How to add years to your life

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

Yearlings Stop Lazbuddie, 6-0

Farwell's B team Yearlings took a 6-0 win over Lazbuddie B here Thursday night of last week. Fullback Scotty Turner scored the lone touchdown from some three yards out in the second quarter. Lazbuddie failed to make a serious scoring threat.

The Yearlings threatened in the first quarter but lost the ball on a fumble. Defensive standouts for Farwell were the three defensive linebackers, Jimmy Clements, William Dannheim, and Jim Cain. The game was originally scheduled to pit Farwell freshmen against Lazbuddie's B team. It was changed to all B when Farwell failed to have enough freshmen to field a team.

Friday night's game which will be played here: Farwell 14 Morton 8
 This prediction idea was a bad one; as we suspected before we started it. But, we're going to stay with it until we have a dismal failure or get run out of town.
 We're not unlike the Steers themselves this week in that this will be our, and their, first real test of the young season. With all due respect to Bovina and Lazbuddie, neither was given a whale of a lot of chance to upset the Steers... by anyone.
 This week it's a different story.
 We hope that story has a happy ending.

COUNTY BUDGET--

been valued for tax purposes, from $4 to $7 an acre. Effective in '59, the valuation will be $10 for farm land and $5 for grass land.
 Tax rate, approved last year by county voters, is $1.25 per $100 valuation. Residences are valued at 10 per cent of building costs.
 This is the first time land valuations have been raised since the bulk of county land was in grass land, County Judge A. D. Smith says. Still, this is the lowest valuation of any county in the area, the judge points out.
 It was necessary to have more money coming in because the expenses for the county were, and are increasing, Smith says.
 Listed below are the positions, the '59 salary and the '58 salary: Commissioners, $9600, $7200; (This figures $200 a month for each of the four commissioners. Last year, they received $150 a month);

 Commissioners travelling expense, $2400 (This is $50 a month each and is the same as it was in '58);

Increased wheat yield 24 bushels per acre

Leon Billingsley, successful High Plains farmer, says: "I applied 100 pounds per acre of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant to my irrigated wheat and increased my yield from 18 bushels to 42 bushels per acre. I figure my net profit increase to be around $40 per acre."
 Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.
 Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

roll Huggins, who has been playing only on offense. Huggins will be expected to go both ways this week. Replacing Reed on offense will be Jimmy Martin, who has seen quite a bit of action this season and caught a touch-down pass in the Lazbuddie game.
 Morton is reported to have eight lettermen back from last year's fine squad. Four of these were starters, three of them backs.
 The Indians are coached by Vernard Alexander and Steer Coach J. D. Atwell figures they will be "coming back" from last week's defeat by Plains and will be doubly tough.
 The visitors will operate their offense from a T-formation, similar to the type used by the Steers.

 This will give the Morton team a 10-pound per man weight advantage in the line. In the backfield, though, the Steers will have a five-pound per man advantage.
 Being outweighed in the line won't be anything new for the Steers. Such has been the case in their other two encounters.
 Score of last year's game between the teams was 25-0. It's possible Morton will be rated a slight favorite because of that game. If that isn't given consideration, Friday's game could be considered a tossup.

STEERS TOP--

 Before the Steers could mark up another counter, Huggins and Tommy Williams, sophomore, both had touchdown runs called back. McDorman made his second TD of the quarter with a 10-yard run through the right side. Lovelace carried for the extra points to make the score 41-0.
 In the final period, Quarterback Benji Dial passed to End Jimmy Martin for a 15-yard scoring play. When the extra point try was stopped, the score remained, 47-0.
 Final scoring play was in the closing minutes of the game as Lovelace raced 39 yards to make the score 53-0. When McDorman carried the extra points across, the scoring was over at 55-0.

Rain Again Stops Grain Harvest

But Sun Comes Out Wednesday

Same song, second verse. The spot that Parmer County area farmers find themselves in this week is ominously like the one they couldn't get out of in the fall of 1957. Just at the moment when it looked as if the combines would really start rolling on the big grain crop--perhaps the biggest in history--the weather closed in again this week to stop nearly all harvesting.

Milo was just starting to come in good, and the harvest was expected to be hitting its peak within just a few days when cloudy weather moved in Monday, and general rains followed that evening.

Although the rains were of a very gentle nature, and probably did no damage at all to any crops in the field, they squelched the plans of many a farmer and combine operator, who were planning on being plenty busy this week.

A fairly respectable number of early-maturing fields in the southern part of the Parmer County area had already been cut before the rains came, but the harvest could not really be considered as really having begun.

The slightly warmer climate, plus sandier, warmer soils usually give the southern farmers a head start on grain and cotton harvest, and this year is no exception. Very few farmers are "all through" with their milo, though.

Early reports indicate that the grain crop will turn out to be as good as it looked in the field. Many irrigated fields will hit 4,000 pounds or better. The county average on irrigated land last year was between 3,000 and 3,500 pounds.

Some intensely farmed plots will notch upward toward the 9,000 or 10,000 pound mark, but no farmer hopes for such a yield as that on more than just a few acres.

On the whole, a farmer considers that he's done pretty well if he does 4,000 pounds on an across-the-field average.

A sampling of grain sorghum hybrids appeared in the Parmer County area three years ago, and in 1956 a fairly substantial acreage was planted in hybrid. Last year, area farmers went "whole hog" on hybrids, and have again this year also.

This factor alone has resulted in increasing yields, and, added to the fact that farmers are learning more and more about getting bigger and bigger grain yields each year, the large yields that are being reported are not too surprising.

Back to the problem of moisture, the situation is not as yet acute for most farmers.

It is simply a matter of inconvenience and worry. There is still plenty of time for most farmers to get their grain in without any problem to speak of.

However, at about this time last year they were feeling the same way about conditions--and the weather never did get any better. The 1957 crop was harvested under the most adverse conditions imaginable.

Over a third was cut after the first snow had fallen. About one-fourth of the crop was blown flat and had to be picked up from the ground with special combine attachments. Farmers don't relish the thought of having to do the same thing again this year.

Wet grain was a problem all season long in 1957. Several elevators and many individual farmers purchased grain driers and put them to work on the piles of wet grain. At first they seemed like poor investments, but as the weather continued wet and cold, they proved their worth.

If the Parmer County area farmers could just get seven to 10 days of solid sunshine, they'd get most of the crop in. Most of what would be left would be the late-planted or long-maturing crops such as Plainsman, Caprock, or others that seldom are ready for harvest until after the first killing frost.

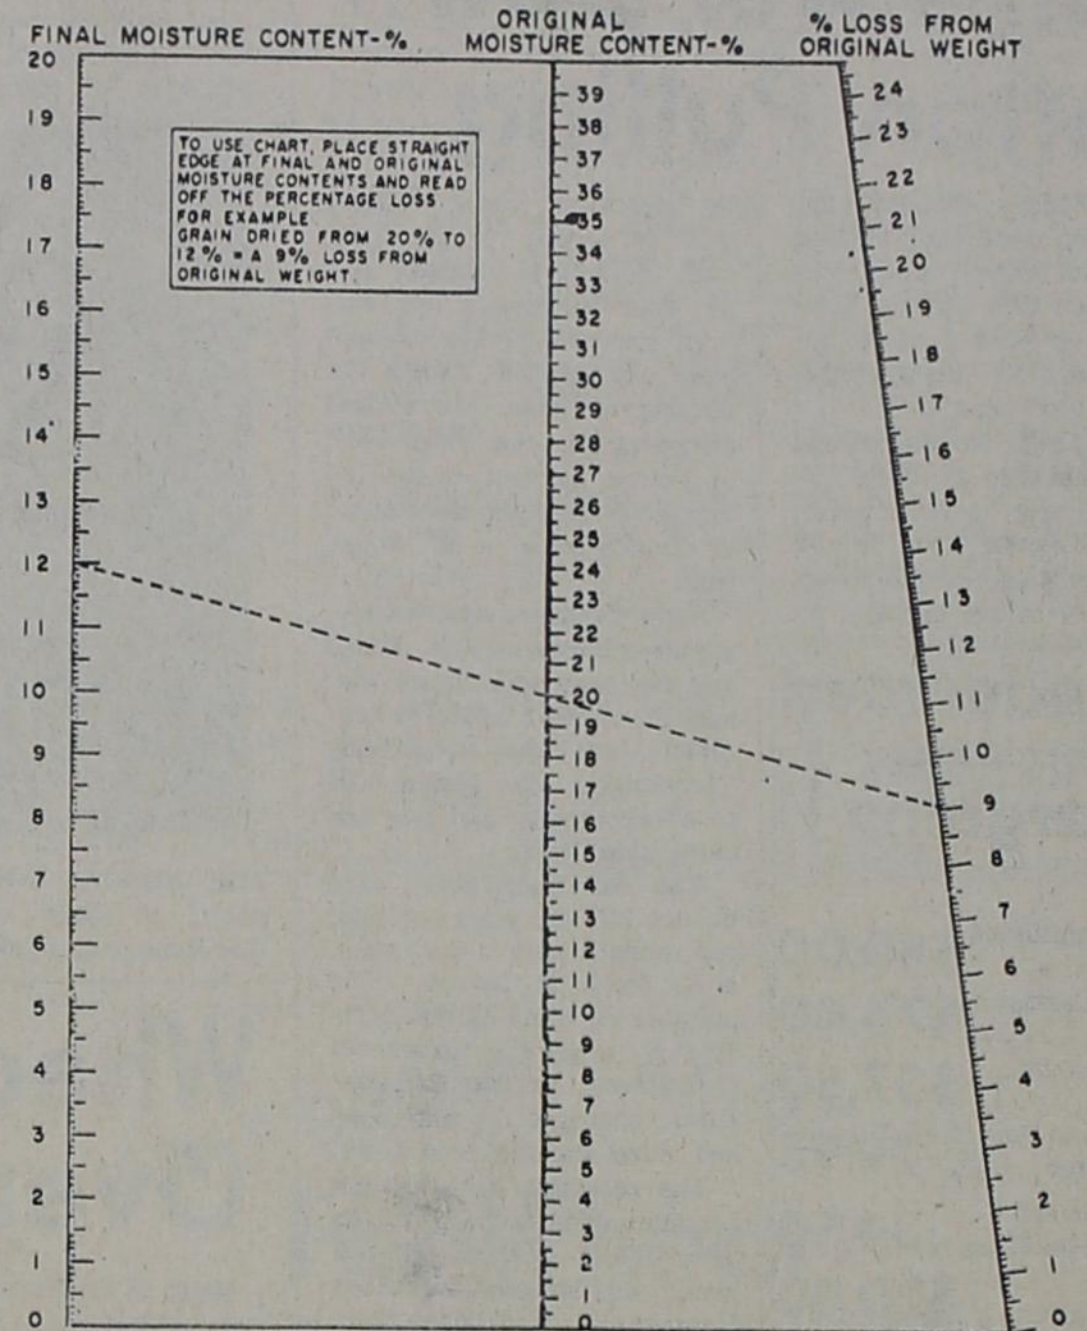

Silence isn't always golden. Sometimes it's just guilt.

LLOYD RECTOR estimates his Texas 660 to be making 5,000 pounds to the acre, although his cutting is not advanced enough to tell for sure just what the yield will be. Many other Parmer County farmers expect to harvest record grain sorghum crops this year. Rector's harvest was stopped by rain a few hours after this picture was made Monday afternoon.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO DELIVER WET GRAIN?

Chart for estimating weight loss when drying grain or seed.

It is expected that over 300 commercial grain driers will be in use in North West Texas alone this fall. This is evidence of the concerted efforts on the part of the grain trade to help area producers avert any possible repeat of the disastrous delayed harvest of 1957.

The above chart for estimating weight loss when drying grain may be of value in determining the moisture level the individual producer decides is economical for delivery.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Agricultural researchers have piled up enough evidence to convince this writer that it is a mistake to burn cotton burrs. They deserve a more fitting end, because they are still valuable services they can perform to man.

However, we must confess that we still enjoy the sharp, acrid stench of the cotton gin's burr pit. Not everybody likes this kind of smell, but we do.

Somehow, the odor of the burr pile is synonymous with fall for us. Just as songs replayed from long ago stir memories, a whiff of cotton burr smoke stirs memories for us. They are usually pleasant, for fall and harvest time is a pleasant time of the year.

The writer's own generation saw the disappearance of coal and oil smoke from the steam engines of the Santa Fe. Many other lines have since modernized, and the stink of the diesel residue is somehow anti-romantic.

Train smoke is gone for our children, and within a few years, cotton burr smoke will be, too. Ah, progress!

Cotton burrs are being put to widespread beneficial use. Stockmen have started observers by bidding for the burrs as a filler in their feeding ration. They have found a way to break down the cellulose of the burrs and make them valuable in feeding.

The farmer himself, though, is the best current market for cotton burrs. He finds that they pay well as an investment when applied to farmland. Besides their nutrient values, they add valuable organic matter to the soil. There is little doubt that burrs are paying off, especially on our hard worked irrigated land.

On the whole, the farmers of the area are doing a good job of keeping their land clean of bindweed. Almost every farmer we know is gravely concerned about each bindweed sprig that he finds on his place. Farmers regard bindweed as a "land cancer" which is what it should be considered.

With all the noise about bindweed, though, our old enemy, Johnson grass, seems to be making some big inroads. There is little doubt that with each passing year Johnson grass infestation becomes more noticeable on our so-called "better" farms.

Along bar ditches, and irrigation ditches it seems firmly entrenched. Spots are scattered through hundreds of fields and the appearance of the tall grass is a very common sight on area farms.

Not too many years ago we can remember that the fact that our farms were generally free from Johnson grass was one of the biggest brags we had over many other farming areas of the country. We wonder how these statements of 15 or 20 years ago would stand up today.

Maybe we ought to get as concerned about Johnson grass as we have become about bindweed. Both are very undesirable plants for our farms.

We had a little talk with Kenneth Neill of Friona Growers and Shippers the other day about the vegetable business. Kenneth agrees this year is pretty rugged.

He takes rather lightly the oft-heard remark that vegetable growing is an "every other year" venture, and believes that farmers who plan to get in and get out of vegetables in a speculative way are due for some sad surprises.

"Some people have the notion that potatoes are good every other year," says Kenneth. Taking 1957 as a bad one and going back a few years seems to establish that sort of cycle for local growers, but he says that it doesn't take a very long memory to remember two or three poor years in a row.

Kenneth grows a lot of vegetables, and is just as anxious to make money farming vegetables as anybody else. However, he is taking this poor year's truck farming record philosophically. He believes that 1958 will help discourage a sudden, big swing to vegetables that has pretty well seemed in the cards for the irrigated Plains if this had been a good season for vegetable raisers.

Neill is pretty apprehensive about any sudden and uncontrollable spurt in production. He feels that it would have very adverse effects on markets.

There will be a little bit of money made on some vegetable crops on the Plains this year, but no profits worth the risk that the growers accepted when they planted, and no profits anywhere near what sometimes comes along in the years that vegetable men call "good ones."

The early potatoes made a little money. Most of the crop did not. Carrots are making a little money, but nothing like they did last year. The Friona shed is selling only cellophane, retail-style packs--nothing is moving in bulk.

Onions were about a "break-even" type crop. The final details of the cantaloupe harvest around Bovina are not in yet, but profits to the farmers will be small, apparently. Lettuce harvest will begin shortly, but it will be two or three weeks before a marketing trend will be established for this crop.

Minor vegetable crops such as bell peppers, cabbage, cucumbers, and what-not are "mixed." Some pay off, some don't. But the acreage is not enough to warrant any significance for the area as a whole.

The mysteries of vegetable farming continue unabated.

Rains Wet Down Cotton Pulling

The rains of Monday night sopped up what little activity had gotten started in boll pulling. The 1958 cotton crop appears to be a good one already, and is considerably ahead of last year's.

Even if poor weather should set in and stay as it did last fall, the crop is expected to be much better than it was in 1957. Much of the lower and some of the upper crop is open, and many farmers will be ready to go ahead with their first pickings just as soon as things dry out.

Of course, the big harvest push for cotton awaits the coming of frost. Mechanical stripping is the "big end" of cotton harvest on the irrigated Plains and the Parmer County area is no exception.

Some farmers aren't waiting for frost, though. These are the ones who figure that enough of their cotton is matured so that artificially "frosting" the plants will be advantageous, and they are using defoliants.

The defoliants being used do not kill the plant outright, but merely stun it and cause it to shed its leaves. The purpose in mind in that activity is to get the leaves out of the way so that the sunshine can get in and open and cure the matured bolls.

The rain this week was not considered hazardous to the area cotton grades. It fell gently, and affected only those farmers who had begun their early boll pulling.

Wheat Good Over County

Most of the Parmer County area wheat crop has been planted now, and the showers and cool weather, although not so welcome to maize and cotton farmers, is having very beneficial effects on the brand-new wheat crop.

Like last year, the wheat is getting off to a good start, and most farmers are reporting themselves as being well pleased with the stands they are getting on their new wheat.

Rainfall has not been sufficient to insure a lasting moisture reservoir for dryland wheat, but there has been enough to get both irrigated and the dryland crops "kicked off" and now it will be up to Mother Nature and the farmers' irrigation wells as to what happens the rest of the fall and this winter.

With the good prices for beef in recent months, wheat pasture is expected to be in good demand this fall and winter, and doubtless much of the young wheat will be consigned for that purpose before very long, because it is getting off to a good start.

They should be gathered up and placed on the pile. Frequent watering and turning will help decay the leaves. After they have decayed, this compost can be used to improve your lawn, flower beds, or vegetable garden.

The ideal time to apply this decayed matter to your soil is in the fall or early spring. Leaves should be spaded, tilled, or plowed into the soil. Nitrogen in manure or in chemical fertilizer should be added along with the decayed leaves for best results.

Some gardening expert said, "The ideal time to start your spring garden is last fall." For a lot of plants that grow from bulbs, this is the only time to start a spring garden. Tulip bulbs should be put out in the early fall so they will have a cool growing season before cold weather sets in.

This is also a good time to move perennials. Many of us do not realize the importance of dividing perennials until we do the task then see the results the following spring. There are several different ideas on the division of perennials. Most flower growers agree that chrysanthemums and asters do better if they are divided annually.

Those that should be divided every third year are tall bearded iris, phlox, and pyrethrum. Experience will teach you to recognize the most thrifty roots of any plant and it is always wise to prune off old dead-looking roots.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

At this time of year when the fall weather causes the leaves to fall, every gardener should construct a compost pile if he doesn't already have one. Bricks, concrete blocks, or used planks can be used for this purpose. This pile does not need to be very large to be of great benefit to your flower garden next year.

After the compost pile has been started, you should never burn any leaves. Instead,

Soon it will be time to put away some of those summer clothes, and bring on the fall and winter garments.

Start now to store some of the lighter things, suggest extension clothing specialists. Right storage will increase the life of summer clothing, and make all garments more wearable for the next season.

Here are some suggestions for keeping out-of-season clothing in good condition until next summer:

Mend any ripped seam, tears, loose buttons or other damages. A few stitches can save the life of a garment.

Wash or dry clean all garments before storing.

Store cottons and linens unironed. Make certain all starch is removed. It can cause fabric to deteriorate and may attract silverfish.

Dry garments thoroughly and store them in a dry place to prevent mildew.

Store in large boxes or trunks to make room in closets for fall clothing.

Crisp plump kernels of walnuts and whipped cream make a fine finishing touch for fruit salads; and this easy topping is equally good on cake, gingerbread, fruit gelatin desserts, chiffon pie or a sauce dish of pink rhubarb. Use this quick garnish to glamorize simple fare. You'll like the crunchy texture walnuts give soft foods.

For a savory dinner bread try this . . . spread sliced French bread lightly with mustard flavored mayonnaise mixed with a little grated Parmesan cheese. Sprinkle with instant minced onion and heat in a hot oven until lightly browned. Moisture-free onion is always ready to use right from its container. This bread also is good for outdoor suppers. To prepare, just wrap in foil and brown over coals.

Here's a treat children will like . . . make chocolate fudge from a mix, stirring in 1 cup light or dark raisins. Shape the candy into balls and roll in flaked coconut. Yummy!

An easy, economical way to increase calcium intake is by using "DOUBLE MILK." . . . For example, add 4 tablespoons of dry milk to one cup of fluid milk for a delicious cool, refreshing "double milk" beverage. Your favorite fruit or flavoring may be added to this. For variety try molasses, maple, spice or honey.

Eggs are available in various grades and sizes in most markets . . . extension foods and nutrition specialists say highest grades, A and AA, are ideal for cooking in the shell, for frying or poaching. The lower grades may be used for scrambling or used in cooked products. The shell color may vary from white to deep brown. This does not make any difference in the flavor, food value, or cooking performance of the egg.

Farmers Union Report

To begin with, we want to express our appreciation to the newspapers of Parmer County for affording us the opportunity of presenting the activities of Farmers Union to the people of Parmer County. We hope that this will turn out to be a regular feature for these newspapers, for it is felt that the people want to know more about the Farmers Union and what it stands for. We hope that through this column we will be able to accomplish this.

Thursday evening of last week the Lazbuddie local had a meeting in the school cafeteria.

At this meeting, officers were elected for the coming year. T. O. Lesly was re-elected president, Freeman Davis was elected vice-president, and James Welch was elected to serve as secretary. This is a fine group of well-qualified officers with the cause of Farmers Union uppermost in their minds. We know that the members of the Lazbuddie local will certainly work in harmony under the direction of these men.

Considerable interest was shown during the discussion period, in which nearly everything was discussed from the merits of the new farm bill to those of Mr. Benson and the New York Yankees.

The program presented by Chuck Detton, Farmers Union field man from Plainview, and we are indebted to him for bringing us an interesting and educational program. Detton

IT'S COTTON PICKING TIME and these laborers on the J. B. Culp farm near Hub are hard at work. is an ex-agricultural exchange student to England and Scotland and the color slides he showed that had been taken of farms and farming methods in these two countries were most interesting.

Clayton Graef, county president, urges all locals to have their elections of officers as soon as possible in order to be ready for the county wide Farmers Union Meeting at the Hub Community Center Building at 8 p.m., October 2.

Every member is urged to attend the meeting and to bring all family members and friends. You should call your neighbors and friends, whether they are members or not, and if necessary go by and get them and bring them to the meeting.

Now is the time to get behind your Farmers Union. It needs your strength to fight for the rights of family farmers all over America. Farmers Union does not agree with the belief held by the Department of Agriculture that there are too many small farmers in agriculture. FU feels that the family farmer (the small farmer) is the backbone of this whole business.

Again, we ask that you be sure to attend the county wide meeting. There will be music, fun and prizes. A drawing will be held for the juniors and adults. The lucky winner of the junior division will have a choice of a weaning pig or feeder lamb.

There will be a hula hoop contest for children under ten. Cash prizes will be drawn for by adults. We will have plenty of good ol' Spudnuts and coffee and a very interesting speaker, prominent in these parts, will be present to speak to us. Ya'll come.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Several weeks ago the Soil Conservation Service did some work on Gilbert Kaltwasser's farm to determine the infiltration rate of the soil on different slopes. This is part of the studies that will be conducted by the SCS in order to gain more information about the irrigated soils of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District.

The infiltration rate is determined by means of orifice plates set 200 feet apart in the irrigation furrow. The first orifice at the check point gives the number of gallons per minute at that point. The difference between these two gives the amount of water absorbed by the soil.

These checks were set up at the upper, middle and at the lower end of an irrigation furrow. The length of the furrow that was checked was 1933 feet.

The upper end had a slope of .2 of a foot per 100 feet. The middle had .4 per 100 feet and lower end had .3 per 100 feet. This check was made on a deep, medium textured, moderately permeable soil which is characteristic of the soil in that area.

This field had received approximately 1 1/2 inches of rain 10 days before this check was made. The temperature was in the high nineties and there was practically no wind. The crop being irrigated was cotton. This was the last irrigation for this crop. During the entire check the upper end of the row took about 3 1/2 inches of water. The middle and lower parts took 2 1/2 inches of water.

It was noticed in moisture checks prior to irrigation that the root zone soil at the upper end of the row was somewhat dryer than the lower end. This was probably due to the fact that the stand of cotton was thicker at the upper end than on the lower end.

Irrigation started at 9:30 a.m. and ended at 6 p.m. The water reached the upper end check, which was 50 feet from the pipe, one minute after the start. The water was 750 feet down the furrow at the middle check 50 minutes after the start. The lower check at 1400 feet from the pipe was reached in two hours and 26 minutes.

For the first two hours of irrigation the furrow stream at the surface pipe was measured at 28.5 gallons per minute. At this time the furrow stream was adjusted at the surface pipe and for the next three hours and 45 minutes the furrow stream was 25 gallons per minute.

The stream was adjusted again—five hours and 45 minutes after the start. It varied from 27.5 to 25.5 gallons per minute for the remainder of the irrigation.

For the first hour the infiltration rate on the upper end was 1.2 inches per hour compared to .6 inches per hour for the middle and lower end of the row. After 2 1/2 hours from the start the infiltration rates for the upper, middle and lower parts of the row were all approximately .4 inches per hour. The infiltration rate gradually decreased to .2 inches per hour at the end of the irrigation.

Twenty-four hours after irrigation, checks showed that the moisture penetrated to a depth of 6 feet on the upper end. It was wet down to 32 inches at the middle check and possibly deeper because at this point caliche rock prevented checking further. At the lower end, moisture penetrated to about 20 inches in depth.

Thirty-to-one is the ratio of surplus commodities that can be delivered to needy people of the world through Christian Rural Overseas Program this year.

All elevators and gins in the county have the simple, easy-to-prepare slips for you to make your designation. This means that if you give 100 pounds of milt, it will provide for the delivery of 3,000 pounds to the people who are in the vicinity of Christian missionary workers in foreign countries. The same ratio covers cotton gifts, or if you are not a farmer, cash will do the same thing. Pastors of most of the churches will also help explain the workings of CROP.

Unless your church has a specific program for getting food and clothing to the needy, this is a good thing for you to work with. Let's share our plenty with those who have nothing.
