WHEAT HARVEST GETTING IN SWING—Many area farmers are beginning to gather the golden grain in their wheat fields. Turnout, however, have been better than expected in this West Texas community with some reports indicating as high as 60-70 bushels per acre in some places. Most of the wheat cut in the past few days has been from the south of the county. This photo, however, was taken in the Ralston-Purina fields east of Muleshoe.

Charmec Signs Production Contract For Fuel Alcohol

On June 11 the Commodity Credit Corporation announced the award of approximately 650,000 bushels of CCC-owned low quality corn to three United States alcohol plants. One of these three plants is the Charmec Energy Corporation of Muleshoe, Texas. Thirty-four offers were received by the Kansas City ASCS Commodity office, to participate in a demonstration project to convert the corn into alcohol. The other two plants named in the first invitation included Illinois Alcohol Fuel and Feed in Ottawa, Illinois and Midwest Solvents in Atchison, Kansas. Another set of bids will be solicited to process approximately 1,350,000 more bushels of corn into alcohol in the near future.

According to Charmec spokesman, Gene McGuire, the good part about this contract is that some of the 14 million bushels of corn presently stored in High Plains elevators within a 150 mile radius will begin moving. This corn is a direct result of the embargo on exports to Russia enacted by President Carter. McGuire expects his first shipment of the government-held corn within the next week, but says that he has no information as to what elevators it will come from. He assumes they will be nearby. While the Charmec plant has a 350,000 bushel capacity, McGuire estimates that the present contract will keep plant workers busy for about a year. The contract stipulates that Charmec will produce 2.4 gallons of ethanol per bushel at a fee of 69.5 cents per gallon.

The alcohol fuel will be transported out of the plant and disposed of by the federal government; the by-product of distillers dried grains will be kept by the ethanol producer. In the Muleshoe plant, these by-products, which are mostly protein, are made into a mash and sold mainly to dairy and feedlots. According to USDA plans one aim of the plan is to reduce government spending by turning a deteriorating liability - in this case grain - into a salable asset - fuel ethanol. Another aim is to help the ethanol producers, all of whom are 'financially strapped' said one source. "This will give them grain without their having to borrow money to buy feedstock. Most of us are paying 19 percent - and that's half a million dollars tied up in feedstock."

West Texas and High Plains farmers who met with Secretary of Agriculture, John Block, in Lubbock earlier in the year, submitted plea after plea for the release of this corn for the purpose of making fuel. The ultimate release stemmed largely from this meeting, along with the active promotion of the release by Congressmen and farm leaders. McGuire stated that "Congressman Kent Hance and his Washington aide, Sam White, were instrumental in the eventual passing of this act and we (farmers) owe them a lot of appreciation for Cont. South, West Part Of County Hardest Hit

Two vicious storms raked the Bailey County area Friday evening and in the early morning hours on Saturday, leaving much - stems where cotton had been earlier.

In the first deluge, crops in the Maple and Stegall areas and west to the state line were wiped out as marble to golf-ball size hail pelted those croplands. Up to 5 or 6 inches of hail was reported on the ground in the Maple area and winds added to the damage. Rain reports ranged from 1 1/2 inches upward to three inches in some places. Water over the roads created driving hazards. Pete Tarleton, manager of the Maple Co-op Gin stated that about 75 percent of the cotton in the Maple area is gone. The first storm came through there about 8 p.m. leaving the ground white with hailstones, knocking out windows and lights in the gin. Then again about 1:30 a.m. Saturday another storm deposited more hail. This time to the south of Maple, doing extensive damage in that area.

Jack Lane who lives at Stegall reported 1 8/10 inches of rain and some hail. The hail in that area, however, was not as damaging as it was on further to the west. Farmers on the state line lost their crops in the earlier storms, with Mrs. Aubry Phillips reporting the ground covered with hail. She estimated well over an inch of rain in that area. Some reports indicated that the hail went as far north as Arch, New Mexico.

West camp area was hard hit as well. Sara Mitchell reported tornado damage at the Lloyd Haire farm six miles west on FM 1760 and one half mile to the south. According to Mrs. Mitchell, the Haire's lost two large barns and a shop building. A nearby resident, Alfred Patterson, sustained extensive window damage in his home. An excessive amount of hail accompanied the wind and rain. The rain gauges were blown away by the storms, so an accurate amount of rain could not be determined.

In the Pleasant Valley area, Robert O'Hair reported a small twister which overturned a pickup and tore up some farm sheds. Mrs. Ronnie Holt reported the loss of more crops in that area. Cont. Page 8, Col. 3

Chamber Garage Sale Donations Still Needed

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is gearing up for their Fireworks Garage Sale, to be held in the old First Parade Entry Deadline June 25

With the deadline for parade registration less than one week away, only seven entries have been received by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for this year's Freedom Parade.

Registration for booths at the Civic Center are also behind last year's pace. Chamber Manager John Gulley reminds all area clubs and organizations that the area wide celebration Cont. Page 8, Col. 2

Stevenson, many of the farmers are getting close to a 20-25 bushel turnout, which has been a pleasant surprise to producers. Irrigated wheat is expected to yield good this year. One farmer west of Muleshoe is predicting about 70 bushels to the acre on his irrigated crop. Even at 20 bushels to the acre average, USDA statistics show that farmers will likely only make enough to pay expenses at today's current prices.

The Agriculture Department estimates that the nation's 1982 winter wheat harvest will set a record, at 2.13 billion bushels. This is two percent higher than last year's record crop of 2.1 billion bushels. Some would blame the grain embargo against Russia for the oversupply and depressed prices. Still others feel that over-production is the cause for the disastrous price.

McCormick Seeds in Muleshoe handles wheat seed cleaning only, and not as elevator storage. Tim McCormick told the Journal that their operation had been busy for the past couple of days. Most of the wheat has come from the south part of the county. McCormick said that "most of the farmers were pleased with their turnouts, which have ranged from as low as 10 bushels to as high as 33 bushels per acre."

Most area farmers agree that the increase in yield is due largely to the good moisture from the heavy rains last August. "We just had some good underground moisture that lasted," said one producer. Cont. Page 8, Col. 1

Former Local Man Killed In Shallowater

Two 22-year old Lubbock men were killed early Friday in a car-motorcycle collision one mile southeast of Shallowater on U.S. 84.

Dead at the scene were Walter Dean Copley, a former Muleshoe resident and Dwayne Howard Hickman of 2405 14th Street, Lubbock. Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy ruled the deaths accidental.

According to the DPS, Copley was driving a 1982 Isuzu southeast on U.S. 84 and Hickman was driving a 77 Harley-Davidson cycle northwest on U.S. 84 about 2:30 a.m. when the two vehicles collided head-on in the southeast traffic lane. Cont. Page 8, Col. 6

IOWA 4-H EXCHANGE STUDENTS—Several of the fifteen Iowa exchange students gathered at the Bailey County Courthouse Thursday in preparation for a visit to the outdoor drama "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon. The students are here exchanging visits with Bailey County 4-H'ers and staying in the homes of local families. A similar exchange was initiated last year when Bailey County 4-H'ers traveled to Iowa.

Dads Wear A Lot Of Different Hats...

Muleshoe's Father of the Year in 1981, Dr. Jerry Don Gregory, is truly a man who wears many hats. Father, teacher, confidante and last, but not least, doctor. All of these attributes lend to him that air of a very special man -- and, behind every good man, as the saying goes, there is a good woman. This description fits the slight built, quiet Charline Gregory.

Dr. Jerry Gregory and his wife, Charline, are the parents of eight children, ranging in age from 2 to 12 years of age. Several of these children are adopted and two of them are from foreign countries, namely Viet Nam and Haiti. Though the pace sometimes gets a little harried, according to Charline, the Gregorys enjoy their children and are thankful for the joy that they have brought.

The Gregory's interest in children manifested itself in one way by the adoption of a little Haitian girl, Martine; and their current interest in the Haitian people has been whetted by the five trips the couple has made to the Haitian homelands. These trips were organized to provide spiritual and medical aid and assistance to the people of that country.

"Our plans now," says the doctor, "are to try to adopt a Haitian refugee family." The groundwork for this desire began after the Gregorys read an article which described the plights of some 32,000 Cuban and Haitian refugees in Florida. "We don't know yet if our offer will be accepted, but we know there is a desperate need for help for these displaced people," Gregory explained. According to recent government Cont. Page 8, Col. 1

CHILD'S PLAY—Dr. Jerry Gregory still has time to play with his children, though a busy doctor's schedule sometimes keeps him going all hours. The Gregory's interest in other people have led them to trying to adopt a Haitian refugee family. Their hopes may be realized in the near future.

Miss Grimsley, Oakley Exchange Marriage Vows

Miss Patricia Lynn Grimsley of Odessa became the bride of Edward Wyatt Oakley, also of Odessa, in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 12, at 7 p.m. in the Temple Baptist Church of Hereford. Rev. Gensa Goad of Stratford read the wedding vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Mark Grimsley of Soper, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. George Oakley of Stratford. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Grimsley of Muleshoe.

The couple stood before a tapered candelabra entwined with greenery. The center of the altar was accented with spiral candelabras on each side. Large baskets of apricot gladiolas and white mums in brass urns adorned the altar.

Vocalists, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Grimsley of Woodward, Okla., brother and sister in law of the bride, sang "Follow Me," "He Has Chosen You For Me" and "Endless Love." They were accompanied by Mrs. Doris Player of Stratford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white organza trimmed with Chantilly lace, featuring a Queen Anne neckline outlined with a ruffle of lace and lace appliques scattered with pearls. Lace bands covered the fitted empire bodice and circled the waistline. Sheer bishop sleeves were accented with vertical bands of lace and were gathered onto lace edged cuffs. The A-line skirt of the organza was bordered with two deeply gathered flounces edged with lace. The skirt flowed into a chapel length train.

Her chapel length mantilla style veil of illusion was circled in matching Chantilly lace and sprinkled with lace appliques.

She carried a Colonial bouquet of white and apricot silk roses, accented with baby's breath, atop a bride's Bible.

Following tradition, the bride borrowed the bride's Bible from her sister in law, something blue was her garter, something old was her mother's pearls and something new was her dress and accessories. She also wore a single string of cultured pearls and matching earrings, which belong to her mother.

Miss Karen Grimsley of Hereford, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Grimsley of Hereford, Mrs. Donna Bradshaw of Ropesville, sisters of the bride.

The attendants all wore identical gowns of apricot eyelet, accented with a large ruffle at the hemline and puffed sleeves. They carried nosegays of apricot flowers. They wore white hats, trimmed with lace and apricot tulle, which flowed to the waistline.

Ushers were Jim Bethel of Dumas and Keith McDaniels of Canyon. Candlelighters were Richard Grimsley of Soper, Okla. and Stephen Grimsley of Denton, brothers of the bride. Tricia Oakley of Stratford, sister of the groom, registered the guests.

Serving at the bride's table were Miss Dona Schuster of Denver City, Miss Dea Campbell of Levelland and Mrs. Paula Miller of Hereford.

Miss Jana Grimsley, Miss Susan Grimsley, Miss Karen Grimsley and Miss Tricia Oakley of Stratford, served at the groom's table.

Following a wedding trip to points of interest in Texas, the couple will be at home in Odessa. For traveling, the bride chose a blue dress with white accessories.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Hereford High School, and a 1981 West Texas State University graduate. She is presently a teacher in the Odessa Schools. Oakley is a 1978 graduate of Stratford High School. He attended West Texas State University and Odessa College. He is presently employed with the Odessa Fire Department. Out of town wedding guests were registered from Amarillo, Vega, Muleshoe, Stratford, Denton, Odessa, Lubbock, Ropesville, Duncan, Canyon and Arlington, Texas. Also Woodward and Soper, Okla. The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening.

Doubling Ceremony Unites Miss Pool, Broughton

Miss Alison Kay Pool of Brownfield and Bobby J. Broughton of Farmington, N.M. were united in marriage Saturday, June 12 in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Brownfield. Officiating at the double ring services was the Rev. Ken Flowers, assisted by Rev. Harry Lewis of Halfway.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nan Pool of Brownfield and Charles W. Pool of Arvada, Colo. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Bob J. Broughton of Farmington, N.M.

The couple exchanged vows before nine white Doric columns of varying heights, which were placed in three groupings in the stage area of the sanctuary. Large Boston ferns were placed atop each of the columns. Four pyramid candelabras holding white tapers, calles and cammander ferns were placed amidst the white columns and the fern. The unity candelabra completed the stage setting. The bridal aisle was marked with six tall brass standards topped with hurricane globes and accented with fresh foliage and bows of wide peach satin ribbon.

The prelude was a melody of "What I Did For Love," "Day by Day," "If I Loved You," "People Will Say We Are In Love," and "Eighteenth Variation from Rhapsodic on A Theme of Pagnine." Music selections for the ceremony included "Just Caught The Feeling," "Sunrise, Sunset," "He Has Chosen You For Me," "Have Thine Own Way Lord" and "We've Only Just Begun." The groom composed and sang an original song for his bride, "When We Love and Believe." The pianist and organist was Eddie Sharp of Brownfield. Soloist was John Pud from Greeley Colo., Janet Johnson of Clovis, N.M., Jr. W. Hawkins of Brownfield and the groom.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mack Allison, of Altus, Okla. the bride chose a white poly organza and cluny lace gown. The moulded bodice featured a scooped neckline accented by cluny lace and sprinkled delicately with tiny seed pearls. The bishop sleeves were gathered to a wide cuff of cluny lace, which was edged with a single cluny lace ruffle.

The empire waistline dropped to a chiffon skirt which featured a sheer stripe inset, accented on either side by a single row of cluny lace. The skirt swept to back fullness forming a chapel length train. A double flounce edged in cluny lace extended around the skirt and train. To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a silk illusion veiling, caught to a beaded Juliet capulet. The triple layered veiling flowed to fingertip length. The bride carried a Renaissance cascade of white miniature carnations, white marguerite daisies, yellow sweetheart roses, gypsophila, and a touch of baby's fern. The bouquet was accented with white satin and lace ribbon. The design was created for the bride by Wayne A. Dubose.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore a gold bracelet dating back to 1908 as something old, belonging to Mrs. A. L. Still; as something new she wore her wedding dress and as something borrowed she wore a pearl necklace belonging to Terry Lou Maarhead. Something blue was her garter. A penny minted in the year of the couple's birth was worn in her shoe.

Serving as maid of honor was Tina Shannan of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Brenda Broughton, sister of the groom, Carol Sue Dugan of Dumas, Kenni Ashard of Lovington, N.M., both cousins of the bride, and Tammy Payne of Floydada.

The attendants wore formal dresses of peach organza featuring a round scoop neckline with a triple cape collar. The full length skirts swept into a ruffled bustle that fastened at the waistline with a self fabric rose. Each attendant carried white lace fans decorated with pink roses in shades of peach and yellow with accents of gypsophila and yellow satin ribbon, matching flowers adorned each attendant's hair. The silk roses were made by the groom, of Farmington, N.M.

Ushers were Mark Nazworth of Plainview, Mark Alford of Houston, Danny Smith of Plainview and Greg Pool of Brownfield, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a formal dress fashioned of mint green chiffon featuring a floor length pleated cape over a fitted dress. Her corsage was of mixed peach and yellow silk roses. The groom's mother wore a formal ruffled peplum gown and jacket of soft mauve silk. Her corsage was fashioned of ivory silk roses.

The bride presented each of the mothers an antique handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother, Mrs. Bob Cumpsten of Muleshoe. The handkerchiefs were embroidered with their names and wedding date in the corner.

Tressa Hawkins and Loveta Wilson, cousin of the bride, of Dumas, assisted guests in registering before the ceremony. They were seated at a long table covered by peach and yellow runners. Featured at the table was a brass candlestick and peach candle. Also adding interest was a framed wedding announcement, decorated by quilting designed by her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sammy Allison, of Muleshoe. On the table was a brass tray given to the couple by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pool, her grandparents of Muleshoe, filled with programs of the wedding ceremony.

A reception followed in the activities room of the church. The cross shaped table was covered with a white linen cloth with an overskirt and sway of white chiffon. Centering the table was a silver epigone holding a large Flemish arrangement of peach and yellow silk roses. The traditional bride's cake and groom's chocolate cake were placed on opposite arms of the table. Coffee and punch were served from silver and crystal appointments placed on the other arms of the serving table.

Katrinka Rash provided background music during the reception, on the piano. During the reception rice bags were distributed by Jenny and Kristi Osborn, Melissa Walker, and Carrol Black, all cousins of the bride and Becky Broughton the groom's younger sister. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cumpsten, great grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Sammy Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pool all grandparents of the bride, of Muleshoe.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Mack Allison of Altus, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allison of Clovis, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Black of Dumas; Mrs. Sylvia Horne of Houston; Mrs. Cynthia Blewins of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allison, Mrs.

Ethel Allison of Muleshoe; Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Osborn of Farmington, N.M.; all aunts and uncles of the bride. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Pool of Arvada, Colo., father of the bride and her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Swirson of Franktown, Colo.

Others attending were Mrs. Kathy Black of Show Low, Ariz. and Mrs. Lillian Broughton of Saltito, the grandmothers of the groom. Also, Mrs. Charles Bader of Farmington, N.M. and Mrs. Jim Balt of Tempe, Ariz. and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Leslie of Odessa, all aunts and uncles of the groom. After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will make their home in Plainview, where they are both senior students at Wayland Baptist University. Broughton is the music director at Halfway Baptist Church.

Topics to be covered on "The Creative Woman" show on June 22 and 26 include stringing chili ristras, and make ahead recipes.

New Mexicans have traditionally harvested and strung red chilis into colorful rings or 'ristras.' Jim Sais, Urban Horticulturist with New Mexico State University's Cooperative Extension Service, Albuquerque, will demonstrate how to make a chili ristra. Another guest on the show will be Jan Newquist, Home Economist and Dietician for Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque will talk about dishes for parties, buffets and even early morning breakfast meals that need minimum last minute preparation.

On June 24, viewers will learn why and how consumers can learn to read their own electric meters. Vicki Willis, Consumer Service Representative with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell, will demonstrate how to read an electric meter, which records the quantity of electricity used in the home. Centuries have come and gone, but the art of bread baking continues to exist. Joy Best, Extension Home Economist in Portales will explain lots of things about making homemade bread. She'll talk about the contribution that each ingredient makes to the final product, what skills are needed and then she'll demonstrate making yeast bread.

The last guest on the show will be Ann Person, Founder and President of Stretch & Sew, Inc. and she will demonstrate a unique zig-zag hem finish called the 'lettuce-edge.' Requiring buttonhole twist, a zig-zag stitch on the sewing machine and a little practice, this hem finish will work on several different garments.

"The Creative Woman" is seen on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. (MST) and on Saturdays at 2:00 p.m. (MST) on Channel 3, KENW-TV. Sheryl Borden produces and hosts the show. It is made possible in part, by a grant from Security State Bank, Farwell, Texas.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Lust, Cooper

Miss Judy Ann Lust of Lazbuddie became the bride of James Nelson Cooper in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the Lazbuddie United Methodist Church. Rev. Kenny Kirk of Post read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lust of Lazbuddie and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooper of Matador.

Rev. Wesley Putnam of Plainview sang "Follow Me," and Miss Leslie Barfield of San Angelo sang "Whither Thou Goest," before the ceremony started. As the grandparents were being seated and the candles lighted, Rev. Putnam sang "Through the Years." The groom escorted the mothers to light the unity candles as Rev. Putnam sang "There Is Love." Pianist, Mrs. Jim Johnson of Lazbuddie and organist, Mrs. Hoppy Jennings of Lazbuddie, played traditional wedding marches for the processional. After the vows were recited, Mrs. Frank Hinkson II, aunt of the bride, sang a song she had written, based on I Corinthians 13. Rev. Putnam sang "It's A Mystery," as the couple lighted the unity candle. Mrs. Hinkson sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction. She was accompanied by Rev. Putnam on the guitar. The pianist and organist played the traditional recessional.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

The altar setting was brass arch candelabra with a brass winding spiral candelabra flanking on each side with candelabra trees, accented with flowers and bows. All candelabras held peach colored tapers, and a garland of greenery draped along the altar rail. Pews were marked with votive candles decorated with peach flowers and bows. A white frosted unity candle on a brass stand with two peach tapers and peach bows completed the altar setting.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal length, gown of white chiffon. The empire bodice was fashioned with a Queen Anne neck line and was trimmed with chantilly lace and scattered with pearls. The bodice fell to a dropped lace-trimmed waistline in the back. The long sheer sleeves were accented with lace appliques and were banded at the wrist by wide lace cuffs. The full skirt featured a pleated front flounce edged in lace. The lace extended around the skirt and bordered the full chapel train. Chantilly lace panels extended from the back waistline down the length of the train to the bottom which was scalloped and accented with two pleated chiffon insets.

To complement her gown the bride chose a fingertip veil of bridal illusion. The two layer veil was trimmed with chantilly lace and extended from a lace covered headpiece which was accented with pearls.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of silk flowers of peach roses, daisies, and miniature carnations, with accents of blue daisies, and white flowers and ribbon. It featured white and peach ribbon and lace streamers with flowers and love knots. The bouquet was centered with a white lace handkerchief that had belonged to the bride's great grandmother, and was the traditional something old. Something new was her wedding gown and she wore an opal necklace borrowed from her mother and earrings borrowed from her grandmother. For something blue she wore the traditional blue garter and wore pennies in her shoe.

Gina Elliott of Amarillo served as maid of honor. Phyllis Payne of Olton and Nancy Cooper, sister of the groom, of Matador, were bridesmaids.

The maid of honor wore a dusty blue sheer floral print gown fashioned with a ruffled dropped shoulder edged in white lace, with ribbon bows on the edge of the shoulder. The floor length skirt featured a ruffle at the bottom accented with ribbon and lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of peach and blue silk daisies with white forget-me-nots and baby's breath, with peach, blue and white streamers.

The bridesmaids wore peach sheer floral print gowns fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor, and their bouquets were also identical to that of the maid of honor. All three bouquets included handkerchiefs belonging to the bride's great grandmothers and the groom's mother.

Tyla Hinkson, cousin of the bride, of Lazbuddie, served as flower girl. She wore a dusty blue sheer floral print fashioned after the maid of honor's gown and carried a white lace basket and dropped peach love knots.

Ricky Brooks of Welch served as best man. The groomsmen were Dickie Scott of Clovis, N.M. and David Lust, brother of the bride, of Lazbuddie.

Landon Hinkson, cousin of the bride, of Turkey, was ringbearer. The candlelighters were Tim Lust, brother of the bride, of Lazbuddie, and Trey Hinkson, cousin of the bride, of Lazbuddie. Ushers were Jay Lynn Blackburn of Broadview, N.M. and Mark Lust, brother of the bride, of Lazbuddie.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lust chose a light blue floor length qiana knit gown with chiffon cape and a corsage of blue and peach silk daisies and white forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Cooper, mother of the groom, chose a light turquoise and silver silk floor length gown and a corsage of silk peach, orchid and white forget-me-nots.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white floor length tiered cloth edged in lace. A garland of green leaves edged the table. The bride's cake centered the table. The cake was a fountain cake with four fan shaped cakes, decorated with peach and blue flowers. A Jonathan and David bride and groom was on one tier and topped with peach colored orchid flowers with blue net and ribbons.

The bride's bouquet in a candelabra with peach tapers was the centerpiece. Also used was a silver tea service, blue and peach napkins, and white mints.

A round punch table, located between the bride's and groom's tables, was covered with a floor length white lace edged cloth overlaid with a blue lace edged cloth. Peach slush punch was served. Mrs. Martin Nowlin of Lazbuddie and Mrs. Vernon Turner of Hereford presided at the bride's table.

The groom's table was round and covered with a floor length white cloth edged in lace overlaid with a lace edged peach cloth. A cake was in the shape of a horse shoe. An arrangement of blue and peach daisies in a brass saddle, a hat and boots accented the table. Caela Mills of Lubbock and Donna Wells of San Antonio were the servers.

Sheila Harbacek of Lockney registered the guests.

Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Ronald Elliott, Mrs. Greg Gregory, Mrs. Don McDonald, Mrs. Jimmie Seaton, Mrs. Louis Crenshaw and Mrs. Leonard Elliott. Also assisting were Traci Elliott, Susan Redwine and Jonessa and Mia Jennings.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will make their home in Spade. For traveling, the bride chose a blue floral print skirt and suntop, with white eyelet petticoat and jacket. Her corsage was of blue silk daisies.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Lazbuddie High School, a 1980 graduate of South Plains College and a May 1982 graduate of Angelo State University. She will teach science and coach girls athletics at the Spade High School.

Cooper is a 1977 graduate of Motley County High School and a 1982 graduate of Texas Tech University. He will teach Voc Ag at Spade High School.

Out of town wedding guests were Mrs. Ivy Cooper of Matador, grandmother of the groom; and Mrs. Vern Lust, grandmother of the bride, of Dimmitt.

Other guests were registered from Baltimore, Maryland; Cairo, Nebraska; Ravenna, Nebraska; Huntsville, Missouri; Marshfield, Missouri; Wilcox, Arizona; Santa Fe, N.M.; Clovis, N.M.; Melrose and Broadview N.M.; Dimmitt, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Lubbock, Amarillo, Dumas, Hereford, Plainview, Silverton, Littlefield, Turkey, Flomot, Shallowater, San Antonio and Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooper, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal supper Friday night at the fellowship hall of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church, catered by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones and Mack, of Matador.

One out of every two households in the United States has a pet.

JULY WEDDING PLANNED—Mrs. Kay Seaton of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Dale Seaton of Lazbuddie announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sherrie Renea to Michael Travis Nichols, son of Mrs. Dorothy Nichols of Littlefield and Quinton Nichols of Enoch. reports, no aid is available to the refugees. "They are quite literally jobless and homeless, since some two weeks ago, all their names were taken off federal welfare rolls," a reporter from the Miami Herald stated to the Journal.

The Gregory family hopes to be able to sponsor a young family, preferably with children, and will agree to provide suitable medical attention and schooling. "We will help the adults to find suitable work and hope that eventually they can become self-supporting and useful members of our community," Gregory said. "Most of these people do not speak any English -- they speak heavily accented Creole," said the Doctor. Thus the language barrier will have to be overcome, as well as many others. But, the Gregories have every confidence that the job can be done, and it is reflected in their attitudes.

The couple expect to have more information on the process of the adoption in the next few days. "At least, in a week or two, we should know the chances of the adoption and maybe something about the people," Dr. Gregory hopes.

Texas Sesame has begun taking wheat this year, but as yet has not had an overflow. An employee of that elevator stated that the recent rains had most likely slowed down the harvest operations.

Farmer's Co-op Elevator, which processed about 40 million bushels of wheat last year is reporting an average amount of crop for this year. A large majority of the wheat in this elevator is dry-land wheat and the average turnout is running somewhere in the 20 bushel area, with some a little more and some a little less. Nancy Stovall in the Muleshoe office stated that many of their customers to the north of Muleshoe were hurt badly, which will most likely reduce the totals this year. The Enochs elevator has been busy the past week with the dryland wheat in that part of the county. Most of the farmers in that area are expecting about a 10 to 12 bushel crop.

Hal Merrick, manager of the Worley Elevator in Goodland, declined any figures, but stated that the farmers were pleased with the production this year and nearly everyone had as good or better turnout than expected.

Cliff Griffiths, operator of Griffith Elevator, another grain facility in Muleshoe, stated that "we are only 10 to 15 percent into the harvest and things are a little slow now." Griffith estimated that some of the wheat will make from 40 to 60 bushels, while some that has had previous hail damage will only make about 10 bushels. "Our wheat prices now are just plain suicide, but maybe some of the farmers can get into the reserve with their wheat." Outside of the Enochs area, Griffiths said that most of the crop is still on the stalk.

GETTING IN TRAVEL TIME.-This group of Muleshoe FFA students left Thursday morning for Clarendon to attend an FFA leadership conference. Mrs. W. T. Millen in the Pleasant Valley area also reported 1/2 inch of rain in the early morning on Saturday; however, no hail was deposited with this storm on their home place.

Coyote Lake Feedyards reported about 1/2 inch of rain and no hail. Another source on 1760 reported 3 1/2 inches of rain and up to six inches of hail covering the ground and still standing on Saturday morning.

Clarence Kube told the Journal that the West Camp general area was completely wiped out by the hail, high winds and the two inches of rain deposited during the storm. Kube said that as near as he could determine, the storm ranged about 5 - 6 miles in width, starting at Farwell. One mile north of Lariat, farmers reported two inches of rain and no hail. Kube also reported power poles down near the Beck Gin.

Louis Peacock at Claunch Gin told the Journal Saturday morning that the Bula area received some good rains from the clouds, leaving from 8/10 to 1 8/10 inches near the Bula School with a little hail evident that did peck up the cotton somewhat. Damage was not so extensive as in the other parts of the county. Some hail was reported at Needmore and Baileyboro, however, the damage was not thought to be severe at presstime. Needmore recorded about 1 3/4 inches and Baileyboro a little over an inch of moisture.

Another round of violent weather was expected on Saturday.

By Spencer Tankley
County Extension Agent

You can reduce the use of water in your home garden and landscape by following these 10 tips, says Spencer Tankley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

1. Mulch to conserve water. A mulch is anything which covers the ground around plants and between rows. Mulching conserves moisture in the soil by reducing the rate of evaporation. Mulch also greatly reduces the presence of weeds which compete with your plants for precious water and nutrients.

Many organic materials can be used as mulches, such as grass clippings (let the grass dry a bit before applying to the garden), straw, salt hay, partially decomposed leaves or compost.

Plastic mulch also works well, is easy to use and prevents surface evaporation. Plastic mulch, when applied in the spring, will keep soil warmer and gives summer crops like tomatoes and peppers a faster start.

2. Try to put on the mulches when the soil is moist, even if you're not ready to plant. You can easily push back organic mulch at your planting time, or cut slits or holes in plastic mulch. Ground mulched when dry is apt to stay dry if rain is sparse.

3. Grow cool-weather crops. In many areas, rainfall is heaviest in spring and fall. Ground water evaporates more slowly in cool weather, too, so take full advantage of spring and fall growing seasons for crops that like cool conditions; beans, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, kale, kohlrabi, lettuce, mustard greens, onions, peas, spinach, Swiss chard and turnips. Plant these crops early in spring so they can finish production before hot summer. For fall crops, sow in summer as recommended on seed packets, but keep the seed bed constantly moist for good germination.

4. Use shade to advantage. Moisture evaporates more slowly in shaded soil than in sun. Leafy vegetables such as cabbage, lettuce, spinach and Swiss chard do well in partial (not complete) shade -- that is, areas which receive full sun only part of the day. Basil, mint, parsley and tarragon are a few herbs that thrive in partial shade.

But fruiting vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers and vine crops need full sun for satisfactory production.

5. Space plants closely. Space plants and rows so maturing plants just overlap. This will reduce the ground to reduce moisture loss and weed competition. If you use a mechanical cultivator, you may need to switch to hand cultivation in narrower rows.

6. Harvest young. Pick your vegetables when they are at their prime -- don't let them overripen. Picking reduces moisture requirements of plants and encourages continued production.

7. Weed regularly. Competing with vegetables and flowers for every drop of water -- weeds are often the stronger, deep-rooted vegetation winning the competition. Remove weeds as soon as they show themselves in your garden. And, some weeds, like purslane, lamb's quarter and chickweed, may be eaten if picked young.

8. Water deeply, not often. Observe local water-use restrictions, if any. Water in the evening or early morning. Use special soil-soaking hoses which allow water to drip slowly into the ground, and place hoses close to plants. Or set your garden hose, nozzle removed, directly on the ground to irrigate one part of your garden at a time. Let water run slowly for as long as necessary to soak deeply into the soil. A deep soaking is needed only every 7 to 10 days unless your plants show signs of wilting from insufficient moisture. Remember that oscillating-type lawn sprinklers, if used, throw water where you may not need it and allow much more evaporation than other watering methods.

9. Provide windbreaks. Strong or constant winds speed up evaporation. If your garden is fairly small, it may be possible to set up a temporary windbreak using fencing materials, cast-off construction materials or even worn-out bed-sheets strung from posts. Just be sure windbreaks do not shade plants that need full sun.

10. Save water - literally. Keep two lidded barrels or spare trash cans near your house or garden to hold your recycled water supply. Barrel number one is for relatively clear, clean water to use for your vegetable garden. Into this barrel you can pour the final rinse water from your washing machine and dishwashing, plus bath water. If possible route your roof gutters and downspouts into barrels to save every drop of rainwater for your vegetables and fruits.

In barrel number two you can hoard other wash water which is perhaps too heavily contaminated to be used safely for edible crops. Use this supply to help your annuals and other ornamentals to survive the drought. Bleach, fabric softeners, water softeners or detergents, which may be high in sodium, may eventually damage the structure and nutrient balance of your soil. Add gypsum (calcium sulfate) to counteract the effects.

If recycled water is used extensively, test your garden soil periodically for pH (acid-alkaline balance) and adjust with ground limestone to raise pH or sulphur to lower it. A slightly acid soil is best for growing most garden plants.

U.S. SALVADOR

USDA Cracks Down On Free Lunches

In an effort to ensure that school lunch benefits go only to those legitimately entitled, the U. S. Department of Agriculture is proposing that states verify the information on a sampling of applications for free and reduced price lunches and breakfasts.

The rules, implementing the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981, were issued along with a companion proposal clarifying the specific information parents must provide.

"Congress initiated these changes because verification will greatly improve the integrity of the school feeding programs," said Mary Jarratt, assistant secretary for food and consumer services. "We are very concerned about the potential abuse in the school lunch program that can be caused when parents underreport their incomes on free and reduced price meal applications. We believe this regulation strikes the balance between the need we have for increased accountability without imposing excessive paper requirements on school officials," she added.

Under the verification proposal, state agencies are required to ensure that for school year 1982-83, a minimum of 3 percent or 3,000 of all applications for free and reduced price lunch, whichever is less, on file in each school food authority be verified. Verification procedures will be at state and local discretion.

"This proposal will provide a way to counter abuses in the current free and reduced-price application system," Jarratt said.

The companion proposal clarifies the information required on the application forms, including the requirement that parents must provide social security numbers for household members that are at least 21 years old.

Previously, applications for free and reduced price meals required only family size and income information. School districts could verify the information only if they could show they had reason to suspect it was false or erroneous.

Comments on the revised application procedures rule are due by June 24 for consideration. The comment period for the verification proposal extends through July 26.

BY Bonnie Blaire
TRU-TEST COLOR CONSULTANT

Dear Bonnie:
I've been happy with our natural, neutral color scheme of browns, grays, beige and tans. It's most restful and relaxing. But now I'd like to add a color or two for change of pace. But I can't find a color that doesn't look too strong or garish. What do you recommend?
Nature Lover

Dear Nature Lover:
Although we're often told that "anything goes" with a neutral color, it's not entirely true. For a perfect blending with neutral colors it's necessary to modify or soften each hue. For instance: instead of bright orange choose copper; instead of strong red select terra cotta; choose a soft blue jean color instead of strong blue and a soft gold instead of yellow. Indeed any soft, muted grayed down color will blend with natural neutrals. Here are some: Soft Blue 7546, Terra Cotta 7076, Gold 7207, Sage Green 7312, Copper 7162, Violet 7689

Cook Out

Smell that tantalizing aroma in the air... Yes, sir, no wonder thick steaks cooked over a slow charcoal fire with just a hint of hickory smoke are such a great favorite. And this young chef seems to be doing a superb job... with only an occasional bit of advice from his father.

The deep affection and understanding between this father and his son goes far beyond the art of outdoor cooking. They are also partners in the great adventure of a boy growing into manhood. The father is the teacher and his son, the willing pupil. They talk of remembered fishing trips, of school and football. They discuss plans for the boy's future in the business world. And they also have quiet talks about the church and a man's need to make God a very important part of his life. This father, by his example, is showing his son that a life without the church is a wasted and unenjoyable life. Go to church and take your family. Show them by your example.

NEW HERBISHIELD SEED

G-623GBR

Look to the G for superior overall performance.

Many say G-623GBR is tops among sorghum hybrids. But now it offers even more.

Funk's G-623GBR is now available as HERBISHIELD seed. Which means you can use BICEP or MILCEP herbicide to stop problem weeds and grasses without stopping your sorghum.

That's a nice advantage added to a hybrid that already offers an advantage in yieldability. This medium-late hybrid holds the dryland yield record. And growers find it also tops many leading hybrids under irrigation.

G-623GBR offers resistance to greenbugs. Plus excellent resistance to Strain A of Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus (MDMV-A). And good tolerance to head smut and anthracnose.

G-623GBR stands tough, resists drought stress, and dries down fast for on-time harvesting.

It all adds up to superior overall performance. Year after year.

G-623GBR, HERBISHIELD or regular. Setting a new pace in sorghum.
