

We are fast approaching the fall political season and the voting public will be asked to make up their minds on a myriad of candidates. Those candidates and the ideas of government that they espouse will effect our country's future in many significant ways.

Therefore it behooves us to cast informed ballots when we enter the voting booth. One of the liberal battlecries is for everyone to be allowed to vote with a minimum of registration red tape. We are not against everyone voting - only we do wish everyone had the knowledge to cast an informed

We came across an article by a Henry C. Clausen discussing religious education. He makes a statement pertinent to all freedom and education. Said Clausen, "There is, however, a factor that can take away the freedom to make up one's mind, namely, ignorance. WE MUST KNOW WHAT WE ARE SUPPOSED TO MAKE UP OUR MINDS ABOUT.'

This is the problem for today's voter, finding out what he is supposed to make up his mind about. And unfortunately, today's media compounds this confusion by the al," "positive," and "compas-

Boston Herald American in the following article discusses these terms and asks a series of very pointed questions. Here's what he said:

"During the past few years, it has become fashionable in the media, generally, to refer to any politician who votes against major spending programs as 'negative' or 'lacking in compassion.'

"Similarly, politicians who regularly vote for vast government social enterprises are regarded as 'positive' or 'compassionate' or 'liberal' (i.e. 'for the people').

"What is 'positive' about a government that runs annual deficits of over 50 billion dollars - and prints money to finance them?

"What is 'positive' or 'compassionate' about a constant inflation rate of nearly 7 percent - a rate at which half of your life savings are destroyed every 10 to 12

"What is 'positive' about a public education system that now spends about $1,500 a year per student - and doesn't teach them how to read, write, or do arithmetic? "What is 'positive' or 'compassionate' about a welfare system that is turning millions of Americans into helpless wards of the state, and encouraging millions of others to choose dependence instead of work?

"What is 'positive' about a government whose total accumulated long-term debt and obligation are over 5 trillion dollars - more than the total

First Day Of School

Monday, the first day of school at Texico Elementary, was a somewhat trying experience for these six-year-olds who could not even muster a smile for the Tribune photographer. Tasha Rucker, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rucker, intently watches Konni Warmuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Warmuth, as she colors a picture just before class begins. The girls are students in Mrs. Alice Richmond's class.

"Owwwww!"

Being a brave little boy isn't always easy, especially on the first day of school when the school nurse administers a vaccination. Jason Cody Longo, 6, son of Mrs. Monnie Longo, clearly voiced his reaction to Judy Russell as she gave him the necessary shots. But he managed to be brave in spite of the "harrowing" experience, and not even one tear was shed. Jason is a first grader in Mrs. Rita Dunsworth's class. The immunization clinic was conducted Monday at Texico Elementary School.

The New Melroe End Wheel Drill For Precision Seeding

At first glance it may look the same, but the Melroe End Wheel Drill has changed...and changed where it counts. A close look will reveal a new special feed system that provides precision seeding, row after row. The new feed system features an all new specially designed feed cup to maintain an even flow, new diagonally fluted feed wheels that allow accurate seed metering, and a new improved clutch and chain drive system. Also, seeds are planted at an even depth. Furrow opener pressure springs are set at an angle, instead of vertically, for a more even seed penetration, regardless of ground profile. Take a look at some of the other built-in features. Like a simple, sturdy frame with limited obstruction. A grain box that holds a bushel and a half per foot. A cluster gear box that allows over twenty application speeds. Or furrow opener boots that are made of steel to stand up better to rocks. And steel footboards that fold up and out of the way. Scrapers are standard equipment. Drag chains are available. Check out the New Melroe line of end wheel drills. Sizes range from 10 to 14 feet with 6, 7 and 9 inch spacings. One of them is just right for your farm and crops.

Farwell Church of Christ

Of all the thousands of characters whose stories are presented in the Bible, all of whom were sinners, with the exception of Jesus Christ, less than a dozen ever found the moral courage to say the three more difficult words: "I have sinned." Does it not seem strange that man should be so reluctant to admit sin? Sin is the transgression of God's law. In Romans 3:10,23 Paul quotes from the fourteenth Psalm, "There is none righteous, no not one"; and added, "All have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God."

We can be freed of our sins. Our Lord has promised that if we come penitently and humbly to the throne of grace he will give us, through the blood of Christ, forgiveness of our sins. The promises of the New Testament are always for those who come to Christ, heeding his invitation, and obeying his simple commandments. There are no promises of forgiveness for any but those who believe in Christ as the Son of God. There is no forgiveness for any but those who are penitent for past sins. "Except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish." (Luke 13:3). There is no salvation for any but those who come confessing the name of Jesus Christ before men. "Every one therefore who shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven." (Matt. 10:32). There is no salvation for any but those who will humble themselves in baptism for the remission of sins. "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." (Acts 2:38 also see Gal. 3:27; Romans 6:3-6).

> "In succeeding years, however, beekeepers have learned to manage these bees effectively and honey production per colony has increased,"

The Africanized honey bees have been reported as far north as Caracas, Venezuela, still over 2,300 miles from the Texas border. "Their movement of 200 miles per year is probably exaggerated," Durkin said.

It will be ten years at least before the bees will make their way up the Central American isthmus. Meanwhile, the USDA has tightened its surveillance to prevent the unauthorized entry of any honey bee into this country.

"The Africanized honey bee will be more of a threat to the economic health of the beekeeping industry than to public health. The public might be adversely affected by scare tactics like 'The Swarm'," Durkin said.

"Because of the movie, people might demand stricter regulations for beekeeping which could be a potential disaster for agriculture and our food supply. Over ninety crops benefit from honey bee pollination and one-third of the American diet is affected by insect pollination," the entomologist said. "The honey bee will become increasingly important since it is the only insect man can rear, transport and selectively use in this vital pollination activity to help increase farm yields.'

Durkin said, " 'The Swarm, is another brick in the wall preventing communication between the general public, farmers and beekeepers. Hopefully it won't take a severe food crisis to show how valuable bees and the beekeeping industry really are to this country."
