NEW POSTMASTER—John D. Zahn is the new postmaster for Farwell. Manager of the county FHA office for the past 16 months, Zahn will take over his new duties on January 24. He succeeds Mrs. Noma Lokey.

John Zahn New Farwell Postmaster

John D. Zahn will take over as postmaster at the Farwell post office January 24, it was announced this week. Zahn succeeds Mrs. Noma Lokey, who is retiring from the position after more than 24 years of service.

The new postmaster is resigning from his present post as manager of the Farmer's Home Administration, effective at the same time, he says. A replacement at the FHA office will be appointed by the state director.

Zahn and his family have lived in Farwell since September, 1956. Prior to that time he lived in Muleshoe and was associated with the FHA offices of Bailey, Deaf Smith and Parmer Counties.

Mrs. Lokey says that she has no definite plans for the future. "I have enjoyed my association with the patrons of Farwell, and wish to thank them for their assistance during the past years," she stated.

All of her service with the postal department has been at the Farwell office.

Suspects Turned Loose

Three persons suspected of having a part in the shooting of an Amarillo service station attendant early Monday morning were arrested between Farwell and Bovina Monday a little after 7 a. m.

Parmer County Sheriff Lovelace made the arrest following a car pickup order issued by the Amarillo Police Department soon after the victim was found at the Amarillo station.

While driving along Highway 60 the sheriff spotted the wanted vehicle parked along side the road. All occupants of the car, two men and a 17-year-old girl, were asleep at the time. The three were taken to Farwell to await the arrival of Amarillo authorities for questioning.

The pickup order was issued after the car was reported seen in the area the night before. After questioning the trio admitted being in the area, where they pawned a radio, but had nothing to do with the shooting.

They were released later in the day after it was decided they were not involved. Lovelace said that the car motor was cold when he found the vehicle and the time element made it improbable that they had any part in the shooting.

The trio was heading toward Roswell where one of them is stationed with the Air Force. The station attendant, who was shot in the head twice, reportedly was recovering, says sheriff.

While we lay in bed, the dark wondering what do next, we could hear our parents' parading through the house, obviously enjoying the chance to be Mama and Daddy. We can't say we learned much from this laboratory session.

Something is grating our nerves lately. We are tired and tired of having people tell us we need to act like the Russians. We hear that the Russians are producing more missiles than we are. We read that Russia is stepping ahead in a number of submarines under the sea. We are Izard in confusion, us for not reading much as the Russians. Well, heck, Americans did it first, we're today in the American.

And the people of the best and we don't know what's wrong with us. We are a crowd of military on the ground. We are a crowd of military on the ground. We are a crowd of military on the ground.

When you answers, it's on the right. When you answers, it's on the right. When you answers, it's on the right.

BULLETIN
Last Two Picked Up At Vaughan

The final two men involved in the Farwell and Friona service station robberies were picked up Wednesday night at Vaughan, N. M., reports Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

Both men, Frank Sena, 21, and Celestiano Jose Guana, 20, have confessed that they were the second and third parties in the county thefts, the sheriff says. They waived extradition and are to be brought to Farwell today (Thursday) to face charges, along with Billy Beeson, who was arrested Tuesday in Clovis. The two men were picked up in Vaughan by New Mexico State Police.

A series of burglaries and armed robberies in this area, including service station hold-ups in Farwell and Friona, were solved late Tuesday afternoon with the arrest of one white man and five Spanish-Americans in Clovis.

The case broke suddenly when a Mexican boy was arrested in connection with a break-in in Clovis, says Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace. After questioning, several other persons were brought into the picture and considerable goods from various robberies were recovered.

Billy Beeson, 27, Clovis, was returned to Farwell late Wednesday afternoon where he was charged with three county robberies. He confessed to the Parmer County hold-ups, as well as ones in Castro and Bailey Counties.

The ones in Parmer County Beeson confessed to having a part in were those of the Smith-Massey Service Station in Friona, Roberson Service Station in Farwell, and the Loren Thompson home in Lariat.

Beeson was known to have had two accomplices in the Friona robbery and one in the Farwell hold-up, but they have not yet been apprehended. Five of the persons arrested are being held in Clovis to face charges for the burglary of a grocery store there Sunday night.

It is not known whether or not any of the five had a part in the Parmer County burglaries, Lovelace says.

Beeson was identified as having taken part in the station robberies by Herman Roberson of Farwell and Jesse and Joe Moreno of Friona, attendants on hand at the time of the hold-ups.

The hold-up in Farwell occurred on December 18 and the one in Friona was the following day. Taken at the Farwell station was $40 and from the all-night Friona station was $175.

Some sport clothes taken from the Thompson home on December 16 were recovered as was a considerable amount of goods from a Dimmitt business. The burglary in Dimmitt occurred last week.

The Clovis officers, along with Sheriff Lovelace unfolded the case Tuesday afternoon. The first big clue was the finding of a pawn ticket on Beeson.

Watkins To Receive Divinity Degree

Southwestern Baptist Seminary, an agency of the Southern Baptist Convention, is the world's largest evangelical seminary for the training of ministers and other religious workers. The present enrollment is 2,005 students—1,277 in the School of Theology, 678 in religious education, and 135 in church music.

Watkins will graduate from Southwestern as the seminary begins its 50th year of service. The seminary was founded in 1908 and in 1958 will observe its Golden Jubilee.

Steers Get Seven All-District Slots

Farwell's third place Steers captured seven places on the All-District 3-A football team recently selected by the coaches. The Steers got the same number of berths as did Morton, the district runner-up. Friona, the champion, received six positions on the 22-man team.

Although the Steers did capture seven places they were filled by only six men. Johnny Lovelace, quarterback, was named to both the offensive and defensive units. The only other player in the district to make both units was Keith Leonhart of Springlake.

Other Steers to make the select team were Derrell Garner, offensive end; Mitchell Walls, offensive guard; Johnny Gulley, defensive tackle; Phillip Berry, linebacker; and Larry Pike, defensive half-back.

Telephone Rate Increase Delayed

Telephone rates in Texico-Farwell will not be raised January 1, it was announced this week by Mountain States Telephone Company. An increase had been sought by the utility company since December 1, and reportedly had been approved by the State Corporation Commission in New Mexico.

However, the phone company received word this week that a hearing on the rate reclassification of five communities in New Mexico will be held late in January, says C. H. Forester, Mountain States manager in Clovis.

The commission stated that the suspension was ordered to permit it to develop more comprehensive information on the rates of the various communities in New Mexico, Forester says.

The New Mexico delay also postponed negotiations with the Farwell City Commission for the raise. The situation is somewhat different in Texas where such a raise has to be approved by the city commission.

The telephone company requested the raise at a Farwell city meeting early in December but it was turned down. The Farwell officials have been awaiting a counter proposal from the telephone representatives.

In New Mexico, Mountain States had filed for rate reclassification of Clovis, Portales, Texico, Socorro, and Carrizozo to correspond with the existing rate structure under the provision of New Mexico law.

According to Forester, the higher rate for all of these communities would have gone into effect on January 1, but the commission suspended the effective date until after the hearing.

"For telephone rate purposes, New Mexico communities are placed in one of six groups, depending upon the number of telephones in the community," Forester says. The number of telephones in the five communities reached a higher limit some time ago.

Therefore, the request called for each community to pay rates equal to other communities in the various size groups, explains the telephone manager. The rates for all groups were established by the commission in 1954.

The present order will permit the commission to review the present rate classification prior to the hearing in Santa Fe, says Forester.

Farwell Mayor Sam Aldridge is out of town this week and could not be contacted for comment. It is presumed that the city will drop the matter until it is brought up again by the telephone company.

Poll Taxes Due Reminds Thompson

Deadline for paying 1957 poll taxes is January 31, reminds Lee Thompson, assessor-collector.

Thompson estimates that poll taxes in the county should reach 2,500 but as of January 1, only 716 had been issued. That figure does not include taxes paid in Friona at the branch office handled by Dan Ethridge.

General elections and at least one special school board election are in offing, Thompson said.

MOD Plans Made

The annual March of Dimes drive will be conducted in Parmer County again this year, reports Raymond Euler of Friona, campaign chairman for the county. Hugh Moseley, county clerk of Farwell, is again serving as county chairman.

Community chairmen will be named this week, and an announcement in this regard will be made next week, Euler indicates.

No large activity is planned this year, but Mother's Marches will probably be held, and coin collectors will be offered merchants for display in their businesses, Euler says.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Don't Forget This Resolution

New Year's resolutions are always made with good intentions, but often fall by the wayside before many days pass. One resolution we'd like to pass along to our Texas-side readers this week is to pay that poll tax.

Receipts cannot be issued later than the 31st of this month, and that deadline will arrive sooner than most people will realize. In the immediate future, we can see a school bond election for patrons of the Farwell School District, and as the year progresses, there will be the usual run of state and national elections, not to mention special issues.

This year, 1958, is one you don't want to miss out on at the polls. Arm yourself with a receipt and get in there to vote!

Accidentally, in passing we would renew our opposition to the Texas tax, which serves little useful purpose except to disqualify good-intentioned but forgetful citizens from

Find the strength for your life.

WORSHIP TOGETHER THIS WEEK

"I have never known a man to have faith in himself," goes an American adage, "unless he first has faith in God."
 It takes such courage to face life . . . greater courage than any of us has alone. It takes such strength to accept success humbly, to overcome setbacks . . . greater strength than any of us has alone.
 And yet the world is full of unclaimed heroes and heroines . . . men and women who have, in the course of their lives, faced seemingly insurmountable obstacles and griefs. Faced them, and conquered them. If they were the kind of people who talked about themselves, they'd tell you . . . "I never could have done it without the help of God."
 The strong Faith they called on to help them can be yours. Build such a Faith for yourself. Make it the firm foundation of your family's security and happiness. Begin this week to worship together at your Church or Synagogue. There you'll find the strength for your life.

MRS. DUANE HERINGTON

Magness-Herington Rites Read Sunday Afternoon

A wedding ceremony with a holiday color scheme united in marriage Miss Phyllis Magness and Duane Herington Sunday, December 29, in the First Baptist Church, Farwell. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magness and Mrs. Vada Smith.

Rev. Jerry Max Poteet, former schoolmate of the couple, read the double ring ceremony before a fan-shaped arrangement of woodwardia palms flanked by seven-branched candelabra with white tapers. White stock and red poinsettias in white wrought-iron vases added a touch of color. On either side of the kneeling bench were arrangements of holly and poinsettias.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Shelby Jobs at the piano. She also accompanied Miss Martha Blair who sang "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," and "Walk Hand in Hand."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz-length gown of lace over satin and tulle. Long sleeves ended in petal points over her hands and the fitted bodice, styled with a bateau neckline, ended in similar points below the waistline.

Edged in Chantilly lace, her waist-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a cap of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and pearls.

Her bridal bouquet, centered with a white orchid surrounded with clusters of frenched carnations and cascades of white stock blossoms and Swiss braid, was carried atop a white Bible. For something old and borrowed she tucked a handkerchief, carried by her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Banks Sr., at her wedding, into the leaves of the Bible.

Her pearl earrings, a gift of the groom, were new and her blue garter was a gift from Mrs. Judy Kay Reed of Odesa, a former classmate. She wore a penny minted in the year of her birth in her shoe for luck.

Miss Susan Harper of Dallas was her cousin's maid of honor. Her ballerina-length gown of deep red velvet was designed with a flared skirt and a boat neckline. She wore a bandeau of matching velvet and carried a stylized cascade of white carnations and red garnet sweetheart roses accented with green holly leaves.

The bridegroom was attended by Joe Hooten of Alamogordo. Ushers were Cary Joe Magness, brother of the bride, and Gerald Hardage, and candlelighters were Neil Anderson and Mike McManigal.

Mrs. Magness wore a blue printed silk suit for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Smith chose a navy blue suit. Both had corsages of pearlized white roses. Grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Hattie Moore of Clovis and Mrs. Banks, wore corsages of white carnations and holly berries.

Reception in Home
The home of the bride's parents was the scene of a reception. The four-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the serving table which was covered with red net over satin. The cake was flanked by solitary red tapers in white cupid candle holders, an arrangement of white stock, red carnations, and holly in a white epergne and the milk glass punch service.

Mrs. Bob Anderson provided music during the reception and Mesdames Cary Joe Magness and Doyle Ford served. Wedding and reception guests were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. Gene Hardage.

A featured arrangement in the reception room was of sweetheart roses and a red taper in an antique candle holder which was used at the wedding of the bride's great grandfather.

Wedding Trip
When she left on a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Mrs. Herington was wearing a red wool suit. The orchid from her bouquet formed her corsage and she had white and lizard accessories.

Upon their return, the couple will live in Farwell where the bridegroom, a veteran of two years with the army, is a senior at Farwell High School. Mrs. Herington is a 1957 graduate of FHS.

Doyle Goldsmiths Make Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Goldsmith are making their home in Mexico, after their holiday marriage in Philadelphia, Miss., on December 18.

The single-ring vows were read at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Durham. She is the former Camilla Jo Durham.

For her wedding, the bride chose a grey suit with a straight skirt and fitted jacket, with black accessories accenting the ensemble. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Attending the couple were her mother and a cousin, Mrs. Ed Durham.

The young couple honeymooned enroute to their home here, from Mississippi.

Mrs. Goldsmith grew up in Mississippi and attended Arlington School there. Her husband attended Farwell Schools.

Randol Children Visit Parents

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Randol were present for a family supper and Christmas tree Christmas Eve at the Randol home. They included Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Roberts of Texico, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robertson and Mrs. Eileen Cantrell and children of Clovis, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Fain and children of Littlefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schreefer and child of Fort Worth.

On Christmas Day the Fain and Robertson families went to Dallas and Amarillo to visit other relatives and the remainder of the group were guests in the Randol home. Visiting Saturday night were Mrs. Leona Osborne of Lynnwood, Calif., and Mrs. Gertrude Davidson of Houston.

Curry Family Has Christmas Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Curry had all their children home for Christmas this year. The group spent Christmas Eve in the Curry home and Christmas Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morgan of Clovis. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Urbach, Sammy, Debra, and Jan of Torrance, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. John Plant, Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Curry and Lynne, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, and Mr. and Mrs. Curry, Ronnie and Lonnie.

and called us after she discovered that we had failed to include sugar in the recipe. She was right—it really needs this important addition.

And speaking of recipes, we're including one this week from Justine Monroe, that is a little unusual. We think some of you might like to try it. Incidentally, we double-checked with Justine to be sure we had written down all the ingredients correctly.

This recipe is for a mayonnaise candy fruit cake. Justine says it stays moist longer than just about any cake she has made. The secret of the cake is the flavor of bits of gum drops mixed into the recipe.

Mayonnaise Candy Fruit Cake
1 cup pecans, chopped
1 cup dates, chopped
1 cup hot water
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sugar
1 cup mayonnaise
2 cups flour
1 cup of gum drops, chopped
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. cloves

Pour 1 cup hot water over dates, then add soda. Let stand 10 minutes. Set aside. Mix sugar and mayonnaise, add to dates, then add other ingredients. Mix well. Bake one hour at 300 degrees. Mrs. Monroe uses an angel cake pan for this particular recipe.

Probably 1958 will be much like the year before, maybe more so. It seems to get more difficult each year to find an extra minute for the things we really enjoy doing.

After talking with others, we know we are no exception. Taking care of responsibilities seems to become more complicated all along for housewives and the working gals, too. Maybe we're in a rut; my husband says we can't say "no"—no matter what the demands on our time happen to be. But this year, we plan to try. When it gets to the point that we're so busy doing things that "have to be done by somebody," that we have no time to do anything we enjoy, maybe we should take stock of our activities.

Our New Year's resolution: Quote: That I can't take it with me. I already know. But I hope I can stretch it until time to go.

Don't forget to pay your poll tax before the deadline. Important decisions will have to be made this year, and if you want your "say-so," better get that name on record as an eligible voter.

And the Grahams just took down the family Christmas tree for the fifth consecutive time—but it's the first time the boys of the family have been so helpful.

Given the go-ahead, they could have done the job themselves with just a few broken ornaments, and banged heads. That happened, anyway.

With appropriate ceremony, we lugged the brittle, shattering tree out to the trash barrel and watched it go up in flames, without a single icicle fluttering around the yard.

But our joy was short-lived. The boys went with Gran'ma to see the new Tribune apprentice, little Kim Magness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Magness.

June and Ted had placed their Christmas tree in the front yard after dismantling it. When Ted went out a little later to burn the tree, it had disappeared. He checked the entire premises—it was gone.

You're right, we found it! The boys brought it home with them. It has been planted and re-planted all over the Graham yard, and we don't think they will let us discard this one.

Texico Woman Burned Wednesday

A Texico woman, Mrs. B. A. Hill, was hospitalized Wednesday afternoon with first and second degree burns over 25 percent of her body, after a flash fire at her home four blocks north of the Texico Fire Station.

Firemen and observers indicated that fumes from gasoline which had been used as a cleaning agent had somehow ignited.

The attending physician reports that the young woman was burned about the head, neck and back, and had some injury from flames in her mouth. Her general condition was good Wednesday afternoon. She is confined in the Clovis hospital.

Two children who also were at the home received only minor burns. Jerry, 4, had three small burns; and Linda, a first grader, had only a burn on one finger.

Ed Combs, member of Texico Fire Department, and a resident of the neighborhood, said the fire had flashed all the way through the house, even through the closets, with heavy damage to the interior.

H. D., AG. AGENTS REVIEW THE YEAR

Agent Predicts Downturn In Outlook on the Farm

"As a whole, not as good as last year" is the way County Agent Joe Jones describes the outlook for the Parmer County farmer. The statement is in the annual narrative report filed recently by the county agent.

Both land owners and tenant farmers are faced with heavy debts, a trend of lowering farm income and rising production costs which, Jones predicts, will force many out of the farming picture if it continues. Lowering of grain sorghum prices this year, poor cotton yield and grades will put many farmers in greater financial straits than was expected.

Too much late watering, excessive use of fertilizers, and an early freeze are cited as the causes for the poor yield and low grades in the cotton crop estimated at 43,000 bales from 42,000 acres. Should the 43,000-bale crop prove to be a reality, it will mean something like a $5,000,000 gross income from cotton. Total cotton acreage ran 43,298. Losses from hail, rain, and wind damage and 612 acres in the soil bank left approximately 42,000.

In 1957 one county-wide and 17 community meetings brought the farmers the benefit of Experiment Station irrigation research. Specialists in most phases of cotton production addressed the meetings. Included were specialists in irrigation, fertilizing, insect control, weed control, and cultural methods. These meetings are a part of a long-range program to encourage cotton production begun about seven years ago by the county agent and Cotton Improvement Association.

More irrigated and dryland was planted to grain sorghum in 1957 than in any previous year and the plan is paying off in higher yields in most instances. With assistance from the agent, several farmers have kept careful records on yields from fertilized land in comparison to the yield from check plots of unfertilized land. The outlook is for a still greater quantity to be used each year.

In 1958 approximately 23,000 wells will water 350,000 acres of land. Such factors as high production costs, lowering prices for farm products, and lowering soil fertility have leveled off the number of wells being put down over the county. The agent feels that in spite of tours of good irrigation set ups, news articles, and feature stories, the farmers as yet don't seem to realize the value of water as they should.

As a result of the weed control program, the County Commissioner's Court and the Texas Highway Department have treated all bindweed on highway rights-of-way, weed control has been added to the teaching plans of the vocational agricultural teachers, and plans for an intensified weed control program for 1958 are under way.

Three of six demonstrators in improvement of house and surroundings achieved their goals in 1957. The agent and the sponsored by the Grain Sorghum Growers Association and the Cotton Improvement Association. The county agent has commended this activity and points out that the contests encourage boys to keep good records and give them a chance for recognition not possible heretofore. Entries totaled 46.

Wheat, one of the major crops on dryland, is taking its place under an irrigation system and allotments. Experiments with fertilizers in both irrigated and dryland wheat have brought about a 25 to 50 percent increase, demonstrators report. The county has about 108,000 acres of wheat allotted for the 1958 crop with several thousand acres seeded for irrigation.

Due to the increase of irrigation and the break in prices of most all animal products, the livestock industry has continued to decrease. Majority of the work done with beef cattle, dairy cattle, and swine was done through 4-H club work and personal contacts. This included demonstrations on grooming and caring for show animals and on performance testing and record keeping as a means of increasing beef production. The agent also arranged a meeting at which a veterinarian explained the Brucellosis program and arranged milk tests for the interested dairymen.

Farmers used more fertilizer in 1957 than in any previous year and the plan is paying off in higher yields in most instances. With assistance from the agent, several farmers have kept careful records on yields from fertilized land in comparison to the yield from check plots of unfertilized land. The outlook is for a still greater quantity to be used each year.

In 1958 approximately 23,000 wells will water 350,000 acres of land. Such factors as high production costs, lowering prices for farm products, and lowering soil fertility have leveled off the number of wells being put down over the county. The agent feels that in spite of tours of good irrigation set ups, news articles, and feature stories, the farmers as yet don't seem to realize the value of water as they should.

As a result of the weed control program, the County Commissioner's Court and the Texas Highway Department have treated all bindweed on highway rights-of-way, weed control has been added to the teaching plans of the vocational agricultural teachers, and plans for an intensified weed control program for 1958 are under way.

Three of six demonstrators in improvement of house and surroundings achieved their goals in 1957. The agent and the home demonstration agent cooperate in assisting the families in landscaping, insect control, increasing safety on the home grounds, and addition of recreation areas.

Organization of a County 4-H council was realized in November. Prior to that time, special committees handled plans for county-wide activities such as camps, dress revues, parties, contests, and achievement shows.

County 4-H clubs total 17, eight boys clubs and nine girls organizations. They assist the County Program Building Committee in planning the Extension Program. Reports on their activities are included with the reports of the adult programs.

Staple, Grade Shown

The average staple length of cotton harvested on the Texas High Plains from the 1957 crop through December 14 is approximately one-inch in length, statistics from the USDA and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., indicate.

Staple length average on that date from more than 800,000 samples classed was 31.7/32 of an inch. Statistics show that 58 percent of the cotton was one inch or longer, 23 percent was 31/32, and only 18 percent 15/16 or shorter.

In grade, 46.4 percent of the cotton was classed as white, 43.3 percent light spotted, and only 9.5 percent as spotted. Tinges amounted to 0.8 percent. Micronaire tests have dropped from the previous average of 4.3 to 3.7 for the cumulative average of the High Plains crop. Approximately 15 percent of the crop falls below 3.0 in micronaire with the remaining 85 percent above 3.0. The largest single division is 40 percent in the 4.0 to 4.9 range.

In the tensile strength tests, figures show the average Presley test for the High Plains crop has dropped to 73,000 pounds per square inch. Approximately 29 percent tests below 70,000 pounds. About 58 percent of the crop falls in the 70,000 to 80,000 pounds division.

County Agent Joe Jones announced this week that he has "about 400" new Farmers' Tax Guides he will be glad to distribute to those who need them. Jones is mailing out some to those he knows will be interested, and invites requests from others.

Soil Management Essential On Farm

Good soil management practices and well adapted cropping systems are the basis for a long continued and prosperous agriculture. Those who depend on the soil for livelihood are likely to become too careless with this main resource, and this can prove costly, warns Jack Barton, extension soil conservation specialist.

The physical condition of soil is of much importance in crop production, says Barton. Physical properties can be controlled by good use of crop residues, crop rotations, green manure and cover crops and barnyard manure. A deep, moderately porous soil should be maintained, rather than one that is too tight and hard to work or the other extreme, too porous.

Organic matter is of prime importance in keeping soil in good physical condition, points out the specialist. It insures a good population of beneficial soil bacteria, aids in water penetration, increases the water-holding capacity of the soil, improves soil structure and adds nitrogen and humus.

Texas soils are likely to be deficient in nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime, so in many instances fertilization is necessary to insure maximum yields. The addition of these essential plant nutrients can result in much higher production. A soil test is helpful in determining the proper amounts that are needed, says Barton.

Crop rotations can play an important role in improving soil productivity, and legume or grass should be included in the rotation program, he says. The legume will add nitrogen to the soil and both the legume and grass can be a good source of organic matter and grazing. Naturally, grazing would take away some of the organic matter, he adds.

Almost every farm operator follows a plan, though sometimes unconscious of the fact, points out Barton. The choice of a good or poor plan is up to the operator. His choice can mean the difference between a profit or loss.

Seed germination is much lower than normal this year.

We now have a crop of Texas Hybrid No. 610 and Texas Hybrid No. 620 which is good in quality and high in germination. This seed was grown in Parmer County.

It will pay you to make some purchase of this better quality seed now.

Also, see us for good planting cottonseed. This commodity also is showing poor germination this year.

1957 Busy Year For Homemakers

Covered in the report released by Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county home demonstration agent, are the activities of the Home Demonstration Council, the 10 HD clubs in the county, and the 4-H clubs.

The council, a demonstration in organization, an advisory committee, and a means of communication between the clubs and the agent, had 10 regular sessions during the year. In addition to routine business the council participated in such activities as the Friona Maize Days celebration, National HD week, numerous 4-H programs, mosquito control, county program building committee, Texas HD Association training meeting, and a county-wide meeting and luncheon.

Work in the mosquito control program and with the 4-H clubs was termed outstanding by the chairman and she recommended that the two activities be continued. Entire expenses of the council were covered by the $350 budget set up by the 1957 recommendations.

Projects in individual clubs included landscaping, work simplification, better breakfasts for the family, frozen foods, clothing storage, and a number of workshops on semi-tailoring.

Bedroom improvement was one of the major demonstration topics for the 4-H clubs. Co-ordinated with the plans of the Program Building committee, the demonstrations were designed to encourage members to arrange bedrooms which meet their needs for health, comfort, and convenience. Five demonstrations along this line were attended by 631 members and leaders.

Considered one of the most valuable was a demonstration on "Organize Your Dresser Storage." A check revealed that 96 out of 156 members had profited by the suggestions offered in the demonstration.

Planned for 1958 are similar activities which will help girls make their rooms more comfortable and attractive.

Another integral part of the 4-H and HD club study was clothing. All phases, storage, selection, construction, and care were covered.

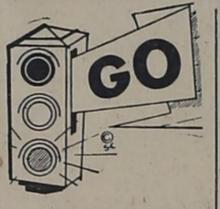

As a result of the 4-H clothing program, three leaders were trained in all phases of the program and taught 46 girls; 11 leaders were trained in clothing construction and taught 47 girls; 47 girls participated in clothing workshops and 30 in the dress revues; 178 garments were made; and 25 girls were assisted with wardrobe planning and 160 girls were taught good grooming.

Goals for the adult clothing program were to help families understand points to consider in providing clothing for children, to help homemakers learn and appreciate professional details of tailored garments, to help club members put in hems correctly, and to improve storage of clothes.

More workshops, including one in "Beginner's Dressmaking," are planned for 1958.

As a result of a study in work simplification 120 adults, 48 leaders and junior 4-H leaders, and one agent report changing practices in their homes. Plans have been made to correlate work simplification principles into next year's programs.

Better breakfasts were emphasized in the foods and nutrition area of the 4-H and HD clubs. Demonstrations were attended by 634 persons and the agent helped families in producing and providing adequate home food supplies and in planning family meals. Members reported 1150 pints of fruit canned, 1525 pints of vegetables

THE PARMER COUNTY IMPLEMENT CO. NEWS

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Wednesday, January, 1958 Friona, Texas

We are sure everyone had a most enjoyable Christmas and are having a Happy New Year. Holidays are lots of fun and we look forward to them, but they are sort of like vacations. Everyone's glad when it is all over and things get back to normal, the decorations are put away, the turkey hash is all gone, and the children are back in school (thank goodness!).

Don't ride on wornout tires. Bring them to the Parmer County Implement Company and trade them for some new Goodyear tires. More people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind.

Company at our house for the weekend was our mother's sister, Mrs. Ray Wilson from Merkel, Texas, and mother's niece, Barbara Wilson, who is a senior at McMurry College in Abilene.

This didn't happen at our house, but it might have: Small boy to his Dad: "Daddy, if Santa brings all our toys, and the Lord provides food and clothing, and the stork brings our babies, why do we need Dads?"

Have you seen the new McCormick Farmall 450? There's no place like your farm to prove the superiority of the Farmall 450 Tractor. As soon as you can, call us or stop at our store and let us arrange a demonstration of the country's greatest 4-5 plow tractor.

Our forefathers went without sugar until the 13th century, without coal until the 14th, without buttered bread until the 15th, without coffee, tea, or soap until the 16th, and there was no pudding to eat until the 18th century; gas, matches, and electricity were developed in the 19th century; and our ancestors did without canned goods until the 20th century and have had automobiles only a few years. Now, what was you were complaining about?

Friona is losing one of its oldest business firms when the Spring Mercantile Store closes its doors. Mr. and Mrs. Spring have, we are sure, donated a carload of candy to youngsters who have visited their store. We shall be sorry to see the store close, but wish Mr. and Mrs. Spring much happiness in their retirement.

The International heavy duty V-8 trucks offer you more of everything you want. More go at the lights. More tons per gallon. More power per payload pound.

You have heard that when you wear out a pair of boots in West Texas you have become a native. Think maybe the Ralph Sheltons will qualify soon. They visited in Green ville, that's East Texas, during the holidays and didn't enjoy the rain and mud at all. Other Friona folks in Greenville for the holidays were the John J Rays, the Clyde Weatherle and Jay Perryman.

You probably plan to buy stalk shredder soon. Have you seen the ones the Parmer County Implement Company sells? We have Servis International stalk shredders.

Mr. Jim Shaffer is home again. At least in Friona again. He will be at Parmer County Community Hospital for awhile, but is happy to be that near home. Mr. Shaffer, who says he never thought he'd be able to be still for thirty days, (but was) is able to walk about some with the help of a couple of crutches. Mr. Shaffer was injured in a car wreck near Perryton several weeks ago and was hospitalized at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo until Saturday.

Better lunches and suppers will be stressed in the next year's program.

Winner of the Parmer County 4-H Bake Show in August participated in the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo.

Community development problems have been increased as a result of the consolidation of many rural schools. The County Extension Program Planning committee has tackled two of them, county and community recreation and community organizations.

Two communities have been organized in the past year.

The Black Community has placed second in the Rural Neighborhood contest for two years and the Hub Community has built a community house since its organization. Monthly meetings and parties for the children have become popular.

Organization of the Rhea Community has been completed and tentative plans for a community house are underway. Interest in organizing the Lakeview community is high.

Forty-seven adults and 4-H members attended the Recreation School conducted in the spring by Miss Lucille Moore. Persons who attended have directed recreation at numerous affairs including community and county-wide parties and county-wide 4-H camps.

Agents Jones and Waincott feel that the program of developing recreational leaders will some day help in developing more interest in communities and maybe more communities will be organized. They also cite the annual Lazbuddie School Fair where 4-H, FFA, and FHA members exhibit livestock, field crops, vegetables, baking, canning, and sewing as a great aid in developing community spirit.

High Plains Farm and Home wishes everyone a happy and prosperous New Year!

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

On the threshold of 1958, as we peer into the future and think about things that are to come, what do you, our readers, think will be the most revolutionary development in American farming in the future—say, the next five years?

Will it be linked to the atom, and take the form of new, almost undreamed-of varieties of plants that can be achieved with controlled radiation? Will it be the perfection of the "laboratory" farm where food is produced economically under precisely controlled conditions in test tubes? Will America take to the "algae food" that offers such startling possibilities volume-wise? Our idea of the major breakthrough in the scientific advance of American farming will be in the field of de-salting seawater. For centuries, this has been a dream of man, and today, he is coming close to making it a practical reality.

The fact is, turning salt water to fresh has been done for many years, but only on a very small scale. Most large ships carry refining facilities to convert salt water into fresh, and during the war, de-salting units were reduced to the size of a small radio for use in life rafts and what-not.

However, large-scale production of fresh water at a cost that is comparable to pumping it from wells or bringing it from the mountains has not yet been achieved. Claims have been made recently that the cost for producing fresh water from the sea has been lowered to about 17 cents a thousand gallons.

That rate, if true, would make converted seawater a good buy for many cities, which now pay up around 25 cents a thousand for water. Of course, domestic users will always be able to pay a "high" price for water they drink, bathe in, and even wash their cars and raise their lawns with, because they buy in terms of thousands instead of millions or billions of gallons.

But for agricultural purposes, 17 cents is still too high, unless the water is used in very specialized cases where returns are much above average.

When converting salt water to fresh has reached an economical level—say about five cents a thousand gallons—consider for a moment the effect this development will have on America's farming outlook.

Millions upon millions of acres of land lie idle in the extreme southwestern part of our country, that could be made fantastically productive with water. This water is not available underground in most cases. It is not available from streams in many others.

Sometimes, water is available underneath the earth, but it is brackish or just plain salty. At other times, fresh water reserves are limited, and make development a short-sighted affair.

Much of this land we speak of has a year-round growing climate, which would make it suitable for the production of anything imaginable. This land lies close enough to the Gulf of Mexico on the east and the Pacific Ocean on the west so that water, if available at an economical rate, could be transported by pipelines and would convert waste lands into veritable gardens.

A dream? Well, hardly. The solar still, which uses the energy of the sun to convert salt water into fresh, is bordering on practicality at the moment, and that part of the Southwest certainly has the sunshine for a cheap source of power.

Scientists now predict that when scaling is conquered—and it will be—there will be some tremendous developments in this field. (The scaling we speak of is the residue that is left after water evaporates. Look inside your wife's teakettle for an idea.)

Nobody knows what the future holds for farming, but we suspect that de-salting seawater has good possibilities of being America's next major breakthrough on the scientific front of agriculture.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

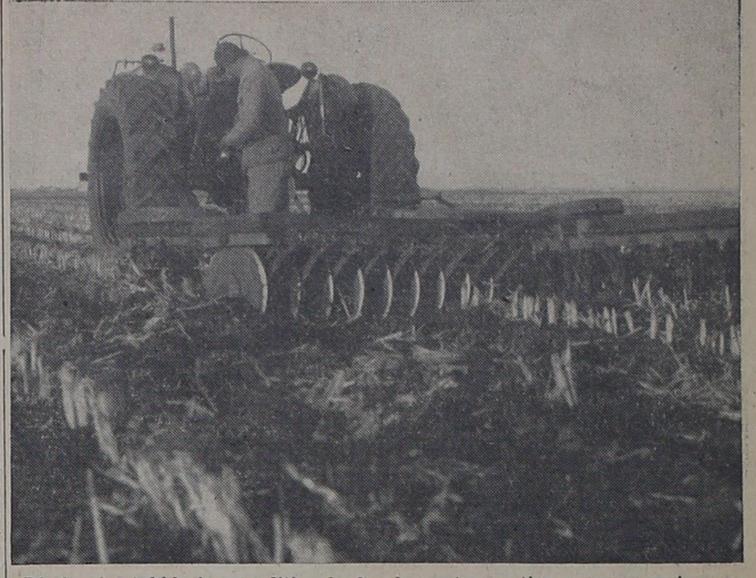

Farm Bureau Directors will meet in regular session at the Farm Bureau Office Monday night about 8. Anyone interested in agricultural matters is cordially invited to attend any of these meetings, which are always open to the public. You may have a suggestion that would help your directors in their service to you in the coming months. President Kaltwasser and the other directors jointly welcome your attendance.

Vice President Jack Patterson, asks us to mention again the draft authorization cards you received. If you see fit, you can help cut down on expense of operation of the local Farm Bureau by signing and sending the card in. And whether you sign it or not, your directors would appreciate your suggestions for improving the service program of Farm Bureau. You may write them on the back of the card and send it in and be assured of consideration of your suggestion.

It is our considered opinion that this bird, called a professor, down at A&M College who has decided that man's ancestor is a brown seaweed ought to be in the nut house instead of teaching in a state financed institute of higher learning. How that deduction rated front page headlines escapes our imagination.

Congressman Walter Rogers is taking a most important step toward correcting a bad situation in America by proposing legislation endowing our elected representatives with the power to veto decisions of the supreme court if they see fit. In cases involving alleged Communistic activities, every decision of the court has favored the accused for the past several years. This cannot be exactly a normal, unprejudiced situation, considering the integrity of some of the investigators presenting the evidence in most of the cases. We think Congressman Rogers should be commended and supported in this move in the interest of the future of our American heritage.

It appears that farmers are going to have to be on guard in the coming session of congress if they expect to come

1957 per capita consumption, however, will still be well above average figures. He credits the rise in beef consumption to a number of factors but chief among them is the favorable competitive position beef has been holding in comparison with other red meats. To further emphasize this point, Snyder says consumers ate more beef in 1956 than all other red meats combined, about 51 percent of the 163.5 pounds consumed per capita was beef. This total figure was also a record.

Promotion and advertising are also cited by the specialist as factors in the increase. Special attention has been called to the nutritive and economical values of the lower priced cuts with beef organizations playing a big part in this promotion.

Beef Producers Have Better Outlook

Beef producers in Texas and the nation have seen consumer demand for their products steadily increase for the past several years. Roy W. Snyder, extension meats specialist, says beef consumption on a per capita basis in the United States reached a peak of 83.5 pounds in 1956.

He says the figure is expected to be only slightly smaller in 1957 with the decrease due to reduced beef slaughtering. The

"What the heck?" is the most frequently heard comment from folks when they first spot this odd-looking contraption southeast of Bovina on the edge of Running Water Draw. A government project, the strange-looking house encloses special equipment used in supplying navigational information to aircraft flying in the area. Its oval shape gives it the appearance of a bomb shelter.

28 New Businesses In Parmer County During Past 2 Yrs.

"There are 28 more business concerns in Parmer County today than there were two years ago," says Wayne A. Clark, manager of the Amarillo office of Dun & Bradstreet. Basing his facts upon the figures in the current January, 1958 Reference Book, Clark points out that in 1956, 149 businesses were listed by Dun & Bradstreet; today there are 177 enterprises.

The Reference Book, incidentally, lists only manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and some service companies, such as laundries and gasoline service stations. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. Thus the figure for businesses in Parmer County would actually be higher than the 177 quoted above.

Better than 95 per cent of all commercial transactions in the United States are made on credit terms and the buyer and the seller are brought together by means of credit information.

When the owner of a business or his accountant returns his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, the owner has taken the first step in establishing his responsibility as a seeker of credit, says the company.

The statement becomes a part of the credit report on his business along with a financial analysis, a description of what the business does, and a record of how it pays its bills.

On the basis of the information in the report, a rating is assigned and the businessman is listed in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book. This makes it possible for his suppliers and insurance underwriters, who use the book, to look him up and in this way he is assisted in getting goods and insurance.

In other words, should a manufacturer or wholesaler receive an order for merchandise from a merchant in Parmer County, the listing and the rating of the merchant can be checked in the Reference Book. And it makes no difference where the seller is located. The listing of the Parmer County businessman appears in every issue of the Reference Book in the United States.

A Reference Book listing contains the name of the business and the rating. The rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of the alphabet, indicates financial strength or capital. It is the difference between what the business owes and what it owns. The second symbol, a numeral, reflects a composite of financial stability and payment record.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Applications for the Great Plains Conservation Program are now being taken for interested farmers in Parmer County. For the convenience of interested farmers you may sign up at the Soil Conservation Service Office in the Legion Building in Friona, or the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Office in Farwell. You may also obtain complete information at either of these offices as well as the County Agent's office in Farwell and the Farmers Home Administration office in the County Court House in Farwell.

As most of you have probably already been informed this program is designed to assist those farmers or ranchers who are interested in applying a complete conservation farm plan. This program is not set up to take the place of any existing agriculture program. Other programs may be entered into along with the Great Plains Program as well as being used to supplement it.

For complete information on the Great Plains Program drop in and let's talk it over.

Well, we have just about wound up another crop year in Parmer County. In some instances it has been a hard year financially and we have had to stand by and see a whole year's labor not turn out as well as many of us had hoped it would. We would like to take this opportunity to tell each of you with whom we have worked that we have enjoyed assisting you with your soil and water conservation problems and it is our aim and hope that we can get around to help more of you this coming year than in 1957.

Study Recharge Rates at Station

Research in the storage of ground water has begun at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation. The study of the controlled movement of water into water bearing sands is being conducted by pumping water from an irrigation well into the recharge well, ¼ mile away, adjacent to the east lake at the station. The experiment, which will be continuous for six weeks, is to discover the behavior of recharged water in the underground sands.

Three four-inch wells are located 8, 50, and 100 feet from the recharge well so that observations can be made to get data. Wells ½ and 1½ miles away are being checked to determine any effect the test has on them.

During the first five days of testing, 5,889,000 gallons of water had been pumped into the recharge well. A rise in the water level of 24.61 feet was recorded at the test well 8 feet away, and 20.93 at the well 100 feet from the recharge well. The irrigation well supplying the water showed a draw-down of 21.45 feet during the five-day period while a well 350 feet away showed a drop of only 5.07 feet.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Experts on flower and vegetable gardening advise early planning, so perhaps it would be wise for all of us who plan to do a better job gardening in 1958 to get to work on our plans. Pretty soon we will be getting seed catalogs and other advertising material through the mail.

All of these are interesting to look at and many of the products are very colorful. Before we invest any money in bargain offers from nurseries we know nothing about, it is always wise to investigate. Many times we can secure plants from local sources at the same or lower prices than those quoted in material from far away places.

In addition to saving some money, we can always call on local nursery men for assistance or replacements if they are needed. If you plan to buy any shrubs or other plants, be sure to check the proper date for setting them out in our area.

For those of you who make your own income tax returns, there is a booklet on farm income tax computation available at the County Agent's office in Farwell. Since farmers need to mail their income tax reports early, these should be made in the very near future. If you are a farmer's wife and bookkeeping is part of your job, be sure you have a good record book to begin the new year with.

Keep up with all the farm and home news during 1958 by subscribing to your home-town newspaper!

Farwell, House, Split Two Games

The House Cowboys brought an end to Farwell's five-game winning streak Tuesday night with a 38-30 win over the Steers on the New Mexico team's court. Farwell teams split with the House teams, as Coach R. B. Tucker's girls won their second game of the season, 35-34.

The Steers hit only a small percentage of their shots, both from the field and the free-throw line, and were held to their second lowest point-total of the season.

Farwell had a 10-7 lead after one quarter but tallied only 3 points in the second period to fall behind 17-13 at halftime. House outscored the visiting team in each of the final two periods to ice the game. Johnny Lovelace led the scoring for the Farwell team with 12 points.

In the girls game, House jumped to an 8-4 first period lead, but Farwell outscored the host team by two points in the second, one in the third, and two in the final period for the one-point margin.

Naomi Hubbell topped Farwell scorers with 15 points.

son, according to Lovelace. Pawned in Clovis was a .32 calibre automatic pistol, which proved to be the gun that fired the shell found in the driveway of the station at Friona. Also found was the can of gas which three of the men had bought at the Friona station prior to the hold-up there.

The can was still full. The gasoline can, along with goods from several other robberies were found at a Clovis residence. All of the clothes except for one suit taken at the Thompson home have been recovered.

Also, quite a few items taken from the Dimmitt business were found with the loot.

Dobie Writes on Martin Parmer

The following story about Martin Parmer recently appeared in the Austin American. Parmer was a signer of the Texas declaration of independence and the man for whom this county was named.

History books we have read don't have much to say about Parmer, and it falls to the lot of J. Frank Dobie, the best "stone-turner" the Southwest has ever had, to dig up some interesting facts about this man. Dobie, who often writes with tongue in cheek, had a lot of fun finding out about Parmer, who seems to have been quite a character. Here are some parts of Dobie's article:

OF AN OLD TEXAN AND HIS BEAR DOG

While Virginia-born, Tennessee-whetted Martin Parmer was living 50 miles above the highest county that had been formed in Missouri Territory, he paid $50 for a bear dog. That was a notorious price for any kind of dog in those days, but this bear dog became more notorious.

His name, to the best of my fancy, was Bear Meat.

Parmer was in a game country hunted over by Iowa and Osage Indians. He had desperate fights with them but in time gained such influence over them that he was appointed U. S. Indian agent. This influence was to a considerable extent due to Bear Meat.

There was no market for meat—bear or venison—but Parmer was as "wrathy" to take it as Davy Crockett was. He had no trouble giving it away to the Indians.

One day a warrior called Two Heart—from the fact that he had killed a white man and eaten his heart—came to partake of Parmer's bounty. Parmer knew the history of his guest. He had just roasted half a fat bear by a coal fire and now he told Two Heart to help himself.

After Two Heart had gnawed off and gulped down an enormous bait, he looked up to see Parmer's bear knife drawn on him and got the order to go on eating. He kept on until "it ultimately killed him." I can't say how long "ultimately" took. All anybody can know on this detail is what the Texas historian Henderson Youkum wrote over a hundred years ago, quoting a son of Martin Parmer, who was then dead.

While Parmer was still in the wilderness he was elected colonel of the militia (about the same thing as the national guard). Then, upon Missouri's becoming a state in the Union, he was elected to the Constitutional Convention. Here, while two other members were fighting, he took a hand and, announcing, "I am the Ring-tailed Panther," separated them.

He was elected to the first Missouri Legislature. Next he was elected to the State Senate. Shortly after this, without bothering to notify officials, he pulled out for Texas. He had Bear Meat with him.

He settled in the Nacogdoches region (1825). Settlers did not like the way the Mexican government was running affairs in that district, and "Colonel" Parmer took the lead in raising what is called the Fredonian Rebellion. It was put down, largely through the influence of Stephen F. Austin, and Parmer had to recross the Sabine River into United States territory.

What Martin Parmer did after fleeing from Texas across the Sabine has not come to light. He was back in Texas in 1831 but received orders to recross the Sabine. He did not stay across it. When elected Texas delegates met at Washington-on-the-Brazos, on March 1, 1836 to draft a Declaration of Independence and to form a government, Martin Parmer was among them. There is no flourish to his signature. It looks to have been made by a man not used to writing, but we know from a letter preserved in the "Austin Papers" that he was thoroughly literate.

Martin Parmer died in Jasper County, Texas, on March 2, 1850—on the 14th anniversary of the Declaration of Texas Independence that he had signed.

Anybody who looks at a map of Texas showing county boundaries will be struck with the haphazard shapes of those in the eastern part of the state—the first part settled in—in contrast to the checkerboard arrangement of those, 30 by 30 miles square, to the west. They look like the county maps of Kansas laid off in townships.

In 1876 the Texas Legislature by a single act "created" 54 counties out of lands entirely unsettled out on the Plains. They were surveyed on paper and given names. The lawmakers were hard put to it for names. At that time a man was supposed to have achieved money in order to have a public institution named for him.

One county on the extreme western side of the Texas Panhandle—one county out of the 54—was named Parmer. According to the record, "It was named in honor of Martin Parmer, an eccentric Texan of the olden time, and one of the signers of the Declaration of Texas Independence."

When Bear Meat died, Martin Parmer was not too consumed by regrets to pay the respects he considered due his old hunting companion and fellow-conqueror of so many bears. "Jesus Christ and General Jackson," he said. "I've taken shots at white men

MUSHROOMS

Creation of mushroom soup may be a staple item on the pantry shelf, while fresh mushrooms served as a vegetable may be a new adventure in eating pleasure. Not all markets carry these delicate vegetables in the fresh form, but most do carry the canned item.

Scientists call the mushroom the fruiting body of an edible fungus, but laymen who enjoy eating it attach such names as Shaggy Mane, Ink Cap, and Fairy Ring.

Fresh mushrooms are easy to prepare—wash in cold water, and trim away the stem end. Cook whole or sliced, depending on use.

Canned mushrooms can be substituted for fresh ones in most recipes. Three styles of packs are common: button, slices, and pieces and stems, with the third pack the less expensive one. Select the style that suits the use for greater economy.
