We have all heard the old expression, "bigger than a skinned mule." Frankly, I am of the opinion that very few living people today have ever actually viewed the carcass of a skinned mule. "Bigger than a skinned mule" is an old American expression used in conveying the idea of something of an immense size.

Skinnering a fallen animal, particularly horses and mules, was a common practice in the past of the American farmer years ago. The salvaged hides were tacked upon the side of the barn and after being cured to a flint-dry condition, were cut into convenient sizes and strips and placed in the harness shed, where they were later used in repairing harnesses, saddles, and other leather goods.

One of most common uses was for making hinges for light doors and gates.

As a boy, the sight of a skinned mule was not uncommon to me, as it was doubtless common to many people who can recall incidents of 50 to 60 years ago.

But I am venturing the assertion that I am one of the few living Texans who ever saw a skinned elephant. Many of the particulars of that gruesome sight do not come to my mind in all clarity at this time, but it all happened near the outskirts of Wichita Falls, when I was a lad of some eight years.

To my mind the sight of that enormous chunk of flesh and blood of a bull elephant, weighing probably eight tons, piled in one heap along a railroad right-of-way, has never been equalled in its enormity.

It all happened back at the turn of the century, in either 1899 or 1900, when court officials ordered the execution of the huge animal after it had killed at least one person in Oklahoma a few days prior to being brought into Texas by a circus.

Upon entering the State of Texas with the elephant, the circus was ordered to execute it and the order was carried out forthwith. Loading the animal on a flatcar, a switch engine and a small train of boxcars (carrying officials and spectators) pulled out of town some two or three miles out the old Wichita Valley Railroad to the spot for the execution.

Kept securely chained at all times, the elephant received several shots from high-powered rifles. They were unable to kill the big brute. His final death was brought about by attaching one chain around his neck and fastening it to the switch engine. A second chain was hitched to his hind legs and fastened to the string of cars.

After all brakes to the cars had been securely set, the engine pulled forward and death was then effected by strangulation.

Now for the skinned elephant part of the story: Whitt Cleburn, scavenger of the town, and his boys were given permission to skin the animal for his hide. I wasn't present when the skinning took place, but large sharp knives were used and an axe was brought into play to cut the skin around the hoofs and to remove the ears.

A full day was required to complete the job and there the bloody carcass was left out on the open right-of-way.

What happened to the remaining bones, I don't know. Several of the particulars of this unusual incident of more than 50 years ago, do not come to my mind, but I do remember very well the name of the town scavenger.

On several occasions I accompanied him, or his boys, on their one-horse, two-wheeled dump wagon as they made their official trips around town at night, gathering up refuse from open privies and hauling it to the city dump.

Farm Bureau Launches 1953 Drive

NOTED EDUCATOR TO SPEAK AT VICTORY BANQUET

Parmer County Farm Bureau Officials extend a welcome to the public to attend the "Victory Meeting" at Friona School Auditorium Monday night, February 23 at eight o'clock. Dr. S. M. Kennedy, professor of Government and Assistant Dean of Arts and Sciences at Lubbock Technological College will make an illustrated talk entitled "Our American Heritage." The meeting concludes a membership drive the bureau has conducted through the county the past week.

Winning teams of membership solicitors will be recognized and presented with awards as total results of the drive are tabulated. Following the program, there will be soft drinks and coffee and doughnuts served to everyone.

The last meeting of this kind held in Friona, two years ago, was attended by over three-hundred people. In view of the interest shown in Farm Bureau's activities in legislation and other vital factors of interest to farm people, an even larger crowd is expected this year, directors say.

Cotton John of KGNC has been invited to attend and participate in the program. "Everything is being planned to the end that it will interest mother, father and children, alike," officials add.

Dr. Kennedy, the principal speaker, is originally from Dickens, where he was valedictorian of his graduating class. He attended Texas Tech on a scholarship and received his degree there. His Master's degree was received his degree there in 1943. His Master's degree was received at Tech in 1946, and his Doctor's in 1952. He has also attended the University of Nance, France, when he was in the service; and the University of Colorado.

At a kickoff banquet in Bovina Monday night, plans were mapped out for the drive to extend through this week. Toastmaster for the evening was Bruce Parr, president of the Farm Bureau. He introduced special guests: Judge and Mrs. A. D. Smith, Joe Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Graham of Farwell; and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Williams of Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bell of Friona; and Dr. Eckermell of Brownfield; also the speaker and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fulford of Brownfield.

About 70 people were on hand for the banquet, including drive chairmen and workers from communities of the county. Carl

URGES MORE MEMBERSHIPS

Amiable Jake Fulford, president of Terry County Farm Bureau, drives home a point to Parmer County members attending a drive kick-off dinner at Bovina Monday.

Schlenker, chairman of the membership drive introduced the workers.

Aubrey Ellison then gave a progress report for the organization for the past year. Included in meetings during the year were 13 director's sessions, three county-wide meetings, and 20 community sessions. Delegates were sent to the state convention, district meetings, legislative and leadership sessions. Six resolutions were taken to the state meeting from Parmer and five were adopted.

Ellison further stated that records were kept on tractor gas exemptions, membership was increased to 600, a full-time county office was maintained, and 668 gate signs were provided members. The local organization kept up with legislative action referring to the farmer sending telegrams and phone calls to legislators, and maintained an insurance program.

The speaker, president of Terry County Farm Bureau, presented a pep talk for the membership drive. He concluded that 15 per cent of the population of the United States are farmers. "If we don't organize, who is going to look after us," he stated.

Half-Century club of Bovina served the banquet. Menu included: ham, green beans, corn, cole slaw, rolls, pecan pie and coffee.

Clyde Hopkins Still Held After Shooting

Clyde Hopkins, 17-year-old Texico youth, is still being held by Curry County officers this week following a shooting last Thursday afternoon in which his younger brother, Ronnie, was killed.

A coroner's jury has ruled that Clyde held the .22 caliber rifle that killed 6-year-old Ronnie after he had come home from school. Clyde originally claimed that the shooting was accidental, but officers now say he has altered his story.

Funeral services for Ronnie were held Sunday, Rev. C. M. Fields, Baptist pastor, officiating.

Request New Cotton Office

Cotton farmers of this area have been dissatisfied, in many instances, with grading of cotton, says the Parmer County Farm Bureau. In response to numerous requests, Bureau leaders of Dist. 1 have held two meetings in an effort to find a solution to the problem.

Last Thursday, Bruce Parr and Truman Kent attended the first meeting in Lubbock where complaints were heard. Also in attendance were cotton experts from Washington and Dallas. Saturday, Parr, Earl Stevenson, and Troy Fuller were in attendance when the following resolutions were adopted by the 22-county group:

Whereas this area produces at least ten percent of the nation's cotton:

Whereas one classing office (Lubbock) classes sixty percent of the cotton produced in the State as compared with forty percent being classed by at least nine other classing stations:

Whereas, the current government loan price scale is based on middling grade and 15-16 inch staple, the cotton produced in this area averages 7/8 inch staple or below. Sixty percent is spot cotton, forty percent of that sixty percent being light spot.

Whereas, the current government loan price scale does not recognize light spots nor middling plusses, and market prices of light spotted cotton and middling plus is considerably higher than plain spotted cotton:

Whereas the cotton producers in this area are thoroughly dissatisfied with circumstances and conditions surrounding the Lubbock cotton classing station:

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. Another cotton classing office be placed in Plainview, Texas, free and independent of the Lubbock office and staffed with personnel not drawn from the Lubbock office.

2. A price loan scale be set up and approved by Commodity Credit Corporation and placed in effect for the 1953 cotton crop to include split grades of cotton such as light spots and middling plusses.

3. Government loan price scale be based on low middling grade and 7/8 inch staple.

4. Lighting and humidity conditions be provided and standardized in all classing stations in low humidity areas to include proper conditions of samples prior to classing.

5. A school of instruction located preferably at Texas Technological College, to train capable and qualified cotton classes for the future, be established, and that the present quality of cotton classing be raised through better working conditions, increased pay, etc.

Cotton Meeting Is Tonight at Bovina

A cotton meeting is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at the Bovina High School Auditorium, and will get underway at 8 p.m.

The meeting, sponsored by the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association and the Morrison-Ely Gin is the second in a series of these meetings over Parmer County.

Speakers will discuss a plan for measuring cotton acreage in 1952. It is felt by the group that this would be a protection to each grower in the event of a future price support program which might bring on acreage reductions.

Refreshments will be served to the group following the meeting.

Texico Teams Win Second in Tourney

Texico's two girls' teams both brought home second place trophies, from the Curry County Tournament last weekend.

The Whirlwinds first drew a bye and played Grady Friday night. The Grady girls stalled the first three and one-half minutes, then by missing a shot, the Texico guards brought the ball down to the forwards. The had possession of the ball for about one minute, then Grady received it again and stalled the remainder of the first quarter. The score was 0-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Grady began to play ball and the score at half time was 9-7, Texico. The Whirlwinds made a continuous gain to be victorious over Grady 16-34.

Saturday night in the finals, they met Rosedale. This game being close from beginning to end resulted with a heartbreaking final score 31-32 in favor of the Cowgirls. The Whirlwinds just couldn't seem to hit the goal. Texico's fast Tucker was high point with 12.

The junior girls also drawing a bye in the first round, played Center in the semi-finals. They won that game by the run-away margin of 28-8. Sue Reid had 11 points and Anita Tharp had 10 points for the local team. They met Grady in the final game Saturday afternoon. They also had a disheartening end to their game, which they lost by the small margin of two points. Little fast shooting Sue Reid kept the net hot for Texico with the 20 points she put through the hoop.

The Wolverines were pitted against Ranchvale in the first round. The Trojans led the Wolverines in the first quarter 9-8, but lagged behind at half-time 21-18.

Score being tied at the third quarter didn't stop the Wolverines' desire to win for they gathered a six point lead at the end of the fourth quarter. Arlye Crooks scored half of the locals 44 points.

The Wolverines then met Melrose Friday night. The Wolverines were eight points behind in the first quarter, but gained in the second for at half-time Melrose led by only three points. With the winning spirit behind every player, they tied and were ahead of the Buffaloes a few points during the third quarter. Melrose came back with force in the final period, in which they edged past the Wolverines 45-55. Paul Crooks collected five fouls in the first seven minutes which was a hindrance to the local team. High point for Texico was Allred, putting seven long shots through the hoop. Melrose went on into the finals to win first place.

In the junior boys bracket, Texico lost their first game to Rosedale. The boys were playing without two usual starters.

Score for the girls was 28-26, and Loveta Perrin was high pointer for the locals. In the eighth grade boy's tilt, Farwell totally swamped their opponents, 38-18. Owens accounted for 13 scores and Donnie Carpenter made 11.

The seventh graders from Farwell also had the top count, 12-7, in a half-time game. Martin of Farwell made 11 of the 12 points for the locals.

Play Presented By Juniors Recently

The Junior Class presented their class play on Tuesday night, February 10. The play had been postponed once because of bad weather, but even though there was snow on the ground Tuesday night it was decided to have the play anyway. A good crowd was present.

The cast was as follows: Agnes Martyn, a widow played by Darlene Sprawls; Bob her son, Frank Gulley; Marilee, her eldest daughter, Shirley Smith; Gracie, her youngest child, Bernice Christian; Miss Lydia, her sister-in-law, Jo Ann Cochran; Henry Turner, a widower, Wayne Morris; Doris, his daughter, Bel Willard; Sammie, his son, Phillip Cassidy; Begonia, the Martyn's darkey cook, Beverly Lovelace; Nicodemus, the Martyn's colored handy man, Jimmy Turner.

When the curtain rises, Bob, Marilee and Gracie have just received a letter from their mother who is away at the seashore saying she will be home soon. They show it to Aunt Lydia, who considers herself mistreated by everyone and she immediately begins to sob and want to know why Agnes didn't write her. The door bell rings and a special delivery letter for Miss Lydia is received. In it Agnes announces her engagement to Henry Turner, who she met at the seashore, and whom she knew as an old schoolmate.

The children and Miss Lydia are certainly against a "mean old step father" and often considerable thought they decided to resort to various fits and trickery to keep Henry from marrying Agnes. The principal reason for their not wanting their mother to marry is that they believe Henry is marrying her for her money, which she has just inherited. They have gone upstairs to complete their plans when Doris and Sammie arrive.

They have received a similar letter from their father and their dislike for their tentative step-mother matches that of the the Martyn children. They, too, are searching for an idea which will break up the match. Finally they agree that Sammy will pretend to be a kleptomaniac and Doris will be a monomaniac on the subject of her operation.

When Agnes and Henry arrive the living room is empty. They are obviously very much in love. Agnes calls in the children and leaves them to get acquainted with Henry while she goes up stairs to freshen up.

As soon as Agnes leaves the room the children begin their act. Marilee talks baby talk and Gracie acts the perfect little brat. Henry is "simply overcome" as Gracie puts it by his step children. Sammie and Doris try similar tactics on Agnes when they get her alone and by the end of the act both Henry and Agnes are wishing that they hadn't been so hasty, especially since they are already married, which they announce as the curtain falls on the first act.

The second act is a series of fits, killing maniacs, etc., designed to make Henry and Agnes divorce each other. It is spiced with plenty of humor furnished by the darkies. At the end of the act Agnes and Henry give up, after an argument, and decide to have their marriage annulled.

Act three is begun by Henry receiving a telegram from his Aunt Agatha saying that he has been disinherited and will not receive the money for which he has looked forward to since his Aunt has promised it to him at her death. Then a telephone call for Agnes saying that she has made $100,000 on the stock market. Sammie and Doris decided that perhaps it would be better if Henry and Agnes stayed married, after all.

Marilee, Bob, and Gracie decide the same thing when Agnes tells them that Henry is his rich Aunt's only heir and that she has lost all her money on the stock market. And too, the step children have met each other and they find that they like each other very much.

Lydia, still has not conceded and as a last effort to scare Henry away she wraps herself in a sheet and impersonates Horatio's ghost. (Horatio is Agnes' first husband and Lydia's brother) Her scheme is revealed however when Agnes comes down unexpectedly and jerks away the sheet, exposing her. Then the whole plot comes into the open.

Agnes and Henry tell them that the telegram and phone call were faked to make the children want the marriage and that both of them still have their money. Of course everyone is happy then and even Lydia tries to reconcile herself by taking Horatio's picture to hang in her room. It is a good lesson spiced with plenty of good humor and all in all the class thought it was a very good play.

Robert "Prof" Morton left for El Paso Friday accompanied by fourteen members of his agriculture classes, and Mr. Dick Gerles. Morton reports that the group spent the first night in Las Cruces, and then took in the Livestock Show in El Paso the following day. They also did some sight-seeing in El Paso and Juarez. Saturday night was spent in Carlsbad, and they returned to Farwell Sunday afternoon.

VALENTINES IN SECOND GRADE

Some very pretty valentines have been made by the second grade children. Some were made to give to friends, some to decorate the room, and some to go on large envelopes to hold the children's valentines.

All are looking forward to the Valentine party on Friday. Mrs. Paine, Mrs. Rea, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Hendrickson, Mrs. Smart, Mrs. Kaltwasser, Mrs. Cochran, and Mrs. Barnes are to be hostesses.

THIRD GRADERS ENJOY NEW READER

The third grade is enjoying reading in their new book, "Now and Then Stories," which makes the ninth reader they have read this year.

In music the class is learning songs about the lives of Washington and Lincoln.

Each boy and girl decorated a large envelope Monday to hold their Valentines. The third grade will have a Valentine party Friday which will close their Valentine activities.

Zell Billingsley is the only student who can still boast a perfect attendance record.

PARENTS PLEASED WITH ASSEMBLY

The fourth grade was so pleased that so many of their parents were present for the assembly program. Many nice comments about the program were heard. All those on the program did a fine job.

There is definitely a festive air about their room as they prepare for their valentine party. The lacy hearts that adorn the bulletin board are very pretty. Each student is making his own mail box for valentines.

Congratulations to those who had birthdays in January: Daniel Daude, Tommy Williams, and Mike Booth.

FIFTH GRADERS MAKE VALENTINE BOXES

Big boxes, little boxes, square, round, and oblong—everybody has his own box for valentines. Decorations are varied, but all are bright and colorful and in keeping with the spirit of Saint Valentine.

A party is being planned for Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Hubbell, Mrs. Potts, and Mrs. Crume will be hostess for the occasion.

It is good to have Joan back in school. Since she has a new treatment for her asthma, perhaps she can come regularly now.

Everyone was glad to be on the assembly program Friday, Feb. 6, but relieved to have it over too! "Ferryboat Sernade" was sung by the boys' sextet. The whole class sang "One Little Candle" and "Swanee River." Then they did four dancing games: "Shoo Fly," "Old Brass Wagon," "Old Dan Tucker," and "Buffalo Gals," each with some appropriate bit of costuming.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM WELL RECEIVED

The sixth grade are proud of the assembly program which was enjoyed by all. All are happy that it is over but were well pleased with the way everyone seemed to like it. Some of our talent turned out to be a real surprise.

The class has really been having fun with their diagramming in English. Doing board work is a little different, even if some know all about it, and others are trying to learn.

The entire room is looking forward the annual valentine party. Some of the room mothers will be present to make the celebration a real success.

The room decorations may get nipped in the bud, but nevertheless, as soon as the valentine celebration is over, anyone who wishes to visit the room will find themselves in the midst of tulips and jonquils, and butterflies.

The sixth grade room was honored by being asked to repeat some of the assembly numbers for PTA this Thursday night.

The plants in our room are a source of great enjoyment. The bright blooming chrysanthemum in the room helps to make the room much more cheerful.

SEVENTH GRADE TO ATTEND MOVIE

The seventh grade will attend a movie in Clovis on Saturday accompanied by some of the parents. It has not yet been decided just what show the class would like to see, but all are eagerly forward to the event.

The junior high girls and boys won the basketball games with Friona last Monday night. Wonderful! Let's have more of the same.

There have been some very good spelling classes this week. The class wrote stories using the words learned in spelling. Some of the stories were very interesting.

EIGHTH GRADE BASKETBALL

The eighth grade played three basketball games this past week. The girls were very happy over the fact that they beat Bovina. They had played Bovina before and had lost to the Bovina girls team. They played Friona last Monday night—the score 17 to 6 in our favor.

Jerry Dee and Donnie both have had the pink eye. We have been watching the girls to see if they will catch the same.

There are 40 students in the room.

Thoughts While Not Thinking

By Kayla Felts

Friday is definitely "Jeanday" at school, because every girl, tomboy, and young lady wears blue jeans. It's an unwritten law, practically, and anyone who doesn't comply is sent out of town on a rail. . . . It's fun getting together with a gang of girls to compare notes on silverware, china, and pottery each has picked out.

When you really enjoy people, there is nothing as much fun as play practice, especially going to the cafe after it's over.

Heard a girl say the other day that if she ever had twins she would name them Lahonda Lynn and La Fonda Drive In. Oh well, it's original, anyway. . . . Did you ever read over a diary you kept three or four years ago? It's hilarious, you must try it sometime. Makes you wonder at your own sanity! Why is it that a real "livewire" is always the most popular kid in a group? Mert and Jody and Marye Pair and Darlene always seem to have about twice as much fun as anybody. And of course, Darla has lost all her marbles, but the way she says things makes you wonder if you've lost yours. . . .

Chain letters used to be a lot of fun, but since they've formed "Earring Clubs" and "Hanky Clubs" and etc., they seem rather foolish—as if they weren't in the first place.

Did you know that an Indian wears a headdress to keep his Wigwam? And that Robin Hood, when all his men had fallen, suffered from fallen archers. . . . See you.

CHATTER IN THE HALLS

By Bel Willard

We hear that there is a contest going on in the senior class. It seems that the boys and girls are selling magazines and that the losing side has to fete the other with a party. Well, good luck kids. We hope you make lots of money because it is to be added to the senior trip fund.

Rose, Jo, and Darla spent Tuesday night with Jimmie. Jo says that sleeping four in a bed sure doesn't work because they tried it and she got kicked out. Better luck next time, Jo.

Darla Doshier has been working out some in basketball practice and she may be able to participate in the Vega tournament next Thursday and Friday. When Darla was injured in the Lazbuddy tourney we didn't think she could play ball any more this year, but now it seems that maybe she can. We hope so, Doshier.

The basketball teams played Ranchvale Tuesday night. Both boys and girls won their games. At Adrian, the Friday night before the girls won and the boys lost to the taller Adrian team. Although the boys shots weren't hitting the basket too often it was noticed that they certainly had some nice floor play and that they handled the ball well.

The senior class has appointed the committee to select the senior play. They will probably begin practice before too long.

Some of the juniors met at the Silver Grill in Clovis for a get-together after the junior play. They looked quite funny with their heavy make-up still on and Bernice still had a few make believe freckles scattered over her nose. Well, we had fun, if we did look funny. Se you ! !

Hettye Randol of Clovis visited friends and relatives in Farwell Sunday.

Darla was born in Tipton, Oklahoma. Favorite sport, basketball—favorite food, Mexican food—favorite place to go, skating—favorite color, red—favorite car, Chevrolet—favorite boy, Red—favorite teacher, all of them—age of first date, was "11, but mother don't know it"; went to Muleshoe to the show—childhood ambition, to be a nurse—present ambition, to finish school—future ambition, to get married, of course.

What Happens To Tribune 'Has-Beens'?

Most Push on to New Success, Study Shows

What happens to "old Tribune employees"? Do they, like old soldiers, just fade away? Well, let's take a look through the pages of the State Line Tribune and see how many of the former employees have followed the printing trade in some form, either reporting, advertising, or mechanical work.

Paul Crume, son of the Charlie Crumes, is one of the most outstanding of the group who got a start on the staff of this publication. He is at present writing the lead column on the Dallas Morning News under the heading, "Big D".

Chester J. Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Park of this city also got his basic training here. Then he went to Amarillo where he was employed for a time by the McCormick Photo and Engraving Company. Later he opened a lithographing and offset printing business which is now operating quite successfully in Amarillo.

James Oliver Martin, son of Sherman and Mrs. Jim Martin, also was employed by the Tribune. He then went to Abilene where he was engaged in the printing business and later was a Linotype operator for the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Now, he has abandoned the profession because of ill health, and is selling insurance in Fort Worth.

Paulie Jones, a local high school student, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. "Pop" Jones, received his training on the Tribune in the mid-thirties. He then was employed by a commercial job shop in Abilene, and from there went to Amarillo, where he worked as a Linotype operator on the Amarillo Times. Now he has returned to Clovis where he is employed by the Curry County Times.

Ivan (Rusty) Jones, brother of Paulie, also received his first newspaper experience with the Tribune. Later, he was employed by the Clovis News Journal and now is working for a printing establishment in Amarillo.

Hazel Dishman came to work on the paper with no previous experience in the field. She worked for six years and in that period acquired a skill that would land her a job on almost any small newspaper. She and her husband, Cornel Morse, now live in Santa Maria, California. Certainly not to be overlooked, are the services of Mr. and Mrs. Graham's oldest daughter, who is now married and living in Hereford. In the early years of the depression, the Tribune was forced to let its only printer go. Abie, who had never run a Linotype, arranged her high school classes so that she could go to school in the morning and help at the shop in the afternoons. She developed into the speediest Linotype operator in this part of the country. She was employed by the Clovis News-Journal and the Amarillo Times, later when her husband was in the army.

This brings us down to "Sonny" Graham, youngest of the Graham family, who began preparing himself for a printing career at the age of ten. After graduating from Farwell High School, his experience in the trade greatly assisted him in taking a four-year college course in journalism. At present, he is head of the State Line Tribune, while his father is on the inactive list.

And last, but not least, is Mrs. Graham, who has been folding papers for the past 37 years. Through this time, she has developed into an expert in that line, being able to fold 500 papers in an hour. She will soon lose her job, though, when the new mechanical folder begins operation next week, and starts a new era of efficiency for the Tribune.

In this narrative, we have listed only a few of the many employees that we have had through the years. There have been many who have entered the field shortly, only to lose interest and go on to other things. These few, though, started without previous experience and followed it through. They used their work as a steppingstone for use later in life.

IS REMODELED

AUSTIN.—Suton Hall, University of Texas building which houses the College of Education, is undergoing extensive repairs and remodeling.

Floors, walls and woodwork of the 35-year-old building will be refinished and lighting will be improved. Several classrooms will be reduced in size to provide for additional offices and laboratories.

An acre of sugar cane will yield about 2½ tons of refined sugar.

The oldest health stamp in existence is the Christmas Seal, sold once each year to provide funds for fighting tuberculosis.

Pointers Given On Ear Protection

A modern American craze is putting coins in slots to get something out: gum, candy, cigarettes, music, telephone service, or any variety of products. However, if you put things into the ear "slot" that don't belong, you're likely to get only one thing out: trouble!

The ear was made with the idea that it was not to be meddled with, and as long as it's healthy, that's the best advice to remember. For example, how should a baby's ear be cleaned? With an ordinary wash rag, and then not very energetically. The wash rag should be placed around the finger, not twisted and stuck into the ear. The same rule for cleaning the ears applies to adults: Nix on cotton tips, hairpins, toothpicks, broom straws, and the many other ways man has thought of to torture the poor ear.

Many people are too particular about cleanliness of their ears. They consider wax dirty and work constantly to get rid of it, failing to realize it is a natural protection against objects which might accidentally get into the ear. Only when the wax forms a plug that cuts down the hearing should it be removed, and then a doctor should do the job.

Even if it sounds silly, the way you blow your nose has a lot to do with the health of your ear. There is a tube leading from the middle ear to the part of the throat just behind the nose. This "Eustachian tube" has its main purpose to make equal the pressure on each side of the ear drum. It is made so that ordinarily it drains secretions from the middle ear to the throat, a very important help. However, if there are germs in the throat say from a cold, and one side of the nose is held while the other is blown, it is easy to send the germs into the Eustachian tube and on to the middle ear, often causing infection there.

When you blow your nose, be careful that both nostrils are open and that you blow gently so not much pressure is put on the tubes leading to each middle ear. It's better to let discharge from the nose drop into the throat, where it can be spit out or swallowed, than to send it where it doesn't belong: into the Eustachian tube and on to the middle ear. You shouldn't make an airplane flight if you have a cold or other infection of the respiratory system. A change in air pressure during the time you are going up or coming down (more often the latter) can cause an infection of the middle ear if the Eustachian tube is blocked.

What if something gets into the ear by accident? It will make a difference what that something is as to how it should be removed. If water is used to wash out a bean or pea, the bit of vegetable may swell and be impossible to remove without hurting the ear canal. If an insect gets into the ear, it may have to be drowned with oil or water to keep it from clinging to and tearing the walls of the ear canal or ear drum.

Certainly much damage has been done to ears and the hearing by clumsy attempts to remove foreign bodies. In some cases a small piece of gravel or a wooden splinter has been driven through the ear drum into the middle ear, to set up trouble there. The doctor's "know-how" means that the foreign object will be removed as painlessly as possible and with a minimum of harm to the ear.

In the South, where swimmers go into warm waters, fungus infections of the ear are common. Some medical experts have recommended that ear plugs of cotton, rubber, or other material be used to stop up the ears. This precaution also might save the diver from hurting the ear drum if he hits the water in such a way as to build too suddenly the pressure on the outside of the drum.

Swimmers need to learn the correct way to breathe—that is, to breathe out while the face is in water, waiting to breathe in until the face emerges. The right breathing method means that germs from the throat or possibly in the water itself will not spread to the middle ear.

It is recognized that too much noise can be a source of ear trouble. Three methods for controlling noise in industry have been tried: (1) controlling noise at its source (insulating noisy areas, using noiseless machines such as "silent" typewriters), (2) changing the worker who is known to be especially sensitive to noise to a job in less noisy surroundings, and (3) reducing noise at the ear of the worker by ear plugs.

If you are bothered to the point of sleeplessness by noises at night in your neighborhood, your best and least expensive bet perhaps would be to stop up your ears with cotton or rubber plugs.

Ag Classes Attend John Deere Day

Those who attended were: Marvin and Bobby Pendergrass, Bobby Spears, Bobby Goldsmith, Jimmy Don Moss, Kenneth Reid, Allen Lockhart, Jerry Johnson, Melvin Bakkerud, W. E. Harvey, Marvin Walton, Howard Leavell, Leon and Lester McDaniel, Ronald Hutson, Rodney Powell, Allen Kelly, and Carl Schmitt, sponsor of the group.

Workers in glass never have any waste. Anything that turns out wrong is called an ash tray.

PLANES PLUG MOD

A new and novel means of pre-campaign building for the Texas March of Dimes was used by the recent All Texas Tour.

The tour which covered 43 Texas cities and towns emphasized the March of Dimes by speeches on the scene, by large notices painted on the planes, by arm-bands worn by the 40 persons who participated in the event and by literature distributed.

PLAN SCHOLARSHIP

Texas Tech's Home Economics Club has set up a $500 scholarship for a foreign student to study home economics at Tech.

Nancy Crosby, president of the Club, has announced that the club will go another $500 to help the student meet expenses. The project is to promote home economics outside the United States.

Valentines Pet Parade Was Onstage Tuesday

Valentine's pet parade was presented at Farwell school auditorium Tuesday at 12:30 noon, W. M. Roberts, high school principal, announces.

According to the publicity release by Southern School assemblies, the show features seven Australian cockatoos, "whose tremendous accomplishments of performance will have you amazed and astounded." The Valentines and their birds have been featured on television networks including Toast of the Town, Big Top, Super Circus, Hollywood Jr. Circus, Courtesy House and others.

Performers in this program are white sulphur-crested Australian cockatoos, very rare in the United States, and Sacred Doves of India. The cockatoos are about 20 inches tall, pure white, with a sulphur-colored crest about five inches high. The birds frequently live to be one hundred years old.

Grandpa Joe, veteran of the troupe, is over ninety years old and is still peppy and clever, the release says. He answers a toy telephone, shoots a cannon, shakes hands and does acrobatic tricks. Blondie eats with a fork and works on a set of parallel bars. Red does ladder work and climbs a cross and Queenie does back-flips on parallel bars.

Clifford plays musical chimes with his beak, and Jumbo waltzes, pushes a go-cart, and performs on bars. Jimmy counts, adds, subtracts, divides and multiplies by ringing a large bell with his foot, the release concludes.

If you want to keep a lemon indefinitely, marry him.

Public Schools Week Set For March 1-7

March 1-7 has been set as Public Schools Week in Texas. Slogan for the week will be, "Texas Public Schools—Democracy in Action."

Its objective is to acquaint all the people with programs and accomplishments of our public educational system.

Jack Williams, local superintendent, says the Farwell school will observe the special week, but complete details will not be released until later. The public will be notified of the days the administration would like for them to visit the school.

Also, special days will be designated when school patrons will be invited to eat in the lunchroom.

"We do plan to have the dedication of the new school during the week if the speaker is available during that time," Williams adds.

Thought for the week, according to a publicity release received here, is: "Our forefathers in their wisdom, recognizing the importance of education in the function and operation of a democracy established the public school to make education available to all. As the years passed our laws were strengthened to make sure that all children of a school age shared in this opportunity for public education. Today the importance of education is not a debatable subject. Our job is to see that children of this generation get the best possible education we can give them. By visiting the schools and familiarizing ourselves with the problems of teachers and students we can be in a more competent position to safeguard and advance the institution that is so American—the public school."

Second Year Girls Making Clothing

Home Economic girls in Texico seem to have the "blues" this semester. We don't mean to say that they're "down in the dumps," but it seems that half of the class have selected some shade of blue for their dresses this year in Clothing II.

Following are the girls and their selection of materials: Wanda Griffin has chosen a light blue shadow check cotton; Patricia Hatcher is making her dress out of purple embossed cotton; Kathryn Curd has selected a navy blue butcher-linen dress with a bolero fashioned of the same material.

Jeanine Donahey is making a black faille duster; Madge Richardson's will be a blue cotton sport dress; Naomi Hapke is also making an active sport's dress and it will feature a white pique bolero; Bobbye Richardson has selected a gay yellow denim and she is trimming it in white pique bolero; Bobbye Richardson has selected a gay yellow denim and she is trimming it in white pique too; and Shirley Stover is also making a navy butcher linen for her clothing project.

Mrs. Jimmie Allman, teacher of the group, states that the girls will model their dresses at a later date before a meeting of the Home Economics Club.

PLAN SCHOLARSHIP

Texas Tech's Home Economics Club has set up a $500 scholarship for a foreign student to study home economics at Tech.

Nancy Crosby, president of the club, has announced that the club will go another $500 to help the student meet expenses. The project is to promote home economics outside the United States.

February 22-26 Set For Lectures Series

ABILENE—February 22-26 have been set as dates for the 34th annual Abilene Christian College Bible Lectureship, it has been announced by Don H. Morris, ACC president.

John D. Thomas, associate professor of Bible at ACC, has been named lectureship director.

Thomas is a 1943 ACC graduate. He received his M. A. degree from Southern Methodist University in 1944 and has done four years residence work toward his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago, lacking the examination and thesis for the degree.

He joined ACC faculty in 1949. Thomas is the regular preacher for the Aspermont church of Christ.

And Thomas anticipates 6,000 to 7,000 persons to attend the 1953 lectures. Last year over 4,000 attended the 33rd annual lectureship.

The theme of the lectures will be "The Church at Work." Reports of evangelistic work done by members of the church in various mission fields will be presented during the lectureship week.

Two new features have been added to the lectureship agenda. They are a series of classes on 19 practical aspects of the work of the church and a series of panel discussions. Both new features will revolve around the theme.

The lectures will be held simultaneously in three auditoriums. Sewell Auditorium, College church of Christ and Bennett Gymnasium will be used. Each of the nine speakers will give his address twice so audiences will have an opportunity to hear all the lectures.

Lecturship will open with the Sunday morning, February 22, service in the College church of Christ at 10:30 o'clock, and conclude with the evening lectures on Thursday, February 26.

This Happened Every 22 Seconds

That's a new telephone being hooked up!

And it happened 335,500 times during 1952 in the seven states and the part of Texas we serve. That means a new telephone was installed every 22 seconds of every working day.

Every day is moving day...

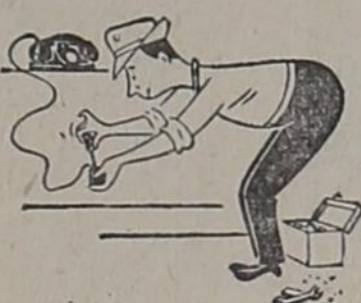

People are always moving—across the street, the state or the nation. And because they do, we install an average of four telephones to gain one in the total number in service. Despite this fact, our total telephone gain in 1952 was 91,500.

Our Rocky Mountain West is adding telephones faster than the nation...

Last year the number of telephones in this region increased 7 per cent. The gain for the entire nation was 5 per cent.

The fast growth in the vast area of the mountain states makes more difficult our job of expanding and improving telephone service. But our 1952 record and our $71 million construction program for this year are evidence that we are doing our part to keep the West growing.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

We are travellers on the way. We want to arrive. We want good directions; we have not been this way before; we shall go on the path but once. How important, then, that we follow the right directions! Serious men have been crying through the centuries, "Which way shall I take?" Here is a man who has found it. Listen, look, read, with Him.

It's an old guide book and a good one. Its commands come with the authority of Heaven to earth, of God to man, of eternity to time. Centuries of human experience have declared them right. Your own soul recognizes their right to control. Be quiet and know the good and the true and the right. Hear the challenge!

Thou shalt worship! Our neighbors and family command, "Thou shalt work"; more important still is the ancient and imperious word, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God." Thou shalt keep the Sabbath! Be sure that you hold something sacred; some place, some time, some Person. Else all life becomes common, that is, secular or vulgar. Thou shalt honor! Whom shall we honor? Answer: the people nearest and dearest to you, the everyday folks with whom you live, and to whom you owe so much. Thou shalt not murder! But also, "Thou shalt not hate thy brother." Thou shalt not commit adultery! But also, "Thou shalt not lust," since the evil desire comes first. Thou shalt not steal! But also, thou shalt not covet or desire what belongs to another.

Aren't you glad for these clear clarion calls to conscience? Have you come to the place where you change the wording and say, "I must?" I must worship; I must keep holy days; I must honor my parents; I must be clean of thought and purpose. Change the second person to the first; "thou" to "I". God's commandments become my commandments, God's way becomes my way... "it says right here."

Three Basketball Games Played Monday

There were three basketball games played at Bovina Monday night to close out the regular season. The games were with Texico. They were scheduled for last week and were postponed because of the bad weather.

In the opening game, the Bovina B team boys defeated the Texico boys by a 34-28 score. Calaway of Bovina and Goldsmith of Texico tied for scoring honors with 12 points each. Smith of Bovina counted for 11 and Kelly of Texico scored 10.

Both of the senior games were thrillers with close scores all the way and the outcome uncertain until the final whistle sounded. The Texico girls won their game by two points 45-43. Bovina had led until the fourth period. They were leading 16-15 at the end of the first quarter. They had built their lead to five points by half time with a 30-25 score. Texico had cut the lead to two points, 37-35, as the final quarter began. Texico pulled ahead and led by two points with a little over two minutes remaining. They began to freeze the ball and they kept control until just a few seconds before the game ended. Bovina got control of the ball and Bradshaw of Bovina shot a goal just as the buzzer sounded. The shot was good and the crowd went wild thinking it was a tie. The referee had signaled a foul though, before the shot was made and it didn't count. She had only one shot and failed to make it, so the game ended 45-43.

McDaniel of Texico was top scorer with 25 points while Young of Bovina counted for 24.

The boys game was another thriller with Bovina winning 58-52. They had trailed during the first half, but never by a large margin. The first quarter score was 16-13 and the half time score was 26-24 with Texico leading. They had reached a 39-39 stalemate at the close of the third period. It was not until the last three minutes that Bovina pulled out in front.

Arly Crooks of Texico led in the scoring with 21 points with Pounds leading the Bovina scoring with 19 points.

When these same teams met at Texico at the beginning of the season, the Bovina girls won and the Texico boys won, so they each had a little revenge.

The Bovina teams will close their season this weekend when they take part in the District Tournament at Vega. The girls will play their first game on Thursday at 4:30 when they meet Lazbuddy and the boys play their first game that night at 9:15 when they will play Farwell.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Baten over the weekend were her parents of Borger.

BOVINA SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Willoughby said on Monday that several students were absent from school suffering from carletina. He asked that parents keep their children home from school if they are running a temperature in the mornings to try and cut down on the spread of the disease.

Plans are being made for the annual eighth grade banquet. It will be held on Friday night, Feb. 27th in the Homemaking room at the school. The eighth grade students will have as their guests, their parents. Miss Simpson is in charge of the arrangements.

The Bovina High School boys will play baseball again this spring. Schools that will be in this district include Bovina, Lazbuddy, Adrian and Hart. A schedule has not been arranged as yet.

Mr. Willoughby said the first of the week that the trophies had arrived for the junior tournament. The tournament will start on March 3rd and is being sponsored by the Bovina Student Council.

The Bovina band went to Hereford on Monday night to attend a concert presented by the West Texas State College Band. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Baten accompanied the band to Hereford.

All of the Bovina teachers attended the County Teachers meeting on Tuesday night at Lazbuddy. Delegates were elected for the state convention to be held in Amarillo on March 13.

FFA-FHA Plan Gala Tour of San Antonio

The FFA boys and the FHA girls will leave on Thursday, Feb. 26 for their trip to San Antonio. They will return to Bovina on Sunday.

Mrs. Norene Young and Mrs. J. T. Jones will accompany the girls.

The girls plan to visit the Judson Candy Co. and historical points, on Friday. Included in the historical tour will be the oldest church, several missions, including the Alamo, and the Old Spanish Governor's Mansion. They will also visit Joske's Department Store. Friday afternoon, they will make a tour of the Rio Vista Dairies, one of the best in the nation. Friday night, they will have a Mexican supper and enjoy a swim at an indoor pool.

Saturday morning, they are going to visit Breckenridge Park, including the zoo and sunken gardens. That afternoon, they will attend the rodeo. Saturday night, they will have a free evening to do what they wish.

A list of the boys to make the trip and plans were not available.

In the meantime, different people will be asked for donations by letter. Bovina Girl Scouts need financial assistance and any contributions will be appreciated by all Girl Scouts and officers.

BOVINA BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will be away from the local church for a ten-day revival with the First Baptist Church, Dawn, Texas. This revival will begin Feb. 27 and will continue through March 8th.

The church voted to have all auxiliary meetings on Wednesday nights one hour before prayer meeting. This will give the counselors a better opportunity to work with the various groups in a more efficient manner.

The district nine convention will be held with the First Baptist Church, Muleshoe, Tuesday Feb. 24th. Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention, of Texas, will be one of the principal speakers.

Last Sunday's attendance report was Sunday School, 137; Morning Worship, 158; Training Union, 69; Evening worship, 127. There were four additions to the church.

The building and finance committees are working on plans for the new building. They are making investigation as to the cost of the actual construction, and soon will be ready to start receiving bids for the construction.

The various organizations and the Sunday School classes are putting on a visitation campaign to try to enlist unsaved people. The Spring Revival is coming soon and everyone is much concerned to try to win at least one soul.

A cordial welcome awaits you at the Bovina Baptist church.

The Band Parents Club met on last Thursday night and made plans to have a concession stand during the junior tournament during March. All of the band suits and equipment that the band has have been paid for in full. Proceeds from the concession will go to buy a band master's suit, school flag for the band and other equipment.

The serving table was centered with a white cake with a circle in small red heart shaped gumdrops holding candles. It was surrounded by Valentines. Refreshments of cake, fruit punch, heart shaped jello with whipped cream and candy were served to Mesdames C. T. Ratliff, R. W. Jaquess, Henry Minter, Leonard Hanna, R. L. Douglas Jr., A. D. Cumpston, A. L. Kerby and the hostess Mrs. Huggins.

Girl Scouts Fete Friona Visitors

Girl Scout Troop II was hostess to the Friona Troop IV for a Valentine Party on Saturday afternoon. The party was held at the Legion Hall. Games were played with each of the patrols playing a game they had prepared.

Pink lemonade, sandwiches, cookies and candy hearts in a basket made by the Bovina girls were served to the guests. Prizes of bubble gum and candy were given.

The girls did all the decorating and preparations for the party. There were ten girls from the Friona troop present. All of the Bovina girls except two also attended. Everyone reported a very nice time.

The school children have started a drive to collect clothing for underprivileged children of the world. The sixth grade has already collected and sent one package of clothing. These clothes were sent to Korea and the sixth grade received a letter thanking them for the clothes. The children who received these clothes had been sent to a camp for six months. They told of the hardships they had undergone, and said they had been eating broom-corn seed for these six months.

The Don Tabors and the John Tabors of Amarillo visited friends and relatives in Bovina over the weekend.

"We think this is a good demonstration of a community being behind the school in its undertakings," the reporter concludes.

Terri and Greg Williams of Clovis spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Rhinehart. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, visited Sunday night and Mrs. Williams remained over Monday to visit her parents.
