The new School building is ready for occupancy. The Architect, Mr. Berry, has pronounced Mr. Massey's work satisfactory and accepted the contractor's job as being first class.

The building is the pride of the good citizens of Texico, and is a credit to the high ideals in education of her children.

Each room will be occupied Monday, and no doubt, the school will crowd its capacity before the New Year, as the enrollment is about one hundred and eighty, and not yet all in.

Teacher-Parent Association promises an interesting and instructive program next meeting.—Join the Fighting Fourth!

Schools Temporarily Closed.

On account of the scare of Spanish Influenza, which is reported to be prevalent in the surrounding community, both the Texico and Farwell schools closed this past Monday.

There is nothing alarming here at present, but the authorities thought it best to use this means of caution.

All public meetings have been prohibited for the present.—Join the Fighting Fourth!

School Opens Monday, Oct. 14th.

The Texico School will resume work again Monday.

All students be on time, and do not forget to bring your drinking cups. You must comply with the law on this sanitary practice. Please remember this.

"The Purpose of Parent-Teacher's Association."

The Parent-Teacher's Association of Texico, organized in the belief that, to accomplish the best results there must be co-operation to surround the children with that which is best care and interest during the impressionable years of life, which develops good citizens instead of reprobates.

To arouse the community to a sense of its duty and responsibility, and bring it to closer relationship the home and school, that parent and teacher may intelligently and systematically execute the mutual earnest efforts in the education of the child.

We believe this organization worthwhile, for home and school are the two great agencies in education; their aims are identical; neither can work effectively in ignorance of the other. And the child's loyalty to the school is almost invariably a product of home understanding.

We believe that the greatest of all sciences, is that which reveals the means by which children may develop their highest possibilities, and that this is the foundation of good citizenship; of health, civic, and moral betterment, which means a better school, a wiser state and a greater nation.

The following officers were elected at a meeting recently held:

Chairman, Mrs. M. M. Craig.
Vice Chairman, Mrs. W. W. Vinyard.

Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Mary Kays.

HE NEVER PEELED P'TATERS AT HOME.

Th' queerest thing about th' war, as fur as I can see, Is th' way th' mothers carry on, they kind o' tickle me,
Each one has certain notions that her own boy ought to git
Th' best bed in th' barracks an' th' only food that's fit. Leastways that's how it sounds to me when I hear Raymie's Ma
A-shootin' off her troubles from th' trenches in her jaw.
Says she—'twas just this mornin' while she put her hair in comb:
"He never peeled p'taters when he lived with us at home!"

I kind o' guess that Raymie knows th' way she carries on,
A-judgin' from th' letters that he writes since he's been gone.
He tells her all th' funny things a soldier has to be— He told her just th' other day they'd made him a K. P.

Well, she just ranged th' neighborhood a-wanting to discuss
Why soldier boys wuz made to join th' Knights of Pythias.

"An', anyway," she whimpered, with her eyes to heaven's dome:
"He never peeled p'taters when he lived with us at home!"

"He's policeman in th' kitchen!" I explained what K. P. meant,
But she didn't stop to listen—she had other woes to vent.

Then she held aloft a picture, one from "Over There" some place.
'Twuz her boy a-peelin' 'taters with a gas mask on his face.

Folks, I couldn't help a-laughin', though to laugh wuz kind o' mean,
When she thought it was a false face like they wear on Halloween!

"But," says she, "there ain't no tellin'"—once a boy begins to roam—
"He never peeled p'taters when he lived with us at home!"

European Method Of "Gas Cards" Is Suggested.

The note of warning sent out last week by the War Department relative to the increasing needs of the army for motor fuels would seem to destroy any hope of an early abandonment of the "gasless" Sunday, says the New York Herald. The request of Dr. Garfield, Fuel Administrator, to stop Sunday motoring has resulted in an enormous weekly saving of fuel for war uses, but the "gasless" Sunday, nevertheless, is not a complete success. Monday motoring is much heavier than ever before, and the man who is compelled to reach a distant point on Sunday may not travel on that day, but he goes on Saturday and returns on Monday.

There is probably but one real way to conserve gasoline. The "gas card" as employed in Europe, even for ambulances and motor truck use, has worked out well. People will only conserve fuel all the time when they are put on a limited supply. It would not be difficult to ascertain each car owner's requirements and then shave his own estimate of his fuel needs enough to make up a great aggregate saving permanently and at the same time leave to the user an opportunity to conserve for his most essential needs.

Liberty Day.

Saturday, October 12, is the four hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the discovery of America. President Wilson has proclaimed it Liberty Day and requests the citizens of every community in the United States—city, town and countryside—to celebrate the day.

The President, in his proclamation, says:

"Every day the great principles for which we are fighting take fresh hold upon our thought and purposes and make it clearer what we must do to achieve it.

"We now know more certainly than we ever knew before, why free men brought the great Nation and Government we love into existence, because it grows clearer and clearer what supreme service it is to be America's privilege to render to the world." —Join the Fighting Fourth!

Spirit Of American Army Described By Dallas Boy.

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. M. E. Cunningham, 300 East Ninth street, Lieutenant William Cunningham, who has been in France since April, tells of a touching incident which thrilled the soldiers in battle and which today is being repeated on many a battlefield. It reveals the spirit of the American soldier as nothing else could, says Lieutenant Cunningham. It was as follows:

"An American company lay in their positions for days, subjected to every fire, impatiently waiting permission from headquarters to charge the German lines and machine guns that lay before them. They even petitioned their Captain to let them charge without orders. Although he was as impatient as they, he knew that modern warfare is waged along preconceived lines and that all officers must co-ordinate their wills and strength under the higher command. At last one day, while the Americans were under heavy machine gun fire, a dusty, sweating dispatch runner came to the Captain, who was at some distance from the company's position with one of the Lieutenants, bearing the long awaited authority to turn the Yankees loose. The Captain started hurrying to take the news to his boys, but had only gone a short distance when he staggered and pitched forward—a German machine gun—it was a mortal wound—one of the kind that kills instantly. The Captain, by a superhuman effort, raised himself on his elbow and shouted in a cool voice to the Lieutenant: 'Lieutenant, the command is forward: see the boys through. Then he pitched forward again and died, but died with his face toward Germany. And when those boys heard what had happened, they went out of their trenches like wild men, some of them crying like children, all of them hearing the dying words of their Captain, words that seemed to sing in the air over their heads: 'The command is forward.' And the whole civilized world was thrilled that night with the charge they made." —Join the Fighting Fourth!

Send Christmas Gifts Early.

Christmas packages for men serving on naval vessels abroad must reach New York not later than November 15, Secretary Daniels announced on the 20th, in making public regulations governing the sending of such packages for men serving in the naval service both at home and in the war zone.

The regulations provide that packages sent by parcel post must comply with the postal regulations and must be inclosed in substantial boxes with hinged or screw top covers so as to facilitate opening and inspecting.

All boxes sent by express are limited to twenty pounds, should not be more than two cubic feet in volume, be of wood, well strapped and have hinged or screw tops.

No perishable food product other than those in cans or glass jars should be packed.

All packages must be marked with the name and address of the sender, with a notation "Christmas box" and must be forwarded in care of the supply officer, fleet base, twenty-ninth street and third avenue, South Brooklyn, New York.

SOME NICKELS!

A man appeared at the American Exchange National Bank today with a small sackful of money and asked to buy a Liberty Bond. His money was all in Buffalo nickels of 1913. He bought a $50 bond.—Dispatch.

The other day we got a letter asking again that all newspapers conserve paper and in the same mail we got three congressional records and about the same number of bulletins that went into the waste basket before we left the postoffice. As a war measure the congressional record and a few of the useless bulletins should be chloroformed. These represent an enormous cost to the government at this time.—Clovis News.

Now would be a good and opportune time to carry out the idea of the organization formed last spring for the benefit of the Panhandle farmers, in harvesting their crop. It was suggested at that time, that all of the stores and business places close for one or two days each week, and those employed in such places, as well as the proprietors go out and assist in gathering the crop.

The function of this organization at this time would help to solve the harvesting problem, and it seems as if it should be carried out, as the promoters of the same had intended.

James D. Hamlin, one of the organizers, could give one the necessary information.

Standard sized cartons for use of relatives sending Christmas gift packages to soldier in France will be distributed by the American Red Cross, it was announced yesterday by George W. Simmons, manager for the southwestern division of the organization. The cartons will be available at any of the 705 Red Cross Chapters in the division about November 1.

While the War Department wishes each man in the service abroad to receive a Christmas package, it has been forced to rule that no man may receive more than one package, and that one must be of standard size and weight. To prevent the sending of more than one parcel to a soldier abroad official labels have been prepared by the government. The labels now are being distributed to the soldiers, who will mail them to relatives in the United States. The postoffice will not accept a Christmas parcel for delivery abroad unless it bears one of these official labels.

Says Here's Sure Cure For Pneumonia.

Mrs. M. L. Hewitt, of Deming, N. M., sends the Herald a remedy for pneumonia and influenza. Marcus A. Redding, of Los Angeles, she says, declares it has never failed to relieve and cure patients suffering from this disease. Mrs. Hewitt says she has tried it successfully. This simple remedy was discovered 20 years ago.

Saturate a ball of cotton one inch in diameter with spirits of grain alcohol, add three drops of chloroform to each ball of cotton, she writes. Place between the patient's teeth, after first using vaseline on the gums to prevent burning and let the patient inhale fumes in long deep breaths for 15 minutes. Then rest for 15 minutes or more, inhale again—and repeat 20 times. Change the cotton every seven minutes. The result will be that the lungs will relax and expand to their normal condition.

"In 24 hours the patient is out of danger and in 48 hours cured, although weak," says Mrs. Hewitt.—El Paso Herald.

Why Is It?

Why is it, it is often asked that people in small towns can find no better business than prying into other people's business, and then exaggerating the truth in regard to the same. People who pretend to be Christians, who attend church regularly, who, in the sight of their neighbors, are generous and charitable yet who, without the slightest provocation, pick up some little mistakes, or more often at nothing, will so scandalize one as to ruin his or her reputation for life. While they would not steal from them worldly goods, yet they rob him or her of what is more precious than gold—a good reputation. Why can't people practice the christianity that they preach and "do unto others as you would have them do unto you?"—Melrose Messenger.

Cost of Eating Grows 70 Per Cent in Five Years, Says U. S. Bureau.

"For the five year period, Aug. 15, 1913, to Aug. 15, 1918, all food combined showed an increase in price of 70 per cent. All the seventeen articles for which prices have been obtained for five years show increases of 52 per cent and over. Four articles increased over 100 per cent, as follows: Meal, 127 per cent; lard and flour, 106 per cent each, and potatoes, 105 per cent."

The food administration says that "these increases have been greatly overestimated by laying too much emphasis on special cases. Figures show that during the last twelve months there has been an increase in the national food bill per quarter from $2,563,600,904 to $2,693,751,871 or 3 1/2 per cent. While this is the whole nation's expenditure at the wholesale prices and thus closely indicates the national trend, it does not follow that there are no local variations.

Just A Word About Our Band.

The Band has made several public appearances, simply because the public were anxious to hear them.

The instructor tells us that they should not have appeared in public, under eight months or a year of practice. The instruments have not been in the hands of the members more than six weeks of two months. But because the community donated for the purchase of some of the instruments, the members were reluctant in refusing to play when asked. While we consider, under the circumstances, they play very well, yet some expect them to play as an experienced band, not taking into consideration that with but two or three exceptions none of these members knew anything about the instrument or even music, at the time the band was organized.

Instead of making slighting remarks about their efforts, it would be the proper thing to encourage them by praise for what they have done in so short a time.

C. A. Roberson read a very interesting manuscript on our patriotic duty to purchase bonds. The choir, led by S. C. Hunter, sang "The Fight Is On" and "Sound The Battle Cry."

Judge J. D. Hamlin made a splendid patriotic address, which was enjoyed by all.

The sermon, "Should Germany Be Destroyed," by the pastor, J. F. Nix, was well handled.

Rev. L. L. Thurston, S. G. Battenfield and Dr. Nelson, of Fort Worth, who has charge of the War Work in all of the territory west of the Mississippi, assisted in the program.

Everyone sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," in closing.

Save Their Desert For Wounded.

An American Base Hospital, France.—Americans who wonder why sugar regulations should be so strict should have a glimpse of the American girls, women, nurses here, who carry their deserts from the table at the Blue Triangle Huts to wounded men who have recovered sufficiently to crave sweets. Not only that, but from their none too plentiful funds they spend, no one knows how much, for fruits for convalescents.

After a hard day's work among the wounded many of the nurses have frequently tramped down a dusty road to town to get something for their wards. Then gathering the saved sweets, in the Young Women's Christian Association hut, they make fudge.

"You should hear the shout of joy and see the gleeful faces of the men when they get a glimpse of the nurse coming in with a batch of fudge," says the secretary. "Then you would be glad to know your economy at home makes it possible so much joy over here."

Move Clocks Back

On October 27.

will be the time to move the clock back an hour under the federal daylight saving act. Previous announcements that the time might be changed October 1, were in error. The law reads:

"At 2 o'clock, antemeridian, of the last Sunday in March each year (March 37, 1918) the standard time of each zone shall be advanced one hour, and at 2 o'clock antemeridian, of the last Sunday in October in each year (October 27, 1918), the standard time of each zone shall, by the retarding of one hour, be returned to the mean astronomical time of the degree of longitude governing the said zone."

Easy Cooky Making.

Take any of your favorite cooky recipes and make a dough stiff enough to mould into rather a long loaf. Then with a small sharp knife, slice the cookies from the loaf and bake. The cookies will be out of the way in much less time than if rolled out and cut with a cutter.

U. S. Uses Ten Times as Many Autos as Europe.

The number of motor cars in use in Europe is 522,112, according to figures compiled by an Italian expert, as against over 5,000,000 cars in use in America. It is not surprising to find that Great Britain heads the list with 171,607 cars for 1917, our enemy the Hun, coming second with 95,000 cars in 1914, the last year for which statistics are available. France is third on the list, with Italy fourth.

While of interest, these figures will be modified by the war. Generally the returns are for touring cars only, and do not comprise lorries and motorcycles. England's returns are lower for 1917 than they were for 1914.

Most persons, if asked which country had the greatest number of cars per head of population, would reply England, and doubtless would be surprised to find they were wrong. The record is held by the tiny principality of Monaco, with one car for every 95.6 inhabitants. England comes second, with 268.5, while Denmark takes third place with 343.

Hand The Flu a Lemon.

Spanish influenza doesn't like lemons. Lemons are said to be flu foes.

European people, who first suffered flu attacks, resorted to the lemon treatment. Italians took to lemons so readily that the municipal government of Rome has had to come to their aid by squelching the lemon speculators who hoarded these flu foes to boost the price.

Boston instituted the lemon cure when the epidemic hit Massachusetts. Other flu stricken localities have started taking the lemon treatment. Uncounted barrels of hot lemonade have been drunk to drown the flu germs. This has caused a lemon shortage in America.

The lemon crop must be conserved. Don't waste a lemon. Save 'em for the flu fight. If you are not a flu victim, deny yourself that glass of lemonade.

P.S. Spanish flu victims have made liberal use of the onion and many who have recovered from flu attacks have given credit to their frequent eating of onions, raw and uncooked.

Germans Hoped To Retard

Sales Of Liberty Bonds.

Washington, Oct. 6.—One thought concerning the German peace offer that found expression in many quarters tonight was that the Germans in launching their effort just at this time probably hoped to affect the fourth Liberty loan by creating the idea that the end of the war is at hand.

It is believed their effort will have the opposite effect. Officials were confident the American people will even more generously oversubscribe the loan now as one means of convincing the Kaiser they are determined there shall be no peace except a victorious one.

It is asserted that over 15,000 women are now in the fourth Germany zone, where they are being trained to use machine guns.

Modern America.

"Well, son," said a father to his heir the night he came home from his first day at school recently, "what did you learn at school today?"

"Why, I learned ting-a-tang!" "Ting-a-tang? What in the world is that?"

"Why the teacher read us a story about an engineer and when he rang the bell on the engine it went ting-a-tang."

"Oh, yes. Well, did you learn anything else?"

"Yes, I learned how to match pennies."

"Match pennies? What do you mean, son?"

"I put this penny down under my hand and if you put your penny down and if you match me the pennies are yours, and if you don't the pennies are mine."

"I see. Did you win anything today?"

"Yes, I won one penny from a poor, little, red headed, freckle faced boy that didn't have any mamma, and I felt sorry for him and gave it back to him. Have you got a penny, Dad? Want to match me?"

Keep Whistling.

Scotty goes to his work these days limping—and whistling. A bit of a shell tore away the back of his shoulder at Vimy Ridge and when he was out of the hospital again, a machine gun played havoc with his leg as he was going over the top.

Scotty is a naturalized American, but he could not wait for us to get into war, so he enlisted with the Canadians. He is back here now, because they can not use him any longer in the trenches. He will always be a little crooked and he will use a cane all his life.

But Scotty does not whimper. He whistles with debonair nonchalance, "The Campbells Are Coming," as he hobbles down the street. He has had his big moments that some of us will never know, and he has paid a price for them. But Scotty is not doleful. His motto is, "Keep Your Grin Working."

The optimistic theory of life is a pretty good one. Even in the midst of a big world war a man can be far more efficient for his country if he stays cheerful.

So keep whistling.—American Statesman.

CO-OPERATION!

AND WHAT IT MEANS TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXICO-FARWELL

The old old saying is true, "THERE IS STRENGTH IN UNION." Today this is being proven "OVER THERE." OUR armies are co-operating with armies of OTHER NATIONS and there is great strength and force, force sufficient to crush the enemy.

The people of the country and the people of town CAN (if they will co-operate) build a CITY and develop a COUNTRY. In order to do this, the people of both country and town MUST choose a place of vantage, then if they CO-OPERATE, the city's FOUNDATION is laid. RESULTS are bound to follow.

TEXICO-FARWELL is "IDEALLY" located for WHOLESALE as well as RETAIL business. This is shown by the fact that we now have THREE wholesale houses. We also have opportunities for FACTORIES as is shown by the WESTERN TIRE MFG. COMPANY and the CANNON BALL MOTOR COMPANY.

What have YOU done to help build a CITY or even a VILLAGE? Have you KNOCKED everything NEW and good, or have you CO-OPERATED with the BUILDERS and PROMOTERS of your town and country?

THE PEOPLE'S AUTO SUPPLY COMPANY

offers you a CHANCE to SHOW your COLORS. It's plan is the height of co-operation. It's plan brings the country and city together as ONE.

EQUALITY is our watchword. You only get ONE SHARE of stock, no more, no less. That's all ANYONE can get. When you have this share or stock, it entitles you to buy your AUTO SUPPLIES at the JOBBERS' price plus ten per cent.

It's wholesale and retail accessory business with TWO HUNDRED customers guaranteed to start with. DO YOU WANT A SHARE IN THIS?

See R. H. BURGESS, Texico-Farwell

P. S. I want to Buy your Broom Corn.
