Each day during this music appreciation offer we will publish a reminder coupon setting forth the date on which each symphony will be ready. You can get the four symphonies listed above at any time—come in for them at once. Subsequent symphonies will be released one every two weeks and will be available thereafter. Watch the reminder coupon which will be published daily. It is not necessary for you to clip the coupons in order to get your records or Record Player.

You obtain each symphony, which consists of three or four double-faced, 12-inch records, for a payment of $1.49. This payment is not for each record but for all THREES or FOUR records. Symphonies which consist of FIVE double-faced 12-inch records require a payment of $1.98 for the entire symphony of all FIVE records. The Cenar Franck Symphony in D Minor, on account of its great length, is divided into two units, each unit concisting of

LOCATED in all sections of Texas, 141 refineries manufacture into finished petroleum products 80 per cent of the State's crude oil production.

In contrast, Texas processes only 3 per cent of its cotton production and none of its wool or mohair.

Petroleum refining now constitutes 41 per cent of the value of all Texas manufactures.

Of the 225,000 Texans regularly employed by the oil business of the State, 25,000 skilled workmen and 5,000 office employees (a $50,000,000 annual payroll) are employed in this one division of our oil industry.

Poll Tax And Democracy

It may be just and expedient, as many people believe, to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting; but it would be neither just nor expedient to abolish it in the manner proposed to congress last week by Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio and

They would do it by passing a federal law pro viding fine and imprisonment for any state official who refused to let anyone vote for president or congress unless he possessed a poll tax receipt.

This would place election officials between the devil and the deep blue sea; for in Texas, and sever other states the state constitutions require a poll tax receipt in all elections. If a Texas election judge obeyed the proposed federal law he would violate the law of his state.

If poll taxes as voting prerequisites are abolish ed, they should be taken out of the state constitutions by the people of the states affected, not removed violently by questionable and probably unconstitutional federal statutes. Can congress, of its own free will and accord, compel Texas to rewrite its constitution? Well, it did with the prohibition amendment; but that amendment didn't last very long as amendments go.

There are practical reasons why the poll tax a voting prerequisite should be abolished, but the charge of being undemocratic is not one of them. Possession or nonpossession of $1.75 is not a test of a man's democracy. Neither is the ability to read and write, nor staying in one state a year or one election district six months. Yet in Texas all these requirements must be fulfilled in order to vets. If payment of a fee of $1.75 is undemocratic, why isn't the literacy test equally so?

The chief reason why the poll tax as a voting requirement should be repealed is because it keeps a good many people out of elections, and our election results too often reflect the opinion of only a Mrs. Morris placed an arm about had read. She looked at her comminority of the citizens. Any step that would in- her. crease citizen-participation in elections would be a good one, and abolishing the poll tax would do that.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK-Years ago there came out of the gorilla dives of the big river towns a complicated form of plane playing known as boogie-woogie. Its rhythmic patterns were unpredictable. It was blood and bone stuff, bred in the fingertips, and only a few negroes, and almost no whites, could play it. "Pine Top" Smith, now dead, and a few other famed riverforgot all about his arm. It couldn't thing out there. Yet this was the

Around them gathered three big strong boys named Meade Lux Lewis, Pete Johnson, and Albert Ammons, who brought to boogie-woogie a sort of vague, slush-bottom refinement; then they brought it to Carnegie Hall. Since then they have prospered in an underground Greenwich Village tavern known

No one really knows what boogie-woogie is. It has never been set down on paper. But Elliot Paul, the novelist, thinks it goes straight back to the beginnings of what music was first intended for.

Basically, it is a kind of bass figure with the right hand making variations around the left. But the left hand is melody, too, in a Bach sense. Simplified, you might say that boogie-woogie is a game of cops and robber, with the right hand (the cops) trying to overtake the left.

Modern swing addicts have misnamed boogie woogie "gutter-bucket," or low-swing, but Elliot Paul thinks it has loftier qualities. He came home from Paris tust to study it, and only the other night he gave a concert with Ammons (his teacher), Lewis, and Johnson to a packed house at the Cafe Society. Paul is a bearded, shy, intensely enthusiastic man and one of the very few whites the negroes accept as a top notch boogie-woogie player.

Famous for his "Life and Death of a Spanish Town," and at least eight other novels, Paul took some boogle-woogle records to Paris with him and attempted to transpose the notes to paper. He found that they defled him. When he returned to the States he sat at Ammons' elbow for months mastering 's anemic Boogle-woogle is full of "shakes" and embellishents, probably because it was "born" on rickety old planes then on their last legs. The dilapidated old uprights have passed on, but the shakes have resined. When Paul gave his concert the other night Lewis, Ammons and Johnson stunned him by preenting him with a "diploma"; no other white man has ever received this signal honor from the booglegie kings, although Bob Zurke (the old tomcat of the keys) and a few others are recognized as oung players the last seaso ood only one more time, then Tom Yawkey's fabulous outfit might give the Yankees a really close race this year.

Last season Manager Joe Croning came up with a pair of beauties, Ted Williams in right field and George Tabor on third, while Bob-by Doerr was developing into a brilliant second baseman. Now he has a good, solid club that needs only one thing to make it a serious threat to the Yanks—pitching.

It is almost necessary for light-ning to strike the Sox in their pitching department this year if it is going to do any good, for even next season might be too late. They could finish only a poor second last year with Jimmie Foxx powdering the ball for a 360 average and Cronin hitting 308. Obviously, that ean't go on much longer, for both Jimmle own to 33 years, which is getting along for an in-

Neither can they count on Lefts Grove to go on forever. So, the last of that group of super-stars who cost Yawkey a fortune are going to lose their great talent soon.

Cronin has hopes. He sat on the bench here and pointed out a half dozen tall, young pitchers. All come up with fine minor league records If one or two of them should make good, the Sox would have a great shot at the flag, Joe said.

The team probably will have more thunderous punch this year even than it did last, Joe said. He is thoroughly sold on the last of William H. #### Soil Conservation Districts Created

Unofficial and incomplete re turns from Saturday's elections for the creation of 22 soil conservation districts in Texas indicated most of the districts were approved by the farmers. A two-thirds majority was neces sary to create a district. Harrison county reported 556 votes for the creation of a district there, with 41 against.

That county represents 558,00 acres of the 22,675,000 acres in volved in the referenda. Partial returns from Caldwell county gave 521 votes for creation of the district and 19 against, Returns from Hays and Travis counties, parts of which are in the pro posed district, were unavailable. Earlier reports had indicated

Even though the president has given no indication as to whether will run again, delegates pledged to Mr. Roosevelt will be run ning against the Garner ticket in primaries where the vice president is entered.

Immediate political interest centered on New Hampshire, where the first 1940 presidential primary will be held tomorrow. The bulk of a slate pledged to Mr. Roosevelt was unopposed on the democratic ticket. Most of the republican candi-dates are unpiedged but are expected to support the "favorite son" candidacy of Senator Bridges (R-NH). One candidate for a district delegate's post is pledged to Thomas E.
