Steers '58 District Champions

Farwell, Texas

Thursday, November 13, 1958

Section I

S'lake Friday Night

Springlake's Wolverines will host Farwell's district champion Steers in the last regularly scheduled game of the season Friday night.

Except for the record book, the game will be meaningless. Even though it is a District 3-A contest, it will have no bearing on the district title.

The high-scoring Steers clinched that against Sudan last week.

However, Coach J. D. Atwell, with a coach's ever-present pessimism, points out that Springlake has a good, improving ball club and "they sure would like to beat us." It stands to reason that the Wolverines, an also-ran as far as district play is concerned, could do themselves proud by knocking over the highly-rated Steers.

Springlake has a 3-6 record for the season. They have won from New Deal, Amherst, and Anton. Their defeats have been to Dimmitt, Idalou, the team Farwell will meet in bi-district; Crosbyton, Muleshoe, Kress, and Sudan.

Their offensive attack operates from both the T and single wing and features the power running of their 175-pound full-back, Jones.

Ag Teacher At Texico Resigns

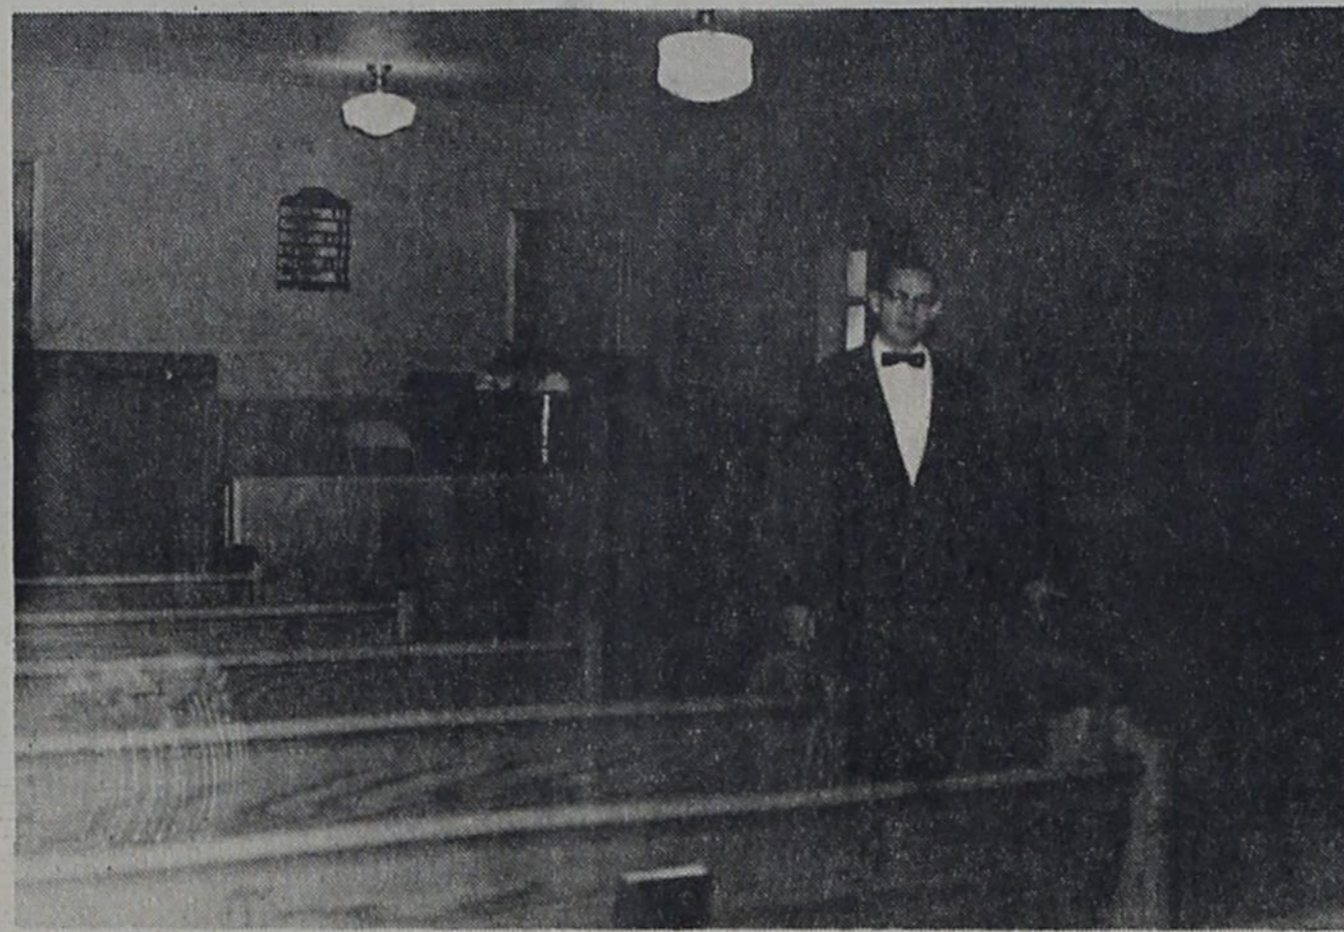

Resignation of Tom Hudson, vocational agriculture instructor at Texico High School was accepted by Texico School Board at a meeting Thursday night. It will be effective the first of the year.

Hired to replace Hudson at the same session was James Pierce.

Pierce, a 27-year-old veteran, is currently working on his master's degree at New Mexico A&M. He and his wife have one child.

Hudson has been in the Texico school system for about four and one half years. He will be employed by Farmers Cooperative Elevators, Inc., in Clovis where he makes his home.

Other business at the meeting was routine. All members were present and John Hadley presided.

DEDICATION OF A new auditorium for United Pentecostal Church in Texico is scheduled Monday at 8 p. m. Rev. B. L. Barnes, pastor, is shown in the building which was constructed by members themselves in their spare time.

Farwell City Hall Being Repainted

Farwell city hall is being redecorated inside and out.

Bids for the job were considered at a regular meeting of city commission in city hall Friday evening. After discussion of the bids at the meeting and talking with two of the bidders after the meeting, the contract was let to Utsman and Faight, Farwell, early this week, Wilfred Quickel, city clerk, announces.

The work is scheduled to begin this week. The successful bidders agreed to do the job for $746. The other two bids called for a higher figure.

The commission, meeting with Mayor Sam Aldridge absent, granted Bill Prince, of Farwell Grain Exchange, which has offices in city hall, permission to construct an acid pit on city property.

The commissioners, Lawrence McKillip and Smokey Gast, sought the advice of V. C. Venable, water and sewer superintendent, before making the decision. It was explained that acid would damage the sewer system and it would be to the city's advantage to have the acid pit in use.

Venable discussed problems that have been encountered with the sewer system and suggested that placards asking that no oil or grease be poured in the sewer systems be placed in service stations in town.

Also, the commission considered a request for purchasing a set of bolt cutters for the fire department. It was decided to check on the cost before making a decision.

Minutes of the previous meeting were approved and the following bills were voted to be paid:

Wilfred Quickel, salary, $225; V. C. Venable, salary, $125; Felix Winegeart, salary, $150; Mountain States Tel and Tel, office and fire station phones, $34.65; Redmund-Wilson Office Supply, adding machine repair; Bennett's, office supplies, $16.20; Graham-Magness Insurance, liability insurance on fire truck, $54; Karl's Auto Clinic, repair to pickup for street work, $9.26; Jones Bros., nine loads of caliche for street repair, $54; Kemp Lumber Co., material for street work; Meeeks Service Station, gas and oil for street work, $12.10; Blain & Son, sewer plug, $2; F. Texico Church To Be Dedicated Dedicatory sermon for United Pentecostal Church's new auditorium in Texico will be by Rev. A. H. Browning of Amarillo, superintendent of Texico District.

Ceremonies have been scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday, according to Rev. B. L. Barnes. Former pastors of the congregation will be special guests and music will feature numbers by local members as well as out-of-town guests. A history of the church will also be presented.

Rev. Barnes anticipates visitors from Amarillo, Borger, Dumas, Lubbock, Hobbs, Clovis, Portales, Friona, and Muleshoe.

While the 34'x70' tile and brick structure has been in use since last Easter, its dedication has been delayed until all the finishing touches on the interior were completed. Members have done virtually all the work themselves in spare time since April, 1957. The building is valued at around $25,000.

Trimmed in Philippine mahogany, the auditorium is furnished with light finished oak pews and pulpit appointments. Small rectangular windows are stained glass and light is furnished by large globes suspended from the ceiling. It has hardwood floors.

seen her for several days. T. L. McLeod, Texico town marshal, investigated and says physicians placed the time of death two or three days prior to discovery of the body.

Mardell Lynch of Clovis officiated and burial was in a Muleshoe cemetery.

She is survived by two brothers, H. B. Kennedy of Hatch, and W. G. (Judge) Kennedy of Grady; and two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Dillahunt and Mrs. Minnie Elrod of San Angelo.

Maximum amount of the warrants, which will be dated February 1, 1959, will be $175,000. Interest on the money will be four and a half per cent. The warrants will be paid off in 10 years and will be handled by First Southwest Co.

In other business Monday, the commissioners canvassed November 4 election and voted to pay election officials.

A lease agreement between the county and City of Farwell was reached. The lease concerns 35 acres of county-owned land which is being used by the city as a dump ground. The lease was made for 50 years. Cost to the city was set at $1.

Also, the commissioners voted to accept bids for a main-tainer which will be purchased for Farwell precinct.

Dismissed Tuesday night from Clovis Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Don Williams. She had been a medical patient since Sunday.

Friday night, firemen snuffed out burr-pit caused sparks at Nickels Gin in Farwell. A call was also made Tuesday afternoon for the same reason.

Fire broke out about 1 p. m.,

Flames were fanned by high winds that made the gin yard a burning inferno.

Farwell firemen were called to the scene as was Muleshoe's department. Winds made it all but impossible for the fire departments to put out the fire. They were successful, however, in keeping the fire under control.

Fire destroyed an estimated 150 bales of cotton and numerous cotton trailers at Nickels Gin at West Camp Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Joann Gaston, gin employee, reports, Farwell's department was summoned shortly after that time.

Mrs. Gaston says 200 bales of cotton were on the gin yard when the fire was noticed. Burning trailers were pulled away from the gin yard in an effort to keep flames from spreading.

Bi-District Game To Be in L'field

The game will be staged in Littlefield, Friday, November 21, at 2:30 p. m.

Officials of Farwell and Idalou schools decided on the site and time of the game at a meeting in Littlefield Monday night. Meeting with representatives of the two schools were members of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and the superintendent of Littlefield Schools.

A flip of a coin decided that Farwell will be the home team. This means Farwell fans will occupy the west stands in Littlefield's new--one year old--stadium. Seating capacity is 5,000.

There will be no reserved seats, Superintendent Jack Williams reports. Admission charges will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Proceeds from the game will be divided evenly between the two schools.

Farwell Schools will be dismissed for the game, Williams says. School will begin Friday-- the day of the game--at 8:30 a. m. Buses will run 20 minutes early.

Classes will be dismissed at 11. The cafeteria will not serve lunch. Pep squad and band buses will leave for Littlefield at 12:50.

Coach John Bond lists the following probable starters for the fray: Derrell Jennings, quarterback; Ronnie Briggs and Odie Bradshaw, halfbacks; Jerry Koelzer, fullback; Dwayne Teague, center; Butch Ryder and Jerry Weaver, guards; Jearld McGehee and Dennis Nelson, tackles; and Dean Watkins and Smithy Lawrence, ends.

One of the most unusual and tasteful recipes we've had occasion to try recently is a favorite of Mrs. Harry Jesko. With hot rolls and butter, it literally 'melts' in your mouth.

So we asked Mrs. Jesko if we might include the recipe in our column.

PEACH CONSERVE

4 lbs. fresh peaches (don't peel) . . . (8 full cups)--Use coarse food grinder to grind the fruit.

3 lbs. (6 cups) sugar 2 oranges, peeled or unpeeled, chopped (she doesn't peel) 50c bottle of Marachino cherries

2 tablespoons of blanched peach pits, chopped. (Drop the pits in boiling water to remove outside.)

Boil the first three ingredients until syrupy. (When the mixture is clear, it is done.) Stir because the mixture sticks easily. Add sliced cherries and chopped pits. Boil about 20 minutes longer. Put hot in jars and seal. Sometimes, Mrs. Jesko adds cherry juice if mixture needs thinning.

We don't know when we've enjoyed anything as much as we did the jar that Mrs. Jesko brought to us. We think you readers will like it too. We're putting it in our file for use early in peach season next year.

Farwell Steers Sting Sudan's Hornets; Cinch Title

Farwell's Steers are District 3-A champions for 1958.

The championship was clinched Friday night at Sudan. After a shaky start, the Steers rolled to a 44-16 win that sewed up the district title. Farwell still has a game remaining on its district schedule---Springlake. However, the game won't effect the Steers' top ranking.

All teams in the district have lost two games except Farwell and Sudan. If Farwell loses its game Friday night and Sudan wins, the Steers will represent the district in state playoffs because of the victory over Sudan.

Fumbles caused Farwell fans to be slightly uneasy in the all-important game Friday night. The charges of Coaches J. D.

Atwell and Shelby Jobses all but handed the host team a first quarter touchdown. Three times the Steers fumbled and they lost possession of the ball each time.

After the siege of fumblyitis was cured, the familiar, potent Steer offense started to roll as it has so many times this season. At the end of the first quarter, the score was tied, 8-8, but at the half the blue and white was definitely in command and had a 24-8 lead over the scrappy, never-quitting Hornets.

Farwell's win not only knocked the Hornets out of contention for the title, but put a sour note on their Homecoming activities as well. Football sweetheart was crowned prior to gametime and band favorites were honored at halftime.

Season record for the Steers now stands at 8-1. In district competition, their record is 3-0.

This is the second district championship for the Steers in their three years in Class A competition. They won district and bi-district in 1956 and lost to Stinnett, the eventual state champion, in the regional playoff.

Statistics in Friday night's game were no closer than the score as the Steers rolled up 433 yards of total offense. Sudan, featuring a 78-yard breathtaking scamper by their fleet-footed halfback, Macky Ballard, had 240.

To begin the game, the Steers elected to receive the kickoff. A fumble on that play, however, gave the ball to the Hornets on Farwell's 44. Sudan couldn't move the ball and Ballard got off a short punt to the Steer 30. Halfback Phillip Berry charged for 19 yards in two carries, but a fumble again gave possession of the ball to Sudan.

This time, they went down to Farwell's 36 before being forced to punt. Another fumble--the third--gave them the ball on the 11. Six plays later, Norman Humphreys scored the first touchdown of the game from one yard out. Quarterback Bonny Galvan carried the extra points around left end to make the score 0-8.

After that, the Steers acted as if eight points were enough to spot their opposition and started steady, high-scoring work.

After Morris Reed returned the kickoff from his 33 to the 37, Berry scooted for nine, Larry McDorman, who was a doubtful starter because of illness, made one, and then Jerry Lovelace, freshman fullback-halfback, slipped through the right side of the line and raced 54 yards untouched to the double stripe and the score was 6-8. Seconds later it was 8-8 as Jerry again went over the right side for the extra points.

After getting the ball on a punt on their 34, the blue and white continued the scoring spree. McDorman made six and Berry picked up 12 and a first down on Sudan's 48 as the first quarter ended. Johnny Lovelace slipped through the right side and was loose on another scoring jaunt, but an offside penalty nullified the play. The penalty put the ball on the 41. McDorman made three and then Berry on a beautiful, faking run went 38 yards for the TD and the score was 14-8. A Johnny Lovelace-to-Berry pass was good for the extra points and it was 16-8.

After allowing the kickoff to go into the endzone, Sudan launched a 60-yard drive of its own. Putting the ball in play on their 20, they roared back to Farwell's 20 in a series of 10 plays which featured four complete passes, one for 34 yards. The Steers stopped the drive on their 20 and took over on downs. Sticking to the ground and short, but steady gaining plays, Farwell set up its third TD 11 plays later. A 12-yard pass from Johnny Lovelace to McDorman climaxed the drive and made the score, 22-8. Berry carried the extra points across and it was 24-8. First half ended with that drive.

Shortly after kicking off to the Hornets to begin the last half, Johnny Lovelace intercepted a Hornet pass to give Farwell possession on Sudan's 49. Six ground plays had the ball on the 31. From that point Johnny faked to a back going into the line, kept the ball, and circled left end for 31 yards and score. Berry went over the left side for the extra points and the score was 32-8. After the kickoff, the stunned Hornets got one play off before a fumble gave Farwell the ball on the Sudan 24. On the first play from that point, Johnny passed to End Owen Huffaker in the endzone and the score was 38-8. The same combination failed on the extra points try.

Following the kickoff, Galvan made four. Ballard went back to pass, found no receivers in the clear, circled his right end and tight-roped the boundary marker for 76 yards and possibly the night's most exciting play. Galvan passed to End Max Lurch to bring the score to 38-16.

The Steers added their following touchdown without losing the ball after the kickoff. The drive featured a 37-yard pass play from Johnny Lovelace to Benjy Dial. The touchdown was scored on a nine-yard pass from Lovelace to Berry. The running attempt for extra points was stopped and scoring was over at 44-16.

The final score was made on the first play of the fourth quarter. Neither team made a serious treat the remainder of the quarter.

A large representation of local fans was on hand to see the Steers clinch the district title.

Intercom System Keeps Rheumatic Child in School

By Laurie Cooper

His rheumatic heart is keeping seven-year-old Robin Mahaney in bed, but it isn't keeping him out of his classroom. When he was ordered to bed by his doctor a month ago, Robbie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mahaney, decided to bring school to him by using an intercom system installed by Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. Installation was completed November 4.

"He's very much a part of the class," declares his teacher, Mrs. Lenton Pool, who sometimes puts the small speaker right on the desks of Robbie's fellow students so that he can hear more distinctly the phonics drills and other class activities. During flash card exercises, one student acts as announcer for Robbie and whispers the letter or number combinations into the speaker.

A blackboard on the wall of his bedroom enables Robbie's mother to give him the same work that is going on in the classroom. She also has a teacher's manual and receives instructions daily from Mrs. Pool.

Messenger for her brother is Lana Mahaney, a fourth grader, who carries Robbie's papers to school to be checked. "Robbie is doing very good work," says Mrs. Pool, "and he is most attentive." As a matter of fact, she adds, other children pay closer attention when they know he is listening and make a special effort to speak up clearly when called upon in class.

Excited while the instrument was being installed, the youngsters were a bit reticent about speaking into it at first. Now, while the "new" has worn off the situation, the novelty holds for both students and the teacher.

To be heard in the room, Robbie must press a bar on his speaker, but he can hear everything that takes place in the classroom. For a novice, remembering to press and release the bar properly is a bit difficult, but Robbie displays great dexterity there. He has an adjustable writing table constructed for him by H. R. Crooks. It holds his speaker, books, and tablet. Butchie, a tiny toy terrier, often "goes to school" with his master and Robbie thinks this a great advantage over the other children. Butchie is also a favorite of the 22 youngsters in the room and they often talk to him during brief periods of free conversation. The lively blond boy has learned to distinguish the voices of many of his classmates as well as that of his teacher.

Another very real advantage of Robbie's stay in bed is that it is the best thing in the world for his right hip which is affected with Less-Calve-Perthes disease. When he can be up, he must wear his leg in a brace which bends it at the knee and use crutches to avoid putting the least bit of weight on the hip socket. While he hopes to be out of bed soon after the first of the year, he will wear the brace for another 18 months. He has been on crutches for the past ten months.

Sorority Sets Santa's Visit December 20

Santa Claus' annual visit to the Twin Cities on December 20 was the main item of discussion when members of Theta Rho chapter of ESA met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Mitz Walling for a business session.

Paying for Christmas projects is still a major concern of the organization, and one more rummage sale this coming Saturday is planned. Also, the annual doll giveaway is planned for this month, with proceeds going to the Christmas fund. Giveaway of a musical ballerina doll is set for November 29. The Christmas party for members and husbands or guests is planned for the second week in December with further plans to be announced by the social committee.

Plans have begun to distribute food baskets to the needy, toys to needy children, and remembrances to shut-ins. Last season, 18 children were given toys by ESA in conjunction with the Lions Club.

FARWELL HARDWARE

THE HENSONS

LINERS

When it comes to being a predictor of the outcome of football games, we'd make a dang good cook. Last week, we had just half enough points for both teams . . . though we did have the winner right.

But, we've been predicting scores for nine weeks and this would certainly be a poor time to quit. For this last regularly-scheduled game, we could be wrong, but: Farwell 38 Springlake 6.

Wolverine Beauty Candidates Named

Student organizations at Texico High School have nominated 18 candidates for the title of Wolverine beauty and most handsome. Candidates will be judged by a professional person to be chosen later.

Winners, who will be revealed at the annual Wolverine Variety Show in the spring, will receive special recognition in the school yearbook.

Nominees and their sponsoring organizations are Anita Moss and Wesley Engram, student council; Mary McDaniel and Bobby Gooch, business education club; Glenda Billingsley and Gary Singleterry, chorus; Gayle Potts and Ursel Doran, press club; Jerry Thigpen and Jerry Reid, home economics club;

Also, Darlene Day and Raymond Hadley, ag club; Carlene Miller and Jerry Bowers, science club; Judy Adams and Kenneth Doshier, pep club; and Connie Sharp and Monte Singleterry, band.

SPRINGLAKE

District record for the Lamb County team is 1-2.

As far as weight is concerned, there is not a lot of difference in the teams. The Steers will be outweighed slightly in the line but will have a weight advantage in the backfield. That's the situation which has prevailed in the majority of Farwell's games this year.

Atwell announces no major changes in the blue and white's lineup. Owen Huffaker, who was not listed as a starter last week because of injuries, will get the nod this week in place of his replacement, Jimmy Martin. Fullback Jerry Lovelace and Halfback Larry McDorman also are listed as probable starters this week. Both saw action last week, but were handicapped by injuries and sickness, respectively.

Here's the complete probable starting lineup for the Steers:

Huffaker and Morris Reed, ends; Larry Jesko and Robert Carthel, tackles; Joe Hughes and James Burleson, guards;

THE OLD MEETS THE NEW as the hand pulling and mechanical-pulling seasons overlap for the High Plains cotton harvest. These field laborers perform the same arduous task that their great-grandfathers sweated at in the Deep South. Hand work is still essential to part of the High Plains harvest.

A BEAUTIFUL CROP is pouring from the spout of the mechanical stripper into the trailer on the Bob Spindley farm in the Lazbuddie area. Harvest conditions have been ideal for the cotton crop this week, and gins are inundated by the deluge of fluffy bolls.

No Mistake—1958 Cotton Crop Good

King Cotton is well on his way to making his Parmer County area subjects very happy this year. In fact, they haven't had such big smiles since 1956.

If favorable weather continues and the strippers keep moving in earnest, the crop should be well on its way to meeting or beating the 60,000-bale production of 1956.

That would suit just about everybody fine, as they remember 1956 as one of the best. Grade-wise, the 1958 crop may fall slightly behind that produced two years ago, but in practically all other respects, 1958 will measure up.

There is not general weeping and wailing about grades as there was in 1957. In fact, the 1958 cotton shouldn't even be compared with that produced a year ago, it's so much better. However there is no gain-saying that for a period this fall poor weather affected grades to some degree, and that will be reflected in the price the farmer gets for his lint cotton.

The spell of damp and cool weather that troubled the crop in late-season development was a contributing factor to a fungus-type disease—angular leaf spot or bacterial blight—that spotted some of the crop. "Bacterial blight has been our big trouble this year," says County Agent Joe Jones. He reports that the disease has been very widespread and that practically no part of the Parmer County area escaped its effects. He also points out that the disease came early and stayed late in most fields.

The blight has been more or less of a problem with Plains cotton producers ever since cotton was first grown here, but its effects were more widespread this year than ever before.

The answer to controlling the disease is in adopting resistant varieties of cotton, agricultural officials say. Once blight has set in, little can be done to control it. The idea is to breed resistant characteristics into the cotton plant itself.

"Most all of the varieties grown on the High Plains are susceptible to angular leaf spot," says Jones. "There are two 'races' of the disease and we may find some cotton that is resistant to one or the other but seldom can resist both."

All in all, though, the cotton harvest is going along to suit most farmers. Their returns are good, yields are high and prices are up from the same time last year. That makes for money in the bank.

The first really killing freezes occurred about two weeks ago in the Parmer County area. Since then farmers have been poised in the turn-rows, awaiting that moment when they could begin their mechanical harvesting.

The moment arrived for most of them this week. Bright sunshine and calm days insured perfect harvesting conditions. The strippers started in southern parts of the area Friday or Saturday of last week, and on Monday and Tuesday of this week the rumble and clatter of the machines could be heard in all sections.

Reports from the fields indicate that most farmers will take the advice of agricultural specialists and harvest their cotton as rapidly as possible, even though area gins will not be able to gin it nearly as fast as it comes in.

By Tuesday afternoon, several piles of stripped cotton were already showing up in the turn-rows as evidence of this strategy. The idea is to proceed with harvesting even though trailers are not available, and to store the crop temporarily at the harvest site rather than letting it remain on the stalk and exposed to the weather.

It previously had been common practice to begin stripping, then let up for a while awaiting the return of trailers from the gins, then resume again.

Specialists now feel that the risk of exposing the open bolls to temperamental fall weather is much greater than what would be the case if the cotton was temporarily ricked in the turn-rows. It is then hauled to the gins as they can accommodate it or as trailers become available.

Gins are now running on an around-the-clock basis and will do so for several weeks as they eat their way into the 1958 harvest. Already several gins have hundreds of bales on their yards awaiting ginning.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The proper use of crop residue is one of the most important farming practices that can be done here in Parmer County. Most of the farmers have realized this fact and are utilizing their residue to best of their ability.

Jerry Bell, a cooperater with the Soil Conservation District, knows the value of stubble in reducing the wind erosion hazard and adding organic matter to the surface soil. He harvested 8,000 pounds of Caprock from the land that he is farming in the Black community. It was drilled on the bed with a grain drill at the rate of 12 pounds per acre. The excellent yield that he harvested left him with the problem of what to do with a bumper crop of stubble.

On the wheat land, he made special plans to utilize this crop of stubble by using a Rototiller that chops the stubble and works it into the surface soil in one operation. The remaining land was shredded with a 4-row shredder and followed with a tandem disk.

Bell is convinced that utilizing his residue will provide adequate wind erosion protection for irrigated land and at the same time will add organic matter to the surface soil where it is needed to maintain tilth, prevent crusting, and take up and hold water.

NOT WAITING for bad weather to damage it, this cotton rests safely in a turn-row after it has been stripped from the adjacent field. Such ricks are common sights on farms just now and will probably remain so for several weeks as gins remain covered up.

The Soil Conservation Service has received two applications recently from farmers and ranchers in this district to participate in the Great Plains Conservation program. D. C. Melugin of Texico and G. W. Jones of Friona have requested that plans be worked up on their land in order that they may enter into a contract with this program.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULEE

Our educational institutions, particularly those supported entirely by your tax dollars, are the places you need to watch to know what kind of citizens your children are going to be when they take over the operation of your community, states, and nation. If you have children in these public schools, it will be well worth your while to take a look at some of the text books they study. These books, sometimes, are not the kind they should be studying, and only you know which ones your child is studying and decide whether it is the right

We stopped, got out our camera, and were in the process of making a picture when somebody yelled at us. It was Charles Roark, who is a full-time hand at the new elevator. We visited with him for a while, and sheepishly were forced to admit that the new business was overlooked in our county-wide tabulations of grain sorghum production. You'll remember that last week we listed elevators and reported a 15-million-bushel crop for the area.

Just about 10 days before harvest really got started we were by the Corner and noticed foundation work being done on the elevator. However, we had no idea they'd be getting grain this fall so didn't bother to contact them.

That caused us to overlook a couple of hundred thousand bushels of grain in our report. We're amazed--and sorry.

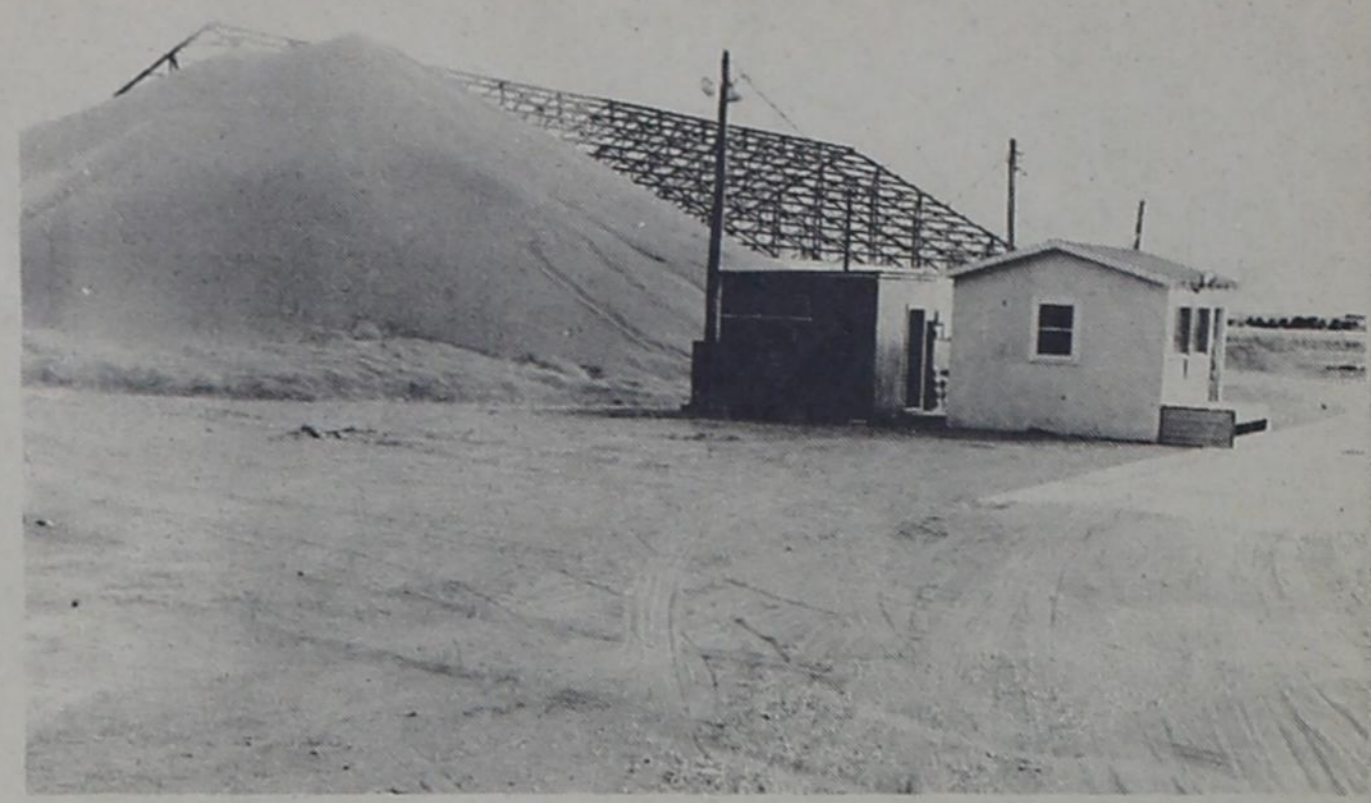

one or not.

In a countrywide survey made among five thousand high schools students, it was found that sixty per cent believed that the profit motive could be killed off entirely without hurting the American system. Another survey revealed that most high school children believe that government and union leaders contribute more to better living conditions than business. This is not a real American attitude. History, social science, government and economics are the subjects through which children can be taught these peculiar ideas cleverly. We hope you will look at some of the books being taught your children. We hope this area, being rural, has not been invaded by this type of thing.

If you would like some information of interest along the line of correcting the trend referred to here, may we suggest you write to: Texas Bureau for Economic Understanding, Gibraltar Life Building, Dallas 1, Texas.

Two, rather than one bus, were chartered from Lubbock to take delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Convention in Corpus Christi. Writing this before Monday, we don't know how many Parmer County people went, but we'll let you know next week.

We are thankful for the beautiful, favorable weather we have had so far this year for the harvest of our bountiful crops of grain and cotton. We don't appointed Monday when he shook his head when we requested them.

Prentice says they have to be printed in the Federal Register first, before they can be released to the general public. We don't know about the Federal Register, but we do know that a lot of Parmer County farmers are quite anxious about the new allotments.

They'll be down some from 1958, as most everybody knows, and there's sure to be some real honest-to-goodness soul searching as farmers try to decide where they'll be next year.

Farmers will be offered, you remember, an option for the first time in history. They don't HAVE to stay within their allotments. As you might suspect, though, there are definite disadvantages to overplanting. Price support on overplanted acres is way down.

However, the fact that the government is committed to buy "plan A" cotton and then not release it at less than 110 percent of parity should certainly help provide a market for the production coming outside of allotments.

We don't mean to get into the technicalities of planting possibilities in this column. That will come later in stories. Besides, we've already had a pretty good run-down of the choices in previous F & H issues.

What we do mean to point out is that it will be most interesting to see how Parmer County farmers react to this new plan. Parmer County has more "want to" cotton farmers than any county in Texas. If Plan B isn't made use of here, it probably won't go over anywhere.

Parmer County farmers have proved that they can raise more cotton per acre than anybody else on the Plains. Yet we have a small allotment. That creates conditions especially favorable for trying out this "new deal."

We don't mean to say our farmers will take to choice B. They may avoid it like the plague. We are just predicting that if anybody goes for this kind of bait, it will be in our county. Conditions are ideal.

No one could be more surprised than we when, on our way to Muleshoe and passing Clay's Corner in south central Parmer County, this week, we noticed a huge pile of milo stacked on the ground beside the under-construction Muleshoe Co-Op Elevator unit.

(Ever Wonder What's Behind the Headlines?) 1958 Harvest Biggest Ever

Well over $13 million will be added to the gross receipts of Parmer County area farmers this fall, as they wind up history's most fruitful grain sorghum harvest.

The total production will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 15,000,000 bushels. The exact amount will never be pinpointed, but several barometers furnish the basis for very good estimates.

The most important one is the annual elevator-by-elevator contact made by Farm and Home reporters, who call on all warehousemen and ask them to supply information that will enable a total to be run.

FIRST YEAR OF SERVICE
To our Parmer County cotton grower friends,
November, 1957, is an important date for us. That month we started our service to the farmers of Parmer County, and the ginners who process the farmers cotton. Since that month, we have become acquainted with more and more farmers of the county, and have grown to appreciate their ability to produce cotton. It is this ability that makes Parmer County one of the leaders in High Plains cotton production. We would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for your patronage during our first year. Because of your patronage we have been able to increase our capacity with the addition of two more buildings which you will notice in the picture at the right.
For the years ahead, we pledge our utmost efforts to constantly improve and expand our services, and work for better markets for Parmer County cotton.

IRRIGATED WHEAT IS LUSH and scores of Parmer County farmers have put calves out to pasture the succulent green shoots of winter wheat. Good prices the past two years have helped stimulate beef production on Parmer County farms.

Wheat Drying Out

Parmer County's excellent wheat crop prospects are dimming slightly.

The abundant reserves of moisture have been depleted by three straight weeks of warmer-than-usual, dryer-than-usual weather. Things can dry out in a hurry on the High Plains and the wheat crop is doing just that.

There is no real cause for alarm, but these signs should serve a warning to farmers having irrigation wells to get busy and keep up moisture reserves, emphasizes County Agent Joe Jones this week.

Lots of farmers don't need any urging. Several hundred wells are already spinning as they lift water from the sands below to give the thirsty young wheat crop a drink.

However, some farmers may make the mistake of letting their wheat get too dry before winter sets in and Jones says this should be avoided.

"The early-planted wheat has used up its moisture," he says. "November is a good month to catch up with watering, and if a good job of irrigating is done the farmer can make sure that his crop goes into the winter in good condition."

The agent advises farmers to go ahead with their plans for fertilizing if they haven't done so already. Some may prefer to wait until spring to top-dress, or, to insure big yields, some farmers may fertilize in both the fall and the spring.

In either case, "The main thing," underscores the ag official, "is to have a good healthy plant going through the winter, and then to make sure there is plenty of water and plant food available for it when it starts its growth early in the spring."

Farmers Union Report

Public opinion is being aroused to-day against the new $6 1/2 billion farm budget. It is a fact that $6 1/2 billion is a lot of money, and that the American taxpayer is entitled to know how and where his money is spent. However, no one in the agriculture department has taken the time to explain to the people just how this money is divided. It is taken for granted by most that the farmer is the recipient through subsidies, price supports, etc., of this entire amount.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Actually the farmer receives about one sixth of this amount.

The people in the larger cities, which are the ones who complain the loudest, have never been told that this $6 1/2 billion includes the cost of research, farm program administration, surplus crops to schools and needy people in our own country, grain and food sent to other countries (which amounts to about two billion alone), farm loans, electric co-op loans, payments to elevators, etc., for storage and handling.

This leaves approximately one-sixth of the total for direct farm use. Why haven't people been told these things? Simply this: It is a well known fact that Sec. Benson is opposed to price supports as they now stand. He has said many times that city people will revolt and throw out all farm programs. Who will deny that this is exactly what he is accomplish-

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Long winter evenings always call for more popcorn, candy, cookies, and other things suitable for late snacks. A favorite with most family members and guests is chocolate fudge. The following recipe can be made with cream or canned evaporated milk.

Fudge

- 4 cups white sugar
- 1 large can evaporated milk
- 1/2 pound oleo
- 2 8 oz. packages of chocolate bits
- 1 8 oz. bottle marshmallow cream
- 2 cups chopped nuts--pecans or walnuts

Boll together sugar, milk, and margarine for 8 minutes, when mixture begins to boil. Remove from the fire and add chocolate chips and stir until they are dissolved. Add marshmallow cream and nuts and beat until smooth. Put in a lightly greased pan. Cool and cut into squares. Makes about five pounds of candy.

Another candy recipe that makes good candy for home use of for mailing as gifts is:

Date Candy Loaf

- 3 cups sugar
 - 1 8 oz. package pitted dates
 - 1 cup sweet milk
 - 1 tablespoon white Karo
 - 1 cup nuts
 - few grains of salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 tablespoon margarine
- Cook sugar, milk, syrup, and margarine for about five minutes; then add chopped dates. Cook this mixture until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from the fire and add nuts, salt, and vanilla. Beat this mixture until very thick. Pour onto a damp tea towel and roll in long rolls. When completely cold, slice in desired slices.

If some of you new homemakers who read this column have trouble getting your pies to turn out just like you want them to, you might take advantage of some of these pie making tips.

To cool a pie quickly, which is one of the secrets of a good pie, place it on a trivet or even a colander so air can circulate under and around it. If you have neither of these items in your kitchen, the rack that goes in the bottom of your pressure cooker or sauce pan makes a nice substitute.

If you plan to make a fruit pie and want a crispy pie crust that is quickly made, first bake the pie crust in the oven. Add thickened fruits such as cherries, pineapple, apples, or berries, which have been cooked on top of the stove and serve topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

Less flour will be rolled into your pie crust if you will roll it out on a canvas pastry cloth with a stockinet-covered rolling pin to avoid adding extra flour. Rolling the crust on a tea towel will help if you do not have a canvas pastry cloth. A piece of duck, such as is used for making cotton sacks, serves very nicely for a pastry cloth. To test a pumpkin pie, or any custard pie, run a silver knife in the custard. If the pie is baked, the knife will come out clean.

Since pumpkin pie is traditionally served at Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, we are giving you a super-duper recipe for

GOLDEN PUMPKIN PIE

- 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup white sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 - 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 4 egg yolks
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 3/4 cup cream
 - 1 3/4 cup pumpkin
 - 4 beaten egg whites
- Mix the above ingredients in the order given, folding in the beaten egg whites last. Bake in a 9" unbaked pie shell at 425 degrees F. for 15 minutes; then reduce the heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 35 minutes or until custard is set.

For our Christmas edition, we would like to try something different for this column and will appreciate it very much if our readers will send us recipes for a New Year's dinner. We would like to have recipes for desserts, fruit salads, vegetable salads, main dishes, vegetables and any other food any of you like for the first day of the year.

A typical butter type cake is the following recipe for

CHOCOLATE CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 - 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup soft shortening
 - 1 1/4 cups sugar
 - 2 squares melted chocolate
 - 2 unbeaten eggs
 - 1/2 cup canned milk and 1/2 cup water or 1 cup whole milk
- Sift flour, baking soda, and salt onto a piece of waxed paper. Place shortening into mixing bowl. Add sugar and mix gradually until light and fluffy. Stir in chocolate. Add eggs and beat hard. Stir in about 1/3 of flour mixture. Stir in 1/2 of the milk, then another 1/3 of the flour mixture and mix well. Stir in other 1/2 of milk then remaining flour mixture and blend well.

Bake in two 9-inch cake pans. Note: To substitute cocoa for chocolate, sift 6 tablespoons cocoa with flour mixture, and add 2 tablespoons more shortening to the above amount. Then proceed as directed. Next week we will print recipes of the other types of cakes mentioned.

Cantaloupe Preserves
Cut up and measure six cups of cantaloupe and cover with three cups sugar and juice and rind of one lemon and let set overnight. Next morning boil until thick and seal. Peaches, pineapple, or other fruit can be used with the cantaloupe or watermelon rind may be substituted.

Cantaloupe Marmalade
Dice six cups of cantaloupe, add three cups sugar and two cups crushed pineapple. Bring to boil and cook until mixture is correct consistency for preserves. Add peaches or apples if desired.

Some people make absurd claims. Cousin Grace says her people were aristocrats, yet everybody knows they had money.

Parmer County 4-H Clubs have just completed a three-night recreation school at Hub Community Center. Miss Lucille Moore, extension recreation specialist, conducted the training meeting, second in a series.

Cooper Young, Richard Chitwood, Steven Young, Johnny Mabry, Jimmy Terrell, Carrol Redwine, Harrol Redwine, Barbara Rea, Judy Koelzer, Mary Ann Hardwick, Iva Parr, Brenda Deaton, Virginia Rea, Patsy Chitwood, Linda Gleason, Katie Blackstone, Nan Lillard, Terri Mabry, Judy Billingsley and Janis Billingsley. Adult leaders were Mesdames Troy Ray, Dee Chitwood, Bruce Parr, A. L. Black, Charles Baldwin, Joe Jesko, Dorothy Ellis, and Leon Billingsley.

Leaders and 4-H members also attended from Deaf Smith and Castro Counties. We all received training in new games to play but the training did not end at this because Miss Moore also taught us to be leaders.

Miss Moore said that a good leader should have eight qualities.

1. Enjoys working with people.
2. Has a keen love of good fun.
3. Is democratic.
4. Is prepared.
5. Makes himself inconspicuous.
6. Is a saver.
7. Is patient and kind.
8. Develops skills and techniques.

At the end of the meeting Wednesday night, Miss Moore said for each person to remember two things: First, Use your ability; you have plenty -- start now! Second: Your most important tool in leadership is your attitude.

These are tools we can all use at anytime.

I have a recipe for a quick and easy Brown Sugar Fudge that you might like to try.

Parmer Countians Attend School

Three Parmer County residents, who are members of home demonstrations clubs, attended a recreation school at the Fairview Community Center near Claude Thursday and Friday of last week. The school, which was conducted by Lucille Moore, extension recreation specialist from College Station, was for representatives of 16 counties in the Panhandle.

Those from Parmer County who attended were Mesdames Joe Douglas and Jay Sanders of Friona and Joel White of the Oklahoma Lane community. Forty-six women from 14 counties attended the two-day school which featured a leadership course.
