

BY DOLPH MOTEN

This department promised some weeks ago that it would have less about the manly sport of football and more about women and children and other things which are more interesting to women than football usually is.

A lady we know told us recently a bit about child raising that she had read in a magazine. According to her and the magazine, this was one of the most beneficial lessons a parent could give to a child about life.

We might all be better off now if we had been taught this same lesson. Here's the way it works: When the child reaches the walking stage and has complete faith in said parent, stand him on a high shelf, the highest in the house, stretch out your arms and tell him to jump. Then walk away.

We aren't serious, of course, but that would certainly give him some sudden inside dope about what to expect in the years to come.

Not that you need to be reminded, but it's income tax time. And the chances are tremendously good that you'll be sending the federal government some of your hard-earned dollars.

You'll hear a lot of people griping about it in the next few months. Frankly, we can't get overly sympathetic for people who complain of having to pay too much income tax. Reason for that is that you make more money and you pay more taxes.

In that case, bragging is a better word than complaining. We're silly enough to think it would be nice to be in that income bracket where 91 per cent of that income goes to Uncle Sam.

Citizens who are against the present income tax set up say that the present program has a tendency to kill individual incentive. Maybe it does. But show us some poor man who is cutting down on the amount of money he makes so he won't have to pay so much income tax and we'll buy the drinks.

Had a conversation with a fellow over Christmas who pointed out that a lot of that income tax money is being used to "shoot the moon." He wasn't really complaining about that, but he said he wished, if they were going to use his money to shoot the moon, that they would hit it once in a while instead of just shooting at it all the time. And he has a point.

Here's the per cent amount of tax paid on various incomes: 22% $6,000-$8,000; 26% $8,000-12,000; 30% $12,000-16,000; 34% $16,000-20,000; 38% $20,000-24,000.

As we said before, it keeps climbing until it reaches the 91 per cent mark. And that's the one to shoot for unless the Republican in you causes you to lose your individual incentive.

Texico's motto could well be "The Furniture-Sellingest Little Town in the Southwest." They dare say there's more furniture sold in Texico than any town of comparable size in New Mexico. Two furniture dealers do believe in moving furniture and a lot of it.

They're doing a good job of advertising the town as well as themselves. There are a lot of people throughout this area who think Texico is the place to go when it's furniture buying time. Mention of that brings us to a point which we've spent some time thinking about.

March of Dimes To Start Friday

March of Dimes, 1959, will get underway in Parmer County and across the country Friday, Cary Joe Magness, county campaign director, announces. The campaign approaching will be on behalf of a new group of physically underprivileged persons.

Not only will the drive combat polio, money raised during the campaign will be used to aid those with birth defect and arthritis, Magness says.

The appeal will continue throughout the month. Various methods will be used to aid in the drive. Community chairmen in the county are scheduled to have coin collectors and posters up in their areas Friday.

A 15-minute film, explaining MOD's expanded program, is available for showing to groups in the county. Groups wishing to use the film should contact Magness in Farwell.

Since Salk vaccine is now available to aid in the control of polio, arthritis and birth defects will also be aided by March of Dimes funds. Polio remains one of the targets of the National foundation because there are many victims of that disease still needing help. "Polio patients in Parmer County who need assistance will continue to receive it from the March of Dimes," Magness explains. "In addition, new programs are being planned to provide assistance to young arthritis patients and to children born with defects of the central nervous system. (Continued on last page.)

Four Escape Injury in OL Wreck

Four Farwell men escaped injury in a one-vehicle accident at Oklahoma Lane late Monday afternoon.

Involved in the wreck were Jimmy Norton, Dean Jones, Gene Hardage, and Gerald Hardage. The 1956 Ford pickup in which they were riding overturned in front of Oklahoma Lane Baptist parsonage.

Norton was driver and owner of the pickup. Gene Hardage received slight injury to his shoulder. The others were injured.

The pickup was demolished. Ice and snow on the road was given as the cause of the accident.

Snow, Cold Covers Area

Some three inches of snow and sub-freezing temperatures greeted the area Monday.

The snow and ice slowed traffic and made road and street conditions hazardous.

Considered "about average" as far as moisture is concerned, the snow began falling Monday morning. Skies began to clear by Monday afternoon.

From a farming standpoint, the snow was "good," County Agent Joe Jones says. "Usually the moisture received from snow will outweigh the disadvantages the snow brings with it and this one was no exception," the agent explains.

As is expected of snow on the Plains, this one drifted to a great extent. However, Jones points out that wheat which wasn't grazed off held a goodly amount of the snow.

DIGGING OUT---Three members of the Joe Blair family joined many others in the area Tuesday in shoveling snow from walks and driveways. Giving Blair an assist with his snow shoveling duties are Jeanie and Stevie.

Farm Houses Burglarized

Two farm house burglaries have occurred across the county recently, Sheriff Chas. Lovelace reports.

The D. F. Pierce home at Lazbuddie was burglarized of a camera, wristwatch and $35 in cash. The Porter McGee home, south of Friona, had a TV set and a small radio stolen from it.

The burglaries were committed in the daytime while the families were away from home. There are no clues on either of the cases, the sheriff says.

James Early McAlister, 47-year-old Friona man, is in county jail charged with burglary of Davis Gin in Friona. The burglary, which included two checks, was made December 20.

McAlister's bond has been set at $500. He is awaiting action of the grand jury.

In Justice of the Peace J. R. Thornton's court in Farwell Tuesday, Duvjen Vasquez Fira from Friona was fined $35.50 for drunkenness and disturbance. He was arrested last week near Friona by Ed Duke, Friona patrolman.

George McBride, Clovis, was fined $28 for drunkenness. He was arrested two miles northeast of Bovina Monday by Deputy Tom Atkins.

L. D. Rundell Killed Monday at Lariat

L. D. Rundell, 36, was killed at 8:45 a.m. Monday when his pickup was struck by a train a mile east of Lariat.

The Oklahoma Lane farmer was driving south across the crossing in Monday morning's snowstorm when the pickup was struck by the eastbound train, a local freight.

According to Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, who investigated the accident, Mr. Rundell evidently tried to stop before reaching the railroad but couldn't because of ice on the road. The train went .6 of a mile down the track before it could be stopped.

The 1956 Ford pickup was demolished.

Mr. Rundell was born January 12, 1922 at Walnut Springs. He came to Oklahoma Lane community with his parents in 1925. He lived in the community all his life except for four years, 1942-'45, when he served with the navy.

First Snow Arrives In Form of Blizzard

Farmer County area rural folks missed a white Christmas, but got to see 1959 come in with a mantle of snow--the aftermath of a blizzard that blanketed the High Plains for two days this week.

Moving in on the heels of low pressure area early Monday morning, the snow was a surprise to many early risers. It was also a surprise to the weather bureau, which the previous evening gave no indication that moisture in such an amount, and with such intensity, was on the way.

Snowfall over the area was moderately heavy, ranging from three to four inches in most spots and up to five in some. The actual amount that fell was difficult to ascertain because of the high winds which caused much drifting.

It was this high wind, too, which reduced the benefits of moisture that snow always brings. On unprotected fields the cover of snow was relatively light. That is not to say that moisture received was not beneficial, however. It was just that the amount wasn't too great.

The sudden burst of wintry weather (which followed a balmy holiday season) caught most farm people flatfooted. Real hardships were practically nonexistent, but inconveniences were many.

There was much slipping and sliding as farmers and their families shuttled back and forth to town, although completely blocked roads were few. It was mostly a case of "get out and push" once in a while to get through a drift or over a slick spot.

Cattle had to be fed and watered, and other farm animals had to be provided for during the rough spell. Also, many farmers scurried into town for a good supply of groceries, butane, and other farm necessities during the early part of the storm, fearing if it continued they might get "snowed in."

The storm raged all day Monday, and showed very little intention of letting up. Winds abated Tuesday evening, though, and by daylight Tuesday, there was only an occasional flurry of flakes. The punch of the blizzard was over.

Moisture from the snow was highly hailed on the North Plains, where wheat is the most important cash crop and where moisture is all-important.

It was important to farmers in the local area, too, but not to such a great extent. This is the first really "winter" moisture that has come all year, and will be helpful to around 30,000 acres of dryland wheat in the area.

Most other wheat (about 70,000 acres) has been irrigated in recent weeks and farmers weren't counting on snow anyway. However, this moisture won't hurt anything.

It won't hurt, either, the plowed fields or the fields still in cotton or grain sorghum stubble. Moisture, which was around a quarter-inch in most places, is always welcome at year's end.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The Great Plains Conservation program has been in effect for more than a year. The purpose of the program is to assist farmers and ranchers in carrying out an approved plan of operations for the protection of their land from erosion and deterioration by natural causes. It provides cost-share assistance to those who agree to a long range conservation plan on their land. The cost-share rates, based on average cost of the work in this county, range from 50 to 80 percent of the total cost of installing the practice.

Thirteen land owners in Farmer County have signed applications during the year. If you would like to know more about the program come by or call the office of the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

Well, we have just about wound up another crop year in Farmer County. In some instances it has not been as good financially for some as it has for others. However, for the most part we can say it has been a good year.

We would like to take this opportunity to tell each of you with whom we have worked that we have enjoyed assisting you with your soil and water conservation problems and it is our aim and hope that we can get around to help more of you next year. We sincerely appreciate your patience and understanding.

There's something about a sale that's something to arouse a sense of adventure in women--an expectant sort of feeling that has to do with "getting a really good buy."

During this time of the year, many stores will feature sales of winter fabrics, and winter dresses, suits and coats. Extension clothing specialists point out that the careful shopper can make the most of these special prices to fill gaps in the wardrobe, or add some needed pieces.

Here are some tips offered by specialists for analyzing the situation before you buy a certain fabric or clothing item on sale or otherwise: Keep your total wardrobe in mind. Buy only those items that fit in with your budget, color plan, accessories and activities.

Consider lines, color and texture of the garment. Are they really suited to your type? Are they extreme or high fashion--

This little piggy's going to market, although it'll be quite a while before he makes the trip. He's being checked over by James Procter, Friona farmer. Procter and Glen Stevick are marketing their milo through hogs this year.

Procter, Stevick Shoot For More Profits With Pigs

James Procter and Glen Stevick, Friona farmers, are in the hog business this year, although their primary aim isn't necessarily pork production. They are hoping that by converting their home-grown grain into meat they can sell their milo for more money.

The men have gone in as partners in this effort that is often recommended but seldom attempted (in this area at least) means of increasing farm in- come.

This fall they built a farrow- ing house from low-cost and odd-lot materials on the Stevick farm southwest of town. They piped gas to it, equipped it with an electrical system provided water, and built far- rowing crates from rough lum- ber. Room has been made for 10 sows and litters.

Then they set to work to get their project into production. Gilts were purchased and bred, and now the house is home for five "mamas" and their lit-

A NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE FROM ETHRIDGE-SPRING AGENCY ABOUT YOU AND YOURS

Ring out the old... ring in the new... 1958 is now history. It's a time for forgetting all that's past and starting out with a brand new slate.

The next 365 days are sure to be eventful ones. It seems that more and more, there just isn't enough time to get things done in this hurry-hurry world we all live in. During the coming year you'll be busier than ever, in all probability, with things that seem to insist on having to be done RIGHT NOW.

We'd like to point out that as the world whizzes by so fast, one of the easiest things to overlook is providing you, your business, your personal belongings, and your family with adequate insurance. The reason is simple enough. You never really "need" insurance until it's too late to get it!

So, may we suggest that you make a firm New Year's resolution to take care of this vitally important matter right now and start 1959 off with that good feeling of knowing you're protected against the unforeseen, no matter what. Believe us, it's one of the soundest moves you could make.

Your friend,

"Most Uniform Crop"

What may be one of the most uniform crops ever produced in addition to being the best yielding crop yet on the Texas High Plains is now about 95 to 97 percent harvested with approximately 1,950,000 bales already ginned. Most cotton authorities agreed by Christmas Day that the 1958 Plains cotton crop was one of the best on record, not only in production volume, but also in respect to quality. The sixth Texas High Plains cotton quality report as published by Plains Cotton Growers shows that white cotton still accounts for 73.5 percent of the crop with 61.8 percent being strick low middling white and better. Light spotted cotton was only 23.7 percent and of that, 16.1 percent was middling light spot and better. Full spotted cotton accounted for only 1.8 percent.

of the crop, 66 percent, being 31/32 inch and longer. Only 6.4 percent fell below 15/16 inch. The micronaire average is 4.0 with 84.7 percent of the crop above the tenderable micronaire limit of 3.5. The majority of the crop, or 53.7 percent fell between 4.0 and 5.0. In fiber strength the data show the average strength is 75,100 pounds per square inch, with 45.2 percent between 75,000 and 90,000 pounds. George W. Pfeifferberger of PCG, said that uniformity in grade, staple, micronaire and Pressley, makes this crop much better than even the 1956 quality crop.

1958 Cotton Ginnings Keep Right on Climbing

Although season totals for the Parmer County gins haven't been tabulated by Farm and Home yet, there is every indication that 1958 as a cotton year will rival the previous all-time "good year" of 1956 for Parmer County area farmers.

after Christmas in a year such as this would be "gravy" and the tail-end of the crop might very well be expected to add another 5,000 to 7,000 bales to the all-season total.

This estimate is based on reports from ginners and farmers themselves, plus late-season (but by no means final) tallies from the U. S. Department of Commerce, which keeps a finger on gin reports from all over the nation.

Also underscoring the Parmer County area's success in cotton growing this year is a comparative look at our neighbors. Castro, Parmer's "twin" county to the east, had 43,225 bales ginned by December 1. That put this area slightly ahead of Castro even though the latter has about 10,000 more acres of cotton.

The irrigated average for area cotton this year is somewhere near a bale and a half. Quality is much, much better than last year and about on a par with 1956. Farmers believe that with returns such as these, a 60,000-plus bale crop can be hoped for.

Bailey County's ginnings at the December 1 point (78,148) were far ahead of Parmer's, but that is to be expected considering the size of their allotment.

The Commerce Department's statistics indicate that "prior to December 1" ginnings in Parmer County were 44,448. That is a whopping increase from the 11,767 bales ginned at the same point in the season just 12 months previously.

Gins were running around the clock right up to the holidays, and a 55,000-bale mark by Christmas would probably be a pretty good guess. Anything the first of any year. This is especially true if you are the bookkeeper of the family. Having well kept records at the end of a year makes your income tax computations much simpler.

Queen Elizabeth I built up a collection of hundreds of pairs of richly embroidered and jeweled gloves through the custom of New Year's gifts.

The Chinese and Japanese literally wipe the slate clean for the New Year. Research experts say they pay their debts and settle accounts before a new year begins.

Although green is supposed to signify currency, white seems perfectly appropo in this picture which shows a large but delicately shaped drift along rows of cotton bales on the yard of Western Warehouse in Bovina. The snow is of benefit to the wheat crop, which hasn't had anything but irrigation water since planting season, and the fleecy white of the cotton, needless to say, is like money in the bank to Parmer County area farmers this year.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

The end of a year is always a good time to look back and see what we have done and to look forward to making improvements in the new year ahead. Many of the things we homemakers do are done as a matter of habit and we need to seriously consider making changes toward forming better habits.

If you are one of the many persons who habitually cook vegetables haphazardly, perhaps you should read the following paragraph and change your methods.

Vegetables will taste better and retain their vitamins if cooked properly. Use as little water as possible and cook as fast as possible. Do this by starting with boiling water. Also, whenever possible, cook vegetables in the skins.

For a different kind of mince pie that is very delicious, try this suggestion.

To make a mince pie less rich than most, and pretty as a picture, spoon a small jar of mincemeat into a pastry lined pan and top with a No. 2 1/2 can of clingpeach slices, drained thoroughly. Bake in a hot oven until pastry is well browned. Top with meringue and bake about eight minutes longer, just until meringue is browned. Serve warm.

The next time you have left over roast pork, try this casserole which is similar to Spanish Rice and yet quite different. It is a clever economical way to make a nice addition to a meal without labeling it "Left Overs."

- 2 cups sliced celery
 - About 2 cups cubed roast pork
 - 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes and juice
 - 2 cans (8 oz. each) tomato sauce
 - 1 teaspoon marjoram
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 - 1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- Put the rice, water and 1 teaspoon salt in a 2 quart sauce pan. Bring to vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat, but leave the lid on ten minutes.

While the rice cooks, melt the cooking fat in a skillet. Add the onions and celery. Cook, stirring, several minutes. Cover and cook over a medium to low heat about 15 minutes or until almost tender.

Stir occasionally. Stir in the pork, tomatoes, 1 can of the tomato sauce, marjoram, 1 teaspoon salt, black pepper, and cayenne pepper. Mix with the rice. Place in a greased 2 to 2 1/2 quart glass oven dish. Pour on the other can of tomato sauce. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 40 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Garnish with celery leaves. If any of the rice and pork mixture is left-over, it may be moistened and reheated. It is exceptionally delicious when reheated. This recipe makes 7 to 8 servings.

Farmers, Here's Facts About COTTONSEED DELINTING
By the wet acid process you need to know!
Your seed can be fuzzy, Flamed, gas delinted, saw delinted or wet acid delinted.
We recommend the wet acid process.

- Here's Why:
1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of only 30 seconds or less.
 2. Water is used to neutralize.
 3. Does not eat the bags.
 4. Wet or green seed can be safely delinted.
 5. Can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
 6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne disease prevention and control.
 7. Heat is used only to dry seed after the acid has been washed off.
 8. Planting 18. Less moisture required for germination.
 9. More uniform planting.
 10. More even stand.
 11. Quicker emergence.
 12. Plant faster
 13. Get bigger yields.
 14. Gravity table floats out the weak seed
 15. Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold damp weather.
 16. No sticks, stems, or lint to clog up the planter.
 17. In warm soil seed will sprout in 12 hours--a stand can be had in 4 days.
 19. For only one lb. of lint cotton per acre you can have your seed delinted using the wet acid process.--the safest of all types of delinting.

Poison Rats Now

Time now to have rat out on Parmer County Joe Jones, county agent, shipment of poison, ordered month by individuals in the county through the county office, has been discontinued. Plans were originally set to set a date for putting the bait after it had all been distributed.

However, Jones says many wanted to make the poison available to the rodents as soon as they received it. Those who are waiting for a county-wide date to be set should go ahead and get the bait out now.

Jones advises that the poison should be left out 30-40 days. "It usually takes that long to do a worthwhile job," he points out.

"One of the main things to remember in poisoning rats," he says, "is to keep checking the bait stations and not run out of poison."

Farm Bureau Moves Into New Offices

Parmer County Farm Bureau has moved into new offices at 714 Main Street, Friona. This is one block north of their former location. The all-new tile, brick, glass and steel building is owned by Elmer Euler.

Raymond Euler, Farm Bureau service agent, says an open house is planned within the next two or three weeks, after the place has been tidied up on the inside and a sign erected on the outside.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We got moved into our new quarters just prior to the holiday season. After we got everything into the building, yours truly suffered one of those sacro-iliac ailments so that things have stayed about where they lit without proper rearrangement. We hope to have everything in shape in a short time now, however.

Most of the things you see when you come in are about like they will remain, so come in and see us anytime. We believe that we will be able to serve our members a little better than in the past, and we will be making every effort to please you.

Directors will meet Monday night, January 5, at about 7:30, and you are perfectly welcome to come and bring your suggestions for making Farm Bureau a better service organization, or just to sit in on the regular session. If you don't like the way your directors operate, they will be glad to have you say so. They may find your suggestions for improvement beneficial to everyone concerned.

Farm Bureau people still believe that an effort toward a return to the free enterprise system of operation in farming and industry is urgent, and are working in that direction. They believe that this coming year will prove, to a small extent, the truth of this belief. They believe area farmers will have a little more satisfaction from their farming efforts than they have experienced in some time.

The strength of Farm Bureau lies in an active membership. For that reason it is imperative that you express your views to your local director and insist that he bring those views to his fellow officers and directors. Then, your influence, if it is toward the majority thinking of the membership, will be made a part of the Farm Bureau policy of operation.

Your president, Gilbert Kaltwasser and Secretary Roy V. Miller, have suffered some from the well-known stomach ailment symptoms the last week or two. Vice-President Jack Patterson took his family to Georgia over the holidays and so far as we know he has stayed in good health. To our knowledge, the rest of the directors have been fairing well. They will be planning membership drive activities soon, and we know they will appreciate your sending your dues in by mail when billed, if you see fit.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

A Happy New Year to all our readers. We certainly trust that the next 365 days will bring joy and happiness to all of you. Also, we're crossing our fingers and hoping that 1959 will be a good farm year here on the High Plains.

Although we've lived here all our life, our limited years could scarcely qualify us as a "pioneer." However, just within our life span we have seen the things around us undergo tremendous changes.

One can hardly realize what a dynamic part of the world this is until he considers how fast it is changing.

We hope that these changes are for the better. We honestly feel they are. We love life on the High Plains, and believe that anyone who wants to lead a full and happy life (and is willing to work for it) can scarcely do better than to pick a location in these parts.

FLEXIBLE HEAT LAMPS SAVE LITTLE PIGS

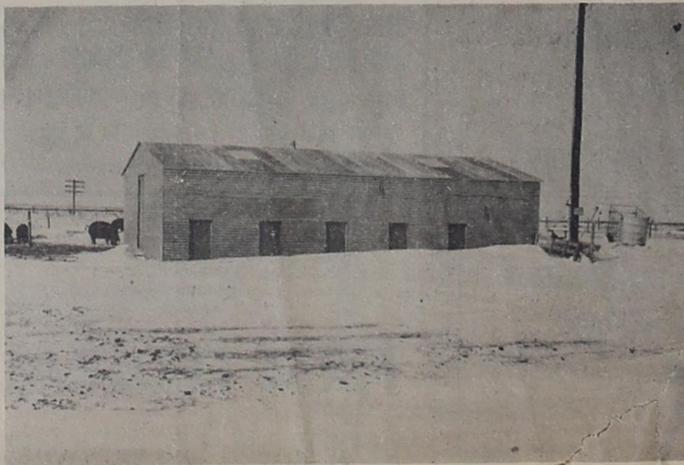

James Procter shows pigs, heat lamps.

James Procter and Glen Stevick of Friona are getting into the hog-raising business. This fall they put up a farrowing house, built their own farrowing crates, and had their gilts bred. Their goal: to raise their own pigs and fatten them on the grain sorghum they grow on their farms. Their aim: to make more money on their grain by converting it into pork instead of going to the usual market with it.

Everything was moving along fine until the blizzard of last week hit. That sent the thermometer in the house plummeting downward. Sows with litters of tiny pigs were in trouble. It was impossible to heat the house by ordinary means because the little pigs were right down on the cold concrete floor, subject to drafts.

That was where the heat lamps, powered by ever-dependable Willie Wirehand, came in. The tiny pigs huddled around the lamps. One was provided for each sow and litter. It would have been impossible to keep them warm and dry in the farrowing house by any other means. "I don't know how we'd get along without those heat lamps," says James.

This is just another of innumerable instances where dependable electric power from the Deaf Smith REA is helping Parmer County farm people farm better, live better, and make better profits. There's nothing like a modern farm served by a modern rural electric cooperative--your Deaf Smith REA.

This is the Farrowing House

Make a New Year's Resolution to have an outside service light installed on your farm. It costs as little as $3 a month.

MARCH OF DIMES--

In addition to direct help for children, adults suffering the pain of arthritis and persons victimized by birth defects of any kind also will benefit from the 1959 March of Dimes, through an expanded research program aimed at finding causes, cures and preventions in these two areas.

The March of Dimes set out in 1938 to find a preventive for paralytic polio. That preventive has been found and the program is now enlarged to cover other areas.

Community chairmen are Roy Whisler, Bovina; Elmer Teel, Farwell; Mrs. Raymond Euler, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson, Rhea; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum, Black; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McQuire, Oklahoma Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; and Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry, Hub. Mrs. Nell Walling, Farwell.

is director of women's activities. Goal for 1959 is set for more than $4000.

LINERS--

Farwell. But, we've noticed that the successful, progressive businessman, or more accurately, retailer, thinks, "Just look at all those potential customers just nine miles away!" We'd certainly be in favor of going along with that attitude instead of that of the pessimist.

How many businesses, which were fortunate enough to have average management, have gone bankrupt in Twin Cities? There's a need for more types of businesses here... and they'll come.

Farwell Fire Chief Otis Huggins, with the news of the Brownfield disaster fresh on his mind, handed us the following this week. Ordinarily, we wouldn't turn Liners over to a fire fighter, but we'll consider this an exception; it is certainly food for thought.

"I wish to take this means of saying what I have been thinking since the disaster at Brownfield last week.

"I shudder at the thoughts of this happening here in our towns. I know from past experiences the number of people who would have been in the crowd. Who, just like those injured at Brownfield, would have no business whatsoever in being at the scene of a wreck, fire, etc.

"So, let me ask the public to stay at home unless you have a specific reason for being present at a fire. I can picture the number of fire boys from our two departments who would have answered the call and possibly the injured we would have received. It is not a pretty thought. So again I ask that you please stay away from any situation that the fire department is called to.

"We of the departments appreciate your help and support, but let us call on you for any assistance that is needed."
