steele of Aledo, Ill., is camp manager for the association. He is a young Presbyterian minister who spends his vacation each year managing the five camp meetings and seeing that all runs smooth, including the serving of meals on time. This year with the addition of Mesa Redonda he will be responsible for six.

Cooking and serving several hundred people out in the open is quite an undertaking, but Irene Poe of Clovis is quite excited to be part of this.

Financing the venture is by voluntary contributions. This year, Mrs. Glen Frazier of Melrose gave a substantial amount as a memorial to her father, the late Fred A. Welch, an early day cowboy and farmer of the Clovis-Melrose area. Other persons over the state have also contributed to its support.

So on August 10-13, a dream originating with Bill King of Clovis and Dr. D.D. Farmer of Tucumcari will become a reality.

Everyone over the area, regardless of age or occupation, are invited to become part of this exciting adventure in Christian Fellowship in a superb outdoor setting.

Come and bring your own camping equipment. Meals will be prepared in the big tent and served without cost.

For further information, contact Dr. D.D. Farmer, Tucumcari, Phone 505/461-0205; or Wilma Fulgham, Clovis, 505/763-6262.

Plan Camp Meeting

Finalizing plans for the Mesa Redonda Camp Meeting to be held at the Bove-Farmer Ranch, 12 miles south of Tucumcari, Aug. 10-13, are (L to R) Wilma Fulgham, secretary, and Irene Poe of Clovis who will help with the food service, Frank Crenshaw, rancher of Melrose and president of the Camp Meeting Association; and Bill King, Clovis, Rules committee chairman.

Dept. Of Ag Files Motion

AUSTIN -- Commissioner Reagan V. Brown and the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) have filed a motion to intervene on behalf of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in an injunction against the EPA preventing the use of ferriamicide, a pesticide developed to control imported fire ants. The motion was filed Thursday in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Plaintiff in the EPA injunction is the Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., which filed when the government agency granted an emergency exemption to Mississippi to use ferriamicide. The EDF claimed that no emergency existed and that fire ants did not create a problem in the South.

Brown said Texas and the other states infested with fire ants have made application to intervene or are in the process. The American Farm Bureau has also intervened on the side of the EPA and Mississippi. Meanwhile, the EPA and Mississippi have filed a motion asking for dismissal of the injunction on the grounds that the EDF does not have adequate grounds.

Texas is supporting the EPA motion. "We intend to take every step possible to obtain effective control for the imported ants," Brown said.

Mirex, the pesticide that has been used to control fire ants, will not be available after June 30. Ferriamicide, a form of mirex that biodegrades more rapidly in the environment, was developed to take its place and given emergency use status in Mississippi, one of nine southern states infested by the pest.

Texas has also requested an emergency exemption to permit the use of ferriamicide. Brown said, "the decision on the Mississippi request will have a direct bearing on the Texas application."

Imported fire ants infest 93 counties in the state. Their sting is harmful to people and animals and can cause injury and economic loss. The ants have been known to damage crops, gardens, machinery and such earthen structures as levees and roadbeds.

The Texas State Legislature has appropriated $2 million for use by TDA between fiscal years 1976 and 1979 to combat the fire ant. Of this, $800,000 has been committed for research to find a more effective and environmentally acceptable control method.

THE LAW AND THE WRATH OF GOD

Romans 4:15 clearly states that "The law worketh wrath," but so many people seem not to want to see this. Even some clergymen tell us that God gave the law to help us to be good, when God Himself says the very opposite, that it was given to show us that we are bad and need a Savior.

"The law worketh wrath." Every criminal knows this and every sinner should know it, for the Bible has much to say on the subject. Romans 3:19,20, declares that the law was given "that every mouth might be stopped, and that all the world might be brought in guilty before God," and this passage goes on to say: "Therefore by the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified, for by the law is the knowledge of sin."

II Corinthians 3:7,9 calls the law "the ministration of condemnation" and "the ministration of death." Galatians 3:10 says that "those who are of the works of the law, i.e., who seek to make themselves acceptable to God by keeping the law, "are under the curse," because the law can only condemn them.

Those who approach God, expecting eternal life in return for "good works," are offering Him their terms - which He will never accept. God will not sell justification to those already under condemnation for sin. But He does offer sinners complete justification because:

"Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us; for it is written: cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree" (Galatians 3:13).

Thank God, those who trust in Christ, have redemption, through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace" (Ephesians 1:7). "being justified, freely by His (God's) grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Romans 3:24).

prevents compaction, keeps soil temperature lower, reduces weed population and, in case weeds do get a start, allows for easier pulling. Check the depth of the mulch material. Organic mulches tend to decompose or sometimes wash away, so frequent checks and replacement where necessary will help conserve moisture.

While night-time watering is conducive to development of plant diseases, water use efficiency does increase in the early morning and late evening when evaporation rates are lowest.

Last but by no means least is the practice of doing a thorough job of watering whenever the need arises. A thorough watering at 7- to 10-day intervals encourages deep root penetration and full use of the available soil moisture. Just because plants

Has your water bill reached astronomical proportions? Maybe an evaluation of your watering methods will result in more efficient water and at the same time reduce the amount you are using.

First, check your methods of application. There is no use applying water any faster than the soil will soak it up. If applied faster than this, the surplus will either run down the curb into the street or else flood out your neighbor. Sandy type soils will usually take water almost as fast as it can be applied, but tight clay soils will take it up slowly. Select the method of application that best fits your soil.

Secondly, use a mulch wherever possible. A good mulch conserves moisture,

Agriculture Commissioner Urges Care To Avoid Damage From Herbicide Drift

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has urged that herbicide users be especially careful when making applications, noting that over 20,000 acres of cotton in Navarro County were recently damaged by drift from weed killers.

"Our herbicide specialists have made an aerial survey and affirm that the acreage has been affected by herbicides such as 2,4,5-T and 2,4-D," Brown said.

Brown said an investigation has been initiated as to the source, and "if there is loss in production, those responsible are liable under state and federal regulations."

"Spraying should be done when the temperature is below 90 degrees and wind speeds are less than 10 miles per hour," Brown explained. Minute amounts of herbicides can have a drastic effect on broad-leaved plants.

"There are many crops susceptible to this type of drift growing in Texas this season and we want to protect them," Brown said.

Texico-Farwell All-Stars Lose In Clovis Tourney

Texico-Farwell Little League All-Stars lost a heartbreaker last Wednesday night as their Western League opponents defeated them, 6-5, in district tournament action staged at Dickerson Park in Clovis.

Alan Eubank pitched for the local All-Stars, allowing only five hits the entire game.

The Texico-Farwell team earned four runs in the second inning and one in the fourth inning, but their efforts were just shy of the victory.

The Western League Little Leaguers made only one run in the third inning, but came back in the fourth inning with five runs to take the game.

Roger Roberson, Dennis Chavez, Joe Steward and Manuel Cantu each hit a single, while Brad Maxwell hit a double.

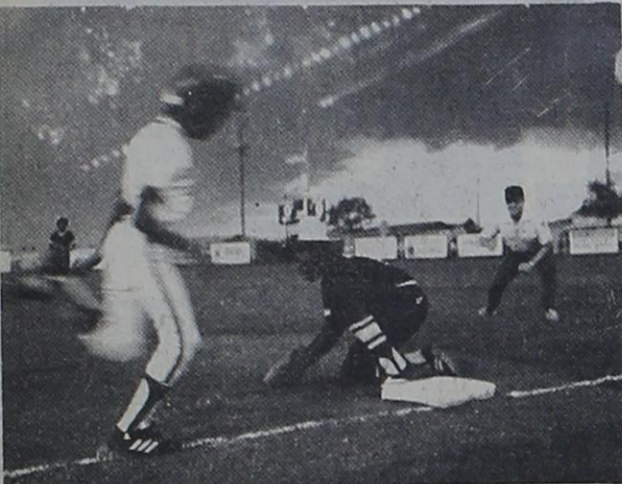

In spite of the narrow loss, both J.W. Eubank and Eddie B. Smith, All-Star coaches, said they were proud of the way everyone played and they said they especially appreciated all the loyal fans who turned out for the game.

Eubank said "a couple of bad plays hurt us, but everyone played well and I am proud of them."

The National League went on to defeat the Western League, 6-2, then won over the Cannon team, 11-0, to take the championship of District III Little League Tournament. The National League team will advance to the state playoffs August 3-5, in Los Alamos, N.M.

Robertson Scores

Roger Robertson sailed into home last Wednesday night to score for the Texico-Farwell All-Stars who lost by one run to their Western League opponents. Many Twin Cities fans turned out for the local team's first tournament game.

Safe On First

Manuel Cantu, Texico-Farwell Little League All-Star, successfully gains first base in a game last Wednesday night against the Western League All Stars. The local team "played well," say their coaches, but still lost the game, 6-5.

Bovina Jaycees Set Tug-Of-War Contest

As part of Bovina's Bull Town Days celebration, the Bovina Jaycees will sponsor a Tug-of-War Contest. Matches are scheduled for August 14, 17, and 18.

Each team has a 1200-pound weight limit. A $30.00 team entry fee will be charged and the winning team will receive half of the fees collected.

For more information, call Clayton Williamson at Bovina City Hall, 806-238-1116, during business hours. Entry deadline is noon, Friday, Aug. 11.

Farwell Day School To Register Twelve

Only 12 students will be accepted for the upcoming term of the Farwell Church of Christ Day School, reports Leonard Harper, minister. Since only a limited number of four year olds will be accepted on a "first-come first-served" basis, Harper asks that all interested parents contact him regarding the registration date.

Whenever possible the day school will follow the schedule of public schools pertaining to holidays etc., Harper said. It will be open to all children who are four years old on or before September 1 of this year. Children of all faiths will be accepted, Harper said.

Children will not be charged tuition, but Harper said they are expected to furnish their own crayons, scissors, pencils and transportation.

According to Harper, Bible stories will be used, but the Church of Christ doctrine will not be taught.

He added that objectives of the school are to teach children color and shape discrimination and how to be more congenial with fellow classmates. They will also be taught that they are important to the world they live in.

The curriculum will include occasional plays, field trips and there will be a graduation program at the end of the year.

This is the second year for the school to operate. No tuition is charged and meals are not served; therefore they are not under federal regulation, reports Harper. He strongly emphasized that this school "is not a baby sitting service," as children are expected to attend regularly and to complete the class assignments.
