Broadening Of Service Is Aim, Bryce Twitty Asserts

Hospitalization for people of low income groups was described before an openhouse meeting of the Lions club Wednesday by Bryce Twitty, organizer for the Texas Group Hospitalization, Inc., a non-profit organization chartered by the state. Twitty told his listeners that the "problem is not to cheapen medical and hospital service, but in making 1 greater level of service available

It was East Texas' second school strike of the week. Near Luf-kin, students of the Central Consolidated school went out with a de-mand that four teachers and a janitor be given back their jobs. The ousted faculty members here were C. L. Davis, high school principal, and Alfred Biley, bandmaster. Marching students roamed the campus carrying banners and chanting "we want Davis and Riley" while members of Riley's hard olaced het footing tures and the draw while members of Biley's band played hot football tunes and the dru majors pranced.

Superintendent G: R. Grissom told striking students, who forced school to close for the day, that they must return to classes tomorrow or the seniors would not be graduated and players would be barred from the Gaston Red Devil football team. Student petitions demanding re-election of the fact were not granted at last night's meeting of the board.

10 Symphonies and Your

Electric Record Player!

The Daily Herald's extraordinary program for the appreciation of great music comes to a close on Saturday, May 4th.

If you have not yet secured all 10 of the symphonic masterpieces that come to you through this plan, you must act promptly. After May 4th neither the symphonic recordings nor the electric Record Player will be available.

If you act at once you may still add the symphonies you need to your library of recordings.

If you have not heard the records played, by all means come in without delay for a demonstration. Remember, The Daily Herald's offer brings you complete symphonies of Beethoven, Bach, Mozart, Schubert, Tschaikowsky, Haydn, Debussy, Wagner, Franck and Brahms - 38 records in all-and in addition an electric Record Player that plays ANY records right through your radio loudspeaker!

To enjoy the privileges of The Daily Herald's Music Appreciation Plan, you must take advantage of the offer at once. Saturday, May 4th, will be your last opportunity to own a fine collection of symphonic recordings

Homes For Newcomers

Announcement that the general offices of the Cosden Petroleum corporation will be moved to Big Spring, with the resultant transfer of 25 or more families here, serves to point up a need that Big Spring has long felt but has not remedied. That is the matter of providing an ample supply of housing accomodations

It is known that housing presented a problem to Cosden officials as they contemplated the desicaion of making the Fort Worth-Big Spring move. Many of those workers who will come here hold administrative posts, command good salaries and own their homes in Fort Worth. It is to be expected that they want decent houses here, and it also is to be expected that several over a period of time will purchase homes in this city.

For several years, residential construction in Big Spring has not kept pace with other types of building, this in spite of that the fact that some additions have expanded and attracted a goodly share of small houses. The federal aid program of home construction have, for some reason or other, never been given a thorough test in the city, and we have seen other towns show up with extensive home building programs while we have been well back in the field.

It must be said that civic leaders and various other property holders in the city recognize that something will have to be done to accomodate the added families because of the Cosden move. As a matter of fact, this industry has asked nothing of the city other than cooperation in finding adequate home facilities; and this cooperation will be extended. Big Spring welcomes the Cosden addition, and certainly will want to do what is reasonable toward encouraging such expansion for the city. The hous ing committee of the chamber of commerce already is formulating a program to see that homes are provided.

The point to be made is that we too often wait until an emergency forces us into providing those things a town needs to grow. There is no way of knowing how many individual families, at one time or another, have desired to locate in Big Spring and have gone elsewhere because they couldn't find housing or some other particular facility they expected to find. A man can't put money into a house that has no prospect of selling or renting, of course but there always is a reasonable demand for quality houses, usually a bigger demand than the supply.

were plowing through the gray mists of the Skaggerak, navy men here goggled. When NO word came that a single British boat had been blasted to the bottom by a mine, the navy boys couldn't believe their ears and eyes.

With the report that the British not only had ossed the threshold (Scandinavians call Skaggerak the "sleeve") but had swung around The Skaw and were headed down that foyer of the Baltic, the Kattegat (the "cat's throat") the experts were dumbfounded. The nazis not only had left the door wide open but hadn't even bothered to sprinkle tacks on the floor. . .

LOORED LINE A SET-UP

What on earth had the Germans been up to?

They must have known for weeks, maybe months, that they were going to try for Scandinavian coup. With Denmark as a springboard, they could have poured troops endicasly across that narrow elbow into Norway and Sweden. It's hardly more than a ferry boat ride, and between ribbons of mines through which the British navy could not cut, it could have been as safe a ride as from New York's Battery to Bedloe Island.

The astonishment of the folks in the Navy build ing at this one-more cockeyed fact in the most cockeyed war in history, sent me to the record. There's no real answer there but there is an interesting phase of this mining business which a study of World war reports and maps brought out.

That is, that the business of laying mine-fields about 10 per cent mines, 90 per cent bluff.

Don't take this as underestimate of the value of the mine menace. But the undersea garden is much more sparsely planted with the "tulips of death" than the warring nations would have each other believe.

This bluff is part of the game. The navy de partment has a collection of amazing maps. Solid pink squares, oblong and triangles show "announc ed" mine areas. Here, said the allies or the Germans are mined seas. If you don't want your hip blown to smithereens, keep out. But on these self-same maps is a smattering of pepper and salt-and these spots show the areas ACTUALLY mined. That's what mean by 90 per cent bluff.

MADE SKIPPERS WARY

For example, the whole of the Baltice was suposed to be mined in the World war. Actually there was a scattering of mines throughout this inland sea which could only have (according to the experts) "nuisance value." Some occasional destruction was mough to make captains wary of the whole area. The announced mine areas in the World war were of staggering proportions. From the western approve? I'm sorry, Mrs. Arnold, what it was costing these two coast of France, below the English channel to the kindly women. She jumped up northern entrance to the North Sea, there was hardly HOLLYWOOD - "The Dark Command." Screenplay by Grover Jones, Lionel Houser, F. Hugh Herbert from novel by W. R. Burnett, Directed by Raoul Walsh, Principals: Claire Trevor, John Wayne, Walter Pidgeon, Roy Rogers, Ceorge Hayes, Porter Hall, Marjorie Main, Raymond Walburn.

There were wild and bloody doings in the Kanons Territory just before and during the War Between the States. This film record, part fiction and part fact, utilizes those doings as a background for an exciting large-scale "western." you, please!"

After youg Bob Seton from the Texas plains (Wayne) and darkly-handsome Will Cantrell, the Lawrence schoolmaster (Pidgeon), start their rivalry for Mary McCloud (Trevor), there's scarcely a foot of film in which action, action and more action is not the order.

Even before that, the action is on-verbal and fiatic and gun battles between settlers from North and South, for the Territory is a rehearsal ground for the national blood-letting that is to come.

When Seton wins over Cantrell as town marshal, the school teacher turns to outlawry. Gun-runner, slave-smuggler, guerrilla chieftain, Cantrell spreads terror over Kansas, marries the girl under false pretenses, is tracked down finally by stalwart Seton -but not before his innocent wife has learned the truth, and not before his "dark command" has attacked and ravaged and burned the town of Lawrence for a spectacular climax.

A large canvas is painted here, filled with a grand sweep and flow of action which keeps dust flying and suspense high. There is comedy (mainly from Hayes as a frontier dentist-doctor barber and Walburn as a pompous judge), and there is plenty of romance, but action is dominant. If only skimpy otivation is provided for the villainles of Cantrell, the lack may be excused. With so much action, there wasn't time for psychological probings.

"It All Came True." Screenplay by Michael Fessier, Lawrence Kimble, from novel by Louis held. Directed by Lewis Seller. Principals: Eberidan, Humphrey Bogart, Jeffrey Lynn, Pitts, Una O'Connor, Jessie Busley, John Litel, Grant Mitchell, Felix Bressart.

Always a Step Ahead!

Year after year, by introducing important engineering advances, Plymouth has led the low-price field in giving the public finer quality and greater value_changing the buying habits of thousands!

"Do IT BETTER-DO IT FIRST"... there in six words is the basis of Plymouth's fast-growing popularity year after year.

More and more people are coming to re-alize how true it is that every low-priced car built ower something to Plymouth

What Plymouth gives the public one year is almost invariably adopted later by other low-priced cars.

A pioneer of hydraulic brakes, Plymouth soon had the public demanding hydraulic brakes on all low-priced cars. It was the same story with the all-steel body.

The list is long-the oil filter, aluminum alloy pistons. Hypoid rear axle-feature after feature that give more economy, finer performance, greater enjoyment.

The 1940 Plymouth gives you the long-est wheelbase of "All 3" low-priced cars, the widest seals. Its big Floating Power engine is Superfinished in its vital parts.

And you'll find there's something about Plymouth's performance-about that wonderful Luxury Ride-that makes it hard to believe it's a low-priced car.

Discover how much more quality low price now buys! See the Quality Chart at your Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer's. Take Plymouth's Luxury Ride. PLYMOUTH DIVISION OF CHRYSLER CORPORATION.
