Parmer, Curry Counties --

Wheat Prospects 'Looking Good'

The 1979 wheat harvest in Parmer and Curry Counties has just gotten underway, and almost everyone expects a "good year," with yields expected to exceed those of last year.

Recent rains slightly delayed the harvest which usually gets underway around the middle of June. Dryland wheat cutting began last week and the cutting of irrigated fields was expected to be in "full swing" this week.

In the south plains of Texas and Oklahoma wheat harvesting has been in progress since May.

All the local elevators except Golden West in Texico had received their first loads of wheat before this week. Ray Pritchett of the Texico firm said Monday that he expected they would receive their first load of 1979 wheat this Saturday. The elevator had received its first load of barley Monday.

Pritchett said the wheat was still a little too moist to cut, but he expected things to get underway the latter part of this week.

"I think the harvest will be real good," he said. "I've been inspecting some fields and the berries are quite full. I think the yields will be better than last year."

Sherley-Anderson-Pitman of Farwell received its first load of wheat last Thursday. Fred Chandler reported that the wheat was from dryland fields and that they had also received several loads of barley.

"Wheat is testing out at 60 percent moisture and the test weight is 44-46," he continued. Chandler said the figures were "about right" for the two crops. He expects this current harvest to be 40 percent better than last year.

Chandler explained that last year some dryland wheat was not cut and of that which was the yields were only about 15 bushels per acre average. The irrigated fields also had a low average of 50-60 bushels per acre.

Chandler explained that last year some dryland wheat was not cut and of that which was the yields were only about 15 bushels per acre average. The irrigated fields also had a low average of 50-60 bushels per acre.

"Barring no bad weather or other unforeseen difficulty we should have about 60-70 bushels per acre yield for irrigated crops," he said. Chandler said the harvest will probably last another three weeks.

Bill Thigpen of Worley Grain said they received their first load of wheat Friday and that it had a 60 pound test weight and a low moisture content of 10.

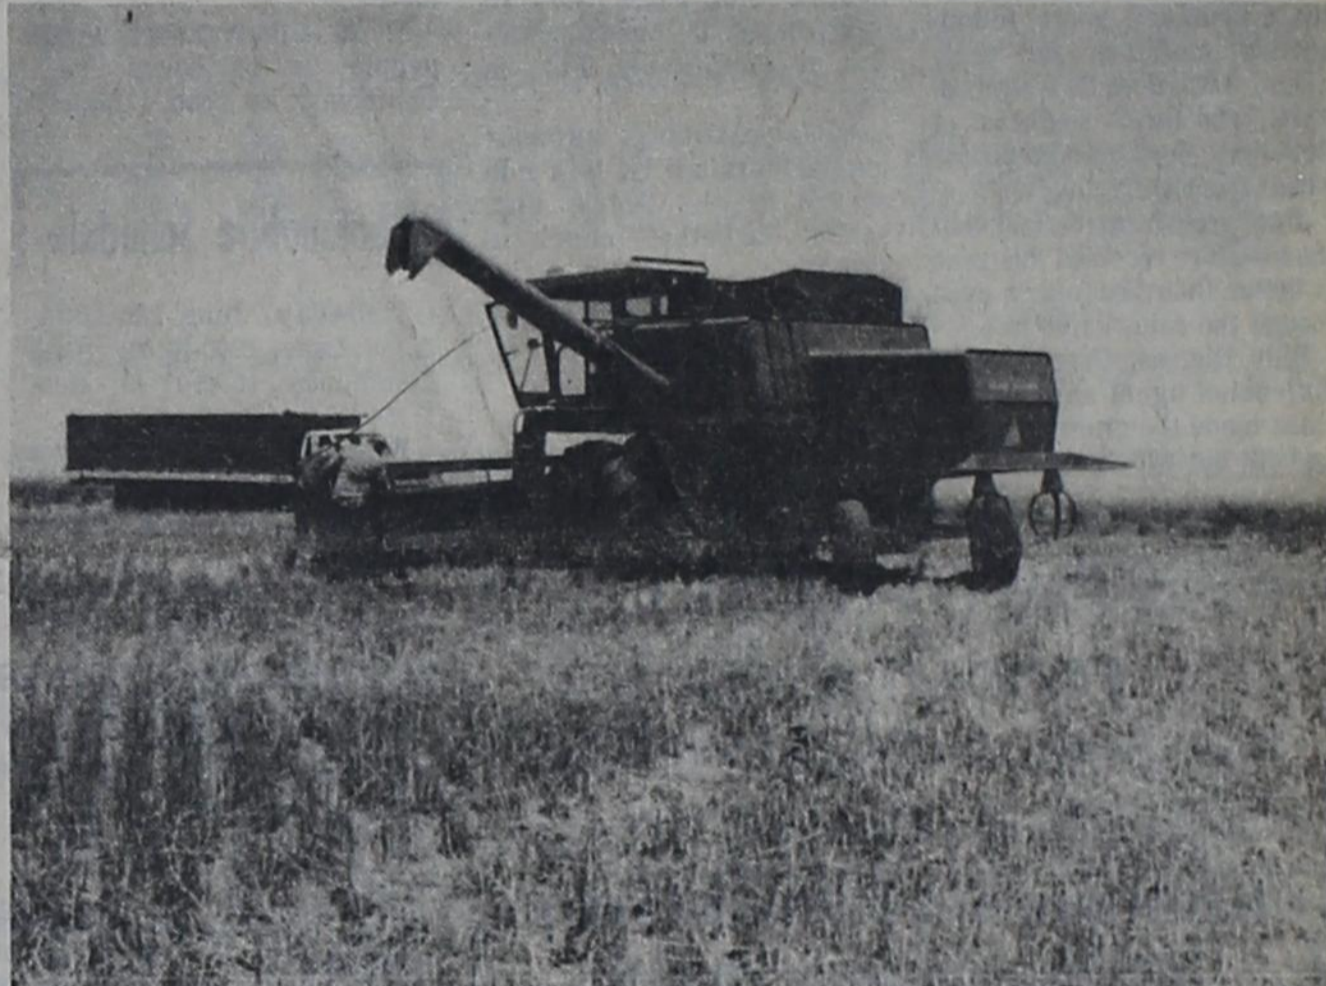

They received their first load of barley June 12. He said they expect "good yields" from the barley fields, but that it is too early to determine the bushels per acre.

Wheat prices, as of Monday, were $3.90 per bushel. At this time last year the price was $2.74 per bushel.

Lonnie McFarland of Sherley-Anderson-Lariat reported that they received their first load of wheat June 12. "It was from dryland and the test weight is running 59 pounds per bushel average," he said, adding that the moisture count for both barley and wheat was

Area farmers are gearing up for the 1979 wheat harvest which is either just underway or about to begin in various parts of Parmer and Curry Counties. Thanks to beneficial rain and a minimum of insect damage, this year's wheat harvest is expected to surpass that of last year. In many areas the barley harvest is also beginning.

What's a person to do when temperatures start soaring and any relief - even temporary - from the relentless onslaught of Ol' Sol would be very welcome indeed. One suggestion might be to take a cool, refreshing dip in Texico's swimming pool which opened

Randy Adrian --

Farwell School Board Hires Football Coach

Randy Adrian, a graduate of Clovis High School and Eastern New Mexico University, has been named to the post of athletic director and head football coach at Farwell High School.

The announcement was made following a called meeting of the school board Monday night.

Adrian was an assistant coach at Memphis, Tx., last year. He and his wife, Tonya, have a two-year-old daughter named Keri.

While at ENMU, Adrian majored in physical education and minored in social studies. His wife is working towards a teaching degree.

Adrian said he decided to become a coach because he has been involved with athletics most of his life. "People involved with athletics have influenced my life and so I decided to become a coach," he said.

Adrian feels that next to academics, athletics is one of the most important things that students benefit from.

"A well-rounded program can teach many things," Adrian said. "All phases of sports will be emphasized because different players do well in different sports," he explained.

The new coach says players can learn many things from an athletic program, including a sense of pride in the school, community and oneself. They can learn to compete in all things to be successful, he pointed out.

"Winning will be stressed because it is important," he said. "A successful winning program can teach players how to be gracious winners," Adrian explained. However, he added that winning would not be placed above other things.

Players can also gain spiritual fulfillment, friendship and discipline through an athletic program, Adrian said.

"Positive thinking will be stressed. Ninety percent of achieving any goal is believing that you can do it," he continued. "A program is successful when players, coaches and fans work together and believe in it."

RANDY ADRIAN

Adrian, who is naturally a sports enthusiast, enjoys all types of sports, especially baseball, in his spare time. He also likes to hunt.

During his high school and college career he achieved many honors. He was named all-district in high school football, basketball and baseball in 1973-74 and all-southwest football in 1973.

To Open Children's Home --

Bo Bartleys Plan Guatemalan Adventure

Missionary Family

Mr. and Mrs. Bo Bartley of Farwell and their children, Renee, 11, and Todd, 10, plan to move to Guatemala in August where they will assist in the founding and management of El Rancho De Los Ninos - a home for orphaned and/or neglected children.

Plans for the home which have been "in the making" for several years is now about to become a reality, thanks to the donation of 330 acres of land by the Guatemala government and the generosity of countless local people.

By Shirley Gorman

El Rancho De Los Ninos, a non-denominational Christian Children's Home located near Flores, Guatemala, is about to become a reality. Mutual cooperation between the Guatemalan government and interested Christians of all faiths in the United States - especially the Farwell area - will one day provide a home for approximately 336 orphaned and/or neglected children.

This humanitarian project has been "on the drawing board" for years, according to Bo Bartley of Farwell, a member of the home's executive board and ranch administrator. Bartley, his wife, Jeanne, and their children, Renee, 11, and Todd, 10, will move to Guatemala this August where they will oversee construction of the first of 14 proposed dormitories which are to house 24 children each. Another son, Tim, who is 17, has not yet decided whether he will accompany his family or remain here and go to college.

Bo and Jeanne Bartley were part of a 1974 First Baptist Church crusade to that country. Since then they and other church volunteers have visited that country three times.

"The need is so great," Bartley said. "We knew that the first time we visited that country and saw the pitiful plight of some of the children. We have been trying ever since to do something about it," he explained.

Bartley and his wife said they witnessed horrors almost beyond belief, including children sleeping under cardboard boxes on the streets, begging, and dying of starvation and neglect.

"We saw one little girl who had been deliberately blinded so she could be a better beggar," they said. "Another time we saw a 12-year-old girl who was taking care of three younger siblings, including a baby. Both parents were dead."

"Some of the children have been on the streets so long that by the time they are 12 or 13 years old they are 'streetwise' and can 'take care' of themselves," Bartley said.

"One woman offered her baby to one of our co-workers," Mrs. Bartley said, "I was shocked."

"The government does not offer any aid or assistance like America does," Bartley said. "We have been trying for years now to get this home organized so that at least some of the children can be taken care of."

El Rancho De Los Ninos has two executive boards, one in this country and one in Guatemala. The purpose of the Guatemala Board is to "keep them involved," Bartley explained.

Several local residents are members of the Executive Board which has recently opened an office in Kelly Green Seed Company in Farwell. They will also publish a newsletter periodically.

Anyone interested in making a donation or seeking additional information about the project should contact that office at 481-3452.

Local board members include Jim Walker, president; Ralph Franse, vice-president; Jerry Monk, secretary; Dr. Cliff Ennen of Las Cruces, N.M., former pastor of the local Baptist church; Wayne Muncie, Dave Martin, Jack Allan Kirkland, accountant; Bartley, administrator; and Sam Cadwaller, C.A. administrator.

"We established this local office because it makes it easier if all the information and material is at one central location," Bartley explained. "Kelly Green donated the space and we have fixed it up into a nice office."

The Bartleys have no qualms about re-locating in Guatemala. "Guatemala is a land of 'manana,'" Bartley said.

Farwell --

City Will Receive Sales Tax Rebates

Texas cities shared $218 million in rebates from the one-percent optional city sales tax during the first six months of this year, State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday in announcing the city's June tax allocations.

This figure compares to $196.4 million that cities received during the same six months during 1978.

Bullock said that June allocations for the more than 900 Texas cities will be $67.7 million, compared to a 1978 statewide allocation of $60.9 million for the month.

Farwell will receive $3,518.30, bringing the city's total 1979 payments to $8,869.08. These figures represent a slight increase from these same periods for last year.

Dallas will get a check for $7.9 million, bringing the city's year-to-date payments to $25.8 million.

Houston's payment for June totals $14.3 million. The city has received $45.8 million in tax rebates for 1979.

San Antonio's rebate for this month will be $3.5 million, bringing that city's 1979 total to $12 million.

Fort Worth's check will be $2.6 million for a yearly total of $8.7 million.

Bullock also announced tax

"Someone needs to be there to get things started and we decided to be the ones."

They will live in Guatemala City at first and Jeanne will teach in the missionary school there.

"Renee and Todd will also attend the missionary school (which is for all English speaking children)," Mrs. Bartley said. "But later after we move to the Children's Home they will take correspondence courses."

At present the home has 300 acres of land donated by the allocations totalling $53.5 million to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. San Antonio will receive MTA tax rebates of $1.6 for June and Houston will receive $12.7 million.

Total payments for the 1979 fiscal year to San Antonio's MTA amount to $11.2 million. Houston has received $42.3 million during the fiscal year.

MTA taxes are collected along with city and state sales tax by merchants and other permit holders in Houston and San Antonio and are rebated monthly by the Comptroller's office along with the optional city sales tax.

PURELY PERSONAL

Superstition plays a big, if unrecognized, part in most folks' lives. Read the following from the Hereford Brand to see how your knowledge in the occult stacks up.

IF YOU SPILL some salt and toss a few grains over your left shoulders, or if you balk at walking under a ladder, you're only one of millions suffering from the ageless affliction known as superstition.

There are many superstitions, and we came across a list that had many which were common to us, but some we'd never heard of.

Most folks know that seven years of bad luck results from breaking a mirror. We always wondered about that one, because the number "seven" is usually considered lucky.

It is bad luck to throw a hat on the bed and, of course, it's bad luck if a black cat crosses your path. If you are going down the street and fall over a stone, you best go back and touch it to avoid misfortune.

To play cards without a table cloth is unlucky. It is bad luck to seat 13 persons at a table, because superstition says one will die within a year. In the past, hotels with more than 12 floors skipped the number 13 when numbering the floors, and usually avoided having any rooms with the number 13. A bed should head to the north for good luck. To carry a hoe into the house is to carry bad luck with it.

It was once thought many years ago that if a child slept with a book under his pillow, he would know the lesson the next day. A strange dog following you either means you will have good luck or your socks need changing! When a cat washes its face, company is coming.

Did you know it's bad luck to count the teeth of an infant child? Or, that you shouldn't play cards with a cross-eyed man? Then there is an old remedy to get rid of a headache - stand the person against a tree and drive a nail just above his head. Everyone knows that you kiss an injury to make it feel better, and a broken shoe lace is a sign of good luck.

If you move the furniture in your living room around at least once a month, you will have good luck (or a hernia?).

And, we're hoping to get a new superstition started. It's good luck to read The State Line Tribune every week.

These could possibly be the three most overworked untruths in the world:

1. My wife doesn't understand me.

2. The check is in the mail.

3. I'm from the government and I'm here to help you.

Here are some things the world really needs:

People who do not borrow from integrity to pay for expediency.

People who are not afraid of risk.

People who have opinions instead of prejudices.

People who are honest in small matters as they are in large ones.

People whose ambitions are large enough to include others.

People who know how to win with grace and lose with dignity.

People who still have the friends they had 20 years ago.

People who are not afraid to go against the grain of popular opinion and who do not believe in "conensus."

People who do not believe that shrewdness, cunning and strength are the three ways to success.

People who do not have a price at which they can be bought.

People who are occasionally wrong and always willing to admit it.

A perversity of nature: When your pet has fallen asleep on your lap and looks utterly content and happy you will have to suddenly go to the bathroom.

Guatemalan government, about $8000 in contributions, and the determination and perseverance of its organizers to see the project through to its conclusion.

The home will be operated similar to Boys Ranch, according to Bartley. Fourteen dormitories are planned with construction to begin on the first one in September. Bartley hopes that it will be completed in about six months, if everything goes well. The dorms will be built one at a time, he said.

When the first dormitory is built the Bartleys will move to El Rancho De Los Ninos. Eventually plans call for 13 other dorms to be built. Approximately 336 children will live at the home. Later they hope to expand the facilities to include even more children. House parents will supervise each dorm.

Besides the dormitories, El Rancho De Los Ninos will also eventually have a central cafeteria, school and clinic.

"It will take time for us to get everything started the way we would like," Bartley said. "But at least this is a beginning."

Several children are already being taken care of for us in Guatemala, Bartley said. "When the first dormitory is built they will be among its first occupants."

Electricity for the project will be provided by "some type of generator," Mrs. Bartley explained. The buildings will be made of rocks and will have thatch roofs.

"The roofs are made from leaves in the jungle, are five to six inches thick and are supposed to last five years," Bartley explained. "As much as possible we are going to try and save on construction costs by utilizing what is already there."

Flores, a town of about 15,000 people, is 11 hours from Guatemala by road - mainly dirt -- and one hour by airplane. The town does have an airport, and a helicopter can be called upon if needed in an emergency.

"We won't be isolated," Bartley said.

Guatemalan people will be hired to construct the buildings for the home. Bartley said they work for between $1.50 and $3 per day.

"It is a very poor country and very backward. There seem to be only the very rich and the very poor, with nothing in between," he said.

Guatemala, which is located in Central America, is a tropical country and has warm, dry and rainy seasons.

"The average national income is $600 a year," Bartley said. "The mortality rate for infants is high. One in every four infants dies."

Once El Rancho De Los Ninos is operating, the Bartleys will be the supervisors or administrators of the establishment. Eventually they hope to have facilities available for visitors to spend time with them on the place and to see what is being done with the contributions, etc.

"The response here has been tremendous," Bartley said. "People of all faiths have contributed to the fund. Fund-raising projects are also underway in Guatemala."

The country is so poor that oftentimes the people clear the land with machetes. Horse and wagons are a common means of transportation. Guatemala City does have a television station, but the rest of the country is not that advanced.

Bartley said the home will be partly self-sufficient in that the children will help to raise some of their own food and take care of the dairy cows. The older children will also help take care of the younger ones.

"They will learn to be responsible. They will have jobs and chores to do. In addition, the children will have vocational training such as woodwork, and the girls will learn about cooking," he explained.

More than half of the six million plus people who live in Guatemala are pure Indian, Bartley said. "Spanish is the major language, but 26 dialects are also spoken," he explained. "Jeanne and I know a little Spanish so we will be able to communicate."

Besides monetary donations Bartley said they also need then, church volunteers have returned three times to work with the people of that country. Current plans call for establishing a home for orphaned and neglected children - El Rancho De Los Ninos - within the next few months. The Bartleys plan to move to Guatemala in August and will live in Guatemala City until the first dormitory is built.

about 11 1/2 percent.

"The wet weather has delayed both the wheat and barley harvest by a few days," McFarland said. "I think we will have an average harvest," he said.

"Yield prospects look excellent," Seth Ralston, Parmer County agent, said. "Better than in past years."

Ralston attributes the bright outlook for the current harvest to several things. First, the wheat received moisture during the grain-filling stage and received beneficial rains in the spring and fall.

"The dryland wheat is better than it has been," he said. The crops also received a minimum of insect damage due to mites etc. and even that has been taken care of now, he said.

Ralston said the harvest would be in full operation the latter part of this week because "the wheat is beginning to mature rapidly."

However, he noted that recent storms did cause some wind and hail damage which would effect the yields slightly.

Generally, Curry County farmers feel that the rain and snow provided some much-needed moisture for their wheat. According to Walter B. Potts, who farms southeast of Bellview, "the rain kept the wheat from shriveling up."

Most area farmers feel that the moisture received this year is better than last year's even though the rains came late.

Billy Dietson, Curry County Extension agent said "these rains made the grain go ahead and fill out which means they will weigh more."

There has been some rust damage in irrigated fields because the thicker the wheat is the worse the rust is. Rust damage in some parts of the county could cut yields by as much as 25 percent, he said.

According to Dietson hail damage was relatively minor and did not cover a wide area. He pointed out that the freeze damage in May was not very helpful even though it was not too severe.

Football Coach . . .

He participated on the south squad in the coaches north-south all-star football game in 1974 and received the Leon Williams award for best all-around athlete at Clovis High School in 1974. He was also president of his senior high school class.

In 1976 Adrian was named the most valuable player of the State Church League Softball Tournament and participated in the 1976 National Church League Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament in Mobile, Ala., and at Jacksonville, Fla., in 1977.

Adrian coached summer league baseball in 1974 and served as the YMCA high school basketball coach in 1976-77.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Parmer County Sheriff's office is investigating the theft of a 30-gallon butane tank from Steel Products. The theft occurred Saturday evening after the auction sale there, Sheriff Charles Lovelace said. Thirty sprinklers were taken from a well house located two miles east of Bovina. The value is estimated at $180.

Sheriff Lovelace also reported that 50 cotton trailer tarps had been taken from the Bovina Gin Company. He said his department also investigated a "false alarm" at Rose Drug Monday night. Apparently a malfunction caused the alarm to go off, he explained.

Fortenberry Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Paul Fortenberry has heard five cases since the last report. All the cases involved 'driving while intoxicated' charges. David Cantu, 21, of Nocona, Tex., was fined $250 plus court costs. Alan Dial Castle, 26, of Amarillo was fined $250 plus court costs and given three days in jail.

Farwell, was fined $250 plus court costs. Emilio C. Sandoval, 38, of Muleshoe, was fined $100 plus court costs and given six months probation. John Allen Salsman, 63, of Lubbock pleaded not guilty and bond was set at $500.

S. Donaldsons Honored On 40th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. STERLING DONALDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Donaldson of the Oklahoma Lane community were recently honored with a surprise Mexican dinner in celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White of Farwell. Hosts and hostesses for the event were the couple's children.

Following the dinner, the Donaldsons' son Larry of Wolforth, Tx., read a poem he had written especially for the occasion depicting a nostalgic view of Sterling and Dorothy's courtship and elopement. A daughter, Mrs. Terry Ellison of Dimmitt, then gave a narrative account of various highlights of their first date, their marriage and early years together.

The children then presented their parents with matching corsage and boutonniere and an original oil painting by Katherine Stephens of Tulsa. Mrs. Stephens, who is a western artist, is an aunt of Donaldson.

Dorothy Harman was a school teacher in the Farwell schools when she met Sterling Donaldson, a farmer in the Oklahoma Lane area. Due to a school board policy prohibiting a teacher from getting married after being hired by the school, they were married secretly in Clovis, June 7, 1939. Wanting to do the right thing, however, Dorothy resigned her position at the school later that summer and their marriage was publicly announced.

Special guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Leon "Ponce" Billingsley of Oklahoma Lane, who were the attendants at the Donaldsons' wedding and who had collaborated in plans for the elopement.

A heart-shaped cake made and decorated by Mrs. Ellison was served, and all present enjoyed viewing old photographs and newspaper clippings of Sterling and Dorothy and their family. Mrs. Ellison played and sang, "The Way We Were," in honor of her parents.

All of the couple's five children except one daughter, Mrs. Rodney Decker of Guyton, Okla., were present for the anniversary celebration.

Present besides the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, Dana and Angie; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Donaldson, Twila, Becky and Holly; Mr.

and Mrs. Larry Donaldson, Joe and Jason; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ellison and Tiffany; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Billingsley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards.

Donaldson has been a farmer near Oklahoma Lane for 40 years. Dorothy, who has taught school at Farwell, Progress, Oklahoma Lane and Bovina, retired in 1975. In addition to their five children they have 10 grandchildren.

The outdoor meeting is to begin at 6 p.m. CDT with a chicken fry and homemade ice Nicholson spoke at the OL Methodist Church about a year ago and was well received by community residents.

Extension Homemakers Schedule Fall Bazaar

Oklahoma Lane Extension Homemakers decided during their June 14 meeting at the home of Reta Dollar to sponsor a bazaar in the fall. Local clubs and organizations will be invited to participate.

In other business the Club voted to donate $100 to the gazebo project for Farwell City Park and to sponsor a queen in the Border Town Days contest.

The state Extension Homemakers Convention will be in Ft. Worth September 25-27.

Members answered roll call by telling what they would do if they had a million dollars.

Refreshments were cookies and lemonade.

Members attending were Mesdames Dollar, Lynn Mahaney, Susan Franse, Angela Mace, Anita Ralston and Nelda Wilhite.

"CAN TWO WALK TOGETHER except they be agreed?" (Amos 3:3). The answer is "no"; two cannot walk together unless they be agreed.

IN ORDER TO WALK with God, we must go his way, because he cannot go our way. We would be disappointed if he did.

SINS AND INIQUITY PREVENT our walking with God, because these separate us from God. (Isa. 59:1-2).

SIN IS THE TRANSGRESSION of God's law. (1 John 3:4). All unrighteousness is sin, (1 John 1:17). Whatsoever is not of faith is sin. (Rom. 14:23). Knowing to do good, and doing it not is sin. (Jas. 4:17). God also gives a list of specific sins which we must avoid if we wish to walk with God. (Gal. 5:19-21).

WE WALK WITH GOD, when we draw near to God. "Submit yourselves therefore to God. XXXX. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. XXXX." (Jas. 4:7-8).

"THIS THEN IS THE MESSAGE which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth." (1 John 1:5-6).

LIFE IN THE CHURCH as faithful baptized believers is the life of walking with God. (Rom. 6:3-4; Acts 2:47).

LEARN TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER AND SAVE!!!

It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time ... an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured — by kilowatt hours (kwh) used.

Your residential electric meter will have either 4 or 5 dials

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as one (1) (see center dial above) then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero (0). However, read it as zero (0) if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read (from left to right): 9-3-1-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

The later reading is 9-3-1-3-8. Subtracting the first reading, 93115, from the new reading of 93138 — the answer is 23. Thus you would have used 23 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period. Each kwh costs approximately five cents.

When you learn to read your electric meter, you will be able to see where your energy dollars go ... then learn to use energy wisely & save!

Caroline Anderson Weds Dr. William Wood Lewis

Caroline Anderson and Dr. William Wood Lewis, both of Dallas, exchanged marriage vows on Friday, June 15, in a double-ring ceremony at Cox Chapel of Highland Park United Methodist Church in Dallas with Rev. Billy Boyd Smith officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Anderson of Farwell and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Lewis of San Antonio.

Forming the wedding setting at the altar was a large bouquet of flowers flanked by greenery with two large candelabras on either side of the floral centerpiece. Enhancing the setting was a large gold cross in back of the altar.

Music was provided by Phil Baker, organist, and Suzan Wynn, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown designed by Milady of ivory pleated chiffon, with a bertha collar and a ruffled border of Brussels lace accented with long fitted sleeves with a flounce of matching lace. She wore a matching lace mantilla and carried a cascade of ivy with gardenias.

Following tradition, the bride wore her wedding gown for something new; something old was a diamond necklace given to her by her parents and she also wore the traditional blue garter. Of especial significance was a ring worn by the bride which had been designed and worn by her late sister, Meredith Anderson. Mrs. Tom Nichols of Farwell, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Carrie Miller of Ruidoso, cousin of the bride, Val Shumate of Dallas and Debbie Olmstead of El Paso.

The bridal attendants wore floor length gowns with sleeveless blouse-out tops and pleated skirts. Mrs. Nichols' dress was mauve; Miss Miller's was lime green; Miss Shumate's was in apricot; and Miss Olmstead's dress was yellow. They carried cascade bouquets of carnations and daisies in colors to match their dresses.

Serving as best man was Russ Howell of Dallas. Groomsmen were Will Anderson, brother of the bride; Linden Dillen of Dallas and Henry Kaim of Houston.

Candlelighters were Scott Martin of Waynesville, Mo., nephew of the bride, and Sidney Miller of Ruidoso, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Bob Scott Martin of Waynesville, Mo., brother of the bride; Carey DeMoss of Dallas and Gary Olmstead of El Paso.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Anderson chose a formal gown of rose chiffon. Mrs. Lewis wore a pink formal gown.

The reception was held at Thornton Alumni Center on the campus of Southern Methodist University. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with fresh cut flowers.

Members of the houseparty were Julie Burchell of Ft. Worth; Rica Anderson of Lazbuddie and Carolyn Martin of Waynesville, Mo.

For a wedding trip the couple traveled to Grand Cayman Island in the West Indies. After July 1 they will be at home in Philadelphia, where Lewis is an intern.

The bride, a 1973 graduate of Farwell High School, attended Southern Methodist University where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority. She also attended Texas Tech and received her bachelor's degree in nursing from Baylor University.

The bridegroom graduated from Southern Methodist University and the University of Texas Southwestern School of Medicine, Dallas.

Champion Golfer

Carol Vinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Vinton of Farwell, proudly displays the first place trophy she won last week after taking the Women's West Texas Golf Championship title at the Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock. To win the trophy, Miss Vinton beat out Judy Casey of Abilene, a veteran golfer who won this same championship in 1973.

Carol Vinton --

Local Golfer Captures Women's Championship

Carol Vinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Vinton of Farwell, has won the 1979 Women's West Texas Golf Championship played at the Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock.

To claim the victory, Miss Vinton birdied the 11th hole Friday and posted a 2-up victory over Judy Casey of Abilene. The two golfers had fought to a standstill through 10 holes before Miss Vinton carded the decisive birdie at 11. At the 15th Mrs. Casey fell another point behind with a bogey.

Mrs. Casey captured the 17th with a par, but lost out at the 18th with a bogey.

On the 18th, both golfers reached the front of the green in two, but Miss Vinton gained her par by pushing her first putt to within three feet of the cup.

Mrs. Casey, a veteran golfer, won this event in 1973. She led all qualifiers with her even-par 75 last Monday.

In qualifying, Miss Vinton shot a "disappointing" 81, but gained the finals by battling past June Johnson of Odessa (7-6), Donna Avery of Amarillo (2-1) and Kathleen Oswald of Lubbock (6-4).

The Farwell golfer shot three under par against Oswald through the 14 holes played. During Friday's finals she carded a solid one-under-par medal round.

Following the impressive victory, Miss Vinton, a former high school state Class A medalist, said, "It is terrific. I really feel good."

"I've been playing real well. I wasn't sure I could win it, but I knew I could give it a good run."

"The championship match was the toughest for me," Miss Vinton continued, "because it seemed to me to have more pressure. I was really excited to be in the finals against Mrs. Casey. I knew she was a tough competitor and a good person all-around."

"I learned to keep calm, hang in there, never give up. That's how she plays," she continued.

Miss Vinton has just completed her junior college golf career at Temple Junior College. Temple finished third and the local golfer was third medalist in the National Junior College Athletic Association women's golf championship.

She was a member of the Farwell Steerette golf team which won the Class A title in 1975-77. Since that time she has brought her handicap down from 16 to 17 to about six. She said she hopes to get it down to scratch or zero.

She said her primary improvement has come in her short game, chipping and putting.

Throughout the summer Miss Vinton will take part in several Panhandle-area partnership tournaments. She intends to continue her college golfing career, but hasn't decided which school to attend in the fall. However, Texas Tech is under consideration.

Miss Vinton will compete in the Amarillo Country Club Women's Partnership next month. Last year, she and Penny Hughes, a former high school teammate, captured first in the ACC Partnership first flight.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BREAM BIBLE SOCIETY

TAKING GOD AT HIS WORD

Because of a failure to understand God's purposes as outlined in the Scriptures, some have felt it necessary to alter many of the plainest statements of Holy Writ. Supposing that God could not have meant exactly what He said, they have concluded that these things must be interpreted in a "spiritual" sense.

Actually there is nothing "spiritual" about failing to take God at His Word, or seeking to explain away difficulties by arbitrarily altering what He has plainly said.

First, this would leave us at the mercy of theologians. If the Scriptures do not mean what they say, who has the authority to decide what they do mean? And how can we turn to the Word of God for light if it does not mean what it says and only trained theologians can tell us what it does mean?

Second, this altering of the Scriptures affects the veracity of God. It is a thrust at His very honor. If the obvious, natural meaning of the Old Testament promises are not to be depended upon, how can we depend upon any promise of God? Then, when He says: "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13), He may also mean something else instead of what He actually says.

Third, this "spiritualizing" of Scripture endorses apostasy, for it allows men to alter the meaning of God's Word according to their will.

The path to a true understanding and enjoyment of the Bible is not in altering but in "rightly dividing" it. (II Tim. 2:15).

Farwell And Texico --

Three Local Youths Attend Boys State

One Farwell youth and two Texico youths recently attended 1979 Boys State conventions.

Rusty Smallwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnabas Smallwood of Farwell, was a delegate to Texas Boys State in Austin, June 6-12. James Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hadley, and Robert Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thornton, all of Texico, attended the New Mexico Boys State June 9-16 at Roswell.

He was elected county clerk. "I met a lot of boys there," he said. "It was a great experience. I would encourage anyone to try to attend."

Hadley said he hopes to be a counselor at Boys State next year.

"I also liked to talk to the military men," Hadley said. The convention was lodged at the New Mexico Military Institute.

According to Hadley, each city and county set up rules and regulations and the penalties for breaking the newly-enacted laws were either a fine or sweeping out an old bomb shelter which served as the "jail."

Hadley said the city of Montezuma passed a law requiring everyone who passed into their territory to bow to their fire hydrant.

Recreation was from 3-5 daily. "I took part in basketball, football, tennis and golf," Hadley said. He added that he enjoyed his experience at Boys State. "I learned about government and individual rights," he said.

Thornton was a member of the Nationalist Party and was assigned to the city of Coronado in DeVargas County. He ran for the office of state board of education, but was not elected.

"We listened to speeches and learned about how government operates on all levels," Thornton said. "I made a lot of new friends, especially boys from this area."

For recreation Thornton participated in swimming, lifting weights and basketball.

Texico's other delegate,

Boys State Delegates

These three boys all recently attended Boys State conventions. Rusty Smallwood of Farwell (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnabas Smallwood, participated in the Texas Boys State, June 6-12, in Austin. He will be a senior at Farwell High School next school year. James Hadley (center), son of

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hadley, and Robert Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thornton, attended New Mexico Boys State, June 9-16, in Roswell.

They will be seniors at Texico High School. Each boy said he enjoyed his experience and learned a lot about how government operates.

While at Boys State, Smallwood lived in Geisecke City in Benefield County and was a member of the Nationalist Party. He was elected constable for Benefield County. During the campaign to be elected Smallwood gave a three-minute talk about why he wanted the post.

Upon arriving at the University of Texas Campus, where the convention was headquartered, Smallwood said they registered, attended a general orientation session and were each assigned to counties and cities. Nine-hundred-and-thirty-four boys from across the state attended the session.

Later they divided into parties and held elections. Guest speakers included Governor Bill Clements, and Bill Clayton, Speaker of the House.

The delegates also visited the capitol building where they held a mock session of the senate and house of representatives.

Recreation from 1:30 to 5 p.m. consisted of sports competition between the different cities.

"I learned a lot while I was there," Smallwood said. "I learned how the government works and the functions of each office. I think the state party convention taught me the most because we discussed platforms etc."

"I also learned how to make speeches," he continued. "Now I'm not as afraid to speak to people."

Hadley was a Federalist who resided in the city of Montezuma in the county of DeBaca.

In early England, land was measured by how much an ox could plow in a day. These measurements were known as oxgangs and averaged about 15 acres.
